The Texans Hit the Road for Brownfield

Elmer, Leatha and the writer pulled out of Las Cruces about sunrise, choosing to take a near cut over gravelled and crushed stone road via Almagordo and Roswell instead of going around by El Paso again. About 40 miles out from Las Cruces, one begins the ascent of St. Augustine Pass. One climbs from a little over 3000 feet to 5654 feet at the top of the pass. Elmer though his old car was flickering him, the grade looked so easy, but he was reminded that no car had ever pulled the pass in high. However, he pulled it in high and second gear. Soon after dropping off the pass into the flats, you run into the famous white sands, and they are snow white and NOT sand. In fact, you can put it in your mouth without the least trace of a grit in it. There is a stretch of it for miles and miles that look at a distance like a huge railroad dump. Just another one of those freaks of nature, and like the real sand dunes near Yuma, no one seems to know where they originate.

Alamogorda and Tularosa are beautiful little cities laying at the foot of the mountains, and your direction from one town to the other is almost north, but you turn more eastward on 70 at Tularosa, and begin to climb again, and you skirt the Mesclero Apache Indian reservation. The road follows up a rushing stream, and the narrow valley—every foot of it—seems to be in cultivation. Now you begin to run into pine forests which are beautiful even in winter, and pass through a small town that has an Indian school. Just before reaching the highway that turns off to Ruidoso, summer resort, that is off the main highway a few miles, one reaches the backbone of this chain of mountains, and begins the drop down again along the rushing Rio Hondo or Hondo river to put it in English. As one ascends the pines play out but the valley widens, and beautiful truck farms with adobe and rock homes greet you, with an occasional town and a lot of Catholic churches and cemeteries. It is a beautiful country, but when within some 50 miles of Roswell, the river turns south and empties into some lakes. The road from there to Roswell passes through a white, chalky looking country that is not a bit interesting. But Roswell itself, nestling along the Pecos river, looks like the garden of Eden compared to just a few miles west.

Lunch was taken at Roswell, and we spent sufficient time there to rest and stretch our limbs. As most everyone here has been to that beautiful little city of 12,000 people, we will not try to describe it, or the road from there on into Brownfield. But in passing, will state that all of the travelers agreed that Brownfield was the busiest little place, population considered we saw on the entire trip. We ran into Brownfield about sundown on the same air we left Seagraves with—not a puncture—not a blow out—but ran out of gas twice.

THE END.

Gins Here Finish Treating Cottonseed

The Farmers and the West Texas gins closed out their steam treating process for the eradication of pink boll worm eggs in the seed last week, and are now cleaning up the gins. We understand that not only will the gins here undergo a thorough cleaning, but the rest of the gins in the county as well.

This work will, like the seed treatment, be under direction of Federal Agricultural men, and every particle of trash around the gins will be burned that is burnable, and the rest so treated with chemicals that no life can come from any eggs in the dirt or trash.

In this way, the gentlemen hope to be able to raise the limited quarantine against this and other countries in this section this fall. O. L. Jones of the West Texas gin informed us that a very large percent of the farmers complied with the law.

P. T. A. Council Met in Wellman

The Terry County Council met with the Wellman P. T. A. Friday, May 5 at 8 P. M. with Mrs. Holgate, County President presiding.

A report of the District Conference was sent in by Mrs. Burleson of Meadow our delegate to the Conference, and was read by Mrs. Wingerd. Mrs. Winn of Wellman also gave a splendid report for the Wellman Association.

A motion carried that the expenses of our County President and our delegate to the Conference be paid, which amounted to $5.80.

A motion carried that a record book be bought for the Secretary, and one for the treasurer.

A report showed $23.09 in the treasury.

A school of instruction for officers and parents or others interested, was discussed and it was decided that one would be held in Brownfield before the first of September.

There being no further business an interesting talk was made by Mr. Penn of Brownfield on "Benefits of A County Council." After which Wellman rendered a short program of music and a style show put on by the girls of the Home Economic department. The building used for that purpose was opened up and the audience was invited to inspect it. It was very interesting, and Wellman is to be complimented on their efforts in that line.

The Council adjourned to have the next meeting in September. Place to be decided upon. Committees for next year will be appointed soon.

Tom F. Hunter to Speak Here Tonight

Thomas F. Hunter, candidate for Governor of Texas at the July primary, will be a guest of this city tonight, and will speak at 8 o'clock P. M. at the band stand on the courthouse square. He is very anxious to have as many Terry county voters as well as those from other counties here on that occasion as possible.

At that time, he will not only discuss his platform, as enunciated at his opening address at Clifton, but will also tell the voters just what he means by his Texas Recovery Program and new tax deal. Remember the time, place and date.

He will be introduced by Homer Winston, who was one of Mr. Hunter's pupils when he taught school here some twenty years ago.

Emory Longbrake In From CCC Camp

Emory Longbrake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Longbrake came in last week from Boyd, in Wise county, where he has been in a C. C. C. training camp for the past year. Most of the time was spent, he said, in terracing the old worn out farms in that section, and restoring them to production.

Emory looks the picture of health, and says that he feels fine and enjoyed the work very much. As we understand it, more than half those who have been on this federal work for the past year, were released to go back in the regular channels of labor, and a new set will take their place, as the government has decided to continue the work.

Great Laugh Duo

Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire, whose frolics and dancing and singing in "Flying Down to Rio," RKO-Radio's musical aerial extravaganza, provide the comedy highlights. Dolores Del Rio, Gene Raymond and Raul Roulien are in romantic roles.

Lee Thompson was over from the Tokio section Saturday and informed us that he had 100 acres of cotton up to a good stand.

Crosby County Man Badly Burned Sat.

Ray Morgan 36, of Broadway, in Crosby county, was burned probably fatally Saturday afternoon while he was working in a gin.

Morgan, received for treatment in Lubbock sanitarium about 10:30 o'clock Saturday night, was said to have been re-filling gasoline tank of an engine used in pumping water. The gasoline was believed to have been spilled on the hot engine, igniting the fluid and firing Morgan's clothing.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Yoakum Co. Singing Convention May 27th

The Yoakum County Singing Convention will meet at the Liberty school house the 4th Sunday, May 27th, for an all day singing, according to a Yoakum county man who was in this week.

A great singing is promised, and as usual we understand that lunch will be served at the noon hour.

Many a cotton seed will go in the ground this week.

T. E. Verner was down from Meadow Monday, and handed in his renewal to the Herald.

Lon. A. Smith Seeking Re-election to Office

Lon A. Smith, member of the state railway commission, has announced that he will be a candidate for re-election.

We do not know anything about the merits of the issues that have been involved in the problems with which the railway commission has had to deal, but we do believe that Lon A. Smith is a conscientious, honest, and patriotic public servant. He has long been in the public service, first as state senator, to which office he was elected by a small majority, but later big majorities were given to him to elect him as state comptroller, and last as railway commissioner, and he has held the utmost confidence of the people of Texas throughout his political career. This is evidenced by the increasing majorities by which he has been elected to those state offices by the people.

We shall be glad to give Lon A. Smith our support.

Writer and Wife in Amherst Last Sunday

Mrs. Lawrence Daniels, daughter of Grandpa Perkins, who is also the father of Eli Perkins that worked on the Herald about three years, wrote us the past week that Grandpa was very low, and asked us to come up Sunday, as he thought a great deal of us. The editor and wife left about eight Sunday morning and arrived there about ten. We had a nice time, barring the condition of our old friend. He has a bad case of dropsy and high blood pressure, which of course affects his heart, and the doctors say he can't last but a few days.

Farming is at a standstill around Amherst, as it was too wet to plant, and has been so for a week or ten days. Much more planted and up here than there. It seems to be a little dry in the north part of this county, and a great deal of Hockley county, however, much stuff is being planted. We saw one or two that were planting Sunday in south Hockley; too wet in north Hockley and southern Lamb county.

Coming back, we stopped a few minutes in the little city of Levelland to visit Geo. Bragg and family, and found them all well and apparently doing well.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our many thanks to everyone who offered a loving hand during the illness and death of our beloved mother and grandmother, Mrs. Sarah E. Young. Especially Mrs. E. S. Tankersley who sacrificed much to be with us continually.

Mrs. I. H. White, Mrs. J. S. Gibson, and families.

Hon. Clark M. Mullican A Great Crowd In Town on Tradesday

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 19TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT: For nearly a year you have had before you my announcement for Congress from this new district. Believing that the people generally have grown weary of the many-worried, time-worn, inflated structures in American politics we call "Platforms" that so often become the funeral biers of numerous forgotten promises, I formally submit my candidacy to you in four simple sentences:

"To keep faith with my fellow man.

To be ever mindful of my trust.

To remain loyal to those I represent.

To do, always, the very best I can."

No man in this race can say more, nor should he say less.

These four sentences pledge me to support every emergency measure of the President's Recovery Program consistent with the needs of those who live in this District.

They also pledge me to sincere and profound consideration of every future question of Government tending to promote the welfare and happiness of the people who live in this District.

Were I to detail a platform several times as long, I could say no more. The multiple problems of Government that are perplexing the greatest minds in the world cannot be properly discussed in a political announcement, nor can they be solved in a political campaign.

Questions of Currency, Revenue, Economy, Taxes, Tariff, Foreign Relations, National Defense, Commerce, Banking, Pensions, Transportation, Labor, Unemployment, Industry, Farming, Stock Raising, Marketing, Law Enforcement, and many others with their numerous related subjects, affect all mankind, and 434 other Congressmen will have an equal voice. All my life I have been a student of Law and Government. I shall expect to apply the knowledge gained, and my very best thought, to these matters as they arise.

However, if there are some who desire an expression of my views on National subjects, I invite and welcome your inquiry, personally and otherwise, and assure you a courteous reply. Before the campaign is over, I hope in some manner to acquaint every interested person with these views.

So far as I am able to observe at this stage of the campaign, every candidate in the race, regardless of the number of words used, is running on the same platform, which is: "A sincere desire to render a public service to the greatest number of people." This being true, the only ISSUE raised or that can be raised is "THE PERSONAL ABILITY and the POWER of the individual candidate to PUT OVER the things he advocates and undertakes." That is the only question for your determination and one you must answer if you expect a full measure of representation in your law-making body.

Whether I fill the requirements in meeting this issue is for your determination. If I am not qualified to be your champion in any forum, and to stand man to man with any who oppose your interests, then I do not want to go to Congress. That is fair to you, and fair to me.

I am conducting my campaign my own way, and conceded the same privilege to the other candidates. I have no controversy with any man, and do not propose to engage in cheap, petty, local politics that might lead to one. To me, the Congress of the United States is a sacred institution, second only to the Flag, and I expect to deport myself with a dignity worthy of the high office I seek.

With an abiding faith in the sincerity and the ability of our Democracy to choose for the best interest of all concerned, I humbly submit

Another monthly trades day has passed into history, and again old Brownfield was fairly taken by storm. In view of the fact that most farmers had plenty season to plant on, it was believed that nothing like the crowd that was here the last first Monday would appear, but there was very little difference in the crowd. However, we believe more people were here Sat. than there was Monday. They were here from the four quarters of the universe Saturday.

It was a noticeable fact that more ladies were here Monday than is usual on Trades Day. The reason for this was explained by the fact that doubtless many of the men folks stayed at home and ran planters, and let lady members of the household come in to do the trading. Another thing that was noticeable, was that there were more Lubbock, Lynn and Dawson county cars here than common. Some accounted for this by saying the weather had warmed up, and they wanted to come here to wet their whistles. Anyway, they were here, and it was noticed the visitors were paying their respects to the frothing mug.

There was a great deal of horse jockeying all day over on the jockey grounds, and at the regular time the monthly program on the lot back of Murphy Bros. store was carried out and at least six souls made happy. The merchants reported a fine day in all lines of trade. Each First Monday, it can be noticed that they are coming from greater distances, as they know the deal will be pulled here, as Brownfield has never stopped its Tradesday once started.

Humble Hits Gas in Test South Seminoe

Thursday morning at 1 o'clock a big flow of gas was struck in the R. M. Means No. 1 wild cat test, being drilled by the Humble Oil and Refining Co., on Sec 2, Block A-35, Andrews County. This well is 16 miles south of Seminoe, the contracting drillers being Dunnigan Bros. & Brahaney.

At 2572 feet a flow of gas was hit, causing the hole to bridge and a fishing job for tools, under a test this gas amounting to 1 1/2 million cubic feet. Casing was set at this depth.

A test Thursday morning on the last gas hit amounted to 11 1/2 million cubic feet, which together with the first strike, makes a total of 13 million feet of gas coming from the well.

We understand that the Humble officials, who visited the location Thursday, have accepted the well as a gas, and drilling will be stopped on the location.

Interest in this territory has been stimulated quite a bit since gas in this well was first hit. More royalty sales are reported as being made during the past few days.

Rumors of future drilling are common, and while no definite locations for other tests have been made public, no doubt in the next few days these will be announced.—Seminoe Sentinel.

Sunday will be Mothers Day again, and will be observed as such all over the civilized world. Some seem to think that such days that come on Sunday detracts from the worship of God, but the Herald believes that people can observe the day as Mothers Day, and at the same time not let it interfere in the least with their worship of Jehovah, or the observation of the Lord's supper. Most every balanced person thinks, or should think that his mother the greatest on earth. No matter how low down in crime the thug, murderer or racketeer gets, he still loves mother, and mother responds a hundred fold. There is one earthly friend that never deserts her boy or girl—MOTHER Outside of heaven itself that is the sweetest name on mortal tongue.

War on Crime

Congressman Wright Patman of Texas sponsored the most important of the ten crime bills passed by the House of Representatives. This bill permits the Federal Government to offer rewards up to $25,000 for interstate fugitives from justice, dead or alive. This bill was aimed at Dillinger and Barrow. It also provides that awards of the same amount may be paid for information leading to the arrest and conviction of such criminals. (Texas News Photos)

CITATION

The State of Texas:
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County, Greetings:
You are hereby commanded to summon: Frederick Griesinger, Catharine Griesinger, Henry Griesinger, Henry A. Griesinger, George J. Griesinger, Mary A. Daggy, Wilhelm F. Griesinger, Caroline Whitmyer, Sadie M. Griesinger and C. C. Akin, and the heirs and legal representatives of Frederick Griesinger, Catharine Griesinger, Henry Griesinger, Henry A. Griesinger, George J. Griesinger, Mary A. Daggy, Wilhelm F. Griesinger, Caroline Whitmyer, Sadie M. Griesinger and C. C. Akin, deceased, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County, Texas, to be held at the Court House thereof, in the town of Brownfield on the 27th day of August, 1934, being the Fourth Monday in August, 1934, then and there to answer a petition filed in the said court on the 19th day of February 1934, the file number of which is 1745, in which suit A. L. Manjeot is plaintiff and Frederick Griesinger, Catharine Griesinger, Henry Griesinger, Henry A. Griesinger, George J. Griesinger, Mary A. Daggy, Wilhelm F. Griesinger, Caroline Whitmyer, Sadie M. Griesinger and C. C. Akin, and the unknown heirs and legal representatives of Frederick Griesinger, Catharine Griesinger, Henry Griesinger, Henry A. Griesinger, George J. Griesinger, Mary A. Daggy, Wilhelm F. Griesinger, Caroline Whitmyer, Sadie M. Griesinger, and C. C. Akin, deceased, are defendants.
Plaintiff sues, and prays for judgment, for title to and possession of the following described land, situated in Terry County, Texas and being All of section No. 15, Block D-11, Certificate No. 24, issued to Stone, Kyle & Kyle, containing 640 acres said land patented to Benjamin H. Wisdom by the State of Texas, by patent No. 97, Vol. 32; and that his title thereto be quieted, and that any and all claims, either real or apparent, of title to or interest or estate in said land, of defendants, be removed as clouds on plaintiff's title, and alleges as his cause of action, that:

On December 30th, 1901, by general warranty deed, of that date, C. H. Earnest sold and conveyed said lands to John W. Gordon, and said deed was filed and recorded in the deed records of Terry County, Texas, on January 1st, 1902 in Book 2 at page 174.
On or about July 9th, 1923, said John W. Gordon died, leaving a will by which his residuary estate, which included the above described lands and other property, was bequeathed to Minnie S. Givan, also known as Mary S. Givan, M. G. Gordon and R. Harvey Coons, share and share alike.
On or about August 16th, 1928, the said R. Harvey Coons died, leaving a will whereby his residuary estate, which included the above described land, was bequeathed to his son, Artie Coons.
That the wills of the said John W. Gordon and R. Harvey Coons were duly probated in the probate court of Terry County, Texas, all debts of said estates have been paid and all legacies bequeathed by said wills have been satisfied; and the above described land, in a partition of the said John W. Gordon's estate was allotted to said Artie Coons, and said Artie Coons and his wife, thereafter, by general warranty deed, dated December 18, 1933, sold said lands to plaintiff, and plaintiff is now the owner and entitled to possession thereof.
That immediately after said lands were conveyed to the said John W. Gordon, with his deed so recorded, he went into possession of said lands, and held possession thereof adversely and continuously from the 30th day of December, 1901 to the date of his death, occupying, enjoying, using and claiming the same under said deed, to the date of his death, and while so in possession of said land, paid all taxes that were assessed against said lands each year before the same became delinquent, and by reason thereof the said John W. Gordon acquired title to said land, under both the five and ten year statutes of limitation.
That the defendants are claiming some right, title, interest, or estate, in and to said lands, adversely to plaintiff, which said claims cast and create clouds on plaintiff's title thereto.
Plaintiff, at the time of filing said suit, filed in said court in said cause, to-wit: the following certified copies of proceedings had on the estates of said John W. Gordon and R. H. Coons, and gave, and does hereby give notice to the defendants that they will be used as evidence on the final trial of said cause, to-wit: The application of Joe Boyd for probate of last will and testament of the said John W. Gordon, deceased and letters testamentary; The last will and testament of said deceased; The order praisers and granters letters testamentary; The bond and oath of Joe Boyd, executor; The final report and application of executor to partition said estate; The order appointing commissioners to partition said estate among Mrs. Mary S. Givan, M. G. Gordon and Artie Coons, as executor of R. H. Coons, deceased; Report of said commissioners partitioning said estate among said parties; Order of said court appointing said partition and distribution made by said commissioners and directing the said Joe Boyd executor of said estate to deliver to the said distributees their respective shares and allotment set apart to them by said commissioners, closing said estate and discharging said executor; The petition to probate the will of R. H. Coons, deceased, and for letters testamentary; The certified copy of the last will and testament of said deceased, together with the probate thereof had in the probate court of Marion County, Missouri; the citation issued out of the probate court of Terry County on said application to probate said will, and grant letters testamentary with the officer's return thereon; The order of the probate court of said Terry County admitting said will to probate, granting letters testamentary to the said Artie Coons and appoint appraisers to appraise said estate; Bond and oath of said Artie Coons, executor of said estate; Inventory and appraisal of said estate; Order of said probate court approving said Inventory and Appraisal; Final report and application of said executor for discharge and closing of said estate; Order closing said estate and discharging said executor.
You are hereby commanded to notify the defendants of the filing of said certified copies and to so summon the defendants, and to serve this citation, by making publication hereof once in every week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in a newspaper published in your county; but if no newspaper is published in said county, then in the nearest county where a newspaper is published. Full House Special Advertises Texas

Cities of the Middle West and Atlantic Seaboard were hosts to the Full House Special carrying 125 Texans from April 13 to 20. The objectives of the long trip—to advertise the industrial and commercial advantages of Texas, to tell citizens of other States of the approaching Texas Centennial, and to express the appreciation of Texas to President Roosevelt for his contribution to the Nation's welfare—were well fulfilled.

With an itinerary including Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, the party received warm welcomes everywhere and were the recipients of many special attentions. In addition they were given opportunity at every stop to tell some of the outstanding facts about the Lone Star State.

The high point of the tour—the daily press has related the details of the visits to the different cities—was in Washington where the President received the entire delegation (augmented by nearly 100 other Texans who happened to be in the capital at the time), heard praise and appreciation of his administration expressed both verbally and in resolutions, and responded in a particularly gracious informal talk during the course of which he complimented Texas and a number of individual Texans. The formal dinner at night was attended by Vice President Garner, almost the entire Texas delegation in Congress, all but three of the Cabinet and about 500 others, including the Texas visitors. Jesse Jones was toastmaster.

At the executive offices unique bill of lading for the "Texas Carload," gifts for the President and Mrs. Roosevelt gathered by Progressive Texans, Inc., was presented and received appreciative acknowledgment from Mr. Roosevelt. The "carload" was given wide publicity in the Washington papers, and the folder, listing the gifts and their donors and carrying a digest of important facts about the State, attracted attention in all the cities where it was distributed.

Curb Market Is Boon to Farm Pocketbooks

Pictured are booths of the Texarkana producers' curb market, a home demonstration project of Bowie county, Texas. Farm products sold in this market last year yielded more than $30,000 income. Home demonstration club women sell garden products, home canned goods, flowers, needlework, fruits and rugs. This is one of several club markets in Texas which are making thousands of extra dollars for Texas farm pocket books.

LONDON MURDER MYSTERY
There were twenty-one murders committed in London's 8,000,000 population in the last year. The figure compares with that of any metropolis in this country. Even Dallas with a 300,000 population can produce as many, almost any year. But what is more remarkable, the Commissioner of Metropolitan Police is able to report only one unsolved murder in the list and only one acquittal.

The comparative figures require attention and the causes should interest analysis. Traditionally the Briton is more law-abiding than the American and sure, if not drastic, punishment is regarded as a usual concomitant of British crime. When it comes to murder, the United Kingdom usually inflicts death. The British criminal knows it.

One other factor is worth consideration. In British criminal practice, the defendant is entitled to a fair trial but in the view of neither court nor barrister does the term mean that he is entitled to suppression of evidence and the various quirks that have grown up to make American technicality in the criminal court the bane of the law-abiding.

A British observer remarked last year that the successful defenders he had observed in American courts could not obtain acquittals for one-tenth of similar cases under the British system of justice.

The American public might consider whether they prefer our own continuous system of outraged justice, or a condition where adequate punishment tracks down twenty in a total of twenty-one murders.—Dallas News.

4,729 MILES ON A TOTAL OF FIVE QUARTS OF OIL!

Here is the winner! —the car that covered 4,729 miles at fifty miles an hour, lubricated with New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

THE "HIDDEN QUART" PRINCIPLE OF PENETRATIVE LUBRICATION PROVES GREATLY SUPERIOR IN COMPETITION WITH FIVE NATIONALLY KNOWN MOTOR OILS!

CONOCO has a New and Improved Germ Processed Motor Oil. Its many advantages were so evident to us, that we arranged with the Contest Board, American Automobile Association, to test five other widely advertised and nationally known motor oils along with Conoco's new and improved oil in a daring "Destruction Test." By letting the results speak for themselves, we are able to present to America's motoring public for the first time proved facts of superiority, not empty claims.

These six oils, with a single fill of five quarts, with no more oil added in six strictly new stock cars, were driven until the motor in each car was destroyed from lack of lubrication. Here are the results: the first oil failed at only 1713.2 miles; others failed in rapid succession. The best of the competing oils went only 3318.8 miles . . . while New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Oil completed 4729 miles . . . more than 3000 miles farther than the first oil to fail . . . and more than 1400 miles farther than the second best oil! The "Hidden Quart" had proved superior again!

Conoco wrecked these motors to show you which oil has the lowest consumption and true economy. Drive into a Red Triangle Station, drain and fill with this new and improved oil. Whether your car is new or old, you need this extra margin of economy and safety.

Warning
TO NEW CAR OWNERS
Some car manufacturers are using new types of bearings which will stand greater pressures and temperatures, resulting from increased power and speed. New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has been extensively tested on these new bearings. The results show that it gives them greater protection against damage than many straight mineral oils now on the market. Protect your new car by using the motor oil you can be sure of.

—THE CUB'S DEN— SENIORS FAREWELL

We, the seniors of Brownfield High School, take this means of bidding the pupils and teachers of this school a kind and everlasting good-bye. There will remain in each senior's heart a sweet memory and love of the days when he was in Brownfield High School.

We are hoping that the school we are leaving will shine out and spread its glows over all the world. For, we feel like we will want to be remembered as a part of this school. May the Lord bless the remaining ones as they strive to reach their goal.

We the Senior Class of '34 are duly proud of our president, Woodrow Chambliss. He has helped us to make our greatest high school year greater. It was his good spirit, and his fine leadership that brought us out of the mist with flying colors. It was he who cheered us when we possessed low spirits, and it was he who still cheered us when we were at the peak of our accomplishments. "No class has ever had a more able leader."

SENIOR GIRLS WHO TOOK PART

The Senior girls who took part in the athletics this year were very interested in their books as well as basketball. The reason for this, they had to make those A's before they could have their fun.

The girls that played basketball were Clydene Polk, Mary Jo Neill, Naomi Drury, Minnie Hazel Gore, Frances McPherson, Martha McClish, Nita Bess Briscoe and Roma Lewis. These girls have brought victories for B. H. S. as well as a few losses.

The tennis players were few—but they did their very best to represent the school. Naomi Drury, Mary Jo Neill and Minnie Hazel Gore, were the three.

The Volleyball seemed to be a big problem. Those who enjoyed playing volley under the direction of the Senior sponsor, M. L. Penn, were: Clydene Polk, Frances McPherson, Naomi Drury, Mary Jo Neill, Helen Rogers, Viola Polk, Ora Ruth Hobbs, Lurine Brown, Alcie Faye Mangum, Joe Mae Jones Minnie Hazel Gore, Roma Lewis and several others who practiced only a few times.

Playground ball has become a very interesting sport for the Senior girls. Those who can really hit a home run are: Clyde Polk, Marion Chisholm, Naomi Drury, Mary Jo Neill, Alcie Faye Mangum, Roma Lewis, Joe Mae Jones, Juanita Murphy, Viola Polk, Mary Dee Thomas, Francis McPherson and Martha McClish.

Although the Senior girls will not be with you again next year, have a swell time, and stay with athletics.

SENIOR BOYS WHO TOOK PART

In September the last year of school began for the Senior boys of B. H. S. They reported for football and worked to make their last year worth something. The boys who came out for those hard days of work in the sport they loved, were Wilton Smith, Woodrow Chambliss, Kenneth Purtell, Wayland Parker, R. L. Bandy, Weldon Moore, O. D. Thomas, Pete Owens, and O. D. Huckabee. Huckabee, Bandy, Moore and Owens had to quit on account of ineligibility. The others stayed and worked for a place on the eleven.

Some of the boys had seen service before, but most of them were new. Then came basketball. Boy Tarpley, Wilton Smith, Parker, and Purtell played the entire season.

Track season found Howard Boucher, Kenneth Purtell, Parker and Tarpley at work.

Horton Howell did "time" as business manager of the B. H. S. eleven. Even though the victories have not been as many as they would have liked, these boys have learned:

"When the Great Referee marks against our name,
It's not whether we won or lost—
But how we played the game!"

SPEAKER'S STAND FOR SCHOOL

The Seniors are leaving as their memorial a speaker's stand for the auditorium. This will make the third class to leave something for the auditorium. The class of '30 left the curtain; the class of '31 left the flag and stand on the east side of the stage.

The gift this year will measure 46 inches in height. It has built-in lamps for the speaker's aid and a shelf for the water pitcher and glass. It is made of solid oak and an inscription tablet will be placed on the front with the words—"Class of '34". The gift is costing about sixty-four dollars, and added to the fifty dollars worth of books that was won in the tag contest and presented to the library will make about one hundred and ten dollars worth of gifts that this class has left to "ole" B. H. S.

The stand will be dedicated to the school on the night of May 18th at the Commencement Exercises.

A PREVIEW OF THE SENIORS

An investigation has been made and it has been found that out of 22 graduating from Junior High four years ago there are 12 now graduating out of High School.

It seems that Horton Howell, Eunice Michie and Mary Jo Neill attended kindergarten in the Brownfield Public School. Alcie Faye Mangum and Esther Ruth Smith started in the first grade; Marion Chisholm, Wilton Smith and Woodrow Chambliss joined in the second grade. In the third came Mary Dee Thomas and Joe Mae Jones.

Somehow these ten were united in the fourth grade and continued thru the fifth and sixth together. Losing Esther Ruth in the seventh and gaining Ora Ruth Hobbs, Lurline Brown and Austin Green, they graduated out of a class of 22.

These twelve have continued here, worked hard, and have now reached their goal among a class of about 40.

It is learned that B. F. Moore, who graduated with these twelve from the seventh but moved away one year later, is now graduating from the Shamrock High School. Thus making a total of 13 instead of 12.

Geneva Perry another one of the graduating class of 22 worked her way to the top only to be taken out of school during her senior year.

They were joined in the eighth by Olen Evans, Dorothy McGlothlin and Morgan Noble. In the ninth Melson Hamilton became one of the class. In the tenth Pete Owens, Imogene Luckie and several others came in.

Others have joined in their senior year making the class total 42.

WHAT WOULD THIS PLACE BE LIKE IF

Pete Owens had small ears?
Martha McClish made no noise?
Naomi Drury weighed 95 lbs?
Mr. Jack D. West had black hair?
Marvin Parker never frowned at the ladies?
Roma Lewis were more than half pint?
Mr. Lawlis never smiled?
Horton and Pete could sing?
Woodrow C. was not president of the Senior class?
The Senior sponsor took no part in extra-curriculum activities?
Austin Green didn't wear boots?
Dorothy McGlothlin were ever on time?
Marion Chisholm and Alcie Faye Mangum made C's and D's?

Nita Bess Briscoe ever got in a hurry?
Boye Tarpley were not always laughing?
Howard Boucher were 6 feet tall?
Mr. Daniels never gave a demerit?
Mitchell Flache never chewed gum?
None of the Seniors wrote notes or loafed?
There were no such things as examinations?
Mr. Penn didn't gripe all the time?

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club met Monday, May 7. A round-table discussion on "Why I Like Home Economics," was planned for next club program. The period was taken up in talks concerning the lives of popular Home Economics Women of today. A social was discussed and the club adjourned.

HISTORY CLUB

Monday, May 7, the History Club met and had a very pleasing program.

"My Attitude Toward Upper Classmen" — Jo Bob Burnett
"My Most Enjoyable Year in High School" — Martha McClish
"How I Have Enjoyed the History Club" — John McLeod
"My Idea of a History Club Sponsor" — J. D. Stewart

Our Sponsor, Mr. Penn, then made a talk expressing his appreciation in being connected with the History Club throughout the year.

ASSEMBLY

Last Wednesday morning, May 2, the Home Economics Club entertained the student body with a short program.

The girls glee club sang a few selections and then a play was presented entitled "The Charm of the Old Album."

The play consisted of two short Acts and Betty Jo Savage, Dorothy McGlothlin, Nita Bess Briscoe and Verna Brown took parts. Between Acts Esther Ruth Smith gave a reading "Waffle Recipe." Ruth Brazleton concluded the program with a piano solo.

At every Assembly there is always a call for announcements and Woodrow Chambliss the noted President of the Senior Class was very eager to announce the engagement (date) that Howard Boucher had that night with a very pretty girl.

SOPHOMORE PICNIC

The Sophomores bring to our minds that they had a very enjoyable picnic Saturday night at the Sand Hills. They with the sponsor, Miss Vivian Winston, and chaperons Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wester and Miss Chisholm, had plenty to eat and lots of fun.

WHO'S WHO IN B. H. S.

What Senior girl got mad at a Senior boy because he called her Mae West?
What girl did Howard Boucher have a date with last week?
What Senior girl is always saying the wrong thing at the right time in Economics?
What important school work was handed in to Mr. Wester this last week that made him stutter?
What teacher and a very prominent young man of high school left Wednesday and did not return until the last of the week?
What Senior girl spent the weekend in Lubbock?
What Senior girl has regretted going horse-back riding Saturday?
What Senior boy just happened out about Forester Sunday to see a Senior girl?
What class is so anxious for May 18, to roll around?
What football boys got their pictures taken last week?
What teacher was calling the winners in the Interscholastic League outside last Thursday and Friday?
What Senior boy has given his heart to Yrma Suddth?
What girl was absent three days last week because of the measles?
What important event takes place May 13th?
Will the Senior petition for "B" go over?

THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Senior Class for the co-operation they have given, and the consideration they have shown me. I have enjoyed this year's work more than any other of my life, and I give the Seniors credit for helping make it so. I know that there can never be, nor has there ever been, a class that has worked together as you have. Our accomplishments show this. So let us go from this school with these Senior Days lingering in our minds. Woodrow Chambliss, Pres.

Our old friend Sam Davison, of Meadow, was down last week, and as optimistic as ever.

J. E. Bryson of Tokio, tickled our palm with another dollar on subscription. So did Jim Cunningham, the former Terry county sheep herder.

It has been a long time since we have written any news, been so busy. I guess you appreciate the rest, but we are going to try to make up for lost time this week.

We had a large crowd last Friday night to see the play, "Aunt Jerushy on the Warpath." We thank each one of you for your presence. Surely wish we could have had an auditorium large enough to accommodate you. We hope those present enjoyed the evening as much as possible.

After the play was over about 11 o'clock, thirty-six school children, teachers, and outsiders left for Carlsbad. (Editor's Note: Lack of time and space prevents printing the details of this trip this week but look for it next week.)

This coming Friday night, May 11, the smaller children of Gomez, including Misses Nellie and Rena McLeroys' and Miss Bass' rooms are having their program. We hope for a large attendance.

Friday night, May 18th, the high school is putting on its fourth or fifth play entitled "Aaron Slick, From Punkin Crick." Everyone is invited to see this play.

We hope for Mrs. Redford a speedy recovery. Sorry she had to have another operation. Miss Gladys Newsome has taken over her work.

Several of the American Legion Auxiliary ladies including Mesdames Jay Barret, H. R. Winston, J. M. Telford, Jack Stricklin, Sr., and Miss Olga Fitzgerald, attended the district meeting of the Legion Auxiliary at Lubbock, Tuesday. Judges Barret and Winston carried the ladies up. The meeting was addressed by the National president of the Auxiliary, who the ladies reported was beautiful, but no means dumb. She lives in Philadelphia.

Several candidates spoke here Monday among which was the Hon. Geo. Mahon of Colorado for Congress of the new 19th district.

The High Protective Tariff and Recovery

That the interests of the country as a whole, and especially of the South, require that the United States shall abandon the policy of economic nationalism, as embodied in high tariffs, and henceforth follow a policy of patient and persistent international cooperation is the argument of the new booklet, "What Economic Nationalism Means to the South," just issued jointly by the Foreign Policy Association of New York and the World Peace Foundation of Boston and New York. The pamphlet, which is a companion work to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace's "America Must Choose," recently issued under the same auspices, was written by Peter Molyneux, editor of The Texas Weekly, and was prepared in cooperation with the Arnold Foundation of Southern Methodist University. In a twelve-thousand-word closely reasoned argument, supported with salient facts at every point, Mr. Molyneux sets forth that the commercial policy of the United States for the past century has tended to reduce the cotton States to an inferior economic position, and then proceeds to show that, in the changed world situation today, a continuation of this policy must injure the South to even greater degree in the future. Mr. Molyneux gives particular attention to the problem of the tenant farmer, declaring that "the submerged population of the South, making up the body of cotton tenants and croppers, constitutes the major economic and social problem of the region." He traces the origin and growth of tenantry from the Civil War down to the collapse of 1929, and argues that the condition of this submerged population will become absolutely hopeless if the present commercial policy of the United States is continued.

The Brownfield schools will close their 1933-34 session next Wednesday, May 15th.

"OLD PONCE" APPARENTLY NOT WORRIED OVER AGE

St. Augustine, Fla., May 5—"Old Ponce," a huge alligator on display in a park here, was about 500 years old when Florida was discovered by Ponce de Leon, the Spanish explorer, for whom the reptile was named. Zoologists have estimated the crusty old fellow was hatched about 900 years ago. But despite his age, "Old Ponce" is fairly agile and has an appetite equal to that of a dozen lions. Sometimes he eats 75 pounds of meat at one meal. He weighs around 1,200 pounds.

Religious and Secular

Stories That Parallel

All the great religions have stories that parallel each other in some degree. For instance, Jephthah, one of the Judges of Israel, made a remarkable vow before he marched against the Ammonites, that if he proved victorious he would offer to the Lord the first living thing which should come to meet him on his return. This happened to be his only daughter, whom he sacrificed to fulfill his rash vow. The history of Jephthah is contained in the second book of Judges. Idomeneus, in Homeric legend, king of Crete, succeeded his father Deucalion on the throne, and accompanied the Greeks to the Trojan war with a fleet of 90 ships. During this war he rendered himself famous by his valor. While returning, he made a vow to Neptune in a dangerous tempest that if he escaped he would offer to the god whatever living creature first presented itself to his eye on the Cretan shore. This was his son, who came to congratulate him on his safe return. Idomeneus redeemed his promise, but the inhumanity of this sacrifice rendered him so odious to his subjects that he was exiled from his country.—Montreal Family Herald.

Insignia of Royalty in Ancient Egyptian Tomb

A tomb discovered near Cairo, by Prof. Selim Hassan, containing a mummy adorned with a gold crown and a complete set of jewelry, is perhaps the only tomb in this area untouched by thieves. The gold crown was 24 inches in circumference. It was kept in position by two gold lotus flowers, joined by a chalcodony. Each flower was topped by a bird with a long beak, named in hieroglyphics "Yakhu." In the middle of the crown in front was a disk studded with colored stones set in another lotus flower. The large necklace was composed of 50 pieces of gold in the shape of some insects threaded on a gold string. Gold bracelets having the form of the hieroglyphic letter "N"; a number of silver bracelets—it is believed that this is the first time silver bracelets have been discovered in a tomb of the fourth dynasty—and two pure gold anklets also were found.

Curiosity From the Bog

Uncovering the bog at Raighan, in the county of Sherecock, Ireland, a curious bit of wood carving was brought to light which is perplexing the archaeologists and scientists of Ireland and England. The specimen is evidently of great age, 500 years at least, and probably much more. It is about 3 feet in length and represents a woman, but the arms are missing, and it is the work of a skilled carver. There are some curious inscriptions upon it which are legible. The specimen has been placed on exhibition at the Dublin museum with the hope that some student may offer some explanation of the origin and use.

No Tennessee Pygmies

The existence of a pygmy race in Tennessee is believed to be a fallacy by modern ethnologists. The story owes its origin to the discovery in the early half of the Nineteenth century of numerous small stone coffins containing skeletons, the largest of which measured 24 inches in length and 9 inches in depth. These were assumed to be the remains of a race of pygmies. However, they have proved to be in many cases the skeletons of children. Those of adults were deprived of flesh according to the common custom in the mound region, then disjuncted and the bones packed into a very small space.

Hens Busy

The treasurer of the Ladies Aid society of a Greensburg church made a deposit for her organization in a Greensburg bank recently. At the deposit window she spoke to the teller, whom she knew.

The deposit was a considerable one for a church organization and as she passed in the money she said: "Here's the aid money."

The teller understood her to say, "Here's the egg money." Then came the break.

"Well, it looks as though the old hens have been laying pretty good lately," was his comment.—Indianapolis News.

The Future of Education

By Roger W. Babson

With all the talk there is today about technology and the machine age, some clients may wonder what people are to do for a living when the dreams of the technocrats come true. (Let me add, moreover, that I believe that some day these dreams will be realized.) We have only one stomach and can only eat a limited amount of food. We have only two feet and can wear only a limited number of shoes. There is a limit to what an individual can spend sensibly on food, clothing, shelter and even amusement. No one on this planet has more than twenty-four hours a day. America is gradually reaching a consumption saturation point.

On the other hand, although we ourselves may have all we need of material things, we must not forget that hundreds of millions of other people are today barely existing. Therefore, before thinking about four-hour days, we should continue to raise crops and make goods for those less fortunate than ourselves. As this is a job of generations rather than mere years, we need worry about the dangers of the machine age. So long as one human being is in want of food, clothing or shelter, no right-minded and able-bodied person should be content to work only a few hours a day.

Yet I must grant that theoretically the technocrats are right. We are constantly approaching a time when everyone can enjoy a standard of living equivalent to an income of $10,000 per year by working four hours per day for four days per week under proper organization. (This will come, however, through the laboratory work by scientists rather than through legislative work of radicals.) Therefore clients are justified in asking: What will take up the slack? Or, to state the question in another way: What will we do with our spare time? Is there some line of work which can be expanded as the demand for agricultural construction and industrial workers declines? I believe that there is such a line, and here is my reason.

Although people can, to their own advantage, consume only a limited amount of food, clothing, shelter, and amusements, there is no limit to their own development physically, intellectually and spiritually. Through breeding, training and character, the possibilities of every race are beyond the dreams of the most visionary. These possibilities put the most progressive technocrats in the ox-cart class. Instead of one Edison, there can easily be a million; instead of one Einstein, there could easily be another million; and so on ad infinitum. It is merely a question of proper breeding, training and character.

This development to which I have referred will come about through increasing the quality and numbers of the teaching profession. My grandson—now in school in Wellesley, Massachusetts—is one of a class of forty-three! Gradually, as parents and taxpayers have more sense, the size of these classes will be reduced to twenty, ten and even smaller. I forecast the time when each scholar will have one special teacher, and perhaps several specialists as did Helen Keller. Considering the results which her teacher, Miss Sullivan, obtained with this deaf, dumb and blind student, the possibility of universal independent tutoring becomes apparent.

Therefore, as I visualize the future, I see the number of teachers increase as the number of agriculturalists, skilled laborers and industrial workers decrease. Future generations will realize it will be far better for them to do a full day's work themselves and employ more people to develop their children physically, intellectually and spiritually. Christian teaching is an industry that can never be overdone, as it is turning out a product of which there can never be a surplus. Even today the safest and most profitable investment is an education.

Whatever social or political systems may be tried in the future, children will always be the greatest assets. Stocks, bonds, bank accounts, insurance policies and real estate holdings may easily pass out of existence. Our children, however will always be ours. Whatever happens to bankers, manufacturers and merchants, the efficient teacher will always be in demand. Moreover, as leisure time increases, the demand for those who can train others physically intellectually and spiritually will rapidly increase. Even today many families are looking for such persons to come into homes and guide their boys and girls.
