Chamber of Commerce Report For Past Year

Brownfield, Texas
June 15, 1934

Dear Member:

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce voted to hold a banquet, but the committee in charge has not been able to arrange for it. So being of the opinion that the members would like to know something of the activities that are being sponsored by the organization, we have decided to get our story before them in the form of a letter.

To begin with, we have taken more than 300 crop loan applications, about one-half of them being thru the Production Credit Division and the remainder being in the Emergency Feed & Seed Loan. These loans were made to farmers who did not have Bankable security and was their only source of credit, without which they would not have been able to pursue their farming activities, due to the drouth of 1933, many of them were without funds with which to purchase feed, seed and food. But as a result of our being able to serve them in this manner, many thousands of dollars were circulated among our business at a time when it was most needed.

The Secretary is also a member of the County Cotton Reduction Board. A very considerable amount of time has been consumed in connection with it, even prior to the passage of the Bankhead Bill and since that time we have been undertaking to secure an increased allotment of Tax Free cotton for this County and have based our request upon the fact that not less than two of the five base years was subnormal in production and should be eliminated in considering our average production. A 9-page Brief, showing the number of contract signers, sod farms and non-contract signers as well as other matter of an informational nature was prepared and mailed to both the State and National Boards, as well as our Representatives at Washington. We have been informed by the Department of Agriculture that we are being considered for an increase and in the event that it is allowed, we will be able to produce and sell several thousand extra bales of Tax Free cotton, which is something worth shooting at. During the time that we were working on our Brief, it was necessary to make trips to both Lubbock and Stamford and we have been informed that our papers were in better order and more complete than any other county in this section.

We have also been actively engaged in the promotion of additional highway construction and connection with it. The writer and Judge Barret made a trip to Abilene to confer with highway commissioner Ely and we secured a statement from him that the plans as they concerned highway 137, was for completion within a very short time. We also discussed the possibilities of further improvement of highway 84, but was informed that they could not promise any immediate work on it, unless we could be designated as being eligible for highway construction under a special appropriation that was expected to be allowed by the department of agriculture. So being of the opinion that we could qualify for it, we commenced to prepare our data and when the proper time arrived it was placed in the hands of our officials at Washington as well as our representatives and as a result of our efforts, our county has been designated as one of those who are to receive a considerable sum to be used in highway construction, which may mean that both 137 and 84 will be completed or at least in course of completion within the next few months.

Another valuable accomplishment of the chamber of commerce was in appearing before the City Council and advocating change in an ordinance as it applied to peddlers and we are glad to report that we have a new law which calls for a license of $60.00 instead of $1.50 and the increase is expected to keep out a considerable number of "fly by night" artists that have been plying their trade on the streets and alleys for the last several years to the detri-

Several Attend Sing Song at Lamesa Sun.

Among the several that attended the South Plains Singing convention at Lamesa last Sunday, was Judge W. W. Price, his son, Marner and Bud Anderson. The Judge reports that a huge crowd was there from all over the south plains section, and choirs, quartets, etc., from almost all sections of west and north Texas.

The convention was held under the huge compress sheds, with amplifiers scattered about, so that the whole congregation could easily hear all the songs. He said that there was some mighty fine singing, and everyone enjoyed the convention. Still mighty dry in that section, said the Judge.

Editor Richards of Anton Fills Pulpit

Editor H. G. Richards of Anton, pastor of the Primitive Baptist church here, was down Saturday and Sunday on his regular appointment with his congregation which meets Saturday afternoons, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon at the First Christian church. Elder Richards formerly lived in Terry county.

Editor Richards informed us that they had been blessed with an abundance of rain in his section so far, and that crops were looking nice. He also reported that politics had begun to warm up. Richards has many friends in Brownfield, and always makes the rounds to see them when he comes to town.

Jim Graves has been suffering from an abscessed tooth this week.

ment of legitimate business. As a matter of fact, it has already caused several of these gentry to pass on to greener fields.

Other activities that are carried on, are that we keep a record of the rainfall for the Weather Bureau and also maintain a credit reporting service, which is for the free use of the members and several of them profiting by it. The regular routine office work consists of answering inquiries concerning many subjects, among them, letters from persons who desire to locate some line of business, but it has been our policy to discourage the location of any business or profession that would be calculated to result in an injury to those already established and we believe that this policy is one of the reasons for the very satisfactory business conditions that obtain in Brownfield, as we have very few lines that are over crowded.

We are also working on a proposal, that if accomplished, will result in a very considerable improvement in our mail service, but as it is a sort of regional proposition, we are not able to advise as to whether the outcome will be favorable or not.

Our Post Office has been demoted from Second to Third Class, beginning July 1. We have done everything possible to prevent the change, by appealing to the Post Office Department and our Senators and Congressmen, but are doubtful of success. The change is caused by a decrease in sales and while it is a very small amount, the officials at Washington inform us that the regulations must be followed. Of course the change will be in the nature of a calamity, but at the same time arrangements are being undertaken by the Postmaster to partially offset it.

A proposal that we are just beginning work upon, is undertaking to get the county included in the Government Cattle Buying Program, as we have been informed that they are paying good prices for cattle of all classes and while our information on the matter is not complete we are assembling our data and will undertake to have an investigation made in order that we may benefit by these purchases and at this time, we see no reason why we should not be included.

On our work in connection with our request for an increased allotment of cotton, we received very valuable assistance from Tom May, Marshall Kendrick, Leo Holmes, as well as from R. C. Reed and his office force and upon our activities in connection with the Emergency Highway program, we had the assistance of Mayor L. C. Wines, Marion Craig of the City Council, as well as the County Commissioners, while Judge Barret and the writer worked jointly in preparing our supporting evidence.

Since the above was written, we have been advised that we are to be included in the Cattle Buying program.

J. E. Shelton, Secretary.

Ford Cars Reduced From $10 to $20

DETROIT MICH., June 15.—Reductions of $10 to $15 in list prices of 1934 Ford V-8 passenger cars and $10 to $20 in list prices of Ford V-8 commercial cars and trucks were announced last week by the Ford Motor Company effective Friday, June 15.

Ford prices had remained unchanged since the introduction of the 1934 Ford V-8 last December, the Ford Motor Company not having participated in the recent general automotive price increase. The reductions announced are, therefore, a decrease in the original prices.

The price reduction on the standard and de luxe Tudor Sedans, most popular individual models in-point of sales, is $15. Prices of other standard and deluxe body types were reduced $10, except prices of the Roadster, Phaeton and Cabriolet, de luxe types, which remain unchanged. Both standard and de luxe passenger cars have the same V-8 engine and 112 inch wheelbase chassis. Body types for both are identical except for the de luxe equipment.

Sheriff Clears Up Levelland Bank Job

Dallas, June 16.—The robbery of a Levelland bank last April of $1,000 was cleared up here today by a "country town sheriff" who "didn't know where the county line was."

Arch Holmes of Seymour, Baylor County, after running down many clues, arrested two men at Durant, Okla., yesterday and brought them to Dallas while he went out again for a third man suspected of complicity.

One of them, 22, confessed to robbing the bank and implicated his father, held with him, and the third man.

Holmes explained why a Baylor County sheriff was working on a Hockley county robbery in this manner:

"Well, boys, I'm just a county town sheriff and I didn't know where the county line was. That's all I can say."

One Dead at Sudan—Hit by Automobile

Sudan, June 16.—Tommy Partin, about 25, living four miles west of Sudan, was almost instantly killed about 11 p. m. today when he was struck by an automobile.

Partin was said to have been lying in or at the edge of the Circleback road when he was hit by an automobile driven by a man named Berry. W. O. Parish who was driving behind Berry carried the body to a Sudan doctor's office. Berry stopped. Partin married last spring. Funeral will be Sunday afternoon, Stewart Funeral Home said.

Shelton Announces For Re-election as JP

I desire to announce for re-election to the office of Justice of the Peace, Precinct No. 1. And I do this for several reasons. First, I believe that I have conducted the office in a manner that has been satisfactory to the majority of the people whom I have had occasion to serve in an official capacity and further by having office space I have been enabled to offer my services in other capacities that I believe resulted in benefitting many citizens of the county.

It is true that I have other work in addition to the office of Justice of the Peace, but if this had not been the case I would have been unable to have performed much of the work that has been done, as the office does not pay an amount sufficient to enable a person to keep the office open and available to our officials and other citizens at any and all times as has been the case since I have held it. The voters of the precinct are assured that I shall appreciate their favorable consideration.

J. E. SHELTON.

Local Lady Injured In Auto Accident

Coming home from Lawton, Okla., Monday, where she had answered a summons to a telegram that her father was very ill, Mrs. R. W. Rutherford of this city, had the misfortune to hit loose gravel in the road and turned over. They were only about 15 miles out, having got her father out of the hospital at 5:30 and both were back in at 6:30. However they were not so badly hurt, but the car which belonged to her father was demolished. She put her father on a bus then to continue to Brownfield, and Mrs. Rutherford got in the car with her son, who was following behind, and who had taken her to Lawton.

Negro Woman Held As Theft Suspect

LEVELLAND, June 13.—Wylie Mae Ellison, a young negro woman who has been employed until last week doing domestic work here, was arrested in Lubbock this week and brought back to jail charged with the theft of $1,000 from Dr. Ray Ross, dentist of Levelland.

Dr. Ross had the money in a hand bag in his house, preparatory to making a business deal, and the negro who was working in the Ross home, supposedly found and took the money.

When arrested, the Ellison woman was in the chair of a negro dentist, having some showy gold plate put on her teeth. In her handbag was $934.41 of the alleged stolen funds.

Tobe Rentfro, of Amarillo came in the past week end after his wife and baby, who have been visiting here. He was accompanied down by his sister, Mrs. Cecil Smith and children, who had been visiting her father, Ross Rentfro and family.

Lamb County Boy Killed by Lightning

Billy Dennington, age 9, who lives one mile east of Bula was killed instantly by lightning Thursday morning between 9 and 10 o'clock.

His sister, Rudeen, age 11, was badly burned and her clothes blown from her body by the same bolt but has a chance for recovery, doctors said.

They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dennington who have lived in the Bula community since 1925.

The children were about 150 yards from the house out in the field hoeing weeds when the tragedy occurred. Billy was working along about fifty feet behind his sister when the lightning struck.

He was not marked at all, but was dead when his father and Mr. Hagen a neighbor, got to them. The men had been on the porch at the house and saw the dust fly when the bolt struck.

Rudeen was wearing a shirt and overalls and all that was left on her body after the lightning struck her was a part of one shirt sleeve. The clothing, torn to bits, was scattered over about a 12 foot circle. Even her underwear was torn away.

The bolt split her hoe handle and ran on down into the ground, knocking out a big hole. She was severely burned in places but has a chance for recovery, attending physicians say.—Littlefield Leader.

The Home People Are Endorsing Judge Price

Matters were gotten under way this week to show the people of the other counties of the 106th Judicial District, that Brownfield and Terry county people are behind and recommending to other portions of the district that Judge W. W. Price be elected the next District Judge. The motto is: "We will furnish the PRICE, and you furnish the votes, and together we will have a good district judge."

Judge McGuire of Lamesa has many friends here, and has always carried a good vote here, but to use the words of some, "we believe in the Democratic form of government, and inasmuch as Judge McGuire has been the District Attorney or on the bench as Judge for the past 15 years, we believe it is time to pass the plums to others. If the office is perpetuated to one man, there is no incentive for others to make any preparation for advancement."

Several thousands of cards will be printed and the friends of Judge Price will see that they are judiciously over the district.

LEVELLAND TO GET COMPRESS

LEVELLAND, June 14.—Construction work on a 900 foot spur from the Santa Fe tracks to the old compress shed built several years ago indicates that the dream of Hockley county cotton growers for compress facilities are to be realized. A $70,000 building project is seen for this year.

Two Families to Come From Slaton

Mr. J. C. Watson, real estate man of Slaton, was over last week and informed us that he had decided to move here and open an office in the near future. Mr. Watson has sold several pieces of land in Terry county in the past year or so, and desires to get on the ground here it will be nearer his field of operation. But for the present, Mr. Watson will not be able to move his family here, as he has not been able to sell his Slaton property, but will move his family here as soon as he can turn his property there.

Mr. Watson informed us that the land around the Slaton section was so high he could not sell it. Prospectors from the east after looking at the land and getting the price of it would tell him that they could get land in the blackland belt of central Texas cheaper than they could the Slaton land. By the way, Mr. Watson gladly admitted that the most money he has made this year is from small classified ads he has run in the Herald.

The other prospect, and an almost assured one, is Monte Bowron, than whom there is no better band master in west Texas, aims to move here after July 4th. For the past twenty-five years, Mr. Bowron has been conducting bands in west Texas, and especially on the south Plains, and he has had some of the best bands to be found. His contract with Slaton ends with their celebration on July 4th, and he will move here immediately afterwards. He says that he can conduct and instruct a band here at a very small figure, and carry his delco business along with it for the main part of his sustenance.

In an interview with Mr. Bowron, he said: "Jack, I have long thought that Brownfield was one of the best towns on the Plains, and I have come to a full conclusion now." We informed him that we thought so too. He replied by saying: "Jack, you know doggone good and well that it is the best town. No other town has such a wide, well developed trade territory, and I believe that I can make a good living here with my Delco business."

Slaton, he said was a good town, but I have been there a long time, and the citizens have begun to take the band as a matter of fact, and little if any encouragement is to be had. It is unusual, he said for there to have less than 2000 people on Saturday nights at the weekly band concerts in the park. Brownfield, he said, needs a good band to help it put over its program of expansion. You have the talent, and with your help, the help of the civic clubs and Chamber of Commerce and the people in general, I know that in a few months at the outside, I can whip a good band in shape here that will compare favorably with any in this section.

Five are Killed And Eleven Hurt at Spur

The dead were: Joe Collier, 46, Spur automobile salesman.

Mrs. Harvey Holly, 38, of Dickens. Lancy, six-year-old son of Mrs. Holly.

Not expected to live was Judd Wasson, 45, of Dickens, who suffered a skull fracture, fractures of the jaw, a broken leg and arm and severe lacerations.

Grade School Building Undergoing Repairs

Workmen are now busy reroofing the grade school building, which if we are correctly informed, has not had a new roof since the construction of the building about 1917 or 1918. The roof had become rather leaky, and was damaging the interior and furniture, especially in the third story.

We understand that all the window pans will be replaced and other needed repairs made, so that the building will be nice and comfortable when school convenes again.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carter left Sunday morning for Mineral Wells, where they will take the baths.

Kendrick Director of One WTCC Commiss'n

R. M. Kendrick, Brownfield, Director in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has received notice of his appointment by James D. Hamlin, president, as a member of the regional chamber's Commission on Public Expenditure and Taxation for this fiscal year.

The objectives of the Commission on Public Expenditure and Taxation are set forth by Hamlin as follows: (1) execution of any emergency assignments, and all previous policies with reference to the curtailment of public expenditures and lightening the tax burden; (2) through local public expenditure committees and in accordance with the budget law of the state participate in making budgets in the local political subdivisions; (3) work for legislation that will limit public expenditures for each fiscal year to the revenues of that same year; (4) urge support by congressmen and senators of the President in his plans to balance the Federal budget; (5) inaugurate through local public expenditure committees a campaign for the collection of delinquent taxes; (6) campaign for the adoption of the constitutional amendment providing a per capita limitation on all revenues that may be collected by the state of Texas; (7) inaugurate a campaign for the study of county home rule amendment and for the adoption of characters thereunder; and (8) conduct educational campaign looking toward the rewriting of the constitution of the State of Texas.

The commission is composed of forty-two members with the following six designated as the executive board of the commission to act for it in an administrative manner: C. M. Caldwell, Abilene, Chairman; Wallace Perry, El Paso; Chas. W. Lewis, Sweetwater; A. J. Swenson, Stamford; C. N. Bessett, El Paso; and W. M. Massie, Floydada.

Ice Plant Has Installed New Model Ice Saw

You've heard the old one about "I saw a saw in Arkansas, that beat any saw I ever saw." Well, ice saw saw a saw at the ice plant that was some saw and not in Arkansas." This saw has recently been installed by Chris Quante, local ice distributor, and is the very latest thing in the way of automatic ice saws. It is pulled by a motor.

This machine is placed on the ice dock, and has two sets of two saws each, set just right to work on both sides of a 300 pound block of ice, and thirds the block in 100 pounds, but does not saw them entirely into. The block is then placed on its side, and the two bottom saws rip through it, cutting the block into sixths or 50 pound blocks. It is then an easy matter to take an ordinary ice pick and take the whole block apart.

The whole operation takes much less time than it did you to read this article. In fact, they would have had several blocks "hashed" by this time. But boys, be careful around those saws. They would cut off a hand or arm just as easy as they slice ice.

Sheriff of Floyd County is Injured

EL PASO, June 16.—Unconscious since an automobile driven by his daughter crashed into a tree 18 miles east of El Paso early this morning, E. S. Randerson, 42, Floyd county sheriff, was in a critical condition at an El Paso hospital tonight.

The daughter, Folia, 17, said she swerved off the road to avoid hitting horses crossing the highway. A nephew, Billy Ray Randerson, and Mrs. Randerson suffered minor injuries. Sheriff Randerson suffered five broken ribs and severe head injuries. The car was demolished. They were en route to California.

pose of copying by newspapers over the country. Instead of confining its purposes to the promotion of Maveiled attack on President Roosevelt

Extremely hot weather and drouth are great levelers of society. Heretofore, it has been a breach of etiquette almost subject to fine to appear in Federal Court without a coat, but it got so terribly hot in Judge Atwell's court recently that he not only countenanced removal of the outer garment, but advised it. Over in staid old England too, they are having a great drouth, and extreme heat. It has been the custom for ages for the Judges to wear their have their coats buttoned from top shed their wigs and the Bobbyes their coats too, "over there."

Yes, sir, boss, we admit that we can take the wrong side of many questions the latest of which if we had been a gambler with plenty mon-that we do have, however, that we never have gambled. If we had been endowed with sporting blood, we know we would have been a flop, and our wife would now be taking in grace—not half as much as gambling.

We have several friends here how-

Harking back, we recall another

They tell us that practically all the places where liquors and beer is

After spending thousands of hours a jury was finally found down at Huntsville that thought Raymond deserve death himself. But the good people of Texas better all pray that next January be hastened in and another person is in the governor's

The 73rd Congress has adjourned, and despite efforts of fellows like
Will Rogers, who would have us be-

Servants May Transmit Many Diseases

AUSTIN, TEXAS.—Dr. John W.
Brown, State Health Officer, while discussing the spread of disease, asserted that servants in the homes were responsible for transmitting many diseases. There is a State law requiring food handlers in public places to have a health certificate but this does not include domestics.
This is the responsibility of the employer.
Many persons of all races are employed as cooks, nurse-maids, laundress, etc. As such they come in intimate contact with the grown-ups and children in the family. If these servants are harboring any communicable disease the employing family is very likely to contract it.
Some of the diseases that may be and are transmitted in such a manner are: venereal diseases, tuberculosis, typhoid fever, and other acute contagious diseases. A typhoid carrier can easily infect an entire family. Recently a nurse-maid was discovered to have syphilis and she had charge of two small children. Another family discovered that their servant had active tuberculosis.
The State Department of Health recommends that employers have their family physician examine their servants from time to time to eliminate any danger of contracting any of the diseases mentioned. The cost of this is negligible when compared to the cost of an illness and family death.

ILLUSION

The celebrated soprano was doing a solo when Bobbie said to his mother, referring to the conductor of the orchestra: "Why does that man hit at that woman with his stick?"
"He's not hitting her," replied the mother. "Keep quiet."
"Well, then, what's she hollerin' for?"
A great many local people had the privilege of seeing the young couple that was married at a theatre in Lubbock last Friday night. They passed through here, changing from the Brownfield-Lubbock bus to the Brownfield-Roswell bus on their way to Ruidoso on their honeymoon. Every expense for their wedding and honeymoon was furnished by Lubbock merchants.
Elder O. M. Reynolds writes in to say that the meeting of the church of Christ at Seagraves is making good headway under an open air tabernacle. There will be three sermons and a basket dinner on the ground Sunday. Also song drill in the afternoon.
All our Juneteenth celebrants got in bock papers, all others didn't.

THINK THIS OVER

The independent business man strays through bad times as well as good. He can always be counted on to absorb more than his share of the responsibility of maintaining the community. He uses up what ever reserve he may have, not only from his business but from his own personal property to maintain employment and makes the many sacrifices that are necessary to insure the future welfare of his city.
Did the foreign owned store ever pioneer a community? Did it ever help to build the buildings, pay the taxes, and give its time toward the establishment of city government or any of the other elements which enter into the building of a community?
No, they waited until after the city was established and it was possible for them to operate profitably. Then and not until then did they enter.
And when times get tough, do they stay and bear their share of the burden? No, they pull out and leave the independent merchant to foot the bill.—Roswell Dispatch.

FINLAND WILL PAY

York on June 15.

As Six-Footers... and not a cramp in a Carload!

FIVE big men can relax in utter comfort on the deep cushions of the Ford V-8. Wide seats keep elbows out of ribs. Ample leg room keeps legs from being cramped.

Why? Because Ford measures roominess in terms of usable body room. Not in terms of the distance between bumpers, which means nothing when you come to analyze it.

The Ford V-8's very engine construction gives you more body room, as the diagram explains. Cylinders are "doubled-up" saving space, not strung along in a line to waste it.

See how much less space is occupied by the V-8 engine as compared with the ordinary "six" or "eight." Less space for the engine means more space for the passengers.

The Ford V-8 front seat is adjustable. It quickly and easily adapts itself to a six-foot-two husband or a five-foot-two wife. It ends forever that source of strife.

Before you buy any car at any price, drive the Ford V-8.

Tunisian Family Moves to New Fair Village

From far-off Africa came this family to live in the Tunisian village on the Street of Villages which is a major feature of the new World's Fair that opened in Chicago May 26. Fifteen of these reproductions of life and scenes in far-away lands offer visitors a tour of the world in a single day. Eleven of these villages are grouped where the Midway was in 1933. Record crowds found the Fair complete and new on opening day.

don't do it. They can pay hotel bills, gas bills, cut bills, cards, mats and all other bills but when it comes to newspaper advertising they are not able.

We see no reason why the newspaper, of all others, should be expected to sponsor every state candidate's campaign free of charge. The mails are full of all these platforms which in many instances are as meaningless as a blank sheet of paper.

We are taking no stock in any one's campaign further than that of personal friendship. We have to foot the bills when we boost a friend. Printers don't work for nothing. We pay them. Public utilities don't furnish us gas and electricity for nothing. Candidates who are total strangers to us mail us literature by the thousands of words and expect us to print it. These candidates seem to think it costs us nothing and all we have to do is say "Presto digitalis, rotten tomatoes," and out comes the paper.

We are always glad to run an article that is of news, such as the announcement of a speaking in our town of some candidate, because it is of interest to our subscribers, but this bologna candidates send us through the mails wouldn't be read by anyone.—Lamesa Reporter.

STRONGER BUSINESS AND STRONGER BANKS

By F. M. LAW
President American Bankers Association

DURING the crisis when confidence was shattered, bankers were properly concerned in liquidity. Their main thought was to prepare to meet any demand for withdrawal of funds. They were more interested therefore in collecting loans than in making them. For this they cannot be justly blamed. It was a proper procedure. Now that confidence has been so largely restored banks will naturally resume a more normal lending policy. This does not mean they will or should extend loose or unsound credit, but that in the utmost good faith bankers will perform their proper part in recovery by a sympathetic and constructive attitude in the making of sound loans. Nor should commercial banks make capital or long time loans, for the reason that their loans are made from funds derived from deposits payable for the most part on demand.

When the return of confidence is further on its way, business men will find need for credit in making their plans. Then good borrowers, who for the most part have been so conspicuously absent from the market, will return. They will be warmly welcomed by the banks.

Business Men's Fears
Business men have not yet laid all their fears. They worry about what Congress may or may not do. They concern themselves about a trend toward control of business by government. They fear taxes beyond their power to pay. These are real sources of worry and when they are reassured along these lines they will be more inclined to take a fresh look at the future and to make plans to go forward.

As a matter of fact there are tangible evidences of recovery. The Federal Reserve Board officially has stated that prices, wages, business activity and production were back to the highest peak since early in 1931. Commercial failures in the United States are being cut almost in half as compared with the same period last year. It has been reported that the decline in export and import trade was definitely checked in the middle of 1933 and replaced during the last half of the year by a substantial recovery movement.

Among favorable factors is the improved condition of the banks. It is doubtless true that the banking structure of the country has never been in a sounder, stronger and more liquid condition than it is today. My authority for that statement is the Comptroller of the Currency. No longer is there any fear or thought of bank runs. Depositors once more know that their money is safe and the banker, thrice armed in the knowledge of his own strength, is looking forward.

Training for Bankers

The American Bankers Association has been active for many years training young men and women in order that they may be duly qualified for the business of banking. Standard courses are furnished with able and experienced teachers. This work is done under the direction of the American Institute of Banking Section of the association. Over two hundred chapters, or local banking schools, are in active operation throughout the country and thousands of the younger generation of bankers are being graduated each year. These students are taught not only banking practices and policies, but they are also well grounded in the highest ideals and standards of business ethics. A proposal is now under consideration to establish a central school, which will offer advanced or graduate work to a selective list taken from those who have completed the standard courses.—F. M. Law, President American Bankers Association.

Miss Evelyn Judd, who has been visiting her grandfather, A. Judd, of Lubbock for the past two weeks, has returned home.

How I Broke Into The Movies

Copyright by Hal C. Herman

BY ALICE WHITE

STENOGRAPHER, telephone girl, real estate solicitor, script girl—my "breaking into" the movies was a long and devious route. I was fired from more jobs in Hollywood than most girls who finally crash the studio gates.

But probably it was a good thing. It made me all the more anxious to succeed in pictures, and I tried harder than I would have if the pathway to the screen had been lined with more roses and fewer thorns.

I was going to school in the East, and I became tired of it. So I went to Hollywood, where my grandmother was living.

First I took a secretarial course at Hollywood high school. Then I started on a series of jobs—and such a series! I tried being a secretary to various men, but when their wives took one look at me, out I went!

I tried ringing doorbells for real estate agents. I tried addressing envelopes. I sat at the switchboard in the Writer's club for a while.

Then, through the kindness of Roy Neil, the director, I got a job holding script on a picture he was directing.

Finally I went to the Charlie Chaplin studios, where I held script on the picture "A Woman of the Sea," which never was released.

One day the still photographer had a few spare moments, and he suggested that I pose for him. I was wearing a sweater and an old tam, and—well I was plump, to say the least.

But he was a good photographer. He made me look like a million dollars.

Alice White.

I got my first idea, then, of trying out for pictures.

When a big producing company started to make tests for a college series, I thought it would be a chance to take the plunge. I was tested, along with a crowd of girls—and what a test it proved to be!

I was glad to get another script job with an independent company, where I worked 18 hours a day for $50 a week.

One day Ivan Kahn, the manager, came on the set.

"How would you like to sign a contract with me?" he asked.

"Don't be silly," I replied, "Script girls don't need a manager."

But it seems he had seen my tests, and thought there was a possibility I might get a contract.

I couldn't understand that—in fact, I can't today. I thought they were terrible.

Anyway, I signed a contract and started to starve off the extra weight I was carrying.

Finally we went to First National studios, where I took a real test—and got a contract before I had acted a single scene before a camera.

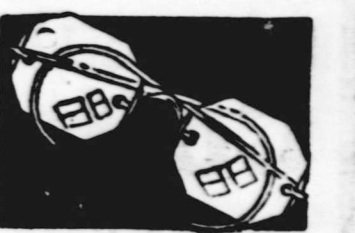

My first part was with Milton Sills in "The Sea Tiger." After that picture, I went with several independent companies. Then I was recalled to First National and entered a new contract.

From that time on it was easy. A starring contract came within a year. But don't think I haven't worked hard. Singing lessons, dancing lessons, learning dialogue—it's just hard work, and don't let anyone tell you different.

But it's worth while. Anything worth while is worth working for. And the early disappointments help you on your way.

WHY PICK ON US?

We can't exactly understand why the hotels are not asked to take care of all state candidates free of charge. Neither can we understand why filling stations are not asked to furnish gas free. They ask all the newspapers to do all their publicity free. Why should the newspapers pay printers to set this matter and run it for nothing? But they do, unless some friend pays the bill. Texas has today more candidates for state offices than at any time we can recall. They do not ask the mat makers to make the mats for nothing and they

ELECTRIC SUNRISE IS USED AT GONZALES

Gonzales, June 19.—If the turkey hens at the Luling farm foundation could learn about the NRA they probably would go on strike.

They were "tricked" into working overtime and accomplished their spring laying last winter.

Turkeys should be hatched early in the spring, operators of the farm believed, but they were confronted with a reluctance on the part of the hens to lay eggs. To make the hens think longer days—and the egg laying season—had arrived, electric lights were placed in the pens and turned on at 4 a. m.

Statistics were kept on two flocks, both given the same food and the same conditions with the exception of the early "sunrise." Fifteen days after the experiment started, the hens that left the roost at 4 a. m. began laying. The others laid only occasionally until warm weather arrived.

All the turkeys will do their stuff under the lights next winter, the farm managers said.

PUBLIC OPINION AND THE BANKS

By F. N. SHEPHERD
Executive Manager
American Bankers Association

WHILE banking today appears in a wholly distorted light in the eyes of some, the more reasoning elements in our population undoubtedly have a less jaundiced view than would appear from certain irresponsible orators, often posing as spokesmen for that indefinite quantity called "the mass" of our people.

Anti-social acts on the part of some bankers formerly have been the subject of spectacular exposures, but I can say without reservation that they were in no way typical of the acts and attitudes of the vast majority of their fellow bankers. The public mind was shocked into the belief that these untypical instances were far more representative than they really were, and this belief has been encouraged by political and demagogic elements.

The Bankers Today
The bankers who are in charge of our banks today represent men who withstood the temptations and avoided the economic pitfalls of the great boom. If they had not they would not be there, or their banks would not have been able to survive the rack and ruin of the economic hurricane, by which even many banks and bankers, whose conduct was above reproach, have been destroyed. The other types of bankers, those that fell below the high standards of professional ethics and business prudence that characterized those that remain, have passed out of the picture. But they have left for those that remain a difficult heritage of suspicion and ill will.

How irrational this is, when we reflect that not more than three or four per cent of our entire population suffered personal loss because of what any banker did or neglected to do, whereas literally millions of bank depositors did not lose a single cent as a result of banking difficulties and really owe a vote of confidence and thanks to their own bankers who were true to the highest conceptions of their stewardship and brought their institutions and their customers safely through the greatest business disaster the world has ever seen. It has been a peculiar feature of the psychological distortion of the times that many who owe nothing but gratitude to their bankers joined in blaming the banker far out of proportion with any rational consideration of the facts.

EXAMINATIONS FOR TRUST INSTITUTIONS

New Move by Federal Banking Authorities Welcomed by Banks and Trust Companies, Says Bankers' Organization

FEDERAL examination of trust departments is the latest development in banking supervision and trust companies and banks operating trust departments are welcoming this development because it fills a long-felt want, it is stated by the Trust Division of the American Bankers Association. Despite the growing importance of American trust business in recent years examining officials have never given to trust departments the attention paid to commercial banking departments, this authority points out. Now the Federal Reserve System, in conjunction with the Comptroller of the Currency, has undertaken to bring the examination of trust departments up to the level of commercial bank examinations, it says.

Experts in trust work are being employed by the various Federal Reserve Banks. These experts will head the special staffs of trust examiners in the twelve Federal Reserve Districts. Special staffs are already at work in some of the Reserve Districts, including Boston, Atlanta, Richmond and Chicago. The Federal Reserve will examine the trust departments of state-chartered members of the Reserve System.

Uniform Supervision
Meanwhile, the Comptroller of the Currency has built up over the past two years a staff of special examiners for the trust departments of national banks. All national banks are members of the Federal Reserve System. Since nearly all state-chartered trust institutions are members of the Reserve System the new plan will bring about what amounts to Federal examination for the trust business.

State examining authorities probably will follow Federal supervisory policies to a considerable extent. Hence, coordination of the procedure of the national banking system and the Federal Reserve System is expected to result in a uniform system of examinations for trust departments in all banks. This in turn should produce considerable standardization in the operation of trust departments, the division declares.

Judge W. W. Price, who makes out the applications, and Dube Pyeat, local appraiser for the Federal Home Loan department, state that lots of Brownfield people are making application to get the loans on their homes transferred to the Home Loan, which carries a cheaper interest rate and longer time.

MISREPRESENTATION MAY RESULT IN TROUBLE

According to a report from Midland, the United States government is to send secret service agents to that city to investigate families suspected of getting groceries, work or other relief by making false statements on their application cards, according to welfare officials.

It is reported that some men have obtained feed from the relief office when they had feed in their barns. Some have obtained groceries when they had jobs, or could have got by without relief. All such cases make the person who made the false statement liable to jail sentences. Upon conviction they shall be punished by a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50, or by a sentence of not exceeding three months, or by both such fine and jail sentence.

HOW TO PLEASE THE BURGLAR

While everyone else is on vacation, the burglar has his busiest season. L. A. Sawyer, burglary expert of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, says there are certain signs that always gladden his heart.

He likes to see an accumulation of milk bottles and newspapers at doors, and always is pleased to note that mail boxes are full to running over with letters and circulars.

He approves of windows that have shades pulled down.

He becomes more confident when he sees the garage door open, and notes that the car is gone.

The burglar, continues Mr. Sawyer, is delighted to find doors fastened with fragile locks that give way to the slightest pressure. He has praise for the householder who depends on simple catches for windows which are accessible from the ground, the roof, fire-escape or from broad copings along which he can climb.

Inside the house the burglar likes to find that the housewife has placed all of her silver in a compartment of the sideboard. He likes to find the furs in a moth bag with opera cloaks and special dinner gowns.

If there is one thing that adds zest to the search of the visitor it is the practice of some housewives in hiding jewelry and money under carpets, rugs, in carelessly hung clothing, or in mattresses, pillows or the davenport. It is a game to him and he knows all the plays. It does not take long for him to win.

What the burglar does not like, Mr. Sawyer concludes, is to find strong locks on doors, special protection on windows, extra catches on dumbwaiters, and after entering, to discover that all the movable valuables have been stored elsewhere.

New Car Registration Increased 64 Per Cent

Austin, Texas, June.—New passenger car registrations in Texas made another favorable showing during May, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, seventeen counties representing all major sections of the state had a total of 5,599 registrations, against 5,429 in April and 3,760 in May 1933, gains of 3.1 and 50 per cent respectively. In the past years there has usually been a decline in sales from April to May.

Total sales during the first five months of the year were 21,768, compared with 13,276 during the corresponding period last year, a gain of 64 per cent.

PAINT WILL BRIGHTEN UP OLD LINOLEUM

Waxahachie—Old linoleum from which the design has worn away may be transformed into a colorful state almost like new for the price of one and one-half quarts of paint and some home labor, Mrs. W. B. Sims of Bethel Home Demonstration Club in Ellis county has found. She painted the entire linoleum with a light grey paint and when this was completely dry she applied soft shades of green and orange paint to this neutral background. To do this she took a small sponge for each color of paint and dabbed it sparingly to avoid making lines. One color was applied in the radius of her reach and then the other color was put on before the first had time to dry. This left a smooth surface as the color which was to dominate was applied last and blended into the other before it dried.

World's Largest Fountain New Fair Feature

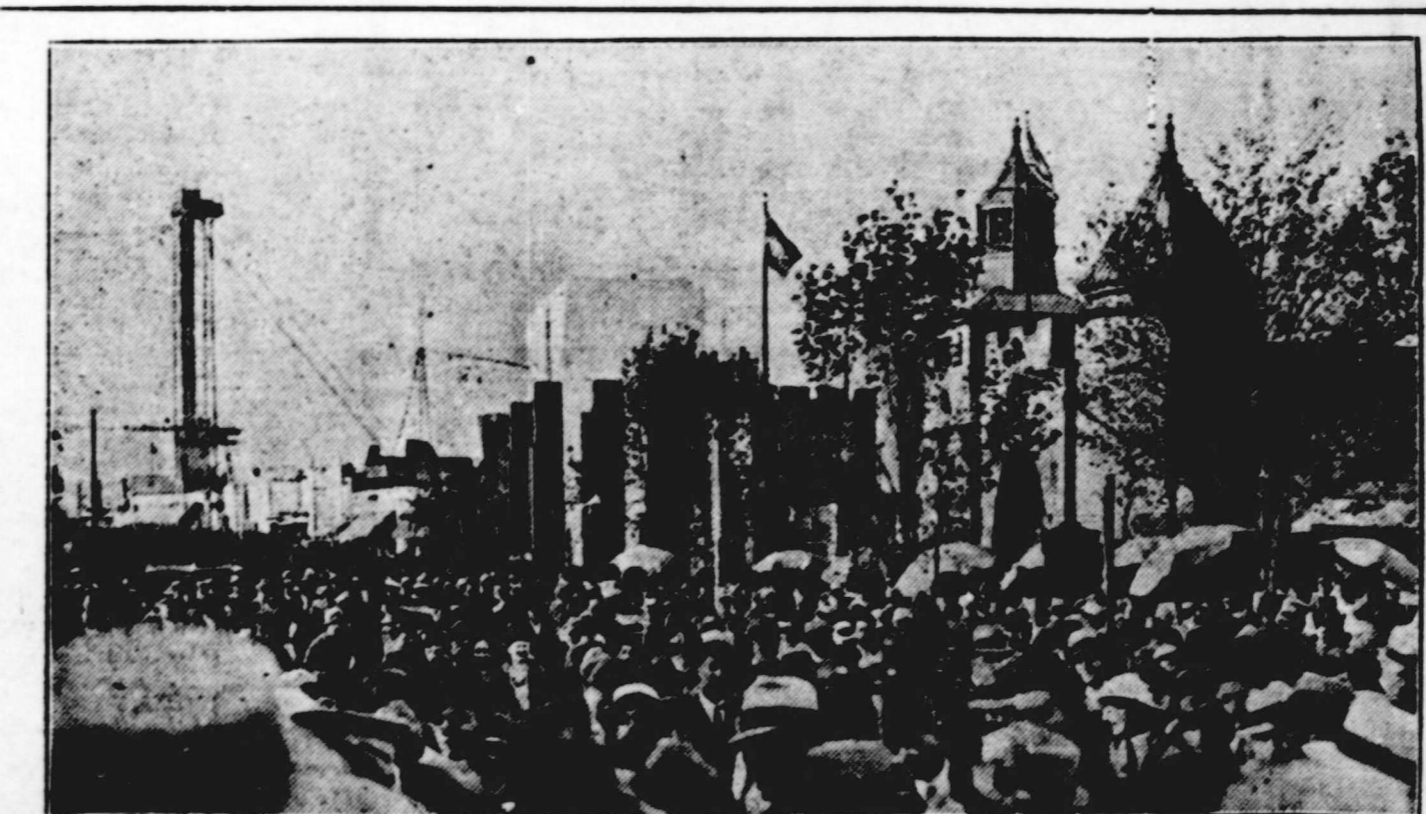

The largest fountain ever built will be the outstanding single feature of the new World's Fair which opens in Chicago May 26. Its flow of water will be enough to supply a city of 1,000,000, and its spectacular lighting, in five colors, will use an electrical load sufficient for a city of 150,000. Fifteen foreign villages, music, fireworks and free entertainment will be among the major attractions of the Fair. There are 84 miles of free exhibits. Cost to visitors will be low. Reduced rail fares and hotel rates are in effect. Chicago is easily accessible by automobile through fourteen major highways. A program of special interest with music, parades, fireworks and special features has been arranged for opening day. That will be an interesting time for a first visit.

Ford's Drama of Transportation at New Fair

In the largest exhibit ever built for an exposition, the Ford Motor Company will tell the complete story of transportation from the beginning of time, in the new World's Fair which opens in Chicago May 26. A special part of the exhibit will demonstrate Henry Ford's own solution to the farmer's problem. With 84 miles of free exhibits, the new Fair will again be a spectacular international attraction. Special attention will be paid to the comfort and convenience of visitors. Low railroad and bus rates, and low rates in Chicago hotels will out the cost of a World's Fair vacation even as compared with the low costs of last year.

New Fair Throngs Storm Street of Villages

Shown here is part of the record-breaking opening day crowd at the new World's Fair in Chicago. The Street of Villages, offering a "tour of the world" in a single day, was the principal attraction for the sightseers, who were surprised to find the Exposition complete for the opening day, May 26.

Infantile Paralysis Frequent in Summer

AUSTIN, TEXAS.—"Infantile paralysis can be expected to occur more frequently during the next three or four months," declared Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. "This disease is always more frequent during the hot months.

"The germ responsible for infantile paralysis is so small that it escapes detection even with the most powerful microscopes. First symptoms are usually vomiting, headache, fever, stiffness of the neck, pain in the legs, irritability and drowsiness. Complete recovery may follow such an illness. In more severe cases, the germ penetrates the nervous system, resulting in paralysis of nerves controlling one or more groups of muscles. Some remarkable recoveries have been noted.

"Flies or other insects have not been demonstrated to play a part in the spread of this disease. Infection spreads from person to person with the droplets attending coughing and sneezing. Children and grown people that are healthy may be carriers of the germs. When present in epidemic form, about one child in each hundred is apt to suffer an attack.

"Early recognition and diagnosis are essential. The use of immune serum may be a factor in preventing paralysis. A period of complete rest is essential for muscles that are affected. If parents note any symptoms of illness in their children, the family doctor should be consulted at once."

Sen. Connally to Open Texas Campaign

DALLAS, TEXAS, June 20.—United States Senator Tom Connally will return to Texas immediately after the adjournment of Congress, and will take personal charge of his campaign for re-election for a second term in the Senate, J. P. Rice, of Dallas, recently appointed state-wide campaign manager for the Texas junior Senator announced here today.

Connally will deliver half a dozen or more addresses, one or more in each section of the State, in which he will review his record in the Senate and give an accounting of his official actions to his constituency in Texas, Rice said.

"In the meanwhile," said Rice, "Senator Connally will remain in Washington, doing his duty, representing the people of Texas. Since the Roosevelt administration took office, the Senator has been one of the President's close counsellors, and one of the leading sponsors entrusted by Mr. Roosevelt with the task of piloting administration legislation through the upper house. In his absence from the State, the Senator's interests are being looked after by his friends, and he has asked me to publicly thank the thousands of loyal friends and constituents who are actively campaigning in his behalf from one end of Texas to the other.

Many Plan to Go to Amarillo Derby Day

Derby Day at the races in Amarillo next Monday, June 25, will bring together some of the best 3-year-old thoroughbreds in the entire Southwest.

Plans are being made to make Derby Day here one of the year's greatest events and to lay a foundation for the continuance of the running here each spring.

There is nothing hippodrome about the Tri-State meeting. The jockeys are first class riders, most of the horses are registered thoroughbreds, and the officials in charge are known throughout the world of racing for the ability.

Besides the Derby, six other races will be run Monday in a grand ending of the nine days' meeting.

The races have been successful in every way. Thoroughbreds from many states have vied for glory and cash purses. Patrons have kept up a steady file to the pari-mutuel windows to buy certificates on their favorite bangtails.

Over the Bridge Table

By SUZANNE SMITH

© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. WNU Service

"CERTAINLY you have heard that Tom and Betty Linton have decided to forget their matrimonial disputes and carry on together," said Fanny Barton as she was dealing the cards at the Wednesday afternoon bridge club, meeting at her home.

"Yes, I heard that they were reconciled. It happened at Atlantic City last month, didn't it? When Betty sent for Tom when the boy was ill?"

"Let's keep the conversation over the refreshments, girls," suggested Hilda Bowns.

Fanny Barton followed Hilda's glance toward a boy sitting reading.

"Why not run out and play, Jack," suggested his aunt Fanny. "I'll call you when it's time for refreshments."

"I'd rather read this book, Aunt Fanny. And besides, mother or father might call and I want to be on hand to talk to them."

Later on Hilda Bowns said: "And now for the inside facts about the Lintons, while the refreshments are being served. I'd like to hear all about the case."

"Well," began Fanny Barton, "it certainly looked as though their married life was due for the divorce courts. At first they were ideally happy but then Tom made a lot of money and they stepped out. Later came the crash, and then the trouble started. Betty admits she was as much to blame as her husband. She had taken young Tom to Atlantic City and they had planned divorce action in the fall, and then Tom—the son—took a sudden turn for the worse down there—you know he's always been a delicate boy. Betty was panicky and telephoned Tom. The boy was delicious and tossed around in bed, and called for his father incessantly. Tom went down immediately and they didn't leave the boy's bedside for several days until he began to recuperate. He begged them to take him home and for them to stay there with him. That was the first time that either Tom or Betty realized that Tom Junior knew about their planned separation. It impressed both of them a great deal and they decided to try getting on together for young Tom's sake."

Cora came in with the refreshments and as she passed the boy, absorbed in his reading, she whispered: "Fruit punch, sandwiches and cakes for you Jack. Shall I bring them in here, or will you eat them on the porch?"

The boy closed his book and smiled up at his aunt's maid: "No, Cora, I think I'll take them in the kitchen. It will save you a lot of trouble."

When Jack had left the women for his refreshments in the kitchen, his aunt spoke. "I do hope Jack was too interested in his reading to hear what I said about the Lintons. You probably know that his parents—my brother Joe and Belle—are having the same trouble. He realizes that things are upset at home and is very sensitive about it. That troubled look in his eyes almost breaks my heart."

"At dinner that evening, Jack announced to his aunt and uncle that he would like to go home."

"Uncle Harry can drop me at the corner of our street and I will surprise mother and father. I'm not feeling so well and I think I'd better go home."

"It was just a little after seven the next morning when the telephone rang and the voice that reached Fanny was excited."

"It's Belle, Fanny. I—I just couldn't wait to tell you. Jack was sick last night but he's much better this morning, thank goodness. Joe sat up all night holding him and he's giving him his breakfast now. It was so strange and sudden. We called the doctor and he couldn't find anything wrong with Jack, but he tossed from one side of the bed to the other and acted delirious. He kept calling for both of us and he didn't get to sleep until some time after midnight. Neither Joe nor I slept a wink all night but he slept soundly until six this morning. But Fanny, what do you suppose he said, just before he dozed off last night?"

"He said: 'If you love me and want to keep me, if you don't want me to be sick, then you both must stay right here with me—all the time.' Oh, Fanny, to think—" and Belle's voice broke in a sob.

"And now what?" prompted her sister-in-law amiably.

"Joe and I have talked everything over. We talked and talked last night while we sat in Jack's bedroom watching him. And we realize that we've been sort of selfish as far as Jack is concerned. We've gone along sort of blindly, I guess, not realizing that our quarrels were useless and stupid. Any way we decided for Jack's sake we'd make a strong effort to forget all our differences of opinion. I'm going to have the doctor come again this morning to see Jack."

"I don't think a doctor is necessary, Belle, dear. Don't spoil your new happiness—and Jack's—by calling in an outsider. Just pack up and go on your trip as soon as you can. And remember that Jack needs both of you more than ever. I'm so glad to hear you've patched up all your troubles."

On her way back upstairs to her room, Fanny Barton smiled wickedly: "Praises be to the gossip women that talk over other people's troubles at the bridge table," she said to herself

THE MISSING 200,000

State Senator Beck of DeKalb, who is chairman of the Senate committee engaged in investigating certain matters of government, points to the "missing 200,000 school children as one of the issues "too hot" to be handled by candidates in the present state campaign. The 200,000 represents the difference between the scholastic census, upon which the State disburses its school aid, and the actual attendance in the schools aided.

Regularly for several years measures have been offered in the Legislature to change the method of school fund apportionment from the scholastic census basis to the enrollment basis. All of these efforts have failed, and the State continues to pay out some three or four million dollars a year for the schooling of children who never enter the doors of a schoolhouse.

The reasoning which leads to this result seems to be that the schools are runing anyway, and that whether the children are attending or not the State's aid should be paid—in other words, that there is little difference between so much per child and so much per school.

This would be largely true of disparity between scholastic census and enrollment was equally distributed through the State. But is a well known fact that the "shortage" is largely confined to East and South Texas. In North and West Texas the enrollment of schools keep closely to the scholastic census.

This state of affairs means that the schools in East and South Texas are obtaining a proportionately larger share of state school aid than the schools in North and West Texas. It means that the local taxpayer in East and South Texas are getting a "free ride" at the expense of the taxpayers of North and West Texas.

Efforts to bring about a reform which would put the state school aid on a basis which would remove the premium now placed on local padding of the school census and slackness of the community in enforcing attendance laws have repeatedly failed largely because of the consistent opposition of legislators hailing from the "free ride" regions. There has always been a school-teachers' lobby on hand to aid this opposition.

Meantime the taxpayer in regions where school attendance tracks the scholastic census not only is required to pay a higher tax to support his own schools but must also pay more to the support of schools in regions where local taxpayers are unfairly relieved of their just tax burden.

One of the most commendable acts of Senator Arthur P. Duggan during the regular term of the State Legislature was to introduce a bill to regulate this evil, but in spite of his heroic efforts to pass the bill the South and the East Texas Legislators were too many for him and the bill was defeated. Senator Duggan has been fighting the unjust tax on West Texas counties for years, and has produced the figures and legal evidence time after time, to prove his contention that West Texas is being continually robbed by other parts of the state, but it has been so that he could never get those parts of the state to do their honest and square part by this division of Texas. Sometimes we are led to believe the only thing left for West Texas to do is demand a square deal or withdraw from the State of Texas and organize a state government of their own, thereby freeing themselves of this burden of unjust taxation. It's long been known that many counties in East and South Texas pay no local school taxes whatever, their school being supported by the state tax entirely, while the counties in West Texas pay their bills for them simply because their enrollment as a rule exceeds their scholastics, while the scholastics in East and South Texas far exceed their enrollments.—Jayton Chronicle.

FAT GIRLS! HERE'S A TIP FOR YOU

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free from fat figure that cannot fail to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses and does it SAFELY and HARMLESSLY.

In the morning take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

"It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat" and "brings that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

But be sure for your health's sake that you get Kruschen. A bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but little. You can always get Kruschen at Alexander Drug Co., and money back if not satisfied with results after first bottle.

Cowboy Reunion to Have 3 Acts Daily

STAMFORD, Texas, June 20.—Three rodeo performances daily will be staged this year during the Texas Cowboy Reunion, July 2, 3, and 4. A morning matinee has been added at one-half the adult price of admission to the regular and night performances.

W. G. Swenson, president, believes this will be an added convenience to the crowds attending the Reunion, relieving the congestion which has resulted in the past from the great crowds attending the afternoon show. It will also give all the cowboy contestants in the rodeo an opportunity to perform before the crowds.

Mr. Swenson has also called attention of visitors to the advantages of attending the night performances. The arena is so well lighted that the performers may be seen as well as in daylight and at the same time the spectators have the comfort of the cool night air.

The morning matinee will start at 9 a. m. each day and the regular performances at 2:15 p. m. and 8 p. m.

We note that a former employee of the Herald, E. L. Whitaker, of Abilene, is making the race for state representative of that district. Whitaker once represented this district in the legislature.
