Terry Said to Be Green Spot of Texas

For a long time here this spring it appeared that there would be another failure in crops, not only the sections that were dry last year, but all over the county. But along in May some rains came, and the people planted. Others planted on light showers in April, and their cotton has been blooming for some time. Some of these plantings were blown out, and some replanted, and as a consequence of nearly an inch rain two weeks ago Sunday, and another last Thursday night that amounted to from a half to two inches over the county, Terry county is said to have the best crops in west Texas, with the possible exception of Wheeler county.

Quoting a few that have been places of late, we will take first Jack Markham, of Tatum, N. M., who was in town this past week. Jack says that he has not been far north of Brownfield, but a good long distance east, west and south, and that Terry county is the greenest spot he has seen. He had been as far east as Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Repp have visited in the lower Panhandle section of Texas, and reports that with the exception of Wheeler county, and Hollis section of Oklahoma, Terry county has the best prospects he has seen, and much better than other portions he saw on the way there or back.

Mr. Ward and family, of the Ward Shoe Shop, have just returned from a visit to relatives at Mt. Pleasant, Texas. Going they went via Wichita Falls, Gainesville, Denton and Sherman, and returning via Greenville, Dallas and Fort Worth. Mr. Ward states that he had rather risk the chance of a crop here than any place he saw. He says that in extreme east Texas, the crops are further advanced than here, but that corn is simply dying every day for lack of moisture, and other places it looks to be already gone. He also says that the boll weevils and other insects are bad in most places.

Beer Sales Must Stop On Election Day

Beer parlors in Terry County as well as in all other counties in Texas where the sale of 3.2 beer is legalized must remain closed for 13 hours during Saturday, July 28, the date of the Democratic primary.

Cafes in which beer is served will be permitted to remain open, but no beer may be sold.

The state law requires bars to close from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. on election day. Pools open at 8 p. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Bar owners who fail to observe the closing order will be subject to a maximum $500 fine or one year in jail.

Race Track Money Buys Stallions, Jacks

Many Jacks and Stallions have been purchased by the Texas Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald, and have been widely distributed throughout the State. These Jacks and Stallions, the best money can buy, have been purchased by the Agriculture Commissioner from funds received from the tax moneys paid into the State by racing meets of Texas.

Cotton Crop Below Quota is Forecast

A 1934 U. S. cotton crop of less than 10,000,000 bales is in prospect, according to a forecast by Dr. A. B. Cox director of the University of Texas, bureau of business research. The present situation warrants a higher price for cotton.

Four months ago, "Baldy" Doughty left Terry county with his family just to travel—no place especially to go—but to go. Two of his children had pneumonia-measles complications and he was advised to travel with them in a lower altitude. He left here early in March for the gulf coast, and followed pretty close to it until he reached Florida. He stopped when he wanted to and camped out or fished, as he had his truck for conveyance. While away, he touched the states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee and Arkansas. He says he rather liked all the country he saw, but none especially better than he does, Terry, or any that he figures it would be easier to make a living on a farm. His travels brought many interesting sights, and from any standpoint was educational. He says that the old states have much better crops this year than the west, but the fields are so small, and some so taken by Johnson grass that he would not consider farming in any of them. He returned this week with the children much improved in health, and "Baldy" says that after this long jaunt, he still has a bit of cash left, which he made on crops right here in Terry the past 2 tough years.

Plan Newspaper Contest at State Fair

Plans are being made to hold an other Statewide newspaper contest in connection with Press Day at the 1934 State Fair of Texas, it has been announced here by Otto Herold, president of the exposition. The contest will be held along lines similar to that held at the 1933 State Fair.

The newspapers will be judged and will be placed on exhibit in sufficient time for visiting newspapermen to see the papers on Press Day. In addition to this they will be left on exhibit throughout the sixteen days of the exposition.

Plans will be completed for the newspaper contest within the next few days and complete plans will be announced in the next issue of the State Fair Foreword.

Chisholm Bros. Install Latest Meat Cooler

Chisholm Bros. have this week installed one of the latest meat cooling boxes on the market, which is a product of the Frigidaire Corporation, known as the "Floatingair Cooler." The box is some six by eight feet in size, and some ten feet tall, with plenty room to hang a whole beef and other carcasses without crowding.

Mr. Chisholm explained that with the use of this cooler, it would not be necessary for them to stack their meats so close as to ruin a lot of it in extremely hot weather. Besides much of their fresh fruits and vegetables can be stored in it. The compressor is located low in this box, thus avoiding the leakage of water of the old top compressor style. The new arrangement cost installed around $1000, we were told.

Sees Much Country—Terry-Yoakum Best

Warner Hayhurst and wife were over from Plains Tuesday afternoon, and he informed the Herald that they had traveled 4500 miles in the last 30 or 40 days, and saw nothing that he liked better than old Terry and Yoakum counties. Early in June, he and wife left his father's farm in Oklahoma for the World's Fair, and after taking it in went on to Detroit where he bought a new Chevrolet coupe, and headed west for a real vacation.

They passed through the Black Hills of the Dakotas, and took in the magnificent parks in that section, and thence on to the Yellowstone park in Wyoming; south through Salt Lake city to Arizona, where the former Miss Johnnie Mae Patterson and her husband live, and paid them a visit. From there they returned home via New Mexico.

He reported that no where in any of the west and northwest states did he see a green sprig of anything except that which was irrigated. The cattlemen have driven their cattle to the rivers, and cut cottonwood bows for them to eat, and says the cattle have learned to follow them around like dogs. Coolidge dam has only enough water in it to last a few more weeks, he reported.

With the exception of a section of Iowa and a portion of Oklahoma, he saw nothing that looked better than the crops in Terry and Yoakum counties. In the mountain states of Wyoming, Utah and northern Arizona, he paid as high as 28c per gallon for gas, and said a gallon up there would not get you very far either.

"Baldy" Doughty Returns to Old Terry

Four months ago, "Baldy" Doughty left Terry county with his family just to travel—no place especially to go—but to go. Two of his children had pneumonia-measles complications and he was advised to travel with them in a lower altitude. He left here early in March for the gulf coast, and followed pretty close to it until he reached Florida. He stopped when he wanted to and camped out or fished, as he had his truck for conveyance.

While away, he touched the states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee and Arkansas. He says he rather liked all the country he saw, but none especially better than he does, Terry, or any that he figures it would be easier to make a living on a farm. His travels brought many interesting sights, and from any standpoint was educational.

He says that the old states have much better crops this year than the west, but the fields are so small, and some so taken by Johnson grass that he would not consider farming in any of them. He returned this week with the children much improved in health, and "Baldy" says that after this long jaunt, he still has a bit of cash left, which he made on crops right here in Terry the past 2 tough years.

Mr. Lambert has sold and delivered his meat market fixtures to Mr. Sid Morris, groceryman of Amherst. We understand that Mr. Lambert will go out and prospect some before deciding to leave Brownfield.

2 Big Gall Stones Taken in Operation

This week we visited the Treadaway-Daniell Hospital to view some huge gall stones taken from the gall bladder of Mrs. Harbine, who lives seven miles south of town. She was brought in for an operation the latter part of last week. Two of the stones were larger than quail eggs, and there were many smaller ones. Mrs. T. M. Randle also underwent a major operation this wk, and is doing fine. Speaking of gall stones, Dr. Treadaway showed us several specimens that had been taken out of people here since the hospital was established. One especially large one was taken from a lady that was sent here from Mississippi thinking the climate would help her. It was not climate she needed, but rather that big stone removed from her gall bladder.

Mahon Spoke Here Wednesday Afternoon

Hon. Geo. Mahon, of Colorado City, spoke to a fair crowd here at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the band stand at the court house park. This will likely be the last address of Mr. Mahon here unless he is in the runoff.

Asked if he was feeling good over the race, he replied that he was, but seemingly my opponents are in the same pepped up condition, and it is utterly impossible for all of us to be in the runoff. He remarked that he had worked very hard himself, and that his friends were working hard, all of which he appreciated.

He has a number of old friends here who are working hard for his election.

United States May Seize 'Liquor' Ranch

The Government will attempt to confiscate a large ranch in Stonewall County on which a huge whisky distilling plant was found early this year, United States District Attorney Eastus announced Saturday.

Libel proceedings for confiscating the several thousand acre ranch, located 10 miles north of Swenson, were being prepared for filing in the Abilene division of the district. It is believed to be the first action filed in this district to confiscate land used for the illegal manufacture of liquor.

Eastus planned similar action against a $35,000 home and an 80-acre farm near Dallas after the owner recently was convicted of possession of a still found on the premises.

RAILROAD TIES ARE BADLY SPACED

The trouble with the railroads is, the ties aren't spaced right. We've been getting about the country a good bit lately, and the railroads haven't been much comfort. If you step on every tie, they're too close together; and if you take two at a stride, they're too far apart. The Government, if it takes over the roads, ought to give us ties spaced so a man can walk naturally.—New Yorker.

Questions On the New Housing Plan

WASHINGTON, July 5.—Inquiries on the operation of the administration housing program poured in today upon government officials but were filed away pending organization of the unit which will administer the law.

James A. Moffett, housing administrator, not only had to select a staff but find quarters in which to locate it.

One of the most frequent questions asked was what security a home owner would have to furnish to obtain a loan to remodel or renovize his house.

Some inquirers suggested that in backing a loan of $1,500 for instance, to a home owner who already had a $5,000 mortgage the government would in effect be going into the second mortgage business.

Administration officials who helped frame the law said it did not require the home owner to furnish any security on such loans, but that they would be made only after a thorough investigation of the credit standing of the borrower.

Denying this in any way put the government into the second mortgage business or required financial institutions to handle second mortgages, officials said commercial paper representing this type of loan had come through the depression with a higher credit standing than almost any other kind.

It was proposed, they said, to make the loans without security, on the basis of the borrower's earning power, in order to reduce the cost of the transactions, but that if the individual lender wanted security in a particular instance the housing administrator could permit him to demand it.

Those who helped frame the bill expressed confidence that the 20 per cent guarantee by the government on loans of this kind would more than cover any losses by lending institutions if the loans were made only after proper credit investigation.

Many Pledging Support to Connally

DALLAS, July 10.—United States Senator Tom Connally is conducting his campaign with an ever-increasing number of enthusiastic pledges of support, J. P. Rice, the Senator's campaign manager, said here today. The Senator remained in Washington until the final gavel fell in the recent session of Congress, and he reached Texas with only about four weeks in which to conduct his campaign.

"Texans appreciate Senator Connally's remaining on the job," Mr. Rice said. "From every section of the state we have received messages stating that even though the Senator would be unable to make a personal visit his friends were actively working to pile up a large majority for him."

Senator Connally opened his campaign at Greenville last Saturday night before an audience composed of persons from nearly all towns in northeast Texas. He was forced to interrupt his campaign Monday in order to accompany Josephus Daniels, Ambassador to Mexico, to the Valley to inspect Federal projects there and to confer with civic leaders in that section on international problems.

COMPETITION

In England business firms do not always seek financial ratings in commercial agencies so much as they seek to furnish goods to the King and Queen. It is the height of their ambition to be able to say, "We cater to his Majesty, the King."

The story goes that two Liverpool butchers were competitors. "Sausages, one shilling the pound," was the announcement in the window of the first shop.

"Sausages, ten pence the pound," was over the door of the other shop the next day.

"Sausages under one shilling cannot be guaranteed," was the comeback of shop number one.

"We furnish sausages for the king," was the next announcement of shop number two.

Shop number one, not to be out-classed by such methods, and to settle the argument, put out the following sign the next morning: "God save the King!"

M. C. Ammons, who moved to Mason county early in the spring, is up this week on business. He reports it hot and dry down there with corn burned up. They raise no cotton much, he said.

New Deal Favored by Literary Digest Poll

NEW YORK, July 7.—The final returns on the Literary Digest's poll of public opinion on President Roosevelt's acts and policies, on the whole, show today that three out of every five persons approve.

Of the poll taken in 48 states, Vermont was alone in registering disapproval. This opinion was held by 53 per cent of those balloting.

The total number of votes cast was 1,772,163, divided between 1,083,752 for the general policies of the New Deal and 688,411 against them.

On a ratio basis the magazine found that President Roosevelt's popularity had increased over the popular vote of 1932 by 3.83 per cent.

Compared to their balloting in 1932, 459,338 of the poll voters indicated they had changed their minds about the president since the election. An analysis of the switching showed an average gain for the president in the 48 states of 5.39 per cent.

The same analysis by the Literary Digest indicated that Mr. Roosevelt had incurred net losses of support among the voters in the poll in 20 states and net gains in the other 28 states. The larger losses were tallied in the southern and agricultural sections, while the larger gains were registered in New England and eastern industrial states and the Pacific coast.

Loses in S. Carolina
The greatest switch from Roosevelt was shown in South Carolina, with California showing the greatest swing, over 14 per cent, to him.

In six special polls conducted among bankers, the clergy, business men, educators, lawyers and physicians, all groups voted in favor of the New Deal with the exception of the bankers.

The bankers voted 13,795 to 12,528 against the general acts and policies of the president. In the other groups the per centages in favor of the New Deal were: clergy, 54 per cent; business men, 56 per cent; educators, 67 per cent; lawyers, 53 per cent and physicians, 56 per cent.

The final results by states included:

STATE	For	Against
Arkansas	7,385	2,764
Louisiana	7,481	2,481
New Mexico	1,720	981
Oklahoma	13,619	6,715
Texas	39,616	11,354

Should Have Uniform National Traffic Law

Uniform traffic laws and ordinances in all states are vital to any movement designed to reduce the number of deaths and injuries as well as the economic loss chargeable annually to automobile accidents—a fact that was emphasized by the recent Fourth National Conference on Street and Highway Safety.

With Secretary of Commerce Roper presiding, the Conference approved a model Uniform Vehicle Code which all states are asked to copy or adapt. First in importance in this Code is a Model Operators' and Chauffeurs' License Act which requires examination or test before awarding certificates. Twenty-one states now have such a law. Four states give the license to private operators on application, and the other states have no license at all. All but six states have a minimum age requirement, ranging from thirteen to eighteen; seemingly, the six will permit anybody to grasp a wheel to run a car.

Other laws in the Uniform Code are: Model Motor Vehicle Administration; Registration and Certification of Title and Anti-Theft Act; Model Civil Liability Act; Model Financial Responsibility Act; Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways; Model Municipal Traffic Ordinance.

Albert W. Whitney, Associate General Manager of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters, who was a member of the Committee which arranged for the Conference, said, in explaining purpose of the Uniform Code: "As anyone can realize it is vital for a state to control those it permits to use its highways. It should have the right to say who shall drive in the first place, and then penalize those whose driving practices are dangerous to the lives and limbs of others."

"The other acts of the Code are so reasonable as to recommend them to every driver."

Save 41 Per Cent On a Modern Home

A recent estimate says that half of the remaining unemployment in this country is due to the dormant state of the construction industry. In normal times, building employs many millions of men either directly, or through the purchasing power it creates. Today no industry is more depressed.

It is hoped that the passage of the home-building act by the late Congress will start machinery for stimulating building at last. Close to two billion dollars worth of potential private capital may be put to work. One of the great banes of the prospective builder—steep interest rates and premium charges on second mortgages—will be eliminated, according to the plan. Prices for materials are low, the bargain time for building is still here. The editor of the American Builder said a short time ago that a saving of forty-one per cent, as compared with normal costs, is offered the present-day home builder.

A soundly built, up-to-date home is one of the best investments the average man can make. Modern methods, materials and plans make a small home more comfortable, efficient and useful than was the large home of a few years ago. Get in at the bottom—depression prices are not going to last forever.

Soap Box Derby At Dayton, Ohio

DAYTON, O., July 10.—A three-eighths mile hill in Dayton will assume national significance to American youth August 18 and 19, when the first nationally sponsored "All-American Soap Box Derby" will be run over the bricks of Burkhardt hill.

Originated as a local stunt feature last year by Myron E. Scott, Dayton Daily News photographer, the event attracted approximately 450 entrants and more than 40,000 spectators.

This year, through the cooperation of Chevrolet Motor Company and its dealer organization, more than 40 cities in the United States will conduct local soap box derbies, and winners will have their cars shipped here to compete for the world's championship under the auspices of the Daily News and Chevrolet.

Chevrolet dealers in each city are furnishing entry blanks, rule books and plans for the building of soap box racers, which are the old familiar box and wheel vehicles which at some time or other have provided transportation for almost every boy.

Abernathy Center Of Wool Storage

ABERNATHY, July 7.—More than 350,000 pounds of wool, clipped from sheep fed out in the area from Lubbock north to Amarillo and west into N. Mex., are in storage here in a pool sponsored by officials of the Abernathy State bank.

Every available storage space in town is occupied. There is no more space available and those in charge are expecting to sell the wool within a short time.

More than 60 farmers pooled their wool. They were mostly from Hale, Lubbock, Swisher, Floyd, Castro and Lamb counties.

N. C. Hix, vice-president and A. T. "Andy" Reid, cashier of the bank, sponsored the pool.

Last year some 83,000 pounds were sold, netting the farmer about two cents a pound above market prices.

In trying to preach to other in several articles this week that Terry county is the green spot of west Texas, we are not unmindful of the fact that it might give us trouble in getting further funds from the Relief and Highway departments. So don't send any marked copies to those guys down at Austin.

The Ferguson Forum has it all figured down to a gnats' bristle just how the race for governor is to pan out. Of course it would be unreasonable to expect Jim to put the "Crown Prince" in anything but the first place. Alired is given second and Hunter third place. And of course, according to the Forum, McDonald is expected to lick little Jimmie in the runoff.

Charley Androcles Gay of the Hubbock Journal tells us that two years ago the people could have had Hunter for governor, but too many thought he had no chance and voted for one or the other of the two candidates they thought was the lesser evil. Charley brings out nothing new in that, but does tell us that he wants to palm off Clint Small on a long suffering people for the same reason. Clint will get a few votes at Lubbock, Amarillo and Crowthorn where the west ends.

What about an effort being made to destroy the raven nests in east

Terry and west Lynn county? Are we going to make an effort to do this or shall we do like central and east Texas did about the boll weevil—wait till they have us before we begin to fight. We have heard fighters say that the most important thing when you engage in a fight, is to get in the first lick. A hard stab at these ravens right where they live and are rearing their young, might set them back for years, and might cause them to migrate. We have heard it said that these birds live to be 100 years old. If so, the main thing then is to destroy the breeding places.

A great state like Texas, rich in wealth and natural resources, can ill afford to pass up 1936 without a great centennial celebration some where in the state. That part can be left to a committee of patriotic men, and we'll never whimper about it. During the writer's youth our native state, Tennessee put on a great Centennial Exhibition at Nashville, and the money expended was never regretted by anyone. Some of the best buildings still stand, one as a museum. Tennessee is a much smaller and poorer state than Texas, and if they could have a great one, it would be rather galling for Texas not to go them one better. We must head California in population again in 1940, and that would be the best way to bring new people to Texas to locate.

How shall America make a place for oncoming youth? Not for long can the older generation hold the jobs and leave youth to search in vain for an opportunity to use its talents, to make a place for itself, and to enjoy the sense of participation which goes with worthy occupation. The day of reckoning is near, and youth will have its place or there will be further collapse and chaos. What is your community doing to make a place for its youth? Why not begin by making a study of the young people in the last five graduating classes of your high school or college: to see what headway they have been able to make in finding suitable occupations? —Joy Elmer Morgan in Texas Outlook.

CALLING A HALT

The present religious campaign against indecent movies is called "the most powerful and united inter-faith effort which has been undertaken." It is so designated by the National Conference of Jews and Christians, of which Newton D. Baker is a co-chairman. While Protestants, Catholics and Jews have managed to cooperate in inter-faith movements before, the present campaign against salaciousness on the screen is called "one of the most spontaneous" in history by a press release put out by the conference.

Practically the whole of organized religion in America is enlisted under the campaign banner. In addition to the Catholics, led by Cardinal Dougherty, the Protestants represented by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America and the Central conference of American Rabbis are taking an active part.

Already the film moguls have heard the gathering storm, and have taken steps to remedy some of the more lurid mistakes of the past. Mae West's latest film was barred from New York State and is being toned down by the producer. The title of "It Ain't No Sin" becomes "That St. Louis Woman." Retakes of objectionable scenes are being made. Miss West is quoted as saying that she did not believe the 47,000,000 people who saw her other films had been insulted. In other words, she gave them what they wanted. That has always been the film moguls' alibi. The industry has a higher public responsibility than merely to please. It is unfortunate that this responsibility had to await an organized revolt of public opinion before the makers of pictures would acknowledge it. —Abilene News.

TARLETON HAS PAY AS YOU GO PLAN

Stephenville, Texas, July 3.—A plan for installment payments on college xpens has been announced by Dean J. Thomas Davis of John Tarleton Agricultural College for the 1934-35 session.

Tarleton's "New Deal" will make it possible for students to enter college in the fall by making a down payment of between $9 and $28 to be followed by four like payments October 1, November 1, December 1, and January 1. Spring semester payments may be made in four installments.

These payments will cover fees, uniforms, books and other supplies, and, if the student stays on the campus, room and board. The variation depends chiefly on whether the student rooms and boards on the campus and partly by the cost of uniforms and of school supplies.

To cover the amount due the college, students will be allowed to borrow as much as $50 from the student loan, putting up a note as collateral. Hence it is necessary that those who wish to use the plan should file their applications not later than August 18, or thirty days prior to the opening of the fall semester on September 17.

NOT A SUCCESS

after his return. Ezekiel uncoiled about six feet of arms and legs, adjusted his specs, and spat with deadly accuracy into the stove.

"Well," he began, "New York is some town, all right. Car scootin' like lightning' over yer head, dashed long trains adivin' underground, buildin' so blamed high ye can't see the tops of 'em, millions 'o miles o' paved streets, an' autos a-chasin' ye all over the street. It's a big town, all right, but it'll never be a success. It's too far away."

TOMORROW

"It is not a question of getting back to yesterday, but of taking care that we make tomorrow what it should be, that confronts the people of our great nation now," says William G. Everson, D. D., of Portland Oregon.

"During times of unrest, subversive movements of all kinds tend to thrive. That is to be expected. What should not be expected is that schools and churches use their influence to stimulate them—a thing that has occurred time and again during the past few years.

"Using religion and education as a cloak, some teachers and ministers have consistently attacked American principles. They have sought directly or indirectly, to destroy our traditions, and to change our fundamental democratic system of government. They have contributed nothing to making the future a happier time for the great masses of the people. Their schemes, if followed, must inevitably bring us to disorder and chaos.

JOHNSON 4-H CLUB

DON'T END YOUR VACATION TIRED OUT

"It perhaps would be better for many thousands of vacationing adults, were it possible to extend the same type of rational supervision to them as their children receive in the so-called recreational camps. Judged by the results of the fortnight's outing, a great number of persons do not receive physical benefit from their stay but are even worse off on that score upon their return than when they went away," states Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"Most certainly the mental stimulation of 'going places and doing things' out of the usual run is in itself of value. Merely to get out of the rut, visit a new locality or revisit an old one, where new faces and friends are to be found, is of decided advantage.

"On the other hand it is not reasonable to become so enthusiastic concerning the well-earned freedom from the daily routine as to permit oneself to get out of bounds. While it is perfectly natural to want to crowd as much pleasant activity as is possible into the two weeks' change, it most decidedly does not pay to do this at the expense of one's health and vitality, yet this is precisely what many foolish persons do. It is therefore slight wonder that many men and women who have left for a vacation with that 'tired feeling' come back home even more that way.

"While the facts are not furnished to take the joy out of the annual sojourn, it might be well for adults to figure a little physical benefit on the proposition rather than to specialize on fun and devitalizing allurements. The body, as well as the mind, needs consideration. The wise vacationist will see that it gets it."

LUMBER PRICE CUT

In order to aid President Roosevelt's housing program, the National Retail Lumber Dealer's Association has ordered a 10 per cent reduction on the price of lumber.

Since the N. R. A. code has placed a minimum selling price on lumber, a week or so will be required for state and district associations of lumber dealers to hold meetings and work out just how this ten per cent reduction is to be applied.

CONSTANT VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF SAFETY

The annual report of the President of the National Board of Fire Underwriters comments on the gratifying decrease in fire loss that was achieved last year. Much of the drop, the report points out, was the result of the extremely low level of property values, but even when that is considered the total destroyed was well under what past experience indicated the waste would be.

Every American citizen should do his part to continue the good work that eliminates fires. No form of waste is more absolute—none is less necessary. Each year fire destroys factories that provide jobs and taxes and purchasing power—it destroys homes and farm buildings—and worst of all, it destroys, on the average, some ten thousand lives.

With the coming of summer, certain fire hazards automatically increase. Dry grass is among the worst, and many carelessly dropped match or cigarette has started disastrous fire. The great Berkeley fire of a few years ago began in a small dry field. Look over your property, both house and grounds, for this and other hazards. And don't think one inspection will suffice for the reason—constant vigilance is the price of safety when it comes to fire.

There is no room for economic waste in good times, and in bad times the crime of fire becomes the greater. Fire can be licked—but every person must aid if victory is to be won.

LIQUOR IS NOT THE ISSUE

Jim Ferguson a power in Texas politics, spoke a mouthful at Itasca when he said prohibition was not an issue today.

He expressed the thought that there was no use worrying about whiskey to drink when the people of Texas needed bread and meat and clothing.

Jim declared that those who wanted liquor could get it anyway, that the only difference today and in anti-prohibition days was that quality had been lowered and the price raised.

The concern of Texas is not whiskey and beer but sow-belly and bread to stick to the stomachs of its needy.

The drought results will cause untold hardships next winter. Then the people will not be worrying about

NUDIST WEDDING REPORTED BY FRANKLIN

FREDERICK, Md., July 7.—On the word of the late Benjamin Franklin, there is nothing new in nudist weddings.
Franklin's newspaper, the Pennsylvania Gazette, chronicled a nudist wedding in Maryland on Jan. 4, 1752.
"A naked truth," the Gazette said in headlines.
"About a fortnight ago," the Gazette story ran, "there happened in Frederick County as comical a wedding as we remember to have heard of. A couple, with their guests (having obtained a license) came to the house of a reverend clergyman late in the evening, after he had been some time in bed, and desired to be married.
"He, willing to oblige them, got up and dressed himself in order to perform the ceremony; but the bridegroom, having imbibed a notion that if he married a woman with any thing, he should be obliged to pay all her debts; and as she came from the Province of New Jersey, he was doubtful about her circumstances.
"The obliging bride, to remove all incumbrances, stripped and two women held a sheet between her and the clergyman while he performed his office; and she, having forgot her cap at undressing, it came to her mind in the midst of the ceremony, and she pulled that off, too, and flung it on the bed, and was married to her spouse (if not in a wedding suit, in her birthday suit).

"After the ceremony the bridegroom put on her one of his own shirts to cover her."

CHECKING UP ON FAMILIES

Arthur J. Burks, onetime aide to General Smedley D. Butler, has received some rather surprising mail since the publication of his latest book, "Here Are My People." In that book he calls people by their right names, with special stress laid on the family names of Burks, Ogle and Toler. Since the book's publication he has received letters from all over the country from relatives that he never knew existed.
How many families named Burks exist in the United States today? How many Ogles? How many Tolers? How many of the other families named in "Here Are My People" Burks has a letter from a Burks in San Antonio, Texas, from an Ogle in Switzerland, from a Toler in Los Angeles, and his mail daily increases in volume. He would like to hear from all the other Burks, Tolers, and Ogles, through his publishers—Funk & Wagnalls Co. 354-360 Fourth Ave., New York City. He fears that outraged relatives may come to his personal address bearing rifles and bombs, if it is made public!

RED GOOSE—THE OJIBWA INDIAN BOY
An Indian Story for Boys and Girls
By Carlyle Emery

The Blackfeet are holding a victory dance, celebrating their theft of Ojibwa horses. Red Goose and Little Beaver are hidden in the foliage of a bush not far distant, waiting for Red Eagle to return. Suddenly there is a loud hissing sound like a snake. Now go on with the story.
"What is it?" asked Little Beaver, as she saw the face of her companion light up with pleasure when he heard the hissing sound.
"It is the sound of the snake. It is the word my father said he would give. He is here."
As the Ojibwa boy finished speaking, a quiet voice spoke from the darkness behind him.
"Red Goose - my son - you there?"
"Yes, father - and Little Beaver, too."
In less time than it takes to tell it, Red Eagle was standing beside his brave son.
"I see Blackfeet," he said, "So I crawled on ground long way. Blackfeet don't know Red Eagle is here."
"Blackfeet steal our horses." Even though Red Goose spoke quietly, there was anger in the tone of his voice.
"Yes, I know," said his father.
"It is my fault. I promised to guard horses. Now they are gone."
"Wise man does not blame brave soldier if too many come against him. But I get horses back. You see!"
"How, my son?"
"I take your pony and ride for our people—bring them back and we fight."
"No—that is not good, my son."
"Why? Father—"
"You ride many hours to find our people. When you come back, Blackfeet will be gone."
"But we must fight! We must get our horses back!"
"It is dark. Blackfeet are cowards—we will fight them alone."
"And I will fight, too," said Little Beaver, whose courage had returned with the coming of Red Eagle.
"Good!" chuckled the Ojibwa Chief. "Little Beaver will be man tonight, and fight like man, too. You see. Now we wait little while."
Big, heavy clouds were gathering in the sky, and Red Eagle was waiting for the time when they would cover up the moon entirely. Then he had a plan for getting his horses back from a hundred Blackfeet Indians.
As the moon finally disappeared from sight, Red Goose again spoke to his father.
"Moon has gone," he said. "All dark everywhere now. Blackfeet feel sure nobody come."
"Blackfeet are not guarding horses well," answered Red Eagle. "They all dance. They think Ojibwa not fight them back."
"And look, Father!" interrupted Red Goose. "All our horses are right below hill! See!"
"Sh-h-h—" was the soft answer. "Big Blackfeet guard coming this way. See him on horse? He thinks he hears something."

First Newspaper Printed in America

The first newspaper in America was Public Occurrences both Foreign and Domestic. It was issued by Richard Pierce and printed by Benjamin Harris. But one copy was issued—September 25, 1690. It is preserved in the Colonial State Paper Office, London. It is 7 by 11 inches in size, a folded sheet, three pages of which are filled with printed matter, having two columns to a page, the fourth page being blank. The prospectus states that it was to be issued monthly, "unless any Glut of occurrences happen," in which case, it was stated, it would be "issued oftener." The colonial authorities cast an evil eye on the sheet, thinking it contained "reflections of a very high nature," so that it was forthwith suppressed. The Boston News Letter followed on April 24, 1704. The first daily newspaper in America was the Pennsylvania Packet and Daily Advertiser which appeared September 21, 1784. Therefore, for 150 years we have had a daily newspaper in America. Copies of many of the early American newspapers are on file in the Library of Congress in Washington. Many New York, Philadelphia and Boston newspapers are to be found complete from the first issue. Six journalistic prides or epochs, from the years 1690 to 1872, are recognized by Hudson in his "Journalism in the United States":

1. The First American Newspapers, (1690 to 1704.)
2. The Colonial Press (1704 to 1755.)
3. The Revolutionary Press (1755 to 1783.)
4. The Political Party Press (1783 to 1833.)
5. The Transition Press, the cheap press (1833 to 1835.)
6. The Independent Press, the Telegraph Press (1835 to 1872.)

CARD OF THANKS

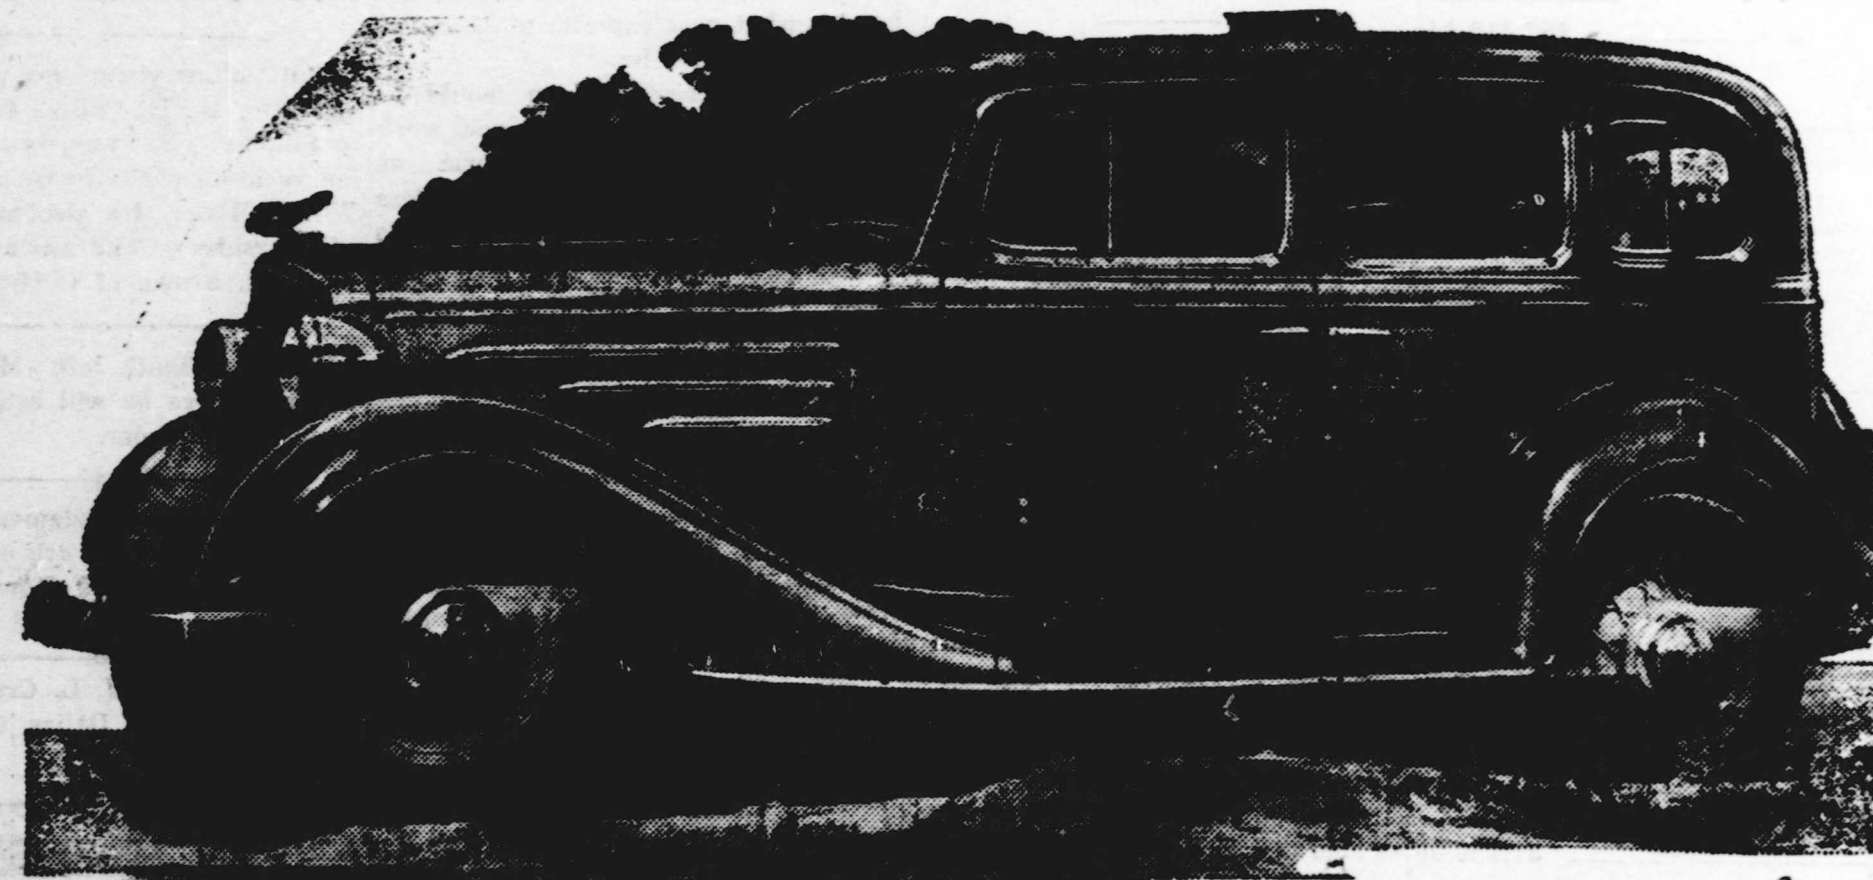

We want to thank our friends and neighbors for their kind words and helpfulness in the sickness and death of our little daughter, Bettie Joe. Words fail to express our deep feeling for our friends in this hour of sorrow.

Our family had before availed ourselves with the protection of Burial Insurance with the Terry County Burial Association. Little Bettie Joe had Policy No. 1067 that carried $100.00 in protection which was paid in full. This has lifted the financial load and we commend this organization to the public, as a benefactor to the community.

Respectfully,

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

The editor and wife were invited by Rev. M. D. Williams and wife to a seat in their car for a ride to the Brownfield ranch, 5 miles southeast of town, where we saw some of the finest peaches, apples, plums and grapes we ever saw, and filled our insides and some boxes with fruit. Then on to the Red Onion mills where they were branding yearlings. Fourteen of the Lubbock live wires were here to get petitions signed to have the Brownfield rail mail terminal transferred from Lamesa to Lubbock. Several citizens had enjoyed a fish fry at the Joe Hamilton tank. Good showers had fallen over the country.

Editorially we stated that the country newspapers were offered plat matter boosting Woodrow Wilson candidacy for president, and we expected offer of Harmon plate soon. The statewide prohibition election was only one week off. Things were tightening up and getting rather hot. Gomez: A nice rain had fallen. Lee Thompson and D. V. Blanton were in from the J-Cross community. Uncle Horace Adams wife and daughter Miss Climmie, came in from Brownwood. Will Adams attended church there Sunday. R. W. Rambo and wife made a trip to Fluvanna to meet some relatives. Miss Kate Copeland was visiting in Fluvanna. Joe Taylor and family of Scurry county was visiting A. V. Taylor and family. Mrs. Spear was home from a visit to Fluvanna. Simon Holgate was building an addition to his house. Walter Gainer reported a good rain at Plains. Henry George and wife of Lubbock, were visiting his parents one mile northeast of Gomez. Rev. Jameson was holding a revival at Plains. Miss Grace Kinard and Jennie Lee Almon were visiting Mrs. Caudell at Gomez.

Dick Jarrot was visiting in Brownfield. Lake water on Joe Lane's ranch. John W. Gordon was in from the U— ranch. Clay Hughes and Ed Estes were working for the Slaughter ranch. T. J. Price was building an addition to his home. The district Odd Fellow-Rebekah convention was to be held here that week. Judge Spencer was holding court at Post. Howard James was building an addition to the residence of John Burnett. Redge Burnett had returned from Mineral Wells, where he went for his health. Earl Hill had gone to Post. Mrs. W. A. Bell's mother and sister were visitors here from Marshall. Gus Farrar and sister, Miss Beulah, were here from Nolan county visiting relatives. J. T. Bounds was to hold a protracted meeting for the church of Christ. Rev. Kirby, a Presbyterian minister was to begin a revival here at the Methodist church, July 16th. Sam Walker had started his 7th paper to relatives and friends. M. V. Brownfield brought in five peaches that weighed 2 1-4 pounds and one emasured 9 1-2 inches in circumference. Mrs. W. N. Copeland and son, Newt, and Mrs. Ote Copeland of Meadow, were visiting in the Charley Copeland home.

L. C. Lasure of Westbrook, was prospecting here. J. A. Rushing of Paradise, Texas, was fencing his section 15 miles west of town preparatory to moving here the next spring. Faithful "Old Ben", a dog belonging to Uncle Jack Coble, had passed away. A county Sunday School Institute had been organized here with John S. Powell, president; Elmer Spurgeon, 1st vice-president; W. G. Hardin, 2nd vice-president, and Luther French, secretary-treasurer. The South Plains Baptist Association was to meet here the 5th Sunday in July. Good rains had covered most of the county. Bob Majors, Taboka merchant, was over on business. All for this week.

Imagine how lovely a sight it is to see a farmer and his family of ten children, five girls and five boys on their way to church in Pe De Valley on a wagon, the girls and their mother with red calico dresses exactly alike, upon the wagon, the five boys overalls on and bare footed all riding astride the long couplin pole. Every boy with one galus, a sore toe with a rug wrapped around it, his knees and seat of his pants out and his hair stickin through the hole in his hat. The whole outfit being moved by a blind jackass on one side the tongue and the family bull on the other, without any fear of punctures or blowouts. Oh thou great tax machine put it to us, so there will not be a farmer left, able to ride in a chug wagon. We know we have nothin left of the tax machine, which has put us afoot, and takin our homes, so we now are lookin for you to tax our cats, corncobs and kids and don't over look the air; test our lung capacity and tax the air we breathe, because it would not be right to tax us all alike on air, as some of us have more wind than others; so please consider that. You ought to tax the water too. Some folks jist waste water. That's got to be stopped. Some folks wash their feet every Saturday night and their face and hands once a day sometimes which is alright, but some phools wash all over once or twice a year. That's tom foolery az you know your clothes would hide any dirt that might be on your body.—Dixie Poultry Journal.

Economic Highlights

The most interesting news of the week comes from across the water. A great deal that is of tremendous international importance has happened in Europe.

All Europe fears war, is preparing for it on the one hand while statesmen make long and empty speeches concerning peace on the other. Main thorn in the side of most European powers is Germany—and today, when you speak of Germany, you speak of Hitler, the iron-handed dictator. Under the treaty of Versailles, most fought-about document signed in this century, Germany is allowed no army that amounts to anything, is prohibited from making or obtaining offensive military weapons such as tanks, fighting airplanes, big guns. It is an open secret that Germany, under Hitler, has successfully abrogated the treaty through various dodges. For example, famous storm troops are supposedly a fraternal order, and do not technically come under the classification of an army. As a matter of fact, they are well-trained, well equipped, thoroughly disciplined fighting men.

No man living has made a more spectacular rise than Hitler. Ten years ago he was in prison for starting an abortive revolution against the republican German government of the time. Sentenced to a long term, he was pardoned, in the belief that he was small political fry, could do no harm. Today he is more powerful and more ruthless than even Mussolini and Stalin. His slightest word is law, and the faintest criticism of his policies is cause for arrest, concentration in one of the camps for political-prisoners he has created in various parts of Germany—and possibly, execution.

Most European powers would give much to see the Hitler government collapse—the Nazi movement is gaining ground ominously in other countries. And the rumor of late has been that the German people, traditionally independent and intelligent, are tiring of him. It is an unquestioned fact that he no longer enjoys the vast popularity he once did, and that groups are forming with the objective of eliminating him. It is an important sign of the trend that he is growing constantly harsher in suppressing opposing opinion—all dictators do that when their power is on the wane.

Hitler's answer to revolt came on Saturday, June 30, and Sunday, July 1. The answer can be expressed in one ominous word: Terrorism. Kurt Von Schleicher, once Chancellor of Germany, the position Hitler now holds, was shot with his wife. The charge was resisting arrest—but few will believe that. Other famous Germans were slaughtered or imprisoned. Innumerable ordinary German citizens, who were on the anti-Hitler side, were killed. High officers in Hitler's own storm troops met a like fate, because they were not zealous enough in supporting him.

The result is that Germany, at this writing, is on the verge of revolution—it's a case in which anything can happen. And what happens may have much to do with deciding the future of the world, and determine whether or not there is to be another great war. Until the German crisis is settled one way or the other lights will burn late, in chancelleries in all the great powers.

Ed Neill and family of Austin are here the guests of his brother, Geo. W. Neill and family.

Gip Odum, of Lamesa, was over this week. He formerly lived here and said that had a hankering to move back here if he could find something he wanted.

We call your attention to the bank statements in this issue of the Herald. These statements are printed and paid for at regular advertising rates so that you will know how your bank is doing. We'll just say that our banks are in prime order—don't you thing so?

The city health officer is condemning a lot of outdoor toilets in the city this week. Notices are being put on these privies not to use any more under penalty of the law. It costs only a few dollars to have one built that will comply with all sanitary laws.

L. M. Perry and folks of this city were surprised to see Levelland, Lubbock and Slaton relatives Sunday. A big dinner was spread and several friends and 47 kinfolks enjoyed it.

L. B. Brazelton and family were visited the latter part of the week by his sister, Mrs. Lillie Patton and her two sons, Floyd and Milton, of Sweetwater, Texas.

WORLD'S BIGGEST GAMBLER

Here's the world's biggest gambler, the American farmer! He gambles with the weather, with the soil, with grasshoppers, with army worms, with grubs, and a score of other offshoots of the plagues of ancient Egypt. Every spring he takes a chance—a desperate chance. If he wins, as he does occasionally, he comes off with a big stake; if he loses, which he does more frequently, he has a chance to try again. Happily, he is a good loser, else the world would starve.—Gazette, Mitchel, S. D.

Advance Guard of Summer's Parade Of 30 Fruits Ready Now for Jelly

By Alice Blake

HOW many kinds of jam and jelly do you plan to make this summer?

If you started at the beginning of the fresh fruit season, and put up some from each crop, you would have at least thirty varieties on your pantry shelf by the time frost came. Did you realize that?

What a satisfaction that would be next winter! Raspberry jam—for the children's bread, currant jelly to go with fowl—a jam or a jelly for every occasion would be right at hand.

Berries Now On Market

Of course, the only way to attain such a goal is to begin right away to make jam and jelly from the fruits as they come on the market. Strawberries, cherries, and raspberries come first, begging to be made into jellies. Blackberries follow in and very soon after them the whole berry family—huckleberries, blueberries, loganberries—can be added to the row of gleaming glasses.

If you take advantage of each fruit as it comes on the market, there really isn't much work to acquiring a jam closet which will be the pride of the house when cold weather comes. The best idea is to make a batch at a time—ten or twelve glasses—using the modern methods which require only a few minutes' effort. Use these recipes for fruits available now, and you will have a running start toward the jam cupboard complete:

Red or Black Currant Jelly
5 cups (2 1/2 lbs.) juice
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
1/2 bottle fruit pectin

With red currants, crush about 4 pounds fully ripe fruit and add 1 cup water.

With black currants, crush about 3 pounds fully ripe fruit and add 3 cups water.

To prepare juice, bring mixture to a boil, cover, and simmer 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice.

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1/2 minute. Remove from fire, skin, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about 11 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

Red Raspberry Jam
4 cups (2 lbs.) prepared fruit
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
1/2 bottle fruit pectin

To prepare fruit, crush or grind about 2 quarts fully ripe berries. Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once! Makes about 10 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

TAKE A LOOK INSIDE THIS BREAD

We invite you to look inside one of our loaves of bread. Notice its even texture, its lightness and freshness. That's because it's made of only the finest ingredients in a modern bakery. And the crust is, of course, unbeatable—crisp, browned to a turn, and firm. Bread like this, spread with butter makes a delicious meal all by itself.
