May Begin Shipping Out Steers in April

Some of the first steers shipped in from the W. R. Heant ranch in Old Mexico to the feeding pens here of the Babcock Development Co., a Heant subsidiary, are beginning to look mighty good. The first train load was received about the first of November, and will therefore have been on feed some 150 days early in April. These steers are being constantly weighed, and only those showing the best gains, and are in prime condition, will be shipped to market first.

The management, however, state that the condition of the market will somewhat rule the time the first shipment is made. But after the first shipment, there will be one from then on every week or two until the pens are cleared. It is stated that buyers will be here this year, and that the steers will change hands before they leave for the packing plants.

According to records available, their buyer, T. I. Brown, has this season purchased in the neighborhood of 20,000 tons of feed from local farmers. This consists of corn, headed maize, kaffir, feterita, higeria and bundled can and higeria. The lime, salt and other minerals, as well as the cottonseed meal is shipped in. Some 65 men are given employment crushing feed for and feeding these cattle for some five or six months each year, with a monthly payroll of around $1,600.

Local Negro Accused Of Criminal Assault

Rumor was rife on the streets Monday that a local negro generally known as "Shorty" had forced a colored girl under the age of consent to his room Sunday night at the point of a pistol, and had committed criminal assault on her. This was confirmed by local officers, but they did not know whether charges had been preferred by the county attorney or not.

Officers say this is not the first time this has happened the other time being an older woman, and the matter was closed up, but this time this will not be so easily done. If he is allowed to escape punishment too often, he may try this trick on a white woman some time, then hell will be to pay.

Brownfield people as a whole have no objection to negroes, as they are needed here as dish washers, janitors, washwomen, and household maids, by ladies not able to do their own work. But such as this one named above are not wanted here, and the good people of both races will not tolerate it.

Ohioans See Their Terry Co. Holdings

Mr. Ira W. Switzer of Farmdale, Ohio, came down last week to see his land in the western part of the county, and to see about leasing it for oil purposes. He was accompanied by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bascom, of Youngstown, Ohio, and another son-in-law, D. H. Logan of Kinfman, Ohio. They left Tuesday morning and drove into Brownfield about mid-afternoon on Thursday.

Mr. Switzer stated that they lived in the northeast corner of Ohio, and not far from the Pennsylvania line, and were therefore in the coal, iron and steel section of that state. Youngstown especially being a steel center. Mr. Switzer said that if he would have brought a bucket of had known he could have done so, genuine maple syrup along to trade us for his subscription to the Herald.

Well, next time he can do that, and if we can then get hold of some buck wheat we'll have cakes and maple syrup till you can't rest. Boy, wouldn't that be real larruping these spring mornings?

Where is my wandering girl tonight? Where oh where is she?

County Agent's Office A Very Busy Place

One of the busiest places in the city these days is the office of County Agent McClain. Several men and ladies are busy from morning till night attending to matters concerning our farmers. They have just finished up with the corn-hog signatures, and are getting them ready for mailing to the A. & M. college, and are now getting ready for the rush of cotton contracts.

Monday will be the first day to begin signing cotton rent contracts, and two weeks will be allowed for this according to information given the Herald. There were 850 corn-hog contracts according to Mr. McClain, this year compared to only 723 last year, being more probably than any other county in this section.

Will Get Less Money But with the reduction in the amount allowed on hogs, 10 percent against 25 percent last year, Terry county farmers will not get the amount of money allowed them last year. However, they will be allowed 35c per bushel for corn compared to 30c per bushel last year.

More Checks Come In One hundred twenty-hog-corn parity checks were received by the agent this week for distribution among the farmers, the total amount being $3,142.75. Also 99 cotton tag checks arrived, with a total amount of $4,034.74. These will be distributed as fast as they are called for by the farmers.

Uncle Joe Bryant Home on Sad Mission

Uncle Joe Bryant was in to see us Monday morning, stating that he had been in San Antonio for some time visiting with his daughter, Mrs. Guthrie Cook. Uncle Joe was home on a very sad mission, the death and burial of his son, John, who had passed away at Wichita Falls, Texas on the 14th. John was 49 years of age and had never married so far as we know.

The body was received here Saturday at noon, and funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church by Rev. Ed Tharp. The body was laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery immediately following. His mother passed away about two or three years ago. He is survived by his father, four sisters and three brothers, as follows: Mrs. Cleve Williams, Mrs. Bayne Price and Joe Jr., of this city and county; Billie and Jim of California; Mrs. B. Everett of McLean and Mrs. Guthrie Cook of San Antonio. All attended the funeral except the two boys in California and Mrs. Cook.

Sympathy of the entire community goes out to this old pioneer family.

Much Money Spent For Relief Work

AUSTIN, March 10.—Work relief, temporarily suspended in many counties of the state this week because of shortage of funds, reached its peak during the week ending February 21 when 120,271 persons earned $671,269.39 on Texas Relief Commission projects, it was revealed in a report completed by the statistical division of the Commission.

Relief clients on work relief projects during the week numbered 115,443, of which 2,837 were owner-drivers of trucks. Non-relief personnel employed on work relief projects in supervisory capacities totaled 1,999.

Relief clients themselves earned $599,220.65 which included 16,482.05 for wages and $22,990.94 hire earned by owner-drivers. Non-relief personnel earned $32,575.75.

LITTLEFIELD PAPER MAN MARRIES STAMFORD GIRL

STAMFORD, March 16.—Announcement was made Friday of the marriage on March 3 of Miss Maurine Alsbrook of Stamford and William G. Thomas of Littlefield. The wedding took place in Sweetwater, with Rev. E. D. Dunlap, pastor of the First Baptist church reading the service at his home.

The couple left Stamford Friday for a short wedding trip and will be at home at Littlefield where Mr. Thomas is advertising manager of the Lamb County Leader.

County Judges Would Hike Gasoline Tax

AUSTIN, March 1.—Direly needed relief from burdensome taxation was started on its way to Texas counties today.

A House committee has recommended by the big majority vote of 11 to 3 passage of a measure designed solely to sharply cut county ad valorem levies. The bill increases the gasoline tax one cent to provide revenue for carrying out the purposes of a companion proposal which authorizes the state to take over bonded indebtedness of counties on lateral roads.

Action was taken by the committee after hearing a delegation of county judges representing thousands of taxpayers in all sections of the state. Among them were Robert Ogden of Dallas Frost Woodhull of San Antonio, Clyde Garrett of Eastland and Emmett Moore of Fort Worth.

Passage of the bills would result in reduction of ad valorem tax rates in counties all over the state of 35 to 50 per cent, and at the same time safeguards money made available to the State Highway Department for operation, maintenance, and improvement of the highway system.

Representing the County Judges and Commissioners Association, Judge Ogden said that the revenue raising bill to retire road bonds was not a new measure. "It is not the undertaking of a new principle in the financial management of political affairs, because it simply seeks to amend, and in conjunction with a companion bill, to perpetuate and enlarge policies that have already been defined and practiced by the Legislature."

Judge Ogden explained that the Legislature several years ago realized the inequity of the basis of taxation in which counties voted various sums against the credit of the counties.

"The expenditure of those sums in effect a granting to the state the credit of the county because the practical benefits of any road bond voted by any political subdivision such as a county, is of a state-wide importance and has a state-wide effect."

"The matter of building roads or improving roads therefore, is not to be considered a local project, because every citizen has the benefit either directly or indirectly," Judge Ogden declared.

The main theme of arguments was that users of highways and roads ought to pay for their construction and upkeep, thus relieving farmers and owners of small homes of unjust taxation.

Judge Ogden pointed out that the proposed gasoline tax hike is not to be considered an increase in taxation, "and neither is it to be considered that there is to be a substitution of taxation because the benefits that will accrue to the people will be in effect an actual reduction of the tax levies against the people."

"Assume that a county has an assessed valuation of $100,000 and assume that it would be necessary for that county, in order to finance its operations, to raise a million dollars in money for that year. Instead of levying a tax of $1, which would be the multiple of tax rate against the assessment, it would be necessary for the Commissioners' Court of that county to levy a tax of $1.43 in a situation of that kind."

Judge Ogden declared enactment of the bill before the committee and its companion would have this result: The State, in the payment of all of the bonded debts of the counties, can get a 100 per cent collection on their levy, but with the ad valorem method of repayment of these bonds they must levy 40 per cent additional in order to collect the necessary revenue. So if this piece of legislation is consummated it will not only mean a reduction in the ad valorem tax rates all over the state of some 35 to 40 per cent but it will also mean that you are taking off of the backs of the people of your community that payment that is being assessed for the levying of that tax in order to pay the bonded debts.

DOUBLE IN SOUTH BALTIMORE.—Privately financed building operations in the South during the first 2 months of 1935 more than doubled the total of contracts awarded for this class of work in the corresponding period of 1934, says the monthly report of the Manufacturers Record.

The gain was registered in contrast to a decline in public building work, which caused the aggregate of all construction contract awards to fall 13 per cent below the total for January and February of last year.

Spur Gets the Next Parent-Teacher Meet

PLAINVIEW, March 16.—The 1936 conference of the fourteenth district Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, will be held in Spur. Invitations were extended by Spur and Crosbyton during the two-day conference here. One hundred and sixty-eight delegates and visitors were registered. Outstanding on the conference program was the panel discussion on curriculum revision conducted at the Saturday morning session by C. E. Davis superintendent of Plainview Public Schools.

Speakers were Professor Garland of the Department of Education, Texas Technological College, Lubbock. E. K. Oberholzer, Lubbock school superintendent, Professor Cook of the faculty of West Texas State Teachers College, Canyon and Floyd Burnett superintendent of schools at Rotan.

Garland said that curriculum revision should be in charge of a number of individuals of different types representing various groups and activities.

Oberholzer defined curriculum as the whole of learning activities that goes on with a school. Cook discussed the work that has been done in curriculum revision and said that the task has been outlined on a four-year basis.

Rotan was awarded first place on yearbooks. Littlefield was second, Spur, Abernathy, Post, Brownfield, Sudan received honorable mention. Post was awarded first place for publicity records. Slaton was second and Abernathy received honorable mention.

Poster awards were: First grade, Rotan, first; Meadow, second. Second grade, Rotan, Meadow. Third grade, Rotan, Post. Fourth grade, Lubbock, Post. Fifth grade, Lubbock, first and second. Sixth grade, Plainview, Lubbock Junior High, two entries tied for second place. Seventh grade, Lubbock Junior High, first and second. High school, Lubbock, first and second.

Awards for unit reports: Brownfield, first; Slaton Junior High, second; Post, third; Snyder Dupree School, Lubbock Woodrow School, Slaton Central Ward and Lubbock, honorable mention.

Mrs. A. C. Surman of Post, state representative, was presented a painting by Mrs. J. B. Wallace in behalf of the Plainview Parent-Teacher Council.

Orders For Lumber Exceeds Production

WASHINGTON.—A slight increase in lumber production occurred in the week ended February 9 against the like 1934 week according to the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association. Production for the week of 1,057 mills was 157,145,000 feet; shipment, 171,930,000, and orders received, 186,356,000. Revised figures for the previous week show 1,192 mills reporting production of 154,558,000 feet, shipments, 202,222,000, and orders received of 205,042,000.

Total orders were 19 per cent above output, softwoods showing excess of 19 per cent and hardwoods of 16 per cent. Shipments were 9 per cent above production. All regions except northern pine, northern hemlock, and northeastern hardwood reported orders above those of corresponding weeks of 1934, total orders being 42 per cent above those of a year ago.

Relief Work Has Been Started Again in Tex.

AUSTIN, March 1.—Resumption of the work relief program on a limited scale was ordered by State Relief Director Adam E. Johnson this week in a communication addressed to all county administrators. The work relief program was practically abandoned several days ago when relief funds ran low.

Mr. Johnson said past rules and regulations governing work relief projects are again in effect but cautioned all administrators with regard to proper planning of expenditures.

"Allotments for the month will in all instances be lower than for February," he said. "This will mean in many cases reduction in family budgets. It should not mean, however, stopping of work relief, and the client should be extended work relief as in the past but in smaller amounts. It is suggested that all economies possible be effected in regard to non-relief expenditures."

In connection with the above communication from Austin, our understanding is that Terry county was one among the few counties in the state not out of is proportion of relief funds, but on account of the general order to suspend work in other sections of the state, work was had to be stopped here too.

Much Land Put Up Last Week in Terry

Elder James A. Fry invited the writer, J. H. O'Conner, C. Sears and Mr. Murphy to accompany him to Johnson school house Sunday afternoon, where he preached. Much of the same road we were over the Sunday before was traveled, and we could not help but notice the big difference in the amount of land that was turned up in the six work days intervening.

After the services were over, and the small but interested crowd had disbanded, the five mentioned above stopped at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Gore, to look at the five calves they have fattened this winter, two or three of which were on display at the calf show here last week, and will be carried to the Quality Meat Show at Lubbock.

These are real show calves, and the boys are proud of them. Talk about some real good steak, these steers, around a year old now and weighing as much as 900 pounds, have what we call a real good beef steak about them.

New P.M. at Levelland Takes Charge of Office

H. H. Mann, formerly active vice-president of the First National Bank but recently confirmed by the Senate as Postmaster at Levelland, assumed charge of that office on Friday of last week.

The postoffice was established here in 1922, several months after it had been made a county seat and was for the time a fourth-class office. It assumed the dignity of a presidential appointive office in 1926 when the outgoing Postmaster, John Thomman was appointed.

The first postmaster was a man by the name of Gunn, who according to local tradition became involved. Later Mrs. U. I. Bridges served as postmaster until it became a presidential office, when a republican appointee was named.

Marvin Dunn, present assistant postmaster, transported the mail to this place from Lubbock prior to the building of the Santa Fe railway in 1925.—Levelland Herald.

Fifth Annual Meat Show Begins April 1

LUBBOCK, Texas, Mar. 16.—The eyes of West Texas stockmen 4-H club members, vocational students and rural club women will be on Lubbock during April 1, 2, and 3 when the fifth annual Quality Meat Show will be staged at the fair grounds here.

Feature event of the three day show will be an auction sale of baby beefs fat pigs and fat lambs on the closing day April 3 with Col. Earl Garlin the auctioneer.

Judging of cured meats canned meats and fat lambs takes place April 1 while the baby beefs and pigs will be judged April 2.

Says State Relief Funds Getting Low

AUSTIN, March 18.—State Relief Director Adam E. Johnson, forced to carry on relief work this month under a curtailed budget, appealed to county officials to "do the best you can with what you have."

The state director and members of the State Board of Control have been harassed by delegations and telephone and telegraph messages from city and county officials seeking more relief funds.

"We haven't got any more money," said Johnson. "On the basis of this month's allotment, we still owe the counties approximately $2,300,000."

"State funds made available by the legislature amounting to $750,000 became available today and federal officials wired us they will forward $750,000 for general relief for the last half of March as they promised previously to do."

In addition to this, we have left in the bank approximately $368,000 of federal and state general relief funds. All of this adds up to $1,863,000, or nearly half a million less than we need to supply relief requirements."

Johnson said it might be necessary to transfer balances from more fortunate counties to those in dire need, and that in any event, "we will have to drain the till" to make ends meet.

Future allotments, he said depend upon the fate of the relief bill now in the national congress. Until the federal emergency relief administration receives a new appropriation, its funds are being supplied to a limited extent from the public works administration.

State funds also have been materially reduced, the final $3,500,000 of state bond money to be made available $750,000 in March and April, $400,000 for each succeeding month through November; $700,000 in December.

"We realize the counties are disturbed about the amount of relief funds they are receiving but we are turning over every dime to them as fast as it comes to us," Mr. Johnson said.

Counties were requested NOT to send delegations to Austin seeking more funds and approval of work relief projects wherein the state is called upon to pay material costs.

"We just can't pay out any money for materials at this time," Mr. Johnson said.

Ready-to-Wear Show At Lubbock Saturday

LUBBOCK, Texas March 16.—Sixty-eight traveling men handling ready-to-wear, millinery, shoes, hosiery, general line novelties, men's wear and other merchandise have made reservations for the tenth semi-annual West Texas-New Mexico Wholesale Clothing Market in Lubbock March 23 to 26 inclusive, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event, has announced.

Two hundred and fifty retail merchants are expected to come in for the market.

Big day of the market will be Monday, March 25, being climaxed with a style show and dance in the evening.

Ready-to-wear, millinery, and hosiery will be exhibited in the show by Butler Bros. Higginbotham-Bailey-Logan Company, Morten-Davis Company, Roos-Freedman-Shayn, Higginbotham Millinery Co., Davis Millinery Co., Stern Millinery Co., and Baker-Moise Hosiery Mills of Dallas; Smith-McCord-Townsend, Kansas City; and Tootle Campbell Dry Goods Co., St. Joseph, Mo.

The style show will be held at the Lubbock High School Auditorium and the dance at the Hilton Hotel.

Texas Grapefruit Crop Est. 2,720,000 Boxes

AUSTIN, Texas, March 15.—Statisticians of the United States Department of Agriculture Friday estimated Texas current grapefruit crop at 2,720,000 boxes, an increase of 140 per cent over last season, and a record.

It would boost Texas' rank over California to next to Florida. Grapefruit production in Texas was estimated at 18,188,000 boxes with Florida supplying 3,000,000 boxes, and California, 1,200,000.

Average Texas production over a five-year period was 1,450,000 boxes. The Texas orange crop was estimated at 595,000 boxes, an increase of 53 per cent. National production was estimated 57,901,000 boxes with California producing 48,000,000.

Bad Luck Treks With Long Beach Man

SNYDER, March 15.—Misfortune continued to dog J. G. A. Martin, Long Beach, Calif., court clerk, and tonight he was in a hospital here suffering of a broken right leg.

Martin reported Tuesday to Sheriff Reeder Webb at Odessa that he had been doped and robbed of $340 his watch and his gun. His stolen car, found 10 miles southwest of Brownfield Monday had resulted in a search for him.

Sheriff J. S. Smith of Terry county said Martin recovered his automobile at Brownfield, employed a Brownfield man to drive, and left for Fort Worth.

While walking in the west part of Snyder about 8 o'clock last night the 51-year-old man was struck by an automobile driven by A. Wiese of Snyder.

Wiese stopped and carried the injured man to a doctor. The leg was set without an anesthetic being administered. Both bones in the leg below the knee were broken. Martin also suffered bruises and contusions.

A young man who told a Terry county farmer he had robbed Martin apparently had eluded West Texas officers.

The History of "Knee-Action" Wheels

What the public has indicated it wants to know about "Knee-Action" wheels is covered in a booklet just issued by the Customer Research Staff of General Motors.

This booklet, entitled "The Story of Knee-Action" is somewhat of a departure in automotive literature in that it is based on the queries and comments resulting from General Motors questionnaire surveys during the past year the period in which "Knee-Action" cars have been in the hands of the public.

The forty-eight page booklet discloses such interesting historical facts about independent front wheel suspension as that the French designer, Amedee Bollee, Sr. built a steam car in 1878 embodying a crude type of independent suspension.

The ten objectives sought after by General Motors engineers whose research ultimately led to the development of "Knee-Action" construction are outlined. The feature is discussed not only in terms of comfort but also in terms of steering, braking control, roadability and safety.

The profusely illustrated book is being mailed to several thousand motorists who answered the General Motors questionnaires during the past year as well as to others requesting it.

Yoakum Woman Makes Clothes Closet Cheap

PLAINES—"My new clothes closet cost me only 15 cents for tacks, nails, and corner locks," Mrs. E. L. Elliston, wardrobe demonstrator in the West Ward Home Demonstration Club in Yoakum county, told Miss Lillian Boyd, home demonstration agent. "I made the frame out of a stove grate and covered it with cardboard boxes. The hinges for the door came off of an old cabinet and the paper to cover it inside and out was given to me."

The closet is 28 inches wide, 50 inches long, and extends to the ceiling. Five shelves on one side are convenient for storing folded materials and one shelf extending the full length of the closet above the rod is used for hats.

Local Girl Member Greek Letter Society

CANYON, Texas, March 16.—Miss Myrtle Scales of Brownfield is a senior member of the Alpha Chi Scholarship Society at the West Texas State Teachers College. Miss Scales is majoring in Spanish.

The fourth nine weeks term at the West Texas State Teachers College will open April 2. At that time new classes will be formed and new students will be admitted to the college.

CUB CLASSES

SENIORS—

The Seniors won the contest Visiting Day. As a reward they received a very beautiful picture "The Gleancers" by Jean Francois Millet. The Seniors are very proud of this picture. They presented it to the school with the class roll of '35 on the back. Students of B. H. S., when you see this picture the Seniors want you to think of them as the class that was loyal and the leaders of B. H. S. The picture is in the room of the Senior sponsor, Mr. Ledbetter.

SOPHOMORES—

The Sophomores met in the auditorium Monday morning. The program was very interesting. It was as follows: A reading, "Smile" by Doy Murphy; a group of songs on the harmonica by Ralph Jeter and Harold Hill. Betty Jo Savage, Mary Louise Tinkler, and Doy Murphy sang "I Only Have Eyes For You." Every one attend the track meet! Back the B. H. S. students who have spunk enough to represent the school in literary as well as track and sport events. Some few of the pupils worked hard to make the team for tennis or declamation but were eliminated. Their efforts were appreciated.

Encourage the school by attending the League Meet! The Sophomores are backing every event. Some of the best track men are from the Sophomore class. The senior declaimer for boys came from the Sophomore class. Help keep it "THE SCHOOL WITH THE SPIRIT."

JUNIORS—

The Junior class met Monday morning, March 18, and discussed plans for their sale of candy gum, and sandwiches during the week of the County Meet.

Come to the County Meet and buy your lunch from the Juniors.

FRESHMEN—

Monday, March 8, the Freshmen had their regular class meeting. The program was announced by Pauline Lindley. It read as follows: Reading—Doris Lee Gore

Song—Lorene White
 Talk—Prebble Thomason
 A number of yells were practiced, and Mr. Penn made a few suggestions on how the Freshmen class could help to win the County Meet.

MUSIC NOTES

The following pupils of Gertrude Rasco's piano class will play during the Music Festival at Lubbock Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

CUB CHAPEL

On Wednesday morning the student body met in the auditorium for a program given by the Extemporaneous Speakers and one Declaimer. Ethel Pippin gave her declamation, and Claire Estes and Ruby Nell Smith gave a talk for their Extemporaneous Speeches.

B. H. S. is glad to be entertained by the High School students because it shows them what their students are doing.

On Friday morning the student body was surprised to hear that they could use the chapel period as they wished. A few of the students went to the study hall to study, but the majority went outside. Amid the gossip and laughter of the girls and leap-frog of the boys, the twenty-minutes was spent with much enjoyment to everyone.

Evangelist Preston Speaks In Assembly

On Wednesday afternoon the students and faculty of B. H. S. were called to assembly and were favored by an address by Reverend Preston. His talk was on the upbuilding of our country and how to improve morals. He gave advice as to how every boy and girl can do his part in helping our country to be a better one. Our country's development depends largely on the part our boys and girls take and the standards by which they govern their lives. Boys and girls should set a standard of life that will permit them to live only clean and pure lives. Until they do our standards of life will not be raised any. The most outstanding feature of the program was the pledge the boys and girls both gave.

He asked the boys this question, "Will you pledge yourselves to treat the girl you are with as you would like for your sister to be treated." As an answer the boys stood unanimously. He asked the girls "Will you pledge yourself to act like a lady should act in the presence of a gentleman?" The girls pledged unanimously also.

This talk aroused much enthusiasm among the students.

CUB CHATTER

Wilma Frank Dunn was in Lubbock Wednesday.

Jeanne Roane, former B. H. S. student of Lubbock, visited friends here the week-end.

The L. T. B.'s spent Sunday in Lubbock.

Fern Sawyer of Tech was a visitor in the home of El Ray Lewis, Saturday and Sunday.

The report comes to us that Esther Ruth Smith, former B. H. S. student who is now attending C. I. A., underwent an appendicitis operation Sunday. We are sorry that this had to be, and The Cub Reporter joins her friends in wishing for her a speeding recovery.

Nina Besz Hicks of Tahoka visited Wilma Frank Dunn, Sunday.

Bill McGowan and Wendell Smith attended a golf tournament at Petersburg, Sunday.

Annie Letha Hamilton, John L. Cruce, and R. L. Bandy ran down from Tech for the week-end.

Margene Griffin, Mary Dee and Othell Price were in Tahoka Friday afternoon.

We are sorry to state that our editor-in-chief, Ruby Nell Smith, is out of town visiting her sister.

CUB CLUBS

LILLIANAS VISIT LUBBOCK—

Saturday, March 16, ten members of the Lillianna Club were present at the Fifth Annual District Home Economics Club Rally, Lubbock, Tex.

The theme of the program was "A Centennial of Homemaking in Texas." The morning was spent in watching the presentation of different programs by other schools of this district.

All clubs were served hot barbecue lunches on the bleachers in the High School gymnasium. The entertainment during the noon hour was given by the Oikade Club of Junior High.

The program which the Lilliannas gave was a portrayal of the Gay Nineties. All costumes and dialogue were original.

Those who took part in the program were Verna Brown, Christine Hamilton, Agnes Hamilton, Laverne Mullins, E. C. Lanier, Kathleen Perry, Geneva Thompson, Evelyn Shepherd, Gwendolyn Baker, and Dorthea Mae Randle.

Miss Winston sponsored the group with the assistance of Moureen Loyd.

The club will present the same program Wednesday, March 20, at the High School Auditorium.

We wish to express our appreciation to Mrs. Flache, Mrs. Neill, Mrs. Redford Smith, Mrs. Basil Webb, Mrs. Jim Burnett, Mrs. J. O. Brown, and Mrs. Hardin for their help in supplying costumes and accessories which enabled us to make our play a success.—Miss Winston and Lillianna Club.

HISTORY CLUB—

The History Club met Tuesday, March 12, and the program consisted of interesting discussions on the "Prisons of the United States."

Dora Faye gave a report on "The Management of Prisons"; Johnnie Mae Jenkins gave an interesting discussion on "The Equipment of Prisons," and Joe Davis Murray gave a very interesting report also.

Mrs. McSpadden, a visitor, talked to the club on a new invention for burglar proof bars which are being installed in some prisons. We were very glad to have Mrs. McSpadden and invite her to come back at any time.

DRAMATIC CLUB—

The Dramatic club had a short program last week that consisted of two songs by the Girls Quartet, the girls are: Cathrine Cates, Ima George Warren, Helen Quante, and Lorene White. Several Jokes were given by Vernon Pharr.

After the program, a short discussion followed, on whether the club should have another play. It was decided they should, but it has not been decided whether or not there will be an admission charge.

Baptist Missionary ladies met at the church Monday P. M. in a general meeting. A Mission program and business meeting was held. There were twelve present.

NO EDITOR IN PRISON

Here's a new one making the rounds of the press in Texas. "Officials of the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Chester, Ill., wanted to issue a prison newspaper, they found one, just one, of 2500 inmates who could set the type, but no prisoner who could qualify as editor. So the officials engaged the prison chaplain for editor, biding a time when some scribe runs afoul of the law and gets sent to the penitentiary.

CRIME GETS BAD BLOW

The shooting to death of such outlaws as John Dillinger and "Pretty Boy" Floyd is easily the most spectacular part of the Department of Justice's drive on crime. Equally important but far less exciting, is the quiet and methodical way in which the "G men" are cracking down on persons who give aid and comfort to gangsters.

Twenty persons stood before Federal Judge William H. Atwell in Dallas the other day to receive sentences for having harbored or assisted tough Clyde Barrow, recently deceased, and his cigar-puffing paramour, Bonnie Parker, also recently deceased.

Among them were the mothers of the two outlaws, assorted sisters, brothers, friends, and a scattering of what might euphemistically be called business associates.

At one time or another these persons had helped the outlaws hide from the police, or had given them help in getting from some hot spot to a spot not so hot, or had done this or that to make their careers of crime more lucrative.

Judge Atwell lost no time in handing out sentences which in some cases ran as high as two years in prison. The two mothers drew 30-day terms in jail. And as a result, only one person of all those who at one time associated with the Barrow gang remains unpunished today—the gangster Raymond Hamilton, now being hunted by posses all over the southwest.

Now a roundup of this kind does not get a tenth of the public attention that the actual slaying or imprisonment of a notorious criminal gets; but in the long run it is every bit as important in the drive to stamp out lawlessness.

No outlaw plays a lone hand, in modern America. The man who tried it wouldn't last a month.

There must be friends who can furnish hiding places in time of trouble, who can advance funds in the low spells between robberies, who can carry communications and help in forming plans and do all the other little services which enable a criminal to carry on his career.

To knock off the leading criminal and leave this network of friends and helpers untouched is to invite repetition of the trouble.

Getting the leader himself is the first job, of course. But after that has been done, the persons who made his career possible need attention. Blows like the one against the Barrow clan are the best kind of crime prevention work.

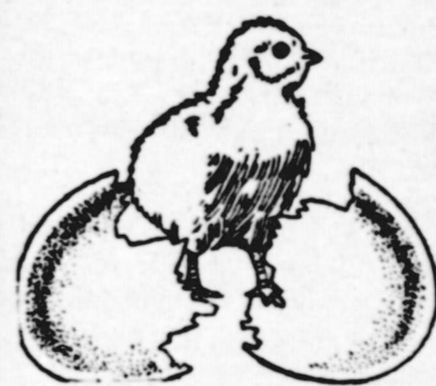

Nothing will put a crimp in activities of the Dillingers and the Floyds like a general public realization that to give any kind of help to such men is exceedingly unhealthful.—Lubbock Avalanche.

VICE OR SLANDER—WHICH?

Federal District Attorney Eastus is quoted in the press as stating in his address to the jury in the Outlaw case tried in Dallas last Friday that "vice conditions in Garza county are worse than Chicago's South Side under Al Capone".

We do not know just how bad vice conditions in Chicago's South Side were under Al Capone, not having visited that city, but Eastus evidently intended to convey the impression that vice conditions in Garza county were exceedingly bad.

With all due respect to Mr. Eastus, we do not believe a word of it. We know nothing about the guilt or innocence of the citizens of Post who have been charged in the Federal Court with violation of the Federal Narcotic laws. We are expressing no opinion whatever as to these cases.

But we do not believe that vice conditions in Garza county are any worse than they are in many other counties of the state—not half so bad as in some of them. We have an idea that if Mr. Eastus would look around a bit he could find twice as much vice to the square inch in Dallas and Tarrant counties as he has been able to unearth in Garza county.

The population of Garza county is possibly 98 per cent while, most of it of Anglo-Saxon ancestry, like that of all this plains country, and there is no finer citizenship in the United States. It is possible that a few citizens in Post have been violating the Federal narcotic laws, and if so they should be severely punished but in order to stamp out this evil it is not necessary to slander but an entire county. A district attorney should be just and fair and he should be careful how he handles the truth.

JANUARY INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT AT 5-YR. MARK

WASHINGTON.—Industrial production in January, the Federal Reserve Board says, was the largest in any January since 1930.

The Board's monthly summary of business conditions said the industrial output in January amounted to 90 per cent of the 1923-25 average, compared to 86 per cent in December.

Sharply increased activity in the steel and automobile industries was credited for much of the gain. The report said factory employment and pay rolls rose somewhat during the month, reversing usual seasonal trends. Large increases in employment at automobile factories and substantial increases at steel mills, foundries, and woolen mills were reported.

A REAL LIFE ROMANCE

Holding the beautiful girl close to him he gazed into the unfathomable depths of her gazelle-like eyes. Anxiety and concern were expressed in every line of her face which had that touch of youth that needs no make-up. She gazed into his face as if she dreaded what he was about to say and as though she meant to read his very soul. A sigh escaped her lips, from time to time and she breathed as if she was swept by some inner emotion. For many minutes thus they sat—neither speaking each gazing into the other's face.

TAKING PROFIT OUT OF WARS

Take the profits out of war and there will be no wars! That seems to be brought out by federal investigations of the munition plants in this country. Who profited by war? Why, the munition people. Not only from the United States alone, but from foreign countries before the war. And during the past few years they have been supplying war materials of every description to these foreign powers in preliminary preparation for the next war. Speaking of profiteers in this nation, what about these munition corporations? It is intimated that they not only sell munitions, but furnish patents for the manufacture of deadly gases, submarines and other instruments of war. Traitors?

INDUSTRY PROMISE BEST GAINS IN 4YRS.

NEW YORK.—Estimates by the Standard Statistics Co., based upon operations to date and projections for the next 6 weeks indicate that first quarter earnings of representative corporations will be about 6 1-2 per cent above those of the corresponding 1934 period. This will be the best showing for any first quarter since 1931. On an absolute basis results will be smaller than those for either the second quarter of 1934 or the third of 1933. With adjustment for seasonal variations, however, they will be the best for any 3 months since the June quarter of 1931.

The Home Owners Loan Corporation wants to lend money for the improvement of homes in the United States. It wants to lend a lot of money on long terms and at low rates of interest. It has been operating for some time, and Congress plans to appropriate more money for it. At the same time, the Texas lawmakers propose to extend homesteads tax exemptions so home owners will have no taxes to pay on homes but school taxes. America should be a land of homes.—Ralls Banner.

Here Is True FARMALL POWER
reduced in size, weight, and capacity to take over the power problems on tens of thousands of small farms, and to serve as an auxiliary tractor on larger farms.
FARMALLS Now in 3 Sizes—a Step for Every Farm.
THE tremendous success of the McCormick-Deering Farmall tractors naturally created a demand for the same efficient Farmall power in a smaller size. International Harvester engineers have produced such a tractor. The new McCormick-Deering Farmall 12 is the result. It has surprising power for its size. Weighing a little over a ton, it displaces four or more horses in field work. It handles all the operations in growing and harvesting all crops. Pulls a 16-inch plow bottom or two 10-inch bottoms. It is an ideal tractor for planting and cultivating corn, cotton, etc., the capacity on these operations being 25 to 33 acres a day. Wheels are adjustable to a wide range of row spacing. The Farmall 12 is ready to middle bust, handle haying operations, pull tractor binder and corn picker, cut ensilage, grind feed, etc. Like every other Farmall, the Farmall 12 is a true all-purpose tractor.

We are in A New Automobile Era!
Cars built since 1931 have twice the power and speed of ten years ago!
Continental offers you better lubrication for modern cars—an *Alloyed Oil with twice the film strength of other oils!
IT'S hard to realize how improved cars of the '30s are over those we drove ten years ago. We are in a new automobile era! Power and speed have almost doubled in a decade, with little increase in motor size. Increased power has brought enormous increases in bearing pressures and crankcase temperatures. In making motor parts that will stand up under these severe conditions, car manufacturers have turned to new alloy metals of extra strength and durability. For the same reason, you must have oil with enough extra oiliness and film strength to protect your motor under extreme pressures! Yet motor oils generally have no more oiliness and film strength now than they had ten years ago. New refining methods have recently come into use to make oils free from carbon and sludge. But these new refining processes have actually lowered instead of increased oiliness and film strength! There is one exception—Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. It, too, is free from carbon and sludge troubles, as its users know after millions of trouble-free miles of driving. But more important, Timken machine tests prove that the new Germ Processed motor oil is 2 to 4 times the film strength of any straight mineral oil! That extra film strength protects your motor under the most extreme pressure conditions. Germ Processing gives other valuable advantages. Because Germ Processed Oil penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, a "Hidden Quart" stays up in your motor and cuts down starting wear. Germ Processed Oil gives longer mileage with greater motor protection, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test. Plain mineral oils were all right ten years ago—today they are becoming obsolete. Say "O.K.—Drain"—fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil and drive with the comfortable assurance that your oil meets your motor's needs!

A TOOL THE DEVIL WANTS TO KEEP

It was once announced that the Devil was going out of business, and would offer all his tools for sale to anyone who would pay the price. On the night of the sale they were all attractively displayed and a bad-looking lot they were.

Malice, hatred, envy, jealousy, sensuality and deceit, and all other implements of evil were spread out, each one marked with its price.

Apart from the rest lay a harmless looking and wedged shaped tool, much worn and priced higher than any of them.

Someone asked the Devil what it was.

"That's Discouragement" was the reply.

"Why have you priced it so high?" "Because," replied the Devil, "it is more useful to me than any of the others. I can pry open and get inside a man's consciousness with that when I could not get near him with any of the others, and when once inside, I can use him in whatever way suits me best. It is much worn because I've used it with nearly everybody and very few yet know it belongs to me."

It hardly need be added that the Devil's price for Discouragement was so high that it was never sold.

He still owns it—AND IS USING IT!—Muleshoe Journal.

LIFE MUST BE PLANNED

For many years the life insurance has been the butt of a thousand jokes. But he has lived to see the day when such witticism have lost their point and their humor.

Where the good life underwriter used to be a high pressure salesman, he has become a counsellor, comparable to a lawyer, doctor or other professional consultant. Up to date life underwriters analyze the needs and aims of their clients and prepare policy plans accordingly.

No investment should be made more carefully than life insurance. It may be all we will have in old-age it may be the sole means of educating children, supporting dependents, and creating estates. A policy that fits the need of one man, may be absolutely inadequate for another it is up to the underwriter to advise on types of policies that meet individual problems. And, as time passes and problems change or vary, it is the work of the competent life underwriter to advise necessary adjustments in insurance holdings.

The future security of many families depends on the life insurance underwriter and that great arm of public servants is discharging its responsibilities well.

NO EVOLUTION IN TENNESSEE

Judging by the decisive vote of the Tennessee House of Representatives there "ain't gona be no monkey business in that state." By more than three to one that body voted to keep on the statute books the Anti-Evolution Law of Scopes trial fame. This does not mean that the people of Tennessee are backward or old-fashioned in all things. Consider how they have embraced the New Deal and entered wholeheartedly into the changed order of things wrought by the TVA. They like it. But when it comes to human origins this recent vote of the state legislature shows that they prefer the old order of things.

Their law against the teaching in public schools of any theory that man is descended from a lower order of animals was placed upon the statute books in 1925. John Thomas Scopes, a Rhea county high school teacher was the first and only one to be tried for violating it. Defended by prominent lawyers who had to compete against the passionate oratory of the late William J. Bryan the case was heard around the world. Now 10 years later another youngster, Cecil Anderson, 22 year old law student-legislator, had nerve enough to propose in the House the "sacrilegious" repeal of the law. He soon found out his impertinence, for after only two hours of debate the measure to repeal the law was voted down 67 to 20. —Pathfinder.

CHEVROLET DEALERS EQUIPPED FOR SERVICE

"Never forget a customer—Never let him forget you."

Originated by William E. Holler, general sales manager of Chevrolet Motor Company, this now famous slogan is placed above the desks of Chevrolet dealers throughout the country, and it is a guide to relations between Chevrolet owners and dealers everywhere.

"The value to the motorist of his contact with the automobile dealer of today," said Mr. Holler, in commenting on the subject, "is determined largely by the ability of the dealer to meet the motorist's demands. Especially is this true as it applies to service on cars already sold."

"Today Chevrolet is in the hands of approximately 10,000 dealers in this country alone. This means that the complete service facilities of one of the world's largest distributing organizations are at the disposal of owners of more than 5,000,000 Chevrolet cars now in operation in every state in the Union."

"It has been and always will be, the constant aim of Chevrolet dealers to serve car owners with complete maintenance facilities," said Mr. Holler. "The service rendered to Chevrolet owners is not only thorough and comprehensive, but scientific and meticulous. We insist that every dealer's service man be a specialist in his line."

WEEDING OUT COLLEGES

The 1935 report of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching will beyond question cause the thoughtful among faculty, alumni, trustees and teachers of colleges to sit up straight and do some tall thinking. For the report bears a candid conclusion, based on study of the whole field and drawn from unexcelled facilities for knowing intimately the true condition of many institutions. And this is the conclusion: "In the acute struggle for academic existence, many colleges will no doubt lose ground and some of them will disappear." Then the Foundation observers go on to point out that survival will not depend on money entirely, but upon intelligent leadership, and, in effect, upon true and competent education.

Something of this sort must certainly have come to the mind of every thoughtful observer of the American educational scene during the past two decades, and with new emphasis during the past five or six years. New colleges have been springing up like mushrooms on a dewy night. Many of them seemed to have nothing to recommend them except a few football suits and a blackboard or two. Yet they call themselves "colleges" and proceeded to attract students only to "go to college" and unable, or too unfamiliar with the field, to be exacting in their choice.

The weeding-out process, by which the weak-sister colleges fold up and the firmly based colleges carry on, goes on all the time, of course. But the Carnegie report seems to imply that the process is being accelerated. If that is so it will reflect a growing appreciation of educational worth on the part of prospective students and their parents. There is, or should be, no need for an edict by anyone or any group, saying this college must stand or that must fall.—Star-Telegram.

FIRST ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH

Do you attend church and Sunday School anywhere? If not, why not. We invite every one to come and worship with us, each of these services: Sunday School—10:00 A. M. Praching Sunday—11:00 A. M. Our young people will be putting on a special program in the afternoon. We give everyone a hearty welcome to come and be with us on this day. Rev. Homer Sheats, Pastor.

Miss Esther Ruth Smith, daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. J. S. Smith, took acute appendicitis at Denton, where she is attending C. I. A., last week, and was operated on at Cook's Hospital at Fort Worth at 6:30 Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Smith left here Saturday afternoon and arrived in time for the operation. She is reported to be doing as well as could be expected.

Mrs. Tom Cobb came in Monday from Seminole where she had been visiting her mother several days in the absence of her father at Fort Worth. Mrs. Cobb's little daughter continued her stay with her grandmother.

Dad Tudor visited his daughter, Mrs. Cantrell at Amherst, last week.

We thank Mrs. R. J. Hamilton for her renewal to the Herald. She is generally just about on the same old her renewals.

FATHER COUGHLIN NOT CHANGING

Father Charles A. Coughlin is not going all the road with the Kingfish of Louisiana. He has not deserted the cause of Roosevelt. In his reply to Gen. Johnson he was very pointed in the language he used and very emphatic as to the road that he would continue to take. Long ago in a radio address he declared to the American people that it was 'Roosevelt or ruin.' He has not changed. He prefers 'Roosevelt to Ruin every time. This is his message to his followers the nation over. "Who originated the slogan 'Roosevelt or ruin?' Who repeated it again this year . . . my friends in this audience I still proclaim to you that it is either Roosevelt or ruin. I SUPPORT HIM TODAY AND WILL SUPPORT HIM TOMORROW because we are neither going to the individualism of the Past nor are we going forward to the communism of the future."

Coughlin did not stammer when he said it. He did not hesitate or use honeyed language, speaking to Gen. Johnson or the Kingfish in his remarkable address. As to the future destiny of America he placed this in the record "We the great creditor nation of this world who today control the gold are in position to strike the first and telling blow for economic freedom, for financial independence. This should be our contribution to the happiness of mankind. This is the destiny of Columbia. To this task I invite you to dedicate your lives."—Cleburne Times.

A young English schoolboy's composition on breathing which appeared originally in New Health English Journal edited by Sir William Arbuthnot Lane recently was reprinted in How To Live. The young health enthusiast's masterpiece came to life in response to the question. "Tell all you can about breathing."

"Breath is made of air. We breathe with our lungs, our lights, our liver and kidneys. If it wasn't for our breath we would die when we slept. Our breath keeps the life a-going through the nose when we are asleep. Boys that stay in a room all day should not breathe. They should wait till they get outdoors. Boys in a room make bad, unwholesome air. They make carbonic acid. Carbonic acid is poisoner than mad dogs. A heap of soldiers was in a black hole in India and a carbonic acid got into the hole and nearly killed every one afore morning. Girls kill the breath with corssets, that squeeze their diaphragm. Girls can't holler or run like boys because their diaphragm is squeezed too much. If I was a girl I had rather be a boy, so I could run and holler and have a great big diaphragm."

Private business has all the right to make all the market will bear honestly, but a utility has neither moral nor legal right to make more than a "fair return." Therefore a utility is bound morally and legally to reduce its rates whenever it finds out by formal or informal complaints in a hearing, or by informal showing of a commission or better still from its own more ready and intimate knowledge of its own business, that it is making more than a fair return—say 7 per cent in good times and from that down to 5 1-2 percent in bad times, on the fair present value of its property used and useful in serving the public. If a utility would fairly discharge its duty to the public, it could and would try to find out the truth about the fairness of its profits and would voluntarily reduce its rates to the point where the proceeds received were fair, and only fair. It is time that many utilities do not pursue this policy of absolute fairness they beg the issue and play to delay formal proceedings, looking to the determination of what a fair rate should be, until they have practically forfeited the confidence of the public in their willingness and even their ability to do the fair thing.—Ernest O. Thompson, R. R. Com.

The foundation has been laid for the new residence for Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lewis. The old residence was moved off the lots on 1st street two weeks ago to some lots on south Second. We understand that the new residence will be modern in every detail.

Miss Ann Hamilton, who is employed by the Penney Store at San Angelo, was up over the week end visiting her mother, Mrs. J. T. Hamilton and family.

An epidemic of sore throats hit the town recently. It seems that Kyle Graves and wife and Tom Cobb were the worst sufferers, but all who have had it say that it was quite severe.

Judge Neill is having one of his rent houses on Broadway torn down and remodeled into a more modern home.

We understand that Mr. Parker who got the contract as County Janitor, is still too ill to work, and Mr. Oliver is still filling in for him at the courthouse.

Wellman News

Due to the County Meet, the Wellman P. T. A. will not meet Friday, March 21, but will meet the following Friday, March 29. Mesdames Adair, Riney, and Wade attended the district convention of the P. T. A. at Plainview last Friday and Saturday. The Wellman P. T. A. received a pecan tree that grew from seed from trees that grow at the grave of Governor Hogg. Upon realizing that his end was near, Hogg told his friends: "I want no monument of stone or marble, but plant at my head a pecan tree and at my feet an old fashioned walnut—and when these trees shall bear, let the pecans and the walnuts be given out among the plain people of Texas so that they may plant them and make Texas a land of trees." There will be a tree planting program in the near future. Mr. J. J. Woodard returned from Oklahoma where he visited his brother-in-law, who was very ill. Miss Nora Grigg, who is attending school at Abilene spent the week end with her parents. Also Mr. Robert Hamilton, who is attending school there too. There will be preaching at the church of Christ Sunday. Bro. Moore will preach. (Please mail your notes in before Wednesday after this.—Thank you).

COTTON RESEARCH

A belated attempt to aid waning Texas cotton exports by appropriating the paltry sum of $55,000, to set up fiber testing laboratories at Texas A. & M. College and Clemson College, South Carolina, is a confession that all is not right with American cotton. Whatever Congress does about it, the subject needed serious attention long ago. To permit foreign countries to take away our cotton markets and even go so far as to try to prove to buyers that their staple is superior to that of this country, betrays a disconcerting misconception of the entire problem on the part of so-called agricultural leaders. Foreign spinners have established new connections with cotton firms in Brazil, India, Egypt or Argentina, and see no reason for switching from as good or better staple bought at a lower price, so that it will take more than fiber laboratories and investigations to restore lost markets. The subject must be approached from such angles as tariff revision downward, reciprocal trade agreements or barter of goods. A sum of $200,000 to be assigned to the Bureau of Plant Industry to carry on its work in seed and cultural tests related to soils and other environmental factors is right and proper, for this institution has never had sufficient funds to make the basic studies of cotton culture which Texas and the South long have needed. It is gratifying that some of the higher-ups in official Washington are beginning to do a little thinking about what has happened to Texas cotton exports, which at latest accounts show a decline of just 50 per cent below last season's figures (August to February). After the horse has been stolen, it is anybody's job to close the barn door. Cotton is a billion-dollar enterprise and it long ago should have had a million-dollar research laboratory in which every problem of its ultimate use would have been in process of solution. It is not too late now.—Dallas News.

KEEP PREMISES CLEAN

AUSTIN, Texas, March 16.—The accumulation of winter's debris represents a distinct menace to the health of adults and particularly to little children, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, who urges everyone to clean their houses and yards at this time. It is not only good housekeeping but ordinary sanitary principles indicate the necessity of prompt removal of all waste matter in and around the neighborhood of yards of homes but the definite lessening of the spread of diseases, especially those affecting infants, is vitally connected with this procedure. Flies help spread typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhea, tuberculosis, anthrax, and cholera. They breed, live and feed in filth. To prevent their increase all refuse should be disposed of at once, garbage kept in covered containers, privies made sanitary, and houses screened. Every neighborhood raises its own flies, so that their number is an index to the sanitary conditions. Mosquitoes are responsible for the spread of malaria, dengue and yellow fever. Malaria is spread by the bite of the Anopheles of malaria mosquito. Dengue fever and yellow fever are transmitted by the Aedes Aegypti or Tiger mosquito. The best way to prevent these diseases is to destroy the breeding places of the mosquito. They breed in standing water, therefore, one should drain, ditch, or fill such places, spray oil on water each week, or stock the water with surface minnows as they will eat the wiggle-tails. Houses should be well screened to protect against these insects. After the spring cleaning is finished it should be kept in this condition at all times.

GOD SAVE THE TAXPAYER!

The tax policies and program of the present State administration have been clearly defined and vividly revealed through developments in Austin during the past ten days. Here they are: FIRST: Constitutional amendment to increase the power of the Legislature, Commissioners Courts, City Commissions, School Boards, and other agencies to levy, collect, and expend new and additional taxes. This is the Property Classification Amendment, the pet measure of the Governor. The people overwhelmingly defeated this amendment last November. SECOND: Opposition to any and all sales or consumers taxes designed to reduce the tax burden on real estate. The people, through administration opposition, are denied the right to even vote on a sales tax. THIRD: Special privileges and favors through exemptions to large groups of taxpayers who can deliver the votes. Most Texas homes are exempt already from State taxes. This proposal is expected to bankrupt many counties, cities, and school districts if it passes. FOURTH: Increased taxes for productive industries in Texas with apparent disregard of the effect the added tax roll will have on the payroll, the stockholders and the general industrial development of the State. Sad indeed is the plight of the taxpayers of Texas. The Texas Tax Relief Committee visualized this condition several months ago and petitioned the Legislature to place a Constitutional limitation upon the amount of ALL TAXES (State, District, Municipal, County, etc.) that could be levied at the ad valorem rate against real estate in any one year. This is known as the Overall Tax Limitation Amendment. It is in successful operation in several States. Under present conditions it affords the only tax reduction available to the property owners of Texas. This proposal has been introduced by Senator Roy Sanderford of Bell County. It is gaining favor with taxpayers and Legislators. This proposed Constitutional Amendment, known as Senate Joint Resolution Number 22, is the clearest cut Tax reduction measure ever presented in the Texas Legislature. It will lop off $50,000,000 or one-third of the annual total tax burden now paid by real estate in Texas. God save the taxpayer if it fails of passage and may the Lord have mercy on the member who votes against it, for the people back home will want to know why their taxes were not cut one-third.

Among those renewing the past week were, Mrs. J. T. Auburg, S. H. Daugherty, T. D. Warren, W. J. Hix, Odum Wood, I. M. Smith, H. M. Brock, and Mrs. R. J. Hastings, city; J. L. AND YOU'LL BE REPRESENTED

The Herald notes that Lamesa has had two citizens appointed to different post by Gov. Jimmie Allred. Here is hoping that Lamesa does not get the Highway Commission plum, also. While we have no objection personally to Lamesa's candidate for that job, Brownfield people generally hope he doesn't get it. If he does, we feel that No. 84 is a blowed up sucker so far as any improvement is concerned until 83 gets all that is coming to it some three or four years hence. Mr. Ely on the other hand, has just about got all the roads he needs around his pet town, and can afford to be nice to other sections. Yes, you guessed it—we are for Ely.—The Terry County Herald.

We are a little surprised at the above. Of course, if you are taking your medicine from Lubbock, we are not in the least surprised and if Sam Richardson is appointed, we sincerely hope he builds the best road in Texas from Brownfield to Lubbock so your citizens can go there to do their trading. It will be so nice for your town. When your merchants close their doors because of the trade going to Lubbock you will of course move to Lubbock with your excellent paper which will not be so excellent then.

Editor Stricklin we are proud of you. You are a pal. No, Stricklin, you have Sam down all wrong. He is broad-minded and certainly they will build more than one highway in two years. Not only this, but the Plains has a right to someone on this board. If a citizen of your town was a candidate, and we had none The Reporter would be for that candidate. The South Plains has been a step-child for many moons. If Sam is appointed you can rest assured he will not play favorite to his own town and people everywhere he represents on a give and take proposition with other commissioners and Brownfield will get the same consideration that Lamesa does.—Lamesa Reporter

For the benefit of Bro. Smith will state at the outset that the Herald nor no one else here has a thing against their man, personally. Further that No. 84 does not go to Lubbock but to Tahoka Post and on to Fort Worth—does not touch Lubbock, and we understand that city is not very favorable to 84. No. 51, however, nor well under construction and partly finished does go to Lubbock. Bro. Smith, come over to Brownfield sometime, and we'll show you how the land lays in this neck of the woods. So far as we know, you have never visited this city. You make trips to California and other seaside resorts but you know nothing about your neighbors. As Mae West would say, "come up to see us some time."

To be perfectly frank with you Editor Smith, the people of Brownfield don't believe your people would be for a Brownfield man under any circumstances. Look how you butchered our candidate for representative three years ago, and Judge McGuire, a year ago, got more votes in Terry than Price did in Dawson although you had many more votes than we.

TOWNSEND MAIL SLOWS

Mail pertaining to the Townsend plan has begun to fall off in Washington. One senator said he had been receiving from 300 to 400 letters daily until recently when the number dropped to a mere 150. Another petition containing about 116,000 signatures was presented to a house member a few days ago. However, this deluge of mail and petitions is not having much influence. Congressmen realize that it is an easy matter to promote letters and petitions when $200 a month is involved. If it was only the case that most of the people need the money, Congress would be for the plan. But about two-thirds of both houses think the plan unworkable and they look upon Dr Townsend as sincere but misguided.

BEHEADIN' WOMEN

Killing human beings by process of law is not a pleasant business, especially if the victims are not what society calls criminals. It is peculiarly unpleasant if the doomed are women. For no logical reason it seems most distressing if the women are young and beautiful and cultured members of the highest social class. The German Nazis government is indifferent to world opinion and it believes the example will teach German women that sex is no guarantee of immunity. The executions in other words appear to be an item of the Nazi policy of terrorism grandiosely inaugurated with the blood-bath of last June. Executing Nurse Cavell helped lose the World War for the Germans. There will, of course, be no word of protest against the killing of the two German women by the German government. Yet it is a fact that the capital punishment of spies in time of peace is repugnant that beheading is repulsive, and that only in Nazi Germany could there be staged such a spectacle as that at the Ploetzensee Prison.

Whether Herbet Hoover's statement in favor of return to a gold bullion standard is a bid for the presidential nomination in 1936 it would be premature to say. The statement, nevertheless, puts the Republican high command on record on the monetary issue and in effect challenges the administration either to accept or to reject its monetary program.

WILL HOOVER BE A CANDIDATE?

Here quite possible may be one of the major issues in the 1936 campaign. Indeed it would not be surprising if the battle of next year like that of 1896 were fought in large measures about the currency issue. The question will be raised by gold standard opponents why the Hoover program failed in 1932 to restore confidence and to show the way to recovery in the heavy industries and what reason there is for believing it would succeed in 1935 after failing three years earlier.

SWARMS OF OFFICERS

In re-reading that immortal document, the Declaration of Independence, which recites the grievances which impelled the American colonies to rise and throw off the British yoke, we were struck by a paragraph which appealed to us with a new significance. Referring to King George III, it declared: "He has erected a multitude of new offices and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out our substance" It appears that "swarms of officers" were distasteful to the sturdy forefathers. What would they say to the army of office-holders who "harass our people and eat out our substance" today. Every session of Congress and every session of the state legislature enacts laws creating new offices. Seldom is an office once established ever abolished, except to create a different and more expensive office or offices, in its place. Office-holders' salaries are often raised, but never lowered. Some day, possibly, a majority of the voters will rebel, as did the early fathers, and by their ballots, instead of bullets, call a halt on those legislators whose chief aim appears to be the increase of public pay-rolls.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Collins visited their son, Bill, at Lubbock, Sunday.

A CRY FOR HELP

If you don't want to pay an increase of one cent per gallon in your gasoline tax, bringing the total to six cents per gallon, here's what you must do:

Write, wire or telephone your State Representative and your State Senator, opposing any increase in the tax! The committee of the House of Representatives voted out the proposal favorably Thursday night, March 7th. It will come before the House for vote some time this week. There for you must act quickly.

This proposal would boost your gasoline tax bill 20 per cent without giving you a single mile of new highways. It will not give work to a single workman.

The entire increase will be used to retain all sorts of old county road bonds good or bad, on all sorts of purely local roads regardless of their present condition. No doubt many such securities at from 35 to 50 cents on the dollar would be delighted to have them guaranteed by the motorists of Texas. But would YOU?

Regardless of how carefully your own county has guarded its credit you would have to help pay the road debts of the most extravagant counties, at exactly the same rate.

Increasing the gasoline tax will make evasion bootlegging more profitable, vastly increasing the illegal traffic in tax-free motor fuel, and robbing the state of the entire tax on each gallon of gasoline marketed through these racketeering channels. The motorists already pays a 40 per cent sales tax on his gasoline and should not be further burdened. Act at once or pay the penalty. Texas Good Roads Association.

NEGRO REPLACING MULE "LIVES LIKE BIBLE SAYS"

Hitched to a plow, sixty-three-year-old Hanson McCoy, a blind Negro, paused today at the end of a long furrow, freshly turned, and remarked: "The Bible says we have to live by the sweat of our brows and that is what I am doing. Guiding the plow was his wife, Sallie Anderson McCoy, who said she and her husband were teaming up to eke out a living from the soil. McCoy said he was working toward the day when he would no longer find it necessary to get his corn meal, salt pork, coffee and other foodstuffs from relief agencies.

Although blind for 30 years, he said it had been only during the last three years he had had "to be on the county." He is a man of medium size but his wife says, "he is a mighty powerful man." He has to be to pull a plow through land laced with grass roots. His wife guides him by her voice. She said they had rejected an offer of a mule because McCoy was willing to work and "I couldn't plow no mule."—New York Herald-Tribune.

BLANTON AND THE UNEMPLOYED—

Congressman Blanton of the Abilene district told Congress that he has twenty million unemployed right now. He gave as his reason that the nation harbored 40,000,000 foreigners half of whom never expected to become citizens of this nation. During 1933 a total of 19,175 foreigners were sent home, but during '34 only 986 were sent home. The drop, Blanton tells us, is because Cong. Dickstein, a foreign born Jew is chairman of the committee and those who had blood relatives here were not sent home as in former years. Blanton is sponsoring a bill that will send all foreigners home and exclude them for ten years.

Under the NRA, the plan is to find employment of any kind for about 2 days out of the week for the large number of unemployed, then lay them off until necessity demands that something be done further. The idle class is being constantly added to on account of the dole which the president proposes to do away with by spending 4 1/2 millions of dollars; which 4 1/2 millions of dollars is to be raised by selling bonds. These bonds, when they mature, will have cost the taxpayers nine millions.—Clarendon Leader.

Did you mean nine million or nine billion Jay C.? You know our government quit at Washington has done plump quit talking in terms of million now. Even down at Austin, we have to use at least a one and eight numerals to make things sound impressive. At the same time it becomes harder and harder for us Johnny Taxpayers to meet the increased taxation.

CANCER

The definite increase in the number of persons dying from cancer makes the subject of tumors a timely one. A tumor is a mass of new tissue which is of no use whatever to the body. If tumors or their manifestations were more generally appreciated, much of the misery and many deaths could be eliminated, stated Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

The malignant tumor known as cancer may consist as in the case of benign tumors, of any bodily structures such as fat, bone, connective tissue, superficial layer of skin, mucous membrane and bodily organs. They grow rapidly and may establish secondary growths far from the site of the parent tumor by means of detached cells traveling in the blood or invading the lymphatics.

Where benign tumors are concerned surgical removal usually results in permanent cure. However, in cancerous tumors surgery or irradiation (X-ray and radium) or a combination of the two, to be effective depends upon early diagnosis and prompt professional action.

While a number of cancerous growths unfortunately do not present early symptoms, many of the more common ones do. It is the deliberate or ignorant disregard of such early symptoms that has so decidedly occasioned the increase in cancer deaths.

The outstanding signals which justify a suspicion that cancer may be present, though not necessarily so, are: any lump; any unusual bleeding from any bodily opening; a persistent sore; and chronic indigestion.

To disregard these signs, which may mean cancer in an early and therefore curable stage, is to flirt with death. Most certainly it does not pay to take any chance with any kind of a tumor or manifestations that indicate the possibility of its existence.

WE CAN'T DO WITHOUT METALS

If you want to obtain an idea of the value of metals, look around your home, office or factory. Practically everything you use involves one or more metals, automobiles and pens, furnaces and thumb tacks, kitchen equipment and sporting goods.

Every basic industry is vitally dependent upon metals for making and distributing its products or services. If the impossible happened, and we suddenly found ourselves without metals tomorrow, life would have to be carried on in the neolithic manner.

This illustrates the reason for the importance that is attached to the domestic mining industry, and shows why far sighted economists are so interested in fair and reasonable legislative and tax policies for mining.

U. S. BUYS NOTORIOUS BANDIT HIDEOUT FOR GAME PRESERVE

The notorious Cookson Hills of Eastern Oklahoma, bandit rendezvous since the days of Belle Starr, train-robbing outlaw queen of the Seventies, are to be promptly depopulated by the Federal Government and transformed into a game refuge, according to announcement by the Rural Rehabilitation Service. Since the Civil War this trackless fastness has harbored the famous outlaws of the Southwest and many who have found refuge from other regions. These include Jesse James, the Daltons, Cherokee Bill, Al Jennings and in the past years, Wilbur Underhill and "Pretty Boy" Floyd, both killed recently.

Frequent raids into the hills were consistently without result. Officers complained that residents resented official invasion and sheltered the criminal element through abject fear.

The 400 families, 363 white or Indian, and 3 negroes, will be moved to a resettlement region in Muskogee county when the Federal Government completes the purchase of the 50,000 acres for $4000,000. There are 12,000 acres in the resettlement area, to cost about $360,000. In some cases the Hill owners are exchanging their present acreage for the new. Braggs, the only town in the area, population 350, is not included in the removal project.

THE PRINTER WHO HELD THE GOLD CLAUSE SECRETS

Between the time the decision in the Gold Clause Cases was prepared and rendered Mr. Clarence Edward Bright, manager of the Pearson Printing Office, 519 11th Street N. W., Washington D. C. held the Nation's important secret of who won that decision. Mr. Bright's firm, housed in an unpretentious building in the area between the Capitol and White House, has been the printer of Supreme Court opinions for over three-quarters of a century. The Dred Scott decision of March 6, 1857, was mechanically prepared for issue there. No judicial secrets ever slip the lips of Mr. Bright who has headed the "Pearson Printing Office," for many years.

His assistants compose the manuscripts in sections, but he personally sets the key part of the opinions and then assembles all the matter and continues in this manner until the opinions are ready to be made public by the Supreme Court.

Mr. Bright is a tall erect man with gray hair, obliging in manner, but quick and incisive in his executions. He is fond of his trade as a printer and takes seriously his ethical relationship to the Judicial Branch of the Federal Government.

FARMERS IN A COMPETITIVE WORLD

In an editorial on modern agriculture the Dairymen's League News says:

"Farmers, both as sellers and as buyers of commodities, are taking their chance in the rough and tumble of competitive business. They are obliged to match themselves against strongly organized, and farmers cannot hope to be successful in their competition unless they are organized. The stronger their organization, the greater will be the marketing and buying power of agriculture."

The Dairymen's League Cooperative Association knows what it is talking about, a pioneer in the eastern dairy field, it is a living example of the achievements of aggressive, loyal cooperation among farmers. The organized farmer has every advantage over his disorganized neighbor, as a thousand cases have proven. The farmers who are making progress now in effecting recovery, are the farmers who belong to strong, hard working cooperatives.

The cooperative movement, which is steadily gaining in scope and strength, is the best thing that ever happened to American agriculture.

PRIDE OF FAMILY NOT A FAULT

There are some who scoff at the family pride which rose to such heights in the days of the Old South, and there are those today who decry any reference to family name or achievement.

Seems to us that family pride is something that we should all try to encourage and extend. True there ought to be something in the family character to be proud of, and certainly there ought not to be a foolish vanity that would keep one from doing his own bit to uphold and extend his family's reputation.

Yes, we need in this day, more family pride—the kind that means something—the kind that drives one forward under compulsion of love and veneration to higher ideals and citizenship. We need the kind that will not allow us to trifle with small vices thus endangering the blessed structure of character and integrity.

Pride of family is not a fault—if it undergirds and braces—if it impels us upward.—Clarendon News.

ALEXANDER'S

NO MORE TAX COLLEGES NEEDED

A bill introduced yesterday in the Texas senate seems on the surface at least, to be another assault upon the taxpayer.

It would amend the law under which junior college districts are created, by reducing the amount of property valuations necessary in such districts from $12,000,000 down to $9,500,000. Where only one junior college flourishes under the existing law, so to speak, two will bloom tomorrow if the amendment is adopted; cities in the state which would like to get on the bandwagon and create junior colleges of their own. All that keeps them from doing it is that $12,000,000 valuation restriction. So the whoopee!—lets change the law, and come at the taxpayer from a new direction. The rascal might escape, otherwise.

The belief that the state—that is, the people—owes everybody a liberal college education is one that is rather widely held in this state. We practice the theory rather consistently in spite of recent raises in tuition at state schools. We spend more than $250 on every student in the state-supported institutions of higher learning, and about $16.50 on each pupil in the public school system. There isn't any argument on the proposition that the public schools are getting less than their fair share of the money spent by the state on schools. Too much of it is going to educate young men and women who could, without additional cost to themselves or their families, attend some college not supported by public taxation. The overhead at the state schools is terrific, in comparison with that at denominational colleges. So while a student may attend a church college at no more or probably less than it would cost him to attend a state school the taxpayer bears the burden of the overhead at the tax-supported institutions. The churchschool student isn't costing the taxpayer a dime.

It is to be hoped the pending bill is squelched, in the interest of preserving the taxpayers' right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.—Exchange.

Men will sacrifice more for a poison indulgence than for food.

MANY TOURISTS VISIT TEXAS DURING 1934

The popularity of Texas as a Mecca for automobile vacationists from all parts of the country is indicated by a report just released by the Conoco Travel Bureau, a branch of Continental Oil Company and America's largest free travel service. According to the report, 239,40 Travel Bureau tourists spent more than $9,852,480 in this state last year.

It was also revealed that motor travel throughout the entire United States was unusually heavy during 1934. Hotels, tourist camps, restaurants and many other types of business took in more money from tourists than during any other year since 1929. The Bureau supplied detailed trip services to 969,485 vacationists, a figure 41 per cent greater than the organization's total for 1933. Statistics also show that Travel Bureau tourists spent in excess of 4 million dollars while they were away from home.

The Conoco Travel Bureau is an organization maintained by Continental to provide motorists with up-to-date information on North American roads, routes, hotels, cottage camps, scenic and historical attractions plus any other data likely to make vacation trips pleasant and profitable. More than 100 carefully trained men and women are employed in the Bureau's central offices at Denver. Conoco's 22,000 service stations act as field branches. It is predicted that one and one-half million vacationists will rely on Travel Bureau assistance during 1935.

OLTON MURDER CASE ENDS IN MISTRIAL

OLTON March 9.—Failure of jurors to agree resulted in a mistrial today in the case of Mrs. Bera Cooke, charged with the poison death of her husband Tom Cooke.

Cooke died last June 17 at their farm home.

Judge R. C. Joiner discharged the jury after it twice reported during the morning that it was deadlocked. It had been considering the case since late yesterday.

The case was set for re-trial at the August term.

Wilma Frank and Virgella Nan Dunn spent Saturday at Tahoka with their cousin's Ina Bess and Nelda Jim Hicks.

SHOULD SAY NOT

Housewife—I'm afraid you're not fond of work.

Hobo—Why should I be? Work is what killed my poor wife.

"Judge," said the foreman of the jury, "this lady is suing this man for $1,000 for a kiss."

"Correct," said the Judge. "You gentlemen of the jury are to decide if it was worth it."

"That's the point," said the foreman. "Could the jury have a sample?"

Landlady: "I'll give you just three days in which to pay your board."
Student: "All right I'll pick the Fourth of July Christmas and Easter."

"Then there's a certain Pittsburgh business man who was arguing the other day that a radio in a guy's auto is a great thing."

"Yeah," commented a scoffer "Just give me a good reason."

"Well," he said "the other evening when I took my wife-to-be and her mother out for a ride I had the radio on, and neither one said a word for an hour and a half."

He: "Was there ever a woman who did not grab up her skirts and jump when she saw a mouse?"
She: "Certainly—Eve"

The husband who is tempted to say that his wife can't take a joke will do well to look at himself in the glass and then drop the subject.

Caller: "Dorothy Jane is your mother home?"

Dorothy Jane: "Mother has gone shopping."

Caller: "When will she return?"

Dorothy Jane (calling upstairs): "Mamma, what shall I say now?"

Toni: "I guess I'm an Indian giver."

Jack: "What makes you say so?"

Toni: "I gave my girl a lip stick and I got it back when she thanked me for it."

MIXED

At a political gathering an orator waxed indignant and exclaimed: "To ridicule the idea is to follow the example of the camel which buries its head in the sand when an enemy approaches."

The rival speaker rose and retorted: "Surely the gentleman in giving utterance to this remark, must have meant to refer to the oystercr, which in those circumstances, has a habit of putting its eye through a needle."

Cannibalism has been abolished; that took thousands of centuries; Slavery has been abolished; that took thousands of years. Poverty will be abolished and that will be the beginning of civilization. The real problem is to abolish ignorance, superstition and selfishness. That task will take a million years. Fortunately, the human race has many millions of years ahead of it. It is in its infancy now, only 12,000 years from the Stone Age.
