

Garza Grand Jury Denies Eastus Charges

In Garza County, where Federal District Attorney Eastus had asserted a criminal ring existed after investigations into the slaying of a Government narcotic officer by the sheriff, a county grand jury returned a report denying that such law violations existed.

The investigators, noting the Government charges, said they found no laxity of law enforcement and pointed out that there had not been an acquittal in three years in the county.

Eastus, when informed of the report, by a Star-Telegram correspondent, declined to comment.

Visiting Silt Richer Than Local Soils

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

DUST that has settled over the South Plains and other sections of the Southwest in recent weeks is far richer in plant food value than much of the local soil, according to analysis published in government bulletins.

Average depth is probably around an eighth of an inch, possibly more, although no one seems to be able to state positively.

Source Far Away
Most of the dust, or silt, apparently comes from eastern and southeastern Colorado, central western Kansas and the great plains area to the north. Part may have come from as far north as Wyoming.

However, most of those in touch with soil values agree that the deposits will enrich to some extent, at least, this area. The question seems to be one of depth and conservation, rather than the value of the soil.

Silt Worth Much
"In my opinion, this silt is worth from five to fifteen wagon loads of barnyard fertilizer," Dean A. H. Leidigh said in a discussion of the value of the soil. A thousand pounds of fertilizer per acre is a fair wagon load. That is, if we are getting a sixteenth of an inch, the soil is enriched as much as if five wagon loads of fertilizer per acre were spread; if an eighth of an inch, up to fifteen wagon loads.

"The silt is lighter than sand and is easier to slough off. Sand has more silica in it. The dust is very fine."

Contents Explained
Dean Leidigh gave figures on the nitrate, phosphoric acid (not phosphorus) and potash contents, in percentage, of the several types of soil. One is known as the Colby, Kansas, silt loam, the analysis being made by W. B. Pope. The analysis of the Cheyenne Wells Colo., loam was made by C. J. Hough.

We neglected to mention last week that Clarence Hudgens of the Hudgens Grocery Co., was sporting a new Hudson. His old car was a Hudson, and he learned to like them.

Wiley Bridges says that he had no business putting a red ring around his neck last week. Well, ok, we'll stop it for awhile.

PUBLISHER OF TIMES DIES OF HEMORRHAGE

CHATTANOOGA Tenn., April 9.—Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, died at a sanitarium here at 4:10 p. m., of a cerebral hemorrhage which he suffered at noon today.

Mr. Ochs, who has been in ill health for some months, came to Chattanooga, his old home last night. He and Colonel Milton Ochs, his brother, and former managing editor of the Chattanooga Times, and Colonel Ochs' son, Adolph S. Ochs, II, had gone from the Chattanooga Times office to a nearby restaurant for luncheon when the noted publisher was stricken ill.

Jeff Medford of the Help Your Self Store, is sporting a brand new Terraplane auto, he bought last week. He is of the opinion they are mighty good cars.

F. M. Cox and wife were here Monday, shopping, F. M. had another bat hide for us.

Mesdames Ralph Carter, Clyde Cave and Kyle Graves were visitors in Amarillo last week.

OLD TIMER PASSES AWAY

J. W. Settle, 63, passed to the great beyond last Friday morning early. His death came suddenly and apparently from heart trouble and was a shock to the entire county, as he was well known all over this county. Death came soon after breakfast at his farm home in the Union community 7 miles south of town.

Mr. Settle came to this county from Seymour, Texas, around 1912 or '13 and has made his home here since, his children growing up from little fellows to grown men and women. Mr. Settle is what is considered a successful farmer, and a good provider for his family. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the church of Christ by Elder Robt. Drennon of Tahoka, assisted by the local minister, Elder Jas. Fry. The body was laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery immediately following the funeral.

Besides his wife, he leaves three sons and one daughter, all of which attended the funeral, Clarence, of Pine Ridge, South Dakota; Bill Dock and Mrs. Carroll Proctor, all of this county, besides several brothers and sisters to mourn his departure.

Nearly 5000 Texas Boys to CCC Camps

AUSTIN, April 16.—Authority to enroll 4,986 Texas boys in citizens conservation camps in the eight corps areas was received here last week by Neal E. Guy enrollment supervisor for Texas.

County administrators were notified immediately to instruct boys selected to report to recruiting stations between April 17 and 23. Enrollment will be for six months period as usual with an opportunity to re-enroll for an additional six months.

Effect of this new enrollment of boys will be to take approximately 5,000 Texas families off the relief rolls by June 1, at which time first checks will be received by beneficiaries of enrollees.

Guy said approximately 2,725 young men will be sent out of the state to camps in Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming. The remainder will go to the 55 camps in Texas.

Enrollment of these boys will again bring the quota of Texas young men in CCC camps to the maximum figure of slightly more than 14,000.

Ben C. Alsop of Hockley county was given 14 years last week in district court at Levelland for the slaying last Christmas of his 11 year old daughter in a scuffle over a gun while said to have been intoxicated.

Retailers near 75 per cent of clothing will be synthetic fabrics. Strike threatened in textile and automobile industries.

LOSES FATHER

J. E. Michie got a wire last week that his father, who lives just across the line in Tennessee from Corinth, Miss., was very low, and he and son, James and daughter, Miss Eunice left immediately in their car, arriving there Sunday morning.

His father, 82, had already passed away, but they were there in time for the funeral Sunday afternoon. Mr. Michie stated that his father was never ill in his life—just seemed to wear out. J. E.'s mother is still living.

Uncle Johnny King, former corn buyer of this place, but for the past few years, has been buying in eastern Oklahoma, is here shaking hands with old friends. He informed us that he and wife live at Winters, Tex. but that the four children all live in other states the two boys in Oklahoma, and the girls in Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Moon have sold their household effects and have gone to their daughter's, Mrs. Fish, to spend some few days. From there they expect to go to Mineral Wells, and from there back to San Angelo for the rest of the summer. They are traveling around with the hope that Mrs. Moon's health may be improved. We will remember them.

The Abilene Christian College Chorus will be here on Sunday night, May 5th, we understand. A local girl, Kathleen Hardin is a member of the chorus. A sacred program will be rendered at the local church of Christ on Sunday night, and a secular program will likely be given at the high school auditorium chapel service on Monday morning following.
