CANDIDATES URGED TO MAKE EVERY MINUTE COUNT IN SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN

Subscribers Who Have Promised One of the Workers a Subscription Are Urged to Redeem Their Promise During Second Period.

Workers Are Depending On Their Friends Keeping Their Promises. Remember a Promise is a Liability Until It Is Redeemed. Then it Becomes an Asset. The Slogan is "I Have Paid My Subscription—Have You?"

Say, wasn't that a peach of a norther that swung down from Medicine Hat, Saskatchewan, or wherever it is in Canada that they start the blizzards, which struck this portion of the South Plains Sunday afternoon? And just didn't it make us hug the heater and pull the extra blankets off the top shelves of the closets?

But, do you imagine for a moment that it stopped the live wire Payrollers in the Terry County Herald's Weekly Payroll Subscription campaign? Not on your life. Here is a letter from Mrs. Harris at Meadow, enclosing three new names to be added to the list. And another from Mrs. Criswell, way out at Plains with three more new names. And Margaret Christy, out on Route 5, telephones that she will have a handful of new and renewals for us as soon as she can get to town. And then comes Mrs. Smith, from away down on the south edge of the county with a good report marked "New" names, and before she gets back into her car Mrs. Troy Noel breezes in to tell us how cold it is outside but that it will take colder weather than this to stop her from hustling, and she proves it with a healthy list of new subscriptions. Mrs. Jack Tierman sends word that she is too busy to come to the office but just wait until we see the string of names, new and renewal, that she will bring in on the regular turn-in day. And now comes Uncle Jimmie Green, the youngest Payroller in the bunch, with the smiling report that "they've been awful good to me today." Do you imagine this manager is discouraged by a cold breeze with such a fine list of live wire boosters working at top speed?

In many campaigns this, the fifth week is considered "dead." Resting from the strenuous efforts attending the fourth week whose close marked the first decline on the vote schedule, workers frequently take the fifth week to rest up for the busy days which are to follow.

But not the workers in the Herald's Payroll subscription drive. They are made of different stuff. They may have rested Sunday—we suspect they did, but bright and early Monday in spite of the cold and the snow and in spite of the fact it was Armistice Day the more active of them were just as busy as they had been Saturday and making each and every minute count. And they have been at it ever since, saying they will take time to rest after the campaign has closed.

It is not at all necessary to urge the faithful Payrollers to renewed efforts during this week. They have grasped the idea that the size of their weekly pay checks depends on their energy and persistence and that the larger the number of votes they accumulate the better will be their chances for riding in that new Plymouth Sedan after November 30th.

The campaign manager is pleased to note the awakening of interest in behalf of different workers. When the size and character of the awards is considered it is no wonder that friends of different candidates are getting interested in their welfare and are bringing them subscriptions. Have you helped your favorite yet? If not, remember that the time is short and that after November 23 there will be another decrease in votes issued for subscriptions.

Now, readers, we have a few earnest words for you. Some of you have advanced your date and many of you are planning to do so before the close of the campaign. You all have some particular friend in mind whom you desire to assist with the votes your subscriptions will bring. But, while you are helping that friend you will also be helping yourself by renewing your subscription before the end of the campaign. It is not because the publisher wants to, but because he is compelled to by increasing costs of doing business that the price of subscriptions will be increased after the campaign ends. You can save fifty cents the year by subscribing now instead of waiting until later. Two dollars now will pay the same amount of subscription as three dollars will later. In other words, you are putting money into your own pocket by renewing now—before the campaign closes.

Many persons have promised to subscribe or to renew before the campaign ends. This is fine and we are all glad to know of the promises. But—it must be kept in mind that a promise unredeemed is a liability. A promise kept is an asset. Turn your promises into assets. Don't let them remain liabilities.

"Say it with subscriptions." Say it early, and—if possible—say it often. Many persons who have subscribed for just one year are glad to extend their subscription for a longer period. Five year subscriptions count big for your favorite candidate and some have taken advantage of that fact to help their friends in the race. They are helping a Booster boost their credits in the Herald's Payroll campaign. They have paid their subscriptions. HAVE YOU?

Sears to Feed Out A Carload of Steers

With no sale much here this year on bundle feed especially, some of the farmers are preparing to do some feeding themselves on a small scale, and try to make a profit at least on the feed. One of these men is Cam Sears, who lives two miles northwest of the city.

Mr. Sears informed us that he had something like 100 tons of bundle stuff, not to mention corn and headed grains, and that he had recently purchased 25 nice smooth steers, and would probably buy a few more in order to make a full car when he shipped.

Mr. Sears says that he may make a failure, as this is his first time to feed out, but that he has no use for 100 tons of bundle stuff on his farm, and that he might happen to the good luck of making a few dollars.

Some Report Cotton Damaged 20 Percent

In sections of the county where they were blown out late, or did not receive as early rains as some other sections, farmers and cotton men tell us that the frost and freeze has damaged as much as 20 percent, some few even more.

In other sections the damaged is said to appear negligible. Of course, after a few more days of sunshine and dry weather, the damage can be better figured, and whether it remains dry for some time, or begins to rain again, will determine to a large extent whether some of the bolls that are rather immature will finally open or rot.

Let us hope that we have ideal weather for gathering now for a few weeks.

Carnival Picking Up The Coins This Week

The Western Carnival Co., is here this week on the Jim Lindley lots in the southern edge of the city. They failed to be ready to go Monday night, as the weather was too raw to work at the matter, and Tuesday night was the first performance.

We understand that this is part of the show that made the Amarillo and Lubbock fairs, and is up to the standard of such shows that make towns in the class of Brownfield. Crowds are reported to be rather slim.

Tom May attended a Masonic meeting in El Paso first of the week.

Brownfield to Play At Tahoka Today—Go!

Well, well, well. The inevitable can and has happened. Did you notice that Lamesa lost a ball game? And did you also notice that the team defeating Lamesa happens to be one that was tied by our CUBS earlier in the season when we were not handicapped by a siege of the mumps; which, incidentally, is still raging among us? Some of those who have been ill with this dread disease have returned to the fold, and others are now out with it, but we are going to carry on.

There are several good reasons why we should turn out now for these two last games. It is barely possible that some schools have been using men who have had either two many years of football or else their parents saw fit to bring them into the world at such time that they have now seen too many suns, moons, or something, to be entitled to play with the younger generation. If these rumors prove true; it is barely possible that the Cubs will have another chance at the district pennant. True it is that we haven't sought a great deal of publicity this year. Neither have we gone out of the way to declare to the world what wonderful and glowing prospects we have had. Our injuries and illness have handicapped us a lot, but we are and have been all the time of the opinion that right will win, and that one can get his just desserts in the end if he will just wait long enough.

Every loyal fan should follow the CUBS to Tahoka this week and give them our unanimous support; for who knows what may happen ere the season has ended. Too, it should be remembered that next week is Home Coming. For the first time in years all old students are invited to come in for our annual clash with Post. This promises to be a whale of a good game. All letter men of the past are to be guests of the local Athletic Association. If you are a letter man and know someone else, tell him about it for we want you all there rooting for this year's edition of the Cubs. Many of this year's squad will join the ranks of the Ex-lettermen another year. We want you to feel that you are still a part of the school. It is imperative that you should take a part in our welfare. It is only fitting that we take one game during the season and recognize those who have built the traditions of Brownfield High School and maintained them. It is also fitting that all loyal fans come and be part of the celebration. You owe it to those of the past years. You owe it to those who will join their ranks this year. You owe it to those who will join the ranks in future years. So let's all be there on Nov. 22nd when the first whistle blows to start the last regular game of the season.

Practically all the stores were closed here Armistice Day, many taking advantage of the occasion to attend football games in the afternoon, some going to Lubbock to see the Tech-Arizona U. game, others going to Lamesa to see the Slaton-Lamesa game.

The Ex-Service men gathered early at the hall to sip coffee and shoot the anvil, to be joined later by their wives for a camp fire breakfast of bacon and eggs.

Mostly speaking, the day went off quietly, but we understand that a few drunks were picked up in the afternoon, and that a fight or two took place. This may or may not be true, as we were not on the streets to see things, especially in the afternoon, as we had plenty run over of job work from Saturday.

Ginnings Make Better Gain on Last Report

According to tabulation of ginning report received for Terry county by Robt. D. Copeland, statistician for the 13 days from Oct. 18th to Nov. 1, the ginnings for this year showed a much nearer equal with those of the same date last year. There were 5,053 ginned this year, compared to 7,183 same date last year.

While there is still a discrepancy of some 2,133 bales, the last report showed up better. With pretty weather for the next week or two, we ought to catch up with 1934 ginnings. There was 607 bales of the crop of 1935 ginned in Gaines county up to Nov. 1.

$6000 WPA Project For Meadow Schools

The last hurdle was cleared on our school improvement program when the proposed W.P.A. project was approved and work actually began last Thursday.

Finance for the project now under way will be furnished by the State and Federal governments and by the local school, $500 being the amount allotted to the local unit.

The project includes the building of concrete sidewalks from the front of all three buildings to the street in front, the laying of walks all around the high school and grade school buildings, the connecting up of all three buildings with walks, the calculating of all rooms and halls in the grade school building, the varnishing and resurfacing of all the furniture in both buildings, the levelling and sodding of the entire school grounds, the construction of three hard-surfaced tennis courts, the painting of the frame building, and the setting out of 100 trees and shrubs on the school ground.

Mr. Mitchell was selected by the local school board as foreman for the work. With his experience and understanding of men, the rapid completion of the work is assured.

Mr. Boston, the superintendent for the Federal government, reports that cement, sand and other material has been ordered from San Antonio and will likely be here next week.

In the meantime, work has been progressing on the kalsomining and excavating for the tennis courts.

Work on the project will run five days a week. Mr. Oliphant, the foreman for the Federal government, has agreed to work on Saturdays instead of on Monday as is customary.

With the completion of the project the school will have the buildings completely renovated without any expense to the taxpayers. The work is a direct grant to the district and will mean employment for a number of our worthy citizens. From the Meadow School paper, "The Broncho Booster."

Brownfield Schools to Stage Big Home Coming

November 22 is to be home coming in the Brownfield schools. All ex-students and graduates are invited to be present at the big pep rally that will be staged at the high school building at 11:35 Friday, November 22. All letter men are requested to wear their letter sweaters and will be admitted free at the game with Post in the afternoon. The ex-students will likely plan some kind of get-together previous to the meeting at the school building. "Letter men" includes all old football players of Brownfield High School.

1500 Poppies Were on Sale Here Saturday

The American Legion Auxiliary, who had charge of poppy sales in Brownfield and Meadow, obtained 1500 of the pretty little red flowers that are made by disabled soldiers and sailors in hospitals over the nation, that are so much like the real ones that grew on the battlefields of Europe.

Much less than this amount have heretofore been sold here, so the ladies undertook to sell more of them this year, and from the number we saw on the laps of coats of both men and women, as well as children in some instances, they must have put the program over rather nicely.

Local Schools to Make Moving Pictures

A camera of the 16mm variety has been ordered, and preparations are going forward to take pictures of home-coming on Friday of next week. The purpose is to get as many ex-students as possible in the pictures. The team and all letter men will be "shot" at the game in the afternoon. These pictures will be developed in the Hollywood laboratories and will be shown some two weeks later on the local screen at the school building.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher of Silverton visited Sunday and Monday last in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Dunn.

Brownfield Bar Ass'n Is Organized Here

The Bar of Terry County, consisting of the following attorneys: L. C. Heath, Joe J. McGowan, Robert L. Graves, Geo. W. Neill, W. W. Price, and Burton G. Hackney, met in the court house Thursday, Nov. 7, and organized the Terry County Bar Association. W. W. Price, one of the oldest attorneys in the county in point of service, was elected president of the organization, and Burton G. Hackney, the junior member of the Bar, was elected secretary.

The purpose of the meeting and organization was to create a more friendly feeling between the members of the Bar in Terry County, and to promote ideas for the best interest of all members.

The President appointed a committee consisting of Joe J. McGowan, Geo. W. Neill, and Robert L. Graves, to draw up a set of by-laws and a constitution for the association.

Geo. W. Neill is the dean of the Bar in Terry County, he having been practicing here since 1906. Robert L. Graves is next in line of service, he having been in the law practice here since the year 1914. Joe J. McGowan, the present County Attorney, has been in Terry County since the year 1917. W. W. Price is the only real native of the county. He came here while yet a mere boy in the year 1900; served four years as County Judge before he was admitted to the Bar in 1922. L. C. Heath, a former County Attorney of Lynn County, came to Brownfield in 1934, while Burton G. Hackney, came here in March of this year.

Geo. W. Neill, Robert L. Graves, and W. W. Price have each served Terry County, in the past, as both County Judge and County Attorney.

Brit Clare Building a "Native Rock" Home

Brit Clare old time stockman and farmer was in this week and informed us that he was having a rock home built out on the ranch in the old Harris community. The walls will be about one foot in thickness, and of course will be very warm in winter, yet cool in summer.

The stones for the work are being found at or near the surface in Yoakum county, and are of good hard quality. Some large ones he says are found to set upon edge, and smaller stones are used to fill in. We understood that a rock mason by the name of Anderson has the contract on the job.

This is the first home that we know of in this section built of native stone, but we understand there are several in north Hockley and Lamb county.

Seagraves Theatre Has Changed Hands

Effective this week, a new management is announced for the motion picture theatre in Seagraves. Opened under the name of the Westex in the latter part of July, the name of the show house has been changed to the Texas Theatre, and is owned by Claude Hearne. G. E. Zant, formerly with the Rialto and Ritz theatres of Brownfield, has been placed in charge as manager and will move his family to Seagraves as soon as suitable living quarters can be secured.

The doors will be opened at one o'clock Saturday afternoon with a Zane Grey picture. No immediate policy, other than a different line of films, has been announced.—Seagraves News.

New Automobile Agency Opens Here

H. C. Smith, who for 22 years was court reporter here in the district court, has opened a new automobile sale agency in the old Plains building now being occupied by J. L. Cruce. Mr. Smith has leased a part of the building. The new firm will be known as the Plains Motor Co., and will sell Oldsmobiles.

Mr. Smith informed us that they would try at all times to keep a good stock of various models of the car to suit the general public, and that Brownfield would be the distributing point not only for Terry but all adjoining counties, which include, Lynn, Dawson, Gaines, Yoakum, Cochran and Hockley.

We started a series of articles last week called "We Drivers" that are very instructive and interesting. The one last week was entitled—Curves and Turns. Look for and read the one this week—Night Driving.

MEADOW IS SOON TO HAVE A MODERN WATERWORKS SYSTEM

Work Going On Now to Test the Volume of Water. Is to Consist of Tower and Steel Reservoir, Mains Over the City and Well Spaced Fire Plugs. Work Starts Immediately.

A few weeks ago, this paper advertised the bids for the construction of a modern system of waterworks in the little city of Meadow, and we understand that the Panhandle Construction of Lubbock was the successful bidder. The first thing to be tested out will be a well, to see what volume of water can be obtained, but as Terry county is very nicely underlaid with plenty sheet water, it is not believed that there will be any difficulty in finding abundance of water.

Our understanding is that a high steel reservoir will be erected with large water mains throughout the business section, with smaller laterals in the residence section. Work of construction is to start just as soon as possible, and rushed to completion. Meadow has been up to this time without adequate fire protection, and the property of the town at the mercy of flames, but with the completion of this modern water system, they will be protected, as fire plugs are to be spaced over the city.

The Herald congratulates our hustling neighbor to the northeast on this step forward, when this money can be so easily obtained at a cheap interest rate from WPA.

Mahon Enjoying Visit to the Orient

According to word received in his Washington office, Congressman George Mahon feels that he is having an unusually profitable trip to the Far East. He arrived in Manila on November 8th with the official United States delegation attending the celebration of the opening of independence for the Philippine Islands. Mr. Mahon is making the trip at the request of the President because of his membership on the Insular Affairs Committee of the House.

The trip is giving him a first hand picture of industrial conditions in the Orient. He is particularly interested in studying and observing conditions in the cotton and textile industries and the relationship of these industries to trade between the United States and the countries of the Far East. He feels that the future of the cotton industry, and correspondingly the economic welfare of West Texas and the entire South, depends to a large extent upon world trade and foreign markets. Developments in the Far East will be focal points of interest in this problem in the next decade. The trade relations and tariff agreements between the United States and the Philippine Islands will have a different aspect after their independence actually begins and this alone constitutes an important problem that must be worked out by Congress.

The trip has afforded Mr. Mahon an opportunity to become more intimately acquainted with such outstanding leaders of Congress as Vice-President Garner and Senator Connally of Texas, and Representative Joseph R. Byrns of Tennessee, who is Speaker of the House.

The Congressman will return to his home in Colorado on December 20. He will spend the time before Congress convenes again on January 3 making contacts throughout the district. His office in Washington is being kept open by Lloyd Croslin, his Secretary, who invites the people of the District to contact him when they feel there is any opportunity for the office to cooperate with them.

When the South Plains Celebrated the Tech

LUBBOCK, Texas, Nov. 11.—Romance which pervaded the struggle to found Texas Technological college at Lubbock ten years ago is still vivid to friends and alumni as they prepare to observe the Texas Tech Decennial November 9, 10, and 11.

The presence of Governor James V. Allred at a convocation November 10 will parallel the appearance of Governor Pat Neff at a gathering of West Texans in Lubbock August 28, 1923, to celebrate the announcement by a locating committee of five that they had decided unanimously on the first ballot to designate Lubbock as the college site. Decennial parades, dances, and speeches will recall the enthusiasm with which Lubbock citizens greeted the report of the committee.

The Lubbock Avalanche printed the following item after the news had been received: "To say that the town went mad would be to put the matter too mildly. Horns were hoisted, whistles were blown, fire trucks thundered up and down the streets, and automobiles honked and beeped around with bells, tin cans, and scrap iron dragging." A proclamation issued by a man not even a member of the City Commission closed the stores for the day.

Some 30 West Texas towns, which had vied for the college site months, sent telegrams of congratulations, and Lubbock promptly invited their citizens to celebrate with it August 28.

Bill Fisher and Jack King Are Crash Victims

One person was killed almost instantly and another died at Lubbock sanitarium several hours later, as results of a collision of automobiles at 8 o'clock Saturday night midway between Seminole and Seagraves on state highway 54.

Jack King, about 30, farmer of three miles north of Seagraves, was dead when picked up. He received a crushed chest and a mangled foot.

Bill Fisher, about 45, of Florey, employe of Adams Drilling and Contracting company, died at 12:35 o'clock Sunday morning of shock and internal and head injuries. He had been rushed to the Lubbock sanitarium from Seminole, and his injuries were considered critical from the moment he was admitted. Surgeons administered oxygen and injected stimulants into his veins in an effort to save him.

Three others who were in the collision were injured only slightly. They were:

Cecil Fisher, 1, son of Bill Fisher and driver of the Fisher car, a light sedan; abrasions and a sprained arm.

Bill Moran, about 23, Hilldale community farmer, cuts and bruises.

Lawrence Ray, about 27, Hilldale farmer, cuts and bruises.

Mr. Moran and Mr. Ray were riding in Mr. King's light roadster.

Young Fisher said he did not see the King roadster until too late to avoid collision, and said he did not see lights on the machine.

The Fisher car was being driven north, the King machine south.

A bus driver for Seminole school district, Ewell Yardley, near whose home the accident happened, drove the five victims to Seminole.

Body of Mr. King was taken to his home and presumably funeral services read at Seagraves Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Fisher had lived at Florey one year, going there from Brownfield, where he had been reared. Other survivors are Mrs. Fisher and two daughters, Misses Jauwace and Adelle Fisher.

Funeral services and burial for Mr. Fisher was held here Monday.

That day for the 50,000 visitors the hosts prepared 35,000 pounds of meat 3,000 fried chickens, 10,000 roasting ears, (Terry County furnished them) 6,000 loaves of bread, 75,000 pickles, 2,000 pounds of potato salad, and 1,000 gallons of coffee.

With an enrollment of 1,043 in '25 the new college of the prairies set a new record for first-year registration in higher institutions. The students came from 217 Texas communities besides from out of state. Since that first year when the favorite saying in the rooming houses was "charley, my boy, O Charley, my boy," and when the student body became alarmed lest the coeds demand places in the Tech band, the enrollment has grown to a new high of 2,684 for the last long term.

New buildings, pavement, and general improvement have had to wait on government loans, due to the smallness of appropriations, but on its tenth birthday, Texas Tech prepares to don its first pair of long pants.

PREDICTS GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor predicts the government ownership and operation of railroads in the very near future. The railroads, he declares, can never pay the load of debts that have been piled on them by selfish interests.

Another reason why we refuse to worry is because we have nothing. If we had $7 or $8 and six bits we'd probably make a down payment on something we couldn't pay out.—Clarksville Times.

And now comes the experts telling us that the oil reserves of the good old USA are sufficient for another hundred years at least. So we are fixed up for awhile at least to go ahead with our fast car and huge truck making to maim and mash thousands of our citizens each year.

Captain Tom Hickman, that most picturesque of our modern Texas Rangers has seemingly tied up with the powers that be down at Austin, and seems to be "headed for the last roundup." Just what the trouble is, no one seems to know for sure, but evidently the man with the ten gallon hat, carbine and 40-some-odd six shooter, has violated some of the disciplinary measures of the higher ups, and is on his way out.

The cry of wolf wolf! from Herbert Hoover and one of the Washington dailies about the country going to the eternal bow-wows, seemed to have gotten a boomerang in the same issue of that paper, and it became a laughing stock all over the east. In the same issue in which they were hanging so much crepe about the New Deal, there appeared at least seven articles from various sections of the United States, telling how much more farmers were getting; telling of the advance in stock, bonds and merchandise; of the railroad having more carloadings, and other items of such nature.

Ex-governor Francis of Missouri once said the following about newspapers: "Each year the local paper gives $600 to $1000 in free lines to the community in which it is located. No other agent can or will do this. The editor in proportion to his means does more for his own town than any other ten men and in all fairness he ought to be supported, not because you like him or admire his writings, but because the local paper is the best investment a community can make. Today the editors of the local papers do the most for the least money of any people on earth."—Missouri Press News.

Our new State Senator, Hon. G. H. Nelson is pushing a resolution in the senate to do away with our dual and ponderous legislature, and to have one house (diametrical) with about 42 members. While the Herald has for years advocated some dozen Senators, and perhaps some 24 lower House members, with a salary advised by Mr. Nelson of some $5,000 per annum, and keep them in Austin all the time, we have never considered the one house plan, but really believe it would be best and keep down a lot of conference rangling. We hope the people will be given a chance to vote on this resolution some time, and if adopted, we will have a better class of representatives at Austin.

them to be slow in enacting laws to go on our statute books, and weigh each problem well before taking any action on it. All of which is well and good, but our Legislature is at fault when the House gets at loggerheads with the Senate and Senate cross-fires the House, for it develops into a game of see-saw. Members of the Legislature are supposed to be men of good judgment and sound thinkers and it should not take them so dog-gone long to make up their mind, and it wouldn't if they would kick all the lobbyists out of Austin.—Lockney Beacon.

This matter of a little weather does not seem to bother the people who love to sing. The Confederate hall at the Courthouse was full of people Tuesday night. So many singers were present that there was hardly room left for spectators. Pike James Cleburne's singing cop, told who to sing when and how many songs to sing. Pike does a good job of singing and we don't know if he throws his voice while doing it or not. We suppose he could stand in the back door and lead from the front if he so desired.—Johnson County Weekly.

We just wonder if this singing cop was the one that stopped us on the crossing of the southwest corner of the Cleburne square some 35 years ago with the admonition, that "young man, you can't holler that way here." No, that cop would now be perhaps around seventy, and his voice rather "rattly." But couldn't understand why they didn't want one to celebrate in good old Cleburne, at that time. Didn't we "negro holler" back in Tennessee? Didn't we sometimes make the welkin ring out in the Antioch community. Why the silence in Cleburne? Hadn't we just been in one of Cleburne's drink emporiums just up the street and procured a concoction with a mint whang that fairly made our blood tingle, and then they wouldn't let us holler. But maybe if we had been there Saturday the old Confederate soldiers would have let us sing Dixie for them.

A lot of folks are asking the question—"Will Roosevelt be re-elected president of the United States?" The answer is simple—While a number of the big rich would gladly give their ears to see him defeated—their number is too few. The great middle class and the poorer folks with many of the more fortunate for him, each of whom have a vote—the same as the men who love their money above all other earthly or heavenly things.

Votes elect the president and Roosevelt will most assuredly get the votes. This great howl about the constitution is all "Balona." Nobody wants to do away with the constitution. But it is a subject to amendment and has been ever since it was adopted—and has been amended several times and will be again—and the howl about doing away with it, or that it is in danger in anyway—is just pure and simple political rot. ORDER OF SALE

To the Sheriff or Constable of Terry County, Texas—Greeting:

WHEREAS, on the 15th day of October 1935, Atlas Life Insurance Company, a private corporation recovered in the District Court of Bell County, a judgment in cause No. 21-650 against J. L. Barr for the sum of $2067.89 with interest thereon from the 15th day of October 1935, at the rate of 6 per cent per annum and costs of suit; and whereas the said judgment is a foreclosure of a first mortgage lien as against J. L. Barr, Mrs. Jennie Young, individually and as Community Administratrix of the Community estate of herself and her deceased husband J. W. Young, J. E. Young (Sometimes called J. W. Young) R. E. Young, R. A. Young, Mrs. August Jones and husband August Jones, Mrs. Ethel Hester, Clarence Hester and B. W. Young, on the following described property, to-wit:

213 1-3 acres of land in Terry County, Texas and being the N. 1-3 of Section 25, Block D-11, and all improvements, and being more particularly described by metes and bounds, as follows:

BEGINNING at the NE corner of said Section 25 for the NE corner of this tract;

THENCE W with the N line of said Survey 25, 1900 yds to NW corner of said Section for the NW corner of this tract;

THENCE S with the W line of Section 25, 633 1-3 yds to corner, the SW corner of this tract;

THENCE E parallel with the N line of said Section 25, 1900 yds to point in the E line of said Survey for the SE corner of this tract;

THENCE N with the E line of Section 25, 633 1-3 yds to place of beginning, and being the same tract of land conveyed to Cecil Judd and J. L. Barr by R. A. Young, et ux, on December 8, 1924, as shown by deed recorded in Vol. 22, Page 471, of the Deed Records of Terry County, Texas;

As said first mortgage lien existed on the 7th day of June, 1926 and it is ordered and decreed by said judgment the said property be sold as under execution in satisfaction of said judgment. And if said property shall sell for more than sufficient to pay off and satisfy said sums of money, the excess should be paid into the registry of this court for the use and benefit of the said Mrs. Jennie Young, indiv. & as Comm. Admin. of the Comm. Estate of herself & her deceased husband, and for the benefit of the heirs of the said J. W. Young, deceased; But if said property should not sell for enough to pay off said sums of money, the balance due shall be made as under execution, as against J. L. Barr and such order of sale shall have the force and effect of a writ of possession, and the officer executing same shall make a good and sufficient deed, and place the purchaser of said property in possession thereof within thirty days from date of sale.

Therefore you are hereby commanded that you proceed to seize and sell the above described property as under execution and make good and sufficient deed, and to place the purchaser of same in possession thereof within thirty days, after date of sale, and you apply the proceeds thereof to the payment and satisfaction of said sum of TWO THOUSAND SIXTY-SEVEN & EIGHTY NINE ONE HUNDREDTHS ($2067.89) Dollars, together with the interest that may be due thereon, and the further sum of Fifty-Six & Forty One Hundredths ($56.40) Dollars, costs of suit, together with your legal fees and commissions for executing this writ. And if the property shall sell for more than sufficient to pay off and satisfy said sums of money, then you are hereby directed to pay over the excess thereof as above directed. But if you fail to find said property, or if proceeds of such sale be insufficient to satisfy said judgment, then you are directed to make the money, or any balance thereof remaining unpaid, out of any other property of defendant, as in case of ordinary executions.

Herein Fail Not, but due return make hereof within ninety (90) days, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of the District Court of Bell County, at my office in Belton, this 5th day of November 1935. Barney Sissom, Clerk, District Court, Bell County. 15c

BURNETT'S BAKERY

SIMPLY A MATTER OF COOPERATION

(By Clarence O. Finch, Campaign Manager.)

The home newspaper being not merely a private business, but a community institution, it essentially follows that there is a mutual interest and a mutual obligation. There are certain things the paper owes to the community and certain other things the community owes to the paper. And the measure of success which the paper can attain and the measure of service it is able to render depends almost entirely upon the degree of cooperation between the paper and the public.

Among the things the paper owes the public is a clean face. It should be neat in appearance and attractively arranged. Newspapers, as well as individuals are largely judged by appearance. A neat and tastily arranged paper cannot help but attract more favorable attention than a sloppy, dirty paper.

But the paper should be clean in other respects than mechanically. All the matter printed should be of the kind which can confidently be placed in the hands of children. There has been criticism during recent years of a tendency to looseness and ribaldry. There is no excuse for the newspaper taking any part in this sort of moral laxity. It should stand with the church and school as opposed to letting down the bars on all matters that affect good morals and good manners. It is not necessary that it should "preach." That's the province of the pulpit, but it can set an example to the public by being clean and respectable in every line that is printed.

The paper owes it to the public to be progressive. It should take the lead in every enterprise which has for its object the building up of the town and county. Better roads, better schools, a more enlightened attitude toward all institutions which make for a better social environment—these things should receive the enthusiastic support of the paper if it desires to serve the community in which it is located.

The newspaper owes it to the public to be fearless in denouncing wrong in whatever form it may appear and particularly in public life. It should be equally zealous in lending support to every influence for the betterment of mankind and the community in which it circulates.

The paper owes it to the public to print the news. Not just the news in which the editor is personally interested, but everything in which any number of his readers might be interested. "All the news that's fit to print," has been the motto of the greatest daily newspapers in the United States if not the world. Last year the man who made the paper great by inflexibly following that slogan died after a lifetime of community, state and national service. The great of the world were proud to do him homage. It was by scrupulously sticking to his text that he made himself honored and his paper the recognized leader of the world's journalism. His policy was the same when he was at the head of the world's greatest paper in New York as it was when he, a mere boy, took hold of a broken down, discredited failure in Chattanooga. And that policy may safely be followed by every paper in the land, large or small. The fact that I am interested in churches should not lead me to crowd out baseball and the fact that I am a baseball fan should not cause me to leave out church news. Both have their news value, as well as every other subject in which readers may be interested. And the newspaper owes it to the public to get it all—if it's "fit to print."

And then there is an obligation on the part of the public if cooperation is to be mutual.

The public owes it to the newspaper to subscribe—and to pay for the subscription. While the money received from subscriptions is not the major part of the paper's income, it is needed for success in the publishing business. The paper should be made worth the money and should receive it.

The paper should receive a generous advertising support. The value of advertising is so thoroughly established as to permit no argument. Every big business in the country owes its success to judicious, intelligent advertising. And small business can do well to emulate the example of its larger brother. There are at least three good reasons for this. First, self interest. Regardless of what anyone may say—advertising pays. Second, community interest. A newspaper is the publicity agent of the community and the town is judged largely on the outside by the appearance and character of its newspaper. When you pick up a well printed, newsy paper, filled with plenty of good, home advertisements, you immediately have a mental picture of a snappy, progressive town and community. But no newspaper can carry that appearance of prosperity without the united support of the citizens and the business men of the community. And third, the business man owes it to the newspaper to advertise as a matter of cooperation. For fifty-two weeks in the year the paper is working to build up the community—and it is too heavy a load for the publisher if he is only pulling a string of empties.

But subscription and advertising is not all the public owes to the paper. It owes good will and cooperation in publishing the news—all the news. With the best intentions in the world and with all the energy possible, the editor cannot completely cover the news of the community without assistance. He is not omnipresent and he is not omniscient. He cannot be in all places at one time and he simply cannot know all that is going on, unless some one tells him about it. The next time you are tempted to complain that "there is nothing in the paper," stop and ask yourself how much news you, yourself, knew about that you did not tell the editor. He would have been delighted to publish that unrecorded news item if you had only given him the information.

But there is another evidence of good will which is within the power of every citizen to evince. When your pastor preaches a splendid sermon on some live, present day subject, do you shake his hand and tell him how much you appreciated what he said. Of course you do. Why not try the same tactics with the editor and note his reaction? He is human and a little praise will go a long way toward spurring him to better efforts. Back the editor up in his efforts to build a bigger and better paper in order to help serve a bigger and a better community. It will repay both of you.

And so the matter resolves itself to a simple matter of cooperation in order to best serve the community, which is (or should be) the common purpose of all of us. The interests of the paper and of the community are mutual and can best be served by mutual effort and mutual cooperation.

COMMON SENSE FROM MR. FORD

Whenever Henry Ford can be induced to comment on public affairs, he usually says something that reeks with sound common sense. To an interviewer the other day, who had suggested that economic affairs are out of gear, Mr. Ford replied: "How long has it been since everything was all right? In what year was everything working perfectly, or pretty nearly so?" A great deal of loose thinking and loose talking about the condition of the world and of our own section of it seems to be based upon the false and foolish notion that it was not so very long ago that everything was perfect. Everybody had a job with good wages, all businesses were prosperous, all banks were sound, all brokers were honest, crime was practically unknown and all the farmers were making money and keeping out of debt! Then something, perhaps manipulated from Wall Street, happened, to throw the whole economic system into chaos.

That is about the way a great many people look at present conditions. They think they were brought about by some malignant outside force. It does not take a long memory or more than ordinary common sense to realize that that point of view is utterly absurd. As Mr. Ford put it:

"We always imagine ourselves to be the poor innocent victims; we seldom think of ourselves as part of the guilty cause."

Try thinking that over for a while.

COUNTIES WILL SOON HAVE THE RELIEF PROBLEM TO SOLVE

The State of Texas is now worrying about means of continuing relief and soon counties will be confronted with the problem. Secretary Ickes has announced there will be no more funds for direct relief in Texas. State Administrator Johnson reports $400,000 available for relief in Texas during November and $700,000 during December.

Since it cost $27,000 per month to administer relief in the 254 counties the funds have to be spread quite thin.

He state it will be necessary to disband the Texas Relief Administration within another month at which time each county will be compelled to look out for her own citizens.

Said application will be heard by the Honorable Charles A. Boynton, Judge of said Court, after this notice shall have been published for a period of ten days, and any person interested in said Receivership Estate may contest said application. Witness my hand at Temple, Texas this 4th day of November, A. D. 1935.

NEW STATE AUDITOR AN INDIANA PRODUCT Lawyer and certified public accountant, 36-year-old Orville S. 'Dick' Carpenter left a successful private auditing practice in Dallas when Governor Allred appointed him State Auditor. Carpenter took the oath of office August 1, 1935; during part of July, 1935, he served as acting State Auditor. He has been in the accounting business since 1922. For five years before his appointment, Carpenter lived in Dallas; where he was associated with the Everts Drilling Company and at the same time had a private accounting practice. In July, 1935, he was admitted to the Texas bar. The State Auditor was born in Elwood, Indiana, September 2, 1899. His first job was carrying papers for the Evening Star, Independence, Kansas. He was only 8 years of age and received $1.00 a week. "It sure seemed like a lot of money," Carpenter said. When the World War ended, he was in training in an R. O. T. C. unit at Meridian College in Mississippi. In 1919 he left this college and came to Wichita Falls as an employee of a window-glass company. Carpenter was married September 4, 1926, to Miss Mary Evans, daughter of Mrs. J. B. Evans, one of the early settlers in Wichita County. They have one child, a daughter named Mary Evans Carpenter, now 3 years of age. Carpenter is a member of the American Institute of Accountants, the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants, Maskat Shrine Temple in Wichita Falls, and the Methodist Church.

DAVID CROCKETT David Crockett (better known as Davy Crockett), was born in Limestone, Tennessee, August 17, 1786. Widely known for his skill as a huntsman, he was reputed to have killed seventeen bears in one week. In the Creek War of 1813-14 he commanded a battalion of mounted riflemen under General Andrew Jackson. He served as a member of the Tennessee legislature from 1821 to 1831 and from 1833 to 1835. His eccentric humor attracted nation-wide attention. One of the best known of his mottoes was: "Be sure you are right, then go ahead." But his independence led to a breach with his party. Immediately after the breach he announced that he was going to Texas and his party could go to hell. A document purporting to be his autobiography was published in 1834.

He came to Texas in 1836, and was killed at the Alamo only a few weeks after his arrival. Though he did not live long in Texas, he gave his life for the infant republic. The sixth largest county in the State is named for him and also the county seat of Houston county. From "The Book of Texas." Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shelton are in Abilene this week. He went as a juror in Federal court, while Mrs. Shelton will visit.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed. How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds. Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

Keeshonden Thought Great Granddaddy of All Poms

Except for his silver-gray coat of black-tipped hair and his greater size, the Keeshonden too closely resembles the more popular Pomeranian to question their relationship. It is not at all unlikely that he is the great granddaddy of all Poms, which the Germans prefer to call "toy spitz." Previous to their reduction to present-day diminutive proportions, the Pom appeared in size more nearly approaching the 18-inch shoulder height of the Keeshonden, writes an authority in the Los Angeles Times.

Both descended from the Siberian strains of northern dogs . . . prick-eared and carrying bushy tails over the back . . . originated in Germany. The Keeshonden is established as one of that country's oldest breeds, dating back to the year 1552.

Identical are the characteristics of faithfulness, intelligence, watchfulness . . . their wariness of strangers and friendliness to those they love. Their wedge-shaped fox-like head is framed in a lion-like bushy mane. The nose of the Keeshonden is black, shining from a dark mask (but not black) muzzle, and the dark eyes, rimmed with light-colored hair. The tail, carried in a curl to right or left over the back, is white tipped. In profile he is a square dog.

Hardy and able to withstand all kinds of weather, he readily adapts himself to any environment.

Beirut Has Seen Earth's Mighty Men Come and Go

On the face of the rock which overlooks the scenery from Beirut to Tripoli are written the names of every conqueror that has invaded Syria from Sennacherib the Assyrian down to Field Marshal Allenby, who conquered Palestine in the World War.

That mighty testament to Syria's glorious past is one of the few colorful touches to be noted around this seaport at the foot of the Lebanon. The climate is damp and stifling in hot weather. To make life durable, townspeople take to the mountains where cedars such as those Solomon imported for his temple still grow in numbers, although the slopes are no longer forest-covered.

In almost every direction, trips by motor out of Beirut bring one in touch with the immemorial past. Not far down the Mediterranean coast lies Sidon. Oxen now plow the fields where once stood the great temple of Ashtar.

Tyre, which the Syrians call Sour, is farther south. Once the mightiest city of the East, it is now a fishermen's village.

Between Beirut and Sidon lies Swafet, to where Cleopatra is supposed to have journeyed for her final tryst with Anthony before he set out for the battle of Actium.

Kings Died of Tuberculosis

In the 500 years when the Valois and Bourbons ruled France, 21 French kings died from tuberculosis, says Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

Discovery of Bee Trees

Discovery of bee trees in the deep forest depends more upon design than upon chance, hunters for wild honey usually making their discoveries by tracing burrows back to their boarding places, marking the trees for their own and returning at some later time for the raid, with saw or ax, smoke blowers, large knife and containers for golden wealth that may average from 35 to 80 pounds to a tree and sometimes run into the hundreds of pounds. Old-time bee-tree hunters in the Ozarks frequently cut two or three trees a day.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

WRITES FOR CRASH VICTIMS ARE HELD

Rites for two victims of an automobile crash Saturday night on the highway between Seagraves and Seminole were held here Monday.

Services for Jack King, about 30, who was killed instantly, were conducted at First Baptist church at 11:30 a. m., with Rev. F. G. Rogers officiating.

King, a farmer residing in Terry county, three miles north of Seagraves, is survived by his wife and several children.

Last rites for Bill Fisher, 45, who died in a sanitarium at Lubbock several hours after the crash, were conducted at the Baptist church at 2 p. m. He is survived by his wife, several children; a brother residing at Houston; and his mother, Mrs. Stricker of Childress.

Both were buried in Brownfield cemetery.

Another article in this issue gives a more complete account of the accident.

Actual plans for erecting the museum have not yet been formulated. "College authorities are eager to work with those interested in the history of this area in developing a museum program which will record that history adequately." President Bradford Knapp said. "Plans are now on foot to increase the present fund from other sources in order to erect a building sufficiently attractive and roomy to accord with the important program to be carried out," he added. President Knapp and Dr. W. C. Holden, professor of history and anthropology and curator of the Plains Museum society, were members of a party of West Texans who applied for the funds before the commission.

IN MEMORIAM

Monday, November 11, 1935 the Brownfield Public Schools, along with millions of others, payed homage to the American boys who sacrificed themselves on the battlefield of France in 1918.

As we recall the horrors of war we are made to wonder why so great a struggle had to be fought, why it took millions of dollars and millions of lives to make us a wide awake nation. But since it has, the least we can do, is to pay our respect to the honored ones, who thought not of self, but thought only of making the world a safe place in which to live.

We do not need to search in other fields for these true, worthy American citizens. We have them among us. And we, the student body of the Brownfield Public Schools, do not fail to recognize them. We also have some Gold Star Mothers who sacrificed their sons for their country's need.

Of these fine Terryites we pay our tribute!

FOOTBALL BOYS' HISTORY

J. D. Stewart was born in Honey Grove, Texas, in the far away date of 1916, on Dec. 30. When J. D. was old enough to attend school, he started in at Boisville, Okla. However, they only stayed there a short while before they moved to Brownfield, where J. D. started to school again a year later. Then when he was in the third grade they moved to Lahey. Again J. D. returned to civilization when in the fourth, and here he has remained. Year before last, owing to conditions J. D. was forced to stay out of school, but this year he returned in good faith and has played on the main string football team. J. D. prefers brownnets but likes Jean Harlow a little (the lucky girl). His favorite dish is the eggplant, and he doesn't like to double date.

William Joseph McGowan (better known around these parts as Bill) was born June 18, 1919 in Brownfield, Texas. A few years later his parents moved to Fort Worth, where they remained until about 1924. On returning to Brownfield Bill was old enough to start to school. The McGowans have been in Brownfield ever since and William Joseph has become quite a favorite among his classmates and also among those of our town that are acquainted with his fine sportsmanship and good scholarship. It has been suggested to those of authority that Bill receive the award for the best all-around student. Now, I've been told that Bill is rather fond of a certain little Freshman in Tech but from what I've noticed she's loosing out to a small blonde here in B. H. S. When William grows up he intends to go to Texas U. and become a lawyer.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Girls' Basketball got under way some two weeks ago, with about 30 girls coming out.

Coach Penn started them off with some exercises and goal shooting. They haven't experienced their first "scrimmage", but realize it is soon and are setting their training rules.

There is an hour of practice every afternoon, in the gym. The motto B. M. is still in circulation, so let's keep an eye on these girls and watch them go to town!

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

The "Frontier Party" given by the Senior Class last Friday night was a howling success. The frontier idea was carried out in decorations of the hall and in costumes of those attending. About thirty Seniors and their sponsor, Mr. Penn, enjoyed dancing the Virginia Reel, and other old-fashioned dances and spelling in an old-time spelling match.

Sandwiches, potato chips, cookies and soda pop were served.

JUST IMAGINE

1. A football work-out at nine o'clock Monday morning, and on Armistice.
2. The pep squad girls not rushing the football boys for dates for the banquet.
3. A certain Junior pulling off her shoes to dance with Toots Thomas.
4. Ima George Warren not in High School.
5. Odell McLeod and Sam Chisholm as football players.
6. Jeanette Hancock getting her reporters to hand in their material on time.
7. Don Hudgens not forgetting his horn when he attends a band practice.
8. Shariene Graves without a book in her hand.
9. The weather getting too cold for some B. H. S. students to get out on school nights.
10. Having a half holiday in B. H. S. on Armistice day!!!!
11. Iris Lewis being with any one except a certain soda skeet.

CUB COMMENT

Mr. Bost and Mr. Baze were in Lubbock Saturday.

Christine Green from Hobbs, New Mexico was a week-end guest of Maxine Hardin.

Mr. Hayhurst, former football coach of B. H. S., was in Brownfield, Sunday.

A. T. Fowler, Horton Howell, and Logan Redford, former B. H. S. students, were home for the week-end.

Annabelle Gregg spent the week-end in Midland.

We hear that Richard Kendrick and L. Dene Stevens are having a swell time with the mumps.

Ona Fay and Lola Mae Tittle from Simmons were home for the week-end.

Irene Adams from Mary-Hardin Baylor was home for the week-end.

Martha McClish, a former Brownfield High student, was in Brownfield for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Tipton, Miss Bost, and Mr. and Mrs. Peak of Dallas were week-end guests of Mr. Bost.

Wilburn Porter has a haircut—to keep from paying a dog's tax, we hear.

Z. O. Faughn, our latest mumps victim's first statement after discovering his sad plight was—"Reckon I can take a bath?"

Elray: Shall we waltz this one?
 Bert: It's all the same to me.
 Elray: Yeah, I've noticed that.

WHO'S WHO

1. Who is the football boy called "Liza"???

2. Who is the fellow who kicked the gym door down after being locked in?

3. Where was Mrs. Penn the night of the Senior party??

4. Who were the boys who were left (out in the cold again) the night of the Senior party?

5. Who did Junior Baze come home to see last week-end besides his parents?

6. Who will be our best basketball players this season?

7. Who is responsible for Imogene's Rushing rise of spirits lately?

8. Who is the very small fellow in B. H. S. who has such a huge personality?

9. Who are the four B. H. S. students who are in the midst of a budding romance?

10. Who is responsible for so many students' becoming so interested in band?

11. Who is the certain brunette Junior girl who CRAVES publicity?

12. Why is it that T. W. White enjoys typing so much?

13. Who was the cause of Mr. Smith's illness Friday—his English III class?

Mr. Bost: "Will you marry me?"
 Lady Friend: "No."
 And they lived happily ever afterwards.

Miss Winston: "What is a budget?"
 Alma Fern: "Well, it is a method of worrying before you spend instead of afterward."

Robert Pharr: "Coach, what effect does the moon have on the tide?"
 Marner: Not any, Robert. The only effect it has is on the untied."

Harold: "You should see the new altar in our church."
 Imogene: "Lead me to it."
 "Jack was the goal of my ambition, but—"
 "What happened?"
 "My father kicked the goal."

Our editor, Jeannette Hancock is absent this week with the mumps.

Clara Estes says "The mumps are not flat!"

SCIENCE CLASSES

The boys of the Science Classes put on a successful program last Tuesday in assembly. They did things that proved interesting as well as beneficial to the class. Although this was an expensive program it was worth it to the student body. Their program consisted of experiments, tunes on bottles of water and other interesting things.

PUPPET SHOW

Friday morning Mr. Fox presented a successful puppet show with eight wooden characters participating. After this performance he entertained the pupils that were present from high school and the ward school, explaining to them how it was possible to imitate the voices of the different characters. This proved to be very interesting. He also told them the history of the puppet show. Although this is a very old way of entertaining it is still amusing and there were several students present at this show that never before had seen one.

JUNIOR CLASS MEET

A meeting was called for the Junior Class, Wed., Nov. 13. The minutes were read and approved, then plans were discussed for making money for the Junior-Senior banquet. Plans were also brought before the assembled for a class social. Some of the members suggested too, that the Junior class have pins for this year and get rings next year with the same emblem on them.

RUFF ELECTED TO HIGHEST OFFICE IN LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

BOSTON (Special).—By unanimous consent of the delegates to the Annual International Convention, Supreme Lodge of the World, Loyal Order of Moose, Hon. Walter S. Ruff of Canton, Ohio, was elected Supreme Dictator of the Fraternity.

Mr. Ruff was born on a farm in West Township, Columbiana County, Ohio. He was educated in the country schools; spent some time at Ohio Northern University at Ada, and at Wooster University. He taught school in the country districts and villages, and came to Canton in 1900 as principal of a ward school, afterwards teaching in the high schools of Canton. He studied law while teaching, and began the practice of law in 1910. He was elected City Attorney for Canton in 1912, and served five years in that capacity. He was elected Prosecuting Attorney of Stark County, and served four years. He formed a partnership with three other lawyers, under the firm name of Black, McCuskey, Ruff & Souers, and since 1922 has been engaged in the practice of law, devoting himself largely to active trial work.

Mr. Ruff is a member of The Exchange Club, and in 1928 was President of the Ohio Affiliated Exchange Clubs. In 1910 he became a member of the Loyal Order of Moose. He was the second dictator of Canton Lodge, and for about fifteen years a member of the Supreme Judiciary Committee of the Order. He was a member of the Ohio State Senate, having been elected in 1932.

At the Cleveland Convention in 1932, Mr. Ruff was elected Supreme Councilman, Loyal Order of Moose; in 1933, at the Convention at Mooseheart, Supreme Prelate; at the Atlantic City Convention, in July, 1934, he became Supreme Vice Dictator, and at the recent Moose Convention at Boston, he received the highest honor in the gift of his Fraternity—the office of Supreme Dictator.

Mr. Ruff is married, and has one daughter, who is an art teacher at the McKinley High School in Canton.

Supreme Dictator Ruff has always taken an active interest in his profession. He was President of the Stark County Bar Association, and is now a member of the Executive Committee of the Ohio Bar Association.

WHO TEACH BEST—MEN OR WOMEN? Men make as good teachers as women, and vice versa, it is the belief of Dr. Annie Webb Blanton, professor of educational administration at The University of Texas, whose extensive contact with all types of teachers and instructors qualifies her to speak authoritatively on the subject. Dr. Blanton believes that there is no distinction to be made between the teaching abilities of men and women. As to natural ability and efficiency Dr. Blanton pointed out, there is no difference. It is true that women are preferable for teaching the lower grades, for the simple reason that young children feel more at home with a woman instructor. However, there are examples, especially in country schools, where men handle young children very competently. Moreover, Dr. Blanton is of the opinion that men and women should be allowed to teach any subject with which they are familiar. That is, men have just as much business in teaching English and history as women, and that women are as well qualified to teach chemistry and physics as men.

To the popular idea that many women use the teaching profession as a means to sustain themselves until they can marry, Dr. Blanton suggested that men use teaching as a stepping stone to various professions. Neither practice is harmful to the school system, she said, as long as both give forth their best efforts while teaching. She added that higher wages would attract more good instructors since many "natural" teachers hesitate to enter the profession because of the low salary.

Moreover, Dr. Blanton is of the opinion that men and women should be allowed to teach any subject with which they are familiar. That is, men have just as much business in teaching English and history as women, and that women are as well qualified to teach chemistry and physics as men.

There will be preaching services at the church of Christ next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Singing was well attended Sunday afternoon not only by local people but by visitors as well. The latch string is always out to singers and song lovers every second and fourth Sunday afternoons at three o'clock at the school auditorium. Misses Hazel, Julia and Orlena Ball were guests in the C. J. McLeroy home Sunday. We are sorry to report Mr. F. B. Condra Jr. ill of pneumonia at this writing. Mr. and Mrs. Joel Trolinder and little son and Miss Dollie McLeroy were visitors in the Clyde Trolinder home Sunday. Messers and Mesdames Walter Lucker and family and E. F. Drury and family visited in the Lee Fulton home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ball had as their dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carter. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shults and children visited in the Thos. S. Doss home Sunday.

Happy last year are teaching at Harmony this year, Mr. and Mrs. Bell were teachers and everyone hated for them to leave, but are glad they are satisfied at Harmony. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brownlee are teaching at Happy this term. Miss Verdine Littlefield and Miss Faye Kennedy spent Saturday night in Meadow and Sunday in Ropesville with Miss Opal Young. Miss Omagene Kennedy spent Saturday night in Meadow and Sunday in Lubbock. Mr. Albert Rucker is seen back in this community again. He has been off on a visit for quite a spell. Mrs. J. W. Kennedy spent the day with Mrs. W. T. Littlefield Sunday.

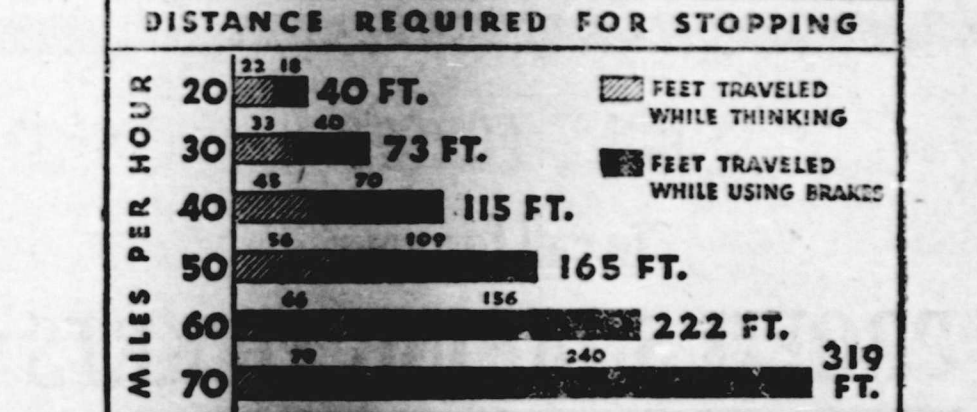

Walter Bond, Brownfield, former Lubbock druggist, has accepted a post with the Tahoka Drug Co. He was once before connected with the store. Mr. Bond for some months was employed at the City Drug store. He also was with a Brownfield drug store for some years.—Lubbock Avalanche.

"Believe It or Not, I'm Well."—Ripley. It was almost a "Believe-it-or-not" proposition to Herman Ripley, 3215 Kings Road, Dallas, formerly of McKinney, when he obtained relief from acid stomach trouble of long standing in two days. "Pain in my stomach, pain around my heart, dizziness, and gas and bloating after meals, had been coming on for a year," he said. "In two days after starting on Gordon's Compound, all distress stopped. I had been restricted to soft foods, such as cereals. Now I eat whatever I like."

WE DRIVERS A Series of Brief Discussions on Driving, Dealt to the Safety, Comfort and Pleasure of the Motoring Public. Prepared by General Motors

IT'S JUST AS TRUE as can be that when people get expert at anything they're apt to begin getting careless about it, and that's what we have to look out for when driving our cars. For instance, we recently heard a group of engineers discussing night driving, and one thing they kept talking about was "over-driving our headlights."

Now that term seems to be a common one with them, but it's new to most of us. What they mean is that the distance we can see clearly by headlights is, of course, limited, and that we are apt to let our car speeds get beyond the point where we could easily stop within that limited distance. It's true that we naturally tend to go a little slower at night. But if we aren't careful we probably get going faster than we realize, and that may get us into trouble. You see, momentum, the same force that tries to keep us from making turns safely; that cuts all kinds of capers on slippery roads... never sleeps! He works on the same old principles night and day. Darkness doesn't hinder him, but it hinders us. Most modern headlights are pretty wonderful things, but after all they don't give us the distance or clarity of vision that daylight does. So, on considerably shorter notice than in the daytime a vehicle or pedestrian can come out of the darkness. Almost before we know it we may have to slow down or stop for someone or something on the road... perhaps one of those big lumbering trucks that you barely see till you're right up on them, or a car whose tail-light has gone out... an unexpected curve, or what not. And that's where we meet up with momentum again. You see, stopping isn't the one simple action we always thought it was. The truth is, we are told, that there are really three things we have to do to stop. First we have to think of stopping. Next we have to move one foot over on to the brake pedal. And then we have to push down on the brake pedal. Now we might not believe it, but they tell us those first two steps take time. Less than a second, perhaps, but even in that instant momentum is carrying us on. In fact, at only 20 miles an hour the average driver goes 22 feet before he can even start to use the brakes.

Then after he does get the brakes to working, it takes him another 18 feet to stop completely, even with the best brakes in the world and with good tires, under favorable road conditions. At least so we are told by the State Board of Public Works of one of the states which has made a very intensive study of drivers and driving conditions, and which has prepared the data for the above chart. The important thing to realize is that distance needed to stop increases a great deal as we increase our speed. We just have to remember that when we're moving along in a car, we think by the foot, act by the foot and stop by the foot, and if we aren't careful, it's easy to get going faster than is really safe. Now, just as engineers have told us how to operate in safety with our own lights, many experienced drivers have pointed out how to avoid trouble from other people's lights. They say that all we have to do, when passing other cars at night, is to stop looking at their lights and watch the right-hand side of the road. The truth of the matter is that night driving can be just as pleasant, and just as safe as day driving. But we have to be more alert and more careful.

HOSTESS TO S. S. CLASS

Thursday night of last week Mrs. Jesse D. Cox was hostess to Mr. Fowell's Sunday School Class of the Methodist church, honoring Rev. and Mrs. Ed Tharp, who were members of the class, but are leaving soon. Games and contests were enjoyed for some time and refreshments of sandwiches, cake and tea were served.

ENTERTAIN STEWARDS

Thursday night of last week Rev. and Mrs. Tharp entertained the Stewards and their wives at the Methodist church. A turkey dinner with all the trimmings was served. A business session was held after dinner and the year's work reported in full.

Attending were Messers and Mesdames M. E. Jacobson, W. B. Toone, R. A. Simms, W. B. Downing, J. B. Knight, Clyde Coleman, and Lee; Mesdames Jesse Cox, Grandmother Cox, G. S. Webber, Ada Wilkins; Messers John S. Powell and Jim Teague; and the hosts daughter and husband from Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo McClellan.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Hackney visited from Saturday to Monday with relatives in Lubbock.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Mrs. John Dumas honored her little six year old daughter, Vela Mae, last Wednesday with a party. Twenty little tots brought gifts and played games from 3 to 6 o'clock, when they were served refreshments.

HOSTESS TO NEEDLE CLUB

Thursday afternoon of last week, Mrs. W. H. Collins was hostess to a new needle club that has recently been organized. Mrs. Roy Herod was made president and Mrs. Jack Stricklin, Sr., vice president. The club was named "Stitch and Chatter Club." There are twelve members. The hostess served pimiento cheese sandwiches and tea. Present were Mesdames Jack Stricklin, Sr., Dick Mc-

Duffie, J. L. Cruce, J. B. Knight, Tom May, J. H. Griffin, Claud Hudgens, Joe McGowan, Roy Herod, Edgar Self and Mrs. W. B. Downing.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SUNSETS

Sunset pictures add interest to your snapshot album.

Did you ever stop to realize how considerate Mother Nature is of the amateur photographer? Month after month she changes the appearance of landscapes, trees, shrubs and even the skies, giving us something new to snap almost every day.

She is now slowly shifting her scenery and preparing for her autumn display of new flowers, colorful foliage and last but not least—beautiful clouded skies to serve us with fascinating backgrounds for landscapes and sunset snapshots.

Don't overlook the opportunity to capture a few of these beautiful sunsets for your snapshot album. They add interest to your picture collections and usually bring that highly prized remark from your friends—"There's a beautiful picture. How did you take it?"

An artistic sunset picture possibility is not waiting for you every night in the week so don't rush out the door after reading this and expect to get one. Maybe you will but it is doubtful. A good sunset picture is just one of those things you watch and wait for.

You will find that a foreground of water or a background of hills will add much to the interest and artistic appearance of your sunset. By all means wait until there are clouds, for you will find that the clouds "make the picture."

No set rule can be made on the exposure time for sunset pictures but generally you will get a properly exposed negative if you set the diaphragm at f/16 and the shutter speed at 1/100 of a second. This setting of the diaphragm and shutter depends much on the brightness of your setting sun.

Believe it or not, attractive "moonlight" scenes can be made by sunlight. This is best done during the sunset hour and when there are masses of clouds floating in the western sky which create lighting conditions favorable for picturing "moonlight" scenes. The sun can be wholly or partially obscured and if the light is red, yellow or orange a snapshot exposure with a medium stop opening can be given.

To secure a night effect from a negative exposed in this manner, it must be printed long enough so that all but the highlights will be dark. If you don't do your own printing explain what effect you want to your finisher.

You will get a lot of pleasure taking these pictures and the result will be well worth your time and effort.

JOHN VAN GUILPER.

AUXILIARY NEWS

From the sale of "Poppies" the American Legion and Auxiliary received about ninety-five dollars, and we wish to take this means of thanking every one who bought or helped in the sale. Without the cooperation of the people this could not have been so successful. We also want to thank the Holgate-Endersen Hardware and Daugherty Grocery for their window for Armistice Day display. Also want to thank Cobb's Dept. Store for space in front of their store for our sales table. We wish also to thank the Brownfield Hardware for the radio placed in the Legion Hall for entertainment over November 11th. We really did appreciate all these things.

for the souls of sinners that we come in contact with from day to day. If we warn them of the danger of their journeying on in sin and they do not heed, we are relieved from blame, but if we do not warn them we are held accountable on that Great Judgment Day. When we stop to think how many chances come our way every day to speak to somebody about their soul, and how many of these chances we let pass by, we feel that we are not doing our duty.

Let's get to work and make the Philathea Class a shining light, with its rays far reaching so that the lost may find the narrow way home.

We would like to see more of our old members next Sunday and a number of new ones. We were very glad to have Miss Wilcock as a new member and hope that she enjoys being with us as much as we enjoy having her.

We wish to extend our heart felt sympathy to Mrs. Glenn Webber, as well as to the Bailey family, in their recent bereavement.
