

ANNOUNCEMENTS

ASKS VOTERS OF DISTRICT FOR SUPPORT

To the Voters of the 106th Judicial District of Texas:

On October 2nd, 1935, I was appointed to the office of district attorney by Governor Allred to fill the office made vacant by the election of G. H. Nelson to the State Senate. This district includes Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Dawson and Gaines counties.

Since assuming the duties of district attorney, on the above mentioned date, I have tried to conduct the affairs of this office in a manner that fair play might be had between State and man. When court convenes in Terry county the 20th of this month I will have made a complete circuit of this district since my appointment.

Since I have not had the privilege of meeting all of you permit me to were contested. The record that I have made so far as a man and as an officer, is before you out here on the plains where I have lived practically all of my life. Whether it is good or bad is a matter for you to pass on.

I have always had a desire and ambition to climb and better my station in life. I take the position that a man either goes forward or he goes backward. If you assist me in taking this forward step, I promise to give you the best there is in me. All of the energy and enthusiasm of youth, I pledge to you and all of the loyalty and allegiance that one man could possibly have, I pledge to the citizenship of the 106th Judicial District of Texas. If you elect me as your district attorney, I shall always be grateful to you and I will not betray the trust that you impose in me.

Respectfully yours,
Truett Smith.

SIMMS ASKS VOTERS FOR SECOND TERM

To the Citizens and Voters of Terry County:

I wish to take this method of announcing myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Judge and Ex-officio County School Superintendent of Terry County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary. In this office I have served for the past 12 months and I assure you that it has been a pleasure as well as a great privilege to serve you. The responsibility has been very heavy throughout most all the past year but with the splendid cooperation of the good people from every part of the county I feel that we have now past over the more difficult problems. For your help and cooperation I wish to thank you.

In seeking the office for another term I shall appreciate your continued influence and friendship and I shall in every way possible try to serve you and the county to the very best of my ability.

Respectfully submitted,
Raymond Simms.

ASKS FOR OFFICE OF CITY MARSHAL

I hereby make my announcement for the office of City Marshal. The office would mean much to me, and your consideration of my qualifications and your support in this campaign will be remembered and highly appreciated. If elected, I shall do all in my power to perform the duties of the office in such a manner that you will not regret having placed your confidence and trust in my ability, and I sincerely ask for such an opportunity to prove my gratitude for your support.

Respectfully,

say a few things relative to my qualifications for this office. I am 30 years of age, I live in the town of Tahoka. I have lived in Lynn county 29 years. My parents still reside in Lynn county on the same farm that we moved on 29 years ago. I received my college training in Wayland college at Plainview and the Texas Technological College in Lubbock. When I was 22 years of age and still a student in the Tech college I ran for the office of county and district clerk of Lynn county and was elected to that office and served for four years in that capacity. During the time I was clerk, I took the bar examination and was admitted to the bar in 1932. I was then elected county attorney for Lynn county and served one term and part of the second term, when I was appointed district attorney as above stated. During the time I was in the county attorney's office I prosecuted all criminal cases in the justice and county courts of Lynn county and worked with the grand jury and assisted the district attorney in the trial of all felony cases in the district court that

School Project Closes, Another to Be Set Up

The first project of Terry County, and one of the first on the South Plains was completed last Friday when the Brownfield school program was officially closed. Contrary to the general outcome of such undertakings, the project accomplished even more than was originally planned. Instead of building 2300 feet of sidewalk, the school has built over 3000 feet. Besides this, a double tennis court, dressing rooms for the gym, and various other improvements were made that were not originally called for in the project.

The district office at Big Spring was so well pleased with the outcome of the program that it has asked the local school officials to place an application for an additional project for beautification of the school campus. Mr. Boston in conversation with Supt. Baze last week stated that he had reserved $3000 for beautifying the school campus. In preparation for the new project Mr. Baze worked throughout Monday with Don King planning and landscaping. The new project will call for almost 1200 trees and shrubs a rose garden a fountain another double tennis court, screening of all tennis courts and incinerators, and any unsightly places with hedges of tamerix, etc., and the sodding of the large space south of the Junior High School for a practice field for football. Many beautiful evergreens and trees are included. Curbs will be run about all the buildings and base shrubs planted. Mr. Boston stated that the program could be carried out with little or no cost whatever to the local schools.

B. F. Barnett Killed; Struck Near Tahoka

TAHOKA, Jan. 3.—Funeral arrangements for B. F. Barnett, about 45, O'Donnell farmer who was killed almost instantly last night when struck by an automobile north of Tahoka, had not been completed early this afternoon. Services will be held probably Saturday afternoon at O'Donnell, under direction of Harris & Applewhite Funeral home.

Barnett died a few minutes after the mishap, which occurred three miles north of Tahoka about 7:15 o'clock.

J. L. Morris of Lamesa, a dairy farmer, made a statement to authorities at an inquest held following the accident by W. S. Swan, justice of the peace and coroner, explaining that his machine struck Barnett as he was walking along the highway. Barnett resided on a farm two miles west of O'Donnell, and had lived there since 1931.

Passed Another Vehicle

Mr. Morris said, and reports of investigating officers apparently qualified his statement, that he was driving south and that when he passed another vehicle he struck Mr. Barnett only an instant after seeing him. Mr. Barnett was walking almost in the center of the road, he said.

F. E. Redwine, deputy sheriff, Homer Harrison, city marshal, Mr. Swan, and C. H. Cain, county attorney, agreed evidence tended to show the accident was unavoidable.

Frigidaire Presents Hudgens With Medal

The Frigidaire Corporation has presented Claude Hudgens of the firm of Hudgens & Knight with a gold medal, with a chip diamond in the center for his high sales of their product during the year 1935, of which he is justly proud.

Mr. Hudgens did not beat any record for number in Texas, but was the high man in the state, according to the number of electric meters in his trade territory, and that was the way the contest was based—on sales according to electric meters. His sales included Brownfield, Seagraves and Meadow.

Tech Man to Teach Curriculum Production

Prof. J. F. McDonald, of Texas Technological college, was invited down this week to see about a class in curriculum production. He met with a number of teachers, not only of Brownfield schools, but others in the county, Tuesday night, and a class was organized.

It is our understanding that this extension class will meet with Prof. McDonald every Monday night at 7 P. M., and that the term will run for ten weeks.

Chisholm Bros. Are Remodeling Their Store

When the present work of remodeling is completed, Chisholm Bros. will have one of the neatest arranged and prettiest grocery stores in this section. They are reducing the width from 48 to 30 feet, but are lengthening the store until they will have approximately the same amount of floor-space as before.

The meat cutting and cold storage department has been moved to the rear, which they consider is a great convenience, and will save many steps, and be just as convenient to their customers. Taking the place of the meat department in front will be their fresh vegetable department with a better display of them, and a remodeled spray system to keep them fresh.

The 18 feet clear through the store that was cut off, will be used as a tractor and implement display room, which will have a plate glass front, and wide door entrance in the rear. They are handling the John Deere line of tractors and implements.

Dick Chisholm has been taken in this year as a stockholder in Chisholm Bros. grocery. The implement department will be owned and managed by G. W. Joe and John. Millard Holloway, of the Loop section, has recently been employed, and will be a salesman and erector in the implement department.

Sell Your Old "Hoss" Remedies to Sharley

Pope Pool formerly lived in Brownfield, but awhile back moved up to Hubbock and purchased the Broadway Pharmacy. He surmises as follows:

"I see by the latest issue of the Herald you have carefully considered your case of illness, and have gone the animal route. It reminds me of the hoss doctor, that they are pretty smart on account of their victims not being able to tell the doctor anything about themselves, and it is just up to the doctor. Seeing that I have a big bunch of hoss remedies on hand up here (located in the shadow of Mr. Charley Guy's building at that) I thought you could get what you need right away. I'd like maybe to put in some Dr. LeGear's remedies on a new subscription for the paper, etc."

No sir Pope, you Hubbock guys will have to plank down the cash for the Herald, as we find that "Ikey" Bailey, "Shimney" Graves and "Nertz" Green all have a full supply of hoss remedies right here at home, and we patronize home industries. Sell your stuff to Sharley Guy; he often has the bottles and heaves, and we are sure almost that he has the string-halt since recently thumbing his way to and from Callyfornyah.

Officers Get Thieves; Recover Stolen Car

A car was stolen from County Agent Pool, of Hockley county, at Levelland last Friday night. Hockley county officers immediately broadcast the fact to surrounding towns. Sheriff Jess Smith and deputies went north on the Levelland road to where it junctures with a road east to Meadow.

There they waited and did not have to wait long until along came the stolen car. The driver failed to halt, but he was turned down the road toward Brownfield, according to Deputy Andy Green. A chase of about 2 miles, during which several shots were fired at the tires of the fleeing car, and it was finally stopped after the sheriff's car drew alongside.

The prisoners had three guns, one of which appeared to have been snapped three times on the primers. They gave their names as Lee and West and claimed to live at Littlefield. Hockley county officers came down that night after them.

Papering Church of Christ Meeting House

Paperhangers are busy this week papering the church of Christ building. All the old paper and canvas is being torn off to the bare walls and new canvas and paper put up. It is expected that the job will be finished by Sunday.

J. D. Williamson has the work under charge. The deacons had a meeting last Sunday afternoon and decided on the work, and few of the members knew that it was under way until midweek. Well, it was not done before it was needed.

Dr. R. B. Parish is having his residence stuccoed.

Colored Minister Praises Crimm Revival

When Mr. A. J. Stricklin kindly announced our colored work—The Terry County Community Church Work—through the columns of our great county paper, official organ, The Terry County Herald, I had not heard of the coming of the great Evangelists, Crimm and Powell, to Brownfield, with not only a tri-county evangelistic campaign, but all of the counties of the South Plains and borders of New Mexico. But just the following week, this announcement came out, but "God always moves in mysterious ways, His wonders to perform."

This great 35-day meeting of the white people is a God sent set-off of the identical thing we are laboring for; God's blessings upon the able young pastor, Rev. Rodgers and the leaders of his church for calling these apostles here at such a time as this.

I was in school at Boston University three years. I have done church work in the north and east. I have had some great contacts with great white people attending their church services, schools, hearing great sermons and singing. I have heard Billy Sunday in Cincinnati, Ohio, and other places, but there is something about this great preacher and apostle of the Lord Jesus, Crimm, that gets on one and holds one more than any I have heard. Truly Brownfield will be nearer God and a better place to live in when the revival is over. The power of God through these messages will live on in the hearts of the colored people at least, and we are thankful that it is our privilege to hear these services.

Our white friends are very kind to arrange seats for our colored people, and we feel that we are among friends.

Colored People Doing Well

Evangelist Crimm and Powell are working hard preaching the gospel of the Son of God, singing Heaven's messages into the hearts of the people, and if white people need God in their lives, with all they have in their favor, great schools backed by the government, W. P. A. work on school campus, other works, etc., what about the poor neglected colored people. Not even a school house! They do mighty well under the circumstances, I think, with scarcely anything to inspire them and lift them to higher endeavor.

It is a high compliment to us colored people that our great white people us on face value, and put us in their homes to work, fix living quarters on their premises, trust us, without any or little regard for our religious improvement or educational advancement. The wonder is that bootlegging, gambling, immorality, adultery, stealing, fighting, killing, etc., is not more rampant among the colored. But if our good white people will give us a little chance, help us improve our circumstances, we will make you proud of use, and we will grow to be assets and not liabilities.

Some few have bought homes over in the Bridges addition and have become tax payers. I find that many want to do the same thing. So won't you help us put a nice community church over there and watch us buy and settle around it?

Booker T. Washington said, "that you can't hold a fellow in the ditch without staying in the ditch with him." Now we don't want to hold our good white people in the ditch. Let's all go up.

Our people are just rifting idly along, and we need to check up so we can start a program of community betterment along all lines. Some have given as much as $25.00. We hope to start the work next week, giving a carpenter a job. There will be much donated labor however. We need this building up at once and we are calling on all of Brownfield to help the colored people now.

The work we are doing among the negroes, comes directly under the Works Progress Administration, and we have discussed it with some of the local WPA representatives, and they are cooperating very encouragingly.

Help us on this negro project in order that our people may practice better—Religion, Health, Education, Recreation and Hygiene.

J. W. V. HUTCHINSON,
Pastor-Director.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank everyone who voted for me and helped me win the big doll in the contest at Alexander's Drug Store.

Cong. Mahon Enjoys Trip to the Orient

Washington.—Congressman George Mahon arrived in Washington Friday morning for the beginning of the Second Session of the 74th Congress. He had returned to his home in Colorado City on December 20 from the Philippine Islands where he had attended the celebration sponsored by the Government to commemorate the opening of independence for the Islands. The trip was made at the request of the President and upon the invitation of the Philippine Government because of his membership on the Insular Affairs Committee of the House.

Mr. Mahon expressed enthusiasm over the value of the trip which had also taken him to both Japan and China. The trip had afforded an opportunity to study from first hand sources economic conditions in the Far East, particularly regarding the textile industry and its relation to foreign markets for American cotton.

In discussing the approaching Session, he said that he expected a very active but much shorter one than last year. He was immediately concerned with becoming settled in his office here so that he could give attention to the correspondence from the District as well as legislation confronting the House.

Work on Highway 84 Has Been Started

Between 25 and 30 men started to work last Friday morning on a WPA project which will complete grading and drainage work on highway 84 east of Post, Texas.

Twenty-one men who have been employed for a number of weeks on a WPA road project in precinct 3 of this county were transferred to the 34 project.

Nine miles of the new highway east of the Yellowhouse river to the Kent county line is yet to be completed. Construction of the highway was stopped several months ago.

Approval of $24,000 was made some time ago with the WPA furnishing $17,000 of the amount and the State Highway Dept. $7,000.

George McPherson is superintendent of construction.—Post Dispatch.

Zachary Manager of New Recreation Club

T. A. Zachary, manager and owner of the People's Recreation Club on the south side of the square, was in this week to have some job work, and informed us that he was doing a nice business, and was well pleased with his investment in Brownfield. He is endeavoring to run a place without drinking or gambling, and tries to make it nice enough that a lady can come in any time.

He is ably assisted by Ralph McBroom, another Terry county boy, who is taking a great interest in the business. Mr. Zachary is a nephew of our old time settler and citizen, by the same name, who lives in the Wellman section.

School Making Up Picture Programs

The teachers are busy this week working the numerous educational pictures into their lesson class for the remainder of the year. Over forty films for entertainment will be given on six different evenings. The new Ampro projector is proving successful beyond expectations and every one is pleased with the venture. Visual education will be used very extensively in the future programs of the local schools. The list of teaching films is almost unlimited. Visual education will gradually replace the purely entertainment type of pictures.

INVOICES SHOULD SHOW PRINTING NEED

Merchants' invoices should show a need for printing for the new year.

A little time taken now to check over printing needs, and a call to No. 1 will bring a representative of your home town printer in a hurry.

The Herald has a well equipped shop and printers who know how to give you the kind of service you want at a reasonable price.

Looks Like All Our People Are Honest

Brownfield Texas, Jan. 4, '36

Dear Editor:
More about honest people. Last week a purse containing $176.00 was found in a chair in the lobby of the Brownfield Hotel by little George Mae Stinson, who is here from Arizona visiting her aunt, Mrs. M. E. Brown.

That night the proprietor, M. E. Brown, received a telephone call from Mrs. Suddeth of Lovington, N. Mex., asking if the purse had been found. She had been passing through on her way home on the bus and did not know where she had lost it as she did not miss it until she was nearing her destination. The purse was returned to her the next day by a driver of the White Star Coaches, for which she was very thankful.

Yours truly,
Guest of the Brownfield Hotel.

A Mistake Last Week In Call For Jurors

Last week the Herald printed a list of the jurors called for the Jan.-Feb. term of District court, and a slight error was made in the clerical department of the sheriff's office, necessitating another notification of all the petit jurors by card. The Herald also failed to catch the mistake in reading the proofs.

The grand jury call was right. They are called for the first week, which is Jan. 20th. The second, third and fourth week of petit jurors were called respectively on the 3rd, 10th and 17th of Feb. The correct dates are: Second week petit jury: Jan. 27th; third week: Feb. 3rd; fourth week: Feb. 10th. This will officially end this term of District Court, instead of running until Feb. 17th, as published last week. We hope this is clear to jurors.

Newspaper Ads Are Preferred By Banks

Preliminary reports on a national survey just completed by the Financial Advertisers Association of Chicago indicate that newspapers are the preferred advertising media for banks in the United States and that 98 per cent of those surveyed continue to use the newspaper in 1936.

Direct mail advertising ranked second with 82 per cent and outdoor advertising placed third with 34 per cent.

About 27 per cent of the banks plan to increase their advertising appropriation for the coming year and a marked emphasis on institutional advertising was noted as 80 per cent of the banks indicated their intention of using this type during the year.

Sheriffs Get Man After Many Years

LUBBOCK, Jan. 7.—Sought 17 years for the slaying of a young woman school teacher in Bailey county, John Teal was in a Pendleton, Ore., jail last night.

Teal waived extradition to Texas to face a murder indictment in the fatal shooting. Sheriff's Tom Abel of Lubbock and Jim Cook of Muleshoe wired Deputy Sheriff Bedford F. Carpenter.

A 17-year-old indictment in the 64th district court in Muleshoe charges Teal with murdering Miss Evelyn Monts. Judge R. C. Joiner of Plainview will open a regular term of 64th court in Muleshoe early in May.

The Campbells Open The Farmers Cafe

Among the new business that have recently opened in the block just north of the north side of the square, is the Farmers Cafe, under the ownership and management of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Campbell. They are serving old time meals on the order one gets on the farm, and at a price they can afford.

They ask the farmers and others who have business in that section of town to drop in any time and try one of their home served meals. Note his ad in this issue also.

Mrs. Sylvan Tankersley received word late Wed. afternoon that her father had died. Mr. Burns lived in Rotan, and we understand heart failure was the cause of death. Mr. and Mrs. Tankersley left immediately.

South Plains Scouts To Meet in Lubbock

The date for the Annual Meeting of the South Plains Boy Scout Council has been set for Tuesday afternoon and evening, January 28th, at the Hilton Hotel, Lubbock. Over two hundred Scouters and friends from seventeen towns are expected to attend this meeting. The program in the afternoon calls for group sessions following brief reports by district chairmen and a report by the nominating committee. At 6:45 p. m. the Annual Banquet will be held in the Ballroom of the Hotel Hilton where new officers for 1936 will be installed and the presentation of special awards will be made.

Plans for the year 1936 Boy Scout program are to be presented at the meeting. A special feature in the form of a series of tableaux are to be given by the scouts during the banquet program in addition to special music and group singing. The speaker for the meeting has not been decided upon as yet.

The meeting is open to all scouters, friends, and others interested in Boy Scout work. Tickets for the banquet are available at the Scout office and everyone planning to attend is urged to make their reservations as soon as possible.

Looks For Continued Business Improvement

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 1.—Prospects for a continued improvement in business conditions are apparent as the new year starts, in the opinion of Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director and statistician in the Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas.

"The upward trend in general business activity which began in July has not yet been reversed, but during the past three weeks the rate of increase has slackened considerably, and there are indications that a temporary recession in industrial activity may occur early in the new year," Dr. Buechel pointed out. "Notwithstanding this possibility, the outlook for next spring and the entire year 1936 is distinctly promising. Such uncertainties as exist are mostly of political origin—the convening of Congress, and the tradition, unfounded though it may be, that a presidential election year is detrimental to business.

"Among the reasons for expecting a relatively good business year in 1936 are: The cumulative improvement in farm buying power; the probable cyclical upswing in construction, both residential and commercial, as well as in other durable goods industries; and the present tendency of many industrial concerns to launch programs of plant improvement with the view to lowering costs of production as evidenced by the sharp rise in activity in the machine tools industry. Although these constructive forces will, in part, be offset by growing taxes, a widening of profit margins should nevertheless result as industry attains more nearly its normal production stride."

We are glad to see Judge R. A. Simms up and about on the streets following his operation for appendicitis.

Editor J. A. Price of the County Wide News of Littlefield, has promised to make us a visit in the near future. Come on over "Jawn" and meet a good little burg.

We received literature this week from a firm up north that promised to make us three times as good public speaker as we are now. Even at that, we wouldn't set the woods afire with our oratory.

Jephtha Craig has leased the Texas Spur, and will edit and manage that paper now. This paper has been in the McClure family for the past 26 years, having started it about a year after the publisher of the Herald came to Brownfield.

The Dallas News issued a full 24 page edition on New Years day at Los Angeles with a Los Angeles date line being the same paper that was issued at Dallas on the same date. Mats of pages and wirephotos were used on the Los Angeles Times presses to put the edition over. Many eastern visitors were surprised to see a Dallas paper selling on the streets of the big Pacific coast city. The Texas Centennial was well played up in the issue.

We received a Saturday, Jan. 3 issue of the New York Sun this week by mail, which was designated the "Voice of Business Number." If we ever saw a paper full of inconsistencies, that edition carried the banner. On one page would be a big list of manufacturers and financiers that could see that the nation was fast recovering, and on the very next the New Deal would be knocked higher than a kite. Its whole 100 pages or more fed us the same sort of bull.

A writer in a recent issue of a Spur, Texas, paper tells us that it does not look good to him, nor set a pleasing example to the juveniles of the land to be faced with pictures of Santa Claus around the holidays in newspapers and magazines, with a cigarette between his lips. And that worse still, the writer goes on, some magazines showed a "old boy" in highly colored page ads with his favorite brand of whiskey, poised to take a "trap" of it. The Herald gets a college magazine every week that is printed less than 200 miles from Brownfield that carries ads occasionally of at least three of the leading brands of cigarettes. Everybody smokes but father, and he pulls his pipe of clay or cob.

Many expressions of approbation of the home paper have been heard during the subscription campaign just closed, several saying that the paper is the best paper they know of anywhere coming from towns anywhere near the size of McLean. The editor appreciates these bouquets, and our readers may rest assured that the home paper will justify their faith, just as long as the town is able to support a newspaper.—McLean News.

Such expressions are calculated to make a country editor swell up a bit, but just at the close of our recent subscription campaign we had one of another hue. It said: "I was promised if I took the paper that it would be much better than it had been. I certainly hope so." Anyway, we must take the bitter with the sweets, but up to that time we figured that we had been giving our readers an average country weekly.

Samuel Insull, who fleeced investors of the country out of millions of dollars, is going to attempt to stage a comeback. He has twice been acquitted of fraud in connection with the collapse of his utility companies. He was too smart, and our courts could not pin anything definitely on him. He is organizing a new radio broadcasting chain to be known as Affiliated Broadcasting Company, no doubt he will soon be offering the investing public stock in this company and they will buy it right and left. Why don't somebody raise the question of whether this organization is constitutional or not. It is being organized while the New Deal is in power and according to the way of thinking of a lot of smart alecks it is unconstitutional. But you, as an individual have only one thing to remember, and that is when some smart stock salesman approaches you to sell you some of Insull's stock or bonds in his new company, turn it down, brother turn it down.—Lockney Beacon.

We hope the plains booster is better. We refer to Andrew Jackson Stricklin, editor of the Terry County Herald. It seems he had the flu before the holidays and then went lame in a foot but he keeps his head enough to boost the south plains to the limit. Recently some Johnson County pecans were sent to him and that ought to put the booster on the top shelf. If they do not we have some other Johnson County products that will and we are not referring to anything made in the woodshed or in a clump of bushes over behind the hill. The best milk in the world, cornbread from the best corn in the land, sorghum molasses and hog meat and just a host of other stuff.—Johnson County News.

Your kindly offer is very good, dear "Neffie," and we would fain pulverize a bunch of backbones, sparrs, "kintry" sausage and what have you, but our doctor says, Nay! lay off big boy till those hoofs of yours cure up some. He said the same about sweets, red beans and speckled eyed peas—just vegetables—meaning spinach and such crap, and fruits, and today he jerked us off fruits. If we don't get to be a regular Popeye, we don't know our spinach. But our old hoofs are making fair progress, and in the near future we hope to be able to go to the table and eat like a normal human.

Blue and blue-black, we're told, are the favorites in the automobile color scheme for 1936. Let us hope there will be a greater dash of gray matter at the steering wheel.—Tyler Courier-Times.

TWO KINDS OF COURAGE

When you can take criticism that comes to you on the chin and act as if you like it, you have courage. Courage is the quality which enables man to stand still or go forward when everything within him is telling him to run the other way.

Don't be afraid if you fall short of your mark and have tried earnestly to do your best. There is always the future ahead, and plenty of time for more attempts. You are so much the better for trying. Your strength is renewed with each effort.

Moral courage is a type not nearly so often spoken of as physical courage. Honesty is the highest form of moral courage, and those possessing this virtue and the ability to carry it out to the nth degree, are truly great. The Father of Our Country once said: "I hope I shall always possess firmness and virtue enough to maintain what I consider the most enviable of all titles—The Character of an Honest Man." Of course, everyone cannot follow in the footsteps of the great career of George Washington, but if he found that "honesty is the best policy", as the old saying goes, it is certain that we will.

BEAUTIFICATION PROGRAM

Word has come to Mr. Baze that the Federal government has set aside $3000 for beautification of the local school campus. The Works Progress Administration was so well pleased with the outcome of the project just closed that it has urged that the school take advantage of a new project and an appropriation for a general program of beautification. In cooperation with Don King, Mr. Baze has outlined a program which will include the planting of almost twelve hundred shrubs and trees, the construction of curbs for flower beds, the building of a fountain and pool, a rose garden, and an additional tennis court. And what is more: It is whispered that Mr. Boston of the district office stated that the project should not cost the local school anything except supervision. The entire campus will be graded, leveled, and planted to grass, flowers and shrubs. A practice field for athletics is also included. With the completion of this project the local campus should be a beauty spot of this community. Many details are included that cannot be given at this time, although the first draft of a contour and landscape map have already been made.

PICTURE PROGRAM COMPLETE

In this issue appears the complete program for the entertainment pictures for the remainder of the year. Instead of offering five shows, the program calls for six more; making a total of seven. Many educational pictures will be included in the program for the classes in the different subjects.

ADDITIONAL AFFILIATION ASKED

Applications have been forwarded to the State Department of Education asking for accrediting in seven or eight new subjects for the high school. The Brownfield High School should hold many more credits than it now holds.

CUB COMMENT

Well, it is Leap Year, isn't it girls? Not that it means anything. While I was in town January 1, I noticed quite an amusing sight. A whole carfull of girls—a whole car full—mind you, sitting in a car downtown talking to one boy. I just wonder which one will get him. There isn't any doubt but that at least one will get him. Dear old Leap Year!!

It is a question on the part of everyone except those participating, why these spells cannot wait until one is at least 20 before they come. They should have at least five years of serious thought as that is probably all they will get in the rest of their life.

Well, we might as well face the facts. The holidays are over—no more until, maybe, George Washington's birthday away off in February. But look what comes before that. MID-TERM EXAMINATIONS!!!

You certainly do hear a lot of grumbling from the students about no exemptions. Take it easy, children, they won't hurt you much.

I'm very certain that some parents hate to see January come. Their light bill goes up!! The reason of course is that work that should have been done long ago is being done now.

The Juniors have big plans for presenting a one-act play contest in February. It will be a chance for some of our budding actors and actresses to show their stuff. It really ought to be worth the money though.

Intercollegiate League is approaching, so what are we going to do about it. Are we going to come in first? Naturally!

I like to see the football players wearing their sweaters. It shows how they appreciate them. Too, it shows what the school thinks of its football players, and I hope the school never fails to reward its players.

What a grand old world this would be if Truth and Honesty were as well advertised as cigarettes, chewing gum and laundry soap!!!!

THE PRAYER OF A FRESHMAN

I want to be a Senior, and with the Seniors stand.
 With a fountain pen behind my ear and a notebook in my hand.
 I wouldn't be a president, I wouldn't be a king;
 I wouldn't be an emperor for all that wealth could bring;
 I wouldn't be an angel, for angels have to sing;
 I'd rather be a Senior and never do a thing!

AFTER CHRISTMAS BLUES

Of all sad words
 Of tongue or pen
 The saddest are these:
 "I'm broke again."

PERSONAL ITEMS

Mr. Scott spent part of his holidays in Sherman.

Mr. Bost spent Christmas in Royce City.

Miss Wilson has been visiting in Tulsa.

Mrs. Teague spent three days in Oklahoma City during the holidays.

Miss Maize spent the holidays in Amarillo and Spearman.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Smith spent the holidays in Tulsa.

Mr. Baze spent the Christmas holidays in Abilene.

Martha Teague has returned to school after being absent because of the mumps.

Mrs. Parrish was in Lubbock during the holidays.

Mr. Trigg spent a few days in Brownwood.

WHO'S WHO

Who is the most popular boy since Christmas in B. H. S.?

Who is the football player who has suddenly gone high hat?

What teacher in B. H. S. has that million dollar personality?

What certain senior girl is so conceited that a doctor has to be called every time she lowers her head—because it is such a strain. Deah!

We understand Bill McGowan certainly enjoyed the vacation, eh Bill?

Who is the teacher that looks ten years younger since the vacation?

Who are the latest love birds?

Who are the girls that are sporting new rings? No, not class rings. What senior girl is back in circulation since she gave a certain class president the go by?
 What was the great attraction at the Meadow Tournament for the Bfd. boys?

JUST IMAGINE

Not coming back to school for a month; Not having examinations; Every student wearing a pleasing smile; The students of R. H. S. not gripping; The teachers not rushing the students to get ready for the next term; Some of the football boys not wearing their sweaters every day, rain or shine; Mattie Jo Gracey with dark skin and hair; Mary Helen Marchbanks as a blond; Clara Estes not running 'her legs off' getting news for the paper; Wanda Graham not working in English class; Sam Chisholm making a "D" in Geometry;

SENIOR PROJECT

The Seniors are attempting a plan which has not been tried in Brownfield High School recently. They will publish an annual of 1935-36. The plan will be carried out but it will take the cooperation of each member of the Senior class and every other class in high school.

This annual will be very attractively built. The Seniors will collect and assemble the material. It will be neatly done and a souvenir of which to be proud.

The Seniors not only wish these annuals to be distributed among the pupils of Brownfield High School but among the citizens of Brownfield as well.

CHEMISTRY

Oh, why can't we be friends, chemistry? I've tried so hard to like you but it's no use. Today you show me a likeable side of your character—Paints and Varnishes, Carbon Compounds, Plastics, The Clothes We Wear, Photography, and The Chemistry of Food. But, tomorrow just after we have decided to pledge a life-long friendship, you "pop" up with one of your worst traits—Chemical Arithmetic, Electricity as Applied to Chemistry, Metals and Alloys; and then I'm ready to give up hopes of ever being your friend. But what shall I do? If I resign myself to the fact that we just can't get along and call it "quits" then I'll lose my reputation for being friendly with all my subjects, English, chemistry, foods and history. Everybody will know about us, for I'll have to tell them when they discover my name is not on the honor roll. They'll know it's your fault that I'm off the high honor lists. Chemistry, how can I make you my friend for at least three more weeks?

PARDON US TEACHERS

Absence makes the heart grow fonder So they always say,
 That's why we always love our teachers best
 The days they are away.

Mr. Smith—"You are late again. Don't you use your alarm clock?"
 Charley—"Yes, but I no longer find it alarming."

J. D.—"Are you sure your folks know I'm coming home to dinner with you?"

Lucyle—"They ought to—they argued with me a whole hour over it."

Clara—"Did anyone ever tell you how wonderful you are?"
 Guy—"No, I don't think anyone ever did."

Clara—"Then I'd like to know where you got the idea."

Then there was the absent-minded professor who thought he had left his watch at home as he took it out of his pocket to see if he had time to go after it.

GUIDE POSTS ALONG THE ROAD OF LIFE

Luck seems to favor the man who doesn't count on it.

Flying off the handle suggests that you have a screw loose.

The victory of success is half won when one gains the habit of work.
 Doing the impossible is frequently done by an amateur because he does not know its impossible.

Every time one man puts a new idea across he finds ten men who thought of it before he did—but they only thought.

ATTEND TOURNAMENT

The Girls basketball team attended the Annual Meadow Girls Basketball Tournament Friday and Saturday, January 3 and 4.

Although our girls weren't very successful with victories, they did some real playing and showed fine spirit. Their first game was scheduled with Idalou, but Idalou forfeited the game so the Brownfield girls played an exhibition game with Meadow B and were defeated by one point. Their next game was with Shallowater and our girls took another defeat. This put them in Consolation where they played their final game with Post. The score was 12

Away back in 1911 when a state wide prohibition campaign was on full blast, the "Anties" published a cartoon portraying Old Lady Texas rocking a crying baby which was branded "Drug store, don't you cry, you'll be a barroom bye and bye." That prediction has not been entirely verified, but it has come so near it that we need not quibble about it. In the last thirty days hundreds of Drug stores have taken out medical licenses to sell intoxicants. In Dallas able attorneys have advised night clubs to take out his form of license, rather than call an election and undertake to legalize package sales. This condition of affairs was brought about by "pussy footing" in the legislature. The people voted by a large majority for repeal of state prohibition, but legislators were afraid to take a stand either way on it. The result was we have a law that is so vague that no one appears to really understand its provisions. If liquor just must be sold, perhaps the drugstore plan is the more logical way after all. At least the traffic can be controlled that way, for the board can revoke a druggist's permit at the discretion of the board. And it is unthinkable that a decent M. D. would issue a prescription to a drunkard.—Anton News.

O. D. Payton was in Monday to have his paper changed to Ropesville. He informed us that he had succeeded in landing one of the government experimental farms up there, and was well pleased with his deal. He not only works his 60 acres this year, but gets 60 additional acres to cultivate the first year.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Curry, aged 102, of Elmer, Okla., died Dec. 28th. The body was carried to Breckenridge, Texas, for burial.

Million Dollars to Move Old Wrecks

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 2.—Chevrolet Motor Company started the new year with a $1,000,000 cooperative plan to help move its dealers' stocks of used cars, and to retire unworthy vehicles from the highways of the country, it was announced here today by M. E. Coyle, president and general manager of the company.

Beginning on New Year's Day, and continuing throughout January, Mr. Coyle said, two important special activities run concurrently.

First: Chevrolet will pay to the dealer $20.00 for every old automobile (accepted in trade on a new or used car) that he disposes of by scrapping or junking.

Second: Chevrolet will pay a bonus to salesmen whose efforts enable their dealership to sell more used cars in January than it sold in the same month of 1935.

Announcement of the aggressive plan of promoting the sale of worthy used cars and ridding the market of unworthy ones that clog the sales channels of both used and new cars, reveals that Chevrolet, which during the last twelve months has vigorously attacked the used car merchandising problems of its dealers, intends to carry on through 1936 not only with the methods that have already proved successful, but with new and bolder plans.

"Dad, what part of speech is woman?"
"Woman ain't part of a speech, son. She's all of it."

"What do you mean by throwing out a lot of women's votes?" demanded the woman watcher at the polls.

"We haven't thrown out a single vote," answered the official. "What we did was to throw out a recipe for sponge-cake, two soap coupons, and three love letters."

LUBBOCK CLAIMS IT'S LIAR IS BEST

LUBBOCK, Jan. 2.—The man who won the Burlington, Wis., liars club contest is a piker.

So agreed a group of men in a courthouse office here this morning. One of them spun this yarn: A Lubbock dairyman was greatly perturbed because his record-breaking milk cow had fallen into a deep south plains well. All attempts to hoist her out had failed. So, in desperation, he let himself down into the well, began milking the cow. The faithful animal soon floated to the ground level and climbed out.

"TERRIBLE TURKS" STILL AT WAR

ISTANBUL, Jan. 2.—Turkey has discovered suddenly that she still is formally at war with the smallest republic in Europe.

A Turkish citizen was refused entry to San Marino because, it was stated, he is a subject of a belligerent power.

In World war days San Marino, a republic of 32 square miles in central Italy, declared war on Turkey simultaneously with Italy.

When peace treaties were negotiated San Marino was overlooked.

GOING RIGHT WHEN THINGS GO WRONG—When things go wrong, a list should be compiled of those enduring qualities with energy and power in them for the promotion of our welfare. Such a list would include unselfishness, courage, faith, hope, gratitude, justice, love, and good deeds. By the constant use of these ingredients, we will extend our borders, experience greater happiness in our homes and meet with more success in our business operations.—Vash Young, author of "Fortunes to Share", in the Rotarian Magazine.

HUPP MOTOR CORP. STOPS PRODUCTION

DETROIT, Jan. 1.—The Hupp Motor Car corp., one of the oldest in the industry, has suspended production, officials said today, because of inadequate working capital.

"It is a question of obtaining between $500,000 and $1,000,000 in capital to carry on, but the company will carry on," said Alex J. Groesbeck, attorney for the corporation. He said applications had been filed for a federal reserve bank loan and for permission to sell stock.

McCormack, internationally famous as a singer, who also is a supreme artist, will be accompanied on his broadcast by Vincent O'Brien, one of the voice teachers who gave him his first lessons when he was a small boy in Ireland years ago.

Cheer, Dismay Reaction to AAA Death

KANSAS CITY Jan. 6.—Cheers and cries of concern and dismay clashed tonight in the nation's reaction to the death of the AAA.

Farm leaders themselves differed—though from fiery Edward O. O'Neal president of the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation, came the defiant declaration: "This means a fight!"

There were some smiles among the frowns in the wheat and corn belts. Western stockmen generally voiced satisfaction. So, in the east, did many a textile chief.

In Georgia, Governor Eugene Tal-ridge—an implacable New Deal foe—termed the supreme court's adverse ruling a return to "sanity." Other southern leaders mourned.

In the wheat and corn country, Governor R. L. Cochran of Nebraska, a democrat called it "a crushing blow."

They said President Roosevelt smiled—yet he quickly summoned Secretary Wallace and Attorney General Cummings to consider a possible new plan. The two entered the White House tight-lipped.

NEW YEAR . . . NEW HABITS—Habits are Nature's way of relieving the brain of conscious effort in doing the hundreds of things we do each day "without thinking." They are a valuable device, and wouldn't be without them. But it's a good idea, once in a while, to check up on oneself, to see if careless habits of thinking, as well as doing, aren't at fault for what we've blamed on everything else.—From an editorial in the Rotarian Magazine.

OUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND, Director, Physical and Health Education, New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Summer Heat

Too many cautions cannot be printed against sunburn. No matter how much is said or written, no matter what one's past experience may have been, the majority of people show unreasonable haste in acquiring a sunburn. "I'm going to be tanned like an Indian," they say, forgetting that the Indian's red-brown skin is natural.

Children are in danger, because they don't know there is any danger. In the summer, they have all day for play. The release from school is tempting, with so many things to do. If parents aren't mindful and watching, the first day or two in the summer sun may bring a serious burn. Then a week of suffering, often confined to bed.

And it isn't always as simple as that. Burn from the sun is no different from any burn. It isn't confined to a sore skin. Poisons, or body toxins, are formed. The child may be feverish and nauseated. In attempting to throw off the poisons, the kidneys may be injured. Sometimes severe prostration results.

In all cases of sunburn, it is advisable to place a child in a physician's care. Wise treatment will prevent the complications. But the greatest wisdom is shown at the beginning. Take the sunburn gradually, a little each day. Give the skin a chance to tan painlessly.

Are you making your child's life a nightmare by insisting on regular promotion at school? Don't miss Dr. Ireland's next article.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Prove Your Angling Ability

TODAY'S Snapshot Guild is directed to all wives, husbands, daughters and sons who follow the great outdoor sport of fishing. What has fishing to do with amateur photography? Just this. The Chicago Izaak Walton League, according to news dispatches, has included in its curriculum, in the fishing school conducted in Wisconsin, a "course of truthfulness." War has been declared against the angler who persists in telling about the "big one that got away." The law of the Izaak Walton League of Chicago regarding this phase of the art of fishing is very brief and to the point. Here it is. "Get your fish, take his picture or keep quiet."

No one in particular is being accused of telling little white lies about the "whopper" that got away but Chicago's Izaak Walton League law should be recognized throughout the country. "The old adage about the cake might be revised to: "You can have your fish and eat it too" for although the fish may end its days in frying pan or broiler, a picture of it will live forever.

There is one thing to remember in taking snapshots on fishing trips. Just as you use different kinds of bait for catching various species of fish so you must vary your methods of taking snapshots under different lighting conditions.

Suppose, for instance, that you are deep sea fishing or out in the middle of a lake under the glare of a mid-July sun. One of your party gets that long-hoped-for jerk on his line. If you have one of the average folding cameras it should be ready for action with the diaphragm opening set at f.11 and the shutter speed set at 1/100 of a second. This setting of the diaphragm and shutter will serve two purposes. First—you will have the proper exposure and second—at 1/100 of a second you will stop the action as your lucky angler friend pulls the fish out of the water and into the boat.

If you have a box type camera use the second stop opening. In snapping the picture with this type of camera you will get the best results if you wait until the fish is safely in the boat and then snap the picture after the catch and when your subject is not in motion.

Let me caution you, however, against a common error. Don't forget to set your camera for distance if it is of the focusing type. If you have a fixed focus camera don't get closer to your subject than about eight feet unless you use a portrait attachment.

Now—suppose you are fishing on a river where the trees obstruct much of the light. Snapshooting under such conditions requires a different technique. Unless you have a camera with an f.6.3 lens or faster you had better forget about fast action pictures and confine your efforts to taking your subjects when not in rapid motion.

If you have a box type camera you should open it to a large stop and with the average folding camera open the diaphragm to f.8 or f.11 and set the shutter speed at 1/25 of a second. And remember—"Get your fish, take his picture or keep quiet."

WE DRIVERS

A Series of Brief Discussions on Driving, Dedicated to the Safety, Comfort and Pleasure of the Motoring Public. Prepared by General Motors

No. 7—SLIPPERY WEATHER

ICE AND SNOW always bring problems for drivers. These problems are the result of less friction. And that is interesting, because usually we are trying to reduce friction all we can. We use ball and roller bearings to overcome friction. We smooth and polish parts to reduce friction. We put oil in our cars to avoid friction. But we can't get along without friction, just the same.

For, after all, we couldn't start a car, we couldn't stop a car, we couldn't turn a corner if it weren't for friction. The friction between the road and our rubber tires is what gives us traction.

Most of the time we have plenty of traction. But in certain climates every year, Winter comes blowing and blustering down from the North, and the first thing we know he has spread ice and snow over our roads and our whole traction condition is changed.

But automobiles are pretty well prepared these days to meet any conditions. All we have to do is to adjust ourselves to these changed circumstances.

For instance, many skillful drivers start their cars in high gear on very slippery, icy streets. Ordinarily this would be a bad thing to do. But when our tires have to start us going on slippery ice or snow, starting in second or "high" is harmless and does help to avoid spinning wheels, side slipping and difficulty in getting under way. If you haven't tried this after stopping at intersections, you may be surprised to find out how much more quickly you get started again. Only remember to engage the clutch very slowly.

This business of starting in slippery weather can be quite a problem. But stopping is even more so. However, most good drivers agree on one method that they find quite satisfactory. First of all they begin to slow their cars down at quite a distance from where they want to stop. They press the brake lightly at first and release it almost at once. Then they press again and release quickly. By a series of brief, moderate brake actions, instead of one continuous pressure, they gradually reduce speed and can usually stop without skidding.

Many of the best drivers always make it a point not to disengage the clutch as soon as they apply their brakes, but to wait until the car has almost stopped. While this is their general practice, they say it is especially important on slippery roads, as they claim it reduces the chances of skidding. But if we use this method there is one thing we must look out for. We have to remember that on a slippery surface it is very easy to stall our engine by using our brakes when the clutch is still engaged.

Outside of starting and stopping, most winter skidding is at turns and curves. Many good drivers tell us that they trust every slippery curve or turn as though it were going to be a stop. In other words, they approach curves using the very same system of short, moderate brake actions. The result is that when they reach the curve they are going so slowly that they can actually give the engine a little gas and put some power in the wheels. With power turning the wheels, we are not so likely to skid.

After all, the main thing to do about driving in slippery weather is to go about walking in slippery weather. We are all pretty careful about that. The first thing most of us do when we go out on a slippery morning is to put out one foot cautiously and get the feel of the surface to see how careful we have to be. The best drivers we know do practically the same thing with their cars. The first thing they do after they get started, is to test the surface. They make sure that there are no cars too near, and then they gently apply the brakes. If they don't skid they resume speed and apply the brakes again—this time a little more firmly. In this way they determine the surface and know the degree of caution they must exercise to be safe. This seems like a very sensible idea.

PUBLIC ATTITUDE HELPS THE BANKS

Annual Bankers Convention
Says People Have Had Confidence Restored—Recommends Changed Government Policy

The restoration of public confidence in banking has put it in the position where it can function fully and vigorously in playing its full economic part in the progress of recovery, said the American Bankers Association in its annual convention resolutions.

"The passage of a generally constructive banking law in the Banking Act of 1935 has stabilized the banking situation and enabled bankers to devote undivided attention to the normal administration of their institutions in promoting the business and public welfare of their communities," the resolutions said.

"We feel that it is a particularly important feature of this law that it aims to create through the revision of the Federal Reserve Board a Supreme Court of Finance which, with the non-political appointment of exceptionally competent men, should constitute one of the greatest forward steps in building a sound banking and credit system for this country."

The Government in Banking

Another resolution said: "We particularly emphasize the desirability of the retirement of government from those fields of extending credits of various types which can be adequately served by privately owned institutions. We recognize that the exigencies of the now passing depression made necessary a large participation by government for a time in the task of meeting the public's emergency financial needs.

"Those conditions have been largely remedied and the obligation now rests upon the banks and other financial agencies to demonstrate to the people of this country that they are fully able and willing to meet all demands upon them for sound credit cooperation. It is our duty as bankers to facilitate in every effective way the retirement of government agencies from credit activities by promoting public understanding of the proper function of privately owned banking."

ACCURATE RECORDS

The keeping of accurate records constitutes an essential part of any successful business management, whether manufacturing, merchandising or farming. It is quite generally conceded that any good business concern keeps adequate records, and this procedure is equally important in the business of banking, declares the Bulletin of the American Bankers Association Agricultural Commission.

Expo's Manager

William A. Webb, above, of Dallas, was named general manager of the Texas Centennial Exposition, which opens in Dallas June 6, because of his long experience in handling rush construction jobs.

A veteran railroader, one of Mr. Webb's greatest accomplishments was rebuilding and remodeling the great South Australia government-operated railroad, a $70,000,000 project. He was recommended for the task, which he finished in 1931, by the U. S. Department of State.

WOULD PROTECT
BANKING FIELD
IN RURAL AREAS

NEW YORK. — Existing sound banks, especially the small banks in the rural districts which are serving their communities well, should be protected from any return of the over-banked local conditions caused by former lax chartering policies, which were mainly to blame for the unfavorable failure record of the past, says the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association. This is brought out in a report covering an investigation by the commission of bank failures and public policies in chartering banks.

"The Commission's study gives an impressive revelation of how great a part mistaken public policies in the chartering of banks played in creating the unsound banking structure which finally collapsed with the Bank Holiday in March 1933," Robert V. Fleming, president of the association, says in a foreword.

"Over-production of banks, literally by thousands, over many years in the face of insistent warnings not only from bankers and others who recognized the danger, but even more so from the mounting records of bank failures themselves, is clearly shown to have constituted as a whole one of the greatest single economic errors in the history of the nation."

A Recurrence Feared

He refers to fears of a recurrence of over-banking recently expressed by Federal banking authorities, to the powers given the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation by the provision of the Banking Act of 1935 over the admission of banks to membership in the insurance fund, to strengthened state laws and to the policies now being followed by both national and state supervisory authorities aimed to safeguard the nation against over-banking.

"But sound laws and conscientious officials are not of themselves always sufficient safeguard in any field of our complex national life unless they have the active support of public opinion," he adds. "It is the purpose of the American Bankers Association to aid in marshaling public opinion in support of both national and state supervisory authorities in their efforts to strengthen and protect the banking structure."

The Economic Policy Commission summarizes its findings in part as follows:

"The facts show a distinct causal relationship between the over-chartering of banks and the abnormal bank failure conditions that prevailed from 1920 to the bank holiday in 1933. It is desirable that studies be made on the basis of experience to develop standards governing the number of banks or the volume of bank capital which can be successfully operated.

"Such a study would embrace the question whether banking facilities can best be supplied to the rural districts by small unit banks or by branches from banks of substantial capital in larger centers. Existing sound banks, which are serving their communities well should be protected from any return of the over-banked local conditions caused in the past by lax chartering policies.

Banking Officials Queried

"An inquiry among state bank commissioners shows a preponderant opinion against increasing materially the number of banks, coupled with the fact that present laws give them sufficient discretion to prevent a repetition of the grave errors of the past.

"Under prevailing abnormal conditions, with the Federal Government extensively exercising loaning powers in competition with the banks, and with industry itself so largely supplied with funds as to render it to a great degree independent of normal bank borrowing, the banking structure even with its present reduced numbers, finds it difficult to support its existing capital investment and operating personnel.

"These are new factors, intensifying the need for highly prudent and restrictive chartering policies. We urge the retirement of the Federal Government from the banking business as rapidly as the return of normal business conditions warrant."

Southwest Empire's Fete of Independence to Center in Dallas

Dallas, Texas.—In 1936 the State of Texas will celebrate the passage of a century since her pioneer settlers won freedom from Mexican rule and established the Republic of Texas, which later became a state.

Throughout the Lone Star State there will be celebrations at places of historic and patriotic interest. The cities and towns which were battle scenes in the Texas Revolution, and communities founded during the exploration and colonization preceding the Republic, will commemorate progress of the only state that existed as an independent republic, prior to its entrance to the Union.

Under the six flags that have flown over Texas soil—those of France, Spain, Mexico, Republic of Texas, the Confederacy and the United States—since 1519, there has been written by men and women, in thought and action, a saga that is truly mighty.

Highlights of the gala and festive celebrations of the Centennial will be an event that is in its own right an historic one. It is the Texas Centennial Exposition to open in Dallas on June 6 and continue until November 29.

The Texas celebration represents an investment of more than $20,000,000. The City of Dallas pledged $8,000,000 in cash and property and the $1,000,000 plant of the State Fair of Texas, located within her city limits, will be used as the Exposition grounds. Dallas also pledged $5,500,000 in cash for building her share of the enterprise, $2,500,000 of which was raised by a municipal bond issue and $2,000,000 bonds sold by the Texas Centennial Central Exposition Corporation, comprised of Dallas citizens.

The Texas Legislature appropriated $3,000,000 and the United States Government a like sum.

The Dallas Exposition grounds consist of approximately 200 acres. Exposition buildings and their cost follow:

- Texas Hall of State, $1,200,000; Hall of Fine Arts, $550,000; Hall of Varied Industries, Electricity and Communications, $440,000; Hall of Transportation, $440,000; Hall of Livestock and Animal Husbandry, $300,000; United States Building, $325,000; Hall of Natural History, $250,000; Rural Boys' and Girls' Dormitory, $250,000; Hall of Foods and Beverages, $230,000; Hall of Aquatic Life, $180,000; Hall of Agriculture, $170,000; Hall of Domestic Arts, $75,000; Hall of Horticulture, $75,000; Band Shell and Pavilion, $50,000; Hall of Negro Life and Culture, $50,000; Radio, Police, Fire Station, Texas Ranger Headquarters and Hospital, $40,000.

Cost of landscaping and paving is estimated at $675,000. In addition, a half-million dollars worth of utility equipment and $350,000 in electrical equipment will be installed.

A million dollar sports plant will enable the Exposition to handle sporting events of all kinds. The grounds already have a $400,000 stadium seating 40,000 people, a horse race track and grandstand costing $300,000, and indoor boxing and wrestling arena costing $100,000 and seating 6,000 persons, a polo field, straightaway and oval running tracks and tracks suitable for automobile or motorcycle races. A standard-sized swimming pool will be constructed for aquatic events.

Main entrance of the Exposition grounds will face the Esplanade of State, 300x1,000 feet, leading to the Texas Hall of State. The esplanade's center will be a reflecting basin 200x700 feet with concealed lighting effects flashing from the pool to adjacent buildings.

The Texas Hall of State, built of native granite, will be 488x258 feet. An 80-foot high center will house the Niche of Heroes, dedicated to illustrious figures of Texas history. The front wings will be devoted to regional rooms, a replica of a Texas mission representing the Hall of 1936. An auditorium in the basement will be used for convention purposes.

Conference on Banking

NEW YORK. — An eastern states conference on banking service will be held by the American Bankers Association in Philadelphia January 23 and 24 as a part of the organization's nationwide program of banking development, it has been announced.

Robert V. Fleming, president of the association, will preside over the meetings. It is stated that this conference will be the first of several to be held in various parts of the country presenting a program the details of which are now in the course of preparation.

The general topic of the conference will embrace the managerial, legislative and operative problems confronted by all classes of banks. An outstanding phase of the meetings will be the development of plans for promoting a general better public understanding in regard to bank functions and policies.

We are requested to announce that there will be a box supper at Forrester school house, tonight (Friday).

M. C. Ammons was in first Monday with his trading clothes on, but failed to strike a deal with the editor.

J. L. Cruce is having a concrete foundation put under his residence, and the whole building stuccoed.

Are the Big Boys Really Afraid?

We are just a little fish in a pond but never the less we have eyes to see and ears to hear and we try to keep them both open.

Certain anti-administration writers express themselves thus and so: Conditions are better—Conditions will continue to improve—and would improve by leaps and bounds—IF—big business were not afraid. Ha, that makes us laugh. Afraid of the administration that took them out of chaos and placed them in a going position. Took them out of the RED and put them where they could and are paying handsome dividends. Took them out of bankruptcy and brought them safely into unexpected and we might add undeserved prosperity, and still they cry, "We are afraid." Afraid are they? Poor little, sissie, sappy, spineless, rickety, rank ingrates. You are not afraid. You are just short of gratitude. Short of guts, shor on charity, short on brotherly love, short on manhood, and everything else that goes to make you claim what you are but what you never were, and never hope to be.

If you had the brains of an infant, you would know that there has been a revolution. The old bunch is not only down but they are out. They failed the country in the time of need and a new bunch rose up and took things over. It is a new day as well as a new deal. The roosts have been cleaned and most of the old buzzards are dead or have their feet well in the grave. A new leadership has arisen, and while the old die hard, they are dying, and their croaking and gasping is as vain as the hiss of a dying goose.

No you are not afraid. You just think you can get by with it by saying "I'm afraid." Your goose is cooked. You know your day is done. You have already shaken hands with death, why don't you show just one little redeeming spark of manhood and quit stinking.

Would you insult us little fish by telling us that a country that has made and sold two and one half million automobiles within the last 12 months, has gone to the dogs? Would you tell us that a country that has made and sold three and one half million radios within the past twelve months has gone to the dogs? Would you tell us that a country that has one half of the gold of the world (better than 10 billion dollars) stored in her treasury vaults, has gone to the dogs? Would you have us believe that a country that has gone for twelve months without a bank failure of even noticeable importance has gone to the dogs? You might want us to believe it, but we do not and will not.

The trouble with these sharks is they have had their teeth extracted. They can't bite any more, all they can do is to mouth. The people—yes the people—know this country is all right.

The people are the government once more, at least where once the sharks and the buzzards were the government. Folks, don't let their dying groans disturb you. Don't feel sorry for them, don't even turn and look their way when you hear their weeping and wailing. Their passing heralds the coming of better days and better times for the little fish in the little ponds.—Jayton Chronicle.

Voters Must Have Poll Tax Exemptions

Following is the text of a law passed by the 44th Legislature in regard to poll tax exemptions same requiring those over the age limit and those just coming of age, to acquire the exemption before they are eligible to vote:

"Article 2968-A as passed by the 44th Legislature which adjourned on May 11, 1935:

"Every person who does not reside in a city of 10,000 inhabitants or more, and who is exempt from a payment of poll tax by reason of the fact that he or she has not reached the age of 21 years on the first day of January preceding its levy or who is exempted from payment of poll tax because he or she was not a resident of the State on the 1st of Jan. preceding its levy, but who shall have since become eligible to vote by length of residence or age, shall, on or before the 31st day of January of the year in which he or she offers to vote obtain from the assessor and collector of taxes for the County of his or her residence, a certificate of exemption from the payment of poll tax, and no such person who has failed or refused to obtain such certificate of exemption from the payment of a poll tax shall be allowed to vote.

"No charge shall be made by the Tax Assessor and Collector for the issuance of certificate of exemption as prescribed by this act."

GAIL BORDEN, NAMESAKE OF BORDEN COUNTY WAS A GREAT TEXAN

Through his dual contribution to Texas and humanity the name of Gail Borden stands out in the annals of history. The man after whom the county of Borden and its county seat, Gail, were named, was born November 9, 1801. A timely significance may be attached to the memory of this hero because of the approaching Texas Centennial.

It was Gail Borden who founded one of Texas' first official newspapers, "The Telegraph and Texas Land Register," published at San Felipe in March, 1835. Prompted by the rising spirit of revolt, Borden issued his first paper and immediately became the voice of the people. In what was probably the first "extra," he published the war proclamation of September 9, 1835. Loyal Texans responded and thus began the Texas revolution.

It was also the printing press of Gail Borden that broadcast the tragic appeal of Travis from the Alamo and later gave to the colonists their first copies of the Declaration of Independence. Despite the fact that the original press was destroyed by Santa Anna, Borden secured another. Today the files of his newspaper furnish the earliest annals of the new-born republic.

While serving as land commissioner, Gail Borden realized the hardships of families who had begun to migrate throughout Texas and it was he who discovered "concentrated food," first known as the "meat biscuit." Later he perfected his "condensed milk" and in 1857 founded The Borden Co. Gail Borden served his fellowman as a statesman and a benefactor to mankind.

TAXES AND MORE TAXES

As the curtain of 1935 is nearing the floor let's take a retrospective view of the finances of our State Government. On January 1, 1935, the deficit in the General and Pension Funds was $14,197,781. On December 14, 1935, the deficit was $17,174,905.

On January 1, 1935, there was no Old Age Pension debt, but on Dec. 31, 1935, there will be a $25,000,000 one, and no money to pay it with, hence the deficit on December 31, 1935, will be more than $42,000,000.

As to the salary bill for county officials the law passed by the last legislature will likely cost approximately $2,000,000 more than under the law that was repealed. In short, can and will the people endure a continuation of such extravagance in 1936 and succeeding years as has characterized 1935.—Texas Tax Journal.

A card was received Wed. to the effect that Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hudgens arrived in Temple, Sunday, having stood the trip fine, and were busy going through the clinic at Scott & White sanitarium. They expected to get through and get a report by Wed.

PITY HIS RETURN

The SNAPSHOT GUILD HOME LIFE

Family gatherings offer unusual opportunities for story-telling pictures.

A READER of the Snapshot Guild sent in the above picture as an example of what can be done by an amateur photographer with an inexpensive camera.

Photographically it is an excellent picture and this Guild member is to be congratulated on his work.

To the Snapshot Guild, however, this picture represents much more than an example of good photography. It tells a real story. As we visualize the story behind this picture it takes us into the homes of thousands of typical American family groups gathered at the home of parents for the day or evening.

It is just such pictures that add interest and value to your snapshot collection and every year, as the children "grow up," you will cherish such snapshots more and more. Record pictures, such as scenes, buildings, monuments and other places of interest you snap in your travels are important and interesting, but don't overlook the innumerable opportunities for intimate, story-telling pictures of the family.

With present day film and Photoflash or Photoflood bulbs you can take indoor pictures with any camera equipped for "time" exposure. The picture above was taken with an ordinary camera with the aid of a No. 20 Photoflash bulb.

Here is what you do. Place your camera on a tripod, table or something solid so that there will be no movement of the camera when the picture is taken. Locate your subjects, or group in the finder. At arm's length to the side of your camera place an ordinary floor lamp; to get full efficiency from the light, remove the shade and hold a white card or a pillow case in back of it to serve as a reflector. If in a group picture of this kind you find that the distance at which the Photoflash will be placed is about 10 feet from the group use stop 1:11 with an anastigmat lens or No. 1 stop on single lens camera or box cameras. With double lenses not of the anastigmat type, use the largest stop. With the current in the lamp turned off replace the home bulb with the Photoflash bulb. Set your camera for a time exposure; open the shutter and instantly "turn on" the Photoflash bulb which you have placed in the floor lamp. There will be a vivid, instantaneous flash of light. Immediately after this flash close the shutter of your camera and you have your picture.

If you prefer you can take a snapshot of such a group, providing you have a camera with an f.6.3 lens or faster, using Photoflood bulbs. It will be necessary to employ two floor lamps; place one lamp about 5 feet in front and a little to the right of your subjects; place lamp number two about six feet to the front and left of the group. Tilt the shades on the lamps so that the light is cast over the entire group. Place two Photoflood bulbs in the lamp to the left and one or two in the one to the right. Be sure to use super-sensitive panchromatic film for best results for snapshots with this kind of a set-up. With film slower than super-sensitive short time exposures can be made with Photoflood bulbs.

Set the diaphragm at f.6.3 and the shutter speed at 1/25 of a second; turn on your Photoflood lamps and snap—you have made a snapshot at night indoors.

When shades on home lamps cannot be tilted or are of a kind that does not permit directing the light on the subject, remove the shade. In such cases, some kind of reflector back of the lights will throw considerably more light forward.

Don't forget these important pictures around the home. Get some Photoflash or Photoflood bulbs (they can be purchased in almost any store where they sell photographic supplies), load your camera with super-sensitive panchromatic film and take a few snapshots at night indoors. It's a lot of fun.

HOW ABOUT IT?

It is a shame that the Lindberghs have been forced to flee from their own country because they have been hounded by criminals and cranks. And it is a disgrace that our laws are so loose that any criminal with the necessary funds can hire a lawyer who will find the loophole which will save him from jail, the chair or the noose.

It is not within our province to pass judgment on Hauptmann. But we do feel that the newspapers of the country ought to do something about the criminals and aliens who are running footloose in every community and taking everything into their own hands because they feel that "the world owes them a living."

If our sentimental editors and politicians had not shirked from the duty of demanding a law to fingerprint all citizens and to register all aliens in this country, perhaps Hauptmann would never have set his foot on this soil.

But no. We are a big-hearted people. We do not want to hamper anybody's liberty. We would not dare to compromise the freedom of the press, speech and person by tagging everyone who crosses our borders. Rather we would suffer our country to become a harbor of refuge for every cut-throat and radical than have anyone accuse us of interfering with his liberty.

In almost every country in the world but our own, aliens are tagged from the day they enter. Why not here? Because we have a few millions of them who have entered illegally and who have sisters and cousins and aunts who mean votes to the politician and circulation to the newspaper.

If every citizen in the country were fingerprinted and every alien registered at least we would know where the tragedy occurs and then yell hell-fire and brimstone.

We have criminals aliens and radicals within our borders who should be deported; we have criminals within our own ranks who should be rounded up and clanked into jail until judgment day; we have politicians who should be tarred and feathered for their passive attitude toward the crime menace in this country and we have editors who ought to be driven out of their profession for their refusal to arouse the citizenry to the need of greater protection for the home.

But will they? We doubt it. For the past two years Newsdom has been urging the press of the country to start a drive on criminals and troublesome aliens in this country. So far, nothing has been done.

Perhaps the sad spectacle of the Lindberghs aboard a small ship on the high seas in mid-winter will rouse the press to action.—Newsdom.

District Attorney Truett Smith was in to see us this week and had his name added to our announcement column.

GOOD OLD DAYS

The next time you hear some one sighing for "Those good old days" give him the horse laugh.

Good old days, What? When we got up before daylight, winter and summer and worked all day, 12 to 18 hours for four bits, fifty cents, and did it on cornbread, sorghum molasses, whipperwill beans and hog jowls. Wore brogan shoes or went barefoot, chewed or smoked home spun tobacco, drank hard cider or corn liquor, died with the belly ache and went to our graves in a home made box without flowers.

Good old days—Ha! When mother made her own soap from ashes, washed on a wooden wash board, used barrels cut in two for tubs, used her hands for a clothes wringer. Her best dress was made from 5c calico, and her best hat was a sun bonnet which she wore to church on Sunday and thought she was dressed up.

Good old days—Yes? When sister's prize possession was a small piece of red ribbon and a pair of white cotton stockings.

Good old days—Phooey to you. No picture shows, no automobiles, no radios, no tailor made cigarettes, no prescription whiskey, no daily papers, no washing machines, no electric cook stoves, no telephones, no silk hose, no silk underwear, no cute little dinky hats to place over one eye or ear and look saucy as you went down the street, no not even lip stick or finger nail polish no permanents no hair sets, no necking parties no basketball, no swimming parties, not even a can opener. No appendicitis with sensational operations, and sanitariums and pretty nurses and big hospital bills. Just slave and save and die and be forgotten.

Thank God those good old days are gone—for in truth they were hellenblazes.—Jayton Chronicle.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

Well, we see now by the issue of Jan. 10, 1913, why we missed an issue on Jan. 3, 1913. We knew that we aimed to miss the issue of December 27, 1912, but was not supposed to miss two issues in a row. Well, as stated in the 10th issue, the Old Grippe—we call it Flu now, got both the editor and Mrs. Editor down. But we stated that we had lots of fine neighbors, and fared as well as could be expected under the circumstances and were not taking another week sobering, as some might suspect. During the Christmas week, Homer Scott and family and the editor and wife had made a trip to Tahoka from the Scott farm 8 miles east of town in a closed surrey. There was about 4 inches of snow on the ground when we started and snowed heavy on us all the way to Tahoka. We found plenty Santa Claus in the express office at the depot sent to us from Kansas City. We also landed several advertising contracts from Tahoka merchants for 1913. M. V. Brownfield had gone to Austin at the instance of the school land owners of Terry county to try and get a reduction on the price at which it was bid in. The legislature was in session. The road east and west across the county was in pretty good shape, or what was thought to be good shape in those

"good old days." Work on the Santa Fe's Texico-Coleman Cutoff between Lubbock and Clovis was progressing nicely. The first train into Littlefield was to be a homeseekers excursion, at which time 70,000 acres of the famous Yellow House ranch belonging to Major Geo. W. Littlefield of Austin was to be cut up and sold as farms. Well well, well, we were even talking about drunken car drivers back in good old 1913. In answer to a Snap Shot in the Dallas News asking what had become of the old time anti-prohibitionist who spent Christmas on his way home falling off his mule, we answered: "He is still here, but buys his booze in Kansas City; comes home after dark and hides it under the chicken roost, but he can still be detected by both sight and smell. But instead of riding a mule, he may have on goggles and in a BIG CAR, if you have time to look for dodging." At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Broughton, Miss Gay Stella Broughton became the wife of Edward Moore on Christmas afternoon. J. W. Black had sold about 70 turkeys from his farm 8 miles east of town on the Tahoka market for about $100. That would be considered very little these days. W. A. Pyeatt and daughter, Bit, and son Dube were here from Waco, visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. Ray Brownfield. The first quarterly conference of the Methodist church was to be held here on the 13th and 14th by Presiding Elder Terry of Big Spring; also at Gomez. Quite a few parties and dances during Christmas week. Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Kershner were here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Randal. Miss Webb Hargett who was teaching at Tahoka, was over for the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Hargett. Jim Burnett had moved to the Banowsky place west of town. Mrs. Will Belcher of Plains, was visiting her cousin, Mrs. Ray Brownfield. Uncle Dave Benton of Emma, was visiting his daughter, Mrs. Banowsky. J. W. Harper and family had moved to El Paso. Lee Almon was making some repairs on the Arthur Beard home at the Miles ranch. Henry Pulliam and family had moved back to Brownfield after a year at Beuna Vista, Miss. Gus Farrar was down from Canyon for the holidays.

Cortez McDaniel was home from Brittan training school at Cisco, Texas. Brit Clare had purchased 12 young mules near Plains. Mr. Percy Spencer local attorney, and Miss Gaster Randal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Randal married Christmas Eve at 7:30. Gomez Items: A fine Christmas tree was enjoyed by the community. There were many parties and other entertaining features during the holidays. Mrs. Surginer and children of Floydada, were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Snodgrass. Robert Hurst of Lubbock was visiting his brother, Ben and wife. Mr. Green had moved to the old Dove ranch farm. A. P. Seitz had moved from Lubbock back to his Terry county farm. Harris News: Miss Nora Wolfarth was visiting in Oklahoma. Many were butchering their meat hogs. Big snow fell Saturday and Sunday. All for this week.

W. H. Howard was in from the farm north of the city, Monday, and dropped in to renew.

Texas Crops

Heavy rains falling in Texas recently have made unfavorable crop conditions in some counties, especially Harris County, where the damage is estimated at $200,000 to crops and livestock ranges. However rainfall distribution in other sections has been such that a sufficient moisture content is assured for spring crops—the best prospect from a moisture standpoint in several years.

The 1935 cotton crop for Texas is set at 3,050,000 bales, compared to 2,406,000 in 1934, with an average lint production per acre of 138 lbs. as against 112 in 1934.

The base area for Texas rice has been set at 161,452 acres with a production of 2,256,155 barrels of 162 pounds to the barrel.

Texas farmers this fall planted 4,648,000 acres of wheat, compared with 4,469,000 acres last year and a five-year average of 4,377,000. Drilling was in progress as late as December 15. Conditions range from fair to good. Wheat pasturage is increasing in the North Plains section.

With one of the largest pecan crops in history on hand, many thousands of pounds of these nuts are being stored in the grower's hope of securing a government loan of 8 cents per pound. A pecan export plan is being worked out for shipments abroad to strengthen the domestic market. Efforts are being made for developing new uses for pecan oil and pecan meal.

The peak of turkey shipments passed at Christmas time. This season's shipments were better than the average in condition, with total weights and tonnage about on a par with those of 1934.

Texas cattle ranges, generally, are in excellent condition, being about 85 per cent of normal as compared to 52 per cent of normal a year ago.

Pasturage conditions are better than they have been since 1926. It is apparent that there will be ample feed to carry stock through the winter. Conditions are almost ideal in the sheep and goat regions, as well as in cattle regions. The peak of cattle, sheep and lamb shipments has passed.

BANNER YEAR FOR PLAINS

The new year on the South Plains was ushered in with a maximum of chances for a banner year in many lines; business men are more hopeful than for several years as to their outlook while the farmer sees a chance for greater production due to a better season in the ground.

In Lubbock particularly there is a sound basis for greater business this new year. There will be more changes of locations by business concerns in January and February than at any one time in recent years. New firms are locating here, with rumors of several others who seek a chance to establish themselves in this section.

One of the largest retail merchandising firms in the nation is opening a store here; two or three other large concerns plan to move in.

Not only that, but there are heard rumors, talks, etc., of more home building. One of the pioneer professional men of the area is reported as planning a home in the edge of the city that will be a "real place" in which to live. Others are said to be seriously considering erecting new homes.

Last year's record of 28 new residences should be exceeded two or three times. Repairs to the 97 homes last year should be duplicated in 1936 by at least 300 others; the work if done this year will mean a saving to property owners as well as a means of supplying men with necessities of life.

With agriculture the chief source of income for this area, plants to use the raw products for manufacture of the finished product, should be built. Several could be located in Lubbock, to say nothing of other towns over this section.

What has been said about Lubbock's new business concerns and building program can be said of every town from Tulia to Ackerly and from Spur and Paducah to the New Mexico state line. There is not a single town or community in the entire trade territory that does not need several new business buildings, half a dozen to a dozen or more residences and repairs to many present structures.

Some towns need more than others; several towns, particularly Brownfield and Littlefield, that have been building right along during the past four or five years, are likewise needing new structures.

Levelland, Morton, Seagraves, Seminole, Tahoka, Lamesa, Anton, Amherst, Sudan, Muleshoe, O'Donnell, Crosbyton, Ralls, Abernathy, Lorenzo, Idalou, Post, Spur, Dickens, Hale Center, Olton, Shallowater, Petersburg, Lockney, Floydada, Snyder and other towns are not overbuilt, either in a business way or in a residential way.

Even the inland towns, gin points and cross road locations, are in the market for some improvements.—Lubbock Avalanche.

TIME FOR PITILESS REALISM

When a leading newspaper of a large city announced, a few weeks ago, that four of its residents were to be killed outright before New Year's Day, readers were jogged out of their complacency to read further. They discovered that the four citizens "marked for death" were to meet their end in a horrible form—on the highway.

The news writer had been on the "beat" that included the morgue. He was sickened by what he had seen. He had visited hospitals, and had witnessed the slow suffering of the maimed. He had been to the homes of victims, had heard piteous tales of children left without a father or mother, or compelled to look after themselves as well as the injured member of the family. The reporter wrote simply, but factually. He predicted from the statistics of what had happened that four more persons were to be killed in motor accidents—and he guessed with a deadly accuracy.

"Safety First" has been dinned into the public ear so long that it has lost much of the effectiveness it once had. But stories of almost revolting realism, such as AND SUDDEN DEATH which appeared originally in "Readers Digest," short circuit the route between comprehension and action. Scaring people to make them drive safely is justified by a mounting accident toll wherever automobiles are known. In the United States, for example, more persons lost their lives on highways in the past 18 months than were killed in battle during the similar period when that country was engaged in the World War.

A suggestion to the civic, service, and women's clubs: Why not a cold-blooded program, "Accident Prevention in Our Community," with the doctor, the undertaker, and chief of police telling what they know of the subject in realistic word pictures drawn from their own experience?—From an editorial in The Rotarian Magazine.

LYNCHING IN 1935.

The annual report on lynching in the United States, made by the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, Tuskegee, Ala., contains in its round figures little encouragement for the hope that this crime is on the way out. The number of persons lynched in 1935 was 20, which is five more than in 1934, and 12 more than in 1932, although eight fewer than in 1933.

But in the figures for prevented lynchings there is much encouragement for the belief that the crime can be suppressed by determined action of peace officers. There were 53 instances in which officers of the law prevented lynchings—in 42 cases by removal of the prisoners or augmentation of prison guards so as to overawe the mob, and in 11 instances by armed force employed to repel attack by a mob. A total of 84 persons, 1 white, were thus saved from death at the hands of mobs. Nine of the instances of prevention of mobs occurred in Northern and Western States, and 44 in Southern States.

Lynching in Texas in 1935 was confined to the hanging by a mob of two negroes accused of a particularly atrocious murder of a young woman in South Texas, in which, it has been pointed out, the prospective inadequacy of legal punishment of the murderers, due to operation of the State's juvenile courts law, was a factor in infuriating the community.—Star Telegram.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
CLOUDS AND FILTERS

If it's clouds you want in your next picture a filter will capture them.

LAST week the Snapshot Guild received a letter from a reader who lives in the country. She wrote in part: "At this time of year the clouds are simply beautiful and often when their formations are unusually attractive I take many snapshots hoping they will register and give a rather true picture of the beautiful scene. I have been somewhat disappointed in the results, however, for these beautiful, soft, white clouds have not appeared in the picture as true to nature as I had hoped for."

Clouds do add to the beauty of any outdoor picture but it is true that they do not always register through the lens of the camera as they appear to the eye.

Suppose we are taking a picture such as the one above and use a film which is sensitive only to ultra-violet, violet and blue light. We should not be able to distinguish between the clouds and sky if we give enough exposure to show detail in the landscape. This is because the light from the blue sky and the white clouds is very rich in light rays to which the film responds.

Although clouds and blue sky are both rich in ultra-violet, violet and blue, there is a marked difference between the two. The light from the clouds, being white, actually contains a certain amount of green and red light, while that from the blue sky does not.

This, then makes it necessary to distinguish between clouds and sky in order to record both in a snapshot. We must, therefore, use a filter which will respond to green, or to green and red light, and also put over the lens a filter which holds back the ultra-violet and blue. The green or green and red light from the clouds will thus effect the film, while practically no light from the sky will get through to it, and in the finished print, the clouds will appear whiter than the sky.

Some film is slightly sensitive to green light but supersensitive panchromatic films will respond to both green and red light. Such films will, therefore, show up the clouds against the sky if used with a yellow filter. The deeper the yellow color in the filter the more violet and blue it removes, or "holds back."

As you will no doubt surmise, there are various types of filters and each type has its limitations so in choosing a filter you must make your own decision, based on your general requirements. A good general all-round filter is the K-2 which requires lengthening the exposure two to four times, depending on the film employed.

There is also a filter known as a Sky Filter used extensively by the amateur to photograph clouds in a landscape with no increase in exposure time. Half of this filter is yellow and the other half clear. This filter can be used without increasing the exposure because the sky is photographed through the yellow part, while the landscape, or general subject is photographed through the lower half, which is not colored.

If it's clouds you want a filter will prove invaluable.

CHARACTER STUDIES

With a selftimer on your camera, you can make "character" snapshots of yourself.

DID you ever stop to think that all of us have had a desire at some time to be a stage or screen star? Deny it or not it is still true that we like to see ourselves in pictures—although it may be just a snapshot.

Way down deep in everybody's nature is that feeling that we have certain points of similarity to some noted actor or actress. Then too there are certain facial expressions that we have cultivated which seem always to amuse our friends.

Now if you want to convince yourself of your ability—or failure—as a comedian or a tragedian you can do so quite effectively with your own camera. Put yourself in pictures.

Few properties are needed for these personal, informal character snapshots. Special costumes are not always necessary, for in many instances it will be the facial expression that tells the story. In the two pictures shown here, however, the costume plays a rather important part. A burnt cork, sharpened to a point, will help accentuate the features of the character you wish to portray.

You may find it difficult to hold a certain expression for more than a few seconds so have your cameraman have his camera properly focused, and ready to shoot before you "go into character."

Suppose that you want to experiment with the idea by yourself. You can take your own picture. How? Use a self timer. A self timer is an inexpensive gadget that fits over the end of the button on the cable release of a folding camera. It is adjustable so that you can set it to give you as much as 30 seconds to take your position before your camera and contour your face into character and then—zip—and you have your picture. Some camera shutters have a built-in self timer so if you have one of these models and haven't used this feature now's your chance.

These snaps can be taken outdoors or indoors by well lighted windows or at night with two or three floodlight lamps. With floodlight lamps, however, it will be necessary to use a camera with an f.6.3 or faster lens. The shutter speed in this instance should be set at 1/25 second. Set the diaphragm at f.6.3.

You will find this type of snapshotting a lot of fun and it will help you while away many hours during the cold winter days and nights when outdoor activities are none too pleasant.

Spinal Meningitis Not Yet Alarming

AUSTIN, Texas.—A definite increase in the number of cases of epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis has been noted in Texas, according to Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer. While the number of these cases is not alarming as yet, preventive measures should be followed.

The best method of escaping this disease is the prevention of overcrowding either at home or in public. Overcrowded conditions in camps, barracks, jails, or other institutions where men are brought in close contact are most favorable for outbreaks. Children and old people are more susceptible than those of middle age, and Negroes contract meningitis more frequently than whites.

Persons with colds and coughs should stay indoors if possible, should practice personal hygiene and cough into their handkerchiefs.

The early symptoms of meningitis are those of a cold or influenza. If one has headache, backache, fever and chilly sensations, he should consult his family doctor at once. Healthy carriers spread the disease from their nose and throat to those who are susceptible. Most adults are not susceptible to the disease. The earlier the diagnosis is made, the better are the chances of recovery. All suspicious cases must be isolated.

There are two cars in many a garage again. And two mortgages on the house.—Ennis News.

"EXTRA GIRL"

When Texas Centennial Exposition officials began to select the Rangerettes, hostesses for the Exposition, they planned to have one who was born in each of the 48 states. Then along came Mabel Rooks, shown above, and she passed the strict requirements. Officials found later she had been born in the District of Columbia, so they increased the corps to 50, giving themselves a little leeway in the matter of states.

New Orleans Hears Of Centennial Plans

Texas' Centennial invitation to Louisiana and New Orleans was extended New Year's day by Lieut. Gov. Walter F. Woodul of Houston, chairman of the Centennial commission of control, who led the Lone Star state's delegation to the Sugar Bowl game.

Lieut. Gov. Woodul's party was received New Year's morning at the New Orleans city hall by Mayor T. Semmes Walmesley, city and state officials, the consular corps, and representatives of many organizations. In his invitation to the Centennial the Texas official recalled the historic ties between New Orleans and Texas. Later, at the game between Texas Christian University and Louisiana State University, he greeted Governor O. K. Allen of Louisiana and his party, inviting them to Texas during Centennial year.

Both the LSU and TCU bands played at the morning reception.

Sight of the six historic flags of Texas, carried on the field between halves of the game by a group of TCU co-eds led by Miss Helen Moody, band sweetheart, brought the 38,000 spectators to their feet cheering. The band, led by Don Gillis, played "Eyes of Texas" as the flags were carried across the field.

Texans at the reception included Mr. and Mrs. Woodul, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scofield of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Phillips of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Rice Tilley of Ft. Worth, R. Lee Kemper of Galveston, Mayor and Mrs. P. D. Renfro of Beaumont, State Senator Allen Shivers of Port Arthur, Mayor Van Zandt Jarvis of Fort Worth, and State Senator and Mrs. Ken Regan of Pecos.

She Tells Them How to Park

Dallas, site of the Texas Centennial Exposition next year, has installed parking meters on its main downtown streets. For a nickel in the slot, motorists may leave their car beside the meter for periods from 20 minutes to one hour, according to the time marked on each meter. An additional nickel extends the period. Clarice Mollenkamp, of the Exposition Rangerettes, is shown above as she tours the streets, the Exposition's ambassador of good-will, to explain to out-of-town motorists just how the meters work.

A meter, indicated by the arrow, can be seen directly behind the horse, which, incidentally, is Texas, famous "yellow pony" owned by Captain Leonard Pack, head of the Exposition's Texas Ranger squad.
