Huge Crowd Thronged Streets Here Monday

Almost all that we talked to Monday were of the unanimous opinion that the largest First Monday crowd in the history of that institution in this city, was on hand Monday. To say the least, they were here from the forks of the creek, the high shinnery and blue weed flats, all in a jolly mood, and were actually doing business. And despite the fact that a rain is the thing most wanted on the list of farmers right now, little meeting. was said about the matter.

The tight wire walking in the afternoon across west Main street was pulled, but as the wind was high, Mr. Sanders did not try walking it with boots on. Yet, all seemed to be well pleased with his stunts on the wire stretched from the Wilson building to the Palace Drug store. A crowd that almost covered the vacant block just east of the square, was on hand and they are eager to have farmers there. to see if their number was called.

Saturday was also a banner day. The merchants did themselves proud last week in their advertising, and a big crowd was here and hungry for bargains Bananas the fruit that all love, was reduced to around 5c per dozen, and did they buy them? The whole square was practically Sunday morning.
