History of Unicameral Legislation

ARTICLE VI.

The Proposed Bill

It is my proposal that we shall take the Congressional Districts of this State as they were created according to the 1930 Federal census, and elect from each of these Congressional Districts, two men, each for a four year term, one to be elected each two years, thus creating a one house Legislature with forty-two membership.

By doing this we will eliminate the cost of re-districting this State by the Legislature which has not been done since 1920, and which, according to the constitution of Texas, should have been done in 1930. In this manner each section of our State will be proportionately represented according to its population, thereby giving to the cities and to the rural districts as well, their equal representation.

This system would provide a longer term for all of its members, thereby giving recognition to training and experience within the office, and at the same time would provide an opportunity for the people to speak every two years their mandates to both of their representatives. These men being elected from the same territory by the same people will serve as a check and balance so much desired by the opponents of this plan. This would make a small deliberative body, and yet would strike a medium between both of our two houses as they now exist.

I propose further that each member shall be paid not less than $5,000 per year, and that each member shall be prohibited from taking employment from any other person, firm or corporation during the tenure of his office, thereby compelling him to give his full time and his best efforts to his constituency as a whole. With the constitutional per diem of $10.00 per day for the days that the Legislature is in session, which amounts to $50.00 per month for your Legislators, are you to ensure them if they from necessity are compelled to take employment from various interests, such as will and does influence them in their vote upon the various questions which arise in the Legislature? Can you expect to secure from your citizenship, men who are capable and anxious to render a public service to their people, to make such a sacrifice?

There are those who have said to be that they thought I was proposing a plan which consummated a saving to the people instead of increasing the costs of our Legislature. In answer to this, I give you the following figures. For the 42nd Legislature there was spent for salaries of your Legislators $402,842.34; for traveling expenses of such men $47,123.27. The total cost for forty-two men at $5,000.00 per year for each two year period would be $420,000.00. Then, after allowing the same traveling expenses for each of these forty-two men as is now allowed for each of the one hundred and eighty-one men, we would have a clear balance for each two year period of approximately $10,000.00 from salary and expense fund alone.

My proposal likewise calls for one continuous term of the Legislature for each two year period. This does not mean that the Legislature shall stay in session all the time, but that they meet as needed for further carrying on the business of this State, and that when they do convene, that they shall stay in session, not for an arbitrary time, which permits the crowding of legislation and the passage of hasty laws, but until their work shall be efficiently concluded.

There are those who say let's wait and see what Nebraska does. Is this a good reason for waiting? If the argument of the opposition is sound, then we should never adopt such a system, but on the other hand, if the conclusions herein drawn and the facts herein stated cannot be successfully disputed, then, why should we wait for anyone? The general public throughout this State favor this proposal—saying if the people could only get a vote on that question there is no doubt but that the same would be adopted.

Streets of Paris Gay Sight at Centennial

DALLAS, Texas, June 8. — The Streets of Paris with its sensational picturization of Gay Paree bids fair to be the most popular spot on the entire Texas Centennial grounds. Fashioned after the Latin Quarter of Paris, with a replica of the SS Normandie as the central piece in the place, it is attracting more attention than any other attraction on the grounds.

Located aboard the SS Normandie is the Centennial Club where royalty will be entertained, if royalty attends the Centennial Exposition. Three decks of the Normandie are devoted to Centennial Club Rooms, two of these being air conditioned.

Famous for its peep shows, its grisettes, its sidewalk cafes, its casinos and dance pavilions, the Streets of Paris opens the Centennial with a bang. Featured as the stage show in the attraction is Andre Lasky's French Revue, with 45 Continental Artists, and 24 Parisienne models. Another feature will be Francis Dietrich's Art Institute, where living models will be sketched by visiting artists. Room will be reserved for spectators who seek to see how an art institute is run. Thirteen prominent artist models from Chicago have been brought here for this feature of the Streets of Paris.

Many sensational acts have been signed for the streets of Paris to augment the French Revue. Among these are four high diving acts. Maudin, the world's most famous high diver. Another act is the Venus in the Shell, and many other famous acts.

Absentee Voting to Start July 5th

If you are planning on taking a vacation trip in July and are likely to be absent from the county on primary election day, July 25 arrange to vote as an absentee.

Absentee voting begins July 5th and if possible you should vote before leaving the county.

If you are out of the county after July 5th in order to vote absentee it will be necessary for you to write the clerk of your county. The clerk on request, mails the application, the applicant signs and returns it. Then the clerk sends the ballot, which the voter marks and returns. You will have to send your request early in order that this routine can be completed by July 25.

Nine Girls and Fifteen Boys in May

The gentlemen headed the ladies by a long shot this last month, running them a better than three to two majority. The girls follow:

To Mr. and Mrs. Max Bowers, on the 11th; Mr. and Mrs. D. Emmerson, on the 8th; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Snowden on the 19th; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Downing, on the 22nd; Mr. and Mrs. William Smith on the 19th; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnson, on the 31st; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Marchbanks on the 10th, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Little on the 15th; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bagg on the 22nd.

The boys: Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Warren on the 1th; Mr. and Mrs. Lowrie N. Birdsall on the 10th; Mr. and Mrs. Jonah Taylor on the 27th; Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Martin on the 17th; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Davis on the 23rd; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chesley on the 1st; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Willis on the 5th; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Duke on the 13th; Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Cleveland on the 28th; Mr. and Mrs. John A. Laster on the 28th; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Flude on the 6th; Mr. and Mrs. James Benton on the 13th; Mr. and Mrs. Allison Hill on the 5th; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bunch on the 23rd; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Parks on the 31st.

adoption of this proposal in Texas and that is that two-thirds of the members of the house and of the Senate shall vote to submit to the people of Texas a constitutional amendment for their approval or disapproval after the regular session of the 45th Legislature. You can now discuss with your prospective Legislators who are now running for such positions, their views with reference to this question, thereby letting them know what your desire in this regard may be.

If the people of this State desire to have this form of legislation, then what Legislator is there who has the right to say to his constituency that we will not vote upon this proposal?

G. H. Nelson, State Senator
M. L. H. Baze.

Lovely "Sweetheart of Texas"

To millions of people throughout the nation, who have read with interest the Texas Centennial's booklets describing the beauties of Texas, lovely Janice Jarratt was known simply as the "girl on the cover." But in response to a wide public demand Centennial officials revealed her identity as the San Antonio girl who won fame in New York as America's best-loved model and became ranked as one of the world's most beautiful women. Back to Texas she came last week, and in an elaborate ceremony attended by hundreds Governor James V. Allred bestowed upon her the official state commission as "Sweetheart of the Texas Centennial." It will be her duty to reign with charm and gracious distinction over many of the scores of Centennial celebrations being held throughout all Texas.

Much Early History Of Terry County

Atty. W. P. Florence, of Slaton, has written his reminiscences of this section, and has favored us with a copy: It was produced in the press of the Slaton Slatonite and well printed but bound in pamphlet form.

Included in the book among the other counties of the south Plains, is quite a lengthy history of Terry county, going back before organization, when it was a friendly fight, and not always so dogged friendly between the Reds (farmers) and Blues (ranchmen and their cowboys) for possession of the school lands then coming on the market.

He tells of the laying out of at least three future county seats of Terry county, one by himself and brother, which was to be called Flora for themselves, another, very ambitious, with plats for hospitals, factories, railroad shops and what have you, to be known as Terry City. But the newest bet to it almost over night, and Gomez, five miles west of Brownfield was born.

But another page of history had to be written. The Brownfields together with ranch friends and cowboys beat Gomez in the vote, as lot of the nesters had not been here long enough to vote. Those interested in the book should address Mr. Florence at Laton Texas.

Still Wanting Bids For New Postoffice

D. C. Jernigan of Fort Worth, is still wanting bids for a new post-office building for Brownfield, according to a letter received by James H. Dallas, postmaster. Bids on this building will close June 24th.

The floor space wanted is about 2000 square feet, with vaults, safe lighting fixtures and necessary furniture. The building will be leased for two years with option for three more years. Those interested should get in touch with D. C. Jernigan, Postoffice Inspector, Fort Worth, Texas.

Shows Corn Planted in March Shoulder High

Jess Howell, prominent farmer of the Challis community called on the Herald Wednesday afternoon to show us some corn he has growing. Jess says he planted this corn the 23rd of March. He did it more for an experiment than anything else. While he was listing, he put on his planter box and planted 12 acres. This corn is now shoulder high and some already in tassel. It is the tallest we can remember ever seeing here at this time of year. He stated he would have plenty of roasting ears and watermelons by the first of August. Come in again Jess—around August 1st.

A Real Bonehead Gives Out Information

We had about come to the conclusion that information obtained at Service stations these days was just about as correct as one could expect from any source, but it seems that at least one station at Seminole still sports a guy that can, when occasions demands, give the most inaccurate information possible.

Monday night, two young ladies from California, headed for Brownfield, asked for information about nine o'clock how to get to Brownfield. They were directed via Lamesa, when they had no more business going to Lamesa than a hog has in heaven.

At Seminole, they were within 43 miles of Brownfield, over a road that is paved most of the way, and pretty well improved the rest of the way. They were sent 35 miles on to Lamesa, and then had to take a country road 50 miles back to Brownfield.

People should give strangers as accurate service as possible or give none. It gives our state a black-eye to hand out such stuff as these girls got at Seminole. But they just happened to strike the wrong fellow there. The average man in that city is just as smart and polite as they are in Brownfield or elsewhere.

Gents Furnishing Store For Tahoka

A. T. Cobb of Brownfield is here preparing to open a gents' furnishing business in the north half of the D. H. Goodnough building recently vacated by the Club Barber Shop. Mr. Cobb is now having his fixtures made and is touching up the inside walls and ceiling with paint. He thinks it will probably be three weeks before he is ready to open up the business. He is the father of Joe Cobb, who formerly conducted a dry goods and clothing business here, and he is an experienced business man.—Tahoka News.

Gadget Lets Autoist Test Motor Oils

PONCO CITY, Okla., June 8. — A simple, five-minute film strength and oilness test for auto lubricants, long sought by oil men, has been perfected here by members of the technical staff of the Continental Oil Company, it was announced today. The test is made by a pocket-size device closely resembling a household nutcracker.

A stock pin and bearing are lubricated with a given oil and placed in the "nutcracker" jaws, on which accurately measurable pressure can be exerted. The maximum pressure under which the pin can be turned smoothly in the bearing is taken as the measure of the film strength and oilness of the oil.

Continental spokesmen said extensive "nutcracker" tests in the laboratory have shown wide variations in the load-carrying capacity of commercially branded oils, and have thrown new light on the performance of the so-called "alloyed" oils. Methylchlorostearate, a synthetically prepared substance used in the blending of one of the commercial alloyed oils, is said to have set up a film which gave no indication of "grabbing" at the maximum "nutcracker" pressure of 9,000 pounds.

The testing device, it was said, is being distributed to all company service stations so that motorists may experiment with it.

The Meanest Man In Littlefield Found

The meanest man in Town has been discovered but not identified and he's one of those cases that hanging is far too good for.

We don't know where he lives, nor what his name, but we'd be willing to pay a reward to find out. It would be an extreme pleasure to turn his name over to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

This particular blight on humanity, deliberately took a knife and cut the tongue out of the mouth of the mother of five little puppies, who had arrived in the world but a few days earlier.

But this game little mother dog, is carrying on to the best of canine ability, trying to raise her little family. And if there are heroines in the dog world, she's it.

And if there are skunks, and low-down mongrels in the human world, the fellow who committed this heinous crime—is it.—County Wide News.

65,000 Texans Will Get Old Age Pensions

AUSTIN, Texas, June 7.—Orville Carpenter, old age assistance director, said Tuesday that the pensions ranging from about $9 to $30 would be paid approximately 65,000 persons beginning July 1. The average will be about $20.

All payments will be made on a basis of need, the director said, in accordance with statutory requirement. The maximum permitted is $30, or $15 from the state and 15 from the federal government.

Carpenter said there was no doubt payments would start July 1 "Because both state and federal money will be in the Texas treasury." Texas was granted $1,181,250 recently by the social security board. "As far as I can estimate now," he said, "there will be approximately 65,000. Each will receive up to a maximum of $30 a month."

"Payments will be based upon need because of the federal social security law and the Texas law. People who do not need as much as $30 will receive less."

Farmers Cash Income At Highest Since 1930

A new six-year high in farmers' cash income is reported by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The total for the first four months of 1936 includes $2,017,000,000 from marketing and $62,000,000 from government rental and benefit payments. This compares with $1,749,000,000 from marketings in the first four months of 1935, and 221,000,000 from rentals and benefits.

"Government payments during the remainder of 1936 will likely exceed the payments in the same months of 1935," the Bureau's report stated, with the further prediction: "It is probable that if industrial activity is maintained, farm income from marketings will be in excess of the 1935 level."

The Flies Are Here By the Gillion

Again the nastiest of all pest, and the pestering of all pest, the housefly is swarming in our city and vicinity by the literal millions, and as last year, there don't seem to be anything we can do about the matter. People are swatting them; people are trapping them; people are poisoning them, but they seem to come on for more. It is said that they are actually eating the paint off windows that merchants put up to advertise their wares.

We won't say that Brownfield is the filthiest town in the world, for we have not seen all the towns in the world, but it has its share of fly breeding places somewhere. Some say it is the stock pens, and others are just as positive that it is the city dumping grounds, while still others say that we have too many cows and pigs in the resident section. Be as it may, we have millions of flies and that is no part of a joke.

We spent Sunday afternoon in Lubbock, and we'll take a pauper's oath that we never saw over a half dozen flies while there. We were in the homes of some friends, out at the Tech campus, at the city park and out at the airport. In fact we were about as clean as a bit. We stopped at places where soft drinks were sold but saw very few flies.

They handle lots of stock in and out of Lubbock, they manufacture lots of drinks where flavoring and sugar is used, they must have a city dumping ground about there somewhere, also cow lots and pig stays. Folks, we just can't see why they don't have flies just the same as we if they do not keep their premises cleaner than we.

Farmer Loses His Home and Contents

Charley Gaston had the misfortune Monday afternoon of losing his farm home and entire contents. Not a stitch of clothing or bedding was saved from the burning building, and there was no insurance on anything. Charley has three children ranging from 8 to 12, and another family that lived with them and did their cooking lost all they had.

It is believed that the fire originated from a defective flu. The other family has three children ranging from a baby of 2 to a girl ten years of age.

Both these families will appreciate any help that may be rendered them in this time of need.

Destruction of School Property Must Stop

The Brownfield school board and the sheriff's department are joining in a request that parents give every aid in detecting and preventing the breaking of window lights and other willful destruction of school property. To many "nigger" shooters and air guns are in evidence this spring. As a result the destruction of window lights has become a menace. Parents living along the school campus are urged to keep an eye open to actions of boys with air guns. Also all parents are urged to assist in protecting school property, which is paid for by tax money. It is not impressed upon young people enough that public property and public buildings are the result of expenditure of the people's money. Adults should all feel that it is their duty to help protect this property.

Unless such willful destruction of property is stopped, it will be necessary to take drastic action. Before it is too late, it might be well to check up on the whereabouts and the conduct of the boy in your home.

Notice to Hi-School Band Students

All high school band players who are interested in a summer band will please meet with their parents at Judge R. A. Simms' office Sunday afternoon, June 14th at 4:00 P. M., at the courthouse.

This is a very important meeting, as many are interested in keeping the band moving along through the summer, and the results of this meeting will largely determine whether or not this can be done.

Bill Collins of Lubbock visited home folks Tuesday. He had the misfortune of breaking his right arm last week.

Information On Payment of Service Bonds

At 12:01 A. M. July 15th the Adjusted Service Bonds will be mailed from Dallas to Brownfield. It will be the morning of the 16th before they are received here. They will come as Registered Mail and therefore will have to be recorded on our books before they can be delivered. We will make every effort possible to have them ready for delivery by 2 P. M. the evening of the 16th. Be sure to remember that they will be DELIVERED TO THE ADDRESSEE ONLY although they may come in the care of someone else. Of course the Treasury Department desires all those who can to hold their bonds, but for those who desire to cash them we will be prepared to start certifying for this as soon as your bonds are delivered to you. This certifying will require time and we ask the wholehearted co-operation of the Veterans and all the rest of our patrons in this undertaking. It is the desire of the Post Office Department to see that the Veteran gets his money as quickly as possible. Certifying will involve the signing on the back of the bonds in the presence of certifying officer exactly as made out, positive identification of the owner, and the proper signing by the certifying officer. These bonds then will be sent to the Postmaster at Dallas, Texas for payment. Checks for the amount sent in will be mailed not later than two days after their receipt in Dallas. These checks will be mailed directly to the Veteran. The Post Office Department is not charged with the responsibility of cashing these checks. Very little cash is carried on hand, so please bear this in mind.

For those that live on Route 1 and 2, these bonds will be delivered to you, but we urge you to be at the boxes. These bonds can also be certified to by Mr. Carpenter, Carrier on Route 1, and by Mr. Jessie Ferguson Carrier on Route 2. If you so desire you may come to the local office for certifying. Route 3, 4 and 5 are designated as Star Routes and the Bonds are not to be delivered on Star Routes, but your notice of arrival of the bonds will come out to you and then you will have to come to the local office to receive the bonds.

At present, plans are on foot, to have a committee from the American Legion to help the certifying officers in making the required identifications

We desire to handle this just as quickly and as efficiently as possible and at the same time give the service that everyone deserves.

James H. Dallas, Postmaster.

Daugherty Sells Home Grown and Fed Beef

The writer in his rounds over town visited the Daugherty Grocery and was shown through their market department. Their large Cooler was well stocked with the best class of beef it has been our privilege to see in a long time.

We was informed this beef was all Terry County whiteface beef, having been raised by Mr. W. E. Pool and has been on grain feed for the past eight months.

This firm informs us they have arranged with Mr. Pool to supply their needs for several months.

To our way of thinking this beef surpasses any beef shipped in from anywhere and goes to show what this county might do in the way of raising good cattle and plenty of feeds, and the farmers feeding out their own stock at home.

To say the least of it our best stock would not all leave the county for butchering and then probably be shipped back to us at a higher price. We meat consumers would have the satisfaction of eating tender juicy steaks grown and produced at home.

Our editorial matter is going to be as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth this week. We don't know anything interesting to write about, and if we did, it probably would not interest our readers.

A Texas writer raised and educated in Old Mexico says that the upper class of Mexican, with which she associated while in that land regarded Santa Anna as a tyrant just the same as Texas People. He imposed stringent laws and high taxes on the Mexican people as well as on Texans, and the high class Mexican despised him.

Yes, west Texas people are good people. At the recent Spur celebration, 5000 visitors were there, and there was not an arrest. At the Crowell celebration the crowd was estimated at 10,000, lasted two days and not an arrest. But liquor does not flow as freely in west Texas as it does in some sections.

Robert Coleman has sold the Wink Times-Herald to Roy Dennis, who assumes charge this week. We have appreciated the Times-Herald under the management of Mr. Coleman, and welcome Mr. Dennis to the newspaper fraternity of west Texas, even if his name is "dennis."

If Dallas does allow Centennial visitors to be overcharged for food and lodging, they will not only hurt themselves but Texas as well, for all Texas is putting up for and backing the Centennial. The Herald interview a lady this week that had been down there, and she reported that while she had a room with a relative, that she bought food several times on the grounds, and got value received, but admitted she heard a tourist camp owner ask a man $8.00 for an apartment for one night.

A few weeks ago, the main question your friend asked you was, "when is it going to rain?" Now it is, "is it hot enough for you?"

"HELLO, SUCKER!"

The Government might do well to reprint the bonds settling in full the veterans' adjusted service certificates the greetings popularized by the pacifist movement, "Hello Sucker!" That might serve to warn the unwary vetran of the sinister forces which are inevitably lying in wait for the bonus money. The war veterans never needed more a steady policy of "Stop! Look! Listen!"

George T. Hughes in his Monday article written for NANA outlined some of his moves legitimate and illegitimate, already under way to absorb the estimated $1,500,000,000 (billions) of the last half of the bonus.

The best advice for the vetran who is not in actual need is, of course, to retain his bonds, holding these as a nest egg and drawing the interest. It is safe to say that a minimum will be held. The majority will be cashed whether the vetran is in need or not Once cashed, the bonds represent from $50 to $750 or double both figures where the vetran has not already drawn half of his certificate money. The exchanged bonds go into local markets in the form of immediate currency. Legitimate business will cooperate in careful and justified spending. Illegitimate business will exercise all of its wiles to coax away the money. It is up to the vetran to be careful. This is the last of the bonus.—Dallas News.

Olds Officials at Centennial

There were scrolls and scrolls and scrolls when the Oldsmobile good will caravan arrived in Texas. One, with more than 100,000 signatures, was presented to the people of Texas. Another from the governors of other states was given to Governor Allred. A third was presented to Mayor Sergeant of Dallas. All carried messages of good will to the people of Texas from the people of the rest of the country. And just to make it unanimous Oldsmobile dealers in Texas presented D. E. Ralston, vice-president of Oldsmobile, with scrolls pledging to put Oldsmobile in fourth place in their territory. Presenting these scrolls are, left to right, W. J. Bryan, zone manager at Houston; D. E. Ralston, J. R. Austin, zone manager at Dallas, and L. J. Blunden, regional manager in the south-west.

Texans are seeing Texas during CENTENNIAL YEAR!

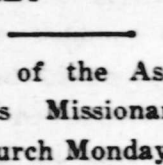

Centennial year is not only an opportunity for Texas to be host to millions of visitors from other states. It's a year for Texans to travel Texas and know their own state!

For real vacation pleasures Texas is unsurpassed anywhere. We have mountains, seashore, missions, foreign atmosphere, pine woods, gay night life in our metropolitan cities, historic places, unexcelled golf and fishing—every attraction you can find anywhere, right here in our own state!

Millions of Texans are seeing the big exposition at Dallas, then driving on to various other parts of the state for other equally interesting Centennial Celebrations. The Texas Centennial is state-wide. See all of it that time permits.

Read the calendar of interesting Centennial events at the right. Write the various chambers of commerce for complete information at times you are interested in.

For a real vacation—TEXAS. SEE TEXAS!

Biggest Steer—3,100 Pounds of Beef

"Big Jim," once owned by the late Will Rogers, is the biggest steer in the world, weighing 3,100 pounds. Rogers raised Jim from a calf, then sold him and gave the proceeds to the Salvation Army. His present owners will display him at the Texas Centennial Exposition, opening in Dallas June 6, and turn over the admission profits to the Salvation Army's Home for Boys and Girls at Lytton, Calif.

DIED

Mrs. L. D. Joplin, age 48 died at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night in a sanitarium here. She was a resident of the Meadow and Shallowater vicinity for the past eight years.

Burial was in the Meadow cemetery Thursday afternoon, following funeral services at the Meadow Baptist church at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. C. J. McCarty of Lubbock. A funeral home of Lubbock was in charge.

Sarah Beatrice Fletcher was born April 30th 1888, in Rockwall county. Was converted at the age of 16 and joined the Baptist church of which faith she was a member at time of death. She was married to L. D. Joplin in 1909 and to this union was born 8 children, all living but one, James Emmett who died in 1918 at the age of 2. Surviving children are Mrs. John Roberts, Mr. Ray Joplin, of Meadow, Archie Joplin of Lamesa L. D. Jr., Veda, Freda and Floyd Henry of Meadow. She is also survived by the husband, L. D. Joplin, one sister, Miss Mattie Fletcher who made her home with Mrs. Joplin and one brother, Henry Joplin of Louisville, Texas, who arrived to late for the funeral services.

Mrs. Joplin had been in bad health for several months, was operated on for gall stone on May 28th. She was doing well 2 hours before death when her heart gave way and death was soon to follow.

She leaves many who mourn her departure, but we know she is better off than we, and our prayers are that God may help us to live so we may meet her in heaven when from this earth we do part.

REDELL PARKS BEDROOM WINNER

Redell Parks of Midway 4-H club won first place on her bedroom. Wyneth McDaniel of the Westward 4-H club won second and Dixie Hague of the Plains 4-H club won third.

"All the contestant's rooms showed a marked improvement," said Miss Nannie Hill, Home Demonstration Agent of Hockley county, who did the scoring.

Each contestant proved that in improving her room, it has increased her desire to help improve other rooms of the house.

GOODS NIGHT'S SLEEP IMPORTANT TO LIFE

AUSTIN, June 8.—Sleep is a necessity of life and health, and habitual loss of sleep will tend to retard the body's recovery from the fatigue of the day's activities, advises Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer.

"The average healthy adult," he said, "spends about one-third of his life in sleep. Far from being a waste of time, this one-third of your life spent in restful sleep will make possible a happier, healthier, and longer life.

"We may be able to go without sleep for a night or two, but too little sleep for a prolonged length of time will undermine the health of a rugged person and turn a cheerful individual into a cross, irritable one. When good health can be maintained to such a large degree by merely sleeping and thus allowing overtaxed bodies and minds to regain a proper balance, it is hard to understand why so many persons are heedless of this necessary requirement of a balanced program of life.

"Some individuals need more sleep than others, and the most valuable experiments in this line are the ones each person makes on himself. We must each take into consideration in this experiment, however, that how long we sleep is as important as how long we sleep. A 'good night's rest' means a sufficient number of hours spent in sleep to enable each individual to feel well, do efficient work, and to keep in a cheerful humor the next day.

"Some exercise out of doors each day will help us to sleep soundly at night. We must also have fresh air in our sleeping quarters. Give as much consideration as possible to the comfort of your bed and bed-clothes. Do not mull over your STAMFORD, Texas, June 10.—Veteran cowboys who rode the ranges or went up the long cattle trails in the days of the open range will hold their seventh annual round-up in Stamford during the Texas Cowboy Reunion July 2nd, 3rd and 4th.

During the meeting, the oldtime cowhands will elect officers for their association, which limits its membership to cowboys or cattlemen who saw service no less than 35 years ago. Clyde Burnett, Benjamin cattleman and former trail driver, is president of the organization this year and will preside over the July meeting.

In their gathering here during the Reunion each year, the oldtimers revive memories of the old west, swap yarns and renew acquaintances. All members in good standing are guests of the Reunion management during their stay in the city. Their membership badges entitle them to free admission to the rodeo and grandstand, a chuck-wagon dinner each day and admission to the cowboy square dance at the bunkhouse each night.

The Readers of the News will note a nice display advertisement of the candidacy of Mr. F. W. Fischer, Tyler, for Governor in this weeks News. This is such a rare thing that no doubt they will be surprised as we ourselves were when it came into our office. Candidates for state office generally flood us with publicity stuff, expecting it to be run free and give their paid advertising to the big dailies. This consideration for the local weeklies by Mr. Fischer certainly will not injure his candidacy.—Anton News.

FORD V-8 ECONOMY MEANS

HIGH "Dollar Mileage"

(MORE MILES PER DOLLAR)

ONLY THE FORD V-8 GIVES YOU ALL THESE FEATURES

1. V-8 ENGINE PERFORMANCE WITH ECONOMY
2. SUPER-SAFETY MECHANICAL BRAKES
3. SAFETY GLASS ALL AROUND AT NO EXTRA CHARGE
4. WELDED STEEL BODY — STEEL STRUCTURE AS WELL AS SURFACE
5. CENTER-POISE RIDING COMFORT

NO MATTER how you classify your expenditures for car up-keep — it's your total expenditure that counts. How much "dollar mileage" is your car giving you?

Dollars do go farther in the Ford V-8. Modern improved carburetion gives you unusual gasoline mileage with brilliant V-8 performance. Most owners of today's Ford change oil only every 2000 miles and add none between changes.

And after the first few thousand miles you begin to understand what Ford V-8 "dollar mileage" really means.

It gives you more miles per dollar because it gives you all-round economy — low first cost, low up-keep cost, low depreciation and long life — as well as low gasoline and oil consumption. All these are big items if you aim to buy the most economical car.

There are many fine swimmers and divers among the fair sex in the city, we know. Why not come out and make these contests interesting.

POISONOUS SECRETION AIDS IN PROTECTION OF TOAD

Most animals never consider toads as a meal because of the poisonous milky fluid secreted from the toad's eyes. One bite is usually enough to teach any carnivorous animal his lesson. This information has been offered by the Biological Survey.

However, there are a few exceptions to this rule. Snakes, birds of prey and skunks are the creatures that the toads need fear. The skunk rolls and tumbles the toad around with his paws until the poisonous fluid has been discharged and rubbed off. Then he eats it. Birds avoid the poison and makes do not mind it.

farm washing IS A JOB
rugged washer!

gasoline multi-motor

Not only is the Maytag a rugged washer, but it is powered with a sturdy engine for homes without electricity. The Maytag Multi-Motor, the first washer engine built, is also the simplest, most powerful washer engine — and it is designed for a woman to operate.

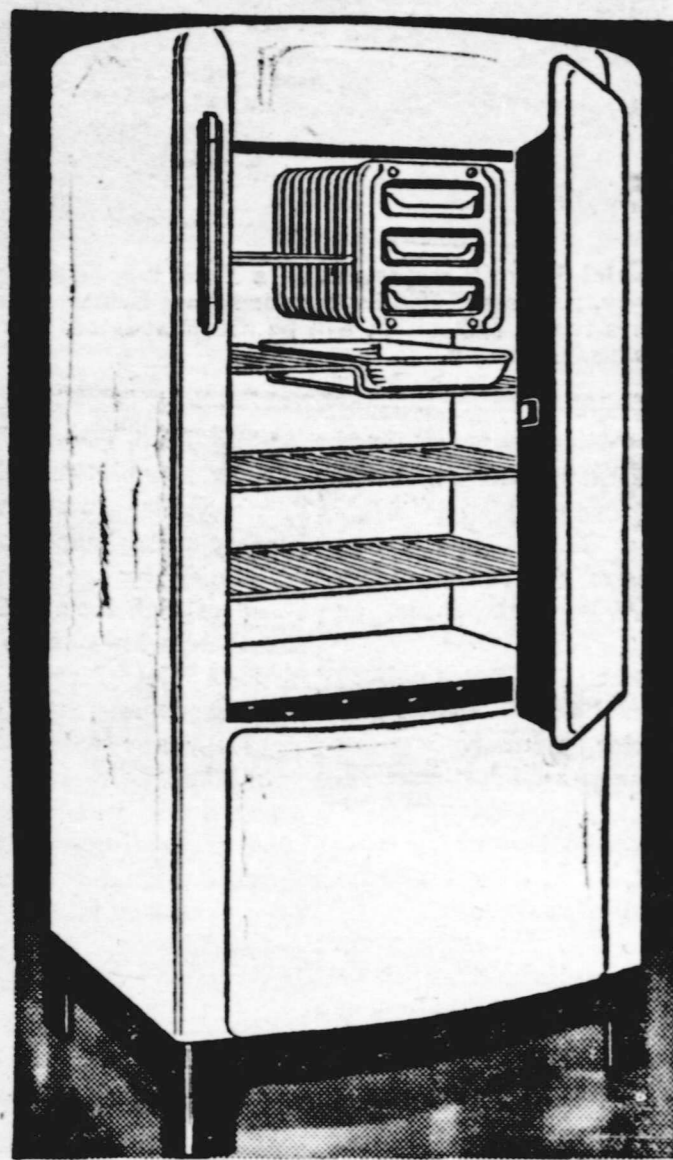

Also consider the one-piece, cast-aluminum tub, and other long-life features of the Maytag. Then you will know why it is used by more farm homes than any other washer. Electric models for homes on the power line. Terms that make ownership easy.

Big Fines Discourage Texas Bootleggers

AUSTIN, June 8. — Discouraged because the are finding it so expensive, bootleggers and others convicted of violating Texas' new liquor law have already paid out approximately $50,000 in fines and court costs.

A number of others have gone to jail.

These facts were revealed this week in a preliminary survey by the Liquor Control board's enforcement division.

"If we can continue to make it so costly, the people who are breaking the law will have it impressed on them that there's no profit in what they're doing," declared Liquor Administrator Charles R. Miller. "When we finally succeed in taking the profit out of their business, the people are going to fold up and quit."

Actual money paid in fines amounted to $37,935.50, but an additional $11,914 in court costs brought the total to $49,849.50, Administrator Miller disclosed.

It appears that the Congressional investigation committee did not get as far with quizzing Dr. F. E. Townsend in regard to the Old Age Pension plan as they anticipated. From reports in the press it appeared that the committee, instead of trying to learn of the plan and the finances so far contributed to it, they tried to make a joke of the Doctor. He walked out on them just about as any other man who had any self respect would have done. It is dimes to doughnuts that the committee does not want to investigate. They have used tactics which point that they just want to muddle the waters and make conditions look bad. By the time the various elections over the country are held you will never hear of the Townsend Old Age Pension investigation in Congress, and the outcome will be the expenditure of a quarter million dollars of the people's money and nothing learned. Congressional investigation have never accomplished enough good to replace five per cent of their cost. This Old Age Pension investigation is intended to befog the minds of the people, and when that has been accomplished it will have reached its goal.—Spur Times.

STILL TELLING TALL ONES IN LAMESA

Ray Hollingshead and Mr. Blackman of the Post Office force went squirrel hunting last week and they shot at a squirrel so high up, they missed him, but shot so close that he turned loose and began to fall, and turned somersaults so fast that he skinned himself before he reached the ground, and the fall killed him.

We believed this story and told them we could readily believe it, because in East Texas, we used to shoot quail out of the top of those tall trees and they fell so fast that they were picked when they hit the ground.

Ray said he knew that was not so, because quail did not roost in tall trees. But you see this was a hen quail, and not a rooster. Now you tell one.—Lamesa Reporter.

HERE'S WHY YOU SHOULD BUY

the 1936 Modern Gas Range.

1. It's the TOP in range efficiency.
2. It's so economical on the New Low Gas Rate.
3. It's attractive in any kitchen. There are many sizes, styles and prices to choose from at your dealer's or your Gas company.

The low gas rate recently fixed by the Railroad Commission of Texas, and put in effect by the company, is lower than the rate in 591 of other Texas cities and towns having gas service.

Information booths built in the form of the historic Alamo are located on nine cardinal highways leading to Dallas. Here visitors may obtain rooms, apartments complete houses, or other accommodations before reaching Dallas. The attendants will merely telephone the Centennial Exposition Housing Bureau and visitors will be routed from the booth at which they inquire.

The company of Marines which will be stationed in Dallas for the Texas Centennial Exposition which opened June 6 is known unofficially as the "Warm Springs company." It is the outfit which habitually is stationed at the Georgia resort when President Roosevelt rests there.

One of the most popular exhibits at the Texas Centennial Exposition here is the reproduced ship's bridge under the Bureau of Navigation and Steamship Inspection. Here one may even steer the ship and operate the telegraph, after consulting the compass and other navigation equipment, without the inconvenience of seasickness.

A herd of seven Poolamino horses the rarest and most beautiful colored of mounts, will be displayed at the Texas Centennial.

FLAME IN THE FOREST

THE STORY

CHAPTER XI—Tod informs Sheriff Bridger that Bluejay has been taking money from a box which had been buried under the Downer cabin floor.

CHAPTER XII—At Nan's headquarters Kerry and Ezra find the sheriff has arrested Tod. The sheriff is charged with driving out the state's chief witness, Bluejay.

CHAPTER XIII—Kerry goes hunting. Bridger discovers Kerry's escape and notifies Tod, who becomes panicky. Ezra calls in the State Police.

CHAPTER XIV

It was sundown, now, with a cool mantle of evening descending on the forest.

"Tough luck, chum!" Kerry muttered to Tip as he finally gave up hope and turned away from his bee box.

"They've called it a day. . . But we can't be far off, now, and unless it rains tomorrow . . ."

He looked anxiously upward. Clouds were rising up from the west. The air felt soft. If rain held tomorrow he would be put to the ordeal of keeping out of sight and accomplishing nothing. . . Not a nice prospect.

"May have a wet night," he told the dog. "We can't be far from the cabin on Townline, but wouldn't dare risk that."

He found a downy maple under its sheltering bole spread his blanket snuggly and, rifle handy, dog beside him, stretched his tired body. Rain began to fall and in the distance thunder rumbled. His thoughts turned to Nan, to Ezra and Holt; then to West. He drew a long, uneasy breath. . .

He would have been a trifle more at peace had he known that a car bearing two men, whirled into Shoshone string from the southward, lights glaring with intensified brightness in the downpour. It came to a stop before a gas station and one of the occupants, slicker clad, leaned out:

"What's the road to West's Landing?" he asked the boy.

"First to the left and straight on, twenty miles. Look out for the cutovers if the creeks is up!"

"Thanks!" The car pulled away and the one who had asked directions said to the driver:

"Don't you want me to take her, Sergeant? You've had a long trick at that wheel."

"Mebbe so. You've napped. No tellin' what this old coot of a coroner'll have on the bill for us when we get to him."

The rain was heavy but of short duration. Stars appeared, the rumble of thunder retreated and when the sun rose to warm and dry the land, insect life had resumed its activity and Young, biting hard on his pipe stem, carried his bee box forward, set it down and carefully liberated the confused workers within.

"We're close, Tip!" he muttered. "Close and closer! Look at 'em!"

Dozens of bees swarmed about the bee, buzzing shrilly.

And an hour after the first visitor had called for his portion of honey, Young stood at the foot of a gnarled, old beech tree, staring upward at the old scar in the trunk, twice as high as his head, watching the come and go of workers through the hole that gave access to the tree's hollow heart.

He did not move much after he had finally located the tree. For long he stood in one place, looking about, searching out what sign he could find.

Man sign was there in plenty. Yonder, a white pipe had recently been blazed and pitch globules glistened in the sunlight. Brakes had been trampled down; here a seedling maple lay crushed into the duff, its leaves not yet wilted.

At the base of the tree lay a saprophyte which, until recently, had been growing on the scarred portion of the trunk. He could see where the bracket-like growth had been attached, two feet above the ground. He picked up the fungus and on its pale, tan velvety surface showed the print of a heel, even to the nails, dark brown against the buff. Some man had used that bracket in starting to climb that tree!

On his knees, he searched. The rain had not struck here with great force. Small bits of bark and lichens, with a fresh look, were there. The protruding end of a small limb, long since dead and all but absorbed by the expanding trunk, bore bits of thread, as if a garment had been scrubbed over it. . . Yes, someone had climbed this tree!

WE MUST CLEAN UP IN TOWN FIRST

Down in Old Mexico, it is an usual sight to see mamama, papa, and four or five little ones, sharing their small home, with maybe a goat, a few chickens, and probably a pig or two. Its a common thing out in the country at least. Here in Littlefield we don't go quite so far as having money and money! . . . Money and honey!

Yonder went a trail; faint, yet readable to Young's eye. Not a game trail, either; he found the lily defined outline of a boot sole there. Stopped over, he followed. Broken, withered brakes told that someone had gone this way weeks before; broken brakes, still fresh, attested to a more recent passing.

The sign ended before a pair of limestone boulders, tilted together, forming a small cave.

"Oh—oh!" Another stone had been set against this opening once; now it was gone, rolled yonder.

He lay on his belly and shot his flashlight into the small cavern. . . Granules glistened on the stone; he touched them with his finger and looked closely. Black, brittle, glittering flakes they were. . . Lacquer from a japanned box?

His mouth was very dry, now, and he rolled quickly to his side to stare at the tree. A box the size of the one he had dug up yesterday never could have been concealed in the hollow of the beech; the opening was too small. But a box had been hidden here, and a man had climbed the tree. . . And honey had daubed the man who handled both box and crowbar. . .

"I'm a son-of-a-gun!" he cried. "I'll be a . . ." And on his feet there his face showed, for just an instant, a flash of admiration for the ingenuity which had laid out this course. . . If of course he now suspected actually had been followed.

He had been right about the cabin on Townline. It was a short mile there and he covered the distance at a jog trot. Tip close behind. He halted at the edge of the clearing to look and listen and then went forward without hesitation.

From an insect nest above one of the bunks, he cut a portion; he found a pair of old leather gloves; a workman's denim jumper; a hank of stout cord. From the tool cache he took an ax, a cedar saw, a splitter and two wedges. These with his rifle, made a burden of consequence and by the time he reached the tree again sweat bathed his excited body.

From the netting he improvised a well, adjusting it over his hat and tucking the edges into the neck of the jumper. He put on the gloves, tied the jumper sleeves tight about his wrists and picked up the ax.

"Tip. . . Yonder!" He gestured in command. "Away back and lie down! There's going to be a lot of hostility here in a minute!"

He waited until the dog had obeyed and then sent the bit of the ax deep into the beech.

He was right about the hostility. Not a half dozen blows had been struck before they were upon him in a cloud, buzzing angrily, seeking ways through his veil and garments for countless stingers. But Kerry was well protected and swung his ax steadily, eating a great gash in the trunk. One, one, and two got to his wrists, and now, and again he felt a burning prick on the shoulders when his jumper stretched tight. But that was as nothing, in this interval of suspense.

The tree sagged and shivered. It snapped and swayed. He struck three more swift blows and stepped back as it came down with a mighty, swishing roar and crash.

He had dropped the ax as the beech toppled. Now he took up the saw and, standing in a cloud of furious bees which hovered over the entrance to their fallen store-house, he sent the teeth singing through the stout wood. Swiftly, his supple body swung to and fro, stoutly his long, strong arms drove the acid blade. The forest rang with the sound. . . Rang with the sound which would have covered even the noise made by a frantic man, crashing through brush, running intently, breathlessly, his hat gone and face scratched and clothing torn; heedless, apparently, of everything except making speed and clinging to the rifle he carried across his chest.

No, the man was not close enough to have the sounds of his progress reach Young. But he was close enough to hear the ringing echo of that saw. He drew a hand across his face to wipe away the blood and the sweat and tried to still his breathing to listen. His trembling lips shaped a word and then he went forward, cautiously, walking like a cat, rifle held at ready. . . As he approached the source of those other sounds, which had now changed from that of sawing to blows of a sledge on metal, he bent forward a trifle and went even more slowly, more quietly. . .

West's Landing and its environs had experienced two long evenings and one long day of an excitement pitched to a point never before attained there.

And now the second day was beginning. Work was forgotten where it could be and before Mel Knight's store was gathered a group which argued and debated and orated and broke short anything it happened to be saying when another arrived, just on the chance that he would be the bearer of fresh incident.

Holt Stuart was in jail. Nan Downer, it was said, had brought in a lawyer from outside yesterday and the three had been together in Nat Bridger's office for long but no attempt to secure Stuart's release had been made as yet.

Kerry Young had escaped during the first night of his imprisonment and had not been heard from since, though the search was frenzied.

Frank Bluejay was gone somewhere in his rattling, tattered flivver and men combed the blueberry country for sign or word of him.

And across at Downer's headquarters, old Ezra Adams sat behind the locked door of Nan's office with the grown spare ribs and not the in town grown variety.

Tom Thompson was in from the farm Monday and reported feed and cotton coming up to a fine stand. Tom at first said he was not going to plant any cotton, but you know how a Texan does when Spring arrives. "Just a little field," he said.

A Group Which Argued and Debated announces he and young man brought from Townline, refusing to budge, denying Bridger admittance, waiting for something . . . one knew not what!

"Oh, it was something to talk about, all right, all right!"

Tod West had been in and out, saying little, going into long, heated but confidential talks with the sheriff.

"He's givin' Nat hell!" the wise ones opined. "Tod's anxious to see things go right in this country, you bet! Leave it to Tod; he'll give good advice!"

But this last was a matter of habit. Even when men said it and others agreed, they were making reservations, it was easy to determine. Somehow, Tod West wasn't the figure he had been. . .

And now came young Logan DePriest, walking across the trestle from Downer's. He was a lad with mild blue eyes and pimples on his face and fura on his chin.

"Well, Logan, you got it all settled over there?" a wag asked.

"Dam' right! Dam' right we have!" the youth replied importantly.

Something about his manner tugged at the interest of those who heard and saw, and yet. . . Logan was not to be taken seriously.

"I s'pose you've found Young 'nd Bluejay 'nd know what Ezra's got hatched, eh?"

"Dam' right! Dam' right, I do!" "A lot you know!"

"Betcha I know more'n any of you uns! Betcha million dollars, I do!" "Take you. Bring out the million!" "You think you're funny!" The pallid eyes stared indignation. "You think you're smart, you do! Well, lemme ask you this: you know who them dudes was that drew into our place after th' rain las' night? You don't? I know dam' well you don't! Well, I do. . . One of 'em 's a corporal 'nd one of 'em 's a sergeant 'nd they're detectuffs!"

"Gwan!" So commented one, but others lost their smiles and drew closer.

"Betcha two million! You know it all, you do! Betcha five million!" He spit and nodded. "Why, Miss Nan, she gits me up to put their car away, she does. 'Nd after I'd done it, I seen 'em all in th' office. I walked by 'nd Nan was standin' there. Ezra 'nd Miss Nan, 'nd th' detectuffs, 'nd had a box 'nd a crowbar 'nd a tin cup on th' table. They had a coal oil lamp there 'nd was all bent over, cause th' storm put th' electric lights out; all bent over th' table 'nd sayin' as how they couldn't do nothin' 'til mornin'."

The scoffers, now, were even edging closer, and another had come from behind young DePriest: Tod West, this, halted in his evident intent to enter the store, looking, listening.

"Well, this mornin' them detectuffs was up early," the boy continued. "Nd what'd they do?" Cunningly, he looked about, enjoying immensely this moment of importance.

"They start blowin' powder on that box 'nd blowin' powder on 'at ole crowbar, 'nd stickin' black tape over th' powder 'nd showin' it to Ezra."

"Th' sergeant, he's th' boss. 'Nd he says to Ezra th' fellar who handled th' crowbar 's th' fellar who left his thumb print inside th' box. 'Nen they picked up 'at ol' tin cup 'nd went to work on it, blowin' powder 'nd he says to Ezra 'at if th' prints on 'at ol' cup's th' same's th' others, they 'n git their man by reachin' out fer him!"

He looked around again.

"Jus' now, 'at was," he declared. "Jus' now, they're blowin' powder on 'at ol' tin cup. . ."

The group pressed close and closer but it had one less member, now; one less, because Tod West was walking blindly, staggering a bit, toward his house. And as he glanced across the river to where two tall young men walked on either side of Ezra Adams toward the trestle, he began to run.

The spruce forest grew close to the back door of his house. It was but a moment's work to secure his rifle, a supply of ammunition, and then disappear through the trees. Panting, he fled up-stream and crossed in gravel shallows and plunged through the bush northward.

He had a gun and food for its chamber. He knew where he could get an ax. With an ax and a gun a man may live in the woods for long, provided he knows the woods and their ways. Tod West knew that vast country beyond Townline lake better than did any other. He could hide there, could remain in safety for weeks, for months. He could not, of course, stay forever; and when he did emerge he would need more than an ax and a gun. He would need money. On his way up to his first sanctuary he could retrieve money. . .

THIS WEEK IN TEXAS HISTORY

1836—On June 9 three commissioners were sent to Matamoros under the flag of truce to see if all the Texas prisoners had been released. They found the prisoners held in custody in violation of the flag and treaty so they sent a letter to General T. J. Rusk setting forth the situation.

1839—The law requiring the President of the Republic of Texas and his cabinet to reside at the new seat of government after the first of the succeeding October was passed on June 8.

1844—The American Senate, after long discussion of the treaty of annexation, rejected it on June 8 by a vote of 16-35.

1846—Between June 8, 1846 and November 4, 1851, Henry McCulloch commanded six different companies of Texas rangers.—Texas State College for Women (CIA).
