

Hot Topping For Highway No. 51 Let

The Texas Highway Commission met last Friday and let road building and finishing contracts in the sum of $958,000, and Saturday the batch of jobs on Texas highways ran nearly a million dollars. The Federal dollar allowance is in now, but the State budget will not be made up to use this 1936-37 Federal money for some little time.

However Chairman Harry Hines says that the outlook for Federal aid on other than Federal designated, is slightly better than last year. The following contracts let last Friday are of most interest to Terry and Hockley counties:

Hockley Lubbock and Terry Counties—36.5 miles asphalt seal coat base preservatives and sealed single asphalt surface on Highways 24, 137 and 51, from Levelland loop to a point east of Levelland; from Terry County line to Lubbock County line, from Lubbock to Hockley County line, from Brownfield 10.7 miles south, Sooke & Braden, Amarillo, $50,998.

LYON HEADS FOR OKLAHOMA—THANKS VOTERS

Commissioner Lee Lyon, of No. 4, was in such a hurry to get away after the primary that he forgot to thank the voters of his precinct, so he writes back under recent date from Calera, Okla., where he is visiting relatives. So Lee wants one and all of the voters in his precinct to know how much he appreciates their support and confidence, and he promised continued efficient performance of duty to the best of his ability.

He says that the country, or most of it pass through has poor crops as it has been so hot and dry. The corn and cotton in the section where he is visiting is very poor.

GEORGE HENSON THANKS

Please let me use this means to thank the people of Precinct No. 2 of Terry County for the splendid vote given me in the July Democratic Primary. I count it a high privilege to work in and for Precinct No. 2 and also for the entire county. I am deeply interested in seeing my Precinct in a good financial condition and with the cooperation of our people this can be done. I shall continue to do my best to serve all alike and will welcome the assistance of all.

THANKS VOTERS OF PRECINCT NO. 3

I fell short of getting the number of votes I expected to get in the race for commissioner of Precinct No. 3, however I feel benefitted in some ways in making the race. And especially I want to express my appreciation and thanks to those who voted for me. I shall try to help cooperate with the one you may elect to the office.

Sincerely,
J. T. Pippin

RELIGION OF CANDIDATES

Having had a number of inquiries concerning the religious affiliations of the leading presidential candidates the Pathfinder takes this means of answering all at the same time. President Roosevelt is an Episcopalian. Vice President Garner is a member of the Methodist church. Governor Alf Landon is also a Methodist. Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice Presidential candidate, is a Congregationalist.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our most sincere thank and gratitude for the help and kindness shown us thru the good Meadow people, before and since my daughter has been back home. Also for your untiring efforts in helping to wait on her. May God bless everyone of you.

Mrs. Bevers and children.

SECURITIES COM. FOLLOW CONSTRUCTIVE POLICY

According to an article in the Wall Street Journal, the Securities and Exchange Commission has decided to "follow a cautious policy on floor trading" in stock exchanges. It has decided not to pursue its originally proposed plan of completely segregating the functions of broker and dealer.

This speaks well for the fairness of the officials of the SEC. There is a great responsibility—theirs also is a difficult job, that can be productive of loss as well as gain. They must protect to the limit of their ability and authority the public interest, and they also must protect, in the interest of millions of investors the efficiency and flexibility of our security exchanges.

A stock exchange is nothing more or less than a trading post. As other trading posts deal in grain, furs, cattle and machinery, it deals in the equally tangible values represented by stocks. It offers a place where the investor, large or small, can quickly and inexpensively dispose of securities or purchase others. It fixes no prices—the law of supply and demand, best of all arbiters of value, takes care of that as it does of grain, fur or cattle prices.

The SEC has earned the regard and admiration of investors, the general public, and officials of our security exchanges. It is to be praised for its determination to be fair as well as for the unrelenting vigilance it shows in fighting those who would misuse the exchanges.

FORMER CITIZENS OF JACK COUNTY, TEXAS TO HOLD REUNION AT LUBBOCK

The former citizens of Jack county, Texas, will hold a reunion at Lubbock on Friday, August 28. The meeting will be held at the park in Lubbock where a picnic dinner will be served.

It is expected that every former citizen of that county whether living in Texas or New Mexico will be present on that day.

This has become an annual affair when all these people come together and have a pleasant time renewing old acquaintances and forming new ones and talking over old times together.

Exposition to Honor Great Texan

JOHN NANCE GARNER
A special proclamation by Governor Alfred has proclaimed August 5th as John Nance Garner day, and the distinguished Vice President will be honored on that day by a tumultuous demonstration at the Centennial Exposition in Dallas. Thousands of Texans will converge upon Dallas in probably the greatest public ovation ever accorded a citizen of the Lone Star State. The Exposition is preparing to handle the gayest and largest crowd in its history.

Optimistic Crop Outlook For Texas

AUSTIN—It is significant that the agricultural outlook for Texas is far more optimistic than for the country at large, according to Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Although some damage has been sustained in scattered areas of the State by drought and perhaps more by floods, present indications are that the total output of major crops and live stock enterprises will be nearer normal than it has been for the past several years he said.

"This fact in conjunction with the higher level of prices of farm products of farm products which is already assured, should make for substantial gains in the agricultural income of the State," he continued. "Retail trade in Texas is already reflecting this improved agricultural outlook. In Texas the increase in retail sales during June over those of last year, was considerably above that in the Nation at large."

"Aside from the uncertainties mentioned above in connection with the corn crop, the business outlook in the country as a whole for the second half of the year continues bright. The demand for automobiles, steel, and a great variety of other goods promises to be well sustained. The revival in the cotton textile industry also is important.

"Looking still farther ahead, the longer term factors, those likely to operate over the next several years appear to be extremely favorable. The tremendous shortages of durable goods—including construction—that have accumulated during the depression, our enormous supply of investment funds, low rates of interest, and the relatively low level of commodity prices—in comparison with the period 1923-1929—make a situation that is probably stronger than any that has existed in this country at the close of earlier depressions.

"It should not be overlooked that in spite of the improvements in general business and international trade from the depression lows, we are still far below normal. Industrial production is now back to the levels of 1930 the first year of the depression. Population in this country has increased more than six millions since that time. Assuming that the increase in per capita consumption, which has prevailed consistently in this country with only intermittent interruptions for more than a century, will ultimately be resumed, it can readily be seen how much farther we still have to go to reach our old stride in industrial production."

Mr. and Mrs. Latham of Stephens-Latham Dry Goods are in Dallas purchasing new fall merchandise.

Area Scouts to Hold Swimming Contest

Friday, August 21st, has been set as the date for the South Plains Council Swimming meet to be held at Tumble Inn Pool in Lubbock. Between 150 and 200 scouts are expected to participate in this meet. Those entering the Council championships will include the winners of 1, 2, and 3 places in the six district meets now being held and also scouts who qualified on basis of minimum time requirements.

All scouts who desire to enter the Council championships and who did not qualify in a district meet may do so by meeting the time or distance for the events here indicated. Any scout entering by meeting these qualifications should send in name and list of events qualified in signed by his scoutmaster.

County Has Received $745,000 Rental Checks

Terry County has received $749,839.03 in rental and benefit payments in the three years since the creation of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. It has been announced by H. P. Drought, state director of the Nation Emergency Council.

Rental and benefit payments in Texas amounted to $139,412,186.46 for the three-year period. Drought said.

Cotton rental and benefit payments made for the entire state aggregated $114,070,836.72; wheat $16,581,129.10; corn-hog, $6,403,258.44; sugar, $705.98; rice, $1,975,145.03; peanuts, $381,111.19.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Brownfield and children, accompanied by Irma Lone Smith, returned Wednesday from their trip thru the middle western states and California.

All Is Quiet Along The Western Front

Everything is so doggedly quiet this week that one can almost hear himself think. The big part of the nomination election is over, there being just a few runoffs, that it will hardly interest the forefront of the voters, much less the hindpart. And there is something else to think about too. What we poor editors going to do for copy? Both the big centennials are well enough under way now that we are not getting the average amount of dope we did receive.

There is all the candidates for U. S. Senate, Governor, Comptroller, Treasurer, General Land office and what have you, out of the running. We may or we may not have a hot race for rail commissioner. That depends on where the drop falls. But we are certainly missing the big white, yellow, green, pink and off-brand colors from our friends, the state candidates, this week. Why it is no trouble at all to open and peruse all the mail this week. It hardly causes a ruffle on the surface.

True, a lot of the paper manufacturers, jobbers, etc. are still flooding us with samples of bonds, blotters, ply-board, etc., as usual, but you can always dump that in the waste basket safely without looking it over, as you know good and well there is no money in any of them. But one time, we came near throwing a perfectly good check from a state candidate in the old basket, the one that has held hundreds of pounds of hue and cry, the misfortunes and implications of the dear old candidates, and after that time, we always took a cautious peep inside the envelope, especially if it had a three-cent stamp thereon.

So, we are really lonesome this week for something that we are missing, and for much we did miss. Did those successful candidates or the defeated ones think about us poor, down trodden overworked editors after the polls closed. Hardly. They were either grinning and licking their chops, or whipping their wives and cursing the voters.

And so it is all through life. The more you do for people generally the less they think of you.

Hop Halsey to Speak To Voters Saturday

Hop, Halsey, of Lubbock, in the runoff with J. Doyle Settle for representative of this the 119th district, will speak to the voters of Terry county Saturday afternoon, August 8th, at 4 o'clock as he will speak for in the interest of his candidacy at Levelland at 2 P. M., coming to Brownfield immediately.

Well, we finally met Hop. He bearded the lion in his den Tuesday afternoon, and we really found him a pleasing young man, full of vim, get-up and go, and we are sure that he would work hard if sent to the Legislature. He is a good natured guy too, as he did not take what we said at all seriously last week in an editorial. In fact, when Hop was editor of the Tech paper, he said he really enjoyed panning people himself, and takes no offense when someone comes back at him.

But we really did get a panning from some friend of Hop here, who sent us an unsigned article. The writer says we would not publish the article if it was signed. Try it and see, but we won't promise not to come back at you. The writer says the rank file of the people could get nothing from us. Well, we kinder like the file, but some people do get too RANK sometimes.

Anyway, the letter was shown to Hop, who remarked: "Well, I have at least one friend here, who probably had it in for the Herald back before the campaign started."

Changes in Pigskin District Completed

Official changes in Class B grid-iron districts places Snyder as previously announced in The Times— in District 6, along with Colorado, Roby, Roscoe, Rotan, Merkel and Loraine. Superintendent Roger A. Burger of Merkel is district chairman.

Other members of old District 6, Anson, Haskell, Hamlin, Munday, Rule and Stamford, become No. 9, with Aspermont and Albany completing the line-up.

District 5 includes Brownfield, Crosbyton, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Olton, Post, Ralls, Slaton, and Tahoka.—Snyder Times.

We See How Badly We Need a Park Here

The Herald families went to Lubbock Sunday to spend the day with some friends, and about one in the afternoon, a home prepared dinner (lunch to you) was spread in the big city park in the shade of the old willow tree. There was a gentle breeze from the southeast, and a few hours spent there was really enjoyed.

Literally hundreds of people, perhaps more than a thousand lined the shady grove, and we took particular pains to see just how many of them belonged in other counties than Lubbock. You'd be surprised as they were there from all over this section, and don't forget that while many may, as we did, carry their lunch, money is spent for other things with Lubbock merchants. Sometimes they may have a rather big bill.

Then there is a matter of gasoline, lubes, cold drinks, hot dogs and what ever a picnic might use. All of which goes to show that we are setting in our own rights by not providing a recreation park in or near our little city.

If it would be possible this fall to revive our WPA park project and get it started at least, and add to it from year to year, it would mean much. The Herald does not want to suggest something impossible to achieve, but would like for the older heads, the men and women who have made Brownfield what it is, discuss this matter some.

We realize that there is an expense attached to keeping a park up, but lots of times concessions and such for affairs would almost take care of this matter. After all, the great expense for a caretaker comes about four or five months in summer.

Church of Christ Revival Starts Thurs.

We are authorized to announce that the summer revival of the church of Christ will start next Thursday night. The grassy lawn will be seated and well lighted for these services. No time has been set for the day services, but they will likely be at 10 A. M., on the inside of the house, which has been well provided with electric fans.

These series of meetings will be conducted by Elder John T. Smith of Lubbock, who has been ministering to the Broadway church there for some six or eight years. The song services will be by local forces.

The general public is cordially invited to attend these services. Elder Smith is a good speaker and a ripe Bible student. Services will go over two Sundays.

Later: It was decided to start the revival in the church house next Thursday night and later move to the lawn if necessary.

New Meadow Postmaster a Visitor Here

Mr. A. C. Finley, postmaster at Meadow since April, was in our city Wednesday and paid the Herald office a pleasant call. Postmaster Finley seems to be a friendly kind of man, and has something pleasant to pass on to his acquaintances.

Mr. Finley stated that there was a lot about the business that he did not understand yet, but was doing his very best to learn. He got all the information that we happened to know concerning second class mailing privileges of newspapers.

Call again, Mr. Finley, we are always glad to have you. By the way we mentioned some new subscriptions up there to him, and he stated he did not know who they would be as we already had the field covered, or practically so.

Buy His Partner Out in Drug Business

The announcement last week that Jim Graves had bought the interest of his partner, Homer Nelson in the Corner Drug Store came as quite a surprise to their many friends. Mr. Graves will continue as manager, we understand with the same force that the store has been working, for several months.

Mr. Nelson has made no statement as to his future intentions, that we are aware of, but we feel sure that he does not at this time contemplate leaving our city, as he has a nice home here. However, we hope to have a statement from him soon.

O'Donnell to Stage Rodeo August 14-15

Officials of the Rodeo which is to be held at O'Donnell on August 14 and 15 have extended an invitation to this city to send a Princess of the court of the Rodeo Queen. Brownfield will be represented at this event.

All the customs of the traditional rodeo of the Old West will be observed and carried out, according to the promoters, O. L. Harris and L. McMillan. The later is a Brownfield citizen, having ranching interests near here. Wild horse races, bronc riding, both bareback and with saddles, trick riding and roping, clowns, chuck wagons, and $225 in cash prizes are only a few of the many attractions which have been arranged. The Rodeo Queen will be crowned in an impressive ceremony on the arena field Friday evening, and the rodeo performance will be followed by the Queen's Ball on an open-air platform. Services of two well known orchestras have been secured for the dances on the two nights.

Scores of nationally known rodeo stars have filed their entrance fees, and will be there to compete for the prize money. Admission will be very small, and especially so when the nature of the entertainment is considered.

Six Negroes Hurt Here, One Seriously

Six Big Spring negroes, three men and three women, had the misfortune of a very serious car wreck about two miles north of the city last Friday morning. They were driving a new 1936 model Plymouth, which was badly wrecked. They were on their way from Lubbock to their home.

One of the men had a vertebra broken and pressing on the brain, which rendered him paralyzed from his neck down. The others were more or less skinned and bruised but not seriously. All were given first aid by local physicians, and the one so badly injured was carried on to Big Spring.

A local physician stated that a man injured as a broken vertebra and pressure on the spine and brain, has little or no chance of recovery.

Mahon Attends Garner Day at Centennial

COLORADO, Texas. — Leaving Colorado Monday afternoon, Congressman George Mahon went to Dallas this week where he attended the Garner Day celebration sponsored by the Texas Centennial Exposition. The Vice President was honored with a luncheon and banquet on Wednesday and made a radio address over a nation-wide hook-up Wednesday evening, speaking from the Cotton Bowl on the Centennial grounds. Mr. Mahon was invited with other Members of Congress from Texas and other Texas officials to serve as a member of the Vice President's official party.

Mrs. Mahon joined the Congressman in Dallas on Wednesday. She was a guest at a luncheon honoring Mrs. Garner on that day.

Paris Dentist Calls On Herald Wednesday

Dr. R. M. Coker, wife and children of Paris, Texas, passed through Wednesday on their way to the Caverns, Roswell and finish with a trip up into the Denver section before returning home. He formerly published the Ladonia News, but has quit hard work and gone in for dentistry.

Dr. Coker was quite enthused over Brownfield, and wanted two or three back issues, and especially the one containing the bank statements published last month. He says they have fine crops in the Paris section, and are getting some oil play now.

He stated that unquestionably Brownfield was the best town to its size he had seen since he left Paris.

She took my hand with loving care,
She took my costly flowers so rare,
She took my candy and my books,
She took my eye with meaning looks,
She took all that I could buy,
And then she took the other guy.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Bailey and Sandra returned last week from their vacation spent in California.

Those Republican leaders who have been trying to make political capital over the dispensation of relief to drought sufferers in the middle north, had their bubbles exploded in just a few words this week by President Roosevelt. He was approached by several correspondents of newspapers to make a statement about drought relief. His reply was to the point and plainly understood as usual: "It is unscrupulous to try to make partisan political capital out of the misfortunes of the people in the drought sections."

The six constitutional amendments are being printed in this paper for the benefit of the voters of this section, in order that they may be prepared at the November election to vote on them intelligently and perhaps not scratch some good ones because you do not understand all of them. You voters are to be the sole judges of the merits of these amendments to the Texas constitution and you as intelligent people must be responsible for their retention or rejection. They will run this week and then two more weeks. Cut them out of the paper if necessary, and at odd times, post yourself on them so you can cast a qualified vote the first Tuesday in November.

Those good Republican editors who are now bewailing the fact that President Roosevelt has put all postmasters under civil service, are rather late as well as rather inconsistent. For twelve long years, while the Democratic party was in the minority, this was tried to no avail. It was tried again the first part of the present administration by recommendation of President Roosevelt, but was blocked. The GOP took advantage of recessed appointments and otherwise to fill well nigh all the first and second class offices with their adherents before they went out as head of affairs at Washington. Republicans in congress let it be known that they did not want to tie the hands of future Republican presidents. Now they say Mr. Roosevelt is using this as a political pull. Father Coughlin has apologized to President Roosevelt for having called the President a liar. But the tone of his statement leads one to believe that Coughlin still believes what he originally said about the President. The reformers who have no practical business sense would lead this nation into a financial situation which would wreck the nation. Fortunately few people pay much attention to them. The only thing that the third party may accomplish this fall will be to defeat Roosevelt, and then they would be worse off under Republican rule than they ever have under the Democratic administration.—Canyon News.

If Gov. Allred does not declare a holiday and call it Charley Guy Day we are going to vote against him when he runs against Tom Connalley for Senator. If he doesn't it will just show how narrow he is. Didn't John N. Garner come out for Allred and ask the people to vote for the Governor? And didn't His Excellency, the Governor, proclaim a John Nance Garner Day, and aren't they going to throw a banquet or "sompn" to feed the cactus guy up a little? Well, as we were saying, if Jim doesn't do something like that for Charley we are going to prize it up, for Charley came out with two hot editorials asking the people to vote for Allred, so we are asking for a GUY day.—Anton News.

We noticed with pride the almost total absence in our local campaigns this year of mud-slinging. It is gradually coming home to the candidates that the voters as a whole rather judge a candidate by his own merits than the demerits of his opponent. The day of the "cigar giving" and "baby kissing" campaigner is a thing of the past. Campaigners like everything else are undergoing a drastic change. New methods are being tried and old ones abandoned. The people in local and county politics have discovered these facts and the candidates for higher office might do well to take a leaf from these local candidates notebooks. In spite of all the news to the contrary, common sense seems to act as an inverse ratio the higher the office. Maybe in time they, too, will learn that vilification is no vote getter.—Lockney Beacon.

We've been wasting so much time traipsing around the country we haven't even had time to tell the folks how to vote. And now that the first primary is over we can see that nobody needed to be told. The election came out just as we wanted it to. Oh, sure we lost a few of our candidates and suffered with our friends who were disappointed. But the fact prevails that the majority was pleased, and after that the fundamentals of democracy require us all to be pleased. We are glad to live where minorities can take it. Have you noticed the uproar in Spain? No democracy there. If you lose in the election just grab your gun and start shooting. We might have neglected to talk up the election, but Crosby county voters didn't neglect to vote, there were many more votes cast than there were poll-tax receipts issued, which means the people were interested and nearly all the voters and unders got out and expressed opinions about how our country should be run.—Ralls Banner.

CENTIPEDE CONTROL No matter how clean a house is kept there is always an insect or two to bob up when most unwanted. Among these is the centipede which liking darkness, is found in bathrooms, around drains or in damp cellars. Being a cannibal, his one good point is that this fuzzy, swift running little fellow eats roaches, houseflies and so on. Nor does he hesitate to bite a human if cornered injecting a poison which causes considerable discomfort. A bite is relieved by applying ammonia to the wound. Inspect likely hiding places and kill all individuals encountered. Dust around water pipes and drains with a poison powder.

DALLAS, Texas, July 27.—Texas fields of cotton, the burial place of Bonnie Parker, Southwestern outlaw, and the home of the Southern Methodist Mustangs are proving most popular attractions to Texas Centennial Expositions visitors in their "rubber-neck" trips over and near the city. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Moore were Lubbock visitors Sunday.

ROAD RACING LESS DANGEROUS and down dale at a terrific speed. However, the man-a-hurry was satisfied, and congratulated the driver when paying him off. "But, I say," he remarked, "I'm afraid we must have run over something about an hour ago. I distinctly felt a bump." "Bump!" replied the driver. "Oh, that was the Continental Divide."

SHERIFF'S SALE THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF TERRY: Notice Is Hereby Given That by virtue of a certain Order of Sale issued out of the Honorable District Court of Terry County, on the 19th day of September 1935, by Eldora A. White, District Clerk of said District Court for the sum of One Hundred Thirty One and 75-100 ($131.75) Dollars and costs of suit, under a judgement, in favor of Willow Wells Independent School District vs T. J. Bowers, placed in my hands for service, I, J. S. Smith as Sheriff of Terry County, Texas, did on the 5th day of August 1936, levy on certain Real Estate, situated in Terry County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

Abstract 1203, Survey 24, Block DD, North 320 acres in Terry County, Texas, with interest and penalties thereon as provided by law; this suit being brought for the use and benefit of said Independent School District. TRUTH A story has been told about one of the great jurists of England: 'As a member of a committee appointed to draw up resolutions of congratulation to the Queen, he discovered that his colleagues had begun a resolution with these words: Being conscious as we are of our own defects... 'No, no,' said the judge, that will never do. We must not lie to Her Majesty. Change it to: Being conscious as we are of one another's defects.'

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

S. J. R. No. 3-a

A joint resolution proposing an Amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas by striking out Section 20 thereof; providing for local option on the question of the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes; providing that spirituous liquors, or liquors composed in whole or in part of the products of distillation shall not be sold for private profits, except to the State; providing that the Legislature shall pass laws relative to the sale, possession, transportation and manufacture of such spirituous liquors; providing for the establishment of State dispensaries; providing for the manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of all liquors which are exclusively products of the fermentation process; providing that intoxicating liquors shall not be manufactured, sold, bartered, or exchanged for beverage purposes in any county or political subdivision wherein the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, until a majority of the qualified voters of such county or political subdivision shall determine such to be lawful at an election held for that purpose; providing for an election on the question of the adoption or rejection of such amendment and making an appropriation therefor; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof; and prescribing the form of ballot.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by striking out Section 20 thereof and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"Article XIV. Section 20:

"(a) It is hereby declared to be the policy of this State that the open saloon shall not be reestablished. The sale of spirituous liquors, manufactured in whole or in part by means of the process of distillation and or liquors compounded and or composed in part of such spirituous distilled liquors, for private profit, is prohibited within this State except when such sale is made to the State. The State of Texas shall have the exclusive right to purchase at wholesale and to sell at retail such distilled spirituous liquors. Such sale shall be made only in unbroken packages and no such liquors shall be consumed on the premises where sold. The Legislature shall pass laws to prescribe regulations relative to the manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of such spirituous liquors and relative to the establishment of State dispensaries; provided, however the Legislature shall have the power to regulate the sale for private profit and possession of distilled liquors for medicinal, scientific and mechanical purposes.

"The manufacture, sale, transportation, and possession of all liquors, the alcoholic content of which is entirely and exclusively the result of the fermentation process is hereby authorized under such restrictions as may be authorized by law.

"(b) The Legislature shall enact a law or laws whereby the qualified voters of any county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, may, by a majority vote of those voting, determine from time to time whether the sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purpose shall be prohibited or legalized within the prescribed limits; and such laws shall contain provisions for voting on the sale of intoxicating liquors of various types and various alcoholic content.

"(c) In all counties, justice's precincts or incorporated towns or cities within which the sale of intoxicating liquors had been prohibited by local option elections held under the laws of the State of Texas and in force at the time of the taking effect of Section 20, Article XIV of the Constitution of Texas, it shall continue to be unlawful to manufacture, sell, barter or exchange in any such county, justice's precinct or incorporated town or city, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or medicated bitters capable of producing intoxication or any other intoxicants whatsoever for beverage purposes, unless and until a majority of the qualified voters in such county or political subdivision thereof voting in an election held for such purpose shall determine such to be lawful; provided that this subsection shall not prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages containing not more than 3.2 per cent alcohol by weight in cities, counties or political subdivisions thereof in which the qualified voters have voted to legalize such sale under the provisions of Chapter 116, Acts of the regular session of the 43rd Legislature."

Section 2. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary Proclamation for said election and to have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary Proclamation for said election and to have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

the words: "For the amendment to the State Constitution providing for the establishment of a State dispensary system having the exclusive sale of distilled liquors, and providing for local option."

An those voters opposed to said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the Amendment to the State Constitution providing for the establishment of a State dispensary system having the exclusive sale of distilled liquors, and providing for local option."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

Section 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for such election, and shall have the same published and such election held as provided by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Section 4. The sum of Eight Thousands ($8,000.00) Dollars, or much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the State Treasury to pay for the expenses of said publication and election.

A joint resolution proposing an Amendment to Section 48, Article III, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing the establishment of Teachers' Retirement System, and making an appropriation for the election.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended thereto immediately after Section 48, a section to be known as Section 48a, and to read as follows:

"Section 48a: In addition to the powers given to the Legislature, under Section 48 of Article III, it shall have the right to levy taxes to provide a Retirement Fund for persons employed in public schools, colleges and universities, supported wholly or partly by the State; provided that the amount contributed by the State to such Retirement Fund shall equal the amount paid for the same purpose from the income of each such person, and shall not exceed at any time five per centum of the compensation paid to each person by the State, and or school districts, and shall in no one year exceed the sum of One Hundred Eighty ($180.00) Dollars for any such person; provided no person shall be eligible for a pension under this Amendment who has not taught twenty years in the State of Texas, but shall be entitled to a refund of the moneys paid into the fund.

All funds provided from the compensation of said persons or by the State of Texas, for such Retirement Fund, as are received by the Treasury of the State of Texas, shall be invested in bonds of the United States, cities of this State, or in bonds issued by any agency of the United States Government, the payment of the principal of and interest on which is guaranteed by the United States; provided that a sufficient amount of said funds shall be kept on hand to meet the immediate payment of the amounts that may become due each year under such retirement plan as may be provided by law; and provided that the recipients of such retirement fund shall not be eligible for any other pension retirement funds or direct aid from the State of Texas, unless such retirement fund, contributed by the State, is released to the State of Texas as a condition to receiving such other pension aid."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at the next General Election to be held on Tuesday, after the first Monday in November, which is November 3rd, 1936, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"For the Amendment to the Constitution authorizing retirement and the creation of a retirement fund for persons employed in public schools and colleges and universities supported wholly or partly by the State."

Those opposing said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the Amendment to the Constitution authorizing retirement and the creation of a retirement fund for persons employed in public schools and in colleges and universities supported wholly or partly by the State."

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary Proclamation for said election and to have same published as required by the Constitution for amendments thereto.

Section 4. The sum of Five Thousands ($5,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expense of such publication and election.

A joint resolution proposing an Amendment to the Constitution authorizing the Legislature to provide for Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees of the State, and authorizing the Legislature to provide for the payment of premiums on such policies of insurance; providing the State shall never be required to purchase insurance for any employees; providing for the necessary publication and election; making an appropriation to pay for same.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section to be known as Section 59, to read as follows:

"Section 59. The Legislature shall have power to pass such laws as may be necessary to provide for Workmen's Compensation Insurance for such State employees, as in its judgment is necessary or required; and to provide for the payment of all costs, charges, and premiums on such policies of insurance; providing the State shall never be required to purchase insurance for any employee."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November 1936, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"For the Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for the payment of Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees of the State."

And all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for the payment of Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees of the State."

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments.

Section 4. The sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expense of such publication and election.

S. J. R. No. 26

A joint resolution proposing an amendment to Section 11 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to provide for a Board of Pardons and Paroles, composed of three members, whose terms of office shall be for a period of six years, one to be appointed by the Governor, one by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Texas, and one by the presiding Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals, such appointment to be with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate present; and so as to provide that the Governor of the State shall have the power on the recommendation and advice of the majority of the Board of Pardons and Paroles to grant reprieves, commutations of punishment and pardons and to remit fines and forfeitures, and, with the advice and consent of the Legislature, to grant reprieves, commutations of punishment and pardons in cases of treason; and to provide that the Governor shall have power to grant one reprieve in any capital case not to exceed thirty (30) days; and shall have the power to revoke paroles and conditional pardons; and to provide that the Legislature shall have authority to regulate procedure before the Board and to enact parole laws; and to provide for an election for such proposed constitutional amendment, and to make an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 11 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as hereafter to read as follows:

"Section 11. There is hereby created a Board of Pardons and Paroles, to be composed of three members, who shall have been resident citizens of the State of Texas for a period of not less than two years immediately preceding such appointment, each of whom shall hold office for a term of six years; provided that of the members of the first board appointed, one shall serve for two years, one for four years and one for six years from the first day of February, 1937, and they shall cast lots for their respective terms. One member of the said Board shall be appointed by the Governor, one by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of Texas, and one member by the presiding Justice of the Court of Criminal Appeals; the appointments of all members of said Board shall be made with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate present. Each vacancy shall be filled by the respective appointing power that theretofore made the appointment to such position and the appointive powers shall have the authority to make recess appointments until the convening of the Senate.

In all criminal cases, except treason and impeachment the Governor shall have power after conviction, on the written signed recommendation and advice of the Board of Pardons and Paroles or a majority thereof, to grant reprieves and commutations of punishment and pardons; and under such rules as the Legislature may prescribe, and upon the written recommendation and advice of a majority of the Board of Pardons and Paroles, he shall have the power to remit fines and forfeitures. The Governor shall have the power to grant one reprieve in any capital case for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days; and he shall have the power to revoke paroles and conditional pardons. With the advice and consent of the Legislature, he may grant reprieves, commutations of punishment and pardons in cases of treason.

The Legislature shall have power to regulate procedure before the Board of Pardons and Paroles and shall require it to keep record of its actions and the reasons therefor, and shall have authority to enact parole laws."

Section 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to the electors of this State who are qualified to vote on proposed constitutional amendments at the general election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D. 1936, at which election each ballot shall have printed thereon the words:

"For the amendment of Section 11 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Texas, so as to provide for a Board of Pardons and Paroles, and to make the Governor's pardoning power subject to recommendation of said Board, except in cases of treason the Governor may grant reprieves, commutations and pardons with the advice and consent of the Legislature."

Each voter shall strike out with pen or pencil the clause which does not indicate his desire regarding the above proposed amendment:

Section 3. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election, and to have the above proposed amendment published in the manner and for the time required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Section 4. The sum of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

A joint resolution proposing an Amendment to Section 26 of Article 3 of the Constitution of Texas, by adding thereto Section 26a, providing that under no apportionment shall any county be entitled to more than seven (7) Representatives unless the population of such county shall exceed seven hundred thousand (700,000) people; providing for its submission to the voters as required by the Constitution and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 26, of Article 3, of the Constitution of Texas, be amended by adding thereto Section 26a, as follows:

"Section 26a. Provided however, that no county shall be entitled to or have under any apportionment more than seven (7) Representatives unless the population of such county shall exceed seven hundred thousand (700,000) people as ascertained by the most recent United States Census, in which event such county shall be entitled to one additional Representative for each one hundred thousand (100,000) population in excess of seven hundred thousand (700,000) population as shown by the latest United States Census; nor shall any district be created which would permit any county to have more than seven (7) Representatives except under the conditions set forth above."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State, at the next General Election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1936, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"For the Amendment to the Constitution of Texas, limiting every county to not more than seven (7) Representatives under any apportionment unless said county shall have a population of more than seven hundred thousand (700,000) people as ascertained by the most recent United States Census in which event such county shall be entitled to one additional Representative to each one hundred thousand (100,000) population."

And those opposed to said Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the Amendment to the Constitution of Texas, limiting every county to not more than seven (7) Representatives under any apportionment unless said county shall have a population of more than seven hundred thousand (700,000) people as ascertained by the most recent United States Census in which event such county shall be entitled to one additional Representative to each one hundred thousand (100,000) population."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the voters are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas, is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said Election and to have same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments thereto.

Section 4. The sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expense of such publication and election.

H. J. R. No. 9

A joint resolution proposing an Amendment to Section 26 of Article 3 of the Constitution of Texas, by adding thereto Section 26a, providing that under no apportionment shall any county be entitled to more than seven (7) Representatives unless the population of such county shall exceed seven hundred thousand (700,000) people; providing for its submission to the voters as required by the Constitution and making an appropriation therefor.

adding thereto Section 26a, providing that under no apportionment shall any county be entitled to more than seven (7) Representatives unless the population of such county shall exceed seven hundred thousand (700,000) people; providing for its submission to the voters as required by the Constitution and making an appropriation therefor.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 26, of Article 3, of the Constitution of Texas, be amended by adding thereto Section 26a, as follows:

"Section 26a. Provided however, that no county shall be entitled to or have under any apportionment more than seven (7) Representatives unless the population of such county shall exceed seven hundred thousand (700,000) people as ascertained by the most recent United States Census, in which event such county shall be entitled to one additional Representative for each one hundred thousand (100,000) population in excess of seven hundred thousand (700,000) population as shown by the latest United States Census; nor shall any district be created which would permit any county to have more than seven (7) Representatives except under the conditions set forth above."

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State, at the next General Election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1936, at which election all voters favoring said proposed Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"For the Amendment to the Constitution of Texas, limiting every county to not more than seven (7) Representatives under any apportionment unless said county shall have a population of more than seven hundred thousand (700,000) people as ascertained by the most recent United States Census in which event such county shall be entitled to one additional Representative to each one hundred thousand (100,000) population."

And those opposed to said Amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words:

"Against the Amendment to the Constitution of Texas, limiting every county to not more than seven (7) Representatives under any apportionment unless said county shall have a population of more than seven hundred thousand (700,000) people as ascertained by the most recent United States Census in which event such county shall be entitled to one additional Representative to each one hundred thousand (100,000) population."

If it appears from the returns of said election that a majority of the voters are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the State Constitution.

Section 3. The Governor of the State of Texas, is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said Election and to have same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments thereto.

Section 4. The sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expense of such publication and election.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

DENTON—Are you wearing the right type of clothes? So many women give little consideration to the styles they wear, except whether or not they are fashionable. They think nothing of the design in relation to their respective figures.

A tall, slender person is blessed with a willowy appearance. She can get away with long trains, sweeping shoulder drapes, and can look perfectly stunning in huge fur coats or slim suits that boast large fur collars. The short person should never try to wear these items. They will make her look dumpty and will cut what little height she has. Her evening dresses should give a swaying motion when walking, and should be short enough to show a tiny part of the slipper—otherwise she will give the appearance of being stuck to the floor.

Breaking the line of dresses is the best way designers have to give your figure just the style it needs. Some us neplums if the line is to be broken at the waist other use capes of varying lengths to suit your individual preference; and girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) suggest tunics.

Skirt lengths should be adjusted to the individual figure and legs. Even if everyone is wearing her dresses 11 inches from the floor this season, you certainly shouldn't do so is that length exposes the fattest part of the calf. It will mar the entire effect of your costume.

Arms and neck should also be taken into consideration when discussing types of clothes suited to individuals. If you have a short neck, wear only the simplest, flattest necklines. Sleeves should be governed by the proportions of the arm.

Fairy Crosses

THE most curious mineral found in the United States is Staurolite, otherwise known as a "fairy stone." Staurolite is an iron aluminum silicate found only in Virginia, the reddish-brown and brownish-black crystals occurring in well-defined crosses.

So says a report of the United States geological survey. But if you visit a certain valley among the rugged foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains in Patrick county, Virginia, the natives there will tell you a different story.

Two thousand years ago, so they say, this valley was the home of a band of fairies. One day as they were dancing around a clear spring in this sunlit valley, an elfin messenger arrived from an eastern land far, far away. He brought the news of the crucifixion of Christ, and when the fairies heard the sad news, they wept. Their tears fell to the ground and crystallized into little pebbles. On each tear-rock a beautiful cross appeared.

The fairies have long since left that valley but you can still find their crystallized tears there. They range in size from a fourth of an inch to an inch and a half and form some shape of a cross—St. Andrew's, Roman or Maltese, Virginia is the only place in the world where they can be found and from the Old Dominion they have been carried to all parts of the world.

Presidents (among them Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson) and European kings have been possessors of these little stones. Many a soldier (and general, too) carried them in the World war, for they are good luck pieces. So if you believe in fairies, you can believe that these fairy crosses will bring you good luck, too.

PRIDE OF A NATION

The railroads have shown through the depression the inherent efficiency and economy of moving the major commerce of this continent on steel rails, said J. W. Pelly, President of the Association of American Railroads, recently.

"They have demonstrated," he continued, "their ability to carry on under difficulties; to cut the unit cost of producing transportation while continuing to pay the highest transportation wages in the world; to improve their service and methism as the finest general transportation system in the history of the human race, and to keep that transportation system ready to go forward as America goes forward."

No industry has done more to lessen the cost of operation. In 1921, for example, it cost the railroads $10.78 to move a ton of freight one thousand miles. In 1929, the cost was $7.44. Today it is about $6.75. Similar progress has been made in every phase of operation. Most important, railroad operatcosts have not been reduced at the expense of safety and service. To the contrary, railroad service was never as good as it is today—never so adequate. And every year sees improvement in the rails' remarkable accident prevention record.

In good times and in bad, the railroads play their role as one of the greatest, most necessary, and most progressive American industries. Their welfare is inextricably related to the welfare of the nation.

We are glad to announce that Dr. R. B. Parish, local dentist, has installed in his office, one of the latest model X-Rays, and is now prepared to give this extra service to patients.

REAL "SCIENTIFIC FARMING"

At the recent 12th annual session of the American Institute of Cooperation, farm co-op leaders and students discussed a wide range of problems relating to agriculture.

Fifty group meetings were held, and were participated in by 150 speakers. As in previous years, the Institute itself subscribed to no issues but devoted itself to the dissemination of up-to-date information on marketing practices and procedures.

According to the Dairymen's League News, questions discussed included the federal soil conservation program; foreign trade policies; transportation problems; marketing problems, etc. Almost everything that has a bearing, direct or indirect, on the farmer's welfare, came in for mention.

This is indicative of the splendid work of the co-ops in trying to better the farmer's lot, and in seeking to provide him with useful knowledge.

Admiral-General

SAMUEL POWHATAN CARTER of Tennessee was the only man in American history who ever held both the rank of rear-admiral in the United States navy and brigadier-general in the United States army. Appointed a midshipman in 1840, he rose to the grade of lieutenant in the navy in 1855.

At the outbreak of the Civil war he was temporarily transferred to the War department to organize troops in his native state. First appointed colonel of the Second Tennessee Volunteers, he was commissioned a brigadier-general in 1862, brevetted a major-general in 1865 and mustered out of the army in 1866.

Returning to the navy and having by this time been promoted to the rank of commander, he became a captain in 1870, a commodore in 1878 and in 1881 he was placed on the retired list with the rank of rear admiral. "Admiral-General" Carter died in Washington in 1891.

Another Civil war army officer who had also served in the navy was Brevet Maj. Gen. William Nelson who had been appointed a midshipman the same year that Carter had and had risen to the rank of lieutenant-commander when he was transferred to the army. However, he never had an opportunity to become an admiral, for he was killed in an affray in Louisville, Ky., by Brig. Gen. Jefferson C. Davis on September 29, 1862.

The nearest parallel to Carter's case is that of Admiral Raphael Semmes, commander of the famous Confederate warship, the Alabama. After the destruction of his ship by the Kearsarge, Semmes was commissioned a brigadier-general by President Jefferson Davis of the Confederacy and placed in command of some batteries at Danville, Va., during the last week of the war.

FIRE LOSS AGAIN RISING

The national fire loss, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, is again on the rise. During the first five months of this year, it was some $20,000,000 in excess of the loss experienced in the same period of 1935.

It is possible that part of the increased loss is due to the fact that property values are somewhat higher now than they were a year ago, and another part to increased industrial activity, which naturally increases fire hazards. Even so, America's fire loss is nothing short of a disgrace, and is a black monument to human carelessness, human ignorance, human indolence.

It cannot be too often repeated that at least eighty per cent of all fire, minor and great, are preventable. The fire that consumed a splendid home could have been prevented had wiring been checked and repaired—the fire that destroyed a factory could have been prevented had inflammable liquids or solids been properly stored and handled. So it goes, down the gamut of fire. The inevitable fire, that nothing could have prevented, is as rare as hen's teeth.

This summer, as usual, the country has undergone a number of serious forest fires. More will occur before the fall rains set in. The great human causes of such fires are sparks from faulty smoke stacks, donkey engines, careless disposal of smoking materials, and ignorance as to build-and-extinguishing camp fires. Hundreds of thousands of acres of magnificent timber, the growth of centuries, have thus been burned to ashes. Wild life has been cremated as forest fires roar across miles of territory.

Fire is a calamity—and it is likewise a crime. And the fact that most persons who start fires do not realize their guilt does not mitigate the results of their offense. No American is so far beyond the "school age" that he shouldn't take lessons in fire prevention.

Young "Swing" Maestro Substitutes for Fred Waring

Tommy Dorsey, the trombone playing "swing" maestro, will bring his group of musical artists to Texas during August to broadcast a series of coast-to-coast CBS programs for the Ford Motor Company. Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians will be on vacation all during August. Each Tuesday night at the Texas Centennial Exposition Dorsey's orchestra will broadcast from the Gulf Radio studios.

The programs, which are sponsored by Ford dealers, will be presented twice each Tuesday night. The first time will be from 7 p. m. to 7:30 central standard time for the eastern and central states. The same broadcast will be repeated from 10 to 10:30 p. m. central standard time for Pacific coast and mountain states.

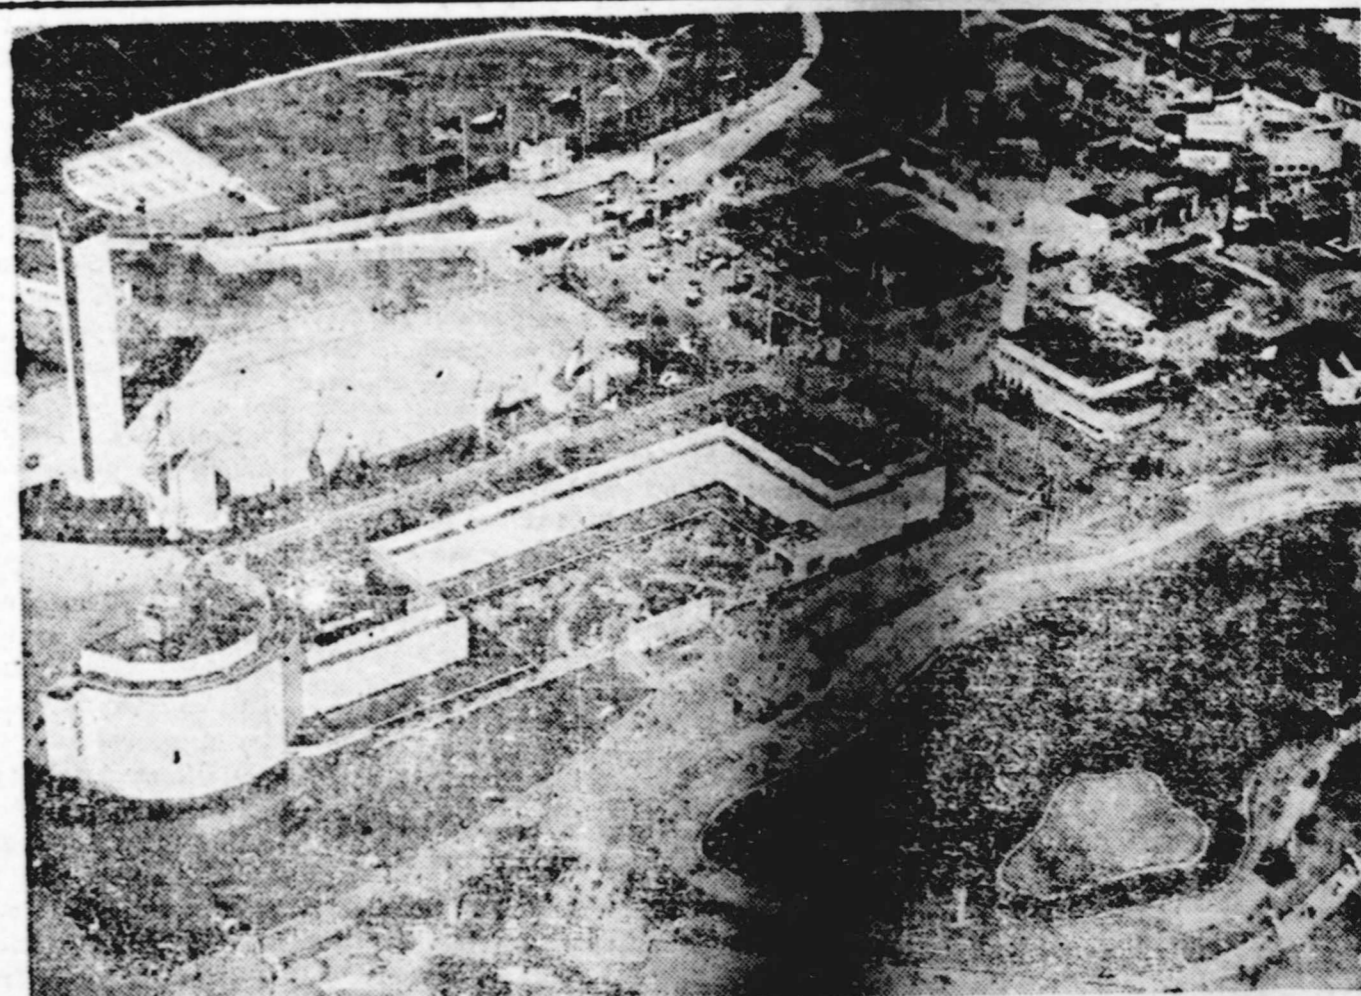

Two members of the orchestra will be featured. Edythe Wright, auburn-haired vocalist, has a clever style, often changing the lyrics of her songs, substituting words and in some cases even whole lines that strike her fancy or better express her interpretation of the song's mood or meaning. Incidentally, she has three hobbies, golf, tennis and writing poetry.

Jack Leonard, also a vocalist, is a most personable and charming young man with a great deal of talent. He contributes considerably to the appeal of the orchestra.

The upper photograph is of Edythe Wright, auburn-haired vocalist who will sing during August with Tommy Dorsey's orchestra when, pluck-bitting for Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians during their vacation, the Dorsey group will be heard in a series of coast-to-coast programs to be broadcast from the Texas Centennial grounds at Dallas. Tommy, the youthful "swing" maestro, and his orchestra are sponsored by the Ford Motor Company. He is shown in the lower photograph.

One of the main reasons for the success of Dorsey's orchestra can be traced to the young music master's ability as a trombone player. Often Tommy substitutes a horn for his trombone to do solo passages or lead the brasses in the many rhythmic arrangements popularized by the band.

DISADVANTAGES FOLLOW SIZE Some commentators on the subject of chain stores, who believe that the chain idea has been beneficial to the consuming public by acting as a spur to more efficient and economical methods of merchandising, fear that the chains may eventually grow into a monopoly. Other commentators have an interesting answer to this criticism. They point out that, especially in retail business, size brings disadvantages as well as advantages. It creates great overhead expenses and other unavoidable costs that individual merchants do not have to bear. As a result, the chain system can become so large that it is no longer economical. Hence any trend toward monopoly brings its own cure. This seems extremely reasonable. And it is already being proven as thousands of wide-awake independent merchants are selling at prices equal to or under those of large chain systems. In brief, economic law takes care of all such matters—it is the first enemy of monopoly in the field of endeavor. THINGS ONE REMEMBERS by R. M. Hofer An Associated Press dispatch from Berlin reports that an editor of a well-known German newspaper has been sentenced to life imprisonment for "high treason." The dispatch added that no official explanation was given as to just what he had done to merit such severe punishment, but that members of the foreign press corps remembered that a few months before he had divulged to them some of the orders given the German press by the "minister of propaganda"—and had been immediately arrested. Here is fine fruit of dictatorship! Certainly it seems incredible that any government should tell its press precisely what it may or may not say and advocate, or that an editor who disobeys such dictation can be sentenced to life behind bars. Such things can only happen in nations when freedom of press, freedom of speech and constitutional liberties have been abrogated by iron-heeled dictators more powerful than the ancient Tsars. Here in our country, freedom of press, speech and action exists by virtue of the United States Constitution. Curiosa Americana By Elmo Scott Watson

HE Didn't Say It POPULAR belief ascribes to Horace Greeley, editor of the New York Tribune, the admonition "Go West, young man, go West!" But Greeley didn't originate that phrase—he only helped popularize it. The man who first wrote it (at least, in its application to the American frontier) was John L. B. Soule, editor of the Terre Haute (Ind.) Express. In 1851 Richard Thompson, afterward secretary of the navy, urged Soule to go West and grow up with the country. Thompson also warred a barrel of flour that Soule, whose talents as a writer he admired, could write an article that would be attributed to Greeley, at that time considered the greatest of all editorial writers. The result was a column editorial about the West's opportunities for young men in which Soule declared that Horace Greeley could never have given a young man better advice than contained in the words "Go West, young man, go West!" Although stated merely as Soule thought Greeley might have expressed it, newspapers all over the country began to credit Greeley with the epigram. Finally Greeley reprinted Soule's editorial with a note stating that even though he endorsed the sentiment, he did not originate the "Go West" phrase. But people kept right on believing Greeley said it and they still do. Similarly, they attribute to Charles A. Dana, famous editor of the New York Sun, the definition of news—"If a dog bites a man, that is not news, because it happens so often; but if a man bites a dog, that is news." The real author of that saying was not Dana—although he endorsed it, but John B. Bogart, city editor of the Sun from 1873 to 1890 and one of Dana's greatest subordinates. © Western Newspaper Union.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD Your Camera Sins Will Find You Out

Rolling down to Rio? No, an example of what happens when you don't hold your camera level.

- ONE of the satisfactions of amateur photography is that Lady Luck will so often play you the kindest of tricks. Much oftener than shooting an arrow aimlessly and hitting the mark, you may shoot a picture without precaution or thinking of focus, exposure time or diaphragm opening, and, nevertheless, when the negative is developed, find that you have obtained in all respects a good photograph. Dumb luck it is, really, but a tribute also to the capability of modern photographic equipment. Modern cameras and films allow so much latitude for careless and inept use that, while they are not robots in their performance, they do cover up a lot of picture-taking sins. Fortunate as that may be, it is certain that the amateur who depends on luck entirely will get many poor pictures and waste a lot of film. There are some sins which he cannot commit with impunity. Here they are: 1. Tipping the camera with the result that in the picture buildings appear to be toppling, and rivers run uphill or downhill. 2. Allowing the camera to move as the shutter is snapped, or jerking the shutter release under the impression that it can thus be made to move faster. Result: blurred picture. 3. Dirty or misty lens. Result: picture hazy, indistinct. 4. Letting the finger tip slip over the edge of the lens. Result: silhouette of finger tip. 5. Giving a time exposure without resting the camera on some firm support. Result: blurred picture. (A shaky fence is not good for a time exposure, neither is the hood of an automobile when the engine is running.) 6. Trying to take a snapshot after a time or bulb exposure without readjusting the shutter. Result: a much jumbled up image or perhaps no picture at all. 7. Forgetting to turn key that moves the film. Result: jumble of two pictures on one negative. 8. In focusing, wrongly estimating the distance between camera and subject. Result: fuzziness. 9. With fixed focus cameras, taking pictures of subjects nearer than 8 or 10 feet without a portrait attachment. Result: blurred, out-of-focus image. 10. Using a large stop for distant views. Result: loss of distant detail. 11. Attempting broadside shots of movement too rapid for the shutter. Result: blur. (Moving objects can be "stopped" by an ordinary camera if the picture is taken from an angle and not too close.) Yes, even in photography, brother, your sins will find you out. JOHN VAN GUILDER.

Greenfield, Historical Community, to House Workshop of Wright Brothers

Pageant of Transportation at Ford Exposition

A pageant of transportation from the day of the early ox cart to the 1936 Ford V-8 is presented in the rotunda of the Ford Exposition building at the Texas Centennial in Dallas. Here is a partial view of the display with the first Ford ever built in the rear of the information desk and the 1903 model to the right.

Air Pioneers' Building Goes to Join Collection of Structures That Make Up Famous Village at Dearborn, Michigan

The Pageant of Transportation as displayed by the Ford Motor Company in its building at the Texas Centennial in Dallas shows only vehicles which travel upon the ground. However, in Dearborn, Mich., the history of transportation as portrayed by the Edison Institute includes aviation. This display is now augmented by another historical exhibit.

In Dayton, Ohio, Henry Ford purchased the building formerly occupied by the Wright Cycle Company and the laboratory in which Wilbur and Orville Wright designed and built the world's first successful airplane 33 years ago. Ford plans to move the building to his Edison Institute, which is the name of the combined Edison

Museum and the Greenfield Village, constructed to endure for generations as exhibitions of progress in engineering, mechanics and the useful arts and crafts. The Wright building is a two-story brick and frame structure. It was here that the Wright brothers had their bicycle manufacturing plant and repair shop. In this place they began work on an airplane and accurately analyzed for the first time what aeronautical engineers call the "travel of the center of pressure" on an airplane wing. It was their analysis of this that makes it possible to construct an airplane light enough to fly, yet strong enough to carry a load and withstand all the strains of flight. Many American buildings which have become shrines are located in Greenfield village. Also there are exact reproductions of such buildings as Independence Hall, Congress Hall, and the City Hall of Philadelphia. Nearly every aspect of the village reflects the life of the small American community of fifty or one hundred years ago. Among the buildings is the Clinton Inn, built in 1831 in Clinton, Mich., and once a stopping place between Detroit and Chicago. Nearby is the chapel of Martha-Mary, named for the mothers of Mr. and Mrs. Ford. The original red school house in which Ford occupied a seat as a boy is maintained as it was in the early days of Dearborn. Nearby is the Lincoln courthouse. Outstanding to most visitors is the Menlo Park group of buildings, reconstructed from, or reproductions of, the structures in which Thomas A. Edison labored from 1876 to 1886.

CAVALCADE BRINGS TEXAS HISTORY TO LIFE

DALLAS, Texas, August—Cavalcade of Texas, one of the "must see" things at the Texas Centennial Exposition, recreates the hilarious spirit of the Big Bend country in the above scene in the Jersey Lilly saloon when Judge Roy Bean was all the law there was West of the Pecos. Just below are the famous Wilson Clydesdales, valued at $100,000, drawing one of the covered wagons across the largest stage on earth; lower left, a tragic moment during the Comanche attack on Fort Parker in 1836; Loraine Meeks, at right, member of the cast, dressed as a lovely Spanish senorita, wears a comb brought from Spain by her ancestors a century ago. And below, still the crowds come, jamming the entrance at every performance, waiting to see one of the greatest shows on earth at the Texas Centennial Exposition—Cavalcade of Texas.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

Quoting from our issue of August 8, 1913: Mr. Edwin Holt and Miss Grace Kinard were married. Plainview had voted out pool halls by a vote of 3 to 1. Chas. Moore paid the Herald a call and also handed in the coin for his paper. Most of the silos were completed and were ready to be filled. Plains and Seminole were trying to get a railroad through their towns from San Antonio to New Mexico. Alvin Duke and Clay Hughes were in Lubbock purchasing supplies for their cold drink stand. Misses Tommie Harper and Ora Sawyer were callers at the Herald. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Brownfield and children were visiting in Sterling City. Bert French was in Plainview, barbering. This Week in Texas History

Week of August 2.

1823—On August 4, Stephen F. Austin and Baron de Bastrop reached Sylvester Castleman's and the settlements on the Colorado river. In a proclamation issued by Bastrop, he stated his position as commissioner and gave authority to Austin as supreme civil, judiciary, and military officer until constitutional order could be devised.

1832—A battle was fought on August 2 at Nacogdoches between the Mexicans under Col. Piedras and the Texans under Col. Bullock. The refusal of Piedras, commander of the garrison at Nacogdoches, to favor the constitution of 1824 led to the battle. He and his 310 men were taken prisoners.

1836—On August 4 Austin wrote a letter to General Rusk in which he said that he consented to be a candidate for the presidency "for only one reason, which is that I believe I can be of material service in procuring the annexation of Texas to the United States."—Texas State College for Women (CIA).

Mrs. Vera Hardin, who was injured in a car accident about eight months ago was taken from West Texas Hospital at Lubbock, to her mother's, Mrs. J. C. Bevers at Meadow, last Saturday. Mrs. Hardin is doing as well as can be expected, but still is in a serious condition. Mrs. Hardin was moved to the Treadaway-Daniell hospital Tuesday.

Friday, Thirteenth, Is Her Birthday

Helen Boyd, bass violinist with Jose Manzanares and his South American orchestra, has been a member of the group since 1932. The Manzanares organization plays daily in the Ford court at the Ford Exposition in the Texas Centennial, Dallas.

Because she was born on a Friday, the thirteenth, Helen Boyd, bass violinist with Jose Manzanares and his South American orchestra, has no fear of that ominous combination. In fact this member of the group which plays nightly in the Ford building at the Texas Centennial in Dallas looks forward to such an eclipse of days and dates because in the past many of the finest experiences of her life have taken place on Friday, the thirteenth.

One of the first proofs Helen had of this fortunate combination came when she received, on Friday, the thirteenth, her first offer to broadcast as a violinist. The engagement was proffered by KFSB in San Diego, California.

On May 13, 1932, another Friday, Helen's phone rang with an SOS call from a friend who was playing with Jose Manzanares and his South American orchestra. The friend told her the bass violinist had quit suddenly that morning and the job was hers if she wanted it. Weary of playing popular music, she welcomed the opportunity to play the unusual Latin American tunes for which Jose's orchestra is noted.

IS MY FACE RED

I've been back home less than 35 hours from a flying trip made to Fort Worth to see the preview of the Frontier Centennial especially staged for the newspaper fraternity of the Southwest. If I have had one man I have had 20 ask me if I saw "Sally Rand."

It ain't right . . . and you fellows shouldn't order cast any such aspersions at me. I had even forgotten that Sally appeared on the program . . . and her appearance was one of the scintillating and the most abbreviated number on the program of some 4 hours.

Just to relieve your minds and the general public . . . the kind of Sally you have in mind doesn't live there any more. Despite the publicity, the Rand appearance is nothing like a so-called "peep" show and has none of the vulgar nasty dirty surroundings that go with that filth that some people enjoy.

Right here and now I want to thank Fort Worth in general and Amon G. Carter in particular for a good time and the keenest program I have ever seen.—Honest Bill in Spearman Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fike were guests at a dinner in Levelland Monday evening.

Mrs. Newberry is in Brownfield, the guest of her daughters, Mesdames Guy T. Nelson and Virgil Burnett.

AGREEMENT

A colored maid in a certain home answered the phone. "Yas'm," her mistress heard her say. "Yas'm" said the maid a second time. Then she added, "It sho' am," and hung up.

The telephone rang again, and the girl made the same replies, and then disconnected.

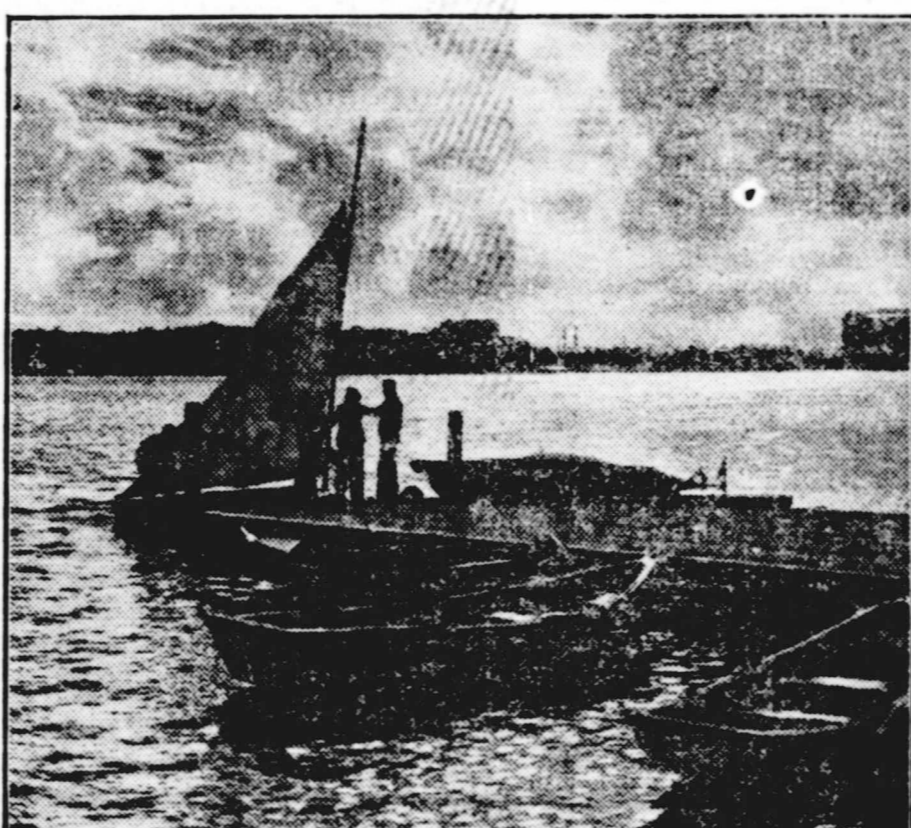

"What kind of a conversation was that, Lucy?" the mistress asked "What did they want?" "Well," said the maid, "Dey ask if dis was de Jones house, an' I say yas'm, an' den dey ask if Mrs. Jones am home, an' I tol' 'em yas'm, an' den dey say, 'Long distance from Washington,' an' I say 'It sho' am'."

Mrs. W. W. Ditto and daughter, Miss Vonnie Lee, are in Dallas this week taking in the Centennial. Miss Vonnie Lee, buyer for the ladies department of Collins Dry Goods Co., will make some fall purchases while there.

Jess Howell was in town Tuesday with the first load of Terry County watermelons we have seen. Jess presented the Herald with a nice one, which was appreciated very much. Jess also had roasting ears on the 4th of July, which we suppose were the earliest ever raised in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Fitzgerald have returned from a three weeks vacation in Oklahoma.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD SHOTS OVER BRIGHT WATERS

Artistic value and extra light combine to help the photographer in scenes that include an expanse of water. Clouds and back lighting enhance this shot.

If you live by the sea, lake or river, or when you spend time by them for health and recreation, don't forget that you are in a photographers' paradise.

Always where there is water, by it or on it, there are presented to the amateur picture-taker scenes of charm, beauty, action and human interest, as subject and background for eye-delighting photographs. The ocean surf, the mirrored calm of still waters in bay and inlet, the beauty of shore lines, seaport villages nestling at the water's edge, shadowed wharves, majestically moving steamships, speeding motor craft, graceful sailing yachts heeling to the wind, the men of the sea doing their salty tasks, and, inland, much the same scenes on lake and river—what more in opportunity for the camera enthusiast?

In addition, where there is water, one seldom has to complain of lack of light, even on the stormiest day, for water is a natural, sometimes dazzling, reflector. Indeed, if you will take note, color tones of most everything that composes the scenic frame of bodies of water are more brilliant—bluer, greener, redder, yellower, whiter—than in landscapes. Chances for clear, sharp pictures are the best.

This over-sufficiency of light is something to allow for when you are making pictures over the water on bright days. Beware the large stop opening. Just as you squint your eyes on the water, the diaphragm of the lens generally must be stopped down to a small opening to keep it from letting in too much light.

Cameras with fast lenses and ultra-rapid shutters are decidedly an advantage on the water, as elsewhere, because, when you want a close-up of a racing motor boat or the dive of a bathing beauty, the required extra speed is available, but the inexpensive fixed focus box type of camera does a splendid job with many marine scenes. Its average of clear, sharp pictures over bright waters is high. Good enlargements, too, may usually be obtained from the negatives. The second or smaller stop opening is the one to use where light is so intensely reflected.

Aboard steamships and sailing yachts are wonderful chances with any camera for striking angle shots, up or down, of funnels, sails and rigging, with cloud-studded sky or whitecaps as a background. Again, vessels at anchor in the shelter of a breakwater where outlines of their hulls are reflected in the water's surface often make enchanting pictures if thought is taken of the composition. On the water, too, we find the best opportunities for pseudo-moonlight pictures, shots taken into the sun when it is low (with fairly small lens opening), catching the shining path of its reflections from the dancing waves.

Stars Broadcast from Gulf Radio Studios

Before the Summer is over, thousands of visitors to the Texas Centennial at Dallas, will have been entertained by a host of stars including Ted Husing, ace announcer; Rudy Vallee, and his Orchestra; Jan Garber; Duke Ellington; Cab Calloway; Ted Lewis; and by such Hollywood favorites as Robert Taylor, Lupe Velez, and Ginger Rogers. The visitor to the Centennial will be able to see and hear the performers. For the beautiful Gulf Radio Studios, located in the heart of the Exposition Grounds, are enclosed in glass so that every movement of the performers, engineers, and sound technicians may be observed. More than a hundred programs a week are produced and broadcast from the Gulf Radio Studios, many of these programs being broadcast for well-known companies. On numerous occasions the performers are garbed in colorful costumes. The Gulf Studios have been adjudged among the finest in the nation, having the most modern equipment and being complete in every detail. They are truly "The Voice of the Centennial."
