The Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield.

The Herald takes this means of thanking the management of the Panhandle South Plains Fair for a complimentary season ticket to that great educational show, as well as a free parking ticket for our car on the grounds. That fair bunch is a fine lot of boys.

While the American people are using every means at their command to try to educate people to drive carefully, and to be cautious of guns and explosives in order to conserve life and property, Spain, it seems is trying to see just how many of their people they can kill off in the shortest possible time.

The Jeffersonian Democrats, who are "agin" Roosevelt and everything he has done, have written in from "Houston" complaining of this, that and the other. But it seems to us, reading between lines, that they are mostly disgruntles, who have been weaned away from the public teat and are howling to high heaven as they want at the pie counter again. Thomas Jefferson would be ashamed to be caught in this crowd of belly-achers if he was to return to earth.

Our friend, Editor Graham "Cracker" of Farwell wrote in while we were away making a correction on an ad that appeared in the week we left. Well, that headline in that ad didn't look, as it was set, like parlor stuff, but when a body is late and in a hurry and linotype mats fail to drop, what is a poor printer to do. Thanks, anyway for bringing it up, but it had already been discovered by many readers, some old rough necks seeming to get a great kick out of it. But that just goes to show, Bro. Graham, that they read the paper and read the ads about.

And while passing things around, we want to present a nice bunch of flowers to the living and this one goes to friend Oliver, caretaker of the county's finest piece of property, the court house. We went in any number of them while away, some costing perhaps twice as much, but not a one would half approach ours in cleanliness and general sanitary conditions. Most of them not only had smother all over the floors, but half way to the ceiling on the walls, and there was an odor prevailing in the building that did not remind one of a rose. May we always have a better caretaker than they.

In a way, Editor Estlack of the Clarendon Leader reminds one of Nathan Hale. That great revolutionary war patriot was sorry, says history, that he had no more lives to give to his country, when shot as a spy. Well, Editor Estlack is bemoaning the fact that he has no more children to start to school this year, and will have to wait, perhaps years, until there are some grandchildren to hurry off to school. We are in the same fix Estlack. Last year so to speak wound up our ball of yarn. No more will the wife be able to yell up stairs about every half minute between eight and nine for Junior or Sallie T. to hurry "or you will be late."

We had a nice editorial from a Prof. Nutto recently against our getting into war, and giving some real wholesome advise on how to keep out of a mixup in the European frying pan, but as that was the only name to the article, and as we seriously doubt that such a professor makes his abode in this city, we had to reject the article. We would hate to run an article, though ever so good, and some other Horace Greely, Charles Dana or Henry Grady wanted to reply and we could not tell them who we were sacking them on. We don't want your real name for publicity, but for our own protection. We will not run unsigned or non de plume articles unless we know the real name of the writer.

Well, the Herald must unconditionally compliment Ralph and Arnett Bynum, our chief devils for the fine management of the Herald while we were sojourning in the Old Volunteer state. Not only did they get out a neat appearing paper, with plenty well written local news and editorials, but they seemed to get more business than the old boss was able to talk out of the business men. We should have remained away a few more weeks, and maybe they would have pulled us back to normal. In this connection, we also want to thank Editor Willard Bright of the Seagraves News who pressed the collar at home until his paper was out, then came up and helped Ralph and Arnett get out the Herald each Thursday while we were away.

Believe it or not, there is a mother in this town who is teaching a tot of the patty-cake age to smoke cigarettes. Without wishing to offend anyone, it might be well to say that any mother who would commit a crime of that nature through ignorance is plain dumb. In other words, if her brains were dynamite, she wouldn't have enough to blow her nose.—Donley County Leader.

Dad Robertson frankly admits that he was born 30 years too soon. When he was a young man working for Swift & Company in St. Louis the custom was to have a half holiday on Saturday afternoons, and he recalls that all the boys used to gather at the corner of Fourth and Broadway and watch the ladies board the street cars "and look at their ankles."—State Line Tribune.

"High Taxes" is the general subject of discussion on the sidewalks of Anton this week. The cause of this discussion seems to be notices from the local authorities to the effect that taxes had been raised etc. We saw some notices where the recipients taxes had been raised as much as sixty per cent. We saw several where the hike was as much as fifty per cent. If it takes this to carry on the finances of the school as they should be, we are for it. But like many other citizens we can not understand just why it becomes necessary at this time to raise the tax valuation fifty per cent. We feel that the school should use more diligence and stop certain properties from going untaxed, before sticking the poor home owner still deeper in the mire of tax burdens.—Anton News.

Same here, brother, and many of us are not able to pay our taxes at the old rate.

The defeat of Roosevelt would mean the greatest calamity which has befallen this nation in 70 years. There are plans and policies on foot which if distributed in the next four years would mean wreck and ruin to all but a few of the people. The proposition to withdraw the aid of the government from the people and return to the old rut where Hoover left it, would make the late depression look like the Halcyon days of prosperity. If you plan to vote against Roosevelt you had better forget it while the forgetting is good.—Sterling City News Record.

Quite right, Brother Kellis; yet you will hear on every hand men saying that Roosevelt is ruining the country. Still we shudder to think what kind of shape we would have been in with four more years of Hoover mis-rule. There is no mistake, if we should go back to that old order of things, the depression we have just passed through would be as nothing to the one we would have. — Big Spring News.

We had a 105 page edition again this year of the New York Sun. But unlike the one last year, which reported some recovery in the news columns, and blasted the administration in the editorials, the edition this year devoted the whole thing to recovery. Without an exception, recovery was reported from all over the United States, from the largest cities to the smallest hamlets, and in every kind of industry. Some even went so far as to say that there was less unemployment, and better conditions than in 1929. The only exception was the railroad, and while they reported better conditions than in the past five years, their competitors, the truck and bus lines, it was explained, has been responsible for no better showing. Competition of private and public power lines, had held the utilities companies some below the progress made by other industries. Also natural and artificial gas as fuel had made enroads upon fast recovery for the mining industry. Editorially, The Sun stirred clear of criticism of the administration this year.

Tri-State Fair Opens Sept. 26 at Amarillo

AMARILLO, Sept. 9.—The bugle sounds! The blood tingles! The parade is on! The ponies reach the post! Everyone stands up. Then the stirring cry, "they're off" rings through the grandstand.

And in a few short minutes the race is over.

A short time, true. But it's packed with excitement and thrills. Sometimes spills. And, the grand rush to the payoff windows.

It's thoroughbreds on parade. Sleek horseflesh whose breeding goes back to stately nights in Arabia and fussy auctions in England.

The sport of kings? The sport of millions.

And, Panhandle fans will have opportunity to enjoy, thrill, and be entertained by the royal racers, just as turf fans on the big apple tracks have.

The Tri-State Fair's fall horse race meeting commences on September 18 and ends on September 26.

An expenditure of thousands of dollars has brought the Tri-State track up to a new standard for minor plants. There is no other small tracks like the Tri-State's in the Southwest.

Owners of thoroughbred horses like the Tri-State's cushioned track.

Fans like the conveniences of the paddock, the mutual department, and the general comfort provided in the spacious plant.

With this kind of material setup, there is little reason to doubt an official's prediction that the Tri-State's fall meeting will surpass any minor racing program in the country.

Admittance prices to the grandstand are low. Box seats, comfortable and clean, are available at a price slightly higher than general admission.

THE RANK AND FILE ARE FOR ROOSEVELT

That the rank and file of the American people, regardless of party affiliation, will stick by President Roosevelt in his fight to correct abuses brought upon the country by years of misrule, is the prediction of the Cicero (Ill.) News in a first-page, powerful editorial printed last week.

The News declares that when the President began to correct the evils of government he found it necessary to take away special privileges, "in order to give us of the rank and file a fair chance to enjoy our heritage as free Americans. That is why those powerful people and interests are fighting Roosevelt today. That is why they are trying to block his progress by unfair and dishonest attacks that appear daily in a hostile press that is roped and hog tied by the vicious dollars of the same powerful individuals and interests. That is why we, as American citizens of the rank and file, should stick with the President.

"When we speak of the rank and file we include, among others, the bank depositors, who can today deposit their dollars in the banks without any fear because Franklin D. Roosevelt has provided them with depositors' insurance.

"When we speak of the rank and file we include the home owners and the farm owners, because the wisdom of Franklin D. Roosevelt's policies has protected the home and farm owner against unjust foreclosure.

"When we speak of the rank and file we include the small banker, because he is no longer at the mercy of the powerful banking institutions and the same insurance which protects his depositors protects him against raids on his bank.

"When we speak of the rank and file we include the business man, who again sees his business paying him a profit and who no longer faces commercial destitution, because a reasonable monetary policy has given the people once more a chance to get a dollar to spend.

"When we speak of the rank and file we include the laborer, who again faces a period of steady employment, because of Roosevelt policies which started up again the wheels of industry, providing jobs for the multitudes.

"When we speak of the rank and file we include honest people generally of all political parties, who are willing to give credit where credit is due; to the man whose wisdom, determination and patriotic endeavors have ended the greatest depression in the nation's history."

Roosevelt Sure For Re-election—Burleson

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 7.—Albert Sidney Burleson, former Postmaster General under President Woodrow Wilson, is issuing a public statement today predicting that Franklin D. Roosevelt will be re-elected by an overwhelming majority, delivered a broadside attack against the Republican charge that Roosevelt's administration "had spent too much money."

Burleson pointed out that Roosevelt's administration was an unusual record of economy; that he had saved billions of dollars for people of the United States; that he had saved agriculture; that Roosevelt's Economy Act alone had saved more than $1,000,000,000; that 12 years of "Republican maladministration" caused the depression; that more than 6,000 banks failed in 12 years under the Republicans, causing a loss to depositors of $3,000,000,000 and that only 36 banks closed during the last three years.

"It is unthinkable," Burleson said, that any one will consider for a moment the plea speciously made that we return to normalcy and 'keep cool with Cal' in the midst of a saturnalia of speculation while the masses were being pilfered through stock speculation. The Republicans confidently believe that through falsehoods and misleading propaganda they can induce farmers, laboring men and small merchants to vote for a change. I think not, for I do not believe they are an aggregation of doddering idiots."

He Knew Texas When It Was Bad

When Captain John R. Hughes, 81-year-old Texas ex-Ranger, who attended the Ranger reunion at the Texas Centennial in Dallas, drove out of El Paso for the long jaunt, it was in a 12-year-old Model T Ford by which the veteran peace officer swears. Captain Hughes was a Ranger for 28 years and his stories of stirring adventures with bad men captivated those who attended the reunion. The Captain is shown standing beside his Model T and, also below, in a close-up.

"I caught them in New Mexico. I got my horses back. I also established such a reputation for sticking to the job, that eventually the Rangers offered me a job and I took it."

"Of course," the grey-thatched ex-Ranger declared, "I do most of my traveling now in this old Ford, bought it 12 years ago, and she's still growing strong. But there was a time when I rode horseback over a great deal of Texas. Once I rode a thousand miles running down a bunch of horse thieves."

Hughes came to the Indian territory when he was about 23 years old. It was but a short time until he came into Texas. "I acquired a sort of a horse ranch in Travis county," the captain explained, "and one day rustlers got away with the head of my horse. I trailed them and for one week, riding 15 days, I kept at it."

"By the way," the Captain declared, "I have kept pretty busy, but I take time out to do a little traveling. This old Ford has been to the Pacific coast twice, to the Gulf of Mexico five or six times, and over a good part of Texas. I practically live in it during the summers. It's the second Ford I ever owned. I could drive a jigger car but this one suits me perfectly. I enjoy driving it."

Gomez News

Our school opened Monday morning with an unusual amount of interest apparently in every department. Our faculty is namely: Mr. Lee Fulton, Supt., Miss Nora Grigg and Mrs. Fulton doing departmental work in the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades; Miss Ruth Tarpley, fourth and fifth grades; Miss Nellie Mae McLeroy, second and third grades; Miss Rena McLeroy, beginners and first grade.

A Tool the Devil Wants to Keep

It was once announced that the Devil was going out of business, and would offer for sale all his tools to anyone who would pay the price. On the night of the sale they were all attractively displayed, and a bad-looking lot they were.

Malice, hatred, envy, jealousy, sensuality and deceit, and all other implements of evil were spread out, each one marked with its price.

Apart from the rest lay a harmless-looking and wedged shaped tool, much worn and priced higher than any of them.

Someone asked the Devil what it was.

"That's Discouragement" was the reply.

"Why have you priced it so high?"

"Because," replied the Devil, "it is more useful to me than any of the others. I can pry open and get inside a man's consciousness with that—when I could not get near him with any of the others—and when once inside, I can use him in whatever way suits me best. It is much worn because I've used it with nearly everybody, and very few yet know it belongs to me!"

It hardly need be added that the Devil's price for Discouragement was so high that it was never sold.

He still owns it—and is still using it!

TEN YEARS OF STOMACH PAIN IS NOW ENDED

Childress Lady Praises Results Obtained From GASA Tablets—Can Now Eat Anything.

To those of you who are suffering from indigestion, sour weak stomach, gas pains, bloating, and sick headaches, due to acidity, read the following remarkable testimony of Mrs. G. D. Moyers, 705 Avenue A, N. E., Childress, Texas:

"For the past ten years I have been troubled with my stomach and have taken medicine after medicine with little or no results. Was terribly bloated, had gas on my stomach, and could not drink milk or eat any starchy foods. At times breathing was very difficult, and there was awful pressure against my heart.

"I began taking GASA Tablets and now cannot praise them too much. They have given me better results than anything I ever tried. Bloating and gas pains have disappeared; I am no longer bothered with upset stomach and now enjoy eating anything. Am surely thankful for the rest and relief they have given me."

Compounded from a doctor's prescription, GASA Tablets soothe the raw, inflamed lining of the "acid stomach" and help convert starchy foods into dextrose which is so essential to energy of the body and preservation of health. And to prove the remarkable results these tablets are daily bring to suffering people, they are offering you under the guarantee of satisfaction from the first bottle or money back!

Get a bottle of GASA Tablets today from Corner Drug Store and see how quickly they start to work giving relief.

farms—an increase of more than one and one-quarter millions in the last five years. And this increase took place despite substantial reductions in farm population in the drouth and dust-bowl belts.

It is significant, that the principal gains were made in farm areas near industrial centers and mining sections. But whatever deductions may be drawn, it is undeniable that the trend is a good one.

A thriving farm population is the best insurance of industrial and commercial health.—The Santa Fe Earth.

Palindrome

THE man glanced lily at the automobile that had drawn up to the curb, then leaned forward for a closer look. "The perfect palindrome!" he murmured.

"Palindrome?" queried his companion. "Never heard of that make of car. Let's see—P-i-e-r-c-e-A-r-r-o-w—why, that doesn't spell Palindrome." "Look at the state license tag," was the reply. "It's ALA. 36163. Both the abbreviation of the state and the number read backward the same as forward. Such things are called palindromes. Plenty automobiles from other states have numbers that are the same backward as forward but in Alabama is the only place where you can have the perfect palindrome—name of the state and number—on your license tag."

To have been an even more "perfect palindrome" that car should have been driven by a man named Bob accompanied by a girl named Hannah or Anna. Perhaps, though, a person should "name no one man" in discussing this subject. No doubt there are other men's and other women's names that have that characteristic.

In fact, the history of palindromes goes back to the first of each in the Garden of Eden. The first woman pointed to herself and uttered one word: "Eve." Whereupon, the first man is said to have replied palindromatically, "Madam, I'm Adam."

Famous V-8 Visits Texas Cities With Invitations to See Expo

Starting on a Goodwill Tour

Arms loaded with literature advertising the Texas Centennial Exposition and the Ford exhibit at Dallas, Jack Simmons is pictured (above) with the 3,000,000th Ford V-8 which is being used in a goodwill tour of Texas cities. Note the special license tags granted by states through which it passed on its trip from Dearborn, Michigan, to Dallas.

Famous Explorer Tours Mexico

Carverth Wells, world traveler, lecturer and author, is pictured here as he drove over a reproduction of the Yuma Road, one of nine famous trails and highways which comprise part of the Ford Motor Company's exhibit at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. Mr. Wells has recently completed an extended motor trip through old Mexico.

Carverth Wells, lecturer, explorer and radio commentator, who also has written many popular books, found much of interest during his visit to the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas, so much in fact, that he will devote his radio broadcast September 27 to a description of the show.

While being shown through the Ford Exposition building, Mr. Wells expressed more than passing interest in the development of automobile trailers. He described his present tour, one which took him over a considerable portion of Mexico, as having been made in a deluxe custom-built trailer, and said the number of Americans traveling in this manner is increasing tremendously. "All Americans love to travel and see things," Mr. Wells declared, "and the utilization of a trailer makes it possible for the average citizen to cover much ground and live comfortably in all kinds of weather. This year has seen thousands of new trailers on the road."

The noted explorer and author found another exhibit which intrigued him, a reproduction of nine famous cattle trails and highways, known as the "Roads of the Southwest." He has traveled over some of the originals in this group and posed for photographs on the reconstructed Yuma Road.

Mr. Wells is a fellow of the American Geographical Society, Royal Geographical Society, an associate member of the Institution of Civil Engineers in England and a patron of the Chicago Geographical Society.

KNOX READER ASKS PERTINENT QUESTION

"I pick up my copy of the News" writes a reader of Col. Frank Knox's Chicago newspaper. "and I find this headline: 'Fear of New Deal Blocks Recovery, Says Colonel Knox.' I then find no less than 16 large headlines elsewhere in the same issue of the News announcing increased dividends, increased power production far beyond that of 1929, astonishing gains in net incomes of industrial corporations in diversified lines ranging from chewing gum to heavy machinery. I find the declaration of extra and accrued dividends actually exceeding the number announced in the Summer of 1929. Domestic production of lumber, autos, rayon, wool, copper, etc., greatly increased. Even the railroads are out of the red, since President Roosevelt induced them to reduce their passenger rates against their almost unanimous protests. So I am respectfully asking you, and I am entitled to an answer, where does Col. Frank Knox get his information."

A Virginia editor took a vacation this summer and his home merchants ran a double page advertisement in his paper showing their appreciation of his work for the community. If this idea spreads it may give some publishers the first vacation they have had for years.—McLean News.

We hope so, but nothing like that happened during our vacation.

LIMITING REPRESENTATIVES

Editor E. I. Hill of the Tahoka News had a very able argument in opposition to the constitutional amendment which would limit the number of state representatives in the large counties of the state. The writer took the very same position six years ago that Mr. Hill has taken, and voted against the passage of this proposed amendment when it was introduced in the House of Representatives by George Moffet.

After discussing this amendment with Mr. Moffet and reading the records as to the position taken in other states which had large cities, we were forced to admit that the amendment was just and should be passed. Consequently we assisted in passing it through the House.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has circulated a very able discussion on this question.

So far as The News is concerned, the best argument in favor of this amendment is to be found by analyzing the votes of the rural and the city counties. Randall County polls a much larger per capita vote than does Potter county; Potter county likewise exceeds Dallas or Harris county. The cities draw a much larger percentage of Negroes, Mexicans and transients who never participate in elections and who care nothing for politics, or government.

There is more intelligence expressed on any political question in the rural sections than in the cities. As a matter of record throughout the years, more able representation is found in the legislature from the rural sections than from the cities, where cliques and clans control and manipulate the elections.

The News believes that careful consideration of this amendment will lead the voter to the conclusion that it is a just one, and one that the people of Texas should adopt before the state is restricted.—Canyon News.

Our Dumb Animals: "It was that wise old Scotchman, Carnegie, who wrote a paper on 'The Baseless Fear of War,'" and said: "There has to be an end of this some day. And man's profession is his hobby, therefore if generals are to decide how many soldiers we are to maintain, and admirals how many fifty-million battle-ships we are to build, farewell to common sense, for there are no extremes to which men's hobbies may not lead them."

Farmers and others who are worried about the new-fangled cotton picker that seems destined to become practical might as well dry their tears. Students of history know that progress has always been accomplished at the cost of temporary misadjustment, but eventually the advance of the "machine age" helps humanity. It is entirely probable that the picker will take the South and the Southwest out of cotton slavery and convince the warm states that their fertile acres should raise a greater variety of crops.—Snyder Times.

Roads of Southwest Dedicated Opening Day

"Roads of the Southwest", nine short sections of which have been reproduced as a part of the Ford Motor Company's exhibit at the Texas Centennial in Dallas, were formally dedicated on opening day, June 6, by the "Cavalcade of Texas", mammoth spectacle. Scores of men, women and children who have parts in the giant production traversed the one-third mile opposite the Ford Exposition building which includes the following historic roads and highways: Santa Fe trail, Old San Antonio, Fort Worth pike, Yuma road, Pan American highway, Magazine street, Butterfield trail, Chisholm trail and Main Street, Dallas.

Texas Longhorns Driven O'er Trail at Expo

It was the Longhorn steer which broke many trails to Southwestern markets in the early days. Typical cattle on "The Chisholm Trail" are pictured here being driven by Texas Rangers on one of the nine reconstructed "Roads of the Southwest", a feature of the Ford Motor Company exhibit at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas. Other famous roads are, Santa Fe trail, Old San Antonio, Fort Worth Pike, Yuma Pike, Pan American Highway, Magazine Street in New Orleans, Butterfield Trail and Main Street, Dallas.

Trailers Boom Travel Conoco Experts Find

Current heavy sales of auto trailers foreshadow increased expenditures by motorists on long trips, edging travel closer to the status of America's leading industry, Joe H. Thompson, travel expert of the Continental Oil Company, declared today.

Thompson said the unexpected "trailer factor" necessitates upward revision of tourist business estimates for this and subsequent years. Last spring Thompson estimated $4,000,000 would be spent during 1936 by approximately 10,000,000 touring parties on trips averaging 3,500 miles.

"With orders to trailer manufacturers indicating a volume of 200,000 units a year, and with something over 250,000 trailers already on the road, on long if not permanent trips, we can safely add another $200,000,000 to the 1936 estimate," Thompson said.

Whether time will prove the accuracy of Roger Babson's recent pronouncement that 65,000,000 persons, or half the population of the country, will be living permanently in trailers within twenty years is "hard to tell now," Thompson said, adding:

"I didn't know we had that many potential permanent tourists in our midst, be we may have. I think it is significant that the trailer business will be only six years old next year, when it expects to be producing 200,000 units, whereas the automobile industry was twelve years old before it attained this volume.

"It is also tremendously significant that there is a market for 200,000 trailers annually, while in 1935, the last period for which figures are

Santa Fe Reports On the Texas Crops

The cotton crop of Texas is estimated at 3,850,000 bales compared with 2,956,000 bales last year. Drouth heat, and insects caused some damage this year.

Corn production fell short of the yield of last year, 68,000,000 bushels in 1936, compared with 89,500,000 bushels in 1935.

Grain sorghums also were short, 49,900,000 bushels in 1936 compared with 78,900,000 bushels in 1935.

The rice crop runs ahead this year, 10,600,000 bushels in 1936 compared with 8,900,000 bushels in 1935.

Sweet potatoes this year produced 4,800,000 bushels compared with 6,300,000 bushels in 1935.

Tame hay in 1936 led the previous year, 1,095,000 tons against 955,000 tons, and wild hay was the winner in 1936 when production was 305,000 compared with 283,000 tons the previous year.

Grain sorghums are expected to make half a crop. An immense crop of roughage has been made.

Broomcorn still is in condition to make a fair crop, with rain.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH TAKING YOUR OWN PICTURE ONCE IN A WHILE?

How to prove, when there is no witness, that you were telling the truth. You snapshot yourself and the fish with a self-timer right on the spot.

How often have you opened your snapshot album to view, once more, treasured pictures you have taken of groups of friends or of the family, and closed it with a feeling of regret that you did not appear in these pictures yourself? Or, how often, when you are showing somebody snapshots you took on a memorable occasion, do you hear the remark, "Where were you all this time?" Modestly you reply, "Why, I was just the man behind the camera. Somebody had to take the pictures." But really wouldn't you like to have been in those pictures? Of course, you would!

Obviously, one solution of this difficulty is to let some one else use your camera on these occasions and take some pictures with you in them. Good enough except that that somebody else—Dad or whoever it may be—is missing from them just as you were missing from the others.

There is another answer to this problem and a perfect one. Get a self-timer, which is the name for an attachment which permits most cameras other than the box type to take pictures unattended. It is an inexpensive necessary that fits on the metal button at the end of the cable release which operates the shutter. In the manner of an alarm clock, the mechanism of this gadget may be set to "go off" after a time interval, whereupon it presses the button and releases the shutter. Meantime, you have taken your place in the picture and are looking your prettiest awaiting the snap.

Some cameras have a self-timer incorporated in the shutter. Of course, you must have the camera on a firm support. In the picture to the left above, the camera is fastened with a clamp having a tripod socket. You prepare for the picture by focusing in the usual way and using the same stop opening and shutter speed you would use ordinarily. If you have placed your subjects quite close to the camera, see that there is a particular space in the group for you to enter and don't fall to occupy precisely that space, else you will blanket somebody or, if the space is at the side, you may find in the print that you have lost an arm or so.

Nothing prevents you from taking a picture of yourself alone if you feel that way—which suggests one very important use for the self-timer. Ever go fishing alone and wish there were somebody to take your picture holding up that whopper at the actual scene of the catch? Or, do you always buy one at the fish store?

Lubbock Man Gets Lovington Contract

W. S. Moss, Lubbock contractor, with a low bid of approximately $179,000 was awarded the contract for building the new Lea county, N. M. courthouse at Lovington, at the opening of bids Saturday.

O. R. Walker, Lubbock architect who drew the plans, said the letting followed a court hearing on an injunction brought by Hobbs forces to move the courthouse to the larger town. The court hearing was one of a series in which Hobbs, claiming a population of 10,000 to 15,000 or more, sought to get the location of the county seat. After several hearings on a temporary injunction, the order was set aside.

The new building will be four stories high, with a full basement, said Mr. Walker. The jail will occupy the fourth floor.

Lea county, according to reports, has enough money in the bank to pay for the structure. A bond issue will not be necessary, it is said.—Lubbock Avalanche.

OUR 23 YEAR COLUMN

Quoting from our issue of September 12, 1913, we found that the county was doing a lot of new road building, claying and otherwise putting them in shape to get to markets at Lubbock and Tahoka. In fact it appeared that Terry county had opened a way for Lovington, New Mexico to trade there and progress was being made to turn the Gaines county trade to them. Local schools were to open Monday morning, and a good attendance expected. Showers had fallen in sections of Terry, but not in the vicinity of Brownfield. A. B. Bynum carried his daughter, Miss Eunice to Seminole, to stay with her sister, Mrs. Cobb and attend school. Jack Smith was in from the farm with a load of peaches. Newt. Copeland was down from Lubbock visiting friends. Gus Farrar was attending Canyon State Normal. Miss Clemmie Adams was leaving for Brownfield to attend Howard Payne, and been to Ivy Green to attend games at the college. A nine pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. DeShazo, nee Minnie Gore, had died in Lubbock of typhoid.

Mrs. E. B. Wright. Miss Esther Criswell entertained with a party, on her 11th birthday. Elder Loftin had moved back to Terry county from Fisher. Miss Ann Hamilton had returned from a visit to Canyon and Plainview. Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Jackson, of Roswell, were visiting Terry county friends.

Misses Mozelle Treadaway and Ola Bynum were attending Canyon Normal. W. D. Winn shipped us a 50 pound melon. Dr. Treadaway was called to the Will Mathis ranch to attend Robert Griffith who had been hurt in a runaway. Earhart & Moppin had engaged J. T. May to purchase several cars of maize for them. The Mercantile was about ready to announce their formal opening in the new building. May & Wright were making some extensive improvements in their store. Mrs. J. W. DeShazo, nee Minnie Gore, had died in Lubbock of typhoid.

Gomez News: Prof. Speed was the new school head. Joe Black had returned from north Texas and Okla. Carrol Phillips was to teach in Lynn county. Grandma Stapp was home from Camanche county. Grover Lewis had returned from Jones and Haskell counties. Miss Willis Black had left for Abilene Christian college, and Miss Ergie Rambo for Wayland college at Plainview. All for this week.

Read It and Wonder
DEEMS TAYLOR is famous as the composer of the score for the opera "The King's Henchman" and as one of the country's leading authorities on music. But back in 1912 his name meant something else—that of a writer of amusing oddities in verse. For instance, readers of the Century magazine must have rubbed their eyes when they read over his signature this:

Salvation of Farmers New Deal Chief Goal

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Weaving a defense of New Deal spending into a two-fold address on reemployment and the drought, President Roosevelt was on record today with the contention that government expenditures saved business and will save drought stricken farmers.

Denying charges of waste hurled at him by campaign foes, the president took to the radio last night in a combination Labor day eve address and a report on the tour of the drought area, just ended.

Employment Proceeding
"Re-employment in industry is proceeding rapidly," he said.

"Government spending was in large part responsible for keeping industry going and putting it in position to make this re-employment possible."

vice for the purpose of placing workers in private jobs.
At another point in his speech he hit at those who, he said, would "refuse the workers any effective power to bargain collectively." He said, "it is those short-sighted ones, not labor who threaten the country with class dissension."

As for the drought he declared from his desk in the White House oval room that "we are going to conserve water and conserve life."

By inference, he held that Governor Alf M. Landon, his Republican rival for the presidency, agreed with him on a board outline of work relief for drought-stricken families instead of the "dole."

"The Universal Car"

ONE NAME comes quickly to mind when you think of "The Universal Car." The description is distinctively Ford. No other car is used by so many millions of men and women in every part of the world. Everywhere it is the symbol of faithful service.

That has always been a Ford fundamental. Something new is constantly being added in the way of extra value. Each year the Ford has widened its appeal by increasing its usefulness to motorists.

Today's Ford V-8 is more than ever "The Universal Car" because it encircles the needs of more people than any other Ford ever built. It reaches out and up into new fields because it has everything you need in a modern automobile.

The Ford V-8 combines fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty with low first cost and low cost of operation and up-keep. It depreciates slowly because it is made to last. There is no other car like it.

Only the Ford V-8 Gives You These Fine-car Features

1. V-8 ENGINE PERFORMANCE WITH ECONOMY	4. CENTER-POISE RIDING COMFORT
2. SAFETY GLASS ALL AROUND AT NO EXTRA CHARGE	5. WELDED STEEL BODY... STEEL STRUCTURE AS WELL AS STEEL SURFACE
3. SUPER-SAFETY MECHANICAL BRAKES	6. NEW INTERIOR APPOINTMENTS

Those enjoying this occasion were: Mesdames Rodgers, Wright, Hudgens, Akers, Jacobson, Dallas, Webb, and Misses Viola Brown Olga Fitzgerald, Kathleen Hardin, and Laura Lee Jones.

TWO PARTIES PLAN HEAVIER SPENDING
NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The communist and socialist parties will spend during the present national election campaign more than double the amounts invested in their respective candidates in the 1932 presidential contest, the campaign headquarters of both parties disclosed today.

The communist party has fixed $250,000 as its national campaign fund as compared with $100,000 in 1932; and the socialists expect to raise $100,000, an anticipated increase of $76,000 over the last national drive fund.
