

Nobody can say that the editor is falling down on the job of helping promote new uses for grain sorghums—one of our basic crops, and one of the crops for which this area is best suited.

At a recent meeting of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, we listened intently to R. G. Peeler of Hereford tell of all the troubles that confront sorghum producers in their quest for higher prices and wider markets.

We listened a lot more intently, however, to a farmer who was sitting next to us whom we made conversation with for a few minutes before the meeting began.

He told us something we hadn't known before: Milo will pop.

Yes, we said pop—just like some other grains, principally popcorn. We could hardly wait to get home and start trying this new use for grain sorghum, which seemed too elementary.

At the risk of being shot by a nightwatchman, we raided some elevators of the area in search for the driest and firmest grain we could find.

After five years of married bliss, the wife has almost become accustomed to the hairbrained ideas that sometimes lodge in our head, but we think that the three evenings we came home from work with our pockets bulging with milt were a test of her understanding. She thought we had gone overboard for sure that time.

Anyway, we put a handful of milt in an electric popcorn popper and went to work, anxiously awaiting what we were sure would be glorious results. Our first effort was a failure; the grain didn't pop as had been advertised.

(To those of you who may try this, we would say that the grain didn't burst because in the first place we soaked it in so much grease it got soggy and went splut instead of bang when it was supposed to explode, and in the second place, our electric popper just doesn't put out as much heat as is needed for grain sorghum popping.)

We also tried putting the grain in a Pyrex dish and shoving it into a very hot oven, but with discouraging results. Even a 500-degree oven will only bake the grain, and believe the writer, baked Martin's Milo is something less than delectable.

We finally met with success by using the old reliable iron skillet and a heavy lid. Agitation of the skillet over the fire was necessary to keep from scorching the seeds on their bottoms.

We recommend a minimum amount of grease in the bottom of the skillet, but some seems to be necessary. Our tests, conducted under something less than scientific conditions, show that about half of the grain will pop. The other half is the milt popper's answer to popcorn kernels.

As for the eating end of the thing, we have mixed emotions. We messed with the experiment so much and ate so many family-sized helpings while doing our lab work that we kinda got tired of seeing and smelling the stuff, to admit the truth.

The little full-blown chunks of pop-um (a new word we figured out—from popcorn and sorghum) are really not too bad. They go down pretty good, in fact, especially with a side order of soda pop or something like that.

What to do with the by-product has us stumped, though. The kernels chew up real nice and have all the signs of being a pretty tasty dish, but in the final analysis, they just don't taste worth a dang.

Very nutritious—but don't taste good. That sounds like vitamin pills—which gives us another idea.

Mrs. Laura A. Hollis Buried Here Thursday

Funeral services for Mrs. Laura Ann Hollis of Friona were conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church with Rev. W. C. Wade, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, officiating.

Mrs. Hollis, who was born July 6, 1898 in Sherwood, Texas, died at the Parmer County Community Hospital at 10:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Survivors besides her husband, Roy Hollis of Marshall, Arkansas, include three sons, Robert H., Pete, and Loyd F., all of Friona; a daughter, Beulah Wolfington of Tecumseh, Oklahoma; three sisters, Mrs. Jessie May Perry of Shafter, California, Mrs. Janie Lee Parks of Lubbock, and Mrs. Addie Davis of Tucson, Arizona; and three grandchildren.

Members of the Friona fire department were active and honorary pallbearers. Burial was in the Friona cemetery under the direction of Claborn Funeral Home.

SQUAWS WIN DISTRICT, FALL TO HALE CENTER

A third quarter scoring rally that carried over into the beginning minutes of the fourth quarter caused some anxious moments for the Friona Squaws and fans supporting them Thursday night, but the home team rebounded to win 50-41 and cinch the district 3-A championship.

The game, which was played at Friona, had local fans wringing their hands during the surprising surge of the visitors. They swallowed up a big Friona lead and pulled to within three points of the champs once.

In the first quarter, the Squaws shot out in front 8 points before the visitors could even tally (Post Girl Johnnie Hand hit all 8). At the end of that canto, the margin had been increased to 20-6, and the game had all the earmarks of being a run-away for the hosts.

Hand continued to score heavily, bagging 21 points in the first half, and her teammate, Phyllis Dean, also hit well in the second quarter, totaling 12.

The game was a fast moving one, marked by considerable fouling. Girls on both sides had accumulated several fouls by time intermission came around. The Squaws' Paula Neel had four.

Score at halftime was 34-17.

As the game got underway in the third quarter, it was apparent that Sudan didn't intend to remain behind in the game if they could help it. Wilson (No. 25), Sudan's exceptional forward, began to pour the ball through the hoop and the margin narrowed.

Chiefly because of her ability under the goal, the margin shrank to 39-30 at the end of the third quarter.

The Squaws' strategy to start the last quarter was to draw Sudan guards out front. This was only partially successful at first, and intercepted passes gave the visitors

HOORAY!— These Friona Squaws and their coach, Baker Duggins, were thrilled to finally nail down the District 3-A girls championship here Thursday night in the playoffs against Sudan. The girls are proudly holding their trophy aloft.

The Sunday services will be held at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m., and the week day meeting times will be 8:45 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Perkins, who is a former student of Freed-Hardeman College, Denver University, and Davis School of Speech, has worked with congregations at Lubbock, Denver, and Little Rock, and is an outstanding speaker.

Tentative sermon topics have been announced for each evening. They are as follows: March 10, "The Bible's Three Religions"; March 11, "Alleged Mistakes of God"; March 12, "How The Holy Spirit Operates"; March 13, "The Agreement of The Two Spirits"; March 14, "To Be Saved—Must"; March 15, "How To Find The Right Church"; March 16, "Where Are the Dead?"; March 17, "The Savior's Invitation."

The public is invited by M. B. McKinney, local minister, to attend any or all of the services.

Pancake Supper Set For Friday Evening

Plans have been completed for the pancake supper which will be held by the Parmer County Community Hospital Auxiliary at the school cafeteria from 6 to 8 p.m. Friday, March 8. This supper is to be a benefit affair, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Claude Osborn, president.

There will be no admission charge, but those desiring to help pay for landscaping the hospital grounds will be asked to give free will offering for this purpose.

Hale Center Girls Come From Behind

A large number of basketball fans were on hand at the Dimmitt gym Monday evening to see the Friona Squaws and the girls from Hale Center compete for regional honors. The Squaws were nosed out by three points.

The first quarter of the game was very close and at the end of it Hale Center was leading by one point. The score at that time was nine to eight.

During the second quarter, the Squaws were successful in coming out from a one point deficit to a lead of three points. The half time score was Friona, 22, Hale Center, 19.

By the end of the third quarter, the Friona girls had been able to chalk up 11 points while their opponents were adding 10 to their total. At this time Friona was leading to the tune of 33 to 29.

As the fourth quarter drew to a close and with only two minutes to play, Hale Center tied the score at 44-44. Then in the last minute of play, the opponents were successful in accounting for three more points. When the final whistle blew, the score was Friona 44, Hale Center 47.

The defense, which was led by Lawana Houlette, Sandra Skinner, Lavon Fleming, and Paula Neel, played a good fast game as did the forwards. Robbie Boggess was high point scorer with 20 points. Johnnie Hand accounted for 15 points and Phyllis Dean earned nine points for the Squaws.

This was the last game for the local girls this year. Coach Baker Duggins said he would like to express his appreciation to all of the supporters and townspeople for the wonderful support given the ball club this season.

Says Duggins, "We played a good game, but were just outplayed and outscored. The Hale Center team had good coaching, good speed, good height, and were good jumpers."

When asked about prospects for another year, Duggins said, "Our club will not be affected by graduation, and if we make any improvement it must be made between now and next season with present material. Fans can expect improvement next year, but they must keep in mind that Friona does not have any priority on improvement."

Duggins also added, "Speaking for myself and the girls, I would like to say that we made an effort to represent the community in a way which would be a credit to the community. We feel deeply grateful to residents of the community for the support and encouragement which was so generously given to us."

March 23rd Is Selected for School Vote

Qualified voters of the Friona School District will soon be called upon to make an important decision. Monday night the school board set Saturday, March 23, as the date on which will be decided the fate of a board-recommended $350,000 bond election to expand the physical facilities of the local system.

Also at that time will be held an election to determine if Public Law 116—a measure to give the school more flexibility in handling its funds—will be used.

Three petitions bearing 58 signatures asking that the election be called were accepted at Monday night's meeting. The trustees also set April 6 as the date for the annual school board election, and appointed F. W. Reeve election judge for both votes.

Three election notices were posted yesterday (Wednesday) in public places in the city.

Eligible to vote on the ballot for PL 116 March 23 will be all qualified voters of the district. In addition to having paid poll taxes and being otherwise qualified, however, citizens will have to be property owners in order to be eligible to vote on the bond election itself, which will be proposed on a separate ballot. The election will be held at the high school.

Other action taken by the board Monday night included the offer to renew all teacher contracts for next year, and the decision to pay expenses for the Friona girls basketball team to attend the regional games at Lubbock this Saturday. Coach Baker Duggins was also given a commendation.

Russell Massey, commander of the Friona American Legion Post, appeared before the board and requested permission from the school to take over the old agriculture barns in the southeast part of the city, using the location for a swimming pool which is the project of the post.

No decision to release the block of land and improvements involved was made by board members, but they had a favorable attitude toward Massey's proposal.

The buildings, used to house the Parmer County Fair in recent years, are in a dilapidated condition.

Absent from the meeting were Fern Barnett and Hadley Reeve, who have been ill. Both are members of the board.

Anthony, do hereby proclaim Friday, March 8, as World Day of Prayer in Friona, and urge our citizens to observe this day at services at the Congregational Church, or by pausing for a minute of prayer at high noon to ask God to give us, in all our humility, the wisdom and courage to meet and solve the problems of our times.

5 Local Churches
To Participate

Congregations of five Friona churches will participate in a special "World Day of Prayer" observance tomorrow (Friday) March 8. A morning service will be held at the Friona Congregational Church at 10 o'clock.

Among those participating are members of the First Baptist, Congregational, Methodist, and United Pentecostal Churches. And although the move is sponsored primarily by women of the churches, both men and women are urged to attend, says Mrs. Carl Maurer.

A committee composed of Mrs. Maurer of the Congregational Church, Mrs. Hugh Blaylock, Methodist; and Mrs. C. W. Dixon, Baptist, has worked out details of the program.

"The service for the special day this year has been written by a Hungarian," Mrs. Maurer points out. "Serena Vassady voices the testimonies and prayers of Christians who today are destined to live behind the Iron Curtain." The committee adds:

"Let us join in the World Day of Prayer this year with an unshakable belief that these prayers rising from the lips and hearts of people all over the world will make a difference.

"And, may we experience the joy and thrill of being part of an unbroken chain of prayer reaching all the way around the world."

THE STAR'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Traffic Laws

Last week's announcement of a tightening on city traffic regulations probably had a nostalgic effect on some people. If you are one of those, may we suggest that now might be a good time to reach back into the depths of your subconscious mind, push away the cobwebs, and polish up those almost-forgotten traffic rules that you have been violating.

Stop signs, for instance. Stop means stop, not pause. And jay-walking is against the law.

Strange as it might seem, a lot of people have ignored traffic laws for so long that they have forgotten all but the most obvious ones. We speak not only of the city laws but also of state and highway driving regulations.

For those who are not up to date on state laws, we suggest a jaunt to the city hall where one can acquire the loan of a driving manual. For those who have forgotten the city laws, we suggest that you start remembering. This is warm-up week.

Next week is crack-down time.

Practice, maybe that's the answer. You really can stop at a stop sign if you try. You really can turn corners on all four wheels. You really don't have to barrel down the main street at forty or fifty plus.

And don't forget, a fine or short jail sentence could be the least of your worries. We don't like to get "preachy" but bare facts ought to mean something. Accident rates are too high.

And they will continue to be high until we learn our traffic laws and begin to obey them. And the guy who laughs it off may pay the penalty personally.

WSCS Meets, Forms New Night Circle

Twenty-five members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service met Monday evening, March 4, at the Methodist Church annex for the purpose of discussing the organization of a night circle of the WSCS.

The group decided that the first meeting of the night circle will be held Monday evening, March 11, at 7:30 at the church annex, and a spokesman for the group says that any woman, Methodist or not, who is interested in studying with this group, is cordially invited. A permanent meeting date for the newly formed circle will be set at the March 11 meeting.

Theme of the program for organizing the meeting was "Missions," with white cloths covering the tables and places marked with plate favors of foreign flags of countries represented on individual place mats. The place mats, of textured cloth, showed a hand-drawn map of Texas with Friona pinpointed in the left hand corner. A line was drawn from Friona to some country where the Methodist Church sponsors missionary work or a hospital, and 29 of these countries were shown.

Centerpieces for the tables were arrangements of costumed dolls of the foreign countries represented at that table along with some of the crops grown in those countries.

The head table was centered with a replica of the WSCS emblem with small flags attached to the laurel wreath circling the emblem.

The welcome was given by Mrs. Jean Anthony, president of the WSCS and Mrs. Hugh Blaylock led in prayer. After a group song, Mrs. H. R. Coconougher presented the devotional.

Mrs. James Boyles, membership chairman, spoke on the studies the WSCS has completed this year and introduced the leaders of each study, including Mrs. Granville McFarland and Mrs. Ernest Osborn, who in turn gave a brief synopsis of the studies they led.

Mrs. I. T. Graves gave an outline of the new study, "Missions USA" which will begin March 26 with Mrs. Glen Roberson leading.

Mrs. Henry Outland, accompanied by Mrs. Dorothy Hough, sang a solo, and Mrs. Howard Ford led in prayer.

Members present for the organizational meeting included Mesdames H. C. Kendrick, C. L.

Vestal, Ernest Osborn, I. T. Graves, H. R. Coconougher, Tommie Jones, Opal Jones, Eugene Ellis, Homer Lindeman, Billy Sides, Andy Hurst Jr., Jean Anthony, James Boyle;

Also, Mesdames Bill Stewart, A. A. Crow, Granville McFarland, Hugh Blaylock, U. S. Aken, E. H. Bradshaw, George Jones, Howard Ford, W. H. Long, Henry Outland, Dorothy Hough and Floyd Rector.

Allen, Patton Attend Boy Scout Luncheon

Charles Allen of Friona and Coy Patton of Black attended a luncheon of the Deaf Smith District Llano Estacada Council, Boy Scouts of America, at noon Tuesday at Jim Hill Hotel at Hereford.

Several committee reports were given and plans were made to invite Dimmitt and Farwell to come into the district and to change the name since three counties would be participating. Regular meetings are held the first Tuesday of each month.

Light Work Week For City Police

Things were pretty quiet on the law enforcement front in the city during the past week.

Thomas Cobb, 24, was picked up early Sunday morning on a charge of drunkenness by Herman Helton, night patrolman. He posted a $25 appearance bond and was released.

Police also investigated vandalism at 720 Euclid Avenue, where three tires on a parked car were punctured by a sharp object, presumably a knife. No arrests have been made in this connection.

Club Has Texas Day Program

Texas Day was the theme of the regular meeting of the Friona Woman's Club Wednesday afternoon. Roll call was answered by giving the names of the signers of the Texas Independence. Minutes were read and corrected and committee reports were given.

The Lone Star Flag was the topic of Mrs. S. L. McLellan's discussion. Mrs. A. W. Anthony Sr. spoke on "Legends of the Bluebonnets." The entire group sang "Texas, Our Texas." Sharon Reeve presented three flute numbers. They were "Barcarolle," "Minute in G," and "Londonderry Air." She was accompanied by Mrs. F. W. Reeve at the piano.

The serving table was centered with an arrangement of mums and the mantelpiece was of pom-poms. The hostesses, Mrs. J. F. Miller and Mrs. Mary Officer, served salad, wafers, coffee, and tea to the 21 members who were present and the guest, Sharon Reeve.

belongs to the theatre, not to our schools! Yet overcrowded classrooms have become common throughout the nation these days. In some localities, classes are being conducted in two shifts, just to make sure each child has a place to sit.

With greater numbers of children entering school each year, additional classrooms are vitally needed, many more qualified teachers must be obtained, and expanded facilities and equipment have to be provided. Our schools cannot do these things alone — they need the backing of the community. You can help, here in this community, by joining your neighbors in supporting programs for these necessary improvements.

Citizens committees and community conferences are working to solve our local problems. You'll find these groups an effective way to assure your children of the education they deserve.

The boys taking part include David Chiles, E. C. Also planned on the junior program is tennis. Practice will begin when the backstops are completed around the court. Kenneth Fields will be the junior tennis coach.

Sudan Rally Short, Squaws Are Champs

the ball for scoring attempts a number of times.

Also blackening the Squaws' hopes was the loss of Hand to too many fouls just two minutes after the start of the last quarter. Wilson kept up her torrid scoring efforts and Sudan crept to within three points, 38-41, of Friona.

Too many personals also hit Sudan, however, and Wilson had to leave the court with three minutes left to play. This killed Sudan's scoring punch and they never seriously threatened Friona afterward.

Coach Duggins praised the defense of the Squaws after the game, and singled out Audrey Skinner, Paula Neel, Wanda Houlette and Lavon Fleming as leaders.

He said that Friona's three main forwards, Hand, Dean, and Boggess, also played good games. Hand collected 21 points, Dean 16, and Boggess 13 for Friona. Wilson of Sudan also had 21 for the evening.

Citizenry Receives April Shower Prevue

A little rain and a lot of thunder invaded Friona last Friday night and Saturday morning. This area received .37 of an inch of moisture, according to reports given by Friona Consumers. The biggest part of the wet stuff fell between 12:30 and 1:30.

Continued warm weather has encouraged the budding of trees and stirrings of early flowers in many yards in Friona. The occasional showers have hastened this activity along.

Completion Nears For Douglas-Bingham

Completion of the new office building for Douglas-Bingham Land Company is near at hand, reports Joe Douglas of the firm. The first of this week he indicated that the company hopes to be able to begin moving in sometime next week.

Main item as yet undone in the new and modern building is the laying of floor covering, part of which will be carpet and part of which will be asphalt tile.

Contractor for the building, which is going up at the corner of Main and Highway 60, is Raymond Fleming.

Douglas says that an open house is planned for a later date.

The BIBLE Says

"AND PHILIP WENT DOWN TO THE CITY OF SAMARIA, AND PROCLAIMED UNTO THEM THE CHRIST." (Acts 8:5). Philip was only one of many who were scattered from Jerusalem because of the persecution which arose against the church in that city. As these persons went they preached the word. Philip's journey takes him into Samaria and he proclaims Christ unto the people of the city. This is the beginning of an effort which results in many being converted to Christ.

In this same city lived Simon, who told the people that he was someone great. The people believed him and listened to him "because that of long time he had amazed them with his soceries." Here was a deceiver leading the people, not to the great power of God, but to himself.

"But when they believed Philip preaching good tidings concerning the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ they were baptized, both men and women." This was a wonderful GOSPEL MEETING.

The SIXTH STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST in Friona is having such an effort, beginning Sunday. Christ is to be proclaimed. Congregational singing will be characteristic of each service. God's name will be honored and Jesus, God's son, will be exalted. Everything will be provided to assist you in obeying the commands in the gospel like the people in Samaria did 1900 years ago. WILL YOU BE PRESENT? "How are the schools?" That's one of the first questions asked by people planning to buy a new home. For good schools are a neighborhood asset—help keep property values high. But good schools don't just happen! They are the planned result of the members of a community working together.

Citizens committees and community conferences in many cities have been successful in dealing with such problems as overcrowded classroom conditions, shortages of teachers and school equipment. Such groups are doing the same thing right here in our town. But their success depends on the support of everyone.

Let's assure our children the finest possible education. Join your neighbors in planning and working for better schools right now! You'll find it a rewarding experience.

Kirk, Renner Vows Exchanged Tuesday At Church of Christ

Wedding vows were exchanged between Miss Kay Kirk, daughter of Mrs. Cleola Kirk, and Delmer Earl Renner at 7 p. m. Tuesday at the Sixth Street Church of Christ. The double ring ceremony was read before an arch of jade greenery and arrangements of mums flanked by candles. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Renner.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, J. B. Taylor, wore a waltz length dress of white satin with an overlay of net and lace, styled with a sweetheart neckline edged with seed pearls. Her fingertip veil was attached to a tiara of pearls and orange blossoms. She also wore a pearl necklace belonging to her mother and a 75 year old cameo pin which belonged to her great-grandmother. She carried a white Bible topped with pink roses.

Miss Sandra Skinner, who was maid of honor, wore a ballerina length dress of pink antique satin and net. Her corsage was fashioned of white mums. Donald Petty served as best man. Diana Taylor, niece of the bride, and Lavon Fleming presided at the guest register. Ushers were Billy Parker and Roy Young.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kirk wore a two piece dress of dark lilac with pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a navy ensemble with a pink rose corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church annex. Those assisting with the hostess duties were Mrs. J. B.

Taylor and Mrs. Ance Renner, sisters of the bride; and Mrs. Billy Dean Baxter and Mrs. Doyce Barnett, sisters of the groom. Others in the group assisting were Mrs. John Blackburn, Mrs. James Procter, Mrs. Eugene Bandy, Mrs. Billy Parker, Miss Janice Miller, and Miss Janet Snead.

For the wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride wore a gray sharkskin ensemble featuring a dutch boy jacket and a sleeveless sheath touched with white linen. Her shoes and bag were black and she wore a white straw hat. Renner, who is a 1956 graduate of Friona High School, is currently serving in the navy and his next assignment will be at Norman, Oklahoma. Mrs. Renner was a student in Friona High School at the time of her marriage. The couple will be at home temporarily at Norman.

Mr. and Mrs. Vergel Brown returned Monday afternoon from Pecos. They had spent the past several weeks visiting friends and attending to business in that city.

But happily, several hundred farmers and ranchers in the Central Texas region had the grace to say "thanks." Last week they gave a banquet at Dublin for some 50 railroad officials. ## Light Work Session For Commissioners Friona's city commissioners and mayor had one of their lightest work sessions in months when they convened Monday night. Most of the two-hour meeting was taken up just for discussion of various matters facing the city.

First item on the agenda was an examination of the city police department, which has been undergoing considerable realignment in the past four months.

Clerk Roy Wilson recommended that the city end its "partnership" arrangement with the county for daytime police work as a means to improve effectiveness of operation. (The city employs Herman Helton, full-time, but Jim Roberts is also a deputy for the county sheriff's department.)

The mayor and commissioner, however, decided to leave conditions as they now exist, hoping that in time harmonious operation of the local police department will be restored.

Letters from the Texas League of Municipalities relating to local ordinances were read by Wilson, who had previously been instructed by the commission to obtain information from this source.

An opinion from the League seemed to indicate that the much-discussed Green River Law (for controlling transient peddlers in town) was invalid in Texas.

Wilson reported to the commission on matters now pending in the state legislature which would have an effect on the city's business. Several important changes are being studied at the present time, he said.

Wilson also reported that a number of letters have been written by the city to delinquent taxpayers, and that about $1,000 in back taxes was collected last month.

Teacher's Husband Dies in Canyon

Bernie Z. Woodward, 54, died Saturday in Canyon. He was the husband of Mrs. B. Z. Woodward, a first grade teacher in the Friona School system.

The deceased was buried Monday at Canyon, and the funeral was attended by a number of Friona people, including Mesdames Leonard Coffey, Elvie Jennings, Ralph Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Dillie Kelley and Tom Jarboe.

Woodward, the operator of a business there, died of an internal hemorrhage, the result of a lung puncture suffered in an automobile accident some time ago.

Mrs. Woodward plans to continue her teaching here.

Attend Observation

Frank Spring and Charles Allen of the Friona State Bank, and Mrs. C. W. Dixon attended the 50th Anniversary observation of the First State Bank of Dimmitt Tuesday. The bank, which was established by the late C. E. McLean, has been under the management of the McLean family since its beginning. Mrs. Dixon is a daughter of McLean.

None of the four occupants of the 1957 Plymouth driven by Hardy L. May of Friona were injured when another car sideswiped the May car near Hereford Thursday afternoon. The other car plunged off the road, crossed a fence, then overturned.

With June

Had you ever thought of getting up an hour or so early some morning just to watch the town wake up? Watching a small West Texas town, such as ours, wake up is really an interesting way to spend some time.

Of course, we rarely, if ever, get up for that express purpose, but every now and then circumstances force us to get to town between dawn and sunrise. Saturday of last week was one of those mornings.

As we drove in from the west, the banners and balloons surrounding the Humble Station in the west part of town made a very pretty sight. The blimp, which hovered overhead all day, held a great deal of fascination for the children. The fog and clouds that seemed to be making an effort to keep the sun from shining through added much to the holiday atmosphere of the morning.

Any of you who are thinking of re-doing the outside of your house this spring should drive by and look at the exterior of the Glenn Reeve home in the west part of town. Don't know for sure what they call the new materials they have had put on, but it is very attractive.

At the end of the basketball game Thursday evening, there probably wasn't anyone in town who would have asked, "Who won the game?" Feel sure the school kids didn't do all the yelling and whistling and horn sounding that went on for several minutes following the close of the game. The Friona Star staff was just as proud of the victory as any of the other residents, and feel confident that another one will follow when the Squaws play Hale Center in a regional bout.

If you haven't taken advantage of the opportunity to visit our schools this week, it will be too late by the time you read this. Too many of us know too little about the affairs of the school. Perhaps our time would be well spent if we made it a point to find out what was going on at the schools, not only during public school week, but at every possible opportunity.

After all, what most of us learn via our children's report is a child's view of the proceedings. A little first hand observation would probably clarify a lot of problems that come up from time to time.

Even if you have missed out on the public school visitation week, there is still time for you to VISIT school. If a few hours are spent this way, you will benefit more than anyone.

Not many people are as fortunate when beginning new jobs as our new hospital manager, Kenneth Thompson, has been. He began his duties Monday and at that time G. B. "Pete" Buske was a patient. If there were any questions on policy that needed clarifying, Pete was on hand with all the answers.

From all indications, the senior play, "Bolts and Nuts" is going to be good entertainment Friday night of this week. There will be some parents, including the Floyds, who will probably feel some sadness on this occasion. Several of us will be seeing our children in the last play of their high school days and will probably be heard to remark, "My! How Time Does FLY!"

Another of our rural neighborhood communities has great plans for the future. Cotton John informed us one morning last week that residents of the Rhea Community were laying the ground work for a program aimed at improving their community. Since we are personally acquainted with several residents of this community, we feel sure that we will be hearing more about this project in the near future.

Our bouquets this week go to Mrs. Dalton Caffey, local FHA advisor. She certainly is to be commended for the good job she does with our girls who are interested in learning homemaking. Anyone who thinks a school teacher's hours are from 9 to 4, should stop by the homemaking department late in the afternoon.

Girls who have difficulty with school or home projects are encouraged by Mrs. Caffey to stay after school hours at which time she gives them special assistance. A lot of the girls and some of the mothers are very appreciative of this special effort on Mrs. Caffey's part.

Much talk is heard every day about what an advantage a wet year would be to the farmers, of the area and everyone agrees that it would be wonderful. The service station operators would also benefit very much from such a year. That is, if the car washing caused by the little moisture we have had is any indication.

Large Crowd Sees Demonstration

About 150 persons were present at Reeve Chevrolet Tuesday afternoon to see the washer, dryer, and refrigerator demonstrations. Those in charge were Dorothy Brown and Dee Anne Crowley, who are Southwestern Public Service Company home economists; and Ben Butler, who is a Frigidaire representative, all of Amarillo. Attendance gifts were given. Rev. C. G. Nelson and Mrs. Karl Bender were recipients of coffee makers. Following the demonstration, refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served. A special demonstration was given for school girls.

From Odessa

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson, Doris, and Jack, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Williams and children, all of Odessa, were weekend guests in the home of L. M. Crow and other relatives.

Spring Style Show Set For March 19

"Fashion Prevue" is the theme chosen for the annual spring style show Tuesday evening, March 19, in the Friona High School Auditorium. Sponsored jointly by the federated women's clubs of Friona, the proceeds will be used for the upkeep and maintenance of the Friona club house.

Local stores will furnish the clothing and accessories to be modeled by models chosen by the stores with the help of club committees. Participating in the Fashion Prevue will be Foster's, Hurst's, Lewis Variety, LuNora's, and Ware's.

Music and entertainment will be included with the spring style show. Tickets for adults are $1, tickets for students, both high school and grade school, are 50 cents.

This is the only joint fund raising project sponsored annually by the Progressive Study Club, Friona Woman's Club, and the Modern Study Club. Mrs. Ralph Wilson is chairman in charge of all arrangements.

FHA Girls Attend Amarillo Meeting

Sixty-six members of the Friona Future Homemakers of America chapter were in Amarillo Saturday attending an area meeting. There were 2,900 FHA girls from 128 chapters in the area present and Friona had the largest group there, according to Mrs. Dalton Caffey, sponsor.

The theme for the day's gathering was "Footsteps into the Future," and this was the topic of the principal speaker of the day. The speaker was the Rev. Jack A. Gray, Jr., associate pastor of the First Methodist Church of Lubbock.

The program consisted of talent from each of the area schools. Representing Friona on the program were the Trebelaires, and Lavon Fleming and Helen Hamilton were members of the area choir which also performed.

Accompanying the Friona group were Mrs. A. S. Grubbs, Mrs. Dorothy Hough, Mrs. F. W. Barnett, Mrs. A. W. Anthony, Mrs. Hugh Blaylock, and Mrs. Caffey.

MEDICAL PATIENT

Hadley Reeve was admitted to the Parmer County Community Hospital as a medical patient Sunday morning. He was dismissed Tuesday morning and is at home, where his condition is reported satisfactory.

THE FRIONA STAR

Girl Scouts Plan Special Events

Several special events have been planned for Girl Scout Week which will be observed nationwide from March 8 to 16. These plans were made at a Girl Scout Leader's meeting at the club house Monday afternoon.

The annual Girl Scout cookie sale will begin in the Caprock Girl Scout Council Friday, March 8. This year each troop will keep eight cents from the sale of each box, 20 cents will go into a permanent camp fund, and the other 22 cents will pay for the cookies. Each Girl Scout troop is allowed only one money-raising activity during the year. The sale ends March 22.

The theme of the affair this year is to be "Girl Scouting is a family affair." Special efforts will be made during Girl Scout Week to demonstrate that Girl Scouting is an influence for good in American families and to underscore the importance of men as Girl Scout fathers and husbands and as members, supporters and friends of Girl Scouting.

Sunday, March 17, will be observed as Girl Scout Sunday in Friona.

Weekend Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Dukes and Bryant of Borger were weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wiley and other relatives and friends.

Bureau To Launch Membership Drive At Bovina Monday

Parmer County Farm Bureau will launch its annual membership drive with a banquet for workers and guests Monday night in the Bovina School Cafeteria. Jack Patterson, vice-president in charge of membership acquisition, said he expected another successful drive Tuesday, and that the work would be much lighter than some years past because a good number of those billed by mail have either returned their renewal checks by mail or in person.

About 59 workers and their wives will be in attendance at the banquet. Millard Shivers, TFB organization director, will be the speaker of the evening. Patterson said he believed everyone will profit from Shivers' address. The meal will be prepared and served by the staff of the cafeteria. Ralph Smith is working with the ladies in obtaining food. Mrs. J. T. Jones, Mrs. R. McCutchan and Mrs. Jack Patterson are in charge of decorations.

Goal for the drive is 650 members, which is just few more than are now in good standing. Several memberships are up for renewal in March, the regular drive month for Parmer County.

Drive captains are M. T. Glasscock, Farwell; Franklin Bauer, Rhea; John Henderson and Bruce Parr, Black; Dennis Williams and J. T. Jones, Bovina; J. D. White, Lazbuddie; Harry Hamilton, Lakeview; and Roy V. Miller, north of Friona, and Spencer Hough, city of Friona.

Dennis Williams and Spencer Hough are regular members of the membership committee with Patterson.

New Early-Maturing Grain Sorghum Variety Released

Redbine 58, a new early maturing grain sorghum variety, has been developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with the Midwest Research Institute and Corn Products Refining Company.

Redbine 58 is earlier in maturity than most presently grown combine varieties of grain sorghum. It blooms in 58 days at Lubbock and is three to four days earlier than Martin and about two-weeks earlier than Redbine 66. It usually performs better and is a surer crop under dryland planting in areas of low rainfall or in dry years. It is also adapted to higher altitudes and latitudes where early maturity is important.

The bright reddish-yellow grain of the new variety is hard like Martin, germinates well, does not weather badly in the field and threshes well. It is highly superior to Combine 7078 in these respects and is a more attractive grain than its Martin parent. Head bearing stems of the variety are long and the heads dry early as the grain matures.

In tests, Redbine 58 has produced as much or more grain per acre as other early maturing varieties and coupled with its good combining characteristics, makes it a desirable variety.

Adequate supplies of planting seed for farm use should be available for 1957 plantings since seed were released last spring to certain seed growers.

Food must have relatively high nutritive value or it isn't a "bargain" at any price, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists. A really good food buy involves many considerations other than price. Daily food needs for all family members, their likes and dislikes, foods in season, time and work needed to prepare the food are some factors to consider. Storage space for food and equipment for preparation will determine how much and what kind of food you buy. Careful planning and selection will make your food buys real bargains. Shopping lists developed from balanced menus will save shopping time and money by giving you real nutritive value for your money.

Here is a good standby for chocolate cake and icing.

Chocolate Fudge Loaf

- 1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup butter or other shortening
- 3/4 cup milk
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg well beaten
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well; then add chocolate. Blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in a greased pan, 8x8x2 inches, in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) 1 hour. Spread fudge frosting generously over the cake.

Fudge Frosting

- 3 squares Baker's unsweetened chocolate, cut in pieces
  - 1 1/2 cups milk
  - 3 cups sugar
  - Dash of salt
  - 3 tablespoons light corn syrup
  - 3 tablespoons butter
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
- Add chocolate to milk and place over low flame. Cook until mixture is smooth and blended, stirring constantly. Add sugar, salt and corn syrup, stir until sugar is dissolved and mixture boils. Continue cooking, without stirring, until a small amount of mixture forms a very soft ball in cold water (232 degrees F.). Remove from fire. Add butter and vanilla. Cool to lukewarm (110 degrees F). Beat until of right consistency to spread. If desired, place over hot water to keep soft while spreading. Makes enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 9-inch layers, or top and sides of 8x8x2-inch cake, or about 2 dozen cup cakes.

Research Foundation Opens New Office

The office of the High Plains station of the Texas Research Foundation is now located just west of the research station site at Halfway. The staff of the station moved from their temporary office at 704 1/2 W. 5th., Plainview, February 28. Increased tempo of activity at the 310-acre research farm made the early move necessary.

An acre of land just west of the station was purchased from Marvin Dean in February. A residence has been converted to an office. As soon as funds become available, a headquarters building will be erected on the south side of Highway 70 just east of the Halfway Baptist Church. The present office will then become the residence of a station employee.

Construction of an equipment storage barn is underway on the new acre site. The second irrigation well is being drilled on the east side of the 310-acre research farm. All the land has been plowed and is being floated, getting ready for the first year of research. Leases on the site were completed January 9. This late season start is compelling the scientists and staff to work at high speed to "catch up."

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Your local Farm Bureau last week contacted your state representative and senator, urging their opposition to a proposed bill to revise county precincts according to population, rather than geographical lines. It is believed that a move of this nature would open the road to possible ulterior use of the system to control county business without consideration of the people in thinly settled areas of the county.

Harry Hamilton, legislative committee co-chairman, also urged Representative Osborn and Senator Andy Rogers to give support to the bill to appropriate more funds for expansion of extension and state experiment college work. The stated purpose of this bill is as much toward research and marketing purposes as production.

One item of interest being discussed along this line, is the possibility of producing synthetics from agricultural products if that seems to be what people will buy more readily than the natural products. This seems to be another version of the axiom, "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

We're not too familiar with Congressman Pat McNamara of Michigan. He did make a statement that gives us less respect for his judgment, and more respect for that of the United States Chamber of Commerce last week, however. McNamara made a prepared statement referring to what he called the antediluvian outlook on life of the Chamber. (That word means old fashioned).

He was lambasting the US C of C for stating that it is against federal aid for school construction. We are happy to say that the Chamber is not by any means lonely in its view on this matter. American Farm Bureau takes the same view, and the congressman might do well to find how some of his constituents feel about the matter before going too far. Actually, we have heard very little in favor of this federal aid proposal from any except bureaucrats and politicians.

If you haven't sent in your membership renewal, please do it now so your neighbor will get home in time for supper Tuesday (because he didn't have to stop at your place).

Miss Joan Vaughn, of Tulia, 1956 Texas Farm Bureau Queen, was honored by passage of a resolution presented by Senator Andy Rogers on Tuesday of last week. The Lieutenant Governor and all the senators signed the resolution, which congratulated and complimented Joan and her parents for their contribution of good will through their appearance in Miami, Florida in December, as guests of American Farm Bureau.

Three bills sponsored by Texas Farm Bureau are well on the way to becoming laws in the state, some of them already passed. The three bills referred to are regarding egg grading, commercial feed labeling, and use of farm registered pickups for passenger vehicles without extra license charge.

We would like to remind those of you who have wheat acreage allotments, but who have not planted wheat, to sign the proper forms at the ASC office to retain your allotment for future years. This is a privilege you have as the result of Farm Bureau's action, eminent from Parmer County in 1953.

We hear a lot about the decrease in the number of farms, but until recently had not noticed figures on other types of business. U.S.D.A. figures reveal that grocery stores decreased in number from 351,000 in 1948 to 279,000 in 1954.

Jack Patterson says we need to express appreciation to you for your good response to statements you receive for your dues by mail. Each check received by mail will save several miles of driving for some farmer who will be out working on the membership drive in March.

Just a short time ago the Justice Department of the United States Government prepared to go into court charging unions with conspiracy with business firms in restraint of trade. This is the first such case in American history. Since just about every demand for increased pay for labor is complied with, and the consumer foots the bill in increased costs of the necessities of life and business, it seems that this way may be none too early for such charges. Rectification of such practices might curb inflation quickly.

Consider this: A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom to pervert the ways of judgement. Proverbs 17:23-30.

Ag Committeeman To Address PCGA

Rep. Jamie L. Whitten, (D. Miss.) chairman of the powerful house agriculture appropriations committee, will make the keynote address at the annual meeting of the Plains Cotton Growers, March 18, in Lubbock, Woodrow Fleming of Parmer County, a director, said this week.

W. O. Fortenberry, president of Plains Cotton Growers, told directors last week that Whitten had accepted an invitation to visit the South Plains and speak here.

Whitten will speak on "The Farm Problem," at the afternoon session of the PCG annual meeting. Cotton producers and industry representatives from throughout the 23-county area served by the PCG will attend the annual meeting to be held in the Municipal Auditorium on Texas Tech campus.

The Mississippi congressman played a major role in getting the present cotton export sales program at competitive prices passed and has always been interested and active in cotton legislation, Fleming says.

Whitten believes there should be no acreage restrictions in cotton and that farmers should be supported only on domestic sales based on history and be permitted to plant all the cotton acreage they wish for world market competition.

He has publicly stated that he believes U. S. agriculture is on the wrong road in reducing cotton acreage and he believes Secretary Benson's policy of lower prices has not increased the domestic consumption in this country.

A recently released Texas Agricultural Experiment Station publication, "Influence of Rainfall on Profits from Fertilizer Applications to East Texas Forage," indicate that the odds for a profit are good with forage valued at $15, $20 and $25 a ton and when fertilizers applied cost $13.70 an acre. The complete report is available from the Agriculture Information Office, College Station, Texas.

A New York joke we enjoyed goes like this: There had been a devastating atomic attack on this old earth. Everything had been destroyed. Every city, every farm, everything. Only the Empire State building was left and one man in the top story. He looked sadly out the window and decided he didn't care to be the only human being left on this old earth. A plastic wrap around skirt should be a must in every homemaker's wardrobe. In addition to keeping her clothes clean, they will also keep them dry, and at the same time not detract from her appearance. Most homemakers need to pay more attention to their appearance. Too many of us are careless about how we look at home.

Another thing that would be an incentive to us to keep ourselves looking better would be a full length mirror placed at a strategic point. This would be very beneficial as a reminder to us that posture is very important.

Someone has said that the best way to keep from getting old is to keep learning new things. If that be true, and we feel sure that it is to a certain extent, a homemaker should stay young longer than any woman in other professions. There are just no end to the things we can learn that are new and different.

If pecan pie is a favorite at your house, you will find that there are about as many ways to make pecan pies as there are people to eat them. We ran across a recipe this week that presents a new idea that should be very popular with those of you who are

Read a recipe a few days ago that must have been developed by the peanut butter industry. It was for Peanut Butter Soup. To those of us who do not particularly care for peanut butter, it surely does not sound appetizing, does it? Just out of curiosity, we may try it. If the family approves of it, will pass it on later.

If you have had trouble with root knot in your garden soil, it is wise to fumigate the soil ten days to two weeks before planting. Your yield of warm weather crops such as tomatoes, peas, cucumbers and okra are more susceptible to root knot damage, and the soil in which these are to be planted should be fumigated.

Complete instructions on how to control root knot disease can be secured from the County Agent's office or from the Texas A&M College Extension Service.

THE PARMER FARMER

A few weeks ago we were talking with Allen White, who is the office manager of the High Plains Underground Water District in Lubbock, and also is editor of "The Cross Section," a monthly publication of the water district.

Allen passed on some first hand information to us which we have not seen recorded in either the paper, which he edits, or any farm magazine of the area. We had been asking him about how successful the district's re-charge experimental project had been over in Floyd County and he told us that the results had been both discouraging and encouraging.

In that experiment, the water district attempted to set up a re-charge well in an old lake bed and to return surface rain water to the water bearing sands formation by means of the re-charge well. Because nearly all of our fresh water lakes on the plains are very shallow and temporary, the water in these lakes has a very high silt content.

To overcome the difficulty that is experienced in returning dirty water to underground formations, the district had "filtered" the water through a pit, which had been filled with cotton burs.

This sounded like a good theory and it was believed that after the cotton burs became laden with silt, which was taken from the water, the burs could be removed and replaced with clean burs in the pit. Then the operation could begin all over again.

However, practice proved that the muddy rainwater, which had trickled down from surrounding farm land was carrying so many tiny particles of soil that the silt-ing down problem was terrific.

At first, the rate of intake of the "reverse" well was very high, but it diminished at a ratio directly connected with the amount of water introduced through the well because the silt would stack up in the underground formations and cause the water to be slowed down or stopped as it attempted to enter the underground formations.

In this sense, Allen told us, the re-charge experiment was a disappointment; however, it has now been discovered that if a regular irrigation pump is inserted into the re-charge well that it can "clean out" the clogged underground formation in just a fraction of the time that it took for siltation to set in.

That is, White believes, that farmers will see the advantage of having a "two way" irrigation well located in or near the hundreds of lakes that dot the irriga-ed High Plains. Farmers will find it feasible for their wells to pump water during the irrigation season from the underground formation in just exactly the same way that wells are doing all over the plains now, except that these wells would be located at the lowest point on the farm rather than at the highest point and the water would be transmitted to the irrigation ditches by means of pipe either underground or over ground, connected to the well's discharge pipe.

Then, when rains do occur and the lakes do have water in them, water can either be returned to the underground formation through this "two way" well, or can be pumped to the crop as needed. In the cold or winter months, when no irrigation is being done, it will be possible to use the well as a recharge unit altogether starting the pump only periodically in order to clean out the underground formation so that surface water can be emptied into it.

Very likely, installations of this kind will appear impractical at first. However, as the irrigation water table under the plains continues a steady decline and it becomes apparent that land owners of the high plains area are faced with the probability of depletion of the most valuable resource, it will be discovered that these "two way" wells are, in fact, a very sensible investment.

Another thing that should be pointed out is the fact that an irrigation well located at a low point lifts water no further than an irrigation well located on a high point. The well on the low point has a shorter lift to the surface, but, then, the water is transferred through lateral pipe to the area which is to be irrigated. On the other hand, a well located on a high point lifts the water straight up to the point where irrigation ditches can then take care of it.

Even after its first year of operation, there is still considerable befuddlement among farm operators as to the mechanics of the soil bank program.

Perhaps a broad definition of the phases of the over-all program together with its aims, might help to establish clearly the functions of his special farm legislation.

Prentice Mills of the ASC office has passed along to us something that might be some help in this respect. It's boiled down and is minus the details, and is pretty easily understood:

1957 SOIL BANK
There are two parts to the Soil Bank Program—the acreage reserve or one year program, and the conservation reserve or five or ten year program.

Both programs are entirely voluntary. You can sign an agreement or not. After an agreement is signed it cannot be cancelled or changed by either the farmer or government for the life of the contract. You may cancel or change the agreement until the final sign up date of March 1 for the acreage reserve, or March 15, for the conservation reserve.

Both programs are alike in that you designate a certain part of the farm as the reserve acreage. This area cannot be changed for the life of the agreement. The reserve acreage cannot be grazed or a crop cannot be harvested from the acreage. Either agreement must be signed by all parties interested in the crops and the payments are divided between the landlord and tenant, usually as the crop is divided.

A limited amount of money is available for each program and it is available on a "first come, first served" basis.

Here are some specific parts of the acreage reserve program. This is designed to reduce the acreage and production of certain crops. The rate set up for your farm is for average irrigated land if irrigation facilities are available. The land designated as acreage reserve may be summer fallowed or planted to certain soil building crops to be turned under or incorporated into the soil this fall. March 1 is the final date to sign an agreement and it cannot be cancelled or changed. You sign the agreement to reduce the 1957 acreage of cotton below the allotment and you are not obligated to sign again in 1958. You may reduce your cotton acreage up to 30% of the allotment or 10 acres, whichever is larger, on a guaranteed basis and offer additional acreage which will be accepted if money is available after March 1.

The conservation reserve program is designed to reduce the acreage of crops planted on farms and generally is supposed to take the less productive land out of cultivation. The annual rate in this county is $10 per acre on each farm. You reduce the acreage of soil bank base crops—generally cotton, small grain and grain sorghum—below the average planted in 1955 and 1956. This designated acreage is planted in permanent pasture grasses which cannot be grazed or harvested until the end of the contract period.

You can put from five acres to the total cropland in this program. March 15 is the final date to sign an agreement.

One of the most interesting things we know of at the moment relating to High Plains agriculture is the attempt by landowners in southwestern Lamb County to irrigate their land.

They are organizing a project, the estimated cost of which is $8 million, to bring water from the sandhills north of them to their parched, sandy land.

This part of Lamb County is bone dry — or the next thing to it — and about the only irrigation they have now is very small stuff we would call "dribblers."

Most of the land lies south of Sudan, and would be nursed by fresh water which lies under the untitled sandhills to the north in abundance. These are the same sandhills, incidentally, which Lubbock plans to draw water from, and Littlefield is resorting to the same source.

According to the Littlefield paper, the farmers intend to declare a water district, embracing about 300 quarter sections of land, and they would vote a bond issue to finance the improvement.

Money from the Small Reclamations Projects Act would be available, at no interest rate, for this purpose, and taxes within the district would pay the government back over a period of 30 years.

They propose to buy 20,000 acres of water rights, and apparently already have this part of the deal tied down. They figure the rights will cost them $700,000.

It will then take 145 irrigation wells to pump water into two 42-inch concrete pipelines from the sandhills to the project area.

Total cost per acre for water delivered to the farm is expected to run between $19 and $24 per year.

They have plenty of cotton allotments down there — all they need is the water to make good. If this deal goes through, it should be interesting to other dryland areas that are situated adjacent large fresh water sources.

Cotton Prop Rate Is 28.15 Per Pound

Parmer County farmers will receive a guaranteed price of 28.15 cents per pound for middling 7/8-inch 1957-crop upland cotton, according to Prentice Mills, county ASC manager.

This price support is the national minimum level, based on the average location. Recently announced by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the level of support reflects 77 percent of the current parity price of 36.56 per pound. In event that the applicable parity price is higher than the support level at the beginning of the next marketing year, the level of support will be increased accordingly.

Cotton producers approved the marketing quotas for the 1957 upland cotton by a 92.4 percent favorable vote in a referendum on December 11. The support level for last year's cotton was 29.34 cents per pound, reflecting 82½ percent of the parity price.

The support level is determined on the basis of supply percentage at the beginning of each marketing year, which is August 1.

As for grain sorghums, Parmer County farmers will be guaranteed $1.80 per hundred weight for grade No. 2 or better (except mixed grain sorghums). The national average is $1.83 and it reflects 70 percent of the parity price as of January 15.

The 1957 supports are a lower percent of parity than they were for 1956 grain sorghum crops.

So you want to be STRONG

Remember this: "Some folks just naturally wouldn't want a Farm Bureau as strong as all farmers working together could make it."

It is so easy to be "Against" things—A few loud voices can do farmers a lot of damage. Indeed, it is quite another thing for "Loud Voices" to be "for Something" and make it work.

Farmers, through Farm Bureau, have never made a policy of attacking any program without first advancing a better program. WHAT HAVE YOU DONE TO MAKE IT WORK? Do you exert your thinking in shaping policy making resolutions? Do you attend meetings?

Do you accept responsibilities of holding community and county office?

Do you accept committee assignments?

"Loud Voices" don't attack, criticize, and destroy that which they have helped to build.

Dividends paid to Farm Bureau policy holders in 1956: Over 20 million dollars in America, over 2½ million dollars in Texas, and over 30 thousand dollars in Parmer County.

Parmer County Farm Bureau, in March, 1952, began negotiations making natural gas available to farmers on cooperative lines for irrigation.

Farm Bureau Policies are neither Democrat nor Republican. Support of bi-partisan FB recommendations is sought (successfully) from both parties.

Wheat farmers can retain acreage allotments without planting as result of Congressional action sponsored first by Parmer County FB, then Texas and American FB in 1953.

Now — Texas Farm Bureau is urging increased appropriations for expanding State Extension and State Experiment Station Service for you.

Only persons with at least 51 percent of their income coming from agricultural pursuits are eligible to be officers, or to vote in Farm Bureau.

Pfeiffenberger Talks To Cotton Growers

George Pfeiffenberger, executive vice-president of the Plains Cotton Growers Association, was featured speaker at the meeting of the Parmer County Cotton Improvement Association in Bovina Monday evening.

Out to hear the cotton man were about 50 adults and youngsters, the latter being those who placed in cotton growing contest sponsored by the county association the past year.

Winning first place in the contest and being recognized with a plaque and a check for $50 for his accomplishment, was Johnny Mabry, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Mabry of the Hub community. He had a yield of 1487 pounds of lint cotton per acre.

Richard Chitwood took second place with a yield of 1459 pounds. Other winners were Gary Mac Brown, Joe Hughes, Joe Bob Johnson, and Johnny Miller, in that order.

Most of Pfeiffenberger's talk was an explanation of the work of the Plains Growers Association. He emphasized their three-point program which places emphasis on service, research, and marketing.

At the end of the program, an action was held which returned Arlin Hartzog of Bovina to office as president and also retained W. L. Edelman as vice-president and Wes Long as secretary, both of Friona.

Directors for the coming year include James Mabry, J. E. Noland, Truman Kent, Dee Brown, Hershel Johnson, Joe Blair, Jack Smith and Hartzog.

Report Given on Bank Participation

Parmer County farmers have at this time contracted 595.5 acres in the acreage reserve of the soil bank for cotton, reports Joe Magness, chairman of the county ASC board. There were 32 contracts representing payments totaling $34,950 and acreage payments in the county averaged $59 per acre.

Wheat acreage in the reserve program totaled 6,370 acres and it represents a total payment of $61,698. The conservation reserve (this is the 5 to 10 year program) for both 1956 and 1957 totaled 7,724 acres at $10 per acre.

Magness points out that Parmer County farmers are not going very strong for this program. "This, of course, is because the production of the soil in Parmer County is worth much more on most farms than the payment offered to lay out these acres," Magness says.

SOIL CONVERSATION

"This May Be God's Country But It Looks Like the Devil Has Been Farming It!"

Soil Conservation Society of America

We can talk our way into oblivion. Even crows know that. Action to correct our major resource problems of droughts, floods and improper land use can come only through really cooperative conservation projects, not words alone. See your local soil conservation district today.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Something to think about: Soil is the farmer's bank. It won't stand on many promissory notes.

Now that preplanting irrigation is beginning, tail water is also beginning to run down the barrow ditches and fill up many of the lakes that haven't had a drop of rain water in them.

It is a shame to be so wasteful of such a precious natural resource, which can't possibly last forever, as some would like to have us believe. It is not the systems that lose small amounts of water we are talking about. It is true that on the best of irrigation systems, some water will be lost. The waste-water we are talking about is where water will run out the end of the fields for several hours.

At least three billion tons of solid soil materials are washed out of the fields and pastures of the United States each year by water erosion alone. It has been figured that to move such a bulk of American soil on rails would take a train of freight cars 475,000 miles long—enough to girdle the earth 18 times at the equator.

William Jennings Bryan said:

"Burn down your cities and they will arise again as if by magic. But destroy our farms and the grass will grow on the streets of every city in the land."

P. S. Don't forget to order your Arizona Cypress trees before it is too late.
