"LISTEN FOLKS"

By Jim Ferguson.

(Editor's note: This article is published as a news item and represents the personal views of Mr. Ferguson only)

There is still no one in Washington or Austin saying anything about the enormous spending of national and state funds. The wild waste of tax revenues goes merrily on, and there is yet no one to say nay.

If I had a few extra hundred dollars to pay court expense, I would be tempted to start a suit in the name of the taxpayers to stop this plain violation of the law in using the current revenues of this year to pay discounted warrants issued last year, thereby diverting the funds from the purpose for which provision has been made for their payment.

I might not get anywhere, but if the courts are as pure and holy as some of these muckrakers who are abusing the President say they are, then we could by putting the issue squarely up to the courts stop this illegal issue of warrants until there is money in the treasury to pay them.

There never was a time when it was as imperatively necessary to invoke the demand of the "Old Alcades" Roberts "to pay as we go" as it is now. Anyhow I am going to think about it and in the meantime if any of you boys away out there by the side of the road think well of my idea of stirring up the animals, just drop me a line.

There are eight candidates for the Congressional position just made vacant by the death of Honorable J. P. Buchanan, who filled the place for 24 years. To use the cow man's vernacular, these boys that are running are a good looking bunch of bullies with as much energy as brains if not a little more so, and I look for them to stir up the dust pretty soon in an ambitious effort to stampee the people into voting for them. Already they seem to be about equally divided on the question of "for the President and agin the Court an fur the Court an agin the President."

President Roosevelt is just one of the humans that wants to do something for the under dog and make it possible for dad to bring home something to eat and wear for Sally and the children from work on the farm and factory, and he wasn't thinking about the Courts or the Constitution until these old men on the Court got in his way and stopped almost everything he tried to do. Of course, when they got in his way he just got his dander up like you and I would under the same conditions an we are going to have a cat an parrot scrap until the thing is settled. It is plum ridiculous to talk about waiting twenty years for the people to pass a constitutional amendment. This would be entirely too long to wait and in the meantime everybody might be hungry and out of a job, and the people would start a real revolution, and everybody know that no court nor no constitution ever stopped a revolution.

Tom Connally in his speech against the President said the Supreme Court was made to control Congress and Congress was made to control the President an that the Supreme Court was made to control both. Yes, that is true, but he forgot to say that the President with the aid of the Senate were by the same constitution given power to appoint the judges of this Supreme Court, and that is all the President has sought or wants to do—to exercise the powers conferred on him by the same constitution that the big lawyers say they reverence so much. Appointing Judges is the President's business and it is not anybody else's business. If he, in the exercise of that power, did not appoint people who thought like he did and believed like he did, then I would not be for him. He would be unsafe to be trusted with power.

If the duties of the Supreme Court need more Judges to keep up with its work, then it is folly to contend that the additional judges should be provided for merely because the present President might appoint somebody who he is friendly with. What would the people say if President Roosevelt should appoint Ex-President Hoover? The first thing these big lawyers would say is that he had betrayed the powers vested in him by the "Constitution." Correct. It is natural to appoint our friends, and it is unnatural to appoint our enemies real or political. Every member of the present Supreme Court was appointed as the result of some friendly or political reason.

President Roosevelt is not asking that any judge be removed or that he change his opinion on any litigation present or prospective. He is

From Way Down Here at Marlin, Texas

It is said that it is hard to get so far from home that you will find no one you know. Soon after landing here we found Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hudgens of Lubbock, and of course have seen much of them since. Yesterday we drove out 20 miles in the country with them, across the Brazos river and southeast of Marlin to an old country cemetery to where his (Mr. Hudgens) father was buried some 45 years ago. He also found just about the exact spot where he was born. In our rounds we saw Rosebud, Lot and a "lot" of other towns. In those German settlements they not only have fine homes and barns, but pretty farms and orchards, the plum predominating and now in full bloom. Was it pretty sight?

Have you had our 3rd bath and while 21 baths for $21.00 seems awfully high, you get a lot for your money. The program is about as follows: You enter a steaming hot bath where there are some 20 to 40 other guys trying to regain their health, and when I saw some of them, I decided that A. J. Stricklin was reasonably healthy. Some cases are really pitiable. But more of this later. This hot steam and hot water like to have got our "goat" the first trial, we thought.

About every five minutes a negro comes around with an ice cold towel to put around your head to keep you from "kicking the bucket." From there you go to a "sweat" room heated to 110 degrees. You lay down on a cot and you may call it perspiring, but we sweat like a bunch of negroes at an August hoe-down. The cold towels are still used, and here as in the tub, if they do not ring about all the cold water out and some runs down your back, you'll liable to almost lose your breath. You stay here about 20 minutes and carried or walk to the shower where you are first covered with shampoo and go under the shower—not a bad place.

You are then carried to another room and put on a cot and covered up, and will think—gosh! This is cool and nice—but wait brother, they are just cooling you off by degrees. This room registers 90 degrees in the shade. You stay here some 20 minutes until you sorter reach normal and get dry and a big black, thick-lipped negro says, "come this way cap." He first oils you and then of all the rubbing, slapping and massaging you ever got, it starts and ends there. You'll think you will be too sore to walk, but you won't. You go from there back to the dressing room. That is what you get for $1.00 and it is worth all the medicine you can take in a week.

Now back to the poor unfortunates. Will take just one case of a young railroad man from Louisiana. Some time perhaps 3 months ago he was in a wreck, whether train or car he did not inform me. When he came to Marlin six weeks ago he could not bat an eyelash or knock a fly off his nose. Now he can walk, and at least partially dress himself. However he never goes to the baths or 110 degree room. It would probably kill him. They use hot towels on him in what we call the "cooling" room—90 degrees. He hopes soon to be able to go through the bath and sweat rooms and to return to his home a well man, although paralyzed all over, when he came here. Almost a miracle.

There are many almost parallel cases that one hears of every day. But the main thing folks—take it from us—is to take care of your health so that you will not have to come here, for after all, taking these baths and sweats is no picnic. It is a punishment so far as we are concerned for we never did like real hot water or hot rooms.

John Milner Leases Snappy Lunch Cafe

John Milner has leased the Snappy Lunch Cafe from Mrs. Reed Smith, and is now open for business. John is an experienced cafe man, having followed this particular line, for some ten years in Brownfield.

He invites you to call on him at his new location, and assures you he will serve you the kind of food you will enjoy eating. Note his ad elsewhere in this issue.

Community to Stage Easter Egg Hunt

An old-fashion Easter egg hunt is to be held Easter Sunday, March 28, one and a half miles northeast of town on the old rodeo grounds. We understand that the hunt is being sponsored by local merchants with V. B. Ward and Mrs. Buck Andress in charge of arrangements. The hunt will start at 2:30 p. m.

Those living in the country and wishing to participate are asked to cook and decorate four eggs for each child in the family and leave them at Rex Headstream's office. Those bringing them in will receive retail price for them.

Residents of Brownfield who wish to attend are asked to leave four candy eggs with Mr. Headstream. These are to be considered donations. Besides the egg hunt, there is to be a program in conformance with the occasion. Eggs are to be brought to Mr. Headstream's office on Saturday, March 27.

Those who wish to do so may bring their lunches and spend the day.

High School Band To Give Concert

Herman Trigg, school band director, will present his pupils in a concert composed of some twenty numbers at the High School auditorium, Wednesday, March 24, at 7:30.

Besides the regular band, Mr. Trigg is featuring his "Saxette" band, composed of second, third and fourth graders. This is not a rhythm band—the tots actually play tunes, reading music like their older brothers in the big band. This group has only been organized since the holidays, and according to Mr. Trigg, they have made remarkable progress.

D. O. Wiley, Tech band director, Clyde Rowe, Slaton band director, Conway King, Lamesa, Paul Barnum, Levelland, and Mr. Alphin, Tahoka, have been invited to attend the concert.

The program will consist of Marches, Overtures, Patriotic Music, Waltzes and even a little "swing" music. There will be a small admission charge.

Local Boy Makes Tech Judging Team

LUBBOCK, Tex., Mar. 16.—Naming of the dairy cattle judging team personnell completed Texas Tech's roster of entries in the Southwestern exposition and Fat Stock show in Fort Worth March 12 to 20.

Coach N. C. Fine named the following junior agriculture students on the dairy judging unit: Walter Coulson of Amherst, A. T. Fowler of Brownfield, Dean Herman of Tulia and Archie Meekman of Olton. One team member will act as alternate in the Fort Worth contests Monday.

Members of the junior livestock judging team, selected recently by Ray C. Mowery, professor of animal husbandry an dteam coach, were: Leslie Browning of Fluvanna, Lewis Dunlap of Spur, G. C. Shearer of Tulia, Clifford Cole of Lubbock, and M. J. Williams of Tulia. The livestock contests will be Saturday, said Mowery, who is in charge of barrows at the exposition.

W. L. Stangel, head professor of animal husbandry at Texas Tech, is in charge of the Aberdeen-Angus cattle exhibits at the show. He left Thursday night. Fine, Mowery and their teams were to leave Friday.

Livestock entries from Texas Tech include four Hereford and six Aberdeen-Angus steers, nine Duroc, six Hampshire, and six Poland China barrows.

Concert To Be Presented Methodist Church

Mrs. Eddie Mae Bracey, teacher of the local colored school, will present her pupils in a Sacred Concert of Negro Spirituals, at the Methodist Church, Sunday, March 21, at 2:30 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to this concert and enjoy the good singing of these young people. Those who have seen her pupils in other public appearances say they are well coached and can present themselves in such a manner that everyone will enjoy seeing them perform.

Herald Man Visits Local School Shop

Last Tuesday as we were returning from lunch our path led us past the west grammar school building and having received several invitations from Mr. Johnnie Bost, head of the industrial arts department, to visit his shop, we decided to stop by.

For the past several years the auditorium and stage of this building has been used to house this type of work. The woodwork and mechanical drawing classes were discontinued a few years ago and the work was not taken up again until Mr. Bost came here in 1935. The two classes were then combined with several others under the head of Industrial Arts.

The writer received a mild shock when he saw the many improvements made in the shop since he took woodwork there several years ago. Strangely enough, the room was neater than many rooms we have seen that were used for housing the purely academic classes. Racks had been built for the tools and everything was in its place except what was being used. Mr. Bost showed us some cold chisels that had been made by the metalwork class. Except for the trademark stamped on the manufactured article, we could not tell one from the other. The mechanical drawing class was putting the finishing touches on their notebooks in preparation for starting in another phase of the department next week as they are shifted from one class to another from week to week. This keeps any part of the course from becoming monotonous. We understand that the second year class is allowed to specialize if they desire. The class in electricity seemed very interested in trying out various circuits with a buzzer and pushbutton. In the metalwork class a boy has the opportunity of getting lots of exercise as well as a practical education as sledge hammers, anvils and the forge is brought into frequent use in this class. The woodwork class is well equipped but a wood lathe and possibly a sander, planer and some sort of motor driven saw is needed to round out the equipment. The Industrial Arts course was affiliated by the State Department of Education last year.

As all of us know Mr. Bost is also head football coach in the high school and has turned out some very successful teams, but we believe that we all too often think of a man selected to coach athletics as well as teach in terms of his ability to turn out good teams and fail to recognize his ability to turn out good citizens. Hence this article about Mr. Bost's "other job."

Scouts Plan Imaginary Trips to Washington

An imaginary trip to Washington D. C. in an imaginary airplane will occupy the minds of the Scouts and Leaders of the South Plains Council for the next several weeks, Charles Whitacre, Chairman of the organization committee of the council, said in announcing the latest round-up contest that started Monday, March 15 at the Lubbock Municipal Airport, when the planes all left out together on the 2000 mile trip to the National Capital and the site of the National Jamboree.

The Round-up flight will lead up to the camping season and instead of giving the various troops points for various accomplishments they will be given miles for the achievements. Miles will be given for additional enrollment, camp enrollments, participation in Camporals, troop hikes and overnight camps.

Some unusually good prizes are being offered for the first five planes that land at Washington, including a free airplane ride for the first to land, which will be given by H. C. Breedlove, Manager of Lubbock Municipal Airport, to each member of the winning troop. Other attractive prizes will be given the next four winners. For each plane that reaches the capital a beautiful President F. B. Malone Award will be presented to the troop.

Individual prizes will be awarded each scout that recruits a new member and trains him in his tenderfoot work and gets him registered in the troop.

According to H. C. Breedlove each plane will leave the Airport at the same time Monday morning and get twenty five miles start on. The remainder of the flight will depend on the condition of the machinery of the plane and the ability of the pilot to manage the controls.

State Democratic Headquarters to Close

AUSTIN, Mar. 16.—Active work of the Texas Democratic organization, highly successful in its presidential campaign efforts, will be ended April 1, State Director Roy Miller this week notified members of the organization throughout the State.

Despite the fact the headquarters office here will be closed on April 1, Mr. Miller urged all members of the state Democratic organization "to hold themselves in readiness to answer any call or responsibility that may be placed upon us by our leaders, our National Committeeman Hon. John N. Garner, and our National Committeewoman, Mrs. Clara Driscoll Sevier."

Vice Pres. Garner, himself, conveyed through the headquarters organization here his "grateful appreciation of the fine and effective services" the members of the state organization rendered in the pre-election campaign and in the post-election drive to raise additional party funds.

"I am sure no state has had a more efficient or loyal organization," Vice Pres. Garner said. "The record made in both money and votes is one of which we can all be proud. You have done a fine job, and I am most grateful."

Mr. Miller's letter to the State organization members pointed out that the Victory dinners held extensively throughout the country on March 4 apparently have produced sufficient funds to liquidate the deficit of the Democratic National committee.

"In view of the splendid showing made by our committee since its organization about a year ago, it is deemed advisable that we terminate our active work by April 1," he said.

"As you know, Texas Democrats contributed a total of $293,000 in the regular campaign which came to a close with the election last November. We then assumed an obligation to raise a total $50,000 to apply upon the deficit. I am hopeful that when final reports are received from all of our committeemen and committeewomen, the returns will indicate that this goal has been reached."

He urged the local committee members to exert "last minute" efforts to raise additional funds and send them to state headquarters before the closing date, April 1, in order that the state quota may be subscribed.

"I think we all have ample cause for self-congratulation upon the splendid showing made by our organization," he said. "Due largely to its activities, our state sent to the national convention at Philadelphia a large delegation of as fine and representative men and women as ever represented Texas at any Democratic national convention. The amount contributed by Texas Democrats in the national campaign was not only the largest sum ever contributed by our state in a national campaign but the number of contributors exceeded by probably two times the number participating in any previous campaign. We not only exceeded our quota by approximately twenty percent but the efforts of our organization stimulated a degree of enthusiasm which largely was responsible for the magnificent majority the Democrats of our state gave the national ticket in the face of the most active and vicious opposition ever waged against our party nominees in the history of Texas."

Soft Ball In Its Heyday

The Lions Club and the Rotarians are going to loosen up their joints with a fast game of softball the first pretty day next week.

Between the two clubs they have managed to rustle a bat and ball and they are really going to tangle up. The county Judge, Sheriff and the County Attorney will all be present to keep peace among the boys.

The Lions sent a challenge hoping that the opponents would decline, but were disappointed. The Rotarians accepted in such a tone of voice that enthusiasm rose to its maximum very shortly. Now that all we need is a pretty day next week the writer believes that sand lot ball will be carried on in its usual form. If we can't beat 'em in ball, we dern sure can beat 'em in a fist fight. Either team is open for games any time after the season officially opens. It's good for what ails ya.

Rialto Theatre Gets It's Face Lifted

Perhaps one of the most vivid recollections of our past was when on the night of May 7, 1925, the writer and practically everybody else then living in our community listened to Geo. W. Neill make the Dedication address for the newly completed Rialto Theatre. We were fully as proud of the new theatre as the owners were.

The feature picture was Cecile B. DeMille's "Golden Bed," with Red La Roche, Vera Reynolds, Lillian Rich, Warner Baxter, Theodore Kosloff and Julia Faye. How many of these players have you seen on the screen lately?

Last Monday the Rialto closed its doors for a complete renovation and when it reopens in the early part of April you will hardly be able to recognize it as the same Theatre. The King Scenic Company has the contract for remodeling and a Mr. Gale is in charge of the work. Nu-Wood a new cellulose composition noted for its adaptability in the decorative field and its acoustic properties will be used extensively. The modernistic motif will be followed throughout.

Mr. Earl Jones, owner of the Rialto and Ritz Theatres, is to be commended in his efforts to supply the entertainment demands of this community. He has always secured the latest improvements in equipment almost as soon as it is placed on the market and exhibits the latest film releases earlier than in some cities many times larger than Brownfield. The Herald joins the rest of the community in extending to Mr. Jones the heartiest of congratulations.

Brownfield Hotel Remodeling Completed

The interior of the Brownfield Coffee Shop underwent a complete renovation the past week, when a color scheme of old ivory and pale green were used to paint the ceiling and walls. A backbar was built and large bevel mirrors have been placed above it. The counter stools are upholstered in bright colored leather and a new floor covering has been laid.

The lobby has been redecorated and carries the same color scheme. The management has also recently purchased and had installed an attractive Neon Electric sign.

Spring Like Weather Here Past Few Days

Our local readers, or reader, as the case may be, will perhaps class us with the California Chamber of Commerce after reading the heading of this article, but we are not using the word in the sense that the poet use it—we are using it as it applies to the South Plains, where we have "spring" all winter and winter all "spring." After having regular summer showers last Friday night, giving us about an inch of moisture, a cold snap set in Saturday morning which did not let up till Tuesday morning. Due to the dampness, the fruit trees probably escaped much damage this time.

The weather cleared up somewhat Tuesday and it looks as if we shall have milder weather for awhile at least.

Around the Capital

By J. Doyle Settle

AUSTIN, Texas.—This week marked the passage of several important measures by the House of Representatives, one of which was the so-called Dental Bill. This bill regulates the dental profession of Texas, places that profession on a higher level because of this regulation, and prohibits an unscrupulous member from fraudulent advertising. The vote on this measure was 120 to 0.

Possibly one of the most important measures to every Texan was the other bill passed by the House this week, namely the bill of Rep. Fred Mauritz of Ganado remitting all ad valorem taxes to the counties of Texas. This will mean, in the event it is passed by the Senate and signed by the Governor, that all ad valorem taxes now being paid into the general fund of the State will be remitted to the counties for the purpose of soil conservation, building of roads, and other general purposes in the counties. Although a vigorous fight has been waged against this bill, it passed by a vote of 84 to 37, and apparently has a good chance of becoming a law in Texas. In this argument on the floor it was pointed out that although the State of Texas' bonded indebtedness was only thirty million dollars, that of the counties amounted to nearly two hundred million dollars, and this measure would permit the retirement by the counties of Texas of that indebtedness.

One of the most stirring addresses heard for many days in the House of Representatives was that of Stuart Chase, who is undoubtedly the greatest economist of our time. Speaking to a packed house Friday morning he stated, "The political leadership must pass to the West for the country to be safe. He also stated with the possible exception of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, there is little feeling in the Eastern States for the people of the West or their condition. This noted author, whose latest book, "Rich Land, Poor Land," is hailed by critics as the outstanding work on economics of recent years, in closing his remarks to the Legislature, stated, "I am not flattering you people of the West, I am only warning you, you must be on your guard if you are not to turn over your vast resources to lower Manhattan and the denizens of Wall Street."

The first bill which has been killed in the committee, and be printed on minority report this session was that by Rep. Brown and others limiting graduate work to Texas University, Texas A. & M. and Texas Tech. Wiseacre see in this the possibility of this bill becoming a law before the session ends.

Possibly the most amusing resolution ever read in the House was adopted overwhelmingly Thursday morning. It expresses the feeling of the House in regard to the Senate backing up on the repeal of horse racing. I believe it deserves reprinting and accordingly, it appears below:

WHEREAS, The Texas Senate has taken pride
In never attempting a vote to hide;
and
WHEREAS, Our colleagues across the hall
Have shown an over amount of gall;
and
WHEREAS, They called us birds of Do-do fame,
They knew not from whence we came;
and
WHEREAS, This group of alleged steel nerve Recently have taken a swerve;
and
WHEREAS, Barney Google had a horse
That paid its followers in remorse;
and
WHEREAS, This horse started slow
Like the Senate, don't you know;
and
WHEREAS, He was too full of oats
Like the Senate full of votes;
and
WHEREAS, Spark Plug picked up speed
When the master told of need;
and
WHEREAS, The Senate picked up a bit,
When the Governor came to sit;
and
WHEREAS, Sparky let Google down
Like the Senate, turned around;
and
WHEREAS, These two behaved as one
Knowing not where to run;
and
WHEREAS, no can have cake and eat it too,
Can't be brave when folks say "boo;"

Social Security Being Used By Grafters

SAN ANTONIO, March 16.—The Social Security Board today issued a warning against lavish promises made by self-styled "social security correspondence schools" and mail-order "training courses which prepare you for social security jobs."

Oscar M. Powell, regional director of the Board, said such courses are being offered by mail and personal solicitation, in some cases by salesmen posing as government representatives.

"I should like to emphasize," Powell said, "that all positions of the types which are being so advertised must be filled both for Washington and the field offices by persons who have civil service status. The permanent organization of the Board is now well established, yet I understand there are now on file more than 35,000 applications for positions."

"Civil service requirements must be met, regardless of the number or type of courses of instruction completed. Those who offer courses with a direct or implied promise that they will automatically lead to positions with the Board are either willfully deluding their prospects or are unacquainted with the qualifications necessary for appointment," Powell declared.

The Civil Service Commission, it was said, is prepared to report instances in which there is unlawful misrepresentation of facts, to appropriate federal authorities.

Powell also pointed out that the Social Security Board does not make appointments to state agencies administering Federal-State programs under the Social Security Act. These appointments are made directly through the state agency itself.

MRS. ROOSEVELT ISSUES
CHALLENGE TO YOUTH

DENTON, March 16.—Issuing a challenge to youth to face life's problems, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President, pointed out that the necessity of earning a living is the first great problem for most young people today. Speaking before a capacity crowd at Texas State College for Women (CIA) Tuesday morning, the First Lady further stated that this problem must be met with two kinds of preparation, one to earn a living, and the other to enjoy living.

Referring to the NYA and CCC steps, she said, "Much of their work may prove to be purely emergency activity, but some may be permanent because it not only meets the needs of certain young people, but may be used as laboratories for studying what could be done with larger groups of people elsewhere."

War was emphasized by Mrs. Roosevelt as one of the major problems of youth. She presented an appeal to young people that they study the causes and effects of war as intelligently and as sympathetically toward other nations as possible.

In her evening lecture the wife of the President discussed the "Relationship of an Individual to His Community," an asked that a person "see for himself what conditions in his community needed improving, and then do what he can about them."

Pan American Olympic Games at Exposition

DALLAS, Texas, Mar. 15.—Dates June 30 and July 1, 2 and 3 were announced this week for the Pan American Olympic games as the mid-summer sports feature of the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition at Dallas.

The field and track events, outstanding games of the sports world between last year's events in Berlin and the 1940 Olympics in Tokyo, will be in the third week of America's only international fair of 1937, which will be opened June 12 by marathon runners arriving from Mexico City in a 1,400 mile footrace for prizes totaling $10,000.

Bob Humphrey, president of the S. U. West Amateur Athletic Union and on the executive and foreign relations committee of the Olympics Association is director of the Pan American Olympics under direction of George P. Marshall, Washington sportsman, director of sports and entertainment for the Exposition in Dallas. Humphrey is in New York this week for conferences on the international participation of countries of the two Americas with Jeremiah Mahoney, president of the National A. A. U.

Marshall has notified Frank L. McNeny, director general of the Exposition, that he is sending a representative on a flying trip to South American countries at once, following enthusiastic response to the Olympic games invitations at the consulates in Washington. W. W. Davies, sportsman well-acquainted in South and Central America, will be sent to represent Olympics Director Humphrey who will have his hands full arranging the events that are to be presented four nights in the Cotton Bowl stadium at Dallas.

Full pomp of Olympics tradition will give color to the inter-American games, including the ritualistic lighting of the torch.

In addition to the amateur sports program of the Exposition, which also includes a schedule of outstanding football games of the year, a professional sports feature will be made of a 75 lap auto race over a three-mile course through Dallas streets adjacent to the Exposition, starting and finishing line, for prizes totaling $10,000.

Jaijai, Latin America's racquet game that makes North American handball look like ping pong, is being considered in the sports program. Directors expect wide appeal to sports enthusiasts about this fast-and-furious game that is seldom seen in North America.

New Mexico To Get Resettlement Project

AMARILLO, Tex., Mar. 16.—Construction work on another large resettlement project in New Mexico will begin in the very near future, Ralph R. Will, head of the rural resettlement division of the Resettlement Administration in Region XII, announced today.

The project is divided into two units. Unit No. 1, consisting of 25 farmsteads, averaging fifty acres, is located near Fort Sumner, in the Pecos valley. Both units are designed to infiltrate resettled farm families into existing communities.

Will said the budget, the farm management plans and the architectural and engineering plans have been completed for the initial unit. These are being given a final check by Washington officials who are now in Amarillo.

Options have been made on land lying in Dona Anna county for the second division of the project. It will consist of 30 farmsteads. Both projects are designed for irrigation.

Each farm at Fort Sumner will be equipped with a four room house, corral, a barn, machine shed, cistern and exterior fencing. Part of the land is developed. The remaining land will be cleared, leveled and intersected with irrigation canals. All work will be performed with local New Mexico relief labor.

Occupants of the completed farm units will be selected from those associated with the Resettlement Administration's land use projects, farmers who may be in need of new rural rehabilitation clients, and other locations. In the beginning, the lands will be leased to the farmers for a time with an option to purchase at the end of the trial period

LIEUTENANT GOV. WOODUL PRESENTS MUSEUM UNIT

LUBBOCK, Tex., Mar. 16.—Repository for West Texas relics officially was opened when Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul presented the first unit of the new building to the West Texas Museum association at Texas Technological college last week.

The basement unit, completed on Texas Tech campus in January, is the first of three projected floors. Besides Woodul, speakers at the opening were: Dr. Bradford Knapp, Texas Tech president; Dr. W. M. Craig, professor of chemistry; Frank P. Hill of Tahoka; and Dr. F. A. Kleinschmidt, head professor of architecture and allied arts.

Furnishings for the basement unit have been obtained through donations from West Texans. Proceeds from a special 26 page museum edition of The Treador, student newspaper, were used to purchase cases and cabinets.

CONCERNING BEAUTY

IT has been said that in photography "an artistic picture is a thing beautifully photographed, rather than a beautiful thing photographed."

Essentially true, but regardless of subject, it can't be done unless the photographer can perceive some beauty in the "thing." The "thing" may be just a piece of rope, a cracker barrel or an old shoe, but in certain surroundings and portrayed under the effect of the right lighting, it may truly reveal beauty and make an artistic picture.

There is no rule of photography for discovering beauty nor any fixed criterion of what is artistic. Fundamentally, it's "every man for himself" in those respects, but there are certain sound admonitions that must be obeyed if you wish to make a picture that will be generally acclaimed as artistic, unless, of course, you prefer to join the fancy-free, surrealist school of art and take your chances. Briefly, these admonitions are as follows:

1. Provide every picture with a single, dominant idea that will easily be comprehended by anyone to whom the picture is shown. The idea should be expressed by a principal object. Avoid divided interest. Exclude elements that distract attention from the principal one.
2. See that the setting is in harmony with the principal subject and surrounds it with an atmosphere that contributes to emphasizing the main idea, or at least does not detract from it.
3. Work for well-balanced composition in your view-finder before you let the picture through your lens. Generally the dominant subject should not be in the center. Experiment with your viewpoint.
4. Study the light and shadow areas. Observe their relation to the principal subject. Consider the strength and sharpness of the shadow contrasts. Note especially the highlights. It is the effect of shadows and highlights that often gives beauty to an ugly object.
5. Allow ample exposure to bring out desired details.

The artistic effect in the case of many subjects often may be improved by the use of a color filter over the lens, or by a pictorial diffusion disk. Again it may be improved

How a rusty, old chain and anchor can reveal beauty—or what do YOU think?

In various ways in the process of printing or enlarging, such as "dodging" to heighten or subdue the lighting of certain areas, by masking portions of the negative, or by trimming the print. Also it may be improved by choosing a printing paper with a surface best suited to the subject.

In employing these devices it is again "every man for himself," but remember they will scarcely serve if there was no original beauty in the composition of the picture when it was framed in your viewfinder.

Authentic Music For Cavalcade of Americas

DALLAS, March 15.—One of the greatest tasks in the production of "Cavalcade of the Americas," huge spectacle of the Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition, opening here June 12, for a run of 142 days, was the arrangement of authentic music for the big show. Music forms an harmonious background, accentuates the drama of the new world in its struggle for liberation, and expresses the romance of the Latin American countries. From the moment the performance opens, with the sacrifice of a beautiful maiden to the sun god, to the exciting closing act, in which the Inter-American Peace Conference hears the stirring message of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the music is both authentic and fitting.

"Full credit for this splendid job goes to our musical director, Lloyd Kerr," said Jan Isbell Fortune, author of the play which will be presented by some 300 actors on the world's largest stage.

"It was more of a question of what music to use in 'Cavalcade of the Americas' than the 1936 show," said Mr. Kerr. "The new Cavalcade covers a period of five centuries, and opens in the land of the Aztec who knew little more than nothing about music. To be true, their only music was a dirge, or a rhythmic beat with little theme or harmony."

Religious music carries out the general theme of several scenes. When Columbus sets foot on soil of the new world in one of the early scenes, he proclaims the land Spanish territory, and the entire group sings "Te Deum," an ancient hymn.

Walter Damrosch, music council for the National Broadcasting Company, aided in the adaptation of period music for the show, as did Dr. Sigmond Spaeth, authority on period music, and more generally known as the "Tune Detector." The Pan American Union furnished material on period music of the Latin American peoples, and the New England Conservatory of Music cooperated in making selections associated with the early history of the United States.

"Cavalcade of the Americas" presents one of the most varied assortments of music ever assembled for a production of its kind," said Mr. Kerr. "Each tune typifies the period and locale of the scene.

"South American music, as we know it, began to develop with Spanish colonization. The tango, which is not to be confused with the rumba, the latter being of Cuban origin, is typical of Latin American musical development," Kerr said.

Frothole scenes of the Spanish Conquests begins the "art" music of "Cavalcade."

In scenes depicting our own "gay nineties" we hear such tunes as "Sidewalks of New York," "Bird in a Gilded Cage," "A Bicycle Built for Two," and "Sweet Marie," all of which were popular at the turn of the century.

"Cowboy" tunes provide the musical background for the dramatization of episodes from the early days of Texas and the West.

The music keeps pace with the dramatic development of "Cavalcade of the Americas," which climaxes with President Roosevelt's history making visit to Buenos Aires, and the Inter-American Peace Conference. "Stars and Stripes Forever," the music selected for the actual conference at the insistence of the people of the Pan American countries, will be played for the "Cavalcade" scene.

Mr. Kerr is a graduate, teacher, and soloist of the New England Conservatory of Music.

Miss Virginia Sanford of Tahoka was a week end guest of Mrs. Spencer Kendrick.

Miss Lenora Brownfield has gone to Chicago to visit her former schoolmate.

Mrs. C. B. Quante and Mrs. A. H. Daniells were Lubbock visitors, Tuesday.

Beware The Cough

From a common cold That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines have been tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Casarea for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Negro Health Week April 4th to April 11th

"Twenty-three years ago out of the fertile mind of Booker T. Washington was born what we now observe as National Negro Health Week. "The Texas Tuberculosis Association again joins the United States Public Health Service and the National Negro Health Week Committee in announcing April 4th to April 11th as a period of concentration on the ideals of health improvement among Negroes, giving emphasis to the special problems which hamper good health," said F. Rivers Barnwell, Director of Negro Health Service of the Texas Tuberculosis Association in a message to the Negro citizens of Texas.

In summing up the health problems calling for special emphasis Mr. Barnwell further states that 874 Negroes died of tuberculosis in Texas during 1935 and that at present there are approximately 7,866 active cases of tuberculosis among Negroes in Texas alone. In the same year, 1,141 Negro babies died in Texas before reaching their first birthday with an accompanying mortality among Negro mothers of 197. Mr. Barnwell states further that the venereal disease, including syphilis and gonorrhea have reached such alarming proportions that the U. S. Public Health Service has issued definite warnings and is calling upon all citizens to assist in stamping out syphilis as a definite problem in human progress and well-being. "Negro leaders in every field are asked to lend a hand," Mr. Barnwell said, "in educating the citizens of each community to the dangers of these major health problems and in measures to increase better health for infant and mother and for school child and adult."

The special objective for Negro Health Week in 1937 is: The Health Agency in its Relation to Community Health.

LESS HORSEPOWER—LESS SPEED—LESS KILLING

Unless there is a definite change in our attitude toward violators of traffic laws, the accident problem will never be solved with modern automobiles on highways. The annual death toll which last year passed the 38,000 mark, will grow larger, not smaller.

There is no excuse for the man who drives his car 70 and 80 miles an hour on a public road. When we pamper with him by letting him off with a small fine or perhaps just a warning, we are, in effect, encouraging him to go out and commit the offense again. And next time he may take an innocent life.

A high percentage of automobile accidents, and especially those of the more disastrous type, are wholly or partially the result of "alcohol at the wheel." In many states drunken drivers have a better than even chance of escaping scot-free. They are punished but mildly, if at all. "Repeaters" are numbered in the thousands. There is but one solution to that phase of the problem—and that is the permanent revocation of the license of any and all drivers apprehended operating a car while under the influence of liquor. The public interest demands that the utmost and severest legal authority be exerted.

Experience has proven that a substantial percentage of drivers cannot be educated into safe practices. Nor can they be frightened into them. They can and must, in that case be forced into them, or be deprived of the driving privilege.

Our dilatory attitude in the matter of accident prevention has its ghastly reflection in the statistics. Old ideas of traffic control and driving requirements must be superseded by restrictions adapted to faster cars, better highways, and the constantly increasing traffic congestion, or else horse-power and speed of cars must be limited by law at the factory, if traffic killings are to be reduced.

ANOTHER MILE STONE FOR STOMACH SUFFERERS

Only a few short months ago Gas-Tons were not known in this community although the formula used in the compounding of Gas-Tons by one of the largest pharmaceutical houses in the country has been a favorite prescription, used with great success in the relief of Stomach and duodenal ulcers, Indigestion, Acid dyspepsia, Sour or Upset stomach, Gassiness, Bloating, Heartburn, Constipation, Bad Breath, Sleeplessness, Headaches and Jaded appetites. But today it is another story for Gas-Tons are known in hundreds of homes as the product which has brought health and happiness to members of their family, when these conditions were due to excess acid. There are stories of men and women who had given up all hope of relief until they were told by some former stomach sufferer of the days and nights spent suffering with no relief in sight, but who after trying Gas-Tons for a short time were on the road to recovery and who are now happy to state, with great pleasure, that none of the old symptoms are with them and now they sleep all night long, go about their regular work and pleasure, eat the things they like most with no ill results. And all stomach sufferers know what this means. Therefore it is no wonder to them why Gas-Tons sales have grown by leaps and bounds and they can easily see why those former stomach sufferers are able to go about with a smile on their faces in place of the old frown. Gas-Tons are on sale with one druggist in each town. Gas-Tons are sold on a money back guarantee that you must be pleased. Gas-Tons are on sale in Brownfield by the Alexander Drug Co. 25 tablets $1, 100 tablets $3. Accept no substitutes for these several who would bask in the light of the success of this great formula.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD HOME-TOWN STREET SCENES

It won't be long now before opportunities to snap pictures like this will be gone.

HOW many of you have as a family possession photographs of scenes about town in the days of horse cars, watering troughs and hitching posts? Not many probably, because those were the days when amateur photographers were few and far between. Such photographs were usually the work of the professional and those that remain today are mostly in museums and newspaper offices. Most of you without doubt have seen the published reproductions of them and exclaimed in comparing those old-time scenes with the appearance of the city today. The horse cars have been replaced by trolley cars and automobiles. A horse and buggy in the street is a curiosity. There are new and loftier buildings, new names on the store signs, more traffic on street and sidewalk—the same thoroughfares, but quite different in appearance.

These thoughts suggest that the amateur photographer of today, so well equipped as he is to take pictures, will find lasting pleasure in making a photographic record of the changing appearance of the community in which he lives. Pictures that are taken now of street scenes and important buildings will become historic treasures in the homes of those who are now children. Some of the buildings will then be gone, changes in fashion will give a curious appearance to people photographed in present-day attire, and there will be many unforeseen alterations that, years hence, will make pictures of the present scene intensely interesting. But whether or not you are inspired to take such pictures for their historical interest, you will find that photographing street scenes and "life and action" incidents about the city is one of the most interesting phases of outdoor picture-taking. To be successful with these pictures, bear in mind that you will have to work quickly and quietly, attracting as little attention as possible where people are to be included and you must be able to take in an interesting situation at a glance.

The ability to level your camera quickly and accurately is particularly important, as in most cases the architecture of surrounding buildings will show, and, if the camera is not level, the lines will be anything but pleasing.

The viewpoint of the camera is also important. Many pictures of street scenes show that its position was too low. Often a good shot of a busy street can be made from the steps of some public building. Interesting and odd views are obtained from windows of high buildings, pointing the camera down. When taking streets from the curb, hold the camera as high as you can. Cameras with eye-level finders are especially convenient for this kind of work. Don't take pictures when a fast-moving vehicle is very near unless your camera is equipped with a very fast shutter and you want a picture of the vehicle as the principal subject.

There is hardly a city which does not afford camera owners subjects possessing interesting features from the structural and historical points of view. In most architectural work full detail is essential, in which case the lens should be stopped down to the smallest opening consistent with the lighting conditions and shutter speed used.

I-H MEMBERS TO TURN LIGHT ON ELECTRIFICATION FOR RURAL COMMUNITIES

Light will be turned on rural electrification by 4-H club members nearly every state this year, according to acceptances of the second national contest for clubbers.

Club members will repeat the work they did so well in last year's initial contest which brought new laurels to the 4-H movement. They will gather data on costs of bringing current to communities through government financed cooperatives and private utilities, arrange local educational demonstrations on the wiring, appliances, and allied subjects, map out a wiring plan for their own farm, and stage exhibits and demonstrations at fairs.

Nothing has gripped the fancy of rural youth or promises such a rich field for their endeavor as rural electrification.

Club members must submit their reports prior to November 1 to county agents who will award a gold medal of honor to the winner. The best county report within the state, to be chosen by the state club leader, will receive a $50.00 merchandise certificate, and be eligible to compete for sectional honors. The 10 best state winners will be awarded all-expense trips to the 16th National Club Congress to be held in Chicago the first week of December. To the three highest rating trip winners the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company in addition will award cash college scholarships of $400, $300 and $200.

Local leaders may obtain full particulars of the contest from their county extension agents.

A paradox of the dinner table, reported by the All-South Development Council; Texas vegetable-oil margarines have a natural yellow color that looks more like butter than does real butter. Yet the law requires that that color be removed—although it is legal to add artificial coloring to real butter.

Texas, nation's largest producer and market of natural gas, in 1935 exported to 14 other states 139 billion cubic feet. The All-South Development Council reports this was 9.5 per cent more than the next exporting state, Louisiana; more than twice

Two More Ex-Raiders Sign Pro Contracts

LUBBOCK, Texas, Mar. 16.—Call of the professional gridiron has been heeded by two more of Texas Tech's ex-Red Raiders. Wild Bill Halcomb, hefty, obstructive tackle who last fall hung up his scarlet-and-black Raider togs, and Winnie Baze, shifty back, have signed contracts to turn pro, along with Jim Neill, Texas Tech's most favored aspirant for All-American honors in 1936.

Holcomb, who owed his allegiance to Sulphur Springs High school before donning the Matador uniform, will report for duty with the Pittsburgh Pirates late this summer. Baze transfer from Schreiner Institute, has cast his lot with Cleveland's Rams. Baze is from Robert Lee. Neill already had signed with the New York Giants.

FAMED "COW, SOW AND HEN" STILL MAKES LIVING

AMARILLO Tex. Mar. 16.—The far-famed "cow sow and hen" idea, making a substantial foundation for a live-at-home and self-sustaining program in America's rural sections has not been left by the wayside by the Rural Rehabilitation Division of the Resettlement Administration.

On the contrary, this program has been sponsored and nourished by every county supervisor and home management supervisor in the country. Just how successful this basic program has been may be measured in reports sent into the regional office of the Resettlement Administration at Amarillo, Texas.

For example there is a farmer residing in Morton county, Kansas. This Kansas farmer is mentioned in view of the fact that he lives in the very center of the Southern High Plains "dust bowl" area. His success in spite of adverse conditions is proof enough that his case is not an exception. This family has seven cows. Since June 8, 1936, the family spent $81.45 for feed to supplement that grown on the drought-stricken farm. In the period between June 8 and February 1, 1937, this family received from these seven cows:

Cream sold, $90.76; Milk for home use, $73.00; Butter for home use, $15.00; Sale of one cow, $25.00; Sale of six calves, $100.00; a total of $303.76.

The family now has five small calves on hand, worth about $10.00 each.

Moreover, this family has done fairly well with the poultry flock. They bought $2.60 worth of starting mash. The rest of their chicken feed and mash was mixed at home from bran and grain on hand. Here is a record of the poultry flock of 48 hens for the past eight months:

Eggs used in home, $20.80; Eggs sold, $13.00; Friers used in home, $13.24; Hens sold, $7.48, a total of $54.53.

This family should have a flock of not less than 100 hens. Hence it is easy to see that this is not an unusual story. There are scores of better ones on file in the Amarillo office. The point is, however, that the Rural Rehabilitation Division of the Resettlement Administration is encouraging and showing its clients how to become self supporting by following a balanced agricultural program.

CHEVROLET TO SPONSOR SOAP BOX DERBY

DETROIT, March, 10.—For the fourth consecutive year, Chevrolet will again co-operate with the leading newspapers of the country in sponsoring the All-American Soap Box Derby, which is recognized by sports writers and enthusiasts as "the greatest amateur racing event in the world."

The Derby, started in Dayton, Ohio, four years ago, has grown in popularity and appeal so that today it stands alone as the greatest single sporting event for boys. Thousands already are making plans for building their own racers for this year's event.

Last year there were more than 15,000 boys competing in various cities throughout the United States. Champions from 116 cities took part in the national finals at Akron, Ohio.

The national and international finals this year will be held at Akron on August 15, according to an announcement made this week by C. P. Fiske, advertising manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Sales Corporation. City Champions from 120 cities will compete.

Entries from Canada, South Africa, Mexico, and Hawaii are also expected to compete in the international finals. Plans already are under way for enlarging the facilities of the concrete track at Derby Downs, just outside the Akron airport.

B. E. Fulton, airport manager at Akron, will be national race director, according to Mr. Fiske, and he will have complete charge of all arrangements at the track. He will be assisted by James S. Schlemmer, sports editor of the Akron Beacon Journal, which is co-sponsor with Chevrolet in the national and international races.

Mr. Fulton has been closely as-

Hollywood unanimously approved the acting awards of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences last week. Luise Rainer, whose great dramatic talent was developed in Vienna won the gold statuette for her marvelous performance as "Anna Held," in "The Great Ziegfeld."

Oddly, both Miss Rainer and Muni now are to be seen in an even greater performance in "The Good Earth," in which they play the powerful leading roles. Their superb portrayals will be remembered for years by movie-goers.

Already having a long local run, a theatre register at the Carthay Circle discloses tourists from 28 states and 9 foreign countries have seen "The Good Earth."

Recently I told you about the unique picture "Banjo on My Knee," which is dominated by Walter Brennan's grand portrayal. Discussing Brennan with William Newell another excellent comedian who has not yet been given his big chance in Hollywood, he said: "Brennan steals every picture he's in."

Our mutual admiration apparently has a real basis. The Academy gave Brennan the award for the year's finest performance by a supporting player. It was bestowed for his telling performance in another stirring picture, "Come and Get It."

Eastern visitors whom I frequently escort into the studios want to know what stars are really like. Many want to know if certain ones look as handsome or glamorous in person as on the screen. Some do not. Loretta Young in person is too freckled, too thick lipped, and her high cheek bones are much more prominent than under the softened effect of the righ studio lighting.

Patricia Ellis is another whom movie photography tremendously improves. In reality her face has very bad blotches which for the screen are buried under heavy make-up. Even the great John Barrymore is notoriously careless of his dress to the point of disillusioning sloppiness.

Out at Santa Anita racetrack last Saturday tall Paul Kelly made a hunch bet and cleaned up. His wife, Dorothy Mackaye Kelly, called "a scrawny nag." But in the listing Paul had noticed that the animal was owned by "Paul Kelly," who proved to be a Texas racehorse owner. "My name-sake certainly looks like a real hunch to me," grinned the actor, "so here goes." And it was.

"That makes me the 'Right Guy' again, he wisecracked as he cashed in. Kelly referred to "Righ Guy" current production in which he is playing the leading role.

HEREFORD ASSOCIATION ADDS TO MEAT SHOW PREMIUMS

LUBBOCK, March 15. — The American Hereford Association will add a twenty-five per cent additional premium to all winners in the Plains Quality Meat Show Hereford entries in individual competition, according to announcement made this week by R. J. Kinzer, Secretary of the Association, at Kansas City.

Show judges are well known here and much interest is being shown in the judging this year. W. L. Stangel, Head of the AAnimal Husbandry Department at Texas Tech, will judge the baby beef division March 30 at 1:30 p. m. Casey Fine, Tech professor, will judge the fat pig division. W. R. Nisbet, Specialist, Texas Extension Service, will judge the fat lamb division, and F. M. Regenbrecht, also with the Texas Extension Service, will judge the cured meats.

The auction sale March 31 will be the major interest of the show as the results of the sale will tell the story of the feeding projects. Col. Earl Gartin will use the hammer.

Two hundred National Youth Administration workers have begun work on the University of Houston campus beautifying and improving the school grounds. W. O. Alexander, district supervisor, has reported to Lyndon B. Johnson, state director.

Terrace lines have been run on 16,622 acres of farm land by National Youth Administration workers in the Wichita Falls district. H. A. Zeigler, assistant district supervisor, has reported to Lyndon B. Johnson, state director.

KNOW TEXAS

DENTON, March 15.—While nations of the world vie with one another in contributing to the progress of aviation, Texas has managed to hold its position as a leader in this field.

Such factors as the great amount of open country in this state, the high percentage of clear days, and the relatively warm winters caused the national government to center its military aviation training here during the World War. Randolph Field, often called the "West Point of the Air," was established near San Antonio, and is now one of the great military fields in the world.

Apart from the army set-up, six commercial airlines operate regular schedules between important cities within the state. They connect with the national lines to Chicago, Atlanta, Ga., Charleston, S. C., and New Orleans, as well as with the transcontinental line from New York to Los Angeles and the international air system to Mexico City.

Airports in Texas total 133, this compares favorably with the national total of 2,369. A general idea of this state's rating can further be seen from the 1935 statistics, which show 8,613 airplanes in operation in the United States, 449 being in Texas. The number of licensed pilots in Texas reached 728 in 1936.

Clean-Up, Fire Prevention Week April 4-11

AUSTIN, Texas, March 16.—The Annual Clean-up and Fire Prevention week will be held April 4 to 11, according to word just received from Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. In observance of this week there will be a joint effort between the State Fire Insurance Department and the State Department of Health.

The warm days of spring will soon be here and everyone is urged to see that their property is cleaned of the accumulation of trash. It is only through individual responsibility and effort that one can have a clean and neat appearing city.

In planning your spring cleaning start with the house itself in the attic and work down, not forgetting the basement. Attics and basements are the greatest collectors of refuse and therefore of dust and dirt that the house posses, and their neglect often constitutes a serious fire hazard. Do not forget to screen against flies and mosquitoes. The better the job of cleaning, and with a garbage pail kept tightly covered, the fewer flies there will be, because flies love dirt and filth and breed in garbage and other filth.

We are prone to judge people in no small measure by the kind of yard keepers we think they are. Many times you have heard some one say "No" I don't know the people next door but they can not amount to much because their yard is cluttered with tin cans and papers and their garbage can is always open." Do not let your neighbors be able to pass judgment on you on such grounds.

Beauticians To Meet In Lubbock, March 29

LUBBOCK, March 15.—A thousand beauty shop owners and operators from West Texas and New Mexico are expected here March 29, 30 and 31 for the fifth annual West Texas and New Mexico Trade Show, according to its sponsor Russell Morrison.

A varied program of lectures and demonstrations have been arranged featuring Paul Coman of Hollywood and Miss La Vada Isbell of Fort Worth. Classes of instruction will be arranged to suit the visitors convenience.

The three day show will be held at both the Lubbock and Hilton hotels and plenty of fun is in store for everyone in attendance.

TECH BOY'S CAR USED FOR CATTLE RUSTLING

LUBBOCK, Tex., Mar. 16.—Pioneer days of cattle rustling, now in an automobile, echoed at Texas Technological college recently when a freshman student's roadster was stolen from a downtown parking place.

A day later the student found his automobile, minus no parts but plus a good trailer, on a country road near Lubbock. The trailer had been used for hauling cattle.

ADULT LIFE LENGTHENED IN PAST THIRTY YEARS

AUSTIN, Texas, Mar. 15.—"Adult life has been lengthened materially during the past thirty-five years. However, the gain largely has been made in the age bracket below the forty-five year limit. The reason for this lies in the great progress made by medical science in preventing infant mortality. Or to express it otherwise little folks, on the average, will live fifteen or more years longer than was the case prior to 1900. While undoubtedly this is a magnificent achievement, it serves also to indicate that the obligation of the middle-aged and older, to be reasonably concerned about their health and life prospects, still entirely is justified," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"The truth is that the increase in deaths from heart, kidney, and blood vessel conditions not only has been responsible for blocking an extension to life for the average person who has reached the half-way mark but, from a statistical standpoint, to an extent has neutralized the successful inroads that have been made against tuberculosis and some of the other devastating diseases. And it is right here where personal health interest should be more active than it is today.

"Faulty living habits perhaps more often as responsible for a prematurely shortened life than is any other single factor. The stepping up of life's tempo and the exertions associated therewith too frequently prove so absorbing and time-consuming that little, if any, thought is given to the real business of life which is to get out of it in terms of health, happiness and longevity as much as one possibly can.

The family physician should be the counsellor in this question. Too often, persons wait until they are ill before taking the doctor into their confidence. And sometimes, it is then too late. Indeed, it should be stressed that sound medical advice on how to keep well, and the early professional detection of an unsuspected condition can mean many added years of usefulness.

LET'S TALK ABOUT CLOTHES

DENTON, March 15.—As Easter bonnet time arrives, style-conscious women can relax in the knowledge that for once they can choose a hat that is both smart and gloriously becoming. This unusual situation exists because of the variety of shapes and types this season.

Beginning with the shallow-crowned sailor, which has already taken somewhat of a lead in popularity, consider the variations possible in this one style. Flowers, grosgrain ribbon, feathers, and even small birds can be perched on top the brim in front or circled around the head under the brim in back.

For those fortunates who possess distinctive hair lines, or originally arranged bangs, the square-cornered, off-the-face Dutch bonnets are a success. They frame the face beautifully, besides giving a definite tinge of newness to any outfit.

GET CHANGED TO OIL-PLATING

Spring's here, but let's not put any loud "new suits" on all the old oil bogeymen. After all, botherless engine lubrication gets down to a few calm facts that are facts.

No. 1 . . . You want to be certain that your engine doesn't grind every time you start, while oil is "coming up" from below. Oil-Plating, produced only by Conoco Germ Processed oil, can never lose time "coming up," because it's already there!

For the patented Germ Process creates such a powerful attraction between oil and metal that the inside of your engine becomes Oil-Plated. And you know that platings aren't runny, but stay up in place. That's the way Oil-Plating will stay up to ward off all the worst starting wear you ever heard of.

And No. 2 . . . Whether you've got a "good old car" or the latest thing, you want to make any driving schedule without being nervous about the heat indicator and the oil level. You can easily keep them where they belong. This is exactly why: the Germ Process creates a far stronger normal type of oil film and then checks friction still further by means of modern Oil-Plating—entirely extra... exclusive to Conoco Germ Processed oil. Costs no more when you change; costs you less all season. Continental Oil Company

The story of our times is being told for the next generation by amateur photographers who take and preserve simple scenes of present-day life, such as this.

Did it ever occur to you that as the owner of an amateur camera you are blessed with the means of making a valuable and truly significant record of the times in which you live? Magazine, newspaper, news-reel and other professional photographers are doing just that every day and a vast store of pictorial history is accumulating.

Thanks to the progress and spread of photography our descendants are going to know much more about the way we lived and acted than we know of the way our great-grandfathers did. Through these millions of photographs of life and action now being taken our descendants will possess visual evidence of the things we did, how we dressed, how life went on in city and country. Contrast the advantage they will have over this generation which has to rely upon the descriptions of writers and the work of artists for its understanding of life prior to the introduction of photography scarcely more than two generations ago. However accurate the work of writers and artists may be, it cannot equal the reality and truthfulness of photography.

We amateur photographers, now millions strong in every country, are also making a tremendous contribution to this photographic record of our time. Few of us, however, are doing it by design. Most of us take pictures for the present amusement of ourselves, families and friends with not so much thought to their value and interest to our children's children. Too few of us take pains to preserve the pictures we take.

Well, what do you say to the idea of becoming a photographic historian for the benefit of your own posterity? This you can do effectively even on a small scale. It simply means making a collection of pictures, taken by yourself, best representing the life, customs, dress and activities of the present day and placing them in a special album to keep and hand down as a family possession. Some of these pictures will seem commonplace now but as interesting and valuable forty or fifty years hence as those of the "gay nineties" are to us.

Select subjects which in your judgment are most typical of the current scene. Certainly you should not neglect to include your own home life, street scenes and other views about your changing city, the homes of the rich and the homes of the poor, life in the country and present types of automobiles, airplanes, railroad trains and other things in general use which today spell modern life and tomorrow will be obsolete.

You should not fail to include off-guard snapshots of people doing things illustrative of common life—what the artists call genre pictures. Make your camera your companion especially in traveling and be ready for these. For example, a shot out of your car window of a scene on the platform of a railroad station may seem ordinary enough today but it is a sample of common life. Years hence this picture will be a curiosity. The modern scene is constantly changing. There is no other medium than photography which can show so truly after a lapse of years what these changes have been.

Work Progressing Nicely on Highway 84

In conversation with an employee of the State Highway Department, the Herald learned that caiche had been layed to a point about seven and a half miles east of town. The work is being done by WPA labor under the supervision of the highway department. Some one hundred men and around eight trucks are being used. Destination is the Terry-Lynn county line which they expect to reach sometime in May. A similar crew is working toward the county line west from Tahoka. We did not learn when surfacing on the highway will start.

How To Enhance and Preserve Your Charm

An effective and beautiful make-up can be attained only when the skin itself has been kept lithe and lovely. Needless and ugly little lines must not be permitted to remain. The surface of the skin, if it is to have the delicacy of texture, the subtle glow of youthful health, must be nourished and protected and safely—yet effectively—cleansed. Then it becomes possible for a skillful make-up to wonderfully reveal all your natural charm.

MARTHA TURNER'S DRY SKIN TREATMENT

- 1—Clean skin with Cleansing cream—remove.
- 2—Apply Muscle Oil and Skin Food mixed—pat in 3 to 5 minutes and allow to remain over night.

MORNING TREATMENT AND MAKE-UP

- 3—Bathe skin with Astringent—remove.
- 4—Smooth on Finishing Lotion, then Powder, Rouge and Lipstick.
- 5—Remove powder from eyelids, lashes and brows with Lash-Brow Grower.

HOW TO APPLY HONEY PACK

- 1—Clean skin with Cleansing cream—remove.
- 2—Apply Honey Pack in thin layer—allow to dry—remove with gentle twisting movements of fingers, then sponge skin with cold water.
- 3—Apply Muscle Oil and Skin Food mixed to avert dryness. Take every other day for 3 or 4 weeks, and then once a week.
