Willie Arnett Station Undergoes Remodeling

One of the proudest young men in the city just at this time, is Willie Arnett of the firm of Arnett & McClish, managers of the downtown Gulf Station on west main. And he and father and Mr. McClish all have a right to be tickled pink, for they have a service station second to none, with all the modern conveniences and devices that takes the hard labor out of service station work, and does it better than old time hand labor way.

In the main office, they are well stocked with a fine lot of different sizes of Goodrich tires and tubes, as well as most any other gadget that the tourist might need. In this part is also located the ladies' and men's rest rooms.

The adjoining building has been remodeled throughout, creating three stalls, separated by brick walls some eight feet high. These walls as well as all walls and ceiling are to be painted snowwhite, which will make the place almost as light as day the darkest night, when their powerful lights are turned on.

The first stall is used more as a storage for greases and oils. The next to the right is the wash room. Cars can be raised by hydraulic lifts the same as for greasing, so that they may be washed as thoroughly underneath as on top or sides. While the city water pressure is only about 40 pounds to the square inch, a pump has been installed to put the pressure as high as they wish. A vacuum cleaner costing around $100 finishes the job of cleaning the inside and upholstery.

The next stall is the greasing department, also with lift, and their force grease pump is equipped with a number of nozzles, that are made for different grades of oils and greases, from the lightest oil to the heaviest grease.

So, if you send your car to Arnett & McClish for a wash and grease, just remember they have the appliances and experience to do the job just like you wish.

Congressman Mahon Greets His Friends

We had a letter this week from Congressman George Mahon, in which he states that there are too many people in his district to try to greet all with an individual Christmas card, so he does not send them to anyone.

But he asks us to extend to his many friends who are readers of the Herald his heartfelt Christmas greetings, and wishes them a Happy New Year. And as George sent the spondulix for another year of the Herald, we are glad to do this for him.

The Big Engine Being Installed

As we go to press the big engine is being installed at the city power and light plant. Gas connections have already been completed, and an electrician was to be here Wednesday afternoon to tie the engine into the switch board.

This big 550 H.P. engine will give the city almost two-fifths more power. By Christmas Eve you will be able to see the big fellow in action.

Simms and Shelton To Austin on Business

R. A. Simms, county judge, and J. E. Shelton secretary of the chamber of commerce, are in Austin this week to see what can be done about Highway 84 from Brownfield west, if we understand the nature of their trip.

While they are to be in early this week, we may not be able to see them as the paper is coming out early in order to give the boys Christmas off.

A. J. Nelson and family are entitled to a pass to the RIALTO THEATRE to see Lost Horizon. Be sure to present this clipping at the box office at the Rialto Theatre. Compliments: Rialto & Herald

Don't Overdo the Holiday Season

AUSTIN, Texas.—"There is a very good excuse at the holiday season to crowd into the day and night as much pleasure as possible. It is the one time of the year when every-day affairs take second place. In so far as individual possibilities permit, the fiesta spirit prevails. That many persons are 'short' on rest and relaxation at this time is evident to all. However, it is one thing to deprive the body for a few days of the daily and quota of sleep and rest required, and quite another one to make a habit of this practice throughout the year," states Dr. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Hospitals have many patients who are there solely because their desire for so-called relaxation persistently overcomes their judgment regarding nature's demands. And many thousands of others, for the same reason, are depriving themselves of abundant vitality and maximum health without which life cannot be lived at its best.

Undoubtedly, there never has been a time in history when it is easier to remain in high-gear day and night than now. Radio, with its wealth of entertainment, good books and magazines, the bridge table and so-called 'night life' develop an appeal that calls for real will power to hold in proper check.

"Nevertheless, the person who really desires to enjoy life to the full will keep his enthusiasm for the relaxations and amusements within reasonable bounds. It follows that while at the Christmas Season with its limitations one safely may step up the amusement tempo, it is poor business to adopt a killing pace as routine. In short, nature demands that adequate sleep and rest, nutritious food in proper quantities, fresh air and exercise play an important part in the daily program."

YOU GET "GYPED" WHEN YOU BUY FROM A STRANGER

When you yield to an impulse to take advantage of a supposed bargain offered by a stranger, you are placing yourself in a position to lose your money. It seemingly takes us years to find out that the only assurance of the quality of merchandise is in the integrity of the seller. The alluring bait put out by those who never expect to do business with you again is anything but a guarantee, so long as the majority of these agents are liars and a type who depend upon misrepresentation for their success. The Amarillo News says:

"A few years ago a woman in a nearby town bought a genuine seal-skin coat from a sailor who was hard up and who said he had obtained the coat duty free from a sailor friend. She paid $35 for the bargain. In another town a few days later a negro maid paid $12.50 for the same kind of coat from the same sailor who used the identical sales argument. Both women were actually duped because the coats were almost worthless.

"A warning has been broadcast that a group of especially clever itinerant peddlers—and crooks—dealing in coats and imported rugs, and other such items are headed for the Panhandle. The officers are on the lookout for them but they will find many victims.

"You get just about what you pay for anything, anywhere. It is smart and it is good business to trade with your home merchant. He stands behind his merchandise and his prices are not dishonest. Be on the watch this Christmas season and heed the warning against the swarm of peddlers coming to the Panhandle for a golden harvest.

"There are of course legitimate house-to-house canvassers in the Panhandle. They have credentials and are known to you or their firm is known to the community. They are in a legitimate undertaking but everyone, including the house-to-house sales people, are damaged by the type about which this warning has been relayed to the Panhandle. Buy from someone who is going to 'stay put'."

The Fire Boys held their annual banquet at the Wines Hotel Tuesday night, but as the Herald was trying to get out early so the boys could take Christmas, we failed to fill our usual place at the table. But many thanks for the invitation.

Christy—What sort of a chap is Jack?

Mary—Well, he was over to see me last night and when the lights went out he spent the rest of the evening trying to repair them.

Claud Hudgens Sells To His Partner

It was announced this week that Bruce Knight of the firm of Hudgens & Knight, large hardware and furniture dealers, had purchased the interest of his partner, Claude Hudgens in the firm. We understand that invoicing will start at once. Consideration was not made public. This is one of the largest business deals that has taken place here in some time.

For the last two or three years Mr. Hudgens' health has been poor, and the rush of business has not been the best for him. He has been talking of selling for some time, and take a long, needed rest. Mr. Hudgens announces that he has several things in view, but for the present is not ready to make any announcements.

Mr. Knight has been in business here with the exception of about two years since the early 20ties. He has made a host of friends and customers all over this entire section, doing business in at least three counties of Texas, and Lea county, N. M. The accommodating nature of Messrs. Knight and his former partner, has made the firm known throughout the south plains section.

About six months ago, they bought out another large hardware and furniture stock here, the Brownfield Hardware and Furniture Co., combining the two, but separating the furniture and hardware stocks, making each among the largest on the south plains.

We are very glad that we are to retain Mr. Knight and his fine staff of employees, and we hope that after Mr. Hudgens has time to rest and recruit his health, he and family may come back and make Brownfield their home.

The Herald is grieved to learn of the death of an old friend, Mr. S. N. McDaniel, 74, of Tahoka, in a Lubbock hospital Monday. Mr. McDaniel was once one of the county officials of Lynn county, and was also in the grocery business at Tahoka at one time. He had friends all over this section.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Long, of Alpine, Texas, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Killion, of Brownfield, last week. Mr. Long is agent for the Southern Pacific railroad at that place.

W. W. Hicks, who has done most of the linotype composition on the big edition, as well as the regular editions for the past few weeks, is not only a good operator, but is almost an expert in the care of a machine.

Nearly 4,000 School Children See Santa

Well, we thought we had seen a bunch of school children here on meet days, but shucks! we had never seen any kinds until last Friday when the school children of Terry and adjoining counties came here at the invitation of Brownfield merchants and professional men, joined by the civic clubs to see old Santa. Four thousand packages were prepared, and we were informed that around 300 remained uncalled for.

Some one asked why they did not parade them down through the streets. Well if Brownfield was fortunate enough to have a street about five miles long that might have been possible, but as it was, that was out. So they came down town from the exercises on the school grounds in their buses, cars, bicycles, afoot and what have you. And when the first ones got down town, they were still leaving the school building.

Almost the whole of the afternoon was put in taking in the shows at the Rialto and Ritz, and did the young fellows have a time? Well, we know it would be impossible for the grown ups to enjoy seeing the kids have a nice time as much as the kids enjoyed it, but the folks here sure got a great kick out of the affair.

And every grown up in Terry county hope that old Santa comes to see each and every child in Terry county Christmas Eve night.

Conoco Employees To Get Bonus

PONCA CITY, Okla.—Employees of Continental Oil Company today shared with stockholders in the Company's 1937 earnings, with distribution of a bonus that was equivalent to almost an extra month's salary. It was announced here by President Dan Moran. This will be followed by payment of a 25 cent dividend on December 20th, to stockholders of record on November 29th, he said.

"Continental Oil Company's business in 1937 has been the greatest in the history of the Company," said Mr. Moran, "and we are gratified to distribute this bonus in recognition of the contribution made by each employee."

Dave Beasley of the Sunset community in Hockley county, was down recently and called to renew for his Herald.

Sam Jackson, an old timer of this section was down Saturday night. He informed us that he was working for a mattress concern.

Greetings to Our Advs. and Readers

For the 28th consecutive time, the Herald takes this time, opportunity and space to devote to its readers and advertisers, neither of whom we could well exist without. The combination of the two makes or break a paper. So, we cannot put the Christmas week issue of the Herald "to bed" without thanking them.

The readers are the foundation, the mudsills, as it were, of any newspaper. Without a reader interest, no paper could exist, as no advertiser would wish to spend money for advertising without readers who take the paper, pay for it, and read it after it is in the home.

The advertiser in his turn provides the revenue that "makes the mare go," to use an old expression. But the modern merchants don't mind this, as he figures each year a certain appropriation for advertising, just the same as he intends spending a certain amount for clerk hire, taxes, and overhead expenses.

Therefore, the Herald wishes each of you, the great family of readers and advertisers a very Merry Christmas, and we feel sure that you will have one. We are glad to be co-operating with you in the upbuilding of this section.

Cotton Grade and Staple Report

The last weekly report on the quality of cotton ginned in Texas this season was issued today by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. This report shows that the grades of the current season are better than those of the 1936 season, and that the proportion of the crop being shorter than 7-8 inch staple is smaller than that of last season.

Approximately one-fourth of the crop to date this season is shown to be White Strict Middling and above, 29 percent is White Middling, and 20 percent White Strict Low Middling and Low Middling. The largest proportions of high grades, White Middling and better, are reported this season in district 1 with 94 percent, district 4 with 80 percent, and districts 7, 8, 10 and 11 with 60 percent or more.

Cotton of the Spotted grades constitutes 26 percent of this year's crop; 14 percent is shown to be Strict Middling and Good Middling Spotted.

Prof. (to Freshman entering class late)—On what date were you born, young man?

Freshman—On April 2, sir. Prof.—Hum, being late must be a habit with you.

Terry County Herald June 9th, 1905

The carpenters are at work building a platform and making benches for the court room and getting things in readiness for court next week.

The Walker Hotel is now finished and opens up this week, ready for business.

The new blacksmith shop is finished and Mr. Howell says that he has all that he can do in the way of repair work and that he soon will be in shape to handle any sort of work.

The new postoffice is completed and Postmaster Cotten has moved all of his equipment over from the court house. The building is situated just north of the Brownfield Merc. Company's Store.

J. W. Craig has opened up a butcher shop, or that is, he kills every Friday and sells on Saturday. Last week he killed two yearlings and sold all out but a small portion.

Work on the bank building has been stopped for a short time until some lumber arrives from the railroad.

Brownfield is not only growing, but she is growing fast and it will not be long before she will be one of the most important towns on this portion of the plains country. There are a good many projects for further improvements and as soon as those now on hand are disposed of, these others will be taken up.

Last Wednesday while at work ceiling the bank building H. H. Longbrake received a very severe and painful accident, by having the scaffold to fall with him. Mr. Longbrake fell with his right side across a sleeper, and it is feared he has broken one or more ribs. J. R. Hill carried him over to Gomez before noon and says that the doctor was examining him when he left and that he seemed to be in quite a good deal of pain. Mr. Longbrake has been at work on the bank building for several days and had it nearly finished when he received his painful injury. We hope that he is not hurt as badly as was thought, and wish for him a speedy recovery.

The ladies of the town were having a box supper to raise funds for the school house, they had already had one and realized $141.15. They were buying seats and stated that they would have two teachers next term, that they wanted to buy four dozen seats. (That amount would seat the building).

Co-Ops Building Station-Grist Mill

The Brownfield Co-operative Society No. 1, are now engaged in building a new filling station, frame and stucco, 18x24 with a flat roof. It will have a 12 feet driveway for cars to be filled, and will keep on hand a full supply of the needs of customers with cars.

The old filling station is being enlarged, and when complete will be about 16x40, according to one of the stockholders. A modern grist mill and crushing plant will be installed in this building to take care of the needs of owners as well as other farmers who wish to patronize the place.

These industries in addition to their large gin plant give the Terry county farmer owners much property, all of which is paying nice dividends, according to our informant.

"CHRIST'S BIRTHDAY"

Suggested by Brother Killions Sermon on last Lords day. By MRS. W. G. HARDIN

We give of our means, to our friends, on the day That heralds our dear Savior's birth Costly gifts. As our homage to Jesus we pay And rejoice, that he came down to earth. We carrol our praises and say we are glad; For a wonderful Savior is He. For his birthday Ah; never a soul should be sad For one day upon dark Calvary; He paid with his life and a present was made Of redemption for you and for me.

His birthday, Oh no we shall never forget How the joy out of Heaven came down; The price has been paid. The conditions all met, That pardon for all may be found. Ring out joyous bells; and his birthday proclaim For God's infinite plan has sufficed. But when making your gift, on this day in his name Pray what have you given to Christ? On this dear Natal day may your gift unto him Be your love and your means sacrificed.

Many Compliments on Historical Edition

We have had many, many people to tell us that our Historical-Prosperity edition was a great issue, and that they were proud that an edition of that kind had gone out from Brownfield and Terry county. Many, many people have come in to have one of the papers bound permanently for themselves and others, as well as to send out the unbound edition.

And why not? It constitutes a past record of the county, as well as the present progress. It tells in plain words the unnumbered hardships of the early settlers, who possessed and tamed the land for you and me. It tells of the rapid, almost miraculous growth of the land of milk and honey, the land we call our own. It tells of the growth not only in population and wealth, but of the growth of the schools, churches, lodges, civic clubs and society in general, that have put a civilizing hand on our community, and made it a place where others wish to dwell.

These extra papers are going fast. One local drug store had sold out their 25 by Monday, and another had only 2 left. The other drug stores were also selling them fast. So, if you want a copy to preserve or send elsewhere, better hurry.

They are not only on sale at the Herald office, but in the five drug stores of Brownfield, and the Meadow Drug Store.

Not Putting Out Sensational Paper This Week

No, we are not putting out a paper this week that would knock you over any time. We are just hitting the high spots to help out some who want to tell you that they want old Santa to visit you, and to keep some legals that are running in the paper from "spoiling" for lack of consecutive publication.

Then, too, the crew wants off a few days. They want to chase around for a few days with kin folks or just sit or sleep. They want to see something else than a printing office for a few days. The boys all want to take Christmas, and they deserve it. Next Monday, we will all be on hand again, so if you have any business with us, call around, or if you just want to talk or tell the news, call anyway. Tell us about your Christmas visitors, or where you visited Christmas.

We will try to keep plenty pen and pencil sets on hand to supply your needs till Jan. 1st, when our campaign ends. The consignment of the 400th supply is now on the way to us. Three hundred sets have already been given away.

Mrs. J. H. Killion and daughter, Jewel Lavon, left Sunday to spend Christmas with Mrs. Killion's mother in Monahans, Texas.

Many people are hunting places to rent, both in the city as well as farms. The Herald has from three to a dozen calls a day to see if anyone has advertised a place.

Miss Shanks will arrive this week as relief operator for Western Union, to take the place of Mr. Brennan, who will spend Christmas with his wife in Paris, the old home town.

Obadiah (Boastfully)—I can go out with any girl I please.

Onalene—Yes, but from what I hear you don't please very many of them.

This Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield.

Well, we received the letter ok, even if it was Christmas time, and James Hurley Dallas, chief ramrod of the Postmaster had a lot of other Christmas packages to deliver. It came from the Dambulance-Shurnal, Hubbock, Texas, addressed precisely as follows: Rt. Hon. Andrew Jackson Stricklin, the Lone Wolf, the Chief Prodder and Ramrod, the Editor Baiter, the Art Critic, Terry County Herald, Brownfield, Texas, U. S. A. Thanks for the many pleasing titles, also for the package, which arrived several days too late for use.

The Brownfield News proved something more than just a competitor last week, when they came to our rescue with a lot of type, which they composed for us Friday afternoon, and until midnight, although they had a night session with their own paper the night before. The Wade brothers, Farley, Robert and Herbert are all newspaper men from a long line of newspaper folks. They know what it is to get in a tight, and they know how to lend their resources when the other fellow gets that way. Of course we could have gotten the paper out some time Saturday anyway, but we could never have made the mails Saturday morning without their help, and that would have meant no mailing until Monday. Thanks a lot, boys, and if you ever get in the mire up to your necks, yell and we'll come running with a rescue party.

The Gaines County News hit our desk this week with a 24 page edition, which they designated their 20th Anniversary Edition. It was well edited, well printed and full of valuable historical facts about the establishment and growth of Seagraves. They have recently installed a press and folder, as well as a new model 8 Linotype machine. Congratulations to Messrs. Bright & Shepard on both the edition, and the installation of new modern machinery.

We are reminded there are thousands of people who live through the fall and winter by picking cotton. They begin at the lower end of the lower Rio Grande valley and finish in Oklahoma; or else they start on the east side of the state and follow the white staple into New Mexico and Arizona. Millions of dollars are paid them. If only the cotton crop is cut short we can easily understand that the power of this class to buy will be cut off and the government will have to feed them with tax money gathered on the reduced crop. The same is true with corn, wheat, rice, tobacco, or the cattle upon the hills or the pigs in the pen. Why will you not see this Mr. N. D.

Yoakum County Review.
Yes Brother Hale, as a New Dealer, we see that and acknowledge the truthfulness of it. But we see some thing else too. We see that an extremely large crop forces the price so low that the growers can not pay the pickers a living price for their labor. An extremely large crop means bankruptcy for the farmer, the laborer, the small business man and every other business that is supported directly from the farm. We wish that there were a market for 20 million bales of American cotton, but our wishes do not make a market. We get more for a 12 million bale crop than we do for a 20 million bale crop. Bro. Hale why don't you practice what you preach? We imagine that your subscription list is not more than one thousand; BUT why don't you print three or four thousand copies? Just think how many people you could employ.
—Anton News.

Well, you sure gave those Hoovers a solar plexis, Bro. Richards, and not below the belt. Now if Old Howling Hill gets on you, we'll make a flying tackle on him.

More on Government

"Clear understanding and staunch defense" of democracy is my abiding passion, for ours now faces its greatest danger since the days of Jefferson. I hasten to clear some more rubbish from the fundamentals of democracy, believing a clear understanding of those fundamentals to be its best defense. They are these:

All men are equal in God's sight and should be in the regard of government. They have equally inalienable rights to conditions that will best promote their happiness. The government that will most likely safeguard those rights is a democracy. Democracy is rule of the people collectively either directly or through their chosen officers subject to their will. The will of the majority must be regarded as the will of the people.

There are no limits to items or methods of people-rule except of their own devising for what they believe to be best for safe-guards. Personal liberty and individualism is more common in democracies only because more likely to be allowed to the limit of safety to the general welfare when the people rule.

The people advance in capacity for happiness by social organization. Organization requires cooperation. But we have not yet reached the utopian state where all necessary cooperation will be volunteered. If the people decide a certain plan fully cooperated in is necessary to their general welfare would it be democracy to allow some to defeat the majority by not complying? That would be tyranny of the minority. Some kind of regimentation is necessary to cooperation. The church regimentation mentioned and legislative common in most progressive societies use incentives and penalties felt about as keenly by members as any felt by citizens in any crop control regimentation of the government.

I believe all real democrats will agree to the above principles when they study them. Then no proposed law should be objected to because not democratic, since any law the people want is democratic if they vote it. The only democratic argument is on whether the law will accomplish what the people want and whether that will be best for them, leaving the decision to the people's own reason.

No, there is no danger to democracy in the policies of the new deal if continued subject to the people's will. But I will mention and exemplify of the greatest menace to democracy anywhere in our nation and it is in our own state. The people clearly instructed our officials to provide for paying $15 per month to every citizen over sixty-five years old that is qualified under the constitution. They clearly instructed them to provide monthly payments to crippled and dependent children and adult blind and pensions to certain old retired teachers. They have failed for two years to carry out fully part of these instructions and failed completely all through one special session of the Legislature to accomplish any of it. As long as the people's representatives are subject to their will they may have some unwise laws passed and then get them remedied without danger to their democracy. But when they have officers that fail to put into effect what they vote for they have lost their democracy.

This failure cannot be excused on lack of resources. I have reliable figures showing that had the needed $15,000,000 for deficits and all voted pensions been taken in taxes on the pipe line industry of our state owned mostly by outsiders it would still have left enough net profit to yield over 22 percent on all their real investment. About the same may be said for our sulphur industry. They say it made 200 percent.

The people are rapidly progressing in economic conditions and their government must progress with them to safe-guard their welfare. Most of the arguments against progressive democracy were originally founded on special issues now much out of date.

When the United States was being formed the people lived in independent states as jealous of each other and of the proposed "super-state" as the modern nations were of each other and the League of Nations. Their reservations from that new government does not mean that they would have made all of them from their own governments nor even from the U. S. since it has been tried and found trustworthy, especially since so many of their affairs have outgrown their states. Then there were no businesses involving enough people and general welfare to be national problems except those of money, mail, navigation, and warfare. And those they put under control of this new "Super-Government."

The only way to control equitably and tranquilly the strife growing out of our complicated state-outgrown business affairs is for the whole people incorporated in the government to control it in some way.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Terry County, Greetings:
You Are Hereby Commanded to summon Carrie Williams, and husband Bud Williams; Layula Head Bonner and her husband, R. C. Bonner by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Terry County, the same being the 17th day of January, A. D. 1938, then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 23rd day of August, A. D. 1937, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court as No. 2156, wherein Panhandle Construction Company, a corporation, is Plaintiff, and Lottie Head, Carrie Williams and husband, Bud Williams, Julia Head Peterson and husband, Theron Peterson; Layula Head Bonner and husband, R. C. Bonner; Lester Lee Head, individually and as guardian; David Kent Head and Jacqueline Head are Defendants, and said petition alleging that Lottie Head is the surviving wife of W. J. Head, deceased, that Carrie Williams, Julia Head Peterson and Layula Bonner, and Virgil Head, deceased, are all the children born to W. J. Head and Lottie Head, who died without a will, no administration on his estate, and no necessity for any; that Lester Lee Head is the mother and legal guardian of the estates of David Kent Head and Jacqueline Head, such children being minors and the only issue of Virgil Head, who died intestate without any administration on his estate, after the death of his father, with no necessity for administration.

That W. J. Head and Lottie Head acquired Lot 16, block 22, town of Brownfield, Terry County, Texas, as community property, and had been owned by them many years prior to his death.

That Feby. 2, 1932, Realty Trust Company recovered a judgment against W. J. Head in the district court of Terry County, Texas, for the sum of $354.66 and $12.20 costs of suit; that $294.64 of said judgment bears 8% from date, and $60.00 bears 6% from date; that said judgment in final and not set aside; that March 12, 1932, said judgment was duly abstracted by the clerk of said court showing the amount of judgment, rate of interest, amount of costs, parties to the suit and defendants in judgment, number of the cause, and amount of credits, as well as the court in which rendered and styled of cause, and the amount then owing; which said abstract of judgment was duly filed in the office of the county clerk of Terry County, Texas, March 17, 1932 at 11:30 a. m. for record, and forthwith indexed and recorded and indexed and cross indexed in the names of the plaintiff and of the defendants in judgment under the proper letters, and said abstract of judgment likewise showed the book and page of the minutes of the Court where entered.

That at the time of filing, recordation and indexing thereof the said W. J. Head and Lottie Head owned said lot 16, and he was then living; that on his death the named parties took possession of all his estate, including said lot; that the interest of each of his children amounted to approximately five hundred dollars therein, and his wife the community half. That said lot is improved and incapable of partition.

That Realty Trust Company duly transferred said judgment and the lien pertaining to plaintiff, and it is now the legal owner and holder thereof, and of which no part has been paid; that the debt for which said judgment was rendered was a community debt of W. J. Head and his wife.

Plaintiff prays for judgment establishing its lien on the whole of said lot, if not allowed, then on one half thereof, and the lots be sold, and for relief which the pleadings and the evidence may warrant.

Herein Fail Not, and have you before said court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

GIVEN Under My Hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Brownfield, Texas, this 4th day of December, A. D. 1937.
(SEAL) ELDORA A. WHITE, Clerk.
District Court, Terry County, Tex.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE
By virtue of an Order of Sale issued out of the 98th District Court of Travis County, Texas, on November 23, A. D. 1937, on a certain judgment rendered by said court in cause No. 58,982 on the docket of said Court, entitled J. B. Pearson Jr. vs. Sam H. Stewart et al., wherein the plaintiff J. B. Pearson Jr. recovered judgment against the defendants Claude B. Hurlburt, J. H. Hicks, H. P. Brooks and Citizens National Bank of Lubbock, Texas, establishing the amount now due on a former judgment entered in cause No. 51,004, entitled J. B. Pearson Jr. vs. W. W. Pollard, to be the sum of $1,527.58, with interest on $992.22 from October 30, 1937, at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum, and all costs of suit and foreclosing as against said defendants a certain Deed of Trust Lien on the East 100 acres of the West 522 acres of Section No. Nineteen (19), in Block C-34, of the Public School Lands, formerly situated in Gaines County, Texas, but now situated in Terry County, Texas,—as same existed on the 23rd day of July, A. D. 1930, and ever since said date.—

I did, on the 26th day of November, A. D. 1937, at 1 p. m. o'clock levy upon all the right, title and interest which the above named defendants may have in and to the above described tract of land;
And, on the 4th day of January, A. D. 1938, same being the first Tuesday in said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m., and 4 o'clock p. m., on said day, at the Court House door of Terry County, Texas, I will offer for sale, and will sell at public auction, for cash, all of the right, title and interest of the defendants Claude B. Hurlburt, J. H. Hicks, H. P. Brooks and Citizens National Bank of Lubbock, Texas, and each of them, in and to the said above described premises; the proceeds of which sale shall be applied to the payment of said judgment.
WITNESS MY HAND, this, the 26th day of November, A. D. 1937.
C. D. GORE,
Sheriff of Terry County, Texas.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By Julian Capers, Jr.

AUSTIN.—The Christmas season brought a moratorium on State politics for a couple of weeks, but it brought little of peace or good-will to those who live by the whims of the voters.

The Statewide Jackson Day dinner, to be held in Dallas Jan. 8, under sponsorship of the National Democratic Committee and the State Democratic Executive Committee, was the focus of political interest. Jesse Jones, chairman of the RFC, and a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1940, was scheduled as principal orator. Although this is to be the only official Jackson Day dinner in Texas, attendance is limited to those who contribute $25 or more to finance the National Committee for a year. The idea is to spend $5 for the dinner and arrangements, and turn in about $20 per capita, or $20,000 to the National Committee. Postmasters, collectors of internal revenue, and other new deal job-holders, together with State office-holders and office-seekers, will doubtless insure a capacity crowd of 1,000.

$2 Dems to Dine, Too

Chairman Myron Blalock of the State Committee encountered some slight difficulty, however, when announcement of plans for the official dinner was followed immediately by announcement of a second Jackson Day dinner for "$2 Democrats," to be held across the street in another hotel at the same hour as the official dinner. No part of the proceeds of the $2 Democrats dinner goes to the national committee, and the "official" dinner is the only one authorized by the national committee. The $2 dinner was sponsored by Emory Wiley, of Dallas. Mr. Wiley is something of a political promoter himself. He managed the unsuccessful campaign of Frank Morris for Railroad Commissioner two years ago, later toured the state seeking to promote a gubernatorial boom for Freeman Burford, Dallas oil man. There was a slight suspicion that the $2 Democrats' dinner might be an effort to promote a candidate for Governor or Railroad Commissioner, more than to do honor to the memory of Old Hickory.

Centennial Backwash

An interesting flare-back from the political wounds left after the fighting that centered around the organization of the Texas Centennial Exposition of Dallas two years ago was staged in Dallas this week. When the banker group which ran the Centennial show threw out Walter Cline of Wichita Falls, the original director-general, they also ousted Otto Herold, Dallas capitalist and president of the State Fair of Texas, who was Cline's first assistant. When the State Fair stockholders met the other night in Dallas, the banker group were shocked and surprised to find friends of Herold there with sufficient proxies to take complete charge of the election of directors. Five directors, generally recognized as belonging to the banker group, were denied re-election, and "new blood" substituted. The retired directors included R. L. Thornton, banker who was chairman of the Centennial control committee.

Nathan Adams, head of Dallas' largest bank, and long a dominant figure in North Texas business and banking circles, made a vigorous personal fight on the floor for the banker groups' directors, but the voting ended in complete victory for Herold's forces.

Farmer Is Endorsed

Wrangling among members of the "pensions for everybody" convention, held recently in Waco, has ended in an endorsement for Clarence E. Farmer, the voluble little House member from Fort Worth, for Governor. Farmer's coup was accomplished by appointment of a committee which handed down the endorsement later, after a floor fight over the endorsement broke up the convention, when agents of Attorney General Bill McCraw sought the support of the pension group for their man. The smart politicians in Austin have been contending for some time that the strength of the pension-for-everybody group has been greatly exaggerated, and is virtually nil. They point out that with the pensioners split between Farmer, a candidate who probably will not run very fast, and Jim Ferguson, who didn't cut much figure in the last race for Governor, their votes will hardly be a deciding factor in July.

Notes

Laudatory editorials about Attorney General Bill McCraw published in one of the Houston newspapers owned by Jesse Jones recently have inspired one Dallas political writer to see an alliance between Jones and McCraw. He overlooks the fact that Jones is generally supposed to control another Houston paper, which usually takes the opposite side on political questions, so that one is "on a winner" regardless. . . . Another Dallas political writer sees visions of an "all Dallas" state administration, with this ticket: Bill McCraw, governor; Ex-Senator George Purl or Rep. Dallas Blankenship, Lieutenant Governor; Gerald C. Mann, ex-secretary of State, Attorney General; Frank Morris or Ex-Mayor George Sergeant, Railroad Commissioner. He recalls that Dallas hadn't won a major state office since the days of Sen. Charles E. Culberson, until McCraw was elected Attorney General, but thinks McCraw's victory has wiped out the apparent prejudice toward Dallas candidates, and the "All Dallas ticket" will sweep into control of the capitol next July. The Austin political smarties are still chuckling over this political reasoning.

"NOBODY'S BUSINESS"

By JULIAN CAPERS, JR.

AUSTIN.—Most of the members of the Texas congressional delegation have notified Texas Highway Officials that they will oppose any effort to slash Federal highway appropriations for 1939, and, at the week-end it appeared likely that the battle promised by President Roosevelt's recommendation for a heavy reduction of U. S. Highway money, which the states match, might be delayed until the regular session of Congress in January. Senator Tom Connally advised that he was definitely opposed to the slash. Senator Morris Sheppard declared, after consideration, he believed the highway allocation should be the last Federal economy to be made. Virtually all the Representatives, except Majority Leader Sam Rayburn, of Bonham, gave similar assurances. Rayburn, being the President's spokesman in the House, is in an embarrassing position, with sentiment in his home state almost unanimously opposing the stand he apparently feels he must take out of loyalty to the administration. Texas would lose around 12 millions of highway money, if the plan goes through, and, according to Highway Chairman R. E. L. Bobbitt, the state's road program would be set back five years thereby.

Governor's Race

More jockeying for position in the governor's race marked the week's developments. Jim Ferguson revived the Ferguson Forum, and the first issue carried nothing new or startling, except an endorsement of the long-dead Townsend plan of $200 a month pensions for all old folks. Jim laid down a six-point platform for the next governor's race, including a two percent sales tax, $30 a month pensions for all over 65, and drastic economy in government. He did not commit himself on whether he would have a candidate, or if so, who it would be. Political observers here saw no reason to change their previous prediction that Ma would not run.

Meanwhile, Austin was highly excited over a highly circumstantial rumor concerning the acquisition of some stock on the Forum by Gov. Allred. The report, allegedly based upon a statement of a political friend of Attorney General Bill McCraw, was to the effect McCraw had showed this friend an affidavit, made by a former Ferguson employee, stating that the latter had recently sold ten shares of stock in The Forum to Allred for $500. McCraw, asked by this reporter for confirmation, declined to comment, saying "There will be a lot of surprises sprung in this campaign and it's going to be a long, hot, summer." Governor Allred, asked for comment, said: "That's very funny. I haven't bought any stock in The Forum, and I don't know anybody who has. You can always get affidavits in a campaign, but they don't mean anything."

Neither to Run

Allred is having a great deal of fun and publicity mystifying the state his intentions. But the best-informed opinion here, pointing to the fact that Myron Blalock, chairman of Allred's state Democratic executive committee, is openly reported as the manager of Col. E. O. Thompson's gubernatorial campaign, still predict confidently that Allred will not run. They say it is absurd to think that Blalock and other strong Allred supporters who are boosting Thompson, would commit themselves unless they knew what Allred's intentions are. They predict that the governor's race will be between McCraw and Thompson, when the gong rings, and these two red-heads, both excellent campaigners, are expected to put on a real political show.

About Platforms

Platforms probably will be forthcoming from both candidates soon after Jan. 1. Little is known about McCraw's ideas on public questions, as most of the Attorney General's numerous public speeches have been of the humorous variety. Thompson, on the other hand, know as a deep student of government, is on record many times. He is an ardent believer in state's rights, and he fought off Federal control of the oil industry. He has recently declared for a cessation of new taxation, and expressed confidence that industry in Texas will solve the state's financial problems through existing tax levies, if not strangled to death with new burdensome tax imposts. He is known to favor strict limitation of old age assistance to those actually in need, so that more liberal allotments can be paid out of present revenues to those really needy. McCraw advocated civil service for state employees once, before a legislative committee; while Thompson's friends say the Amarilloan doesn't particularly favor this, believing that a public official ought to have the right to oust his employees if they do not deliver the goods on the job. At least, that has been Thompson's policy as a Railroad Commissioner.

Session Prospects

Prospect of another special session became somewhat more remote, as Gov. Allred stood pat on his determination not to call the legislators. Meanwhile, banking circles reported that negotiations looking toward an extension of the monthly partial payment plan for retiring the $1,600,000 of old age pension warrants held by a Dallas banking syndicate, have been under way with the Board of Control, and are progressing satisfactorily. Under this plan, expected to be made, leaving sufficient revenue in the pension fund to continue pension payments on about the present basis, thus keeping everybody happy. Social security benefits for dependent children, the blind and the school teachers could be deferred until the 1939 regular session, many "economy bloc" members believe, without serious hardship upon either of these groups.

Notes

Formal announcement was made by John Woods, state highway commissioner from East Texas, that he will run for Railroad Commissioner, against Chairman C. V. Terrell. . . . Assumption of his duties as a member of the Board of Control Jan. 2 by former Senator Tom DeBerry, of Red River county, succeeding John F. Wallace, will mark the only important change in State government at the year's end. Senator DeBerry, a thorough and an able liberal, made "the Splivins boys" famous during his long service in the Senate, and is one of Austin's most popular public characters.

By JACK HARDY

Previews: Most of the reviewers agree that the outstanding performance in "I'll Take Romance," Grace Moore's new musical, is given by that droll comedian, Stu Erwin. The singer's voice is as good as ever, and she delights in two popular arias from "Traviata" and Madame Butterfly. However, the rest of her part in the picture is very weak, while Erwin has a lot of really funny gags which he puts over very effectively in one of his best comedy roles.

This same comedian is starred in another good comedy just released, "Mr. Boggs Steps Out." It's another of Erwin's excellent small town characterizations, in which he is well supported by several lesser known players who give delightful portrayals. While the picture has a couple of slow spots, there are enough laughs to make it worth anyone's entertainment time. Lily Pons new picture, "Hitting a New High," has some very thrilling operatic music, some grand comedy by E. E. Horton, and the obvious assets of the star's cute figure in two very revealing costumes. The picture should become popular, even famous, for her appearance as the "bird-girl" in a scanty costume of feathers. However, the story is such a mixture of fantastic slapstick and operatic ambitions that it's not very gripping.

"Swing It Sailor" presents Wally Ford and Ray Mayer as a new comedy team in the role of sailor buddies. Ford has been one of my favorites ever since his memorable performance with Victor McLaglen in "The Informer." In his new picture he's a rough and ready lady killer and I liked him also in this role. The picture is not intended to be a big production, but it's a believable farce with a smart ending. It's noticeable too, recently, that many so-called "Big" pictures, which cost a million or more to make, haven't turned out to be as good entertainment as many inexpensive ones. "Parnell" is one of these flops, contrasted with the low cost "Three Smart Girls" as one of the surprise hits.

Andy Clyde's two year old son provides one of the month's prize stories. A screen double, who does dangerous stunts for the comedian, looks so much like Clyde they can hardly be told apart when in costume. One day after Clyde had gone to his studio he sent his double back home with his car. Young John Allen Clyde at the time was out in the yard, where his mother shortly found him leaning against the gate and silently weeping. To her question he sobbed: "Daddy came home with the car and he wouldn't even speak to me!"

To convince the boy that his Daddy had not been so mean, later in the day Clyde brought his double along with him so young John could see them together. So now he goes around chirping: "I saw Daddy's double!"

Another of Hollywood's queer quirks was reported at Monogram Studios recently. Maureen O'Connor, 13-year old radio singer, and her mother were re-united with their father and husband for the first time in five years. It happened when Maureen was signed to a contract by the studio, an event which brought Dennis O'Connor on a flying trip down from Seattle. For the past five years mother and daughter had been on the road filling theatre engagements. Every time they made plans to go some a fresh offer came up, delaying the trip.

Maureen soon will make her screen debut opposite ackie Cooper.

Tex Ritter, singing cowboy who has had a swift rise to fame during the year, now is on a six weeks personal appearance tour in Texas and Arkansas. To aid in his stage acts he took along Snub Pollard and Auggie Gomez, who played with Ritter in "Frontier Town." The cowboy singer will spend Christmas in his home town of Nederland, Texas.

"Hollywood," says Andy Clyde, is where there's a lot of back-slapping in public, and face slapping in private."

The Rest of the Record

JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

AUSTIN.—Whether Texans generally recognize the fact or not, Texas has a law enforcement agency in the Department of Public Safety that is comparable in no small way to the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Washington. Newspapermen have noted a parallel by calling them "S-Men" in line with the popular "G-Men" designation of FBI agents.

Latest of the progressive steps in law enforcement taken by the Public Safety Department has been the two weeks training school by the department for the peace officers of this state. Patterned after the nationally famous Police Academy of the Federal Bureau of Investigation where peace officers gather from over the country to learn the latest modern methods of law enforcement, the first Texas Peace Officers' Training School was regarded as a remarkable innovation in Texas law enforcement.

Some fifty officers from every section of the state in addition to representatives from the police department of Mexico City attended the two weeks session where every phase of scientific and modern law enforcement was taught by experts. Lectures on criminal investigation and scientific crime detection dealt with firearms identification; moulage reproductions, such as death masks, tire treads, and footprints; the development of obliterated identifying data on metals; and chemical examinations. These lectures were supplemented by actual demonstrations in the laboratory. Among other courses given were criminal identification, police communications, criminal evidence and procedure, narcotic law enforcement, extradition procedure, automobile theft, and procedure for handling strikes and mobs.

The training school which will be given twice a year was held at Camp Mabry where the Public Safety Department is housed. The cost of the school was borne by the small charge of $20 to each officer. This enrollment fee took care of all expenses including meals, lodging and linen service for the two weeks' period. The students were quartered in the modern barracks of Camp Mabry and meals were served in the large dining room of the barracks.

It is interesting to note in the face of statements on the coast of state government that the Public Safety Department—aside from the saving it has effected for the tax payer in lessened crime costs—has been the means of saving the state an estimated minimum cost of $15,000 annually in rent. It had been proposed that certain property be purchased near the Capitol, a building erected, and the department housed at the rental cost of some $15,000 a year to the state.

Instead I requested an emergency appropriation from the legislature amounting to some $10,000 which, together with WPA labor, was used to build three permanent buildings on the grounds of Camp Mabry which had been given to the state for military purposes. The lumber in an abandoned CCC camp was obtained at no cost to the state and used for the three buildings.

The result has been that the state owns one of the finest plants and grounds of any law enforcement department in the nation, with adequate facilities for the Highway Patrol, the Ranger force, and related divisions of the Public Safety Department. The building originally proposed for erection on property to be purchased near the capitol grounds would have been only one-third large enough in addition to being merely rented by the state.

Doubtless such an arrangement proved vastly disappointing to certain individuals who have been interested in selling property near the capitol that they have purchased in the hope that the state would purchase it at exorbitant prices.

Not a Question of Who's Right or Wrong

AUSTIN, Tex.—"The only way to avoid the useless waste of life due to traffic accidents is to prevent the accident," reads a warning issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"It is not a question of who is right and who is wrong after the accident has occurred," he said, "and automobile accidents never happen merely because of 'bad luck'—there is a definite cause for every one of them, although it is not possible to determine the precise origin of every mishap.

"Leaders of the safety movement agree that the most fundamental approach to the solution lies in the education and training of the individual. Safety education includes the training of individuals to avoid accidents to themselves and to prevent accidents to others. It involves the acquisition of a certain fund of information, the ability to apply this information to concrete situations, and the building up of habits which will make the application of knowledge to situations automatic.

"The dangerous curves and intersections on the highways of Texas are distinctly marked, and automobile drivers can assist greatly in the reduction of deaths from automobile accidents by carefully observing these warning signs.

"Some motorists rely too much on traffic rules and regulations, thinking that if they obey the rules of the road at the time when an accident occurs, no blame can be attached to them. This is not true. The only man who considers himself blameless in case of accidents, when he was obeying the rules of the road, is the one who did everything possible to avoid that accident.

"The consequence of automobile accidents are so disastrous that only when we have done everything in our power to avoid such accidents can consider ourselves, or expect others consider us, blameless in the case of accident.

"When each individual does all that he is able to do toward avoiding an accident of any kind, then and then only will our traffic accidents be avoided."

NEGRO COTTON PICKER KILLED SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Lonnie Nelson, age 18 years, a negro employed by B. C. Crouch on his farm five miles east of Seminole, was killed Saturday afternoon, shot from a 12-gauge shot gun. General Bell, another negro cotton picker, is charged with the crime.

Singleton Funeral Home had the body in charge, and we understand since no relatives have as yet claimed the body, it will be buried by the county and citizens, in the Seminole cemetery Saturday of this week.

This is the first death of a negro in Gaines county. Negroes have never been allowed to come to this county till last year, and so far none reside here permanently.—Seminole Sentinel.

Duncan Coffee Co. To Pay a Bonus

HOUSTON.—As an evidence that industry is thriving in Texas, the Duncan Coffee Company today announced that it was paying a bonus of 10 percent of a year's earnings to each and every employee, regardless of their length of service. The bonus applies to 356 employees who, with their families, total 1,638 individuals. The Company's salesmen have received their bonuses by the month throughout the year. In a public message, the Duncan Coffee Company expresses gratitude to its employees for their loyalty and efficiency, and subtly suggests that other employers throughout Texas to some sort of bonus is the order of the day.

This Company is entirely Texas owned and Texas managed. All the properties used or occupied by the company are owned by the company, and its funds are deposited in Texas banks in the towns and cities where its representatives live. Its policy is to buy equipment and supplies in these same towns and cities, and its representatives are identified as citizens of these various communities.

In its public message today, the Duncan Coffee Company expresses appreciation, for its managers and its workers, of a fine reception of its products by the people of Texas.

BAPTIST CHURCH

We take this means to express the seasons greetings to the members of the Baptist Church as their pastor and to all as christian friends. As christians we have the greatest claim upon Christmas and the highest privileges at this season since this is the birth period of Christ Jesus Our Saviour. Ours is the privilege of joy, peace and good will through His who made this season possible. Let us claim our privileges by making this Christmas for Christ.

May His blessings be the abundant possession of each and all, now and throughout the days to come.

PHARR AND TANKERSLEY PLAY WITH PLOWBOYS

Stephenville.—Robert Pharr and Guy Tankersley of Brownfield, John Tarleton Plowboy, checked in their football uniform after last Friday's post-season game in which the Plowboys this season. This week they play, lost the Central Texas conference championship to Weatherford Junior College by a score of 7-2.

Pharr and Tankersley played at guard and halfback for the Plowboys this season. This week they will be among the football boys entertained by Coach H. J. 'Choc' Sanders at a dinner in the Tarleton recreation hall. Lettermen will be announced at that time.

Pharr is a senior in the department of business administration, and Tankersley is a junior in Tarleton this year.

F. F. Mendez, of San Antonio, who has been helping the Herald to get out the big edition, likes the Plains country. He is an exceptionally good floor man.

Judge Yynn was over from Plains last Saturday and paid the Herald a short call. Judge Yynn has very positive ideas about how government funds, from county to nation should be spent.

KEEP THIS IN MIND

Every newspaper in the country feels it would be remiss in its duty to its readers if it neglected along about this time each year to sound a warning against that deadly enemy of the motoring world—carbon monoxide gas. The warning is now timely, even though it may be sounded in words which Howard county motorists are familiar.

To those ignorant of the deadly menace, it may be said that carbon monoxide is nothing more than the exhaust from an auto engine. In summer, when temperatures are high, the gas passes into the air unnoticed and with no damaging effect. During fall and winter months, however, when temperatures are low, the gas hangs in the air and its fumes, breathed into the lungs, has a deadly effect. If your engine is running out in the open air, then there is no material danger. But if you start your motor in a closed garage, or permit it to run in a garage whose windows and doors are closed, then your chance of escaping death is reduced to a mighty narrow margin.

Carbon monoxide is the most deadly of all known gases and the annual toll of death directly due to it in this country runs into the thousands every year. But one positive and absolute protection from its exists. Never start your motor during the fall or winter in a closed garage. Be sure the doors or windows are open before you step on the starter, and then do not permit the motor to continue running indoors any longer than necessary. Back the car into the open. You are taking your life in your hands when you follow any other course.—Big Spring News.

X-RAYS FOR STEEL

X-rays now help steel-makers turn out almost fool-proof metal. An English manufacturer has installed a giant ray machine to test his products, to be sure it contains no hidden faults. The rays reveal cracks in the interior of the steel.

Again this shows how the business world has adapted one of the most valuable aids to medicine. Discovered by a German doctor, Wilhelm Roentgen in 1895, X-rays long have been "seeing through" humans to help physicians. Today they also see through a great many other things.

In South Africa, they have one of their most spectacular uses. There, they are turned on a miner suspected of stealing diamonds. As X-rays do not pass through bones and diamonds very well, the outline of the man's skeleton is silhouetted on a chemically-treated screen. And if the man has any diamonds concealed about him, even in his stomach, those, too, cast shadows on the screen.

Xmas Shopper—But this talking doll won't talk.

Bright Clerk—No, I'm sorry. You see, it's supposed to belong to the diplomatic service.

A printing peddler was in town a few days ago, and a motorist later picked up a hitch-hiker and found him to be the same peddler. In a conversation with him, he was asked what his territory was, and he claimed everything in North Texas and from Santa Fe, N. M., to Tulsa, Okla.; all covered without a car. When asked if he sold any printing in McLean, he said that he made expenses here. The motorist, who is a business man in another state, thought it strange that anyone would deal with a total stranger who makes his way by hitch-hiking, but the peddler insisted that he is making a good living in this way.—McLean News.

TO CONNECT WITH LIGHTS

PLAINS.—Manager H. H. Roberts of the Plains Electric Service Co., was instructed by the commissioner's court of Yoakum county to connect up the court house for electric lights.

The light plant began service several months ago and has been increasing the number of customers regularly since. F. F. Roberts of Morton, brother of the manager, is owner of the plant.

WHAT PRICE TEXANS

DENTON.—Although Texans are worth a great deal together, their ranking falls when taken separately. In other words, the state itself is valued at $10,939,000,000 in the World Almanac, but the average Texan just gets by with a $1,906 valuation. Considering that the average New Yorker is estimated as being worth about $3,276, it sounds as if Texans are having a hard time, but there's consolation in the fact that Mississippians are just valued at $1,242 per capita.

PEANUTS GOING UP

The phenomenal progress of peanuts in recent years from an item connected with circuses to an important industrial product is a noteworthy event. Peanut oil is responsible for this upward trend of the Goobar clan, since the consumption of this oil in the United States was reported as being ten times as great in 1936 as in 1935. In Texas over 99,120,000 pounds were harvested in 1936, with a value of $3,033,000.

Don't forget that we still have many copies of the Historical-Prosperity Edition yet but they are going fast. You could not possibly send out any advertising of equal value.

Lew (admirably)—You know, you're not such a bad-looking girl.

Wanda (simpering)—Now, Lew you'd say so even if you didn't think so.

Lew—Fifty-fifty, old girl. You'd think so even if I didn't say so.

Poogy—I can see good in everything.

Woogy—Can you see good in the dark?

Plants Owned and Operated by the Duncan Coffee Company

HAIL, TEXANS!

Once again the Duncan Coffee Company, which imports, blends, roasts and packs the famous Admiration and Bright and Early coffees, celebrates the close of another successful year and hails the advent of a New Year.

Again the Company is happy to pay its respects to Labor, and to acknowledge a debt of gratitude to its own 356 employees, who represent 1,638 men, women and children drawing their livelihood from the business of the Company.

The Duncan Coffee Company is owned in its entirety in Texas. It owns all the properties it occupies throughout the State. Its funds are deposited in Texas banks.

The Company is a patron of every steamship line whose vessels touch at Texas ports. It uses every railroad and truck line that carries freight to and from cities where its roasting plants are located.

It owns and operates the fastest exclusive coffee delivery system in America, from 53 strategic distributing centers, contacting the retail trade of Texas weekly, thereby assuring you oven-fresh Admiration and Bright and Early coffees.

Each year of its 20 years of operation (even the depression years), the Duncan Coffee Company has paid every employee a bonus at the year's end. This year is no exception.

While the Company advocates and emphasizes the value of using human beings instead of machines in its operation, it stresses the point that human hands never come in contact with its product.

The Duncan Coffee Company and its employees are indeed grateful to all Texas for making Admiration and Bright and Early TEXAS' LARGEST SELLING COFFEES.

The Freshmen have more pupils than any other grade in high school on the honor roll. We are very proud of them too.

Those who made the honor roll of 85 or above, the first six weeks are:

First six weeks: Vera Bunch, Alma Walker, Mola Walker, Kaythryn Verner, Glenola Welch.

Second six weeks: Alma Walker, Mola Walker, Kathryn Verner, Glenola Welch.

We had about this many on the honor roll for the average 90 or above.

Junior Class

Allen Watkins

Allen was born in Kirkland, Texas, on April 16, 1922, is 15 years of age at present. His hobbies are such as: Photographing, Radio, and collecting rocks. He likes to swim, fish, and play football. His favorite studies are history and speech. He likes, in the way of foods, candies and cakes, dislikes spinach. Clothing? Why just lots of them; styles—38 model automobiles. He plans to choose agriculture for his vocation, you know, (digging ditches). He weighs about 170, is 5 feet and 8 inches tall, has green eyes, and his favorite teacher is Mr. Culp. He went to school at Needmore till he was in the eighth grade when he started to Meadow High. He always is at the foot of his class but manages to get over on his power to speak to the teachers.

Melba Jo Stephenson

Melba Jo was born July 11, 1921 at Klondike, Texas. She has been chosen as our carnival Queen for the last two years. She's a real beauty, has brown natural curly hair, grey eyes, fair complexion, just the right kind of figure, and a sweet disposition. Her favorite subject is English. She likes whipped and decent men who eat onions. Her favorite by is "I don't know," (especially in history). Her dream man is handsome and good natured. She has a very beautiful voice and sings a lot. Jo writes good themes and plans to become a romance writer.

The Juniors invite all of you parents to come with "son and daughter" to the party Wednesday night, be sure to send them any way.

We are very proud to have Evelyn back with us after her long absence due to illness.

Sophomore Class

We Sophomores are certainly looking forward to that grand Christmas party to be held in the gym, Wednesday night, Dec. 22.

We are also planning to enjoy Christmas, and hope that everyone will enjoy it as well.

We are very glad to report that Leland Wilborn is improving greatly. We hope to have him back in school with us soon.

Merry Christmas, everyone!

SENIOR PLAY A SUCCESS

On last Saturday night the Seniors of 1938 presented their annual play. This play proved to be one of the best entertainments of its kind ever presented in Meadow High School. The players are to be commended for their outstanding acting. The play went over big with the audience as it was full of comedy, love and action.

The Seniors together with their sponsor wishes to take this opportunity to thank those of you who made the play a success financially by your presence. We certainly appreciated your coming here instead of going to the tent theatre, which was in town. There was an average crowd here in spite of this competition. The gross receipts were about $72 and there was approximately $12 expenses, for playbooks, makeup, etc.

Special thanks should be extended to the following: Mr. Hartzog for his work in criticizing and make-up. Mrs. Hartzog for prompting and Miss Bane had between acts. Mr. Culp for helping prompt and keeping the door. Mr. Jewell Bell for furnishing two pairs of shaps and spurs. Brown Shoe Company of Lubbock for one pair of shaps. Shortie Felty for two blanks. Babe Watkins for furnishing a desk. Mrs. Homer Franklin for furnishing the living room suits. Mrs. Burleson for furnishing a chair. Robert Welland for one blanket. Jones Hardware for loaning us three hats. Mrs. Lusk for furnishing suitcases. Mr. Culp for one blanket. Messrs. McNally, Horton, Hamilton and others who we do not recall for loaning us guns.

The Seniors of 1938 wish to all of you a Merry Christmas and a Happy and prosperous New Year.

GOMEZ

The Live and Learn Leaders club meet with Mrs. H. N. Key on Thursday evening of last week. A Christmas tree and the exchange of gifts featured the evenings entertainment. Delicious refreshments consisting of sandwiches, fruit, cake and hot chocolate were served to 30 members and visitors.

The local school children, teachers and many others of the community accepted the invitation of Santa Claus to meet him in Brownfield on Friday of last week. We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation and hearty thanks to all of you who had part in making the delightful occasion possible for us, may we prove worthy of your kindness, and strive to pass along into the lives of others at least some of the abundance of good cheer you intended for us.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Landess and children visited relatives at Pride during the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Moore and son visited Sunday afternoon in the R. A. Whitley home.

Miss Jama Furr and Mr. Bobbie Carrol Parman are on the sick list this week.

The Dionne Quintuplet Dolls

The Dionne quintuplets are three and a half now and Santa Claus has kept pace with the years of these international idols. Since they're not babies any more, he had to perfect "grown up" toys. Hence this see-saw on which Yvonne, Cecile, Annette, Marie and Emilie play under the eyes of a watchful "mother." As last year, the world-famous quintuplets will be prominent in 1937 Christmas doll circles.

Strange Pals of the Animal Kingdom

Animals, like human beings, often make strange friendships for which there is little explanation. For instance, a cat usually looks upon a rat as a one-course dinner, but Buddy, the kitty shown above has made quite a pal of a white rodent.

Both are owned by Joseph Langene of Albany, Marco, an Australian "honey bear," romps with his friend, Napoleon, the police dog. They're in Hollywood.

Nellie was a New York spaniel. She roamed the streets homeless and hungry. Her eight puppies all died shortly after they were born, because the poor thing had been undernourished. But in a home for stray animals Nellie found eight new-born kittens who had lost their mother. She adopted them and they adopted her, proving that there is always an outlet for mother-love.
Pictured below Nellie and her feline brood is another odd animal affection. The Bible says that there'll come a time when the lion and the lamb shall lie down together, and here is the King of Beasts practicing up for the occasion with his bosom pal, a little black dog. Their owner is Mrs. A. J. Nannetti, of Oakland, Calif.

Sheppard Offers Accounting System For Counties

AUSTIN, Tex. — Offering the means for the first thorough-going check ever made of governmental finances in each of Texas' 254 counties.

Mailed to every county were two large books of sample form sheets and manuals of instructions, outlining in detail a simple and understandable system of accounting designed primarily to standardize book-keeping methods throughout the governmental subdivisions.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion.

If counties follow this system, Sheppard said, it will give a control ledger so that any person examining it may see where the public money is coming from and where it is going.

One copy of the sample sheets was sent the county auditor in those counties having an auditor, otherwise to the county clerk. The other went to the county judge.

The uniform accounting system was prescribed by a legislative act of the 43rd Legislature; however, no funds for its preparation, or the necessary printing, were provided.

Nevertheless, Sheppard attempted to carry out the legislative will regardless of the lack of funds. The uniform system has been in preparation, largely on a volunteer basis insofar as actual mapping of the forms is concerned, since that time, and has just been completed.

"Need for such a system," Sheppard said, "has been recognized for years by every person who has tried to arrive at any semblance of figures representing the cost of government in Texas."

district bond indebtedness which must constantly acquaint itself with county finances as a prerequisite to aiding in retiring bonds."

Pointing out that Texas now has almost as many accounting systems as there are counties, Sheppard commented that these benefits should accrue from adoption of the proposed form:

1. Comparisons, as to governmental income and governmental costs, will be possible since the various counties would be on the same footing.

2. County officers themselves are assisted and protected, as all accounts are brought under control, eliminating the possibility of disagreements regarding settlements.

3. For the first time, a complete accounting would be provided. Heretofore, general books of a county have not included fee officers' accounts.

4. Preparation of the county budget is simplified by furnishing the budget officer a single source showing all needs and all sources of revenues.

5. A substantial savings may be made in costs of stationery and supplies, as the necessity for printing special forms for each county will be eliminated and the forms provided by the comptroller will be stock items in printers' stocks.

Sheppard suggested that counties have a complete audit made of accounts before installing the uniform system, in order that errors in previous records may not be carried forward.

MISS BREEDLOVE PASSES

The Herald is very sorry this Christmas week to chronicle the passing of Miss Mary Breedlove, daughter of Rev. Ike and Mrs. R. T. Breedlove.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist Church, conducted by Presiding Elder, Dr. O. P. Clark, of Lubbock.

Following the funeral services, the body was laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery, with the Brownfield Funeral Home in charge.

P. G. Stanford of Plains, was a visitor in the city Saturday.

HIGHWAY 51 TO BE INTERNATIONAL ROUTE

Littlefield, Texas.—From the Big Bend region of Texas to the Black Hills of South Dakota attention is being directed to an all-weather north-south highway that will facilitate tourist travel from the north to the south and help in the movement of produce from the Rio Grande Valley to the Denver produce markets.

The Texas State Highway Department is working seriously on the completion of the Texas section while from Oklahoma, Colorado, Nebraska, South Dakota, and North Dakota comes information that this part of the highway will be completed with good pavement within two years.

Selling the idea of the new route is the Highway 51 Association of Texas. Monthly meetings are held with members from all the 16 Texas counties attending.

T. A. Singer, secretary of the Association from Dimmitt, and Glenn Burgess, Littlefield, President, are leaving December 16 to meet with the highway committees as far north as Rapid City, South Dakota.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

The lovely home of Mrs. Clyde Cave was the scene of a very pretty affair Monday afternoon, when she entertained the Kolonial Kard Klub with a one o'clock buffet luncheon.

The dining table was beautiful with scenes of Nativity with red candles burning in crystal holders, and set with lovely silver and china.

The delicious luncheon consisted of hot rolls, baked ham, gravy, cranberry sauce, candied sweet potatoes, salad, stuffed celery, olives, peach pickles, fruit cake with whipped cream and coffee.

The lovely Christmas tree was presided over by Santa Mrs. Jim Graves, and each member received a lovely remembrance. This is an annual affair of the club and is looked forward to eagerly as a gala affair.

Those attending this lovely affair were Mesdames: A. J. Stricklin, C. J. Smith, Arthur Sawyer, Mon Telford, Glen Akers, L. M. Wingred, Jim Graves, Garrett Daugherty, Dick McDuffie, Money Price, E. C. Davis and Earl Jones.

MRS. SAWYERS HOSTESS TO ACE HIGH CLUB

Mrs. Arthur Sawyers was a very charming hostess to the Ace High Club on last Friday afternoon with a Christmas party.

The home was lovely with Christmas decorations and numbers were drawn for gifts from the tree.

Three tables were placed for bridge and table favors were pots of poinsettias, those receiving these were Mrs. Ned Self, R. M. Kendrick and W. H. Collins, Mrs. Mon Telford scored high, receiving a Pyrex custard set.

Guests were, Mesdames Roy Wingred, Marion Brown, W. R. McDuffie, W. C. Smith, Mon Telford, Jim Graves, Pete Tiernan, J. R. Turner, Ned Self, R. M. Kendrick, W. H. Collins and Ray Christopher.

FIVE HOSTESSES ENTERTAIN MAIDS AND MATRONS CLUB WITH DINNER

The usual festivities of the Maids and Matrons Club at Christmas time was elaborated with lovely dinner party at the Wines Hotel on Friday night, December 17th, 7:30 o'clock. Guests were greeted by the charming hostesses, Mesdames Randal, Teague, Misses Edwards, Sloan and Rasco. A brilliant "tree," added to the gorgeous setting of the occasion. Tables were centered with the olden time, broad red ribbons and mistletoe, large leaves of foliage, fruit filled baskets, lighted candles, all made a charming picture. Place cards—programs, hand painted, bore the poinsettia design.

A three course turkey dinner was served after the opening numbers. Baby Jesus and Mother with angels singing, was a most impressive picture. The nativity was an original scene in the efficient hands of Mesdames Wier and Perry. Curtains were drawn, and with the light of candles "Silent Night—Holy Night" was softly played. Carols, the sweet and old, were sung by the entire assemblage.

Beautiful and useful remembrances all wrapped in Christmas ribbons in gorgeous colors, were exchanged. A past dinner address was given by the president, Mrs. Redford Smith. Mrs. Toone, who recently returned from the Panama Canal Zone, gave glimpses of the Holiday Season, which all enjoyed.

Guests and Club members were: Mesdames R. L. Bowers, O. T. Murphy, T. L. Treadaway, Homer Nelson, Basil Webb, Percy Spencer, W. B. Toone, W. A. Bell, Miss Couchman, guests, Members, active, associate and honorary were Mesdames Randal, Teague, Wier, Cobb, Parrish, Wingerd, J. H. Dallas, W. H. Dallas, McGowan, Perry, Jim Graves, Smith, Pyatt, Stricklin, Davis, Price, Baily, Lee Brownfield, Betty Criswell, Edwards, Holmes, Daugherty, Moore, Jacobson, Self, Telford and Misses Sloan, Edwards, Jones, Fitzgerald and Rasco.

PETTY-LEHEW

Last Saturday night at the parsonage of the First Christian Church, Miss Ruth Petty and Mr. Byron Lehe of the Forrester community, were united in marriage by the local pastor, Rev. David H. Beebe.

There were about twenty relatives and friends present. The happy young couple will live in the Forrester Community.

FOOTBALL BOYS FETED

The football boys Mothers Club were hostess to the football boys and their girl friends last Thursday night Dec. 18th, with a sumptuous turkey dinner at the Venetian Auditorium. The tables were very pretty with pot plants of poinsettias and other blooming plants. M. H. L. Baze led the invocation.

Special guests for the occasion were Coaches Pete Cawthon of Texas Tech and R. C. Graves of Sul Ross College, Alpine. Coach Bost had training under Coach Graves and he told some very humorous incidents that took place during his schooling at Sul Ross. Claudie Gore, team manager, was master of ceremonies and he introduced Coach Bost, who in turn introduced the honor guest, who made very interesting talks.

Mack Pickett having been unanimously selected by all the coaches in this district for the all district team, was presented with a glad song—"Emmett Smith." Mrs. Emmet Smith, Florence and Francis Brock.

"Home on the Range," Wayne Rowden and Eugene Ellis. (These boys are called the singing ends, that being the positions they play on the team). On encore they sang "Close of a Long, Long Day" and "Yodeling Cowboy."

Song and Dance number, "My Cabin of Dreams" — Mary Jene Lees.

In election of Captains for the 1938 teams, Wade Hill was elected Backfield Captain and Wayne Rowden, line captain.

Mrs. Clyde Lewis is chairman of this wide awake Club and they plan to be a big help to the boys in their activities.
