Leading The Way

In every town or city, regardless of size, there is always an informal group or some organization that leads the way. These are the people who "take the bull by the horns." They get criticized for what they do—they get criticized for what some think they ought to do. But, when it's all said and done, they're the ones who open the way for progress.

A natural leader in this respect is a community's chamber of commerce. It is not true that the chambers of all towns are always the most outstanding leaders; sometimes somebody else outshines the c of c. But we repeat: chambers of commerce have been CREATED to do the job of leading. To hold back and indolently refuse to try to lead is to deny a chamber the purpose for which it came into being.

That is why this week we take particular note of a meeting to be held for workers of the Friona Chamber of Commerce. This meeting to be tonight (Thursday), has all the earmarks of being the most important session of the year. It will be a "goal setting" meeting, and from it will spring (or fail to spring) the community's ideals for leadership during the year.

Organizational work is completed. A membership big enough to sustain a year's work has been attained. Committees and their leaders have been appointed. Directors have been made aware of their duties. From now on, it's "up to Joe."

If you're one of the Joes (or Janes) in Friona's C of C, we hope you have an awareness of the charge for leadership that has been placed in your hands. How you lend your talents to the work of the organization will in a large measure shape the social and economic futures of all persons in the community.

Will you do your best?

3 Boys Aim For Positions

Selection of Friona's Boys' state representative from the junior class at school is being done in a unique way, reports Russell Massey, American Legion Commander. The American Legion is the organization which sponsors the delegate.

Three boys have qualified for the trip, Massey says, and they are presently campaigning for the honor of making the trip. Each student is contacting various Legion members and the one receiving the largest number of votes when the post meets Monday night will be the one to make the trip. The three boys are George Terry, Jerry Hinkle, and Leon Massey. "Since three boys did rank high, we think that this system is the way to do it," Massey says. "It will be the same as a political candidate campaigning for office."

The winner will leave Friona on June 4, for Austin where Boys' State will be in session from June 5-11. The Friona American Legion Auxiliary will also sponsor a delegate to Girls' State. She has already been selected and will attend the state-wide meeting in June. Both the local representatives will be announced next week.

The BIBLE Says

"THEREFORE BE YE ALSO READY: FOR IN AN HOUR THAT YE THINK NOT THE SON OF MAN COMETH." (Matthew 24:44)

During the stay of Jesus on earth he taught much about his coming the second time. It was not to be a time of teaching and encouraging men to do right. Neither was it to extend an invitation to come to the Christ for salvation. This preparation Jesus made when he came the first time.

The second coming is to bring to a close man's activity on the earth. It is to be a day of reckoning, a day of settling accounts. "The Son of man (Jesus) shall come in his glory, and all the angels with him, then shall he sit on the throne of his glory: and before him shall be gathered all the nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as the shepherd separateth the sheep from the goats;" (Matthew 25:31,32).

Jesus taught all to prepare for this day of reckoning. He said that his word was to judge us in the last day (John 12:48). Everything has been done to aid us in preparing to meet the judgment. The rest lies in our hands. We are urged to obey the laws of the Bible. Imbibe its spirit, we must and humbly submit to its leading.

Are you ready to settle your account with Jesus? Have you received his word? Obey it? Do you reverence him as God's son who has all authority? Be encouraged to regular Bible study and worship.

Massey is a member of the district's round-up committee. He says that Friona expects to have around 150 members at the close of this week. During the past year the local post has had 134, way above its quota.

in & around FRIONA

With June

Things in and around Friona sure look good since the wonderful rain which fell during the weekend. Farmers and businessmen seem more optimistic than ever. Prospects for a wheat crop are good and row crop planting will begin as soon as it is dry enough for farmers to get in the fields.

Over the weekend, the Floyds drove to Bryan and returned by way of Austin. The weather was cool and damp all the way, but we saw almost no rain. A number of heavy showers fell ahead of us all the way and all the creeks and rivers were running.

More than 200 families had to be evacuated by boat in one section of Abilene. Water was up past the partitions in a lot of the windows and residents had taken refuge on tops of tables, cabinets, or any other object that was high enough to keep them out of the water.

At Hamilton, water was several feet deep on the courthouse square early Friday evening, but by the time we got there about midnight, the highway was clear. From Slaton south and east all the way the pastures were green and bluebonnets and other wild flowers made beautifully colored patches in them. Wheat and oats were all headed out and in some places as tall as the fence posts.

Roses were in bloom and more beautiful ones, we have never seen. The countryside was beautiful all the way and sheep, goats, and cattle were fat and pretty. The most impressive thing we observed on the trip was the optimism at every place we stopped. The station operators, motel keepers, and cafe operators seemed to think that temporarily the rain was hurting their businesses, but without exception each one expressed belief that the "seven years drought" was broken and business would be good this summer.

Every time we go down in that section of Texas, major highway improvements are going on at every turn in the road. Surely they will make a dent in the road construction business after awhile.

It would be impossible to drive from Post to Abilene without wondering what is done with all the oil that is pumped out of the ground each day. At several places along the railroad track, we noticed long lines of tank cars waiting to be filled. The lines were as long as lines of box cars which line up in our section of the country during harvest time.

Sunday afternoon, we detoured off the highway about ten miles between Evant and Gatesville and spent a few hours with Charles and Altha Faye Heald and their son, David. The Healds are former residents of Parmer County. Their son, Charles Wesley, is a sophomore at Texas A & M.

They have a lovely ranch and the house sits near a tree covered mountain. Think they farm about fifty acres and it had been too wet for spring planting. Charles said he didn't know how many sheep and goats he lost due to drowning during the rain the afternoon before. The country is so rough and the bushes are so thick we wondered how he ever found the ones that didn't drown.

While we were at Bryan, we had a very interesting conversation with a couple from Texas City. They live in a small town in that area and said that there had been more rain within the past few months than there had been in several years previous. Having water inside the house isn't an unusual occurrence where they live.

Gardeners in several places through which we passed had put forth a lot of effort and their well tended flower and vegetable gardens showed the results of their effort. Potatoes, onions, English peas, lettuce, radishes, and several kinds of greens were being eaten and several tomato vines already had blooms.

It was a good trip and we enjoyed it, but it is wonderful to be back home.

If James Mabry isn't a regular reader of this column, will someone please call his attention to this paragraph? Several persons with whom we have talked recently have asked this question, "Why doesn't the Mabry building have a sign on it?" Of course, we don't know the answer, but have promised each person who asked the question that we would make an effort to find out.

Now, we are asking the question of the owner, "Why doesn't it have a sign?" To us who live here, the absence of a sign isn't even noticeable. We all know where it is without a sign.

For the past several months we have been reading about and hearing about a system whereby a person can type in one office and the information can be read in another office at the same time. At first we thought that would be a good thing to have in our office, but on second thought feel sure that it would not be practical. How could we correct the errors we make by long distance?

When we first saw buildings with the doors set back from the edge of them, we liked them very much. However, after trying to keep the small space in front of the Friona Star office clean for the past several months, we find them much less attractive. If it was possible to keep the entrances clean, we would favor the idea, but after taking into consideration the accumulation of weeds, paper, dirt, and what not that collects in front of the door, most any of us would choose the long wind swept look over the set back doorways.

will come to $175,000. For those who think Friona spent a lot on a jail (which we don't think they did), take a look at this figure.

Talked with Jimmy Baxter at the Lions show Friday night. Jim, who's now a resident of Littlefield, may be ready to come back to Friona sooner than you might expect.

A week ago Sunday, he and his family got the scare of their lives when the town was alerted for the threat of a tornado.

Reports kept coming in on the tornado's progress, and finally, came the electrifying announcement that it was headed straight for town, and was only a few minutes away.

Like hundreds of others, the Baxters piled into their car and headed out of town. The highway west was a regular log-jam, Jim says, and hardly any progress could be made.

When the Baxters could see that the tornado seemed headed straight for them, they stopped the car, piled out of it, and jumped into a stranger's cellar — along with lots of other people.

It turned out that the tornado missed them by about a mile. "But that's the scariest I've ever been," reports Jim.

Friona folks, like most everywhere else on the Plains, have the tornado jitters.

While we wouldn't want to be misunderstood, and we certainly don't minimize the threat that twisters have for life, limb, and property, let us say that at the present time, the anxiety seems to be a little bit exaggerated.

This is a natural development, because our greatly improved systems of communication, where the word of severe storms is flashed across the country in an instant, and picked up and embellished by an ambitious press, radio, and television industry for the eager eyes and ears of the public, have contributed greatly to the impression that there is more to fear than ever before.

Nonsense. There is no substantiating data to this effect. There aren't any more tornadoes than there used to be. They aren't any more severe than they ever were.

It's just that there are more people to spot the ones that appear, and there is a greatly expanded system of communication to tell everyone within minutes of their appearance.

Actually, we understand tornadoes better than we ever have. We know approximately what conditions must exist before they can be spawned. We have elaborate spotting and tracking devices. We know of precautions that can be taken by the average citizen which will greatly improve his chances of survival should he be directly in a tornado's path.

Now, we reemphasize: Tornadoes ARE worthy of concern. And it is true that Friona has an inadequate warning system, and that we should be concerned with its improvement.

However, let's don't all panic and move to California next week. We wouldn't like the smog—and besides, an earthquake might kill us.

This screwy world department: In recent years, stories have been easy to find in the papers about cities all over the country that have water shortages.

But we ran across a new twist the other day in reading the Moore County News.

Dumas, sitting in the big middle of one of the largest natural gas fields in the world, doesn't have enough gas to run the town! It turns out that the city has one well, and that one is being pushed to capacity.

In fact, the well "has been pushed beyond its allowable limit many times, while the Texas Railroad Commission kindly looked the other way," H. A. Tuck writes.

The city has drilled for gas several times in the past several years, but has had nothing but dry holes. Can you beat it?

More Tax Suits Up for School

41 for 1953-1956; S. T. Thornton, $88.27 for 1953-1955.

The City of Friona also plans to enter suits to recover these taxes; however they will file separately. Also, the city has no claim against R. F. Lloyd for city taxes. Taxes claimed to be owed are approximately the same for the city as the school.

The appearance date for these suits is Monday, May 13.

Black Wins First In District Again

off water, and pumps were installed to pump the water back on the fields. Two dams were built to conserve water, 500 acres were summer tilled, and ten new wells were drilled.

Bindweed and Johnson grass treatment was applied to 2,298 acres; 3,000 yards of levees were built, 2 3/4 miles of terraces were built, and 950 yards of drainage ditches were put into use. Fertilizer was applied to 18,000 acres and 20,276 acres were planted with certified seed.

Thirty-five families took polio shots, ten new houses were built, 28 houses were remodeled, and 19 were repaired, painted and redecorated. The community center was cleaned up and improved. A stove, hot water heater, chair, and new drapes were added to the community center and the grounds were improved.

All of these things will be taken into consideration if the community is chosen to be one of the contenders for state honors, and every resident of the community is anxiously awaiting the next step.

Lions Club Nets over $500 on Show

A gyrating youngster, named Roger Simmons walked off with the top talent award and the Friona Lions counted out more than $500 in profits at their 1957 Follies and Talent Show in the school auditorium Friday night.

Simmons was announced winner of the talent show, and will appear on KGNC-TV in the near future, announces Charles Allen, Lions president. He competed against other area youth who were on the show and aiming for the win.

This year's show was declared successful Monday by the Lions head, who expressed his appreciation to those who cooperated in its staging. Merchants, Lions members, the Friona senior class, and others joined to make the event possible.

The seniors sold $156 worth of advance tickets, and ticket sales at the door, plus sales from boxed candy sold during the show amounted to another $535.

The Lions were slightly optimistic when they ordered the candy, and sold 1250 of the 2000 boxes on hand for that purpose. Still, they were pleased with the sale to an audience of about 700 persons.

After expenses are met, proceeds from the show will go to cover obligation incurred by the club to buy equipment for the new Farmer County Community Hospital.

Hi-Point HD Club Plans Silver Tea

At the Friday afternoon meeting of the Hi-Point Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Dan Tims, plans were made for the club's participation in the THDA Silver Tea, which will be Friday, May 10, at the club house in Friona.

A council report was given by Mrs. Floyd Rector. Mrs. Joe Brummett was selected as the club nominee for delegate to the state convention. Each member present did handicraft of her own choice.

The next meeting will be Monday, May 6, in the home of Mrs. Eugene Bandy. The regular meeting was set up due to a conflict with the Silver Tea.

Refreshments of punch and caramel cinnamon rolls were served by the hostess to Mesdames Lloyd Mingus, Glen Mingus, Floyd Rector, Lee Renner, Joe Brummett, and Billy Dean Baxter.

JOINS NAVY

J. C. Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Wheeler, enlisted in the U. S. Navy at Clovis Monday. He will report to Albuquerque for a physical prior to induction Monday next week.

THE TREBELAIRES ENTERTAIN

THE TREBELAIRES entertained on the amateur talent part of the Lions show. In black formals, the girls drew applause from an appreciative audience for their singing. They are Friona's best-known musical group, and have appeared on stage, radio and TV numerous times.

SECTION II THE FRIONA STAR

12 Attend Legion Meeting

Twelve persons from Friona were in Hereford over the weekend attending a meeting of the 12th district of the American Legion and Auxiliary. The conclave was conducted at the Hotel Jim Hill and the American Legion Hall on Saturday and Sunday.

Highlight of the meeting for the local group was its recognition for outstanding membership. Friona's quota for the past year was 86 members and it had 134. That was 156 per cent, the largest in the district, says Russell Massey, commander of the Friona post.

Featured speakers at the convention were Robert W. Sisson, manager of Veterans Administration regional office at Lubbock, and Paul Spillman, past district commander. Sisson spoke on Americanism and what the American Legion is doing. At the meeting the group adopted several resolutions. One was the urging of all district posts to carry out the Americanism theme and sponsor summer recreation programs, oratorical contests, and welfare work.

Also, they adopted a resolution to present to the National convention. It concerns making eligible for membership the veterans who have served overseas since the close of World War II. Presently, to be a member of the American Legion, one must have served overseas during either of the World Wars.

Attending the meeting from Friona were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Mingus, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brummett, Mr. and Mrs. Preach Collier, and Mr. and Mrs. Massey.

BAXTERS ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Baxter and Carolyn attended funeral services for W. S. Farmer, 83, of Allison, Texas, which were conducted at the Church of Christ in Belen, Oklahoma, Thursday afternoon. Farmer, who was Mrs. Baxter's grandfather, had visited here a number of times.

WHOOOPS! — Illustrating the delicate and refined dancing of the Boopsy Daisies at the Lions show Friday night is this priceless photo of four of the girls in action. In the lineup are Elvie Jennings, Granville McFarland, W. L. Edelman, and Frank Spring, though not necessarily in that order. See if you can get the sequence straight.

Something so priceless you give it away

Art Linkletter, famous TV personality, tells this story about faith. A little boy, busy with crayon and sketchbook, was asked what he was drawing.

"Just a picture of God," said the boy casually.

"Nobody knows how He looks," said Linkletter.

"They will," replied the boy, "when I get through."

What he lacked in ability, that boy made up in faith. The faith of children, once firmly founded, is a lasting faith. This is why it's vitally important that parents start early to give their children a faith to live by.

Only you can do this job as well as it must be done. No other provision you make for your family will ever take its place.

Worship together this week, every week, at your church or synagogue for a happier, more satisfying life all year long. Perhaps you don't know what God "looks" like now... but you will... when you get through.

Rootworms, Maggots, Wireworms Stopped By Seed Treatment

“Good control of corn rootworms, wireworms, and seed corn maggots can be obtained with Dieldrin, Lindane, or Heptachlor used as a seed treatment.” County Agent Joe Jones suggests as planting activity rises on area farms.

“Control of these soil insects is very important in getting up and keeping good stands,” he says. “The old wireworm seems to be the one in this area that gives the trouble, and farmers are reminded to treat their seed for insurance against losing stands.”

The cost of hybrid seed makes this even more important. Every year many farmers are forced to either replant or settle for poor stands which is unnecessary when proper seed treatment is carried out. Use 1 oz. actual Dieldrin or Lindane to 100 pounds corn seed or Heptachlor at the rate of 1 to 1 1/2 ozs. actual Heptachlor per 100 pounds of seed corn, advises the agent.

Use 2 ozs. of actual Dieldrin or Lindane per 100 pounds grain sorghum, wheat, rye, barley, or oat seed. Use Heptachlor at the rate of 2 to 3 ozs. actual Heptachlor per 100 pounds of grain sorghum, wheat, rye, barley, or oats.

Dieldrin, Lindane, or Heptachlor may be applied to seed whether or not they were treated previously or will be treated with a fungicide. Avoid over dosage of insecticide and always distribute well so each seed will be coated. Any method that will properly distribute insecticide can be used. Use concrete mixers, homemade barrel mixers or have seed treated commercially by people in that business.

When the seed are treated in a concrete mixer or homemade barrel-type mixer, sprinkle 1 pint of water on each 100 pounds of seed and mix to coat the seed with moisture. Then add the correct amount of insecticide to the seed and mix thoroughly.

CAUTION: Seed treated with insecticides must not be used for food or feed purposes. All recommendations are given in actual amounts: For example, 2 ozs. of 50 percent Dieldrin contains 1 oz. actual Dieldrin. For further information, go by and see your county agent.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

An interesting fact was called to our attention the other day about the effect organic matter has on soil temperature. Two temperature checks were made side by side.

One was on land which had had cotton burs applied, the other without. The soil temperature where burs and anhydrous ammonia were applied was 8 degrees F. higher. We also know that in soils with high organic matter there is an insulating effect in summer and soils are cooler, thus have less evaporation. Organic matter also improves the infiltration rate of the soil.

Conserve your organic matter. A. L. Black, chairman of the Parmer County SCD board of supervisors, and several Friona merchants interested in the promotion of the district and its objectives, including J. G. McFarland, Steve Bavousett, and Bill Nichols, attended a meeting in Dumas sponsored by the Texas Association of Soil Conservation Districts. A. L. tells us that they had an interesting meeting and enjoyed the trip.

The SCD office has some more help in measuring pipelines this month. John Burket, SCS aide from Canyon, is helping us two days a week. The district has two cooperators putting in bench leveling. W. P. McMimm is in the process of putting in seven more acres. When this is completed, he will have about 17 acres total. Also Thomas Lewellen is putting in about eight acres.

New cooperators with the district are: Thomas Lewellen, Gerald Gungman, Glenn Floyd, and Glen Stevick.

THE H. D. AGENT'S CORNER

Jimmie Lou Wainscott

Expecting the youngsters to help with work around the house this summer? If so, it will pay to give attention and patience to raising them in jobs they are to do, reminds Mrs. Eloise Johnson, extension family life specialist.

Children are often confused because adults are not consistent in teaching them to do things; not clear in the direction given. Children need to know why certain things should be done or why certain ways of doing things are better than others.

Patience pays — you might try his pattern to train children and others in doing a job. First, explain to the child exactly what he is to do, and how it is to be done — step by step. Work with him several times, helping as needed. Watch him do it alone, making suggestions as he works. Leave him while he does it.

Finally, it's important to praise him for good work or effort, so that he leaves a job with a feeling of satisfaction.

Garnish for Baked Ham

Golden canned cling peach halves are the perfect garnish for baked ham. Use their syrup to glaze the ham. Combine 1/2 cup peach syrup, 1 cup honey and 1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon and cloves. Simmer 10 minutes. Baste scored ham often with glaze during last half hour's baking.

Avocado and Fresh Fruit Cocktail Combine diced fresh avocados, fresh strawberry halves and diced apples. Sprinkle with fresh orange juice and serve in cocktail glasses. Makes a good start to any dinner party.

Golden canned cling peach halves, fresh pineapple spears sprinkled with chopped mint leaves, avocado crescents and whole unstemmed strawberries make a colorful fruit arrangement to serve with cottage cheese balls rolled in chopped walnuts. Dip the drained peaches and sliced avocado into fresh lime or lemon juice for extra flavor and to keep the delicate avocado from darkening.

Scrambled eggs and avocado make an interesting brunch. Stir cubed cream cheese and avocado balls into semi-cooked scrambled eggs. Finish cooking and spoon into hollowed toasted "poor boy" French rolls. Garnish with crumbled crisp cooked bacon.

For something different in picnic fare, try beef kabobs . . . You don't need a recipe. Just cut beef into inch-size chunks and stock an assortment of mushrooms, onions, tomatoes and what-have-you. Spear the ingredients alternately on metal skewers or long green sticks about one-fourth of an inch thick. Broil over hot coals until done. This way, everyone does his own cooking.

THE PARMER FARMER

Activity on all the area farms is heavy. Pre-irrigation, seedbed preparation, and even planting is keeping many a farmer's nose to the grindstone for long hours.

It is surprising to see what a difference there apparently is in the climatic conditions of northern and southern Parmer County. Lots of cotton has already been put to rest in the south, and very little planting of any crop has been done in the north. Thirty miles in a north-and-south direction sure does make the difference, it seems.

We have always felt that one of the prettiest spots in the county has been south from Bovina to the Oklahoma Lane area.

Good, level land, many fine homes, good farmers have turned what was once open prairie into a beautiful sight. That area is especially attractive right now, because as one drives along the road, the rich green wheat and alfalfa fields give color to the brown landscape that usually greets the eye this time of year.

In about ten miles, as one drives south from Running Water Draw, the land changes from heavy, clay-type soil to sandy loam. Somewhere along this road can be found soil to suit almost any farmer.

Heavy grain crops are raised in the northern "hardlands," while the loams to the south seem to be the pick of the cotton country. This diversity, in fact, typifies all of Parmer County. It's just that it's more noticeable in this spot than anywhere else, we feel.

To illustrate the plight that faces some communities of the Southwest in regard to a dependable water supply, let us consider the small city of Post, just off the Plains to the southeast.

The April 25th issue of the Post Dispatch, weekly newspaper in that city, has a lead story headlined, "City Faces Most Serious Water Shortage in History; Drilling Continues."

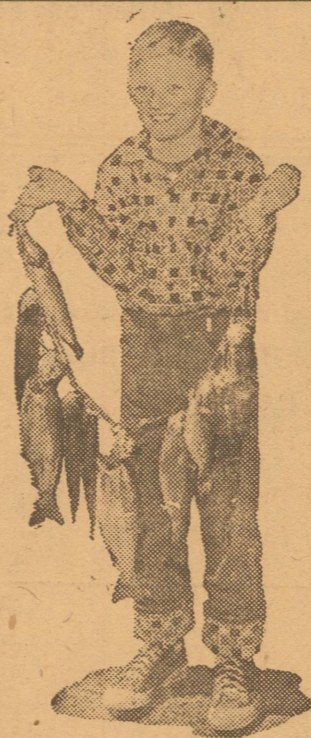

The wells that supply the city have been depleted. Production has dwindled to less than 800,000 gallons per day from 16 wells (a good 8-inch well will easily pump 1,000,000 gallons per day.) Post has just finished drilling three wells on a nearby plot of land leased for purposes of water development. Two were dry holes—the other "a 40-gallon-a-minute well," according to the Dispatch.

Of three drilled before that inside the city, two were dry and the other yielded less than 20 gallons per minute. The best well the city owns pumps 100 gallons per minute. "Even there," says the Dispatch, however, "there is only about two feet of water in the well, and the pump is setting on the bottom."

It's Fifteen To One For Advertising

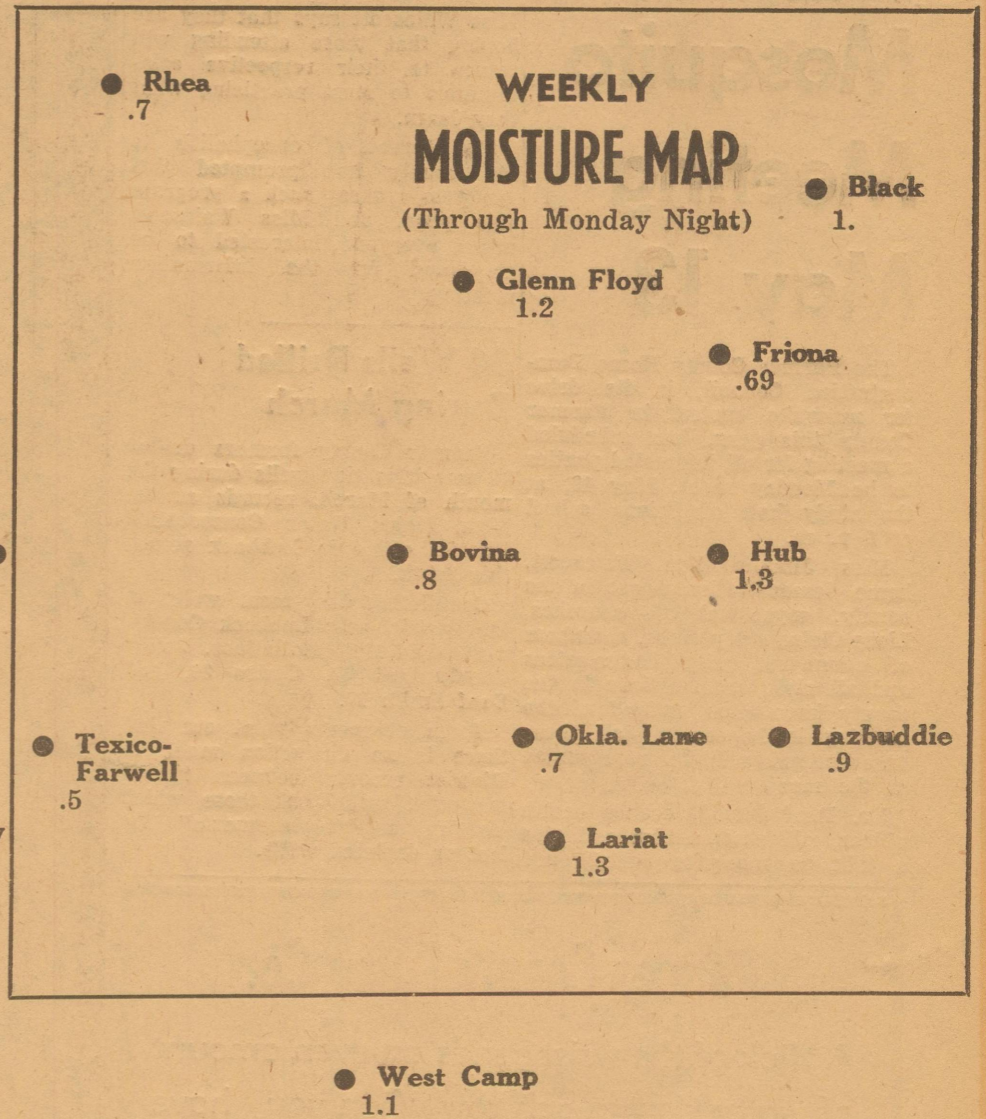

Two identical mattresses were placed side by side in a store. One bore a nationally advertised brand, the other a fictitious label. The power of advertising was proved by the sales results. The advertised brand outsold the other fifteen to one.

This boy is certainly proud of his string of fish — and who wouldn't be! You'll be proud, too, of the work that Adams Drilling Company does for you and your farm. Come in soon—let's talk irrigation!

Asphalt-Coat Sacks Get Thumbs-Down

A drive to knock out one of cotton's worst enemies was announced today by Gilbert Kaltwasser, president of the Parmer County Farm Bureau.

The farm leader urged all persons interested in the welfare of the cotton industry to join in the drive to eliminate the use of asphalt coated picksacks in harvesting cotton.

He said retail stores in the area are being urged not to stock the asphalt coated picksacks. He also asked farmers to let the retailer know their feelings in regard to this type sack.

The asphalt coated sack, he pointed out, is a major source of tar spots in cotton yarn and fabrics. Such fabrics often are downgraded and sell for from 10 to 20 percent less than normal value.

Although no part of this loss shows up on the farmer's invoice when he sells his cotton, he loses out the same. The mill must eventually reflect part of the loss back to the farmer in the price paid for cotton.

"If we do not continue our efforts to eliminate this sack," he said, "it is likely that its use will again increase." He said retail stores in each community should be contacted. "Urge stores not to stock asphalt coated sacks. Ask them to concentrate on selling plastic dot, plastic coated and plain duck sacks. That way, we'll all benefit," he stressed.

The purchase and use of the asphalt coated sack represented only from 5 to 8 percent of the total in 1956 as compared with from 45 to 50 percent the previous year. The Farm Bureau president said the reduction was due to the active efforts of a number of organizations, agencies and their leaders during the spring and summer of 1956. He called for the same cooperation in 1957.

David, our youngest, has been planning a fishing trip with his buddy Jake Lamb. They decided to leave in a day or two and David suddenly thought of John Bill and said, "Oh we can't go. John Bill is in school!" "Well that's too bad," Jake said, "We'll just have to call the whole thing off." After a minute or two David replied, "No we won't, we'll just send John Bill off to college."

All trucks and pickups belonging to the Parmer County Implement Company are equipped with two way radios with the long aeriels on them. Our daddy's car also has a radio in it. All this means better and faster service for our customers but sometimes we get in peculiar deals with the car. Our mother will be driving down the highway and a car speeds up behind—sees the aerial and slows down, then seeing it is not a police car, hurries by. The other day we were waiting for John Bill at the school and a first grader on his bicycle rode past and remarked, "He used to be the night watchman."

But he got over ambitious one day and built himself a log house out of these huge, snake-bit twigs. All went well until the swelling went out of the logs. He was sleeping inside at the time and the house shrank up and squeezed him to death.

Mosquito Meeting May 13

The Parmer County Home Demonstration Council, in its drive for mosquito control in Parmer County this year, has scheduled a meeting for all interested parties to be Monday night, May 13, at the study hall of Friona school at 8 p. m.

Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, home demonstration agent in the county, says that all churches, Lions Clubs, study clubs, chambers of commerce, city commissions and all civic organizations in the county have been notified of the meeting in hopes that all these organizations will be represented at the meet.

Dr. Paul Spring, county health officer, will show a film and give a talk on mosquito control and Miss Wainscott says that they are hoping that those attending will return to their respective communities to start practicing what they learn.

34 Wells Drilled During March

Parmer County farmers drilled 34 new irrigation wells during the month of March, records at the High Plains Water Conservation District office in Lubbock reveal this week.

Completing the most wells in the District was Lubbock County, which had 119 installations. Bailey County had 32, Castro 36, and Deaf Smith 19.

Farm observers point out that there is no distinction made in District records between "new" irrigation wells and those which classify as "replacements" for lost or depleted wells.

THAT TIME AGAIN — Cotton farmers have "planting fever," and a lot of the seed is already in the ground. This is a planting scene on the L. W. Routon farm in the Oklahoma Lane community. The hand has stopped his tractor to check how the planting operation is coming along.

troublesome one in the area, and considerable complaints were heard regarding 2-4D's use. The hormone, which sometimes drifted away from its intended resting place to a cotton field, stunted or altered the growth in a damaging manner. Tempers flared and suits were threatened.

The purpose of the law is to control the use of hormone-type herbicides so these unfortunate incidents won't happen. At least, their frequency will be greatly reduced.

Herbicides can't now be legally stored or transported with seed, fertilizer, or other supplies because of the danger of contamination. All spray must be screened with 75-mesh screen.

A cut-off valve must be used between the tank and the outlets. Maximum wind velocity is 10 miles per hour at time of application. Ground equipment outlet pressure is limited to 40 pounds.

Isolation for spraying (including potency of spray) is clearly set forth, and spacing must be maintained.

Records regarding the place where the herbicide was purchased, when and how much was used, and other data must be kept.

The law reads: "Any person violating any provision of the Texas Herbicide Law is guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $2,000, or confined to jail not more than 30 days or given both such fine and jail sentence."

sense any emotion which their parents feel, and for this reason mothers of small children should make an effort to feel as calm as possible at all times.

Tornadoes, like all other impending dangers, should be explained as fully as possible to preschool age children as well as to those who are a few years older. Unnecessary stress should not be put upon the possibility of a tornado striking your home. "Face your fear" is good advice whether that fear be of tornadoes, polio epidemics, or any of the other fears that come upon us.

Although spring cleaning isn't nearly as popular with most homemakers as it was with their mothers and grandmothers, it is still good to take time off occasionally and do more than the routine cleaning.

Right now would be a good time to clean up and remove all winter rubbish that has accumulated in the back of your garage, in the closets, attics, or store rooms, and by so doing remove some of the fire hazards. It is also a good time to take care that all tools are properly taken care of.

If you leave a hoe, rake, or some other garden tool lying where you finish working with it, another member of the family, or maybe even you, could trip over it, step on it, or be injured by coming in contact with it accidentally.

It is surprising to read the statistics on the number of accidents that happen in American homes each year. Most of them are directly or indirectly caused by carelessness on someone's part. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," is certainly true when applied to safety in the home.

Have you received merchandise through the mail which you did not order and do not want? Several publications in our area have carried reports of readers receiving razor blades, books, socks, handkerchiefs, and other items in this manner.

According to the information we have been able to get on the subject, you are not obligated to pay for the merchandise unless you use it. Under these circumstances, the proper thing to do is to write the sender that the merchandise has been received and at the same time inform the firm that you do not want it and request that postage be sent you so that you can return it.

If you want "something extra" to serve for dinner or to take to the next covered dish dinner you are invited to, try this recipe for Mexican Corn Relish. Heat one 1 lb. can whole kernel corn; drain and cool. Combine with 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped pimento, and 1/2 cup French dressing. Chill several hours, then serve.

If your dog is bitten by a poisonous snake, enlarge the wound to encourage bleeding, apply a tourniquet to prevent the spread of the poison and take the animal to a veterinarian as quickly as possible.

Set to Spray? Just a Minute!

Rains have come, the weather's warming, and weeds by the millions are sprouting on area farms. Even though crops have hardly gotten a start, farmers' thoughts are already turning to weed control, which sometimes is a big problem.

A little caution is in order, however, and especially this year, since Parmer County has come under a special law governing the sale and use of herbicides. The county invoked the law last fall, and most farmers are only remotely acquainted with its provisions.

Briefly told, the law means that there's more to worry about when spraying one's crops than just the neighbor's ire if some of the 2-4D should drift over on his cotton. This is a law that has teeth in it. A farmer would need the services of a patient attorney if he expected to know all the details of the law. Fortunately, however, it won't be necessary to go to this extreme to feel safe.

Main points to remember:

1. Everyone must get a permit and pay a fee of ten cents per acre if he applies herbicides on areas larger than 10 acres.
2. Everyone selling hormone herbicides must have a dealer's license.
3. Everyone doing commercial work must have a bond for himself and his equipment.
4. Equipment must be inspected before used on planes every 30 days and on ground equipment once a year.
5. Everyone using herbicides must have access to a wind gauge and comply with specified wind velocities.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

Have you seen the new plastic collanders for use in the home kitchen? They are very attractive and come in several different colors. Each collander has a companion mixing bowl which allows freshly washed foods to drain thoroughly without tying up space at the sink?

Since spring of the year always brings with it tornadoes to some sections of the Texas Panhandle, all homemakers should be on the alert for any approaching danger. It is also important that care be taken to watch with caution. One of the most essential things that anyone should do in any emergency is to remain as calm as possible and face whatever dangers arise without exaggeration.

If you have a storm cellar, make use of it if a tornado is sighted. Homemakers should learn to recognize a storm cloud and should not be scared of every cloud that happens to drift across the sky. Small children seem to

NEWS FROM THE
FARM BUREAU
By RAYMOND EULER

We would again like to remind you wives that you can make claim for the five cent per gallon tax refund on the gasoline your husband uses in his tractors and other farm machinery not used on public roads. Several thousand dollars are forfeited each year by Parmer County farmers because of neglect in making claims promptly. The total refund in the county still amounts to close to $30,000 annually.

Rhea Farm Bureau will have a good program this Friday night. "You and The Weather," a colorful movie that shows how forecasts are made, and many other interesting facts about the weather, is the feature attraction. Cartoons will also be shown. Bert Shackelford is the host providing the educational and entertaining features. Franklin Bauer is the local chairman. We know that the folks out there would be glad to see you as a visitor to one or more of their meetings.

A lady who made a rather pointed survey of rules and regulations in a well-known chain of restaurants recently, reports these, among other facts: Meat servings are measured on a standard basis for dinners to weigh three ounces. One pat of butter, with which we are all familiar, is the standard serving with any meal. Milk is often served in non-appetizing thick warm glasses at 10 to 15 cents per eight ounce serving. This brings in $30 per hundred pounds of milk. The lady claims, and apparently she is right, that such rationing of the most desirable foods began during world war two, and that because of lack of demand, no change has been made except in the price charged. She also said that if all restaurants would serve two, instead of one pat of butter, the surplus would disappear in less than a year's time. This would cost the servers of the meals less than one cent per meal.

To the above we would add that it seems a very small thing to request that restaurants in such areas as this should serve butter and post signs to that effect, rather than the cheap substitute. And milk, if offered as enthusiastically, would sell in place of much of the coffee from Brazil.
CONSIDER THIS: A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance.—Prov. 15:13.

Date Set For Silver Tea

The National THDA Silver Tea will be held from 2 to 4 p. m. Friday, May 10, at the club house in Friona. One of the features of the program will be a style show. All garments which were made in the semi-tailoring workshops will be modeled beginning at 3 p. m.

Displays will be shown of different items which have been made pertaining to club work. The club house will be open Friday morning so that the displays can be worked out. All home demonstration clubs in the county will participate in the style show and display.

Mrs. Dee Chitwood, county HD president, urges all members to attend and take part in this meeting.

Miss Wainscott To Attend Meet

Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Parmer County home demonstration agent, will be in Panhandle on May 6 and 7 to attend a district meeting of agents from District I.

The local agent says that emphasis of this meeting will be on foods.

Feed and water and their containers, contaminated by the pus are considered by veterinarians to be the means of spreading jowl abscesses in a herd of swine.

Spuds Sprout in Lariat Area

The Lariat country of southern Parmer and northern Bailey counties, always regarded as good vegetable country because of its sandy soil, temperate climate and abundant water, will be in the potato business again this year.

Buck Gregory, a farmer southwest of Lariat, put a packing shed in the little community on Highway 70-84 two years ago, and after a drab season in 1955, "struck it" last year with the best prices in history.

Gregory, who has been growing potatoes since 1952, is his own best customer, and in the strictest sense, doesn't operate a commercial shed. The shed on the Santa Fe siding is primarily for his own use, though some other growers make use of the facilities occasionally.

For instance, Gregory has seeded 125 acres of potatoes this spring, and has supplied seed stock for about another 100 acres of spuds on the farms of his neighbors.

That's about the same acreage as was grown for the shed last year. "I figure that raising potatoes is like raising hogs," says the easy-talking Texan. "You've got to get in and stay in every year if you figure to make any money at it."

As for the spud crops since he's been in the business, it's been "on" and "off" price-wise every other year for Gregory. All in all, though, he has done pretty well. Last year was especially fruitful when spuds sold all the way from $5 to $8. Gregory has planted Pontiac, Lasoda, Sheridan, and Russet potatoes, all of which, save the Russets, are of the red variety. Three cars of seed are being shipped to Lariat now for planting in late June for the fall crop. These will be white spuds.

Preparatory to planting, Gregory's flat broke, floated, and listed his land. He did not pre-irrigate his land, which is unusual. "We didn't have time to get everything done this year," he says.

A 500-pound application of 16-20-0 fertilizer was made on the spuds, most of which went where cotton grew last year. Planting rate was 1500 pounds per acre. The crop was watered up, and now, about six weeks after planting, it's sprouting nicely.

As the potatoes progress, Gregory is prepared to dust for sillet bugs and blight. Potatoes aren't the only thing that Gregory is interested in. He has his eye on the onion business, but figures this isn't the year to take the plunge. He has grown some lettuce in previous years, but doesn't plan to plant any of that this year, either.

One thing the Lariat man will try this year that is a fairly recent innovation on the Plains is to store his fall potato crop. He has erected a 40x60-foot steel barn near the farm home, and has insulated the walls with a fiber-glass material.

It won't be possible to store potatoes during the summer months, he feels, but for the fall crop, it will be possible to keep them in the barn should market conditions not be ideal at the moment of harvest. Cooler weather will prevent deterioration of the crop, but the insulation won't let the spuds freeze, he thinks.

Falls killed 20,000 persons in 1955. Only traffic accidents took more TATERS-TO-BE — Buck Gregory, Lariat area spud grower, takes a careful look at a newly-sprouted potato plant on his farm. These were seeded on March 10, and are now up and coming.

District 4-H Contest Saturday In Canyon

The annual district 4-H Club contests are to be held Saturday, May 4, at West Texas State College, Canyon.

Parmer County's only participant in the contests will be Miss Barbara Rea of the Bovina Senior 4-H Club. Miss Rea will give a demonstration on "Milk For All" in the individual dairy foods demonstrations. She will show how to prepare barbecue hamburger patties using powdered milk. No boys from the county clubs will enter the contests this year.

Chiefs Take Lead In District Race

After defeating the Farwell Steers, 6-2, here Tuesday afternoon the Friona Chiefs have taken the lead in the district 1-A baseball race. The Chiefs opened the district campaign last week, defeating Morton 7-3 and losing to Springlake 6-5.

That gives them a 2-1 conference record, in what appears to be a well-balanced district. Other team records are Farwell 1-1, Morton 1-1, and Springlake 1-2. Springlake and Morton played Tuesday and if Morton won it is tied with Friona for the lead.

In Tuesday's game with Farwell the Chiefs had a four-run inning in the fourth to overcome a 1-0 Farwell advantage and take the win. Three singles and one Farwell error accounted for Friona's big inning.

Leading 4-2 going into the bottom of the sixth inning, the Chiefs picked up two insurance runs to ice the game.

Charles Hough was the winning pitcher for Friona but had some relief from Clements in the fifth. The two pitchers gave up only six hits. Donnie Carpenter went the distance for Farwell and gave up seven hits.

In the Chiefs' first district game last week, Charles Hough and Wesley Barnett teamed up to allow Morton only five hits as the local team took the 7-3 win. Weldon Tatum did the catching chores.

Then on Friday, in the second game of the campaign, the Chiefs committed seven errors as they let Springlake take a 6-5 decision. Jones was the winning pitcher for the Wolverines.

Tomorrow (Friday) the Chiefs continue their quest for the district championship, going to Morton for a game, and next Tuesday they travel to Springlake for a second encounter with the Wolverines.

Band Ranks High

Friona's high school band participated in the regional band contests at Canyon last Friday, and came home with some top ratings. The overall band received a first division rating in sight reading, second in concert, and was the third highest ranking band in Class A.

Class A bands rated above Friona were Panhandle and Memphis. J. D. Fry, band instructor, says that the local band also ranked higher than many of the larger schools which participated.

Also, several individuals from Friona received top ratings. P. Cranfill won a first division rating in student conducting, Phyllis Treider first in flute solo, and Charles Beaton, good in trombone solo.

The regional meet wound up competition for the high school band, and next thing on the agenda for them is the spring concert, May 17.

Also, coming up in the near future for the junior high school band and choir is area contests on May 11 at Plainview, Fry says.
