Americans eat an average of 139 pounds of meat per capita, both fresh and cured. Two-thirds of it is produced west of the Mississippi river and two-thirds of it is eaten east of the river. City people eat more fresh meat per capita than country people and pay at retail something like three times the price per pound for which the producer sells it on foot. In other words, the farmer who raises meat can eat it for about one-third the price to his city neighbor, yet eats less of it.

Fresh meat, milk and eggs are bone-and-muscle building foods which are ready for human consumption where they are produced without going to a factory for processing. By all the rules of reason producers might be expected to use them in the diet to the utmost extent of appetite and the demands of health. It is a queer mental quirk, therefore, which stints their use by those who produce them and they are looked upon mainly as something to sell, with which to buy less palatable and more expensive foods.

The other day, in a public meeting, a Texas man said there were 4,000 children in his county for whom milk, butter and cheese have to be imported. He might have added that the same children probably have fresh meat very seldom. The town children can have only what their parents are able to buy, at retail prices, but no farm child needs be denied these wholesome foods. On the average farm enough feed can be grown on a few acres to supply the family's meat and milk needs to repletion. On many farms enough grass goes to waste for want of animals to eat it at the right time to raise a flock of sheep or two or three beef animals.

The old-time "beef club" by which several families kept themselves in fresh meat the year round was an institution of the pioneer days, and is still used in some communities. Modern refrigeration permits a single family to kill a lamb or a calf at any time and use it as needed. The steam pressure canner has made it possible for any farm family to preserve meat at any time, after using as much as possible in fresh form.

The present crop plans call for the planting of more feed crops, and these crops must be fed to livestock. There is no restriction whatever on the production and use of all the dairy, meat and poultry products the family can use and many a cotton family has its first real opportunity to produce and use its full needs in these wholesome and delicious foods. There is no restriction on the sale of meat, poultry or eggs. These will be used to enhance the cash income.

If every farm family raised and ate its share of fresh meat the livestock population could be greatly increased without sending any more animals to market than are now sold annually. Let's get our share.

Contract For P. O. May Let This Month

Master James H. Dallas informs us that he had a letter from Tom Connally that the plans for the new post office building, were about completed, according to information obtained from the post office department, and that he believed department would be ready to advertise for bids in the near future. Anyway, we know quite a few wagers where that the postoffice will be where it is in Jan. 1, 1939, but Mr. Farley's Boss here is not one of those who believe that way. He thinks when a Clause Comes again, that the man will slip them a brand new building in the sox.

Miss Geraldine Youngblood has been visiting her cousin, Miss Janet Youngblood.

Methodist Revival to Start Sunday A. M.

A revival is planned for next week, beginning Sunday morning with Dr. O. P. Clark, presiding elder of the Lubbock district doing the preaching. Dr. Clark is the outstanding preacher of the north west Texas Conference. He has been heard a number of times at the local church always with profit and pleasure by the congregation. You will enjoy his preaching. The pastor has known Brother Clark for many years and unhesitatingly recommends him for his high Christian ideals and his ability as an evangelistic preacher. In fact the first sermon Brother Clark ever preached was in a meeting for the presiding elder in Erath County. Brother Clark has spent his entire ministry within the bounds of the Northwest Texas Conference and is today the leading official of the church. No better man could be secured anywhere for our meeting. Failing to attend regularly through out the week will deprive you of a great privilege and blessing. All church members of all churches and others who are not members or Christians are earnestly and cordially invited to make this meeting their own and secure all the benefits for themselves. The best way to do that is to attend the Sunday morning service and then continue right on through the week.

Brother B. L. Nance of Phoenix, Arizona is the personal worker and visitor with the pastor, having arrived last Monday from Hobbs, N. M. where he with the brother of our presiding elder has held one of the greatest meetings in recent years. This man of God is an indefatigable worker and the most gracious visitor to your home or office it has ever been our lot to know. You will love Brother Nance, welcome him in your home and regret when he leaves you. Brother Nance has led more men and women, boys and girls to a better life than any other man known.

Services each week day at 10:00 a. m. and at 8:00 p. m.

Eldorado Publisher Visitor Here Monday

County Judge C. S. McKinney, of Eldorado, was a business visitor in our city the first of the week, as he wanted to contract one of our citizens who owned land in this county, and wished to make final payment. He was a pleasant visitor at the Herald office.

Judge McKinney came to Schleicher County several years ago, and purchased the county seat paper, the Eldorado Success, which he successfully conducted until he became county judge, then employed a man to handle the printing office for him.

Judge McKinney stated that he originated in North Carolina, and had worked all over the Atlantic seaboard. Coming to Texas, the last paper he was employed on the Brownsville Herald, on which he was a linotype operator.

State AAA Committee Named By Secretary

COLLEGE STATION—The membership of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee and Advisory Board, which represents Texas farmers and ranchmen in their dealings with the AAA program, has been announced by secretary of Agriculture H. A. Wallace, according to word received by E. H. Holmgren, administrative officer in charge of the state AAA office at Texas A. & M. College. The committee and advisory board will consist of C. L. Thomas, Pampa, V. L. Cade, Slaton, J. H. Watson, New Castle; B. B. Ingle, Grandview; Donald L. Cothran, Caviness; Howard T. Kingsbery, Santa Anna; F. B. Seale, Benohley; John Weatherly, Appleby; R. M. Korth, Ecleto; Geo. Slaughter, Wharton; A. E. Gates, Laredo; and W. H. Williamson, director of the Texas Extension Service.

Slaughter will serve as chairman of the committee. Every type and class of farming and ranching has representation on the board, Holmgren pointed out. The committee, as in the past, will hold regular meetings at A. and M. College during the third week of each month, and also will be subject to called meetings.

As in 1937, the Wednesday after the third Monday of each month has been set aside to hear farmers and ranchmen who may wish to meet with the committee to state special cases or conditions.

Topping For Highway 84 Has Been Started

The work of placing a seal top on highway No. 84 west of Tahoka was begun early this week. Seventeen car loads of gravel arrived Monday and are now being unloaded and distributed along the highway. Quite a crew of hands are at work on the job. It is contemplated that this work will be done rapidly and that only a few weeks will be required to complete the job.

County Judge P. W. Goad also received information from Assistant District Engineer of Lubbock early this week that he had assurance from Washington that a work order for construction work on highway 84 east of Tahoka would be issued within the next ten days provided the right-of-way had been procured and the state highway commission was ready to proceed.

Judge Goad says that deeds have been procured to nearly all of the right-of-way and that condemnation proceedings have been begun to procure the remainder of it. Work should begin on this portion of the road at an early date, therefore.—Tahoka News.

Lubbock Business Men Lunch Here Thursday

About 48 Lubbock business and professional men, making a tour of the South Plains Oil Fields, lunched here at noon, Thursday. They came via Levelland and the Hoekley-Cochran fields. They were to visit the Seminole fields, the Wasson fields west of Seagraves, and the Allred and Bennett fields in Yoakum county.

While here, Chas. A. Guy, Publisher of the Avalanche-Journal and a Mr. Brock of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce paid the Herald a short but pleasant call. Well, anyway, Sharley and Andy Jack had time to talk politics just a wee bit.

Yoakum County Man Killed By Lightning

While Curtis C. Duncan, 42, and wife were driving in their chickens from the storm and shower last Thursday afternoon, at their home about 12 miles northeast of Plains, about 6 p. m., he was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

Funeral under direction of the Brownfield Funeral Home, was conducted at the Plains Baptist church by the pastor, last Friday afternoon about 3 p. m., and the body laid to rest in the Plains cemetery. Besides his widow, he leaves three children.

Remember the Boy Scout Caddies

Several of the local Boy Scouts are qualified to act as caddies for local golfers, and as these boys are very anxious to pick up a few extra dimes, use them if possible.

They are manly fellows, always polite, and can see your needs almost by the time you anticipate them. Lajune Lincoln showed us his card, and we learn that several have them.

County Atty. Has Small Chance to Save Eye

Garrett Daugherty called Tuesday afternoon and stated to the Herald that he had just received a card from Mrs. Burton G. Hackney, that her husband was now a patient at the Medical Arts Hospital, and will state that should anyone wish to send her or Burton a cheer card, it will reach them at room 1722 in that building at Dallas. She reported that Burton was becoming quite discouraged.

He is under the care of a Dr. Cary, who will try in a few days with an operation in an endeavor to save part of the vision of the affected eye. But should it appear that there is a possibility of the other eye becoming infected, the diseased eye will have to be removed.

Part of Burton's despondency, it seems, is a fear that the people of the county will wonder why he is not on duty. Well, the best of us have our troubles, and the Herald for one, and we believe that nine-tenths of the citizenship of the county will agree that we are going to be very patient with Burton and wife in their affliction.

Further, we believe that the praying people of the county, and that's about all of them, will remember them in their petitions.

Interesting Card at Venetian Arena Wed.

Lack of time permits us to give only a brief sketch of the fight program presented Wednesday night at the Venetian Arena.

In the opening round of the preliminary bout, it appeared as though James Cotton was due to find some tough competition in J. W. Thompson, Houston, but Cotton's long left began working in the next round and from then on when Thompson opened up to hit he found himself walking backward. The fight was stopped at the end of the third round.

A. C. Curtis, local slugger, absorbed lots of punishment to win a decision in the 8-round semi-final over Slim Maddox, tall, eccentric fighter from Dallas.

Ed Turner, promising young fighter from Pecos, Texas, proved himself much too much for Jelly Harry of Odessa. Smiling all the time, Turner used both hands with equal effort to lay Harry away in the third round of the scheduled ten round main event.

Arrangements are being made for a return match between Nick Santos and Woodie Windham for the main event next Wednesday night's card.

The New Telephone Directories Delivered

Finally after so much delay the new telephone directories have been turned over to the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co., here to be distributed out of Brownfield, Seagraves, Meadow and Ropes exchange. The delay was partly the fault of both the company as well as the Herald, as there were cuts tied up in the printing of the directories at other point that we just had to wait until we could get them.

Anyway the directories are out, and the officials of the company seemed to be well pleased with our efforts to give them as neat directories as possible. The Herald appreciates the fact that they have expressed their approval of it.

We have always found it easy and pleasant to do business with the Southwestern Associated folks and want them to know that we appreciate that.

Formal Opening of Swim Pool Sunday

Our old friend, W. H. Harris announces the formal opening of the Swimming Pool for the season, at one o'clock Sunday afternoon. He stated that he had secured the services of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wallace, who are both expert swimmers, to look after the comfort and convenience of customers, as well as watch for accidents. Mr. Harris will continue to supervise the operation of the pool.

Mr. Harris stated that the pool was clean, and would be kept that way at all times. Special prices will be put on for the Sunday opening for adults as well as children. If you prefer, bring your own suit, or they will rent you one. Also, inquire about season tickets.

Miss Margaret Bell is enjoying a summer visit at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bell.

A dispatch from Chicago says, "too much rain worrying farmers." There are some 2000 or 3000 farmers in this section that would like to be worried a bit with some rain.

Speaking of the Texas Parade of candidates with names similar to the great and near great, the old Sooner state has us skint in more ways than a farmer can whip a mule. For instance, they have running in Oklahoma, a Daniel Boone, a Patrick Henry, a Will Rogers, a Joe E. Brown, a Robert Burns, and not to let Utah outdo them, they have a Brigham Young on their ballot.

EDS

Well, the college boys and girls are home again, and we appreciate that fact. They are a jolly, optimistic bunch that seems always to add new life blood to the community, but they are useful in many ways. They are useful about the homes, the stores, the Sunday Schools and the church work. They are full of pep and rearing to go into anything they undertake. They are the salt of the earth, and we are glad they are home for a short season.

By the way several have told us on the streets of late that they enjoyed our writup of our trip last month to Pampa. Indeed, we have had some letters to that effect, but not so with our daughter, Mrs. Herman Trigg, who burns us up with an epistle telling us that with the two column useup, we didn't tell who we were visiting in Pampa. Well, now, we thought that everyone who is personally acquainted with the family would understand that we were up there to visit our baby daughter, and we were also just as sure that others wouldn't give a wrap who we were visiting.

Several of our neighboring newspapers gave the Friday before last sandstorm that rolled up in black billows, and lasted about an hour a great write up, and succeeded well. We enjoyed the glowing account and at last one intimated that Almighty was riding high, wide and handsome on the storm to inspire humanity. Wonder if he thinks that God was riding that storm over in Lynn Co. a month ago that killed a lot of people and destroyed their all regardless of whether they were Christians or infidels? It seems to us that a lot of people easily get the law of nature and the law of God mixed.

Recently our minister where we attend church wrote up an article daring us to print it, if we didn't attend church the next Sunday, stating that we had not been to church since our wife left for California. It was hung on the hook, but evidently the linotyper thought it a joke, and didn't use it. But now that we have been to church we will just bet a doughnut to a ginger cake that the wife has not exceeded that record since she has been away. Does the preacher want to bet. But there is no excuse on earth why a well person should not attend church, and we are not offering any.

The Canal Winchester, Ohio Times sent us a marked copy of their paper this week, in which they copied our article of recent date about the much traveling of the Plains Seniors, and especially their long jaunt this year. After making some comment about the matter, the publishers, and editors, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Gaymon gives the Plains lads and lassies of the 1939 senior class a pressing invitation to visit Beautiful Ohio next year, and on to Washington and other interesting eastern points. Will state that Mr. and Mrs. Gaymon own a very valuable track of land in west Terry, and have made many trips down here. We are sure that any bunch of people, whether of school age or not, would enjoy seeing the great state of Ohio.

It has been announced by the highway department after trials and much study by the public safety department, that a speed of 60 miles per may be allowed on Texas roads, outside of the city limits. We Texans used to call Arkansas people slow and ignorant, but they removed the limit long ago on their paved highways, and they have less wrecks than we, even if they do let cows graze the right of ways. That old 40 mile an hour limit was made back in the days of the model T, and is still holding up the traffic, or on the other hand causing most everyone to become a law breaker, because the modrn car is so built that what one calls a slow cruising speed gets up to 50 miles or better. We don't believe in reckless driving, but when you try to make a journey with the 20, 30, and 40 mile-ders blocking the road, it becomes more hazardous than if all were moving along near the same speed.

Misses Betty and Ruth Suddarth, accompanied by their father from O'Donnell were guests of the W. H. Dallas family Sunday.

Mrs. Clyde Cave, little daughter, Joan and Peggy Bailey, are vacationing in Ruidosa, N. M.

BIRTH OF A SONG

WAITING FOR THE ROBERT E. LEE
By L. Wolfe Gilbert and Lewis F. Muir

From ASCAP Files
By Joseph R. Flesler and Paul Carruth

GILBERT was born Louis Wolf in Odessa, Russia, and adopted his present name years later for theatrical purposes. He was a "name" act in vaudeville for years.

At fourteen he left Philadelphia for New York with actor Thomashefsky's nephew, but Uncle advised them against acting. Gilbert became a copy boy on the New York Post, but the theatre was in his blood.

Playing a burlesque show, he wrote his first song; the pendulum swung him back to newspaper work, and he wrote the first Broadway column for the old New York Clipper.

Caustic criticism of composer Lewis F. Muir brought that rate subscriber to Gilbert's office, but he departed to become a collaborator.

A few days later, they had written "Waiting For The Robert E. Lee," but the publisher did not keep them waiting very long. He did not like the song.

Gilbert left in such a hurry, he forgot his music, and by the time he had returned, the publisher had changed his mind. The song became a great hit.

Over eight hundred published songs were written by Gilbert in the years that followed. Many of them were written for the moment, doubtless reflecting Gilbert's newspaper training.

In the highest rank of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, Gilbert enjoys protection and payment for the public performance for profit of his entire repertoire.

HARMONY—

Our community was visited by a great electrical display last Sunday night that promised much but only gave us about one fifth of an inch of rain that was badly needed, but it cooled the air, laid the dust and will help the grass of the pastures which was almost dead. The attendance at Sunday School was good last Sunday. You are invited to come and be with us.

It was reported that the following families of our community have the measles, Messrs. George Murry, Walter Jones and Bill Dorman.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Whitte departed from Lubbock Sunday afternoon where Mr. Wilhite has employment during his vacation.

DR. JAMES E. POPE
Colorado Building, Washington, D. C.

Washington, D. C. Nov. 20, 1940—The menacing battle of Japan and the Nazi Government are patrolling the waters outside of San Francisco and New York, but our people are not making a show of patriotic insanity, nor parading their maudlin love for home country—thanks to compelling and suppressing energies of our Minister of propaganda, Hon. Sherman Minton. The country is not all excited or upset over the impending national catastrophe—simply unaware of impending catastrophe. We are not acting unseemingly or clamoring for details and gulping down rumors, like we would have done back in 1933—simply because details and rumors have been effectively suppressed.

The Minister of Propaganda very graciously ruled that no good could come from an outflux of unnecessary publicity, that no possible benefit would accrue to the government for the populace to be stampeded by a lot of screaming headlines and frenzied by-lines playing up the Japs' threat to suddenly and precipitously return to us all that scrap iron and metal we let them have in 1937 and '38—in the form of bombs from Japanese fighting planes over our Pacific coast, cities including Hollywood.

What Does A Bank's Statement of Condition Show

Bank statements are divided in two parts, "Assets" and "Liabilities." One of the most important items in the statement is the amount the bank owes to depositors. Of equal importance are the assets of the bank with which to meet these obligations to depositors.

The chief debt of a bank is the amount of deposits of its customers. Its chief resources for paying these debts are usually cash, deposits in other banks, loans, government bonds and other readily marketable securities.

A bank's next obligation is to its stockholders for the money they have invested in the ownership of the bank. This item is listed on a bank statement as "capital." Capital, surplus and undivided profits constitute added protection to depositors.

old iron and metal the people of the U. S. had sold to the Mikado's war lords dirt cheap—or cheap and dirty—and it had to be utilized. So what? Hitler long waited to strut his swastika and Nazi uniforms in conquered America territory, and the Jap had since time immemorial, coveted a foothold in this country. The Japs mistrusted Hitler, but venture had its glamorous aspects, they made a trade.

While the Japs know Hitler as a holy terror in his dealings with small unarmed democracies, they suspect he is a coward and afraid to engage a foe near his own strength. On more occasions than one, when it came to the draw or the other fellow moved toward his hip pocket, the Nazi chiefton had tried to laugh things off. And the Orientals were a bit fearful that Nazi fight promoters may have been over optimistic in their views and assurances that the Americans were too intent on good neighbor ideology to really fight. She seems to remember having heard at one time that while the people of the United States have a slovenly way of drifting and dreaming, we also have a nasty habit of waking up at precisely the wrong moment, and that when we do fight we mess things up terribly. But aggressor nations must take chances, so Japan figured, and she teams in with Hitler—in their fervent but secret hope that nobody fumbles or frets us into a scrapping mood. What the Sons of Heaven dread most—as does Hitler, when he is sober—is our "God-given instinct to shoot" in a pinch—and the disquieting possibility that we may not observe the simple ethics of stopping when the other fellow suddenly becomes ready and anxious to quit.

I notice in an exchange a very sad case of insanity in a young girl. It says: "The doctors don't know what her trouble is. She stays at home doing simple tasks; she doesn't talk cross to her parents; she is nice to elderly people who visit in her home; the poor thing even likes to sew and she makes her own clothes; she will go into the kitchen and prepare a good meal and she washes her own hair instead of going to a beauty parlor to have it done. HOW WAS THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER ELECTED?

France originated the idea of honoring an unknown soldier as a symbol of all those who lost their lives in defense of their country. Other nations soon followed her example.

On September 9, 1921, in compliance with a joint resolution of Congress, the Secretary of War instructed the quartermaster general of the Army to select from the unidentified American dead the body of a member of the American Expeditionary Forces to typify the Americans who lost their lives in the World War.

The selection was to be made so as to preclude the remotest possibility of future identification as to his name, rank, organization, service or the battlefield on which he fell.

Four unidentified bodies were exhumed from four different cemeteries— from the cemeteries at Meuse-Argonne, St. Mihiel, Somme and Aisne-Marne. Every precaution was taken to make certain that these bodies were those of members of the Expeditionary Forces who had been killed in battle. The cause of death was apparent from gunshot wounds on the body, and the uniform, equipment and original burial place determined that the person belonged to the American Expeditionary Forces, but there was absolutely no evidence or clue to his identity.

These four bodies after being embalmed and placed in similar caskets were placed in small improvised chapel in the city hall at Chalons-sur-Marne, France.

On October 24, 1921, Sergeant Edward Younger, who was chosen from the American soldiers present, went into the chapel alone and designated one of the four bodies as the unknown American by placing a small spray of white roses upon the casket.

The body was then immediately placed in a specially prepared casket and conveyed to the United States in the U. S. S. Olympia. After lying the state in the Capitol in Washington the unknown soldier was interred in front of the Memorial Amphitheater in Arlington National Cemetery on Armistice Day, 1921, with solemn ceremonies.

MISSOURI TOWN IS FIGHTING REMOVAL OF AUSTIN'S BODY

PTOSI, Mo., April 22—Determined the body of this mining center's founder, Moses Austin, shall remain in a shrine here, city officials promised today a fight in the courts to prevent its removal to Austin, Tex., where his son is buried.

The son, Stephen F. Austin, was the founder of Texas' Capitol city.

Mayor W. L. Edmonds said on attempt by Thurlow B. Weed of Austin to exhume the body had been blocked by official action of the city council at an emergency session. The mayor and City Marshal C. J. Richardson discovered the attempted exhumation and ordered the grave restored to its original condition.

Weed, who said he represented the Texas Historical and Landmark Commission, asserted he had authorization from descendants of Stephen F. Austin.

Mrs. L. J. Dunn and Mrs. L. M. Rogers entertained the G. A. S. and Y. W. A.'s, Baptist young people's societies with a lawn party last Thursday evening.

Mrs. C. S. Cardwell, accompanied by her granddaughter, Francis Joyce Rambo, left Wednesday morning on a vacation trip. They will visit Mrs. Cardwell's son, B. C. and family of Lubbock, then on to Norton, Kans. to visit her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Perry.

Miss Marguerite Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bell who teaches in the Lubbock schools, is home for the summer.

Mrs. W. A. Bell has for her guests her brother Mr. R. T. Lively, of Dallas, and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Ann Quinlan, of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Harrell were among the visitors here Sunday from Levelland. They were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Chisholm. We noted that they had a new baby, but didn't learn whether it was a boy or girl.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Tech College, 67, is seriously ill at one of the Lubbock hospitals. He fell in a faint while at breakfast, Tuesday.

BANDY'S PRODUCE

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

By Julian Capers, Jr.

Austin—The temperature of the weather and the Governor's race both mounted this week, as Earnest Thompson charged in a Lockhart speech that Attorney General Bill McCraw "bungled" the Lone Star gas rates cut for a million Texas consumers. As Thompson made the charge, the U. S. Supreme Court denied McCraw's motion for a rehearing on the case. McCraw, in turn, issued a four hundred word denial, asserting that the case was lost in the lower courts before he ever became attorney general, and declaring the state will win the rate reduction yet.

"VERNEST" OUT OF LUCK

There was every indication that "Vernest" O. Thompson, the Dallas filling station employee who seeks a position on the ballot, will not get his name on the ballot—at least not that way. Influential members of the State Democratic Executive committee, of which Myron Blalock, of Marshall, is chairman, were preparing this week-end to adopt a "resolution of policy", declaring the committee will not certify any candidate whose name is entered "with palpable intent to defraud the voters and make a joke of the Democratic Executive committee." Meanwhile, the Dallas News dug up a story to the effect that "Vernest O. Thompson" and had never gone by the name of "Vernest," and had been listed in the retail credit records of Dallas as "Vivian O. Thompson."

Earnest issued a statement vigorously castigating the Dallas Thompson's obvious attempt to capitalize on the Thompson name. Similar statements also came from Gov. Allred and later, after a report was circulated here that a man named "William McGraw" had been found, and that he had potential ambitions to be a candidate for governor, the Attorney General likewise denounced the "similar name racket."

There is a man whose sign near the highway at Hillsboro has for several years, proclaimed his name as "John Garner, Blacksmith," but so far has not announced for anything.

THAT MAN ALLRED, AGAIN

The story that Jimmie Allred will be named a Federal Judge for the Southern Texas district was revived with vigor here this week, and various insiders claimed absolute confirmation of the report, carried many months ago in this column. Chief speculation here was whether Allred if named would resign in time to permit Lt. Governor Walter Woodul to serve as governor for a while prior to the July primary. Most observers here believed if this happens, it would virtually insure Woodul a victory in the Attorney General race without a run off, and since some of Woodul's powerful friends in Washington have been reported vigorously backing Allred for the judgeship, it was considered not unlikely here that Allred might step out early in July, if nothing happens to the long-standing plan for Vice President Garner to recommend him to President Roosevelt, in view of the deadlock between Senator Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally, each having endorsed a different candidate.

TWO MORE PRESS AGENTS

Newest recruits to attorney general Bill McCraw's record breaking staff of publicity men this week were North Bigbee, former oil editor of the Dallas News, and Ed Kilman, political writer of the Houston Post. Kilman was reported scheduled to begin a leave of absence from his paper to write McCraw's publicity until after elections.

QUEER POLITICAL LINEUP

The hotel lobby political experts this week were getting a chuckle out of the action of Walter Woodward, ex-senator, and ex-president of the Lone Star Bar Association who held an open house at his office, for Bill McCraw, and later introduced McCraw at a speaking in Coleman, Woodward's home town. They recalled that Woodward four years ago was decisively defeated in the runoff for attorney general by McCraw in a campaign that reeked with bitterness. McCraw assailed Woodward as a chain-store lobbyist and utility attorney from every stump he spoke from, and the bitterness didn't die out after the election, but carried over to the Democratic state convention at San Antonio in 1936, when McCraw partisans attempted to prevent Woodward from going to the Philadelphia Democratic national convention as a delegate-at-large from Texas. In the committee on delegation, when Myron Blalock, the Democratic committee chairman saved his place as delegate-at-large by a personal plea in Woodward's behalf to the Committee. Blalock now is one of Earnest Thompson's campaign managers.

Woodward is said to have gotten a prompt protest over the Coleman incident from several members of the Senate who are supporting Thompson, and indicated he was "duped" by McCraw press-agents into a very unhappy position. He explained that he didn't promise to vote for McCraw, when he introduced him.

CROWLEY'S CONTRIBUTION

The chief effect which Washington Candidate Karl Crowley has had on the Texas gubernatorial race, according to the other candidates, has been to make it very hard for all the candidates to raise campaign funds.

"After Crowley spread around that talk about $2,000,000 campaign funds, folks that usually could be counted on the donate $1,000 to our candidate, began writing letters and offering to work for our candidate—for so much a week and expenses", complained one campaign worker. "The result is the boys who usually put up the money think we're already financed, like Crowley claims, and we're having a hard time getting enough dough to pay our press agents and print our literature."

PAMPA MERCHANTS VERSUS THE LADIES

The local merchant grows in his beard and says mean things about the ladies who go to other communities to purchase their wearing apparel; the ladies huddle in social club seclusion and assert Pampa merchants do not have the quality or price they demand. All of which brings about a conflict which has simmered for shopping season after shopping season in this and other communities.

Says the Pampa merchant—"I am stocked to provide whatever milady demands—from the best in household wear to the snazziest in evening finery. Yet Pampa ladies go to Amarillo to purchase the major items in their wardrobe, graciously permitting me to supply them with the more incidental goods. My prices are in harmony with what ladies expend when they go to Amarillo or other Cities—and they save, or would save, considerably by emanating the expense of jaunting across country."

Say the ladies—"Pampa stores are not stocked with the type of clothing and shoes we desire. By going to a large community we are able to make selection from a much wider

SUMMER CLOUDS AND SKIES

Clouds help your outdoor pictures. Use a color filter to record them more effectively.

SUMMER is the outdoor season, and one of the season's chief picture charms is its wonderfully rich blue skies against which cloud masses stand out in magnificent fullness and contrast. Given two pictures of identical subjects in which the sky appears, it's a safe wager that your attention will be held by the one effectively showing the clouds against a gray sky and not the one with the unnatural and unattractive flat, white firmament.

Here is the way to picture clouds and skies as your eye sees them: load your camera with chrome type or panchromatic film, and slip a yellow color-filter on your lens. The diagram below shows how a yellow filter works—it preserves the sky tone, recording blue in the corresponding shade of gray instead of white. Thus, the clouds and sky are more dramatically recorded and more added to the appeal of your picture.

Summer clouds and skies are pictorial studies in themselves. Try picturing clouds alone—the different types of cirrus and cumulus; fair-day clouds and stormy-weather clouds. Use the sky and clouds as background for your pictures of people. Work them into your landscape views. They give your pictures reality, and a warm, summery feel. Use your filter for all such pictures, increasing exposure according to the instructions that come with the filter or with the film you use.

Such practice pays rich snapshot dividends.

John van Guilder.

Color filters are traffic cops. A yellow filter (K-1 or K-2) stops part of the blue light, so that in the print, blue shows up as gray. Filters come in several colors, but a yellow K-1 or K-2 is what you want for general use.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

DECORATIVE SILHOUETTES

Since the puppy is likely to move, a photographic flash bulb, which gives an instantaneous flash of light, was used in making this silhouette.

PHOTOGRAPHIC silhouettes are a source of decorative pictures—and camera fun—which every snapshotter should try. The arrangements are simple—a white sheet stretched over a doorway, or division between two rooms, with a strong light behind it and the camera set up in front.

By arranging his subjects in front of this brightly illuminated sheet, the clever photographer can construct any number of imaginative or story-telling pictures. Costume snaps are particularly interesting in silhouette, and there are possibilities for many humorous pictures of the "it-can't-be" variety.

For instance, a juggler can be pictured keeping a dozen or two balls or bottles in the air at one time, or a camper can be pictured with two skillets, flipping a dozen flapjacks at one shot. In both these pictures, the objects to appear in the air would be cut from black paper or cardboard and pinned to the sheet at proper points.

The sheet must be stretched evenly, as wrinkles will show in the pictures. Lighting behind the sheet should also be as even as possible. Five feet is a suitable distance from lamps to sheet.

Three sixty-watt inside-frosted electric bulbs will provide enough light to give good results with five-second time exposures, using a box camera with its lens at widest opening, or other cameras at lens stop f.11. To stop movement when pets or small children are appearing in silhouette, use a flash bulb behind the sheet. Or, with two or three large size flood bulbs snapshots can be taken.

When using the flash bulb, someone can flash it at the correct moment at an "okay" signal from the person operating the camera. There should be sufficient light, from unshaded regular household bulbs, behind the sheet for the "cameraman" to see the silhouetted images and to know when to give his "okay" signal.

When the silhouette is snapped, of course, all lights must be turned off in the room which contains the camera and subject. Unless this is done, detail in the subject will show, spoiling the silhouette effect. The photographer should also be watchful of stray light from windows, and mirrors which might catch light from the illuminated sheet and throw it toward the shadow side of the subject.

Rapid Progress Reported in Schools Over the Plains Territory

For the first time in history, the annual report to the state department of education on South Plains schools shows that there is no partially accredited high school in the area. G. D. Holbrook of Lubbock, deputy state superintendent, said Thursday in announcing he had mailed the report to Austin.

Schools fully accredited recently as shown in the report were Loop in Gaines county, accredited as a four-year high school; Sparenberg in Dawson county, Union Consolidated school in Dawson county, and New Lynn in Lynn county, as two-year high schools. Thirty-six credits have been added in schools of the area in the last year.

Other Facts Shown
In announcing information in the report, Holbrook also offered other facts showing progress in public school education in the 16 counties of district two in the last five years. The increase in credits was effected "through elimination of non-functional courses in high school and substituting courses that are more vital to the welfare and needs of the communities in which the schools are located," he said.

The report will be approved by the state committee on classified and accredited high schools in Texas at a meeting June 10, said Holbrook.

The accrediting of the four schools increases the number of fully accredited high schools in the district to 60, of which 54 are four-year and six are two-year.

Progressive Trend Indicated
The total shows "an increase of approximately 25 fully accredited high schools on the South Plains in the last five years, all of which indicates the progressive trend on the part of the South Plains patrons and citizenship in general with regard to building and maintaining a public school system with the greatest efficiency that available resources will provide," said Holbrook.

"A further indication of the progressive spirit of people on the South Plains in the matter of school building is exemplified in many new modern school plants that have been erected for adequate education and training of the youth of this section of West Texas. In the last five years, there have been 10 rural school centers effected in district two through consolidation and co-operation of smaller districts which have been grouped for high school purposes. These high school centers all maintain a fully accredited high school system with effective grammar schools and most of them operate a full course of vocational and industrial training."

Twenty Buildings Erected

In the last five years, 20 new school buildings have been erected in the district. Holbrook praised the progressive spirit and determination that has overcome the many handicaps present because of sparsely settled areas and that has resulted in "one of the most progressive school programs in the state."

Schools in the 16 counties of this district in which number of credits has been increased, ranging from one-half to six credits, in the last year are: Abernathy, Amherst, Andrews, Anton, Brownfield, Cooper, Crosbyton, Cotton Center, Redwine, Draw, Frenship, Hale Center, Idalou, Lamesa, Lorenzo, Lubbock, Merton, Muleshoe, New Deal, O'Donnell, Olton, Pettit, Plains, Plainview, Post, Rails, Roberston, Ropesville, Seagraves, Seminole, Slaton, Smyre, Spade, Springlake, Sudan, Tahoka, Union, Wellman, Whiteface, and Wilson.

Schools Are Standardized

There are also 44 standardized rural grammar schools, "the pupils of which are entitled to enter any accredited high school system without entrance examination," said Holbrook. That ruling became effective last fall.

Seal Coating Starts On Two Highways

The Public Construction Co., of Dallas got the contract to put on a seal coat of gravel and asphalt from Tahoka to Brownfield on 84, also from near Seagraves to Wellman on 51. This should put all the state highways through the city in good shape. The reason that so few people here knew about the contract being let, was that the ad was run only in the Tahoka paper.

It is believed by officials both of this city and Lamesa that the road from here to that city will soon be designated for both State and Federal aid. In fact, we understand that a preliminary survey for the route has been made. This road will give a good short cutoff from points to Big Spring and below to all the oil fields of Yoakum, Cochran, and Hockley counties.

This week we are stating an ad for the highway department for a gravel and asphalt seal coating for 84, from Brownfield to six miles this side the Yoakum county line. We have no reason to offer why the work is to stop there, unless that is as far as the caliche coat has settled sufficiently to allow for the seal coating to be applied.

This work will not likely start for six weeks or two months yet, as it has to be advertised two weeks, and contract let. Then sufficient time is allowed the contractor to get material on the ground.

credit on all work done in the junior schools if they enter four-year high schools and all graduated from accredited four-year high schools may enter college without entrance examinations.

Lubbock has a total of 52½ credits the largest number of any in the district, and Plainview is second with 43.

Holbrook will leave Monday for Austin to be engaged in the high school division of the state department in checking and compiling material for a bulletin of standardized and accredited high schools for 1937-38 and serving as a basis for 1937-38 and serving as a basis several weeks. Holbrook has headquarters at Texas Technological college.

"The modern system of transportation provided by the state has facilitated and made possible the establishment of high school centers in rural communities and attendance thereof," said the deputy superintendent.

Counties in this district are Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Crosby, Lubbock, Hockley, Cochran, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Gaines, Dawson, Borden and Andrews. — Lubbock Avalanche.

LAMESA MAN BUYS SANITARY BARBER SHOP

A deal was recently consummated in which Mr. C. Z. Sherman of Lamesa became the owner of the Sanitary Barber Shop on the north side of the square. Former owner, R. D. Holder was a fine citizen and we regret to lose him.

Mr. Sherman comes well recommended as both citizen and as well a tonsorial artist, and we bid he and family a hearty welcome. He informed us that he was a brother-in-law of Editor Baldwin of the Lamesa Reporter.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this means of thanking the good people of Brownfield and section for the many deeds of kindness and words of cheer as well as floral offerings during the illness and death of our son. May God bless each and every one of you.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hart and family.

J. O. Wheatley states (not under oath) that a 60 year old man was here from California recently and telegraphed back to his 90 year old mother to come at once, as he had discovered two of the world's wonders in eastern New Mexico and West Texas, being the Carlsbad caverns and Calm Seas.

One of the real old timers of this section is here on a visit, being Mrs. M. D. Williams of Glendale, Ariz., who is the guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McCormick, but visiting other friends. Mrs. Williams is getting up in years and indicates this may be the last visit she will ever make here. She lost her husband about two years ago.

J. B. Worsham, one of our erst-while taxicab drivers, left last week for the wheat harvest.

Maxie Hunter has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. M. Mayes at Roscoe, for the past two weeks.

Rev. David Beebe has returned from Dallas where his wife underwent an operation. He reports that she is slowly improving. Rev. Beebe is pastor of the local Christian Church.

Woodrow May and wife of Pittsburg, Calif. accompanied by Lela DuBoise and little six year old son, are here visiting the parents of Mesdames May and DuBoise, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wheatley of the Johnson community.

Wayne Howell attended the Hodges family reunion recently at Leuders, Jones County, there being 86 present. They held their family reunion at Lubbock last year.

Roy Collier, who recently underwent a serious operation, was dismissed from the hospital Wed.

J. W. Baldwin of Forrester, is a patient at the local hospital.

Mrs. Reba Boyd and little son of Amarillo are visiting her sister, Mrs. Ray Christopher.
