FIGHTING TERRYITE PLEADS TO HOME FRONT "DON'T LET US DOWN"

November 28, 1944.—I am a resident of Brownfield and at the present am serving with the armed forces on the European front. My battalion landed on the Normandy beachhead on D-Day plus 12 and has been in every major engagement through France, Belgium, Holland and now Germany.

We are fighting under conditions that are most difficult for men to battle in. Rain, mud and cold have done much to break down the most hardened combat man's spirit. Yet there is a big job to be done, and do it we must and do it we will.

The going is rough, and as we push the Nazis farther and farther into their own back yards, the going becomes rougher, as the enemy uses every fiendish device and weapon to halt our advance. Many of our buddies are dead and many more will join them before the final victory is won. But, we feel that the price we are paying in sweat, blood and death is a small price to pay for the everlasting peace it will bring.

But, now to the hearts and minds of most of the battle-weary boys on all the fighting fronts comes the fear, not of facing death by shells, bombs, and their deadly shrapnel; not of being blinded or maimed, but even a greater fear—the fear of being betrayed. Betrayed by those we love and those whom we thought loved us. Our brother workers who keep the vitally-needed equipment rolling to the fighting fronts, have made us feel that all the sacrifices laid on the altar of the god of war have been futile.

You see, Mr. Editor, we have a publication, as you know, known as the "Stars and Stripes." It is a very newsy paper and not only covers the fighting fronts, but the home front as well. Naturally we are hungry for every piece of news pertaining to good old U.S.A. And here are the kind of news items we have been receiving: "Plane plant idle as 15,000 war workers strike in Detroit."

"California war production lags in new labor disputes."

That is just two of many articles that have made us feel that we have been "sold out."

Suppose we reverse the picture and depict one in which the newspapers in all the cities of the U.S.A. come out with the screaming headlines:

"Germans recapture Holland, Belgium and France, as Yanks

Pfc. Charlie Bowden Killed In Action

Mrs. Thena Bowden received a telegram Sunday from the war department that her husband had been killed in action in Germany.

Pvt. Bowden went into service last March 25, and was in the infantry. He has been across since September. Before enlisting into the service, he was an oil field worker.

Besides his wife, the former Thena Runnels, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. W. P. Bowden, and two sisters of this city, Mesdames Roy Drye and Earl Jones; also three brothers.

The telegram stated that further information would be sent as soon as available.

FORMER BROWNFIELD BOY MISSING IN ACTION

Mrs. T. L. Chapman of Sulphur Springs, Texas, received word, December 22, that her son, T/Sgt. Gaylon Chapman, engineer on a B-17, was missing in action over Germany November 30, from the war department, and that she would receive further information as soon as available.

Sgt. Chapman attended the Brownfield schools when he was young. His brother, Archie Chapman resides here now.

Pfc. Harold B. Stice has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Stice of Route 2, that he has landed safely in New Guinea. He received his training at Fort Benning, Georgia, and is a member of the U. S. Parachute Troops.

throw down rifles and strike!" Sounds impossible, doesn't it? It's un-American. It's rotten! It just isn't possible! You're right—it isn't possible, because we won't let it happen—ever! No matter how tired, disgusted, scared and lonesome we get.

That's about all I have to say, Mr. Editor, except that we can't win this war alone. We need help—lots of help, and it's got to come from those we love back home, and those we think still love us; still pray for us—and want us back some day, with the help of Almighty God!

(Signed) Pfc. Walter R. Lindley, ASN-38342186, Hq. Btry. 554, AAA, AW, Bn., APO 339, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.—Home address: 306 West Hill St., Brownfield, Texas.

First Lt. Kenneth Hill Gets Promotion And Oak Leaf Cluster

With the 9th Infantry Division in Germany — First Lieutenant Kenneth W. Hill of Brownfield, Texas, serving with the 9th Infantry Division in Germany, has won a battlefield promotion for outstanding courage and leadership in combat and an Oak Leaf Cluster to the Bronze Star for heroic achievement in action during the Sicilian campaign.

"Leading an assault platoon on strongly defended enemy positions, Capt. Hill's platoon was the first to reach their objective," says the medal citation. "Immediately setting up a strong defensive, he succeeded in holding the position until reinforced by the remainder of the company."

Again, in Germany, Capt. Hill (then First Lieutenant) took over his company when the company commander became a casualty and was immediately given a mission. He planned and personally led his company in the successful accomplishment of this mission despite determined enemy resistance.

Capt. Hill is the son of Mrs. Mary C. Hill, Brownfield, Texas. He also wears the Bronze Star with an Oak Leaf Cluster, the Purple Heart, the Combat Infantryman's Badge and the European-African-Middle East campaign ribbon with two bronze battle stars.

Pfc. Lenuil McCrary Awarded Purple Heart

Somewhere in the Pacific (De-layed)—Marine Private First Class Lenuil McCrary, 19, of Brownfield, Texas, was awarded the Purple Heart here in a mass ceremony during which 400 men of his regiment won similar decorations for wounds received in action in the Marianas last summer.

The awards were presented by Brigadier General Franklin A. Hart, assistant division commander of the Fourth Marine Division, which was recently awarded the Presidential citation for assault landings on Saipan and Tinian.

He is a member of the Marine regiment whose officers and men are veterans of three major landings under Japanese fire in six months. The outfit occupied Roi airfield, major objective of the Marshalls campaign, and on the bloody beach at Charon-Kanoa on Saipan were among the first troops to occupy a Japanese town.

McCrary was struck by shrapnel in the right knee when a Jap mortar barrage scored an almost direct hit on his squad in the first bitterly-fought hours on Siapan beachhead, June 15.

Now fully recovered, he is back with his unit.

S/Sgt. and Mrs. Ted Fox of Bryan, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Hogue of Levelland, spent the Christmas holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hogue.

Lt. Jack Shirley of Midland visited in the A. M. Brownfield home last weekend.

Veteran's Caravan To Be Here the 9th

The Veterans Caravan which will be in Brownfield, January 9th, from 2 to 5 p. m., is being brought to Brownfield in order that the citizens of this community may have a first-hand opportunity to learn from members of the armed forces and others just how important our War Production is to our fighting forces, and how we, as civilians and volunteers, can help the most, stated F. A. Wells, Area Manpower Director, this week.

Mr. Wells stated that Pantex loading bombs and shells which Ordnance Plant of Amarillo, are so urgently needed on the fighting fronts, is in dire need of additional workers in order to meet the demands of our fighting men. It has always been the experience that once we Texans are advised of an urgent situation, we act; therefore, in arranging for this caravan, the industrial Services Officer of the Public Relations Officer, Eighth Service Command, Dallas, made every effort to have veterans who are in a position to tell us of actual combat needs, and what shortages have meant in the past, to enable every one to have a true and understandable picture of the situation. The Veterans who will be in this caravan have seen war, been wounded and can really tell us about it.

Men now engaged in essential occupations are asked to not quit their jobs as they are needed vitally in their present employment; however, workers now engaged in less-essential occupations and seasonal workers, such as farmers who have completed their harvest, are encouraged to contact the hiring representative, Pantex Ordnance Plant, who will accompany this caravan.

New houses are being constructed at the plant site for the families who wish to take jobs. Dormitory facilities are available for single men and others who want to work as single men.

Everyone is urged to see the caravan during its stay, talk to the veterans, and see the combat action pictures to be shown, and then volunteer to take a war job, producing war goods. Additional information can be had at the local United States Employment Service office.

To Attend Los Angeles Markets

Mrs. Minnie Hazel Gore Bowman, will leave Sunday for Los Angeles to attend spring market showing and to buy extensively of spring and summer apparel for the Go're Fashion Shop. She plans to be in the city three or four days.

Mrs. Bowman just recently received from her husband, in the Philippines, some Philippine money, also bill issued to guerrillas, on which the US government redeems at face value. It is very crudely printed on brown parchment from what appears to have been from wooden blocks. The other monies are worth just half our currency and the bills ranged from a ten dollar bill to a Frilndo, whatever that is. Some of it was British East Indies and Holland.

DISTRICT COURT DELAYED TILL THURSDAY

Because of the illness of Judge Garland, the convening of the term of district court, set for last Monday, was delayed till Thursday. Jurors and litigants were dismissed till then.

Carl Roundtree, attorney from Lamesa, came up for attendance. Calloway Huffaker, District Attorney elect, was also present, but could not legally qualify till Thursday. District Attorney Rollin McCord was present.

A number of Texas boys have been cited for outstanding performance of duty in the Mediterranean theatre of operations, among them being Champ C. Perkins of route 4. He belongs to the 350th fighter group.

Lubbock Man Leases Brownfield's Theatres

News got about last week that Mrs. Tobe Howze was leasing the three theatres here, the Rialto, Rio and Ritz, to Mr. Hiram Parks of Lubbock. This was a surprise to most of us, yet all of us knew that Mrs. Howze was carrying a heavy load, especially since the death of her first husband, Earl Jones, several years ago.

And even before that time, she was carrying on with her husband in the management of the theatres. They had for their motto: "Always a Good Show—Sometimes Great". And on many occasions we have known them to eliminate a film that they did not consider best for the morals of the young people of the town, replacing that show with a film borrowed from some theatre in a nearby town. They censored their own shows, and after they had passed the national censor.

We have not met Mr. Parks, as yet. But he owns a theatre in Lubbock, and has distributed films for Dallas firms quite a bit, and knows the show business from A to Z. Our understanding is that he will keep quite a few of the old personnel of the three show houses. After Saturday, we understand, Mr. Parks will be here all the time.

Cited for Outstanding Performance to Duty

15TH AAF IN ITALY—Master Sergeant J. B. Kempson, son of Mrs. Bertha L. Kempson, Rt. 5 Brownfield, Texas, is serving as an aircraft maintenance technician with a heavy bombardment group, which was awarded a second war department citation, for outstanding performances in the Mediterranean theatre of Operations. He is now authorized to wear an oak leaf cluster on his Distinguished Unit Badge. This second citation was for a daring and successful attack on the Concordia Vega oil refinery at Ploesti, Romania. The first was for an attack on the rail yards at Bucharest, Romania, during which 40 enemy aircraft were destroyed.

Tells His Experience In the Aleutians

One of these army guys, visited us the past week for an hour or so, and we found him a bit more talkative than most. He was Sgt. Guy Tankersley, visiting home folks after 10, these many months. He stated his brother, Sgt. Jiggs, was maybe in the Philippines.

He told us many laughable incidents, some he didn't care to have repeated, not that they were military secrets, but might not fit in a great religious weekly like this. Here is one, however:

"After most of the Japs were cleaned out, two Seabees, unarmed of course, were up in the mountains searching for any kind of a Jap souvenir, blanket, money, flag, or what have you. They became separated, and one of them saw a blanket on the ground—made a dash for it, pulled it off the ground!

"To his surprise, there was a Jap under it, also unarmed. The Jap went one way helter skelter, and the Seabee went the other way helter skelter. 'No,' says Guy, 'the Seabee did not go back to see about his blanket.'"

Guy wears the good conduct medal, the Aleutian-Pacific command ribbon, a service star and three overseas bars.

Texas Division Commended by Corps Commander

WITH THE 36TH "TEXAS" DIVISION OF THE SEVENTH ARMY IN FRANCE — The 36th "Texas" Division has been commended by Major General Edward H. Brooks, commanding general, VI Corps, for its part in the fighting through the Vosges mountains in Eastern France. His commendatory message, addressed to Major General John E. Dalquist, commanding general of the 36th "Texas" Division reads:

"As you pass to another command I want to express to you my deep appreciation for the part played by the 36th Infantry Division in clearing the enemy from his strong positions in the Vosges mountains.

"Your sagacious handling of the troops at your disposal, spread over an extended front, and their constant pressure and aggressive attitude for several days prior to the corps' attack, held the attention of the enemy and forced him to commit local reserves which later were not available to oppose the main thrust of the VI Corps.

"The capture by the 36th Infantry Division of the St. Marie Pass and its continued attacks, culminating in the debouchment into the Alsatian plain near Ribeaucourt, not only blocked the enemy on the right but forced him to fight and continued to deny him the use of his troops elsewhere.

"This was all done without fuss or feathers and in a manner worthy of the splendid Americans under your command."

THINKS FARMERS DESERVE SOME OF THE CREDIT, TOO

Howdy-doo ladies and gentlemen and hello there girls and boys. This is not a political speech. My good friend, GWN, has requested me to write a letter for publication, as he would like to have some competition. It is wonderful to live in a country where we have the privilege and opportunity to discuss state, national, and international affairs without fear of having to face a firing squad.

And speaking of opportunities, I never will forget the time that GWN learned to grasp an opportunity when he has a chance to do so. Years ago, when GWN was a young man, back in the good old state of Arkansas, he was courting a beautiful school mistress, and as they were walking along they came to a very beautiful rosebush and as they were looking at the beautiful roses, the school teacher said: "I wish I were a rose." GWN says: "Why so?" She says: "So every one would love me."

GWN thought he, too, must make a wish, so he looked around until he saw a centipede, and he says: "I wish I had as many arms as that worm has legs." She says: "Why so?" He says: "To hug you with." She retorted: "You bashful fool, you won't use the two arms you now have!"

GWN made up his mind there and then that he would always seize an opportunity when it was in his power to do so, and maybe that would be a good New Year's resolution for the balance of us. Perhaps too many of us like to say: "I told you so."

One year ago we were being told that '44 would bring an end to the war with Germany. I hope my half-dozen readers still remember I said at that time the end of the war was unpredictable—it still is!

Maybe it is nice to be optimistic, but when I was a student in Sunday school, I learned to admire the spirit of old Jeremiah, "the weeping prophet." I am not in sympathy with the Russian form of government, but I do admire old Joe Stalin, as he is a man that does not ignore realities—and he gets the job done, instead of spreading the Pollyanna spirit—and we know we owe him a debt of gratitude for what he has accomplished.

Today I listened in on my Philco and heard a list of the worthwhile accomplishments of 1944 as outlined by some of our leaders, and not one word was said about the accomplishments of the American farmer. Why not admit that the farmer has done the impossible, and will continue to do so?

The wheat and grain crop for 1944 was a record-breaker—in fact more food and feed crops were produced in '44 than during any other year in the history of our country, and this with a labor shortage.

"Tokyo Rose" and "Propaganda Sallie" have been able to broadcast to our boys in the fox-holes as they were going through the very hell of war, and tell them the folks back home were letting them down—that labor was drawing $14 per day and was on a

Lt. Brock Assigned to Duty In the Orient

Lt. (j.g.) Steve L. Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Brock, visited here this week. He has just completed the specialized training course in military government at Princeton university. He has been assigned as an agricultural officer for duty in the Orient.

He served more than 15 months with the amphibious force—most of which was spent in the European theatre. He returned from Normandy late last summer for training in the navy's school at Princeton university.

He was accompanied by Amarillo Wednesday by his parents and sisters, Mozelle and Mrs. Wayland Parker and Yvonna, to catch a plane for San Francisco, where he is to report January 5, for his new duties.

strike for more—a delay in much needed war equipment. Yet our boys knew that the farmer would never let them down—that while industrial workers were attending the movies, the farm family was toiling upward into the night.

To the farmers should go the credit for doing all in his power in supporting our soldiers; keeping our civilians strong; providing for our allies and millions of liberated peoples—all by producing the food for freedom, and by getting all scrap in the big scrap.

During the past campaign, a certain politician here in Texas told us farmers had been farmed off the farm; that the cars had been put off the highways by the New Dealers. Wonder if that politician can explain who produced such bumper crops in '44?

The farmer may be driving a car so old it can outrun nothing, except a Texas Regular, but if you look around in Brownfield on Saturday evening, I think you will admit that we still have a few cars on the highways, while if your tires get much thinner, I think Congress will have to repeal the law of gravity, or we can't get our produce to market.—Jacob Sandiague, Route 5, city

Tom Cobb Buys Myrick Building At Lubbock

Tom Cobb, local dry goods man and financier, purchased the six-story Myrick building at Lubbock this week, according to R. C. Burleson, who closed the deal. Consideration was in the neighborhood of a quarter million dollars.

Mr. Cobb and a partner started in the dry goods business here some 20 years ago, and he now owns stores in perhaps a dozen Texas towns. He also owns a ranch and bank property.

"War Widow" Makes Long Trip With 4 Kids

Under date of December 19th, the Herald had the following communication from Mrs. Perry Crawley, then at Chelsea, Mass.:

We are away up here in Chelsea, Mass., which is just a part of Boston. Our Herald is a little late at times, but it tells the news from home. My husband is stationed in a naval hospital, and is working in a bakery as usual.

I started from Muleshoe, Texas, to Boston with our four children, Nov. 13, and arrived here the 15th. The trip was worth while, but if you ever go far with four children, the oldest only 5, you can understand what a trip I had.

I'll start back to Texas soon after the first of the year, but Perry will keep getting the paper somewhere. Thanks for the home town news.

NOTICE TO SMWC MEMBERS.

Writing under his old column name: "Forrest Fires," Forrest Weimhold, editor and publisher of the Levelland Herald in ad-sentia, with the army somewhere in India-China-Burma area, has resumed his interesting column at long range. The first installment came last week.

We took the advice of East Texans as usual, and had our mess of blackeyed peas on New Year's Day, which the pinewooders say is a true waybill to good luck the whole year through. However, these happened to be West Texas raised peas that we ate. Would that change the luckology of the old saying? We hope not.

Yep, we had some carrol singers Christmas eve night out in front of our house, evidently of the teen age, as we could not see them very well. But they did make excellent music, and were perfectly well behaved. After finishing the song, they did not hesitate to see if they were to get cake or fruit, but marched to the next house. The Herald is proud of the young folks of the City of Brownfield. We have very little juvenile delinquency problems here.

Our merchants tell us that we have a real paper bag problem. In fact they have no bags, and very few boxes. The Herald is passing on this message for them. "Either bring your own paper bags, a shopping bag, basket or box, or you may have to carry your groceries home just as you receive them from the shelves." In the meantime, save every ounce of waste paper or old magazines about your place.

Pity the perfect man as he has no New Years Resolutions to look forward to making-or breaking. A pitiful lot these perfect people, pity they can't die young as they have no goal to work or look forward to and everyone else but them and family are so sinful. "It is always "I and my family are the only ones doing anything and the only one that don't fall short of the Glory of God—we are the only ones supporting the church and living right." BAH.

According to the newspapers Norway is asking that the Allies invade that country and drive out the Germans. We feel sorry for those people who have more or less thrown off the competitive way of doing things only to find that their new-found plan does not do the job. In America where we have to fight for what we get, we have been able to supply the world and defend the co-op countries. So why change, Mr. Striker?—Cat Claw, In Yoakum County Review.

Had a letter from Lt. Burton D. Hackney, with the legal department of Abilene army air corps this week, enclosing the tale for another year. He says somebody gets about all the money he can rake and scrape, but he considers the buck and a half for the Herald one of his best investments.

Ruby Hamilton, colored, dropped in this week to renew for her Herald. One can always expect this smiling colored friend to drop in just about expirial time each year with her dollar.

A check came in this week from Paul Jones (not the drinking variety) at Seminole, manager of the Piggly Wiggly store there. This was his home for many years until promoted.

Chas. Roberts and wife spent the holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Travis. Chas is leasing the Andrews Times from his father, who, takes the office of county judge of Andrews county.

Perseverance has at last rewarded Dr. J. A. Chapman, colored, Lubbock, with a $50,000 hospital for the exclusive use of his race, with the help of some white friends. This fine hospital, equipped, will open formally about March 1st.

BROWNFIELD STEAM LAUNDRY

A New Year's Present To Be Desired

As far as the Old He is concerned, one of the finest New Years present Uncle Sam could possibly hand us is to change back to our regular Central Standard time.

There are many other things that we could use, but when a guy tries to make the old time clock at eight in the morning, way before daylight, that is something else.

We have tried to get a few of the war time fans to explain to us the advantages of the new time. But about all we can get is that it gives the industrial workman more hours to loll around.

On the other hand, a lot of little farm boys and girls out 20 or 25 miles in the country, who have to get up two hours before day break in order to catch a school bus to town, it is a headache and to their parents.

Even with the take up hour set up to ten instead of nine o'clock, that is barely an hour after the sun comes up.

But we guess the industrial worker has to be petted and let the little farm kids do the best they can.

Whooping Cough On The Increase

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 2—Inasmuch as the incidence of whooping cough in Texas has shown an increase during the past two months, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, released a statement today urging that strenuous efforts be made to control the spread of this debilitating childhood disease.

"Whooping cough can only be contracted by direct exposure to the disease, and isolation of cases must be universally practiced if the incidence is to be controlled," Dr. Cox stated.

"The infectious agent or germ of whooping cough is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or speaking," Dr. Cox said. "The discharges from the nose and throat are dangerous to susceptible persons; the need for early recognition and careful isolation of whooping cough is obvious."

The first sign of this disease is usually a dry cough, which persists day and night and tends to become increasingly severe. The disease is fully developed when vomiting of food and whooping accompany the paroxysm of the cough. Dr. Cox stressed the fact that children who have whooping cough should not attend the schools or come in contact with other children until three weeks after the appearance of typical signs of the disease.

"Prevention and control of the whooping cough, especially among infants and small children, may be accomplished through the use of approved vaccine and convalescent serum," Dr. Cox asserted, "and it is more important that such measures be taken to protect them. Neglecting to do so, and allowing the young child to suffer an attack of this disease, may seriously impair his future health."

Ruth Huckabee has accepted a position as bookkeeper for Ray Christopher, local Cosden dealer.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kennedy have returned to their home in Paul's Valley, Oklahoma, after attending to business here the past three months.

Petroleum Production Shows Increase

AUSTIN — Daily average production of petroleum in Texas increased in November over November, 1943, but showed a slight decline over October, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Production in November was 2,132,450 barrels, and only 1,925,400 in November 1943, but 2,133,350 in October. The largest production was indicated to be in the coastal area, with the next highest production area in West Texas.

October gasoline sales, as indicated by the State Comptroller were 109,452,159 gallons, and in October 1943, 102,641,255 gallons. October sales of gasoline to the United States government as recorded by motor fuel distributors in Texas were 274,968,135 gallons.

Mrs. Howard Swan and children went to Amarillo Monday on business. Miss Patsy Ballard accompanied them to Amarillo, where she left Monday night to go to Seattle, Washington.

Tires Needed On The Battle Fronts

January tire quotas for the Lubbock district are much lower than those for December, Ely Fonville, district rationing executive for the office of price administration, has announced.

Increased military demands, based on recent action both in the Pacific, and European war theaters, brought on the January cuts, Fonville stated, pointing out the recent statement by General Eisenhower that "American armies fighting along the German border face a tire shortage so serious it threatens to tie up 10 per cent of all army vehicles by early February."

In view of the fact that General Eisenhower has termed tires his "number one shortage item," it is imperative that vehicle owners must have tires recapped promptly, Fonville urged, pointing out the fact that failure to recap in time can lead only to needed cars and trucks being laid up for lack of tires.

Passenger, small and large trucks and small and large tractor tire quotas all were cut drastically for January, but the largest cut came in the quota of small truck tires.

Mrs. Homer Winston will leave around the 15th to attend the Dallas markets to buy childrens wear and gift items for the Moderne Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Summerhill and children wish to take this method of expressing a sincere thanks to the good people of Brownfield who sent flowers and words of sympathy when Mr. Summerhill's mother passed away in Monahans last week.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

—By John Craddock—

NEW YORK, Dec. 26—Fortified by a much-needed two-day rest, America's retail merchants returned to their stores after the Christmas holidays with time on their hands, the first in months, to contemplate the outlook for merchandise in 1945.

In the opinion of trade leaders, the holiday trade has been so heavy that it may boomerang, leaving many stores with shelves barren of merchandise for months to come. Retailers are accustomed to having Christmas business reduce inventories to a low point, and in ordinary times they have no trouble in building up again to normal levels. Today, however, it won't be so easy. Already existing scarcities have been especially aggravated in men's shirts, in underwear for both men and women, in rayon hose, and in sheets, pillow cases and towels.

Woolen goods are expected to be very limited for some time because all worsted yarn produced between January 14 and June 2 is to be taken by the government, under a recent order of the War Production Board. It's estimated that 70 per cent of all wool clothing is produced from this yarn. As a result, clothing manufacturers believe that men will have to choose their Spring wardrobes of suits and coats from supplies about half as large as this year.

Leather goods is another category in which inventories will be difficult to replenish at any early date. Tanners say that supplies of leather for civilians are at the lowest level ever experienced as a result of heavy military needs and relief demands, combined with an insufficient force of workers at the tanneries.

Government In Need Of Manpower

The full threat of the German offensive—a longer, bloodier war than dreamed of even two weeks ago—has been laid before West Texans by the War Manpower Commission through the newspapers, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the 130 local chambers in the area.

To these chambers has gone a letter from E. W. Hardin, president of the WTCC, transmitting an appeal from the WMC that they actively join in getting across to their communities the facts of the crisis. The call by C. E. Belk, state War Manpower director, is that West Texas labor go all out in helping fill the national quota of 311,000 new war workers needed to meet Gen. Eisenhower's huge demands for munitions and supplies for the G. I.'s combating the Nazi onslaught.

Hardin's letter asks area chambers to meet and publicly endorse the War Manpower Commission's plans for meeting this emergency. The plans call on every worker now employed to stay on the job if it is a war job; if not, to immediately go to the nearest U. S. Employment Service office and ask for referral to a war job, either at home or elsewhere. Workers are asked to not take

Lone Star Flag Is Presented Nimitz

HEADQUARTERS, U. S. Pacific Fleet—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, USN, commander in chief of the U. S. Pacific Fleet and Pacific Ocean areas has received a Lone Star flag, a gift from the Sons of the Republic of Texas.

The presentation to Admiral Nimitz, a native of Fredericksburg, Tex., was made at Pacific Fleet headquarters by Vice Adm. C. H. McMorris, USN, chief of staff, on behalf of Harry Pennington, president of the Texas organization.

Another Texan, Lt. Howard S. Smith, legal officer on Admiral Nimitz's staff, represented the officers from the state on the Admirals staff at the ceremony.

Among the many holiday visitors here that we knew in the long ago, was Bill Savage of Chicago, who was here visiting his grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Green and other relatives. Bill was an instructor in the University of Chicago, but he still turns right quick when you call out, hello, Bill. His mother lives in Lubbock.

any job except on referral by the Employment Service, and employers are asked to not hire any worker except on USES referral.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 — If any doubt exists that Americans as a whole have more ready cash on hand than ever before, despite high taxes and the high cost of living, it should be dispelled by events of the past fortnight in retailing and finance.

From all part of the country come reports of a land-office business enjoyed by stores catering to Christmas trade. This has led to forecasts in retail circles that the Federal Reserve Board index of department store sales for December, when published next month, will prove to be the highest figure for any month of any year.

While the holiday spending spree was running with wide-open throttle, the government's Sixth War Loan drive at mid-December had, we are glad to report, scaled successfully the imposing heights of a 14 billion dollar goal. Concurrent with this demonstration, the stock market steamed ahead to a new high for seven years, despite pre-occupation of the men who operate the machinery of Wall Street with helping the Treasury Department sell war bonds. A rising market for securities, of course, is another indication that money is in good supply.

THINGS TO COME—Safety lights for the sides of automobiles to relieve night driving of some of its hazards. . . A new glass, developed by the American Optical company, which successfully resists exposure to hydrofluoric acid. Potential uses are in fabrication of test tubes, beakers, bottles; lenses for safety goggles and helmets. . . An extremely tight bituminous coal situation by April 1, 1945, according to the Solid Fuels Administration, Washington. . . Renewed supplies of Scotch whiskey. The first to be distilled since 1940 was poured into casks at Stonehaven, England, this month.

BITS O' BUSINESS — Four out of five of thousands of Americans planning to travel to foreign countries after war will do so by steamship rather than by airline, according to a survey by ships magazine. . . Dollar bills will now be contributed to the scrap drive by the U. S. Treasury, which is abandoning its traditional practice of burning worn and mutilated currency, bonds and stamps, in favor of chewing up this old paper in machines. It's estimated that five tons of high-grade pulp daily will be made available. . . An average of 4,500 cars of coal a day are hauled by the New York Central railroad to feed industries, docks and coal dealers along its 11,000-mile right of way.

Social Security Numbers Important

Although almost all firms are careful to enter each worker's Social Security Account Number on their tax returns, a recent study of returns for the quarter ending September 30, 1944, revealed that there were 6 local firms who omitted one or more such numbers, stated Sam Leifeste, manager of the Lubbock, Texas field office of the Social Security Board.

"Failure to enter the worker's number on the tax return means that unless that worker is identified by the Social Security Board, it is impossible to credit him with those wages," added Leifeste. "There have been a few instances where we were unable to pay full benefits to a worker's family because he had neglected to tell his employer what his number was and the survivors did not know where he might have been working during those blank periods on the work record."

Any employer having trouble getting his employees to report their account numbers to him should write the Social Security board field office at 1311 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas, for assistance. One method an employer may use to guarantee that his records are correct is to require each worker who does not have an account number card in his possession at the time hired to fill out Form SS-5, Application for Account Number (also available at post offices and U. S. Employment Offices). That form should then be mailed to the Lubbock, Texas office in an envelope showing the employer's return address; the card will be mailed to the worker, and a special letter will be sent the employer to advise him of the worker's account number.

Patsy Lewis, daughter of Mrs. Ruth McCain, is now employed with a dress shop in Carlsbad, New Mexico.

U. S. POPULATION GAIN SET AT 1,400,000

NEW YORK, Dec. 30—Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians estimated today that the United States population increased by 1,400,000 during 1944. Nearly 3,000,000 babies were born, the company reported, and the general death rate was approximately 10.7 per 1,000, about 2 per cent lower than in 1943.

The death rate figure took into account "all deaths among the men overseas, whether or not suffered in combat," the report added.

The U. S. Bureau of the Census placed the population of the United States at 131,669,275 in its last census four years ago.

Santa Fe Carloadings

The Santa Fe System carloadings for week ending December 23, 1944, were 25,145 compared with 22,209 for same week in 1943. Cars received from connections totaled 13,371 compared with 11,430 for same week in 1943. Total cars moved were 38,516 compared with 33,639 for same week in 1943. Santa Fe handled total of 37,944 cars in the preceding week of this year.

Baptist Church Notes

Our attendance was much below the average last Sunday, only 222 registering in the Bible study period, but we desire a record attendance for the first Sunday of the new year.

More than 100 people attended the Watch service to see the New Year come in last Sunday evening, and many have resolved to be more faithful as Christians for the New Year in attendance and service.

The Mexican people came at the close of the Sunday evening service and baptized three more candidates, making the third baptismal service they have had in the last few months.

Our church has done an important missionary work in assisting the Mexican people to start their work here as they are growing in population every year.

We especially invite those of the community who have recently moved here and have no other church preference, to attend our services and find a church home with us.

LEO H. LIGHTFOOT AND JO ANNE CAMPBELL WED CHRISTMAS EVE

Miss Jo Anne Campbell, daughter of Mrs. Joseph J. Henderson of Sulphur Springs, and Leo H. Lightfoot, late of the U. Both Mrs. Raley and Mrs. Henderson wore wool crepe frocks fashioned on lines similar to the bride's.
