Lt.-Col. Brownfield's Division Knocks Out Nazis Tanks

WITH 9TH ARMORED DIVISION.—Eleven out of 18 German tanks that moved in to spearhead the German's attack near Litzkampen, Germany, south of St Vith, Belgium, were knocked out and the others dispersed by the guns of Company C of the 811 Tank Destroyer Bn. attached to the Ninth Armored Division.

The TDs, commanded by Lt.-Col. Albert R. Brownfield, had gone into the town and were moving to a position on a ridge nearby soon after dark on Dec., 16 when they discovered the Nazis already had occupied the area.

Huge searchlights of the Nazi Panzers silhouetted some of their own vehicles and the destroyers maneuvered into position and opened fire.

S/Sgt. Bertram C. Coulter, of Chester, Pa. said the enemy sent mortar and artillery fire into the area all night and all the next day.

The American units were hit from the center and flanks simultaneously and several of the TDs were badly damaged. However, those remaining intact covered the infantry and slugged it out until their ammunition was exhausted.

They withdrew, using small arms fire to cover themselves.—Stars and Stripes.

The above article was taken from Stars and Stripes, official army publication overseas. It is believed here that the 9th Armored Division is part of the First Army.

Lt.-Col. (Little Ray) is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Brownfield, pioneer ranchers of Terry county.

Terry County Boys Doing Bit In 6th Army

Sixth Army Group, France.—Radio, telephone and cable are three important factors in a war of movement and distance and to the officers and men of the 3211th Signal Battalion falls the task of providing these means of communications for headquarters of the Sixth Army Group in France.

Hundreds of miles of telephone wire and several huge switchboards are necessary to connect the headquarters with its far-flung units of the American 7th and French 1st Armies on a front of several hundred miles along the German border and the Rhine. Several signal service companies maintain and lay these miles of wire and make sure that the wire and cables are in perfect condition.

Radio circuits between various headquarters in France and radio communications with other parts of the world are other vital parts of war against the Nazis. Radio relay companies handle the variety of transmitting and receiving stations that instantly connect Sixth Army Group headquarters with other parts of the front and of the world.

Among the soldiers in this battalion who are contributing so greatly to the approaching victory are Cpl. Jack Ruark, and Cpl. Troy E. Denson, Rt. 2, city.

Meadow Lt. Presented Oak Leaf Cluster

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England.—First Lieutenant Richard V. Turnbough, 23 year old pilot on an Eighth Air Force B-17 flying fortress, has been presented the first Oak Leaf Cluster to the air medal for "meritorious achievement" during bombing attacks on Nazi and in support of allied ground forces. The award was presented by Colonel Charles B. Dougher military and industrial targets of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., commanding officer of the 94th bombing group Lt. Turnbough is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Turnbough of Meadow, Texas. He was a student at Texas Tech before enlisting in the army air forces.

Cpl. Chapman's Sends Medals to His Mother

Mrs. N. B. Rolland has received the Purple Heart, given her son, Corporal Ollie F. Chapman, who was wounded in action in France, but is believed to be recovering.

Mrs. Rolland has two other sons over in that neck of the woods, probably in Belgium or now in Germany. They are Sergeant Ramie L. and Pfc. H. P. Chapman.

Mrs. Rolland has received a number of souvenirs from Sgt. Ramie which she values very highly.

Marine Veterans Get Home Replacements

Atlanta, Ga.—Marines who took Saipan to give the B-29's a base from which to bomb Japan are coming home for furloughs after more than two years in the Pacific.

Marine Corps Southern Procurement Division Headquarters announced today that 280 more Southern and Southwestern Marines have returned to the United States and will soon be home on furlough. Most are from Second Marine Division which took Tarawa and Saipan. Now in San Diego, Calif., for re-assignment, they will get thirty day furloughs en route to their new stations. Among these men are Private First Class Elza Paul Johnson, son of Mrs. R. B. Johnson of Brownfield, Texas.

Cpl. Geo. Jenkins Expected On Furlough

The public relations office of the Eighth Service Command at Dallas has notified the Herald that Cpl. Geo. L. Jenkins, who has had 27 months in the European war theatre, is coming home on a furlough.

He will first go to Ft. Bliss, arriving there around Wednesday of this week, where he will probably be reassigned, and then visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Jenkins of this city.

Commander Norman M. Miller, U. S. N., a former Boy Scout, recently received his eleventh decoration and is called "the most decorated man in this war."

A Better America —Not A New One

Most of us have been so busy arguing over plans to provide a greater quantity of medical care to the people, that the all important item of quality has been neglected. However, the attention of medical men has been centered on both quantity and quality.

One medical authority points out that the advance of medicine has not been halted in the United States in the war period, but rather has proceeded with an intensity that is the amazement of all of the other nations of the world.

We have seen the death rate for pneumonia among American troops drop from 28 per cent in World War I, to a fraction of 1 per cent in this war. We have seen the death rate from meningitis drop from something like 80 per cent 35 years ago, to 3 per cent at this time. And recently a physician at Great Lakes Naval Training Station reported 75 consecutive recoveries from menin-

"War Department Regrets to Announce"

Only last week, a proud little war wife came to the office of the Herald with the announcement that her husband, Pfc. Bruce Zorns was fighting with the 7th Army on the Strausburg front, and that he had been cited by his superiors and given the Infantry Combat Award. It was too late for last weeks paper, and so, this week we regret to have to add that she has received one of those nerve racking notices from the war department:

"We regret to inform you that your husband is missing in action." That was all, except the usual, "further" information when known." And another Brownfield and Terry county home is in gloom, and all hearts beat in sympathy for this splendid little wife and mother and their son, little Thomas Bruce Jr.

Before going into the service, Bruce was the very efficient cashier of the Brownfield State Bank, starting there several years ago as bookkeeper, after finishing at Tech College.

Bruce was reared in Terry county, his mother still living and teaching at Meadow, his father passing on a few years ago. Bruce probably attended his first school in Brownfield, when his dad was superintendent, back in the early 20ties.

Bruce was well liked by all who knew him, and was faithful to his duties in civil life. He has a brother, Tommy, in the air service. Let's hope Bruce, like the others, show up later.

WAR II VETS WANT NATION-WIDE ORGANIZATION

Austin, Texas.—Ex-service-men attending the University of Texas favor a national veteran's organization to aid the returning veteran, according to the compilation of a campus poll made by a journalism class in Public Relations.

The poll showed that 16.3 per cent of the ex-servicemen favor a national organization, and 55.7 per cent want such an organization to be a nation-wide influence on the social, political and economic structures of the United States.

An organization of World War II veterans only were favored by 37.7 per cent; one of veterans of World Wars I and II was favored by 3.7 per cent, while 27.6 per cent favored two separate organizations for veterans of each war.

It is believed the car was of late American vintage, brought to this island by the Japs. Snipes got the bullet-ridden car out of a lot of other shot-up junk, and with parts from other cars, got it to navigating. He is an airplane mechanic.

The picture was presented the mother of Cpl. Snipes.

PLEASE REPORT ACCIDENTS

Here's the law: "Every driver of a motor vehicle involved in an accident which results in injury, death, or property damage of $50 or more, must make a report in a written form prescribed by the department of public safety within 48 hours. The failure of any person to report an accident is cause of suspension or revocation of such person's drivers license. This failure is also a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not to exceed $200."

Only about five percent of the state's accidents are reported.

VETERAN REEMPLOYMENT

Because it was realized that G. I. Joe will find it somewhat difficult to readjust himself to civilian life, legislation concerning the re-employment of veterans was passed early in the war. Today, industry is extending these promises the home-front is making to those who took up arms to defend their country.

A good example of this is the well-rounded program for re-employment and rehabilitation of veterans just announced by Act in providing for its 26,000 members.

Explaining the program, company officials said that Alcoa has granted military leaves of absence and other benefits of a monetary character to those of its employees who have left to join the armed forces since January

WHY TERRY COUNTY SHOULD SUPPORT THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

The foremost military and naval authorities were shocked at the facts concerning America's young men, revealed by the draft. An unbelievably high percentage were found to be unfit for active service because of physical handicaps that could have been corrected in childhood. Many had mental defects, and a surprising number, in spite of the nation's excellent public school system, were illiterate.

But these authorities were greatly impressed at the splendid showing made by former Boy Scouts.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz recently wrote to the National Office of the Boy Scouts of America, "In the Pacific Ocean area particularly, those who have had the benefit of Boy Scout training in pioneering, field craft and the lore of living in the outdoors, are better equipped to win out over the enemy and the elements."

General H. H. Arnold was equally outspoken concerning the quality of young men sent to him for the United States Air Force. "In peace," he wrote, "the Boy Scouts of America has been an important organization in the daily life of the nation; in war it has become an essential one."

In the shaping of the post-war world, Boy Scouts, because of their character and training, will undoubtedly take an important share. This is recognized by our military and naval leaders.

Admiral Ernest J. King, Commander in Chief of the U. S.

Sgt. Snipes Among Terryites In Marianas

The past week the Herald received a picture from the public relations section of the Seventh AAF base in the Marianas, which showed a husky looking guy beside an automobile, which his buddies had christened the "Snipesmobile." The lad is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Snipes of the Wellman section.

We had no more than finished reading the news attached when in comes Mr. Snipes to get some bills of his farm sale printed, to be held at his farm Monday. Shown the picture, he called his wife in to see it.

It is believed the car was of late American vintage, brought to this island by the Japs. Snipes got the bullet-ridden car out of a lot of other shot-up junk, and with parts from other cars, got it to navigating. He is an airplane mechanic.

The picture was presented the mother of Cpl. Snipes.

New Transportation Line Established

Few industries will enter the postwar era with a wider field of operation before them, than will air transport. For increased business, the world is its market. No longer will it be confined to one country. This fact, however, will create problems because the companies will become subject to a multiplicity of regulations by various governments.

In spite of the hurdles that lie ahead, the industry plans to keep the United States in the lead in the field of air activity. Air cargo transport will accelerate the entire tempo of post war merchandising in fields of fashion, specialty goods, perishable foods and exports, in the opinion of Major Benjamin H. Namm, first vice-president of the National Retail Dry Goods Association. M. J. Namm visions new markets opened up.

The coordination of airplanes with existing methods of transportation, including trucks, express, railroads, steamships, and storage warehouses, is essential to give our nation the last word in transport service. The people of the United States are such great travelers and shippers that it will take the combined facilities of every agency to meet their needs. The airplane will add the last link to give the super service.

Union 4-H Club Makes Tour of Projects

Union community 4-H club boys and A. L. Hartzog, County Agent, made a tour of 4-H feeding demonstrations, Monday, January 29. The boys making the tour were Raymond Chaffin Royce Armstrong, Lester Nelson, Victor Ray Herring, and Ferrell Herring. The demonstrations visited included those of the above named boys and Lester Decker, who was unable to make the tour.

The Union community club calves are now approaching "full feed" and their condition is improving rapidly. The Agent indicated today that prospects are good for the greatest entry list at the Terry County Club Calf Show, which is to be held in April, in the history of the county. A number of boys will have entries in the heifer class which is added for the first time this year. Under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, registered gilts will be awarded the owners of heifers placing high in the show. Steer classes are to consist of prime choice and good grades of fat steers since the local show is primarily a commercial show for the purpose of inducing more expansive feeding of home grown feeds to well bred animals for market.

Over twelve million men and boys have had the benefit of Scout training during the thirty-five years since Boy Scouts of America was first organized. To this should be added the millions in over seventy different lands who have been members of foreign Scout associations. These young men are dedicated to the cause of tolerance, of democracy, of friendship among the civilized nations of the earth.

Walter Fulton Trains At San Antonio School

San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center, Texas.—At the San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center, potential pilots, bombardiers and navigators are receiving preflight training to prepare them for aerial instruction and duties as aircrew members in the Army Air Forces.

The future fliers are subjected to a rigorous 10-week program of instruction covering physical, academic and military training. At the Cadet Center, a unit of the AAF Training Command. They study maps and charts, aircraft identification, small arms and other subjects while being conditioned physically for the long training period ahead. Bombardiers, navigators and pilots receive the first five weeks of preflight instruction as a group, then are separated for specialized training.

Cadets in the present class from Texas, include: Walter W. Fulton, of RFD No. 2, Brownfield.

Sometimes They Like Their In-Laws

Sometimes the Old He likes to tease the young married ladies about their in-laws. The past week we had occasion, when Mrs. Loren Gayle of Meadow dropped in to have the Herald sent to her mother-in-law at Riverside, California. We soon found out that the daughter-in-law thought the elder Mrs. Gayle was just OK.

And another young matron from the south part of Terry was in just a day or two before that, to renew for her dad-in-law at Big Spring. She too, thought her husband's dad a fine guy.

And so it goes. Some folks even like step-mothers. We live with a lady, (our wife) who thinks her step-mother one of the greatest women on earth. Sometimes we are part or wholly to blame if the "in-laws or steps" are not just what we think they ought to be.

Tax Assessor-Collector Virgil Burnett stated this week that by press time next week, he would have all the tax collection in the date limit, ready for the press. He figures around 97 per cent of the taxes, state and county, have been paid for 1944 assessments.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fishback visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Foster in Fort Worth, last week.

The Texan's Share In the War

Here is good news for Texas relatives of men in Japanese prison camps: The Japanese government has at last announced that a full shipload of U. S. relief supplies has been delivered to prisoner-of-war camps where American soldiers are held. If the announcement is true, it means that for the first time in many months, our men in the hands of the Japanese are receiving recreational supplies, books, study courses, sports equipment and other material designed to ease their prison boredom, as well as food and cigarettes.

The ship carried a large shipment of supplies sent by War Prisoners Aid, the National War Fund agency which looks after the welfare of our boys in enemy prison camps. The supplies were purchased by contributions of millions of home-front patriots who gave to their county War Chest during the annual National War Fund Drive.

For months, the Japs have held up shipment of relief goods. Persistent negotiations by War Fund and War Prisoners Aid representatives, however, finally forced shipment. The War Fund Agency is represented abroad by Swiss and Swedish neutrals, who have done a good job in supervising delivery of relief to Americans in both Germany and Japan.

If the delivery reported this week indicates a new Japanese policy, National War Fund Agencies will continue to send relief supplies to our men on a regular schedule.

Brownfield Man Is Owner of $1900 Cow

ROSSELL, N. M., Jan. 27.—A hundred animals brought $43,930 at the 14th annual sale of the Southeastern New Mexico Hereford Breeders Association yesterday.

Eighteen heifers averaged $353, fifteen cows $585 and 67 bulls $29.

Dr. T. L. Treadaway of Brownfield, Texas, paid highest price for a cow, $1,900 for Donna Anna 47th, consigned by E. M. Schumpert of Portales.

Good Attendance At President's Party

Jack Bailey, chairman in the March of Dimes, reports the dance staged at the Legion hall, Tuesday night, was well attended and the proceeds would net over $500.

This money goes into the state and national funds to combat infantile paralysis, a dreaded ailment sometimes prevalent in this nation.

General approval of Texas people goes to the legislature and Gov Stevenson for the bill boosting pay for rural teachers some $300 this year. Rural teachers, especially the one and two room when times were normal, were hit hard enough, and now with war prices for what they have to buy, their meagre salary went nowhere. Many of them stayed in the school just out of love for their profession. Patriotism exemplified.

Did you notice the several old Texas brands in the Santa Fe ad last week? Among them were the Saucer-Block, Brownfield ranch brand, and the T— ranch of Lynn county. There were many others. And, we might add that the Santa Fe has a unique brand of its own, a symbol that was probably dug up from the Pueblo or some other New Mexico tribe of Indians. Their calendars each year lend a very pleasing Indian effect, the original paintings of which are mostly located in our neighbor state, New Mexico, the Sunshine State.

Oh yeah! The poor overworked editor is being offered various and sundry editorials these days, fresh from somewhere, guaranteed to take a lot of work off the shoulder of the busy, overworked editor. If those benighted editorial canning factories knew as much about the work of the country editor as a pigeon does about pigeon English, they would realize that it is not a question with weekly newspapers of getting news; its getting the mechanical force to put the matter in type, and going to press with it. What the weekly needs is not more front office help, but back shop help.

The University of Texas pharmacognosy has been experimenting with some of the millions of Mexican cedars in the vicinity of Austin to see if an extraction of camphor cannot be taken from them. Camphor is used much in the manufacture of explosives, as well as plastics. The Nips hold most of the camphor producing areas, including Formosa, the largest producing center.

Boy Scout week is coming up, and will this year be extended to Washington's birthday, February 22, as well as that of the Boy Scout founder, in England. We know what most of us Brownfield and Terry county folks think of Scouting. They are for it morally and financially. But we are giving you an idea of what our great army and naval men think of Scouts and Scouting—what it means to boys morally and physically; how to take care of themselves under all conditions. Article on front page.

Statistics kept by the US Marine Corps shows that at one time 27 percent of Marine volunteers were from Texas, and even at the present time, a large part of the Marine Corps is made up of men from the Lone Star State, per capita inhabitants, considered. They tell us that it is entirely safe to call about every fourth or fifth man "Tex" and get by with it OK. And that brings up the subject, "why don't they let the 1st and 2nd Marine regiments come home—they have spearheaded most of the invasion, over there since the summer of 1942. It appears that some of the commanding officers just did not like to risk less tried veterans. But now, they have a lot of infantry and machine regiments of the army over there almost if not entirely as tough as the Marines, and that's admitting something. That has been proven in the invasion of Leyte and Luzon.

Some commentators seem to have a faint idea that FDR's appointment of Henry Wallace as Commerce Secretary was not serious. We have always had an idea that while Mr. Roosevelt is inclined to joke about many matters, he usually takes his politics with a straight face. And the fact that many, many Texans that voted for FDR just because they did not want a blind date; they are not for Wallace by a jug full, and saying hard things about everyone who don't think Wallace qualified for the office, classing all such as Roosevelt haters, is not healing the breach in Texas Democracy. All will have to admit that Henry Wallace is sincere, and we believe truly honest. On the other hand, a lot of good folks who go in droves, think he is visionary; a man that would not mind playing Santa Claus to the entire world, with our money.

Pfc. Henry C. Sandage is now visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sandage of the Union community. He has a 14 day furlough. He has been in the service since 1942, spending most of the time as an MP in Pennsylvania. He is now located at Camp Shelby, Miss.

Mrs. Avery Rogers writes in from Victoria, Texas, enclosing a check for another year of the Herald. She says she has too many good friends here to cut from the town entirely, and the Herald is a good way to keep up. Her husband was for several years pastor of the First Baptist church here. Mrs. Rogers slyly added: "I'd like to see a sand storm." Well come up on a visit, say in March.

Texas Legislature On Educational Front

Austin, Texas, Jan. 23.—The Texas House threw the rule book out the window last week to pass and send to the Senate an emergency appropriation to aid some 15,000 rural school teachers and 400,000 Texas pupils.

The $1,575,082 appropriation would give teachers $75 more a month for the last four months of the current school year. It would allow rural school districts $60 more per teacher a year for purposes other than salaries, and would increase transportation allowances for pupils $1 per capita a month.

Rep. Bob Proffer of Denton, sponsor of the House legislation declared "hundreds of rural teachers" have been leaving their jobs because of low salaries. Sen. G. C. Morris of Greenville will press for early action in the Senate, since the bill as it is now written must be passed by Feb. 1 for teachers to receive the maximum benefits of $300 this year.

Gov. Coke Stevenson submitted as emergency matter the proposal to amend the state equalization law so as to increase rural teacher's salaries.

A movement to increase state employees' pay would also benefit University of Texas and other college-level teachers in State-supported institutions. Sen. James A. Stanford and Rep. H. D. Pruett, both of Austin, are sponsoring legislation to increase state workers' pay to meet increased living costs.

FALL PIG FARROWING DECLINE

The production of pigs in Texas during 1944 declined sharply from the recorded farrowings of 1943, A. L. Hartzog, County Agent, quoting the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, reports that the State pig crop estimated at 2,460,000 by the United States Department of Agriculture was approximately 41 percent below the record high reached in 1943, however, in spite of the drop, 1944 pig crop was about 11 percent above the average for the ten year period, 1933-1942. Continuation of the decline in hog production in Texas to about pre-war levels is indicated by reports from farmers on swine breeding intentions for the 1945 spring crop. The number of Texas sows to farrow from December 1 to June 1 is indicated at 187,000, compared with 240,000 spring season farrowing in 1944, and 364,000 in 1943.

Local interest in hogs increased considerably during the last two or three months due to the decline in grain prices. Should grain prices fail to make the customary spring advance, it is likely that hog raising for the county will trend sharply upward during the coming year. Now seems to be a very good time for farmers to purchase a registered or registerable gilt of a suitable breed to use as his herd foundation during the coming year according to the agent.

SAYS RUSSIANS NOT UN-LIKE NORTH AMERICANS

Austin, Texas, Jan. 22.—Russians and North Americans are similar in character traits, dress, looks, and even thoughts, says Dr. Eduard Micek, native of Czechoslovakia, who is associate professor of Slavonic languages at the University of Texas.

As a European and a student of its Slavonic race, Dr. Micek bases his observations on personal knowledge. In a recent address before an Austin chapter of the American Legion, he urged increased knowledge of the Russian Language, and more understanding of the nationality. "If the nervous people in our country who are afraid of Russia would only settle down and remember that in the Russian people there runs the blood of those same peasant and city folk that Tolstoy made dear to us, then they would understand better the conditions that exist in Russia," he said.

"I do not think Russia will have an aggressive interest in the internal affairs of other countries. She will be eager to cooperate to the degree that they are willing to cooperate with her. They want peace and security. The Russians are confident and full of hope; they want peace and a chance to build up their country."

Glimpses Into Post-War Living

College Station, Texas, Jan. 23.—Nylon suits for men with "creases" in the trousers, curtains which can be laundered but need not be ironed, transparent food containers which can be vacuum packed like tin cans, all lie ahead for consumers in the post war year, members of the Texas A. and M. Extension staff were told at a recent conference by Miss Gertrude Dieken, home economics consultant for a chemical research concern at Wilmington, Del.

The speaker, a former Extension worker, said the public should not expect overnight, "a brand new world paved with plastics," but science under the pressure of war is making many new discoveries which will "lighten the routine of house-keeping and leave more time for homemaking."

Chemical research, in addition to developing synthetics and plastics, also is finding ways to give new characteristics to natural fibers, Miss Dickens said. Junior's coveralls can be treated so they will be unaffected by splashes of mud, spilled orange juice, or upset bottles of ink. In addition, cotton materials can be treated so they will be fireproof, mildew resistant, water repellent and, by a layering process, as warm as wool.

A number of exhibits were shown to the Extension group by the speaker. Among them were a section of nylon tow rope "stretch recovery" which is used for pulling gliders; plastic for out-door furniture which will not fade, warp or weather; nylon capes which offer protection from poison gas and nylon fabric screens which protect fighting men in the Southwest Pacific from mosquitoes and other pest.

Clothing made from acetate rayon need not be sewed, she said, for heat will weld or fuse the seams permanently. When production can be turned to peace-time purposes, there are enough facilities for every woman in the country to have a dozen pair of nylon hose, she predicted.

A Week's Doings In Uncle Sam's Army

Dear Herald: In the past few weeks I have had several letters from many of my close friends and relatives around good old Brownfield asking me to describe my life in the armed forces. Now I can't imagine why they would want me to write about a subject like that unless it is to acquaint them with the ways of the army. Instead of writing about myself, I shall write about the army as a whole, they can pick out the part that fits their particular sons and they will know exactly what he is doing.

I shall use week of January 7th through the 13th, and endeavor to describe the many goings on in that one week.

In that said week, the usual number of drill Sergeants, about 32,405, yelled "I don't like getting out here and drilling any better than you guys do". Most of them said this with a straight face, but it was plain they were having the time of their lives.

There were 3,203 directives issued during the week, in the states and overseas, saying, "It has come to the attention of this command that military courtesy on this post has become very lax, therefore . . . ."

There were 245,783 telephone conversations among Air Force Officers in the US during the time these ended with the word, "Rodger," spoken by one or both parties. The 13 percent who did not say "Rodger" were flying personnel.

Incomplete figures indicate that well over 29,000 junior officers' on downtown street corners that week said: "Sergeant, come here, Why didn't you salute me just then? You looked right at me, then you looked into that store window." To which 27,294 Sergeants replied, "Sorry Sir, I didn't see you", and the rest mumbled something about, "I guess I was not thinking." Three Marine Sergeants just back from the South Pacific are reported to have said something else, but they couldn't be reached for confirmation.

About 485 Majors at various rear-echelon overseas posts, were given the job of redecorating the interior of the generals new quarters. The 485 Majors called 485 Corporals. "Corporal", they all said, "I understand you know something about art, I want you to decorate the Generals new quarters, I am leaving it in your hands, get right to work on it." The corporals went right to work, and when the 485 new generals saw their new quarters, 350 of them were pleased. "Good work major," they said, and the 350 majors said, "Thank you, Sir" The 135 who were not pleased said, "Major my floor should of been cream-colored, not brown," and the 135 majors cried, "Where is that corporal, I told him to paint that floor cream-colored!"

About 1200 airplanes were named during the week, most of them being called "Sad Sack." A B-24 tail gunner in the Aleutians was asked what he thought would be a good name for the plane and he said, "Well, why call it anything; lets leave it bank for a change." He was grounded immediately and when he persisted in this unreasonable attitude, he was sent back to the states with A Section eight recommendation.

But despite all these little exceptions, it was, as I said, a typical week in the army.

The usual 1,300 chaplains, all of them regular guys, handed out little TS cards as a daring joke. Overseas 4,000,000 GIs heard radio programs in which screen and radio stars insisted they love servicemen and are behind them 100 per cent.

The good old army traditions are being carried out everywhere

Down To Earth Planning

There has been so much hysterical "planning" to create post-war employment, that the ordinary means by which our citizens have kept themselves out of the poorhouse for some 150 years, seems to be largely overlooked. It has remained for Charles M. Upham, Engineer-Director, American Road Builders' Association, to present down-to-earth figures showing how our people have provided themselves with jobs in the past. He points out that the nation's labor force is divided into three classifications: service industries, 50 per cent; consumers goods industries, 33 per cent; and durable goods industries, 17 per cent.

It is a fact, however, that employment rises and falls according to the fluctuations of the comparatively small segment of durable goods production, and the later is largely influenced by the amount of construction expenditures.

"During the prosperous twenties," said Mr. Upham, "private and public construction expenditures ran well over ten billion dollars annually for most of the period. That period was one of extensive road building, with the expansion of all related industries, including steel, road machinery, cement, asphalt, tar, and other materials.

"In the depression thirties, construction lagged, and labor was unemployed. Expenditures were lower for residential building, highways, railroads, public utilities, and public construction.

The lesson to be drawn from Mr. Upham's analysis is obvious: Every branch of government, from municipal to Federal, should encourage those who employ labor, from the building of a new one-room house, to the construction of the greatest industrial plant or railroad. Public funds should be spent for permanent improvements such as roads, public buildings and the like, which serve all the people and do not discourage the man who is trying to build up a tax-paying private enterprise.

Mr. Upham, concludes: "Full employment and prosperity in the postwar years will depend on construction. By this means only can this country change from war production to peacetime conditions without an economic upset. The dollars spent in the building of homes, office buildings, utilities, highways, and other public improvements are high-powered investment dollars, but are useless lying in banks as savings. The high employment of the prosperous twenties and the unemployment of the thirties have proven this.—Industrial News Review.

Those who complain are pitiful. Those who do not complain are admired.
