

Although our selection is limited at the present time, The Star is getting into the office supply business. We have arranged a display in our office, and will be adding to our inventory almost weekly.

Gerald Floyd, graduating Friona senior and son of June Floyd, whom all of our readers know, has been devoting quite a bit of time to getting this part of our business set up. He'll make this sort of an "in-between" job while he's waiting to enroll at Texas A & M this fall.

Looks like the neighbors over at Dimmitt got quick results on their plan for industry. We understand that they've signed with a vegetable processing firm which will occupy a building they have agreed to erect.

All of which goes to show that Friona isn't going to just "happen" to get the industry it wants and needs. Some leg-work—and some digging in the old pocketbook—will be in order.

As most everybody figured, our Black community has showed up in the state finals of the community improvement contest judging. The writer and several Friona business people have been in and around Black a number of times within the past two years, following those hard-working people in their efforts to win that contest.

They appear to have an excellent chance to come out on top this year, and we certainly wish them well. It is amazing how the families of the Black community have solidly backed efforts to get ahead in this contest.

In most communities (even in towns like Friona and larger), there are always a few outstanding persons or groups who get everything done. The rest are feet-draggers, shirttail hangers-on, or I'm-againers.

Not so with Black, apparently. We've never heard one solitary complaint from anyone about how so-and-so just won't cooperate. It's amazing. There are bound to be some personality differences among the people who live in the Black community, but they all disappear whenever it comes time to put the shoulder to the wheel for the good of the community.

Something else we've noticed about the people at Black is that they've become professionals at the delicate art of making a good impression. Sure, they've got everything in the world to brag about, but it's the way that they show it to the judges that makes such a big hit.

When the judges were in Black two weeks ago, the folks were so well organized that there wasn't one wasted minute in the whole day. They had things planned down to a point that made it seem like a big Hollywood production instead of a West Texas get-together.

Of course, the people didn't lose their friendliness. They never will. But they were most businesslike in "selling" Black to the judges who came to give the community a once-over.

This is the kind of activity that makes the passer-through exclaim to himself, "Now, here's a bunch of people who are go-getters. They really get things done!" It's true... and it makes all the difference in the world.

There's a fellow who ran for the senate a couple of months ago who at that time made a quick call on Friona. He's C. O. Foerster of Elsa, Texas. "Fearless" as he was dubbed then, has dropped that title and taken up the name "Crude Oil Foerster."

Our reason in telling our readers this priceless information is that Fearless—excuse us, Crude Oil wants to come to Farmer County and promote a wildcat oil test.

Only a few people in Friona have ever met Crude Oil. But those who did remember him well. He's a fast-talking little fellow with tremendous energy and determination, and a flair for old-fashioned showmanship.

When he hit Friona, he was passing out bars of Palmolive Soap, and saying, in his bid for votes, "I'm a-gonna clean up Texas politics!" If any Friona area landowners are interested in seeing him get a block of leases, we'd like to know, and will pass the word on to Foerster. This may prove to be interesting.

VOLUME 32, NUMBER 31

Miss McLean, Massey Friona Delegates

Named to represent Friona this year at Texas Boys and Girls State are Luellen McLean and Leon Massey. The two were selected by the Friona American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, the sponsoring organizations. Massey was one of three Friona junior boys nominated to make the trip to Austin and he received the most votes when the local Legion met Monday night. Selected as alternate to Massey was Jerry Hinkle.

Luellen was recently voted as the Girls State representative by the Friona Auxiliary. She will be in Austin from June 10-19 participating in the activities to be conducted at the Texas School for the Blind. Leon will be attending Boys State on the University of Texas campus from June 5-11. The purpose of Boys and Girls State is to educate the youth of today on the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American Citizenship. The citizens of both Boys and Girls State organize their own city, county and state governments, and choose their own officials in accordance with regular election procedures. They learn the duties of the various city, county and state offices and introduce and argue their own bills in a legislature. All the representatives "learn the principles of government by doing."

LUELLEN MCLEAN

New Minister Here

Rev. A. L. Sartain arrived in Friona May 1 to begin his duties as pastor of the First Baptist Church here. Rev. Sartain, who moved here from Sundown, accepted the call of the local congregation several weeks ago.

Rev. Sartain's family, which consists of his wife; a son, Bobby, who is 17 and a senior in Sundown High School; and Charles McKenzie, 14, will remain at Sundown until the close of school. Charles, who is a native of Jamaica, is a freshman in high school. His parents, Rev. and Mrs. A. L. McKenzie, are missionaries in Jamaica. The schools in that country do not include classes beyond our grammar school level. Several years ago, Rev. Sartain made an evangelistic tour in Jamaica and became acquainted with the McKenzies through his work with the natives.

Charles was desirous of getting an education in the United States and was invited by the Sartain family to make his home with them in order that he might do so. He flew from Kingston, Jamaica, to Miami, Florida, then to Lubbock where he was met by the Sartains.

Johnson Seed Opens

Friona's newest and only exclusive seed store opened for business this week. It is the Johnson Seed Store and is located in the White building across the street south of Gaines and Smith Texaco Station.

According to an announcement made by W. T. Johnson, the store will be a wholesale and retail outlet for several varieties of maize, kafir, sweet and common sudan, and sart sargo. The seed will be available treated or untreated. Chemicals for treating the seed are also available.

Cub Scouts Will Attend Palava

Final plans are being made for all Cub Scouts in Friona to attend the annual Llano Estacado Council Palava, which will be held in Elwood Park in Amarillo, Saturday. Every Cub is asked to wear his yellow Cub Scout T-shirt.

A number of parents are planning to attend and any Cub whose parents are unable to attend will be provided transportation. All persons who plan to make the trip are asked to prepare a basket lunch and meet at the local football field before 10 Saturday morning. Cubmaster W. T. Johnson requests that as many parents go as possibly can.

Large Crowd Attends Anniversary Sale

A large number of persons attended the Tenth Anniversary Sale at White's Cash Grocery last weekend. At the drawing at 5 p.m. Saturday each of the following received groceries of their own selection amounting to $10: Felix S. Vera, G. L. Mings, I. S. Ansley, and A. D. Bentley.

Ed White, owner and operator of the store, says, "We wish to express our appreciation to each person who visited us during the sale."

FFA-Father-Son Barbecue Tonight

The annual FFA Father-Son barbecue will be tonight at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The feed is sponsored by Farmer County Implement Company each year and the FFA boys and their fathers are feted.

The program tonight will be presented by the Serenaders, a musical group from Lubbock, says J. T. Gee, FFA sponsor.

Clean-Up Week Plans Made

The clean-up committee of the Chamber of Commerce has completed plans for a clean-up week which will be observed Monday, May 13, through Saturday, May 18. Members of the senior class have been requested to assist with the campaign and have agreed to do so.

On Saturday, May 11, a member of the class will contact businesses and homes and solicit orders for cleaning alleys of junk and debris and painting garbage cans. A fee of $3 will be charged for cleaning

Petitions bearing signatures of 105 persons were submitted to the city commission Monday night, asking "the board of commissioners to call an election to determine whether or not the majority of the taxpayers in the city of Friona are in favor of issuing bonds for the construction of a city swimming pool."

The petitions were presented by Commander Russell Massey of the Friona American Legion. The organization has been backing a swimming pool project for some time.

The amount of the election, its date, and where the swimming pool—if there is one—will be were questions unanswered at the time the petition was submitted.

However, it was anticipated that the proposition will read "bonds not to exceed $55,000"—the most the city can safely carry, and "at an interest rate not to exceed six percent."

Mayor A. W. Anthony and Commissioners Oscar Baxter and

J. G. McFarland, in making arrangements to have the election at the earliest possible time. It might be as soon as May 28—but could be later, depending on how the "groundwork" goes.

The commissioners didn't spend much time discussing the proposed swimming pool. They had some other things to attend to. They authorized the purchase of a 60-foot antenna for radio equipment to be used jointly by the city and the county, they refused a request by J. W. Holcomb to build a yard fence outside of the city building code, and approved mileage reports.

Police work was discussed, and Marshall Bill Ford and Deputy Howard Mayfield were on hand to work out duty shifts. Mayfield's salary was increased to $290 monthly. Clerk Roy Wilson reported that the new motor for the big fire truck has been installed, and the engine from that vehicle transferred to a smaller truck.

JANICE MILLER

PHYLLIS TREIDER

Misses Miller, Treider Top Honor Students

Honor students of the 1957 graduating class at Friona High School have been selected and plans are being made for baccalaureate and commencement exercises. Baccalaureate will be on Sunday, May 19, and commencement is set for Thursday, May 23.

Compiling a 94.88 grade average during her four years in high school, Janice Miller has been named valedictorian of the class and Phyllis Treider, who had a 94.17 average, is salutatorian.

The ranking of the honor students is just opposite of the two when they were in the eighth grade. When they were graduated into high school in 1953, Phyllis was valedictorian and Janice was salutatorian.

Both students have always been active in various activities and during the past four years Janice has participated in the choir for one year, the band for four years, has been a member of the school newspaper staff one year and the annual staff for one year.

She has been a member of the Thespian organization, FHA and the pep club for three years and this past year was named all-around Thespian.

Also, Janice has been student director of three plays during the past year. The plays which she helped direct were the Thespian play, the senior play, and a one-act play.

Phyllis has been active in FFA for four years and has held several offices in the organization. She is a past president, served one year as historian and area song leader, and received a home-making award her sophomore year.

Other organizations which she has been a member of are the band, four years; chorus, four years; girls' sextet, two years; pep club, three years; school newspaper staff, one year; and annual staff, one year.

Offices which she has held other than FFA are president of the student faculty congress this past year, band treasurer during her junior year, secretary of freshman class, and president of sophomore class.

Other past honors for Phyllis have been being elected band sweetheart, junior year; all-state band candidate, junior and senior years; all-state chorus, sophomore and junior years; and Girls State, junior year.

Nazis in Germany Hard to Find, Says Osborn

Note: Joe Osborn, co-owner of The Star, is stationed with the army in Germany. He has had an opportunity to talk firsthand with many German people. We feel that his impressions from a discussion with one of these individuals will be interesting to Star readers.

By Joe Osborn

"Hans was a Nazi and Fritz was a Nazi—but I was never a Nazi!"

This is essentially the answer we get from most Germans when we ask about their prewar politics. This phrase was often quoted right after the war when the occupation forces found that most Germans righteously insisted that they had nothing to do with the Nazi Party. Twelve years later I find that this is still the answer given American GIs.

Hans Hahn has a slightly different but also popular version—he was in the party but got out long before the war. Hans is a typical middle aged German of this area. He has a maintenance job with my battalion. He was raised at Dahn, an ancient town of 3000, near our unit, and is very proud of the fact that his family has lived in this valley since its now ruined castles were built in the 14th Century.

He served in Rommel's Afrika Korps, was captured in Africa early in the war, and was sent to a PW camp in Mississippi. He learned English and was glad to get out of the war—"even if I did grow to hate cotton fields."

Hans joined "The Party," as it is always referred to, in 1933. He was a forester and when Hitler took over, word was sent down that all government officials would join or lose their jobs. Hans says he quit the party in 1934 because he "didn't like the way they were running things." I suspect he had a run-in with his forest master.

Soon after this he was forced to work on the autobahn, that amazing German road system which is Hitler's sole constructive monument.

I asked Hans why Hitler was allowed to take over. "Before Hitler came we had unemployment for 20 years. Do you know what it means, Lieutenant, to be without a job for 20 years? By 1933 there were only two parties to choose between, the Red and the Black. The Reds were the Communists, and I hate Russians, and the Blacks were the Nationalists and for Germany. I am a good German so naturally I was for the party.

"Everyone got jobs after Hitler took over. And the party arranged meetings, parades and such activities for every night of the week for its members. Hitler got his ideas for race laws and concentration camps from England," Hans insisted.

"There were 21 Jewish families living in Dahn before the Nazis took over. Now one man remains,

He has returned from France where he fled before the war.

"Ah, but now he is much better off than before, with a good pension and his old house back, because of the new law favoring the Jews passed after the war."

When I asked what happened to the others he said, "Oh, one, a doctor, took his family to New York, several went to France, several to other countries, including one to Palestine. The other seven or eight were gassed," he concluded, matter-of-factly.

When I asked where they were gassed he said he didn't know but the last trace of them was when they dropped a letter out of their train in Southern France.

"The people of Dahn didn't know what was happening to the Jews that were taken away—except maybe the mayor and one or two party officials," he added. "We knew the Nazis were after them and that some of them were being taken away to camps but we had no idea what happened to them there until the war was over."

"People were told not to trade with the Jewish businesses and the Jews were threatened, but they had an opportunity to leave the country. They should have taken it like the others did."

Most Germans I talk to, like Hans, insist that Hitler helped Germany by pulling the country out of the depression but that later he went crazy with power. They insist that they had nothing to do with the Nazi Party but that they were powerless to resist.

THE STAR'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Star Doubles Mailing Fee

Recently, national attention was focused on the country's postal system, when Postmaster Arthur Summerfield disclosed that funds were insufficient to provide for "normal" operation of the system. In this connection, it was revealed that of the huge operating deficit suffered by the system each year, $218 is lost to the handling of newspapers, magazines, and periodicals.

The Star has editorially supported increases in mailing rates for all patrons of the system to bring about realistic accounting procedures for this agency of the government. The Star doesn't feel that the general taxpayers ought to help the newspaper publisher, the direct mail advertiser, or anyone else send matter through the mails.

The Star is attempting to voluntarily double the postage paid for mailing this newspaper. The following letter, written to the local postmaster by W. H. Graham Jr., publisher, is self explanatory.

Mr. Leo McLellan
Friona Postmaster
Friona, Texas
Dear Mr. McLellan,

You have informed me that it will be impossible for you to accept the enclosed $1.40 as a voluntary additional postage payment to mail The Friona Star, for the reason that no proper accounting of this money can be made in your records, and the law does not provide for any additional payment on postage of newspapers or other mailed matter.

I will consider it a great favor if, then, you will accept the enclosed $1.40, together with this letter, and forward it to Mr. Arthur Summerfield, postmaster general of the U. S. Postal Department, requesting that he find ways and means of incorporating this amount, plus an additional $1.40 each week hereafter, into the operating budget of the Post Office.

My reason for this action is that I feel that the second class mailing rates for The Friona Star, and many other publications of a similar nature, are too low as to represent a realistic fee for services performed by this agency of the government.

Although the rate varies from time to time, depending on the size and weight of any given issue, and also the location of subscribers, this $1.40 will approximately equal the postage now being paid

The Friona Star

Elsewhere.....$4 Per Yr.

Member Texas Press Association

Entered as second class mail matter July 31, 1925, at the post office in Friona, Texas, under the Act of March 3, 1897. Published each Thursday.

each week to mail The Friona Star.

That amount is roughly one-tenth of one cent for each paper mailed. Even though there are no records maintained by the Post Office to show what the cost of providing this service would be, reason and common sense moves us to conclude that such a service cannot be performed for the prevailing rates. Therefore, we are voluntarily doubling the amount, and we still suspect that we are getting a tremendous bargain.

Newspapers in general and weekly newspapers in particular have never felt that paying a fair rate of postage would be disastrous to their business. As proof of the growing uneasiness we feel concerning this subsidy, although it is a small amount compared to our many other expenses, let us cite you a resolution adopted at the 48th Annual Convention of the Panhandle Press Association held in Amarillo last month:

"Resolved . . . that we favor whatever increase in second class rates may be necessary to make the payment on newspapers cover the full cost of mailing, provided that a sincere effort be made by the Post Office to adjust all postal rates so that they cover full cost of the service."

The Star does not want to wait until favoritism has been removed for others; The Star wants to pay a fair rate for postage now. Will you consider our offer to double the postage paid for our weekly newspaper?

If you will, I further hope that you will then find it easier to remove other favored patrons of the mail from the positions they now commercially exploit at the expense of the taxpayers at large.

Large circulation newspapers, magazines, third and fourth class permit holders, and the mailers of "junk" unaddressed mail make up the bulk of the postal deficit, as I believe your records will indicate. The subsidy to the community press of America is not large, but there is no more excuse for it than there is for special favors to any individual or business.

We hope that you will give this matter your favorable attention.

Respectfully,

W. H. GRAHAM JR.

Eight new members were initiated in a formal ceremony at the auditorium Tuesday evening at 5. Jon Edelman, president; Janice Miller, vice-president; Judy Bruns, treasurer; Pat Cranfill, reporter; Luellen McLean, secretary; and Kim Caffey, usher; had charge of the installation. They were assisted by Keith Taylor, Monty Baker, Erma Drake, Geraldine Phipps, Sterling Prichard; Elaine Holcomb, and Janet Snead.

Janiece Bock, Gerald Daniel, Luann Hardesty, Ted Sanders, Margaret Mabry, Dudley Barber, Billie Rae McKee, and Bobbie Barber were presented membership cards in recognition of the work they had completed, which totaled ten points. Extra point stars were given to several members.

Four members of the troupe are eligible for honor bars and will receive them in the near future. They are Jan Edelman, Gerald Floyd, Judy Bruns, and Geraldine Phipps. An Honor Thespian is the highest honor of the society.

Following the initiation, refreshments of cookies and punch were served members, parents, teachers, and friends who were guests. The serving table was covered with a white cloth and was lighted by seven blue candles. The decorations carried out the blue and gold colors of the troupe and the gold comedy and tragedy insignia was prominently displayed.

Sunday dinner guests in the Calvin Martin home were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Baxter and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Martin and children of Friona; and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Weatherly and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weatherly and children of Portland, Oregon.

THE BULWARK OF A COMMUNITY IS ITS CHURCHES

You remember being in this picture yourself, years ago—don't you? More than once, you stood with your friends . . . you prayed together for a classmate, for the boys in service, for our country's welfare. Perhaps not more than two or three of you belonged to the same church, congregation, or synagogue. But you had this in common. You all knew how to pray to God. That habit of prayer wasn't taught in school or practiced only in your home. You were taken to church or synagogue every week. Your parents knew their duty to help you find a Faith to live by. And now it's your turn—to fulfill the same obligation to your children. Start this week, worshipping together.

You and Your State Traffic Laws

By Fred Reagan
(Editor's note: This is the second in a series of three articles concerning the state traffic laws in Texas. The state laws dealt with herein are taken from a booklet, "Texas Motor Vehicle Laws", issued by the Texas Highway Department in Austin.)

Possibly one of the most abused traffic laws in the state of Texas is that concerning the passing of passenger-discharging school buses. The indignant howls of school bus drivers have been loud and long for a number of years now, demanding that law enforcement officers remedy the situation. Yet, citizens continue to violate this particular law with methodic regularity.

Here's how it reads:
"The driver of a vehicle upon a highway outside of a business or residence district upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding ten (10) miles per hour, and with due caution for the safety of such children."

Listed under the heading "equipment" are a number of regulations which in the past have proved to be thorns in the sides of drivers. One such law is concerning tail lamps. It reads:

"Every motor vehicle, trailer, semi-trailer, and pole trailer, and any other vehicle which is being drawn at the end of a train of vehicles shall be equipped with at least two head lamps with at least one on each side of the front of the motor vehicle, which head lamps shall comply with the requirements and limitations set forth by the Texas state traffic laws."

"Every motor vehicle, trailer, semi-trailer, and pole trailer, and any other vehicle which is being drawn at the end of a train of vehicles shall be equipped with at least one tail lamp mounted on the rear, which when lighted as herein before required, shall emit a red light plainly visible from a distance of five hundred (500) feet to the rear, provided that in the case of a train of vehicles only the tail lamp on the rearmost vehicle need actually be seen from the distance specified."

Another, dealing with noise, states that "Every motor vehicle shall at all times be equipped with a muffler in good working order and in constant operation to prevent excessive or unusual noise and annoying smoke and no person shall use a muffled cut-out, bypass, or similar device upon a motor vehicle on a highway."

And again, "Every motor vehicle when operated upon a highway shall be equipped with a horn in good working order and capable of emitting sound audible under normal conditions from a distance of not less than two hundred (200) feet, but no horn or other warning device shall emit an unreasonably loud or harsh sound or a whistle."

The driver of a motor vehicle shall when necessary to insure safe operation give audible warning with his horn but shall not otherwise use such horn when upon a highway."

We thought this an interesting one: "Any person who shoots or discharges any gun, pistol, or firearm in, on, along, or across any public road in this state shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars ($100)."

Tulip time in Holland must be a wonderful sight to see; however, except in numbers it is doubtful if Holland has anything over Friona this spring. Tulips have never been lovelier. Some of the most beautiful ones we have seen are near the hospital, on the south side of the James W. Cunningham residence, and at the Ed Bogness home.

So much favorable comment has been heard about the recent Lions Club program that surely they will stage another one on the same order. Since we missed the presentation on the stage, we are hoping we get to see the number which will be shown on television. Roger Simmons is anxiously awaiting word concerning his TV appearance.

Haven't talked to any of the residents of the Black community since the announcement was made that Black would definitely be in the state contest. Again we offer our congratulations to our neighbor to the northeast and will be looking forward to the state judging.

Except for a few minor details, the Hub Community Center is ready for use for community activities. Some plans are being made for the first meeting in it, but no definite date has been set as far as we know now.

Since we have never attended a meeting in that community, we are hoping for an invitation out there. If that community decides to enter the Rural Neighborhood Progress contest in 1958, the other entrants are sure to have some stiff competition. When it comes to cooperation on community projects and getting things done, the Hub community residents really have the spirit and are willing to work to accomplish any given task.

The absence of early spring flowers in Mrs. Fred White's yard in the west part of town is noticeable to a lot of persons who have been accustomed to looking there for the first spring colors. Mrs. White is convalescing from an illness and unable to do the yard work which has been her hobby for a number of years.

Several local boys who are in Uncle Sam's service have been seen on the streets recently. Although the Star does not have a regular column concerning our servicemen, we would certainly appreciate a call telling us who is home from where and where he plans to go from here.

Some of the things we happen to know about our servicemen are: Thomas Gibson is home after finishing his basic training at Camp Carson, Colorado; Rex Blackburn and Billy Nazworth are finishing their basic training at Camp Hood; Ray Dean Fleming was here several hours Saturday, enroute somewhere we suppose; Cotton Renner had a weekend leave from Norman and he and his wife, Kay, visited relatives and friends.

In addition to information concerning servicemen, we would appreciate information on the comings, goings, or other doings of any of our readers or other Friona residents. Just call us at 2291 and we will be grateful to you.

Noticed in a Pioneer Gas publication recently that Joe Blythe is now a maintenance man at Plainview. Some of you will remember Joe, and his wife, Doris, who used to live on a farm northwest of town.

Seniors Feted With Banquet Saturday

The junior-senior banquet at Friona Schools Saturday night was "out of this world." Or, so was the theme of the annual feed which took place at the Interplanetary Spaceport, better known as the school cafeteria.

Everything about the banquet carried out the outerspace motif, including the invitations sent to the guests. The invitations were a spacegram sent via the interplanetary combine.

Guests included the senior class and members of the school faculty. Attending the banquet were 120 persons.

Decorations of the cafeteria made it appear like outerspace with various planets descending from the ceiling. Menu for the evening included cosmic rays, atomic energy, roast tyrannosaurus, jet jiggles, celestial comets, atmospheric fluff, energy capsules, and neptune nectar.

Toastmaster was the Astrogator, Weldon Fairchild. The toast of welcome was given by Luellen McLean; the toast of thanks by Phillip Weatherly and the senior will be read by Phyllis Hinds.

Included on the program was a space opera, Visions of Venus, and the Moon Maidens. The senior class prophecy was given by Interplanetary Intelligency (Jan Edelman), and the featured speaker for the

Fish Fry Has Surprise Ending

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rickerd invited neighbors to their home Friday evening for a fish fry. After supper the guests surprised the host couple with a housewarming.

Holcomb and children; Russell O'Brian, Linda, and Karen; and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Edwards.

Gifts were sent by Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Partan.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Nazworth and children, Charlotte Ann and Curtis Lynn, of Amarillo, were weekend visitors in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nazworth and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gibson.

Missionary Society Has Covered Dish Luncheon

The United Pentecostal Missionary Society met in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Houlette Tuesday for an all day meeting climaxed by a covered dish luncheon on noon.

Those present were Mrs. Frank Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Speir, Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Lutz, Mrs. John Terry, Mrs. P. W. Hughes, Mrs. J. V. Riley, Mrs. W. O. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Buske, and Etta Mae Lutz. Guests were Betty Tedford and Jessie Smith of Clovis.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Frank Griffith and was opened by prayer in union. Mrs. Dutz read a poem entitled, "Lines." Following the lesson, the group was dismissed by prayer.

Gerald Daniel To Regional Meet

Gerald Daniel will be in Amarillo this Saturday participating in the Regional FFA public speaking contest. He won the right to represent the Littlefield district by winning first place in a contest at Farwell recently.

The Littlefield district is comprised of 16 schools, and the region takes in most of West Texas. Winners in the regional will take part in the state contest next week.

Accompanying Gerald to Amarillo Saturday will be J. T. Gee, Friona sponsor.

SECTION II THE FRIONA STAR

WE'VE MOVED

Several Friona residents were busy moving last week. Three families changed their places of residence within the city limits, four moved in from other towns, one moved into town from the country, two moved from town to the country, and four moved to other towns.

Those moving within the city limits were the Curtis H. Camps, Fred Walkers, and Oliver Riekens; the Tom Dements from Pitcher, Okla., moved into the house formerly occupied by H. V. York; the Bill Fords of Hart moved into the J. W. Roberts house; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roberts moved to Bovina; and Mr. and Mrs. Obe Wilson Jr. moved to Hereford.

Those who moved to the country were Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Stowers and children, the J. J. Millers, and the Rafael Gonzales family. Billy Parker moved to Lamesa, and the E. V. Hartmans moved to a farm near Grady.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Truax moved from a farm south of town to the house in the West Loop Addition, which they purchased from Mrs. Marie Harper. Rev. and Mrs. B. C. Ancira and children of Lovington moved into the Fred Dennis rent house, and the Clyde Londons from Missouri moved into one of Mrs. Pearl Kinsley's houses.

Mrs. Tim Magness Has New Baby Boy

Clifton Turner is the name Mrs. Marjore Magness chose for her baby son, who was born at Lubbock on April 24. He weighed 7 lbs. 15 1/2 ozs.

Mrs. Magness and the baby have been dismissed from the hospital and are at the home of her parents, who live in Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. H. T. "Tiny" Magness are paternal grandparents.

It's A Boy For Setliffs

Mr. and Mrs. David Setliff of the Hub community became the parents of a baby boy at Deaf Smith County Hospital in Hereford Friday.

He is the second son of the couple and has been named Byron Keith.

Mrs. A. C. Curry of Amarillo spent Sunday night with her daughter, Mrs. Cayson Jones.

The BIBLE Says

"YE HAVE HEARD THAT IT WAS SAID, THOU SHALT LOVE THY NEIGHBOR, AND HATE THINE ENEMY: BUT I SAY UNTO YOU, LOVE YOUR ENEMIES AND PRAY FOR THEM THAT PERSECUTE YOU: THAT YE MAY BE THE SONS OF YOUR FATHER WHO IS IN HEAVEN: FOR HE MAKETH HIS SUN TO RISE ON THE EVIL AND THE GOOD, AND SENDETH RAIN ON THE JUST AND THE UNJUST. FOR IF YE LOVE THEM THAT LOVE YOU, WHAT REWARD HAVE YE? DO NOT EVEN THE PUBLICANS THE SAME? AND YE SALUTE YOUR BRETHREN ONLY, WHAT DO YE MORE THAN OTHERS? DO NOT EVEN THE GENTILES THE SAME?" (Matthew 5:43-47).

easily put into practice all would be well. The difficulty lies within ourselves. We feel that our honor must be upheld; that others must know and admit that we are right.

We readily do good to those we love and who in turn love us. This, of course, we should do. It is natural and right. Christianity, however, teaches us to do more. Doing good to our enemies is a real test of our religion. Love must be without hypocrisy. When we do anything for an enemy it must not be with reservations, or with the tongue in the cheek.

To those who profess Christianity today our Lord may still say, "What do ye more than others, if ye salute your brethren only?" And we are found to be embarrassed when we examine our own smallness and our divided party spirit.

Weed Control Time Here For Farmers

Spring is here, rains have come and our enemies have begun to show up. The chief ones that everyone should be concerned about says County Agent Joe Jones, are the field bindweed and Johnson grass.

There are many ways to fight these and farmers report some success from all. For the bindweed a good soil sterilant properly applied seems to do the best job when infested areas are not too large. Some of the soil sterilants that have proven effective are sodium chlorate, 5 pounds per square rod; Atlacide, 7 pounds per square rod; Borascu, 30 pounds per square rod; Karmex W, 3/8 pound per square rod.

"Karmex W is one of the most potent of soil sterilants and may leave land sterile for long periods of time. You should border areas where this material is applied to prevent it from moving from where applied," says Jones.

The results obtained will depend a lot on how uniform the sterilant was applied and the amount of moisture in the soil. Where practical, bindweed areas should be bordered and 3 to 4 inches of water applied immediately following application. The soil should not be disturbed for at least one year. If no rain is received, another three to four inches of water should be applied to the area in about one month.

If applied to dryland it is a good idea to disc the sterilant into the top inch of soil to prevent its blowing away and breakdown from heat. All the above sterilants can be applied dry except Karmex W which should be applied as a spray.

"Don't forget that sodium chlorate and Atlacide are very flammable when they come in contact with organic matter. The safest way is to apply dry and don't get it on you. If it does get on shoes, clothing, or equipment, be sure to treat as if it were gasoline as it is very flammable," adds the agent.

JOHNSON GRASS

The same materials can be used to control Johnson grass but are used at a reduced rate. Also several other materials are good when applied properly. Naptha type oils, Dalpon and others have proven very effective.

BLUEWEED

Spraying the foliage of thrifty blueweed in the late bud stage at the Amarillo Experiment Station in June 1954 with one pound of 2,4-D ester in 40 gallons of water per acre reduced the stand 98 per cent by September 1955. Similar results were obtained from the use of one pound of 2,4-D ester and 6.4 pounds of Drest in 40 gallons of water per acre.

The same soil sterilants as are used on bindweed are also effective for blueweed.

OTHER METHODS

Because it is too expensive to eradicate large infestations of bindweed with soil sterilants, cheaper methods of control have been tested. These were intensive cultivation, the use of 2,4-D and cropping systems with competitive crops.

Perennial weeds, such as bindweed, are killed with cultivation by gradually depleting the food supply in the root system. Each time the weed grows after it has been cut off by cultivation, food material must be transported from the roots to the growing area near the soil surface. As a result, repeated cultivations cause a depletion of food reserves.

A sweep-type cultivator should be used to be certain that the plant tops are severed from the roots. With repeated sweep cultivations, crop residues are conserved and left on the soil surface, greatly reducing the hazard of wind and water erosion.

All cultivation in the experiment at Bushland were made at four inches, the most economical depth of cultivation. Weeds were cultivated every nine to 15 days after emergence throughout the growing season. This treatment gave 89 per cent control in three years.

The first cultivation in the spring was given between April 15 and May 1, when the bindweed runners were about four to six inches long. The last cultivation in the fall depended on moisture conditions and varied from September 24, 1952 (a dry year) to November 10, 1949 (a wet year). The number of days between cultivations varied with moisture conditions.

During wet periods, the weeds emerged in about four days after cultivation; during very dry times, the weeds required 30 or more days to reach the soil surface.

One-way plows, disc harrows, lister plows and rod weeder tend to cover weeds instead of cutting them off, and the root reserves of the plants are not reduced. Bindweed also escapes cultivation with a sweep plow if the shovels do not have enough overlap.

A practical approach for using an intensive cultivation program would be to cultivate every three weeks. If growing conditions are favorable, cultivations at intervals of two weeks will be required. However, if it is dry and the bindweed has not emerged in three weeks, cultivation should be delayed until after the weeds have emerged.

For cost-sharing assistance on field bindweed control on cropland, make prior application to the ASC office. Cost-sharing for bindweed control on crop land runs as follows: sodium chlorate, $6.50 cwt.; Atlacide, $6.50 cwt.; Polybor chlorate, $6.50 cwt.; Karmex W, $1.70 per lb.

For further information on cost sharing, check with the ASC office. For further information on weed control see your county agent.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

REA will celebrate its 22nd birthday this Saturday, May 11.

David A. Hamil, administrator, who is a native Coloradoan, says he thinks the future is a bright one for REA. In a statement last week, Hamil said, "If I have any one hope for the future, it is that Farm Bureau members and REA users should do everything possible to keep service up and standards high for the future of farming and the future of their cooperatives." Hamil is a member of the Colorado Farm Bureau.

SAVING "TAIL WATER"—Surplus irrigation water, which runs off a sloping irrigated field to the east of this lake on the C. W. Dixon place southwest of Friona, is reclaimed. It is pumped by centrifugal pump to the irrigation ditch at the top of the field, and surface aluminum pipe speeds the job. This is a water collection basin at the edge of the lake. The suction pipe and the pump primer can be seen leading to the power unit.

If you did not get to attend the cotton growers meeting in Bovina Monday night make it a point to attend the one at the Friona School Auditorium this Friday night. This is not a Farm Bureau meeting, but President Kaltwasser was called upon to send notices to members to attend the meeting, which he gladly did.

Asphalt coated cotton sacks have contributed seriously to down grading of cotton picked in them because of tar spotting from the coating in years past. In an effort to eliminate the use of these sacks, Kaltwasser has sent letters to vendors of cotton sacks in this county to refrain from offering asphalt coated sacks to their customers. Plastic dot, plastic coated or plain duck sacks are free from the contaminating tar.

Monday night, May 13, in the Friona study hall, a meeting will be held for the purpose of inaugurating a program of mosquito prevention. HD Agent Jimmie Lou Wainscott and her clubs are taking the initiative and asking all civic and farm organizations to participate. Farm Bureau will be represented.

Secretary of State Dulles, testifying against the House recommendation for a cut of some 19 million dollars for salaries and expenses, stated that this would necessitate a cut of about 700 employees in that department. According to our calculator, that would be a little over $27,000 per year for each employee. He complained that many of these people have had to work overtime without overtime pay. With equipment furnished by you, the taxpayer, we wonder how much we should add to the $27,000 for overtime past eight hours.

CONSIDER THIS: The lot is cast into the lap; but the whole disposing thereof is of the Lord.

Cotton Council Men To Be At Meeting

Three representatives of the National Cotton Council will attend another in a series of grower-meetings to be held in the Friona High School auditorium Friday night at 8.

The programs, sponsored by Parmer County ginners, are designed to acquaint producers with the problems facing the industry as a whole, and also with possible solutions to these problems.

One of the meetings was held in Bovina Monday night, and a story concerning the talks heard there appear elsewhere in the Farm and Home section.

THE PARMER FARMER

One subject that is of perpetual interest to us is the one that pertains to our underground water supply and how it may be conserved and replenished. Very, very few people still cling to the old-fashioned notion that our resources are "unlimited." There are just too many facts indicating otherwise.

While we believe that the realities of our pumping operations, which to date must be classed as "mining" operations, should be faced, the long-term outlook is not entirely hopeless.

For instance, it is estimated by competent hydrologists that the rainfall run-off during a year of normal moisture on the Plains is about one million acre feet. That's quite a lot of water to lose to evaporation, not to mention the land that the thousands of small lakes take out of cultivation.

In the past few days, we have obtained a report from the state board of water engineers that deals in detail with recharge experiments conducted by the City of Amarillo in the Ogallala formation near there.

The tests actually are nothing new to most readers, and tests of a similar nature have been conducted by the High Plains Water District in Floyd County.

One result of the tests that stood out, however, is deserving of special mention, we feel. The Amarillo tests were conducted under especially careful conditions, and many measurements on various phases of the recharge project were carefully maintained. Six observation wells of small diameter were drilled at varying distances and directions from the test well in order to determine what, if any, effect the recharge might have in adjoining water bearing formations.

The recharge water that was injected into the test well was treated with common salt so that it could be easily analyzed and identified wherever it turned up.

The tests at Amarillo indicated conclusively that the lateral movement of water returned to an irrigation well is very small indeed. That is, the water which was returned to the sands showed very little indication to "move away" from the injection site.

In fact, graphs prepared from the tests made it appear that water can be "stacked" under a well in the water-bearing formation as though the water were dominoes or some other firm-bodied material.

Thus, it would appear that Farmer Jones, for example, should not feel that it would be a waste of time for him to return water from a lake during winter-time to the sand under his farm through his irrigation well, for the often suspected reason that the water would, in a period of several months, move away through the sand and benefit Farmer Brown who lives one mile southeast.

The Amarillo tests proved that pumping a well for any length of time (such as an irrigation well) causes a cone-shaped depression in the water formation that disappears very slowly, and that recharge water will fill this depression and then "stack up" under the well like cordwood.

The Amarillo experimenters observed that they could inject the water in, then turn around a little later and pump the same water back out with no trouble. That is, it didn't run off.

They figure that water moving through the Ogallala has a speed of about 100 feet per year. It'd take a long time for Farmer Jones to help Farmer Brown at that rate!

Cotton's Problems Discussed Monday

Cotton is being out-researched, out-priced, and out-promoted by aggressive competitors and it will take an all-out effort to meet the challenge.

In a special presentation, "Cotton's Problem, Program and Potential," staff members of National Cotton Council brought this conclusion in to sharp focus at a meeting in Bovina School Auditorium Monday night. Some 60 interested individuals were on hand to hear the program.

Council field service representatives, Earl Sears, Robert Love, and Dale Anderson, warned that despite a strong consumer preference for cotton's superior qualities, rivals are threatening from every side.

The plain facts, the speakers said, are these: Cotton's surplus is up, acreage has been cut, costs have risen, and profits are trending downward. Competition has increased a total of 21 million cotton bale equivalents since World War II. Synthetic fibers, domestic and foreign, have risen by some

8 million bales, paper by a million, and foreign cotton production has gone up 12 million bales. All these things make it urgent that cotton get competitive on a three-way basis of price, promotion, and research, the speakers said.

Regarding price, it was pointed out that cotton's position in relation to the newer synthetics is good, but, compared with rayon, cotton's major rival, it's poor.

Promotion-wise, the synthetic producers spend $20 million annually to sell their products, compared with less than $1 million a year spent by the raw cotton industry.

In this connection, the speakers noted that cotton's present and future sales promotion opportunities are unlimited. Using slides and other visual aids, they demonstrated how cotton can be effectively sold in those markets where personal preference and opinion are major sales influences.

A grave disparity exists on the research front, too, the speakers reported. Recognizing quality de-ciency as their basic weakness, the synthetics have been pouring $80 million a year (compared to cotton's $14 million) into research. This effort has resulted in the development of man-made fibers superior to cotton from the standpoint of strength, abrasion resistance, and color fastness, and fibers equal to cotton in absorbency, heat resistance, and water repellency.

Despite these disquieting factors, however, cotton has made giant strides and great opportunities exist for cotton to forge further ahead. For example, despite limited funds, the program of the National Cotton Council—the organization that represents the entire raw cotton industry—has paid off dramatically, the speakers said.

The Council's program has helped stimulate increased efficiency of production and processing. It has improved quality through research, and has spurred sales through hard-hitting advertising and promotion campaigns. With more production efficiency, more promotion, cotton can hold and steadily expand its market, the speakers emphasized.

In fact, they said, if cotton can merely hold on to its present share of the domestic and foreign market, the present trend can be reversed and a market for 15 million bales can be built in four or five years. And this can keep pointing upward to 17 million bales by 1965. This will come as demand for fiber products grow across the world, and under conditions of continued population growth and improved standards of living.

On the other hand, if consumption of cotton can be increased by but one per cent at home and by 20 per cent of the expected foreign textile consumption rise, then cotton can balloon its total market to over 17 million bales by 1960, and well over 20 million bales a year by 1965.

But in projecting these possibilities, the speakers again warned that cotton must at least partially overcome present disparities in promotion and research. If the powerful trend now working against cotton and for its competitors is not halted, domestic and foreign consumption will go down to 8 million bales a year by 1960 and will sink further to 7 million bales by 1965, they predicted.

The Monday meeting was one in a series being held across the nation's Cotton Belt designed to acquaint all those having a stake in cotton's future. It was sponsored by Parmer County ginners.

RABIES SERIOUS PROBLEM

Rabies is currently a serious problem in several sections of the state, reports Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian. Warm-blooded animals are susceptible to rabies and Dr. Patterson warns rural people to be on the lookout for strange-acting animals, particularly foxes, coyotes, skunks and civet cats. Pets coming in contact with suspicious domestic or wild animals should be given a booster shot even if already protected by a standard rabies shot.

CHEESE RING

Tasty Cheese Ring makes a fine main dish when teamed with a hearty ham 'n bean sauce.

Make tasteful use of leftover Easter ham by serving it with this flavorful Cheese Ring. Serve the ham in combination with lima beans in your favorite cream sauce.

The attractive ring is easy as can be to make. Put it together just as you would a batch of muffins, adding cheese to the dry ingredients. Bake it in a well-greased ring mold. Serve Cheese Ring with piping hot creamed ham and beans and a fresh and colorful relish assortment—tomato wedges, carrot curls and green pepper strips. This is a good choice for luncheon or for a hurry-up supper.

When you bake this Cheese Ring and other muffin-type breads, too, be sure you use enriched flour. Enrichment adds thiamine, niacin, riboflavin and food iron to both your home-baked products and those you buy from the commercial baker.

CHEESE RING

2 cups sifted enriched flour	3/4 cup shredded American cheese
1 tablespoon baking powder	1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon salt	1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar	2 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add shredded cheese. Combine egg, milk and shortening. Add liquid to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is moistened. Spoon into greased 9-inch ring mold. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 25 minutes. Serve with creamed limas and cubed ham. Makes 1 9-inch.

Valid Well Permits Offered by District

On May 1 the district office of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District began issuing certificates of valid water well permits.

"A situation has developed lately which we think requires some protection for purchasers of land or mortgagees advancing money on land on the strength of existing wells," says Tom McFarland, district manager. "For example, suppose a land owner drilled a well in violation of the district rules and before appropriate action could be taken to close the well, the violator either sold or mortgaged the land. This would give the district the unpleasant task of proceeding against the party who was misled."

The district, to prevent the occurrence of this situation and prevent a cloud on the land title, will begin issuing certificates to abstractors and attorneys to show what permits have been granted on a particular tract of land. The interested parties may then determine whether the wells are at the correct location as specified on the well permits.

The district is perfecting its records so it can furnish certificates on permits on wells drilled after February of 1953. This service has been requested many times by people in the legal and abstracting professions.

It is planned to charge $1.00 for each permit certificate.

Farmers Receive Payments

By adopting various conservation practices on their land, Parmer County farmers received $123,991.90 in government payments during 1956, according to a report released this week from the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

The practice which county farmers catered to most was the installation of concrete pipe to improve irrigation. The pipe was installed on 15,712 acres to conserve the water on 110 different farms. This practice took by far the largest percentage of the total payments, $110,175.85.

Second ranking practice in regard to dollars and cents was the control of bindweed. Forty-four farmers put this into effect on 81 farms and received a total payment of $5,556.75.

Cropland chiseling brought payments of $4,709.50 to 52 farmers on 9,419 acres. Other practices during the year included bench leveling, 216 acres on 10 farms, for payments totaling $2,967; summer legumes, 1,402 acres on 10 farms with payments being $482.80.

Installation of waterways on 10 acres of two farms had payments of $220. Also, winter legumes on 100 acres of three farms brought payments of $150.

As early as 1890, when special schools for nurses were unknown to Japan, the Japanese Red Cross Society pioneered. Since then, a total of over 45,000 nurses have been trained and today the Red Cross society has 4,500 active graduate nurses serving in 95 Red Cross hospitals.

Wheat Referendum Set For June 20

June 20 has been set as the date for the 1958 wheat referendum. On that date, wheat farmers from all over the nation will go to the polls and give their approval or disapproval to quotas on next year's wheat crop.

If quotas are approved, the national average price support for commercial areas will be $1.78 per bushel, 75 percent of the estimated March 15 transitional parity of $2.37, says Prentice Mills, county ASC manager. This compares with the national average of $2 per bushel in 1956.

If quotas are disapproved in the referendum, the price support would be 50 percent of parity.

The national allotment has been set at 53 million acres, the same as 1957. The allotment for Parmer County has not yet been announced, according to Mills.

Skeeter Meeting Monday Night

The rising threat of encephalitis (sleeping sickness) in the area has prompted a special mosquito control meeting to be Monday night in the Friona High School. It is sponsored by the Parmer County Home Demonstration Council.

Dr. Paul Spring, county health officer, will explain the situation that faces area residents, and will have recommendations to make. Since several cases of encephalitis were diagnosed in the area last year, it is anticipated that interest in the subject will be high. The meeting starts at 8 o'clock.

Jones asked all who are interested to turn in their record books to be judged for District Camp and 4-H Round-Up to be held in June. Three boys will go to district camp and two to 4-H Round-up, from Parmer County.

Gary Stevenson gave a report on the recreation school in Farwell. Joe Jones then passed out rules and regulations for the grain sorghum and cotton contests for this year. He read the rules, and told us what the prize money is for these contests.

We discussed our county camp. All boys who intend to go to camp will need a project and will have to keep good records on it. The camp will be in July or August.

FARWELL SR. GIRLS 4-H NEWS Carolyn Watts, Reporter

Farwell senior girls 4-H Club met at school on Thursday, May 2, with Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, county home demonstration agent, in charge.

The group planned a bake sale which they held in Farwell on Saturday. Funds derived from the sale will be used to send delegates to camp sometime this summer.

Miss Wainscott told the group that they would have a clothing workshop after June 15.

Iris Goldsmith resigned from the presidency and vice-president, Joan Potts, was voted in as the new leader.

Following the meeting, the girls played several games. Attending were Vera Haney, Carolyn Watts, Joan Potts, Zell Billingsley, Jean Reed, Cheryl Price, Jolene Donaldson, Ginger Willard, Gloria Hillock, Sherry Vestal, Judy Billingsley, and the adult leader, Mrs. Leon Billingsley.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

In checking the soil temperature the first part of the week, we found that the temperature is gradually rising. The temperature at 9 a. m. was an even 60 degrees F. It still is not warm enough to put cotton in although it would probably germinate. The soil temperature should be around 70 degrees F. for best results with cotton.

Now that planting season is nearly here, farmers should think of keeping their farm land productive. One practice that is a step in the right direction of keeping land productive is interplanting cowpeas with grain sorghum. This is a summer legume crop which will add nitrogen to the soil when inoculated, thus making more available for next year's crop.

Cowpeas can be interplanted with grain sorghum with a special attachment for this purpose. They should be planted at the rate of 4-8 pounds per acre, at a depth of 1.5-2.5 inches. Attention should be given to the variety planted as some varieties such as Babban tend to cling to and climb the feed stalks. Babham should be used in feeds planted for silage.

Due to the rains, the SCS office is again behind with its work. However, the rain is certainly welcome. We have noticed that the wheat is coming right along with the exception of where the green bugs have hit just recently. We have talked with several people who have already planted cotton; and many more who have said that they are ready to get that seed in the ground. SCS personnel have been running a few ditch lines, but certainly not as many as a month ago, and we are still checking irrigation pipelines.

The Friona SCS work unit has been presented with two USDA Safety awards for 1956—for the prevention of disabling injuries to personnel, and for the prevention of motor vehicle accidents. The work unit is in the process of checking the slope of land on many fields throughout the county. We are trying to work out the most economical methods for applying irrigation water to the soil. For instance the length of runs, amount of water applied per acre in accordance with its needs, etc. We want to conserve as much of the water as is possible; especially cutting down the large amount of tail water that is flowing down the bar ditches to the lakes.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

Leading fashion magazine editors predict that the big fashion news for spring and summer is white. It may be a dress, coat, duster, jacket, shoes, hat, or accessories, but the important touch in any well dressed woman's wardrobe is the touch of white.

If you are one of the many women who feel that a touch of white is just what you need, you might like to concentrate on small jackets, capelets frosty white jewelry, hats, or gloves. The jackets, capelets, and gloves could be of washable material so that it would be easy to keep them fresh for each wearing. Many of these items can be worn with different dresses and make good change offs.

A topping for coffee cake, gingerbread, or spice cake can be quickly and easily made by arranging thin slices of apple on top of the batter then sprinkling with sugar and cinnamon before baking.

There is a new pressing cloth on the market which should be a "must" in every home. The pressing cloth, which has just recently been introduced, is a "see through it" cloth, and can be used with both steam and dry irons. However, if it is used with a dry iron, a little dampening is necessary. The transparency of the cloth makes intricate pressing such as pleats, tucks, darts, binding seams and areas around trimmings and embroidery as easy as simple ironing operations.

Each cloth is chemically processed to prevent the passage of water directly through the fabric being pressed. It also can be used over and over, and is perfect on all types of fabrics. Any homemaker who sews would enjoy having such a cloth when sewing any kind of material.

When pressing seams, ordinary wrapping paper inserted in strips under either side of darts and seams will prevent ridges on the right side of the garment.

Lime Jello makes such a colorful dessert and there are many different ways to use it in salads. Two recipes which are different and yet easy to prepare are Lime-Grapefruit Salad, and Chocolate Topped Lime Cream.

For the lime-grapefruit salad, you will need 2 packages lime flavored gelatine, 3 cups boiling water, 1 2-ounce can spiced grapes, 1 cup liquid from the grapes, 2 fresh grapefruit, and some honey cream dressing.

Dissolve gelatine in boiling water. Drain grapes, adding 1 cup of the liquid to gelatine mixture. Chill until gelatine is consistency of unbeaten egg white. Peel grapefruit and separate into segments, removing all white portion and membrane. Pour 1/2 cup chilled gelatine in cold-water-rinsed 2-quart mold.

Arrange grapefruit segments; combine with remaining gelatine mixture and drained grapes. Spoon over gelatine in mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with additional spiced grapes, if desired. Serve with honey-cream dressing.

To make this dressing, whip 1 package cream cheese and 1 tablespoon honey together until light and fluffy. Blend in 3/4 cup whipped cream.

For the chocolate-topped lime cream, dissolve 1 package lime-flavored gelatine in 1 1/2 cups boiling water. Stir in 1 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, and 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel. Chill until mixture is consistency of unbeaten egg white, then beat until light and fluffy. Fold in one cup whipped cream. Sprinkle 1/2 cup chocolate wafer crumbs evenly over bottom of buttered 8x8x2-inch pan. Cover crumbs evenly with gelatine mixture. Top with remaining crumbs and chill several hours or overnight. May be garnished with sweetened whipped cream, if desired.

New Growers May Apply For Wheat Acreage

Farmers on land which no wheat was seeded for grain for any of the years, 1955, 1956, and 1957, may now apply for a 1958 wheat acreage allotment, says Joe Magness, chairman of the Parmer County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

In order to be considered for an allotment the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC committee by July 31, 1957, Magness says. Blank application forms are available at the county ASC office for use in filing these requests.
