Mothers Day at Methodist Church

Mother's day plans of the local Methodist church centers around the shrine of Christian motherhood. The day is dedicated to prayer for mother's sons away in service and to the dedication of those present to mother's God. It seems very appropriate that President Truman has asked us to pray and give thanks to God for Victory on Mother's Day. Is anything as appropriate for Mothers Day observance as worshipping Mother's God on the day we honor motherhood?

More than fifteen young people and adults have enrolled to be received into the church on Mother's Day. The pastor is planning to receive twice this number. Building united Christian homes on Christian ideals and active church life is our first line of defence, according to the pastor, Rev. N. Huckabee.

Mothers Day this year is not for expensive gifts of feasting in this time of desperate world tragedy; it is a day to pray and plan of the salvation of mothers' sons and daughters. "If our congregation will work and pray this week, we have every prospect of having another Victory like we had at Easter—large numbers of adults and young people professing faith in Christ; many families uniting in one church for more effective Christian living; many coming back to warm-hearted fellowship after years of spiritual loneliness."

Staff Sgt. J. L. Bass Injured at Okinawa

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bass received a telegram last Friday from the War Department that their son, Staff Sgt., J. L. Bass, had been wounded in the battle of Okinawa. He is now hospitalized and thought to be doing nicely.

The extent of his wounds has not been learned, but thought to be leg wound. He has been in the service since Oct., 1942, and overseas a year in July. He received his basic training at Camp Adair, Oregon. J. C. is with the 96th Division Infantry. A brother, Sgt. Curtis Bass, spent a fifteen day furlough here visiting with his parents last week. He was enroute from Keesler Field, Miss., to Wichita Falls, Texas. A sister, Mrs. Perry Bryant, resides here in Brownfield.

Pvt. Young Admitted To Wear "Boots and Wings" Insigna

Pvt. Lowell W. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. F. Young, of Route 3, Brownfield, Texas, has won the right to wear the "Boots and Wings" of the United States Army Paratroops. He has completed four weeks of jump training during which time he has made five jumps, the last a tactical jump at night involving a combat problem on landing.

Jumping at the Parachute School has been steadily developed to a recognized war science. American Paratroopers have been recognized throughout the world for their meritorious actions against the enemy.

In addition to producing jumpers, Parachute Specialist Training is given to qualified men in Communications, Demolition, Riggers and Parachute Maintenance, vital skills for Airborne Troops.

Veteran Service Man Busy Here

R. W. Richardson, of Lubbock, State Service officer, was here Wednesday, aiding veterans with claims, under the GI Bill of Rights.

He was very busy all day at the County Judge's office, with a large number of claimants. He predicted that all service officers will be busy from now on.

Perhaps about the greatest objections to the state of being old is that there is not much future to it.

Sgt. Thurman Fought Luftwaffes When They Were Tough

15th AAF in Italy—Sgt. James E. Thurman, of Route 5, Brownfield, Texas, soon will have earned his sixth overseas service stripe, representing three years and seven campaigns in the European-African Eastern Theater. Sgt. Thurman came overseas in June, 1942, with the oldest fighter group in the AAF and was among the first Air Force soldiers to arrive in England for combat duty.

His group landed in North Africa with the ground troops on November 8, 1942, and mixed it with the Luftwaffe when the Germans still had air superiority. He and the other "charter members" of the group have seen the strength of the enemy fade until today the pilots of his group seldom encounter air opposition on their long-range escort missions and bombing and strafing attacks on the Germans in Austria and Germany.

From North Africa his group went to Sicily, Sardinia, Italy and Corsica. The group took part in the landings in Africa, Sicily, Salerno and Southern France.

More recently, the group was honored by being chosen to escort the principals of the Big Three Conference to and from their rendezvous in Yalta. The extensive and involved operations covered more than 16,000 miles of route over three continents and was accomplished without the loss of a pilot.

Brownfield Report at Methodist Conference

At the District Conference held at the First Methodist Church, Lubbock, last week, the following Brownfield people were in attendance: Rev. and Mrs. Ed Tarp, Rev. and Mrs. J. N. Hester, Mrs. W. B. Downing, Mrs. N. T. House, Fletcher Hester, Miss Lilly Hester, and Rev. and Mrs. R. N. Huckabee. Miss Hester was one of the three young people to be licensed to preach.

The Brownfield church made the following report for the first half of the conference year:

Members received on profession of faith and vows, 36; Members received by certificate, 53; 56% in church school attendance.

Woman's Society has a membership of 27 and has contributed more than $150.00 for all purposes. They have organized a Wesleyan Service Guild with 22 members, enthusiastic about their work. Raised for Crusade for Christ in cash $1636.00. Total subscribed for Crusade $1993.00. Benevolent quota of $716.00, paid in full. Total money raised for all purposes more than $5500.00.

COUNTY JURORS FOR MAY 17TH FOR COUNTY COURT

The following names have been drawn to serve as Petit Jurors, for County Court on May 17th, at 10 A. M.

V-E DAY CELEBRATED QUIETLY HERE

Tuesday, the long expected V-E day was observed very quietly in Brownfield. Most of the stores closed for the day, but no fan fare or noise were made.

The honeymoon is over when it is discovered that it is cheaper to cook Sunday dinner at home.

A Salt Mine at Every Milepost

The discovery of Germany's German salt mine was front page news in this country. Stories of the fabulous treasure read like pirate tales of old. Doughboys and Generals gasped at the sight of the glittering metal—tons of it. Each ton was estimated to be worth $1,000,000. And, according to reports, there were approximately 100 tons of the precious metal sealed behind a massive wall in the mineshaft—a hundred million dollars. Here was tangible money wealth that could be touched and understood.

It has been many years since the so-called common people have possessed gold. Governments have gone to great trouble to build up the myth that gold is of no value. They have gone to equally great trouble to see that none of this "worthless" metal remains in the hands of the people.

At any rate a few American soldiers have seen real gold. They know what a hundred million dollars looks like. They don't have to be mathematicians to put two and two together and get a comprehensive picture of the Federal debt of the United States. They can each see that it would take some 3,000 German salt mines each stocked with a hundred million dollars worth of gold to pay off the Federal debt, or, stated another way, a mine at every mile post from Los Angeles to New York.

And still the spenders of public money plan to pour out more and more borrowed billions after end of the war. Economy in government, like gold, has become a legend.

Gillham to Head 7th War Loan Drive

J. O. Gillham, President of the Brownfield State Bank, this week asked us for as liberal space as possible for publicity of the 7th War Loan Drive. We readily promised, but passed the buck and asked him for an interview, as we wanted statements of his own ideas about the drive.

Under another heading, we are producing that statement, which we think covers the ground in a very thorough manner. And we say, amen to the slogan he suggested, "we have just begun to fight." To American and perhaps Britain, the war is just half finished. The Japs have to bite the dust in defeat, and this will take time, money, material and other war essentials.

Let us not forget that we are half around the world from the fighting zone, and that food for our fighting men, as well as war material must be transported to them, every foot of the way over the great Pacific. But, if we will put what it takes, on the spot, our soldiers, sailors, marines and aviators will do the job, and as soon as possible, so they can all come home to God's country.

Let's all do our full share to wipe that crazy sneer off the face of old Tojo.

"We Have Just Begun to Fight," Suggested Slogan For 7th War Loan Drive Starting Mon.

In launching the mighty 7th War Loan drive, Monday, May 14th, J. O. Gillham, County War Loan Chairman suggested that Terry County paraphrase one of the late great President Roosevelt's fighting statements: "We have Just Begun to Fight."

"We should serve notice on Japan, and her war lords, through our strong support of the 7th War loan, that truly, "WE HAVE JUST BEGUN TO FIGHT." We must not have a let down in our war effort. Japan is a formidable enemy and let there be no mistake about that. Thousands of our sons will have to give their lives before the War Lords of Nippon are defeated, and we will have to buy more and more bonds.

The overall national quota for all issues is 14 billion dollars, with the individual quota 7 billions, and they are asking us to sell 4 billion in Series E Bonds. The Terry county overall quota is $455,000.00, with $290,00.00 of this amount to be sold in Series E. Bonds This is a large quota, but it can and must be reached. It can only be reached however, by the wholehearted support of every man, woman and child in Terry county. The time has come when we must sacrifice, if necessary, in order to raise this quota.

This is too large a task for just a few to put over, therefore he is going to call on every citizen, including men, women and school children, to help in this great task. Every citizen will be personally solicited during the drive and we hope that you will be ready with your check when the solicitor calls on you. We hope that everyone will see how many bonds he can buy—not how little. There will be only two drives during this year, which we

Pfc. Dan M. Gray Handle Ack-Acks

With The 14th Anti Aircraft Command On Leyte—Pfc. Dan M. Gray, whose father Hugh J. Gray, lives at Tokio, Texas, has been overseas nineteen months with an anti-aircraft battery.

Moving into the Philippines on A-Day this battery has done its bit to make bombing of our installations a very unprofitable business for the Jap planes. For the first week the life of an ack-ack gunner was a hard one with the Jap Navy keeping our Navy planes at sea and our strip for army planes not yet completed.

His battery has contacted the enemy well over a hundred times witnessing forty air raids in one twenty-four hour period, thirty-two of these in one seven and one-half hour period. They have knocked down six Jap planes in this campaign with three others probably destroyed and three damaged.

Inducted at Fort Sill, Okla., in September 1942, Pfc. Gray received training at Camp Hulen, Texas, and Camp Cook, Calif. In September 1943 he left for overseas and was stationed in Australia and New Guinea before the Admiralty Island campaign in which the big guns of the battery were turned on enemy ground troops. He graduated from Wellman High School and was a farmer before entering the service.

hope will finish the war. Therefore, buy all the bonds you can—AND HOLD THE ONES YOU HAVE!"

Mr. Gillham stated that the drive will be started off with a breakfast at the Wines Hotel on next Monday morning, May 14th, and that all service clubs and women's organizations will be asked to help. He also asked that all employees of all business firms buy at least one bond during the drive.

Let us make the slogan, "WE HAVE JUST BEGUN TO FIGHT" heard everywhere, and show the Jap War Lords that they will not only REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR but to also remember THE MIGHTY 7TH WAR LOAN DRIVE."

V-E Day Contrasted With Nov. 11, 1918

Most of the stores and cafes closed Tuesday in honor of V-E Day. The drug stores remained open as people have to have medicine, and one of them is a bus station. Flags were displayed, but some forgot there's a 30 day period of mourning for President Roosevelt, and left them at full staff, instead of half.

But the people were quiet. Of course they were glad the war was over in Europe, but they also remembered that they either had relatives or friends who are still in the thick of it on the other side of the Pacific. They were sober, meditative and more prayerful than demonstrative. Not so when the war ended in 1918. On the night of November 11, 1918, the some 700 or 800 people here in Brownfield, made more noise in five minutes than five or six thousand made all day Tuesday.

Everyone that had a noise making implement, drug it out. But the war was really over, then. Eight or ten would line up with shotguns and fire volley after volley. Sheriff Jim Lewis let it become known that he was totally blind that night, so many had their "40-some-odds" and blazed away at will—in the air, naturally.

The most exciting was the use of a bunch of dynamite some railroad contractors had stored here after finishing their job. Two or three sticks would be tied together and set off, and if you happened to be off balance or not expecting the explosion, you'd almost catch yourself heels up. The noise was heard 15 to 20 miles out in the country, and they guessed the war was over. One old lady on a ranch woke her husband, and admitted that she prayed and shouted. They had twin sons on the battle front.

When the "rising sun of Japan" goes down in this war, we feel there will no longer be any restraint on our people, and they will really put on a celebration.

What Are We Doing? GWN

Uncle Sam is good and liberal to his boys as the exigencies of war permits; perhaps more so than any other nation at war. He will not let 'em down when the famous duration ends. The GI Bill of rights is a bridgehead on the home side of their return. It is a benevolent and sane effort, and just, to restore their status quo. While they were firing the guns in the race of war, many civies at home have jumped the gun in the race for business success. Both government and people should see that these boys catch up in civil opportunities.

With the war in Europe ending, the GI's will be trickling back; they will not return in mass formation, but orderly and evenly for a year or more. They will not return steeped in ignorance. They haven't forgot how to commence where they left off. They do not feel they are wards of the State, nor should be consider them as a public charge. But they will feel the American sense of fair play and equal rights, and justly expect a chance for restoration. It remains to be seen, and will be seen, who of us will share their chances.

The efforts of many persons and groups, to post up and help them get the benefits of the GI bill, is commendable. But the tendency seems to be to tell them where to go and how to get there in the maze of this bill's vastness. But what have we done or are doing to provide something for them, when they "get there?" Where is Terry county's or the City of Brownfield's public works? or private industry? And what individual business institution is willing to move over a notch and make room for a returning Vet. What person, that through deferment, has enjoyed the comforts of home, family, even luxuries and war prosperity, will say, "come here Buddy, take my place? I'm still ahead to take the rap in peace, than you was to take the rap in war."

We are reluctant on bond issues. But by this means, money can be had at 2 percent. So cheap it's tempting. If the J. Sterling Parrish amendment prevails, as it should, for the State gasoline tax to take up our road bonds, as it has done for other counties, then our valuations and credit would carry a bond issue of some $200,000.00 for lateral, or farm to market roads. While not in dire need, yet a larger jail, a separate building would be useable. We really are in need of certain accommodations at the courthouse. The city can stand some public works. Likely the school another building. Even a recreation hall, might be worth it's weight to the juveniles.

An old folks home, or a series of small houses might be cheaper in the long run than like it is. To have these funds ready, we could pontoon over the evitable gap 'twixt now and then.

When two men always agree, one of them is unnecessary.

Lauds Texas

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of United States Steel Corporation, in Texas on an extended tour of subsidiary companies, calls the state's postwar industrial prospects "simply wonderful." He foresees tremendous business activity for the nation after the war because "the shelves of the world are empty."

When two men always agree, one of them is unnecessary.

Naval Personnel Must Make Request For the Home Paper

I will appreciate your publication of the following information concerning mailing to Navy Personnel Overseas:

Order No. 27851, Dated May 1, 1945.

At the request of the Navy Department, effective July 1, 1945, in order to conserve shipping space and to prevent nonessential mailings, the following arrangements between that Department and the Post Office Department shall govern the acceptance in the mails of newspapers and other periodical publications addressed to personnel of the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard, overseas.

1. Individual copies of newspapers and magazines offered for mailing by publishers addressed via fleet post office at New York or San Francisco, California, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard personnel on duty overseas, shall be accepted only when they are being sent in fulfillment of written requests initiated by the addressee for subscriptions or renewals for subscriptions.

2. Postmasters at the office of mailing shall require publishers to present for their examination the address for the addressee for subscriptions or renewals for subscriptions.

3. Relatives or friends may pay for the subscriptions or renewals of subscriptions provided the addressee have initiated requests therefore.

4. Complimentary copies sent by publishers, copies paid for by advertisers, and copies sent under any kind of arrangement whereby the requests of the addressee are solicited shall not be accepted.

5. Copies mailed in fulfillment of subscriptions which are unexpired on the effective date of this order shall be accepted until the subscription expires.

6. Publishers mailing copies in accordance of the foregoing shall include with the address a certificate reading: "Mailed in conformity with P. O. D. Order 278-51." Copies not bearing this certificate should be promptly returned to the publishers.

The Navy Department has also requested that through press and radio the public be encouraged to include clippings of particular interest in letter mail rather than send complete issues of newspapers and other publications.

Compress Building Big Water Reservoir

The Texas Compress & Warehouse Co., is erecting near their plant, a huge 100,000 gallon water reservoir, the top of which is some 180 feet from the ground. Due to the fact that water pressure is not all that could be desired that far from the city reservoirs, this reservoir is being built at the expense of the company.

However, the reservoir will be filled from city mains, according to Mr. McIver, superintendent of the local compress. Much cotton, perhaps 50 or 60 thousand bales, is in the care of this compress and warehouse company, and they are preparing to take care of it in the best manner possible.

Nelson Resigns As OPA Chairman

Homer Nelson, of the Nelson-Primm Drug, turned in his resignation as Chairman of the Terry County Rationing Board, effective the past Monday. Mr. Nelson gave private business reasons for his resignation. Robt. Noble will take his place.

Mr. Nelson stated that he had spent many hours of his time, and had conscientiously discharged his duties as best he knew how, and had very little trouble, none whatever with local people.

As far as he knew all the panels, such as gas rationing, food and shoe rationing, price control, etc., would remain for the time being.

Yep, it looks like some think "normalcy is just around that old corner" again. One of the major oil companies has sent this individual an application blank to be filled out for a "courtesy" card, when and if—

"Uh-huh!" So the surrendering Nazi General, after signing the unconditional surrender of all the German armies, navy and what air force that was left, reminded our General Eisenhower about the predicament of the poor burdened Germans. If circumstances were reversed, we would be ashamed for one of our generals to even mention such a thing as a plea for mercy, knowing what they have done to cause international suffering. Just goes to show that the German race is as ever—selfish and conceited, brutal and every other ungodly thing that one might think of that was mean to mention about them. We hope the United Nations turn them over to the tender (?) mercies of the Russians, Poles, Norwegians, Greeks, Dutch, Belgians and other nations that have suffered most from their beastly deprecations.

The Herald's little bunch did not celebrate, Tuesday. In fact, we did about the average hard day's work. For us, the war is just half over. The one we hold most dear is still in the western part of the earth, but in no immediate danger. But that is just where the war for us will have to end. We rejoice however, with thousands of others, who had loved ones scattered about on the eastern war front, who may or may not be able to come home now, either on furlough or perhaps for good Terry county, along with the rest of the nation has a number of little white crosses over in Europe to remind us that some of the sons of our good friends and neighbors, are sleeping there, perhaps until the resurrection morning.

There was little of the holiday spirit among those here who were able to close up and take off on Tuesday. Those who did were in no mood to celebrate, but rather remained at home quietly, or maybe in meditation and prayer. It was an altogether different affair November 11, 1918. At that time the war was really over, everywhere. However, in Brownfield, there was just an "after supper" celebration at that time. On the morning of the 12th, all returned to work. There were no drunks, and we mingled with the crowd pretty well, as we were "a bit" younger then. We were up until midnight when all with one accord, turned in. This war was just about half over, Tuesday—maybe. Let's all buy all the bonds we can. Let's not fool around with the Japrats a moment.

The American public has suffered more from discourtesy at the hands of some of the various government agencies than it has from shortages of any known commodity.

Richard Turnbough Gets Deserved Leave

The War Department has notified the Herald that 1st Lt. Richard V. Turnbough, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Turnbough of the Meadow section, was then on his way to Fort Bliss, and was expected after reporting there to be at home approximately May 5.

Lt. Turnbough is a member of the 8th army air force, of which he is a pilot. He flies a B-27, has had 35 missions over enemy territory, and approximately 300 flying hours.

Gratitude

The average American's most vivid impression of the Orient was acquired in less than an hour and came to him free with a bowl of chicken chow-mein. This is no discredit to the average American. He can't help it if Asia is mysterious. It is only an accident; that we know a great deal more about Europe. Our ancestors came from that way, so we heard about it.

It is high time now, however, for every soul in the United States, who loves his happy home and peaceful surroundings, to learn more of the character of our straw-colored allies beyond the Pacific. We owe our national safety to them. If it were not for their native integrity we would be held in a nut-cracker between Germany and Japan at this hour, if we were yet able to fight at all.

We Admire Britain
Americans are a tender-hearted folk. We sympathize with other peoples and half-way try to understand them, but we don't usually admire them very much. We felt sorry for the Poles when the Nazi took them in 18 days. Our hearts went out to the Norwegians because they didn't last three weeks. We wept with our British relatives over Dunkirk, but we did more. We admired the British.

Late in 1937 the city of Nanking, China, fell to the Japanese. Far away over the sea strategists thought that was about the end. If China had folded up the next day few people would have blamed her. We Americans would have turned the spigot in our sympathy tank again and drawn out a generous sprinkling of tears for dear old China, and then tried to forget it. But forgetting it would have been impossible.

Must Admire China
If China had fallen in 1937, four years before the Pearl Harbor raid, any child can guess why we Americans would still be remembering it. But China did not fall. It would not be amiss for devout people to give thanks at the table three times a day that China did not fall. If China had fallen Japan could have knifed Russia on the unguarded side, right through Manchuria; surely would have done so.

Back in those early months of the present war when the Germans were all but knocking at the doors of Moscow, our big old globe, as now arranged, was coming unglued. If Japan could have drawn close enough to attack Russia from behind, the Germans would have marched into Moscow. Then, with no Russia to annoy him, Hitler would have parched London to a cinder.

Thanks to China
China stayed in and fought, so London remains. China stood the gaff, so we still have San Francisco. China could take privation and punishment; her share and ours too. As a consequence no bomb has struck an American city. Moreover, China's young men have made their fight as nearly bare-fisted as any army taking part in this war on either side, large or small. In recent weeks there have been frequent criticisms of China; of Chinese fortitude, of China's disunity, of Chiang Kai-Shek's generalship. Let me close with this admonition: Criticism of China in America today, true or false, has one purpose and one only. It is to break up unity among our allies. Our enemies can hope to survive by no other means. Don't listen to it.

What Kind of Freedom?

The president of the American Federation of Labor, in objecting to the Russian proposal that German labor be forced to rebuild damaged cities in war-torn Europe, says: "Hitler and those responsible for the war must be punished, but the people throughout the world, including labor everywhere, must be made free and must be guaranteed the right to enjoy the blessings and the benefits of freedom, liberty and democracy."

Without arguing the merits or demerits of the Russian proposal, the remarks about guaranteeing the freedom of labor will be taken with a several grains of salt.

In the United States, a man cannot work at the basic trades without first joining specified labor organizations, whether or not he wishes to, and paying initiation fees and assessments. Just try to work without "joining" if you doubt this.

Is this the kind of labor "freedom, liberty and democracy" the world is to have?

Why kid ourselves about freedom in the United States when an individual must pay for the right to work, even on a government war job?

Competition

About 25 years ago people in all walks of life began to notice and talk about competition between industries. It was new then and interesting. Before that, competition was understood to exist between people and firms in the same industry—merchant vs. merchant, railroad vs. railroad, sawmill vs. sawmill, etc. But after World War I it was a changed business world, plain to see.

Among the modest newcomers in that remote era was a product called rayon. It was manufactured in the form of yarn, like wool and cotton yarns. The price to weavers was $2.80 a pound against 50¢ for cotton yarn. Last year 55¢ a pound was the price of both rayon and cotton yarns, and rayon was on the market as a fibre, very much like cotton fibre, but less expensive.

Rayon Has Grown

Back in 1919 the American people bought less than 2% as much rayon as cotton. Last year the ratio was 20% and rayon had captured quite a slice of cotton's export demand. Europeans earn less than Americans and they pay more attention to a low price. If it were not for the war using up all both industries can produce rayon would probably be giving cotton some tough competition.

When the war ends these two big industries are faced with a struggle for sales in world markets. It is anybody's guess now how the struggle will turn out, but King Cotton is not licked. The cotton industry is still much bigger; still employs more people than any other American industry. Besides, smart cotton men understand how rayon made its remarkable gains.

Volume and Wages

Rayon started out the American way. It had relatively large investments in machinery. With good tools it turned out large volumes of rayon per worker. On a basis of big results from their day's work the men who worked drew good wages. At the same time large outputs of rayon per man every day made it possible for prices to go lower and lower each year, sales to become bigger and bigger.

Working people in America have a right to live well. When they earn good wages they do live well. Money they spend is the very life blood of national prosperity. But before they can earn good pay they have to turn out lots of merchandise per worker. And in order to produce goods in volume they must have good tools. It was a successful plan with rayon and it will work with cotton.

Did You Fail to Make the Grade?

If so, herewith we are showing a small button to be worn by men who failed to pass the military health inspection to enter the army or navy. Some folks get pretty careless with their talk in the hearing of people they think should be in the service, without taking the trouble to question why? Possibly there is a perfectly good reason.

And it has been known to happen both here and in Britain that ex-service men, some of whom have served on the battle front, even wounded, but for one reason or another discharged, have been absolutely insulted as to why they were not in uniform. Therefore, English soldiers who have been discharged have long since been wearing this button.

It is our understanding however, that those who have a dishonorable discharge are not allowed to wear the button.

Sleep is the best thing in the world, only you don't know it at the time.

A lark is something that if you go out on one you can't get up with.

It Costs Something

People say there is a practical cotton picker ready for introduction after the war. It will cost a lot more than one big sack and a string for each member of a share-cropper's family; it will likewise pick more cotton in a day than they can pick in a week. Efficient tools call for capital investment. It means laying out money, but efficient tools are worth it.

People say we will see mechanical cotton choppers after the war. It is not impossible. This will increase the number of acres of cotton per worker; make more yield per day for every man. The picker and the chopper will create high wages and good living for a lot of people. But rayon can win its war with cotton if cotton tries to stay in the field armed with axes and gunny-sacks.

Dairy Farming After The War

MILK production on U. S. farms is aiding the war in many ways. Wherever possible our armed forces get fresh milk daily. Huge quantities of butter, cheese, ice cream and other dairy products are consumed by servicemen.

Milk is in pharmaceuticals used by military hospitals. Butter from America helps restore wounded to health. Powdered milk is essential in emergency rations on front lines. U. S. milk reaches Great Britain as cheese, China and Africa as powder, French youngsters in evaporated form.

On the home front milk and its products are rendering a valuable service. Milk drinking—now widely popular in war plants—lessens fatigue, reduces accidents, cuts losses in man-hours, improves production and earning power.

The new 8-Point Dairy Program is planned to increase the present level of milk production and to help dairy farmers prepare for the post-war days when Government purchases and lend-lease decline.

Efficiency in production is the keynote of the program, sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the War Food Administration, State Extension Services including county agents, in cooperation with the Dairy Industry Committee.

The eight points are: (1) Grow an abundance of high-quality roughage. (2) Balance your herd with your feed supply. (3) Keep production records on each cow in your herd. (4) Practice disease-control methods. (5) Produce milk and cream of the highest quality. (6) Adopt labor-saving methods. (7) Take care of your land. (8) Develop a sound breeding program. War Food Administrator Marvin Jones is calling on dairy farmers to achieve a goal of 120,552,000,000 pounds of milk in 1945 to aid the all-out military plans for crushing blows against our enemies.

Three Tons of Old Clothes Shipped

A large number of Lions club members, met Thursday night at Sid's Cleaners, and assorted and crated 6000 pounds of old clothing, that had been donated by the public of this county, and shipped same to Fort Worth, to be sent overseas to the needy.

It was noted that most of it was in good condition. Childrens clothes was most numerous.

County Clerk H. M. (Dube) Pyeatt got tired of us reminding him of his dues every year, and hauled off with a two year bargain of this "greater weekly."

H. A. Durham of route 4 and O. M. Edwards of route 3, are both in the good graces of this old sheet for another 12 months

M. & M. CLUB WILL HAVE A PRESIDENTIAL LUNCHEON

Mesdames A. A. Sawyer, R. L. Wright, Ralph Ferguson and W. B. Brown, will be hostesses with a Presidential Luncheon, Tuesday, at one o'clock, in the recreation room of the Presbyterian church.

It will be for members and guests of the Maids and Matrons study club.

SWAT THE APIDS

When young plants weaken, or leaves curl up and thicken, apids or plant lice have moved in on your Victory garden. A. L. Hartzoz, County Agent, in discussing apid control says they are smaller than the average garden insect pest. They have soft bodies, and many are green in color, some pink and others brown and black.

Apids are greedy and destructive. They concentrate on leafy vegetables which are good sources of minerals and vitamins for humans. This means cabbage, kale, lettuce, turnips, broccoli, and collards. But no plant is too small for a hungry apid to pass up. A slightly larger breed prefers peas.

Apids cluster at the end of twigs and shoots, on the under side of leaves and along plant stems. They are sap suckers.

The ammunition to shoot at these pests is a mixture of nicotine sulphate and common soap. Use one teaspoonful of the poison to a gallon of water, and shave up a one-inch cube of mild laundry soap and mix into the liquid. Spray a few plants and if the mixture draws together in drops a little more soap is needed. To destroy apids the trick is to actually get the mixture on their bodies. You cannot get poison into their stomachs as with insects which chew their food. Destroy the first ones you see. The majority are females which mature in a few days and increase swiftly. They get in their most destructive work during the cool, damp weather. Don't let them get out of hand and sabotage your effort to grow food.

Visiting cards originated in China. Judging from signatures, so did the habit of signing letters.

Last Will and Testament of the Senior Class Of 1945 of the Brownfield High School

Read by Morgan Copeland

Be it hereby known to all whom it may concern, that this is the solemn truth, prescribed and written by the party of the first part, namely the Senior Class, in order that our unworthy successors, the party of the second part, namely the Junior Class, should know what was theirs and from whom they inherited it.

The party of the first part is desirous of willing, first of all, a thing dear to the hearts of all students and ex-students of Brownfield high, a thing all of these students helped to build over the course of many years. That thing is the true Cub spirit of Brownfield High. The Seniors of '45 have tried to adhere to and build up this spirit with the full realization that all other classes looked to them for an example of the meaning of this spirit. We reluctantly relinquish our position as leaders in the building of and the living by this spirit to you Juniors. We have, however, consolation in the fact that we may continue to be examples in the world of the future of this magnificent spirit which embodies such great truths as good sportsmanship; clean, healthful, and honest living; due consideration for our fellow classmates and our fellow citizens, and above all an undying love for our school and for our country. To you, Juniors, we will you the determination to carry on this truly great tradition and spirit of Brownfield High School. May you and all succeeding classes ever hold it high above reproach or stain of any kind.

Secondly, we leave our very able and willing sponsors: Mr. Neely and Mrs. Shinn, who so graciously filled the place of our former sponsor, Miss Newsome, and our honorary sponsor, Mrs. J. D. Akers, to whichever class is lucky enough to get them.

The following Seniors have made known to me what they wanted to will to the following Juniors:

Lefty Kempson gives his ungodly collection of hats and those becoming ways he wears them to Helen Lay.

Oscar Leon Lewis leaves high school with one last yearning glance at his Freshman sweetheart.

Etta "Luia" Miller leaves the knowledge that she alone possesses, mainly the number of cold checks the bank receives on Mr. McCollum and the income she receives for keeping this quiet to Ernest Stephens.

Hugh Tucker Lilly wills the investigation of one of the foremost questions of the hour—why do all the teachers scream when they look at me? to A. C. Oliver.

Julia Mae Seaton and Joy Chisholm will that power they possess to sway vast multitudes with their mighty orations to Douglas Gibson.

Janelle Turner leaves that teething ring and baby rattle she still uses to Rolland Treadaway.

Howard McIlroy wills his beautiful Ipana smile to Harley Starnes, who has never been known to smile.

Gladys Pearl Swain leaves

she wears to Hoyt Maroney—we're afraid he can't see through it.

Fannie Ruth Vernon wills her interest in international problems, such as talking to those German prisoners who work at the Compress to Betty Jean Proctor.

Samuel Daniel "John Barrymore" Loyd will his profile to Glenna Winston. She needs it.

Alyne Hodges leaves all of her sweethearts she has lost to the army, all of the sweethearts she has lost to the Navy, and all the sweethearts she has lost due to circumstances beyond her control to Bessie Burnett.

Josie Chisholm wills that under worked brain of hers, which probably couldn't think, if it wanted to, to Loie Goldston.

Clyde Green leaves his lonely but faithful heart to Dorothy Henderson. This illustrates again that old proverb, "Birds of a feather flock together."

Irma Clark wills her "Vera Vague" technique to Margaret Bevers.

Ollie Faye Cooper leaves her toothpick legs to Floy Gregory.

Donald W. Moore leaves his office of vice-president, his position at center on the football team and as an outstanding man on the basketball team to Hubert Harvey.

Joyce Trotter wills her "Bugs Bunny" smile to Ida Pearl McCaughan.

Wilda Watkins leaves the memory of her short and destructive romance with Oscar Leon Lewis to Joyce Boucher.

Gerald Perry leaves those squeaking boxcars he walks in to Dorothy Nell Brownlee.

Eula Mae Whitley wills the continuation of the chase of six of the ten men she is chasing to Dixie Redford. We have unlimited confidence in Dixie.

Lorene Hargroves leaves her accordion and her "swing sway with Lorene today" style of playing it, to Elsie Mae Lary.

James Rambo wills his title as the only boy in high school with freckles in his ears, to Ray Kebbodeaux.

Bettye Noble leaves that intelligent horse that threw her off the other day, because she wouldn't carry him awhile, to Billy Franks.

Bennie Wartes and Versa Gibson wills half of their large personalities and senses of humor to Jean Thompson and Mary Sue Riley and for goodness sakes use it girls.

Mansel Thompson leaves his knack for mixing nitric acid and gun powder to Joe Hamilton. A word of warning to Joe, them's powerful ingredients when you get 'em together.

Sugar Hamilton wills her miraculous ability to grasp Literature IV and Solid Geometry to Mary Helen Parks.

Bobby Ben "Cherry" White, leaves his ability to take up with Oleta Day where Clyde Green to Arlys Askew.

Iva Lee Denton wills her attraction for the masculine sex to Ruth Hogue. Ruth doesn't need it, however, for she has a style of her own when it comes to sitting in men's laps. Doesn't she Myron?

Billy Winn leaves his levis to Daina McIlroy.

Cathrine McMillan (the hornless little devil of B. H. S.) wills her sour puss and her motto—"It who laughs least, laughs least!" to Valda Ruth Milner and Orren Peterman.

Gwyneth Doss leaves her title of "the only girl in high school whose face has never been seen," because of the freckles, to Alfred Bond.

Wade Delbert Yandell wills his love for the Marines and his intimate knowledge of a cars innards, to Orville Patton.

Le Verne Cameron leaves her boisterous manner in class to Billie Lee Crossland.

Jay Denton after many long years of limpid (and we do mean limp) blowing on his cornet, has finally decided that Spike Jones has that department well in hand so he will turn his horn to Gene Walker.

Cameron Byler leaves his rosy red complexion and beautiful auburn hair, which he nourished with peanuts in Chemistry class, to Jane "PINKY" Jobe.

Mozelle Butcher and Neva Joyce Moore will some of their proxide hair to Janell Avirett and Gladys Christesson.

Alfred Mangum wills his ability to get along with Mrs. Sammie Miller to Jack Eicke.

Margaret Glandon leaves one of her sacks of Bull Durham tobacco to Ganelle Newman.

Charles Bandy wills Mary Helen Parks to Calvin Franks, but not without a fight.

Betty Gossett leaves two of her three brain cells to Alfred Cornbeise. After all she doesn't want to go out in the world with nothing.

Willard Brock wills three-fourths of his legs to Wayland Sanders.

Dorothy Grant leaves W. E. or "Worthless Ediot" Buchanan to Argie Ree Adams.

David Brown wills his gorilla technique to Joe Wheatley, with all due apologies to Gargantua and Ringling Bros., Barnum and Bailey Circus.

Darcille Lovelace wills those muscles she has developed handling her 6 ft., 225 lb., red-headed man, to James Jones.

Morgan Copeland wills his football players build to Donald Price. Another good player ruined.

Faye Marie Lang wills one of those sections full of oil wells she is going to get, (if Dean ever surrenders to marrying her) to Donald Clark Moore and Ohlen Rey.

J. A. Chambliss leaves his beautiful voice, which he used to serenade Joan O'Donley to Bennie Tapp.

Dora Mae Carter wills her upper plate with the two front teeth out, to Gloria Hughes.

Lynn Crosby leaves his prize winning "Charles Atlas" physique, to Harold Mills.

Oleta Day wills her red-headed football hero, who plays like Oscar Leon Lewis, but looks like Cherry White, to Norma Gillentine.

Lylyth Paralee Crawford Tatum leaves all her other engagement rings to Georgia Seltz.

Wille Merle Jackson wills ten of her locker partners to Pauline Clay.

Dale George leaves his ability to make the girls swoon all over the joint, to Dee Langford.

Wanda Joyce McPherson, Barbara Collier, Majorie Rowden, Nita Marchbank, and Glen Sexton wills their husband trapping technique to Marie Moore, Florine Bingham, Juanita Gresham, Erline McClintock, and Joyce McKenzie.

Harold Gosden leaves his twenty-five sets of Spanish readers, which he has read many times, to Marion Wingerd.

Lottie Merle Howard wills one foot of her height to Wanda Carver.

Ross Harmonson leaves his reputation, which is a long list of incidents unmentionable in a mixed crowd, to L. G., "Cutie Turkey" Chambliss.

Evelyn Garnett wills her charming wolf howl, which she bays at cute sailors and at Clyde Gerne, to Gloria Swan.

Logan Herron leaves his wagon borrowing, egg throwing and center parking sign stealing gifts, to Tom Denton.

Charlie Mae Harold wills her dateless nights and her battered old Ford, that has been everywhere and seen everything, to Bernice Bartley.

Dale Hill leaves his over confident manner and smart alec ways to Odell Quante.

Theda Jobe wills her knack with a Chemistry book on Chemistry examinations to Dorothy Butcher.

Kenneth Jones leaves his perfect attendance record to Edna Moreman.

Glenola Murphy wills Coach Nooncaster to Patsy Greenfield—some improvement over Logan, don't you think?

Aline Hobbs leaves her angelic voice to Dorothy "Loud Mouth" Short.

Joyce Dungan wills an ability rarely seen in high schools, and that is to get one man and hold him four years to Jean Kinard. We're proud of you Joyce.

Sammy Jones leaves the great part he has played in building Cub football teams and the part he has played in developing the Cub spirit as yell leader, class president, and center on the team for two years, to Harold Pharr.

Nita Chaffin leaves her seat in Charlie Mae's car to Audrey Foster.

Buna Ellis wills her mouth and the sounds that issue therefrom, to Mary Lee.

Eva Jeter leaves those hectic days she spends waiting on Mr. Vernon in the office to Nelson Brigance.

At last but not least my good friend, Myron Harris, wills an all important problem which has been whirling in his feverish little brain for several months—which of my three girls do I love?—to Jack Hamilton.

"Describe it to me,
will you, Mac?"

"Yeah, I hear 'em yelling.

"This is what I used to dream about in the jungle. God, if I could only see for just five seconds.

"That girl there—is she laughing... or crying? I had a girl—once. Sure I wrote her when this happened to me. I told her I was tired of her. What else could I say?

"Listen to that newsboy... 'GERMANY FINISHED!' I'd give anything to see those headlines. What else does it say? Anything about the Pacific? I hope you guys realize there's still the Pacific.

"Yeah. I was there, all right. If you could have seen what I saw, you wouldn't need to read any War Bond ads. Kids you grew up with, with their faces smashed to bits. Nothing left of your best friend but his helmet landing in your lap. Made me kind of mad, I guess. They say I was still fighting when I couldn't see any more.

"Yeah, it's bad enough. But it makes it worse when you hear someone saying the war's practically over. Acting as if it's time to ease up on War Bonds and all. Then you wonder what you did it for. It's not over yet. Those Japs can do a lot of damage. I ought to know.

"Do me a favor, will you, Mac? Keep on buying War Bonds for my buddies out there. And put a little extra in for my sake, will you?"

The Mountain that became a Gold Mine!

...and the company that helped build 11,000,000 war-time tires

This pile of discarded automobile tires (the picture was taken in 1936) is as non-existent today as the Big Rock Candy Mountains—where the cigarettes grew on trees and the springs gushed pure lemonade.

Maybe you remember driving past those junk yards where the homeless jalopies used to rust in the rain, and the pile of tires grew mountain-high.

And then, one day in December, 1941, that mountain became a gold mine!

In a few terrible moments, America's access to the raw rubber of the Indies was cut completely.

Throughout America, junk yards, garages, and back yards were scoured for every scrap of precious rubber that could be found. We were on a spot—a bad one.

The fact that we got off the spot is due, to a great extent, to companies such as Phillips. For it was Phillips chemical research ability and Phillips production facilities that produced an important share of the vital butadiene which is so essential to the manufacture of synthetic rubber!

Today, we think we have a well-earned right to stick out our chests—because the Phillips Petroleum Company is one of the largest producers of butadiene in the United States!

With today's ever-increasing emphasis on the chemical production of new and better things from petroleum, let the Phillips 66 Shield remind you that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils . . . are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

I Give You Texas

Charley, the printer on the Arkansas country weekly that your columnist edited for a year, was an incurable practical joker. Soon after coming there, I wrote a paragraph criticizing the presence of a wasp's nest in the courtroom and Charley kept running back and forth telling me what he claimed the county judge (a former preacher) had said and then telling the judge what I was supposed to have said in reply—with the results that both of us, being men of peace, dodged each other for two weeks, which is quite a feat in a town no bigger than Piggott.

It was BEFORE my advent however that Charley achieved his masterpiece. Piggott was a "dry" town but a prominent citizen, (Jones will do) had left a jug of "corn" in the newspaper office and he'd drop in and take a drink, now and then. To keep out of sight, he would step into the telephone booth and duck beneath the level of the glassed upper half of the door, while quaffing.

This particular day was a July "scorch" and Jones was in the act of taking a nip when he heard Charley say, "Howdy do, Aunt Sallie, and Jones recognized the shrill reply coming from the town's most strict inhabitants. Thinking she would leave in a moment, he remained in his stooped position. But the conversation went on and . . . Two or three times, Aunt Sally would say goodbye and then Charley would ask another question. The sweat rolled down the trapped man. At last, farewells were exchanged and Jones staggered weakly into fresh air, exclaiming, "I thought she never would leave."

Charley roared with laughter—Aunt Sallie hadn't been there at all; Charley, a natural mimic, had carried on the entire conversation! He almost got licked when Jones realized how unnecessarily he had suffered. No man knows all the answers. Homer couldn't give the solution to the riddle some boys asked him: "What we caught, we left behind; what we did not catch, we bring with us." The answer was, "Lice."

The riddle of the Sphinx was "What animal walks on four feet in the morning; at noon, on two and in the evening, on three." The answer to that one is, "Man—who crawl in infancy, walks upright in manhood and, in old age, uses a cane."

Mr. and Mrs. Tom May and Ida Mae, and Mrs. Arthur Sawyer, left Friday to spend the week end in Temple, Texas, with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Zorns and Thomas Bruce.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Craig and son, Herby, left Friday to make their home in Floydada.

Julian Thrasher of Monahan spent the week end in the home of his sister, Mrs. Bill Heflin and family.

Seaman Baggett Gets Introduction to the Japrats

Eldon K. Baggett 19, son of Mrs. Eva Baggett, whose home is in Brownfield, Texas, helped to take this new ship into battle for the first time today against the Japanese.

Her guns sent two bombers crashing into the sea not far from Japan, and the carriers she defended so well are free to launch planes.

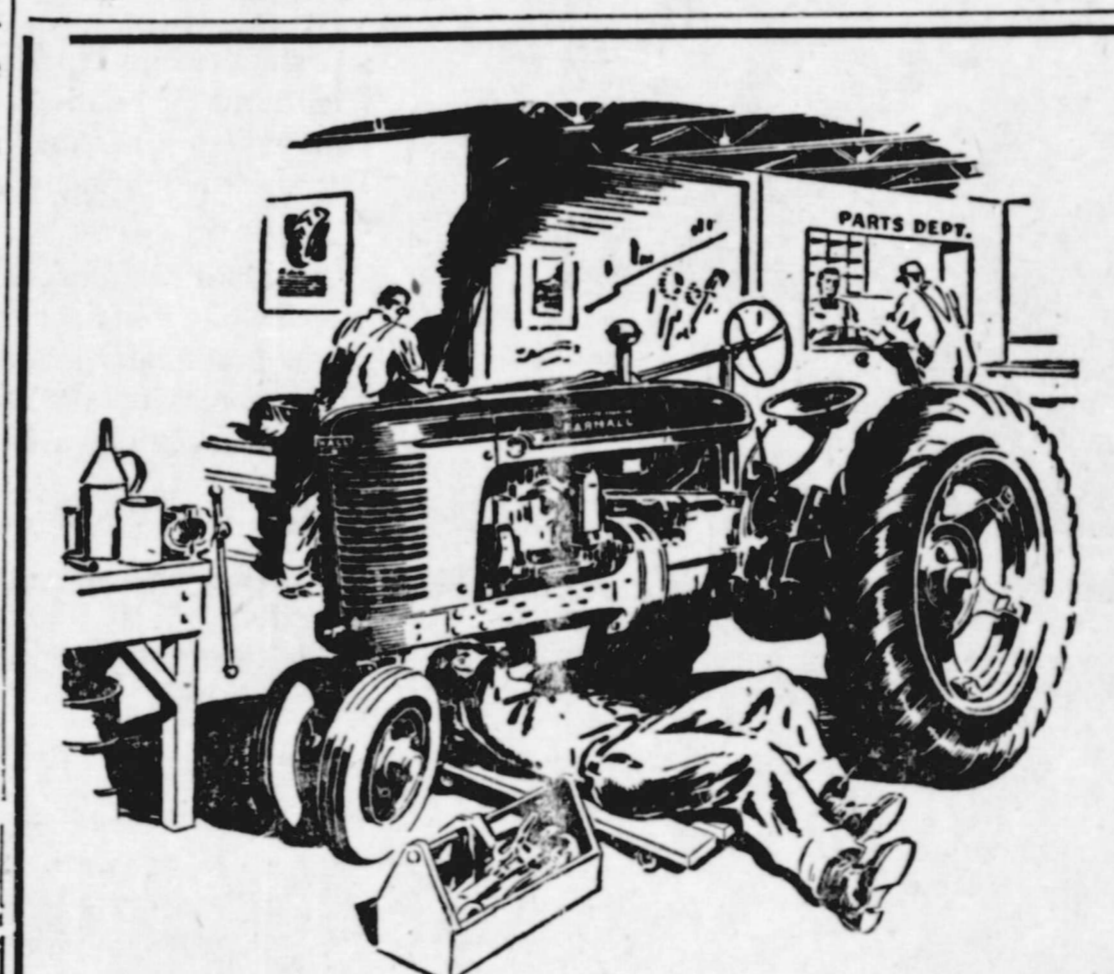

Yesterday, "business as usual" was the plan of the day, and outwardly the officers and men carried on as if the had no notion of the imminence of battle. But they all knew that just over the horizon lay the mainland of Japan.

Mrs. F. L. Treadaway, Sr., and Mrs. Will Fitzgerald, returned Tuesday afternoon after visiting in Dallas, Waco, Temple and Denton, the past three weeks.

OPA to Make Attack On Black Market

A new intensive attack on the meat black market has been launched on a nation-wide scale, according to the District Office of Price Administration.

The way was cleared for the campaign by Congressional approval of sufficient funds to enable the agency to enlarge its small meat enforcement staff and by the government's new meat program.

A series of steps have been taken to improve meat distribution over the next few months, but no great over-all increase in total meat supplies can be expected before next fall. "Even with the expected improvement, there will not be enough meat to take care of war demands and at the same time give civilians all the meat they would like to buy, and as long as there is a shortage there are bound to be some people who will profiteer at others expense," District OPA officials say.

This problem is being tackled to the full extent of OPA's resources, but the greatest help will come from a full understanding of the problem, officials stated, adding "What is needed is some old-fashioned indignation against anyone who buys or sells meat above ceiling prices or without proper ration stamps." Copies of an explanation of how the new meat program affects the farmer are available from the Information Division Office of Price Administration, Lubbock National Building, Lubbock, Texas.

Many of States 4-H Girls Enter Dress Review Contest.

Hundreds of Texas' rural girls will participate in the 1945 National 4-H Dress Review to learn to dress appropriately, becoming and economically.

Many of these potential stylist will receive special recognition from the American Viscose Corporation for their exceptional ability in planning, selecting constructing and caring for suitable costumes for work and social occasions. Recognition will be in the form of medals to all blue award winners determined from girls modeling their outfits in county revues. One of these winners will be selected as state champion, who will receive National 4-H Club Congress honors. In addition, each state winner participating in the National 4-H Dress Review Presentation will receive a $25 U. S. War Bond.

Full information about the Dress Revue may be obtained from county extension agents.

EX-RANGER WRITES BOOK ON FRONTIER MEMORIES

Lubbock, May 9.—Ira Aiten, for six and one-half years a Texas Ranger, established a reputation for capturing horses and cattle thieves, Mexican bandits, fence cutters and murderers. Copy of a book covering Aiten's activities during this period has been presented to the Texas Technological College Museum by Ben Moore of O'Donnell.

This volume of memoirs is published in a limited edition by the Frontier Times of Bandera.

During the "Jay Bird and Woodpecker War" Aiten was sheriff of Fort Ben county. He left the ranger service to become sheriff of Castro county and later accepted a position with the Capital land syndicate.

Not too Late—Yet

It is certainly no exaggeration to say that every one in the country is familiar with rationing. During these war years, practically all of us at one time or another have waited for the wheels within the wheels of officialdom to allot us necessities. As necessary as this has been, it is useless for any friend of bureaucracy to claim that the waiting and the filling out of blanks and forms has not been a drag on precious resources and energy. One hundred and thirty million of Americans know better! Shiploads of gasoline, thousands of tires, and millions of man-hours have been expended or lost by consumers in responding to the demands of government agencies.

Familiarity with the waste and slowdown effect of bureau regulation may be a blessing. It may result in easier riddance of the system when the war emergency ends. Consumers may heed the warnings of retailers and others who must run business under its dead weight. This regulation is so complete that any retailer will tell you the only responsibility left to him in regard to his store is that of holding the sack to meet taxes, bills or bankruptcy. Not only is he regulated in every detail, but he lives with the constant reminder (on countless blanks), that heavy penalties and jail are ever present possibilities. He will tell you that modern mass distribution which have helped give consumers unprecedented high standard of living, cannot survive this type of regulation in peacetime—and neither can the freedom of the American people.

The wartime emergency rule of the Federal bureaus must end within a reasonable time after peace, or it will grow until the people have no power to remove it.

JUDGE SAYS:

Perhaps Congress will appoint one of them Vestigatin' committees to find out what became of Hitler.

One reason why they delayed announcement of V-E Day, was to let the news of the wars end to catch up with Patton.

If Hitler has fled to Japan, lets hope they put him in command of their forces, and follow his intuition.

Alright Japan, don't get envious of recent front pages. We will give you our undivided attention, p. d. q.

What a criss-cross pity it is, that both Roosevelt and Hitler didn't live one month longer.

Lord Haw Haw will now hear lots of tee-hees.

Richard Ferguson and wife were here this week visiting their parents. Richard was on leave from the navy. He is stationed on the west coast.

Don't let insects strafe your Victory garden! One ounce of nicotine sulphate with one-half bar of neutral soap, and six gallons of water, well emulsified and applied thoroughly to affected plants will control sucking insects, such as apids, leaf hoppers, leaf miners, most thrips and similar insects. Dusting with a mixture of one quart lime to two tablespoons nicotine sulphate (Black Leaf 40) is also effective.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

This Mr. Truman is most likely gonna prove that Missouri is noted for more things than just mules. Nobody yet, who knows the gent, has said anything except that he is a regular guy. But he has a job on his hands. But when and if he gets through scrapin' the barnacles off the bottom of the boat, there is liable to be some squaks, then. Nobody ever had a bigger crop of same to contend with—nobody before, ever had a bigger chance to show his mettle. Being a "show me" Missourite, he should go to town.

And without getting too far off the subject, anybody wondering why there are so many mules in Missouri should be told. I tell 'em. In the early days, in a contest between Missouri and North Dakota, the winner was to have the choice as between accepting the "mules" or the "swedes." Missouri won. It chose mules. That is the story, but I don't believe it. I have lived amongst the Flickertails of Fargo, No. Dakota. They are a skookum outfit. And their alcohol punch, pardner, it will kick you farther than any Missouri mule.

Yours with the low down,
 JO SERRA

PVT. BROWN HELPS CLEAR OUT JAPS

Most of the high school pupils here will remember Private Bill Brown, who attended school here for a number of years before moving with the family to Winkler, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Brown.

Bill is a trucker, and hauled in ammunition and supplies to the fighting forces on Luzon in the face of ambushed Japs hidden everywhere, and spitting machine guns at the truckers. But supplies had to go through, even through artillery cross fire, sometimes.

His 34 months overseas has been awarded by 4 campaign stars, Philippine and Southwest Pacific ribbons, plus a good conduct medal.

TEXAS DAY PROGRAM AT SPRING LUNCHEON

Mesdames Jack Ellis, Marnie Price and Ruth Huckabee, were hostesses with a spring luncheon Tuesday at 1 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Huckabee, for members of the Alpha Omega study club.

Mrs. Sam Teague was program chairman, on the Texas Day program, and read several poems written by our Texas soldiers. A silent prayer for V-Day was given and closed by Mrs. P. R. Cates, preceding the luncheon. Mrs. Truett Flache gave a parade of Our Texas Heroes of World War II.

Attending were honorary members, Mesdames J. M. Teague, and Lawton Nicholson, Associate member Mrs. Clarence Lackey and special guest, Mrs. Buel Price and members: Mesdames Lee Brownfield, Virgil Burnett, Cates, Finis Carter, Virgil Crawford, Jake Gore, Jack Hamilton, Arlin Hartzog, Roy Herod, Walter Hord, N. L. Mason, J. L. O'Dell, V. L. Patterson, David Pinkston, C. S. Tarpley, Truett Flache, Tommy Hicks, S. Teague, and the hostesses.

Old He Gets Ham and Streaked Gravy

It is not too often that a poor, downtrodden "kintry edjuter" gets to sink his lowers and uppers into real country cured ham, steaked gravy, plenty hot rolls, country butter, along with other viands too numerous to mention. Our mouth fairly drools when we even think of such a treat.

A Sunday or so ago, the other two-thirds and the Old He "drove" out to the Money Price farm, six miles northeast of this burg. So, along in the shank of the afternoon we casually mentioned to the Mrs. that we thought it time to say farewell and head for the poor farm. Mrs. Price, just Vina to us, knowing our weakness for country ham, quick promised us a nice mess of that palate tickler if we would remain for supper—or maybe it was dinner as it was our very mainest meal that day.

After making a sizable pig of ourself on that particular food, we finished off with an unknown quantity of cake, jam and such like, even to a few sops of that delicious maple syrup with nothing added, that Money and Dr. Davis get from farm in Pennsylvania. Yep, we slept well, as all animals are supposed to sleep well on a full stomach.

If there is another country family within reach of our circulation and gas ration card that has some ham to feed this individual, you only have to mention it casually, to us.

A Word To The Farmers

A great future lies ahead for the Terry County farmer.

There's no doubt about this being the greatest farming area in the whole world.

The soil is good; the climate perfect.

Naturally our interest lies with you. We're here to help build a greater Brownfield and trade area. We know that by backing your efforts, we are increasing the trade for the merchants—they in turn help the the banks—and so it goes—one helping the other to greater prosperity.

In the near future, Brownfield will stand forth as a rich, thriving city—not a boom town—here today, gone tomorrow population, but a staunch, steady growth of people who will always be here because rich farm lands and able farmers stand behind them.
