WELCOME TO THE RODEO 17-18-19

WORLD WAR II HAS ENDED

GWN

The phenomenal flash and brilliance of the great atomic bomb, was surpassed Tuesday by the flash of the news the world's greatest war was over, and the brilliance of the smiling faces of Americas' teeming millions, and many millions of others, whose joy knew no bounds, nor race, creed or color. Well they might rejoice, for they have witnessed the world's greatest achievement, and but few persons or families that have not felt its sting; hence America had a universal smile all his week.

The most outstanding ideal of it all is that conquests and aggression has failed, as it has in the past, again, and again. Retribution ratched an all time high, and in this case, so just and so right. Global gangsters have bit the dust. International lessons have been taught, if only the future will not forget them.

We might well forget the atrocities and horrors of this war, but we should never forget the boys who return and those that went, who have won it, not only for the victory for "our side" but as saviors of future mankind. We should never forget America and her Allies' total unpreparedness at the beginning. We were then up against it—we were almost at the enemy's mercy (only they had none.) Indeed our nation as such was at stake. We called on the strong arm, our youth, to go and save us. They done it. Now they are returning, maimed, nervous and broke, and lay a Free Country, though scarred, in our lap.

It now is to be seen, whether the civilians have the courage, patriotism, stamina, and ability, to sacrifice, to restore the country, as the boys did, to save it. They have finished their job, we are beginning ours.

Veteran of 7th Div. In Four Campaigns

Milton (Jack) Wagner, is a member of the Military Intelligence of the famous 7th Division, who bazed a path of victory and freedom from the Aleutians to Okonowa. For 21 days they fought in constant cold and discomfort through ice and snow at Attu in the Aleutians. From where they were shipped to the Marshall Islands, where they cleaned the Japs off Kwadalein in only six days. This battle was merely a picnic compared to the battles that followed. For instance, they were the first to land on Leyte, there in the dust, mud, jungle and swamps they fought a daring battle until the victorious end.

After a brief rest this famous 7th Division was among the first to be put ashore on the dangerous coast of Okinawa, where they spent 82 days with death and destruction and remained for the mop up job.

Milton Wagner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wagner, Rt. 1, Brownfield.

The Herald was shown a citation from Gen. A. V. Arnold, commanding general, in which he enumerated the many exploits of the Seventh Infantry Division of which Jack is a member. While rather long to publish, we are glad we were privileged by Mr. and Mrs. Wagner to see this citation. We know they are proud or their boy, and we join them in paying this tribute to this deserving youth.

A shirt and tie was brought to this office Saturday by a lady who stated that she picked up the package thinking that it was her's. Seeing her mistake later, she brought it to the Herald office. Owner may have same by calling at Herald office.

Brownfield Joins Nation Celebrating End of War

Brownfield soberly and orderly joined in the celebrating the wars end, Tuesday and Wednesday. Only the shortage of material hindered greater noise. Many honking cars and cheering youngsters sped through the streets, well into the night.

On Wednesday all business houses closed tight for the day. In the afternoon the largest crowd for many years assembled on Judge Simms, Executive Secretary of the Draft Board, presided at the services, of songs and prayers by local ministers and a patriotic speech by Homer Winston, veteran of World War I.

Smiles and tears of joy, were everywhere evident.

Brownfield Boy Sees Where Americans Were Massacred

Pfc. Clifford Barton, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Barton, of route 3, four miles southwest of town, had a unique experience. It seems that after the battle was over, he and eight other soldiers, members of Company C., had a brief furlough to southern France, and passed through the little city of Malmedy, Belgium, where 129 soldiers were massacred by German Elite guard last December 17th. Seeing a big crowd assembled, the GI's stopped their truck and investigated.

The Belgian Foreign minister, together with American Ambassador, and a Bishop of that section were on hand to dedicate a high wooden crosses to the men who lost their lives in this mass murder. Some 6000 people were on hand with the childrens dresses trimmed in red, white and blue streamers. After the address of the Foreign Minister and Ambassador Sawyer, and the dedicatory prayer by the priest, the children sang "The Star Spangled Banner," in English.

Sgt. Rhyne Discharged From Marines

First Sgt. Leon Rhyne, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rhyne, who has just been released from the Naval hospital in Philadelphia, is receiving a release from the Marine Corp. He entered service September 3rd, 1940, and has been in five major engagements in the South Pacific, for which he received the Bronze Star medal for participation and work done in these engagements. He has also received three Presidential citations for combat duty, on Guadalcanal, Tarawa, and Saipan, and the Navy Commendation medal for combat duty on Guam.

Notice to Our Readers

Due to linotype trouble the Herald to come out on time will have to lay aside for next week, material intended for this. No, we did not take off and celebrate, worked until 11:45 Wednesday night.

If our reporter calls you again and asks for news, don't think she wont turn it in, we just could not get it set this week. When the Junior Editor returns from the war, we hope to give you a paper equal to those of the larger towns, but until then, please bear with us.

Bags & Bureaucrats or Sack Cloth and Asses

A mounting storm of protest has swept over agricultural areas of the nation since the War Production Board recently prohibited this year's production of cotton bags from using any more dress print fabrics for the manufacture of cotton bags this year than were used in 1944. Particularly have complaints come from farm housewives in areas where beef cattle, dairy herds, and poultry are primary agricultural activities.

Action of WPB eliminates the one bright spot which had been left to farm women in the midst of growing shortages of cotton goods for the family's clothing and household needs.

Initial irritation, resulting from the WPB ruling, has been aggravated by reports which have seeped into the grass roots to the effect that the reduction was occasioned by a small group of second-hand bag manufacturers out to maintain maximum dollar volume for their own business. The reports indicate that WPB has sided with a handful of reprocessors in preference to the needs of some farm families.

Farmers fail to see how any fabric will be saved as a result of the WPB ruling. They point out that it takes as many yards to make an unbleached bag as to make a printed one, that only farm families are customers for materials packed in dress-print bags, and that farm women do not return their bags to second-hand dealers whether they are printed or not.

In short, there is no indication that the ruling will accomplish its purpose of assisting the second-hand dealers, and it is completely obvious that it works a burdensome handicap on farm women who have learned to convert their printed bags into clothing and household necessities almost impossible to obtain through retail stores in many areas.

Farm Bureau Has Aided Farmers

Farmers and ranchers of Texas have been saved millions of dollars this year through their own organization, The Texas Farm Bureau Federation, says Homer Winston, of Terry county.

Last year, 1944, the cotton and wheat committees of the American Farm Bureau Federation were instrumental in securing a ceiling price of $1.50 per bushel for wheat and an increase of $9.60 a bale for cotton. The committees on the special and other staple commodities likewise secured price increases or kept the price they had attained.

Through our Texas Farm Bureau Federation, two bills introduced in our Texas legislature were killed in the committee hearings that would have taxed tractor gasoline four cents per gallon, which is now rebated to the farmers. That action alone has saved the farmers of Terry county $200,000. That amount divided among our 2,000 farm tractors would be $100 per tractor.

Two bills favoring the farmers and ranchers, the Cooperative Hospital Act, and the increased load limit of trucks from 38,000 to 48,000 pounds were aggressively supported by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

Fortunately, says Mr. Winston, we Texas farmers have an organization through which we can fight for our rights and a better agricultural economy.

Police are reported to have detected a German spy disguised as a woman, when he passed a millinery store and didn't stop to look at the hats.

Local Airman Now B-29 Flight Eng.

Hondo A. A. F., Hondo, Texas, August 20.—Twenty-one men from Texas on Monday completed the Army Air Forces' highly technical 36 week B-29 Flight Engineer course at Hondo Army Air Field, Hondo, Texas, and were awarded the newly adopted flight engineer wings which feature a four-bladed propeller for a centerpiece. Among the graduates was Flight Officer Walter W. Fulton, Rt. 2 city.

Graduates not previously commissioned became second lieutenants or flight officers. From Hondo Field they go to one of the four AAF transitional schools for final B-29 training prior to combat assignment.

The flight engineer is the latest addition to the officer rank of the AAF. He is virtually in control of the plane almost all the time in his role as master mechanic, aeronautical engineer, and boss of the gas can. His instrument panel dwarfs that of the B-29 commander. His job enables a Superfort to carry heavier bomb loads over longer distances, with less gasoline.

Sgt. Vance Spears On His Way Home

Army Hdq., Poa, Ft. Shafter, T. H.—M/Sgt. Vance H. Spear, 28, of Route 3, Brownfield, has been returned to the Continental United States from the Pacific Ocean Area under the Army's readjustment program.

His parents, J. E. Spear, Sr., live on Route 3, Brownfield.

He was processed for return to a personnel center in Pacific Ocean Areas, where army forces are under command of Lt. Gen., Robert C. Richardson, Jr. Spear and has been overseas 33 months. He came into the army Sept. 18, 1939. He was with A. A. F., and had been through the 7 campaigns, and has been stationed on Hawaii, Guadalcanal, India, Tanian.

He has been awarded the Air Medal, Oak Leaf Cluster, 4 Battle Stars. Under the readjustment point system, his score was 116 points.

Newberry Battles Japs On the Hornet

John C. Newberry, 23, fireman, first class, USNR, whose wife lives on route 2, Brownfield, has returned on leave from a tour of Pacific battle duty aboard the Navy's storied aircraft carrier the USS HORNET, now undergoing typhoon-damage repairs at a West Coast Naval base.

Named particularly after the vessel from which Lt. James S. Doolittle launched the first bombing raid on Tokyo, the HORNET has had 14 months of rugged action in the forefront of the drive back to the Japanese capital.

No enemy ever succeeded in damaging the ship, but more than 1,400 Jap planes and some 1,270-

Conductor Graves Would Take Us Out In House Boat

Our fine old smiling friend, G. C. Aschenbeck, has just returned from a vvisit with relatives at Santa Anna, Texas. Didn't say whether or not he climbed Mt. Santa while down there, but at least he did not seem exhausted. Evidently, friends and relatives of G. C. had plenty poultry, lambs and beef to keep his jaws exercising, and he looked well fed on his return.

Anyway, on his return, Conductor Graves of Brownwood had charge of the Santa Fe train G. C. was on, and finding he was from Brownfield, Graves began quizzing him about the old He. Just what G. C. put out to the conductor Graves is very proud of a said and unguessed. But conductor Graves is very proud of a boat he and wife have recently purchased and equipped with with two beds or bunks, kitchen, bath, electric lights, etc., and of course big enough that parties can spend the night out on the waters of Lake Brownwood.

Mr. Graves' wife is the mother of our son-in-law, Herman Trigg, and he knew our aversion to a lot of water. We even hated the stuff about our hands, face and ears when a kid. When we first began to visit them at Brownwood, Herman had a small outboard, in which we refused to ride. Then he purchased a 24 foot inboard with nice instrument panel, leather seats, etc., and just knew we would take to it. But we let our part of the room in it to others.

Now they have this fine "kivvered" job they bought up at Ft. Worth or Dallas, and they figure we will want and take a night out on the water. Well, before too long, maybe in October, we aim to go down and take a squirt at the boat. If it suits us we may get into it—while it's tied up at the dock.

Jimmy German Killed In India Area

Clarence Gosden, manager of the Alexander Drug Co., here, received a card from Earl G. Alexander, of Plainview, this week, stating that his son-in-law, Jimmy German, was killed in a plane wreck accident in India. He has been flying the hump, carrying supplies to China.

Earl also stated that Jimmy's wife and little daughter, were in Colorado, but he expected them home at once. Jimmy managed the store here before going into the service.

Short Motor Co. Make Improvements

The Short Motor Company is very busy moderizing and enlarging their building facilities on southeast corner of square at 5th and Broadway.

This improving will greatly enlarge the service and parts facilities of this new and growing automobile firm, and purchases have been made for delivery as soon as possible of much added machinery, for automobile and truck service on this corner.

Les Short says, "We believe in our town, and we came here to stay."

000 tons of Jap shipping bear testimony to the savagery with which she struck throughout her 150,000-mile cruise.

The HORNET was in operation off the coast of Okinawa when the 120-knot gale caught her, tossing her 27,000 tons about like a chip in a washing machine. Suddenly her bow rose atop a tremendous wave and crashed downward with such force the forward corners of her flight line.

Cripple Children Clinic To Be Held At Lubbock, Texas

Cripple children from this area not now under the care of a regular orthopedic doctor will be examined and treatment recommended for them at a Diagnostic Clinic for crippled children to be held at Lubbock, September 5th, and sponsored by the Crippled Children's Council.

Three orthopedic doctors from Texas cities will examine the children. Both colored and white children of any age from birth to 21 years of age, will be admitted if they have any type of bone, muscle or joint defects. Only children of normal mentality will be included, however.

Mrs. Griffith, our local county Health Nurse urges each parent facts to take advantage of this with children of any of above de opportunity to have their child get this professional advice free, and by the very best specialist in this line. She will help you get your child registered and will be glad to visit any child that you know of that does not have a way of getting in or going to Lubbock. Registration should be before or on the 31st of Aug., so as to conserve the time of the attending physicians.

Some Amusing Incidents Heard On The Radio

If it had not of been such serious matter, one could of gotten no few laughs listening to radio commentators, "waiting for the war to end." Pete would say this, Harry that, Dick, the other and Tom perhaps would agree with none of them in particular. Some wanted to hang Hirohito as high as Haman, others thought he should be spared for what he means in a "religious" way to his people.

So, if Mr. Truman, Stalin, Chiang and Atee were listening in, it has all been cut and dried for them, providing of course if they had a stenographer to take it all down. These boys get so excited over a football game, sometimes that not even a railway depot train caller could understand what they are saying.

The Herald may be just a bit old fashioned, but way back in the old red hills of west Tennessee we were taught to not count our chickens before they hatched. And we thought these fast talking, yelling men should have waited until they really knew what the Japs said before announcing peace.

In fact these men wondered why people gathered in the streets after midnight and started to celebrate. They were just listening to you guys and got the wrong impression, if you ask us.

Pfc. Paysinger Sees Much Action in the India-Burma Area

Calcutta, India.—Pfc. Emmet C. Paysinger, Box 923, Brownfield, Texas, is a member of the 1786th Engineer Parts Supply Company, which has played an important part in the efficiency of the world's longest supply line which flows through the India-Burma theater into China.

Continuing to perform with the indomitable record established while serving at Camp Elis, Ill, the 1786th has been commended for its efficiency in receiving, storing and issuing engineer supply parts to all sections of the theater as well as to the China theater. The unit's chief function is to speedily forward the various parts demanded for worn out and broken down equipment, essential in the maintenance and operation of the supply line.

A Good Way to Get Cleanup Results

Recently there was a half hearted effort here to get the town cleaned up, and reported to us as a failure. The Herald is not considered as much by some folks here, but it has probably helped to put on clean-up campaigns here when a lot of the present inhabitants were catching bull frogs in east Texas.

In the first place, people just wont become interested in cleaning up in one week, nor two weeks. It takes time to get this matter before them and put over. And every means should be used to publicize the campaign. Newspapers, hand bills, bill board, and even a loud speaker used up and down the streets, if possible to get one.

Then, the civic clubs, both men and women should be persuaded to get squarely behind the effort, and promise all the help they can put forth. They'll do it—always have.

We don't care how good the intentions may be, a successful cleanup campaign just can't be hatched up and made to go over in a few hours, a day or two of notice.

The next time we try a cleanup campaign, let's set the date well in advance, get all the help we can and make a go of it.

If in reach of Brownfield, you are cordially invited to attend any and all of these meetings.

Columnist Boyce House says he has one great desire, and that is to be able to meet up or hear of just one man that has ever been interviewed by the Gallup Poll.

Senator Lee O. O'Daniel is coming back to Texas to tell the people all about the crooked ways of Washington. Washington has not improved one bit since the Junior senator bearded the devil in his haunts. In fact Washington looks upon the junior senator as just another freak from the wild and woolly west. We are of the opinion that the people of Texas will not take too seriously the ravings of W. Lee. When he comes up for re-election in 1948, we hope that a safe, sane, solid, substantial candidate will take in after him. Of course there will be a whole flock of candidates after the job, but we hope there will be one outstanding man on whom the people may concentrate in order to send W. Lee back to his flour business.—Canyon News.

J. E. Spears to Sell His Farm

J. E. Spears of south Terry, was in the past week to renew, and stated that he would likely sell out in the near future, as he was getting a bit too old to ride a tractor and farm by himself. His son, Vance, who has spent five years in the army, is on his way home for keeps.

J. E. Sr., has been on a recent visit to the old home town at Vernon, Texas. We might add that he is one reader that we never have to send a statement. He's always ahead of time renewing.

Better Can Peaches While You Can

Peak movement of the bumper crop of peaches will soon be over. C. B. Modges, State Director of CCC's Office of Supply, warned housewives today, urging them to make full use of this abundant fruit during the last few days of the season.

Texas orchards have already yielded more peaches than estimated, making this year's crop the largest ever recorded.

Peaches have topped the nation's abundant food list now for the past few weeks, but after they are gone, fresh fruits will be scarce until the new crop of oranges and grapefruit start to market.

All fruit crops, except peaches, oranges and grapefruit are short

Uncle Sam Pins Orchids On Local Women For Saving Used Fats!

Things have really been happening since town and farm women got busy on the job! Latest official government records show that their fat savings have left the excellent record of city women way behind. But it isn't a drop too much. This year, we face a shortage of 1 billion, 500 million pounds of fats in domestic supplies. Tons more of war and home-front supplies made from fats are needed! Farm folks get more meat these days than most city people—so it's up to them to save the fats. Skim stews, soups, gravies. Scrape pans. Melt down meat trimmings. It all helps you fill the fat-savings can, and you get up to 4¢ and 2 red points a pound. If you have any difficulty, call your Home Demonstration or County Agent. Approved by WPA and OPA. Paid for by Industry.

JEeps FOR CIVILIANS CLASSed AS TRUCKS

Classification of the army jeep, now being manufactured for civilian use, as a truck and not as a passenger car, was announced today by John J. Van Pelt, district manager of the Office of Defense Transportation at Lubbock.

In other words, unless buyers are eligible for a certificate to purchase a new truck, they will be unable to buy one of the new civilian jeeps. The new civilian vehicle was classified as a truck because it is essentially a property carrying vehicle, the ODT official explained.

Allocation of the new vehicles will be limited to persons contributing directly or indirectly to the prosecution of the war. Those eligible include farmers.

These restrictions do not apply to surplus military jeeps sold through the surplus property board.

Control of Venereal Diseases Progressing

The State Health Department's campaign to control venereal disease in Texas is showing highly gratifying results in the number of cases found, and cured in the quarantine and rapid treatment centers.

This campaign, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, declared has helped to keep venereal disease infection from spreading and has played a major part in aiding servicemen and civilian industrial workers to stay on the job. In fact, man days lost through such infections, in the armed forces and in industry, have been brought to an all time low and Texans can list this gratifying results among its contribution to the nation's military and industrial achievements.

In a report this week, Dr. Cox disclosed that approximately 15,000 infectious cases of gonorrhea and syphilis are being treated annually and dismissed as non-infectious in the six rapid treatment centers now in operation. Located at San Antonio, Corpus Christi, Mineral Wells, El Paso, Waco, and Overton, these combined hospitals have a combined capacity of 525 beds.

The staff of trained investigators who trace contacts and locate the sources of infection have been concentrating their efforts in military areas with excellent results. All contacts found to be infectious and who refuse to take treatment from their family physician are placed in quarantine and treated until cured.

Staff Sgt. D. D. Kelly, who has been in the Pacific war area, is home on furlough, visiting his wife and baby.

John Middleton Has Interesting Book

We find that we are rather cranky about old books, that go back a century or two, and we just like to study them. One of such books we have been privileged to see recently, lent us by John Middleton, now one of the makers of the Herald. The old book, a combination history and geography, has been handed down from generation to generation in the Middleton family.

The copy he has, was written and published in New England by the author in 1828, but this was about the third edition, the grandfather of the author having published the first edition just prior to the Revolutionary war. To mention some of the characteristics: The US had just recently broken off from England as a separate government, and much of the English spelling was still evident, such as honour, harbour, learnt, etc.

Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi had been recently added as states, together with Louisiana by purchase from France. Such states as Ohio, Indiana and Illinois were still called the Northwest Territory, and of course Missouri and Arkansas and other states or parts of some were included in the Louisiana purchase. Taking Tennessee, for instance, the scant population was mostly confined to the eastern and middle portions of the state. It stated that Knoxville was a thriving village and Nashville, the capitol, sported a growing population of 5,000. Memphis and Cahntanooga were not mentioned.

Texas was not mentioned by name, but as part of the Spanish possessions, and a part of one of the northern provinces of Mexico, which about that time threw off the Spanish yoke. John wrote the librarian of the University of Texas, and found that he had a very valuable book except for one thing. The atlas that went with it had been lost. The atlas is often mentioned in the text of the book, but seems to never have been incorporated as a part of the book, as we now know histories and geographies.

How to Make Your Own Soap

Austin, Texas, August 1.—Housewives can "make" their own answer to the soap shortage, Miss Jennie Wilmot, associate professor of home economics at the University of Texas, says.

If the necessary fat can be found, and if the housewife can wait 30 days for her soap to dry out, then she will have no more worries, Miss Wilmot says.

Miss Wilmot offers the following tested recipe for making soap:

- 1 quart melted and strained fat
- 1-2 cup lye
- 1 1-2 cups water
- 2 1-2 tablespoons ammonia hydroxide
- 3-4 cup saturated borax (stir powdered borax in the water until no more will dissolve and a few tom of the cup.)

"Underscore that "wait," Miss Wilmot emphasized, "for if you hands!" don't wait, the lye will eat your

Mrs. E. A. Lovvorn of Stamford, and Mrs. Josephene Kidwell, of Anson, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Dalton.

Our Former Fiddle Fellow Once Texan

Had a letter from John Dumas, who after reading our article about the Kraut Koncerto violin or fiddle, if you wish, say to him will always be Hotz Von Mertz, a former Texan, turned Nazi, and I believe we also heard that he was reared in the same town Admiral Nemitz came from, Fredricksburg, Texas. Anyway, John says all the Texans were ashamed of him, and tried to persuade him to make a break for liberty. But, evidently Hotz knowing how very trigger happy loyal Texans are, he preferred to remain a prisoner of war.

Then John branches out into an argument that Pappy John Powell, even if a semi-classical violinist, could also come down to plain old Hillbilly tunes like "Billy in The Low Ground," "Turkey in The Straw," and "Birdie in The Snowbank." So, do we, John, but Pappy John is more at home on such old tunes as, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," "Sweet Geneveive," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," etc., and we'll also admit that Pappy Johnny whipped up a mighty good band here in the years past out of the country lads and lassies hereabouts.

John also longs for those good old days when we had those old-fashion get-to-gathers, and each knew the other by their first name, and when all lived within the law. No killings for the first 19 years of the county, but a few fistcuffs, and no one seriously hurt. Well there is a lot of people here yet that do just that.

For instance, Bill Fulton just left this office, John, and we don't think we ever called him Mr. Fulton in our life. And, we are just plain Jack, to him.

Sgt. Blufford R. Millner, is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Millner.

Tom and Mack Hord have been homes of their grandparents, paternal and maternal, at Slaton and Lubbock.

Delores Gillham was honored on her fifteenth birthday, Monday, with a family dinner at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Gillham. Those present were her parents, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Powell, Eleanor Gillham, and Jean Craig.

Pvt. W. R. Marchbanks wrote his wife that he is now at a rest camp on Okinowa, where he had just finished a campaign.

NEVER MIND THE CHANGE
Those who have seen the freedom with which American troops spend money will enjoy this story from India.

An American, having hired a tonga for a distance the ordinary fare for which would be half a rupee, magnanimously handed the driver a 50-rupee note.

The man shook his head violently and demanded 60.

No, said the American, "that's enough. I shan't pay any more."

The Indian thereupon accepted the money and walked away, leaving the tonga and pony with the purchaser.

Virginia Price of Plains, spent last week visiting Jo Ann and Frances Price.

Mrs. C. L. Sedgwick of Roaring Springs, left Monday for her home after spending several days here visiting her sister, Mrs. Bob Thompson. Grady Thompson returned home with his aunt for a short visit.

Misses Sue, Gertrude and Mary Jo Jones, Joyce Dungan and Mrs. Frances Gage, were Lubbock visitors, Monday.

TO THOSE WHO SACRIFICED...

Some men are awarded the Purple Heart posthumously.

Some live to wear it with pride and memories. Memories of by how slim a chance they lived while others died.

The spirit of those who fall and of those who survive is the same. Each hero in battle WOULD give all with a full understanding that only the perpetuation of freedom is worth such sacrifice. . . .

HOORAY!

IT'S TIME TO CELEBRATE

The long hard struggle is over. Once more we are a nation to do as we choose. We love peace and freedom more than life itself. Our brave men who gave their lives that our beloved country might continue in freedom shall not have died in vain.

It is our sacred duty to see that peace so long sought for, shall be kept at any price.
