Request Untimely

Hard at work this week is the Star's news editor, Leland Boyd. Leland didn't get his belongings unpacked from his car before we had him out "bird-dogging it" for news.

By now, most of the folks in the community have at least seen Leland, if they haven't shaken his hand. Our news editor says he thinks he'll like Friona, and we hope Friona will like him.

The addition of this A & M graduate to the staff of the Star should do much to improve the news content of the paper. Our readers deserve the best, and we think they will get it from Boyd's typewriter. He appears to have talent—in addition to a desire to get to work.

Incidentally, Leland is staying in the Raymond Jones apartments, where he has discovered, to his pleasure, that his roommate will be Tom Dornell, who is also fresh out of A & M. They knew one another in school.

Lloyd Messenger told us a little story the other day that was interesting. Lloyd had gone to Lockhaven, Pennsylvania, to pick up a new sprayer-equipped airplane for Elvie Jennings.

Lloyd ran into a little bit of bad weather while at the factory, and discovered he'd have to lay over for a while before it would be advisable to begin the flight home.

While killing time, he struck up an acquaintance with a fellow who learned he was from West Texas. "West Texas, huh?" said the man. "Ever hear of a place called Friona?"

Naturally, Lloyd was surprised and pleased that he had run into someone familiar with this neck of the woods, so he told him he was from Friona, and sought to find out the man's background.

It turned out that he was talking with a fellow named Joe Mayo, who several years ago had been a spray pilot for Jennings. No doubt many Friona people will recall Mayo.

Today, he's a test pilot for a major aircraft manufacturer (although the name of the company has slipped the writer's mind), and Lloyd says some of his stories of travel over the world are really something to hear.

Like the time, for instance, that Mayo took off for England to deliver a Navion two-engine ship. While on his way, he developed engine trouble far out over the Atlantic, and discovered that he was about 300 miles from Greenland, with one engine failing.

The oil pressure system of the engine had conked out and so he did the natural and sensible thing to do, which was to feather the prop and turn the engine off, and fly along on the other one. Only, much to his surprise and dismay, the other engine wouldn't maintain the plane's flight, and he began a slow and nerve-wracking descent toward the cold waters below.

Mayo, says Messenger, decided "to heck with the engine" since his hide was at stake, so he cranked up the engine with oil line trouble, and ran it anyway. It lasted about 45 minutes, and then got so hot it froze up, and he was back on one engine.

Fortunately, as he lost altitude, the atmosphere became more dense, and he finally leveled off a few hundred feet above the ocean. He made radio contact with emergency rescue operations on Greenland, and they advised him to "ditch" his plane instead of trying to bring it in.

One look at the icebergs floating around in the water below made him decide he'd rather take his chances on his crippled ship, though, so he gave his one good engine all it had and headed for land.

Joe finally made it, says Lloyd, although he came scooting into the field at tree-top height, and with his one engine seriously strained from so much wide-open throttle operation.

An experience like that would put us out of the flying business, we think, but it wasn't long until Joe was off again with the same plane (but new engines) to make the delivery. He made it the second try.

Incidentally, we thought that the main advantage of having a two-engine plane was to avoid catastrophe when one engine fails. That's true of most aircraft, says Lloyd, but the particular one Joe was trying to shuttle over the Atlantic was a converted job that didn't have this advantage.

Overheard in the Main Street coffee shop Friday morning were these wise words uttered by someone we didn't know: "The only way to make money nowadays is to either do something nobody has ever thought of doing before, or to do it better than anybody else can."

The milk production of a cow is reduced more rapidly by too little water than by anything else.

Friona councilmen Monday night postponed definite action on a telephone company request for a rate increase that would nearly double the company's rate of return on its investment.

Councilmen J. G. McFarland and Oscar Baxter, Mayor A. W. Anthony Sr. and City Secretary Roy Wilson spent the more than four-hour-long session hearing three telephone company men making a plea for the rate increase.

Presenting the case for General Telephone Company of the Southwest were J. L. (Dusty) Kemper of Brownfield, division manager; Fred Mathis and F. G. Roberts of Littlefield, district manager and area plant manager, respectively.

Kemper began his discussion by saying the story of "higher costs and need for repricing our business" leads them to ask for the increase.

He called attention to a brochure prepared for the council to study, pointing out that it has been five years since the company last asked and received a raise of rates.

Increase asked is from $8 to $10 for a one party business phone, $6.25 to $8.50 for two party business, with extensions for businesses to remain at $1.50.

Work to locate cause of trouble in a cable near the Santa Fe depot is still being done. It is particularly hard to find trouble spots in cable lines, because lightning can strike one place and travel as much as three blocks before bursting a weak place in the lead sheathing, Kemper said.

City councilmen called attention to the poor service being received on calls to other parts of the extended area service, long distance calls and to extra billing for toll calls which they were fairly certain were incorrectly timed.

Oscar Baxter asked why he hadn't been able to get a phone in his residence. "I have made two or three requests for the residence phone, the first one four or five months ago," he said.

District Manager Fred Mathis assured him that a work order would be placed very quickly.

Every city in the district and most cities on the High Plains have been hard hit by lightning. One city has about 1,500 telephones out of service, Kemper said.

Opposition to passage of the $55,000 bond issue was centered around increases in city taxes, and an expected need for bonds to expand the water system.

The increase in taxes, if the bond issue had passed, would have been an estimated 10 per cent.

★ FIRST FINGERS NOT A CROOK'S

Deputy Sheriff Bill Ford imprinted the first fingers Monday with the new fingerprinting equipment at the Friona City Hall.

But the identification was not made for crime detection. Charles Beaton, 17, who as a whole enjoys a good reputation, wanted his printed in connection with being inducted into the army.

He signed up with the army last month and left Tuesday for Amarillo for physical examination and induction.

After induction, he expects to be at Fort Chaffee, Ark. He told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Beaton, he hopes to get into an army band so he can continue his music participation.

He was a member of the Friona High School Band.

S. A. FREEMAN
Church of Christ Has New Minister

S. A. Freeman will begin his duties as minister of the Sixth Street Church of Christ Sunday morning. He comes to Friona from Las Vegas, New Mexico, and replaces M. B. McKinney, who has recently moved to Dora, New Mexico.

Prior to that he worked with the Church of Christ at Olton four and one half years.

Announce Plans For Warehouse

Expansion plans were announced this week by Fred and W. H. Sims of Sims Bros. Fertilizer Company in Black. The brothers have been in business there for two months.

An office has been erected on Highway 60, and plans call for the addition of a warehouse with storage facilities for dry fertilizer "sometime this year." The firm now handles only anhydrous ammonia.

Other equipment owned by the company includes two tractor-mounted rigs for fertilizer application.

Swimming Pool Election Fails

Friona voters turned down the first bond issue in the history of the city by a vote of about two to one Tuesday.

Voting for the issue were 85. Negative votes casts totaled 182. Total vote was 267, according to City Secretary Roy Wilson.

The bond issue failed in spite of a drive carried on by a group of boosters who desired passage.

Boosters were going about Monday and Tuesday talking in favor of the issue and stressing its advantages. They called upon eligible voters to be sure to vote, especially for passing the issue.

The 267 total vote came within 19 votes of reaching the record

Friona Wheat Growers Set Barbecue, Business

Stockholders of Friona Wheat Growers, Inc., will have their annual meeting Tuesday, June 11, at 7 p. m. at the Friona school cafeteria.

Good attendance is expected at this year's meeting and prizes for attendance will be awarded. Last year's meeting was attended by 1,080 stockholders, according to Arthur Drake, manager.

Drake encourages stockholders to attend and bring their families. "It is financed by stockholders, so they may as well take advantage of the chance to mingle with other stockholders," he says.

The night will consist of a barbecue at the beginning of the meeting, with some entertainment planned.

Business meeting will follow and will be held in the school auditorium.

Attendance prizes are to go to names selected by a drawing. A total of $50 is designated for prizes, Drake said.

He is to be examined by the Oklahoma Board of Examiners next week.

He lists his home as Clinton, Okla., but is a native of Canadian.

Police Car Hits Fire Plug on Main

About $35 was the damage to Friona's almost new patrol car when it struck a fire plug on Main Street about 50 feet south of Highway 60.

The accident happened about 5:20 a. m. Sunday as Howard Mayfield was patrolling. He said he must have gone to sleep before the accident occurred.

Damage consisted of dents to a front fender.

Take Aim On Skeeters

How to control mosquitoes is the topic for meetings to be held at Rhea and Hub community centers tonight (Thursday) and tomorrow.

The Rhea meeting will be at the Parish Hall at 8:30. The Rhea Farm Bureau is sponsoring the meeting during its regular meeting time.

Scheduled program for the communities includes two films on the life cycle of the mosquito and methods of control.

Rhea had originally planned to have their meeting Friday, but rescheduled it for tonight to keep from conflicting with a similar meeting at Hub.

Hub's meeting will be tomorrow at 8 p. m. at the community center.

Dr. Paul Spring, county health officer, plans to attend the meetings to help explain the mosquito problem.

C. W. Weatherly Gets Appointment To School Board

Friona school trustees Monday night appointed Clyde W. Weatherly to fill the position left vacant by the late Hadley Reeve.

Board members chose Weatherly unanimously from a list of four the board was considering, according to Dillie Kelley, superintendent.

Weatherly is a farmer in the Black Community. He is a former school teacher, and has served on school boards prior to his present appointment.

Kelley reports that the Monday night meeting was the shortest the board has had in months. Other business was of routine nature, consisting of approval for payment of expenses, Kelley said.

Co-Op Is Changing Service Front

Faster and more efficient service is in store at Friona Consumers service station, says Buddy Lloyd, manager.

"We are in the process of moving the gasoline pumps to the front of the warehouse. There will be a 'doghouse' built at the pumps, and we plan to have at least one man stay there all the time," Lloyd says.

"This will mean our customers will be offered faster service, and the driveway will be handier," he says.

When construction is finished, probably about July 1, the service front will be paved with concrete. Raymond Fleming is contractor.

SILENT SINGER TONYA BINGHAM contributes a pantomime to the opening night program for Hub's community center. Gathered around the stage were quite a few persons, not standing near because of choice, but of necessity, because of a "full house" with standing room only for some.

Expenses will be paid by Baptist Student Unions in Texas. Actual time spent will be 10 weeks, and she will be on Maui Island. Under the program, the student missionaries live with native families.

"I don't think of it as causing me to miss a summer's vacation, but as something that I could probably never have another opportunity to gain," she says.

Miss Buske has promised to write of her experiences to the Friona Star, and allow readers to become acquainted with the people there, telling of their customs, needs and of her work in "helping to spread the Christian message."

School Leaders Selected

RICHARD BENTZ
Richard T. Bentz To Direct Music For Friona Schools

Richard T. Bentz has been named new music director for the Friona Schools. His duties will start in September when school opens here.

Though this will be the first job for Bentz in a public school, he comes to Friona with an excellent background and highly recommended, says Friona School Superintendent Dillie Kelley.

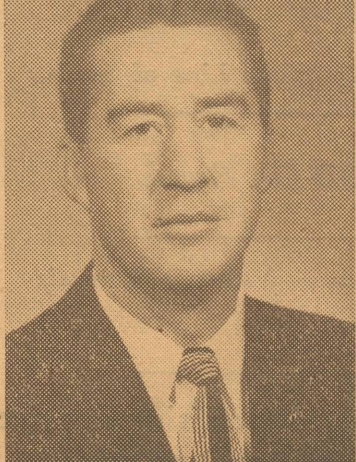

He holds a bachelor of music degree from Eastern New Mexico University and is scheduled to receive his MA degree at the end of summer sessions this year.

Bentz will be in charge of the bands and choirs for high school and grade schools of Friona.

He is 25 years old, and is not married.

At ENMU he is assistant band director and has taught private lessons in woodwind instruments. He is choir director for the First Methodist Church in Portales. During his two years spent in the army, he played the clarinet as a member of the 49th Army Band.

Officials at ENMU gave him the best of recommendations and this indicates the fine job which he will be capable of doing for Friona, Kelley says. Everyone recommended him without hesitation or reservation, he says.

"I feel sure he is well qualified for the job which a principal is required to do, as his record for the past two years indicates," Kelley says.

Duggins has a Master of Education degree from North Texas State College. Before coming to Friona he taught three years at Stratford and one year in Oklahoma.

THE STAR'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Congratulations, Hub! The Friona Star

Hub community center shows what toil and good will can accomplish.

Persons who are responsible for erecting the building are to be commended. They have a place now in which to fellowship and plan together for an even better community.

This is what the community is planning to build: a better place in which to live, to earn a living, to rear their families in a way in which builds better counties, better states and a better world.

The Friona Star wishes to encourage Hub citizens who have worked and contributed so they could achieve the goal they now have attained.

But there are other heights for which the community can reach: A well-rounded community program for old and young, including every member of Such a program deserves continued active cooperation from each member of the community. Keep interest running high and plans moving forward. A law of nature says that it is easier to keep an object moving than it is to start one after it has stopped.

Plans have been completed for a tour of some of Friona's newest homes June 14. The tour, which is being sponsored by the Friona Woman's Club, will begin at the club house at 1:30 p.m. and will end at 5.

Janitors Attend Cleaning School

Friona School custodians became pupils and had their days of studying after school for the city had dismissed.

The four attended a special school for custodians in Portales Monday through Wednesday this week. Eastern New Mexico University was the sponsor.

Fred Lloyd, Clarence Ashcraft, D. W. Hodgson and Horace B. Gardner, Friona School custodians, commuted to the three day school.

Their studies included how to clean floors, walls, dusting, sanitation, bookkeeping, fire prevention and all aspects of safety.

Honor War Dead

Friona residents paid tribute to veterans who gave their lives in helping freedom live, last Thursday in services sponsored by the Friona American Legion Post.

In part of the program held at the city park, Rev. L. A. Sartain of the First Baptist Church and Rev. Arthur Lutz of the United Pentecostal Church brought messages in words calling attention to the duty to remember those who died.

The Trebelaires sang "My Buddy," and "The Star Spangled Banner."

A wreath was presented to Mrs. Arma Coffman, selected Gold Star Mother, who placed it on the grave of the veteran. In the background the American Legion firing squad marched into the city cemetery with colors and fired a 24-gun salute. The Women's Auxiliary then placed wreaths on graves of 21 deceased veterans.

Following reading of a poem by Rev. Lutz, the eight-man rifle squad marched from the cemetery to close the services. American Legion officers report excellent reception and attendance to the services.

Lockney Man Hurt In Wreck Monday

Mel Wakefield of Lockney was injured slightly and almost overcome by gasoline fumes when his car overturned at Goodwine curve on the Hub road early Monday morning.

A truck driver discovered Wakefield's car overturned at the curve about 4:45 and reported it to Policeman Howard Mayfield. The two returned to the car and removed Wakefield who was in a semi-conscious condition.

He was taken to Parmer County Community Hospital by Claborn Ambulance, given emergency treatment and released.

Investigating officers were Patrolman Kenneth Maxwell and Joe O'Rear of Texas Highway Patrol.

Damage was estimated at a total loss.

Mrs. Howard Mayfield will probably return this weekend from a week-long visit in Albuquerque, N. M., with her sister, says Howard Mayfield.

"I sure hope she comes back," Howard says, "because I sure miss her, and especially the home cooked meals."

Planting Figures Indicate Minor Cropping Changes

Although wet fields and rainy days have kept Parmer County area farmers from usual schedule, early estimates are being made for this year's crops.

And in the rainy spells that promise better crops for dry-land farmers and less irrigating expense for farmers who have wells, Parmer farmers managed to get the jump on other areas of the High Plains.

Travelers report after returning from the Lubbock vicinity, Abilene, Central Texas and South Texas, that grain crops there are delayed three to four weeks. Cotton and vegetable crops in other areas of Texas are being delayed past planting deadlines.

Area farmers watch these developments closely and are mapping their operations accordingly.

County Agent Joe Jones says the trend in Parmer County agriculture this year is toward more grain seed crops of milo, red top cane, and hegari, rather than sorghums to be sold as feed alone.

He estimates there will be 250,000 acres of grain sorghums planted this year. About 220,000 of this will be under irrigation, he says.

During the first year to be available on a large scale, hybrid milo is moving in similar to hybrid corn when it became available about 10 years ago. Seed dealers report good demand for the hybrid seed, encouraged by reports of about 25 percent more production over standard varieties. About one-third of the milo production is expected to be in hybrid varieties this year.

Of the approximately 103,000 acres of allotted wheat, 80,000 acres have been measured by the County ASC office.

An estimated 40,000 acres of this is under irrigation. Total acreage expected to be harvested is 65,000 acres after about 15,000 acres have been grazed and failed to produce enough to warrant cutting.

Acres devoted to corn production in the county are in for a small increase over last year, with 25,000 acres expected to be planted. After reports of expected lower corn production in other areas due to weather conditions putting an end to planting there, enough Parmer farmers got in extra acres—5,000 additional is the guess—over about 20,000 acres harvested last year.

Like last year, all but a few small patches are hybrid varieties. Another trend seen by speculators is the possibility that part of the additional corn will be cut for silage, as will a considerable amount of the sorghums.

Minor grain crops—barley and oats—are about the same this year with scattered planting over the county. Of the two, barley harvesting is expected to have some increase, though not in particularly important amounts.

Alfalfa and hay crops are not expected to reach the total for last year. Lush pastures over most of the state nurtured by drouth breaking rains is expected to cut down on roughage demand. Unfavorable weather in the county has hindered hay cuttings for Parmer farmers.

Cotton planting, still ahead for many who held off planting before the three-week-long rains started, is expected to be at the allotted 43,000 acres, with a relatively small portion going into the acreage reserve of the USDA's soil bank.

About 11,000 cultivated acres in Parmer County will be withdrawn this year from production because of the soil bank.

Sorghum alumna, a new crop to Texas and the Plains, is being planted in limited amounts. Pete Buske is reported to have planned to plant about 500 acres on his farm north of Friona.

Potato growers are feverish this year than last year, with a few of the in-and-out growers staying in. Estimated potato acreage this year is 400 in the Friona area, and 250 in the Lariat area, according to County Agent Jones.

In an area where vegetable growing is getting more consideration each year, some speculators are looking into tomato growing possibilities in the county, since damaging weather nipped that crop in the traditional tomato growing areas of East and Central Texas and the Rio Grande Valley.

Sesame plantings are expected to be up this year in the county. After a light planting of about 800 acres last year, an estimated 3,800 to 4,000 acres will probably be devoted to the oil seed crop this year.

Castor beans, after being planted occasionally several years ago, are still around. About 500 acres have been noticed in the county this year.

Loans to Farmers Exceed $760,000

More than $760,000 has been loaned to farmers in Parmer County during the ten months ended April 30, 1957, by Farmers Home Administration, the agency's county supervisor, Billy R. Boling, announced this week.

The heaviest demand has been for credit to finance wheat, grain sorghums, and cotton operations.

During the same ten month period, Farmers Home Administration extended credit in operating, emergency, and real estate loans to some 18,500 Texas farmers and ranchers for a total of $54,773,000, the agency's state director, Walter T. McKay, reported. This is an increase over the same period last year of about $6,500,000.

"This increase is due primarily to the demand from family-type farmers for credit needed to place their farming operations on an efficient basis," McKay explained. "In fact," he added, "agency records reveal that there has been a slight decline in the demand for emergency credit so far this year. Long-term credit, to develop balanced systems and make full use of resources available, has been extended to a number of operators of family-type farms who previously obtained emergency loan assistance."

McKay and members of his staff are meeting this week with National Administrator Kermit Hansen to go over agency operations for next year. This meeting is preparatory to training meetings to be held for county office staffs throughout the state.

The objective of these meetings will be to insure that maximum service is rendered to Texas farmers and ranchers promptly and efficiently.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

For a new and interesting garden that anyone can plant without soil or without having to weed or water, you might like to try the following recipe:

A GRACIOUS SPRING GARDEN

First plant four rows of peas: presence, promptness, preparation, and perseverance.

Next to these plant three rows of squash: squash gossip, squash indifference, and squash criticism.

Then plant five rows of lettuce: let us love one another, let us obey rules and regulations, let us be true to our obligations, let us be faithful to duty, and let us be loyal and unselfish.

No garden is complete without turnips: turn up with a smile, turn up with new ideas, turn up with the determination to make everything count for something good and worthwhile.

It isn't too late to plant your gracious spring garden.

Mrs. Frank Spring recommends this recipe as quick, easy, and very delicious. It was given to the Canyon News by Mrs. Clay Coopér.

Fruit Cocktail Pudding
1 cup flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon soda
Pinch of salt
1 egg

1 No. 2 can fruit cocktail
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup chopped nuts

Sift dry ingredients three times, add beaten egg and fruit cocktail, pour into oiled and floured pan, sprinkle with brown sugar and nuts, bake 35 minutes at 350 degrees—cool, top with whipped cream and serve.

Two Chinese proverbs which help to make us stop and count our blessings are:

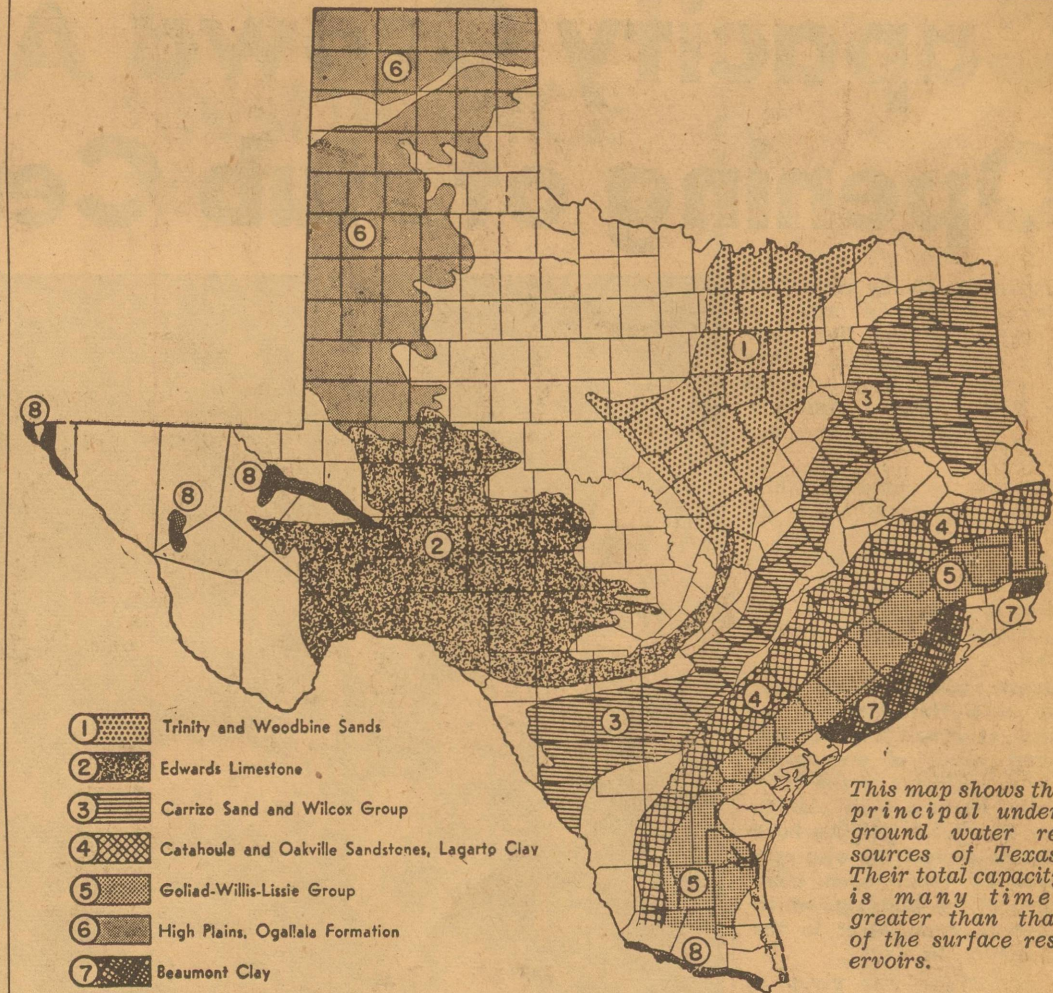

"I grumbled because I had no shoes until I met a man who had no feet."
"I grumbled because I had to get up so early in the morning—until one morning when I could not get up."

This interesting map, prepared by hydrologists for the Texas Almanac, shows principal water-bearing formations of Texas. As can be seen, the Ogallala formation is one of the major reservoirs, and is the one from which practically all ground water on the Texas Plains comes. It is a common misconception that the Plains north of the Canadian River have a different underground formation than the South Plains, but they do not. In most cases, they are deeper, and that is the principal difference.

If you are planning a party and want to serve something unusual, try this recipe for Chiffon Pie. It is also good for serving the family on any occasion.

Chiffon Pie

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- ¼ cup cold water
- 1/8 teaspoon cinnamon
- Few grains of salt
- ½ cup water
- ½ cup molasses
- 3 egg yolks
- 2 egg whites
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 cup broken nut meats
- 1 8-inch baked pie shell
- 1 egg white
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 6 teaspoons tart jelly

Sprinkle gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water. Stir cinnamon, salt, and water into molasses. Beat egg yolks; add molasses mixture. Cook over hot water, stirring, until slightly thickened. Add gelatin; stir until dissolved. Chill until syrupy. Beat until fluffy. Beat 2 egg whites stiff, adding 2 tablespoons sugar; fold into gelatin mixture with nut meats.

Pour into baked pie shell. Chill until firm. Make meringue of remaining egg white and sugar. Line small pie pan with greased waxed paper. Drop six small, hollowed mounds of meringue on waxed paper. Set in pan of warm water. Bake in a very moderate oven until golden brown. Place meringues around edge of pie. Drop jelly in centers.

THE PARMER COUNTY IMPLEMENT CO. NEWS

"The Place Where Most People Trade" Friona, Texas June 5, 1957

Douglas Connelley has been fishing, hunting, swimming and vacationing with relatives the last two weeks. Our daddy took his place at the Parmer County Implement Company while he was gone and Doyce Barnett acted as Sunday school superintendent at the Baptist church.

The L. B. Blakes have lost their dog, Taby. Taby often goes to visit the neighbors but has never been gone so long before. He's a sandy blonde, English bulldog, and if you see him please let the Blakes know. He is wearing a collar with his name on it.

John Bill, our first grader, is a great television fan and has seen judges who wear robes on some of the TV shows. We went to the baccalaureate service at the auditorium last Sunday night and John Bill enjoyed the flowers on the stage and then wondered what the four men were doing. Our mother told him they were going to make speeches. When all the seniors in caps and gowns came in, he asked, "Why do they need so many judges?"

The weeds are almost raising the earth's surface in Parmer County. We recommend our crust buster as the best weed killer we've seen.

If Texans aren't going places, it isn't their fault. Texas has more miles of railroad tracks (over 15,000), more miles of paved highways (over 31,000), more miles of commercial airways (some 4,000), more miles of unpaved roads (anybody's guess), and more miles of bald prairie than any other state. If anybody wants to take the underground route, Texas has more miles of pipe lines, too.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas have bought a lot in Friona. As soon as the ground dries up so they can, they will build a foundation and move their house into town. The Thomases live 11 miles south of Friona.

Now's the time to begin killing the Johnson grass and bindweed on your farm. Plenty of Sodium Chlorate for sale at the Parmer County Implement Company. Sodium Chlorate is the sure kill for obnoxious weeds.

Children aren't happy with nothing to ignore and that's what parents were created for.—(Ogden Nash)

Capacity Crowd Attends Opening of Hub Center

Despite the steady rainfall of Friday evening, the crowd at the opening of the Hub community center was larger than was expected. Guests came from Friona, Clovis, Amarillo, Bovina, Farwell, Muleshoe, and Littlefield.

Following the barbecue, which was served by members of the Hub Community Association, a program was presented. The welcome address was delivered by Bill Wooley, president, who also served as master of ceremonies.

Guest speaker of the evening was Hal Mayfield of KGMC at Amarillo. Mayfield offered words of encouragement to residents of the community, backing their plan to enter the Rural Neighborhood Progress contest. He also congratulated them upon completion of the building, which is definitely an asset to the community, he says.

A pantomime was given by Tonya Bingham of Littlefield, Kitty Black and Gerald Daniel sang "My Blue Heaven," accompanied by Eva Miller at the piano. The Trebelaire sang "Dark Town Strutters' Ball," "I Love My Baby," and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." They were also accompanied by Eva Miller.

Don Green, Leroy Burnett, and Bobby Gene Mercer accompanied Bill Wooley as he sang "A White Sport Coat and a Pink Carnation," "Poor Man's Gold," and "Crazy Arms." Billy Don Thomas sang "99 Ways" with Anna Mae Thomas at the piano.

Connie Bingham presented a piano solo, "Poor People of Paris," then accompanied Bill Wooley as he led group singing.

When asked for a report on the construction of the building, Melba Burleson, who serves the organization as secretary-treasurer, said "Not too long ago, it was very common to hear men at the gin, women at club meetings, or young people at different gatherings remark that they would like to have a building in which to meet for community wide activities."

"We will not be hearing that from 'Hub-ites' any more because we now have a place that could well be the envy of any rural community. By pooling our ideas, time, money, and effort, we have erected a building which will serve our needs and be a symbol of the cooperation of a community as well as the surrounding towns."

HAPPY HUB — It was laughs a-plenty as a joyous crowd enjoyed the program as Hub celebrated the opening night of its new community center. As can be seen in the picture, residents of neighboring cities and communities joined in the fun and fellowship.

"The first ideas expressed were for a building large enough for club and similar meetings with kitchen and rest room facilities. That was before the men of the community were consulted. With the idea in mind of erecting a building that would be sturdy enough for skating parties and ball games, the whole community rolled up its sleeves and went to work."

"A lot of talking and speculation was done at every meeting and even though there were some disagreements on different points, the overall plan never bogged down with hard feeling and a cooperative attitude, has prevailed over every objective.

"All of the committees which were appointed have worked hard and accomplished the goals set for them. It is hard for us to believe that this building was still in the planning stage fewer than four months ago."

"The people of the Hub community are proud of their accomplishment and are the first to admit that without assistance of their friends, it would have been impossible to have reached the goal. We believe the old adage, 'Use them, or lose them.'"

"Anyone who had any time or talent was busy. We hope that this community will continue to push forward together and help prove that 'Texans are the friendliest people on earth.'"

Those who have assisted with the financing and building of the community center are Aldridge and Aldridge, E. R. Coffman, Hugh Moseley, Gifford-Hill Western, and Security State Bank, all of Farwell; Sherley Grain Company, First National Bank, Warren Embree, Roy Lowe, John Littlefield, A. L. Glascock, and J. W. Wright, all of Bovina;

4-H'ers Attend Camp

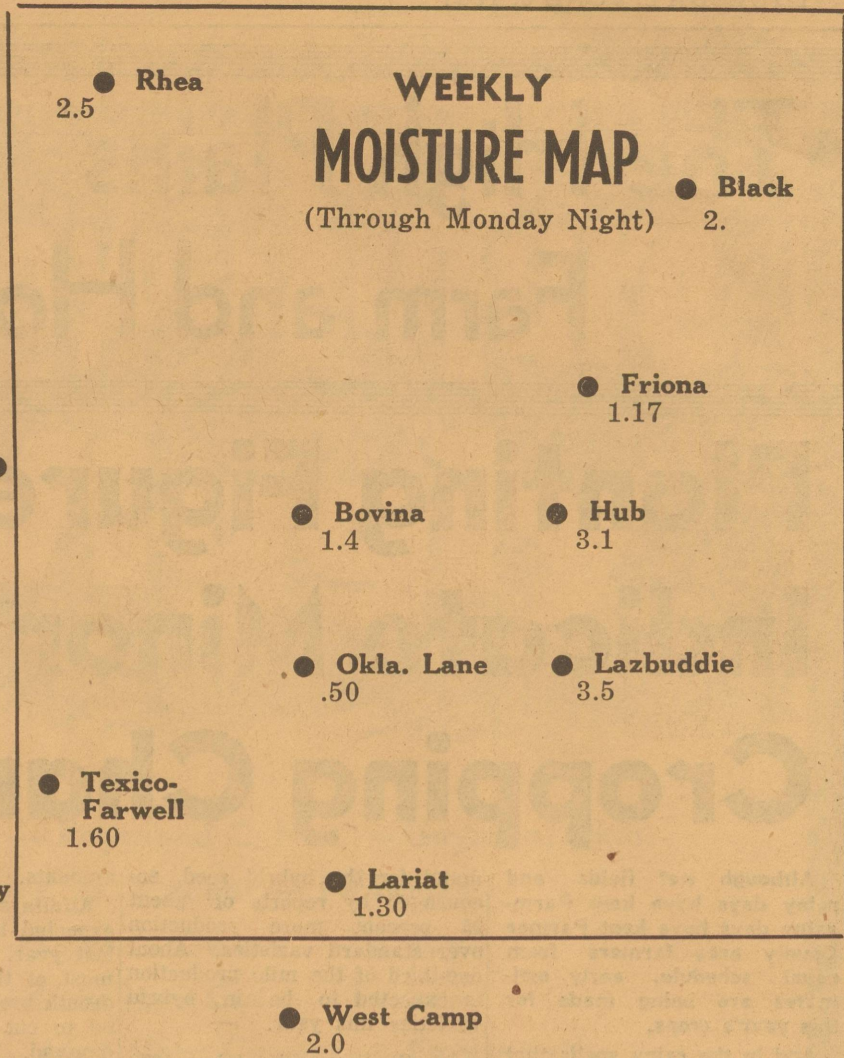

Three boys and three girls from 4-H Clubs in Parmer County attended the District I 4-H Club camp which convened Monday through Wednesday of this week at Don Harrington Boy Scout camp near Canyon.

Club members attending from this county were Richard Chitwood and James Brown, both of the Lazbuddie club; Jim Roy Wells of a Friona club; Beverly Smith of a Lazbuddie club; and Gladys and Lindy Dean of the Bovina club. They were accompanied by Joe Jones and Jimmie Lou Wainscott, county agents.

Members qualifying for the district encampment must have had a project during the past year and must submit club record books to be judged with others of the county 4-H clubbers.

During the three days of camping, the attendants have a variety of things to keep them busy. Nature study plays a large part in the trip and they are taught the procedures of keeping good 4-H records. Supervised recreation is enjoyed by all and attendants have the opportunity to make things such as lamps for their electrical demonstrations and study. About 130 persons attended the camp, including six members from each county in District I, county agents, home demonstration agents and camp personnel.

Government run by women is called gynarchy.

County Support Prices Announced

Support prices for 1957 wheat and grain sorghums in Parmer County were announced this week by the county ASC office.

The price support for wheat is $2.01 per bushel, two cents higher than last year. This is 23 cents higher than the guaranteed price for the 1956 crop.

The 1957 support for grain sorghum is $1.73 per cwt. in the county for grain grading No. 2 or better. This is 15 cents less than last year.

County HD Meeting To Be Held At Hub

There will be a county-wide meeting of all home demonstration clubs in the county at the Hub community center Thursday evening at 8. Roll call will be answered with a household hint.

The program, which will be on "Know Your Heart, and Mind—Diet, Tension, and Disease" will be presented by Sue Smith and Dorothy Bauer.

Prospects For Pecans Good

The recent heavy rains have greatly improved the prospects for a good pecan crop in 1957. But, warns Extension Horticulturist B. G. Hancock, uncontrolled pecan nut casebearers can take millions of the prospective pounds of nuts. Now is the time to get on with the control job. The three most important phases of the control program are timing of the spray application, proper application of the spray and use of the right insecticide. Hancock urges pecan growers to check with their local county agent for details on a good control program.

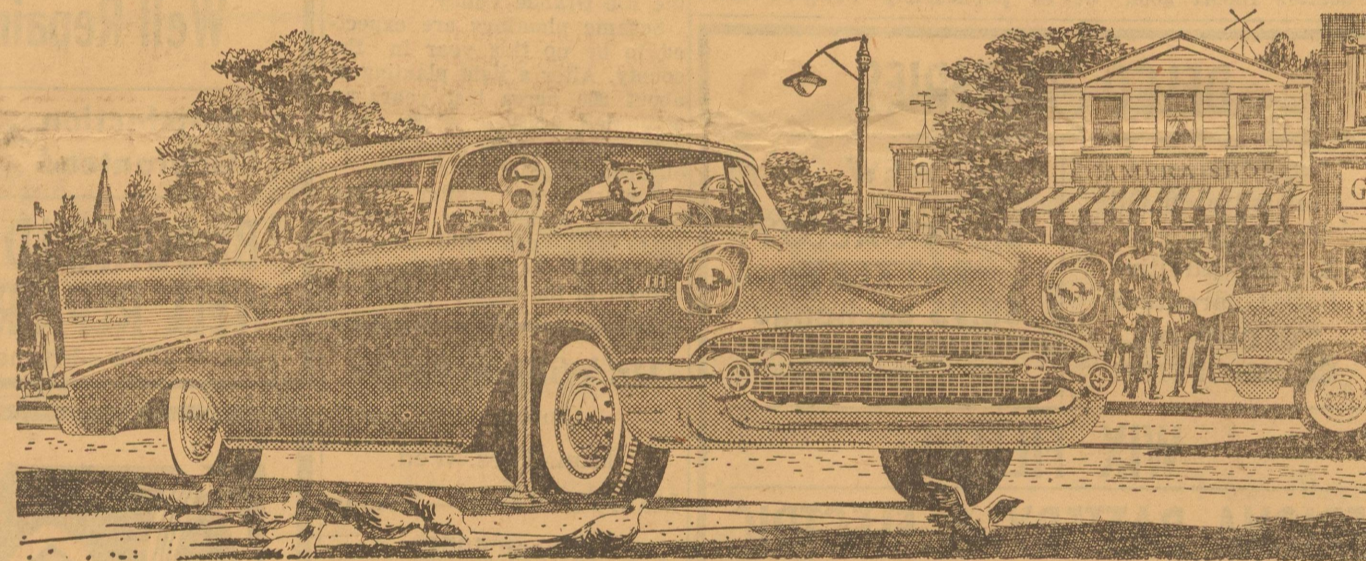

NEED ELBOW ROOM

Chickens need elbow room. Efficient broiler production demands at least two linear inches of available feeder space per bird. Tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station showed that growth response was from two to five percent greater when chicks got sufficient feeder space.

Chevy's come up with the newest, sweetest, smoothest automatic drive—Turboglide. It's the first and only triple-turbine transmission!

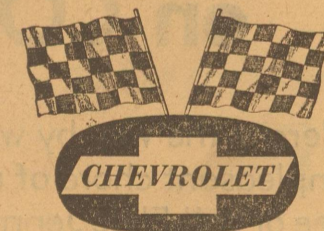

Moves out in a single sweep of motion

... Chevrolet with Turboglide!

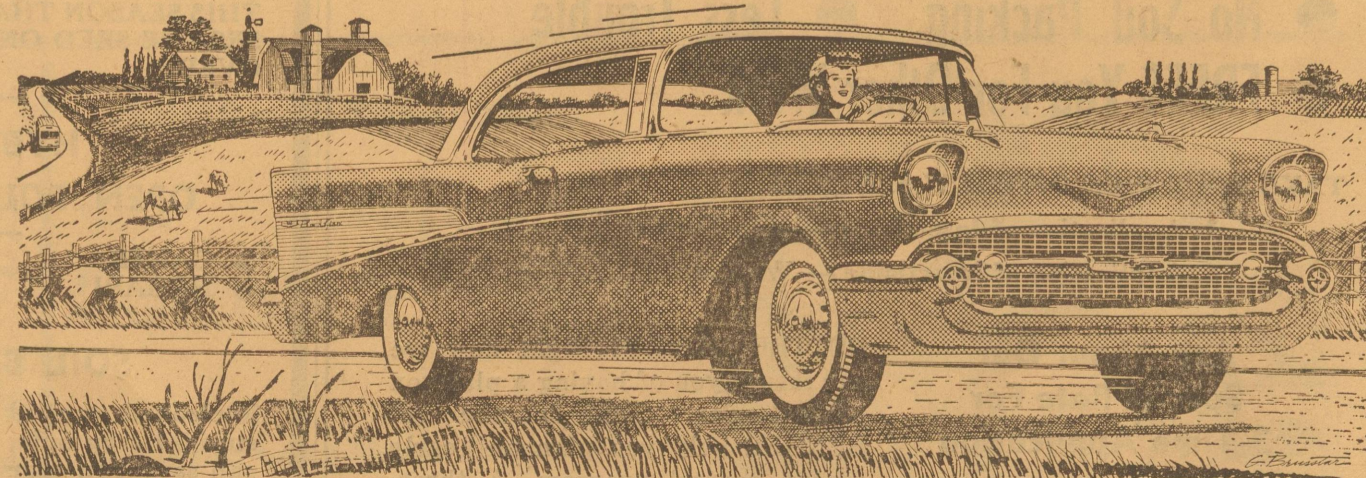

Turboglide is something really new and different in automatic drives. In the first place, there's only one forward-speed position on the control panel. There's no "Low" needed.

Turboglide handles everything with the oil-smooth action of triple turbines. You travel from a standstill to top cruising speeds with never a lurch or lag to mar your motion.

When you see a steep downhill stretch ahead, you set the selector at "GR" (Grade retarder) and Turboglide helps slow you down. Try Chevy's new, nothing-like-it automatic drive. It's optional at extra cost—and worth it.

4 Delegates to Round-Up

Parmer County will be represented at the state 4-H Round-Up at College Station next week by two girls and two boys. The county delegates will be at the Round-Up next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

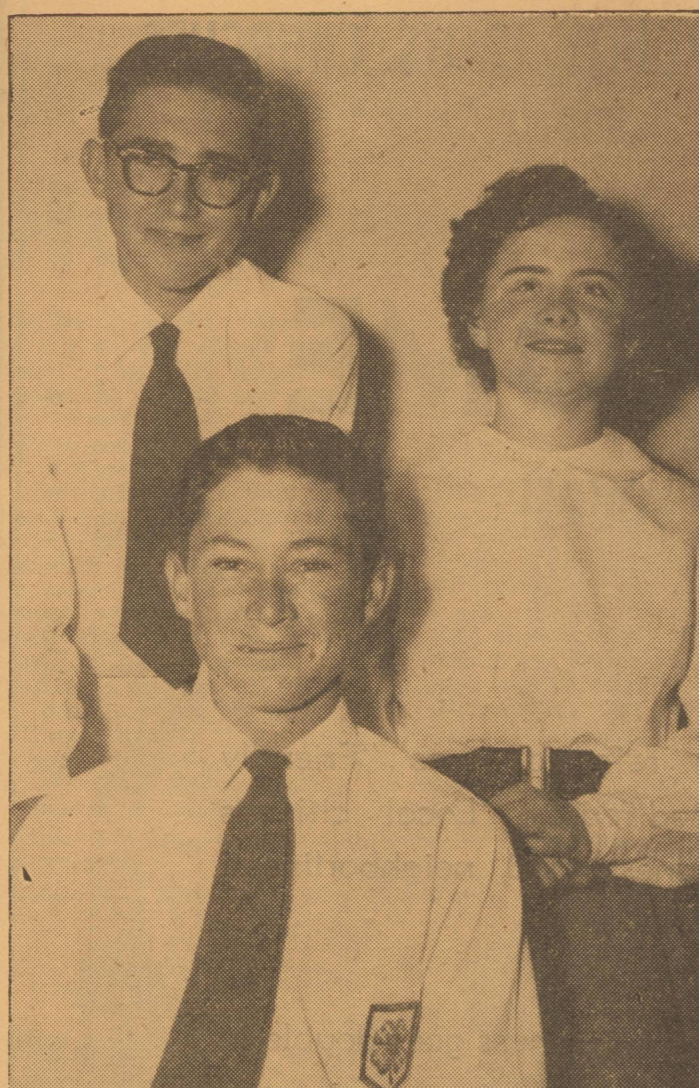

The four delegates are Judy Billingsley, Farwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Billingsley; Lexie Stevenson, Bovina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stevenson; Billie Hardage, Lazbuddie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucy Hardage; and Cooper Young, Lazbuddie, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Young.

LEXIE STEVENSON

The two girls will leave Sunday for Amarillo where they will join other District 1 representatives and go to College Station by bus. J. B. Young will take the two boys to the meeting.

The four were selected for having submitted the best records on projects during the year. Financing the trip to the Round-Up will be the Parmer County Farm Bureau.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Recent rains have somewhat hindered field work around the district the past several weeks. This has worked to our advantage in giving us an opportunity to get some needed farm plans completed. As many of you know, we have been running several months behind on getting these plans completed and back to you. The District Board of Supervisors approved 18 plans at their last meeting.

The supervisors plan to have their June meeting in the Rhea community. The meeting will be Monday afternoon, June 17. It is their desire to invite all cooperators and farmers of the area to meet with them and discuss conservation problems and make suggestions on conservation activities. It will also give the visitors a better idea of what the supervisor's job is. Make plans now to attend this meeting.

Clyde Goodwine who farms 1/2 mile south of Friona is in the process of bench leveling about 15 acres. He is planning on using tail-water to water part of this land. He is going to plant the leveled acres to grass.

Goodwine will accomplish several things by leveling this land. Tail-water will be utilized that would otherwise be lost or standing in puddles and providing a breeding place for insects. By planting the borders to grass, he will provide supplemental grazing for cattle. Grass borders will also prevent erosion.

An operation of this sort is something to think about. One can certainly see the dollar value of it.

County Agent Explains Early Insect Control

Good response is reported to a series of sessions on early season cotton insect control, conducted by County Agent Joe Jones at Lazbuddie, Black and Hub, Tuesday of last week.

Pointing out some of the signs to look for in spotting a need for insecticide application, Jones says about 40 farmers attended the Lazbuddie sessions in the high school. Turning out for the Black Community discussions were about 16 persons. An estimated 45 farmers attended the Hub insect study.

A similar series of sessions are planned to help farmers become better acquainted with problems on controlling bollworm and boll weevil. The date will be announced later.

July 1 Deadline For Applications

In order to be considered for a wheat allotment on a farm which had not wheat in 1955, 1956, or 1957, applications must be made before July 1, says Prentice Mills, Parmer County ASC manager.

The proper forms for making such an application are now available at the ASC office. "If you want a wheat allotment and feel that you are eligible, be sure and see us before that final date," Mills says.

Council Names Delegates

The Parmer County HD Council met Tuesday afternoon at the Bovina home economics cottage. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Lee Renner in the absence of the president, Mrs. Dee Chitwood.

Games were directed by the Friona Club and Phyllis Sanders read "A Parent's Prayer." Minutes were read and the roll was called by Mrs. Walter Kaltwasser. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Walter Schueler.

Delegates were elected to the National THDA meeting in Houston July 30 to August 2. Mrs. A. S. Grubbs of the Lakeview Club, Mrs. Joe Brummett of the High Point Club and Mrs. Ralph Price of the Black Club, were elected delegates. Mrs. Carrie Hardage of the Farwell Club will be the alternate.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Farm Bureau checks of $15 were mailed to each chapter of FFA boys and FHA girls in Parmer County last week. These payments are made to assist in defraying expenses of delegates to the annual conventions of these groups. 4-H boys and girls will be recipients of similar checks very soon. Your directors agreed last year that these were worthwhile projects that you would like to have your organization assist in. These boys and girls are, of course, the future farmers and homemakers of our country.

Once again, we want to urge users of farm fuels to respond to notices to file for the five cent state road tax refund on these fuels. Filings must be made every six months, and there is no grace period. The three cent federal road tax will be eligible for filing from June 30 to October 1, for the preceding year. These taxes represent at least a third of the retail cost of farm fuels, and should not be overlooked as long as they can be redeemed. The letters mailed to those who had not filed in the last six months or more do not mean we do not wish to continue this service for you. Notify us if you wish the service continued, and it will be resumed immediately.

Remember that Farm Bureau is your service organization, and that any of its officers, members or office staff will be glad to assist you in any way they can. The phone number is 3521.

Referendum Date Near for Farmers

Parmer County farmers are reminded this week of the 1958 wheat referendum on Thursday, June 20. Any person who will have an interest in more than 15 acres of wheat next year will be eligible to vote, says Prentice Mills, county ASC manager. This includes the farm operator and the farm owner and the wives of each.

Questions which farmers will be voting on are whether or not there will be price supports on the 1958 wheat crop. If quotas are approved, county wheat growers who comply with their allotments will be eligible for price support at approximately $1.18 per bushel. In this event, non-complying farms would have no price support whatsoever.

At least two thirds of the producers voting in the referendum must approve quotas before they can be put into effect. This question carried by a margin of seven per cent last year, Mills says.

THE PARMER FARMER

(Editor's Note: This week we introduce as the new writer of The Parmer Farmer Leland Boyd, a newcomer to the staff of High Plains Farm and Home. Leland is a "farm boy" and is well qualified to write on the subject of agriculture. He is a graduate of Texas A & M, and comes from a farm in the Brazos Valley area below Waco. Farmers will find his new viewpoints refreshing, we feel.)

By LELAND BOYD

If a person has the least bit of "farming blood" flowing in his veins, there is nothing like seeing the High Plains to stimulate his longing to be a farmer.

This holds true, and especially for the area of Parmer County.

Just to enumerate the impressive facets and advantages which Parmer County area offers to farmers and ranchers starts one to wondering why anyone would want to farm anywhere besides in this area.

The initial impression of the area is fascination that an area always described as miles and miles of miles, among people of other sections, can be so endowed with a prosperous agriculture.

To a newcomer, as he learns more of the area, it is amazing to think of the probability that it will continue to retain those advantages for uncountable decades.

If he is a native of the Blacklands, the reddish color of the land makes him wonder if "red" can possibly produce as much as "black." But seeing in believing. And he looks forward to seeing what he hears about the area.

Parmer County soils are relatively new. Many other areas of Texas are "worn out" as a whole, or they are being depleted by erosion, where slope of the land allows excessive rainfall to take its toll.

A solemn vow which every Parmer Farmer should take, offered as advice from a newcomer: I'll do every feasible thing to keep the soil I have. I'll not gamble on haphazard measures assuring that my soil will be here tomorrow.

The optimist sees things as they should be—not as they are.

Approval Seen On Judicial Bill

Approval and signature of Governor Price Daniel is expected this week to be given to the bill that will establish a new Judicial District affecting Parmer, Lamb, Castro, Swisher, Hale and Bailey counties. The counties are now in District 64. With the governor's approval, District 154 will be activated September 1 composed of Parmer, Lamb and Bailey counties. Castro, Swisher and Hale are to remain in the old district—64th.

Parmer County Attorney Bill Sheehan says the new district will lighten the load on the docket of District 64. This will enable both criminal and civil cases to be disposed of with less lapse of time than has been necessary. Sheehan and Hugh Moseley, along with Bill Street, Bob Kirk and Pat Boone, lawyers from Littlefield, testified in April before the Senate Judicial Committee telling them of the need for division of the 64th District.

They told the committee of the 1,700 cases that were on the docket and they deemed a new district advisable.

In the split, a district attorney would be appointed by the governor for the new district. Judge E. A. Bills, who now presides over the 64th District, would be judge of the new district. District Attorney Joe Cox would stay with the old district and a judge would be appointed. Both appointive offices would be effective until the general election in 1958.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Stewart and children spent Memorial Day with Mrs. Stewart's relatives in Etter.

Council Stalls On Rate Hike For Telephones

jump from $4.15 to $5.25 for one party line, $3.30 to $4.50 for two party line, 75 cents to $1 for residential extensions, and would offer new service on a four party line for $4.

Rate examples during 1952 were $6.50 for individual line business, and $3.75 for individual line residential.

In 1954 the extended area service was made available to Friona and surrounding communities which brought cost of phone service up to the present level, Kemper told the council.

Kemper said the return on the phone company's investment amounted to 3.73 percent, based on figures compiled last year. He figures the increase asked for would bring the return to 6.74 percent, assuming operating expenses of last year. He said the company has about $126,100 invested in service for Friona and the annual net income for the company has been only $4,400. His figures for the new net annual income for the company, if granted the rate increase, would be $7,900.

In the discussion McFarland said, "You are certainly asking for a mighty big jump. It seems like you'd be doing pretty good if you'd get about half that."

He asked Kemper if he couldn't be satisfied with a rate increase of about half of what the company has asked.

Kemper said, "I don't deny that it is a big jump. But we've been operating a year or two behind for several years."

Mayor Anthony said he'd "like to see it cut down some" from what the company is asking.

The Mayor said not many had mentioned a rate increase to him, but those who had were against it, and some mentioned discontinuing their service in case the rate was too much.

Kemper said there wasn't much danger of anyone stopping phone usage long, and the company had examples of other towns where a few persons had stopped phone service, but soon had the company install another.

Kemper stressed "the issue is what a fair return is on capital investment," saying the courts had established about eight percent as what is considered fair for a public regulated concern.

Roy Wilson commented, "If I were running the phone company I would be asking for more increase than you are."

Kemper said the company does not want to take the matter to court because it would generate ill will, lose friends and cost too much. He also advised to avoid public meetings over rate increase since "it would stir up a big stink" and end in a mess.

The session ended with the Friona officials skeptical that the rate should be increased so much, but agreeing the company was due some hike in rates.

Members of the Hub Community Association are making plans to enter the Rural Neighborhood Progress contest. If they decide to enter and put forth the same effort to win that they put forth to construct their new community center, it will be difficult for any community in the state to beat them.

Parmer County will really "get on the map" with two rural communities in the competition. Black Community has a very good record for the past two years and plans are being made for next year. Maybe the old saying "The third time is the charm" will be applicable to that community next year.

A lot of Friona residents attended the pioneer celebration at Hereford last weekend. It is interesting to read the list of names and learn how long some of our residents have been in the community. When we think of the change that has been made here in the past nine years, we know that it is very small in comparison to what has been made during the time that some of our residents have lived here.

Does anyone know whether or not those who went on the senior trip included sleeping in their schedule? Everyone with whom we talked agreed that "It was a wonderful trip, but I am SO sleepy." Several remarked that they had slept until noon Friday.

For the past several weeks we have had some pictures of the Silverton tornado on our front window. They have been replaced by some that were made following Friona's tornado. To those of you who have asked about prints of the Friona tornado pictures, let us say that we can obtain prints of any of these on the window for you.

A tour of some of Friona's new homes is being planned and will be one of the most interesting events on the calendar. Anyone who is interested in what is new for homes should not miss it.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Cox of Lubbock became parents of a baby girl Tuesday, May 29. She weighed 7 lbs. 3 oz. and was named Judy Ann. Mrs. Cox is the former Alta Mae Wilkins. Mrs. Ethel Adams of Friona is a maternal great-grandmother.

Question:

Who Can Cook During The Summer and Stay Cool at the Same Time?

Answer:

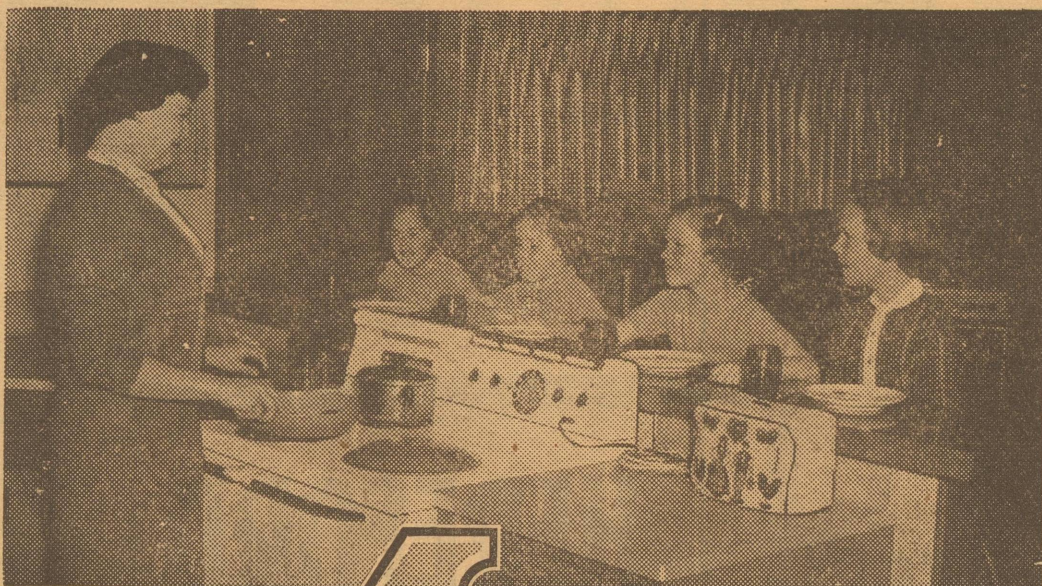

YOU CAN — If You Have A New, 1957

FRIGIDAIRE Electric Range

With a new FRIGIDAIRE range, less of your time will be required to cook tasty meals. You can do a better job — because it's more accurate — and you'll have more time for fun and work.

"Here are 4 BIG REASONS I LIKE ELECTRIC COOKING!" says, MRS. GEORGE C. KUHNER, of ROSWELL, NEW MEXICO.

"Christy likes the push buttons. I like them, too, because they are out of reach of the smaller children... besides electric is the cleanest kind of cooking".

"Shelley likes the big oven and I agree. The automatic timer is very handy. Also, it is nice to be gone for an afternoon and have your dinner all cooked and ready to serve when you get home".

"Kathy likes cooking with her fudge set and the fast surface units are certainly our answer when working on a tight schedule".

"Laurie likes it because it cooks good chicken and when we cook chicken, or anything else, it doesn't heat the kitchen — just the food".

IN STUDIES OVER A PERIOD OF 15 YEARS, Dr. Weston A. Price analyzed 20,000 samples of dairy products obtained from all over the world. For the U. S. he found the vitamin content lowest in the samples from eastern and far western states where the soil has been farmed the longest, and highest in those from DEAF SMITH COUNTY, TEXAS, where the soil and pasturage are highly mineralized. He also found evidence that the mortality from heart disease and pneumonia was lowest where the vitamin content of the dairy products was highest.
