Some curious questions have been asked about the Star's new news editor, Leland Boyd. One thing that was thrown up to the writer last week had to do with just where we were supposed to leave off and Leland begin.

"Is he going to write a column for the paper?" we were asked. We replied, half in jest, that if we hadn't named the column Graham Crackers, maybe we could work out something; but as matters stood, it looked to us like we were stuck with the chore.

"Tell you what," suggested this wag. "Let him write the column, and call it Boyd's Biscuits."

We suppose this is meant to be humorous.

All the details of the story haven't come to our ears, but there is something going around about the Carl Maurers going fishing in Colorado a couple of weeks ago. The yarn goes that they had pretty good luck, and iced down their catch and made ready to come back home. Carl noticed that he hadn't paid the cabin rent, so he backtracked to do so, and in the confusion, drove off and forgot the iced-down fish.

We've heard of the big ones getting away, but this is the first time we've ever heard of a chest of iced-down fish making an escape. There must be more to this story than we've heard.

If activity means anything, Friona is going to be a community filled with neat and pretty yards this summer. We don't know when there's been such a burst of outdoor activity as we've seen in the past few days.

High Plains towns have always had the reputation for tidiness, and we believe Friona is neater and prettier than most.

Although the rains across the state seem to have tapered off considerably, the prospects for above-average rainfall continue to be good during the coming growing season.

We consider it a strange and disappointing quirk of human nature that in all of drouth-seared Texas, there probably hasn't been a single unified effort made to thank The Lord for sending the rains.

From 1949 until this spring, we noticed that hardly a week went by without there appearing a story in the daily papers of some hard-hit community getting together and praying for rain.

Finally, the rains did come—and in flood proportions to some areas. However, as a whole, the moisture has been a much greater blessing than a curse, and we think that it is too bad that busy people haven't found time to even stop for a minute and offer thanks.

The cost of owning and operating an automobile has become frightening to many a watchdog of the family budget, and no wonder. It's a rare family that can get by without spending $100 a month on transportation—most of which goes for pleasure, driving, we might point out.

America's greatest head-in-the-sand game is built around the automobile. We'd venture to say that fewer than one percent of the car owners today know what it actually costs them, on a cents-per-mile or day-to-day basis, to own and drive a car.

Lately, however, the hue and cry about high costs of getting around in style have been growing louder. Some people are actually sitting down with pencil and paper and doing some arithmetic. And are there some raised eyebrows!

We'll take up for all the car manufacturers, dealers, and people in the many industries that are allied to the automotive business. It isn't anybody's fault but the car owner's that the cost has gone out of sight.

The typical prospective car buyer will cry "economy" with an anguished look at his bank account, and then bang the counter and order the dealer to figure in four-barrel carburetors, power brakes, automatic transmissions, power steering, air conditioning, power seats and windows, no-glare glass, foam-rubber seats, eight-tube radio, and a luggage rack on top.

He insists on 200 horsepower, higher compression, eight-inch road clearance, but a silhouette that almost hides the car behind the curb. His car must have a longer wheel-base, corner faster, pick up speed quicker, and stop on a dime without squealing a tire or pitching forward.

All this is supposed to cost $2,000, last 10 years, and get 20 miles to a gallon of gas. If it doesn't the buyer warts the dealer to death with pleas of adjustments on everything from the four-barrel carburetor to the tire that has a knot on it because his wife straddled a

Little League Starts With Full Summer Ahead

Little league baseball continues in Friona Ball Park tonight (Thursday) with Friona Consumers meeting Reeve Chevrolet and the second game of a double header following when Herring Implement plays Hub. Game time for the first game is 8.

A schedule for the season is complete. Committees of the chamber of commerce and American Legion worked out the schedule Monday afternoon. The first game of the season was Tuesday night, when Jones Construction battled Rockwell Bros. McCaslin Lumber played Bengier Air Park following the first game.

Nine teams will participate in the Little League this year, including players from ages 8 to 12. Chester and Fleming Gin is sponsoring the single Pony League team for ages 13 and 14. The Pony League will compete with teams from Lazbuddie, Bovina and Farwell.

Sponsors of teams for boys, ages 10 to 12, are Bengier Air Park, Herring Implement, McCaslin Lumber, Black Community, and Hub Community.

Sponsors for ages 8 and 9 are Rockwell Bros., Friona Consumers, Reeve Chevrolet, and Jones Construction Co.

The C of C and Legion joint recreation committee is trying to arrange for insurance to provide for accidents during participation. Committee members for the Legion are Wes Long, John Renner and Wright Williams. C of C members are Bill Sheehan, Leonard Coffey and D. C. Herring.

DeWayne Neel of Hub, student at West Texas State College, will be recreation director. He is to be paid $75 weekly for the summer job, which includes all phases of recreation sponsored by the C of C and American Legion. Neel is a junior at WTSC and majoring in mathematics and physical education.

After starting his duties Tuesday, he reports the playing field has been mowed. The field is to be sprinkled before games to prevent as much blowing dust as possible.

Wheat Growers Meet

Sloan Osborn and Clyde Goodwine were re-elected to three-year terms as directors at the 23rd annual meeting of Friona Wheat Growers Tuesday night.

Speaker for the meeting was J. Frank Triplett of Producers Grain Corporation, Amarillo. Triplett urged farmers to vote "for" in the national wheat referendum which will be held next week. He said it would not be possible to tell what wheat prices will be next year unless the referendum carries.

The speaker also told of plans by his firm for construction of a large elevator in California. This will help expand the West Coast market, and possibly help improve local grain sorghum prices, he said.

Bob Zenor of Cornell and Co., Amarillo, gave the auditor's report, and cash prizes were passed out to several persons as attendance incentives.

SWIMMING POOL "STILL KICKING"

Letter From Your Legion Commander

The American Legion compliments citizens of Friona. The votes cast in the bond election Tuesday of last week were a near record and show interest which citizens take in matters affecting their town.

We would like to express our appreciation to those who voted in favor of the bond election for a swimming pool, and naturally we were disappointed that the issue was defeated.

Even though the election failed, we hope that something might be planned and carried out that will eventually enable the city to have a swimming pool.

The Legion is to meet Friday night at 8:30 in the Friona School to discuss alternatives to a bond issue. We would like to invite everybody that would like to see the city have a swimming pool to meet with us; not only Friona residents, but also residents of neighboring communities. We believe Friona and its neighbors need a swimming pool for the benefit of our youngsters.

Think it over and join us Monday night.

Russell Massey
Legion Commander

Indications are that Friona will still get a swimming pool.

Even though a bond issue for building a pool failed to carry Tuesday of last week, interested groups and individuals are still enthusiastic over getting a swimming pool.

A meeting of all who would like to have a swimming pool in Friona and would like to help get one will be held tomorrow (Friday) night at 8:30 in the Friona School study hall.

In charge of the meeting will be Vera Ann Jones and Lois Wood, who were members of the former organization for a swimming pool.

They encourage all those interested from Friona and the surrounding communities to attend the meeting.

American Legion members, including Commander Russell Massey, plan to attend as well as members of Home Demonstration Clubs in the eastern section of the county.

Considerable headway has already been made toward the meeting, reports Phillis Sanders of the Friona HD Club.

She reports that Friona school officials indicated they will transfer the land on which the FFA barns are located to

County Bond Election Called

An election calling for a 30-cent tax rate increase has been set by the Parmer County commissioners court for July 25. On that date, county property owners will be asked to approve the hike to increase the revenue which goes into the road right-of-way fund.

The election was called after several petitions, bearing the names of over 10 percent of the county voters, were presented to them, asking that they call it. The need for the election was pointed out by the court some time ago due to the increased number of farm-to-market roads the county has received in recent years.

For the past two years the county has received an average of 16 miles annually. The state builds the roads and the county has to acquire the right-of-way. The cost of obtaining this right-of-way the past two years has depleted the fund and money has had to be borrowed.

The commissioners have previously told the county citizens that to continue to accept these roads more money will have to be had in the right-of-way fund.

If the voters approve the increase, it will raise the tax rate from 95 cents to $1.25 per $100 valuation of property. It will boost the percentage of the tax rate which goes into the right-of-way fund to 40 cents. Presently it is 10 cents and deriving about $9,000 per year. The rate boost will bring approximately $36,000 into the fund each year and it should be adequate for the county to continue to accept farm roads which are offered. Also, in future years, it may possibly enable them to obtain the right-of-way for four-lane routes on Highways 70-84 and 60.

However, the court has indicated that farm roads are its only concern at the present time and the highways will be accepted when and if available funds are left after accepting farm roads.

Those who will be eligible to vote in the election are persons who are otherwise qualified voters, and have property rendered in the county for taxation purposes.

Wilson CD Head

Mayor A. W. Anthony Sr. Monday appointed Roy Wilson, city clerk, coordinator for a Friona Civil Defense, now in the process of being organized.

Wilson is to study procedure for forming a Civil Defense unit and start organizing the unit when he contacts Civil Defense headquarters.

He says that anyone interested may contact him for details and how to join.

Mayor Anthony decided to organize the unit, saying the tornado three weeks ago pointed out the need for it. Bob Rosenthal, CD coordinator for Randall and Potter counties, outlined why a unit is needed in the town at a meeting of the Friona Firemen last Thursday night.

Mayor Anthony says a unit is needed for assisting other towns in case of disaster and handling local disaster conditions until outside help can arrive.

Equipment for the unit can be obtained from the federal government. Other than forming the unit, Wilson says a place for disaster headquarters will be needed.

CITY SPRAYS INSECTS

Second spraying of the season in Friona was done Tuesday morning, according to City Clerk Roy Wilson. A mixture of malathion, chlordane and lindane was used. Additional stock of the insecticides is expected to arrive soon for use in the spraying program. Garbage collectors are coating trash cans with malathion and molasses bait once a month to control insects, Wilson says.

Start Construction

Friona School board Monday night approved plans for new buildings for 10 additional classrooms, offices, a grade school gymnasium, storage space and work rooms for teachers.

July 2 was set as date for contract letting. Bonds in the amount of $350,000 were voted for the building recently.

Eight of the classrooms are to be added to the high school. Plans call for construction of a shop for freshman vocational agriculture and vocational subjects that are planned for the future, according to Dillie Kelley, superintendent.

"It will probably take about a year to complete the building," Kelley says.

"It is necessary that we have the building. We used every classroom available last year and the school has been growing about 55 to 60 students each year.

"The enrollment 10 years ago was 440. Our enrollment last year was 948 with an average daily attendance of 890.54. I estimate that the additional buildings will be used to their capacities by 1965, if this growth rate continues," Kelley says.

The new building is to be located south of the two-story building used by the grade school. School custodians were busy this week clearing trees from the site.

Kelley says the board hopes to get the buildings constructed for about $300,000. Bids will probably be called for starting next week, as soon as architects' plans can be drawn.

DAN HODGSON, left, and Fred Lloyd, custodians at Friona School, whack down a tree in preparation for the new school building. Plans were approved by the school board Monday night.

THE STAR'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Telephone Rates

Friona is probably in for a telephone rate increase. This is recognized by city officials. In view of the fact that the telephone company could sue for an increase—enough to earn eight percent on its investment—telephone users can see the probability of the increase, too.

What has the councilmen and mayor in an uncomfortable position is if the rate is increased "too much." Again, their position is tough if they flatly refuse to allow the increase, because Texas higher courts have ruled that a company is entitled to a fair return on invested capital.

Rising costs of labor and material make the company's request for some increase understandable. It merely wants to transfer those costs to users, an idea that seems to hold nationwide popularity nowadays, among industry, utilities, and labor. This is producing the seemingly never ending inflation.

At any rate, city officials indicate they are going to try to quash a bit of the inflation in Friona by bargaining for what they consider a fair increase.

The city stands on grounds similar to the phone company about not wanting the matter to get into a court fight. Attorney fees would likely be high.

In some cities of Texas, there is a movement to join forces and retain a common attorney for feuds with telephone companies and other utilities, whereas in most states, power to regulate utilities is delegated to the state government.

Friona is experiencing an example of why it might sometimes be advantageous if utilities and public services would be public property.

The telephone company claims that Entered as second class mail matter July 31, 1925, at the post office in Friona, Texas, under the Act of March 31, 1897. Published each Thursday.

Friona's present rate is lower than in most cities. Its representative enumerated to the council, rates in other cities, telling them of higher rates in three or four other cities of the High Plains, and then reading one from the list that is lower.

There seems no particular disadvantage in having lower rates in Friona. And it is debatable whether the company's expenses have risen in proportion to the rise in materials and labor. Automation, in the form of dial systems, should have considerably lowered labor costs, while allowing an increase in capacity for service.

Asking for an increase in rates should be based upon a record of better service. The company does not seem to have earned such a record around Friona, considering the number of complaints voiced by peeved users.

The company seems to be falling short with complaints being registered about overcharging for the amount of time used. Inability to get additional phones for sometimes as long as two to three months is another gripe. A phone being out of operation for as long as seven days does not add to a favorable record. Neither does disrupted phone service to rural communities in the extended service area at frequent intervals look good on the company's report card.

The Star agrees with telephone companies about the value of their service. We would pay more for phone service if necessary.

We especially agree that the request for the rate increase seems untimely, and unless service improves, will continue to be untimely.

Property in the annexed area is rendered for taxes in the names of Nelson Welch, Mrs. Lucy Welch, Porter Johnson,

W. L. Johnson Estate, J. J. Johnson, J. L. Johnson, and Charlie Johnson.

The land is located north of Black in Parmer County, and has been in Hereford's school district. Friona school officials had been working on the annexation project for about five years, which had been delayed for various reasons.

About $1,000 in taxes will be collected from the property and two or three children who have been attending Hereford schools will be added to Friona's enrollment, according to Superintendent Dillie Kelley.

The switch will make it more convenient for residents on the property and for Hereford Schools since Friona is closer and buses can be routed more efficiently, Kelley says.

Two Appear Before Equalization Board

Only two taxpayers appeared before the Parmer County Commissioners Court Monday in regard to their taxes, when the group met as a Board of Equalization. "Both went away happy," said one of the commissioners following the meeting.

Tax discussions topped the day's business which was termed an "extra busy session." The commission called an election, appointed several juries of view, approved warrants and bills, and handled other miscellaneous business.

A time warrant for $15,000 with Security State Bank in Farwell was renewed and interest in the amount of $404.10 was paid. Also, the group voted to borrow $15,000 on time warrants from the bank for one year at five percent interest.

Other business included the appointment of Cary Joe Magness to the Veterans' Land Board. He replaces R. W. Anderson, who recently resigned.

Swimming Lessons Planned for Summer

City Accepts Pool Operation

Frona City Council voted Monday night to accept operation of a swimming pool, providing no city tax money is to be used. The action came after a phone call during the session to ask if the city could operate the pool in case a movement to build it is successful.

Approval of expense payment for three firemen at firemen's training school at Texas A&M College July 21 through 26 was given at the meeting.

The council decided to have the city water storage tanks cleaned and repaired, setting September as the time for bids. City Clerk Roy Wilson reported that it has been about 10 years since the tanks have been repaired. An inspection this year reported the tanks are pitting and rusting in varying degrees and need to be restored and coated with a protectant.

A crackdown on owners who allow dogs to roam in the city is in store as the council called for enforcement of the regulating law.

City ordinances declare it is unlawful for any dog to run at large in the city unless under control by a leash of some sort. Owners of dogs who willfully permit them to roam or refuse to vaccinate a dog against rabies, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be fined in any amount not to exceed $100.

Of about 250 dogs in the city, only a small portion are registered, reported Wilson.

The council called for regulation of dogs through coercion of the owners, rather than using the dog-catcher method.

The weed problem got attention at the meeting, with the council deciding to refer to laws to see what could be done to require weed and grass control. This is needed to destroy hiding places for mosquitoes and other insects, the council said. Councilmen voted to endorse the city police officers in their job of carrying out the laws.

Sponsors on the tour were Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Barnett, Mrs. L. D. Chiles, Baker Duggins, and Colie Huffman.

Students making the trip were Sterling Prichard, Charles Beaton, Jerrod Sheek, Elizabeth Blaylock, Geraldine Phipps, Don McMahan, Wesley Barnett, Phyllis Hinds, Eva Woolbright, Patsy Anthony, Phillip Weatherly, Harold Simons, Jerry Chiles, Joe McLellan, and Buford Carter;

SWIMMING POOL ON HIGHWAY 60 — Stanley Varner, Phillip Varner and Tommy Johnson, l to r, splash in water that ran about 20 feet wide on Highway 60 Saturday afternoon following a .42 inch rain.

Rain Passes 8 Inch Mark

Rain falling with a light hail Saturday brought the total for 1957 to 8.30 in Frona, according to Buddy Lloyd. Total for June is .94. A high temperature of 93 degrees was reported Friday afternoon.

Accompanied by brisk winds and small hailstones, rain totaling .42 inch drenched Frona Saturday. Some hail damage was reported in the surrounding communities in limited areas.

Harry Hamilton reported about 17 percent damage to young cotton south of Frona about four miles. Porter McGee and John Renner are also reported to have some hail damage to cotton.

Clyde Goodwine, about one-half mile south of Frona, reported light damage but didn't think it would be appreciable.

Arthur Drake of Frona Wheat Growers said lightning struck the east head house on an elevator and disrupted phone service to the farm for two days. About a three-pound chunk of concrete was chipped off the house, with no damage to the inside, Drake said.

Ralph Price and Bruce Parr are reported to have received a total loss on cotton and considerable damage to wheat. Their farms are about a mile south-east of Black.

Mosquitoes--We Got 'Em!

"About 12 Texans have been stricken with infectious encephalitis this year," according to Dr. Paul Spring, Parmer County health officer.

"As far as I know, there have been no cases reported in the immediate vicinity of the county, but entomologists report that mosquitoes that transmit the disease are common in this area," Dr. Spring says.

Of three types of mosquitoes that transmit the disease, the Western Equine virus and St. Louis virus are present among two of the types in this area. It is believed that birds and fowl may be the reservoir of the virus, and that mosquitoes contact the virus by feeding on them. A mosquito, once infected, remains infected for life, it is believed.

A large number of individuals were diagnosed as having the disease in the Plains area during 1953 and again in 1956. Parmer County had two cases in 1956, while neighboring Deaf Smith and Castro counties had 15 and four cases, respectively.

The disease appears to affect children and older persons more seriously than intermediate aged groups. It can and does cause death, and may leave infected individuals mentally impaired in varying degrees. More frequently, the individual recovers without being noticeably affect. Sanitarians listed the following as measures that should be taken to control mosquitoes.

1. Good screening to prevent adult mosquitoes from entering the home.

2. Liberal use of aerosol insecticidal sprays to destroy adult insects that may gain entrance into the home by the door being held open.

3. Elimination of unnecessary artificial containers that will hold water for an appreciable period.

4. Apply suitable residual type insecticidal sprays to interiors of outbuildings to kill adult mosquitoes. (A five percent DDT water spray applied to the point of runoff is acceptable.)

5. Use appropriate larvicides on breeding water surface to destroy mosquito larvae in standing water that cannot be removed by drainage. A five percent DDT spray applied at the rate of one gallon per acre is usually considered appropriate.

Other insecticides that may be used include BHC, chlordane, lindane, and methoxychlor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Strickland and son returned to their home at Corpus Christi Sunday after spending a week visiting in the homes of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Strickland and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Deaton.

Mayor Asks Help To Fight Skeeters

Friona Mayor A. W. Anthony has made an appeal to the public to help combat the threat of disease-carrying mosquitoes in the community this year.

His statement:

"I sincerely hope that every citizen of Friona will make an effort to help control the mosquito situation. The health and maybe the life of some citizen is worth far more than a little cost to each of us in trying to clean up our premises.

"I am asking that we make an immediate effort to clean the weeds from our back yards, alleys and vacant lots, which make an ideal place for the mosquitoes to breed.

"We had several cases of encephalitis last season, and prospects are that there will be many more this season if we don't make an effort to control the mosquito.

"Who knows—it may be some of your family who are struck by this disease. Won't you join us in trying to prevent this so-called sleeping sickness?"

Very Respectfully,
A. W. ANTHONY, Mayor
The City of Friona

Mosquito War Breaking Out In Rural Areas

A battle to control mosquitoes is in progress near Rhea. Citizens of the community met last Thursday night to map strategy to rid the community of the menace and decided to handle the matter on an individual basis.

Each resident of the community is being encouraged to do his part by controlling weeds, spraying breeding and hiding places, and cleaning up trash to prevent hatching of mosquito larvae and to kill adult mosquitoes.

Lazbuddie community is going after mosquito eradication in a community-wide project of aerial spraying. The community contacted Elvie Jennings and aerial application of insecticide is to be done throughout the community, according to Dr. Paul Spring, county health officer.

Hub residents held a mosquito meeting last Friday night in the community center and postponed definite action, due to limited attendance during the midst of rush planting.

Another meeting is planned there June 20, according to Bill Wooley, president of the Hub Association.

"Interest in controlling mosquitoes is definitely growing," says Dr. Spring. "Some pretty good headway has been made, with different communities acting as a group or individuals to head off danger of encephalitis," he says.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Brannon of Friona and Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Cannon of Muleshoe left Wednesday morning for a fishing trip to Conchas Lake near Tucumcari.

Wheat Approaches Combining Stage

Parmer County's 80,000 acres of winter wheat will soon be ready for the combine, if the dry, sunny, and sometimes windy weather holds for the next few days.

Tall irrigated wheat, with the promise of the lushest yields ever, is turning a golden hue under the late spring sun. Cool weather and the series of wet days during the past month have retarded development and maturity dates, but generally improved prospects considerably. In fact, had it not been for the spring rains, the estimated 40,000 acres of this crop still not irrigated would be written off by now—having been planted under very drouthy conditions last fall.

As it is, dryland wheat is expected to make fair yields in the area, which will be the first time that dryland has been cut on a wide scale since 1949.

Most fields of irrigated wheat that have had adequate water will yield from 35 to 55 bushels per acre, observers believe. The dryland yield will be considerably less, of course, but some fields may cut 25 bushels.

As of presstime, no loads of 1957 wheat had been reported, but the arrival of the first cuttings at the elevator is expected momentarily. Usually, the first 10 days in June brings in a load or two.

For the first time in several years, most of the dryland wheat of the area will be cut this year. This is Keith McCutchan, 6, of Bovina, who strolled into the field near town to show the cameraman how the wheat looked.

Farmers Starting Early Season Control of Insects

It's time for the early season insect control programs in the Parmer County area, and some poisoning for lice and thrip has already taken place, reports County Agent Joe Jones this week.

"Normally," he points out, "the early insect control program should begin in the four-leaf stage for thrip and flea-hopper control." He suggests that cotton growers "disregard the first two leaves which are cotyledon and not true leaves."

"Cotton is off to a somewhat slower start than last year, and Jones is emphasizing the need of such a control program to insure setting of the first fruit. "That's about the only means the farmer has at his control to try to catch up," points out the agent.

"Be sure to keep in mind that cotton grows from day to day and a poison program based on every seven days for flea-hopper must be followed to insure good control," he adds.

The early season insect control program should begin in the four-leaf stage and be repeated every seven days until cotton has been poisoned two to four times. Regardless of the number of poison applications, stop treatment at least 30 days before the bollworm usually appears, unless flea-hopper infestations are heavy. This period allows sufficient time for the beneficial insects to build up, and aid the bollworm control. Usually, bollworms begin to show up the latter part of July.

"Remember to follow the guide for controlling cotton insects, put out by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Don't try to double the amount of poison at any one application and extend the effective period," Jones warns.

"Cotton is growing every day and the young fruit is putting on new growth. This requires frequent applications to insure a reasonable coverage of poison from week to week," he says.

Guides for controlling cotton insects can be secured from the county agent's office, ginners, insecticide dealers, and others.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Texas Farm Bureau membership is 1,000 above the same time last year. We hope this trend will continue through the end of the year so that the membership for convention action will exceed that of any past year. Our county membership is about 20 above the same period last year, too.

Senator Andy Rogers is due expression of appreciation from the farmers of Texas for his staunch support of legislation affecting farmers favorably. He supported all of Texas Farm Bureau's bills. He also stood pat for the REA bill to protect the present and future of REA, in spite of great pressure from big private utilities to let it fall by the wayside. He would be glad to hear from you. Write him a letter after looking at his voting record.

Texas Farm Bureau was successful in gaining enactment of 17 bills it had sponsored as a result of county and state conventions last year. Some of these bills were never even mentioned in newspapers, but still are mighty important to every farmer in Texas. One of these is the law making it legal for you to use your farm licensed pickup to take your family to church or town for fun. This, has been illegal in Texas. Another provides raises in pay for certain groups of school teachers. The commercial feed bill is one that should prove valuable to purchasers of feeds, insuring that they have in the sack what the tag says.

The weed committee, with Raymond Schueler as chairman, and with the assistance of extension service and ASC staffs is getting underway with a very active program against the spread of bindweed this year. We hope you are giving attention to this program if you have any bindweed on your place.

The fifth annual Farm Bureau queen contest for Parmer County will be held on the night of July 20. Mrs. J. T. Jones and her helpers are making steady progress with the event and it will surely be better than ever. CONSIDER THIS: Do they not err that devise evil? but mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good. Prov. 14:22

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

A motto that would not be out of place in any kitchen is this one: "Happiness is not so much position as disposition." Every homemaker should strive to acquire a disposition toward happiness. By so doing she can contribute much to the betterment of her family and in this way make the world a more cheerful place in which to live.

Another motto which we like very much was brought to our attention by a teen-age girl. She ran across it hanging in one of her friend's rooms. The title of it is:

MY MOTTO

I don't worry about yesterday, IT'S GONE.
I don't worry about today, I DON'T HAVE TIME.
I don't worry about tomorrow, THAT'S GAMBLING.
I can't live yesterday over, and I can't live tomorrow today.
But I can be careful what I THINK, DO, OR SAY.

The plainest of dishes may be made more interesting by the use of spices, herbs, and sauces. If your family doesn't go for the "different" taste, try using the new flavoring agent very sparingly at first. Another thing to remember is that some of the spices get stronger when cooked.

Any clever homemaker can educate her family to new tastes in foods if she does it in small doses. Of course, if there are children in the family, she will have to enlist her husband's support in the project in order to be able to put it over.

No amount of coaxing or suggesting on the mother's part has as much effect on the children's acceptance as a few words of praise spoken by the man of the house.

For a quick, easy and creamy fudge, try this recipe for "Philly Fudge".

- 2 1 oz. squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 tablespoon cream

Place the cream cheese in a bowl and cream it until soft and smooth. Slowly blend the sugar into it. Add the salt and melted chocolate. Mix well. Add the cream and vanilla and mix until well blended. Fold in the marshmallows, which have been melted. Press into a well greased pan and place in the refrigerator until firm. Cut into squares.

Do you want your next angel food cake to be a little bit different without changing the texture or taste? If so, substitute two tablespoons of decorative sugar for the same amount of granulated sugar called for in your recipe.

The current styles for skirts and dresses of all ages seem to call for rickrack or lace. If your growing daughter has a "last summer" dress that is too short, a contrasting band will make an attractive length stretcher. Then to achieve the current look, just decorate the band with rickrack, beading, braid, or lace.

As the children change from regular play clothes into sun suits, a bottle of good sun tan lotion will prevent sunburned shoulders and legs.

In the past few years a lot of study has been directed toward the possibility of drilling wells for the purpose of taking care of the run-off water from our irrigation wells. The idea seems very sound and if it could be worked out, the underground level could be raised.

If wells of this type could be drilled and used for the purpose of taking care of the run-off water from rain, as well as from irrigation wells, there would be some years when the water level could be raised enough to offset part of the drop during dry years.

Of course, in our area this spring there has not been too much run-off water from rains, but in some sections of the high plains a lot of water has run off that might have been stored for future use.

Wild flowers along the roadsides have never been prettier than they are this spring. The additional rainfall has also made the flower gardens very colorful. At the present time, there are so many rose bushes in bloom that it would be difficult to enumerate the different kinds. All of them are pretty and it is hard to tell which ones are the prettiest.

Parmer Farmer In House

W. L. "Preach" Edelman is to meet before a house agriculture committee in Washington this week to push for "a cotton program that will put farmers back in position to compete with other fibers."

Edelman left yesterday after meeting with Parmer County Cotton Growers Association in Bovina Tuesday night. He attended a cotton meeting recently in Memphis, Tenn., and explained the program which was adopted in Memphis. He is representing Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., in Washington.

"Cotton farmers need to have a domestic and export allotment. Spinners in foreign countries want to buy American cotton, and we could produce it if farmers were allowed to grow part of their crop for export," he says.

"Foreign spinners want our American cotton because it is more uniform, but before they purchase cotton from us, they want a stable program, assurance of supply, and a stable price at about 25 to 27 cents a pound.

"And we need producer protection in this country. We are recommending the two-allotment plan. Under it, a farmer could plant a portion of his crop to be eligible for Commodity Credit Corporation parity payments. The rest of his crop could be sold on the world market at prices competing with foreign producers."

Those who were to attend the Bovina meeting were President of Parmer Cotton Producers Artlin Hartzog of Oklahoma Lane, W. H. Long of Friona, secre-

RESULTS OF RECHARGE EXPERIMENT
ALLMON LAKE, FLOYD COUNTY

Recharge Well Takes Over Million Gallons Water Daily

By W. L. BROADHURST

At last—the rains came—as we have believed they would for eight long years. Many people in the High Plains, who are now aware of the diminishing supply of underground water, are concerned with the problem of saving the large quantity of water that has recently collected in the thousands of wet-weather lakes by draining the water into the underground reservoir for storage and future use.

Numerous farmers throughout the High Plains have installed dual-purpose wells near lakes for the purpose of draining the lakes and producing irrigation water. Such practice has been described by them as highly successful.

Although the practice is not yet fully acceptable to economists and engineers, many of whom are naturally skeptical until shown, the High Plains Water District has developed some important information from the recharge experiment that is being carried out at the Allmon Gin in southwestern Floyd County.

In the fall of 1953 a well was drilled near the edge of the lake. Total depth was about 380 feet. It was cased with 12-inch steel casing, the bottom 150 feet being slotted. It was developed by pumping with a test pump and produced about 1,100 gallons a minute.

A pit was dug around the well and filled with cotton burs. An 18-inch concrete pipe was laid from the bottom of the lake to the pit, the lake end being equipped with a valve and the pit end had a meter for measuring the flow of water from the lake to the well.

In June 1954 the area received a heavy rain and the lake caught 52 acre-feet of water. After a few hours wait, in order to let the coarse silt settle to the lake bottom, the valve was opened and the water flowed by gravity into the pit. However, it was soon discovered that the cotton burs, although fully composted, did not prove satisfactory as a filter. Nevertheless muddy water entered the well at the rate of 1,050 gallons a minute.

The well was not equipped with a pump and as a result, after eight days of recharging, the formation became clogged with silt. A test pump was again installed and after a few hours of pumping several yards of sand and silt were removed from the well and it produced equally as good as after the first development.

This original test proved that the lake water could be drained by gravity into the water bearing formation; but it also proved that unless the mud and silt were removed during the recharging period the formation would become clogged and would no longer take water.

During the last week in April 1957, the area again had about 5 inches of rain and again the lake became filled with water. In the meantime a concrete meter box was built at the pit-end of the 18-inch concrete pipe, and an 8-inch steel line, equipped with a flap valve, was laid from the meter box to the well. The pit was filled and a pump base was built around the well.

On April 30, 1957, at 10:35 a. m. the valves were opened and the water entered the well at the rate of 1700 gallons a minute, going into the formation and filling the well casing. The rate at which the formation took water is indicated in the chart.

It is significant to note that during the first 24 hours the well took water at the average rate of 920 gallons a minute, and that during the fourth day the rate was 620 gallons a minute, showing that the silt was gradually clogging the sand.

On Saturday, May 4, a 7-stage number 10 pump, bowls, and 180 feet of 8-inch pump column pipe and 10 feet of suction pipe were set in the well. The pump was operated for 4 hours and produced a large quantity of silt, sand, and water at the rate of about 1,000 gallons a minute.

The pump was stopped, the valve was opened, and again water started pouring into the well.

During the next 20 days the recharge is shown graphically in the illustration.

Again it is significant to note that whereas the rate of recharge during the first 4 days of the experiment decreased from 920 gallons a minute to 620 gallons a minute, with pumping only once a day to remove silt, the rate of recharge was maintained at a rate of about 920 gallons a minute until the lake was drained.

Just as the lake was drained the rains came again and the lake refilled to the previous level and the operation of recharging continued.

Although the problems of artificial recharge are not fully solved by any means, the work that has been done by numerous individuals, by the cooperative work of the Texas Board of Water Engineers, U. S. Geological Survey, City of Amarillo at the McDonald Well Field in Randall County, and the work of the Water District shows that the problems can be solved and in the future millions of acre-feet of surface water can be salvaged that otherwise would be wasted.

Farmers Getting Maps

About 18 soil and water conservation plans received approval of the SCS district supervisors during May, according to Floyd Crume, work unit conservationist.

Part of the plans have already been issued to the farmers and others are to be issued as work allows, Crume says.

The 18 plans recently approved brings the total number of plans in the district to about 400. Potential number of plans for the district is 1,056, Crume says.

Plans approved in May included the following farms: E. C. Seiffert of Levelland, Glen C. Stevick of Friona, Claude Rose of Farwell, Paul D. Johnson of Friona, J. W. Langston of Lubbock, Oran Mauldin of Friona, Joe Blair of Farwell, G. Jongman of Dimmitt, Dalton Mimms of Lubbock, Thomas Lewellan and Sons of Black, Glenn Floyd of Friona, Claud Ellis of Modesto, Calif., C. Warrell of Lubbock, J. T. Actkinson of Farwell, E. F. Readhimer of Bovina, C. D. Cooper of Friona, and Gilbert Wenner of Friona.

If these farmers have not received their plans yet, they will get them as soon as possible, Crume says.

The soil and water conservation plans allow a farmer to plan his operation for an entire farm in such a way to better use and treat every acre in keeping with its needs for protection and improvement, Crume says.

To get a map, a farmer may contact the SCS office or the board of supervisors and make arrangements for a plan for his farm.

Upon the farmer's application, the SCS takes a land inventory and soil survey, and plots each acre on a map showing the class of land to which each acre belongs. Farmers and SCS technicians work out a plan for different fields. This allows the farmer to know what he should grow on each field and what conservation practices should be carried out.

"It is a progressive step for a farmer, because he usually has been using some of his land for specialized treatment. With a soil and water conservation plan, he takes a step from conservation on part of his farm toward conservation on every acre in the farm," Crume says.

BLACK RURAL NEIGHBORHOOD PROGRESS CLUB

Wheat Farmers To Vote Thursday

Wheat farmers will decide by referendum on June 20 whether or not they want market quotas on the 1958 wheat crop.

The outcome of the referendum will decide the level of available price support for the 1958 crop, as well as whether quotas and penalties on excess wheat are to be used.

Under legislation, the secretary of agriculture must proclaim marketing quotas for the next crop when available supply is 20 percent above normal supply. The estimated supply of 1,825 million bushels available for the 1957-58 marketing year is 56 percent above normal supply of 1,170 million bushels.

Normal supply is based on estimated domestic consumption and exports plus a 20 percent carry-over.

Quotas will not become effective unless at least two-thirds of the producers voting in the referendum favor quotas.

If quotas are not approved the allotment will remain in effect and wheat growers who comply with their allotment will be eligible for price support at about $1.18 per bushel. Non-complying farms would not be eligible for price support if quotas are not approved.

If quotas are approved, wheat growers who comply with allotments will be eligible for price support at $1.78 per bushel on their entire production.

Persons who will have an interest in more than 15 acres of wheat next year will be eligible to vote. This includes farm operators, owners, and wives of each.

William Howard Taft was the first U. S. president to receive a salary of $75,000 a year.

4-H'ers Attend Camp

(Editor's note: The following is a story written by Richard Chitwood, Lazbuddie 4-H member, who was a county delegate to 4-H camp which was held last week.)

On June 3, 4 and 5, Richard Chitwood, James Brown and Beverly Smith of Lazbuddie, Jim Roy Wells of Friona and Gladys and Lindy Dean of Bovina attended the District I 4-H Club camp at Don Harrington Boy Scout camp near Canyon, Tex.

After we registered, we took training courses in recreation, nature study, rifles, camp making, wildlife study, 4-H records, electrical safety and others.

We enjoyed a flag program, talent times, stunts and vespers each evening. We also had plenty of free time for games and other recreation.

Including all the delegates, county agents and visitors, there were 188 present for the camp session.

Everyone had a good time and enjoyed the good food.

ORANGEGG—A "QUICKIE" BREAKFAST—Getting family members to eat an egg for breakfast may be pretty hard to do on these hot summer days. Oranegg, served in a frosty cold glass is a fine way to get not only egg, but also orange juice. It's easy: simply beat one egg thoroughly. Mix well with eight ounces of fresh or frozen orange juice and serve immediately in frosted glasses.

RAW VEGETABLES FOR "DUNKING"—Work more vegetables into the diet during the summer months. Extension foods and nutrition specialists suggest crisp, colorful raw vegetables for appetizers, between meal snacks, and tasty salads. For entertaining, add some carrot curls, celery sticks, radish roses, raw cauliflower or broccoli flowerettes to the refreshment tray. Serve a zippy sour cream cheese, or avocado dip for "dunking" the vegetables. Guests will enjoy the informal atmosphere of the party and appreciate the extra "vita-

Weed Committee Maps Control Plans

Members of the Farm Bureau weed committee met in Friona last Thursday night to continue plans for bindweed eradication and control. Raymond Schueler, committee chairman, said that cooperation is increasing among individuals and county, state, and industrial groups.

Prentice Mills, ASC office manager, reported that over a hundred of the questionnaires relating to bindweed location have been returned to his office. Maps showing infested plots are located in the ASC office, county agent's office, and the Farm Bureau office. Mills said that there is a fund of about $3,000 available to farmers for assistance in field bindweed control. Interested persons should inquire at that office.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Most of you have already received the district's news letter on "Control of Insects Through Water Control." If you did not receive a copy, let us know and we will see that you get one.

Every community minded person should become familiar with insect control, especially mosquitoes, and their control. It may save your life.

Recent rains have caused washes to show up again on a number of the farms in the district. Most of these are at the end of the rows. This may even be stopped at this late date, to a great extent, by simply drilling grain sorghum at the regular planting rates across the beds on the end. This slows water down and reduces the cutting action of the water.

Do you have your vetch seed for interplanting in your cotton or grain sorghum? Now is the time to make arrangements for the seed and inoculant, so when the time to plant comes, you will be sure to have your seed supply. All legumes should be inoculated before planting.

As of June 1 the Soil Conservation Service technicians have assisted farmers in the district to install 60.2 miles of concrete pipeline for the conservation of irrigation water in Parmer County. This would be enough pipeline to run from Hereford to Clovis on U. S. Highway 60 with 5 miles left over. This is only the pipe that was laid the first half of 1957. There will be more this year.

Research Station Gets Second Well

After two delays, caused by rains, a new engine, pump and gearhead were installed in the new well located on the east quarter section of the 310-acre research farm of the High Plains station at Halfway.

Plainview merchants drilled and supplied the equipment to operate this well, Bud Gibbons drilled the well and installed the casing, George Taylor supplied and set a Fairbanks-Morse pump, Stapleton Brothers Machinery and Tank Company furnished the gearhead and Newman Motor Company supplied the Chrysler Industrial Engine.

"We appreciate very much the efforts of all those who helped provide this second well," stated Dr. Longnecker, head of the High Plains station. "Because we are now assured of an adequate supply of irrigation water to carry on our research program this summer."

Rains have handicapped the station planting as they have most of the neighboring farmers in the Halfway community.

However, 24 varieties of experimental grasses have been planted in the dryland areas of the farm. On May 24 only eight acres of cotton, one and one half acres of grain sorghum, and 15 acres of corn had been planted on the research farm.

A Complete Service

We, at Adams Drilling Company, pride ourselves on offering a COMPLETE irrigation well service . . . everything from doing the drilling of the well to the smallest repair job. We'll welcome the opportunity to serve you and your irrigation needs.

Groups Pushing Swimming Pool

She called the city council Monday night during a called meeting to ask what the city would do.
She asked the council if they would assume operation of the pool after it is built.
The council voted to assume operation of the pool, providing no city tax money is to be used for operation or upkeep.
Miss Jones reports that a constitution and by-laws will be presented for acceptance at the meeting and an association for building the swimming pool will be formed. Reports on financial standing will be given.
Miss Jones also reports that $1,055.35 is already in funds that various clubs have available for a swimming pool, $500 of this from Friona firemen, if construction will start this year.

Groups pushing the drive include Home Demonstration clubs, Friona Firemen, American Legion, Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, and Black Community Association.

A group of 50 persons from these clubs joined in a telephone campaign today and were to continue through tomorrow to inform people about the meeting, requesting they call other people and ask them to attend.

Massey says that Jones Construction Company and other firms have agreed to start digging the hole for the pool next week. Friona firemen are ready to start demolishing buildings on the land as soon as it is available for the pool.
Dalton Caffey is reported to be contacting architects in Lubbock to start blueprints for the pool.

Soil Conservation Service is reported to have offered to engineer the pool.

"We are not whipped yet," says Massey, commander of Friona American Legion. The American Legion last week was among groups that worked toward passage of the swimming pool bond issue.

CRACKERS—

railroad track doing 70 miles an hour.

And then people wonder why cars cost so much.

The Pete Braxtons have just come back from a real trip. They went by car down through the Deep South, and into Florida and across to Cuba. Pete says they had a great time, though they met with a few hair-raising experiences.

The residents of Black saw the tornado here just before they left, and seemed to take the "tornado fever" from that moment on. On their way to Florida, they saw and dodged four more at various spots across Texas.

Pete might have been a little uneasy about all of this dodging, if he had known the shape his car must have been in.

Near a small city called Eufaula, Alabama, the drive shaft twisted in two and the Braxton family was stranded for the better part of two days.

Pete says that although there wasn't anything much doing in the city of 8,000 people (about the size of Hereford), it wasn't so bad killing time there. The people were very friendly, and the Braxtons were given special treatment as stranded tourists.

"We were invited to parties, out to church, and even to a couple of weddings," he said. The Braxtons didn't take in any of the marriage ceremonies, but they did appreciate the hospitality of the Alabamans.

Even bankers can have fun at conventions, if that's any surprise to the readers. At least, that's what we judge by the story Charles Allen is repeating, and he brought it home with him from the meeting he attended last week.

A man had been reading the Kinsey report, and was amazed to discover that one out of every three wives are unfaithful to their husbands. He immediately went to his neighbor's home to the south and made advances to the lady there, and she clubbed him with a chair.
He then went to the house on the north, and received a rebuff equally severe.
So he dashed back into his house and began to beat his wife.

The last thing we do before we cut off a subscriber's paper at the Star is to send them a card, with a heart-rendering picture of the editor crying his eyes out, saying, "I'm sure gonna miss you!" Once in a while, this little bit of sadistic humor sparks a return from the recipient. One of these comebacks was in the mail this week.

"I'm gonna miss you, too!" it said, "especially the Graham Crackers. I almost feel acquainted with Friona and the people there, just

"In Guatemala or Texas, the simplicity of ELECTRIC BROILING makes delicious steaks!"

Mrs. R.C. Hutchinson, 1221 AUSTIN, AMARILLO, TEXAS

Mrs. Hutchinson, wife of an air force Colonel, who was Chief of the United States Air Force Mission to Guatemala, was called upon to entertain large groups of people in her Guatemalan home. She says, "At that time I had a deluxe electric range with 2 ovens, 2 broilers and 4 surface elements. Using this range, I have prepared dinner for as many as 75 people." In the upper picture, Mrs. Hutchinson sits beneath a Guatemalan work of art and displays flag of that country presented to her by a high official as a gesture of friendship. In Amarillo, Mrs. Hutchinson often broils steaks and finds the same ease of cooking that she noticed in Guatemala. She says, "The Indians there, who had never been to school, and could neither read nor write, were able to use my electric range, and other electrical equipment, with a few simple instructions." So, for ease of cooking, rely on Mrs. Hutchinson's experiences to guide you to your Reddy Kilowatt dealer store.

The Westway Community in Deaf Smith County has entered the Rural Neighborhood Progress contest which is sponsored jointly by the Farmer Stockman magazine and the A & M Extension Service. Interest in this contest seems to be steadily increasing. One of the nicest things about it is that there are no losers.

Several persons who have participated in this contest in the past have remarked, "After taking into consideration the improvement that has been made in our community and the enjoyment we have had working together, there are no losers."

Since a number of persons living in the Westway Community are in our area, we will be watching for reports on the progress they are making and wishing them luck in their efforts.

It isn't unusual to run across two persons who share the same name, but one Friona resident we wouldn't have looked for a name twin for is Steve Bavousett. Sure enough, we found one for him without looking. In a recent edition of the Amarillo news we ran across a news story about another fellow with the same name.

A few years ago in Lubbock we observed a man who was driving a pickup that wasn't running well. Every two or three blocks the motor would cough, sputter, then die. The driver didn't seem too much concerned and from the expression on his face wasn't in a bad humor. Each time the motor died, he very calmly got out, raised the hood, and kicked something or other, then got back in and drove off.

This incident was brought to our memory this week by the way our recording machine acted. When the editor, W. H. Graham Jr., brought it over for us to write some letters, he explained that it was not operating normally. He also gave some instructions on its operation. Each time the dictation became inaudible, a gentle tap on the side of the machine restored its operation to normalcy.

A large number of residents of Friona and the Lakeview community lost a very good neighbor and friend Wednesday morning when T. A. O'Brien Sr. of the Lakeview community died at his home. He had been ill for quite a long time and most of the neighbors and friends knew that he was bedfast.

Nevertheless, when the announcement "Grampy O'Brien has just passed away" began to be passed around over the telephones, it came as a shock to the hearers. Since we first became acquainted with him about 25 years ago, his name has been on our list of favorite people.

Did you know that the Star now has office supplies for sale? If not, we want you to know it. Our stock is not complete but we have made an effort to stock items which merchants of the town use and need.

When you need something new, we would appreciate a call from you. If we don't happen to have the particular kind or size article you need, we can obtain it within a few days.

Whitley-Osborn Vows Read Sunday

In an afternoon ceremony at the First Baptist Church of Friona on Sunday, June 9, Miss Ann Whitley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Whitley of Farwell, became the bride of McFarland Claude Osborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Osborn of Friona.

The wedding setting was formed with a background of three large arrangements of woodwardia fern in back of the altar. The altar was centered with three bouquets of blue majestic daisies on white column pedestals interspersed with baskets of woodwardia fern. Flanking the altar on either side were trees of emerald fern and blue majestic daisies. Emerald fern and blue majestic daisies were also featured in the arrangements on the altar steps.

Family pews were marked with bouquets of baker's fern, blue majestic daisies and blue satin bows.

Rev. E. J. Koith, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Farwell, read the double-ring ceremony. Organ music was played by Mrs. C. R. Horton of Wichita Falls, cousin of the bride.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Horton played "Oh Promise Me" by deKoven, "I Love You Truly" by Jacobs-Bond, "I Love Thee" by Grieg, "Traumeri" by Schuman, and "Evening Star" by Wagner. She accompanied her husband who sang "Because" by D'Hardelot and "Walk Hand in Hand" by Engleman.

Following the ceremony Horton sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Kaye Behymer of Ferris, Tex. Bridesmaids and bridesmatrons were Misses Jo Labruzzo of Dallas and Suzanne Taylor of Fort Worth, cousin of the groom, and Mrs. Shirley Ware of Bovina and Mrs. Beverly Christian of Farwell.

The bride's attendants were identically attired in gowns of coquette blue taffeta. These were fashioned with draped V-shaped necklines and brief sleeves. The bouffant-flare full skirts were waltz length, accented in back by wide taffeta flowing panels extending the length of the dresses.

They carried tailored duchess bouquets of fanfare carnations and baker's fern.

Serving as best man was Charles Osborn of Friona, cousin of the groom. Ushers and groomsmen were Ben Jordan of Friona, John McFarland of Farwell, cousin of the groom, and Robert Belev of Vernon, cousin of the bride.

The groom's boutonniere was a white rose and the other attendants wore boutonnières of stephanotis.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white taffeta featuring a bodice fashioned with a wide oval neckline, outlined by re-embroidered Alencon lace and brief taffeta sleeves. Tiny taffeta covered buttons extended down the back of the tightly molded bodice into the deep V-shape waistline marked by Alencon lace.

Alencon lace garland appliques accented the flat front panel of the bouffant skirt, enhanced by side and back fullness forming a wide court train.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and she carried a tailored duchess bouquet of white roses accented with baker's fern. For something old and borrowed the bride carried a ring in her bouquet. The ring belongs to her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Whitley of Pilot Point, and is a family antique.

Something new was her wedding ensemble and something blue was a lace handkerchief which she carried. She also carried a dime in her shoe for prosperity.

The mother of the bride chose a dress of ivory linen for her daughter's wedding and wore a corsage of pink elf roses.

Mrs. Osborn, mother of the groom, wore a pink linen dress with a corsage of pink elf roses.

Registering guests at the church was Miss Sally Osborn, cousin of the groom.

Following a wedding trip the couple will be at home at Friona where Osborn will engage in farming.

The bride is a graduate of Farwell High School and attended school at Texas State College for Women in Denton for three years where she was an interior design major.

The groom, graduate of Friona High School, was graduated this spring from Texas A & M where he majored in agriculture and economics.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Day Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. P. L. London and Janie were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Day Jr. and children at Lubbock.

Moved

Doris Chaney, who has been employed as a nurse at Parmer County Community Hospital, moved back to her home in Mississippi, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Barber moved to Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Rieken moved from the Truitt house on 7th Street to Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rusom moved to Clovis. The Jimmy Ramos family moved from the tenant house on Eric Rushing's farm to the house formerly occupied by the Leo Reeds. Mrs. Gordon Shackelford, who formerly lived here, moved from California into her house on Prospect Street.
