By JACK STRICKLIN, JR.
Unforeseen and unexpected circumstances have forced us to handle this article in a manner entirely different from which we had intended. Statements have been made by certain individuals having bad cases of "jumping conclusions" which places us in the more or less awkward position of having to go just a bit further than announcing our stand on the forthcoming school bond election. First of all, we must set matters straight for certain prophets—prophets whose magnitude of minority is equalled only by their total lack of inspiration. The following developments have made the May 25 School Bond Election quite a bit more than just an ordinary bond election for us:

1. Early this week, the rumor was started by an unknown party or parties that the Herald was to come out in opposition to the Bond Election.

2. In an effort to trace the rumor, we find that the party or parties based their assumptions—if they really had any—that the Herald had in its employ as a writer, a man allegedly opposed to the issue.

Since coming under the control of its present owners, the Herald has never opposed any bond issue or any other project designed for the betterment of the community. And as long as the benefits of any issue or proposition offset the evils it might possibly have, it never will. Even though advertising revenue is the lifeblood of a newspaper, the promise or prospect of reward in the form of juicy advertising space orders will not buy or influence our opinion either way on any matter.

When the writer in question submits anything even slightly controversial, the article, if printed at all, invariably appears under his initials; it is strictly his opinion and not necessarily ours. What his opinions outside the columns of our paper are, are STRICTLY his business and ABSOLUTELY none of ours. Thank God that this is the case and pray often that it always will be the case. For, when he no longer has a right to an opinion, then, brother, neither will YOU.

Now, here's where we could have started if it had not been for that interruption:

The Brownfield school system, yes, even the entire community, is at the crossroads; the hour of decision has arrived. Our physical school plant is literally bursting at the seams. Something MUST be done and done soon. If material steps could be taken this very day to alleviate the situation, it would be none too early. As we see it, we have three choices:

1. We can approve and urge the speedy completion of facilities to take care of our increased and growing scholastic population.

2. We can kill or deport our children until we have reduced our scholastic population to pre-war levels.

3. We can go along "as we are" until at some time in the unforeseeable future, the "prices get right" and meanwhile continue handicapping our children with a horse-and-buggy education in a jet propelled-atomic age.

The second choice, we can eliminate immediately. Such an idea is unthinkable. But the first and third choices cannot so easily be eliminated. Those we must meet face-to-face. The main objection to the issue seems to be the opinion that "this is not the time to build—that we should wait until 'prices get right.'" The solution would be beautiful if we could only sit back and await the dawning of that happy uncertain day. But, we can't! As the facts now stand, even if the new building should be started today and even if there were fair prospects of the bottom dropping out of the building material and labor market the very day the last brick was laid, the last nail driven and the last coat of paint applied, we could ill afford to wait that long. And the possibility that this could happen is indeed, very, very remote.

When we raise the question of cost against value of this project, let us bear in mind that we are weighing dollars against destinies—the destinies of our children.

Mr. and Mrs. Citizen, the final choice is up to you. Thousands have died to give you the privilege of the ballot and the future of your children depends upon how you cast it. By all means, cast your ballot in this most important election on May 25, but give the matter your deepest consideration—vote wisely—vote carefully—DECISIONS ARE NOT MADE BY THE FLIP OF A COIN.

With him are Mrs. Beaulah Bivens (center), whose efforts made possible a Texas convict's offer of his eyes, and Kenneth Hill, field representative from Hardin-Simmons University, where Johnson is a freshman. He flew to Houston for consultation with eye specialists. They say that the eye transplanting would be impractical at this time. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Johnson of Dalhart, Texas. ### Crippled Children Clinic To Be In Amarillo Saturday

A clinic for orthopedic examination for deformed children will be held on Saturday, May 22, beginning at 8:00 A. M. in Khiva Temple, corner 5th and Fillmore, Amarillo, Texas.

Mr. Tom May, Potentate Aide for Terry County, said, "any child with a deformity under 15 years of age regardless of race, creed, or color, and where the parents are unable to pay, is eligible and welcome." Applications for this clinic can be obtained from Mr. Tom May, Brownfield, or any member of Khiva Temple.

"This clinic is sponsored and financed by the Khiva Kendrick Fund and it is their sincere desire to be helpful to any and all unfortunate and deformed children living within the jurisdiction of Khiva Temple.

Receptionists, nurses, and orthopedic surgeons will conduct the clinic. They will make examinations and give their recommendations during this clinic. It will be conducted for examination only.

Applications can also be obtained from Khiva Temple, Box 328, Amarillo, Texas," said Mr. Tom May.

As its program last Friday, the Rotary Club was entertained with musical renditions by "Hot Lips" Young and his Triple Tongued Silver Cornet Band, a talented aggregation composed entirely of Rotarians.

FIVE OF FAMILY KILLED — A mother and her four small children were killed early in the morning of May 15, when their car stalled on a railroad crossing near Houston, Texas, and was demolished by a passenger train. The father had run down the track trying to flag the train down. Here an unidentified ambulance driver carries one of the small victims as he passes the wrecked car. The family was identified as that of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Mullins of Aldine, Texas. (AP Wirephoto)

Tuesday, May 25 is the date of the all-important $750,000 bond election for the purpose of erecting a new high school building on acreage owned by the school at the east end of Main street.

Proponents of the proposition state that an emergency already exists due to the crowded conditions and that the present conditions are nothing compared to what they will be within the next few years. They quote figures from the United States Bureau of Census showing that a school the size of Brownfield will gain on the average of 300 students within the next three years and point out that the growth of Brownfield is above average. Also pointed out is, the school automatically gains 150 students when students who were in the first grade at the time of the institution of the 12-grade system graduates in the near future.

Opponents give as their reasons for their position that prices are too high; the building program is too ambitious and advocate the erection of small ward schools throughout the city or to build on to the present high school building.

Polling place for the election will be in the County Superintendent's office in the court house. R. M. Moorhead is the election judge and Bill McKinney and Harold Denton are the clerks.

Clean-Up Drive Largely Successful

Due largely to the efforts of Jim Jackson and the crew who see to it that the old burg stays unusually shipshape as far as towns go, partly to the extremely dry weather, which has discouraged the efforts of our most cantankerous weeds, Brownfieldies had less than usual to do in the annual clean-up drive last Tuesday.

Jackson reported that as a whole, the people co-operated a hundred per cent, but that in several instances, owners of livestock failed to clean up their horse and cow lots properly if at all. He states that these lots are potential breeding places of flies and urges that the owners take immediate steps to clean them up.

The Herald was city-slicked, however, by its immediate neighbors to the south, the tenants of the Neill Building. Dr. Roberson appeared on the scene full of enthusiasm and a proposition to combine efforts in cleaning up the two lots occupied by the Herald and Neill Buildings. No sooner had the Jr. Ed and part of the Herald crew started bending their backs and breaking out in profuse sweat than the Dr. left for parts unknown. Upon being brought to bay, he gave a "business deal" as reason for his departure. He missed out on a round of delicious ice-cold cokes, compliments of Mrs. Blacky Bownds. All of which goes to prove that those who stray not from the paths of righteousness shall eventually receive their just reward.

Neill, crafter of the two, played hookey the entire day.

Base Drake was badly slashed and stabbed, by unknown assailants, in a cafe on the Lubbock highway late last Saturday night. ## SPHU WARNS AGAINST KILLING DOGS AND CATS

Warning: Our attention has been called to the promiscuous killing of dogs and cats, after the animal has bitten some person.

When a person is bitten by a suspicious animal, the animal should be placed under observation for ten days. The only way to carry out this plan effectively is to place the offending animal in charge of a competent Veterinarian or put the animal up in a safe keeping place under lock and chain and note any change in behavior. If the animal is normal at the end of ten days, the person bitten is safe and his case may be dismissed. If the animal gets restless, irritable and shows signs of paralysis the animal should be killed and the head sent to a laboratory for diagnosis. Never kill an animal by destroying the brain. The brain must be in perfect condition when it reaches the laboratory, otherwise an examination cannot be made. Care should be taken to prevent decomposition, as this also prevents an examination.

Don't kill an animal too early, allow time for observation and avoid undue haste. The public is urged to keep in mind the above instructions and your cooperation will be greatly appreciated by your local Health Unit.

SWIMMING POOL TO OPEN SOON

Our roving reporter through some quirk in his unreliable memory pulled a boner last week, in the account of the prominent Meadow farmer moving to town. He gave the name of C. T. Pendergrass, when in fact it was J. L. Millsap. When the error was called to our attention, we jerked said reporter up on the carpet who, with reddening face finally stammered out the excuse that he "had known both men for many years, but had early got their names mixed and hadn't gotten over it till now."

Mr. A. A. Thomas, farmer of the Ropes community and nephew of the editor of this paper had urgent business with a dentist here Monday. He has been a resident of the South Plains many years.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

BY TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — The Texas and New Mexico members of Congress see eye-to-eye on most issues—but not on water.

Three separate fights have shaped over diversion of water flowing down the Pecos River and the Rio Grande. At stake are thousands of acres of rich farm lands, rich in production if they are irrigated.

The two states have compact commissions which try to work out mutually satisfactory agreements on all such problems. But they haven't solved this one. Until these commissions, who are state officials, reach a complete agreement, the congressmen of both states are reluctant to yield on any points involving federal legislation.

The next fight in the offing involves repairs to the Fort Sumner, N. M. dam on the Pecos, at a cost of about $1,800,000.

A bill authorizing the work passed the senate in January. Senator Connally (D-Tex.) then asked that the matter be reconsidered because he was absent when the vote was taken. He was attending a foreign relations committee meeting.

The measure has been held up since then, but last week Senator Hatch (D-NM) served notice he plans to call the question up for disposal as soon as he can get permission from floor leaders.

The opposition is a part of a policy to precipitate an agreement between the two states on all water problems.

On May 17 the Senate public works committee takes up legislation authorizing construction of two dams on the Rio Grande in New Mexico at a total cost of approximately $100,000,000.

On May 31 the Senate Interior Committee is scheduled to open a hearing on a bill for the rehabilitation of the Carlsbad, N. M. irrigation district, where an old dam and adjacent canals need repairing and rebuilding.

Texas' position in a nutshell, is this: It's all right for the New Mexicans to build and repair dams especially for flood control purposes, but not to put new lands under irrigation if that means a reduction in the amount of water to which Texas is entitled.

Colorado is a member of the Rio Grande Compact Commission, because the headwaters of that river are in its boundaries. Colorado has voiced greater opposition to New Mexico's Rio Grande dam proposals than has Texas, on the grounds they would precipitate priority claims on water which Colorado someday hopes to be able to use for irrigation.

Here's an excerpt from Gov. Beauford Jester's recent letter to Army Secretary Kenneth C. Roy all regarding the proposed Rio Grande improvements in New Mexico:

"It appears to Texas interests that reservoir capacity has been unduly stressed and channel capacity not fully exploited.

"It is requested that this feature be restudied in the light of our engineering reports enclosed. Texas interests desire much less reservoir capacity and far greater improved channel capacity.

"The reason for such desire is that, although it is stated that the reservoirs are for flood control only, future events might well lead to a reallocation of storage behind the dams when they come into existence, thereby placing in the hands of others not now responsible for operation of the dams the ability to withhold water due to the state of Texas, regardless of the provisions of the tri-state Rio Grande Compact to provide water now due to the state of Texas for expansion of New Mexico irrigated lands inadvisedly improved for that purpose."

Texas who have been alerted to the forthcoming hearings include Charles H. Miller of Bartstow, the Texas commissioner on the Pecos River Compact commission; J. E. Quaid of El Paso, the Texas commissioner on the Rio

Hit The Hoppers Heavy, Now!

Young grasshoppers are now swarming in the ditchbanks, along the fence-rows, turn-rows, road sides, railroad-right-of-ways and around the edges of fields and pastures. They have not yet invaded the cultivated croplands, says H. G. Johnston, head of the Texas A & M College department of entomology. Dr. Johnston reports that this looks like the worst grasshopper infestation in many years.

The areas in Texas that have been hardest hit are in the Blackland area from the Red River Valley southward to Seguin and Karnes City, and along the Brazos River bottoms from Waco to Bellville. The same situation holds true for the many other river and creek banks in this area, where the grasshoppers cover the vegetation in almost a solid mass.

There will be lots of damage from the grasshoppers in three or four weeks unless something is done about it now. M. H. Brown, Jr., Limestone county agent, held two demonstrations on spraying hoppers along ditchbanks and field margins with toxaphene two weeks ago.

During recent years grasshoppers have been controlled with bran-sawdust-sodium fluocilicate bait poisons, but this year farmers are turning to the new insecticides toxaphene (chlorinated camphene), chlordane and benzene hexachloride (BHC). Sprayed or dusted along the edges of fields, ditchbanks or fence-rows, these poisons give a quicker control and continue to kill longer than the standard bait poisons.

And one of the main reasons for this is that the poison is up on the grass where the hoppers are and not down on the ground. As with nearly all poisons, there are a few precautions to take when dusting or spraying these insecticides. It is not a good idea to feed dairy cattle forage that has been treated with these sprays or dusts because there is a chance that the poisons might accumulate in the fatty tissues and later be passed on into the milk and butter.

Beef cattle are not harmed to any extent with small doses of these sprays or dusts on forage, but over a period of time, the meat may become unfit for food. For the same reason, it is not recommended to spray the entire pasture, since grazing cattle, in time might easily be affected. Dusting or spraying around the edge of the pastures now will get a large majority of the small hoppers that will later invade the pastures.

Entomologists suggest that you don't spray or dust chlordane or toxaphene on fruits or leafy vegetables when such fruit or leaves is to be used as food, unless you are absolutely certain that the residue can be washed or stripped off.

Avoid applying these insecticides to legumes when in bloom or at the time of day when bees are active in the field, since these sprays and dusts are poisonous to the bees.

If you will hit the hoppers now with poisonous sprays, dusts or bait, there will be little or no crop damage later on when you begin to count up the profits, says Dr. Johnston.

Hogs are better than all other farm animals when it comes to efficiency in converting feed into meat.

Grande Compact Commission; Roland Harwell, El Paso County Water Improvement District manager; J. E. Sturrock of Austin, manager of the Texas Water Conservation Association, and Terrell Bartlett of the State Board of Water Engineers.

Supporting the view of the Texans on the Rio Grande water division are many irrigation farmers in New Mexico who are served out of the Elephant Butte dam, situated in New Mexico but downstream from the site of the two proposed dams.

Rep. Ken Regan of Midland is in charge of the Texas cause in the house.

Cash Farm Income In Texas Sets Alltime Record in '47

By John R. Stockton
Prof. of Business Statistics
University of Texas

AUSTIN, May 20 (AP)— Cash farm income in Texas for 1947 set an all-time record that may not be equalled in the immediate future. The Bureau of Business Research has estimated that Texas cash farm income in 1947 was $1,852,557,000, an increase of 48.3 per cent over the $1,248,870,000, received in 1946.

High prices and large volume of marketings joined to swell the amount of cash income, although the increase was far from uniform for different products. The outstanding commodity was wheat, which in 1947 produced 214 per cent more income than in 1946.

Income from cotton was up 85 per cent, while cash receipts from the sale of cottonseed increased 135 per cent.

Cash receipts from livestock sales rose substantially. Income from hogs was up 103 per cent; cattle, 29 per cent; and calves, 26 per cent. Sheep and lambs, with an increase of only 5 per cent, produced the smallest rise in income from livestock.

Income from wool, mohair, poultry and eggs was down, but the biggest decline occurred in fruits and vegetables. Lower prices were responsible for this drop, which brought income down 18 per cent from the 1946 level.

For the first quarter of 1948, however, a pronounced change has taken place. With a sharp drop in prices of farm products, income of important categories fell substantially below the first quarter of 1947. Cash receipts from the marketing of livestock and from fruits and vegetables dropped 39 per cent.

These products represented the most important forces of farm income in the first quarter of the year. For all commodities, the first quarter of 1948 was 10 per cent below the same period of 1947.

With such wide variations in income from different products, it is inevitable that the different regions of the state should show substantial changes in farm income. District 10A the lower Rio Grande Valley, showed a decrease of 4 per cent in farm income in 1947 in comparison with 1946.

Grasshoppers are beginning to cover fence-rows, ditches, turn-rows and creek banks; knock them out NOW with sprays, baits or dust before they invade the cultivated crops later on.

The Audubon Nature camp of Texas will be held at Kerrville in five two-week summer sessions beginning June 19 and lasting until August 27.

To avoid killing out clover in your yard, apply 2, 4-D with a paint brush on small patches of dandelions, plantains or other broad-leaf weeds not wanted in the yard.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Benton of Tokio had as Sunday guests Mr. and Mrs. Tom Oats of Brownfield.

This decline was due largely to the drop in the fruits and vegetables. At the other end of the state however, income from wheat and cotton results in gains far above the average for the state. The Northern High Plains, where wheat is the most important crop showed an increase of 117 per cent in income. The Southern High Plains, where cotton is the leading crop, gained 157 per cent over 1946 income.

SOUTHERN EXPOSURE

Add a touch of feminine pulchritude to a barren bit of sand, and suddenly it's a scenic spot. The maid who adds beauty to the beach wears a three-piece cotton play costume by Joan Norton Irwin. The National Cotton Council says the wrap around skirt and top are of a solid shade, while the shorts under the skirt contrast in Acapulco striped cotton.

Cotton bags have found a far more glamorous existence than just being feed and flour containers. With the aid of a little dye, flour feed bags change overnight into this smart afternoon frock. The starchly white purse was a flour sack at one time. This ensemble is included in the National Cotton Council's cotton bag wardrobe for showings before women's groups.

MONUMENT TO THE MUSTANG — The horse that helped redeem Texas from the wilderness is memorialized in this heroic-sized monument of a stallion, five mares and a colt, to be erected on the University of Texas campus, a gift of the late Ralph R. Ogden of Austin and Mrs. Ogden. The sculptor was A. Phimister Proctor (beside monument above), famed for his equestrian and other monuments in America and Europe. The Mustang group will be unveiled May 31. "Mustangs They Carried the Men Who Made Texas," says the inscription on the center panel of the pedestal on which the 15-foot high monument is mounted. The height of the monument can be judged by comparison with Mr. Proctor. (A P Photos)

KITCHEN MEMO BY JEAN CLARE

Part of the problem of meal preparation is the ever present question of what to serve for dessert. Here's one using ingredients from your faithful emergency shelf and simple enough to prepare. For Cherry Almond Sponge soften 1 envelope gelatine in 1/4 cup cold water. Dissolve this in 1 1/2 cups boiling water. Add 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. almond extract. Chill. When mixture begins to thicken, beat until frothy. Then add 1/2 cup chopped almonds, 1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries. Beat until stiff. Fold in 3 egg whites and pile into sherbet glasses. Chill. Serves 6.

A hot water tap leaking 60 drops a minute wastes about 65 gallons a month, enough hot water for 7 baths. A penny for a washer, a few minutes' time, saves gas water heater operation and, of course, lowers the gas bill.

The children's eyes will sparkle when you serve them a molasses milk shake. Mix well 1 tsp. molasses to a glass of cold milk.

Too much frost impedes air circulation, the greatest factor in correct refrigeration. Your gas refrigerator should be defrosted when about a half inch of frost has collected on an appreciable number of fins.

To take out grass or flower stains rub fabric in thick hot suds. If the stain still remains, use hydrogen peroxide or a chlorine bleach. Very bad stains should be softened first by rubbing with grease.

The best way to satisfied with your lot is to build a house on it.

TEXAS TODAY
Cities Seek To Ease
Their Growing Pains

BY DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN, May 20, (AP)—Ease for their growing pains will be sought by Texas cities in a series of regional meetings over the state during May.

The first was held at Big Spring May 11 under auspices of the League of Texas Municipalities.

No matter what is said or done at the eight regional meetings of city officials arranged by the executive committee of the League, the final medicine will have to be made by the state legislature. The meetings will bring the difficulties of municipal government into focus, but nothing is ailing Texas' municipalities that more money will not cure.

Many cities—such as Austin—have already tackled the problem with tax reevaluation programs that are bringing more revenue from levies on real property. Many cities are doing all they can to seek out and add to their tax rolls personal property which previously had not been taxed, although it was taxable.

But they feel that isn't the entire answer. Most city governments feel the legislature should provide additional sources of revenue above and beyond real or personal property. The demands the cities will make on the legislature will probably be made known at the annual meeting of the league in El Paso Oct. 4-5-6.

This state is now more urban than it is rural in population. That gives the cities more political weight than they once had, and chances are good they will throw that weight around considerably when the legislature meets next January in regular session.

The trouble is, the cities have grown fast, demands for municipal services have increased rapidly, but income has not kept up with outgo. Naturally, the purchasing power of the city government's dollar has shrunk and it has to pay its employees more to keep them from starving to death.

The league of municipalities, in announcing the regional meetings, urged city officials to bring their state senators, representatives and candidates for the legislature. They want to show them first hand what the needs of the cities are.

In locating the regional meetings, the league tried to make them as accessible as possible. The host cities were chosen on the basis of the number of cities within approximately 100 miles, plus highway facilities.

Here is where the meetings will be and were held: Big Spring, May 11; Mineral Wells, May 12; Greenville, May 13; Longview, May 14; San Antonio, May 15; Houston, May 20; Donna, May 25; Amarillo, May 31.

Suggestions For Polio Control, Prevention

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statements and suggestions concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis which is now occurring in some sections of the State.

Strict sanitary measures should be observed in all communities. Eliminate rats, mosquitos, and houseflies, and destroy their breeding places. Every effort should be made to secure approved garbage collection systems and safe water supplies. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is vitally important to maintain sanitary septic tanks.

All swimming pools should maintain standards approved by the State Department of Health, and outdoor privies, which includes maintenance of proper chlorine level.

Only approved milk should be used, and raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use, and protected from flies, filth and insects. All food-handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State Law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils. Those restaurants with insufficient personnel to maintain approved sanitation should close one or two hours a day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness.

Over-exertion in children should be avoided, and they should not visit in homes where there is illness. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts, especially in children during an outbreak of this disease. It is not advocated that schools, churches, and theatres be closed.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear a physician should be called immediately.

THE BUSINESS MENS VIEWPOINT OF THE SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

FACTS

THE FARM BUSINESS MAN AND THE CITY BUSINESS MAN SHOULD KNOW

1. The school system is big business and to operate it efficiently it must be adequately housed.
2. Average earned income of graduates of a class A1 school system is 50 per cent more than graduates from schools which have substandard school equipment, housing, and environment during their entire lifetime.
3. Proper education and school environment tends to impress graduates with their opportunities in the community they were raised in where as substandard educational plants tend to make graduates seek their opportunities in larger communities.
4. The actual cost of an adequate school plant is the lowest cost, for the amount of returns on the investment of any investment opportunity in the United States today.
5. Upon the type of training we furnish our future citizens, depends the future of Brownfield and Terry County.
6. Our children can not be properly trained by going to school half days.
7. A school system set up to care for 400 students cannot educate 600 students.
8. The general physical condition of our schools has deteriorated at an accelerated rate during recent years because of shortages of materials and labor. Funds, also, have been short. As a result mediocre or obsolete materials equipment and housing are found in our schools.
9. Our schools are not ready for increasing enrollments caused by post war birth rates.
10. Our school system has not kept up with the rapid growth of the town.
11. Adequate training of your children can not be obtained by outmoded tax-valuations, just as you can not buy groceries for the same price you did in 1939.
12. There is not a business man, farmer, or parent who can afford to keep the educational standards we have at present in Brownfield.

You know, guessing what the little woman is going to do next—and having it happen like you figure—is no mediocre type of guessing. But there is always one sure clue—she will be for a change. Maybe it is only moving the coffee table from crosswise of the room to length-wise or maybe it is just displaying a little bit more hide around the mid-riff section versus not quite so much hide around the knee-cap section.

So I will proceed to stick out my neck—not whether mama is going in this season for light green toe-nail polish or dark green, or what kind of head gear—no brother, not that, I am going to predict on her voting. She will vote new and different—Govt. spending is old stuff. She wants to get in on some of the spending her ownself. Out, is going to go the guys who have been so loose with old Sambo's folding money. Ten years for one style—preposterous, says Mama.

And fellers, if the little woman does sure enough to get us a change and relief, we can lay-off our ribbin' about her pink finger nails in the spring and maybe purple or lavender in the autumn—mama would then rate 3 cheers.

Yours with the low down,

Something New In Grocery Shopping

HOUSTON, May 20 (AP) — When Hershel H. Shugart was a kid he often was scolded by his mother for failing to remember what she had asked him to purchase at the grocery store.

Now Shugart—the groceryman—has perfected a device which he says will save little boys such embarrassment and also offer a restful means of shopping for mothers, grandmothers or even forgetful husbands.

Several years ago Shugart set about building a machine which parades all the merchandise in front of the customer.

Today, customers who enter Shugart's Relax-N Shop, Houston, need no list of desired purchases.

You simply take your place at any one of a number of comfortable chairs, sip a coke, light a cigarette, and do your shopping!

A large conveyor belt carries more than 1000 items of merchandise past your chair and within easy reach.

At each chair is a small pad with numbered sheets on it. As the grocery shelves pass by, you choose the items you want, put a number with them and place them on a second conveyor belt which passes down to the cashier.

The cashier takes each item off the belt and places those bearing the same number together. Prices of the various items are added up and your bag of groceries is ready and waiting when you appear at the cashier's desk.

Shugart isn't kidding when he says he received many scoldings for forgetting what his mother sent him to the grocery store to purchase.

"I used to get so busy looking at the merchandise I'd forget," he explained.

Shugart said his traveling grocery store has a 47-foot counter that is pulled by a one-third horsepower motor. The conveyor belt which carries the groceries to the cashier is pulled by a one-fourth horsepower motor. The counter moves nine feet a minute.

At present he is working on a 100-foot conveyor which will include a meat counter.

Shugart is currently waiting for a patent on his invention, which he says had created interest throughout the country. He says he has a number of orders on hand for purchase of his "mechanical groceryman."

He smiles when he recalls what one of his customers recently told him.

"She said every time she comes in the store for just one item she leaves with a whole bagful of groceries," he explained. "But I told her I probably was saving her steps since she would have to come back for the other items anyway."

Shugart keeps his mechanical store open from 8 A. M. to 10 P. M. daily.

Road to Paganism

THERE can be only one excuse for the complacency with which a vast segment of the people of this country view the spread of communism. They don't know what it means, they don't know what it is and they underestimate its danger to every individual and the ideology and way of life we have chosen for our own in these United States.

H Hitler's fascism was a political theory. The communism of Marx and Stalin is not only political, it is a religion as opposed to the Christian religion as it is possible to imagine. Communism denies the existence of God; it denies the dignity of a man or of the family as the unit for which the state functions; it bars the practice of any Christian religion.

All of western Europe and the western hemisphere maintain governments and civilizations based on the Christian philosophy of Jesus Christ. Our own government is based on these precepts. If this philosophy of Christianity goes down, then this government goes down. And it is in grave danger—in danger because people do not realize the danger.

Pope Pius has recognized the danger to Christianity in denying the sacraments of their church to Catholics who profess communism, not because it is a political theory but because it is a religion which endangers the foundations of Christianity and Christian civilization as we know it.

Communism is the road back to paganism. There can be no inalienable rights of man under communism; there can be no just powers with the consent of the governed under communism; there can be no Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian, Christian, Science or Catholic churches; no such philosophy as met being created equal. Most world leaders recognize only its dangers politically as moving relentlessly and aggressively to grab governments. Political and religious leaders who think, see communism breeding in hate and intolerance and capturing men's minds and souls as well as their political freedom.

The chances are that the first thing the 81st congress will take up when it convenes next January is an income tax law putting back on the books the taxes which this congress, as a sop to gain votes in an election year, took off. So if you don't have to spend that tax out you received, save it and you'll have it to pay back next January.

Constitutional Rights

This column is not going to join the chorus of predictions that President Truman will not be renominated or that he will withdraw from the race for renomination. It would be like him to withdraw voluntarily if he believed the good of the country demanded it, but he will not quit under fire.

He offended some 1,500,000 Jewish voters perhaps, when he realized that it would take American boys to defend partition of Palestine, that we didn't have the men to send, that congress never would agree to it and that it likely would also bring Russian troops where this country didn't want them to jeopardize overall foreign policy.

He offended the governors and professional politicians from seven southern states when he upheld the constitution of the United States, his own party platform and decisions of the supreme court on civil rights.

The President thinks there should be an anti-lynch law, an anti-poll tax law as a requisite for voting, and a permanent fair employment practices law to prevent "unfair" discrimination. And he thinks that segregation or Jim Crowism should be eliminated on interstate transportation lines, not local buses or street cars. The supreme court has held that segregation on interstate transportation lines is unconstitutional. The Constitution outlaws the poll tax as a voting condition.

Again the Constitution says: "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of any citizen of the United States, nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws." That's pretty clear and takes care of lynching and unfair discrimination.

Electoral System

The move to amend the Constitution with regard to presidential elections is gathering steam and direct vote of the people for president may become a reality. In addition to making the electoral vote of 531 electors proportional to ballots cast, there is sentiment to divide electors among states in the same proportion. For instance, Wisconsin and Georgia with almost identical populations have 12 electoral votes each. But Wisconsin casts a million more votes.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Orr had as Sunday dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hogue of Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harwood and baby, Mrs. Turner Stephens, Mrs. Frances Gidden, all of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brown and Wayne, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Don McCowan and children, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Benton, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hogue of this city.

J. B. KNIGHT IMPLEMENT CO.

Here's the A-B-C of Dynaflow Drive*

A

First, there's a highly efficient neoprene pump like this, filled with oil. Driven by the engine, it spins, shooting out oil under pressure from the channels indicated by the pencil.

B

Then there is a true turbine, like this, with its blades curved sharply to catch the speeding oil. Entering in the openings indicated, oil makes the turbine spin too, thereby turning the rear wheels.

C

Finally, there is this unique "super-charging assembly"—three ingenious elements not found on any other car. Mounted between the pump and turbine, they control the force and direction of oil to adjust driving power to different driving conditions—starting, accelerating, hill climbing, etc.

PUT all these together and they spell Dynaflow—the first American passenger car drive that requires no changing of gears in normal driving.

Functioning entirely on their own in an oil-filled drum, these parts give you the equivalent of low gear, second gear, high gear — and an infinite number of "gears" in between.

When you start, they give you smooth starting power. When you want to accelerate, they give accelerating power. When you cruise, they give an efficient cruising ratio — all without gear changing on your part.

Just set a lever and press the gas pedal — the power plant does the rest. Once started, you'll never need to touch the selector lever in normal driving until you're ready to park or back up.

You get good engine braking on hills — with more in reserve at a touch on the lever. You get smoothness unimaginable — a new "sweetness" to the whole car — a relief from things-to-remember that makes all-day driving noticeably less tiring.

Look into Dynaflow if for no other reason than to be up to date on what's newest in automobile drives. Your Buick dealer will take your order with or without a car to trade.
