Wheatley Brings In First Cotton Blooms

V. H. (Herman) Wheatley, who now owns the old homestead, the J. O. Wheatley farms, was in this week, and showed us samples of his cotton planted the last week of April, some now with red blooms. Herman was in with a load of wheat off his 400 acre wheat farm, which he said was turning out pretty poor, 4 or 5 bushels per acre. He is keeping most of the seed as he has an old sandy farm out in the Tokio section that he aims to seed in wheat this fall.

Herman stated that he had 60 acres of cotton like the sample, but that it was needing rain. After the death of his father, Herman bought the old homestead, which comprises of 320 acres on Section 72, block D11, and 200 acres of section 75 just west of it. A man working for him is occupying the old Wheatley home, and Herman is just completing a beautiful brick home just northeast a few hundred yards.

It will be remembered that Herman got the first bale of cotton last year, and he is going to give some one a tall race for the first this year. Like last year, he is planting Western Star cotton that was originated in the Gores section of Knox county. He stated that it was early maturing and had a better staple than Half and Half.

He, like the writer, believes that our sandier soils sowed in wheat is going to be the salvation of it, as combines only cut the top off, whereas binders used to cut it near the ground, leaving little stubble to keep down erosion. He also stated that a lot of farmers had signed up with Mr. Carlton with Soil Conservation program, to sow a lot of pasture grasses this fall on lighter, sandy soils.

We got to looking on a Terry county land map, and we called his attention to the D. W. Weaver land mentioned elsewhere in this paper, which is some three miles east of the Wheatley farms. He said section 71 was a good piece of land, especially the south half, and was some 10 miles from Sundown oil production.

Speaking of that Ohioan's land, he mentioned the fact that he worked section 61, belonging to another Ohio man last year, and paid him more than $7,000 in rent.

Paul Young Also Has Cotton Blooms

Just a few hours behind what appears as his chief rival, Paul Young fetched in some cotton blooms, including a red one, Wednesday. Mr. Young stated that he had about 90 acres like the sample stalk he brought.

Well Herman Wheatley got the year's free subscription, but just by hours and minutes. But the big rivalry will happen late in August when the contest for the first bale starts.

The guy that hires the Old He to help gather the first bale will likely win the contest. Paul reported some flea hoppers in his cotton. Also asked us out to eat some peaches.

Now Is The Time For School Transfers

Gas Men Visit City This Week

Brownfield had some of the top West Texas Gas Co. men here this week on business, the nature of which was not stated. Possibly routine. They were Herman Heath who was recently promoted to distribution manager with headquarters in Lubbock instead of Midland, and C. J. Quinlan, his assistant, also of Lubbock. They were in company of the local manager, Mr. C. L. Hafer.

Heath was for many years manager of the Brownfield district, comprised of Brownfield, Seagraves, and Seminole. Seminole has recently been formed into a new district. Herman has a host of friends here who rejoice that he has been so signally honored by his company.

In conversation with Mr. Quinlan, we learned that he was a brother of R. F. at Robstown, who married a native Brownfield girl, Mary Ann Bell. Herman renewed for his Herald and had it transferred to Lubbock.

New Paint Theory For Office and School

Through the courtesy of the Allied Paint Company, in cooperation with the manager of the Shamburger Lumber Co., Mr. E. B. Burnett, paint is being donated for a project in the office of the South Plains Health Unit. The County Commissioners Court will supply painters in the interest of demonstrating the application of the new paint theory for school rooms. This new theory is also applicable for office rooms.

Based on State Health Department findings, it was noticed that light was not adequately used in school rooms. After many years of experimentation it was determined that a flat paint should be used in the basic design. Along these lines a white paint for the ceiling with a reflection of 85 per cent, a pastel color from the ceiling to the dado line with a reflection of 75 per cent, and from the dado line to the floor with a reflection of 50 per cent should be used. Chalk boards should be painted green and reflect less than 30 per cent of light.

The room which houses the office of the South Plains Health Unit will be painted in this fashion in order that the public might see the proper type of paint job for a school room.

Not 140,000 Cotton Acres In Terry Now

There was an interesting story in Sunday's Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, including some statistical tables about the big cotton crop on the south Plains or prospects of one. The author of the article, or at least quotes were from Mr. K. N. Clapp, representing Anderson-Clayton Co.

In the article, Mr. Clapp stated that the South Plains counties could easily make 700,000 bales of cotton and there was a possibility that 1,300,000 bales might be reached. Mr. Clapp generally gets pretty close to what the final figures will be in his forecasts. But that was before the BIG BLOW.

We have an idea that Mr. Clapp made his figures more than two weeks ago. At that time he gave Terry county an acreage of 140,000. But even before the roaring wind blasted across this county Monday and Tuesday the 21-22, many close observers estimated that 60 per cent of the cotton fields of the county had been leveled. We shouldn't wonder if more than that would be recorded as of today, Monday 28th.

But taking 140,000 acres as a basis, and eliminate 60 per cent of that and we have 56,000 acres left. We imagine about the same might be the general average over the sandier soil counties as a rule.

Blue Graham pitched all but the last inning.

The next game is a double header with Post at Post, July 4th. The players, with fans and families are to take their dinner for a picnic in the park there.

From the Marianas Boney Command in the Pacific area, the Herald has been notified that Sgt. James O. Jonas is now on his way to the States where he will be separated from the army to resume private life.

It is not known yet whether James will resume his education or enter some kind of business. Anyway the community welcomes him back home to resume his place in its affairs.

Lyndon B. Johnson Drops In

Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson, candidate for U. S. Senator, dropped in on Brownfield Thursday noon. He landed in his helicopter on the high school grounds, where he spoke a few minutes to a sizeable crowd. He was introduced by Judge H. R. Winston.

Johnson, who is touring the state in a helicopter went on to Levelland and Littlefield and spent the night in Lubbock.

MAYOR WARNS CITIZENS ON MELON RINDS DISPOSAL

Mayor Tom May is asking the citizens of Brownfield not to place their melon rinds inside their garbage containers, but beside them instead. Mayor May declared that the rinds encouraged the breeding of flies when placed in a protected spot such as the usual uncovered garbage container. The Mayor stated that the rinds would not draw flies so badly nor encourage the breeding of flies when left out in the sun.

Lamesa To Have Daily Paper Soon

Ross A. Woodson, president of Lamesa Newspapers, Inc., announced last week that the company would begin the publication of a daily newspaper about the last of August. At present the Dawson County Courier combined with the Lamesa Reporter, which were purchased about two years ago by the Woodson interests, is published as a semi-weekly, Monday and Thursday.

Mr. Woodson has been planning for some time on a daily paper as soon as sufficient paper and machinery could be assured. In the past few months the Couriers has added a Duplex press capable of handling any small city daily, and is constantly adding more machinery.

There will be a five day week afternoon paper, and a Sunday morning edition. No Saturday paper. They will continue to print a weekly paper.

Year's Subscription For First Bloom

We had a more or less habit in the past of giving a year's subscription to the Herald for the first bale ginned in Terry county. Lately, however, the Chamber of Commerce has been giving a lump sum, which we helped pay as members.

FORMER RESIDENT VISITS HERE

Zuma Burks, former resident and business man here, but for the past few years of Phoenix, Ariz., with his family visited a son and daughter here this week.

He goes to Oklahoma for a visit and may then re-locate here.

Postmaster James H. Dallas stated this week that he had recently had a visit from Mr. T. E. Shoemaker, chief railway clerk, mail service, out of Fort Worth. Dallas said that he found Mr. Shoemaker to be a very affable gentleman, and seemed to thoroughly understand the present predicament of this fast growing area, and that we are trying to take care of matters as of now with the personnel of many years ago.

For instance, Mr. Shoemaker related that at Lubbock he saw one lone negro trying to load the mail on the train intended for Wolf-orth, Ropes, Meadow, Brownfield and Seagraves, as well as points that are distributed to from Brownfield and Seagraves. It was several hours job for one man, so Mr. Shoemaker called their attention to the matter. Next time he was down there they had four men on the job.

Mr. Dallas said he tried to get Mr. Shoemaker to come with him for a call on the writer, as he was sorter the kind of man that each would like. But he begged off as he was in a hurry to get to Seagraves, but would have more time on his next call in a few weeks.

It is believed to be the idea of Mr. Shoemaker to get a much better service out of Lubbock as well as into that point from this area. But why not, while we are at the matter get that strip of 20 miles of NO MAN'S LAND between Seagraves and Seminole ironed out. The Herald gets into Seminole on Wednesday following publication, so says Editor Watson of the Seminole Sentinel.

We are not blaming anyone for the present arrangements. Probably the best they can do at this time. But we are not living in the past, but the present and future. We would certainly like to have a better mail connection with Meadow than now.

Speaking of the slow movement to Seminole from Brownfield, reminds us that the Tennessee folks 70 miles east of Memphis usually get the Herald on Tuesday, and always Wednesday.

Mr. Dallas did not have his routing schedule handy while we were talking, but it was his opinion that papers or letters intended for Seminole had to go to Lubbock, thence to Sweetwater, thence to Midland, then another 72 miles to Seminole. It is 42 miles from Brownfield to Seminole.

Here it is via highway map, which is little different to railroad map: Brownfield to Lubbock, 40; Lubbock to Post 40, Post to Snyder 43, Snyder to Sweetwater 46, Sweetwater to Midland 127 and from Midland to Seminole, 72 miles. Total, 367 miles, less mileage direct from Brownfield to Seminole 325 miles. A lot of wasteful mileage.

The Chambers of Commerce of Brownfield, Seagraves and Seminole should get behind a movement right away to concentrate on what course to take when Mr. Shoemaker comes out again. A concerted planning, backed by the postmasters of the three towns would get some results, believe you us.

Many Seismograph Crews In County

There are several crews, known in street parlance as "Doodle Buggers," came into town last week or so, and are busy surveying various parts of the county. This work has been carried on for several years by various companies.

Local parties have procured a large block of acreage, in oil lease ten miles west of town and expects to start another deep test in that vicinity soon.

The other deep test, ten miles northeast of town is reported to be near 7,000 feet deep.

Educational Trip For 4-H Winners

Word has been received by Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration agent that Betty Zo Dean, president of one of the Wellman 4-H clubs, has become a member of the district talent club. The district talent club is sponsored by the Producers Grain Corporation and the Extension Service.

The reward for this winning is an educational trip with thirteen other 1948 winners, and about 20 winners of the past two years. They will visit successful cooperatives and other points of interest in Dallam, Potter, Hale, Lubbock, Lamb, and Deaf Smith Counties. Two chartered buses will leave with the delegation at Amarillo July 26 and will return July 28. Chaperons will be furnished by the Extension Service.

Among the twenty members of former years to make this trip will be Marjorie Scales, member of one of the Wellman 4-H Clubs, and a 1947 winner.

Marjorie and Betty Zo were both selected on the basis of their club achievements during the entire time of their club memberships. The written reports of their achievements were judged by a state committee, when they were declared winners. Three girls and three boys won in the South Plains district, while four boys and four girls won in the Panhandle district this year.

Open House Saturday For Launderall

Jack Shirley and James Briggs are holding open house Saturday from 3 until 8 P. M. for the "Launderall," their new automatic self-service laundry. Shirley announced the laundry would be officially open for business Tuesday, July 6. Hours will be from 7:00 A. M. to 6:00 P. M., weekdays and 7:00 A. M. to noon, Saturdays.

Situated in a recently-completed, fully air-conditioned building on South Third, the laundry has been provided with ample parking space and a convenient side entrance on the north side of the building.

Twenty new Launderall automatic washers, purchased from Copeland Hardware, local Launderall dealers, have been installed. Space has also been provided for ten additional machines.

A large boiler, capable of delivering an adequate supply of hot water to all machines, water softening equipment, an extractor, a dryer and starching facilities round out the mechanical equipment of the establishment.

Comfortable seats for the grown-ups and a play pen for the kiddies have been provided.

Senate Candidate Visits Brownfield

Dudley Brummett of Lubbock, was a visitor in our city this week in interest of his candidacy as Senator of the 30th district, which contains 24 counties, including Terry, on the South Plains and just off the caprock, and probably at this time contains more than 300,000 people.

Candidate Brummett stated that he believed that the press of west Texas had a job on its hands this fall to get out every voter possible to vote in the Constitutional Amendment that makes it mandatory for a committee, to be appointed by the governor, to re-district the state after each census in case the legislature refused to do so as it has the past 20 years.

Asked if he and Chas. A. Guy of the Avalanche-Journal had ever reached any kind of agreement on the "fair trades act," or as Editor Guy terms it, "UNfair trades act." Brummett stated that he had a talk with Guy this week and told him where he stood on that piece of proposed legislation. That he, Brummett, was squarely against the act.

From here he was to invade the precincts of Gaines county.

Corporal May Taking Baking Course

Cpl. Ernest May, route 3, Brownfield, a member of Texas National Guard is enrolled at Food Service School, Fort Sam Houston, Texas. He is attending an eight-week course in Bread-baking.

Detailed instruction in the function of each ingredient used in bread, precedes instruction in mixing methods and baking procedures.

Scoring finished bread to detect faults and learning to remedy them is a phase of the course.

Mrs. Buck Address and Sup spent last week in San Angelo with Mrs. Marshall Loyd.

Lynn County Old Timers Have Reunion

Bob Noble, wife and son allowed us a seat in their Chrysler last Thursday to make our second annual trip to the Lynn County Old Settlers Reunion. Bob had his movie camera along and used it quite freely. We are even afraid that he caught us in awkward moments, once while eating, and again while we were trying to orate. By the way after unloading that sorry effect on them, we don't ever expect their committee to invite us as a speaker again, but hope they leave the door open to us as a visitor.

We wonder why other old settlers of Terry and other counties cannot get together as do the Lynn bunch. Is it selfishness? We rather think carelessness. One thing here in Terry as that many of the old timers have passed to a better world, we hope; many of their offsprings have moved elsewhere, and there is no one to take the lead. But over in Lynn county they seem well cemented together, and a love that appears unshaken prevailed the meetings.

Our bunch arrived just at noon, as Bob was detained on business. And we missed some good forenoon talks, one of them being by County Judge Homer Winston of Terry county. Homer claims he can qualify as an old timer of Lynn 30 years by reason of the fact that sometime in the teens he picked cotton all one fall over there. For the same reason, we could cite the fact that we have spent many night in the Stokes Hotel, the Vinson Wagon yard and ever slept one night with a Terry county farmer about 1914, on top of his bale of seed cotton down at the Wells gin in south Tahoka. That farmer got there too late to get his bale ginned that day, and had to wait till next day. That was as fine night's sleep as we ever remember.

There were some good speakers, among them Judge Garrard, his being mostly statistical, and based on the thought, "You have built better than you thought." But some of the best speeches were from the old farm men and women of Lynn county. They were short but made sense. It is easy to see that those old men and women went through real roughs to make a goody land for others that came later to enjoy sans the raw ruggedness. We hope the newer folks fully appreciate the hardships and many times privations the oldsters went through with to make this a fit place to live.

The barbecued meat was expertly cooked. It was neither half burned up or raw on the inside. It was tender and juicy. The other part of the feed such as apricot jelly, onions, pickles, and potato chips went along with the meal in a fine way.

Aside from the speeches, a good string orchestra rendered some mighty good music, and a song leader who happened to be present led the congregation in some stirring old tunes, such as "Home On The Range," etc. Those old timers invited us to be with them next year, and we don't see how we can miss Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Noble were unable to attend a gain this year, as Mr. Noble is still kinder under the weather, but a lot better than he was this time last year.

Services Conducted For Accident Victim

Funeral services for Charles Homan Callahan, 2 year old, who died Sunday from injuries received Friday when he was backed over by a car in the driveway of his home, were conducted Wednesday, June 30, at 2:00 p. m. in the chapel of Farley Funeral home.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Nellie Glenn of Brownfield; his father, Homer Callahan of Earlmar, Calif., and three brothers of Brownfield.

Two Collisions, No Serious Injuries

No one was injured and but slight damage to the cars, when a light automobile driven by Miss Beard was in collision with Frank Ballard's pick up at intersection of Broadway and South B street late Tuesday evening.

Another collision between a passenger car driven by a local woman and a loaded truck out of Lubbock near the oil mill early Wednesday did slight damage to vehicles on no personal injury.

that being behind the iron curtain is not exactly hog heaven. Probably the majority of the people of Poland, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and a lot of the other small, but freedom loving people, didn't want to get into Joe Stalin's hog heaven in the first place, but the big bosses did. Now the only way they will ever regain their freedom is to form a powerful underground and secretly slit every Russian soldier's throat in those countries.

We learn that the big shots of AFL and CIO say they can't support the Dewey-Warren ticket. Well, that will be the signal for John Q. to support the GOP ticket, as the rank and file of Americans no more want to be ruled by the big labor trusts than the big employment moguls. Yes, brother, we know that union labor has a lot of votes, but like lodge votes or church votes, they are hard to control. When a union man goes into a booth to vote he is in the same boat with the unorganized majority. He votes just as he pleases. That is his American heritage, and he will not allow labor dictators tell him how to vote. That was proven two years ago, when union labor was instructed by the bosses to mow down all who had not done their will. Well, they not only missed out on new congressmen that favored them, but lost most of their old friends that were in, were voted out. This especially applied to northern Democrats.

We note that J. Howard McGrath, the Demmy national chairman announces that Dewey was beat once, and that he can be beat again or words to that effect. But Mr. McGrath must also remember that four years ago they had the incomparable FDR baritone voice and a war on to help the party that was in. And little Harry is a poor substitute for Franklin both as an orator and as a political maneuverer. Yep, there is a vast handicap to the donkey on his march to the White House this year. Four years ago, there was hardly a break in the lineup in the south outside Texas. There is much wailing and gnashing of teeth in the south this year.

Over in Georgia they, as well as many people throughout the southland have a problem on their hands. It seems that the state of Georgia pays only about $1800 per year average for teachers, while neighbor Florida pays around $3000 for teachers. Some 1000 teachers who were trained by the University of Georgia and other state institutions at public expense, left their native state last year to go into Florida to teach for an average advance in wage of some $1200. Well, you can fit your sympathies to either teacher or the public. Both have good arguments to offer. The teacher that Georgia does not pay a living wage for teachers, and the public that after supporting by tax the institutions that gave them an education (other than numerous other expenses born by themselves) they should stay in Georgia and teach for the lower salary. Owing to whose ox is gored.

The 100 millionth car to be made in the USA is expected to roll off the assembly line in some auto factory in the near future, according to an announcement in a recent issue of Automobile Facts, publication of the National Automobile Manufacturers Association. No one knows the exact date or what factory the 100 millionth car will come from, nor is it possible to know who will be the owner. Of course each factory knows the exact number they themselves have produced from day to day, but all of them will have part and share in producing the 100 millionth car.

In our opinion the Republicans have put into the field an unusually strong team this year. Tom Dewey is conservative enough to draw the vote of the old stand-pat bunch, and Earl Warren will appeal to the more liberal element. Too, they represent the east, west and middle west. Dewey was a native of Michigan. If we are not mistaken his wife is a native Texan. Earl Warren not only has the full endorsement of California Republicans, but on occasion the Democrats there endorse him. Here is another angle about Gov. Warren that should appeal to the voter. In case of natural or violent death of the president, the nation would still have a strong man at the helm and not a weak sister. In all the succeeding vice-presidents in our history, only two of them were better or equal statesmen and executives to the dead president. They were Teddy Roosevelt who succeeded President McKinley and Calvin Coolidge who followed the very weak Harding.

We understand that this paper gave some offense to one of the city officials last week, or was it week before last? No offense to anyone was intended. Sometimes too many of us have a chip on our shoulders, especially in hot weather, and that is the reason some of us become greatly agitated over some little matter, when no harm or criticism is intended. We helped to vote the bonds that gave our little city its first early night time power plant, as well as the first water system, and later sewer and such like. Many men have in that time since 1924 sat as our mayor or councilmen. Practically all of them have been our close friends and neighbors. We have had many things in common. It seems that our sin of commission was the fact that we did not state the correct water rate. Since the cards we receive each month does not state the rate, those of us who merely pay the bill and forget it, do not know the water rate from a race riot. What we did was to take our last statement and subtract the $1.50 for 6000 gallons, which we understand is the minimum, then tried to get at a rate that would divide into the amount of water we had left. But we never were a mathematician.

NOT LOADED FOR BEAR
Stockholm --(AP)-- A youth at Malmoe, Sweden, jumped into an enclosure for bears in a public park on a bet. He climbed up to a platform in a tree, one of the bears following him. Hundreds of spectators were attracted, women screamed and objects were thrown at the bear which climbed almost to the platform. A fire-brigade turned a jet of water on the bear and a fire-ladder rescued the youth. He had lost one shoe. "He was lucky," one of the guards in the park said, "that none of the she-bears chased him. One of them is a very good climber."

State Democratic Convention Becomes Endurance Tests

AUSTIN July 1 (AP)—What's the difference between a state democratic convention and an endurance contest? Nothing.

Somebody should tell the people in charge of Democratic affairs in Texas whoever they may be that it takes more than one day to do all the things a convention has to do, or thinks it has to do.

The law says the convention has to be held. It says when it shall be held. It says what it must do, both in the cases of the May and September meeting.

But there isn't anything in the law saying how long the convention shall last.

Usually, these meetings drag on through a 12-hour day and sometimes they go on for 18-hours, and sometimes for 12-hour days usually, when there is a controversy and there is initial doubt as to which side has the votes, there is a long delay in getting started while each faction jockeys for a favorable position.

There was a delay in starting the recent Brownwood convention because delegates were slow in registering, and the list to make up the temporary roll was not ready. This session stretched out for 12 weary hours, with no formal break for lunch or dinner.

Why not start the convention at noon, run it on through 8 or 9 o'clock at night, and wind it up the next day in a three or four hour session? That way everybody would get enough sleep, or at least have the opportunity to sleep if they wanted to.

The outlook is for more controversy at the September convention much, of course depends on what happens at the national convention in Philadelphia.

The nomination of President Truman there, plus another southern revolt meeting if that happens is almost certain to bring on an elector fight.

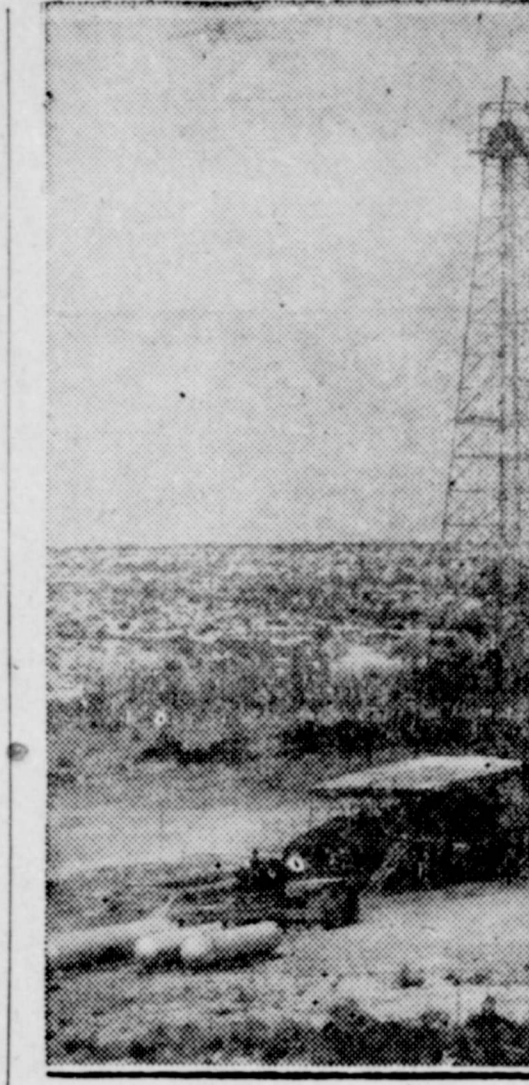

Back in 1944, you recall, the September convention's action in putting forth a new list of electors was declared legal by the state supreme court. That year the May convention's electors were only conditionally bound to vote for the national party nominee. The September convention's pro-Roosevelt majority weeded out the anti-Roosevelt electors.

This set ample precedent for an effort by the extreme right wing, anti-Truman, anti-federal civil rights faction of the party in Texas to put up a list of anti-Truman electors at Fort Worth Sept. 14.

The state's rights group plans to hold a meeting of as many Philadelphia convention delegates as it can muster in Birmingham July 17, after the national session, if Truman is nominated.

The Texas delegates in Philadelphia is made up of many individuals who lean strongly toward the revolt pattern. It was the product of a coalition between Gov. Beauford H. Jester's middle-of-the-road group and the right wingers.

There is no doubt that if Truman is nominated, the right wingers will be at the Fort Worth convention demanding even more than they got at Brownwood. The prospects are good for a beautiful—and long drawn-out fight. Better stretch it out over two official convention days.

Moscow RazzleDazzle In Foreign Affairs

BY ROBERT E. GEIGER

Washington—Is the new Russian "peace offensive" sincere? Many Americans are puzzled and confused by this question and the cool reception Stalin's proposals have received here. Why didn't American officials jump at this opportunity to talk things over?

A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee which analyzed Russian tactics predicted weeks ago there would be frequent shifts in Russian policy. Reports like this one, and other knowledge of Russian tactics predicted weeks ago American attitude. The committee decided that "razzle-dazzle" is an important feature of Communist policy and thumbed through 100 years of Communist history to support this decision.

On the football field razzle-dazzle is the quick and hidden shifting of the ball from player to player amid so much confusion that the opposing team was dazed. The committee said the Russians attempt to do the same thing in international affairs. Its report said if Communist policy seems heated toward cooperativeness at one moment, toward uncooperativeness at another and nowhere in particular at a third it's only to hide one truth.

"Economic and political policy and action, collaboration on the surface and subversion underneath, a swing to the right in one period and a swing to the left in another, are meant to serve a single end, the world revolution." The State Department's attitude toward Stalin's statement that U.S. Russian differences could be settled along lines suggested by Henry Wallace is this, in brief:

These points of difference that Stalin mentioned are old ones. There has been plenty of opportunity to settle some of them in the United Nations. Russia knows this. If she really wants to settle them the way always is open. The subcommittee's analysis of Russian policy is more blunt and explain why many government officials look with skepticism on Stalin's proposal. It says:

A zig-zag line of advance and retreat, called the "Leninist line," has been a basic policy explaining Communist strategy for the past 30 years, since the Russian Revolution. This zig-zag line is the cause of most of the confusion as to just what the Communist policy is. The subcommittee traces the zigs and zags this way:

1. After the revolution came three years of war Communist, when the party in Russia drove to the left, nationalizing industries requisitioning goods and drafting manpower.
2. Then came six years when free enterprise was encouraged, to revive production.
3. Next came the Five Year Plan. The drive to the left brought socialization of agriculture, famine in the Ukraine and the slaughter of so many cattle that livestock never have come back to their former numbers.
4. Hitler's rise to power in 1933 brought a shift to the right in foreign relations. There was an alliance of communism with Socialism in France and other countries. Purges of 1937 and 1938 showed how Russia could intensify leftism at home and at the same time cooperate with capitalism abroad.

5. Then came the war. The Russians took what they could on their own. They discussed world revolution with the Germans but set their price to high for the Nazis. The failure to make a deal with Hitler brought the German attack on Russia in 1941. The United Kingdom accepted Russia as an ally. The United States moved swiftly to include Russia under lendlease. Thus began a new "right" period of cooperating with democratic forces.

6. Until repudiation of the Marshall plan in June, 1947, there was cooperation with the democracies. Then Russia began her period of expansion and of "radical leftism."

7. Now there is evidence Russia may be setting on a new "zig" or "zag", possibly touched off by the defeat of Communism in Italy. Is she sincere in wanting world peace?

Committee members say they see no reason for altering a conclusion they reached before the present Soviet peace drive. They concluded:

"They (Communists) know when and how to emphasize the line of sweet reasonableness, resorting to appeasement tactics, strictly on the psychological level where it costs least."

Howard Hogue and wife of Snyder, spent last week end here with his parents, Judge and Mrs. J. W. Hogue.

BAND ENTERTAINED

Richard Young, local band director, entertained members of the band with an all day picnic Friday, June 25 at McKenzie Park in Lubbock. About fifty attended the picnic.

SUMMER CIRCUS PARTY

LIKE many other events, the circus season comes but once a year, but memories linger and all year round circus-minded youngsters play at being ring masters, lion tamers, clowns and all the rest of the familiar, glamorous figures of the big tent. For children's parties circus decorations are exciting and colorful. But don't be surprised if the party turns into an impromptu circus, roaring lions and all.

Party food for children should be plain and wholesome, but attractive to the eye. You'll find that youngsters are a thirsty crowd, so provide them with a good, cooling beverage, and plenty of it. If you choose easy-to-make drinks, you might even offer a choice. Best for children are drinks made from fresh fruit juices and sparkling water or ginger ale. Fruit juices are healthful, and children like the fizz of sparkling water and the tang of ginger ale. Grapefruit juice and sparkling water in half and half proportions, with a little sweetening, is a simple and delightful drink. Here's another, place three tablespoons each of orange juice and grape juice, sweetened to taste, in a tall glass. Add ice cubes and fill the glass with ginger ale. Citrus fruits, vitamin-packed, are excellent for children's party drinks, and you might try this one made with oranges and limes.

Citrus Egg Nogg
 4 eggs, well beaten
 1 cup light corn syrup
 Juice of 4 oranges
 Juice of 2 limes
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 cup evaporated milk
 Sparkling water

Combine eggs, corn syrup, orange and lime juices, salt and evaporated milk. Beat thoroughly. Pour over ice in eight tall glasses and fill the glasses with sparkling water.

SIDELIGHTS FROM WASHINGTON

Whether or not the recently adjourned Congress did a good or bad job will be one of the hottest issues in the National Political Campaign which is just beginning to shape up.

Services Held For Mrs. C. O. V. Wood

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at 5:00 for Mrs. C. O. V. Wood, 63, who died at her residence, Route 1, Brownfield at 11:30 p. m. Monday of a heart attack.

Services were held in the family residence with Rev. R. L. Shannon of Meadow officiating, assisted by Rev. Cecil Toones of Meadow. Burial was in the Meadow cemetery under direction of Farley Funeral home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mondrick of Cameron are visiting in the Vaughn White home.

Far-reaching plans were made and funds were approved for the expansion of our National Defense Program, especially the Air Force.

In Agriculture, a price support program similar to the one now in operation was approved for 1949 but the long range program which was rushed through in the final hours of the session was regarded as unacceptable by Democratic Members.

Appropriations for the farm program and Soil Conservation Service were more liberal than last year. REA got the best treatment it has ever received.

Congress passed 680 bills, reduced taxes, and appropriated more than 35 billion dollars, including contract authorizations.

The American people will hear much of the details of the legislation passed during this session from the press, radio, and speaker's platform between now and the National election on November 2.

Social Security

UNLESS this congress does an about face on the social security issue, which appears unlikely, this reporter's opinion is that the question of social security will become one of the important issues in the coming presidential campaign.

The social security act goes back to 1935, 13 years ago. Backbone of the act was the system of insurance through which the government collects from the worker and the employer an equal percentage of each payroll and at 65 years of age the employee would be eligible for retirement benefits based on his earnings.

Objective of the act was to provide income for aged persons so that they need not apply for relief. Another section of the act provided for old age assistance.

In the 75th congress, the last Democratic controlled congress, a study was made and an attempt fostered to extend the provisions of social security but a coalition of southern Democrats and Republicans prevented action.

In this congress, Republican controlled, all action has been away from extending social security rather than toward increasing its provisions. Some sources charge that the Republican party would like to see the whole act scrapped.

At any rate this congress has been content with "freezing" social security taxes and has taken several thousand persons from under the act rather than bringing more persons under its insurance provisions.

As a result, after 13 years less than half of all retired men of 65 years or more are receiving benefits from the old age and survivors insurance or the specific retirement systems of railroad and government workers.

Average payment was only $24.90 per month. In contrast, the average payment for an old person receiving old age assistance, relief based on need, was $37.42 per month.

While about 1.9 million were receiving insurance payments, more than 2.2 million were getting old age assistance supplied by combined federal, state and local funds.

So it is clear that one of the basic objectives of the social security program, to do away with as much need for relief as possible by building up an insurance system which would pay adequate benefits, is being with only mediocre success.

Reason for this is the refusal of congress (1) to increase the tax burden from 1 per cent, and (2) to extend the provisions bringing more persons under the program.

At present about 34 million persons are covered by old age and survivors insurance which includes most workers in commerce and industry. But there are 22 million left out including 5 million farm operators, 1.6 million farm laborers, 1.7 million domestic servants, 6 million self employed, 2 million federal employees and 3 million state and local government employees.

Nobody is around to criticize the appropriation which congress sets up for itself. Appropriation this year is 55.9 million dollars which includes both houses, the library of congress and government printing office. Budget estimate of CBO was cut 3.4 million dollars.

Farm Legislation Election year politics may wreck a long-standing bi-partisan agricultural policy—that and the bitter feeling engendered among the agriculture bloc by the oleo battle.

President Truman has called for a broad long-range agricultural bill. The GOP steering committee has belatedly done likewise on the theory that they should go to the farmers with a program of their own. Meantime, reprisals are in order against cotton-seed farmers, and Senator Aiken of Vermont has introduced a farm bill which follows largely the program laid down by former agricultural secretary Clinton Anderson and which has both GOP and Democratic support.

It also follows generally the President's proposals. Difference is, the President gave the Democratic postwar farm program credit for postwar farm prosperity and he tied in the administration's reciprocal trade agreements act as essential for promoting farm exports and took a crack at the GOP criticism of farm cooperatives.

The Payoff For whatever it may be worth to you, the Republican national committee, in a recent pamphlet, said: "Don't count on winning this year by throwing peanuts to the elephant. The Republican congress did more than provide a few peanuts for the harassed taxpayer. Many of our friends feel that, entirely apart from other considerations, the least they can do is to contribute a substantial part of their tax savings for this year."

Texans In Washington

BY TEX EASLEY

Washington, June 31 --(AP)--Texans were in the thick of the heated, last-minute, preadjournment arguments in the House.

Minority leader Sam Rayburn of Bonham and Rep. J. M. Combs of Beaumont called the Republicans to task during a tense floor debate on the housing bill, accusing the majority party of trying to kill the measure.

Glaring toward the left side of the packed house chamber where the Republicans sat, Rayburn said in quiet but blistering words that the Democrats "can, shall and will" make an issue of the housing bill in the November election if the measure doesn't become law.

Rep. Paul Kilday of San Antonio directed virtually all of the debate on the draft bill on the Democratic side of the aisle, assisting Chairman Andrews (R-NY). Kilday acted as the measure's principal defender when attacks were made against it.

Incidentally, Rep. Overton Brooks of Louisiana announced recently he would retire from the House to run for the senate. That would elevate Kilday next to Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), the top ranking Democrat on the House Armed Services Committee.

Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock helped steer through numerous money bills in the closing days of the session, especially those for the armed forces. He's a member of the House Appropriations committee.

Rep. Poage (D-Tex) found himself in debate with New York's negro Democratic Rep. Powell during debate on the draft bill.

Apparently, Powell got Poage and Rep. Colley (D-NC) mixed, judging from the comments he made. Colley had the floor at the moment and was denouncing an amendment by Powell which would have forbidden any kind of race segregation in the army.

Poage interrupted briefly to ask: "Does not the majority of the people have any rights in this country? We are told about the rights of minorities. What about the rights of the majority to do as they please?"

Colley promptly agreed with Poage's position and continued to condemn the anti-segregation amendment, which later was defeated, when the North Carolinian finished, Powell, who sat on the front row in the middle of the chamber through the debate, obtained the floor.

"I wish to say to my colleague from Texas who spoke last that I appreciate his point of view," said the negro congressman.

"I understand it, I understand the problems that he faces and that sort of thing. I don't agree with him. But there are certain

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

A question that has me befuddled at times is how come folks who are up and coming and alert looking and who appear sharp, like a razor blade—are not sharp. I got in mind, folks who figure that socialism and the Govt. can get their foot in some other guy's door—like electric lights and dams, lefthanded education diversions, floors under the prune crop, teaching GI's bartending and fero dealing, etc.—are not going to push their other foot into any other door they might fancy.

Right now socialism is trying to jimmy its way into medicine. Up to now lots of fellers running a laundry or a drug store or being a plumber or 1,000 other ways of making a living, have stood by and let Govt. dip in here and dip there, and never murmured when the socialist squeeze was put on the other guy. It is the other guy's baby—so what—why stew about it.

But sisters and brothers, bless your hearts, socialism is like the measles or the smallpox, you don't get 'em in one foot or in one small spot—once the germ 's in your system, you finally break out all over.

Yours with the low down,

things that I should like to enlighten him about that are happening in this world and have already happened.

"In first place, Mr. Chairman, some very radical changes have taken place all over America, in Texas as well.

"I have been in Texas repeatedly, I have been in his city. Lots of things are taking place down there that I am sure he is aware of, but maybe he forgot when he said there has been no desire for a change in segregation. (Cooley has made this remark referring to segregation in North Carolina.)

"He undoubtedly forgets that a very militant effort was made by understanding white people and Negroes of Texas, not we damned yankees from the north to get negroes admitted to the law school of the University of Texas.

"The gentleman from Texas also probably does not know or forgot, rather that Negroes are voting in such vast quantities in Texas now that in the city of Houston, for instance, one of the Congressmen running there in July will be defeated or elected according to the Negro vote.

"There are between 30,000 and 40,000 registered Negro voters in Houston, Tex., where just two years ago there were not 1,000. Changes are taking place."

(Rep. Albert Thomas is the only congressman from Houston. His district comprises all Harris county.

We noted recently in passing through Lamesa that there are two drive-in theatres being built on the Big Spring highway, within some 200 yards of each other. They can be planted too thick for any of them to do any good.

1,000 Passenger Planes? 1908 Ordinance Says So

A FEW decades ago I asked Christy Mathewson to name the best pitcher he ever faced. "That's easy," Matty answered. "His name is Charles Kid Nichols of Boston. Nichols isn't a good pitcher. He is a great one."

I recalled this talk when the mail brought a letter from Ty Cobb at Menlo Park, Calif.

"I think everyone has overlooked one of the greatest pitchers of all time," Cobb writes. "His name is Kid Nichols. Here are just a few of his records from 1890 to 1906:

- "1. Won three consecutive games on three consecutive days, all pitched in different cities.
- "2. Won 20 or more games for 10 consecutive years. He won 360 and lost 202.
- "3. Won 28 or more games for eight consecutive seasons.
- "4. Best three consecutive years of pitching percentage.
- "5. Only pitcher of note to average 24 wins per year at present distances."

Cobb also extends his admiration to Eddie Plank and Ed Walsh. "I'd like Ed Walsh as my first choice of all pitchers for a five-year period," he told me once. "He literally pitched his arm off in 1908 when he worked in 66 games, winning 46 and saving 12 others. Imagine being responsible for 52 victories!" "It's hard to outrank Eddie Plank," Cobb said in his recent letter. "Plank worked in 620 games, won 324 and lost 190. He was a fine pitcher—smart and always packed with control. He wasn't as fast as Grove, but he was a tough man to beat."

One can be reminded again of the great pitchers Connie Mack brought along from Waddell, Bender and Plank to Coombs, Grove, Earnshaw, Rommel and others — not overlooking Penneck and Bullet Joe Bush.

What manager ever dug up such left-handers as Eddie Plank, Lefty Grove, Herb Penneck and Rube Waddell, four of the greatest pitchers the venerated pastime has ever seen on display?

And today, the eminent Mr. McCallie, aged 85, believes he has another staff just about as good as he had in those far off years.

Mack's Ups and Downs

No one in baseball has ever known as many ups and downs, as many booms and dips, as many ascents and descents, as Connie Mack has known since he came to the American league in 1901.

Connie finished fourth his first year and then promptly won his first pennant in 1902, his second start. He won again in 1905, and two years later began breaking up or dismantling his winning squad for the first time.

He kept Bender and Plank, but got rid of Harry Davis, Lave and Monte Cross, plus a few others. In place of these he picked up Eddie Collins from Columbia, Stuffy McInnis from New England, Jack Barry from Holy-Cross and "Home Run" Baker from a Maryland hamlet.

Connie finished second in 1909, missing the flag by a brief eyelash. By 1910 he had his greatest team—a team good enough to win the pennant four times from 1910 through 1914. The Red Sox with Smokey Joe Wood burning up the league won in 1912.

The debacle of 1914, when the Braves won in four straight, sent Connie back to work dispersing another flock of star athletes.

String of Losses

Connie had broken up another club. It took him a long time to get back. He finished last in 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921. At that time he appeared to have an endless lease on the cellar.

Connie began to surge back in 1925, when he finished second. He was then 63 years old. But it was not until 1929 that he overhauled the Yankees and ruled the uplands for three years through 1932.

It was around 1933 that Mack began dismantling another club. He unloaded a freight car full of athletes on Tom Yawkey, the list including Robert Moses, Grove and most of his stars.

This didn't help the Red Sox any, but it wrecked the Athletics. They finished last again eight more years through 1945 when their case looked to be hopeless.

Connie has finished last 15 or 16 times and next to last on many more occasions. He also finished first nine times.

He came up with a pretty fair ball club last season in his 84th year. At least they finished fifth. Then came the big surprise this season as the Mackmen, carried along by superior pitching and some timely hitting, moved out in front.

Where will the Athletics finish? October is a long hike off. But so far the Athletics have looked better than either the Yankees or Red Sox who were picked earlier to handle all the pace setting.

SERVITUDE — the collective farm way.

Freedom IS EVERYBODY'S JOB!

Here is an alarming fact; the freedom we now enjoy is threatened.

Subversive influences are at work in our land; perhaps closer to home than we realize. They are working hard to destroy our cherished heritage.

But it is not too late. We still have time to clean house... to stop the undermining forces of un-Americanisms.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

- Remind your friends that we must be as wide-awake as our enemies.
- Vote and urge your neighbors to vote.
- Offer your time and ideas to public service.
- Speak your mind freely.

THERE are many millions who take either a keen or a casual interest in what happens day by day in baseball. But these have nothing like the passionate interest some three or four million golfers have in reducing their score.

Baseball's major interest belongs to spectators. Golf's major interest belongs to the players and competitors. Golf is one of the greatest health-making and training games of all time for the multitude.

Baseball is one of the greatest fun games or mental relaxations for the crowd, minus any physical aid. The golfer's interest is largely personal. "How can I chop off a stroke or two," asks Bill Brown, "so I can trim that fathead, Jack Smith, who makes me play him even?"

There are things you can do or at least try. For example here are tips that came direct from Harry Vardon:

"Vardon gave me a great tip," Walter Hagen told me one day. "It was about playing shots from heavy rough or from the sand in bunkers. I used to go into the rough or walk into a bunker gripping a club like it if it were a matter of life or death. It meant power."

"Don't do that," Vardon told me. "Grip the club lightly or gently in your hands. Get the full play of your hands and wrists. Eliminate tension, as far as you can. Most people in trouble, in the rough or the bunker, nearly always develop too much tension. This is the spot where you can't afford tension. Just ease up."

Another Vardon tip came years ago from a British publisher whose short game was phenomenal. "I'll tell you who helped me," he said. "It was Vardon on chip shots. Vardon showed me how to pick out a spot or a target just an inch ahead of the ball. This helped me to chip or swing through the ball. It prevented stabbing or jabbing."

"Vardon is an amazing man," the publisher said, "on the simple side of the game. He doesn't use a straight left arm. He breaks his left elbow, bends it. But his left arm is straight at impact. That is when it counts. That is where almost everything that counts takes place. At impact."

On chip shots you might try the Vardon system—picking out a spot an inch beyond the ball as the target.

Golf Is Personal
Golf is your game. To a large degree baseball, football and boxing are someone else's game. Golf is the playing game. Tennis is a playing game. The others are spectator's games.

How can you pare away that extra stroke or two—maybe three or four strokes? Here are just a few more tips:

GENE SARAZEN: "At the finish of my swing, the right hand is in control. The left hand is important until the final smash."

"But I can give you another good tip. It concerns putting. Most putts are missed because there is knee-body motion when you stroke the ball. I concentrate on locking my knees so there can be no knee-body motion. Putting belongs entirely to the hands and wrists. Keep the body still and then stroke the ball. But concentrate on stroking the ball."

GENE SARAZEN: "The big weakness in golf is the tension most golfers develop in being too slow. They say golf is not a game of motion. It is with me. I hit a drive. Then as I walk up to the ball I make up my mind on the club I need. That won't take over a second or two."

"It's the same way on the green. Don't hurry. But don't get tied up. Keep moving. When you've decided on the club you need, forget everything else. Concentrate on that club only. But never hurry any swing."

"Here is an excellent tip. Never hurry any swing or any part of a swing. You can loaf on your backswing. But it is more important to loaf on your downswing."

4-H District Camp Held In Lubbock

Six Terry County Girls; Mrs. Lillian Doak, Meadow 4-H sponsor; and Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration agent, returned Thursday afternoon from a three day district camp at the fair ground at Lubbock. The girls attending from this county were: Betty Zo Dean and Patsy Anne Moore, Wellman Jean Sargent and Yvonne Herring, Union; Shirley Finley and Runez Patton, Meadow.

This was a training camp in instruction and fun for the sixteen counties of the South Plains district. Similar camps will be held in each county this summer. Handicraft was a part of each day's program. Betty Zo Dean, Patsy Anne Moore, Shirley Finley and Runez Patton helped give the instructions each day in making notebooks of cork.

Another craft studied by the girls was that of glass etching. These instructions were given by girls of other counties.

The theme, Indians of the South Plains, was carried out at the candle lighting program Wednesday night. This candle lighting service was written, and those taking part, were trained by Miss Mable Anne Manley, county home demonstration agent of Cochran County.

Swimming and various types of games and form of recreation, was a part of each day's program.

A nature study hike was conducted one evening after supper to show the girls how to identify flowers, flower families, and trees. Miss Dunlap, assisted by Miss Clara Pratt, Lubbock County Home Demonstration Agent, and seven 4-H sponsors, gave these instructions. They also had charge of a flower and tree identification quiz.

Wednesday night was visitors night when the guests were served a chicken supper. Members of the Chamber of Commerce, with their wives were in attendance. Texas Technological College was represented by heads of departments, namely: Dean Stangel of agriculture; Dean Margaret Weeks

The Kees Visiting From Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kee from Erick, Oklahoma, are down this week visiting their son and family. While here a little 2 year old grand daughter fell off a high stool and fractured the ankle bone. She was brought to the local hospital for X-ray. Anyway, while being examined at the hospital, J. R. called on the Herald for an old time chat.

He stated that he and Mrs. Kee got a big kick out of the Herald each week, as a lot of folks they knew were mentioned from time to time. And he wanted us to come and see his country some time. He then got to reminiscing about the war time. J. R. ran a used car lot on the east side of the square when the war came up. His boy was called into the service, used cars got scarce, and J. R. hunted for greener pastures.

But a lot of the time the last months he ran the car lot he stated that he cleared from $500 to $600 per month. But he got a job at the Roswell air base digging trenches for gas, water and sewer lines at $160 per month. Says Kee, there might be a negro on one side of me and a Mexican on the other, some of them including some whites being former PW's.

Lots of times, he stated, some of the guys would pop me in the back and say, "Well, Pop, you have the best and the payestest job you ever had in your life, of home economics; and Doctor R. A. Studhalter of biology. Following the supper, Miss Pratt and Miss Dunlap showed dichrochrome slides of wild flowers, cultivated flowers, trees and shrubs they have taken. Both agents have been working with colored photography during the past few months. As they showed wild flower pictures, they had legends told by the girls. Mary Helen Keith, Cochran County told the legend of the bluebonnet; Katherine Black, Bailey County, the Indian blanket; and Yvonne Herring, Terry County, the morning glory.

On Thursday afternoon, just before breaking camp, a general assembly was held. The main event was that of electing the district officers for another year. Miss Dunlap announced the winners in the flower and tree identification quiz, and presented the winners with prizes of stationery. Winners in the flower identification were Jeanette Thompson, Hale county; Juanita Carr and Maxine Bruce, Dawson county. Those receiving prizes for correctly naming the most trees were: Jeanette Thompson and Dorothy Fay Terrell, Hale; Mary Helen Keith, Cochran; Pauline Dickens, Swisher; and Judy Carter, Hockley.

Other Ruidoso visitors this weekend will be Mr. and Mrs. Ike Bailey and Sandra, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Winger, Flo Stafford, Bill Palm, Morgan Copeland, Mrs. Bit Copeland, and Mr. and Mrs. Mon Telford. Mrs. Copeland and Morgan will go to Arizona from Ruidoso to visit Mrs. W. M. Copeland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper of Tahoka visited Mrs. P. A. Nowlin and Mrs. Andrew Cooper of the Duchess Shoppe last week.

haven't you?" He stated that he'd answer, yes, and let it go at that. But there was another story.

When the atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima, he related that some of those workmen got as mad as fire, as an end of the war meant loss of a job and some of them had purchased cars and homes. They could hardly understand why "Pop" was not also so affected.

He finally told them that he had a son in the service, and hoped he got out alive, and was real glad the end was near.

Mrs. Louis Simmonds and the three boys are visiting relatives in Fort Worth this week.

Church Ad Is Being Paid For

We have heard just a little hush! hush! talk of late that led us to believe that there were some people here that thought the Herald was carrying the Church of Christ announcement along with the picture of the church building free of charge. In view of the fact that the owners and managers of the Herald belongs to that church, we decided to make a statement.

The ad in question is being paid for at the regular advertising rate each month by the church treasurer, with the exception of a church discount that we have always allowed all churches here on their advertising and job work bills.

Will also state that this is not strictly speaking a church paper from any point of view, as it is a secular paper, and that all employees other than the owners belong to other churches.

Miss Frances Joyce Rambo has accepted a position with a bank in Denver, Colo. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Rambo took her as far as Amarillo and she en-trained from there.

FIGURES GO AROUND AND AROUND

Business men currently are getting a big laugh from a column of figures they are passing around. We don't know who originated the figures. Some people say it came from the Superior, Wis., Evening Telegram, but the Telegram's editor denies it is original with him. He says he got it from some Southern newspapers. Now it comes back to Arkansas. Our copy came from J. E. Michie, McAlester, Okla. Here for your "thoughtful" consideration are the figures:

Population of U. S.	140,000,000
People 65 or older	42,000,000
Balance left to do the work	98,000,000
People 21 years or younger	54,000,000
Balance left to do the work	44,000,000
People working for the government	27,000,000
Balance left to do the work	17,000,000
People in armed services	4,000,000
Balance left to do the work	13,000,000
People in state, county and city offices	12,800,000
Balance left to do the work	200,000
People in hospitals and insane asylums	126,000
Balance left to do the work	74,000
Bums and others who won't work	62,000
Balance left to do the work	12,000
Persons in jail	11,998

It is too late for us to say "that's you and I." An editor in the deep South already said that, which leaves just you and him to do the work. You had better keep an eye on that editor, or you'll be carrying the load.

MAY PLANT A PUBLIC PEA PATCH

Mike Moorhead of Seminole is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Moorhead, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Moorhead and Terry Lou were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Moorhead June 23. It was Mrs. R. M. Moorhead's birthday.

Ruidoso visitors this weekend will be Mr. and Mrs. Sam Teague jr., Ruth Huckabee, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Tarpley, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bailey, and Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Tarbutton.

J. W. Fitzgerald will leave today for Stamford. He will later meet Mrs. Fitzgerald in Abilene, where she is visiting her brother, S. B. Treadaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jones of Slaton spent the weekend in the home of Mrs. O. L. Jones. Sunday afternoon they visited Mrs. O. L. Jones' mother, Mrs. S. E. Aytes, of Lubbock who celebrated her 86th birthday Sunday.

Had a card reporting the house warming at the fine new home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wheatley of the Johnson community. Almost identical report can be found in Johnson news items.

Bob Spear states that he is installing quite a few FM radio sets in Brownfield. While there is only one station in reach at present, there will be others in a few years, including television, he thinks.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Kendrick and Ruth Huckabee spent several days last week in Fort Worth where work in the 1st National Bank was observed.

FARM QUESTION BOX

by
ED W. MITCHELL
Farm Advisor
General Electric Station WGY

- Q. We must put a new roof on our house. Should we remove the old wooden shingles or can we lay the new asphalt shingles or roll roofing over the old?
- A. Opinions differ, but you have asked for mine. I would remove old roof, fill in, level and repair roof boards; apply slaters felt and then lay the new roof. I have never had success putting a new roof over an old one.
- Q. I bought some lime for my vegetable garden and I supposed they gave me what I asked for. After it was all on the garden I noticed the tag on one of the bags said "quick lime." What will happen to my vegetable garden? I haven't planted it yet.
- A. Nothing; the burned or quick lime will absorb moisture and become hydrated lime overnight; and in a few days will absorb oxygen from the air and become carbonate or limestone. You were saved the bother of handling 50 per cent or so of moisture and air.
- Q. What can I use on my ivy house plants to rid them of spider mites? Have been told to use sodium selenite, but isn't that poisonous?
- A. That is very poisonous and I wouldn't monkey with it; spray with nicotine (Black Leaf 40), directions on each package.
- Q. We have to put in a new water pipe from the well to the house and want to use copper pipes, but have been told that some water has a mineral in it that might cause poisoning if run through a copper pipe. Is this true?
- A. That is not true and it is perfectly safe to use the copper tubing without treating the water.
- Q. Can you tell me what to do to control corn borers?
- A. Yes. Apply a three per cent DDT dust, once a week for four weeks starting when the corn is 12-14 inches tall, or as soon as you can find signs of borers hatching and feeding on the leaves.
- Q. A great deal of moss grows on our lawn, especially around bushes and walks, and kills the grass. Is there any way of getting rid of it?
- A. Yes. Moss indicates land is poor and perhaps too wet for grass to grow well. Drain if possible and that seems to be the case, and apply fertilizer and new seed in frequent, light applications.
- Q. I want to plant both red and black raspberries this summer. Is it O.K. to plant the two different kinds alongside of each other? Is the black variety more subject to disease?
- A. The black, or more correctly, the purple sorts are less subject to disease than the reds, and they may be planted side by side. Try to get disease-free plants from a good nursery and "rogue" or remove any sick plants the moment you find them.

Mrs. Hodge of Midland Named Commander Of Cancer Field Army Work in 21 Counties

HOUSTON.—Mrs. J. Howard Hodge of Midland has been named Field Army commander for District 2 of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division.

Announcement of Mrs. Hodge's selection was made by Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland, commander of the Field Army in Texas.

MRS. J. HOWARD HODGE

The Field Army is a layman's group composed of men and women who actively undertake to participate in the three-sided attack on cancer—through education, research, and service.

Much of Mrs. Hodge's work will be the organization of active county units in 21 lower Panhandle counties making up District 2.

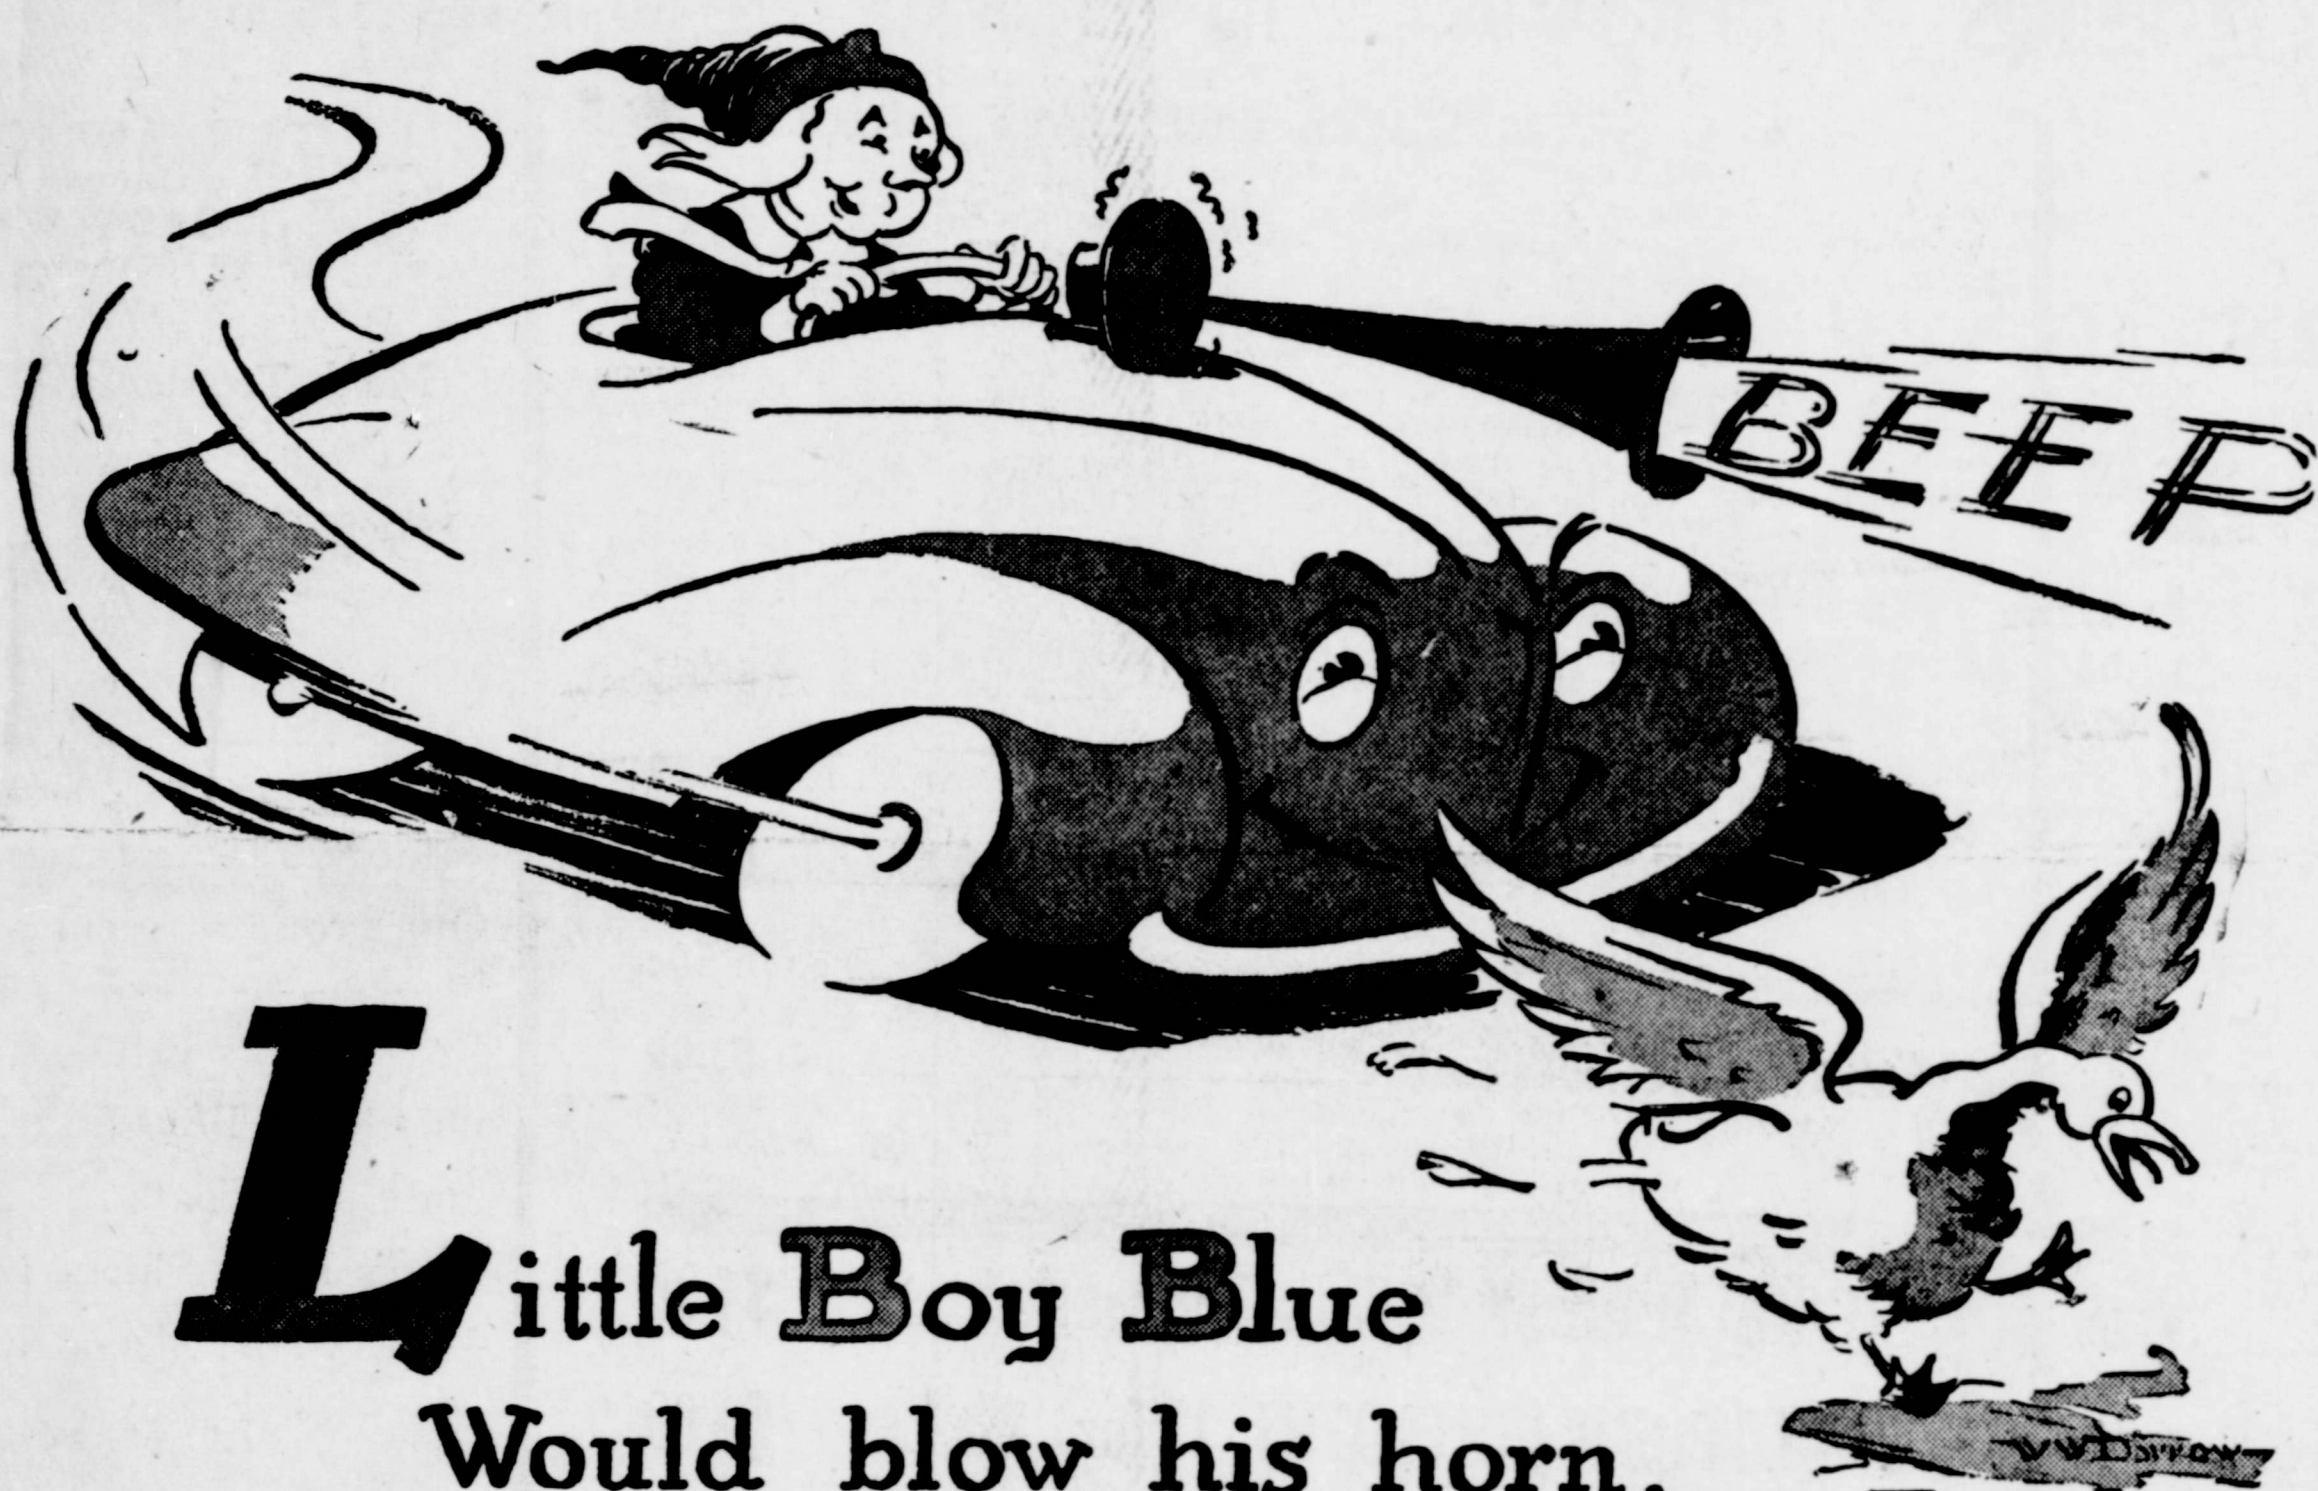

These units strive to educate the public with proven facts about cancer and the need for catching it in its early stages. They busy themselves with efforts to tell people of the cancer danger signals and the fact that much cancer can be cured if caught in time.

Mrs. Hodge, a trustee of the Midland Memorial hospital now under construction, is active in civic and women's club work there. She is the only woman ever named trustee of Howard Payne College, and is a graduate of that school at Brownwood and of the University of Colorado.

She is a member of the executive committee and a past first vice president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. She has served as president of several Midland clubs and is a Sunday School teacher at Midland's First Baptist Church.

The district which Mrs. Hodge leads is composed of the following counties:

Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Ector, Midland and Glasscock.

Little Boy Blue
Would blow his horn,
Go weaving through traffic too fast;
'Twas a great mistake
To blow and not brake,
And Fate upset him at last!

The air turns blue, too, when a reckless Boy Blue turns up in crowded traffic! Other motorists curse him—pedestrians fear him—and no wonder!

Speeding is the prime cause of accidents—it kills 10,000 persons a year. And remember—50 miles an hour may be safe on good roads, on open highways—while 20 can be dangerous in bad weather or heavy traffic. Speeding is driving too fast for conditions.

Drive as though your life depended upon it—it does!

Another Must Place Visited In Old Tennessee

Most every year we try to visit the home of a first cousin, John Casey and his wife when we run back there, and they always "throw" a big noon day feed for us. John Casey has been very successful in life, with large bottom plantation. But with prices sky high, he has sold most of the farm land off, retaining his nice country home and some 20 acres among the huge oaks. He probably has all the mazuka he and Cola will ever need. About the only headache he has that we could see is that one of these all night, hallalujah shouting religious bodies is putting in a church building on the highway just west of his 20 acres. And John and Cola can each still hear pretty well.

John and Cola or Coaley, we are not sure, Scott married when the writer was still a teenager. After we came home from school at Nashville in the summer of 1899 following measles and pneumonia, with our health wrecked, John persuaded us to stay with his wife through the week, as he had his wagon and teams off in the bottoms logging. At that time they were cutting large whiteoak to haul to a heading block mill, and even stave cuttings which were sawed out in the rough in Middleton and shipped on to cities where they were finally made into whisky barrels. It was while stewing it out in these bottoms that John really made his start. He was renting the farm he was on at that time, and doing logging after crops were layed by, and after gathering time.

Cola was a Baptist, and a young friend of the family used to comeup after supper to help keep us in cold water after the fever came up following a chill. Arthur Murphy was a member of the Church of Christ, and after they THOUGHT we were asleep, the argument would start, and so—far into the night. With all that oratory and energy, both are just like they started out. But that lady was as good to us as if we had been her own brother instead of a cousin by marriage. A few years ago, John lost an arm, when a growth developed, supposedly cancer. It was either lose an arm or his life. He can do a lot of chores with that one arm and hand. One of the daughters who is a dietician in one of the large Memphis hospital, the Baptist, was home on vacation. Well, that gal is a crack cook as well as know what to dope out to the sick and well, and we sure had a fine feed. After resting a bit, we called upon an old friend of the Stricklin family, Mrs. Dora (Moore) Newlin. Dora in our boy hood was an old flame of our older brother, but for some unknown reason, to us at least, their romance ended on the rocks. She later married a prominent young business man of Pocahontas, which everyone back there designates "Pockey" for short. The Newlins have done well; sold their business and have a number of rent houses which keeps them busy and plenty income.

We used to think that Dora Moore was one of the most beautiful girls we ever saw. Flashing black eyes and coal black hair. She was a frequent visitor as we had a sister about her age. Well, Dora is just as pretty as an elderly woman. She still has the flashing eyes and that old time cheerful greeting, but that hair is pure fine spun silver. She made the Old He and wife promise to visit in their home sometime when we are back there.

At The Old Essery Springs College Site

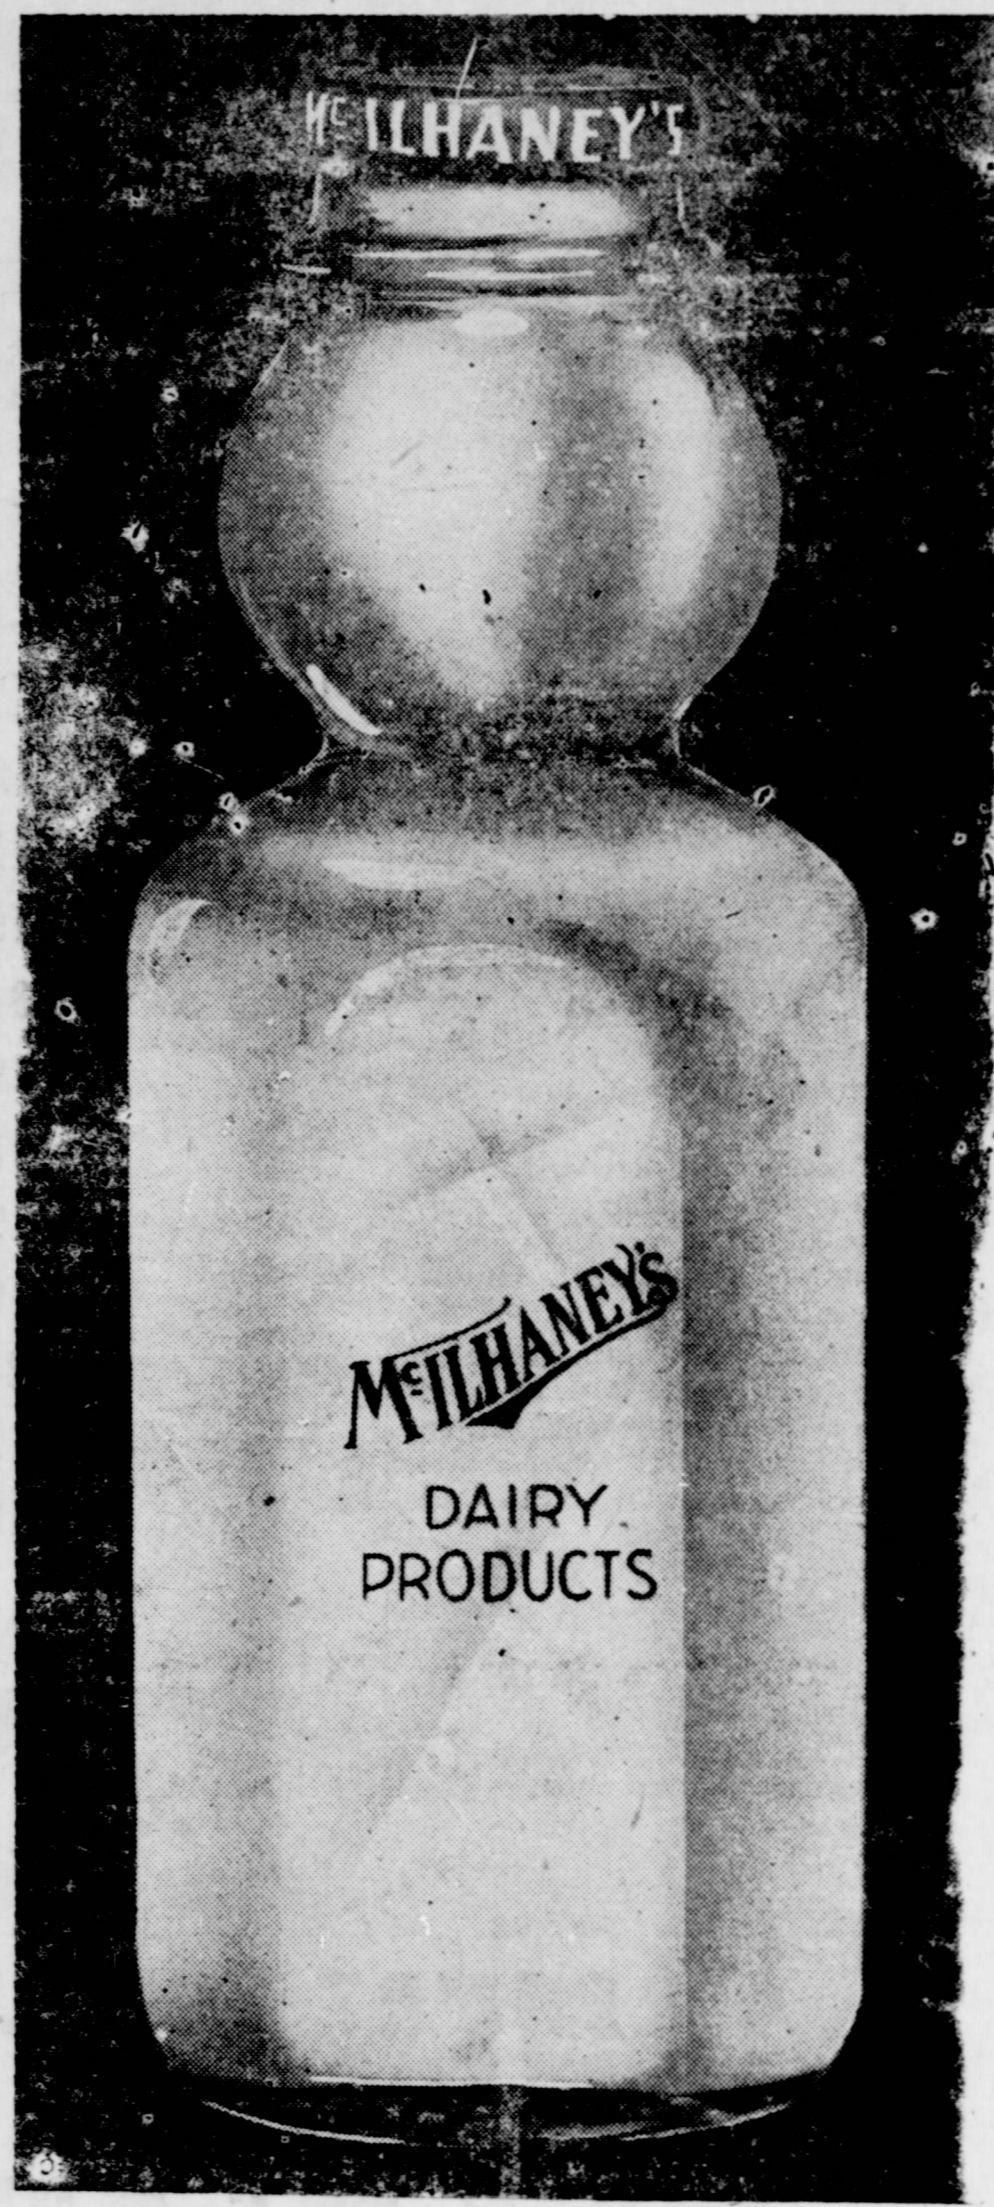

Essery Spring had always been a familiar word to us as a lad. A fine gentleman came down from Indiana when we were very small and established a college there, and ambitiously named it Southern Tennessee Normal College. While the Site is only some 15 miles from where we were raised, that was a heck of a journey in those good old mule or steer wagon days, and while we had two brothers and a number of their friends from the New Hope community to attend, we never saw the place. We had always heard it was hilly, and we were not disappointed. Also a lot of bluffs. The spring from which the college took its name is right on the river bank, and as the river on big rises get over the spring, it has been concreted way up, and there is enough pressure of the big flow to come on up above high water. It is mineral, and one has to get used to it. Too many recent rains to look for our brothers' barefoot tracks. Only the lower grades attend public school there now. The others go to Pocahontas by bus.

But we did get to see Roy Casey and family. He is working his dad's (Sam Casey) farm. Sam was about our own age, and this was our first time to meet Roy and family. Sam and wife live in Memphis, along with a vast lot of other people we used to know.

The Jones generation turned out three others than Sam and the Old He during 1880, and we often wonder how little old Grandma Jones (Mam as we called her) kept up with the Stork that year.

VETERAN'S QUIZ ON HOSPITALIZATION

Q. Which veterans are entitled to hospitalization in a VA hospital?

A. Those with service-connected disabilities have top priority. Treatment may be given to nonservice cases if the veteran cannot afford treatment elsewhere and a bed is available.

Q. How does a veteran apply for treatment in a VA hospital?

A. Application should be made, either in person or by letter, to the nearest VA office. In an emergency, a relative or friend may telephone a VA hospital or office and reverse the charges.

Q. Are dependents of veterans disabled in service entitled to free hospital treatment?

A. No. Under existing laws, only veterans are eligible for VA hospital care.

Q. Does the veteran have a choice of hospitals once treatment is approved?

A. Usually the patient is assigned to the VA hospital nearest his home. But he may be moved to a special center in another section of the country if his disability warrants.

Q. Will you pay for hospitalization in a private hospital?

A. A bill of the request has pre-approval approval of VA and the treatment is for a service-connected disability.

Q. Are dependents of veterans disabled in service entitled to free hospital treatment?

A. No. Under existing laws, only veterans are eligible for VA hospital care.

Used Fat Helps You and the World

Experts say the world today needs almost twice as much meat; more than double the milk and dairy products and fats and oils.

American women can contribute to postwar economic welfare by conserving used kitchen fats, scraping every frying-pan, skimming soups, melting down meat and table scraps. Help overcome the world-wide shortage of fats and oils by selling your used fat to your meat dealer.

- From Cities Service Oil Company's Compressor Station in North Cowden Field, Ector County.

NEW FACILITIES TO BE INSTALLED ON PIPE LINE SYSTEM

Here are the new facilities expected to be installed before next winter, with estimated month of completion:

- Near Turkey Creek Compressor Station will be installed a 300 hp. booster compressor. (September.) Main plant is 2350 hp.
- At McSpadden Compressor Station: three more 400 hp. compressors, increasing capacity to 2850 hp. (July.)
- At Plainview Compressor Station: one more 300 hp. compressor, increasing capacity to 2400 hp. (December.)
- At Littlefield Compressor Station: one 80 hp. compressor, to increase capacity to 330 hp. (August.)
- Between Littlefield Compressor Station and Whitharral: nine miles of 6-inch pipe will replace 3 1/2-inch pipe. (4.4 miles, June; remainder when pipe now on order is received.)

What It Means -- Atom's Operation Bootstrap

By Robert E. Geiger

Washington -- Atomic scientists are talking more and more about a major atomic project Operation Bootstrap. In simple words its goal is to "breed" atomic fuel from other atomic fuel, getting more than the original amount. At the same time heat and electricity would be produced. Thus atomic fuel would be "pulling itself up by its bootstrap."

Dr. Robert F. Bacher, the only scientist member of the Atomic Energy Commission, called this project "revolutionary" in a recent speech. He added that "it certainly is enticing." He says Operation Bootstrap possibly may answer the question whether atomic plants ever will provide a major amount of world's power. It may answer other questions, too, but this one is of prime importance. Here's why:

Even if scientists discover ways to build atomic power plants on a large scale, the basic raw material uranium is scarce. Operation of the plants would be limited to the amount of uranium that can be found in the world. Operation Bootstrap is investigating one way to get around this.

Atomic bombs and power plants must have a fissionable material as a base. A fissionable material is an element whose atoms will split by chain reaction and give out energy.

In the atomic bomb project the fissionable material is produced from uranium by the huge atomic installations at enormous cost. Uranium is divided into sister elements, U-235 and U-238. U-235 is fissionable U-238 is not. There are 140 times as much U-238 as U-235. The U-238 can be turned into a fissionable material, plutonium, but the present process uses as much U-235 as it creates plutonium out of U-238. So there's no profit in it.

Now scientists hope to "breed" fissionable material from U-238 and from another element, thorium. The quantity of fissionable material they create would be much greater than the amount consumed in the process, and in addition it would create heat and electricity as a by-product.

There are two big advantages of the new method: (1) U-238 is 140 times as abundant as its sister element, U-235. That means the raw product from which they come, uranium, would be made to produce much more fissionable material than by present methods if U-238 can be used efficiently, and (2) it would add a new element, thorium, to the raw materials from which fissionable materials can be produced in quantity. There is estimated to be from three to four times as much thorium as uranium in the world.

The "breeding" is done this way. The scientists start off with a pile of U-235. They place the other material, called "fertile material" U-238 and thorium, which are radio active but not fissionable in the pile. This "fertile material" then becomes fissionable and thus

I will discuss today—in my learned fashion—flood control. FLOOD CONTROL has been the alias, or alibi, or "front" to cover the socialist angle on our river powerhouses. In Russian they don't need to alibi "Govt. Power"—they just speak right out, call it what it is, communism. But here in our fair and democratic land we beat around the bush—we call it "flood control."

And to help illustrate my lecture we will take mama's dish pan and fill it brimful of water. The dish pan is in the same spot as a dam across a river and which must be kept brimful in order to make power. No we will turn on the faucet—nothing to it, over she goes—whether it is mama's dish pan or a Grand Coulee or a Bonneville—and out the window goes flood control.

And Uncle Harry—he has been touring the West recent-like—he saw, first hand, my experiment as it worked there on the Columbia. He saw Oregon and Washington—there in the middle of the big dam electric company—take to the boats. And the old boy, if he should ever again suggest pouring more dinero for "false front" flood control, somebody can interrogate him—ask him what it was that he saw and heard out there as he was sashaying around and amongst those Oregon and Washington web-feet and clam diggers.

Yours with the low down,

is itself an atomic fuel.

The success of Operation Bootstrap depends upon how efficient the scientists can make the process. At present most fissionable material has to come from the elaborate atomic plants that have been constructed at a cost of more than two billion dollars. The new process, if successful, would permit more material to by-pass these plants.

In a practical way, here's what Operation Bootstrap means: The British use about 50 billion kilowatt hours of electricity a year. They estimate it would take 1,000 tons of uranium to produce that much of electricity. But the world's entire production of uranium in 1939 the last year for which figures are available was only 1,000 tons.

How much uranium there is in the world and the rate at which it is being mined are official secrets, but the British say the known figures are insignificant. They say that on this basis, atomic energy on a great scale, doesn't seem feasible.

If Operation Bootstrap is successful, the whole picture is changed, because the supply of "atomic fuel" would be increased many times. Meanwhile this is Bacher's advice:

Don't believe all the wild predictions you hear of atomic. "Some, like nuclear pills to put in your gas tank, are just plain nonsense," he says.

July 4th

Independence Day

WE ARE

AMERICANS

AND PROUDLY SO. Our citizenship is made up of peoples from many lands seeking the precious liberties which constitute the American way of life. But these precious liberties are in danger. They will belong to America only so long as Americans prove worthy of them and stand ready to protect them.

That is why, on this day, America looks to her nek citizens not only with pride, but with hope—the hope that each man and woman will not selfishly reap the benefits of this great country, but will shoulder generously the responsibilities.

The time has come for all Americans, old and new—and with deepened loyalty to review America's historic documents, the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States, the Bill of Rights. These are documentary cornerstones to democratic freedom. . . that precious freedom for which every American must labor.

This Is Our Fine Heritage

Let us guard it well, for there are malevolent forces at work to wrest it from us. They might continue to hail it as an American document—even perpetuate its parchment under glass. But they would destroy its very meaning; distort it with instruments to smother all freedom; cripple our right to liberty; and make our observance of anniversaries such as this Independence Day—a thing of the past.

CONVERTED LST'S HUNT OIL—LST's (Landing Ship Tank), such as the one above, a type of ship that landed American armor on many war-time beachheads, are now being converted by several large oil companies for use in hunting oil in the Gulf of Mexico. Much of the machinery aboard is still as secret as that used during the war. For work, the ships are held by four anchors, two off the bow and two astern. The ship moves as the wind changes, always keeping the nose into the wind and waves. During hurricane seas, the converted LST's will be ready on short notice to run for safety in port. (AP Photo).

WORLD'S LARGEST MESQUITE TREE—This old tree in Coryell County near Gatesville is believed to be the largest mesquite tree in the world. It is 60 feet high and has a circumference of 10 feet, 9 1/2 inches four and a half feet from the ground. Its limb spread is 65 feet. A pioneer of the community said it was a good size tree back in 1883 when he first saw it. It is listed by the American Forestry Association as one of the world's most unusual trees.

A singer in Sigmund Romberg's touring show, Miss Maricle said singing for Mr. Truman "put butterflies in my stomach."

HEADS TEXAS JAYCEES—Melvin B. Evans, young Wichita Falls businessman, this week assumed the presidency of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, largest in the nation. President Evans pledged that during the coming year the more than 15,000 Texas Jaycees would greatly expand their programs of service to the community. To carry out this project he urged all young men in Texas to join their local Junior Chambers or, where none have been organized, to call on him for assistance in organizing new Jaycee chapters.

ED W. MITCHELL

- Q. What evergreen trees make the fastest growth? We want to set out a hedge for a windbreak.
- A. White or any kind of cedar is durable and makes a good post. Locust is the only wood I think of that is better. Cedar posts should last 15 to 20 years. Get some wood preservative at your farm supply store and treat them.
- Q. Norway Spruce is your best tree for that, Hemlock next, then Scotch and Austrian Pine.
- Q. I have some red copper oxide, some of which I used on the surface of the ground in which tomatoes were planted. When we make our garden can we use the same powder to advantage?
- A. Yes. Dust it around seedlings as they come up or mix with lime and use as a dust or spray to ward off fungus diseases.
- Q. Am about to have electricity installed in my house. The three wires from the transformer pass over a driveway and are so low that a load of hay will not safely pass under them. Is it true that the wires must be by law 17 feet high?
- A. The regulation calls for a minimum of 18 feet clearance on any highway or driveway for service or transmission lines. Ask your power company to come raise it to that 18 feet or even a bit higher.
- Q. Does White Cedar make good fence posts? How long will they last? Is there some other kind of wood better for this purpose?
- A. No—and I don't think you will have much luck trying it. In theory, you add water, keep it warm till it ferments and turns to vinegar; however, in practice it usually gets moldy and spoils.
- Q. Is there anything one can use that will take away the odor from soft water and not make it hard? This is cistern water, clean and fresh but has an odor.
- A. Put some charcoal, say a bushel, in a burlap bag and hang it in the water. Bring it up to dry and freshen it in the sunshine once a month and return to the water.
- Q. What can be done for our cats? They dig and scratch at their ears as though they itched.
- A. They do itch. The cats undoubtedly have ear mange, little mites working under the skin. Work camphorated vaseline or oil of iodine salve as far down into the ear as you can every three or four days.

Processed Lused Fats Serve Millions

During 1947, American women salvaged 115 million pounds of used kitchen fats. On the assumption that six-tenths of a pound of fat makes a pound of soap, if the entire 1947 fat salvage yield were used exclusively for soap, on this basis it would produce 69 million pounds of soap. In other words, kitchen fat salvaged in 1947 could have supplied approximately three and a half million people with soap for a full year at an average of 20 pounds per person.
