Muleshoe Area Public Library Improvement Plan Phase

Present Facilities Needs Expanding

With the opening of the polls on September 10, residents of Bailey County will be given the opportunity to take advantage of erecting new public facilities which will be of great benefit to both city and country dwellers.

One of these new facilities which is included in a Capital Improvements program for the city will be a new library. The present library, located in the industrial section of town near the railroad, will be replaced by a modern, well designed structure located in the general downtown area.

The library in Muleshoe is used more now than was anticipated since it was first secured. A Journal survey, presently underway and covering many different phases of thought of the general public shows that not only do the people like the idea of new city facilities, but the proposed county facilities which will also be voted upon the same date, September 10.

The library is both used through the patrons at the library and through the bookmobile.

UF Budget Meet September 4

The Budgets and Admissions committee of the United Fund for 1968-69 met Monday night, with four agencies requesting funds for the coming year attending.

They were representatives of the Bailey County Junior Livestock Show, Boy Scouts, Girl Scout Council, Caprock District, and the Muleshoe Neighborhood of Girl Scouts.

Members of the board of directors of the United Fund are to meet Wednesday, September 4 when all requests will be submitted and funds either rejected, revised or approved for each of the organizations requesting support from the United Fund Campaign to be launched this year.

Joe Harbin is chairman of the Budget and Admissions committee.

School Insurance Sold at Registration Time

The traditional school accidental insurance plan for students of high school and Jr. High school usually offered after school has opened, will be sold this year at the time a student registers. The officials of the Muleshoe Independent School District have again accepted this voluntary group accident insurance policy for the benefit of the students. Again, the policy will be administered through the Southwestern General Agency of Dallas, which is the same agency used for the past six years. This insurance is merely an accommodation to the students, neither the school nor any school official is compensated for the services which they render.

As usual, two plans are available: The 24-Hour Protection Coverage, and the At School Coverage. The 24-Hour Protection Plan will cost $15 (12 months, 24 hours per day coverage—Sept. 2, 1968 until August 30, 1969). The At School Protection plan will be $6.00 (9 months—September 2, 1968 to last day of school, 1969 while at school.) Students are not insured if they go to town for lunch or stop at a friend's house to visit on the way home from school. Both plans provide $5,000 maximum benefits for each insured and $1,000 for accidental death benefits. It also should be remembered that a student is not insured if injured while riding a two-wheeled motor vehicle.

As participants of this insurance plan, parents of insured students are obligated to see that all injuries are reported to the principals of the building where the student is enrolled. There have been injuries in the past that were never claimed simply because school officials did not know about them.

Claim blanks will be made available to each of the hospitals and doctors' offices in Muleshoe and the dentists' offices. However, if treatment is received from a doctor or dentist that does not have a claim blank (out-of-town doctor), then claim blanks may be picked up at the Administration Building in the office of the superintendent's secretary. All claims must be signed by the parent or guardian, and if this is done at the hospital, much time can be saved in processing a claim.

Parents wishing their children to be covered by either of these plans—the "At School Plan" or the "24-Hour Protection Plan," should send a check payable to the Muleshoe Independent School District with their children at the time of the children's registration. There will be a table set up in the High School and the Jr. High School at registration to handle this insurance program. Elementary students may purchase insurance after school has started.

Registration for high school students will be as follows: Seniors—Thurs, Aug. 22, 9 a.m. to 12 noon (Cafeteria); Juniors—Thurs, Aug. 22, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. (Cafeteria); Sophomores—Friday Aug. 23, 9 a.m. to 12 noon (Cafeteria); Freshmen—Friday, Aug. 23, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. (Cafeteria).

Junior High Registration is scheduled as follows: 8th Grade: Aug. 22, 9 a.m. to 12 noon (Jr. High Building); 7th Grade: Aug. 22, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. (Jr. High Building); 6th Grade: Aug. 23, 9 a.m. to 12 noon, 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. (Jr. High Building).

Students new to the school system should write to last attended school and have transcripts of previous work sent to their schools.

PROPOSED LIBRARY MULESHOE TEXAS

Muletrain Annual Dedicated to Educator

Dedicated to a dedicated educator, Mrs. John Watson, the 1968 Muleshoe High School annual is out and those who have not obtained their copy may pick it up at the principal's office.

Annual editor John Gulley wrote the following dedication (in part) entitled "For Concern, Beyond the Call of Duty." We Proudly Dedicate to Mrs. Watson:

"Mrs. John Watson has been called by her fellow teachers and students alike a 'most remarkable lady,' and indeed she is. One of the few teachers in Muleshoe school who can remember our silver anniversary, we are proud to dedicate this Golden Anniversary edition to her.

"She has been associated with this school for 26 years, most of them spent teaching. She has devoted the last four years as curriculum director, through the school door at the age of four years in Childress County school where her mother was a teacher. Her high school education was at Plainview High School. She attended Texas Tech and received her BA degree in 1939 and her M. Ed. degree in 1943. She was married to John Watson in 1948.

"Mrs. Watson has made immeasurable contribution to our school and to this community. She has dedicated her life to the service of young people, and on this occasion, we proudly dedicate the Golden Anniversary Edition of the Muletrain annual set to this theme.

Concluding the Golden Anniversary Edition of the Muletrain annual set to this theme in keeping with the observance of the Golden Anniversary of Bailey County, Gulley wrote: "The halls are empty now. The people have gone away. Some will return and some will not. Some faces will be new here come September. After four years of learning, joy, and sorrow, those entering these halls will emerge like butterflies as young men and women, transformed from childhood.

"In four short years, all the faces will have changed. These halls will hold countless memories for many hundreds of people like a giant, intangible story book. The atmosphere will change little because the people will remain essentially the same. The old classmates will see each other on the streets and say to themselves, 'I remember....' These halls surround four years unique in any person's life. Our high school years will not be soon forgotten, but like so many good things, they must come to an end.

The challenge which Gulley wrote during the 1967-68 school year, senior year was this "Look back through this book. Remember how you enjoyed the good times. Remember what you learned from the not-so-good times. Think back on all the personal stories that begin with 'Once upon a time....' No matter where you goor what you will do, every now and then you will walk down these halls in the middle of the night, and wonder to yourself where they all are. That's life, and life will go on."

Sweet Pepper Picking Underway

The Blackwater Valley land surrounding Muleshoe has long been noted for its productivity. This, along with the 10 years experience of local farmer L.A. 'Lusky' Green, is proving true again this season in the growing of sweet peppers on his farm located one mile west and three and one-half miles north of town.

The abundant crop is expected to produce one and one-half million pounds of peppers between the first date of picking, Friday, August 16 and the first killing frost.

Approximately 60 bales of pepper were loaded on a truck Friday morning and had one truck loaded far before mid-morning from the heavy-laden branches of the pepper plants.

Green said the smallest peppers weighed in about one-third pound and the largest at three-fourths pound.

Green contracted the pepper crop to Louisiana Strawberry Company in McAllen, Texas where they are being sacked and trucked by a contracted labor crew.

Green explained that he had grown pepper around Muleshoe for the past 10 years and this year's was one of the prettiest, most healthy plants he had grown and were bearing the most pepper.

The Agrow seeds were planted April 24, 25 and 26 and had been watered several times.

Water will be turned on the plants immediately behind the pickers and by the time the first picking is completed the crop will be watered again.

"Each eight days, pickers will go over the field again. They are presently filling four trucks at a time and Green said this would be the case for several pickings to follow.

As the nights become colder, the bearing will slow down and the late season pickings will be less productive, and the crop, on page 3, col. 7

This will be the fourth year in the Kindergarten and has been in operation, and many children have benefited during these years. Readiness for the first grade is the main teaching emphasis, and the Kindergarten has been highly recommended by many of our first grade teachers. The classes are open to any race or religion and will be especially beneficial to the non-English speaking child.

Our teachers for this year will be Mrs. George Washington and Mrs. Charles Bratcher, both of whom are well qualified. There is a charge of $4.00 per month for each child.

Budget Hearing

The Board of Trustees Muleshoe I.S.D. will study and approve the budget for the 1968-69 School Year, at the regular meeting Monday August 19, at 8 P.M. at the School Administration Building. The public is welcomed to attend, the board announced.

BUMPER CROP—Pepper stalks on the 90 acres farmed by L.A. Green, pictured, are filled from the bottom to the top with large green sweet peppers. The first picking started Friday morning with peppers weighing up to three-fourths pound, Green said the stalks would bear until frost. With favorable weather conditions, he expects the acreage to yield more than 1 1/2 million pounds during this growing season.

From The Chief's Desk HAZARDS

Unlicensed operators of motor vehicles create a hazard. It is only reasonable to assume that a person of age, or otherwise qualified to hold a valid license will be licensed rather than be in violation of the law. Not only is the unlicensed operator of a motor vehicle subject to be fined upon, but the owner of the vehicle who allows an unlicensed operator to drive a vehicle registered to them is also liable and may be fined upon. This includes parents of such a violator.

Library...

A site, to be donated by the County, is available on the southeast corner of the block immediately across the street from the courthouse.

A good library will be a fine asset for Muleshoe, not only for present residents, but also as a "plus" in the attraction of new business to the City.

This is one of the several improvements outlined in the Comprehensive Plan for the City of Muleshoe and City Planning Commission and is to be financed under the General Obligation bond issue, and without an increase in taxes for the city.

Each issue of the Journal will feature another phase of the city and county planning and the bond issues. Among these will be the jail facilities which has been the subject of Bailey County for several years.

The antiquated jail facility here was constructed 43 years ago.

RAIN---Lightening - laced clouds produced a general rain over the area late Friday afternoon and during the night. The Needmore community received from one-half to one inch throughout the area while three inches fell at Bula school. The Progress community, perhaps hardest hit, received two and one-half inches with some high winds and hail within about 45 minutes. Castor beans, tomato plants and other crops were somewhat twisted, however, farmers believe little actual damage was done. The rain extended west-northwest to within about 12 miles of Bovina. Later during the night, the Circleback area received more than an inch. This picture shows water over the road near Progress. The pickup pictured in the distance came through high water which came up floor-board deep.

In particular and detail ways in which various agencies can cooperate to stimulate and increase foreign trade.

Dr. Henry Hopp, chief of the Fibers and Textile Division, U. S. State Department, Washington, pointed out that cotton people have a direct interest in "advancing a constructive approach to trade liberalization" and are in the forefront of those who "benefit from free world markets and expanded purchasing power."

"To export a satisfactory volume of cotton it is necessary that we have adequate supplies of the various qualities; a competitive price; year-round aggressive research, promotion, and merchandising; and fuller and more effective use of credit and insurance facilities." Joe A. Moss, Washington, told the group. Moss is director of the Cotton Policy Staff, ASCS, of the Department of Agriculture.

Kenneth A. Krogh, Washington, assistant administrator of export programs with USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service, outlined key FAS activities: (1) carrying on overseas research and promotion, (2) sponsoring trade missions abroad, (3) bringing foreign mill men to this country, (4) continuing to ship cotton under Public Law 480, and (5) studying possible revisions in credit programs to better facilitate cotton exports.

John Jordan, loan officer, Export-Import Bank, Washington, said the bank assists the cotton trade by: (1) making loans direct to foreign buyers through which the buyers may meet all or part of their cotton requirements during a crop year, (2) guaranteeing foreign obligations resulting from export sales on credit, and (3) operating a foreign credit insurance program.

Details of the foreign credit insurance program were described by Paul T. Haskell, New York, vice president, Foreign Credit Insurance Association.

Summarizing Commerce Department activities to stimulate exports, Dallas M. Coors, financial economist with its International Division, said it has established an agribusiness staff and maintains: (1) lists of foreign firms handling various commodities, (2) overseas contracts to locate qualified firms to represent U.S. shippers, and (3) World Trade Directory Reports providing useful information on foreign firms, and (4) trade centers in key foreign markets. The Department also assists in organizing trade missions.

A Maritime Administration official invited all elements of the transportation and exporting industries to join in a coordinated effort to increase shipping efficiency and lower its costs. John Hoeh, Washington, chief of the Administration's Division of Maritime Promotion, referred to this effort as a "multi-modal concept of transportation," the heart of which is containerization. He contrasted the inefficiency of traditional methods which require some 15 days to unload cargo with modern techniques wherein land-based cranes are used to load and discharge a container every three minutes, or a full ship in a day.

By applying the "land-bridge" principle, he explained, containerized merchandise can be loaded from trains aboard ship in Japan, reloaded on trains at West Coast docks, transported by rail to Atlantic ports, and thence shipped to Europe, Bypassing the Panama Canal saves two weeks. The same concept could be used in transporting cotton from inland centers in the U.S. to Far East and European mills.

Hereford is Host City For West Texas Meeting

Frank Ford, Republican candidate for State Representative who is opposing Rep. Bill Clayton in the 72nd Legislative District, today expressed his pleasure that Rep. Clayton has chosen Hereford as the host city for his water hearing for the entire West Texas Area. "It is an honor for our community to be chosen for this meeting," Ford said, "And I shall be at the Hereford Bull Barn to personally welcome Mr. Clayton to Hereford upon his arrival."

Although I intend to open a clean, hard-hitting campaign on the issues very soon," continued Ford, "There will be a complete moratorium on politicking, so far as I am concerned, on October 5, the day

Q - Can I buy a particular house I would like under the G.I. loan program even though the seller insists on getting more than the VA appraisal price?

A - Yes you may, provided that you are willing to pay in cash the difference between the amount on the Veterans Administration Certificate of Appraisal and the actual selling price of the house.

Q - I would like very much to serve as a volunteer in a VA hospital but my free time is limited to a couple of hours during the middle of the day, is there a need for volunteer help during these odd hours?

A - There certainly is. The Veterans Administration Voluntary Service can use help just about any hour of the day, any day of the week, generally between 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. There are all kinds of jobs to be done. Check with your local VA hospital. Your interest and assistance will be most appreciated.

Obtaining adequate water for the future growth of our area is far too important for it to become embroiled in partisan politics, and Mr. Clayton and I will work together on this, regardless of which of us is called upon to represent the people of this district in the next legislature."

"Following the completion of this hearing, perhaps Mr. Clayton will be able to take a few days with me for a series of radio debates, open to all questions from the people, in each county of the district," Ford concluded, "As healthy competition is the key to good government, and the people of this district have expressed their desire to have a choice in this race."

Gov. Connally Sets National Highway Week

AUSTIN -- Governor John Connally has proclaimed September 22-28 as National Highway Week in Texas.

In his official memorandum, the Governor urged citizens to devote thoughtful consideration to the contribution of highways to the lives of all Texans, mindful of the continuing need for more and improved highway facilities.

Theme of this year's observance is "Highways Are for People," pointing up the vital role played by highways in today's society. "Virtually everything Texans buy, sell or consume moves at one time or another over the highway system," the Governor's message noted.

"Highways afford broad avenues by which Texans everywhere may move toward a better, fuller life in the enjoyment of the freedom of mobility that the highway system affords.

"The Texas Highway Department builds, maintains and operates facilities for the benefit of all Texans in every part of the State, fully dedicated to the fact that "Highways Are for People."

The Texas Good Roads Association will undertake general sponsorship of the State-wide Highway Week observance.

The Texas Highway Commission will participate in four major regional gatherings during Highway Week, sponsored by chambers of commerce.

The first of the meetings is scheduled for San Antonio at noon September 25, with a similar meeting planned in Houston that evening. The following day, a regional Highway Week observance will take place in Dallas, followed by an evening gathering in Fort Worth.

Each of the meetings is expected to attract civic leaders from a wide geographic area.

GATHERING PEPPERS--Some sixty hands moved into the 90 acre pepper field belonging to L.A. Green Friday morning and filled four trucks for the Louisiana Strawberry Company in McAllen where Green sold the vegetable to be sold on the fresh vegetable market. Green has grown peppers in this area for the past 10 years, however, this is one of the best crops he has raised. He estimates some 225 acres being grown within the county.

In addition, many Highway Department employees will participate in other special events marking Highway Week in local communities.

Bronze Plaque Presented Trinity Baptist Youth

At the Annual Llanos Alton Youth Association held at the Plains Baptist Assembly near Floydada Monday, youths from the Trinity Baptist Church of Muleshoe were presented a bronze plaque for attendance. Through the year, a banner is presented monthly to each of two churches for the most attendance. At the end of the year of activity, the two churches, one a large and the other a small church, are presented a bronze plaque. This is decided on the basis of whom has received a banner most often during the year of activity. The Baptist Church from Circleback was the smaller church to receive the attendance plaque. Alvin Walker, son of Rev. and Mrs. Troy Walker, served as president of the Association for the past two years, however, he resigned to attend college. New officers elected include Donna Crume, Bula, president; Elaine Tiller, Bula, vice president; Carolyn Brown, Friona, secretary and Donita Kelly, Earth, song leader, with Becky Sain, Muleshoe, being elected pianist. Mrs. Walker said, "We had a marvelous rally, the sermons in song by the Rev. Vance Zinn were outstanding and several area churches participated in the programs."

Ask Amy
BY AMY ADAMS

A FOOL IS NO FUN WITHOUT FRIENDS

Dear Amy: We had a lovely pool built this summer and we hoped that our close neighbors would join us and enjoy it. Instead, they have become distant and haven't come over once. I told my husband to invite them. He says that I should invite them. Well, neither one of us have, and they haven't come. Is it too late now?

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Sloan: The neighbors probably feel you don't want their company now that they have been replaced by a pool. Hustle up that invitation. A pool is no fun without friends!

Dear Amy: I read your column constantly but I don't agree with your advice to the boy of 25 going with the girl of 16. I have a son who was his age and married my daughter-in-law (who was 15). I did not interfere, and today they are married 27 years and I am a grandmother to three and a great-grandmother to four. My daughter-in-law is a wonderful girl and she photographed a picture to me as the "best mother-in-law" a girl ever had. My son is in the army 30 years and I only see him once a year as he is always too far from home. Right now he is in Kentucky and the mother who wrote you should be glad that her son is near her instead of interfering in his life. The mother should be happy instead of "Heart sick."

Mrs. Bertha E. Curanery
Dear Mrs. Curanery: You are all fortunate that everything worked out so well, but it rarely does when a girl of 15 or 16 settles down to marriage. Very few girls, if any, are ready for marriage at such a tender age.

Dear Amy: My mother always curses, and I don't like it. She aggravates me when she does, and I can't say anything to her about it. I think it is a bad example for my brother and me. When we grow older, we may just pick it up. What can I do to stop her cursing? I'm 11 years old.

Dear Jeannie: Your dismay at the language your mother uses is understandable. Tell her exactly what you have told me, and I should think that mother would think twice before she curses again. If mother lacks the ability to control herself, your own strong will-power and distance for this sort of language will prevent you from acquiring this bad habit.

Dear Amy: We are a crowd of girls from 2nd Street. Our problem is not a major one but it burns us up. There is this fellow from our neighborhood whose name is Norman. He had a reputation as a fighter and drinker. Also, there is a girl who was in our crowd who never had anything nice to say about him. In fact, she said she could never even be half interested in anyone like him. Well, she started dating this guy and completely ignored us. We all miss this young man later and believe me, he is nothing like his reputation at all. About 8 months ago, this girl and guy were married. The whole problem is that I have fallen in love with him. Even though he is married, I would still like to go out with him. I would even be content to have him one or two nights a week without his wife knowing or finding out. I understand that they are happily married, but I don't care. I just want a chance to show him how much I love him!

In Love
Dear In Love: No decent self-respecting girl would entertain the thoughts that you do. Furthermore, when selfishness and greed were passed out, you must have stood in line twice! Grow up and find someone else. There are enough boys around so that you don't have to interfere in a young married couple's happiness.

What's My Line?

M. L. Carpenter; Bailey County Pioneer

Land was reasonable in the young days in Bailey County. When Morton Lewis Carpenter first came to the County to buy land in 1924, he found 160 acres of land in the southern part of the county and bought it from A. X. Erickson. His price for the new land was $16 per acre.

The Carpenters were old-time residents of Wise County where the elder members of the family had pioneered. Morton Lewis Carpenter and his family moved to Bailey County in January, 1927.

Early memories of the Carpenter family are not complete without the recollection of moving three wagon loads of lumber from Floydada to southern Bailey County. It included lumber for a three room box house and a windmill. They had two teams and wagons hired. In crossing the Plains, they had to cross a lake near Spade (in Lamb County). Fourteen-year-old Lloyd Carpenter was driving one of the teams. His father told him to follow another man's wagon tracks. So, while pulling the last load over the graded road through the lake a big iron gray mule slipped and fell into the water when the edge of the road caved in. The mule was dangling partly into the water but holding himself up by his back feet. Morton Lewis Carpenter released the mule first and got him pulled out of the lake, then all the lumber had to be carried off the wagon to the edge of the lake, and the wagon had to be pulled out.

The same night twins were born to the pioneer family, August 10, 1928, a hail storm ruined all the crops for the year. In 1935 or 1936, Morton Lewis Carpenter built a five room adobe house. The family had outgrown the original three room house and the dugout he later dug proving unsatisfactory because of "waterdogs and such" prompted the adobe house.

The Carpenters remember that only a few families settled here when they first moved to the county and the country was all open range. The family had quite a time keeping cattle from eating their crops. One year they hauled their maize crop to Paducah (Tex.) which was about 200 miles away. There had been a severe drought at Paducah and maize was bringing about $2 a ton compared to $6 a ton in the county. The old Model "T" would get hot pulling the load and they would have to stop and let it cool before going on. Going up the hills in the Caprock country, Harold and Lloyd would have to put rocks behind the wheels as their father drove it a little at a time. In an untimbered country, fuel for burning was at a premium. The family picked up Mesquite grubs, bare grass stumps, cow chips and corn cobs (when available). One year the snow was so bad they ran out of fuel that had already been gathered, so they burned maize heads.

As the homeplace of the Morton Lewis Carpenter family is one mile from the New Mexico line, they had more New Mexico neighbors than Texas neighbors. They attended church at Roller, which was then a school in New Mexico.

School for the Carpenter children was six miles away from home, so they rode horseback to school. Lloyd later picked up area school children with a horse and buggy.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Lewis Carpenter are Lloyd Galveston Carpenter, Harold Lewis Carpenter, Gertrude May (Carpenter) Warren, Willis Morton Carpenter, Newell Clyde Carpenter, Bonnie Ruth Carpenter, Donald Ray Carpenter, Eva Dell Carpenter, Hazel Marie (Carpenter) Bradley, Jimmy Doyle Carpenter and Bobby Gene Carpenter.

This only touches on some of the pioneer experiences of such as the Morton Lewis Carpen family. All families who moved to Bailey County prior to 1938 have such stories. Many of these stories will be incorporated in the History of Bailey County and its Pioneers which will be published later this year by the Muleshoe Publishing Company.

Time shortens with each day to get your story into the Muleshoe Publishing Co. so it can be included in the book. You are urged to contact the company as soon as possible so you will not regret in the future that your family is not included.

It is not the intention of Muleshoe Publishing Co. to leave any pioneer family out of the book. If you are a pioneer, you have a story to tell. It need not be great or lengthy, and the story itself will be written by staff members of the Muleshoe Publishing Company. Your cooperation is needed and appreciated.

Time Saving Suggestions

Boning chicken thighs is a snap. There's just one large bone to cope with, Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist points out. To bone, cut along thigh side inside of thigh to the bone, slashing thigh the length of the bone. Holding one end of the bone, scrape the meat away until bone is free. Cut off round pieces of cartilage. Now you have a "cutlet" to cook fat or roll.

A supply of boned chicken thighs in the freezer is pure gold for family meals on a busy day or a spontaneous party when guests drop in, reminds the Texas A&M University specialist.

Wrap the chicken cutlets in heavy-duty aluminum freezer foil, making packets the size of family servings for convenience. Press the foil well to remove air and seal edges by more pressing. Label and store.

Mrs. Clyatt suggests using the deboned thighs in mini-rolls on rolls. They're great for brunch, lunch, quick dinners, snacks or informal buffets.

Sprinkle boned chicken thighs with salt, roll, fasten with small skewer or stuffing pins. Sauté in butter in skillet for 20 to 25 minutes, turning occasionally. Serve on long rolls. Or sauté flattened cutlets in a skillet for 20 minutes, turning once, and serve on burger buns. Serve with mustard, relish or hot barbecue sauce, she suggests.

4-H To Honor Former Members At Chicago

SPECIAL - The 4-H Clubs claim 26 million alumni, according to the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H in all 50 states. Four-H seeks to honor a segment of these alumni each year through the national 4-H Alumni Recognition awards program. The program, set up 16 years ago, is sponsored by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation.

Outstanding men and women are singled out for county, state and national recognition. Appropriate awards are presented at special events.

One such event is the annual national 4-H Alumni banquet held in Chicago during the National 4-H Congress, December 4. This year four men and four women will be presented with a gold 4-H key, the national award. They previously had won the state alumni 4-H plaque award.

Persons names for county honors this year will be presented with an alumni pin. The number is expected to exceed the 2,214 who received a county award in 1967.

In order to be considered for special recognition, the man or woman must be made known to the county extension office. The individual should have performed some outstanding service to youth and the community.

Carrying over the 4-H ideals into adult life also is considered. This means doing one's best, being considerate of others and performing a useful service. Noteworthy achievement in business or profession also is recognized by the award judges.

Residents who are former 4-H members, or know anyone who is, are invited to submit names and obtain more information about the program from the County Extension office.

Products, Methods Display Set for Annual Field Day

Castor products, plants and cultural methods will be displayed on September 12 at the 12th Annual Field Day of the High Plains Research Foundation. Castor production has had a constant increase in acreage in the High and South Plains of Texas for several years. The area now produces almost all of the castors grown in the United States. More than 85,000 acres of castors are being grown in the High Plains in 1968. Farmers who are adding castor production to their farm plans, and those who have been producers, are interested in learning more about this crop and this should add to their interest in the display.

The Castor Commodity Committee of the Board of Trustees assisted by others interested in castors, will conduct the display in the seed production laboratory. Hosts will explain the uses and production methods from 1 to 4:30 p.m., September 12. Three different hosts will be on duty each hour.

Don Marble, South Plains, Chairman of the Castor Committee, has called a meeting of the committee for 3 p.m., September 3. The committee will review the current castor research program, plan their recommendations for the 1969 research program and make final plans for their exhibit. Members of the Committee are: John Anderson, Plainview; Earl Gene Beach, Cotton Center; Roy Davis, Lubbock; Dr. Wayne Domingo, LaMesa, California; Bob Francy, Happy; Homer Garrison, Plainview; Don Marble, South Plains; Wayne Martin, Plainview; Martin Schur, Plainview; and Jim Wedel, Muleshoe. The committee will have the assistance at the Castor display of Delbert Langford, Don Sanders and Dr. D.L. Van Horn, all of Plainview.

Observing the traditional West Texas hospitality has been a part of Field Day programs for many years. A group of representatives of Civil Clubs, and Chambers of Commerce from cities in the area greet Field Day visitors as they arrive. They welcome each guest, give them information on the tours or displays they desire to see first, then escort them to the registration tent to enter their names for the attendance drawings and receive the printed program from members of the Young Homemakers Chapters.

ABBY DALTON, who made her first big hit as the nurse in "Hiennesey" series with Jackie Cooper as the Navy doctor, is now with the "Jonathan Winters Show." Abby Dalton has as much to do in this series as she had in past programs—which is a shame as she is an excellent comedienne. She is happily married to Jack Smith, who is not in a show business, and they have three preschool age children.

Apparently the Mexicans agree with what our servicemen have been saying all along -- if you're old enough to fight your old enough to vote.

It was surprising for me to learn from a recent magazine article that in our country 5 per cent of wildcat oil wells drilled result in oil production.

I have made small investments in several wildcat prospects and have yet to hit a dry hole. Of course I have never struck any oil either, but I own enough salt water that if I had a place to put it I could start my own ocean.

Water Plans Announcement

Proposed water legislation will be made public in September. Representative Bill Clayton of the House Interim Water Study Committee of the Texas Legislature announced at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting in Wichita Falls that proposed legislation authorizing the formation of Master Water Districts will be made public at press conferences to be held in Lubbock and Amarillo early in September.

Following public release of the proposal, public hearings will be held in Longview and in Herford. The public hearings are needed, according to Clayton, to determine the thinking of the people affected by the plan. The public will be given the opportunity to express its wishes in the form of their water import agency.

Representative Clayton indicated that after the public hearings were completed and redrafting of the proposed legislation, a bill will probably be introduced in the Texas Legislature during its next regular session starting in January. The Herford hearing is now scheduled for 9:30 A.M. October 5 at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn. It should be completed by 4:30 P.M. The East Texas meeting is scheduled for September 6-7, Tejas Village at Lake of the Pines. The East Texas and West Texas meetings will be followed by a hearing in Austin probably in November.

Vietnam News

as reported by Marine Corps Combat Correspondents and edited by Gy. Sgt. Bob Montgomery

A former Viet Cong (VC) soldier now works with Marines in the same area where he used to fight them.

Huynh Can, 35, surrendered under the "Chieu Hoi" program to "help protect the South Vietnamese people and assist the Marines in locating VC."

The Chieu Hoi program enables former enemy soldiers to work in support of the South Vietnamese government.

Can, attached to the 3rd Bn. Twenty-seventh Marine Regiment, 1st Marine Division, went on patrol, he volunteers to walk point. His previous experience in planting booby traps enables him to detect the explosive devices.

Recently, when six Marines were ambushed and pinned down by hostile fire, Can immediately volunteered to go with a reaction platoon to help the Leathernecks.

One of Can's friends, Cpl. Terry P. Henson, 25, Kent Wash., said "Can has unusual vigor and he really likes to get out in the field."

Can also tours the surrounding villages with the battalion's civil affairs unit and gives speeches, telling the villagers that the Marines are here to help, urging them to tell on VC to surrender under the Chieu Hoi program.

A 15 year-old North Vietnamese (NVA) soldier who had been in South Vietnam only two days, gave himself up to Leathernecks of the 2nd Bn., First Marine Regiment west of Khe Sanh.

While on patrol the Marines spotted five enemy soldiers about 300 meters away. An artillery mission was called and three of the NVA were killed.

When the Marines searched the area for the other two they discovered one of them hiding in tall elephant grass. He was wearing a green uniform and carrying a new gas mask. He had no weapon. The NVA was taken to the battalion command post where he was given food and water.

The North Vietnamese soldier explained he was forced to fight by his superiors. He told the Marines he was 15-years old and didn't want to fight.

"It looked like a prehistoric monster," claimed Lance Cpl. Thomas D. Nicholas, Miami, Fla., of H&S Co., 2nd Enb., Third Marine Regiment.

Nicholas was referring to a lizard. Lizards in Vietnam are common. Some measure up to eight inches long. "Large" lizards might measure up to a foot and a half.

Nicholas met the granddaddy of all lizards...it measured about five feet in length!

"The front part was in the bushes, So I went looking into the bushes, and we found it. He sneaked and showed his teeth."

"We turned and showed our rear!"

With a five-foot lizard guarding the command post, it is doubtful if enemy troops will gain entrance...course, the Marines might find it difficult in getting out, too!

One of the bases of newspaper reading these days is the number of people who write about grave problems as if they were writing about a baseball game.

Uncontrolled Pests Problem

COLLEGE STATION, -- Insect pests on beef and dairy cattle will do only as much damage as the producer allows, Phillip J. Hamman, Texas A&M University Extension entomologist, says.

Blood feeders or "biting flies" have been giving ranchers more problems during this wet, insect-favorable weather, and fly control may insure more profit by reducing meat and milk loss, stopping disease transmittal and energy losses.

Horn flies are one of the most bothersome and prevalent insect blood feeders. Texas Control measures for the horn fly depend upon good management practices. Fresh manure is the medium in which the eggs are deposited, and by keeping manure from collecting in the area, the pest can be partially controlled.

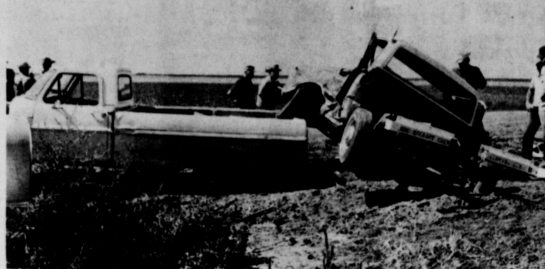

The horn fly is usually found in great numbers on the backs of animals, but on hot days the flies will move to the belly, sides and face to escape the heat. Texas does not have trouble with the fly, but horn flies which are on the face to be close to stopping disease transmittal and energy losses from the nose and mouth are often mistaken for the face fly. The "biting flies" also include such pests as the stable fly, horse fly and the common mosquito. The incidence of diseases such as pinkeye is many times increased because of the presence of these blood feeders on the faces of cattle.

Livestock insecticides used as wettable powders, soluble powders, ready-mixed pour-ons, emulsifiable concentrates, smears, dusts and aerosols can give temporary control of blood feeding insects, but the producer should be ready to retreat animals when needed.

To control the bothersome pests, Hamman suggests using the recommended insecticides listed in MF-691, "Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry." Copies of the publication can be obtained at any county agricultural agent's office or by writing to the Department of Agricultural Information, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843.

Big business executives get bonuses when their companies make much money but rarely get cuts in salary when the profits run low.

PICKUPS COLLIDE -- This intersection crash around 11 a.m. Wednesday sent two men to West Plains Hospital. Dr. Jerry Gleason, driver of a northbound pickup, and Phillip Brockman, a Tide Company employee, hit at what is estimated to be near the center of the unmarked intersection of a farm road two miles north and two miles east of Clay's Corner. Dr. Gleason was treated and released and Brockman remains under treatment at the hospital. The accident was investigated by State Highway Patrolman Robert Shedd, Farwell. The Brockman vehicle is shown with the left front wheel resting just inside the tailgate of the Gleason pickup.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm applauds the possibility of a new invention.

Dear editor:

I was riding my tractor down to the mail box the other day, some people may think that's a sign of laziness but they don't understand motors, it's not good for an engine to sit idle too long, it ought to be cranked up and run every once in a while, and on the way back I ran over a glass bottle somebody had thrown from his car and cut a gash in my left rear tire.

It wasn't bad, but I figured I'd gotten all the rust out by then and parked the tractor on the hell where I keep it in case the battery is still low the next time I want to start it--some people with weak batteries are short-circuited they park on level ground and invariably have to be pulled off--and pulled onto a newspaper I'd been saving and by one of those coincidental quirks the first article I read was about glass bottles. According to it, a university professor has received a $50,000 grant from the government to invent a bottle that dissolves. He claims he can make one that, when you're through with it, you break and it begins to melt and in 24 hours is gone. Nothing left but a wet puddle.

I recommend that he hurry up.

Already, the article pointed out, Americans throw away 26 billion bottles a year. In numerals, if you've got enough zeroes in your shop and you're bound to have it, you want to function in a society with a national debt as big as ours, that's 26,000,000,000. In ten years it's 260,000,000,000, in a hundred years 2,600,000,000,000 and in a thousand years... well, that's asking too many zeroes of even the New York Times, not to mention The Journals. A newspaper has other things to do besides stockpiling zeroes, and besides there are any spare ones around Washington will snap them up.

At any rate, I hope that professor succeeds, not only with bottles but with car windshields, and besides there are, etc. If he does, that $50,000 will be the best money the government ever invested. Why it costs more than that to clean up the broken glass after one small riot in just a medium-size city not big enough to make television.

It'll be real progress when you can have a riot on Saturday night and by Monday morning all the glass has melted and disappeared into the storm sewers.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Agricultural Workers Conference

There'll be a family get-together at Texas A&M University, August 26-30, and it will be a large one. The occasion is the state conference for all employees of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The theme for the conference, said Extension Director J. E. Hutchison, is "Working Toward Perfection in Extension Educational Programs."

In announcing plans for the conference, he noted that participants, including county agents as well as area and state based specialists, would have an opportunity to select and attend three special program sessions. The 23 sessions will cover many major subject-matter areas and were planned not only to present new information in the various fields but also to illustrate a variety of extension programming and educational techniques which have been successfully used.

The director said morning general sessions during the conference would be held in Shasta Hall and would feature at least one outstanding speaker. They include Extension Director J. B. Clear, University of Illinois, W. M. Bost, director, Campfire Girls, Inc., and Dean H. G. Kunkel, College of Agriculture, Texas A&M.

The special training sessions, seven on Tuesday and eight on both Wednesday and Thursday, will account for the afternoon programs.

The annual Extension Dinner will be held on Thursday evening following a meeting of Alpha Zeta Chapter, Epsilon Sigma, national honorary Extension fraternity.

During the conference, the 1968 Knapp-Porter Awards will be made by the Service to two persons who exemplify the spirit of the two families which the awards honor. Dr. Seman A. Knapp is known as the father of the Extension Service. The first demonstration, established on the Walter C. Porter Farm near Terrell in Kaufman County in 1903, was the forerunner of a method of teaching that is now in use throughout the free world.

The conference will conclude with the Friday morning session which will feature Director Hutchison's annual message to the Extension family.

Abstinence or Else
"So you attribute my longevity to abstinence from alcohol?" inquired the inquiring reporter.

And the centenarian answered, "Yes, my wife would have killed me if I had touched a drop."
