A Huge Cotton Crop Being Predicted For South Plains

K. N. Clapp, regional manager of Anderson-Clayton Co., with offices in Lubbock has had his pencil and pad out again, and gave us some lowdown figures on the size of the cotton crop here on the South Plains. Let us state right here before you say it is just guess work, that K. N. comes pretty close to the figures he gives out.

Mr. Clapp gives Terry-Youkum 3000 bales more than last year. Last year it was 50,000, this year 53,000. He also brought to light a new champion cotton producing county, Hockley, laying north of Terry, Lubbock and Lynn have heretofore mostly dominated the top place both on the South Plains, as well as in the state.

Mr. Clapp raised the South Plains yield to an all time high of a possible 1,102,000 bales. As to acreage, the total is 2,077,000 acres of which 1,161,000 is dry and 262,000 acres is irrigated.

Below we give Mr. Clapp's figures for the possible ginnings this year and the production last year:

The Runoff Ballot Is A Short One

Perhaps one of the shortest runoff ballots in the history of Texas, and Terry county in particular, is coming up Saturday, Aug. 28. The ballots have already been finished and delivered to the County Clerk Monday so that any absentees might begin voting.

There is only one state race, Coke Stevenson of Kimble county and Lyndon Johnson of Blanco county. Stevenson ran considerably ahead of Congressman Johnson in the first primary, and deposters say he will split the Peddy vote about 50-50 with Johnson.

This next most interesting race so far as the 30th Senatorial district is concerned will be a battle for ballots between the present incumbent Sterling J. Parrish of Lubbock and Kilmer B. Corbin, Lamesa, present county Judge of Dawson county. Corbin led in the first primary by about 1000 votes, but there were two other candidates from Lubbock county. It will be interesting to see how their votes will be split between Parrish and Corbin. The other two men polled about 23,000 votes.

There is only one county-wide See Runoff Page 12

Sen. Parrish Launches Runoff Campaign

State Senator Sterling Parrish, of Lubbock, launched his runoff campaign Monday with the statement that he is confident the people of the 30th District will return him to office for a second term. He emphasized that he is seeking re-election solely on the basis of his qualifications and the record he made during his first term in the senate. He also pointed out that he is proud of the fact that none of his three opponents in the first primary questioned his legislative record.

Parrish, who led his runoff opponent in 13 counties on July 24, predicted that his home county will give him an overwhelming endorsement in the second primary. He said he based this statement on the fact that two other Lubbock County residents, who split the home loyalty vote, were eliminated in the first primary.

The legislator stated that he will continue to conduct his campaign on a high plane and will not indulge in mudslinging or dirty politics.

"Although attempts are being made to divert this campaign See Senator Parrish Page 12

Gore & Son Expect Big Grain Crop

Dropped over at the Gore & Son Elevator Monday, and while we found everything quiet along the Potomac, it was the quiet just before the storm when grain begins to move this fall. We found the manager, Archie Chapman on the job and with the usual optimistic smile. Alfred Gore also soon stepped in to join the chat.

About the first question was, "what do you think of the chances of the grain crop in the trade area?" Mr. Chapman believes that a fair yield will be made without rain, but he added: "If we could get a general rain in the next few days, I believe we would have one of the best grain crops on record." It is generally understood that while Terry stands way down the ladder in cotton production on the south Plains, it usually stands second or first in maize yields.

Archie went on to state that grain was suffering some for moisture right at present, on account of extremely hot weather and wind that was sapping the moisture badly. But if we can get some good rains and with the cool nights coming on, he thinks we will have our premium crop of maize.

Ches Gore, senior member of the firm spends a great deal of his time on the irrigated farm and feeding operations near Lovington, N. M., and his son, Claude, junior member, spends practically all his time over there, while Archie and Alfred look after the elevator business here.

This place has always done a good business since their establishment here a number of years ago, and we predict their future even brighter. And the Cokes were on the house for the Old He and wife.

Cooperative Hears Mahon Praise Lyntegar

Some 4,000 farmers representing some ten counties, met Tuesday at Tahoka, to dedicate their $70,000 building, headquarters for the Lyntegar electric co-operative, better known as Rural Electrification Association. Congressman George Mahon, who has co-operated with the farmers in every way in helping them get started was principal speaker.

Originally, the association represented only three counties, hence the name, (Lynn, Terry, Garza) Lyntegar being a part of the name of the three counties. This association started only ten See Cooperative Hears Page 12

Price Outstanding Lineman At Abilene Coaching School

Jerrell Price, one of the greatest tackles ever to play football for the local high school, was named outstanding lineman by Texas high school coaches at the coaching school conducted last week at Abilene.

Testifying as to his ability as one of the states outstanding defensive players was the fact that he made or assisted in the making of 34 tackles during the three quarters he played. This was more than two-thirds of the tackles made by his team.

Local people attending the North-South football game which climaxed the coaching school were Coaches Kellow and Farris of the high school staff, James Burnett, jr., high coach, and Clyde Jr. Bond, Donald Price, Alton Martin, Mack Ross, Jacky Worsham, Toby Greer, former coach, Tom Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Price and Mr. and Mrs. Gay Price. The North and South football teams were composed of star high school players from all over the state. The North players won.

Rain And Hail Hits The County

Considerable damage was done by hail last Monday afternoon in the Southeast portion of the county. Reported heaviest damage was about ten miles east of town and in the Union vicinity. Some estimate 50 per cent loss to cotton in a few sections of that area.

At Union a two inch rain accompanied the hail. The Wellman community also received heavy rainfall.

Didn't Want Rain That Badly

This week a farmer in another part of the county was being told about a fellow that lost 100 acres of irrigated cotton by hail in South Terry. It was reported that the cotton was waist high, full of bolls, and was stripped of foliage and some of the bolls.

The farmer being told the story, sorter scanned the sky and remarked, "I need a rain pretty bad, but I don't need one that bad."

Mrs. Perry Anthony and daughter Gwendolyn of Plains returned Wednesday from Crosbyton where they had been visiting Mrs. Anthony's sister.

Goodpasture To Treble Elevator Capacity

There are so many men at work on the treble enlargement of the Grady Goodpasture elevators that you have to keep dodging guys hauling in steel, bulldozing dirt, dragging dirt and caliche out of pits, and in general getting ready to build seventeen more concrete bins. They now have seven, one having gone to the bad last year.

These new series of elevators will stretch out westward from the ones now in place. We had an idea they would stand alongside the others. Grady Goodpasture, the owner, stated that it was his intention to build them before this but materials could not be had, especially steel. Now steel is laying everywhere, gravel is being unloaded and concrete is stored. The contractor has promised the job in 60 days.

Speaking of the contractor, or rather the superintendent of construction, he has had years of experience in building concrete grain elevators. When he starts actual erection, he has enough crews that the work never stops, as it is difficult to wait to long after concrete begins to set to run another course. The work might prove faulty and dangerous.

Grady stated to a newsmen that the old ones were never painted or really finished on the outside. But when the new series of bins are completed, the painters and others will be called in to finish the job. His idea right now is to have an open house with customers and friends invited when the work is all finished and everything cleaned up. That time, he stated, will probably be between seasons next spring.

Not to many years ago, we can See Goodpasture To Page 12

An explosion occurred in the home of L. G. Grimm and family Tuesday afternoon of this week. The explosion, caused by leaking Butane gas in a kitchen stove burned Mr. and Mrs. Grimm and their two small children, Bobby and Linda Ann.

The four received third degree burns and were hospitalized immediately. Their older daughter, Joyce, was in the living room at the time and did not receive any burns. All except Mrs. Grimm had been released from the hospital Thursday.

Mahon Working On Maize Loan

Congressman George Mahon reported to the Herald this week that he had personally appealed to the Secretary of Agriculture, Charles Brannan, to use the full force of his office to make effective the Government loan program on combine maize. He explained that much of the West Texas crop was not yet beginning to move and that plans should be perfected now to avert millions of dollars in losses to West Texas farmers.

Foreign demand for American grain has receded and the price of grain has sagged. Mahon said that some Central Texas farmers were already selling their grain at 50c per hundredweight below the loan rate.

Under the law the producer is entitled to a loan of 90 per cent of parity on his combine maize, but loans are dependent upon, the availability of storage, and the law will not be effective in storage arrangements cannot be made. Adequate freight cars and storage were not available during the war See Mahon Working Page 12

School Bonds Released By State Board

According to Supt. S. P. Cowan, $101,975 worth of school bonds held by the State of Texas have been released to the Brownfield schools for re-sale at a lower rate of interest. This will save the school $27,000.

It has taken much effort to get the bonds released. Gene Gunn, president of the school board, and Supt. Cowan met with the state Board in Junction, Texas, in June. In July, Burton Hackney, Gene Gunn, and Supt. Cowan met the State Board again in San Antonio. In the meantime, the board sent a representative to Brownfield to observe the situation.

Monday, August 9, the state board met in Austin and agreed to release the bonds after receiving additional information from the local school board.

Football Team To Go To Camp

The Brownfield football team will go to Cash, Oklahoma, for a ten-day camp. Money for the camp has been raised by the business men and football fans.

Coach Tracy Kellow and Assistant Coach Nowell will accompany the 35 boys.

While we Brownfield people are just a bit averse to the word "boom," nevertheless, the old town seems to be getting off to a nice growth on the last half of 1948. There has of late been considerable dealings in real estate, some of which has gone through, but papers are not on record, some of the deals are known to have gone through, and the new owners taken possession.

It is also believed that the prospective new oil pool northeast of town is having something to do with the movement of real estate, for some of the traders are known to be interested in the No. 1 Hinson oil well. Perhaps there are some that we have not heard of, or are only in prospect.

Several days ago we heard that Brady Courts on Lubbock Road had changed hands, the buyer being an Amarillo man interested in oil. About the same time we heard that a San Antonio oil man had an option on the Rainbow Courts located almost across Lubbock Ave. from Brady Courts. Since then, we learn the deal has been closed. Evidently these people want housing for their employees.

Also noticeable lately is the amount of piping that is being unloaded here by various companies, to be carried to the several oil fields nearby. So far there has been no signs put up to indicate the owners of the tens of thousands of feet of oil well piping. But evidently it is owned by some one with cash. Of course one could visit the courthouse and find who holds the lease to certain grounds. The main thing however, is that the companies are here with the goods and are welcome additions to our city.

There is also a persistent report that a 26 room apartment is to be built up about the end of the paving on Broadway. The First Baptist church is now in a $200,000 expansion program; the Goodpasture Grain elevator additions will perhaps run around $100,000. The Treadaway-Daniell Hospital expansion program will cost upwards of $60,000 for the building alone.

There are numerous other lesser building planned or now under construction that will probably run to the $400,000 mark. Yep, the old town is really taking on something that other places might term a boom.

By the way, we understand that the owner of one of the courts got around $60,000 and took near $30,000 profit. The other sold for $15,000 profit, we understand. Numerous residences are under construction.

Hail Destroys A Lot Of Cotton

Sunday afternoon hail hit an area of crops in the Lahey community with bad results. Then Monday afternoon an even larger area was hit in South Terry, which was wiped out. One man had 100 acres of irrigated cotton that was waist high, which was said to be almost a total loss.

Maize and other feed crops in that section were also badly hit, the foliage being badly split and cut. There was a bare sprinkle in town Sunday, not enough to gauge. There was 20 inch Monday afternoon, with a lot of thunder and lightning.

Owners Urged To Sign Up For Paving

Atty. Bill McGowan stated last week that while a majority of property owners whose property abuts streets being or going to be paved, had been in and signed up for paving, there were some that had not.

He urges those who have not signed up for the paving to drop into his office immediately and do so.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Eubanks and daughters, Vivian and Billie, of Happy visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Eubanks this week.

We note that a Blanco county ranchman has offered to shear candidate Coke Stevenson's goats free of charge, and let him (Coke) get back to his campaigning, providing Coke will tell whether or not he is for the Taft-Hartley law. To be perfectly frank, we believe that is the main thing that is hurting the Stevenson campaign right now, and we think the people are entitled to know how he stands on that measure. However, Coke may be holding this one thing to spring on his opponent the last minute, and if he does, perhaps he'll not only have his goats sheared, but will get Lyndon Johnson's goat at the same time. At the same time, some of the Stevenson enthusiasts are trying to make much of what a Tech college professor said in a book he wrote several years ago, in which he stated that Johnson was an ardent new dealer, in his campaign for the senate back in 1941. Also that he had the endorsement of Henry Wallace, then vice-president. He was also endorsed by others as well high in the FDR administration, including Secretary Knox, a Republican, but the speaker left off all that. Wallace. We do not believe that Coke himself would stoop to that kind of campaign. There are poor tactics on both sides.

Elanree Wallace wants us to turn over Berlin and western Europe to the tender mercies of angelic Joe Stalin. And we suppose at the same time the grinning boy with the shovel teeth would want us to turn the distribution of the Marshall Plan funds over to V. M. Molotov. Well, at least the distribution would be little trouble, just transferred from Washington to the Kremlin. That Wallace boy has about as much common sense as a mule's daddy.

That President Truman flatly refused to turn over the records in several departments at Washington, particularly the Commerce Department, over which Wallace presided, comes as no surprise. For some time folks have been led to believe that many inclined to be disloyal to the USA, were being shielded by the higher up, both under the FDR and HST administrations. Of course the plea is that this is not "regular." The last several years many things have come to light that are not regular; rather irregular. To repeat, where there is so much smoke, there has been some fire.

Last week's Ralls Banner says it is NOT spoofing about calling a beer election with all important elections. As we understand it a beer election can only be called every two years. So, we will join up with Editor Joiner and call a beer election in every west Texas county at the November 2, election. At that time a very important measure concerning West Texas is coming up—a redistricting bill that is supposed to force redistricting whether the legislature wants it or not. If the legislature fails or refuses to redistrict after each census, then a committee must be appointed who will do the work. At the present time our own 30th senatorial district and the 106th representative district have about three or four times as many people as some in east or even central Texas. West Texans have just got to put that amendment over if we have to call a beer election in every county to do so. Of course legal beer will not carry in Terry or Crosby county, or a lot of other counties in west Texas, but maybe we can get the people all riled up and while they are at the polls maybe they will cast a vote for representation for the taxation imposed upon us.

Congress wasted a week of its two week session by introducing a bill to knock out poll tax, thus causing a Southern Senatorial filibuster. All this time should have been spent in passing some badly needed emergency measures, especially cheaper and more housing. However, congress was not altogether to blame as President Truman dumped the whole of his "civil rights" program right in the lap of congress, as a sop for minority group votes. We believe that congress, and this includes many GOP lawmakers from the north, who have really studied the matter, know it would be unconstitutional to pass such a law, but instead should be submitted to the 48 states in the form of a constitutional amendment. But precious time was wasted.

It is right interesting for Texans, especially those who were born and reared in Tennessee to watch the election returns from that state last Thursday, in which E. H. (Boss) Crump took a real beating, the first in 20 years. Crump not only handled the city of Memphis by huge majorities in recent years, but his influence was felt all over west Tennessee, and in some cases middle and east Tennessee. Some as far away as our old home county, 70 miles had begun to think Crump was invincible in Tennessee, as he had some 60,000 votes to start off with in Shelby (Memphis) county.

The great financier, Harry S. Truman, who went broke as a haberdasher wants prices to come down—all of us do. But unlike the president, we know that we can't have our cake and eat it. According to an article in the Dallas News by that matchless staff writer, Lynn Landrum, Harry wants a floor built under farm prices; under wages, and raised to 75c per hour, and a lot of labor isn't worth two-bits an hour. Then Lynn goes on and asks you a very fair question, and if you are a fair man, you will endeavor to answer it. "How can folks expect cheap housing and at the same time pay a brick layer $25 per day, and $50 for Saturday, which is overtime?" Yep, you thoroughbred new dealers can possibly answer that one.

Destructive fires are one of the nation's most unnecessary drains on both life and wealth. The USA had a fire loss of around three quarters of a billion dollars in 1947, mostly preventable. The greatest loss of life last year in any one single disaster was at Texas City, and presumably among the greatest in the destruction of property. Added to this was the destructive hurricane of Florida and the cyclones in the midwest. While insurance companies paid promptly, they operated at a loss. A number of states have allowed increases in rates, among them Texas. Something new to watch is your air conditioner, especially if out of sight. If the straw gets dry and there is a short in the motor, you may wake up to find the fan throwing blazing straw around your premises.

Another thing you Stevensonites might ask the Johnsons, who have made much of AFL endorsing Coke for the Senate: "How come your man has now been endorsed by the railroad brotherhood at Washington?"

Check Up Before You Burn Up

Austin, July 5 Before you get "all burned up" with trying to keep cool this hot weather, check your fans and cooling equipment to be sure they are fire safe.

This was the advice of Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner.

A Texan recently discovered flaming excelsior being blown over his home by an air conditioner. A short in the wiring of the system had started the fire.

In Texas fire marshals reports for May and June, $105,000 of insured losses was attributed to seven air conditioning and ventilating fires.

For commercial uses, such as office building, mercantile stores and apartment houses, Hall recommended that they have this equipment installed and checked regularly by a qualified person.

He advised home owners of air conditioning system to have such units checked each year during the summer season.

FARM QUESTION BOX

ED W. MITCHELL
Farm Advisor
General Electric Station WGY

- Q. We have bats in the organ loft of our church and would like to get rid of them. I have heard that a stuffed owl will keep them away. Is that so or is there a better remedy?
- A. A stuffed owl will sometimes scare birds but not bats. The only control I know is to fumigate to kill them and close all openings so no more can enter. Where that is not practical, you just have to put up with them.
- Q. I want to cover the roof of our house with aluminum roofing. I get the water for household use from this roof. Will the black that runs off the aluminum hurt the water?
- A. New roofs make cistern water dark and discolored from coatings or more soluble parts; water should be diverted outside till after two or three good, hard rains. I don't think the discolored water contains anything harmful.
- Q. Since family milk bill runs 300 to 350 dollars a year, we are considering buying a cow. How much should I pay for a milk cow and what breed is best? Should I buy a heifer or an old cow?
- A. I suggest you buy an old, gentle cow and get some farmer friend to select it for you and get you started. I prefer a grade Guernsey and 150 to 200 dollars should be enough to put you in the dairy business.
- Q. Would I have to fix the fence between two farms, just because the owner doesn't live there? In fact, nobody lives on the other farm at present.
- A. Not unless the adjoining property owner forces you to do it. Adjoining neighbors are each responsible for half (or a fair share) of a line fence, and either may force the other to maintain his share. If stock break out and cause damage, the negligent party is liable for the bill. Your town superintendent of roads and two assessors are a legal board to determine fence cases like yours, so call on them.
- Q. Our home milk pasteurizer instructions call for heating the milk one hour at 158-161 degrees. This is giving the milk a cooked taste and we don't get any cream. Have heard commercial plants use a lower temperature for a shorter time.
- A. I think the standard practice is 145 degrees for 30 minutes; seems to me you are cooking that milk too long.
- Q. We are considering sowing orchard grass for green silage. What do you think of the idea?
- A. Orchard grass is good for permanent pasture or in a mixed seeding for hay or as cover crop in orchards but not for an emergency hay crop or grass silage; better use sudan grass or millet.

VOTE BY COUNTIES FOR U. S. SENATOR

FARM QUESTION BOX

- Q. What is the correct temperature for a greenhouse? Is an oil burner all right for heating?
- A. Around 75 degrees is about right. Use soil heating cable in the benches and lamps overhead for heat.
- Q. Am making window boxes from pine boards and wish to paint the boxes on the inside with a preservative that is not toxic to the plants. What do you recommend?
- A. Asphalt roof paint such as they use on roll roofing; it is as neutral, harmless and waterproof as any I know.
- Q. The sides of our cesspool are coated with something. Is there anything that will eat this coating off?
- A. Nothing that I know of and besides it will probably come back soon and besides that I doubt that it makes any difference.
- Q. Can you answer this one: three years ago I planted different kinds of squash seed and the vines bore very well. But for the last two years have been unable to raise any squash. Vines are full of false blossoms. I planted good seed.
- A. False blossoms on squash, melons, and tomatoes are a serious problem and no one seems to know the cause or a good answer. They generally attribute it to weather and culture. Try using less fertilizer and plant some early and some late so bloom may hit different spells of weather.
- Q. We want to build a loafing barn for cows. How many square feet do we need for each cow, how high a ceiling, etc.?
- A. The shed should be located on a dry, well-drained spot and a concrete floor is desirable but not necessary. Allow eight or nine feet clearance because bedding and manure cut down as the season advances. Shed should face south and be closed on three sides. Allow at least 100 square feet per cow.
- Q. Is there any home test for poisonous mushrooms? I have heard of a silver spoon for prevention of food poisoning in cooking mushrooms.
- A. Don't depend on a silver spoon or any other home test. You have to know the poisonous from the safe mushrooms by appearance, not by taste or test. In other words, know your mushrooms before you eat them. Send 20 cents to Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C., for circular 1439, "Some Common Mushrooms and How to Know Them."
- Q. Can you help me out on fixing an old, damaged chimney?
- A. A good way to fix an old chimney is to take it down to roof level; inspect with an electric light and mirror on a long cord; insert stovepipe for the inside form and pour a concrete chimney inside of the old one.
- Q. Will you give me information on growing garlic?
- A. Garlic is almost like an onion and grows wherever onions grow. Buy the cloves or sets from any good seed store and plant and grow just as you do onion sets. For curing, they are braided and hung under a shed.

Oklahoma 4-H Girl Gets Screen Test

Patsy Ann Meyer, 11, Canton, Oklahoma, 4-H Club girl, is Hollywood bound for a screen test. Patsy Ann was selected as one of four girls, out of more than 8,000 entered, to try for a part in "The Green Promise," film story to be produced in Hollywood. She is shown above as she was interviewed recently in Oklahoma City by Robert Paige, co-producer of the film, who will play the role of a county agent. Mrs. Pete Meyer, Patsy Ann's mother, and Miss Maudie Thompson, home demonstration leader from Wautonga, Oklahoma, will accompany the 4-H girl to Hollywood. She will vie with Judy Stewart and Marian Freed, both from Wisconsin, and Jeanne LaDuke from Indiana, for the part in the film. "The Green Promise" relates the story of a farm family which by adopting measures recommended by the county agent and through examples set by 4-H Club members, is able to raise itself to higher living standards. It will be produced by McCarthy Productions, independent film company, formed by Glenn McCarthy, Houston businessman, Paige and Monty Collins, well-known screen writer. Paige and Collins are co-producers and Collins wrote the original screenplay. Production of the film is scheduled to start in mid-August.

Veterans News

Veterans Administration advised veterans to give their National Service Life Insurance policies periodic "three-way checks" to make certain that their NSLI programs are consistent with their plans, obligations and incomes. The "three-way check" should cover (1) beneficiaries, both principal and contingent; (2) manner in which proceeds are to be paid to beneficiaries; and (3) amount and type of NSLI in force. Many veterans fail to name new beneficiaries when they marry or when a designated beneficiary dies, VA said. If a veteran dies without naming a beneficiary, or if no designated beneficiary is alive at the time of his death, proceeds of the insurance go into his estate and are subject to inheritance taxes. Final distribution of the proceeds may not be that which the veteran would have desired. Changes in family status or family income often requires a veteran to change the method of NSLI settlement. He may elect to have his NSLI proceeds paid to his beneficiary in a lump sum or in equal monthly installments ranging from 36 to lifetime income. The type and amount of NSLI owned by a veteran should be that which best fits his pocket-book and gives him the most coverage, VA said. NSLI policies include term, ordinary life, 30-payment life, 20-payment life, endowment at age 60, endowment at age 65, and 20-year endowment.

A recent survey shows that 80.7 per cent of American adults have played cards at one time or another.

In 1948, U. S. proven crude oil reserves were at a record high level of more than 21 billion barrels.

The number of diesel locomotives in the United States increased from 1,267 before World War II to more than 5,000 in 1948.

Domestic heating in the United States uses about one in every five tons of coal mined in the country.

THE BATTLE OF THE TWO LEAGUES for all-star talent goes on snappily from year to year. This season the National has the jump on its American league rival when, it comes to the rookie contingent, but the American still has the lead in veteran headliners.

The average playing quality in both leagues this season hasn't been any too hot. It hasn't been boiling at any point. The effects of the long war, the draft and war service, haven't worn away yet. They are still in evidence by the number of ballplayers in the big leagues who are not big league ballplayers.

This applies especially to pitching, with any number of right and left arms trying in vain to locate the plate. There have been too many badly played games, too many misplays. But there are still more than a few stars.

How would you size them up? Here, at least, is a starter: American League—Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Lou Boudreau, Joe Gordon, George Kell, Ken Kellner and Allen Zarrillo. National League—Stan Musial, Ralph Kiner, Hank Sauer, Country Slaughter, Johnny Mize, Andy Fafko, Pee Wee Reese, Del Ennis, Tommy Holmes and Carl Furillo.

The National league has come up with the stronger hitters in Kiner and Sauer, two able powerhouses in human mold who can hit the ball a long way. As things look at this somewhat early date, the older league has picked the better crop of kids.

Lack Great Ballplayers But outside of Musial, the older circuit has nothing to match Williams, Boudreau and DiMaggio as great ballplayers.

Williams is the only ballplayer left with even an outside chance to crowd Ty Cobb's brilliant lifetime record of .367. Williams is up above .350 for his entire career, which means he will need two or three .400 seasons to start a threatening challenge.

one or two others who belong on the higher uplands of swat.

Williams is the last of the big hitters, the only one who might know another 400 year in his league. The National has its challenger in Musial, a great ballplayer, and another potential 400 entry. Williams and Musial are the two best we have left when it comes to moving the old ash furniture around the house.

The pitchers? You can forget about them. There isn't a pitcher today in the same class with Cy Young, Pete Alexander, Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson—especially Johnson. And no one around who is as good as Eddie Plank or Lefty Grove.

The last great pitcher the game had was Dizzy Dean. Bob Feller could have been, if it hadn't been for his outside interests, plus the war. Hal Newhouser isn't too far off. Ewell Blackwell was on his way when a sore arm bowled him over.

Golf Psychology

Golfers can't understand why their games should change so quickly and so sharply.

Golf is largely a game of mental attitude for the day. This varies sharply. There are certain days when you can concentrate on what you want to do. As Jim Barnes put it—"Concentration is thinking of the right thing—at the right time."

This means that you can remember to swing smoothly—to keep your head in place, two of the essential things to do. A day later you'll keep hurrying your backswing and then hurry your downswing. Your mental attitude is one of hurry.

"On the days I play well, or better than usual," a certain leading amateur said recently, "I feel lazy. That's a good way to feel if you want to score. Feel lazy. That doesn't mean you have to loaf walking. It means you are in no hurry to get the club head in motion. You loaf on the backswing and then loaf on the downswing."

Finish Your Backswing

This is true enough. On certain days, the golfer starts his downswing before he finishes his backswing. This is one of the game's most common faults. Unless the backswing is fully completed, the downswing is wrecked in advance.

"You looked up on that one," someone will say. Looking up wasn't the fault. Hurrying the backswing was the fault—the reason, the head was lifted. You can feel lazy on certain days. On other days you can't. You try to—but it won't work any too effectively. On certain days, you can think only of swinging the club head.

The Colorado is the second longest river in the United States.

LET FAT OR SAVE IT

Our government does not ask that we use less fat in cooking when urging homemakers to salvage kitchen fats. But when kitchen grease is no longer usable as food, strain it into your fat salvage container and sell it to your meat dealer.

G I QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. May I go to a private hospital in my home town and have Veterans Administration pay the bill?

A. If you have a service-connected disability and have received prior approval from VA to do so, you may go to a private hospital in your home town at VA expense.

Q. Can I transfer my National Service Life Insurance policy to any of the private companies?

A. No. Your NSLI is convertible to one or more of the six permanent plans issued only by Veterans Administration. These are Ordinary Life, 30-Payment Life, 20-Payment Life, Endowment at Age 60, and Endowment at Age 65.

Q. Just which veterans are entitled to hospitalization in a Veterans Administration hospital?

A. Veterans with service-connected disabilities have a top priority for VA hospital care. Veterans with nonservice-connected ailments may be hospitalized under existing law if beds are available and if they cannot afford treatment elsewhere. Peacetime veterans, members of the Reg-

Col. Taylor Named Chief of Staff

Colonel James E. Taylor of Kerens is the new chief-of-staff of the 36th Infantry Division. The announcement was made today by Major General K. L. Berry, Adjutant General of Texas. He will take over the duties of his new assignment during the coming two-weeks field training of the 36th Division at Camp Hood which begins on August 15th.

The Navarro County guardsman who represents the Sixth District in the Texas Senate entered the national guard as a private in December, 1938. As an artillery officer during World War II, he rose from the rank of second lieutenant, at the time the 36th Division was mobilized in 1940, to lieutenant colonel in command of the 131st field artillery battalion during the Italian and Southern France campaigns.

Colonel Taylor's battalion, which is credited with firing the first round by an American artillery unit on the continent of Europe at Salerno, Italy, was twice cited for outstanding performance during the war. The new division chief-of-staff wears three decorations including the silver star, bronze star and French croix de guerre.

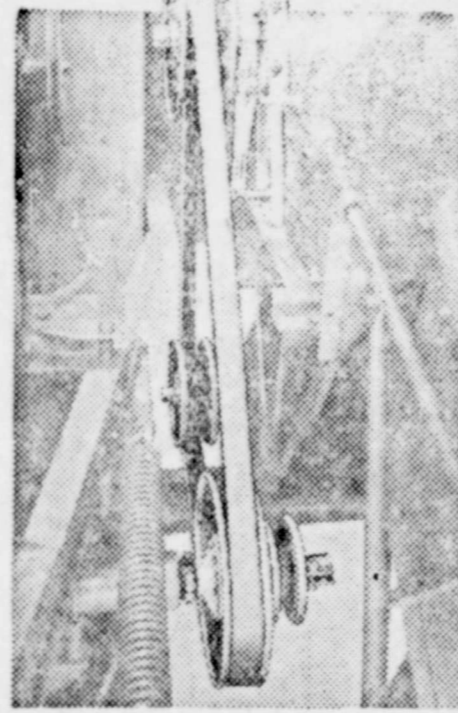

On his release from active duty Colonel Taylor entered the reorganized Texas national guard as executive officer of the 36th division artillery. His hometown is Kerens where he is engaged in farming and ranching activities in addition to serving as director of public relations for the Texas Manufacturers Association.

Berlin's population dropped from about four million to about two million after World War I.

ular Enlistment, retired officers and enlisted men, under certain conditions, also are eligible for hospitalization.

More and more Texas families prefer Servel! For Servel is the one refrigerator that offers permanent silence, longer life—and proves it with a ten-year guarantee!

A tiny gas flame (butane gas, natural gas or manufactured gas) does the work. So the Gas Refrigerator stays silent, lasts longer. And actually, among its 2,000,000 delighted owners many tell us, "Still silent, worry-free, after 20 years!"

But a different, simpler freezing system is only part of the story. The new Servels bring you every new food-keeping feature, too. Come see the famous Gas Refrigerator—first choice of more and more Texas families. See it today.

Not Boycotters But Production High Price Cure

Ovid A. Martin, Associated Press staff writer tells a story this week with a Washington date line that may be an answer to some of the high prices, rather than a strike of housewives scattered over the United States. For instance, the figures tell us that an all time high corn production is in prospect, and corn is the stuff that beef, pork and lamb is made of.

Here in Terry county, if there is a strike, it is a noiseless one. No effort is being made that we are aware of unless it is just to personally be careful in buying high priced meats, not to get beyond the family budget. But Mr. Martin tells us that the Weatherman has also been a favorable factor toward a bumper crop all round.

Apparently the nation is in for its bumper corn crop with an estimated yield of 3,506,000,635 bushels. That is a boost of over 265,000,000 bushels over the other record crop of 1946. Last year was a comparative light crop, and many feeders had to defer their feeding pens, hence high meat.

Along with corn and many other grains, we almost have a record wheat crop not far short of the record 1947 yield. This year's wheat crop is placed at 1,284,323,000 bushels.

Lower grain prices will encourage farmers to feed out more meat. But with a light corn crop last year, and high beef and pork on the hoof, feeders would just not take a chance.

Pioneer Southside Farmer Visits Herald

Perhaps not too many are aware of the fact, but G. V. Boyer, farmer who owns a quarter section that borders the Dawson county line, has been farming in Terry for the past 26 years, and is within a mile of where he landed back in 1922. He is on section 13 block C-39. Mr. Boyer, who was in to renew his paper stated that he had a pretty good crop that was needing rain, however. We hope he gets it.

Mr. Boyer planted some wheat last fall, but on account of the dry cold winter and a dry blowing spring, he lost it. And as Andrew H. Brown would say, G. V. seems to be a bit "regusted" with wheat. But Boyer is not the kind of man to quit when the first lick lands on him. In fact he looks a bit Irishy to us, and might get up sometime when least expected and have another battle with old man wheat.

And he got to discussing the oil wells in that area, especially northeast. He said the first one had quite a bit of oil, mixed with quite a lot of water, and that the last one had less oil and more water. At this time water is too expensive to separate from oil, and he figured both wells would be abandoned. He stated that some of the wells in the Welch field had been deepened and made better producers, most of which are pumps.

60 Texans Needlessly Die Since Jan. 1

Sixty Texans died as the result of appendicitis during the first five months of 1948, according to figures released by the Texas State Department of Health.

"This figure does not appear large when compared to the deaths from cancer, tuberculosis and heart disease," Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer said, "but with the knowledge that these sixty Texans died needlessly, the figure is tragically high."

More than anything else, Dr. Cox said he would attribute fatality in appendicitis to the complacent attitude of the people concerning the disease. It is not put in its "proper perspective."

Too, often, the Health Officer said, people have the vain hope that the prolonged pain in their stomach will "wear off." He cautioned that the stomach ache which lasts more than three of four hours should be considered a serious matter.

Appendicitis killed 60,000 people in the United States and Canada last year, Dr. Cox said. He warned that young adults are especially susceptible to attacks, and that appendicitis is a leading cause of death among children and adolescents.

"Operative techniques have been improved to the extent that an unruptured appendix can be removed with great safety," Dr. Cox said. "It is therefore apparent that the negligence in appendicitis rests with the patient who fails to seek prompt medical attention."

He said it was imperative that the patient lie quiet until the doctor comes as moving about disturbs the inflamed parts. He strongly urged against taking laxatives in cases of suspected appendicitis.

We Boosters Can Furnish Gas

Mr. Henry C. Hicks, prominent citizen of El Reno, Okla., and who owns real estate in Terry county, was down this week inspecting the new Hinson well 10 miles north-east of the city. Mr. Hicks was, as usual, a caller at the Herald office and said the well was a good one, and apparently the only thing lacking was sufficient gas to lift the oil.

One of the Herald staff suggested that there ought to be enough gas among Texans and Oklahomans to life most anything if concerted. Mr. Hicks kinder grinned, and said he guessed that was about right.

Oil fields are not strangers to Mr. Hicks, as they are in his section of Oklahoma, and when he says the Hinson is a good well, he means just that.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Simes and children attended the funeral of Mrs. C. E. Newton, Mrs. Simes' mother, which was held Tuesday in Stroud, Okla.

Many Pretty Crops South of Town

The writer and wife, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Gore decided to attend church at Wellman last Friday night. At the same time we decided to kill at least two birds with the same stone by taking the F to M paved south past Forrester Gin thence west to Wellman. From where one turns off the Seagraves highway on the F and M road, there are some mighty good crops, and some of the prettiest cotton we have seen this year.

And most of the fields are in a good state of cultivation, and they are gradually ridding the fields of noxious weeds. But south of Forrester gin is still another story. Most of this area in deep sand land, and they received a pitiful amount of rain early. As a consequence there was no earthly need to plant, and the land started blowing. In July they received some rain, but the damage was already apparent. It is still blowing or was Friday afternoon.

About the best thing we can think of right now for that area, is if they get some good rains the last part of August or even early fall, to sow wheat and then pray for rains and snows through the winter and spring months. It might prove another 1946-47 venture and the stubbles at least would stop erosion by wind. One man in south Terry informed us this week however, that he tried wheat last year, and all of it died out. But he must remember that there was no great amount of rain for him to plant on, and the snows and rains through the winter were mostly dry blizzards at best.

Passed pretty close to the oil well being drilled on the Edwards farm, and on to Wellman, but the F and M roads fooled us. Instead of coming into Wellman directly east, you have to turn north a mile or two to hit Wellman. Got to Wellman in time to get a can of PA for ourself, and cokes for the ladies and G. G.

We then drove over to the school grounds where they are finishing a large building to be ready for fall opening. Wellman now has a fine school plant that they may well be proud to show visitors. In fact, the groceryman, C. H. Heafner asked us to drive around and see their new school plant. We are proud of this plant for them.

We then repaired to the church of Christ building where we heard F. I. Stanley in one of his best. This bunch of church people seem to be getting along fine and at peace with each other. Was invited back to "dinner on grounds" Sun-

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I think I see an omen—a good one—a straw in the wind—it is happening up there in Maine. And the slogan about "how goes Maine, goes the nation," that makes the omen look even better.

They are taking the bull by the horns, those Maine folks, and are building themselves a new school house from the ground up. They are not down in the mouth or moanin' about it and hoping Uncle Sam will come along with the money and take 'em by the hand like as if they were not too smart and needed a guardian or something, like maybe a "Housing Director" who never saw a building put together before, but got attached to the Govt. pay-roll via getting out and scaring up votes for the Chief.

Each person there in the Maine community is donating his strength and time. One guy started it by furnishing the land. Then came the foundation digging—the plumber—the carpenters—painters. And everybody being busy—everybody is happy. And when Saturday night rolls around they are ready for a bath and go to bed versus heading down to the civic auditorium and listening to a lot of Govt. yap yap—but getting no new school house.

Yours with the low down,

day but failed to make it.

Met D. H. Griffin the gin man out at the meeting. Asked if he was going to gin any cotton this year. "Sure," says he, "we are going to gin a lot of cotton." They tell us there are good crops south of Wellman toward the Gaines county line, as well as north that cannot be seen from highway and FM roads.

By the way, Mr. Griffin said he was getting a kick out of our farm stories and to keep it up. Yep, those Wellman folks make you feel good that you invited them.

FARM QUESTION BOX

by ED W. MITCHELL
Farm Advisor
General Electric Station WGY

- Q. We live in a steel Quonset hut. Steel studs and beams are bolted to a four-foot cement foundation wall. Will this type of anchorage afford adequate protection from lightning or should I attach ground wires to the building? Are lightning rods needed?
- A. Rods and ground wires are especially necessary on these huts; the rods to catch the flash so it doesn't burn a hole through the metal and run down the frame, and the ground cables from the points or at least from the four corners to the ground.
- Q. Can you suggest something that will remove stains of long standing from white porcelain sinks and kitchen cabinet work table; something that will not remove the enamel?
- A. I think your best bet is to use a solution of oxalic acid.
- Q. How can I kill old yellow lilies in a garden?
- A. Cut them off and apply some gasoline or sulfuric acid to the crown.
- Q. Is it against the law to run a barbed wire fence along the highway?
- A. So far as I know, it is legal to have a barbed wire fence along a highway. I maintained such a fence for years and still string one when apples are ripe. Maybe we will meet in jail some day and then I'll admit this answer was wrong.
- Q. We grow a lot of rhubarb and use only the stalks of it as I read some place that the leaves were injurious for human consumption. A friend tells me she "cooks the leaves just as you would cook beet tops or spinach." Is it OK to use the leaves, or not?
- A. I can't find anyone who has ever used the leaves or any record of their being used so cannot give a sure answer. However, my guess is that they are not harmful but probably not very good to eat. If your friend is still alive and well and you have faith in her veracity, go ahead and try them and give us the answer for future use.
- Q. I have a plum tree five years old. This spring the bark on the west side split open and came loose from about four inches above ground to about three feet above ground; otherwise tree is fine. What would you suggest I do about it?
- A. About all you can do is to trim off loose bark back to healthy wood to make a clean, open wound and paint it with asphalt roof paint. The tree may last a long time.
- Q. How can I clean my pond of cattails, surface scum and frogs?
- A. Put a flock of ducks on it to keep the surface stirred up and catch the frogs, and keep the cattails cut off under water so they smother and die. Use a scythe or a hand-sickle or drain and clean the pond every year.

FROM THE BAKERY!

This fashionable midriff play-suit, worn by a beautiful vacationer at a Western resort, came not from an exclusive dress shop or fashion salon—but from a bakery! A local baker laundered his empty 100-pound printed cotton flour bags and put them on sale as inexpensive sewing material for his customers. With four of the sacks, this young lady created a colorful play-suit outfit for her vacation wardrobe.

Army Recruiter Gets Lots Of Volunteers

M-Sgt. A. W. Carnes was a pleasant visitor at the Herald office recently and stated that he was getting many volunteers, both teenagers who will serve one year, as well as others on a 2 year basis who wished to choose their own units.

About a dozen volunteered last week, he stated. Carnes is an old Jones county boy, reared up around Hamlin, he stated. First time we ever saw Hamlin was in the Spring of 1906, a few shacks in a mesquite thicket.

Both the Orient (Santa Fe) and Texas Central (MKT) were then building through the town, the former from the south to north, the latter east to west. Next time we saw Hamlin was in the fall of the same year, and it was a boom town with main street a mile long.

Only an oil boom town with a bunch of gushers would do that to a town now days. But a railroad was something them days, and two of them at a time caused a boom.

Not Easily Embarrassed From The Nashville (Tenn.) Banner.

Almost as regularly as Mr. Truman, in this election year, gives vent with words to his dislike of the Taft-Hartley Law, he invokes the law to block or discontinue a strike inimical to the public welfare.

He did that in the case of Lewis and his coal miners. He did it in the case of the threatened strike at Oak Ridge—where atomic energy work was imperiled. He did it when the railroads faced a shutdown. He has done it now to prevent a maritime walkout, which would paralyze ocean shipping.

He did it—not because he likes the Taft-Hartley Law, or believes in it. He doesn't. He vetoed it, and upon every possible occasion goes out of his way to lambast it and pledge his efforts to abolish it.

The rest of the country wonders, however, just what the administration would do along the lines of keeping these lines open and uninterrupted if there were no Taft-Hartley Law. It also wonders why, if Mr. Truman dislikes it so cordially, he relies on it so regularly.

If Mr. Truman embarrassed easily he might find it hard to explain. He doesn't explain. He

The Devotion Of A Dog

From The Italy (Texas) News-Herald.

Everyone has at one time or another witnessed the dumb devotion of a dog to some cruel, overbearing person, how regardless of the whippings, scoldings and other forms of mistreatment the dogs comes crawling back. Such unreasoning devotion is applicable to the Southern Democrat.

For the past 16 years he has been cuffed and kicked about and last week he suffered the crowning ignominy of an ignominious two decades. Why the Southern Democrats cannot see that the party of his father is no more, and why he persists in taking the insults and neglect the socialized party has thrust and is thrusting upon him is one of those unexplainable traits of human nature we occasionally run across.

Shakespeare said in one of plays that a rose by any other name would smell as sweet. Conversely, we might say that it takes more than the name of Democrat to cover up the odor now emanating from the heterogeneous mass of isms and ideologies parading under such a title.

The Democratic Party—the party of States' rights; the party of Jefferson, the party of the South—has seen its cherished ideals supplanted under its own name by a centralized Federal Government much more far-reaching than the most ardent Federalists ever dreamed; it has seen the Jeffersonian philosophy of minimum regulation changed to a virtual totalitarian regime; it has seen its leadership taken from the South and transferred to the machine bosses of Harlem, Chicago, Kansas City, and New Jersey.

Where do we go from here? that is the question. Peter Molyneux call it the "South's Political Plight" in his latest book, and indeed we are in a plight. But we need not be. It should be clear to all now that the Democratic Party lives in name only. We should awaken to the fact that the break is now out in the open and that while we have in the past been thrown a little political pap in the way at patronage and Federal spending there can be little of that for the future.

only lambasts. He doesn't embarrass easily.

Offered $10 Per Acre Bonus Lease

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Osgood of Long Beach, Calif., came in Saturday, morning after spending the night at Roswell. He was here to see about leasing his half section southeast of town to a Midland man. Mr. Osgood showed us a telegram from the man offering him $10 per acre bonus on his land, and 50c per acre yearly rental. His land is some ten miles from the Hinson well.

Mr. Osgood did not state whether or not he aimed to lease.

Could be that another oil company is getting some acreage in that area for a test well.

KEEP TRACK OF KITCHEN FAT

Are there any surplus fats around your place? What about that can of rancid lard? What became of the grease your sausages were canned in? Are you saving drippings, skimmings and scoopings of used fat from your cooking?

The sum total of all these little remnants of fats in American homes adds up to gigantic tonnage. And this volume of fats is urgently needed to keep world supplies of fats and oils from getting even more scarce.

American women are urged to rush all used cooking fat to the meat dealer, who will pay them for every pound.

Something To Think About

What makes a free press possible? Private Enterprise! In every country where freedom of the press is lacking, or curbed, you will find a totalitarian government (a dictatorship). Under such a regime, government owns the basic industries. There is no incentive for constant improvement in order to appeal to the buying public. There is no particular reason for telling the public about all manner of products, such as is commonplace in the United States, in order to build business. The people have to take what the government offers and like it—there is no competition.

Totalitarian governments seek unbridled power. Under such governments, there can be no free press for two very good reasons. First, government controls all the news and all the newspapers.

Second, government-owned industries do not have to advertise. They do not have to win the public's business by superior products and salesmanship.

No country in the world has 12,000, rural daily and weekly newspapers, in addition to the metropolitan press, except the United States. No country in the world has a newspaper in practically every town of a few hundred population. Their income is derived from private enterprise—thousands of competing industries from the greatest railroad and public utility to the smallest bakery and laundry. They all advertise to popularize their service or products and win public favor and business.

It has often been charged, for political purposes, that advertising controls the American press. That is not so because competition is so varied that no branch of business is powerful enough to dominate the press. Volume and variety in advertising makes possible a free press.

No group of men and women in the United States is more vitally interested in opposing government ownership of business, as a matter of principle, than are newspaper editors. They are the nations safeguard against the economic teachings of many of our principal colleges and text books which openly espouse the superiority of government operation of business as contrasted with private operation, on the phony "liberal" philosophy that we have outgrown the days of private endeavor, and that only government is now capable of handling the basic industries of the nation. Such teachings are the opposite of every principle upon which our government was built and if accepted will lead to the destruction of private enterprise including a free press. When that happens personal liberty itself will be gone.—Seminole Sentinel.

Mahon Working

years but the market price for grain was above the loan rate and there was no serious question as to a support price and no considerable demand for loans.

Mahon said that if the loan on grain sorghum should not be available many producers would sacrifice their grain sorghum below the support price, but that if the loan were available the market price should remain firm above support price levels.

Secretary Brannan advised Mahon that the Department would intensify its efforts to move the wheat crop out of the pipe line insofar as possible and would give sympathetic assistance in trying to meet the situation confronting producers of combine maize.

Following a long distance telephone conversation with Walter Hammond, Head of the Texas Farm Bureau, Mahon in his capacity as Chairman of the Texas Congressional Delegation, appointed Congressman Poage of Waco as chairman of a committee of six members to cooperate with Texas farmers and the Texas Farm Bureau in finding ways and means to meet the situation. A large additional amount of storage that will be acceptable to government loan officials will be necessary.

Cooperative Hears

years ago and now has spread to some ten South Plains counties. It is said to be the largest of the 76 REA association in Texas.

Another speaker was deputy REA administrator, George Haggard of Washington, who is also a native Texan. Lyntegar has 1900 miles of lines; 4700 connections, and a membership of 4900, with a membership of 6000 expected. J. S. Smith is a director for Terry county.

The concern is valued at two million dollars, is strictly owned by the farmers, who are paying back the money borrowed from the government to build. Represents no ism, communistic or socialist; pays taxes, except income as there is no net income. The organization is non-profit.

Dedication Of First Christian Church August 15

The dedication of the new First Christian Church will be held Sunday August 15. Dr. P. C. McCord is minister of the church.

The sanctuary-educational unit was completed in May after five months construction at a cost of $15,000. The building committee was composed of Walter Breedlove, J. A. Cartwright, Sam Houtchins, Sam Sayres and J. S. Harrison. The new structure is debt free.

A basket dinner will be served at 12:45. At 11:00 o'clock Dr. McCord will deliver the special service, "Thy Kingdom Come." Visiting ministers will be Rev. Dale Medearis, Slaton; Rev. Roy Davis, Plains; Rev. Ralph Underwood, Hobbs, N. M.

At 2:00 p. m. Rev. Travis White of Lubbock will speak. A cordial invitation is given to all who wish to attend the dedication, especially at the afternoon meeting from 2:00 to 3:30.

Clothing Drive Is Success

The Members of the Maids and Matrons Study Club of Brownfield are grateful for the cooperation they received in the recent drive for clothing for the needy in China.

They especially want to thank the Lion's club for a $25 donation toward shipping costs and the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church and the ladies of the Baptist church who spent a day making garments for small children.

Twelve boxes, totaling over $800 in value have been shipped to Foochow, Fukien, China, where Mr. Hayes, president of the National Relief Organization of China will direct distribution. The first shipment probably will be allotted to the people left destitute by the recent floods in Fukien and the remainder will go to refugees who are fleeing communist oppression in Northern China.

Four Enlist In U. S. Army

Four Brownfield boys were sworn into the U. S. Army August 2, 1948, as privates.

Three of the boys enlisted for three year periods and were sent to Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio for basic training. Upon completion of this training they will be assigned to a tactical unit for specialized training. Enlisting for three years were Logan Herron, son of Mr. William A. Herron; Riley Wayne Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Johnson, 117 North Fifth; and Charles Edward Prestridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Prestridge.

Deryl W. Walker, son of Mrs. Ida B. Walker, 219 North 4th St., enlisted for a one-year period and was sent to Camp Hood where he will receive his basic training and will then be assigned to a tactical unit for specialization.

Biggest Cotton Crop Since Pre-War Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 1948 bumper cotton crop of 15,169,000 bales was forecast by the Agriculture department today.

Such a crop would be the seventh largest on record. The top yield was 18,946,000 produced in 1937.

The 1948 indicated crop is 3,318,000 bales more than last year's crop and 3,155,000 bales more than the ten-year (1937-46) average. The indicated yield of 313.5 pounds per acre is the highest on record—14.6 pounds above the previous record of 298.9 pounds in 1944.

Cotton prices broke on exchanges from $1.50 to $1.90 per bale following the report.

from the real issues, I assure the voters I will not indulge in such tactics," he said.

"I will not ask for the support of my constituents in one breath and cast insinuations in the next," he continued, "nor will I countenance such on the part of my friends."

"When I am re-elected," Parrish said, "the people in the 30th District may rest assured that they will be equally and fairly represented. I will be responsible only to them, and not to any clique or clan or selfish minority group."

According to Parrish, he will carry his campaign into every county in the district between now and August 28.

"I will discuss as intelligently as possible the true issues in this race with the free and independent thinking people," he concluded.

Goodpasture To

remember that Grady had some teams and wagons. That was before the days of trucks, tractors and combines. The reapers bound the grain in bundles and dumped it on the ground. Along about June Grady would hitch up his teams to the wagons and head for the Plainview area, and he would follow the harvest on north into Oklahoma and maybe Kansas. He would haul the bundled grain to the thresher or where it would be located when it arrived. He would come home two or three months later jingling some cash.

From this small beginning, and with a limited amount of cash he has started a business that gets runs toward six figures daily at the height of the grain season.

That old prophet must have been pretty pessimistic who allowed "that a prophet was not without honor save in his own country." Grady Goodpasture is just one of several home boys that have made good right here in Brownfield.

Runoff

race. It is a runoff between Geo. W. Neill and L. C. Heath, both seeking their first term. In the first primary (unofficial) Neill had 956 votes; Heath 815 and R. L. Graves 430. This race will hinge somewhat on the way Graves' votes will be divided.

The only other race will be a runoff in Precinct No. 4 only, between the incumbent Horace Fox and J. B. (Mutt) Oliver. This was a rather close contest, Fox receiving 211 and Oliver 194. Sixty-six write-ins for Lee Lyon was the reason for the runoff.

If you think you will be out of the county and away from your polling place August 28th, better go to the courthouse and cast a vote.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank each and everyone who sent flowers and food or helped in any way in our recent revival of sorrow in the reburial of Lt. Wade K. Hill.
