The Terry County Herald

Not Neutral—Not On The Fence—A Paper With An Opinion And A Purpose

VOLUME 44 BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS FRIDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1948 NUMBER 11

The Herald has grown with this section from strictly a ranch country. This area now consists of thriving towns and cities, supported by scientific farming and stock farming, augmented by huge oil fields, with the nation's largest known oil reserves.

Everyone Cooperating In Fair-Festival Plans

OUR COLYUM

SERIOUS—SINCERE—SILLY

Until we can think of a good name for this colyum, or better still, drop it, it will bear the above head. If you can name it, a lead pencil awaits you with Terry County Herald printed thereon. In some places it will be serious, sometimes silly, but in the main on the lighter side, as this old world is carrying its load of seriousness. Saw two happy grandpappies tother day coming from the hospital where they had viewed the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jones. It was Bruce Knight and Toke Howze. While pursuing our job as sidewalk superintendent on the hospital job this week, a carpenter insulted us by offering us a hammer. Mentioning it to Doc Daniel he said that's nothing, they offered to let me roll a concrete wheelbarrow. Jess McWhirter unblushingly acknowledged that he failed to provide us a pea patch this year. In fact that red muzzled guy always does look like he is blushing. He doesn't look much like a Frenchman does he? Says PM Jas. H. Dallas: "Nothing funny has happened at the PO lately." "Inspectors on hand" says we. "Nope, not that bad," says JHD.

Seriously speaking however, Lee O. Allen is having a hard time with burns from the explosion of the dryer arrangements at his Tokio gin recently described in these columns. Complications have set up and in delirious moments he imagines his gin was burned, to make matters worse. Orders are "no visitors." And if you are really a friend you'll respect that sign until Lee O. is better. A laugh or two a day is furnished by our fast drivers who at 70 hit some of the chug holes left in the street by new gas lines, and have not been permanently repaired. The dailies this week had a long list of funny names dug up by the vital statistician of Georgia that parents dumped off on their offspring for life, such as Ima Screw Driver, etc., the sir name giving room for the ridiculous. Well, we have a few in the Herald office, such as Carlos B. Cross, but despite his name he's a good natured guy. The linotype operator is Blacky Bownds. We also have a Cee Gee Cross, Jr. He too, is a good natured. Then there is a Walker, but he sometimes squats. Silly, ain't it. Then there was Ima Sawyer who married and is now Ima Lewis. Juanita and Margene up at Piggly Wiggly store are happy when customers come in to get cokes at the dispenser—just so you carry your belches outside the store. Looked like after the Saturday rush on the grocers we'll have to go on rations. They were sure carrying 'em out. But by Monday they were all stocked up again. Cracked a fan: "As a football team the Cubs have a fine band and the best pep squad extant." But he's for the Cubs, win, lose or draw. Why don't the "Shine" polish your shoes without blacking your white socks? More next week if any silly ideas find lodgement.

Anti-Tax Raise Group Gets Overflow Crowd

The folks who had a big hike in property assessed valuations for school purposes, really turned out last Monday night, from reports we were able to gather. In fact standing room was at a premium, and many turned away. From what we could learn, a committee was appointed and funds raised to fight the valuations placed on the school property, by a Fort Worth auditing firm last summer. This will be taken to court. Many remember that when the proposition came up back many years ago to make the Brownfield district a jumbo, and extend it from five miles over in Yoakum county to the Lynn county line, some of the old timers then stated that some day the tall would wag the dog. Three or four of these several districts should have been allowed to form a rural high district on the order of Wellman and Union. Had they done that, we frankly believe that there would be plenty room for all students now, and tax matters would not be a bone of contention. But some, including the then superintendent wanted a class AA school. They got it and plenty of headaches with it.

"NEIGHBOR" FOR SEPTEMBER NOT IDENTIFIED; AWARD INCREASED

As no one was able to correctly identify the "Neighbor" for the month of September, Johnny Haynes of Haynes Bakery, LeRene's Pastry Shop and sponsor of the "Neighbor for the Month" contest, announced yesterday that the award would be doubled, bringing the total to $100.00 in merchandise certificates and additional clues would be issued pertaining to the identity of the same party. It is planned to issue the first of the clues early next week.

Levelland Crushes Cubs 13 To 6

The Levelland Loboes proved again last Friday night the old saying: "The team with the all in its possession most of the time has the better chance of winning." The visitors' margin of superiority was far greater than the 13 to 6 score indicated. A better picture of the situation is given in the Loboes 17 first downs to the Cubs 3. The Lobo line lost little time in beating the Cub forward wall into submission and from the second quarter on, Levelland backs could pick up from three to eight yards almost at will through gaping holes in the Cub line. The first Lobo score came in the second quarter when Levelland took over the ball on their own twenty yard line after Brownfield had unsuccessfully tried a field goal. An uninterrupted succession of line plays carried the ball to the Cub three yard line, and from that point, Northam rammed through center for a touchdown. The visitors missed on try for point.

For a brief few moments, the Cubs exhibited their real potentialities. They took the kickoff, brought it out to the 27 yard line, picked up two on a line play, then a Billings to Martin pass connected and Martin scampered 65 yards to score. The locals worked on fairly even terms the remainder of the half. Levelland roared back again in the third quarter, powerhouse in the ball play by play for 45 yards, then Taylor galloped around end for 25 yards and the score that iced down the ball game. Try for point was successful. Tonight at 8 o'clock on Cub Field, the locals will try to improve their average when they take on the strong Class A Littlefield Wildcats. No kinder treatment is in prospect for the Cubs, however, than they received at the hands of Levelland last week, for on paper the Wildcats figure even stronger than the Loboes.

Local Dodge Dealer Attends Meeting

Sam Teague, owner of Brownfield Motor Co., Dodge Dealer has returned from Lubbock where he attended a merchandising meeting in which the Dodge-Plymouth dealers' service and parts program was presented to all Dodge dealers of the Lubbock area. Mr. Teague was accompanied by E. L. Moore, service mgr. and H. L. Runnels, parts mgr. of Brownfield Motor Co. The Dodge-Plymouth dealers' program is to aid dealers in providing the most efficient and courteous service and parts supply that can be attained for owners of Dodge and Plymouth cars and Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks. It stresses the importance to dealers of exerting every possible effort to make certain that Dodge and Plymouth vehicles are maintained in excellent mechanical condition to assure the safety of these vehicles and owner goodwill. The meeting was under the direction of W. O. DuMar, Dodge Oklahoma City regional manager. B. B. Settle, director of service of the Dodge Division, described the program. Members of the Dodge Home Office sales staff are making similar presentations to the more than 4,000 Dodge dealers in a series of 66 meetings in principal cities from September 27 to October 29.

Kept His Mouth Shut In Texas

When president Truman arrived in El Paso to begin his Texas tour, he was handed a telegram from Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, and a candidate for president on the States' Rights ticket. Mr. Truman was asked to state his position of "civil rights" in one or more addresses while in Texas. Of course the big three Texas Democratic bosses were on hand, J. C. Smith, Sam Rayburn and Tom Clark. Truman was as silent as the grave on that question, at least publicly, while in Texas. Why? If it is a good thing in Pennsylvania or New York, why not in Texas?

Seal Bros. Circus Here Tuesday

Streamlined from the front door to the backyard in order to give American amusement lovers the finest in circus talent and entertainment, Seal Bros. circus and trained animal exhibition is scheduled to show in Brownfield for two performances on Tuesday, Oct. 12. The huge tented city will be erected at the 5th and Storey circus grounds. Performances are scheduled to start at 2 P. M. and 8 P. M. with doors opening one hour earlier. Mr. and Mrs. Troy Noel and family from Plainview visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Zorns and family, over the weekend.

Lyle Says Hinson Well To Be OK

Billie Lyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lyle of Lubbock, is with the Seaboard Oil Co., drilling the well 10 miles northeast of the city, in the capacity of a geologist. He took a course in geology at Tech college. Since graduation, he has been with some oil company. He is one of the guys that are posted at wells about the time they are expected to come in. We are not sufficiently posted on oil field jargon to name his position. Anyway, he confided to dad and mom that the Seaboard was going to make a well out of Hinson No. 1, out near the old salt lakes. They are a bit over 11,000 feet now in what is thought to be Ellenberger or possibly Mississippian formation. Some tests of gas pressure as well as oil, driller's mud, etc., have been taken at two depths below 11,000 feet. Gas showed at the surface in 16 minutes, it was stated in Tuesday's dailies. It will be remembered that a considerable quantity of oil, some 240 barrels per day was encountered at below 8,000 feet. This was caused off so that the well could go on to the contract depth of 12,000 feet. Boys here who have played around oil wells for the past several years, Robt. Whitney, for one, who has seen 'em brought in, tell us that it would now be impossible to plug back to the 8,000 feet strata and use both stratas in the same well. He'd merely heard that this was done on the Hinson well. He tried to explain that the top strata was "killed." That is the oil was blown back and will never come into this well. "Oh yes," he stated, "the 8,000 feet strata can be penetrated and wells brought in from that depth, OK, but it will have to be in a new well."

Brick Work On South Wing Of Hospital Finished

The face brick and tile part of the work on the south wing addition to the local hospital was finished last week. This wing, extending from the original section of the hospital is 38 feet wide and 160 feet long. It will have a tier of hospital bed rooms on each side of the 10 feet hallway, except in the extreme west end, next to seventh street. That portion will be a large reception room some 20x38 feet. For a long time the patient's waiting room on the front end of the hospital, facing Sixth street, has been crowded with not only patients waiting to see a doctor, but well people who have sick folks in the hospital. This was the only place they had to stay, especially when weather conditions were bad. Now, such well people will have a large reception room all to themselves, and will not occupy chairs intended for sick folks waiting for examination. As in the older section of the hospital, there is a large tunnel under the concrete floor of the corridors or hallways, in which all the utilities are distributed to each room. Should there be a gas or water leak or short in the electric current, workmen can instantly get to the faulty section without tearing up floors in rooms or corridors. This tunnel also carries the steam heat piping. The section to be devoted to the nurses will be 38x110 feet, leaving a drive-in space between the hospital ward described above, and the nurse section on one side and the west end of the old hospital. Between the new hospital ward section and the nurses department, will be a patio some 20 feet wide, where plants and flowers may be planted. Foundation of the nurses' department has been completed, and it is now ready for brick masons. In the meantime the other part of the building is now in the hands of carpenters who are preparing it for the roof, so that the job of finishing may be hastened on the inside.

Farm Bureau Meeting In Lubbock October 13

A district Farm Bureau meeting will be held at the Lubbock hotel in Lubbock on Wednesday October 13, it has been announced by J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation. W. R. Tilson of Meadow, District Director, will preside. The meeting will start at 10:00 a. m. This will be one of a series of 13 district meetings being held throughout Texas during the month of October, for the purpose of bringing farmers and ranchmen first hand information on the immediate agricultural situation, and the economic conditions of the Nation as a whole, and go get the thinking from the grass-roots with reference to agricultural matters. "Farm prices have dropped 30 per cent in the past nine months, and farmers' buying power has been reduced 18 per cent," Hammond said. "Only through a workable, long range farm program that will provide for adequate price supports for farm commodities, can this Nation enjoy a balanced economy and avoid another depression such as was experienced in the early thirties," he declared. The long range farm bill hastily passed during the closing days of the last session of congress will not adequately safeguard the interests of agriculture, and it will take a strong organization of farmers in this nation to secure necessary amendments to this bill at the next session, the Federation president emphasized. Texas Farm Bureau's membership goal for 1948 is 60,000.

Ticket Situation Straightened Out

Superintendent Cowan stated this week that last Friday night's reserved seat-general admission ticket foul-up had been ironed out. It seems that reserved seat tickets had been issued for seats in the general admission sections, resulting in a great deal of confusion when holders of reserved seat tickets in these sections arrived, only to find their seats already taken, many having to sit in aisles or stand in front of the grandstand. Holders of season tickets calling for seats in the general admission sections may exchange them for seats in the proper sections by calling on Mr. Cowan.

Palace Drug Has On Big Sale

Up at the Palace Drug store they are offering some keen bargains this week, as the annual Cent Sale is on there. These sales have been going on so long that most people understand the proposition. If not, you take one item that sells for the regular price of 49c, and you get two for an extra cent, 50c for two. We advise the readers to visit the Palace this week. Mr. Arthur Nunn, manager and co-owner and his obliging personnel will be glad to help you make your selections. For your benefit, let us state that the merchandise offered is not old stuff, but is just as fresh as anything offered in the store.

It Appears That "Everybody Wants To Get In 'da Act'"

Cotton Crop On S. P. Takes Tail Spin

K. N. Clapp, cotton area manager for Anderson-Clayton Co., who estimated the August 1 cotton prospects for 19 South Plains counties at 1,102,000 bales, dropped the estimate as of Sept. 1 to 807,000, has given the crop another tail spin. He came up with figures for the same area as of Oct. 1, and placed the ginnings at 595,000 bales. That is removing the income of South Plains farmers, as well as others who deal in cotton at a rapid rate, if you ask us. Mr. Clapp is on notice here on the Plains as a cotton estimator. He has been at it for about 20 years, and generally comes pretty near the actual yield. About the only year he had to raise his sights as the crop advanced was in 1937, a bumper crop year here on the South Plains, and the improvement was rapid during the latter part of the growing season. Mr. Clapp finds that the irrigated land was good and was not too hard hit, even if the weather was blistering in the day time for a long, long time, beginning about Aug. 1. It was the dry land farmer that hit the floor, and were it not for the fact that cotton and seed are bringing a good price, the outlook would still be worse. That is about all the consolation on the surface, at least. Lubbock county continued in the lead, replacing Hockley county, as of Sept. 1, but even it dropped from 130,000 bales to 95,000 in the past 30 days. It has the lowest irrigated acreage. Terry dropped from 50,000 Aug. 1 to 35,000 Sept. 1 and now 25,000. Other counties show as follows:

County	Sept. 1	Oct. 1
Bailey	20,000	20,000
Briscoe	7,000	4,000
Castro	9,000	7,000
Cochran	30,000	20,000
Crosby	45,000	30,000
Dawson	75,000	55,000
Deaf Smith	2,000	3,000
Floyd	35,000	30,000
Gaines	8,000	4,000
Garza	10,000	3,000
Hale	95,000	65,000
Hockley	120,000	88,000
Lamb	110,000	82,000
Lynn	60,000	50,000
Armer	4,000	4,000
Swisher	10,000	9,000
Terry	35,000	25,000
Yoakum	2,000	1,000

Drunk Assault Results In Heavy Fine

The case of a drunk assault against a peace officer, who had made bond was tried in County court the 29th. He was fined $46.70 and court costs. First offense charges were filed against four this week, driving while intoxicated. All pleaded guilty, paid fines and their licenses suspended for 6 months. A second offense charge was filed against a man driving a school bus loaded with apples, while intoxicated. He ran into a tractor pulled by Mr. E. V. Gillingham in his car. Estimated damage done was around $800. They are holding the man until he makes bond, binding him over to the grand jury. A local man was picked up for cold checking in the amount of $94.20 and jailed.

REBEKAH BAKE SALE

The Brownfield Rebekah's will have a bake sale, Saturday all day at Kyle Grocery No. 1, down town store. Judge Louis B. Reed from Lamesa was here Tuesday holding court. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Byron Price, a son, in a Lubbock hospital Sunday morning weighing 7 lbs. 11 oz. Nothing succeeds like success it seems and taken by the standard of success that the Harvest Holiday of last year enjoyed not many would attempt to improve upon the 1947 event in any respect. This however, appears to be directly contrary to the spirit and ambitions of Brownfield's citizenry with regard to the Holiday end Fair coming up on Wednesday October 20. Determined that this day long celebration will genuinely reflect the spirit and progressiveness of the community, everybody is demanding a part in the preparations to make this one something of which we can be really proud. Inspired by the generosity of the merchants, industries, professional men, etc., who have rolled up over $10,000 worth of gifts to be given our guests in this day. The parade committee has invited over thirty fine bands from this section to participate in the big circus like parade that will open the days festivities. Already accepted and on the program are most of these organizations headed by the magnificent 105-piece marching musicians from Texas Tech College in company with their new Pres. Wiggins and his immediate aides. This great organization will also appear later in the day on the program in concert. The enthusiasm for making this a genuine Harvest Holiday is definitely expressed when the parade committee can announce that floats produced with hard work and care have already been entered by The Continental Oil Co., McWilliams Furniture Co., The Broadway Cleaners, The Farm & Home Appliance Co., Frank Ballard Plumbing Co., Primm Drug, Esquire Restaurant, Farmers Implement Co., Plains Liquefied Gas, Wilgus Drug, Haynes Bakery, Clifton Jones Boot and Saddle Shop, The American Legion and Price Implement Co. These together with the Queen Floats insure that this feature of the celebration will give it a great start and this in an invitation to any and all others to enter their floats, and make it even bigger and better. There will be plenty of bands to enliven every section of the parade as it passes over the streets of Brownfield. Inquiry locally and in the surrounding neighborhood indicate that over 15,000 will be on hand when the Marshall of the day shouts forward march! The program committee says they are ready with thrills and excitement throughout the day with the presentation of many valuable gifts to our visitors and the Queen Coronation at night will make this day one that must surely be spent in Brownfield. Newsteel Cameramen will be on hand to record the events of our day for exhibition throughout the entire United States, so that it is not surprising that everyone wants to make our Harvest Holiday of this year even more impressive and successful than the first one. We'll look good on the screens over the nation and heard from over National Radio broadcasts. Brownfield is well and favorably known over any other similar sized town in the country. Take your proud part of it. WHITEFACE ANTELOPES BEAT MEADOW BRONCHOS 19-13 THURSDAY NIGHT In one of the fastest, most evenly matched games of this season Whiteface beat Meadow Thursday night 19 to 13. Robert White scored for Meadow in the 1st and 3rd quarter. Whiteface scored in the 1st, 2nd and 3d quarters. Spectators were kept standing and hollering all through the game with both teams providing numerous thrills.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION
NATIONAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

Last week we got a big laugh at one of the area dailies, in view of the fact that there were apparently three contradictions in an inch or more of each other. Yeah, we got a laugh all by our lone selves. The first was the leading editorial of the morning in which the editor tore into Coke Stevenson and his attorneys, Dan Moody and Clint Small, all because they insist on a straight election and count of votes. This great defender of the common people (?) same as accused all concerned with the Stevenson contest as hirelings and ambassadors of big business. We wondered where Lyndon got all his dough to fly around over Texas during the campaign. That takes dough in any man's language. Right below that editorial was another but shorter headed, "Yoo-hoo Pollyxix" whatever that means in which it took an Associated Press reporter to task for calling Truman, "good old Harry," down at Bonham. Well, wasn't it Harry that advised Texas Democrats to vote for Lyndon? Then to cap the climax, there was just to the right of the long editorial, a cartoon by Manning entitled "Tricks or Treats," in which Bros. Truman and Wallace-as Hallowe'en juveniles approached old John Public in sheets and hoods, crying "Wall Street Ogre" and "Wall Street Bogy." There certainly is a loose nut somewhere in that mixup, but we admit it was too deep for us.

Saw an ad in the Anton News of last week that we looked at twice before we decided that our eyes were not playing us a trick. It was signed "Hollywood Gin" and we wondered why the local gin fans were not making tracks to the Anton mousetrap area. But the thing was just a cotton gin, and not the kind they make fizzes out of at the movie capitol. Which reminds us of some letters we received from our northern readers back in the early twenties when they first began to put in gins here in Brownfield. Of course the Herald was whopping matters up, as three were built that year, we believe 1924, making the fifth in the city. Well our Ohio readers wanted to know if they were selling gin here over the bar or by the bottle, just trying to spoof us, of course. Most southerners would have understood first off, but we failed to use either the prefix "cotton," or the suffix "plant," in talking about gins.

While we are whopping it up pro and con over the schools, the Herald begs to advise the powers that be they as well commence to get ready to provide better and more modern buildings for the negro children of this city. The time is coming, and is in fact right here when the proclamation will go forth from Washington that negro children in the south must be provided equal buildings, teachers and courses of study. Such is written in the platforms of the two major parties, and Henry Wallace's platform would go even further—put 'em in the same room. Our suggestion is that such be provided before being forced to do so. We passed the negro school plant recently, and we must say that most southern cities the size of Brownfield would consider that three room shack a disgrace as well as a fire trap. No white family here would permit their children to go to that school for one day, much less a term. We hardly see how the little picanninies keep warm enough to study in that old open building. Yes, we know that white people here pay 99 per cent of the taxes, but the negro families are here, and most always with large families, and they must be educated. It will not only be better for them, but better for the white people that negro children be given at least a high school education. Further, some of the more apt should be encouraged to prepare themselves for the professions as the negroes must have teachers, lawyers, doctors and nurses.

A big but good natured argument was started up about the State Bank corner one day last week, when someone asked another which he thought stunk the worse, the hot asphalt they were putting on the Collins gallery, or the cotton hull smoke from Herman's gin? It was about a standoff, but all admitted that either odor, although called a rose, would not smell good. However, all concerned did admit and without being called in question, that both were progress for the town and community, and let's just make out that the smell was very pleasant—for the time being.

No one is trying to rob anyone. Leastwise not in this community. We just don't believe that a single solitary business man in this town is 'rying to quickly feather his nest at the expense of his fellow townsman. Let us take the grocery and dry goods stores of our fine little city. Both are highly competitive, and while a few might crave to boost prices this is not possible with his competitor just down the street selling at a reasonable profit. For instance, let us take meat, a very, very staple article of food. In pre-war times, there were some 45 million Americans regularly employed, and their income after taxes was some 79 billion dollars annually. Now there are 60 million people with regular jobs and their income is 187 billion dollars. Even with a substantial increase in meat production, these extra million of people with good jobs would quickly take care of any small increase in meat supplies.

Socialized medicine has been given a thorough trial in New Zealand. Neither the patients or doctors and dentists are pleased with results. In the first place, those who expected something for nothing were highly disappointed, as there is a raft of unforeseen expenses, such for instance as an army of civil servants to look after details. Patients don't get the prompt attention they did when they knew their own doctor, and he knew the family intimately, their weaknesses and requirements. This proved the case in hospitals as well as in private of-practice. Brownfield and area people should feel elated in view of the fact that they are being furnished with excellent hospital facilities without having to issue bonds, and take just whoever they might be able to get to manage their hospital. Our hospital is privately owned and operated, and the owners are now providing no cost to the community, double the former capacity of the institution, and stand ready in the future to provide additional beds as the occasion may arise.

Many of the influential metropolitan dailies are dropping President Truman from their support. Among them is the powerful New York Times, and in Texas both the larger Houston papers, the Chronicle and the Post. Also both the Galveston and Dallas News, which are under separate ownership and management now. Each give several reasons why they cannot support the Democratic nominee, the main one being Mr. Truman's unreasonable demand for "civil rights" program, and the Texas papers mention the Taft-Hartley act repeal, proposed by the Democratic platform, the tidelands oil grab also proposed by the same platform; drifting too much to the left, and price controls in peace time that might lead to a police state in the long run. These papers point out that both Dewey and Warren are sufficiently liberal, and are thoroughly weaned away from the old standpoint Republicans, and are clear of isolationism. In fact, Gov. Warren of California has carried the Democratic votes of that state on one or more occasions. He has made California one of its best governors. And, too, these papers say that Tom Dewey when NY district attorney busted up some of the worst racketeer gangs in the history of that city, and has made the state a fine chief executive.

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chisholm were Mr. and Mrs. John Purcell Clovis, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Purcell, Mr. and Mrs. Box Alexander and family and Mrs. Walter Frazier from Sundown.

Indians Asking For $327,000,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—The nation's Indians are asking the Government for upwards of $357,000,000 and in addition for value of lands amounting to many millions of dollars more.

James A. Langston, chief clerk and administrative officer of the Indian Claims Commission, told a reporter today that Indian Tribes have already filed 37 claims, most of them charging treaty violations or wrongful distribution of land.

"All of these claims do not state the specific amount of damages sought," Langston said. "The total amount of those that do is $357,000,000."

The largest sum sought is $91,350,000 by the Saginaw-Chippewa tribes of Michigan, who charge government violations of treaties. The smallest is for $144,000 by the Fond Du Lac and other Chippewa Tribes.

Some claims are for value of vast areas of land which the Indians alleged were taken from them without proper authority.

The Commission has heard final argument in the first case. In it the Osage Tribe of Oklahoma filed claims for recovery of an un-stated amount of "Civilization Funds" which the Indians said were given by Uncle Sam to other tribes.

The Osages say their lands were sold under a treaty with them to create the "Civilization" fund but the signers of the treaty did not understand that any of the money was to go for the benefit of other tribes.

The Commission will hear arguments on the cases as fast as they can be reached.

When a decision is reached, recommendations will be made to congress, which must decide whether to pay claims which the commission finds are justified.

Under the law creating the commission, Indian Tribes have about three more years in which to file their claims. The Commission is due to expire in about nine more years.

Before creation of the Commission the only way Indian Tribes could get claims considered was to have congress pass laws permitting them to file in the U. S. Court of Claims.

Bill Lyles Get To See Our Oil Fields

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lyle of Lubbock, were visitors in the Stricklin home Sunday. Bill was for many years, back some 20 years ago, traveling salesman for one of the large wholesale groceries out of Lubbock, and in those days made this entire section. He has often talked to us about stalling in sandy roads. He was pleased to see so many farm to market roads in this area, and the neighborhood roads leading to the F to M roads well graded and passable.

After quitting the road, Bill ran service stations in Lubbock, but in the meantime bought a quarter section of land just northeast of Monroe in Lubbock county. He has sold his filling station business and since putting down an irrigation well, devotes his time to his farm, to which he drives daily. He keeps a good herd of dairy cows, and of course raises alfalfa and feed on the farm, principally.

Following a good noon day meal, principally furnished by some of our good farm friends, a drive over the town was made, and Bill and wife noted great improvements here since they were here last. As Mrs. Lyle had never seen the carbon black plants, nor Bill the Denver City oil fields, we made a swing in that direction, going via Seagraves so that Mrs. Lyle could see the carbon black plants near there. She did not think she would like to work in one, particularly the one southwest of Seagraves.

So on to Denver City for their first trip. Bill was carried away with the oil fields and admitted that he had no idea they were so extensive. He was also surprised that there was a large plant for making acid to dope wells right on the grounds of the oil fields. He did not know that the Southwestern Public Service Co. had a huge generating plant near Denver City, with high lines carrying juice to his own city.

Bill was particularly interested in the deep breaking of the sandier soils in the Seagraves-Well-

Some of U. of T. Students Loyal Southerners

Students of the University of Texas filed with the Dean of Student life Sept. 27 an official constitution of a University States' Rights Club, for the purpose of supporting the candidacy of J. Strom Thurmond and Fielding Wright, States' Rights Democrats' candidates for the Presidency of the United States. The club is similar to those already formed at 72 southern colleges and junior colleges. It has affiliated with the national States Rights Democrats Colleges and Universities Organization, of which Kenneth Deshotel, president of the student body at Louisiana State University, is national chairman.

Officers elected at the organizational meeting are Thomas D. Affleck, Jr., of Galveston, president; William R. Archer, of Houston area. He has traveled over the area enough to know the productiveness of the soil if a crop can be started in time. He believes that deep breaking is the answer to the prayer of the farmers and owners of these lands. He believes it will work well, perhaps not indefinitely, but for a few years at least, then break again.

So pleased were the Lyles with the trip, stating they did not know when they had enjoyed a short trip more, it was decided that they were to come back down Sunday morning early, and a trip be made into the irrigation farming area around Lovington, N. M. Bill is particularly anxious to see the Japanese irrigation farm near that city if possible. But that will be another story.

Came back over the FM road that turns off the DC-Plains highway north of DC, and came back into 51 at Wellman. Folks there is a lot of fairly good cotton in places, and thousands of acres of young combine maize that is going to have a close race with Mr. J. Frost. We hope the maize beats the deadline. The farmers and the area need the feed.

ton, vice-president; and Robert L. Bradley, of Houston, secretary-treasurer.

Affleck issued the following statement: "Despite the noisy propaganda of the radical minority through their campus newspaper, The Daily Texan, the student body of our university as a whole believes in the rights of the individual and of the States as guaranteed by the Bill of Rights. Therefore, we have organized this club to inform the citizens of the State that the students of their State University are supporting J. Strom Thurmond the only candidate in the presidential race who believes in and will uphold these rights. The endorsement by campus leftist groups of the repeated insults recently heaped upon the South by President Truman has made the need for such a group acute and necessary."

Mrs. and Mrs. Bill McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hilt and Virginia Lee spent the past weekend in Ruidoso, N. M.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Parks this week from Dallas were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Litsey.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Hackney are leaving this week for Fort Worth to attend the Oklahoma and Texas University Football game Saturday.

Increase In Payments For Old Age Assistance

Payments to those who are dependent upon Old Age Assistance, Aid to the Needy Blind and Aid to Dependent Children will be increased an average of about $2.00 on October 1, 1948. This is a result of recent changes in the Federal Social Security Act, according to Miss Kanna Stephens, field worker for the State Department of Public Welfare.

In the last days of the Regular Session of the 80th Congress, the matching formula by which Federal money is allocated to the States was changed. The new Federal formula provides about 64 percent Federal to 36 per cent State. Miss Stephens stated that there is, of course, no Federal money allocated any State except on this matching basis.

Had not this additional Federal money been made available, it would have been necessary to reduce each Old Age assistance check between $2.00 and $3.00 during each month of the present fiscal year, according to Miss Stephens.

It is now possible to avoid this cut and instead raise checks $2.00 and to adopt a maximum payment of $50.00 in the Old Age and Blind Programs; and $27.00 for the first child in a family and $18.00 for each additional child in the Aid to Dependent Children program. All adjustments have already been made, and it has not been necessary for those receiving aid to visit the Welfare office to secure such raises as are possible.

It is anticipated that the Old Age assistance rolls will show a net increase of 700 persons per month and the average payment will increase slightly each month. The additional funds will be used in these three ways: To avoid what would have been a $2.00 to $3.00 cut in payments each month; to increase payments approximately $2.00; and to provide for payments to new persons coming on the rolls.

During the month of September 1948, 189 Old Age Assistance checks were mailed to people living in Terry county. These checks totaled $5,880.00 averaging $31.11 per person. Three checks were mailed to Terry County people receiving Aid to the Blind, averaging $36.67 per person. Checks were mailed to five families representing 12 dependent children averaging $17.18 per child or $41.23 per family.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Lewis and family from Shallowater spent the weekend visiting relatives and friends.

Mesdames Edwin Sturges, O. L. Stice and Elsie Kendrick attended the South Plains Fair in Lubbock Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Crump and daughter, Jackie, were visitors to Lubbock Sunday.

I am out today, folks, to alert a raft of good citizens on what to expect as the Govt., instead of just having a foot in the door of some business, gets all the way in, like Uncle Samuel almost is, right now, along the Columbia there in Oregon and Washington. Good citizens throughout the land who believe in private business versus the Govt. running same, are more or less sold on the idea of the Govt. running the power house.

Electric power is a technical subject. Few people feel like delving too deep—so they just take somebody's word for it. For these folks, here is what to do—it is simple—will take little effort—will upset nobody's tranquility or take much time from the ball game broadcasts or the soap-suds drama. Do this one thing—whether you are a millner, or dentist, hardware salesman, barber, or what. Say to yourself, "Could the Govt. do my job better than I am doing it?"

Your answer will put you

straight on the Govt. dams and powerhouses that are springing up across the nation. But do it—before the Govt. ambles over on your side of the street and starts trimming bonnets—putting in in-lays—peddlin' hardware, etc. Amperes and volts are as complicated and maybe even more difficult to handle than putting a little flower on mama's chapeau. So look out folks—no telling who is the next victim.

WHAT is the ruling factor in sport? There can be only one answer. It isn't the manager or the coach, who too often picks up entirely too much credit. It is always the material. It is the fighter—the football player—the baseball player. It is the fellow up front on the firing line.

During the recent winter season, football went on a wild rampage in the shift of coaches. There were shifts all over the map—Navy, Michigan, Harvard, Yale, Washington and Kansas.

Then, in the middle of the baseball season, there was another wild upheaval with Durocher going to the Giants, Shotton back to the Phillies—the earlier rumors that Joe McCarthy was through—reports of a family friction with the Athletics—trouble in St. Louis—trouble in Chicago—too many reports to follow.

What too many people overlook is this: It is the material, not the coach or the manager, that has the final say. Certainly, the manager and coach have roles to play—often important roles. But not even a Frank Leahy or a Fritz Crisler was ever as important as the material. No Leahy, a great coach, was ever up to a Lujack, a Connor, a Fischer, or a Czarnowski.

Of course, a big part of a manager's job is to get the best material. That is also a big part of the coach's job in football—and this goes for the colleges as well as the pros.

A winning baseball team needs that pitcher or that hitter—more than one of them. A winning college football team needs that passer, ball carrier and blocker.

The coach gets far too much credit for victory and far too much blame for defeat. The same is true of a pennant race. They pile too many olive blossoms on the winner and too many strands of poison ivy on the loser.

Many a big league manager has been made—and many a one wrecked—by the material he had. Don't forget this in the build-up and the knock-over.

Start of Passing
The passing game in college reached its peak last fall. The colleges had Bobby Layne of Texas, Chuck Conerly of Mississippi, Harry Gilmer of Alabama, Johnny Lujack of Notre Dame, Tony Minisi of Penn., Ray Evans of Kansas, Bob Chappius of Michigan and many others.

These have all moved over into the pro group. With Paul Governali, Sammy Baugh, Sid Luckman, Otto Graham, Glenn Dobbs and others at work, the passing game will reach another peak this fall.

Who started the passing game? Here's a contribution from Buck O'Neil, a lusty old-timer:
"Dear Grant:

"I was interested in your column on Merrilat, and at West Point in the decades purpled by time. You spoke of Chicago and Michigan using the forward pass back in 1906, the year that the play was introduced into football.

"Chicago had a pretty fair sort of quarterback that year, fellow named Walter Eckersall. He was 145 pounds of wildcat, and he is the man—I believe—who caught Willie Heston from behind in one game between Chicago and Michigan.

"No matter about that, but Eckie threw passes to Fred Walker, a fine end of the Maroon, and beat the vaunted Minnesota team through the air. Eckersall to Walker was one of the great pass combinations of their day and time.

Ahead of His Time
"Glenn Warner had some great pass experts at Carlisle, and one of the earliest combinations was Mt Pleasant to Exendine and Gardner Warner, always ahead of his time in coaching, developed the technique of sending linemen down the field with his ends to block out the halfbacks. The Indians were terrific in the air and, of course, their skill was attributed to some romantic bridge between the Indian and the occult.

"There was nothing mystic about the skill of the Indians, although guys like Exendine and Gardner, and that great lineman of the era, Newashe, who played end and tackle with equal skill and aboriginal ferocity, were really out of this world. The foundation of Carlisle's success was laid on blocking the halfback.

"Navy used the forward pass in 1913, but it was a haphazard thing Harry Blodgett, a Middle halfback told me that his orders were to 'fade five yards and throw the ball hard.'"

Engine Life Begins at "40"

Tedious Engine "Break-In" Eliminated

No tedious "break-in" period is necessary for new Dodge owners. With Dodge you can drive at a brisk pace right from the start. Dodge actually "speed-proofs" your engine... gives cylinder walls a protective oil-absorbing coating that guards against damage during the critical "break-in" miles. This process is exclusive with Dodge at no extra cost to you.

Stop by your Dodge Dealer and look over today's luxurious Dodge. Check the many other big advantages Dodge offers... All-Fluid Drive... Full-Floating Ride... Chair-Height Seats... extra-roomy interiors. Then you'll know why owners are so enthusiastic about their Dodge cars... why Dodge gives most for your new-car dollar today.

ONLY DODGE "SPEED-PROOFS" ENGINES

With this exclusive Dodge process you can start off at 40 miles per hour. After 250 miles, car speed may be increased at the rate of 5 miles per hour for each 25 miles traveled. At only 350 miles your engine is ready to "go".

Short Snorts On States' Rights

By JIMMY ARRINGTON
From the way he is fumbling around I don't believe president Truman ever played football and learned the lesson of cooperation and team work, for if he had, he would not be running around the country talking about how worthless his team mates in the 80th congress were. He'll have to admit that they were pretty good "blockers."

Speaking of football reminds me of the time back in the dirty thirties when us folks were eating rabbits in the summertime as a hangover of the Hoover prosperity, and in order to get our minds off of empty stomachs at home and empty heads in Washington, the football bowl mania spread over the nation.

Miami got the orange owl, New Orleans the sugar bowl, Dallas the cotton bowl, et cetera. In keeping with the trend of the times, us folks down in this part of the country started yelling for us a bowl game. We took it up with our chamber of commerce (we didn't have much commerce or vice versa) but we took it up with them any how, and inasmuch as the WPA was the only industry we had, they decided to call our game the "Relief Bowl."

One team selected was composed of men not on the WPA and the other of WPA'ers. The only trouble we had was that the game was delayed three weeks, as they couldn't find eleven men to make up the non-WPA team. They finally ran in a couple of republican ringers and the game was played. I'll never forget it.

The first half went off without anything of consequence happening except one of the WPA players saw some sweat and fainted and had to call time out, but the half ended without either team scoring.

I was on the non-WPA team as I guessed wrong and didn't vote for the right congressman that year, but I didn't play in the first half.

At the beginning of the second half our coach called me and said, "ZimoZavitch," (that was my football name), "get in there and see what the trouble is."

Well I got in the game and it didn't take me long to find out the trouble. The WPA team was using a tricky formation on us. They called it the "New Deal" formation—that was where the quarterback ran around in a circle and both ends drug the ground.

It was rather confusing as they didn't know where they were headed for and we didn't either.

With only a few minutes of play left it appeared the game would end in a scoreless tie, but it then fell my lot to interrupt one of them shovel passes the WPA'ers had been leaning against and I headed down the field.

Just about time I reached pay dirt, the most embarrassing thing happened to me as I felt my suspenders let loose their responsibility.

I do not know whether you have ever tried to run down a football field with a football in one hand and your pants in the other or not, but it takes some fancy foot and hip work to do so.

Kind of like Harry S. trying to run as a Democrat while carrying all the crackpot proposals of the minority blocs, the Commies and the fellow travelers.

However, I made the touch down because every time one of them WPA players would start to tackle me, I would let my suspenders slip and turn around and say, "You wouldn't hit a man back in school."

Lapidary Art School At Benham

BONHAM, Oct. 7 (AP) —The Fannin County school of Lapidary Art and Silversmithing for disabled persons here is the only one of its kind in the Southwest.

The school, under the Texas State program of vocational rehabilitation for disabled persons, is conducted by the Rev. Charles G. Kehle, Episcopal Rector of Bonham. Classes are held in the Bonham high school building.

J. J. Brown of the State Department of vocational rehabilitation rates the school as giving the most complete training in its field of any in the U. S.

The Rev. Kehle came to Texas from Canada last year, where he spent 16 years in mission work among the Indians of Ontario. He taught them gem cutting and jewelry making.

The enrollment in the school is small, but because of the highly specialized nature of the work, large classes are not feasible.

The disabled students are taught how to cut cabochons—gems or stones with smooth, curved surfaces. Jewels such as diamonds are also fashioned. Students work with gold, silver, aluminum, brass and copper and are taught plating, "replating" and engraving. They also learn to recut stones and set them according to customers design.

The State Department of Vocational Rehabilitation pays tuition.

Did You Know Hayfever Is Caused By Love— Love of the Ragweed for Its Mate?

In the Fall a ragweed's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love and this month, throughout most of the United States, every up-standing ragweed will be on the hunt for a mate.

All this seedy pursuit of happiness is all right for ragweeds but it's tough on you if you are one of the millions who suffer hay fever as the result of inhaling pollen. In that case you cannot afford to look down your nose at the activities of the young ragweed, Romeo and Juliet. Many of them may not find each other, but your nose instead. Worse, you may even have a date there.

In that case you ought to know about Neohetramine (2-(N-dimethyl-aminoethyl-N-p-methoxybenzyl)-amino-pyrimidine-2,6-dione-hydrochloride) and don't sneeze at that either. This interesting sounding and acting drug, a product now made available by Wyeth Incorporated on a doctor's prescription, has been found in a number of recorded clinical tests to give relief to 82 per cent of seasonal hay fever sufferers, and what is most remarkable of all, with almost complete absence of deleterious, or "side," effects.

These tests, as reported by Drs. Leo H. Crip and Theodore H. Aaron of the University of Pittsburgh Medical School and Montefiore Hospital to the American Academy of Allergy, showed Neohetramine to be the safest of all similar drugs. In fact the incidence of side effects was so low that they named it the "safest" antihistamine.

Neohetramine, the physicians showed, also proved startlingly effective in curing or moderating headache, bronchial asthma, the skin eruption known as urticaria, and allergic rhinitis. The tests were extensive, 124 hay fever sufferers being treated with Neohetramine by Drs. Crip and Aaron.

The development of Neohetramine is the result of clever medical detection work. Allergies are a comparatively recent medical discovery. The word "allergy" has been in the language only half a century. It is now known that the inhalation of pollens, especially that of ragweed, can produce asthma, sneezing, face swelling and other allied symptoms. Many foods, shellfish and strawberries for example, wool, cat fur and scores of other things may cause various unhappy reactions among those allergic to them.

When a disease germ enters the body, the body automatically sets up its own defense by manufacturing anti-bodies to combat the germ. Pollens and other allergens are also met in

It won't be long before the old narrow roads, where two cars can barely pass without colliding, will be replaced by splendid highways on which six or eight cars can collide at the same time.

You'll always find that the man of the hour has made his plans for years.

tion, board and room for the disabled students. They provide equipment and materials, and at the completion of the course—a minimum of six months—the equipment becomes the property of the graduate.

Acquiring skill in transforming raw materials into attractive and unusual jewelry is giving a new start in life to the students, whose handicaps have barred them from other types of work.

the body with anti-bodies. But the real villain of the hay fever and other similar ailments is now believed to be a chemical called histamine which is normally found in minute quantities in most of the body tissues. Pollen and the antibodies it creates combine to cause the liberation of histamine in the body. The histamine in turn dilates the blood vessels so that the tissues which the blood vessels feed become swollen and gorged, like the stomach of a man who has eaten far too much. When the tissues of the mucous membrane of the nose get this indigestion and stomachache, the result is hay-fever or perhaps rhinitis. Other tissues so afflicted may result in hives, asthma or worse.

Histamine thus acts as a sort of fifth columnist in the body for allergens. But it was only recently that histamine's devious underground work was discovered. Once that was established, however, the research laboratories got to work and developed the so-called antihistamines. Of these, Neohetramine, as shown in the Crip-Aaron report, is the least likely to produce in the patient such side reactions as dizziness and drowsiness.

The antihistamines have been found valuable also in other respects—notably in overcoming certain patients' allergies to drugs which it is necessary to administer to them. During a recent operation for tumor at Temple University Hospital, penicillin injections had to be given a woman patient. To these she showed pronounced and

C. L. Lincoln Attends State Meeting

The State Department Commander of Texas met in Austin last week. Mr. C. L. Lincoln was appointed on the executive committee, department of Texas and chairman of membership committee for the five divisions of Texas comprising about 65 counties of West Texas.

An executive committee meeting was held on Saturday, October 2, at the State Department Headquarters. At this meeting a state quota of 188,000 members for 1949 was made. Various prizes were offered to the District and Division commanders.

Common Colds Are Easy To Transmit

Sudden seasonal changes in the weather during the fall months often result in chilling, which in turn is usually followed by widespread incidence of the common cold. This disease always spreads rapidly because of the fact that very few people can live isolated lives and in any group or crowd of people, coughing, sneezing and spitting will scatter millions of cold germs among susceptible persons.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer says that there are countless ways of spreading a cold other than by coughing, sneezing and spitting. "For instance" the Doctor said, "if a member of your family has a cold and the other members share a common drinking glass with him, you may expect the whole family to pick up the germs he leaves on the glass. Sometimes a person with a cold thoughtlessly touches his mouth or nostrils with his hand, and then shakes hands with another person. That person, can and very likely will contaminate his own mouth or nostrils with his hand, and the germs are transmitted into his system. A child with a cold may contaminate his toys and the next child that picks them up and plays with them will certainly obtain the cold germs, along with the toys."

Children, as well as adults, who are suffering from a cold should be put to bed, and if complete rest, light food, and plenty of liquids do not improve his condition in a short time, the family physician should be called. Dr. Cox further advised that dressing properly for the weather, sensible eating, plenty of rest, and avoiding persons with colds can be helpful in preventing your own infection. Colds are costly in time, health, and money, the Doctor said, and added, "Prevent them if possible."
