Harvest Festival And Fair Plans Complete

Local Man Receives Award

The coveted Four-Letter Award which Ford Motor Company is bestowing on qualifying Ford dealers today was in possession of Portwood Motor Co.

Presentation of the handsome certificate—which signify the highest badge of distinction a Ford dealer can earn—came during a recognition in Brownfield today. The awards were personally bestowed by Assistant District Sales Manager A. Y. Edwards.

The four letters—FMSF—represent simultaneously the high Ford dealer performance level that must be earned, and the overall new Ford company challenge, "Ford Must Stand First." Dealer recipients, under the new Four-Letter Award program, must match their individual operation with the company's four key franchise essentials: Sound finances, efficient management, competitive spirit, and modern facilities.

Vote For Amendment No. 2 November 2

Equitable representation in the State Legislature for all sections of Texas through regular redistricting has been endorsed by all regional chambers of commerce, Paul Carrington, immediate past-president of the Texas Association of Commerce, has announced.

"The East, West and South Texas Chambers of Commerce, which represent the entire state of Texas, have gone on record in support of Amendment Two on the general election ballot November 2nd," Carrington stated.

"Since the Legislature has failed to redistrict Texas in 27 years, many sections which have had large increases in population are today discriminated against in the matter of representation," Carrington pointed out. "This situation will be corrected through the passage of Amendment Two in the November election."

Amendment Two provides for a board of five to redistrict the state according to population, after every Federal census should the Legislature fail to do so as directed by the state constitution.

John Ben Shepperd, former national president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, is serving as chairman of a state-wide non-political organization, the Texas Committee for Redistricting, which is urging voters to support redistricting in the November 2nd election through passage of Amendment Two.

Mrs. A. J. Stricklin, Sr. was in Lubbock on business Monday.

Paving Program Waiting For Cement Says Mayor

Mayor Tom May stated this week that the paving program for Brownfield was being held up for lack of cement. In fact, he stated, that article's scarcity has plagued the contractors ever since they started on the job. By hook and crook they got enough cement to make what curbs there are, all of which have been hot topped.

He stated that the contractors thought they had all the cement they would need, but for one reason or another, the manufacturers failed to make deliveries. They believe that it will be too cold soon for concrete work in the north and northeast, and they can get enough to finish the job here before winter sets in.

However, it will soon be too cold here even, to do successful hot topping, and that will have to wait till next spring when the weather warms up again, so that the asphalt will remain soft enough to take up the gravel.

In the meantime a number of blocks in the newer additions of the city have been paved, with plenty north-south streets paved so that the residents of those areas can get to town without leaving pavement.

Over in the north side of the city, Fifth street has been finished to the compass. There it connects with an east-west street to Lubbock road and the highways. Those who are expecting pavement by their places will just have to be patient. In many items of materials and merchandise, the demand still exceeds the output.

Mrs. A. C. Crowe, Ceton Crowe and Seth Martin were Brownfield visitors Thursday night.

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS Wednesday, the day of October the Twentieth in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-Eight, has been set as the date of the annual Harvest Holiday and Merchants Jubilee, and

WHEREAS we have much for which to be thankful—the purpose for which this day has been set aside—a good harvest, general good health and peace on earth, and

WHEREAS the time should come at least once each year when we can lay aside everyday burdens and join our fellow men in a joyous spirit of conviviality and goodwill, and

WHEREAS it will be a "Day of Days" in Brownfield when we can all get together, not only with our next door neighbors, but also with our neighbors from surrounding communities and enjoy ourselves to the utmost,

THEREFORE, I, Tom May, by the powers vested in me as Mayor of the City of Brownfield, do hereby proclaim Wednesday, the day of October the Twentieth in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-Eight as Brownfield's Harvest Holiday and Merchant's Jubilee.

Signed TOM MAY

Near 10 1/2 Inches Of Rain This Year

So far this year the rainfall of Terry County has been below par with the exception of February and perhaps September. We do not have at hand the average rainfall of the latter month, but the USWB at Houston reported to us that the 1.92 in February was considerably over average.

To date we have the following results for the year 1948. If we are to have a norm of 18 inches plus for the year, the rest of October, November and December will have to do their stuff:

Month	Amount
January	.20
February	1.92
March	.00
April	.31
May	1.27
June	.81
July	2.01
August	.51
September	2.60
October 9	.79
Total	10.42

Reports From County Officials

Four charges of driving while intoxicated were filed on records of the county. All pleaded guilty and paid fines.

Twenty-one drunks were reported to have been picked up. All pleaded guilty and paid fines. Two were picked up without drivers license, pleaded guilty and paid fines.

One woman was picked up for vagrancy and being drunk. She pleaded guilty and paid fines of $15.00 in each case.

On the 11th a 23 year old man was picked up as an Army deserter. He had been out of the Army for 2 years.

Cubs Take Littlefield 24-13

Coming from behind and turning almost certain defeat into an unexpected victory, the Cubs made such a surprising second-half recovery last Friday night that it indeed would be difficult to determine whether the spectators or the Wildcats were the more surprised. Many local fans were asking of one another: "What in the world did that man (Kellow) do to those boys between halves?"

Kellow's answer to a Monday night session of the Quarterback Club was that it was merely a matter of repositioning his defense and setting up an offense that would work against the Littlefield defense. Littlefield opened the scoring when the Wildcats worked the ball to the Cub ten and Walker carried around end to score. Try for point was successful. A Billings-to-Johnson pass shortly thereafter, (See CUBS TAKE, Page 12)

Telford To Manage Muldrow Grain Co.

J. M. Telford, former sheriff and longtime resident of Terry county has been named manager of the Muldrow Grain Co. Telford has had a great deal of experience in business relations with the public, much of it of a type closely allied to his present duties.

The elevators, recently inspected, approved and bonded by the government, will be ready Monday, October 18, to accept grain for storage in the government bins. The firm will also buy grain not in the loan.

Meet us at the Festival and Fair.

The finishing touches are being given this week for the big Four Day Celebration here in Brownfield next week, beginning with Wednesday, October 20, the day on which the Harvest Queen will be selected and outfitted for a great two week vacation, all expenses paid with a tour of Old Mexico. At the same time her runnerup will be selected and given a free trip to the Sun Bowl Carnival at El Paso, announcement of which is made elsewhere in this issue.

Fair Catalogs Distributed
The thousands of people from this area who will come for the Queen Crowning alone will be well rewarded, even if they come from a great distance. The regal splendor of the occasion will dwell long in the minds of those who come. To be followed the succeeding three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 21, 22, 23 to be devoted to the Terry-Yoakum County Fair. Manager R. N. McClain received the fair catalogs from the printers the past week end has distributed them to prospective exhibitors.

This catalog is replete with many and sundry awards for those who have either livestock, farm products, culinary, needle work and what have you. Thousands from these two counties as well as visitors from other nearby counties are expected to attend the fair, which will be held in the large show barns at the county park, a mile north of town. Be sure to visit the Terry-Yoakum fair at least one day.

Stores May Be Closed
We understand that the stores in Brownfield may be closed at least part of the day, Wednesday during the parade, and at the Crowning ceremony. At the time this is written nothing definite along that line has been worked out, but we feel almost sure that the stores will be closed at least part of the day.

However, during the fair the stores will be open, we understand, but that owners and managers will try to arrange it so any of their employees who wish, will have the opportunity of visiting the fair.

Sun Bowl Carnival To Honor Runner-up To Harvest Queen

The main topic for discussion at the Rotary Club meeting Friday was a letter received from officials of the Sun Carnival in El Paso. The letter stated they would like to have the second place winner of the Harvest Queen race as their guest on Jan. 1st. The Rotary club voted to help sponsor the girl who receives this honor.

The girl is to be designated as Brownfield Princess in all the official functions of the Sun Carnival and at the Sun Bowl Game. Her expenses and incidentals will be paid for by the Harvest Festival Committee.

Reservations at a leading hotel in El Paso will be given her at the expense of the Sun Carnival. Her float for the Sun Parade will be furnished by a local firm in El Paso.

Complimentary tickets will be furnished to the chaperons and escorts of the girl chosen.

They will arrive in El Paso on December 28th and be there through January 1st. There will be programs and all kinds of entertainment in their honor, during the time they are in El Paso.

Local fans are planning to charter a special bus to attend the Sun Bowl Carnival and Football game for January 1st.

Thanksgiving Game To Be Played Here

The Thanksgiving football game will be played in Brownfield, on Thanksgiving Day, November 25th. This game is between the Clubs and the Lubbock Westerners and will start promptly at 2:30 P. M.

Superintendent Cowan also announced that the report cards for the school children will be given them next Wednesday, October 20th.

BROWNFIELD'S HARVEST QUEEN CANDIDATES—Five young ladies are vying for honors in the annual Harvest Festival, sponsored by the Rotary Club, winner of which will receive a two-week all-expense tour of Old Mexico. NEW MODEL WHEELBARROW
BUENOS AIRES —(AP)— It took hundreds of years, but somebody finally improved the wheelbarrow.
 Engineer Arnold Schauer showed city officials his new model. Instead of having the wheel in front, it has it under the body. Schauer said this means the wheelbarrow chauffeur carries less load and the wheel itself carries more.

YOUR CAR MAY HAVE AN ACID STOMACH
NEW YORK —(AP)— Ninety per cent of engine wear in your automobile may be due to the action of acids, and not friction, Shell Oil Co. research scientists report.
 "In short trips about town—to the office, the bank, and shopping—the average motorist huns his engine for brief periods of time only," said C. E. Davis, vice president in charge of manufacturing. "When the engine is thus intermittently on and off, it runs 'cold' with the result that combustion may be incomplete and partially burned fuel gases and moisture attack the smoothly polished surfaces chemically. It is this type of acid action that accounts for up to 90 per cent of engine wear."

Threat to the World
THE ONLY PLACE for a red flag in the United States is over an open sewer. The red flag has traditionally become a symbol of danger in America—and there is nothing more dangerous in this or any other country than the red flag of Communism. If Communism meant nothing more here or elsewhere than just another political party, as most people view it, there would be no difficulty in dealing with it.
 We could outlaw it, we could keep it off the ballots or it could die out of its own lack, as other political parties have withered and died.

The danger, however, of the red flag of Communism is that it is not merely a political party.
 This column several months ago, and since, has pointed to the complacency here because the people generally have not understood that Communism is a religion, a political religion dedicated to eradicate other religions from the world—definitely anti-God, anti-spiritual.
 With the Communist spy probes continuing here and anti-Communist legislation sure to be introduced in the next congress, it is significant that religious bodies now are recognizing the danger of the red flag and what Communism as an ideology actually means.
 The hierarchy of the Anglican and associated churches which recently met in England, where ironically enough, Socialists are in power, have recognized the Communist fallacy.
 The encyclical issued by the Lambeth conference points out the Communist doctrine that "man is a creature of the world only" and that as a consequence he begins and ends here; he comes out of nothing, goes back to nothing; he has no niche, function, purpose or destiny that is tied to a purpose; he is merely a soulless and senseless

Meet us at the Festival and Fair.

LOU PERINI, the Braves president, has at least stirred up quite an argument. As you may remember, Perini wants the two big leagues made into two bigger leagues—and he has something on his side.

How can baseball point with any deep pride to its big league roster with such cities as Los Angeles, San Francisco, Baltimore, Buffalo, Houston and several other swiftly growing centers of population still waiting on the outside?

Los Angeles is on its way to 8 or 10 million people. It is already one of the big cities of the country. Both Los Angeles and San Francisco are sport-minded, far beyond the average.

You'll see 95,000 at the Rose Bowl party and some 10 miles away 70,000 at Santa Anita on the same day. Los Angeles, in a major league with the proper park, would challenge New York, Cleveland and Detroit for attendance leadership. So would San Francisco. There are other cities that would outdraw many of the present big league group.

Perini suggests two 12-team leagues. This might be better than a third major outfit, which the Pacific coast wants, and some day may get.

Of course, the present top minor leagues would without a coyote if their leading cities were ripped away. They would be entitled to a record squawk, but sooner or later there must be a change. Why should fans in certain cities get major league ball, while fans in other much larger cities get the minor league brand?

Football is an entirely different matter. Football followers in far smaller cities get a chance to see as much good football—probably more—than New York does. Big stadiums, or stadia, are scattered all over the map from California to New England, from Minnesota to Florida and Texas.
 The football fan can see fine football in 40 or 50 localities. But there are only 12 major league cities, and at least 6 of these 12 are falling behind other population centers.

GIRL GETS BIGGEST PENICILLIN DOSE
NEW YORK — (AP)— A 19-year old girl here may hold the record for the greatest amount of penicillin received in a concentrated period of treatment. She was given 450,000,000 units of the drug during 47 days.
 The girl was suffering from subacute bacterial endocarditis, a disease in which a damaged heart valve continually throws infectious bacteria into the bloodstream. The gigantic doses of penicillin cleared up the blood condition, and it hasn't returned. Doctors of Beth-El Hospital, Brooklyn, where she was treated, said they believed the total dosage of penicillin was the largest or one of the largest ever given to one person in a short period of time.

 Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Howze returned Monday from Dallas after spending the weekend with their daughters, Earlene and Evelyn Jones. Earlene accompanied them home for a week's visit.

A Statement To Patrons Of The Brownfield Consolidated Independent School District

Monday night a committee of seven men representing a larger group met with the local School Board requesting a 45 per cent deduction in the proposed $750,000 bond issue in order that taxes may be reduced. The Board learned that it was the opinion of the committee and possibly other tax payers that the entire tax increase was for the new bond issue. The board wishes to inform the public that the majority of the increase is for school maintenance and not for bond purposes. The total income derived from taxes in 1947-48 was $102,439.12. The estimated tax income for 1948-49 is $170,000 bringing an additional income of $67,560.88. About $30,000 of the increase was provided for the new bond issue and the remainder being $37,560.88 for increased operation of the school. This increase was brought about by the employment of ten extra teachers, the increase of all school supplies, equipment and maintenance. In 1947-48 the maintenance tax was not increased at all even though teachers salaries were increased about $60,000. The Board found it to be impossible to maintain an affiliated school for Brownfield without increasing the income for maintenance.

The Board is under pressure from the group who is seriously in favor of the new issue as well as the group who are opposed to the issue. Therefore, the Board felt that it would be wise to better inform the general public on the entire tax problem. If the bond issue were reduced by 45 per cent as requested by the committee the over-all tax reduction would reduce the tax levy from $1.30 to $1.19 rate or 11c on the $100.00 valuation. For example: A tax payer whose property is valued at $10,000 would pay $119.00 annually instead of $130.00.

The question to be considered by the Board is: would the majority of our tax payers prefer to pay the additional 11c and have an adequate school plant for the present and several years to come, or is it the desire of the majority of our tax payers to reduce the bond and provide a cheap construction in order to get by. This is the problem that has been taken into consideration by the Board.

It has been rumored that the school will no longer receive the $55 per capita from the State. This rumor is false. The per capita money is used solely for payment of teachers salaries. Of course, it is necessary to supplement the per capita money with income from our taxes since teachers salaries now amount to approximately $180,000 annually.

STARTING THE CONCRETE

The pouring of the first of nearly 50,000 yards of concrete has started on the outlet of the North Concho dam just northwest of San Angelo. Wing walls are going up first, with concrete being mixed in the big two-yard machine at far left and poured from a bucket on the dragline on the embankment. Two concrete conduits with an inside diameter of 18 feet will be placed on the hollow-

Golden Wedding Observed By Mr. And Mrs. Brown

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown, sr., who have lived in Brownfield since 1925 celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon. Their friends and relatives called at their home 312 North 2nd Street from 2 until 5 o'clock. The occasion also marked the 67th birthday of Mrs. Brown. Hosts for the open house were the couple's six children. The children are M. B. Brown of Dallas, Mrs. Glen Mason of Meadow, Bill Brown, W. H. Brown, jr., Mrs. Willie Hyman and Mrs. B. C. Briscoe all from this city. There are 10 grand children in the family Mr. and Mrs. Brown lost a son, Pete, in Germany during World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were married in Van Zandt County. Mr. Brown will be 70 on October 24th. Around 50 guests registered in their white anniversary book.

Herds and Flocks

Fall pigs should be kept gaining from the start. If they stop gaining it is harder to get them started again, and it takes more feed. Don't let them lose their milk fat.

Keep weeds cut under your electric fence, to prevent grounding. Set the posts at an angle and you can keep the weeds cut with the mowing machine.

Flush ewes before the breeding season—that is, feed them generously so they will be gaining at breeding time. Changing from scant to good pasture, or feeding some grain, will put the ewes in better condition. Flushing results in more certain breeding.

Cows due to freshen in late fall should be dried off and given eight weeks of vacation to get ready for the blessed event. During this rest period, feed a fitting ration to keep the cow in good flesh and help develop the calf.

Some New Weed Killers Give Excellent Results

New weed killers to supplement 2,4-D are appearing with good reports. Quack grass and crab grass are two weed pests which 2,4-D does not control. IPC was developed in England during the war and now is giving good results in the control of quack grass, stolons and seedlings, in tests conducted by the U. S. department of agriculture. It is harmless to persons and to some broadleaf plants.

Feeding Stimulants To Increase Weight Utilization of Feed Profits From Dotsage

Evidence that tonics and stimulants are as effective for livestock and poultry as they are for humans is contained in research conducted by Washington experiment station.

A year ago the experiment station started a feeding trial with four groups of Hereford heifers (six in each group). One group (serving as a control) was fed a basal grain ration consisting of barley, oats, beet pulp, peas and bran.

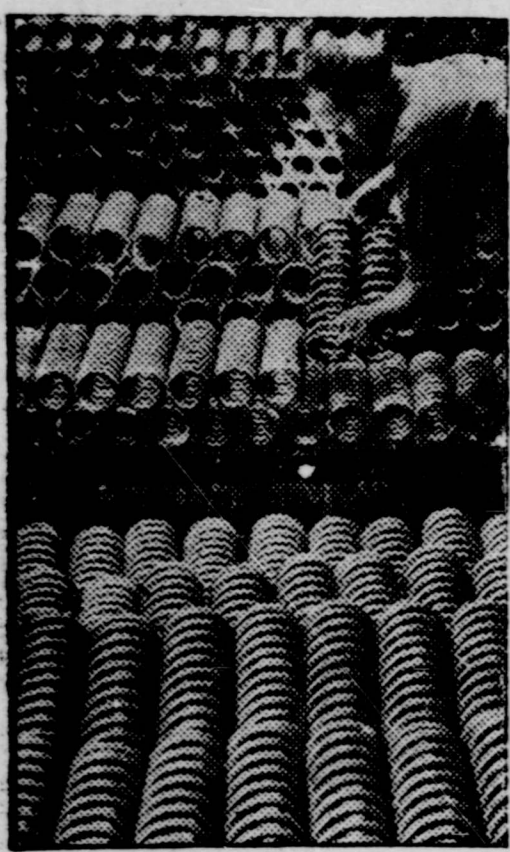

The other three groups had the same grain ration, with these additions: Lot 2, Fowler's solution (18 grams arsenic trioxide per 1,000 pounds of grain); lot 3, 300 grams of nux vomica per 1,000 pounds of grain; lot 4, 2 pounds thioracil per 1,000 pounds of grain.

During the first two weeks of feeding, the heifers getting nux vomica (lot 3) gained 3.8 pounds per head daily; those getting Fowler's solution, 2.6 pounds; those getting thioracil, 2.4 pounds; control animals, only .6 pounds. During the following two-week period, nux vomica steers gained 4.1 pounds; Fowler's solution, 3.1; thioracil, 3; control, 3.

As the weeks went by, the average daily gains for all groups came closer together. Here are the rates of gain for the four groups at the end of 14 weeks: Controls (no stimulant), 2.35 pounds; Fowler's solution, 2.6 pounds; nux vomica, 2.7 pounds; thioracil, 2.5 pounds.

The cost of feed per pound of weight gain was lowest in the nux vomica group. That is, they made better use of feed than the others.

RECRUITING RENDEZVOUS
is now established at Carlisle Barracks, for the first Regiment of Light Dragoons, commanded by Colonel Leonard Covington.

I am authorized by the aforesaid authority to allow to each individual, recruited for the Dragoons—a bounty of sixteen dollars; and at the expiration of his term of service, he will moreover be allowed and paid, three months pay, and a farm of 160 acres of land. And in addition thereto, he will be furnished by the government of the United States with good horse, a sword, a saddle, bridle, holsters, valise, pistols, boots, spurs—and uniform of clothing in the most complete and handsome style.

Our young men will not be backward at a crisis like the present, in offering themselves to the Military Service of our injured and now menaced country—a country which in spite of all the favours which Divine Providence seems to delight to heap upon it, as marked as it appears for the grasp of European Despotism, provided the schemes of the wicked are permitted to prevail—a country, and a constitution of the government, to which history produces no parallel—and for the protection and support of which, no heart should be unwilling to bleed—for which even the decrepit would lift his crutch—and whose faithful sons at her call, should never hesitate to deeds of desperate valour.

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL audience participation show, titled "What Makes You Tick?", is now heard on the coast-to-coast network of ABC each weekday morning at 11:45 EDT. Examiner of the fifteen minute show is John K. M. McCaffery, who is aided by a two-man board of psychologists.

John K. M. McCaffery

Dr. Leon Arons and Dr. Sidney Roslow, who are members of the American Psychological Association, chosen from the studio audience, are psychologically tested by their answers to a series of questions on a particular theme, such as: "Are you conceited?" or "Do you feel sorry for yourself?"

After scoring themselves beforehand, contestant-subjects win prizes on the basis of how closely their self-scoring coincides with the analyses arrived at by the professional psychologists.

A Compliment To American Farmers

In the current issue of The Nation's Agriculture, official publication of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the big mail order house of Sears, Roebuck & Co. had a full page ad on the back cover. It was not devoted to selling their merchandise. It was distinct and well earned compliment to the American Farmer.

The burden of the message was to the effect that not only the nation, but most of the world was and is depending on the great farms and farmers of America to keep them in food. We quote:

"THE ANSWER"

"Can America thwart world famine, without starving herself? Can our broad acres do what's demanded of them? Is the brawn of the American Farmers equal to the job?"

"The battle is being won! Probably no nation, in all history, ever coaxed more needed production

Notice that Grady Goodpature is building a penthouse on top of his grain elevator for hot nights. Or could that be the idea of his Little Woman?

Anyway, the political campaign will be over before Armistice Day. Then we can show to the world and particularly Russia, that "united we stand, divided we fall."

Two more weeks until the Spooks Walk again in Brownfield. Let's have fun without the destruction of property.

None of the calamity predictions that the scientists predict for mankind in the next million years or so, have thrown a scare into us.

Sunday's Dallas Morning News had 216 pages, their fair edition. We managed to wade through the colored comics.

Asked J. B. Burke what he was doing since he moved off the farm to town? "Just laying around, doin' nothing and enjoying it," says he. The lucky rascal.

The Plainsman in his column in Tuesday's Evening Journal says Lubbock is the medical center of this section. It does stand high, but Lubbock has a job on hand. Take Big Spring; they already have three private hospitals with two news ones building. In addition, they now have a 6 million dollar vets hospital under construction, and that's not say. And we might mention another costing around a million dollars or more that is taking care of several hundred mental cases.

Have just about decided that neither Lyndon or Coke are fit subjects for US Senate, and may settle for Jack Porter the GOPer. His name sound good—especially the first one.

Now this weather suits us fine. Sleep like a log, eat all we can get, and money matter not too worrying. Sometimes we wish Texas could just have two seasons, six months like May and six months like October.

Some of these days we hope to have the Herald's new mailing system working smoothly. We have received a lot of "fan" mail from those accidentally left off the new list. Most of them are just pleading to be restored to the list, but others make us think we are the umpire, and the air is full of pop bottles coming from the grand stand.

Says one: "The proposition to provide a pension to the high court judges don't suit me. If they are as wise as some think, why didn't they lay away some of their good salary for a rainy day when the going was not so tough?" Pretty well said.

Back in Tennessee when a youth, we country bumpkins used to call four o'clock flowers, "pretty-per-nights." The young people back there would get a kick out of that now. Those people are direct descendants of English, Scott and Irish who settled in the Carolinas, and they still use some words peculiar to the rural sections of the old countries. One of the relatives recently wrote us using the word "hope" for helped. The relative is fairly well educated and knows better, but an old habit hangs on with people.

Another old custom that hangs on back there, is when the company and family are seated at the dining table, with or sans grace, the head of the house usually tells you "to take out and help yourself." Some laugh at that custom, but what the host really means is, "now Bub, there is the grub, if you aint got sense enough to scoop it into your plate, you ought to starve." The other is

Brownfield Jaycees Hear State Officer

Mr. Whitley told of recent personnel changes in the state Jaycee office and of administrative procedures. He urged attendance at all regional and state meetings, calling attention to the next regional meeting November 6 and 7 at Abilene.

The speaker was introduced by Asher Thompson, also of Lubbock.

Then there is the yarn of the bashful Coke county cowboy who called on an equally bashful maiden on the neighbor ranch. They sat a long time without saying anything, but finally the old boy called the girl's attention to the cat licking its foot, but when the girl looked, the cat had chosen another spot. He grabbed his hat and hit the door without a word. Months passed, perhaps longer, the couple met again at a picnic, and they finally married. It was 40 years ago. We wonder if he has ever convinced his wife that the cat was licking its paw in the first place?

Nazarene Church Celebrates 40th Anniversary

On October 10, the Brownfield Church of the Nazarene, located at South Second at West Tate, joined in a churchwide celebration of the Fortieth Anniversary of the organization of the Church of the Nazarene as a protestant denomination.

The union of separate groups from the West, the East and the South took place in 1908 at Pilot Point, Texas under the leadership of Dr. P. F. Bresee of Los Angeles, Rev. Howard Hooper of New York City and Rev. C. B. Bernigan of Texas.

At the time of the organization in 1908 there were 10,000 members scattered widely in 228 churches with a few missionaries in a half dozen foreign areas.

Forty years later the Church of the Nazarene has grown until its membership (1948) has reached 210,000 representing 3,350 churches in the United States, Canada and the British Isles, with nearly 200 missionaries.

The local Church of the Nazarene was organized in 1943 according to Rev. J. Reynald Russell, pastor of the congregation. Special Fortieth Anniversary services honoring the founding of the denomination were held last Sunday, commencing at 9:45 a. m. The public is cordially invited.

Wild camels have become so much of a nuisance in some parts of Australia that they are shot on sight by ranchers.

I. A. Lowe, Retired Farmer Passes Away

I. A. Lowe, 80, retired farmer passed away Monday October 11th after a short illness. Mr. Lowe was an old timer of Terry County having moved his family here in 1907. He passed away at his home, fifteen miles south of Brownfield on the Lamesa highway.

Services were held at 4:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist church here. Rev. J. P. Aslan, minister of the Methodist church in Lamesa officiated, assisted by Rev. H. L. Thurston. Brownfield Funeral home directed burial in the Terry County Memorial Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, three daughters, Mrs. Evelyn Collins, Mrs. Kathryn Buckner, and Mrs. La Vena Goodman of Morton, daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Durkee, one sister, Mrs. Beulah Keahy of Bufdale.

Pall bearers were Jess Smith, George Boyer, Roy Jenkins, James H. Dallas, Roy Herod and Walter Burkett.

Thus, another mighty fine friend and neighbor, as well as one of the pioneer settlers of Terry county has been taken by death. Forty years ago most of the people who lived here were middle aged or less. Now they are getting up in years and passing on rapidly.

Residents of a Welsh village say their town has the longest place name in the world—Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrowllla ntylloogogoch.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

It has been called to our attention that some people are using our highways and public roads as a dumping place for their trash, rubbish, junk and in particular beer cans. There are enough Public and Private Dumping Grounds to take care of all such items of rubbish. There is no excuse for one using our highways and roads for such purpose and those who persist in dumping rubbish and junk on our roads are here now warned that this is a VIOLATION OF OUR LAW and carries a fine not less than $10.00 nor more than $200.00. Each such violation is a separate offense.

This is NOTICE that this law will be enforced and that any party violating such law will be prosecuted to the fullest extent.

aggressor. But after the mating season begins, the male assumes a more aggressive attitude. Most adults cannot remember things that happened before they were four or five. Tennessee cedar supplied the world with its pencil wood for 100 years.

Brownfield Man Speaks At Lubbock

connection with oil progress day activities in the area.

He described Stanolind Pipe Line Company's facilities in and around Lubbock, pointed out his company's overall program and discussed the oil industry in general its role in the nation's economy.

Mrs. V. H. Wheatley was hostess to a weiner roast given for Miss Patsy Lasiter, Barbara Green Daun Park, Effie Wheatley and Laurelle and Herman, jr. Wheatley, Monday evening from 6:30 until 9 P. M.

Note of Caution In Wheat Situation

What's ahead for wheat, ask Texas farmers. Here's the answer. Facts and figures in the government wheat outlook sound a note of caution. Now that fall seeding is underway, here are the facts as they are seen by E. A. Miller, extension agronomist, and C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A and M. College.

Here's what the wheat growers like. The continued strong demand here in this country should take up 750 million bushels of this year's big crop. This would mean only 20 million bushels less than what we used last year. The European Recovery program will use around 450 million bushels. The wheat price support for the 1949 crop is 90 per cent of parity through loan and purchase agreements.

And here are a few gloomy facts. The carry-over of wheat stocks next July 1, is expected to be up nearly one-fifth above the prewar level. European wheat production has improved, and will approach the yields they had before the war, if they don't get a stack of bad weather. The United States acreage goal has seen set 8 per cent below last year's goal, and Texas' recommended seeding goal is down 10 per cent. The storage bins are heavily loaded with this year's big wheat, grain sorghum and corn crops.

All in all, it looks like the United States and world supplies have improved quite a bit. Next year's carry-over certainly will be up and the situation could look a little tough if average yields are had from the acreage goal. The average yields are 71.5 million for the U. S. and 6.5 million for Texas. And another bumper wheat crop in 1949 would probably require marketing quotas for all growers in 1950.

So, it looks like good business to face the facts, says Bates and Miller. If some marginal acres have been in crops that should be returned to pastures, better plan

Cottonoil Mill Change Name to Western

The Herald had an announcement as of Sept. 30th, coming from the headquarters of the Western Cottonoil Co., Abilene, stating that the name West Texas Cot-give your soil a break. Cottonoil Co., in Brownfield, under which it had operated since coming here, was changed.

Hereafter the official name of the concern will be Western Cottonoil Co. The announcement further stated that the change was in name only. That the policies, management and personnel would be the same as heretofore.

Soft Corn Requires Special Attention

Several Methods Given For Profitable Feeding

Saving soft corn will be a problem facing many farmers this year. Much of the crop went in so late that frost became a factor in maturity, as well as in winter handling of the corn. Next to chopping and feeding green, one of the best ways to get full value from soft corn is to put immature crops in the silo or pasture them off with cattle, hogs or sheep, Capper's Farmer points out.

Another method used by many growers in the last big soft corn year, 1945, was to build emergency cribs five to six feet wide. The farmers set two rows of poles in the ground, wired the tops together to keep the cribs from spreading, and fastened woven wire or slat cribbing on the inside of the posts. These cribs, built in east and west directions, took best advantage of prevailing winds.

Farmers in many northern areas, where corn is likely to be caught by frost before it is mature, regularly cut up large quantities and cure it as fodder. Ears later are husked by hand or with a shredder. Most hybrid corns are stiff stalked and have a good root system. They will stand with few fallen ears well into the winter. Since ears will dry with less spillage on a standing stalk, many farmers prefer to let hogs, cattle or sheep harvest the crop.

BROWNFIELD FURN. CO.

The home demonstration club women made a tour in Terry County Monday, seeing the work of other club members. One of more members were visited in each club. The first work to be seen was that of Mrs. A. J. Bell of Harmony. She had made some original drapes from heavy cotton material. Into these threads she had worked some original designs with several different colors of wool yarn. She used uneven numbers of yarn in groups and had spaced them according to the Greek rule of proportion. The spaces were somewhere between one third and one half the width of the groups to make them interesting. The material for the two windows cost Mrs. Bell $7.90. She kemptoned the walls of her living room in a soft shade of green that blended with the tan curtains.

Mrs. Norval Hulse of Needmore had papered her living room in a neutral colored paper with silver stripes. Her curtains were of a heavy cotton, with the threads pulled in groups of about one or one and one-half inches in width. Before the divan was a rug she had woven with light blue and wine colored knit loops.

Mrs. V. R. Osborn showed her home with all the rooms recently having been kemptoned in pleasing colors. On a table, the visitors noticed a clock set in a case made of the hub of an aeroplane, done by Mrs. Osborn's son who is a pilot on a line. The kitchen door stop, they observed was made from a part of a propeller.

Mrs. J. D. Howard, Pool showed the us she had been making of her seamless milk utensils to help produce clean milk in the home. Her seamless milk strainer, she told them was easily washed, and a clean pad for it was used to strain the milk.

At the home of Mrs. W. J. Moss, Meadow, the group saw a dining set, which Mrs. Moss and her daughter recently refinished. Mrs. Moss bought it second handed in 1938 for twenty-one dollars. They showed that the removal of all the old finish and smoothing the wood before adding a new finish is necessary to getting a well smoothed finish. They also emphasized the importance of smoothing the applied finishes before the completion of the work.

Besides the dining set, Mrs. Moss showed two rocking chairs they had reupholstered with fabrics.

At the home of Mrs. Tress Key, Gomez, the people saw a home remodeled both inside and out. The old broken and cracked finish on the outside had been removed and new stucco had been applied. All the ceilings in the house had been replastered and the floors refinished. At one end of the dining room sat two eight foot deep freeze units, in which she had home grown vegetables, fruits and meats stored. Outside in the irrigated home garden the people saw where she had grown the spring vegetables. They saw tomatoes, okra and peppers still in production.

In the same community, the women visited the four room home of Mrs. Eunice Tittle. She had repapered the entire house by herself this year, and had repainted all the woodwork. Besides, she built a new book case and finished it. The divan and four chairs were reupholstered by Mrs. Tittle this year at a total cost of $35.37.

At Tokio, Mrs. G. C. Perry had a piano from which her husband and son had removed all the old finish and then sanded it to a smooth finish. Mrs. Perry applied several coats of wax to the wood, since she wanted to keep it light. From a thin cotton material she drew threads horizontally in the curtains, giving them a lacy appearance. On the floor was a rug she had woven from blue-green and brown knitted loops. It blended with the newly papered walls and the new divan of antique oak.

Mrs. Dave Ramsey displayed a reupholstered divan done this summer with the help of one of the club members. In a bedroom, she had some drapes made by dyed sheets.

All the rooms in her house had been repapered this summer by Mrs. P. W. Smith, the senior member of the Tokio Club. Besides this, she showed the group the kitchen cabinet top that she covered with linoleum.

THE NEW LOOK IN FOOTBALL UNIFORMS IS THE SATIN TROUSER THAT ENDS WAY ABOVE THE KNEE.

Wells Club, with the help of her husband improved her living room. He walled up the ends of an old oak library table, to hold books. From an old wooden bedstead, he made a radio table. Mrs. Lamm removed all the old finish from these pieces and applied a new finish. With her husband's help they put the springs from a car seat in an old chair and reupholstered it. The reupholstered the divan and one other rocker. The wood of all these reupholstered pieces was refinished by Mrs. Lamm. Besides reworking all the furniture in the room, she repapered the walls in a neutral shade of paper which blended with all the furnishings.

Mrs. W. M. Nelson of Willow Wells had a new dairy barn built this year. In it were stanchions, where the cows could eat, as they were being milked. Mrs. Nelson displayed a seamless bucket, used for a container, which is easily washed. The seamless strainer, with filter pads, helps to insure a clean milk supply.

Mrs. Dollie Adair, who is not a club member, was the next one visited. Her family had just moved into their new ten room house. Although it was not yet completely furnished, the people were interested in observing the arrangement. The walls of Mrs. Adair's own bedroom were papered in a gray-green paper, and the woodwork was varnished. She had peach colored curtains at the windows and the floor was covered with a gray wool carpet.

The home of Mrs. Roy E. Moore member of the Wellman club was painted white this year. All the woodwork in house was painted this year, too and all four of the rooms were papered. She put new springs in a large chair and reupholstered it. The total cost of improving her living room was $20.74.

Cubs Take ...

put the Cubs in scoring position, and a few plays later, Billings went across from the four. This seemed to infuriate the visitors and before Walker scored again, this time on a pass, they mauled the locals severely. It looked pretty hopeless for the Cubs as the half ended.

The end of the first half also marked the end of superiority for the Wildcats. First hint of things to come broke with dramatic suddenness when Covington gathered in the opening kickoff and ran back over eighty yards to score. From then on, Littlefield simply wasn't in the same league with the Cubs. Plays that in the first half had resulted in stunning gains now ended in demoralizing losses. On the other hand, Cub plays that miserably fizzled previously, now almost miraculously, started clicking. When local passers appeared to be on the point of being smothered for a certain loss, more often than not, he would duck under the arms of would-be tacklers and race away for beautiful gains.

The lead went over to the locals in a play that wasn't even in the Cubs book of plays, but would have done credit to a championship professional team: it was a lateral — Covington to Martin — and it was good for another score. A lightning pass that connected before the observer could realize it had been thrown, from Cary to Billings, rung up the final score of the evening.

Tonight, and again at home, the Cubs tackle the Big Spring Steers. Only last Friday, the Steers were blitzed by Lamesa, and if the Cubs play with anything like the amount of fire they exhibited the last half of Friday night's game, it will be an even more disastrous night for the Big Spring lads. If not, the Steers could very easily return home as conquering heroes.

DDT Is Not Always Harmful to Animals

Absorption or Licking Toxicity Overplayed

When DDT fly sprays first became available for farm buildings and livestock, there was considerable talk about sprayed animals being poisoned from absorption through the skin, or from licking one another, or licking the walls of buildings to which DDT had been applied.

Evidence, however, indicates the danger of toxicity to animals has been overplayed. For instance, in Missouri last summer, a cow drank half a tubful of DDT barn spray while the farmer was tinkering with his sprayer and getting ready to spray his barn. The cow suffered no bad effects.

At West Virginia university last year the dairy department threw caution to the wind and put 32 pounds of 50 per cent DDT powder in 100 gallons of water — then sprayed cows with it. That figures out about 16 per cent for DDT. Most recommendations to date have been under 1 per cent for DDT water sprays on animals. "There were absolutely no harmful results" the head of the dairy department reported. The DDT controlled flies, too. The spray was put on in May, and there were no flies on the cows until the middle of August.

Politics Discussed By Sage of Union

To many of us, "politic" is an ugly word. If politics must be classified as an evil, then let's be honest enough to admit that it is a necessary evil.

I would not trade our form of government for any form of government under the shining sun—and you wouldn't either. We cannot have a Republic without politics. Politics is fate—your fate and my fate. A politician is the man whose decision sends your boy and my boy to war, and who must ratify a peace treaty. Politicians manage our county, state, national international affairs. It is they who say whether or not we shall have a splendid public school system; a farm program; farm to market roads, old age pension; a chicken in every pot; two cars in every garage, and many other things too numerous to mention. Voting is a simple chore, yet a large portion of our citizens do not trouble to vote, and no doubt some of these citizens risked their lives on the battlefield in order that we might continue to have the right to choose our public officials. One GI was heard to remark: "Doesn't make any difference who is elected, as politicians are demagogues or humbugs." We do not agree with him, but if he were right, then the fault lies with he and hundreds like him, who take no interest and part in politics.

Too often we think of a politician as one who grants special favors to certain people, and one who does not do his duty in looking after the welfare of the public. Everyone's stake in politics is great. That of the veteran is greatest of all, for he left friends and loved ones to preserve our form of government. What can he and others do to make democracy better? It should be remembered that politicians practice hypocrisy because people are willing to be fooled. A candidate promises us better schools, more and better roads, more and bigger pensions, and no increase in taxes. Or he may promise lower prices for consumers, higher wages for the workers and better prices for crops. Logically, we should know that these promises are impossible of fulfillment. But to politics, we never apply logic.

Politicians and political parties act not from inclination, but from compulsion only. If we voters demand and vote for good, honest service.

W. J. Bryan, who for three different times received more votes for president than Wilson received in 1912, often said that the American people slept until the eleventh hour, but when finally aroused to action, accomplished more in the remaining one hour than anyone else can accomplish in the entire day. In case of a depression, or some other calamity, we are sometimes goaded into action. Why not abolish the poll tax and make it a criminal offense for a voter who fails to vote?

Yet, the mere act of voting is not enough. Make a candidate tell where he was born, why he was born, and then vote against him. We get what we fail to vote against, and if you don't believe it, just ask the voters of the Brownfield school district. The stay at home voter is bound to be an important one, as it is he who holds the balance of power in all of our elections. So turn out and vote against somebody whether you are interested enough to vote for some one or not.

The writer is optimistic enough

Sponsored a safety tour which visited 65 cities and towns to check on Texas' "driveability." Over 20,000 individuals took the tests on visual acuity, night blindness, reaction time, steadiness, color perception, depth perception, and field of vision, while over 50,000 visited the exhibit.

 dear editor:
 I bin readin about them candy date for president runnin around the nation havin vocal hemofragas an I am somix deutphatETAA an I am so mixed up that I am thankful that I intend to vote a states' rights ticket in the first place anywho.
 Pres'dent Truman has been messin around out west an I see in the paper where the people of Texas gave him a billy goat. I reckon they misunderstood him when he asked for their vote—they thought he meant goat.
 I have bin readin where them republicans insinuate that Truman has bin using goat ritters to rite his speeches. I believe so myself as every time I have heard him talk he is always talking about what he would have did—but. A speech that has that many "buts" in its is bound to have been ritten by a goat riter.
 Tom Dewey has also been west an from the reports I got he did not get any votes or goats either.
 My blood sure boiled when a read that Secretary of War Carolina said in his speech in South Carolina that us States' Righters was a splinter group conceived in bigotry and nourished on the double breasted bosom of prejudice and injustice. We don't even know the woman.
 It ain't so. We'uns are evidently the only party that believes in Constitutional government.
 Sum of the ideas that Tom Dewey and Harry Truman advocate or just like what Joe Stalin talked about in Russia.

 You can't have civil rights or states rights under a bureaucratic government. The more bureaus you have the less liberty the people have.
 Us people want a Constitutional administration instead of a Democratic or Republican administration for the next four years and the States' Rights party can give it.
 I have been noticing the campaign strategy and Tom Dewey is taking the part of a dignified character. His speeches are on a high plain with every word washed and polished but Harry Truman is taking the low road and talking off his cuff, which is getting kinda dirty.
 J. Strom Thurmond ain't too high and he ain't too low. He is dignified but us folks in overalls feel at home around him and that is the kind of president we need.
 I have been readin about the gallup pole predictions in the South, but I ain't never seen a pole taker in this part of the country.
 Mister Gallup must be using the invisible man.
 Yurs truly,
 Ben Broke
