The Herald has grown with this section from strictly a ranch country. This area now consists of thriving towns and cities, supported by scientific farming and stock farming, augmented by huge oil fields, with the nation's largest known oil reserves.

The Winner! More Than 300 Attend Terry County Field Day

Harvest Festival Opens With Parade

Despite the fact that the skies were overcast, and an occasional shower of real wet water peppered down, the streets were jam-packed with a mass of humanity by 10 A. M. Wednesday, to witness the second annual Harvest Festival parade. Every available parking space within blocks of the court square was taken by autos. As the day was too wet for cotton harvesting, the Mexican and negro cotton pullers were milling about with the huge crowd.

Just before the long parade got going several airplanes circled overhead, including one B-29 that flew low overhead up and down the main thoroughfares. The news reel camera man had arrived the day before, and had his clicker ready for any and all eventualities, including the sound track. These sound pictures will be shown all over the United States.

The parade was headed by the Brownfield High school band. Despite the gloomy day, the rain man drew in his sprinkler and the entire parade was without a shower to mar the beautiful floats that interspersed it. While there were many beautiful and unique floats belonging to individual firms, those bearing the five queens were the most spectacular. Time and art were consumed in preparing the many floats shown in the parade.

And the parade was not without the utility part, for in several sections our enterprising implement man had tractors, combines and what have you in the parade. One had a negro man driving a grey team of mules to a dilapidated cultivator, with the sign: "Wish I had a tractor?" And then there was a number of different models tractors driven by very pretty, gayly dressed farmerettes. It was all very interesting from the sidelines.

There was some eight or ten bands in the parade. We failed to get a full list for this week's paper, but the judges gave Lamesa first place, Levelland second and Andrews third. They were judged on several points, marching, playing, dress, etc. Tech band and Brownfield did not enter for prizes, the first being a college band, and Brownfield being the host city.

On the gayer side of the program, we might state that Bill McKinney as a clown conveying his huge "gold" key to the city of Brownfield, was just great. Some wanted to know if Bill did not follow the circus as a clown before he entered the insurance business. Then among the Tidwell shows was a baboon riding a tricycle, being led by a negro man.

In fact, folks, there was a thrill every few feet in the parade. The different sections of the parade was separated more this year than usual. We understand this was in order to give the judges a better opportunity to size up and judge each float, band, etc., on its many merits. All people, old and young like to watch a parade, the gayer the better. But to keep us reminded that this is, or recently has been the home of the cattleman, there were a few cowboys and cowgirls in the parade. Otherwise, we might have concluded we were seeing the Mardi Gras in New Orleans, or the Battle of Roses in San Antonio.

Yesterday, the Terry-Yoakum County Free Fair opened its doors with a huge welcome, out at the county park. In addition to the fine livestock and farm and garden products that will be on display, the festival opens back page.

BROTHER OF LOCAL MAN ACCIDENTALLY KILLED
Mr. Walter Schellinger, brother of O. W. (Slim) Schellinger was accidentally killed Friday afternoon around 4 p. m. His home is in Jefferson. Slim left immediately to attend the funeral.

Final Votes Given In Contest

He would have had to be a confirmed gambler to have tried to predict the winner of the escorted free trip and vacation in Old Mexico, right up to the last minute, Wednesday. Many thought that it would be a photo finish between the Queens alright, and generally the two high ones that really were the winners, were usually mentioned as the winner. To say the least, the five beautiful young ladies who participated have learned a lot since this contest started. First, they have learned to meet Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public. That alone is a great lesson.

Secondly, that it pays to be courteous at all times, no matter whether you are wanting a favor of the public or not. It does not pay to be snooty any time. Not that we think any of the girls really tried that stunt. But it has been demonstrated that the genuine smile at all times pay off in the long run.

Miss Daina Ruth McIlroy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. H. McIlroy, was the first prize winner, and will be rewarded by a week or ten day tour of Old Mexico, escorted by Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Parks, local theatre manager, all expenses paid. The second prize went to Miss Jane Wier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wier. Miss Wier will get a trip to see the Sun Bowl game at El Paso, Jan. 1, all hotel and other expenses paid. Other contestants in the order named were Miss Frances Rambo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Rambo; Miss Nelda Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brown, and Miss Cynthia Ann Black, daughter of Mrs. Irene Black. All the girls received beautiful engraved wrist watches.

Final vote of the contestants were as follows:
Miss McIlroy 471,100
Miss Wier 434,000
Miss Rambo 188,000
Miss Brown 143,900
Miss Black 79,900
Total 1,326,900

In the voting last year a total of 1,125,600 votes were cast for the six contestants. This shows quite an increase over last years showing an amount of money taken in by sale of tickets.

Mrs. Robert E. Fuller and Mrs. W. M. Holcomb from O'Donnell were business visitors here Tuesday.

Went over Tuesday to the hospital to see G. G. Gore, who is recovering from pneumonia, and Lee O. Allen, who was badly burned in the explosion of his Tokio gin. Both had few days' leave, Lee O. Monday and G. G. Tuesday noon. Glad both are getting on so nicely.

The doctors at the hospital allowed Lee O. Allen to see the football game last Friday night. He was carried out and brought back to the hospital in an ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gage visited her mother, Mrs. S. J. Billings in Sudan Sunday.

Gerald Price from Texas Tech spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gay Price.

Butcher Getting Good Crop of Potatoes

Ralph Butcher, who runs an irrigation farm four miles south of town and specializes in vegetables, is now harvesting his five acre sweet potato crop. He reports that he is getting from 400 to 600 bushels per acre, or an average of some 500 bushels.

He recently began bringing these potatoes to town as fast as he harvested them, some going into local stores, and we understand some of them to Lubbock. Reports are that he is getting around $2.50 per bushel. Ralph says that he has sold all the vegetables locally that he has raised this year, but he grins when he says, "If I had planted two more rows I don't know where I could have sold the stuff."

Anyway, he has been selling peas, beans, carrots, okra, corn and other stuff since about June, and is still selling some tomatoes and of course, sweet potatoes.

E. D. Jones, Jim Cousineau and Bill Aschenbeck attended a water works meetings in Odessa Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Self visited in the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Self in Lubbock Sunday.

Gerald Price from Texas Tech spent the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gay Price.

All See Eye To Eye On Redistricting

When Democrats and Republicans see eye-to-eye on anything during an election year, that's news!

In this case it's good news for redistricting according to John Ben Shepperd, state chairman of the non-political Texas Committee for Redistricting. Shepperd has announced that gubernatorial candidates of both parties are urging passage of Constitutional Amendment Two on the general election ballot November 2nd to provide for automatic redistricting.

Governor Beauford H. Jester, Democratic choice for re-election, pointed out to the committee that he has long been a firm advocate for regular redistricting and has included it in his platform each time he ran for governor. "Amendment Two is most desirable addition to our state constitution," Jester declared. "I recommend its ratification to the people of Texas without reservation."

Republican gubernatorial candidate Alvin H. Lane was equally strong in his support of Amendment Two. "I am heartily in favor of its passage," he stated. "Regular redistricting in most desirable and should win general support."

Big Land Auction Near Tulia

Two thousand prospective buyers representing 20 states will gather next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 21 to 23 near Tulia, Texas to bid on the 4,000-acre I. C. Little farms in Castro and Swisher Counties. Chief auctioneer will be Col. A. W. Thompson, Ft. Worth, who will be assisted by Mason King of the Amarillo Globe-News.

The rich irrigated land has been divided into 160-acre units. Two thousand acres are in growing wheat and 180 acres have alfalfa in production. In addition to the land, complete machinery—including eight tractors, four truck balers and similar equipment—will be sold. Three large modern houses and one semi-modern house are included in the sale.

Sales will begin at 2 o'clock October 21 and will continue at 2 o'clock each afternoon until everything is sold. A barbecue prepared by Chas. C. Lowe, Amarillo, will be served at one o'clock each sales day. Rip Ramsey and his Western Ramblers will furnish entertainment.

Education Course 315 Taught Here

A night course on the extensive Audio Visual Aid is being held at the high school building every Thursday night. The class starts at 6:30 and lasts until 9:00 o'clock. Professor Casey from Texas Tech is the teacher of the class.

They announced today there is room for others who are interested in obtaining 3 hours college credit. The course cost $21.00 and you do not have to be a college graduate or teacher to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Bunk Bennett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fox Bennett from Lovington, N. M. were Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Browder and family.

WINNER OF BROWNFIELD'S HARVEST QUEEN CONTEST—
Miss Daina Ruth McIlroy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. H. McIlroy of this city was named winner of the 1948 Harvest Holiday and Merchants Jubilee Wednesday night at 8:00 P. M. She was crowned queen by Hiram Parks. Pictured above is Miss McIlroy on her float during the parade witnessed by several thousand from Texas and other states. At left is a close-up of Miss McIlroy.

First prize in the Queen race is a trip through romantic Old Mexico with all expenses paid. Second place winner represents Brownfield as a princess at the Sun Bowl Carnival in El Paso on January 1.

Big Spring Wins Track Meet From Cubs 34-27

Actually, it was a football game game, but what happens when two football teams with fair offenses and offensive defenses get together, happened.

Punts for either side were very seldom, for it was extremely rare when either team could stop its opponent short of the goal line when the other side had the ball. What otherwise would have been sensational runs became monotonous because of their frequency.

Tonight, the Cubs play the Amarillo Sandies in Amarillo. While any hopes for a Cub victory are remote indeed, it is hoped by all that the locals will give as good an account of themselves against the Sandies as they have in past years.

TEXAS' POLIO DRIVE QUOTA IS $1,250,000

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20 (AP)—Texas' quota in the 1949 march of dimes campaign against polio is $1,250,000.

The goal was announced here last night by E. S. Stewart of Abilene, state chairman for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He said the money can be raised easily if every person in the state gives 18 cents.

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST MEETING TO START OCT. 30th.

There will be a Fifth Sunday meeting beginning Saturday, October 30th, at the Primitive Baptist Church in Brownfield, located on East Hill street and C. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McDonald and Mrs. J. D. McDonald are visiting relatives in Muleshoe and Texaco, N. M. this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Tuttle from Brenham were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Painter, Mr. Tuttle has recently returned from 23 months overseas duty in Tokio, Japan.

Offices of Dr. W. A. Roberson Getting Finishing Touches

The building that is to house the Dr. W. A. Roberson dental clinic is being finished on the outside this week. Rock masons are busy laying the Austin stone finish, and when complete, there will be no better or attractive dental clinic in this section. Dr. Roberson is the owner of the building.

He came to Brownfield about two years ago from Abilene and rented offices in the Neill building and has enjoyed a good practice since coming here. His new plant will consist of a very attractive and large waiting room, a series of operating rooms, laboratory, etc. Work of finishing the interior has been going on of late.

The clinic will be located corner Tate and Sixth street, across the street south of the hospital. Dr. Roberson is to be congratulated on this move. It shows his faith in the future of this city and its fine trade area.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Brandon from Denver City were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Brandon, Sunday.

Mrs. E. M. Hinson and daughter Jean, of Meadow returned Sunday from Austin, Arkansas. They were weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Moorhead.

Uncle Jimmy Has Sparrow Whipping Bird

Uncle Jimmy O'Conner is usually right on the dot getting to the Herald office on the 14th of October to set his paper up another 12 months. But he is not feeling so spry here of late and with some ninety-odd summers since he first saw the light of day way up in the foothills of the big smokies. He was born and reared at Sparta, Tenn.

But he was feeling well enough to come down this week and attend to some business matters other than his renewal. He stated he had been noticing a smooty looking bird, somewhat larger than the sparrow about his place of late, and that they were always chasing the English sparrows. He began to look around his end neighbor places of late and there were no sparrows or even their nests in the trees.

He supposes that the new bird has chased them off. From his description we could think of no bird around here that answered it other than the Starling. And, we informed Uncle Jimmy if that be true, his sparrow remedy (starlings) is as bad or worse than the disease (sparrows).

Mr. and Mrs. Gay Price attended the Cisco Jr. College versus Lufkin Jr. College football game in Cisco Thursday night. Don, son of the Prices played in the game.

Most people, including your reporter were expecting some 20 cars and around 75 people to attend the Terry County Agricultural Field Day last Friday. Thirty-five cars and 100 people would have been a surprise. But all were flabbergasted when it was discovered that at least 103 cars made part of the rounds, with an estimated 300 interested people in the caravan. Since the trip, we have heard a number say that they wanted to make the trip the worst way, but just couldn't make it.

To say the least, no one possibly saw anything in the way of dry land farming that has not been more than equaled back in the days when we used to get normal rainfall. That was not the object of the trip. It was to show all of us what can be done on the minimum rainfall. What is being done to provide the land with cover crops. Production of the better pasture grasses; legumes for fertilizer. Dry farming and irrigation; growing what the farm can use for food, with surplus items for sale, and not planting the same thing year after year on the same land. In other words, crop rotation.

Before the caravan left the courthouse square on the trip, Jay Barret and Judge Winston outlined the objectives of the trip, purposes, locations, etc. Each tripper was handed a booklet with a map of the route, with each stop plainly marked. We had a seat with Com. Lee Bartlett of No. 3 in which two other county commissioners, Earl McNeil of No. 1, and Horace Fox of No. 4. Com. Sam Gossett of No. 2 had to build a house, marry a wife, prove a piece of land or buy some ox, or some such Biblical excuse. But we other four commissioners had a great time together, the tall yarn champion probably laying with the substitute commissioner. But we didn't miss much.

We do not intend to do anything this week except hit the high places in the Field Day trip. We saw too much to try to get in one article. From week to week, the Herald expects to have something to say about different things we saw, places we visited, and what most impressed us. Perhaps some pictures later if they develop out as they should, which is doubtful, as it was a rather dull, half cloudy afternoon.

The first stop was the A. V. Brittan farm, a part of the old Ben Broughton place. This 160 acres was purchased with the assistance of the Farm Ownership program. Here was brought out the results of deep breaking with the ordinary farm tractor and such implements as are available. Also contouring. Mr. Brittan has some very good cotton he has raised this year, with unusually long staple for this area.

The next stop was the Terry County Experimental farm 12 miles out on the Plains highway. Let us add right here that the Commissioners Court of Terry county, are very much pleased that they bought this place when they did and at the price paid, something like $35 per acre. That farm is worth easily $75 per acre today. In fact, it could not be bought for that price.

Along the highway are many two row plats, where side by side one can see a dozen different breeds of sorghum grain families, as well as nearly a dozen of the best adapted breeds of cotton for this area. There side by side the dirt farmer can see on identical soil, and identical cultivation, moisture, etc., what certain breeds will do under dry weather conditions. It is not hard to make your choice. Some of the contrasts stand out like a sore thumb.

Rounds of the whole half section, including the house and premises and every few feet is a revelation of what the future farming in Terry county is going to be like. Let us say right here that there is not a state or federal experiment farm in Texas with soil conditions like Terry, Gaines, Cochran and Yoakum counties. But failing in getting help from either state or federal government, the county went at See 300 Attend back page —

We note that the Andrews County News published its statement of ownership, management, circulation, etc., in its last issue. Evidently their postmaster made the sad mistake of handing them an old form of statement applicable to 1945 and earlier, in which is statement in the paragraph for circulation, "this is not intended for weekly newspapers." The new law beginning with the statement as of October 1, 1946, says the circulation of tri-weeklies, semi-weeklies and weeklies MUST be given. So, both the News and the Andrews postmaster may have the foot of Uncle Sam's postal department on their necks unless they fill out and print a less ancient form of statement.

If Congressman Lyndon Johnson had, after the last primary, joined with Coke Stevenson in an investigation of election frauds in South Texas, instead of trying to "hide the matter under a bushel and using every evasive device in the knowledge of shrewd lawyers to defeat the will of the honest voter, more Texans could support Johnson with better grace in the general election. But he has used every device to evade an investigation of fraud and stuffed ballot boxes. Therefore he disqualifies himself as the subject of a vote of a true and honest Texan. Lyndon Johnson may be clear of arranging matters as they stand in regard to crooked voting in South Texas. But he now tries to justify it in courts. Of course President Truman has come out for him. Nothing else was to be expected, for the Pharr machine in South Texas is but the little brother of the Pendergast machine in Kansas City. And if Mr. Johnson is a believer in states rights, the right to make and enforce their own laws without the aid of federal government, he has not touched the matter since the Truman endorsement. Nor has he had a word to say about Texas retaining its rights to Texas tidelands of late. And this goes equally well for Gov. Jester of Texas.

In most every speech, President Truman has given the 80th congress "hell," as he calls his talks. Why don't some of his henchmen tell him that Tom Dewey is his opponent?

County Agent Jack Cleveland asked us Monday what we thought of continuing the Terry County Agricultural Field Day. Our answer is just like many others we heard during the trip and after it was over. "Keep up the good work. Make it an annual affair." But like Jack, there is one suggestion for improvement. Cigarettes get stale, and Lee Bartlett's cigars ran out. Suppose about the time we reached the Fulton or Purcell farm, a committee in waiting had been there with sandwiches—coffee at least. Wouldn't that have been just swell?

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hudgens of Stephenville visited in the home of their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Kyle Graves and Mrs. Slim Chellinger Friday. They will return in about two weeks for a longer visit.

ough electoral votes, if Dewey and Truman were close, to throw the election in congress, where each state has only one vote, and thus by maneuvering, might get all Democratic votes in congress and be declared the next president. This has been done heretofore. Then again, Mr. Roosevelt shows how it might be possible for things to be so tied up that the US would be without a president and vice-president for a year, at this critical time of our nation. For that reason, he maintains Northern people of both political faiths are favorable to the Lodge or the Gossett amendment to the constitution, or a combination of both. In doing so, he points out that some of the larger population states might lose some prestige, but the move would be instrumental in breaking up the solid south, or bloc votes in the north. He thinks the price is not too much to pay for a better method of electing a president and vice-president.

Poor old fumbling Harry S. Truman. He no more clears up one miserable fumble than he makes another, equally as bad. Recently, while up in Oklahoma, the GOP United States Senator, Ed Moore of that state, asked that the people give the president he glad hand and all the courtesy due a president. In turn, Harry asked everyone to vote for the Democratic nominee for US Senator, Ex-governor Robert S. Kerr, and against Sen. Moore. As a matter of fact, Moore is not a candidate for re-election on the Republican or any other ticket. Congressman Ross Rizley is the man Kerr has to beat. Why don't some of the new dealers wise Harry up. It looks silly to see the President of the United States fighting a straw man.

Gov. Laney made a great speech at the States Rights convention in Houston, Monday night. In fact it was the best and most logical speech we have heard during this campaign. Laney is an orator of no mean ability. There were many other good talks in the hour's time on the radio, but the Arkansas governor's talk was outstanding. After its conclusion, we wondered how little Gov. Jester felt, sulking in his tent up at Austin.

Evidently the Louisiana Legislature is no jokester; they are not even trying to be funny; they are a serious body. So, they voted that Harry S. Truman's name may go on the ballot of the Pelican state, but not as a Democrat. Mr. Truman is not a Democrat as we have known Democracy in the south for more than a century, and they hit the nail squarely on the head when they refused him that distinction.

County Agent Jack Cleveland asked us Monday what we thought of continuing the Terry County Agricultural Field Day. Our answer is just like many others we heard during the trip and after it was over. "Keep up the good work. Make it an annual affair." But like Jack, there is one suggestion for improvement. Cigarettes get stale, and Lee Bartlett's cigars ran out. To the English he is known as Columbus, to the Italians as Colombo, the Spanish as Colon. There is much confusion in history regarding this famed name. Christopher Columbus, the son of a wool gatherer in Genoa, Italy, was a Catholic, but has been recorded in some histories as the child of converted Jews. Some historians believe he visited the New World before October 1492. That he was on a previous voyage to America with Danish sailors. It is said he didn't set sail for America, but was seeking a trade route to India, to prove the world is round. Most states celebrate October 12 as Columbus Day, but it is observed as Landing Day in Wisconsin, Discovery Day in North Dakota, Fraternal Day Alabama. Whatever history we follow, we continue to pay tribute to the trail blazer of 1492, and are grateful we were found, when we were found, in this part of the round earth.—Big Spring News.

Here in Brownfield, Columbus Day is strictly a bankers day. The post office and barber shops, the other two frequent closers, were as wide open as an unfenced section of land.

FARM QUESTION BOX

by ED W. MITCHELL
Farm Advisor
General Electric Station WGY

- Q. Our tomato vines look swell but are growing so large. Is it a good thing to pinch off the end of the vines? Does it help the yield of tomatoes?
- A. A great many gardeners feed their tomatoes too well and they grow all to vines and foliage rather than fruit. Pruning and pinching back only stimulate more growth to replace the lost foliage and keep the top in "balance" with the root. The proper treatment is to sow a heavy cover crop and stop cultivation, food and water as much as you can or even prune off some of the roots with a sharp spade to shock the plant into fruiting.
- Q. I have five turkeys 11 weeks old. Would it be safe to house them together with a dozen chickens in a coop large enough for all the birds?
- A. If you put turkeys with chickens at any time they will contact blackhead and soon die. It doesn't seem to hurt chickens and they carry it, but it is fatal to turkeys.
- Q. Can galvanized iron roofs be rodded at the corners to protect against lightning?
- A. 1/2-inch copper or aluminum cable, soldered to each corner of a metal roof and properly grounded, will give some protection from lightning, but is not as effective as feathers without tearing the skin.
- A. Better give a party, invite 12 friends in, and give a prize for the one who does the best job of picking. The book says, "Semi-scald two minutes at 125 degrees, ruffling the feathers and shaking up and down to get thoroughly wet, then pick quickly." That never worked with me. I follow that with two minutes in boiling water, and finally end up by skinning the duck. I am quite sure you won't have much success with semi-scald, or dry picking. Try from 1/2 to 2 minutes in boiling water and see what time and temperature works best; or better, buy Long Island ducklings picked by an electric picker, dressed and frozen.

G I QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

On what priority basis is a World War I veteran admitted to a Veterans Administration hospital?

A. Emergency cases have first priority; those suffering from injuries incurred in or aggravated by wartime service are next on the priority list, and those who swear they are unable to pay hospital charges for non-service-connected disabilities or illnesses are third. The latter must wait until a bed is available.

Q. Are dependents of a World War I veteran, who died of causes not due to service, entitled to death pension?

A. In most cases, they are entitled to death pension benefits. The widow is disqualified if her annual income exceeds $1,000, or $2,500 if she has a child or children. A child is ineligible if his or her income exceeds $1,000 per year. A widow loses her entitlement upon remarriage, and children normally become ineligible when they reach age 18.

Q. I am a World War I veteran and was discharged from the U.

The Cotton Balance Sheet Shoots Up

World production of cotton this year will equal if not exceed consumption, Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas professor of cotton marketing, reported.

This should be a signal to cotton growers to readjust their farming operations to a relatively lower price level for cotton. Fortunately for the United States most of the increase in supply is a result of a record yield per acre which has generally served to lower cost of production.

The world demand for cotton is very large provided the people of the world have the means to buy. There are two sources of buying power for cotton at the present time: the exchange of goods and services and the policy of the federal government to help finance the recovery of the war-torn countries, especially in Europe.

S. Army in 1938. I would like to know if I am eligible for the education, readjustment allowance and guaranty loan provisions of the G-I Bill?

A. No. Benefits of the G-I Bill are available only to veterans of World War II.

TECHNICAL COURSES IN OIL PRODUCTION

Two technical courses for men in oil-well production are being held by the University of Texas at the request of the American Petroleum Institute.

A grant of $14,600 from the Institute has made possible courses which will cover operation, maintenance, and care of pumping equipment, and a laboratory course on prevention and treatment of crude oil emulsions.

The University's Bureau of Industrial and Business Training is in charge, with public junior colleges cooperating in the program. Odessa Junior College and Del Mar junior college at Corpus Christi are the first to take part.

Mrs. Susan Hosea from Teague spent the past two weeks visiting her son, Verge Hosea.

Benton-Bartlett Vows Read Last Sunday

Miss Patsy Benton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Benton of Tokio, became the bride of Jo Harold Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bartlett of Gomez.

The marriage was performed Sunday afternoon at 4:30 in the Baptist parsonage at Tokio. The Rev. Eric's pastor of the church performed the double ring ceremony.

Only members of both families and a few close friends were present at the wedding.

The bride wore a blue gaberdine dress fashioned on full lines in the back with straight front lines. The dress had a high rolled collar and a brown ribbon tie fastened with a large amethyst pin in a lacy gold setting. The pin was borrowed from an aunt.

Something old was a plain gold ring belonging to the maternal great grandmother of the bride. Something blue was the traditional blue garters.

The bride attended Brownfield High school where she was a junior. She is now employed at St. Clair's Variety Store.

The groom is a 1947 graduate of the Brownfield High school. They are at home on East Lake street.

Texans In Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—A 14-year-old Texas girl, crippled by infantile paralysis, may get a European war refugee as her companion and aide.

An application by her father, an Abilene oil operator, is one among scores of offers of homes and jobs which Texans are making to Europe's displaced persons through the Displaced Persons Commission.

Under an act of Congress this year, 205,000 such persons are to be admitted to this country during the next two years. The commission set up Headquarters recently to receive applications from citizens who want to sponsor the admission of specific aliens and will be responsible for them.

The request of the West Texas oil man said.

"We have a 14-year-old daughter who is afflicted with polio. We are in need of a young woman companion strong enough and intelligent enough to help her. Her living quarters would be far above average and her pay would be on the basis of that of domestic help in this district, which runs from $15 to $25 per week, plus living quarters and board.

"The position would offer travel opportunities and educational opportunities."

Almost every application is a stirring story in human relations. Quite a few, however, are filed by individuals who want refugee families to settle and work farms in a share crop basis.

One of the most unusual applications from an army private stationed at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio.

He is 28, himself a newcomer to America from Germany. His mother still is in Berlin; he hopes she soon may cross the Atlantic.

Two years he was still in Germany. He had been captured by the Russians near the end of the war, and released with the end of the fighting. Because of a brilliant background, he was picked by UNRRA to attend Heidelberg University.

Then he was permitted to enter the United States with his young wife early last year. He carried with him a letter signed by an American official in Heidelberg which called him a "superior person in all respects."

Last January the young man joined the U. S. Army and is studying to be a medical laboratory technician. He hopes eventually to be a doctor.

Writing the DP Commission, he said:

"My mother is my only dependent still in Berlin, Germany. She has no one to turn to for support in any case of need. Because of the new currency reform in Germany, she no longer has an income from her profession as a dressmaker.

"I feel that you will think it a reasonable desire on my part to have my mother join me in this country."

The mother wrote the American consil in Berlin:

"My husband, _____, was a Jew. My late husband had read Hitler's book 'Mein Kampf' in 1930, whereupon he said: 'They shall never get me,' and took poison.

Carelessness Not Cause of Fires

Carelessness is not really the cause of "fires," stated Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner.

"It's not that a person doesn't care if he burns his house down or injures himself or others; it's that he is ignorant or indifferent to dangerous practices that cause fires."

Ninety per cent of our fires are needless and could be prevented, he continued. This 90 per cent is generally considered to be caused by carelessness, when in the strict sense of the term, they are not.

"People who have needless fires either do not know of an existing fire hazard or just don't believe it can happen to them," Hall said.

The $22 million fire loss in Texas last year proved that it does happen to thousands of people. 1947 losses were the highest in the history of this state and

"After his death I brought my son as well as I could working as a dressmaker to support him and myself."

Commission authorities informed him that he would have to be in the army three years before he could become an American citizen, and thus in a position personally to sponsor his mother's admission.

The case still is pending, however, while a study is made to see if any other approach might be taken to the problem.

There are several other instances in the State.

TOM WARREN BUYS WELLMAN STORE

Mr. and Mrs. Tom D. Warren were in this week to have their Herald transferred from Route 1, Brownfield to Wellman. We didn't quit Thomas the reason why he left for other parts, but did a little business after he left of the Cross boys who live at Wellman.

Tom purchased the store that did belong to M. H. Rich. Mr. Rich sold the store to Mr. M. H. Clark, who was then appointed postmaster. Mr. Clark then sold the grocery stock to Warren. Both are still in the same building.

George Chisholm from US Naval Training Center, San Diego, California will leave today, after spending this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chisholm.

J. B. Huckabee and Prentice Walker attended the Downtown Quarterback Club meeting in Lubbock Monday evening.

they are climbing higher this year, nearly reaching the $15 million mark through August.

Information on fire prevention can usually be obtained at city or county libraries, and local fire departments will inspect houses or places of business free, the Commissioner suggested. Fire Marshals will talk with individuals or groups to tell them how to prevent fires.

Accidents Increase After Dark

"Look out when it's dark!" This warning by Colonel Homer Garrison, Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety is the slogan of a traffic safety program this month emphasizing the hazards of driving and walking after dark.

"Darkness triples your chances of a fatal traffic accident," Colonel Garrison said. "That is, for every mile of motor travel three times as many fatal accidents occur in the hours of darkness as in daylight, according to the National Safety Council.

"And of all fatal traffic accidents, three out of five occur at night," he said.

"The causes of an increase in traffic accidents after dark seem pretty obvious, but people seem to ignore them. You turn on the lights in your house when night falls—so let's turn a little light on the causes of night traffic accidents and try to cut down the night toll of deaths and injuries."

Here are some of the reasons why more traffic accidents occur at night, according to Mr. W. J. Elliott, Chief of the Texas Highway Patrol.

1. Motorists cannot see as far nor as well as in daylight.
2. More drivers and more pedestrians may have been drinking.
3. Drivers at night—and pedestrians, too—are more likely to be tired. Fatigue reduces alertness and ability to react quickly.
4. Speeds considered safe in daylight may be too fast for safety at night.
5. Pedestrians too often do not realize they cannot be seen.

Captain E. L. Posey of the Lubbock District of the Texas Highway Patrol urges motorists, pedestrians and bicycle riders to be extra cautious during hours of darkness. "Careful attention should be given to traffic at all times," he said, "and this is doubly essential at night time."

Mrs. Roy Sparkman spent last week in San Antonio visiting her daughter, Norene.

HIT OF THE YEAR!

Have you tried DYNAFLOW?

Do you want to know what the motor press has in mind when it talks about "the biggest advance since the self-starter"?

Do you want to know how it feels to command the smoothest flow of power to be found on land, on sea, or in air?

Then settle yourself behind the wheel of a Buick Roadmaster, and try out Dynaflow Drive.*

Here, you will find, is something vastly more than "no clutch" driving.

It's a brand-new way of transmitting the driving force from an engine to the rear wheels — without buck or bobble.

*You get Dynaflow Drive, at extra cost, on Roadmasters only.

You have a drive that gets completely away from gears which have to shift.

You have a drive that takes you from a standing start — through every speed range — with a steady, willing swoop of power.

You have in Dynaflow a built-in supercharging assembly that combines the smoothness of oil with an instant response to acceleration.

You have, in other words, eager starts, easy-striding climbs, an unfettered pace on the straightaway — controlled by the gentle nudge of your toe on the gas treadle.

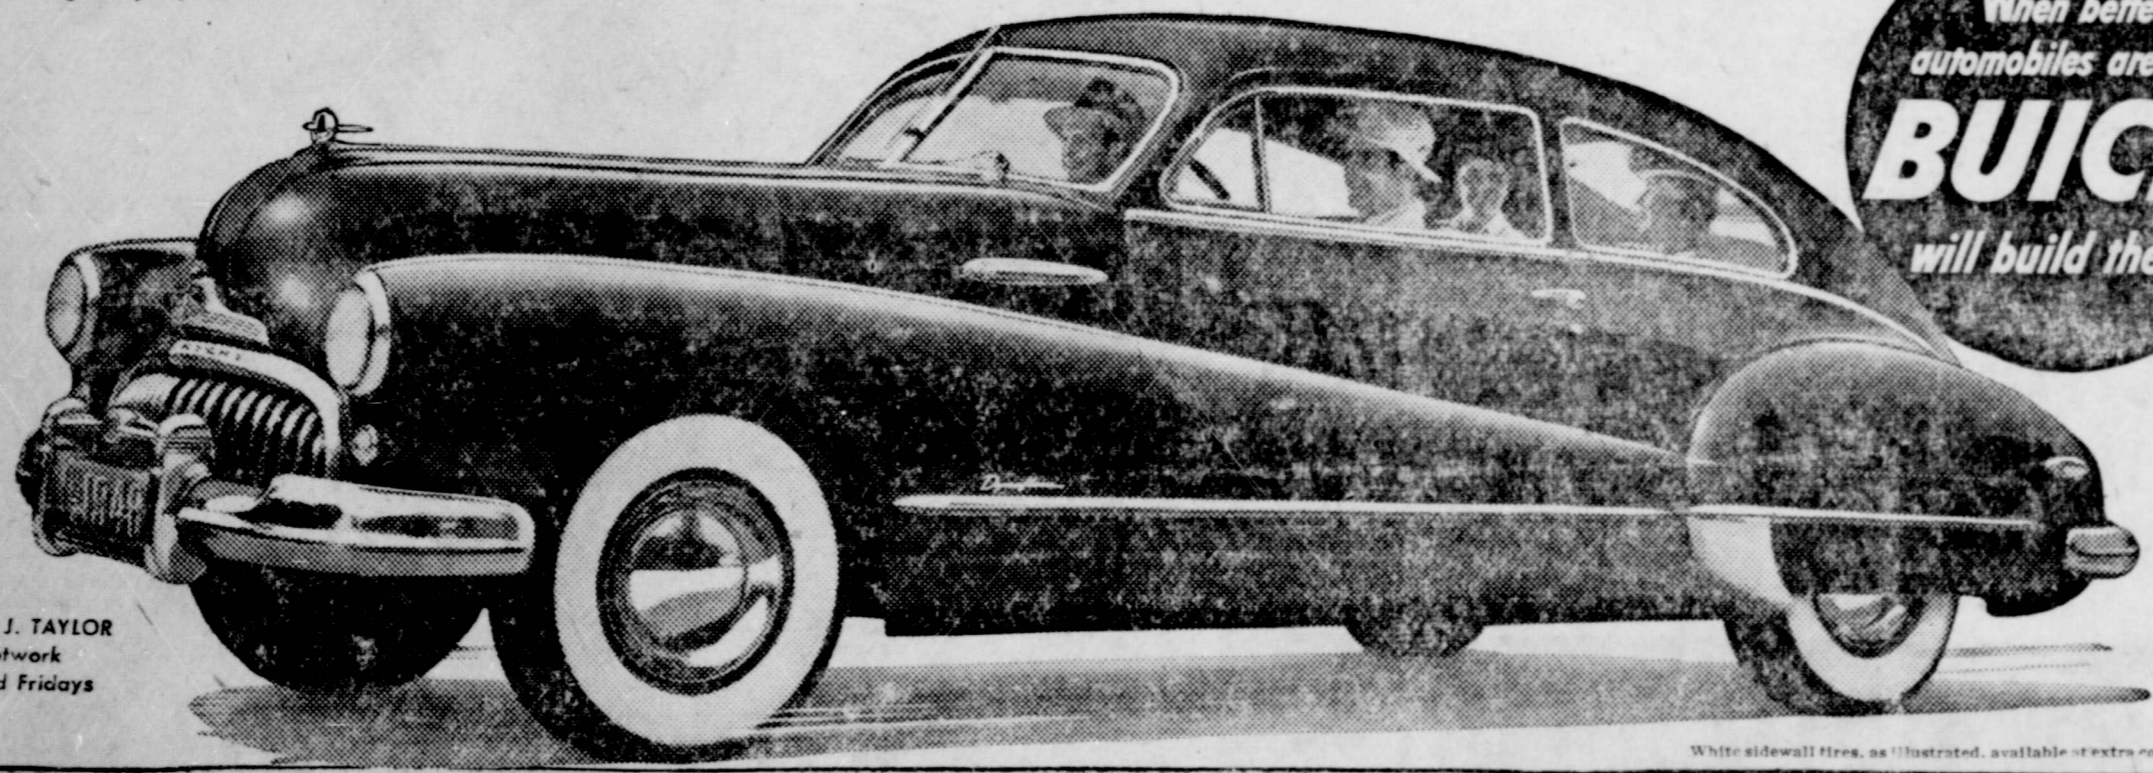

Except for parking or backing, there's nothing to do but steer the car, in a whole day's drive.

In ten wonderful minutes, you can check all these facts for yourself.

First step to this great adventure is to give us a call. Then we'll let nature take its course. But we might give you one hint: We'll be glad to book your order, whether or not you have a car to trade.

BUICK alone has all these features

- * DYNAFLOW DRIVE (Roadmaster Series)

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS...

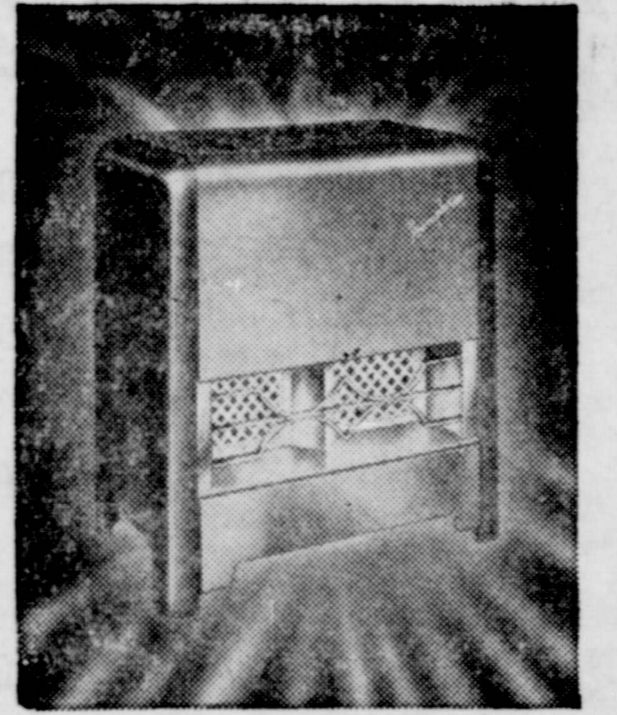

HUMPHREY RADIANTFIRE Circulator

This is Humphrey Radiantfire Circulator Model 40C—the medium size. Note how the radiant heat—just like heat from the sun—pours out through the open front while warm air rises from the grille on the top to circulate throughout the room, carrying warmth and comfort to every corner.

The Humphrey Radiantfire Circulator is beautiful. It's the kind of heater you will be proud to have in your home. Decidedly modern appearance and rich finish, with just enough chrome trim for sparkling good taste, make it the finest looking space heater on the market.

But beauty is not the whole Humphrey story... The Radiantfire Circulator gives you healthful, economical heat at the touch of a match. First, radiant heat pours through the open front to warm cold floors and the lower levels of the room. Then, warm air circulates through the grille at the top, carrying comfort to every corner of the room. The gas fuel makes it clean and odorless. And all this wonderful comfort costs just a few cents an hour.

A Humphrey Radiantfire Circulator is just the thing for a chilly room, a summer cottage, or even small homes. Come in today and see the wonderful things a Humphrey Radiantfire Circulator can do for you.

SENATOR CONNALLY'S Collection—Senator Tom Connally, (D-Tex) poses in his Washington office Oct. 13 with the collection of historic documents and pictures he will donate to Texas Memorial Museum at Austin. He holds a copy of the World War II declaration of war against Germany, signed by the late President Roosevelt at 3:05 P. M. Dec. 11 1941. The photograph visible above his arm shows Roosevelt signing the declaration with Connally looking over his shoulder and holding watch to time the moment. (AP Photo).

Improper Cooling Danger To Health

From statistics compiled by the State Health Department, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer has disclosed that a lack of proper refrigeration contributes materially to the total disease outbreaks for one year, caused from foods other than milk and milk products.

During the year, there were 299 outbreaks of diseases from contaminated foods, incapacitating 12,526 persons, 1 of whom died.

"The food poisoning was usually caused from contamination through insanitary conditions, infections of food handlers, or even more significance, lack of early and adequate refrigeration," Dr. Cox said. "Even when contaminated, foods will seldom develop toxins sufficient to cause poisoning if properly refrigerated after preparation. Outbreaks caused from foods have totaled nearly six times the number caused from water or milk."

The State Health Officer pointed out that the consuming public is, in many areas, protected by proper enforcement of sanitation standards as are set up in the United States Public Health Service Milk Ordinance and Code. The public is entitled to a good clean, safe and wholesome food supply, including milk which has been produced under strict sanitary conditions and properly refrigerated. This is a great protection against disease outbreaks caused by contaminated foods of various kinds, Dr. Cox said this was especially obvious in view of the fact that no disease outbreak has as yet been traced to pasteurized grade A milk, which had been adequately refrigerated.

Texans Smoke Selves Out Of Home

Texans are smoking themselves out of home.

They are also smoking themselves out of life, health, jobs, farm products, raw materials, timber, and places of education and entertainment, claims Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner.

He says the main cause of fire throughout the nation is careless smoking, not only according to the major number of fires it starts each year, but also in the amount of cash damage done.

"Smokers should use friction lighters or safety matches wherever possible," he suggested, "and matches, cigarettes, cigars and pipe ashes should be thoroughly extinguished and thrown in a metal container. Matches should also be kept in a metal container and in a place where small children cannot reach them. Also a liberal supply of ash trays should be provided throughout the home.

To diminish the chances of a cigarette fire in your home, Hall says do not smoke in the garage, barn or in the attic, and as you value your life, do not smoke in bed, this being one of the most dangerous practices of smokers.

He stated that smoking should be prohibited in all storage plants and warehouse basements of all stores and buildings, schools, theatres and places of amusement where large crowds gather, wholesale and retail gasoline plants and stations, and wherever fire may endanger lives and property.

Other main causes of fire, listed in order of their frequencies, are: gasoline and other petroleum products; misuse of electricity; stoves and furnaces; chimneys and flues; exposure; sparks on roofs; lightning; hot ashes and open fires; open lights; spontaneous ignition and rubbish.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Like it is with the Devil himself—you can say one good word for the old pelican—he never lets up on his job, he is out encouraging the sinners morning to night. So it is likewise with the past dozen and more years of palavering politics. We have finally learned that the Govt. can't bring happiness to a people by takin' 'em by the hand and clearing their path versus letting them show their own initiative and "punch. So if we have learned that much—and can remember it for a week or so—there is still hope.

With all the social fumididdles we have tried—happiness is still out yonder. Our old silver dollar buys only 4 bits worth at the grocery store—taxes clip a big corner from the pay check—wages are high, but the radio says that the personal loan business booms. With high wages and more borrowing, something is squeegee. And amongst the many reasons, as I deduct it, is the doctrine that has been preached across the land that security can be legislated. Taint so. There is no sweat-less security or un-earned happiness. That, we have learned—it has finally soaked in—I think.

As before we adjourn a word about one more myth—socialism and the profit via same. This is another idea that is phoney—the profit I mean. Across in Great Britain the Govt. took over the electricity business last spring. Now, 6 months later, the paper says, Kilowatts will cost those Britishers 50 per cent more. Adios, folks.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

Feeding Parasites Cost Money Too

Most of the stockmen know there hasn't been much grass in the pastures and on the range this year. There hasn't been enough to feed the cattle, so there sure isn't enough to feed the cattle parasites too. But lots of farmers and ranchmen are feeding them, and it's costing an awful lot of money to do so, says C. A. King, associate extension entomologist of Texas A. & M. College.

Cattle that are free of parasites have a better appearance, are healthier and more productive than cattle that have to keep switching flies off, or rubbing against the fencepost to scratch the ticks. Cattle lice and four kinds of ticks are the parasites that bother cattle most in the winter time.

Cattle are bothered by lice more in the winter and early spring when the hair is long, so the best time to treat cattle for lice is the fall of the year. Both rotenone and DDT are good for the control of lousy cattle. If you use rotenone, two treatments two weeks apart will give good lice control. Here's the recipe: one lb. of 5 per cent rotenone and 10 pounds of wettable sulphur for each 100 gallons of water. Or you can use 50 per cent wettable powder to each 100 gallons of water.

FARM QUESTION BOX

Farm Advisor

- Q. I have a native Chestnut tree which has sprouted, and the sprout is now quite large. This year it bloomed, although quite late, but with good weather there may be some nuts. Will the nuts have some resistance to the blight or will they be killed by the blight if propagated? If there is some chance that they will have blight resistance I will save them and try to raise trees from them.
- A. So far, none of these seedlings has survived for any great length of time, nor do the seedlings from their nuts show any marked resistance to the blight. However, it is so important to find a resistant strain that I urge you to do all you can to save this tree and to either propagate or send some nuts to the State Forestry.
- Q. Are peony leaves supposed to be cut deep after the plants have blossomed? I have always left them on till late in the season after there has been a frost and then cut them to the ground.
- A. That is right and proper; the leaves make food which is stored in the roots, so don't cut them off until after the frost.
- Q. How large a house should I build for 300 laying hens?
- A. Provide four square feet of floor space per hen. A house about 12 feet deep and 100 feet long with shed-type roof and seven-foot posts is about the most economical and satisfactory.
- Q. poultry plants and the file of poultry in public library or farm bureau office.
- Q. I would like information about using electric cable for house roof to prevent ice forming and causing leaks. Can you give me any ideas as to the price per foot for wire?
- A. What you have in mind is "soil heating cable." It costs about eight to ten cents a foot, is easy to install; any local electrician can get it and install it for you and it does a good job.
- Q. We have two apple trees in our back lawn. We planted them eight years ago and haven't seen a blossom yet. Each summer the leaves turn brown. Should we pull them out and replant new ones or what? Is there any way we could get them to blossom?
- A. Don't pull them to plant new ones. Keep them sprayed or dusted to protect from disease and insects; feed and prune them; and stirle one or two of the main limbs in June each year with a sharp knife cut clear around the branch and through the solid wood to see if you can "shock" them into blossoming.
- Q. We would like to raise rabbits this winter as a side line and have plenty of feed for them at we live on a dairy farm. In what season of the year would you begin this project?
- A. Begin any time; they should have...

Family Health - Topic Of Randal PTA

Family Health and its relation to the school was discussed at length on Thursday, October 14 at the regular monthly meeting of Jessie G. Randal PTA. Mrs. Tess Fulfer acted as program chairman in the absence of Mrs. Milton Addison. Mrs. Griffith, county health nurse talked about defects of the school child, and Mrs. Leonard Chesshir gave some timely pointers on Daily Health Inspection of the child by the parents before he leaves his home for school. Miss Creola Moore then explained the teacher's part in this daily inspection of her pupils. The program was climaxed by the showing of a movie short concerning the health of the growing child. This was the first opportunity most of the parents had had to see the projector in operation and the clarity and the film and sound track was the subject of much gratified comment, especially as the projector was bought last year with PTA funds.

The date of the school carnival has been changed from Halloween to November 19 this year. It was decided to eliminate the Queen Contest and the Country Store and permit each room to contribute to the evening's entertainment with such stunts and programs as the children under the guidance of their teacher think suitable. Doll exhibits, bingo, cake walks and numerous other features of entertainment are being planned with stress being given to the children's participation as much as possible.

Mrs. Patterson announced that it is the privilege of the organization to send a delegate to the PTA convention at El Paso this year.

PROTECT YOUR PONTIAC WITH PONTIAC SERVICE

The best costs no more!

Thousands of Pontiac owners all over the country have learned that regular servicing by their Pontiac dealer is the best, most economical way to keep their cars in top condition.

Our service is best for your car because our mechanics have been trained by factory experts and because we use factory-engineered parts and specially selected tools—everything geared to the one job of keeping your Pontiac at its very best.

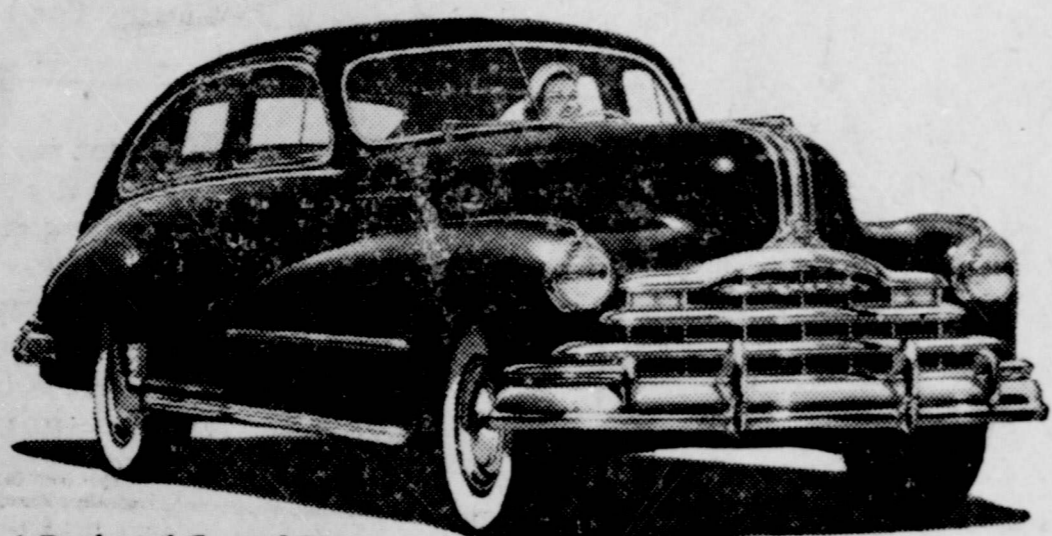

The result is that your work is done faster—in such a sure-handed manner that it will "stay done". The cost of our expert work is no higher—in fact, is often less—than you would pay for ordinary servicing.

Our policy is very simple: We do only the work called for—we do it in an expert manner, we save you money by eliminating guesswork and makeshifts.

Give your Pontiac the best—have it serviced by your Pontiac dealer—for the best costs no more!

THE BEST PARTS ARE FACTORY-ENGINEERED PARTS! Pontiac Factory-Engineered Parts are exactly the same as those built into your Pontiac at the factory. They always fit properly—they always perform properly and—like the best in servicing—they cost no more!

Edgar S. McFadden, agronomist for the United States Department of Agriculture, stationed at the A. and M. College of Texas since 1935, is credited with having done more than any other living man to feed this hungry world. Breeder of the first rust-resistant bread wheat, named "Hope," he has made it possible to grow wheat on millions of acres throughout the world where it could not be successfully grown before. His discovery is authoritatively credited with having saved American farmers $400,000,000 a year during the past war and with having furnished bread for 25,000,000 people who would have died of starvation. His "Austin" wheat now grows on more than a million Texas acres and his new "Seabreeze" variety is spreading throughout the Gulf Coast area rapidly.

That Jones Boy Has Good Cotton

You know that a young guy will naturally stop, look and whistle when a very pretty young lady passes them on the street. That is part and parcel of young humanity. And the gal doesn't exactly get nettled if she does attract the gawking male. That is part of her scheme in life.

That, however, is out with the Old He. But if you want to stop us dead still, show us a fat yearling, a nice sleek horse, a fine stalk of cotton or an extra large well-filled head of maize. That is still right down our alley. So, when we unloaded out of the old Chevy in front of the Herald office after lunch last week, we noted a huge stalk of cotton on the side of a car.

The car belonged to Mr. E. G. Jones whose farm is one mile north of Needmore. Mrs. Jones was in the car, and Mrs. S. interrogated her about the sample stalk. This stalk had 60 grown bolls and Mrs. Jones affirmed that they made no effort to pick the stalk.

They have 300 acres like the sample she stated, and may get from 350 to 400 bales off their field. It was not irrigated.

Rain Fairly General Over Section

The USWB gauge at the Herald registered .79 inch of rain here October 9th and 10th. The rain started around 6 A. M. here, it was reported, and continued to shower until afternoon, and then a drizzle during the evening and night. Perhaps there is sufficient moisture to bring up wheat, and that already up will be greatly benefitted.

The rain started at Coahoma in Howard county around 4 A. M., and we learn the Big Spring section got about an inch. The writer and wife left Coahoma about nine and it rained on us all the way home. In the Lamesa area, the rain appeared to be a bit heavier, and water was then standing in crop row middles.

Anyway, on Friday a good lady called our attention to the fact that the new moon was standing on end, "draining out the water." So let us hope that this is the beginning of the end of a five year drouth throughout this area.

Cruce Proves To Be Good Fisherman

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cruce, our neighbors across the street, got in this week with a blue catfish that will tip the scales between 30 and 40 pounds. The rascal looks even heavier than that. The Cruces have a nice cabin home at Possum Kingdom lake. The fish was on display at Kyle grocery Wed.

Mr. and Mrs. Cruce take off about once a month during the spring and summer and fall for their cabin for a week or two fishing and just resting. By the way, we never have been able to understand why all lakeside residences are cabins. We have seen some that lots of people would love to call home, yet are called cabins.

When Luther divides that fish up, we hope we get about four square inches of it about ten inches above the tail. To us, that is the best part of a fish.

P. S. The doggone make up man thought the above was not very important and left it out last week, as the paper was overwhelmed with good, fat ads. But we got our share of that fish, and was it larruping. And it is worth something to hear Luther and Bess tell how they got that fish in their boat.

The Low Down From Hickory Groves

I just been perusin' the paper where it says that scientists here and there are becoming wary of Govt. jobs on research and some are quitting. But the ones saying these things won't name names. And such refusal, the way I deduct it, means there are no names to name— and furthermore if there are any who quit, then they may be getting out while the coast is clear and the getting is good and before the investigation actually is camping on their doorsteps.

Quitting to avoid questioning, if you are innocent, don't make sense. But scientists, they are sometimes our nation's greatest suckers—hard to understand, some of 'em. Likewise with lots of educators—gullible souls, many of 'em are— theoretical to the point of being their own worst enemy. If I was in the brass watch business I would include in my prospect list, the whole faculty of all our biggest universities.

Take Govt ownership—socialism for short—most university faculties team with advocates. And all the time while they are telling their classes the desirability of the Govt. running everything—the money in the bank that is there to pay off their pay-check, was put there by private business.

Local Man Has Ark. War Bond

War Savings Bonds are not so recent as some of us may think. F. L. Morgan, 220 South 2nd, brought in a war bond recently which was issued by the state of Arkansas on August 17, 1861. Heading the document in bold letters were the words "Arkansas War Bond." Face value of the bond was $20.00. Attached were 10 coupons, one maturing each year for a total interest of $7.80. The bond was signed by O. Barham, Treasurer and countersigned by W. R. Miller, Auditor. It was printed by J. B. Butler, Little Rock.

Mr. Morgan stated that he had been offered full value for the bond, but as it was given to him by his father and since has a hobby of collecting such items, he did not care to part with it.

P. S.—We got one compliment on our colyum. Yep, it came from our daughter at Brownwood. But she didn't know whether the writer was Sr. or Jr.

NEW DEMANDS

SOARING COSTS

WAGE INCREASES

48 hours pay for 40 hours work

Penalty pay for weekends & holidays

25¢ an hour increase

Total 1 1/2 BILLION DOLLARS

1 1/2 Billion Dollar Road Block!

RAILROADS MUST OPERATE around the clock every day and night of the year.

Although they know this, leaders of 16 railroad unions are demanding a five-day, Monday through Friday, week for one million railroad employees.

They want 48 hours pay for 40 hours work—in itself a 20% wage increase.

They also demand a minimum of 12 hours pay for any work performed on Saturdays, and 16 hours pay for any work performed on Sundays and holidays.

On top of all this they want an additional increase of 25c an hour for every employe!

You'd Pay the Bill!

Summing up these demands, they mean that these union leaders seek to force the railroads to give one million employes an annual raise which would average $1500 per employe!

The total cost of this would be no less than 1 1/2 billion dollars per year, which is more than twice the expected net income of the railroads this year.

You'd pay the bill, because if these increased costs are forced on the railroads, they must have still further rate and fare increases.

Demands Unreasonable

These employes have had substantial raises during and since the war. Their average weekly earnings are higher than the average weekly earnings of workers in manufacturing industries. They have more job security than the average worker in American industry. They also enjoy paid vacations, a retirement system and other advantages more generous than the average worker receives.

In contrast with the demands of these 16 unions, which add up to the equivalent of 48c an hour, the Conductors and Trainmen recently settled their wage request for an increase of 10c an hour.

Railroads Run for Everybody—Not Employes Alone

The railroad industry must serve not one but many groups—producers, businessmen, shippers, passengers and the general public—night and day, every day of the year. These unions are proceeding in utter disregard of this important difference between railroads and other industries. Industrial plants can be shut down over weekends and holidays, but freight, mail, express and passengers must continue to move. Everybody who enters railroad employment knows this.

Strike Threat

On September 18, 1948, the leaders of these 16 unions began taking a strike vote. But the threat of a strike will not alter the opposition of the railroads to such unreasonable demands!

STRICKLINLY SPEAKING

Serious—Sincere—Silly

Well, as no one seemed to want to christen our colyum, even for the nice pencil offered, we decided to try the one above. Our other three readers didn't suggest anything. Found out that our wife don't read the stuff. Some of the gals at a beauty parlor was laughing about our cowboy-cat story last week. It was the first she had heard about it.

We note that Homer Steen, Ed. and Pub. the Floydada Hesperian, has done gone British. He is calling movies the cinemas. The howdah!

The old saying about the early bird getting the worm, has another angle in a story coming from North Texas State College at Denton. A prospective scholar could not attend the opening on account of a sprained ankle. His two weeks delay caused him to be the 5,000th registrant, and a big chest of merchandise was given him by Denton merchants.

They tell us that private enterprise is not listed in any of the dictionaries or encyclopedias. It is always taken for granted in free countries without being defined. It consists of owners, workers and distributors. It is made up for factories, offices, tools and the brains of those who use them. It is the backbone of every freedom loving nation on earth.

We sometimes wait almost too long to pay tribute where it has been long overdue. Recently a religious paper that we take, carried pictures of two aging pioneer ministers. No, they never were famous evangelists sought out by big city churches, nor offered a presidential salary as a located minister. They made their reputation right here in pioneering their church in days when they had to replenish their larders by doing as the old Apostle Paul did—working with their own hands. There are many such in all churches.

A bad case of jinks seems to be penned on Texas City. Hardly had the halo of last year been kinder forgotten, when another explosion Monday took four lives and some 35 were injured. However it was nothing compared to the 1947 disaster.

Much is being said about Roy Acuff trying to fiddle himself into the governor's mansion at Nashville, Tenn. There was another. Remember Bob Taylor? Except Bob was a Democrat and Roy is a Republican. Both were from east Tennessee.

Some of the intellectuals talk spryly of equality in all things. To start with, brains are not handed out on the equality plan.

And here's a plug for our merchants. Ads are real news. Merchants do not run ads because they like the Herald, or anyone connected with it. Or because they belong to the same church,

The American Way

NATIONAL BIBLE WEEK

OCTOBER 18-24

By George Peck

The front pages of our newspapers in recent months have been replete with scare headlines. But undoubtedly, the most disturbing and pronouncements of the world's Christian leaders assembled at the Amsterdam World Council of Churches. I quote a part of this almost unbelievable and shocking report:

"The Christian Church should reject the ideologies of both Communism and laissez-faire Capitalism and should seek to draw men away from the false assumption that these extremes are the only alternatives. Each has made promises which it could not redeem.

"Communist ideology puts the emphasis on economic justice and promises that freedom will come automatically after the completion of the revolution. Capitalism puts the emphasis upon freedom and promises that justice will follow as a by-product of free enterprise. That, too, is an ideology which has proved false."

Alarming isn't it that a group of supposed church leaders would arrive at such a blanket condemnation of capitalism—that they should even mention it in the same breath with Godless Communism?

If these Christian (?) leaders lodge, or civic clubs or political party. Nor is it because they just like to spend their money. Ads tell you about new things you're interested in. Read them.

We guess that it is natural for some couples to "tight." But it would look and sound better at home. Your friends don't want to hear it.

We swiped these two: The three ages of man are, school tablet, aspirin tablet and stone tablet. And, a widower is a man who years to be married again and take a new leash on life.

—and in closing, kind friends and fellow citizens, let me again urge that you vote for yours truly, as I just can't make a living in private business.

truly represent the thinking Christian leadership throughout the world, there can be but one conclusion and that is that Christianity is at a dangerously low ebb and has lost its potency as a vital force for the redemption of mankind.

Most certainly the Communists will take great comfort from this report, because whether these church dignitaries are aware of it or not, they have allied themselves with the radical revolutionists who, first of all, would abolish private property and then, this having been accomplished, would abolish the Christian and all other religions.

Capitalism has its faults, but it is still the best system that has ever been devised anywhere, any time for 175 years here in America free religion and free enterprise capitalism have gone along together to create the highest standard of living in world history, for all classes of society.

It is apparent that these churchmen have cast out the Bible as the rulebook for Christianity. They suggest that we abandon private rights which the Good Book teaches us go hand in hand with human rights.

Today, when the enemies of Freedom and Liberty and Justice under God are bending every energy to foist atheistic Communism upon the world, these Christian leaders line up with those foes. It is almost unbelievable. Were it not for the fact that millions of people will seriously regard the rabid outpourings of this radical element of the Christian Church, it would be laughable.

Under the sponsorship of the Laymen's National Committee, 8th Annual National Bible Week will be observed from October 18-24. This great annual event takes on special importance this year because of the pronouncements made at the Amsterdam World Council of Churches. We must sprun this false leadership of the Christian Church. It is a challenge to America to remain steadfast in the belief and conviction that the Bible always has been and always will be the Law Book of Civilization.

STATEMENT BY COMMITTEE

The committee that met with the school board on October 11th told the board that a great number of taxpayers believed that in normal times they would not be able to pay the tax bill imposed upon them. They asked the board to issue only $412,000 of the bonds now involved in litigation and for a reduction in tax valuations.

As a result of the valuations being increased this district is bound to lose $15,000 per year in state aid. Proponents of the bond issue declared before the election that taxes would not have to be raised to support the issue. They now say that it will take $30,000 this year, which they prefer to refer to as a few trifling pennies raise in tax rate. This figure is probably true for this year as it is 4 per cent of $750,000. Examine this figure closely and remember that not only interest but principal must be paid. On the basis of 4 per cent interest and a thirty year plan the least it could average is $40,000 per year. After investigating bonding plans we find that the first payments of principal are usually made very small, so it appears that in 10 or 15 years the payment will probably be $50,000 or more. Take into account that this district has already $350,000 in bonds, some of them maturing in those years and you arrive at a figure near $60,000 which is more money than was raised by taxes for this district any year prior to 1945.

It is admitted that the high school auditorium is adequate for present school purposes, in fact would hold 200 more students. Some feel that our community is disgraced because we do not have a larger one and because our gym is not big enough for two basketball courts.

There are people here who feel that they have been kicked around discriminated against and saddled with an unbearable burden. There are others who would build a gold plated building with diamond door knobs if some one else would pay the bill. There are very many of us who would like to see this matter adjusted on a reasonable basis, adequate room provided in our schools, the tax payer presented with a bill he has a shadow of chance of paying in normal times and our schools left a chance to survive leaner years. We would like to see harmony in this community instead of the people divided into factions.

Until now we have not received a single word from the school board as to their actions on this compromise.

the matter on its own, but we understand now gets some help in the way of salary for the manager.

Then too, there is samples of deep breaking that has already been nicely leveled with harrows, and seeded to wheat or rye. Some up, and some sprouting. In the north side of the field, they are using their own implements in deep breaking to some 18 inches. The maize was combined or bound on this part several weeks ago, and the new green sprouts are up a foot high or more. The disc gang plows are turning this green stuff under, head and ears. You can't even imagine that there was ever anything green on the ground. This creates in turn a fertilizer par excellent for the next year's crop, without the possibility of firing up as it sometimes created by barnyard manure.

Taking a community road south, some good examples of contouring and terracing was seen on the Stephens farm. In this climate it has been found that practice not only conserves the soil, but the rainfall as well, making every drop of water count. About the most interesting thing seen on the W. A. Fulton farm was the Love Grass 60 acre pasture with the grass now waist high and heading. It was planted the fall of 1947, irrigated then, but not since, we understand. Here, too fine cultivation methods are practiced, and cut off sorghum grain ground is now being planted to wheat with broadcast drills.

The next stop was the Purcell brothers in the Lahey section. On this farm there is the combined prospectus of what irrigation, deep breaking and fertilization will do. Let us state here that when we mention fertilization, we do not mean the commercial kind, but that created by peavine legumes. These boys have cotton that will probably go a bale to the acre or better, and some mighty fine feed. A large acreage of peas were planted on part of this land, which have been turned under and the plat drilled to wheat. This part of that farm will be watched with interest. If it gets too dry this winter and next spring, let us remember that they have the "rain maker" rearing to go out there.

The last stop was getting in toward town at the King Nursery. All that enterprise is interesting, as there are trees, scrubs, evergreens, vegetables and field crops. But the part visited was north-east of the nursery, and was a permanent pasture planted this fall, and now coming up nicely. James seemed to have drilled in one kind of grass with rows north and south, the other east and west. It was being irrigated while the visitors were there. Jack Cleveland, County Agent explained that the great coverage of careless weeds were not pedigreed, but we noted two varieties, green and red. Nothing personal James.

Louie Miller and Riley Carlton, local government agencies and Jack Cleveland were a lot of help in pointing out different projects. As it was getting late, the trip to the Ralph Butcher farm south of town had to be deferred with regrets.

Short Snorts

By Jimmy Arrington

I don't want to be quoted as saying that President Truman is a negative personality but it sure sounds like it from the tone of his speeches.

I don't believe I have ever heard of a candidate who was against more things than Harry Truman. But then I don't know of a candidate who has more things and people against him than does Harry.

I was reading his biography the other day and came across a descriptive sentence used in reference to Harry when he was an artillery battery commander in War I. Here is the phrase;

"Captain Truman took over his command with a devout desire to do right and keep his hand on the throttle."

After I read that I can now understand what has happened. Captain Truman evidently has lost the desire to do right and his hand slipped off the throttle.

In fact he was thrown from the driver's seat in Philadelphia and a big bunch of city bosses with some minority bloces scrambled aboard and ran the train off on a side track.

The South was standing up on the observation platform of the caboose, having experienced some difficulty in getting on the train and also in being seated.

When the passengers from the south discovered that engineer Truman had gone color blind and his hand had slipped off the throttle, instead of obeying orders to get into a non segregated day coach, the South pulled the emergency cord and unloaded at Birmingham.

Well sir, when that happened, the news butch, J. Howard McGrath, kept hollering, "All A-board" but the South closed its ears as they didn't want to be taken for another "ride."

The railroad auditors quickly realized the loss in southern revenues would throw the line into the hands of receivers (it was already in the hands of deceivers), so they contacted Jim Farley, former dispatcher for the democratic political train, who had been retired after many years of faithful service but was not fighting to calm their fears by saying that the South would load up sometime before November when the train passed by again.

The trouble with Jim was that he made his announcement from Europe and was too far from the terminal to know about the terrible traveling conditions on the Democratic trunkline.

And also since Jim had retired the South had inaugurated a new train service that was diesel operated and streamlined with a capacity of about 100 Electoral passengers.

Most everybody in the south are now shipping their goods on the States Rights line, being quite pleased with the schedule, which is operated on the constitutional time table and with J. Strom Thurmond as engineer and Fielding L. Wright as conductor.

The Board of Directors of the State's Rights line have now announced that the line will be extended within the next four years to connect every state in the union, with a flag-stop at Independence, Missouri, and the home office at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, in Washington.

Prospects Bright For New Oil Discoveries

FORT WORTH, Oct. 15— An oil company president today prophesied that prospects are bright for many new major oil discoveries in Texas.

The prophecy came in a talk by E. F. Bullard, president of Stanolind Oil and Gas Company, Tulsa, before the meeting of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association here.

Bullard expects that at some time in the foreseeable future Texas will boost its proven oil reserves to equal the present proven reserves of the entire United States.

He ranked the prospects for different parts of Texas in this order:

1. Upper Gulf Coast area for offshore domes.
2. West Texas for Ellenburger structures.
3. South Texas for sand trends in the lower Frio and Vicksburg.
4. East Texas for porosity in the Cotton Valley and Smackover horizons.

While putting off-shore prospects first in his ranking, Bullard emphasized that three factors were retarding this development: the high cost of drilling in the open water; uncertainty over whether the tidelands are owned by the states or the federal government; and lack of legal authority to permit exploration except on leases already purchased from the state.

Coal Costly
 It costs coal consumers 17 times as much to heat homes as before the war—and the sharp increase is blamed on nationalizing of the coal industry. Despite use of displaced persons and prisoners of war in mines, coal production was reported far below pre-war years when mines were operated privately.

The disappointing record of government-operated industries has given impetus to a movement to restore free competition and markets.—Texas Tax Journal.

State-Owned Industry Rouse Anger Of French

France again is turning to free enterprise after an unsuccessful attempt to nationalize industry.

The state-operated merchant marine has been returned to private ownership. The nationalized airplane industry is expected to be restored soon to individual enterprise.

Frenchmen for sometime have been voicing discontent over operation of state-owned banks, coal, steel and chemical industries, and public service monopolies. Charges of incompetent management have increased public demands for return of these industries to private control.

French Impressed
 Given the chance to own and manage their own industry France's shipbuilders in the past two years have raised production to within 80 per cent of pre-war levels. Results have impressed the average Frenchman.

On the other hand, electric power rates increased so sharply after the government took over the industry that many householders gave up the use of electricity entirely. Virtually all other users economized on fuel and light needs.

Democrats States' Rights Republicans! WE ALL WANT TO VOTE FOR JACK PORTER

We Can!
 Article 2981 of the Laws of Texas (Enacted 1905) specifically provides for the voting of a split ticket in a GENERAL ELECTION.

Scratch all candidates for U. S. Senator except the name of JACK PORTER. Your vote will be counted, and your choice for Senator, JACK PORTER will be seated.

The so-called loyalty pledge does not apply to the election on November 2. It is a GENERAL ELECTION all over the United States. It is NOT a state primary.

This has been so held by our courts and by the Texas Attorney General's Department for years past.

John Ben Shepperd, the principal speaker at the afternoon session at the grand stand on the east side of the square, touched extra heavy on the proposed amendment No. 2, to force redistricting the state in legislative districts after each census. The state has not been redistricted since 1920. Congressman George Mahon also stressed voting for that amendment in his address. Both made excellent talks.
