BROWNFIELD BUILDS!

TREADAWAY-DANIELL HOSPITAL AND NURSES HOME
BROWNFIELD, TEXAS
DR. HARVEY C. ALLEN, ARCHITECT - LAMESA, TEXAS

Treadaway-Daniell Hospital Addition Is Great Asset To Area

To give a minute description of the local hospital plant of Drs. T. L. Treadaway and A. H. Daniell is a big job. Possibly an architect or builder would be better qualified to give such a description than a newspaper man. Anyway, we have always tried to make a stab at things we wish to describe. We understand it at least. It may be Greek to the reader trying to follow us.

As to the drawing accompanying this sketch, you will have to imagine yourself somewhat elevated and located about the intersection of Tate and Eighth streets, both now unpaved, but soon, they hope. In other words you are in a southwest direction from the entire building and looking northeast. Note the beautiful terracing to the rear of the new wings, as well as the architects idea of some of the new landscaping. Some of this cannot be finished until these two streets are paved, and the hospital management get the street elevations.

Harvey C. Allen of Lamesa is both architect and builder.

First we would like to mention the new furniture that will be installed in the new addition. It is made of birch, and carries a beautiful color, and is the latest to be had in hospital furnishings. The beds appear to be slightly lower than old style beds, and in addition have an attached step that remains under the bed when not in use. The food table is equipped with the latest devices, one of which is a sizable mirror which can also be folded out of sight when not in use. Dr. Daniell who accompanied us through, stated that contrary to general opinion men used the mirror more than the ladies.

Then the lamps in the rooms seemed to have been built by some one with a talent to make the unthinkable. The light can be used more ways than a farmer can whip a mule, bright, medium, and dim, direct and toward the ceiling, and even a very dim bed light low on the stand.

The main addition to the south is 38x160 feet long and has 13 patient rooms south of the corridor and seven on the north side. It will contain a large nursery, linen and a laundry room near the nursery, two bath rooms. The west end some 20x38 feet will be devoted to a large visitor's reception room. It will be equipped with rest rooms and a public telephone, seats and settees. This will keep visitors well away from patient's waiting room up front in the old part of the building.

The windows will be of steel with tile sills, birchwood trimmed doors, asphalt tile floors, acoustical tile ceilings, circulating hot air heat, and water washed and cooled air conditioning. The building is also rock wool insulated throughout.

The Nurses Home Section
The nurses home section will contain 16 rooms, but very much like the other addition, with the idea that when demand comes, it too, may be turned into patient rooms, and provision made elsewhere for the nurses' home. In addition to the bed rooms it will contain a laundry, two baths and a large living room at the west end that will correspond closely to the reception room for visitors on the west end of the other wing.

Furniture for all the new additions from Hill-Rom of Indiana, line of wood furniture. Reception room furniture will be chrome. The furniture bill alone will run around $16,000.

The patient section will be ready for occupancy around the first part of January if everything pans out as planned. The nurses' section later.

In conclusion let us state that Drs. Treadaway and Daniell own the other quarter of the block laying north of the new addition, for any additions to be built in the future.

The Glorious Christmas Spirit Manifest In Brownfield Stores And Streets

Do Your Christmas Shopping In Brownfield

There are eleven remaining shopping days until Christmas. Frantic mothers, fathers, brothers and sisters, are checking their Christmas lists and wondering what to get Aunt Hattie, cousin Lou, brother Bill and sister Sue. With the appearance of Christmas lights, gayly decorated windows, and shining trees everyone feels the Yuletide spirit creeping up and thinks about gifts for friends and family.

Your reporter has been visiting the local stores and admiring the wonderful variety of gifts our merchants have to offer. We in this land of plenty can satisfy our every desire. The Brownfield stores are filled with toys to make a child's eyes sparkle, dolls and trains, tricycles and buggies. There are clothes for mother and sister, cosmetics, gifts for the home. Our hardware stores have a wide selection of electrical appliances. The furniture stores offer a variety of pieces for every home.

Let's make it our policy this year to patronize the local firms. Our merchants have all you could want to fill your brightly lit packages, and all the family stockings hanging by the mantel.

If Post Can Do Something, So Can We!

In her column in the Post, Texas, Dispatch last week, Evelyn Boyd had quite a lot to say about the much talked of juvenile delinquency. And according to that writer they had plenty of their share of just that, up until about a year ago. But Post people realized that no Santa Claus is going to step in and straighten out the matter after it almost got out of hand.

In the first place they reorganized and rejuvenated a very inactive Boy Scout organization, got others in, instituted some Cub Dens, etc. In fact, Post realized that the whole thing had been thrown in their laps, and it would take some talent as managers, and some money—yes quite a bit of that to do the job. But they did not hesitate. They went at the matter in a matter-of-fact way and put it over.

Not only that, but places were provided for innocent amusement of course properly supervised. And according to Miss Boyd, what a change in just a brief year of time. A youth who once lived in Post informed us a few years ago, that there were some tough kids over there, especially in the "mill district," and that you had better stay away from there nights, especially.

The rank and file of Brownfield youths, or perhaps those of Post, Tahoka and Lamesa, are not bad at heart. They have youth and vigor, and they must have some place to let off steam. If it is not provided the boys lose and the town and community lose.

Brownfield could well emulate the example of Post. Boys club houses cost money, we know, but what is money in comparison with a misstep of youth, crime perhaps, and broken hearts of loved ones?

Derrick Torn Down At Hinson Well

Well, there goes another Terry county oil well up in blue smoke, seemingly. What for a few weeks last summer promised to be a sizable oil boom at the Hinson well nine miles northeast of town, is all a bad dream now—yes, a nightmare, possibly. But such is life.

The well was to be drilled to 12,000 feet, and was, no doubt, but at that depth there was nothing found, so far as the layman oil hound knows. But at the 8,000-plus depth, some oil was encountered. First the amount was around 90 barrels per hour, so Madam Rumor said, then finally dwindled on down to 9 barrels. It was cased off, and the drilling was resumed.

Had a talk with A. A. Oliver who lives fairly near the well this week. He says the derrick is torn down, but as he has not been over there he does not know whether it is still there or has been trucked off some other place.

So, there are about two conclusions. Perhaps there was enough oil at the 8,000 feet depth to develop if there had been sufficient gas to lift it. But pumping maybe would not pay. Another, is that perhaps in time some other company will take the lease or the whole works abandoned entirely.

Ho-hum! Doggone them dry holes.

Last Friday night was the official time for unveiling of the shop windows in our city. To say the least, we believe the merchants and personnel of our progressive little city really went to town this year in decorating and planning their show windows. All of them are an inspiration—some of them are great. This took time, thought and some money, but the results are pleasing to others as well as themselves.

At the same time, the Christmas lighting of the streets of Brownfield by the street department, went on with a bang, and the old town changed miraculously from the common to the carnival spirit. The combined street and show-window displays were coordinated to come on at the same time, and he that did not think the transformation was startling, just didn't possess the Christmas spirit.

The writer and wife made the rounds of the business district, in a car, of course as we could hardly walk the distance without some physical exhaustion. Hundreds were on the streets at that time looking at the lovely windows, then moving on to the next. Some were headed in different directions. Even the little fellows were seemingly glued to windows, especially if there were dolls, toys, etc.

Now let us say something to you folks who live here. And we are not going to whisper. BUY AT HOME this Christmas. The merchants have extended themselves to provide the things you will wish to buy for your loved ones. They are your friends when it is wet or dry, cold or hot. If in a tight they will go much further to accommodate you than any other town in the world.

Let's all buy presents for our families and friends in Brownfield this year. During the war and soon after, many articles were scarce, some unobtainable. But most of these things are now in stock, and the price is in line with those in the bigger towns miles and miles from home. A Herald employee on his own, did some investigating as to the comparative prices in Lubbock and Brownfield. He found that on $15 to $20 electrical appliances, Lubbock was 50c higher than Brownfield and a Lubbock interior decorator informed him that the furniture was much cheaper here than in Lubbock. Not so long ago a Lubbock firm advertised a man's suit at $75, a little later a local dry goods store advertised the same suit for $69.50, and it takes gas, oil and tires to go to Lubbock.

TRADE AT HOME!

Try Out Your Hand In Writing Santa TRADE AREA SMALL FRY ARE INVITED TO REQUEST A VISIT FROM SANTA

Young folks and young friends: We hope we are friends, for you will soon become the regular customers of the Herald in the way of subscribers or perhaps be numbered among our advertisers. Anyway, we are perhaps going to be neighbors and friends for a long, long time. Perhaps you have been wondering whether or not old Santa Claus was going to visit you on Christmas Eve night. We feel sure that he will.

But he has tens of thousands of other little boys and girls to think about. Sometimes he does not know whether the little boys want a football or a cowboy suit. He is just as undecided whether you little girls want a toy stove, a doll bed or a doll, or all of them. You see he has a long, long journey to make that night, and he is fair and warm, cold and snowy, he makes it. He does not want to disappoint any little fellow, especially those who have been good.

With that in view, why not take your pencil, or if you can't write or print legible, have mother, dad, brother, or big sister help you. They will be delighted to help. Don't they remember that they too, used to write letters to Santa Claus? Just ask them and see.

We have a few for this week; perhaps will get some more before we go to press, but would like to have a lot of them for our issues of December 17 and 24th. Now the issue of the 24th will come out a day or two early, so your little letters will have plenty of time to reach old Santa.

Hoping that each of you have a very Merry Christmas, and that our good friend Santa Claus visits all of you, we beg to remain,
Sincerely,
The Herald.

Mrs. Barney Farris has accepted a position with the Primm Drug Store.

Postmaster James H. Dallas has received a bulletin from the Post Office Department informing him that in accordance with Act of July 3, 1948, Eightieth Congress, postal rates will be increased January 1, 1949.

Meadow Athlete Gets Rave Notices In Coast Papers

Terry Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Bell of Meadow, ended a colorful football career at Pepperdine College, Los Angeles, a couple of weeks ago and no doubt players and fans of other colleges on the Pepperdine grid schedule will not sit back and breathe a mite easier.

In his final game, Bell scored the two touchdowns for his team when they edged by the Loyola Lions 14-13. First score came when he took a 38-yard pass and ran the remaining 32 yards. His next tally was a 95-yard runback of a Loyola kickoff.

You've got to be good to get publicity when you play on a team which has had only a 50-50 season, and you've got to be nothing short of sensational if you can get a line or two here and there when your team is in a locality that has teams like the Los Angeles Rams, UCLA and Southern California to compete for the headlines.

To say that Bell has received reams of the stuff would hardly be an understatement. An L.A. scribe even suggested in a roundabout way that the college should erect a monument to the "little pint-sized Texas cowpoke." "When the game was over," the sports-writer continued, "Wave teammates carried Terry shoulder high off the field and the crowd gave the little guy from Meadow, Texas a roaring, spontaneous ovation."

Bell is also president of the newly formed Pepperdine Letterman's club and is the only four sport letterman in the history of the school. The Terry county lad was actively engaged in all sports when attending high school at Meadow.

Horace Fox, Commissioner of Precinct 4, brought his 16 year-old son in to the hospital late Tuesday afternoon, suffering from double pneumonia.

Dr. Roberson Has Most Beautiful Dental Parlor

One can hardly say "office" when speaking of Dr. W. A. Roberson's new dental headquarters at Tate and Sixth. It would look too much like elevating the word office. A more appropriate word would be dental parlor and the place is just that. One lady stated to the writer that their sitting room was more beautiful than her front room. And that would go for most of them here in Brownfield.

This writer, who is just a country boy is not even going to try to describe the beauty of this place. But he is going to invite you to see for yourself. It makes no difference whether you have any business with the establishment or not, Dr. Roberson and the three young lady attendants will take pleasure in showing you through.

We do wish to state that we have been in or had business with dental offices in many of the larger towns, including Fort Worth, and we have never seen the equal of his at any place.

He has three operating rooms now equipped. He had two at the old location in the Neill Building. It is worth a trip down there to see the one he has equipped in the new building.

Lecture Week At Church of Christ

Beginning Sunday night and ending Wednesday night, was lecture week at the Crescent Hill Church of Christ. The main object of the lectures, talks and round tables was to familiarize the general public with the work of the Church of Christ in America, sponsored by the local congregation, in the orphan home and missionary work in Italy.

Some interesting speakers were on hand, but attendance at the lectures could have been better. Little advertising had been done locally, except among the church members. Local ladies fed the visitors at the church, and the out of town folks were given beds in the homes of members.

Among the speakers were Bill Hatcher, Detroit, Mich.; Harold Paden, Lubbock; Alvis Bryan, Eastside church Lubbock; L. W. Halhurst, Raymondville, Texas; Cline Paden, city. Some of the above will be missionaries to Italy and sail in January. Elder Joe Chisholm gave a report on the work. He will also go over with the others, some 12 or 14 in January to help get the work started.

Some property has been purchased, including two buildings near Rome, and are to be used as the orphan home. One of the most interesting talks was by Nick Russo, a native of Naples, Italy, now studying at Abilene Christian College. Jack McPherson, also from ACC spoke. His wife is a native Italian. Both are preparing to return to Italy.

6th Annual Band Clinic At Lubbock

Texas Tech will be host to the sixth annual band clinic today and tomorrow in Lubbock.

D. O. Wiley, Tech band director and general chairman of the clinic, said more than 600 individual reservations have been made for this year's clinic. Thus far, participants are expected from as far east as Cisco and west through Eastern New Mexico; north from Dalhart to Fort Stockton south.

The main purpose of the clinic is to introduce state contest music for the 1949 band competition, and to assist band directors and band members in arranging and presentation of new selections.

Lubbock High school will join the college as host for the annual event this year. The morning sessions will be played at the high school auditorium and the afternoon presentation at O. L. Slaton Junior High school auditorium.

Members of high school bands may join the sections of the college band to observe or to participate. Mr. Wiley said the instructing bands will have approximately 120 members.

All expenses of the clinic are borne by the host schools.

Phillips-Monahans To Play At Lubbock

Lubbock will be the scene of one of the quarter final Class A football games this coming Saturday when the Phillips High School Blackhawks and the Monahans High School Lobos clash in a contest to determine the winners between Regions 1 and 2. The winner of this game plays in the State semi-final.

Monahans qualified for the game Saturday by defeating Ballinger, 33 to 28, at Ballinger last Friday.

The Phillips Blackhawks qualified for this tilt by defeating Post 41 to 0 at Amarillo last Saturday.

Mrs. Alvie Christopher visited in Monahans Sunday.

Johnson Will Oppose Taft-Hartley Repeal

DALLAS, Dec. 8. (AP)—U. S. Senator-Elect Lyndon Johnson said he would oppose any effort to repeal the Taft-Hartley Labor act.

Johnson said he doesn't believe Congress will vote outright repeal of the act. He added he might approve certain revisions in the law "since any legislation in time has to be adjusted and can be improved."

Lamesa Beats Both Brownfield Teams

A large crowd turned out Tuesday night to see the double headed basket ball game between the A and B teams of Lamesa and Brownfield. No admission was charged, and the gym was filled with a capacity crowd. The Lamesans won both games.

In connection with basket ball, there are said to be two pretty strong independent teams coming along. Stuffy Moorhead is again drilling a team sponsored by Primm Drug. Two years ago this team represented District 2 in the TAAF tournament, and there is reason to expect a good team again this year.

A new organization, too, is the United Geophysical (Oil Smeller) quintet organized here with Clyde Bond, jr., as business manager, and Lester Warwick as playing manager. This team also gives evidence of making a good grade, we are told.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Rowe Smith and their three lovely daughters of Plainview, were guests here Saturday in the Fred Smith and Bob Packard homes.

Mrs. Margaret Weaver visited in Monahans Sunday.

Latham Wins First In Decorating

The following stores were awarded the citations for the best window display in Christmas theme. First award went to Lathams, second to Primm Drug; third, to both Firestone Sales and Collins. A special outside award was given to the First National Bank.

Brownfield was crowded with enthusiastic treasure hunters, Santa seekers and window lookers for the Jaycees Treasure Hunt and Window contest on Dec. 3. The Jaycees report that the event was a great success.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Brownfield, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Neither the Democrats nor the Republicans could object seriously with the late election, even if the Gosset-Lodge amendment had been in force. According to those with a nack for figures, Mr. Dewey would have gotten a few electoral votes in Texas and other southern states, even the four that had Thurmond on the ticket as a Democrat, would have given a small per cent of electoral votes to Dewey. On the other hand, such states with large amount of electoral votes like New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan, that gave Dewey a very slim lead, would have had to divide with President Truman. And such big electoral states as California, Illinois, etc., that Truman had a slight lead in, would have had to give Dewey his proportion. About the only states in which Wallace cut any figure, were such leftist places as California and the big cities of the east. He was just an also ran most every where else. The total results would have been changed little in this election.

The Lubbock Avalanche very aptly refutes the oft repeated assertions heard for the past two weeks, that Madame Chiang Kai-Shek would receive a very cool reception in the United States. Then that paper recites the fact that a US navy plane brought the Madame to the United States; that the Sacred Cow, plane formerly used by President Truman, but now by Secretary of State Marshall, brought her from the Pacific coast to Washington. At the airport in the nation's capital, she was met by administration officials just a step below the President himself, and then was made a guest in the home of Secretary and Mrs. Marshall. What better reception could she or anyone for that matter, expect. Now, as for getting a lot of funds to help prop up that questionable government of her husband, that is something else yet again. Most people of the United States are just about at the end of the row in helping pour money down the rat hole in China. And that just about goes for Greece.

In conclusion, the Avalanche adds: "If the reception had been as warm as some possibly thought, guess they would have burned down the capitol." Even our bankers will sometimes look at us with a kindly eye, and try to compromise with a cup of coffee when we wish to make a loan. Receptions are not always as cold as our handouts.

As this is being written, it marks the 7th anniversary of the dastardly attack of the Japrats on Pearl Harbor. Many of us remember where we were on that fateful day. Very vividly the writer remembers where he was just about the time of the attack. Our son-in-law and daughter were quietly driving us over Camp Bowie at Brownwood. The gates were not guarded, nor were we stopped at any place. True we did not leave the car to try entering any buildings. Six hours after that, a pass or uniform was all that would get you into that big training camp. We were never inside it again until after the war was over, and the soldiers gone.

Speaking of the Japs, most of us have mellowed up toward them to some extent, but we can't help remembering, especially if some of our friends were murdered by those rats, as they did at least one Terry county boy. Which brings to mind that some of the war lords that were to be hung after an international court had decided on it, has been held up by the Supreme Court of the United States. If we remember right, no such stay of execution was allowed the German war criminals. But in the end, the higher courts may allow the execution of the sentences to go on. And this too, reminds us that a bunch of the press boys are raising old bills to see the execution, but Gen. MacArthur says no. So far as we are concerned the hanging can go on without our presence. We do not want to see it.

The Department of Safety at Austin has warned and warned again that just one dangerous firecracker could rob you of a Merry Christmas. It could be the means of burning down your home or workshop, or it could seriously maim or cause the death of a loved one. And a fire started in such windstorms as we have had lately could be a disaster from which we could not recover in years. Do you recall the fire in March 1916 that destroyed half of Paris, Texas, or the one in the lesser town of Grandview a few years later that accomplished destruction to more than half of that town. We have an ordinance in Brownfield against fireworks, and for a year or two, the officials tried to enforce it. Of course the officials are sworn to uphold the law, and in that case, the law against shooting fireworks in the city limits should be enforced or repealed. Of course the above fires were not, so far as we know started by fireworks, but that is not saying that it can not happen here.

Well, the legislature has heard that there is a surplus of some $80 million dollars in the treasury down at Austin, and they are as restless as a rat in a yellowjacket nest to get down there and begin to spend it. Some of them even tried to get Governor Jester to call a special session this month, just one month before the regular session is to start. To the credit of Mr. Jester, he refused the request, and now some perhaps will be nicknaming him "Calculating Coke." Jester seems to be following the footsteps of his predecessors in trying to conserve the funds of the people as much as possible. Of course the idea was to help the schools. But the Gilmer-Aiken committee has just made its very controversial report, and that report should have a lot of study, and much of this study should be made before the regular session begins. But Gov. Jester is going to get some scoldings. The left-winger bunch among the press and legislators are going to accuse him of taking dictation from the Houston oil men. So far as we know, our own representative has had no hand in asking a called session. He has a good living from private income, and our Senator elect will be County Judge of Dawson county until January first. But some of the jacklegs are sure wanting at the trough.

The Herald got some 20 closely mimeographed sheets of the Gilmer-Aiken report on bettering school conditions in Texas. A note attached asked us to take 10 minutes to read it. Maybe we are a slow reader, but it would have taken hours for us to read and digest that report, not being a school man in the first place. So we will depend upon men and women who have made a life study of the school question to read and digest the matter. Presumably this committee called in many school people to help in preparing the report. Senator James E. Taylor, one of the committee members frankly states that the report is biased, and just a committee recommendation. To say the least Texas must now take itself by its own bootstraps, and lift itself out of a very low place among the states in educational advantages. We have many resources. In fact we are blessed far above a lot of state along this line that stand head and shoulder above us in an educational way.

Davenport, editor of the Abernathy Review last week printed some old grocery prices as of 1934. Such for instance as pork and beans 5c; 10 lbs. spuds 19c; gallon pears 41c, etc. But Editor Davenport says that the repetition of these old prices have no appeal for him. He is very well contented with conditions as of 1948. His pet peeve seems to be that he was then working as a young guy on the Hale Center American for Vic Lamb for $1.00 per week, and Vic let him go as the paper would not carry such a stunning load.

According to the State Department of Agriculture there are now 65 counties in west and north-west Texas under pink boll worm quarantine. And we might add that this includes the bulk of the real cotton producing counties. All South Plains counties are now quarantined. There are some specific regulations in regard to shipping cottonseed out of these counties, among them heating the seed to 150 degrees F. If in doubt better talk with your ginster, as he will be up on this law.

The wise retailer knows better than anyone else that there is no possibility of capturing a market. He may have it today to be gone tomorrow, but he must be an aggressive merchandiser and ready to capture it again tomorrow by courteous service and well planned advertising. Yes, the people know his name, his store location, but nothing about his goods in particular. The merchant has to keep in mind that five out of every 10 people do not live where they did in 1940. Unbelievable you say. Well that is what Dun's Review says about the matter, and that's a very reliable source.

Dun's also reviews the overall economy to show how the picture has changed since the good old days. Our national income before the first world war was $36 billion; before the second, $71 billion; now it is at a rate of $214 billion. Employed workers before World War I totaled 38 million individuals; before World War II, 45 million; currently they stand at 60 million. Wages, meanwhile, have increased even more phenomenally. They have gained from an average of $18.53 before the first World War to $27 just before the second war, to $52.81 today.

Predecessors of modern British restaurants were coffee houses and taverns, which had a daily "ordinary"—a dinner or supper served at a common table and generally for a fixed price.

The word "restaurant" was first applied in America to dining rooms of the better hotels and to a few high class a la carte dining places.

The robin is still caught for food on Continental Europe.

FOUR MAJOR ISSUES ARE STORM WARNINGS FOR 51st LEGISLATURE

By Dave Cheavens

Austin, Texas Nov. (AP)—Four major issues already loom like big black thunderheads over the 51st legislature.

This far in advance of the Jan. 11 meeting the storm warnings are already flying on these questions: finances and taxation; reorganization of the public school system; election law reform and revision; overhauling of prison system.

The 51st will be a legislative unique in Texas History in that it will have more money certainly more ready cash to spend than ever before. It is impossible to say just now what the precise amount will be but the fiscal experts believe it will be in the neighborhood of $240,000,000.

The last session spent every cent in sight. Some of the hardest feelings growing out of the 50th legislature were an aftermath of the additional appropriations that died because there was not enough money on hand or in sight to pay for them. Whenever there is a large chunk of change lying around, the competition among those who want it is bound to be fierce. It could result in a struggle falling only a point or two shy of mayhem.

Nearly all the issues faced by the 51st are linked directly or indirectly with the allied questions of finance and taxation. The cry for election law revision is an exception. This should not cost much in money. All it would take would be conscientious application, work and brains. The latter should include a healthy portion of horse-sense, if the result is to be practical. If the legislature spends all the ready cash, then almost surely the agitation for new taxes will be revived. It may not wait for that. The Fort Worth Democratic Convention came up with some talk favorable to increased taxation of natural resources. That might get somewhere in the House but hard going can almost certainly be predicted for any move in that direction in the senate.

The new legislator, incidentally, includes 10 of 31 senators serving for the first time in that branch, and there will be 51 new faces in the 150-member house. Perhaps the biggest job faced by the 51st legislature is to digest then act upon, the report of the Gilmer-Aiken Education committee.

This 41-page document, with revolutionary proposals close-packed in every chapter, can not be grasped in one quick reading, and it actually is only an outline of the committee's ideas. A conscientious legislator would have to read it plus the entire minutes of the committee's work to have a sound notion of what it undertakes to do in revamping the public school system.

Complete overhauling of the prison system as proposed by its new management and the prison board would be a big job for any body of lawmakers. Gov. Beauford H. Jester has promised to give this undertaking, particularly the need for an immediate four million appropriation, emergency status to help ram it through.

These are only the immediate apparent major issues.

There will also be demand for modification of the labor control legislation that swept through the 50th session, opposed by sentiment that those laws be allowed to stand. This will produce thunder and lightning.

New water laws will be proposed, as well as the usual measures labeled as promoting oil and gas conservation. Plenty of differences will develop in these fields.

Reunion, the French-owned island in the Indian Ocean, was successfully known as Bourbon and Ile Bonaparte as France's government underwent successive changes.

SPEAKING STRICKLINLY

Speaking of Texas brags, the Pecos 4-H club boys and girls can do so without an aside wink. Their steer, Texo, which had already won many prizes, was the reserve champ at the International Livestock show at Chicago, recently, and was sold for $4 per pound. Take another hitch at the adding machine and ring up $5,000 extra.

One of the big rubber companies has come out with a new tire they call "cold rubber," which they claim will give much longer service than those made with extreme heat.

Now here is one for the dust fightin' women of this area, and we hope they don't get mad for bringing up the subject. A new chemical sprayed on the curtains will prevent dust accumulating on them.

A Lubbock lady writes in to re-new and adds that she likes the Herald editorials, then adds: "Now laugh." Too much of a lady to go as far as the Arkansas lawyer—"now laugh dang you."

Remember that old one you heard when a boy or girl: "Where was Moses when the light went out, down in the cellar with his shirt tail out."

Well all the southeast part of Brownfield thought about the same way Saturday night last, when a wire conveying the juice went down with a crash. Some lit candles; some just sat in the dark until the lights came on quite some time later. And was it dark?

Oftimes folks who rale most about high taxes, are the very ones that are always on hand at Austin or Washington to demand more funds for this and that activity that should be provided locally.

Was down the Seagraves road Monday and saw Neill Vanzant's and the Old He's second oil well try. Just northwest of the other about a mile. Hope this one has some oil in it.

Not startling but true: A Tahoka lady lost a highly prized pen here during the fair and festival. A small ad in the Herald brought it home.

The Weather: Nastier than that in Lower Slobbovia. They do have snow—we get the dust.

Miss Tiny Tennis of Tokio says that you can buy the stuff at a drug store for a school girl complexion—less the wiggles and giggles.

We note in the Plainsman that Ropes is soon to have not only a dial telephone system, but fifteen bright street lights. First thing they know there won't be a dark alley for Editor Morris' tomcat to roam.

Brownfield Cubs failed to place a man on the first team of the mythical District 1-AA football. However, Tankersley got in under the wire on the second team.

The Donley County Leader, Clarendon, is our authority for the reason most babies are born at night. He says they want to catch their mama's at home. We had often wondered about that.

Baltimore, in 1821, was the first American city to use gas for street lighting.

The first artificial ice plant was established in New Orleans in 1866.

Los Angeles claims to have had the first movie theatre in operation, back in 1902 when the admission was 10 cents.

The phrase, "according to Hoyle," was first used to mean Edmond Hoyle, an Englishman of the 18th Century who was the first to systematize the rules of whist.

Crayfish periodically shed all their skin in one piece.

Girl Jailed After Mine Work

KIEL, Germany — (AP) — No German law forbids women from working in mines—but a girl who tried it in male disguise landed in jail for three months.

A poster of the German Ruhr Coal Mines Administration calling on the homeless German youth to come to work, gave her the idea. She decided to become a miner. The American and British-sponsored enlistment program provided for better living conditions—clothing, better and higher food rations, tobacco and liquor rations.

Ursula and her old ailing mother had not had any of this since they had fled from their hometown of Koenigsberg in East Prussia, now Kaliningrad in Soviet Russia. For two years they had lived in a slum-like refugee quarter in a small Schleswig-Holstein village. Coffee, cocoa, bacon and an adequate wage with which she could support her mother and provide medical treatment for her made her decide quickly, she told the judges.

She put on slacks, cut her hair, bandaged her breasts and enlisted at the labor office for the Ruhr coal mines as Peter Klenkies.

None of her "buddies" down in the pit recognized Peter as a member of the weaker sex. She worked four months, but fell ill and had to leave her job.

When she returned to her mother, the police got wind of "Peter" and summoned her to court, on charges of "document forgery and illegal name change."

A three-month's jail sentence was the lowest punishment the court could find for the offense.

Racoons Plague German Farmers

KASSEL, Germany — (AP) — Little "Goerings" have become a plague in the forest-rimmed village of Bringhausen near here. The villagers call them "little Goerings," and it is a curse when they say it, but actually they mean racoons, and they don't like them because of the damage they have done to their crops.

Rotund Hermann Goering had acquired several pairs of racoons from the United States in his heydays when he was "Reich hunting master" besides running the German air force and the German economy. He liked racoons and wanted them in Germany. He set them free in the hilly forest region near this village in the Kassel area.

Meanwhile they have multiplied and are roaming about the fields and orchards of Bringhausen. The farmers there now declared war on them because of the heavy damage they are doing to their sugar and other beets as well as their fruit trees.

U. S. Army Has Several Opportunities

There are several unusual opportunities open in the U. S. Army for the month of December announced Sgt. Dobbins of the Brownfield Recruiting sub-station. First of all there are several recruiting assignments open for qualified men in the El Paso district. This assignment pays a $105.00 per month extra. Men that are interested should report to the Recruiting Office immediately for further information.

There are also a few vacancies for men that would like to apply for Public Information School. Men that can qualify will be sent to Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania for preliminary schooling and then assigned for "on-the-job-training" for ninety days at some newspaper or radio station in the country. Men so assigned will work under the supervision of the paper or radio station and will be very much in the same capacity as civilians, even to the wearing of civilian clothes. After graduation they will probably be assigned to some recruiting center as a public relations expert. This is something radically new in the Army and is to be considered a very choice assignment. Applicants are to be high school graduates and from 18 to 25 years of age.

On the 31st of this month enlistments for two splendid outfits will terminate. These are the U. S. Constabulary Forces and the First Infantry Division located in Europe. Both units are engaged in enforcing the terms of the peace treaty in Europe and are to be considered as law enforcement agencies. They have a special distinctive uniform and duty with one of these divisions is usually preferred above that with other outfits. A large percentage of the enlistments made recently from units for which further enlistments will expire the 31st of this

This Has Been a Very Freaky Weather Year

The daily press for the past few days has been full of accounts of "freaky" or "wacky" weather for the past month or two. The burden of such talk was that our cold fronts, which usually originate in north China or Siberia, according to Weathermen, have changed their course. In former times these cold front would move into Alaska, Canada and through the Dakotas into the southwest.

Frequently when their course was as stated above, bring some moisture along with them, and really get cold. Now since October these storms have been moving in from California, across Arizona and New Mexico, and instead of moisture it has been dust and more dust. We have already had three bad ones.

The Herald does not know whether or not it has been noticeable to others, but it has stood out like a sore thumb to us. That is, the prevailing wind all this year, instead of being from the south or southwest, has stayed for days at a time in the southeast. Formerly, we were quick to say that if the wind would just get out of the southeast and stay there a few days, we would have rain. It used to be told as a joke that an old West Texan refused to help pray for rain when the wind was from some other direction. Well, southeast wind didn't mean a thing this year.

Last but not least is an opening for a WAC NCO in the Recruiting Main Station in Lubbock. Her duties will be clerical and administrative and she will receive this vicinity has been to these $105.00 per month in addition to her base pay.

Any one interested in any of the above assignments should contact the Brownfield Recruiting office immediately.

Allen Named Baptist S. S. Director

Andrew Q. Allen, director of public relations for the Baptist General Convention of Texas, has accepted the position as state Baptist Sunday School secretary. The announcement was made Thursday, December 2, by Dr. Forrest Fezer, Waco, chairman of the Baptist Executive Board. Allen has been considering the offer since his election at a meeting of the board at the centennial Baptist convention in Houston early in November. He succeeds Dr. G. S. Hopkins, who will retire December 31 after twenty-three years as state Sunday School leader.

A native of Petersburg, Hale county, the new Sunday School secretary is a graduate of the University of Texas in Business Administration. He also holds the Master of Religious Education degree from the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, Fort Worth, and the Master of Arts degree in Elementary Education from the George Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee. Well-known to Baptists of Texas and the South, Allen served for five years as Dr. Hopkins' associate from 1929 to 1934. He was state Sunday School superintendent for three years in Tennessee and worked for seven years with the Southern Baptist Sunday School board in Nashville.

In 1944, he returned to Texas as business manager of Baylor hospital in Dallas. He assumed his present position with the state Baptist board as director of public relations in June, 1947.

Allen is to begin his new work on January 1. His office will be in the Baptist building, Dallas. Dr. Fezer indicated the matter of Allen's successor in public relations will be settled at the annual meeting of the Executive Board in Dallas.

Daring Boys Killed In Berlin Ruins

BERLIN—(AP)—Western Berlin's newspapers are waging one of the world's strangest safety crusades—designed to stop daredevil children from digging for scrap materials in bomb ruins to earn money.

Under the slogan "Death Lurks in the Ruins," the campaign is prompted by an alarming increase in the accident toll involving youngsters killed or maimed under collapsing walls in the city's areas of ruined buildings.

Hardly a day passes but some German is a victim of such an accident, especially as fall winds and wet weather promote the collapse of weakened masonry. A further hazard is unexploded bombs and shells still buried in the rubble.

The newspaper "Sozial Demokrat" leading the safety campaign, has demanded criminal prosecution of adults who hire children to go picking scrap metals and wood out of ruins. The newspaper also demanded action against parents who permit their children to engage in this business and of scrap metal dealers who buy from children.

Some adventurous kids are said to make neat earnings in their scrap hunting. But they have to be daring—or just foolish. Some are seen climbing up pipes to reach third and fourth story balconies or along ledges to pry out surviving window frames. They often clamber where experienced salvage crews, equipped with ropes and safety belts, hesitate to operate.

Their chief booty is old plumbing fixtures and cable and wiring.

Threat of Dusters Hanging Over Area

FORT WORTH (AP)—The threat of serious dust storms hangs again over western Oklahoma and Texas.

The most vulnerable area, the Soil Conservation service said, is the sandy portion of the southern high plains lying southwest of Lubbock.

Several locally-severe dust storms have already occurred this fall in western Oklahoma and Texas, said regional SCS conservator Louis P. Merrill. Merrill said that although the southern high plains is most threatened by dust storms, these areas also are in danger:

The Seymour-Childress, Texas, vicinity; isolated fields in the Dalhart, Texas, neighborhood; portions of the crop and range land between Clinton and Enid, Okla.; and scattered fields up and down the cross timbers belt of West-Central Oklahoma and Texas.

Merrill laid the blame on depletion of the soil by two and three successive years of drought and crop failure. He said 440,500 acres in Texas and Oklahoma are now undergoing wind erosion. Another 3,364,000 acres in the two states were said to be inadequately protected by grass or covering crops.

The SCS conservator emphasized their offering.

The following women have been engaged in the project: Mrs. Sam Privitt, Mrs. Buddy Tarbuton, Mrs. Prentice Walker, Mrs. Gordon E. Richardson, Mrs. Jack Bailey and Mrs. M. G. McCain.

The 1949 Buick Car Is A Dandy

Have you been around to the Tudor Sales Co., to see the new 1949 edition of the car that advertises, "When better cars are built, Buick will build them"? If you have not, better do so at once as the show period of the model they have on hand is running out. Indeed, the car has already been sold, perhaps before it was ever received.

The model they have is a four door affair, painted in gala green. That seems to be a light green with what appears to be gold dust sprinkled thereon. Something that we have not noted in any other model or make of car was a series of holes in the side of the front fenders. It has just about everything that human desires might crave.

As soon as you read this, better go down and have a look whether or not you are ready to buy.

ed that most of the old "dust bowl" is moderately well protected from the wind erosion. He added that the wind erosion threat this year is hardly to be compared with the blowing of the "dirty thirties" when more than six million acres in Texas and Oklahoma yielded up dust.

The American Way

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

By George Peck

The man who last November 2 made monkeys of the pollsters and confounded practically all of the experts, has a golden opportunity to be one of the truly great presidents of this nation.

Deserted by the leaders of his own Democratic Party, he waged a campaign in the face of every possible discouragement, that aroused the admiration of the American people, even including those millions who did not vote for him. He just would not be licked, and he wasn't. The American people love a fighter, and today Harry Truman is beloved through out the 48 states of the Union (Maine included).

As he himself declared on the eve of his triumph, he owes nothing to any man, certainly not to his party. He can be exactly the kind of a president he wishes to be—he is free and untrammelled. No other president, with the possible exception of George Washington, has ever gone to the White House with positively no strings attached to him, owing nothing to anyone. Harry's only debt is to the rank and file of the American people who elected him.

For one, I am going to believe that "The Champ" intends to give that nation the best administration he knows how. If he fails to make a place for himself in history as one of the "greats" among a handful of great presidents, it will be due to errors of judgment, not to errors of the heart.

The election campaign waged by our President and President-Elect leaves no doubt as to the human courage and determination. We can safely assume that he will battle just as strenuously on the legislative front as he did on the campaign front for what he sincerely believes is best for most of the American people.

As one of those American people, I have an obligation and a desire to be helpful. Please do not consider me bumptious in offering some advice to the man who will preside over our destinies for the next four years. I would refer our president to the erudite sayings of two great Chinese philosophers—Confucius and Lao Tzu.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Poor Fellow
Let's make sure that America remains a land to which we always will be glad to return

Over 2,400 years ago, in the 5th Century, B. C., Confucius said: "Government is good when it makes happy those who live under it and attracts those who live far away."

That most certainly describes the kind of government we had in America for a century and a half.

And again Confucius said: "The wise and good ruler is benevolent without expending treasure; he lays burdens on the people without causing them to grumble; he has desires without being covetous; he is serene without being proud, he is awe-inspiring without being ferocious."

That most certainly describes the qualities of two of our great presidents, Washington and Lincoln.

And again, Confucius said: "The wise and good Lao Tzu said: "In the highest antiquity, the people did not know they had rulers. In the next age, they loved and praised them. In the next, they despised them. . . . If the government is prying and meddling, there will be constant infraction of the law. . . . The people starved because those in authority over them devoured too many taxes. . . . The people are difficult to govern because those placed over them are meddlesome."

Could it be that Lao Tzu had in mind such things as price controls, rationing with its black markets, free medicine, federal aid to education, public housing, excess profit taxes, etc.? It could be, Mr. President.

Ropeways, of which the simple ski tow is an example, have been used for transportation over irregular terrain for at least 1,900 years.

Brock Enters Armored Division

Recruit Donald A. Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. Brock of 212 North 12th St. Brownfield has been assigned to the Fifth Armored Division for eight weeks of basic training.

Reactivated July 6, 1948, the Fifth Armored "Victory" Division hung up a brilliant war record in six European campaigns during World War II. Before the end of 1949 Camp Chaffee is expected to have 20,000 troops, making it the largest Army training center in the nation.

Before entering the Army, Recruit Brock was employed at a service station here.

He is now assigned to Company C, 46th Armored Inf. Bn.

Schools Should Have Health Program

Every school has tremendous opportunities to promote the health of its pupils and its community, and for this reason Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that every school should have a definite health program including safe drinking water, good school lunches, proper lighting, seating and ventilating facilities as well as scrupulously clean premises.

"From early childhood to manhood and womanhood, most youngsters are enrolled in school and are under the supervision of school staffs for a substantial part of the day, approximately half the days of the year," Dr. Cox said. "The conditions under which they live in school, the help which they are given in solving their health problems, the ideals of individual and community health which they are taught, and the information and understanding that they acquire are factors which operate to develop attitudes and behavior conducive to happy, healthy and successful living."

To supplement the efforts of teachers, school boards, parents and civic groups interested in promoting school health, the State Health Department's Division of School Health Service carries on a full time program designed to promote and develop a sound basic health program for the school child. This plan consists of attempting the control of communicable diseases in cooperation with local health departments; the minimizing of hearing, vision, dental and other similar problems; providing minimum health essentials in classroom environment such as lighting, seating, and so

You Can Be Chosy In Flowers

When it comes to picking out flowers and shrubs for landscaping the home, it's a good time to be choosy. You can afford to be, says Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A&M College, because some plants look better in certain areas than other plants.

The colors in flowers or the berries or blooms on shrubs may clash with each other, and produce a gaudy appearance rather than an attractive one, says Miss Hatfield.

There's one thing that will help decide for the home shrub grower just what plants to choose, and that is the soil on which the plants are grown. For example, people in East Texas will have much better luck growing gardenias than those in other parts of the state. That's because East Texas has an acid soil and plenty of moisture.

Ceniza makes an attractive screen or windbreak, but again it has to be on the right type of soil—in this case, a basic or alkaline soil. Another good thing about the ceniza is that it has only a few insects and diseases that bother it.

Some flowers and shrubs have to have careful attention all the time. It doesn't take long for some to become choked out by weeds and grasses, or for insects or diseases to knock them out. Hardy, well-established shrubs will fight off these pests and live through the hard times.

If it's the green color you're looking for, plant some of the evergreens. They don't die back during the winter months. Ceniza is an evergreen, and so are the pfitzer juniper, cherry laurel, and yaupon.

Summing it all up, the best plants to get are those that put forth; an adequate physical activity program; stressing education on personal hygiene and local health hazards; nutrition supervision and instruction, and integrating the school health program with the total community health program.

up a good fight against the cold, heat, drouth, diseases and insects, and will grow well in the soil of your section.

Good, sturdy plants suitable to your area will make for a well landscaped yard and an attractive home, says Miss Hatfield.

Texas 4-H'ers Win Chicago Trips

Ann Peterson Wayne White Betty Blackerby Reuben Rother

SUPERIOR records of achievement in National 4-H Better Methods, Canning, Clothing and Garden programs have won 1948 state championship honors for four Texas club members. Each received an all-expense trip to the 27th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28 to Dec. 2. The winners, who were selected by the state club office, and brief outlines of their records follow:

Getting that well-known "new-look" was little trouble for Ann Peterson, 17, of Devine, who selected, sewed, made over or mended 26 garments for herself and other members of the family during three years of 4-H club work. In addition to completing five 4-H projects, of which three were in clothing, Ann served as president and leader. She gave a talk at a community meeting and wrote three stories about 4-H tours, camps or special events. Ann has done some interesting things with textile paints. A peasant blouse which was plain white she painted attractive Mexican girl and ivy flower vendors around the neckline. She painted bath towels with a design taken from the bathroom wall paper, painted initial A on the cuffs of a sock and a pillow top with Mexican colors. Named State winner in the 1948 National 4-H Clothing Achievement program, she was awarded an educational trip to the Chicago Club Congress provided by Spoon Cotton Educational Bureau.

Wayne White, 17, of Coahoma, has applied many better feeding and housing methods in his livestock activities because of skill achieved through the National 4-H Better Methods Electric program. Wayne has been named State winner in the program in recognition of the many better methods he has developed for doing farm tasks. He has given demonstrations on trimming calves feet, grooming livestock, terracing, culling chickens and pruning trees. In addition to project work, he has served as junior leader of his local club for five years. Wayne received an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, provided by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation.

The Blackerby family of White-wright has no worries when it comes to being supplied with a variety of healthful foods all year around. Canning 1,984 quarts of meat, fruit and vegetables helped Betty Blackerby, 16, win State honors in the National 4-H Canning Program. She also has served her club in many offices and is a junior leader. Betty was provided an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, by the Kerr Glass Mfg. Corp. as recognition for her outstanding achievements.

Providing his family with plenty of healthful home-grown vegetables was a major achievement for Reuben Rother, 20, of McAdoo, but he has now also been recognized with State honors in the 1948 National 4-H Garden program. Reuben planted and tended peanuts, tomatoes, squash, blackberries, melons, pumpkins, cabbage and corn during his seven years as a 4-H'er. He has used crop rotation and learned their value in both garden and field crops projects. As a recognition of his achievements, Alva Chalmers provided Reuben with an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agriculture College and USDA cooperating.

Texas Kids See Christmas Angels

As a Christmas gift to the children of Texas, the classic Christmas story of "The Littlest Angel" has been brought to life in Dallas. One of the life-size cherub figures is shown, above, to four-year-old Patsy Parker, of Ennis, by Arthur L. Kramer, sponsor of the free display. The huge exhibit, requiring twenty figures of angels, cherubs and birds to reproduce the characters in the story, is on display at Main and Akard Streets in downtown Dallas through Christmas Day.

County Supts. May Get U of T Help

County and independent school district superintendents now may call on the University of Texas College of Education for consultation services, Dean L. D. Haske announced.

Dr. Dorothy Reed Peckham, former county rural school supervisor in Travis county, has been assigned to consultation work for all administrators interested in getting help from the University, or in using University resources.

The consultation program will begin in school within the Austin area, Dean Haske said.

Guided Missiles Course At Fort Bliss

Forty Army, Navy and Marine Corps officers are now studying in Guided Missiles Course No. 5 at Fort Bliss.

The course, which opened November 24, will continue until about August 31, 1949. It will include study of guided missile tactics from both the Army and Navy standpoint, and all phases of the guided missile program. Also included will be instruction in aerodynamics, propulsion, control of guided missiles and their expected application.

The Guided Missiles Course is under general supervision of the Antiaircraft and Guided Missiles Branch of The Artillery School, with Lt. Col. Lawrence W. Byers as course supervisor.

The San Francisco cable car system, which once covered 112 miles of track, now has only 17 miles left.

More than 50,000 men were listed as killed, wounded or missing after the three-day battle at Gettysburg during the Civil War.

Nearly $100,000 Offered in Prizes At Stock Show

FORT WORTH—Dec. 9 (AP)—A record of nearly $100,000 in premiums is offered exhibitors in the 1949 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show here Jan. 28-Feb. 6.

The deadline for livestock entries, announced by W. A. (Bill) King, general livestock superintendent, is Dec. 13, while horse show exhibitors have until Jan. 5 to enter. Livestock premiums total about $67,000. Over $22,000 in premiums will be offered horse show exhibitors.

In line with the trend of other major shows, open class fat steers will be judged by age rather than weight. For the first time in the Exposition's history, Brahman cattle will be shown. Another new event will be the Grass Judging contest for 4-H club and FFA members. After a lapse since 1942, poultry, turkeys and rabbits will again be exhibited. About $2,500 in premiums will be offered.

General Manager Edgar Deen said more than $75,000 has been spent paving walks, roads and parking areas and putting covers on the carlot sheds. The show plant at the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum grounds now represents an investment of over $3,000,000.

Many birds, including storks, parrots, woodpeckers and even ducks, can regenerate beaks which have been broken off.

GOOD GOVERNMENT AWARDS

The world's first cog railway, begun in 1869, still operates to the 6228-foot summit of Mt. Washington in New Hampshire.

Farmers Improve Land Cheaply

Victoria, Texas Nov. (AP)—A group of Victoria County farmers will have better crops and pastures in the future years. Thanks to a big chunk of a limestone hill they trucked across the Guadalupe River.

The Soil Conservation Service says the thanks will be due.

Recently, Farmer Henry Schawe and several of his neighbors in the community of Nursery, Texas realized that the soil of their rolling sandy land farms was seriously deficient in calcium. Years ago the area was all in cultivation and supported many more families than it does now. At present most of the farmland is good only for pasturing.

The farmers talked to W. R. Agee soil scientist and R. Penderon, range specialist of the soil conservation Service. The soil experts said the land on Schawe's place needed about one thousand pounds of limestone to make it productive again.

Schawe and his neighbors looked up the price of lime. They thought $5 a yard was pretty steep, so they looked around for a substitute.

Across the Guadalupe river near Mission Valley, Texas they found a limestone hill that was not stone. When they took a piece of the limestone and rubbed it in their fingers, it crumbled into fine powder. The Soil Conservation Laboratory in Fort Worth said it tested 78 percent calcium phosphate or plain lime.

Heller said he would sell the limestone at ten cents a yard. Schawe figured the loading and trucking expenses would bring the total cost to 82 cents a yard delivered to the farms.

Not all the farmers in Nursery needed calcium but enough of them did to make the venture profitable.

In one day 400 square yards of lime were dug out of Heller's limestone hill and trucked across the river to the farms of Schawe and his neighbors. The total cost was $330.

The trucks dumped the limestone in the middle of a four acre space. Later, the farmers spread the lime with regular fertilizer distributors. The lime was disked in. About a month after the lime application the farmers will apply phosphate to complete preparation for a good legume crop.

The lime serves two purposes. It supplies calcium needed to plant clover, and it makes acid soils sweeter or more neutral.

Minimum construction requirements, designed to assure veterans the houses they purchase with aid of GI loans are of sound construction, have been announced by Earl R. Gray, Jr., Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Little business versus Big business. You know, listening, if you do, to the big talk by windy but little guys in politics on why the big kind of business is different and terrible and should be throttled or taxed off the map, while little business should be given the inside track, makes you wonder and ponder.

You take a guy starting in his wood shed to make electric irons or something—he is little business—also he is a good citizen, then. And if he makes a 100 per cent rip smortin' good iron—everybody wanting one—and gets to turning 'em out by the carload, I figure he is still a good guy—and should not be scoffed at or be looked down on—or be taxed out of business. It is time to tune out the 2 by 4 scantlings who hire themselves a network and tell us citizens that everything is wrong—but he can fix it. Everything is not wrong. In no place on earth are there better jobs or better pay, or a better chance to make a name for yourself, or better bosses. The Big outfit today is just the grown-up little electric iron feller who was startin' in the wood shed a few years back.

GI QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. My husband enlisted in the Army December 31, 1946. Is he eligible to receive war service compensation in event of disability incurred in or aggravated by service?

A. Yes. President Truman proclaimed the cessation of hostilities effective 12 noon, December 31, 1946. However, it has been ascertained that records of the Department of the Army, do not show the hour of enlistment. Accordingly, it is presumed that an enlistment on December 31, 1946 was entered into prior to noon on that date. However, the disability must have been incurred in active service before July 25, 1947.

Q. I did not select an optional settlement of my NSLI. In event of my death, is my widow entitled to settlement in a lump sum if she wants it?

A. No. Payment in one sum may be made only if designated by the insured.

Q. Does Veterans Administration give flags to the next of kin of a deceased veteran?

A. Yes. Flags are issued to drape the casket of a deceased veteran and are given afterwards to the next of kin.

Q. What income provision is attached to compensation payable to the widow of an American soldier killed in line of duty?

A. There is no income restriction to compensation paid for service-connected disability or death.

Bailey County Stays In Dry Column

In an election held in Bailey county Tuesday, the dries won a heavy majority. At the time the County Judge at Muleshoe reported, the dries had rolled up a majority of 1092 to 155 for the wets. It was thought there was only about 100 votes out, and if all were wet, it would not change the results.

As we understand the matter, Bailey county has never been a wet county, but when the last vote was taken it was attached to some other county for judicial purposes, before it was organized. So, no one thought the county would vote wet, but the election was held as a matter of form to see just what the official verdict would be.

In other words, as we infer, it was rather hard to prosecute bootleg cases, when the only vote taken on the wet-dry matter was when the county was unorganized.

"Dirty Gerties" Taken To A Cleaning

That football match las Thursday night drew quite a crowd to see the "Dirty Gerties" football team tie in with the "Cubettes". There was plenty thrills and spills to suit the fancy of most any sportsman. And the girls proved that they really know what is usually termed a "man's game."

When the dust of battle finally cleared, the Cubettes were leading by a score of 13 to 0. And the school activity fund is several dollars better off and the fans pleased.

Special Notice to Rural Patrons

Rural patrons are again advised of the later leaving time for carriers. They now leave the office at 12:00 noon. Rural patrons are very respectfully requested to refrain from calling at the office for their mail at either the windows or the back door. It at all possible rural patrons should arrange to meet the carriers every day during the Christmas season so that parcels will not have to be brought back to the office thus necessitate double handling and taking more space. They are also requested to see that all letters are properly stamped before being placed in the box. Don't expect the carrier to stamp your letters for you.

Skeeters Like Chicken Dinners

By Frank Carey Associated Press Science Reporter AUBURN, Ala.—On the bill-of-fare of the mosquito chicken appears to be a three to one choice over man. This is the preliminary evidence gathered by researchers of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute who contend that common varieties of "nuisance" mosquitoes are hitherto-unconsidered threats on the nation's production of eggs.

They also say that mosquitoes—given a choice among chickens, cattle and hogs—apparently prefer to fill themselves on the blood of chickens about nine times in ten.

Thus, they conclude, any programs designed to achieve mosquito control through use of DDT and other measures should pay primary attention to chicken houses as the preferred restaurants of the high-ranking pests of nature.

Research at Polytech, headed by Dr. S. Allan Edgar, is concerned primarily with the "nuisance" mosquito as distinguished from the malaria-transmitting type. And the scientists point out that the "nuisance" mosquito, in one form or another, is found in all parts of the United States as far north as Alaska.

In Alabama they say, one type of "nuisance" mosquito also can carry a disease called "fowl pox" from one chicken to another—and they are seeking evidence as to whether this same pest might even transmit cholera and typhoid fever from one human being to another.

Boy Scouts Have Annual Banquet

A large number of the local boy scouts with their parents held their annual Banquet last Tuesday night at the Veterans Hall. Judge R. A. Simms presided. Addresses were made by Judge Winston, and Rev. A. A. Brian, pastor of the First Baptist church. Frank Atkinson of Levelland, Field Scout Executive spoke and delivered a certificate of honor to Ralph Bailey for his long and active service as Scoutmaster.

Dr. E. C. Davis showed several reels of moving pictures of the scouts at their camps in Oklahoma and at Brownwood, Texas last summer. The shots included many of local boys fishing and carrying on their camp activities.

HOPELESS HERMAN

BY KAULEE

Back in wartime, Hopeless Herman used to shudder as he read of the Hitler persecutions and the many millions dead. He agreed with those who pleaded that the Nazi chiefs be tried. For destroying groups of people—which is known as genocide.

Hopeless Herman has forgotten how he felt about it then. Now he says it's much too hard to try to change the ways of men. Herman can't see what to do about the millions Hitler gassed. Or the countless other peoples tyrants murdered in the past.

But we're not all Hopeless Hermans: we know that the time to see that no future crimes are plotted, is while men are strong and free. We know the United Nations, taking a determined stand. Can find ways to outlaw killing of whole groups in any land.

With a U.N. Draft Convention Punishing The men who tried To destroy A group of people— We could outlaw Genocide.

The large and popular quail family is represented in America by five distinct genera. This bird is very secretive in all his ways and is found in the mountains and desert as well as southern and midwest grasslands.

Band-tailed pigeons are not wary except when actively hunted. They are gregarious and gather in tremendous flocks except in the mating season.

CROWN TEXAN A WHEAT CHAMPION

W. F. Axe

For growing the best Texas wheat exhibited at the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo, Texas, W. F. Axe of Hereford has been awarded the Philip W. Pillsbury trophy, and will have his grain judged for the national Pillsbury prize at Minneapolis, Minn., next spring.

Axe's wheat will compete with samples from the other principal wheat-growing states in the 8th annual competition for this award, which consists of $100 in cash and an all-expense trip to Minneapolis. This is the first year that Texas wheat has been entered in this competition. Axe grew the prize-winning grain on his thousand-acre Deaf Smith County ranch, where he also grows potatoes and grain sorghums. It was hard red winter wheat of the Westar variety, and was grown on 300 acres of irrigated land following a crop of potatoes harvested in July, 1947. Wheat grown by Leonard F. Wright of Farnsworth, who won second place at the Tri State Fair, also is eligible to compete for the national prize.

"Oil Progress Day" Recalls Industry's "Pot Still" Days

One day some ninety-odd years ago a tall, stoop-shouldered canal boat man named Samuel M. Kier was stirring a sticky, evil-smelling brew in an iron kettle which squatted on a stove in the cellar of a shack just outside the city limits of Pittsburgh. The mess on the stove was a sample of Kier's Rock Oil, a patent medicine in which Sam had invested heavily but which tasted so vile that few people would buy it. Kier was trying to salvage his investment by seeing what would happen if he ran the unsavory stuff through a primitive still. As the petroleum began to boil vigorously, Kier slapped a homemade "worm" on top of the kettle. A dribble of colorless liquid ran out of the still. He touched a match to it and the liquid burned slowly. Inspired, he put some of it in an empty whale oil lamp. The lamp glowed brighter than it ever had before! That was how Sam Kier discovered kerosene and became America's first petroleum refiner. The petroleum industry, which is paying tribute to Sam Kier, to all of his successors and to the pioneering spirit of the American people as a whole during the observance of "Oil Progress Day" on October 14, has come a fabulously long way since those ante-bellum years. Instead of a handful of struggling companies, the industry now consists of 34,000 competitive firms. Instead of one well—that brought in by Colonel E. L. Drake at 10,000 ft. in the summer of 1859—all companies have drilled about 1,200,000 wells and oil is produced in 23 states. Some 628,000 of these wells are producing oil today in-

Bonds Make Good Christmas Gifts

Taxpayers will receive about $5,000,000 worth of U. S. Savings Bonds as Christmas presents and year-end bonuses during December, according to Nathan Adams of Dallas, chairman of the Treasury Department's Advisory Committee for Texas.

He said that the practice of giving these securities as presents has increased, year by year, since the government started issuing bonds in 1935. He ascribed the increase to "the American people's growing awareness that economic security is essential to widespread expression of 'Peace on earth, good will to men' as the true spirit of Christmas."

He said that Savings Bonds are a favorite gift of parents, grandparents, aunts and uncles who have in mind welfare of their children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

Mr. Adams said that recent years also has seen a substantial increase in the number of business concerns that prefer to give bonuses in the form of Savings Bonds. This practice, he explained, encourages thrift and helps employees acquire "some of the good things of life" in permanent, rather than transitory, form.

Mr. Adams announced that, for the first time since the end of the war, the Treasury Department has supplied banks and other issuing agents with quantities of an attractive jacket to serve as "gift wrapping" for gifts of Savings Bonds.

About That Cotton Planting Next Year

Cotton planting time is still several months off. But Texas cotton farmers already have a good idea as to what they intend to do about cotton next year, says Fred Elliott, extension cotton work specialist of Texas A&M College.

This year's three and a quarter million bale crop that was grown on nearly nine million acres will probably be increased in 1949, says Elliott. This is especially true of the irrigated areas around El Paso, Pecos, Ft. Stockton, the Lower Rio Grande Valley and in the high plains.

On August 1 of this year, the record shows a carryover of three million bales. Spinning will use close to nine million bales, and four million will be shipped out. There goes 13 million bales. Take that from the 15 million bale crop this year, and you get two million bales to add to the carryover. And come August 1, 1949, the carryover will have built up to five million bales.

Price supports will run about the same—at not less than 90 per cent of parity. This parity price is the product of 12.4 cents (the 1910-1914 cotton price average)

Brownfield Man Receives Citation

Vernon A. Townes, Jr., who recently opened law offices in Brownfield, is in receipt of a citation for his services as a combat pilot in the Mediterranean theatre during World War II. The citation which was signed by Lieut. Gen. John K. Cannon, Commanding officer of the Air Force, cited First Lieut. Vernon A. Townes, Jr., for valor for 50 combat missions in the Mediterranean theatre in air battle of great intensity. It stated that young Townes had gallantly and repeatedly carried the offensive against heavy opposition to the heart of the enemy and by his unflinching courage has earned the gratitude of praise of his fellow countrymen and Commander.

After receiving his discharge Townes entered the University of Texas law school and received his degree last spring. He passed the state bar examination in July and came to Brownfield to open offices.
