Chevrolet To Be Unveiled Tomorrow

DETROIT—The 1949 Chevrolet to be introduced nationally at dealer showrooms Saturday, January 22 will be the most sharply advanced model in company history, T. H. Keating, general sales manager, said today.

"It will be the first passenger car in several years in which we have made broadscale improvements in both body and chassis," said Keating. "Under experiment since V-J Day, the model actually offers the culmination of three years of design development and engineering research.

"As we saw our postwar responsibility," Keating continued "we were reluctant to halt the flow of production for the length of time that we would have been required for any unusual automobile changes. Our merchandising policy endeavored rather to supply as many people with new transportation as materials would permit.

"However, Chevrolet engineers were not idle during the period. Not only did engineers have the opportunity for exhaustive mechanical tests, but production men were able to map the model manufacturing change-over carefully and minutely. As a result we can now bring out our entirely new car without seriously disturbing our volume for the year."

The new car will be displayed under "sell - out conditions." Measured against dealer orders, production is underwritten until well in 1950, Keating said.

"Including 1948 sales, Chevrolet dealers have delivered around 3,000,000 postwar-built cars and trucks," he added. "Even this tremendous volume has not affected bank of orders at the factory. Unfilled orders have, in fact, risen since the mid-summer period when in normal years demand begins to slacken."

Teague-Bailey Chevrolet Company, Brownfield Dealers, will keep their showroom open Saturday until 9 P. M., and Sunday, from 2 until 6 P. M., in order that everybody might have an opportunity to see the new Chevrolet.

Privitt Named Man Of Year At Jaycee Feed

The Brownfield Jaycees, at their annual banquet Tuesday night, Jan. 18, presented Sam Privitt with their award for Man of the Year. John J. Kendrick, president of the Jaycees made the presentation. In his presentation speech he pointed out some of Mr. Privitt's many civic activities in Brownfield. He spoke of Sam Privitt as the leading champion of Brownfield youth. Mr. Privitt has worked constantly with the teenagers. He has been a very active member of the Rotary Club. He is past commander of the American Legion, and commander of the National Guard unit here. His civic interests are many and varied.

Following the presentation Tommy Zorns, master of ceremonies, introduced Taylor Cole, past president of Jaycee international, who was the guest speaker. Mr. Cole reviewed the world-wide activities of the Jaycees. At the present there are Jaycee organizations in 26 countries. He told of his experiences while visiting with Jaycees in Canada, England, France, Belgium, Austria, Germany, Mexico, Central America, New Zealand, and the Phillipines. Jaycee clubs have been recently started in Korea, China, and Japan.

Mr. Kendrick outlined the activities of the Brownfield Jaycees during the past year. The local organization has retired its indebtedness on the livestock barns, sponsored the annual calf show, T. A. A. F. boxing tournament, a rodeo, a contest for home and business Christmas decorations, a Christmas party, and a poll tax campaign.

Dr. W. A. Roberson rendered several vocal selections during the program.

New Studebakers Make Initial Bow Here Today

L. B. "Shorty" Forbus proudly announces that the new 1949 Studebaker Champion and Commander are on display in his showrooms at 220 South 5th.

Features and refinements include an artistic blending of color tones of exteriors and interiors, foam rubber seat cushions in the Commanders and Land Cruisers, increased performance in all engines, plus traditionally fine craftsmanship that has made the Studebaker name famous through all the years.

Further innovations are noted in the massive wrap - around bumpers, increased luggage space, and a continuation many fine features of previous models.

Sharing the spotlight with the passenger cars is Studebaker's new heavy-duty trucks for '49. Like the passenger cars, they also boast a long list of entirely new features, including cross link steering and Econ-O-Miser engines, to mention a few.

Mr. Forbus extends a cordial invitation to all the residents of this area for an inspection of the new cars and trucks.

Benefit Card Party To Be Held

A benefit card party will be held at the American Legion Hall, at three o'clock, on Friday, Jan. 28 for the March of Dimes Drive. The American Legion is donating the use of the Hall, and local merchants will contribute table prizes. There will be no expense involved and consequently the entire intake will go to the fund.

All the women of the community are invited to attend. Bridge, forty two, pitch and rummy games will be played. Those who wish can arrange their own foursomes for bridge. Table prizes will be given and any prizes that are left over will be used for bingo.

A cover charge of one dollar will be taken at the door. Cokes will be sold during the afternoon.

Mrs. Walter Hord is chairman of the committee arranging this affair. Her committee members are Mrs. Buell Price, publicity, and Mmes. Jack Bailey, E. C. Davis, Elsie Kendrick, George O'Neal, Lenard Chesshir, and Roy Herod, who will each work with three chosen co-workers on the project.

This benefit party is being given for a worthy cause indeed. It not only offers you an opportunity to contribute to the March of Dimes, but offers a most enjoyable afternoon recreation. Please contact your friends, and bring them with you for an afternoon of sociable entertainment.

A list of prizes, and the merchants who donated them will be published next week.

Forty Years And Still Grinding Away

We are not quite certain as to the date without consulting one of the old files of 1909, but we think it was either the 21 or 22 of January that year when we arrived in our future home—Brownfield. An elder brother had been out here prospecting for land, and found the little weekly paper was for sale. Says he, "Jack, you never was cut out to printer's trade—why not go out there, work awhile on the paper and if you like, I'll help you buy it."

That settled the matter. So one Monday morning the Old Her rather young then—took a train from Anson to Abilene, got out of there for Big Spring awhile after dark, arrived in BS about 11 p. m., and put up for the night at the Old Stewart Hotel, and left for Brownfield next day about 9 A. M. Jack Head's 2-cylinder Maxwell with three other passengers. Made it to Lamesa for late lunch and Brownfield awhile before sundown.

Folks, the prospects did not look too bright some stores with no more merchandise than you might haul away with a wheelbarrow in 30 minutes. The old editor, Neil H. Bigger was down with flu, and the office closed. But we straightened up the shop, threw in type, and next week were ready to get out a paper. Nine years out of a shop had slowed our speed, and we needed much more than a week to get out the little hand set four page, five column paper. But we did it.

By June 1, we had become acquainted with a lot of good folks; a railroad was coming to Lubbock and later Tahoka, and that meant advertising from larger rail point merchants, especially coal and feed dealers. So, we bought the two $350 notes on the paper, the first one discounted to $200. Since that time we have almost "fit, bled and died" for dear old Brownfield and Terry county, as well as old Yoakum, as it was a long long time they had no newspaper of their own.

It is up to you readers how well we have served during this 40 year period. Could it be that we have did the job well enough that we register the gift of 40 acres and a mule.

Winter is a tough time of the year to drive, so it's a good idea to take extra precautions at this time of year. It stays dark longer now, the roads are slippery and rain, snow, fog, ice and frost cause poor visibility. Weather like that means more hazards to driving, so play safe and drive carefully.

Brownfield Stands 4th In Bank Deposits

Since long before the woods were burned, every time there is a bank call, the Lubbock Avalanche Journal has a mania for putting deposits in the Littlefield bank in third place on the south Plains. Most newspaper men know how they do it and it is unintentional but the constant repetition of the error is gripping on such towns as Lamesa, Brownfield and Levelland, who all have higher deposits.

What the Littlefield papers usually do is to give the combined deposits of the five Lamb county banks, which really total over 14 million, with the two banks at Littlefield, one just a year old with $7,290,996.37; Amherst $3,362,393.90; Olton, $2,287,948.31 and Sudan with $1,721,790.81. The old bank at Littlefield has a bit over 5 million on deposit, the new bank just the rise of 2 million.

With that error out of the way, the five leading city bank deposits in the area are as follows: Lubbock, $91,475,456.923; Plainview, $16,558,585.96; Lamesa, $13,022,072.79; Brownfield, $11,553,565.13; Levelland, $9,705,368.42.

Other nearby banks show deposits as follows, all figures above and below being from statements of these banks as of December 31, 1948. Tahoka, $5,164,998.71; Seagraves, $1,050,903.03; Seminole, $2,440,090.33.

Most of the field towns, and one or two in Male county showed increased deposits in spite of the drought.

However, with the duplicity in the Littlefield totals and the addition of Amherst, Olton and Sudan, the total the A-J gives at the bottom as $220,520,701.40 is incorrect. It should be less $7,372,423.23.

The first month of the year is a good time to start keeping a farm record account of all expenses. Such an account speeds up the process of figuring out your income tax.

Brownfield Boys Club To Have Boxing Matches

The Brownfield Boys Club will sponsor 12 boxing matches at the high school gym on Friday night, Jan. 21 at 7:30 p. m. These matches will be presented admission free, and the public is invited to attend.

The following boys will be matched for the evening.

Travis Sparkman, 105 vs. Dewey Bradley, 100; Carrol McCombs, 88 vs. Garth Willingham, 85; Durwood Lackey, 83 vs. Ronnie Swan, 80; Gene Phillips, 120 vs. Robert Briscoe, 120; Darrel Fletch, 130 vs. James Ervin, 130; Jerry Bailey, 115 vs. Johnny Cloud, 115; Morgan Pace, 123 vs. J. B. Jobe, 126; Charles Cabiness, 135 vs. Eddie Courtney, 130; Buster Steen, 135 vs. Sonny Zant, 135; Doyle Drake, 150 vs. Charlie Forbes, 150; Joe Scott, 170 vs. Richard Wheat, 175; Doug Tankersly, 140 vs. R. S. Riley, 135.

Fighters are under the training and instruction of Sonny Walls, former featherweight champion of the 7th Fleet.

POLL TAX DUE BY JANUARY 31

Herbert Chesshir, county tax assessor, informed us that up to January 19, 1434 persons had paid their poll tax. He estimated that 2500 will pay this year. This does not come close to the total of 3600 for 1948. Poll tax must be paid by January 31.

While we of course will not have a general election this coming year, there will be several opportunities to exercise your vote. There will be several special elections, a city election in March, at which we will vote for mayor, and two alderman, and a school trustee election.

The one dollar and seventy-five cents paid as poll tax is divided, between the school fund, the state, and the county. The School fund receives $1.00, the state .50, and the county .25.

Everone should exercise his right to vote. We must pay our poll tax in order to vote. Don't forget the deadline is Jan. 31.

Brownfield Group Attends Jaycee Convention

A number of Brownfield members of the Jaycees attended the Jaycee Regional Convention in Lubbock last week-end. A bridge party was held in the afternoon for the wives who attended, and a banquet and dance followed Saturday night. The business meeting was held Sunday morning.

Brownfield people attending were; Messrs. and Mmes. Tess Fuller, Milton Bell, Johnny Kendrick, David Nicholson, and Messrs. J. B. Huckabee and Lynn Nelson.

V. F. W. and V. F. W. Auxiliary To Meet Here

The 7th District of the V. F. W. and their auxiliary will hold a meeting here on January 23. The meeting will begin at 1:30 P. M. at the Veterans Hall.

Seven counties are included in the 7th district of the V. F. W. All members of the V. F. W. and the auxiliary are urged to attend.

Highway Deaths Pretty Frequent Of Late

Two high-way deaths in Yoakum county have occurred in the past few days, and a Floydada man was killed when he overturned car down near Guthrie. His name was J. I. Hammond, and was not too well known here.

William Eaton Rich, 18, a Denver City automobile mechanic, was killed and M. F. Cunningham, 19, also of that city, was seriously injured when struck by a vehicle on the Plains-Denver City highway, Sunday. Cunningham seems to be recovering at a Seminole hospital. Few details were obtainable as this is written.

An eight year old girl, Valera Mae William, of north of Plains was killed when her father's pickup truck she was riding in was in collision with a car at a street-highway intersection at Plains Sunday. She was thrown from the cab in which her parents and two sisters and a brother were riding, falling beneath the truck. She died shortly after in a local hospital.

While none of the above may be to blame in the least, as a rule people are driving too fast, and paying little attention to intersections, and a lot are demanding the right-of-way whether it belongs to them or not. Then others are too careless walking along highways, and a lot of times are hit before the motorist knows they are anywhere near.

The demand for household equipment is higher since the end of the war than it ever has been. Prices continue to increase, but the increase is slower. The heavy demand for household equipment is expected to keep prices up for some time.

5th Division Of The American Legion Meets

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Lincoln attended the meeting of the 5th Div. of the American Legion in Abilene on the 15th and 16th of Jan.

About forty District and vice-District commanders were present, also a large number of post commanders. J. Ward Moody 5th Div. Commander, and Lowery of Lubbock, this district commander were speakers.

There will be a house to house canvas for funds for the Polio drive starting Monday.

Only eleven days remain in the March of Dimes Drive. During those eleven days Terry and Yoakum Counties must reach their quota for 1949. Milton Bell, chairman of the local drive, has set the quota figures at $5,000. Last year the local chapter sent $850 to the National Foundation and retained $850 in our chapter treasury. Before the year was over we were forced to call on National Headquarters for $2,700. This indicates that we failed badly in reaching the quota needed here in 1948 to supply the needs of Terry and Yoakum counties.

This year we must raise at least our fair share, or take a chance on seeing the Research and Hospital care of our children slowed or stopped. Texas, unfortunately is one of the three states reporting the highest total of polio cases during 1948. We must be prepared to face the possibility of this happening again in 1949. We can only be prepared if we keep our dimes and dollars pouring in to fill our local and national treasuries with sufficient funds to fight this dread disease.

This truly terrible disease that knows nether rich nor poor; that draws no distinction in color or creed or social standing can strike anyone at any time. One morning you have a bright, cheerful child running around the yard and through the house; the next day you have a bed ridden waif, whose legs refuse to move and whose muscles begin to sag.

The only way that we can fight polio as individuals is to back the National Foundation that provide care for its victims. Now is our opportunity. Lets contribute our dimes and dollars, support the March of Dimes to be held at the Legion Hall on Jan. 31, attend the Benefit Bridge to be held in the Legion Hall on Jan. 28, and contribute in any other way to this worthy cause.

The Herald this week is giving the readers a full and complete statement of the financial condition of our two banks, the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., and the First National Bank. This statement is as of December 31, 1948, and while a bit under the statement of the same time a year ago, it is still excellent. However, the deposits are higher than they were last June 30th.

As one can see at a glance, both banks are in a very healthy liquid condition, and able and willing to care for all the deserving of the community. After all, it is not all their money they are lending but the money of their depositors as well, and naturally they have to be careful.

But there's one fine point of banking we have learned by observation over the year. Loans do not always go to those endowed with a lot of collateral. Occasionally such folks are crooked. But we have noted that the person with little property, if fitted up with an abundance of fine old native honesty and integrity, can make a loan most any time they wish, if they really need the money.

And we have found that such people just do not try to borrow money if there is any way to get by without doing so. But as set out in this article, we are all proud of our fine banks.

Kobe Inc. manufactures of hydraulic pumping equipment have located their retail sales offices in Dr. Gordon E. Richardson, new building at 212 South 5th St.

This office will provide headquarters for the Brownfield district, which covers the oil fields around Anson, Levelland, Snyder, Sundown, Denver City, Seminole, Whiteface, and intermediary fields. Mr. Keith Snedeker, will head the force here as assistant district manager, he has been working out of Brownfield for almost four years, while the company sought a suitable location.

R. R. Swanke, of 602 East Riptoe, district representative, Geo. T. Byer, field representative, and Margaret Goza stenographer-clerk, will make up the personnel of this office.

The councilmen, county commissioners, and the mayor must meet and vote on this proposal before it can be either refused or accepted.

Chamber of Commerce Plans Meeting For January 27

Due to conflicting dates the Chamber of Commerce will hold their meeting on Thursday night, Jan. 27 at 7:30 at the Esquire Restaurant.

The regular business of the club will be taken care of at this meeting.

The prospects are bright for a large number of rural families to have electrical service for the first time during 1949.

Health Unit Is Proposed For Brownfield

It has been proposed that a $50,000.00 health unit be constructed in Brownfield. This estimated cost covers $15,000.00 for the complete equipment. The Federal government will provide one-third of the total cost, and it has been proposed that the city and the county each provide a third. The decision as to whether the plan be accepted rests with the county commissioners, the mayor, and the council. We have heard that Levelland is eager to obtain this unit for their city, and Hockley county is said to have the necessary two-thirds, of the estimated cost available.

Brownfield has been given first chance at the unit because it is centrally located to service the five counties that would be cared for by the unit. These counties are Dawson, Hockley, Gaines, Yoakum, and Terry.

The unit would contain a modernly equip clinic, with x-ray rooms, consulting rooms, etc. An up-to-date laboratory would provide 24 hour service, to the unit, and local doctors. At present it takes a week to obtain a report from Austin on milk and water tests. The quick laboratory service would be a safeguard to the health of the community.

DON'T TOOT YOUR TRUMPET YET

The meat shortage, predict a couple of food industry economists after studying Department of Agriculture figures, will definitely be a thing of the past, come spring. And prices will be lower. There it is, in a front page story.

Americans will be pardoned if their trumpets of joy give an uncertain sound. For they have been taken for such a ride on the roller coaster by other similar reports during the past two years that they are not sure whether they are going up or down, whether to hold their breath or weep.

The pile of clippings before us makes strange reading now. Take the pronouncements of the meat industry: Said the head of National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, in the summer of 1946: Meat, when it is decontrolled will drop to the lowest price in four years. A year later (1947) spokesmen for the packers assured reporters: The price raise is over at the packer level. And then two months later: There will be less meat in 1948.

Now comes the American Meat Institute with an up-to-the-minute estimate which, apparently, is not going to be on speaking terms with the forecast of the two food industry economists. Says the AMI: There will be more pork less beef, more people to eat both; hence, a smaller share for everyone in 1949.

All of these estimates sounded reasonable at the time. So do some of today's arguments why meat ought to be cheaper and at least look more plentiful by spring. There has been a record corn crop. Some of the inflated buying power does seem to be leveling off. Current livestock shipments reportedly are exceeding expectations. But—there's that pile of clippings. We wouldn't toot yet. Dallas Morning News.

Reports are that all the big distilleries are not satisfied to contain their business to whiskey making. Some are changing their names, adding "industries" to it and are making wine and beer, animal feed, chemical, etc., even the miracle drug, penicillin. Well, at least most of the by-products are worth more to the country than the original. We hope so, anyway.

It is believed that the so-called people's mandate is being greatly overworked up at Washington. Even some of the high officials up there are of the opinion that there was no "people's mandate" for compulsory health insurance. There were too many other issues involved. For instance, those middle west farmers that put President Truman in office again, are not hot for any socialistic plan. Indeed, two big farm organizations have gone on record against it. Those who are overworking the matter are for more concentration at Washington, more borrowing and spending even if it bankrupts the government.

Could it be that Bruce Frazier of the Big Spring News has something on what a combination of weather and environment will make of people. He takes up the nasal twang and the reported general selfishness of northern people, and asks, "Could this be laid to the general nasty weather they have for six months the winter?" Now let's just try the plan on ourselves. If you had to put up with such nasty, stinking weather as we have had on the plains here for the past two weeks for six months say, how would it react on your disposition? So, Bruce just suggests that as we have a lot of unused room in this country, we just move over a bit and tell those people up there that "you'll" are welcome to come to Texas and settle. After having the houses, and livestock buried all winter in 36 feet snowdrifts, it would take them from April to September to get in a good humor. We join Bruce in welcoming these people to Texas.

In basic research. What has made our nation great is in bringing theories into reality, that has put the standard of living of our nation above all others that it beggars comparison. So, let the Ruskiies brag if they wish, no one will believe it. This brings to mind an old saying of an old uncle back in Tennessee: "I wouldn't believe a lie if I told one myself."

Last week and week before the officials of banks over the nation got together partially to elect officers, or re-elect them but partially to see if there was any dividends to hand out to the stockholders. We understand that most of the banks of this section had quite a mellow to cut, but this was not the case with some of the nations really big banks. Some of them ran on quite a close margin. On one occasion it is reported that one big bank official created some merriment by suggesting the bank get some "wealthy, capable woman" on the board of directors. Well, they tell us that women now control much more than 50 percent of the nation's wealth.

PAPER ADVERTISES FOR ADVERTISER

ATHENS, Texas —(AP)— The Athens Daily Review advertiser. The advertiser walked into the Review office and took out an ad, offering his house, rent-free, to anyone who would take care of it. But he failed to leave his name, address or phone number. The Review office was deluged with applicants. "As the days wore on, the clamor increased. We were getting desperate," says H. M. Kemp, publisher. So the Review ran a three-column, front page story, headlined:

Wanted: One Advertiser." And the story fetched the advertiser. He came in grinning. Keep both feet on the ground and you want have far to fall. The cancer death rate has doubled in the last 45 years.

Its Never Too Late

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 10 E. this time most everybody has made or broken his New Year's resolutions.

But Louise Mason, extension food preparation specialist of Texas A. and M. College, says it's never too late for the homemaker to make resolutions which will help solve the problem of serving nutritious, appetizing and economical meals to her family—and at the same time share America's large food supply with the world.

This two-fold problem means a little more thinking and planning on the part of the housewife than ever before, says Miss Mason. So here are a series of resolutions which may help.

Prevent a waste of food in the home, and use the Texas Food Standard as a guide in planning family meals. Buy wisely in order to get the quality and quantity to meet the family needs. Another suggestion Miss Mason offers is to buy the more plentiful foods as they are generally cheaper. Proper storage at home prevents spoilage and waste of foods after they leave the grocery shelves.

In order to get the most out of the foods—the minerals, proteins and vitamins—prepare the food carefully. This also helps to prevent shrinkage, spoilage and waste. If there are any left-overs from a meal use them skillfully in the next meal. And one other resolution to make is to always serve foods attractively. They'll taste better. The family who makes and keeps these resolutions can feel that it has made a real contribution to world peace, says Miss Mason, as well as to better family living.

HIGH TB RATE IN SINGAPORE —(AP)— X-rays taken in Singapore's new Anti-Tuberculosis Clinic have disclosed signs of TB in 55 per cent of the cases—"a much higher proportion than we expected," said clinic officials.

This result was observed in the first 181 cases examined. The clinic plans to carry out mass X-raying of local children.

Commissions Offered To World War II Officers

U. S. Army Regular commissions as second lieutenants are today being offered to men who served as commissioned officers in any of the Armed Forces during World War II and who hold a degree from accredited college or University, it was disclosed by M-Sgt. A. W. Carnes in charge of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station at Courthouse, Brownfield.

"Set up to fill Regular Army vacancies in the grade of second lieutenants under the terms of the Department of the Army Circular 382, the program calls for some 400 to 600 appointments in two major increments in March and August 1949," said Sgt. Carnes. Applications will not be received until after January 14th. Such appointments will be in addition to those offered distinguished graduates of Senior Division ROCT units, successful competitive tour candidates and critically needed technical specialists.

Circular 382 list the following requirements for direct commission. Applicants must have at least one year of commissioned active service, in any component of the Armed Forces between December 7, 1941 and September 2, 1945.

Have a degree from an accredited college or university, although a waiver will be considered if the applicant has 120 or more semester hours attained by attendance at an accredited college or university.

Be between 21 and 27 years of age at time of appointment. The maximum age limit may in some cases be increased according to the period of commissioned service in the Army subsequent to December 31, 1947.

Not be a conscientious objector or not be or have been a member of any foreign or domestic organization advocating subversive policy or seeking to alter the form of the government of the United States by unconstitutional means.

Applicants holding commissions in the ORC, or National Guard are to submit application through regular channel to major commander concerned. Other applicants not on active duty will submit their application direct to the Army Commander concerned. Those on active duty will apply through command channels to appropriate major commanders.

Full information and forms for application may be obtained at the local recruiting station at Courthouse, Brownfield.

30 Days Hath ... ?

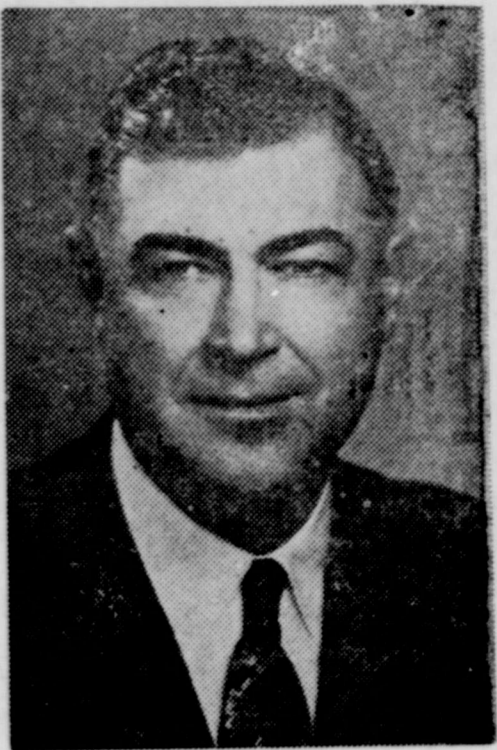

Hollywood actress Laura Elliot looks over a proposed new "World Calendar," which would shake up our present Gregorian calendar a bit. The "World Calendar" would divide the 12 months into equal quarters of 13 weeks each. One extra day would fall between Dec. 30 and Jan. 1, and be known as "Worldsday." In leap years, a second "Worldsday" would follow June 30. Every day of the month would fall on the same day of the week every year under the proposed change.

Supt. Cowan informed us that the Gilmer-Aiken Bill came up for much discussion during the conference.

CHINA HAS GENERAL OF NAVY

SHANGHAI —(AP)— In most countries an admiral runs the navy. Not in China. They gave the job to a general.

The general has the title of admiral, but he's still a general if you can follow this.

The general or admiral is Kwei Chung-si, commander-in-chief of China's navy, which is made up mainly of gunboats. It's enough to drive an old salt water to drink. It would drive a former rear admiral to resign.

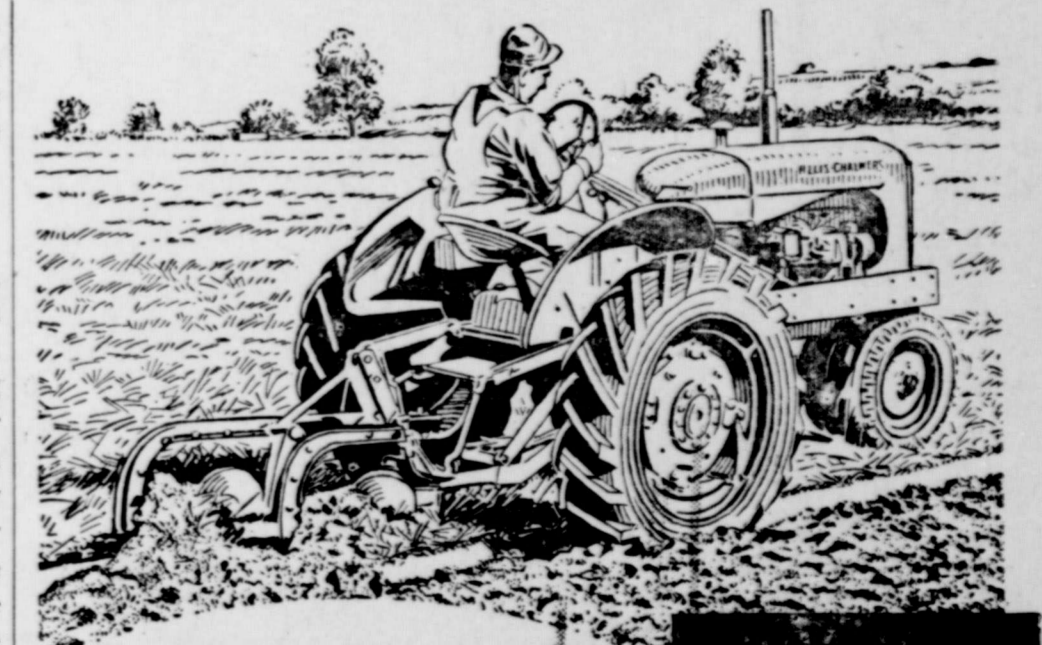

As he tells it—and he doesn't want you to use his name because he's still "a loyal servant of Chiang Kai-shek"—the army just moved in.

"This is one country in the world where a general can get appointed head of the navy," he sighed. He said all experienced "floating officers" were sent off to teach in the naval academies and the army boys picked off the good jobs. That's when he resigned.

"I believe," he added, "that one good English or Yankee (navy) lieutenant, given command of the Chinese navy, would be the fleet's salvation."

THE NEW FUTURAMICS

FUTURAMIC—the most glamorous word in motor cars now applies to two great lines of Oldsmobiles. Not only the newly styled Futuramic '98—but also a brand new Futuramic '76' with a new '49 Fisher Body that's lower, wider and offers greater visibility. And this year, Oldsmobile has struck a new balance of power with two great engines for these Futuramic cars. The new "Big Six" Engine in the '76' is more powerful than ever. And the new '98' is powered by the revolutionary "Rocket" Engine. It's a high-compression, valve-in-head eight—an engineering marvel that steps up horsepower to 135, yet actually cuts down on gas costs. Words can't describe it. Clubwomen Correspond With German Housewife

The Delphian Study Club as one of their projects this year, sent packages of food and clothing to a family in Erlangen, Germany. The German wife and mother sent them a letter thanking them for their kindness. The Club has given us permission to publish this letter, and it appears below. Dear Mrs. Steele:

At first very hearty thanks for your friendly letter of the 5. November as the two package with clothing and food. I was very happy about and very afraid, that the womens of the club wish to correspond with me and that the club voted to adopt my family. You would highly oblige me, if you would say all the womens of the club that I have had a very great joy over all the welcome things. Many thanks for her kindness. My dear Mrs. Stephens was there a benevolent intercessor for me. You has right she is indeed a very good friend to me. She is a delicate and good woman and I am proud of her friendship and love. I shall never forget her and her nice children Stephanie and Labette.

Now I shall try to tell something about myself and family. I am 40 year old and give in marriage since twelve years. My both girls Haunelo and Erica are eleven and nine years old. My household is very single. I must save. Our income is little. I am so thankful over the beautiful clothings and the good food, which I have received through the club. We have in Germany a very bad time and without the help by U. S. A. we must all die of hunger. God be praised that we live in the U. S. Zone and not in the Soviet Zone. That makes a great difference—so great like between heaven and hell. The poor people has in the "Sowjet Paraders" no one tranquil hour. The man shall removed towards the Russia; the relations have never heard of an advice from the same. Our german children wish to life if she are full-grown in America.

Erlangen is a little town, but very nice. My good Mrs. Stephens had pleased Erlangen also. It is a tranquil town, very good for the nervous. I am glad, if you are telling of your town. It must be very beautiful to be member of the club. The members shall have all the same interest and it must be good-natured if twenty womens are together and are speaking over the diverser themes. I am sorry, that I cannot only a little english. My letter is to read for you very heavy. I wish you and all the womens of the club healthy holidays and a happy New-Year.

The spirit of Christmas is with us once more, And brings brighter blessings Than every before; May all the goodness The day holds in rief Be with you, and bless you A happy year through!

In respectfulness Mrs. Thilde Bauer NOTE: The Mrs. Stephens referred to in this letter is Mrs. Carriewood Cleveland Stephens of Lamesa, Texas who lived in Germany one year while her husband was stationed there with the Army of occupation.

Another Woman's Angle

We suggest that you plan your social calendar this coming week around the March of Dimes activities. The Benefit Bridge Party that is to be held at the Legion Hall on Friday Jan. 28 offers an excellent opportunity to gather your favorite foursome for a game. If you dont play bridge go out for a game of forty-two, pitch or rummy.

This party will be reminiscent of the big bridge affairs that the hostesses of Brownfield used to give out at the auditorium some years ago. It will provide an opportunity for many newcomers to get acquainted. If you are a newcomer make it a point to attend, as tables will be made up out there, and the committee in charge will make an effort to introduce any newcomers.

We are watching with enthusiastic interest the activities of the Brownfield Boys Club. This new organization is working on a youth program that should provide the boys of Brownfield with wholesome sports activities that are not only healthful but fun. At present the club is sponsoring a boxing tent under the direction of Sonny Walls. During the summer months they will have swimming, soft ball and baseball. We'd like to give a vote of approval to Douglas Jones for his work on this project. Doug did a lot of youth work in Amarillo and has had a considerable experience with boys programs.

It seems that we are doing a lot of talking this week about town affairs and civic projects. At any rate we want to encourage the citizens of Brownfield to inquire into the proposed Health Unit. We personally are for this project. We feel it would benefit the entire community. Your opinion should be based on your personal decision. But don't stay on the fence. Take an active interest, read about the proposed plan in your local paper, discuss it with your friends, and finally let your ideas be felt.

You can contact your councilmen and county commissioners and let them know what your views are on the subject. It is our duty as good citizens of a democracy to work for the things we believe in and stand up for the issues we feel are right.

Mr. but we are sounding off this week, hope our readers dont find us to oratorical.

We wonder who is feeding the Lion's club goat this week. The local lions have found a novel way of punishing those who are absent from their weekly meeting. The club has acquired a pet goat. When a member is absent from the club without a legitimate excuse he must take the goat home and feed him for a week. The animal is weighed at the beginning of the weeks visit and again on his return, if he does not maintain his original weight or gain his host for that week is fined for not feeding him.

We were drinking our morning cup of coffee over at the Coffee Shop the other day when we noticed a new, and we think clever form of advertisement. J. T. Bowman, owner of the local Oldsmobile agency, and Tess Fuller operator of the Coffee Shop have found. Next time you drop in to see Tess, take note of the Bowman ad appearing on the back of your check.

Anything that you can give will help some needy and unfortunate adult or child. Please take any donations to the court house and leave them with Mrs. O. L. Jones, County Treasurer with C. L. Lincoln in the Veterans Administration office.

All Can Now See Good That Came Out of Nazareth

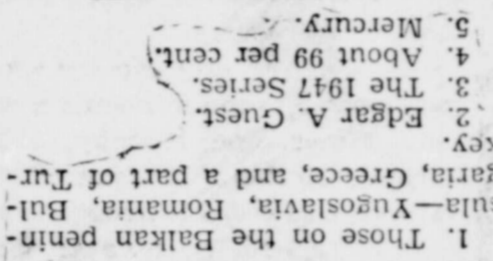

It would be interesting to know how many of the world's great teachers and leaders, religious and otherwise, have come from small towns and lowly homes. Jesus came from both. He was a small-town boy, and the carpenter's home in Nazareth must have been quite lowly. But Jesus glorified both the small town and the lowly home. It was a part of His mission in life to bring blessedness and glory into humble lives, and lowly places. The little town of Nazareth would never have been heard of but for the Boy who grew up there. It was just an ordinary, unnotable Galilean village. It is not mentioned anywhere in the Old Testament, and there is no reference to it in the pages of Josephus, or in the Talmud. It was not without warrant that Nathaniel said, "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth?" Yet the best of all came out of that hill village. The unknown town was destined to become among the world's most famous places. And, best of all, the town, ignored or held in mild contempt, was strangely well fitted to be the environment of that wonderful Boy. Here, remote from busy and troubled Jerusalem, the Boy could grow up in that normal development, which Luke sums up in the simple sentence, "And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man." These words of Luke are all that we have concerning the long years of preparation from 12 to 30. Yet to some extent we can fill in the picture, and what we find further emphasizes the fitting nature of that home and environment in Nazareth. A mile away, from the brow of a hill, from which His engaged townsmen would later have thrown Him down, the boy Jesus could look out over the scenes of His later ministry. Remote, yet near to the world with its teeming masses and its tense problems, was the hill village. And near to the heart and mind of the growing Boy was the synagogue, to which He went "as was His custom," and to which He returned to begin His ministry.

STRICTLY FRESH

A NEW scientific formula assures us that the earth will stay on its orbit. Whoo! What a relief! The rescuers' account of their ingenuity in building shelter-while marooned on a Greenland icecap suggests that they be put to work on the housing shortage. The only real certainty in 1949 is that political experts and pollsters can't possibly be as wrong as they were in 1948. A modern model house has steel walls. That should stymie a housewife who is always switching around the pictures. One musician in New York City claims he can play 11 different instruments at the same time. Anybody need a new next door neighbor?

'Paul Bunyan' Startles Capitol

Washington's Capitol police got a start when they spotted this giant visitor carrying a double-bitted ax through the Capitol corridors. But it turned out that Len Costley of International Falls, Minn., a self-styled "Paul Bunyan," was merely a guest of the Minnesota congressional delegation, and the ax was a wooden dummy. The giant woodsman is shown visiting with Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R) of Maine and Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R) of Massachusetts.

Serious—Sincere—Silly Well they have brought out a new putty knife that is claimed to be OK in the most unskilled hands. To most uninitiated, putty put on a window pane by them, looks like a dirt doberber might have done the work. To most of us it is hard to understand why just a few days illness will keep you confined for a week or two, and the older you are the longer. Disease works fast and recklessly, while old Mother Nature takes plenty time to mend the fences.

Over in Switzerland where DDT was invented, the scientists tell us that the remedy was never fatal to the hard shelled flies but the soft shelled ones. We thought they were all easily mashed. Anyway, they are working on a chemical that will mean death to the hard shelled variety.

There was a good story about our old friend W. J. Chesney of Colorado City, in the Abilene News-Reporter Saturday. He played dry nurse to the longhorn cattle way back in the 1880ties when that was a real frontier, settling finally on a ranch near Westbrook. He was sheriff of Mitchell county for two terms in the early twenties.

Mr. Chesney once moved to Terry county some 20 years ago, but finally drifted back to his old stomping grounds. He may still own his farm in Terry yet.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Some pretty young kind of gossings have been elected to Congress but that is okay—so my "good turn" for today is to try to get them off to fair start, and not ruin their future by poppin' off before they know for sure what it is they are poppin' off about. Some of them already have given vent to some brash talk. These gossings should review the Fourth Reader story of the young geese who quack-quacked late into the night and who were heard and then gobbled by the wise fox. So pipe down you new guys. And Utopia, forget that—just return to us our beloved 1776 America.

There are plenty of seasoned and stalwart persons right there in the Capitol for you young blood to observe. Byrd, and George, and little Joe Martin, and Bricker. And if Mr. Longhorn O'Daniel was still there, I would give that old Texan heed, too. And you know, not getting too far off the subject, new and fresh liquor is not palatable until it has had its "brashness" removed via ageing. So you young ducks, take it easy—don't furrow your brow too deep, so soon. Let somebody else be the show off—let someone else get in a word edgewise. You may thereby earn for yourself, a second term. Good luck.

Yours with the low down JO SERRA

Babson Discusses Fires

By Roger W. Babson
 NEW ORK CITY, Jan. 14. Last year U. S. property was destroyed by needless fires amounting to $700,000,000. In addition about 15,000 people lost their lives. Property can be replaced but lives cannot be. Be sure that this year 1949 your house is not burnt with you in it. All who lost their lives last year could be alive and happy today.

CAUSES OF FIRES
 About 25% of the fires are due to smoking—mostly cigarette smoking. About 20% are due to defective wiring, overloading present wires and misuse of flexible cords. 15% of the fires are set; while the balance are due to various causes. These mostly could be classified as "carelessness and bad housekeeping".

It is also interesting to note that most fires start in basements of homes, factories and stores. If basements were kept clean, the total fire loss could be reduced 30%. Closets and attics are also a source of danger. I hope each reader of this column will start 1949 by giving his basement, attic and closets a good cleaning out. Don't be afraid to throw stuff away!

BACK YOUR FIREMEN
 Considering the tremendous loss stated above, you at first think that the fire departments have been lax and inefficient. This is not so. I believe that the fire departments of our cities are the most efficient of all city departments. Just think—if it were not for your fire department your entire city would now be in ashes.

Also remember that ALL fires are ultimately extinguished. 90% of the fires are extinguished by the fire departments before the loss amounts to $500. This is pretty good and usually is due to someone quickly pulling a little red fire alarm box. In fact, there never was a fire (unless caused by explosion) which could not have been extinguished by one bucket of water if discovered in time.

When your city council or selectmen ask the advice of their Health or Legal Department or Building Inspector they act upon the advice. When, however, the Fire Chief asks for new equipment or more fire alarm boxes he is partly given the brush off. This is wrong.

Fire Chiefs know what is best for their city and the taxpayers. Hence, all their requests for appropriations should be granted, including recommendation for salary increases. Considering their responsibilities, the firemen and their Chief are the poorest paid of all city employees. Your Fire Chief is your best friend.

SUGGESTION TO READERS
 The best kind of fire protection is a sprinkler system connected with the fire alarm system. Another less expensive but very efficient system is the so-called "Vigilant Rate-of-Rise" System, connected with fire department. This does not extinguish the fire as do sprinklers but it automatically calls the fire department before the fire gets underway.

For most building, either of the above systems is perfect protection. For a tenant in a block of stores it is only partial protection. He may do all he can to protect his store; but if a restaurant is next door without protection, then the careful storekeeper is handicapped. Legislation should be enacted so when the majority of the property owners of any city block must join.

FIRE ALARM BOXES
 The little red fire alarm box on the corner of your street is also a friend of yours. And be sure that there is a box at each corner so that whichever way you or some passer-by runs, he will quickly find a box to pull. This is especially important as so many fires start when no one is in the home, store or building and the Fire Chief is dependent upon a passer-by.

To dependent upon a telephone is dangerous. In the excitement the telephone operator or the fire department often misunderstands the correct address. Too many street names sound alike and too many excited women, telephone only "Come quickly my house is on fire", without giving any address.

Why Taxes Stay High

Probably you often ask the question, especially around income tax paying time, "Why Do Taxes Stay High?" It's one that a lot of Americans are asking!

Maybe the facts recorded in the weekly newsletter of Rep. Wright Patman of Taxarkana, published in an East Texas paper, will help give you some idea:

A soldier's pay and food costs Uncle Sam $3,300 a year, compared to 1,350 in 1939. Food alone now costs $1.06 daily, compared with 41 cents before the war. A uniform of outer clothes now is $254.70, compared with $84.90 in 1939. The number of men in the army now is four times as great as before the war.

A post office of medium size could be built in 1939 for $152,000 but now costs $268,000. There are more than 3,000 localities eligible now for new post offices.

The cost of a mile of concrete highway has gone up from $19,700 in 1939 to $39,200.

The average government white-collar worker now gets $3,336, compared with $2,000 in 1939. The average payment to the aged now is $39.24 monthly, compared with $19.99 in 1940.

Does that answer your question?

Solon's Heartthrob

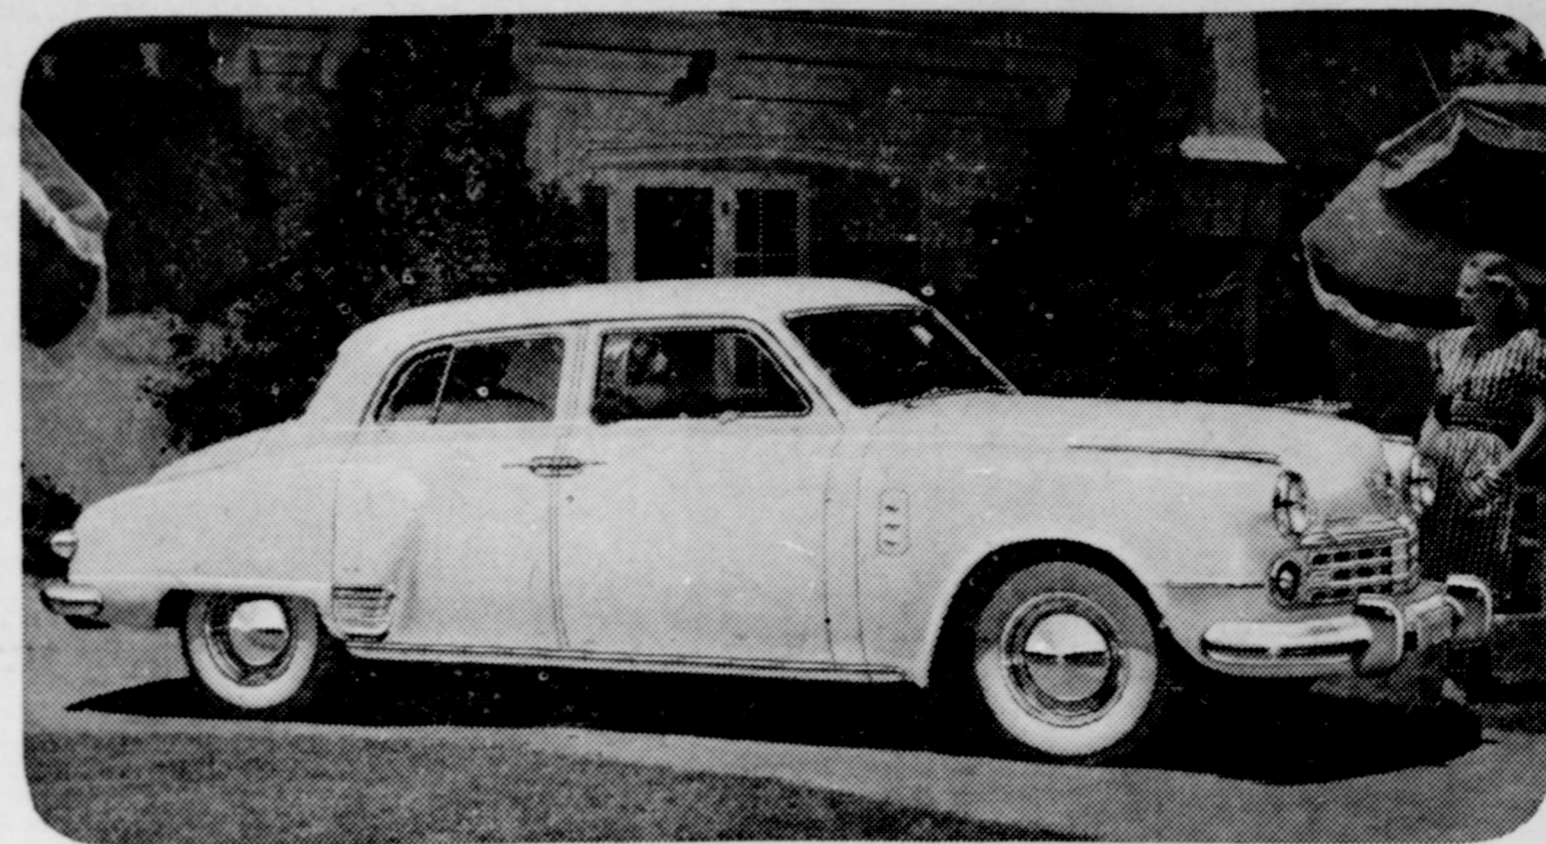

Green-eyed heiress June Millarde, formerly known as actress Toni Seven, created a front-page stir when it appeared that her romance with Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D) of Washington had made the senator late for his work with the 81st Congress. Pictured at her home in Los Angeles, Miss Millarde blamed "a Republican plot" for the publicity they received, and worried about what harm it might do the senator's career. She told of a recent trip to Seattle to meet Magnuson's relatives, but could see no reason for all the fuss.

WHAT IT MEANS

By Clarke Beach

WASHINGTON — Among the messes of war is a welter of claims and litigation.

Tens of thousands of civilians are demanding redress for injuries and losses, and soon they will get their hearing. The 80th Congress authorized a War Claims Commission to go to work on the problem but never appropriated any money for it. So the President didn't appoint the commission, and nothing has been done as yet. But Congress is expected to provide the funds soon.

Certain types of claims already have been approved by Congress. There are thousands of others, however — questionable cases — which the commission will investigate. It will then advise Congress as to the action which seems justified. These are the war claims payments which Congress has already authorized:

1. Detention, injury, disability or death benefits for persons captured on American soil and interned by the Japanese. These are the victims of Guam, Wake and the Philippines. The detention benefits amount to $60 for each month of interment for persons over 18. Those under 18 get $25 a month. In addition, employes of government contractors who were captured, primarily the group on Wake, will be paid the regular wages they would have earned if they had been at work instead of in captivity. The federal security administrator is directed to adjudicate the claims of the government employes.

2. Military personnel who while in Japanese prison camps were not given the quantity and quality of food which is stipulated in the Geneva Convention of July 27, 1929. They get $1 for each day they were ill fed.

Certain religious organizations which remained in Japanese-held American territory and gave supplies to American prisoners will be reimbursed for their expenses. These are the only claims the government has recognized up to now. So the vast majority are still up in the air. You get an idea of how many and various they are when you learn that one government department has received as many as 1,600 letters a day regarding civilian war claims.

The biggest issue which will come before the commission is: Can anything be collected by Americans who suffered war damage in Asia or Europe? International law clearly relieves a nation from any responsibility for damage inflicted in the course of combat operations. U. S. military units, moreover, have their own claims units which can settle damage claims by natives injured through non-combat activities, such as being hit by a Jeep behind the lines.

But what of Americans who continued to live and do business in Europe, in Japan, or on the continent of Asia after they had been advised that war was likely? State Department spokesmen have told Congress that they felt ample warning had been given to such persons and if they persisted in remaining in the threatened area it was their own responsibility.

They see the situation in the Philippines and the other American islands as entirely different.

Weather Amazes, From Maine . . . to California

From the sun-baked shores of Maine to the snow-swept coast of Southern California, a capricious Ol' Man Winter had Americans scratching their heads, but trying to make the best of it. In Augusta, Maine, Mary Faulkner, left above, pitched her pure-bred Chmook sled-dog to a golfing cart and—basking in the warm sunshine—shot a few rounds of golf. At the same time, Los Angeles residents, like the man above, right, turned up their overcoats at collars and weathered one of the worst cold and snowstorms in years.

Read And Use Herald Want Ads

For fear of alarming the population or unnecessarily disrupting normal activities, no firm warning was given. The government was thus responsible for their being caught in the war.

Another ticklish issue is presented by persons who were injured or suffered property loss in the attack on Pearl Harbor. They contend that as the war had not started, it was not a combat operation. They had not been warned to leave Hawaii. Therefore they say, they are as entitled to damages as persons who were living in the Philippines.

Some limit has to be set on the total damages that can be assessed. The Japanese nation, now largely dependent on American dollars to get back on its feet, will not pay the bills. The money will come from a fund in the Treasury derived from liquidation of German and Japanese assets in this country, both government and private property.

It is estimated that the fund, when finally accumulated, will amount to from $225,000,000 to $275,000,000.

What Happened To The Oil Shortage?

Remember when it was widely forecast that the country was on the verge of a really critical oil shortage? According to the prophets of gloom, homes would be without heat and industries would have to shut down for lack of fuel. The only possible solution, they went on, was for the government to move in and allocate oil, and, in general, run the petroleum industry.

As matters turn out, none of this happened. The government didn't step in, through it seemed close to it a time or two. And there was no oil shortage. It is true that in some areas, for brief periods, there were dislocations and temporary scarcities. But these were taken care of by voluntary cooperation between the oil companies and their dealers and customers, and no one suffered for a lack of petroleum.

At the present time, in mid-winter, oil supply and demand are in good balance. Indeed, matters have improved to such an extent that the government itself has revoked rules governing its own agencies designed to hold the use of oil to a minimum.

Why were the forecast at such a variance with the actuality? The principal reason is this: free enterprise, left alone to meet a problem, provided the solution. It rolled up its sleeves and went to work. It got the oil out of the ground it refined it, and it moved it swiftly and efficiently to the consumers who wanted it.

In all probability, government intervention would have made a shortage unavoidable, just as government power monopolies have done. When politics moves in on business, red tape blossoms, incentive is killed, and service and production starts downhill.

NEW CLOCK AND WATCH PLANT FOR ABILENE

ABILENE, Jan. 10—George Gelgauda, training supervisor for The United States Time Corporation, recently arrived here from Waterbury, Connecticut, to commence hiring and training of employes for the company's Abilene plant which is the newest of U. S. Time's three plants producing a nationally known line of clocks and watches. Other plants are located at Waterbury, Connecticut and at Little Rock, Arkansas. Gelgauda announced that production will start this month and that operations will be expanded as rapidly as possible consistent with employe training schedules.

When peak production is reached at the plant later in the year, between 500 and 600 employes will be on the payroll which will exceed one million dollars annually. Because of the delicate nature of the work, the majority of the employes will be women.

Beginning Of End Of The Drouth

As we said somewhere else in our tirades, so say we again, Old Sol will be a sight for sore eyes here in west Texas when he finally gets out again and he will. Many the time before this we have been led to wonder if Old Sol had not become mildewed and rusty and refused to shine.

But just think what a welcome sight he must have been after that 40 day and night rainstorm back in Noah's time? Don't you know those eight people on the were glad to see a bit of sunshine? Maybe they were so glad that they sang, "Let a Little Sunshine In." Of course our version of the song was not known at that time

But here's the happy thoughts about the matter. These freezing rains, snows and sleets may be the beginning of the end of a severe drouth of five years duration. Could be. We seldom have much rain in January. This spell alone has already upped the average moisture or rainfall over the annual average for January. It is still early in the month and we could get more.

In the past when we have had an unusual amount of moisture in January, we nearly always have a good rain or snow in February, but general speaking, March will be a dry month one year after another, no matter what happens earlier. But on a few occasions, we have seen some good showers, mostly thunder showers, in March. Anyway, let us hope the Jonah of the past few years of extra shy rainfall is past and that we are facing a cycle of average and above annual rainfall, and that folks, means 19 inches or better in Terry and adjoining counties.

We were shy some six inches this year, which would not have been too bad, if we'd had any moisture to start with. As this is being written at the home Wednesday, ice laden limbs on the shade trees are falling.

We understand that tree experts at both A. and M. and Tech colleges are working on a better tree for this area. The Chinese elm is a fast growth tree, but too brittle to stand ice storms. Can't take like the old fashioned American creek bottom elm.

Same Old Picture

COLLEGE STATION Jan. 15 Four words can describe the fertilizer picture for the coming year. And those four words are "tight supply" and "high prices".

So it looks like the same old picture of last year. Fertilizer will be hard to get in view of the big demand, and the cost of it when it can be had will be at least as high as it was last year. In a few cases, it may run slightly higher.

Larger amounts of nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash will be available, says Dr. J. F. Fudge, state chemist of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. But he goes on to say that even more fertilizers may be available the demand this coming year is expected to be the greatest in all history. And this is especially true of the nitrogen fertilizers.

Fudge points out that the commercial manufacturers can produce and supply only a certain amount each month. So the manufacturer has to spread his production out over a twelve-month period. He puts out some this month, some next month, and some more the following month. Here Dr. Fudge wants to point out that if a factory doesn't put out any nitrogen fertilizer one month, it cannot manufacture two month's supply the next month. In other words, allocations will not carry over from one month to the next. Right now the fertilizer isn't moving out of their plants. They're all stocked up. It's for this very reason the fertilizer production is going pretty slow right now, Dr. Fudge says.

All this adds up to another fertilizer shortage again this spring unless the dealers and the farmers themselves do something to brighten the picture. Here's what they can do, he says. Everybody that plans to use fertilizer this spring should order part of his estimated needs right now.

If the farmer and dealer will start the ball rolling, the manufacturers will be able to move the fertilizer out of their factories. This, in turn, will make room at the factories, and, at the same time, will lower the chances of a sudden shortage in fertilizers later on in the spring.

That's the fertilizer situation as it stands now—a big demand for what is available and prices as high as these last year. On the other hand, the expected high prices the farmers will get for their farm products will offset to some extent the cost of the fertilizers.

So, the main thing to do right now, advises Dr. Fudge, is to order part of your supplies now if the

Around The Square

Your inquiring reporter has been interviewing some of our local townmen, and asking them a new question this week. The question presented is this: "What can we the citizens of Brownfield do to help our city grow, and benefit the people of our community?"

There answers appear below. W. H. Collins, owner of Collins Dry Goods: "We must all pull together, and work together, as a unit and keep working."

Chad Tarpley, owner of Tarpley Ins. Agency: "Let's build some more houses; that will do it."

Douglas Jones, owner and manager of the Broadway Cleaners: "Hotels and office building are needed. The town should back the Brownfield Boys Club. They are working on a youth program right now. This summer, soft ball, base ball and other activities will be offered."

Alenzo Miller, manager of Furr Food: "I think people could build more rent houses to take care of those who could move in here, and I think a hotel is needed. More office space would encourage companies to move in here."

San Privitt, co-owner of the Farmers Implement Co., and James choice for man of the year: "To make any city grow some of the main factors in its growth are adequate schools, and wholesome youth activities that are well supervised."

No youth activity can ever be carried on in Brownfield without the full cooperation of all the parents, no few individuals can ever do it alone.

To all parents—watch your local newspapers in the next few weeks for a proposed youth program, and exercise your right to fight for the schools that are needed in Brownfield.

Today's youth are the leaders of tomorrow. We must see that they are well prepared to make Brownfield the city it can be."

S. P. Cowan, superintendent of schools: "One: Extend city utilities. Two: Create recreational activities for youth. I have found that in building in Brownfield, most of the desirable lots have already been sold, and when you go beyond the established district no utilities are provided."

I think a recreational program is badly needed. We have a problem here that is different from other localities in the state. We are far from larger towns for our youth to go back and forth for recreational activities."

Dr. Miller, supervisor of district health unit: "We need a health unit building. It would increase the local payroll. A laboratory here would facilitate speedy tests on water and milk benefiting the health of the entire community."

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

By Tex Easley

Washington, Jan. 15 (AP)—Twenty-seven year old Rep. Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr., of McAllen, tall and trim, is one of the two new members of the Texas congressional delegation.

The other is Rep. Homer Thornberry of Austin. Actually, Bentsen isn't a freshman member of the 81st. Congress which began Jan. 3. He was sworn in as a legislator on Dec. 31, at the special closing one-day session of the 80th Congress. A review of his background is in order first, since he has brief seniority.

In 1942 Bentsen was an army intelligence officer stationed in Natal, Brazil. He questioned pilots as they returned from North African fighting in those dark days when the Axis still was riding high.

"After talking with a lot of those boys fresh back from fighting," he continued I decided I was on the wrong side of the desk."

He asked for and was sent to pilot training centers back in the States. Later in 1943, shortly after marrying an attractive East Texas girl he had met while both were at the University of Texas, he went to Italy to join the 15th Air Force as pilot of a 4-engine B-24 bomber.

Fields in which he participated were flown over German-held parts of southeast Europe, including the Ploesti, Rumania oil fields. At 22 he was promoted to major and made a squadron commander with 42 bombers in his unit.

Returning from one raid on a jet plane factory near Vienna, he ran into ack-ack fire which cut out two engines and caused a forced landing in Yugoslavia. Untertain whether the emergency air strip on which he landed was held by friendly or enemy partisans, he was amazed, on climbing out of his crippled plane, to be greeted by a sergeant who had lived in McAllen and knew the Bentsen family. The sergeant was with an air rescue team, and saw to it that Bentsen and his crew soon were back safely at their base in Italy.

Discharged from the service in July, 1945, Bentsen settled down then in McAllen. When he had returned from overseas he found his family expanded. Lloyd, III, had been born on Sept. 29, 1944. Bentsen got his law degree, license to practice and induction into the army, "all wrapped up in one package" in the spring of 1942. He got his commission, incidentally, after attending officer candidate school. When he got back to McAllen he opened his law practice.

Those Brave Words At The Inaugurals

We did not listen in, but read in the dailies just what was in the minds and probably bravely came out of the mouths of both Gov. Beauford Jester and Lt.-Gov. Allan Shivers at Austin, Tuesday. Both were loud in their condemnation of centralization of either Federal government at Washington or the State government at Austin.

It is so against the grain of the writer to support men and measures that stand out in contrast of difference with us, that we can hardly see why anyone could support men and what they advocate, and then turn right around and condemn it. But last fall it will be remembered that both Jester and Shivers were right in their pitching for Truman and Barkley, when it was as plain as the nose on our face what both those men stood for and wanted.

But thousands of Texans were already in Washington, or would be there yesterday, and that included the lieutenant governor, to see the man inaugurated who is not only asking but demanding many things that Texans in general abhor. Or, for that matter, these European ideas are condemned by all the best people of the South.

We may be mistaken, but right now the writer has no idea of ever supporting any man or platform that is repugnant to us, even if in so doing, we have to turn from the party of our fathers. At least, however, we hope that the Truman administration will be successful in helping to restore world peace. But at the same time, we expect it will hurt domestic peace with its uncompromising attitude.

In the next four years we shall see what we shall see. Mr. A. J. Whitley was in Monday, to see about his subscription, he also renewed his daughter's, Mrs. W. E. Parnell of Santa Anna, Calif.

He was chief deputy sheriff of Travis County, and then assistant county superintendent of schools, while still in the University of Texas. He obtained a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in 1932 and a law degree in 1936.

Getting his discharge from the Navy in February of 1946, he went back into private law practice. In May of that year he was elected to the Austin city council, and was serving as Mayor pro-tem of the state capital when he ran for congress and was elected to succeed the now junior Texas Senator Lyndon B. Johnson.
