Unit Director Cites Ways to 'Guard Area'

Dr. Frank P. Miller, director of the South Plains Health Unit, points out that it is imperative and urgent for action in the manner of precautionary methods in general sanitation to be taken immediately. Sanitation in a community is largely the responsibility of the individual since city and county officials seldom enter private homes and business houses with the purpose of sanitation clean-up.

Polio and intestinal diseases are on the increase in Texas and precaution must be exercised now in our five county unit to lessen the hazards of an outbreak of these diseases.

The following mediums are considered danger points to be eliminated: flies, mosquitoes, cockroaches, mice, rats, milk from unapproved sources, open garbage and unnecessary trash.

Here are some of the things you can and must do as individuals in general sanitation prevention of these dread diseases: cockroaches have been examined in laboratories and found to be carriers of polio, intestinal and other diseases of man. 1068 (chlorine) applied carefully in infested places is essential. Cooking and eating vessels should be removed from cabinets in the kitchen while liberal amounts of 1068 is applied to the inside walls. Spraying under the sinks is advisable.

Mice and rats are carriers of human diseases and proper eradication is essential at the earliest possible time.

Outdoor toilets should receive liberal amounts of DDT either in dust or liquid form.

Houses using cesspools for sewage disposal should flush liberal amounts of DDT in liquid form through the commode. Cesspools (not septic tanks) are excellent breeding places for cockroaches and mosquitoes.

Vegetables eaten raw should be well washed, preferably in mild chlorine solution.

Any milk or milk product from less than Grade A sources is dangerous. Investigate your milk supply and be certain it is approved by the Health Department. Milk from family cows for family consumption should be pasteurized in the farm kitchen.

City officials and civic organizations in San Angelo waged an intense clean-up campaign last week, and are still exercising all efforts to keep fly-infested areas clean.

Polio is no respecter of persons or places, and Brownfield could be struck. Citizens cannot be too careful about keeping their premises clean of garbage and debris.

WIND, RAIN DAMAGE CROPS IN COUNTY

Windstorms and heavy rainfall in the past few days over the area have caused some damage to crops in Terry County, Looe Miller, head of the AAA office stated.

Some areas have been hurt more than others, Mr. Miller said, but taking the whole county into consideration, probably not more than 20 per cent of the crops in Terry county are complete losses. Wind damage is much more severe than rain, generally.

Crops in the north and northwest section of the county have been heavier hit than most, with some farmers losing as much as 50 per cent of their cotton, due to rain.

Harvest of wheat has been slowed down, with farmers unable to get into the wet fields with their combines. Local elevator operators report partially no wheat had been brought in by Wednesday afternoon.

Grasshoppers Becoming Threat to Crops

Grasshoppers migrating from pastures into fields are becoming a threat to several farmers, Jack Cleveland, County Agent stated this week. Although the hoppers have caused no great damage so far, they can easily become dangerous to crops if not controlled immediately.

Fifteen farmers met with Mr. Cleveland last Tuesday to mix poison to use on the insects. Between eight and nine thousand pounds of poison has been made up, and it is believed that there will be enough to supply the farmers.

Texas Should Advertise Attractions

HOUSTON, June 7—Texans are "sleeping blissfully through an opportunity to expand Texas, biggest money crop—a year-around tourist business."

Little has been done to attract tourist to this state, Colonel Ike Ashburn, executive vice president of the Texas Good Boards Association said today in a speech prepared for delivery at the Texas Chambers of Commerce Managers Annual Convention.

The chambers' actively has been mainly that of bringing conventions to their individual cities, Ashburn said, adding that another factor in attracting tourist was the introduction of Texas gained by service men stationed here during both world wars.

The speaker observed that a number of corporations have spent considerable sums for institutional advertising, but:

"We need a highly selective advertising campaign to secure additional tourist, to divert tourist trade from competitive areas, to increase itineraries and length of stay, and to encourage 'repeater' tourists."

The advertising campaign, Ashburn observed, "should be to seek as vacationers persons who have a contribution to make to Texas and its development."

Other states, such as Arizona and New Mexico, have spent modest sums for advertising, and have thereby doubled or tripled their tourist income, Ashburn said.

"Texas, with no funds and no descriptive literature except Texas Parade Magazine, drew 1,849,000 out-of-state automobiles in 1948," he declared. The occupants of these automobiles spent $114,528,000 in Texas last year.

"If we spent $100,000 per year we could more than double the number of visitors, making a quarter of a billion dollars per year income from our activities," Ashburn told his audience.

"That is what Texas Parade is for, primarily, to bring visitors and industries into Texas," he said.

The speaker advocated that the State Highway Department be authorized to expend some of its money for expansion of tourist travel in Texas.

"The local chambers of commerce can help," he said, "by giving support to the idea of a combined Texas non-profit, non-political publication, artistically prepared and replete with colored pictures of the scenic wonders of Texas."

Jobs Open for Grads With Musical Ability

COLLEGE STATION, June 7 A survey shows this year's college graduates is finding a job if he knows something about looking for one and will hustle.

It is still pretty much the kind of job he wants, and the starting pay is fair.

To get it he must be willing to call on a lot of prospective employers and sell his services.

Then is given as the experience of 1242 young men graduating from Texas A. & M. college in June.

The college placement bureau and an independent interviewer have just completed a study of the group's job prospects.

The veterans make up about 80 percent of the class. Their average age is 24. About half the class is married. It is a mature group "Better prepared to look for jobs and hold them than any of our classes in the past."

Also, the study found, it is a group "aware of the drop in the number of jobs available and of the fact that this year's crop of job-hunting college graduates is the largest in history."

Most of them expect to go to work for $50 to $60 a week slightly under last year's starting pay. They report agreeable surprise that "offers have dropped only about $15 a month, from an average of about $260 last year to $245 now." Many offers in technical fields are higher, running $275 to $325.

In a "surprisingly larger number of cases" graduates placed more emphasis on type of work they wanted and the kind of firm they'd like to work for, than on starting pay.

The study showed sales jobs among the best being offered as trained talent. Major merchandising concerns are paying $50 to $60 weekly while training youth for the sales field.

Men graduating with technical degrees are finding jobs more readily than those with degrees in the liberal fields. Engineers are finding places in the still growing petroleum and chemical industries of the Southwest. Science majors are still in demand in research fields. Business and accounting majors are finding quick placement. Accountants are drawing top starting pay. Many of the liberal arts men seek newspaper jobs. The majority of these say they want to work on small newspapers for experience, and hope start around $200 a month.

Wendell Horsley College placement director, says "a marked difference in job opportunities has been brought on by changing world and national conditions in the last three decades.

Engineering was the best field for Aggie graduates in 1929. In 1939 the best jobs were in agriculture—the farm programs. Some started in those jobs around $200 a month. But a lot of graduates at 1923 thought $125 monthly good starting pay. Some took teaching jobs for $80 to $100 a month.

This year a majority of the veterans and 20 per cent of the non-veterans said they'd like eventually to go into business for themselves.

The interviewer found "Today's graduates going out with a tremendous sense of urgency. They are afraid the good times are about over and they want to get a foothold before there are no footholds left."

If two glasses become stuck, ease them apart by pouring cold water in the upper glass and standing the lower glass in warm water. If a stopper sticks in a bottle, try running warm water over it.

Ticks cause the same damage to the calf as the hornflies and lice. A mixture of two pounds of 50-percent wettable DDT and one pound of 6-percent gamma BHC in 25 gallons of water will effect control of livestock pests.

We Have Just Begun—Daniel

Attorney General Price Daniel today urged Texans to continue their firm stand against the Federal attempt to take the tidelands away from the State Public School Fund. "Our case is not lost. The fight has just begun, and we are going to win in the Court or in Congress, if Texans themselves do not weaken or give up the fight," Daniel said. A prepared statement by Attorney General said: "True, it is a hard fight, but with honest and righteous claims, a fighting chance is all most Texans ever ask for. The odds were ten to one against Texas at San Jacinto, but they won. Had they become weak-kneed and afraid to fight because of great odds, this area would still be part of Mexico. "This has been my position on this subject constantly for two years, and I hope the people and especially the newspapers will not at this late date attribute future political significance to my actions. I had rather win the tidelands case than to hold any public office that exists, and if it becomes necessary for me to remove myself from unsolicited speculation on the political scene in order to maintain united support on this case, I shall do so without hesitation. Daniel said the Federal claims would destroy the solemn annexation agreement approved by the United States Congress in 1845, which contained the following words: "... said State, when admitted to the Union... shall also retain all the vacant and unappropriated lands lying within its limits..." Daniel said the boundary limits, established by the First Congress of the Republic of Texas, were read to the United States Congress before it adopted the above agreement, as follows: "Beginning at the Mouth of the Sabine River, and running west along the Gulf of Mexico three leagues (10 1/2 miles) from land, to the Mouth of the Rio Grande..." Mr. and Mrs. Les Short and Miss Mary Jo Jones attended the graduation exercises at NMMI last week end. The Short's son, Virgil, who was a member of the graduating class, returned home with them Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Winston of Littlefield were in Brownfield Sunday visiting his father, J. F. Winston, who is in Treadaway-Daniell Hospital, and other relatives.

HALLETTSVILLE, June 7 (AP)—Boots and saddles! Lariats and Spurs!

On June 16-17-18, the small fry of Texas hold their own rodeo. Gov. Beauford H. Jester will lead their parade. For the third consecutive year, the High School State Championship Rodeo will bring youngsters from all over Texas to Hallettsville to compete in calf-roping, tie-down, bareback bronc riding and bull dogging. Even the girls take part. They compete in the cutting horse contest.

The idea to feature youngsters of high school age was hatched one night three years ago while three men sat talking on the Hallettsville courthouse square. Nothing like it had been organized before in any of the other states and it seemed a good idea. Since that first rodeo for boys and girls in 1947, five states have followed with their own. El Reno, Okla.; Sulphur, La.; New Underwood, S. D.; and Montana all have had contests featuring teen agers.

Rules here are strict. Only students in good scholastic standing who did not graduate before May 1 of this year have been allowed to enroll in this year's rodeo. It is Texas only, but students from at least nine other states have written, pleading for a chance to participate.

Pete McKenzie, ranch-owner and cattleman, for the third year will act as the rodeo announcer.

The youngsters who display the highest sense of sportsmanship during the rodeo will receive from the National Quarter Horse Breeders Association an engraved Gladys Brown statue of a champion quarter horse. And the American Quarter Horse Association has a quarter horse statuette for the cowboy with the best-trained horse.

There are many other prizes, ranging from Mano Miles of Mexia and Fred Neuhaus of Houston to expensive star-roweled boots,

Farmers Invited To See Tech Sorghum Experiment

LUBBOCK, June 7—A sorghum nursery for plant demonstration and testing has been established at Texas Technological college.

One hundred varieties including some of the best known sorghums raised in the Texas plains area, and several new types never tried in Texas before are included in the small replicated plots. Dr. A. W. Young head and professor of plant industry, said that the row tests are introducing sorghums from Kansas, Oklahoma and types sent to the college by the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Information concerning each of the sorghums will be kept for publication, and inspection of the nursery by farmers of the plains area is invited at any time, Dr. Young said.

Irrigation will be available through the college system if needed, he said. The plots have been hand planted. Each variety is planted in three-row arrangements with the center row to be used for records.

elaborately stamped saddles and gold and silver belt buckles from the Hallettsville chamber of Commerce.

"Scooter" Fries of Bandera, Tex., will participate in the rodeo again this year. Scooter is 15. He won the roping contest last year. He has thrown 17 loops in competition in the last two championship rodeos and has never missed a loop. With three years in which to compete, Scooter is a major threat.

Youngsters are housed by Hallettsville citizens in private homes. Some of the older fellows bring their bedrolls. You can find them at sunup, asleep in the park.

Chief ramrods of the teen-age rodeo are Leon L. Kahannek, president of the chamber of commerce; Claud Mullins, superintendent of the high school here and Alton Allen, attorney of Lavaca County.

HE NEVER SAW A PURPLE COW—Or one of any other color, for that matter. Six-year-old Jimmie Johnson, strictly a city boy from Chicago, stares with rapt fascination at a pair of Holsteins on the farm of M. L. Klock, of Hampshire, Ill. Later on his visit, Jimmie asked to see the "chocolate milk cows." Alas, Farmer Klock had none in stock.

RHEUMATIC HEART DISEASE OFTEN FATAL TO CHILDREN

AUSTIN—The disabling and often fatal disease of children, rheumatic heart disease, is one of the leading causes of death among children and young adults in the age group 10 to 25 years. Unfortunately, there has been developed for this disease no vaccine such as we have for small-pox, diphtheria and whooping cough, but by recognizing the early symptoms and obtaining a competent physician's diagnosis and treatment, some of the damaging results of rheumatic heart disease can be prevented or moderated.

The State Health Officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, says that "in general the early symptoms of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows or wrists. The pain is felt usually in one of these joints, and spreads frequently to the others. Often a doctor's examination of a child who becomes irritable and cross without apparent cause, cries easily, and develops nervous habits, will disclose the presence of rheumatic heart disease."

Predisposing causes to this serious illness include frequent chilling, living in damp, steamy quarters, poor diet, frequent colds, and sometimes scarlet fever or other infections caused by certain streptococcus germs. All such conditions should be avoided if at all possible.

Protection for children against rheumatic heart disease, should include a thorough examination by a physician at least once a year; a well balanced and nourishing diet; sufficient rest and sleep, and dressing at all times in accordance with the temperatures of the room or playground. Consult a physician at once if any symptom suggests that this disease may be present or in the process of developing.

SEES NEGLECT IN "LEAD TO BIG FARM" MOVES

We may be sticking our neck out, for we do not claim to know much about the proposed Brannan farm program. Neither have we studied closely the programs of other Secretaries of Agriculture for several years. But we do believe that any program that plays into hands of the large-scale farmer to the detriment of the little home-owner is unjust to the little man and harmful to the country as a whole in the long run. That policy has almost completely put the renter out of business and driven him to town to make his living by other means or to become an old-age pensioner. It has also put a premium on large-scale farming and has in effect granted subsidies to the big fellow out of all proportion to the benefits accorded to the 160-acre man who struggles along year after year to make a living for his family and possibly a little extra savings for a rainy day, or for a drouthy year rather. The ideal situation, we think, is for our country to become a land of prosperous home owners and not of large-scale agricultural speculators.—Lynn County News.

The recent publicity given to bootlegging in Crosby and Lubbock counties incident to the beer election held in Crosby seems to have stirred the Federal Government to greater activity in enforcing the liquor laws. State authorities also seem to have been spurred to more drastic action. In Crosby county, two or three fine new cars in which liquor was being illegally transported have been seized and confiscated by the Government. In one or two instances, finance corporations have also filed suit to foreclose their mortgages on the cars involved. Consistent and continued action of this kind by state and federal authorities and finance companies will soon put a stop to the proper legging business. That's the proper remedy for boot-legging, gentlemen. Something ought to be done also with these clubs that furnish storages for liquor belonging to members. Something probably will be done about it sooner or later to the great embarrassment of a lot of "blue-stocking" gentry.

Giles Explains Operation of New Veterans' Land Program

By BASCOM GILES
Commissioner of the General Land Office

The Veterans land program is now a reality. The idea was born in the hearts of the veterans themselves while they were overseas and thinking about home. Their letters to my office asking how they might obtain a farm or ranch home if and when they returned, inspired me to put the machinery of this program in motion.

Last week Governor Jester's signature made the Veterans' Land bill into formal law. The bill was sponsored in the upper House by Senator John Bell of Cuero and in the lower House by Representative Reuben Senterfit of San Saba.

The legislation grew out of a Constitutional Amendment adopted by the Citizens of Texas in a special election in November of 1946. At the following session of the Legislature the necessary enabling legislation failed to receive final consideration in the Senate.

The 51st Legislature, promptly and without a single negative vote in either House, carried out the mandate of the people, making it possible for Texas Veterans of World War II to own a farm or ranch home of their own choosing by making a small down payment with the balance financed by the State at a low interest rate.

The Legislature has placed the administration of this program in the hands of the Governor, Attorney General and the Commissioner of the General Land Office.

Auto Accident Figures Turns Chief's Hair White

By Garth Jones

Austin, June 7 (AP)—A white-haired expert at the Texas Department of Public Safety headquarters here spends most of his waking hours figuring out why Texans get killed in auto accidents.

Ten years ago N. K. Woerner, chief of the department's statistical division, had blonde hair. "Now it's not even gray," the 41 year-old statistician said. "It's just plain white."

Woerner's figures show that 2,059 persons were killed last year in motor vehicle accidents on Texas streets and highways—an all time high. Another 60,000 persons were injured.

"That's why my hair is white," he said. "It's no fun to sit around here every day and juggle figures about people getting killed and maimed in automobile accidents. But we have to know what causes these accidents so we can work toward preventing them."

Woerner gets full backing from his boss, Col. Homer Garrison J., director of the department and numerous safety associations and law enforcement agencies. He wishes he had the support of every driver and pedestrian in the state.

"Accidents don't just happen," Woerner declared. "They are caused."

"In every accident involving vehicles traveling in opposite directions, someone was on the wrong side of the road. Every intersection accident means that there was a right-of-way, stop sign or signal light violation."

When the causes of accidents are known, then steps can be taken to prevent accidents—or at least lessen them. That's where Woerner's figures—along with those of his four full time assistants—come in. Traffic flow, relative speeds, concentration of enforcement, the frequency of intersections, and parking are some of the variable factors in accidents which make the statistics important.

Right now Woerner is worried about the high percentage of accidents on rural highways—not inside city limits.

"My wife gets after me every morning," Woerner says. "She says I'm so busy reading the paper to find out about accidents that I don't know what I eat for breakfast."

Woerner figures that 73 percent of all persons killed in auto crashes last year died on rural highways. The statistician laid down his pencil and put it this way:

"During 1948, a total of 1,145 persons were driving or walking along rural highways. Crash, bang, boogie! They never got where they were going. They ended up in the graveyard."

There were only seven mornings out of 365 days in 1948 when Woerner read his paper without finding a fatal traffic accident. The gory figures ranged from single fatalities to 19 bodies left along the highways one July Sunday.

Woerner has a theory as to why 70 percent of the fatal accidents in rural areas occurred on Saturdays and Sundays.

"Rural highways on week-ends are made more hazardous by the many city drivers who flock to the country for picnics, fishing, and trips to nearby towns to visit friends and relatives," he said. "These drivers, accustomed to 30 mile-per-hour speeds, are not skilled in operating their vehicles at rural 60-miles-per-hour speeds. As a result these operators too often make the wrong decision or find themselves in a position where they lack the time to act."

Woerner found that one half of the fatal accidents on rural highways are the result of head-on collisions or a car running off the roadway.

"A complete system of divided highways would eliminate the head-on accidents," he said. "Barring all highways with a brick wall would eliminate the run-off roadway accidents these things cannot be in our day, but we can and should drive as if they did exist."

Woerner does not agree with the advice that "to stay alive you must watch the other driver."

"This is a wise procedure," he says. "But we find that 63 percent of the rural fatal accidents in 1948 involved only one vehicle."

Another factor Texans often overlook, Woerner said, is that economic loss from motor vehicle accidents. The pocket-book drain in 1948 was $83,226, 975.

"Just think of that," Woerner said. "Take that much in paychecks and you could buy 10,000 five-room houses at $7,500 each, 10,000 refrigerators at $250 each, 10,000 electric ranges at $200 each, 10,000 radios at $25 each, and 1,229 automobiles at $2,000 each. That's a wad of dough."

If you are still unconvinced after glancing at Woerner's statistics, he suggests this:

"For visible evidence of the loss from accidents, notice the wrecked car graveyards scattered all over the state. Then visit your nearest hospital and see the patients who are trying to mend broken arms, legs, pelvis bones, and necks. Then a few moments in your nearest cemetery will reveal the loss that no amount of money could repay."

'I Dare You'

Behind The Scenes In American Business

An installment plan of paying off the political debt of the Truman administration to the big labor union bosses has been worked out, according to the reliable reporter of such matters, Victor Reisel. It has been agreed that whatever can be obtained from the present Congress in the way of modifying the Taft-Hartley law will be considered a "down payment." Then they'll go after the rest in the 1950 Congressional elections. A big campaign fund will be used against "sixty-three Southern Democrats (in the House) who violated their party's pledge." — Peter Molyneux in The Southwest Weekly.

Mr. G. W. Harris, who was injured in a fall last week, and Ches Gore, who received a broken leg in an automobile accident several weeks ago, were dismissed from the hospital last week.

THREE ART COURSES TO BE ADDED AT TECH

LUBBOCK, June 7—Three courses in applied arts in the home economics division at Texas Technological college will be added to the art curriculum at the opening of the 1949-50 school year.

Two of the courses, both on advanced students level, are particularly concerned with home decoration and planning. One of the courses stresses United States homes.

The third new course, also for advanced and graduate students, deal with special problems in leather, wood, metal, clay, textiles, jewelry and plastic work.

Texas Soon In Top Ten On Education

AUSTIN, June 7 —Texas will soon be among the top ten states in education.

Enactment of the three Gilmer-Alken bills into law provides the vehicle by which the state will climb from its low rank, it was declared here today by Charles H. Tennyson, public relations director of the Texas State Teachers Association. The organization led the lengthy legislative battle for re-organization of the public school system.

"These measures pave the way for more classrooms and more and better teachers; as well as providing for more equitable distribution of the cost and revising the top-level administration," Tennyson declared.

"Our children will receive a better education. As a result, our state will benefit."

Tennyson pointed out that the minimum requirements of teachers' and administrators' salaries will not only fail to receive state aid provided in the new law other than the per capita appropriation, but will be dropped from the accredited list.

There are now 42,500 teachers and 4,000 principals and superintendents in the public school system.

"The new laws pave the way for the addition of 1,500 teachers as soon as physical facilities can be made available."

"This will relieve much of the classroom congestion which has made for substandard education in many of our schools."

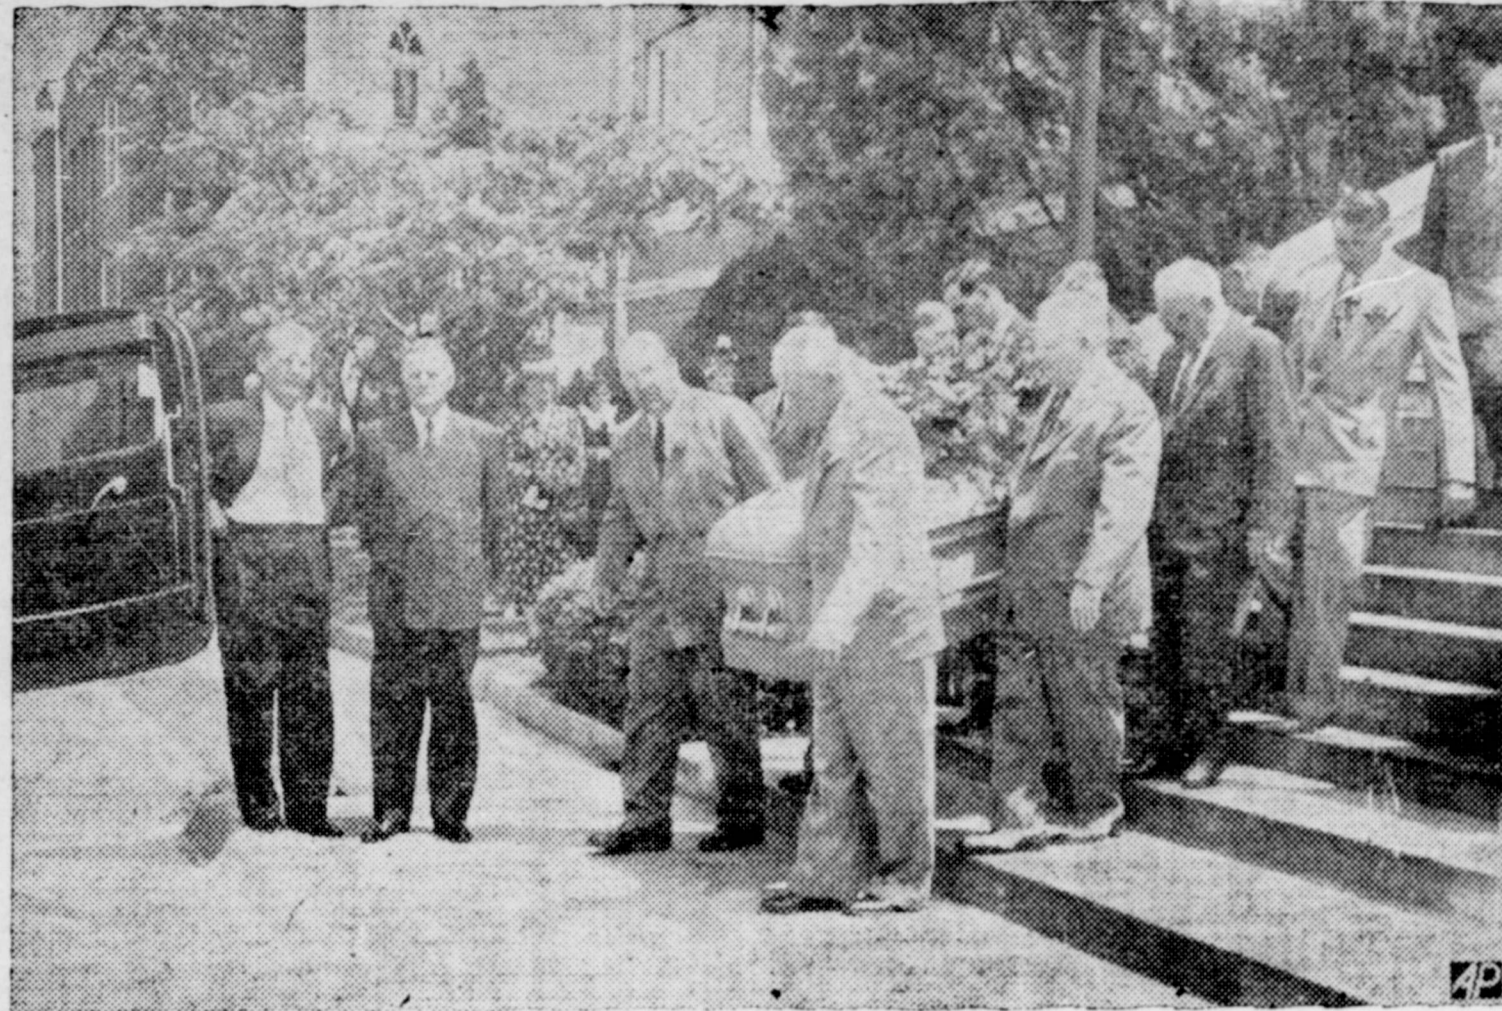

The new salary scale for teachers and administrators will do two things to provide Texas with a superior educational system, Tennyson also pointed out.

"Texas will be much more attractive to outstanding teachers from all parts of the country," he said, "Too, the additional pay teachers can get for holding masters degrees will send thousands of them to school to get the higher degree."

The greatest enrollment in many years is expected by most Texas colleges and universities this summer in their graduate divisions.

The minimum salary for teachers holding bachelors degrees was increased from $2,000 to $2,400 annually. Under the new bills they get $54 a year additional for the first twelve years of teaching. That makes a maximum salary of $3,051. The old ceiling was $2,655.

Teachers holding masters degrees will have a minimum salary of $2,628. The minimum was $2,232. Their credit of $54 a year additional for each year of teaching experience now continues for twenty-six years instead of

Tech Approves Large Budget

LUBBOCK, June 7—Texas Tech directors this week adopted the largest budget in the college history, approved appointment of a new comptroller and the head of the enlarged music department and voted to sell $2,800,000 in bonds to finance a building program.

The budget for the 1949-50 school year is $2,511,000, as compared with $2,096,000 for the present year.

Named to newly created position of comptroller was Marshall L. Pennington, business manager of Texas Western college at El Paso and Assistant to the President of that school the past year. Pennington, former basketball and football letterman at the University of Texas, is a Naval veteran of the last war and coached Texas Mines, now Texas Western, Basketball from 1936 to 1943. He comes to Tech August 1.

twelve. That makes a maximum salary of $4,032.

In addition, the law was revised to allow school districts to supplement the salary scale set by law. Under old statutes, districts receiving rural, orequalification aid, were forbidden to add to the specified salaries. Furthermore, districts may employ more teachers than allotted under the law if they desire to do so.

How long does it take to be a champion?

It took just a year for Tom Horn of White Deer, Tex., high school. And he became a track star because an old pal of his dad thought he was an athlete.

Horn was in the one-act play contest at the state tournament in Austin in 1948 when Ed Olie asked his schoolmate: "What's the boy run?"

Young Horn wasn't running. But his dad told him what Texas' athletic business manager said. This spring he decided to come out for track.

What happened? He went to the state tournament as a contestant in the 880-yard run, Class B. It's a long way around Memorial Stadium's track and Horn collapsed at the finish.

"Did I win "He asked when received.

Yes, in 2:02.6 seconds.

Then he scampered off to help White Deer win the Class B one-act play contest. Made the tournament all-star cast, too.

"The FIRE ruined everything, John ... including us!"

Look for Toney Burger of Austin High School to turn up on the athletic staff of one of the larger Southwest Conference schools. He's a three-sport coach—basketball, football, and baseball.

If the Southwest Conference formed an all-star mile relay team for its Friday night meet with the big Seven there's a chance it could have a time of 3:10.2 or better.

Ray Holbrook, Texas A. & M. has run a 47.3 quarter; Tommy Cox of Rice a 47.5; Don Mitchell, Texas A. & M., 47.7, and Red Brown of Rice 47.7 Cox recently turned in a 46.8 lap on the Pacific Coast.

Southern Methodist University will play eight of its ten games in Dallas next fall. Another game is at Fort Worth, only 30 miles away, the other one at College Station, just a few hours away. Matty Bell will have to start scheduling some distant games in order to give the players a trip.

The Mustangs, incidentally, and Texas Christian University will play football teams from six states. Foes come from Texas, Arkansas, Indiana, Kentucky, North Carolina, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Mississippi.

There are now nine women seated in the United States Congress—one of them in the Senate.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

By Tex Easley

Washington, June 7 (AP)—A big, strapping Texas rancher who files his own plane stopped the other day for a visit in the national capitol.

Joe B. Finley of Encinal, who runs the 240,000-acre Callaghan ranch 27 miles north of Laredo, is a friendly, modest Texan and, unless you happen to know him, you'd never guess he operates on such a vast and modern scale.

At the Agriculture Department he is recognized as one of the first American cattlemen to warn about the foot-and-mouth disease outbreak in Mexico. He urged speedy and vigorous action, even though it meant he had to write off as a loss the thousands of head of livestock he owned in Mexico.

Accompanied by his attorney G. C. Mann of Laredo, rancher Finley flew up from Texas in his medium-sized twin-engine plane. Several hundred head of Callaghan ranch herefords are fattening on blue grass in Virginia's Shenandoah valley.

"We are not sure yet," Finley commented, "but we think this is going to turn out to be as good grazing as any place in the nation."

Right now we send a lot of our cattle to the Flint Hills in Kansas, which is the best we have yet found. This grass up here may be equally as good."

A steer can fatten much faster on the Flint Hills than in Wyoming, Colorado or other western states because of the mineral content of the soil, Finley said. He has been sending three-year old steers to the Flint Hills to fatten. He hopes to send two-year-olds to Virginia or surrounding states to get them ready for market.

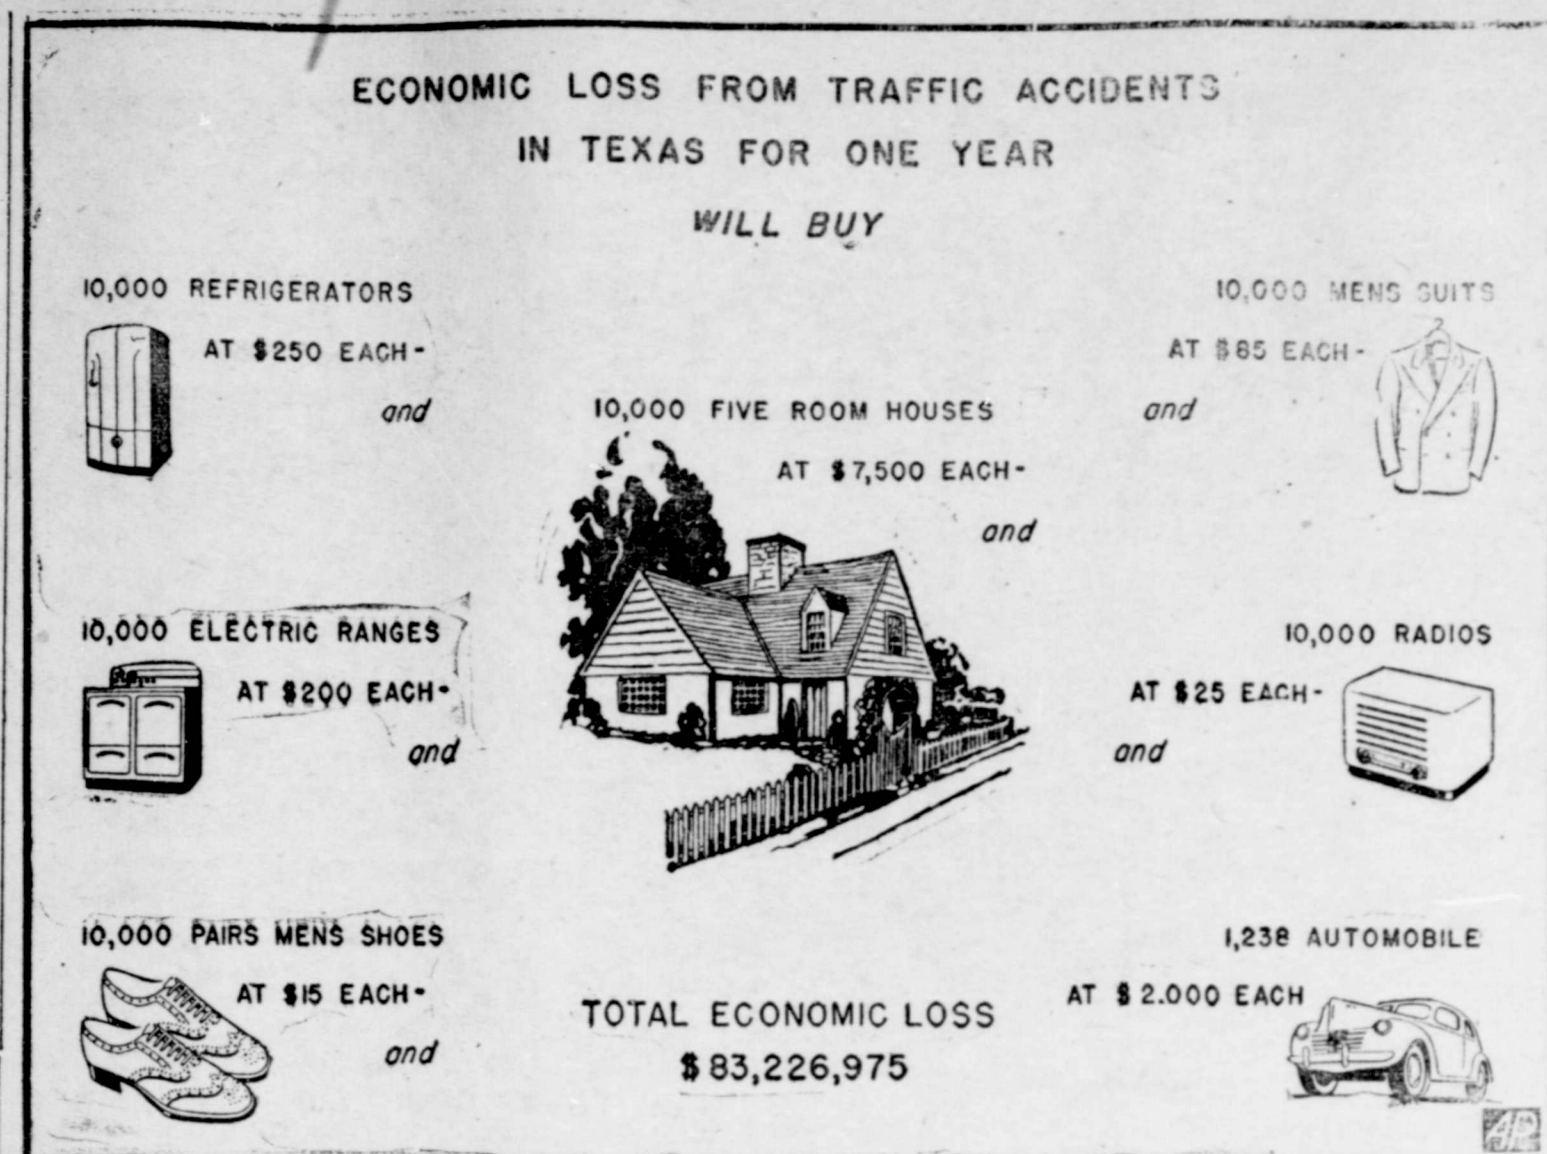

If the limited scale operations in the East prove profitable, the Texan plans to ship 5,000 to 10,000 or more head annually and contract with more land owners back here for use of their pastures. He flew over and inspected a 150,000 acre tract of land in North Carolina and is keeping it in mind for leasing. It's timber and marsh lands along the Atlantic coast.

One of the obvious advantages of fattening cattle in this part of the county, he pointed out, is the fact that they would be near the big cities and the shipping savings would be considerable.

While here Finley called on his new congressman, Rep. Lloyd Bentsen of McAllen. He also went to the Agriculture Department to urge action on plans to build a foot-and-mouth disease research laboratory. The law authorizing the project provides it shall be on an island, but so far no site has been selected.

Former Roosevelt Fishing Guide Writes On Fishing

Corpus Christi, June (AP)—Barney Farley, the renowned fishing guide who once piloted President Franklin D. Roosevelt to a catch of several Tarpon, has written a book.

Farley was a guide for the President when Mr. Roosevelt fished at Port Aransas before the second world war. Farley has retired as a guide but has other interests.

"Barney Farley's Fishing Facts", is the title of the 89-page, paper backed volume which Farley wrote in collaboration with "Trader Jack" Lozier.

In a foreword, Farley says: "You can teach an army mule how to do any one thing in about 40 years. Hell, I'm a smart as an army mule and since I have been fishing 40 years I know a little about fishing. The reader will gather information on just one thing—how to catch fish. I will

Tech To Have Soft Ball Field

LUBBOCK, June 7—Night softball games on the Texas Tech campus will result from the parting gift of Texas Tech's 1949 graduating class.

It is the custom of each graduating class leave a memorial on the campus. This year the class presented a check for over $1,000 to purchase lights for a softball field.

"This is something we have needed badly," Director O. B. Ratliff, Lubbock, told Francis Brockman, Carlsbad, N. M., class president, in accepting the gift.

Work on the field will be started as soon as possible, college officials said.

attempt to pass on to the reader in simple and everyday language, some of the know-how about fishing I have picked up over 40 years along this coast."

And that is what Farley did in his book. It is crammed with information about fish and how to bring'em home.

NEW STARTING TIME

1st Show—8:15 P. M.

2nd Show—10:00 P. M.

Washington's social life is not made up completely of cocktail parties and banquets.

A picture of the home life of a congressman is given in an account written by Rep. Bentsen for newspapers in his Rio Grande Valley district. Telling of a visit to his newly-bought home by a Texas colleague, he wrote:

"Speaker Rayburn might find himself subject to a suit for alienation of affections.

"At dinner the other night the Speaker thoroughly won over our youngest son, Lan, age two. The Speaker and Lan retired to a corner all by themselves and fed each other popcorn. After they downed a couple of boxes between them, we finally managed to put an end to the gustatory performance by threatening to call the Speaker about midnight to walk the floor with Lan and the stomach ache he was bound to have. We didn't have to make good our threat, because Lan didn't have the tummy ache."

WORK WELL DONE

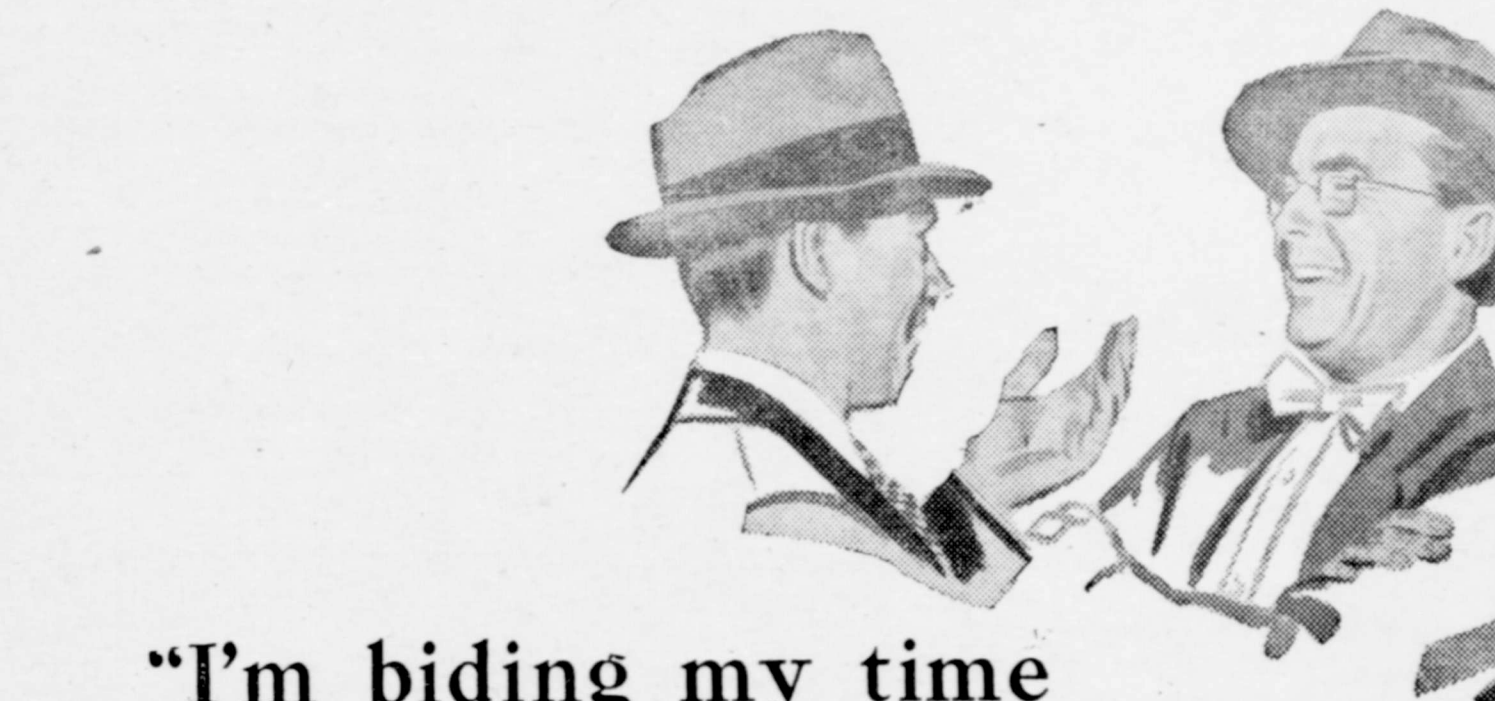

LUBBOCK, June 9—After working for a telephone company since the war to keep her GI husband in Texas Tech, a young Lubbock woman in formal engraved announcements has advised friends:

"Mrs. Worth A. Zachary finally announces (with pleasure and relief) the graduation of her husband from Texas Technological college on May Thirtieth, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-nine."

Zachary, accounting major, entered Texas Tech in 1942 and took time out to serve in the Marines during the late war.

News From The Service Office

World War II Veterans are entitled to non-service connected benefits the same as veterans of World War I. (Example) A veteran served as long as 90 days or longer and was honorably discharged from World War II and good health. Since becoming disabled at the time of discharge was in charged, has become totally and permanently disabled, caused from a disease or injury, such as T. B., broken back, etc., from which he is unable to pursue a gainful occupation, for the support of himself and family. Then in this case he is eligible from the V. A. for a non-service pension and will receive the sum of $60.00 per month. After drawing this amount for a period of ten years, then his pension will be increased to $72.00 per month. During the past five years there has been from Terry County and surrounding vicinity about nine veterans who are at present drawing non-service pensions. Veterans of all wars are eligible for hospitalization, and regardless of cost or time spent in hospitals, it is the obligation of the V. A. to render this service to the qualified veterans.

In order for a veteran to receive the above benefits it will be necessary for him to prove that he has attempted to work, but because of his disabilities, was unable to do so. He must have definite proofs of all time lost from his job, on account of the disease or injury and specific proofs that he cannot follow a gainful occupation. It is also required that his disability is 60 per cent or more, and be determined by the V. A. that the disability will be permanent.

Under the Act of June 3, 1936, postmasters are not authorized to forward checks from one post office to another. That is, checks from any government agency, mailed to a veteran or a dependent where the address has been changed.

Your local county service officer has plenty of forms for a change of address and will be glad to assist you in making the change of address for you.

Office hours: 8:00 a. m. to 12 noon; 1:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m., every day but Saturday afternoon. We close on Saturday at noon.

Phone 247-M; office ground floor Court House, Brownfield, Texas. Every one is invited to contact the service office on any matter that is of interest to you.

BROWNFIELD HAS RECEIVED 12.91 INCHES OF RAIN IN '49

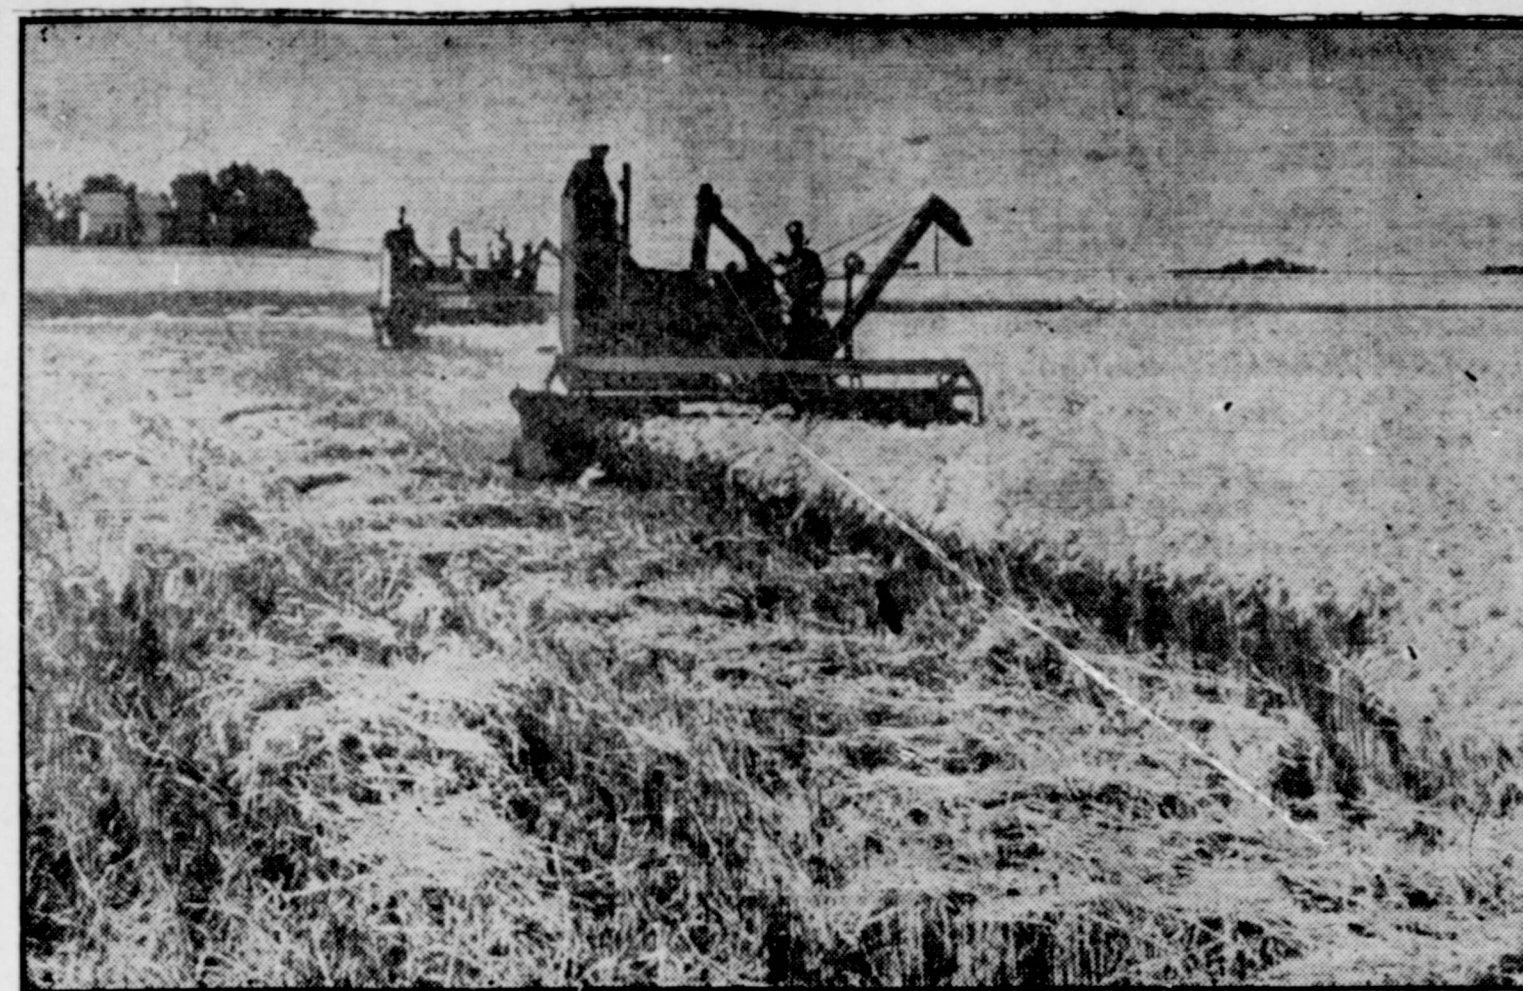

According to the United States Government rain gauge situated at the Herald Office, 12.91 inches of rain have fallen in Brownfield since January 1, 1949. This is much more than the entire rainfall in Brownfield during 1948.

O. E. Hillhouse, from over in the Tokio section, was in the office Tuesday and reported that 1.16 inches of rain fell in that vicinity Sunday night. And on Monday night, three eighths of an inch fell. No hail accompanied the rain, but there was quite a wind that caused a little damage. Mr. Hillhouse has 200 acres of cotton up.

Rainfall in Terry County has been generally heavy, with the entire area averaging possibly 10 or 12 inches since January 1.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ellington of the Johnson community were in the past week and reported their daughter, Mrs. Eileen Carson's health seems to be improving. She is still in a steel brace but able to walk.

Jimmy Wood, Church of Christ preacher, went to Bowie, Texas, Wednesday after his wife and little daughter, Charlotte Marie, who had been visiting her mother.

CUTTING BUMPER TEXAS CROP—Although daily thunderstorms throughout the Texas wheat belts delayed cutting this year's crop, harvesting has finally gotten underway. Above, two combines start cutting wheat yielding from 30 to 35 bushels per acre on the farm of Les Pennington at Guyer, Tex.

PROTECTED BY CLASS—Tomato plants of D. J. Palumbo, of Dunmore, Pa., were sheltered from fatal chilling this year by a novel idea. One-gallon glass jugs with the bottoms removed were placed over the plants without a stepper. Jugs were removed as soon as the temperature climbed to a safe point.

TAKE ME OUT TO THE BALL GAME: SUNDAY

The Brownfield Bears will meet the Levelland Refiners on the local diamond at 2:30 Sunday, June 12. The Bears are still looking for a win, having dropped last Sunday's game to Denver City 23-8.

Denver City leads the Oil Belt League with six wins and one loss. Seagraves is second with seven wins and three losses, and Levelland is third with five wins and three losses.

Teams next in standing are Post with five to four, Sundown with five and five, Slaton with five and five, and Tahoka with three and four. Brownfield stands at the bottom with no wins and eleven losses.

JUNIORS TO OPEN SEASON TODAY

The American Legion Junior Baseball club will open their season today (Friday) at 2 p. m., at the local Jaycee baseball diamond. They will tangle with Morton.

Opening the season, the younger team will play the Morton team, with the older teams of the two towns playing after the first game.

No admission will be charged, according to Bob Beal, Bear pitcher and manager of the junior teams.

The junior club is going over big, with many youngsters participating in practice. The teams practice every day at the local diamond.

lege and realized its possibilities and materially aided in its development. No better good Christian citizens can be found anywhere in West Texas."

Mr. and Mrs. Bennett recently gave 1,600 acres of land to ACC and the royalties from it have financed the building of Bennett Gymnasium at the Abilene school.

Mr. Bennett is a long time member of the board of trustees of ACC and is now vice president of the board.

Mr. Bennett, on whose ranch now there are 179 producing wells comprising the Bennett district of the Wasson field of Gaines and Yoakum counties almost lost the land in 1935 before the oil was discovered on it. In fact, on the day that foreclosure was scheduled, the first was brought in and since then thousands of dollars have been realized from the wells, generous amounts of which Mr. and Mrs. Bennett had contributed to their church and its various activities.

George W. Dupre and C. C. Crenshaw of Lubbock, and Bob Huff of Lamesa attended district court here Wednesday.

J. Fred Bucy, Jr., and wife and baby, have moved back to Brownfield for the summer. He attends Texas Tech during the regular school year.

Picturesque... But a Construction Obstacle!

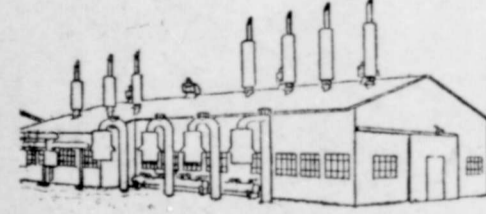

West Texas has some of the most beautiful country in the world. Beautiful fields of wheat, cotton and many other crops that help feed and clothe the nation... and, too, it has picturesque canyons, rocky terrain, sunken lakes around which cattle graze and many other beautiful scenes comparable to any that a world traveler could describe.

Although beautiful—they are pipe line construction obstacles.

To maintain good gas service, pipe line construction and maintenance and repair crews cross many canyons and other natural obstacles.

This year we will invest $2,225,000.00 to build new pipe lines and other facilities. Several miles of these new lines will be laid in solid rock. This means dynamite crews will have to clear a ditch for the lines, but this will be but one of many construction obstacles they will overcome.

Pipe line construction and pipe line maintenance and repair are but few of many functions of West Texas Gas Company... all of which are designed to furnish good gas service, high in quality, low in price... the best bargain in your family budget.

Other facilities besides pipe lines are necessary to furnish good gas service.

West Texas Gas Company operates seven compressor stations to maintain movement of natural gas through the more than 1,700 miles of transmission and distribution lines.

GEE GEE'S CHIT-CHAT

We were out to look over the new bleachers at the Jaycee's rodeo arena the other day, and they are really nice. Saw something that would have made headlines two-three years ago — a drowned rat. Not unusual these days, though. As a matter of fact, we examine our toes every night when removing our shoes to see if we've developed web feet yet.

Enough about the weather. It's beginning to pall. C. L. Hafer, manager of the West Texas Gas Company, has had to have a new sidewalk laid in front of the office. Too many feet had trod the old one, we guess, and it finally wore out. You know the old saying—death, and taxes, and the gas bill.

Shaving permits have shot up. Some of the more fastidious members of the male sex have had to give up their beards—and their five bucks.

While reading an article by a weather man (with tongue in cheek, too, we might add) the other day, we noted that tornado winds and conditions usually exist a period of 46 days. We can hardly believe the guy knows what he's talking about, but if he does, we don't have long to sweat out the tornadoes, thank goodness. This is really the end of the weather talk.

The Old He is gone to Tennessee and since we're the newest member of the Herald staff, we get to read some of his mail while he is away. Received a card from a Seagraves reader racking him back for rubbing it in on the Seagraves ball club for losing a game to Denver City a couple of weeks back to the tune of 16 to 0. The "author unknown" said "at least it's (Seagraves) not at the bottom of the league as some other "city" that can be named. This writer will not even attempt a comeback, but will leave it to the old experienced hand. We hear you talking, but can't QUITE see you.

Are your plans made to attend the rodeo June 23-25?

Beauty experts say that eye-brows are one of the most expressive features and much reflected feeling or emotion can be hidden when they are covered by glasses.

Home made cake, ice cream, and punch were served to the eight members and one visitor, Mrs. W. R. Gandy of Lorenzo.

TOWN BUILDERS

C. L. (Abe) Lincoln, a resident of Brownfield since 1927, is a relative of Abraham Lincoln, his grandfather and Abraham Lincoln being first cousins.

Abe came to Brownfield as a representative of Southwestern Life Insurance Company, and believes he pioneered the insurance field in this part of the country.

He filled out the term of R. A. Sims as county judge and was re-elected to that office for three terms, resigning in October of 1945 to become the Terry County Service Officer. He still serves in that capacity, and is a tireless worker for the cause of veterans.

A member of the VFW, American Legion, Marine Corps League, Masonic Lodge, and the Veterans Service Officers' Association, Mr. Lincoln also holds an appointment by the governor of Texas to the Texas Centennial of Statehood Commission. He is a member of the First Christian church.

Mr. Lincoln is married and has four children, Lejeune, Berlon, Vernon, and Theda Fern.

summer when her mother is busy with other work Betty Jo prepares the meals for the family. Betty Jo also bakes. Already she has baked twenty-three cakes, twenty-eight dozen cookies, and fifty-two pies.

The other 4-H club girl from this county also has an interesting record. Patsie Scales is president of the Wellman club and is the sponsor for the grade school girls' 4-H club in Wellman. Patsie is now in her fourth year of 4-H Club work. She has made twenty-nine garments, and helped her mother and sister can five hundred and forty-four quarts of food valued at $188.01 with a saving of $128.83. She has fifty-nine chickens she has raised and cares for them herself. Patsie has helped paint the family kitchen, bathroom and dining room at a cost of $10.83. She lead singing in District Training Camp and State Conservation Camp for 4-H members held in Trinidad last August. She graduated from high school this year with the highest grade average in her class. When Patsie reaches A. & M., she will try-out in singing and leading group singing. These try-outs will be Monday night of next week. These summaries help to show why these two girls were chosen to attend Round-Up.

Mrs. Moore is the adult 4-H girls' leader of the Wellman 4-H Club. She will be the adult leader to go with Patsie and Betty Jo to State Round-Up. The program for the Round-Up is June 13th-15th.

Mrs. P. M. Williams and daughter, Bobby, left Wednesday morning for California where they will visit Mrs. Williams' sister, Mrs. Bob Shewmaker.

Residents in the southeast section of town are complaining of so many mosquitos they have to spray their bedrooms before going to bed. Maybe constant spraying will eliminate them, but we not from our exchanges that some towns are discontinuing the use of DDT as a spray and are using another, as it is claimed flies build up a resistance to DDT, and too, the new spray kills all kinds of insects.
 Quite a youngster was seen on the streets alone about 1 a. m. Friday morning. He looked to be seven or eight, not any older and was trying to ride a small child's bicycle but his legs were most too short—and smoking a cigaret. Us older generation were really born thirty years too soon or is it thirty years too late.

Caesar's Mead

From the Dallas (Texas) Morning News
 If President Truman doesn't watch his step, he is going to lead the public to believe that his phenomenal victory last November has gone to his head. His deliberate ignoring of the Dixiecrat Governors during the inaugural parade might be understood. There is a certain amount of love of revenge in most humans and Truman is very human. But recently he has been "taking in a lot of territory." He has purged, gone "byrd" hunting and now criticizes some of his best friends, including Speaker Rayburn, for not going all out for repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.
 It was the President's criticism of Congressional leaders that was featured in the press dispatches from Washington. But the best

PANHANDLE RESIDENT WRITES TO THE ED

Mrs. Bill Chaffin of Twitty, Texas, up in the Panhandle, wrote in this week to renew her subscription to the Herald. She writes that she spends most of her time running to the cellar or watching the clouds, but that she'd rather do without her morning cup of cowtee than miss the Herald.

Mealtine Marvels
 Creole Shrimp
 Connoisseurs the world over have acclaimed famous New Orleans creole shrimp. It is a taste-luxury that isn't quickly forgotten. Give your family and guests your own version of the pungent delicacy, and you'll be rewarded with compliments and requests for a repeat performance.
 Creole Shrimp
 1/2 cup fortified margarine
 3 tablespoons flour
 1 small clove garlic
 1 sliced onion
 2 lbs. shrimp
 salt and pepper
 1 small can tomato paste
 2 green peppers
 2-3 cups hot water
 Make a roux with the margarine and flour. Brown to a rich golden brown. Add the onions and garlic and brown lightly. Now put in the shrimp, salt, and pepper. Stir with a wooden spoon until every shrimp is thoroughly coated with the roux and none is left in the frying pan. Add the tomato paste and chopped green pepper. Stir about 15 minutes over a moderate heat. Push the shrimp to one side of the pan and slowly add 1/2 cup of hot water. Do not stir the shrimp; turn heat very low and cook 10 to 15 minutes. Stir; add slowly 1 1/2 cups hot water. Taste for seasoning and add more salt and pepper if needed. Cook very slowly for one hour. Serve with rice.

STRICKLINLY SPEAKING

Stricklinly speaking the Old He is away this week and we are going to give you one of the finest columns in this column that you ever had the pleasure reading now don't get us wrong for we are presenting:
 Clyde Warwick.
Unfortunate Of Texas Getting Mighty Poor Public Support
 Most of us have the attitude that the insane of Texas and those thousands of other wards of the state who cannot speak for themselves, are not worthy of the time and efforts put forth by the state to care for that class. They are the forgotten and the neglected, except in cases of an interested family.
 Governor Jester seems to be forced from his position of no new taxes because of this critical condition which exists in the elementary institutions.
 He has evidently been sold on the needs of these unfortunate people, many of whom are without friends or families. He says that most of the buildings housing these people are little more than fire traps. The care offered by the state is far below par.
 Of course it is a fine thing for the state of Texas to have big wonderful office buildings, and pay good wages to those who are on the front where folks can look them over. Those who labor with unfortunates behind the scenes are entitled to more consideration.
 As usual, the position of the Governor in the matter of taxation is pretty hard to fathom. One day he is on; the next day off all new taxation. We shall have to await his definite stand, if he ever takes one. —Clyde Warwick, Canyon News.

Federal Aid, Pooh!

From The Panhandle (Texas) Herald.
 Congress is about to pass a $300,000,000 measure to give Federal "aid" to education. It is enough to make one say "Pooh."
 Any one knows that Americans support the Federal Government and it has no money except what it collects from the people. By the time that the Federal Government undergoes its collection expenses, you can be assured that the States will not receive the funds they expect.
 Dispatches already indicate that Texas and Oklahoma are dissatisfied with the proposed Federal pay-off. These States are supposed to have incomes below the national averages; yet they will not even receive an across the board allotment from this Federal bill.
 But this should be expected when the Federal Government messes in state affairs. It should take care of Federal projects and keep its hands off State business.

BIRTH OF A VOLCANO

Steam rising from a snowcapped mountain in South America indicates the discovery of a hitherto unknown volcano atop Cerro de Parinacota, a peak rising to a height of 20,768 feet, exactly on the border between Bolivia and Chile.
 It looks like Texas is going to do a lot for education through the Gilmer-Aiken Bill.
 Already you read about Washington wanting to take a greater hand in college education. Yep, Washington is edging a little further into education and it won't be too many years before Uncle Sam will be running schools from kindergarten to graduate work.

THE FEDERAL PROPOSITION

The Federal proposition began some years ago with vocational teaching and now those Washington boys want to call the tune more and more in the local fields. Texas and other States had better wake up right now. The Federal Government will be regimenting the students, telling them what they can study if this aid from the top isn't stopped.

thing in the dispatch was what pro-Truman Lesinski, chairman of the House labor committee, said: "Legislation is up to the House members, not the President." Has Mr. Truman forgot about the constitutional separation of the powers of government? Or can it be that he has never known?
