Record Made By 'March of Dimes'

A record total of $25,728,000 was raised in the 1949 March of Dimes to continue the fight on polio, it was announced today by Jack Bailey, chairman of the Terry-Yoakum County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The comparable figure for last year was $21,600,000.

Mr. Bailey disclosed results of the 1949 March of Dimes appeal following the receipt of a letter from Basil O'Connor, president of National Foundation, who expressed his thanks to the American people and the thousands of volunteers throughout the country who made the drive the most outstanding in the organization's history.

Mr. O'Connors letter to the local chapter chairman declared that despite the record making drive "the need for funds to fight polio still remains extremely critical" because of the unusually severe epidemics experienced in recent years.

"Last year's epidemic, the worst in 32 years, exhausted reserves of the National Foundation," Mr. O'Connor disclosed in his letter. "In the five year period ended in 1948, the 96,974 cases of Infantile Paralysis recorded in the nation were more than double the 47,738 cases reported in the preceding five year period. At the same time, research to find a cure or preventative for the disease has been stepped up to the limit of our resources. Now that many hopeful signs are beginning to appear on the research horizon, we cannot relax our effort in this direction."

"With epidemic reserves accumulated."

Weather: Sublime To The Ridiculous

Perhaps you older chaps remember reading Mark Twain's description of the weather in New England. It was in this article that the great humorist brought out the well known phrase: "Everybody talks about the weather but nobody does anything about it." But Sunday night the 12th seems to have smoothed off the wet cycle. We have had little precipitation since.

But you can put this down in your book Friday 24th gave us a whole of a dust storm, with the wind up to 90 to nothing. Just about everything loose at both ends, including a lot of real estate was "up in the air." And we were told that a lot of folks from the cyclonic areas got a bit jittery. One man says the shingles on a neighboring house he could occasionally see through the window, looked liked they were raised knee high at times to flap back in place after a hard gust.

But up to date this year we have received 15.05 inches of rain here in Brownfield, compared to the all year record last year of 9.74 inches. We had 5.69 in May and 4.07 to now in June, which passed last years rainfall.

The high winds Friday night June 24 injured a lot of crops, and had it blown an hour longer, the destruction would have been immense.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS IMPORTANT MEETING FOR LEGION THURSDAY NIGHT

Installation of officers is the main event on the slate, with an important business meeting following. Refreshments will be served.

To be installed for the forthcoming year will be Al Muldrow, Commander; Dr. W. A. Roberson, first Vice-Commander; Dr. A. H. Daniel, Second Vice-Commander; "Tiny" Nelson, Third Vice-Commander; and "Stuffy" Moorhead, Finance Officer.

RONNIE COATES FUND STILL GROWING

Late Wednesday morning, figures showed that the Ronnie Coates Fund stands at $296.60. Ronnie, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Coates, is stricken with Leukemia, a rare disease of the blood stream.

Ronnie was returned home from a Lubbock Hospital last week, but has to be taken back at intervals to receive blood transfusions. His parents report that, although weak, Ronnie is still holding his own.

If you would like to help Ronnie's cause, you may leave your donations with one of the tellers at the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co.

Lonesome Old Town Here Monday, 4th

There was very little business open here Monday. One drug store where the busses stop, one or two eating places, and a few others that had jobs that had to go on, the fourth or not. We saw men of the contracting force wetting down the foundation cement of the new State Bank and Trust Co.

Otherwise the old town was deserted as the proverbial mining town. It would not of been a great deal of trouble to count the cars on the streets at any time. Also a lot of them forgot to put out their flags. It was just as well, as there was not many to look at them anyway.

Where did they go? Now that is a fair question, but we have no idea. Perhaps some took off to the mountains, some to lakes, and some just visited the kin. Then perhaps there were some playing golf here at home, watering the lawn, mending the screens, etc., and never even left town.

But up to this writing, so far as we can find out none were killed or even seriously hurt, and all or practically all, were on the job Tuesday morning.

LOCAL MAN WINS "FARM IDEA PRIZE"

For submitting the winning entry in Continental Oil Company's National monthly contest for "farm ideas," O. L. Blackwell, of Route No. 1, Brownfield, Texas, has been awarded a car and given national recognition. Blackwell's entry, illustrating how to prevent a four-wheel trailer from "whipping" by fastening a coil spring from the tie rod arm to the axle, will appear in Continental's advertisement, The Tank Truck, in many of the prominent farm journals of the nation. Farm papers carrying the Conoco ad and Blackwell's winning idea include the July issue of Farm and Ranch and a dozen other periodicals.

Blackwell was presented the prize by Conoco Agent Roy M. Herod, of Brownfield.

Providing A Center For Migratory Labor

The idea of providing a place of recreation and amusement for the Spanish speaking people who come here in the fall to help gather the crops, is like Mark Twain, weather. A lot is said but a little done about the matter. Now at long last, it seems that the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce has actually rolled up its sleeves and aim to do something about this matter in a business like way.

Of course Brownfield and other cities in this area where much more cotton is raised than local forces can gather, have provided makeshift places for these workers. But it was just a kind of shelter in the time of storm. A place to get inside to keep from freezing, should the weather turn nasty during the fall. Of course the man from, or below the border might talk or take a siesta. But there was no manner of amusement for the man that was a stranger in our midst.

Other than some form of amusement and maybe reading matter, as we understand, a radio and a record player will be provided, as well as a cafe or restaurant, with foods the Spanish speaking folks like best. There will be some who care nothing about such matters. Many others will like this arrangement.

Of course these people rather speak Spanish than English. The why or wherefore is none of our affair. Even the Texas raised Mexican rather speak the language of their fathers, and that is their affair, not ours.

The idea is that they have come a long way into a land of strangers to help our farmers gather their crops, and where the citizenship is predominantly English speaking. But they are mostly good, reliable laborers, and we need them.

Mrs. David Mills of Seminole, visited her mother, Mrs. Nannie Hamilton Tuesday.

FURR FOOD HAS NEW ASSISTANT

New assistant manager at Furr Food Store is S. J. (Mack) McGilbreay, who has been transferred from Furr's Odessa store. He worked in the Odessa store for six months.

A veteran of World War II, he was in the service for 3 1-3 years. One year of that was spent overseas, where he chalked up 35 mission over Germany, holding the rank of Technical Sergeant. McGilbreay has been married for five years and they have one son, Michael. At the present, the family is living in a tourist court, but they would like a house or apartment.

The Passing Of Bill Crowder

At the ripe old age of 83, thirteen years beyond the allotted three score and ten, (Bill) W. S. Crowder, passed on to that country from which pioneers never return, on June 23rd, 1949. He passed away at the home of a son in Memphis, Texas, where he had been during his last illness. Bill had been rather feeble the last few years. When he came to town at all, it would be to the barber shop, while his faithful companion did the shopping.

When Bill Crowder and family came to this country, he was an especially good old time fiddler, playing the old fashioned breakdown and the fine old waltzes in a commendable way. He won several first prize contests at picnics here in the early days.

Survivors, including his wife, were one daughter, Mrs. Bob Scott, of Memphis, and five sons; F. D. of Seagraves; W. L. of Memphis; O. E. of Albuquerque, N. M.; H. L. and H. A. of Wellman. Also 17 grand children.

The subject of this sketch was born at Sulphur Springs, Texas, and was married to Nannie Ada Thomas Feb. 18, 1890. She passed away July 29, 1909. The children were all born to this union, including an infant that preceeded him in death. His second marriage was to Nannie Fowler, who survives.

Funeral services were held at Memphis, at a funeral home. Burial in Lakeview Cemetery.

Sundown Noses Bears In Double Header

The Brownfield Bears are still sitting on the floor in the Oil Belt League, but gave Sundown a run for her money in an exciting double header played at the local diamond Sunday.

In the first game, Sundown drew blood in the first inning with two runs, but Brownfield finally tied up the game in the fifth inning after getting one run in the third and one in the fifth. It looked like it might end in a tie until the first of the seventh, when Sundown ran in three more tallies. The Bears scored one more in the last of the seventh, but the game ended 5 and 3, with Sundown on top.

At the end of the second game, the score stood Sundown 2, Bears 0. As in the first game, Sundown popped in two scores in the first inning and no more scores were made for either team during the rest of the game.

WAC Recruiter to Be Here Wednesday

Cpt. Carpenter, Women's Army Air Corps, will be in Brownfield Recruiting Station Wednesday, July 13, from 1 P. M. to 4 P. M. for the purpose of interviewing any woman that may be interested in the Woman's Air Force or the Woman's Army Corps. Sgt. Carnes, local recruiting officer, announced Tuesday.

Women in the army have the same advantages as army men have—good pay, medical care, yearly vacation with pay, round the world travel, and retirement after 20 years or more service.

If you are 18 years of age, and not more than 34 years of age, make it a point to see Captain Carpenter during her visit at your local recruiting station, located on the second floor of the county courthouse.

NO DAMAGE DONE BY FIRE SATURDAY

The local fire department was called out to squelch a fence fire at the Robt. Noble home Saturday at about 3:30 P. M. but flames had been gotten under control by the time firemen arrived on the scene. Practically no damage was done by the fire.

Mrs. Bill Lowe visited her sister, Mrs. R. E. Bratten and son, Bratten, at Post over the fourth, when all the Bratten children were home for a reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lowe will leave Sunday for Ruidoso, to spend several days.

INSECT CONTROL IS OF HIGH INTEREST TO FARM PRODUCERS

Approximately 105 farmers in this county attended a meeting held in the county court room at 8:00 P. M. the 27th to hear Mr. Guy Carpenter of Lubbock, south plains entomologist, speak on the different cotton insects and their control. The lecture was accompanied by illustrations by slide and moving picture.

Jack Cleveland, county agent, reports that he hopes to be able to have Mr. Carpenter return soon and give another demonstration. Cleveland reports that, although the grasshoppers are almost under control, the insects at this time of the year are worse than he has ever seen them.

Main dangers lie with the fleashoppers, that are hurting the bigger cotton. Fleashoppers eat the tiny squares of the cotton. Other insects and worms that are doing quite a lot of damage are careless worms, that eat the green pigment from the leaves; boll worms, that eat everything about the cotton; climbing cutworms, that eat the tops of the cotton; and the cabbage looper, that eats holes in leaves.

So far there is no way to tell the extent of the damage, since the insects migrate and the area is spotted, with more in some places.

Cleveland stated that a 10 percent strength of DDT should control the insects. If any farmers need help with control of their insects, your county agent will be glad to help you in any way he can.

BR-R-R! Frost In Alaska June 24th

A parcel post package arrived Wednesday from Miss Hazel Goldston. She inclosed the Star (the 49th) a 16 page tabloid sized daily, as well as a personal letter. She wanted us to see the Anchorage, Alaska, Sunday, published by the Anchorage Times Publishing Co.

We found many things of interest in the paper, and that much progress is under way in the territory that has the ambition of becoming the 49th State in this Union. One of particular interest was a scene behind the Bolshevik iron curtain. The photograph, taken from an island belonging to Uncle Sam, showed a fog bound island that belongs to Joe Stalin's domain.

Another impressive article was about a cow moose that invaded the domain of the postmistress of a small town, Kaslof, and gave chase to her chickens and pup. The lady went to the rescue, but was promptly chased into the house. By the way, the paper was fairly well patronized by advertisers, a third of which were beer and liquor ads.

In her personal communication, she alleged that they had lots of rain this spring, and a lot of high wind. A light frost in the night of June 24th. Imagine that? And there is only one hour at present when the sun can't be seen, and if you don't get your shuteye then, says Hazel, just too bad.

She says the Herald is coming in regularly, and she gets a kick out of news from her old home, which is a "fur piece." From what we can learn, Alaska is a long sight nearer qualified for statehood than Hawaii. They tell us the later is running a high temperature toward communism.

BUILDING PERMITS

A building permit was issued to M. M. Hand this week to build a 14x14 bedroom on his residence at 613 North A street, at a cost of $600. This was the only permit issued.

Herman Wheatly Brings In First Cotton Blooms

V. H. (Herman) Wheatly again gets the free years subscription to the Herald for bringing in the first cotton blooms of the season. Others may have blooms, but we don't know it. One of the blooms, a red one, brought in the 2nd would indicate that Herman beat the 4th of July by three or four days. There were several white blooms.

While he brought in the first blooms last year he did not get the first bale premium. A Union community man beat him to it. Mr. Wheatly stated that he had 160 acres in and along the draw just north of Johnson store and gin the size of the samples. It is the famous Northern Star variety.

Mr. Wheatly stated that just about every kind of worm and insect was working on it, possibly the leaf or careless worm, and perhaps some fleahoppers. Yes, he had noticed not a few grasshoppers, especially near where pasture and fields meet.

This was verified by Mr. Dyer of the Union community, who stated that he and son had chopped cotton for a neighbor last week, and saw quite a few of the old big jumbo, crawling variety.

Other farmers that we quizzed Saturday, also reported insects and worms, and believed that poisoning would have to be resorted to. We heard of one farmer that did not have the desired results from poison he bought. A few years ago a poor grade of poison was shipped in here that was no more potent than that much dirt.

KNOWLEDGE AND WISDOM

Then New York Times recently printed a report on the findings of a distinguished chemist to the effect that the world can support a population of 15,000,000,000 if we make the most of our chemical knowledge. He further predicted that meat and eggs will disappear from the diet, because a beef steer converts only about 12 per cent of its food into meat. Chemistry, he went on, will enable us to convert wood into sugar for human consumption.

Shortly afterwards, the Times published a letter from a doctor emphatically disagreeing with this theory. His purpose, he wrote, was to point to the pitfall in talking knowledge obtained in the field of chemistry and applying it to human nutrition without considering facts obtained in clinical medicine. Then he said: "Research in human nutrition during recent years definitely indicates the superiority of animal protein foods, such as meat and eggs, over all foods. Further, there is a strong evidence indicating that sugars are not only inferior foods but may also be harmful to the human organism."

"The researcher in chemistry knows little or nothing of clinical medicine. It is not expected that he should. Clinical researchers are not expected to be chemists. Specialization is a necessity. However, the stores of knowledge gained from highly specialized fields of research must be applied with the wisdom that comes with broad knowledge and understanding."

For many years, optimistic accounts of the possibilities of ersatz foods made from wood and other materials have appeared at intervals. None of these products have come anywhere near expectations. The animal protein

Cutting Two Ways

According to Washington reports, Congress is looking at much proposed new legislation with a wary and critical eye. This is largely the result of the decline in business activity and national income, coupled with the attendant rise in unemployment. Most of the lawmakers seem more eager than in the past to refrain from passing measures which might further rock the economic boat.

One suggested law which falls into this category, would nearly double the present minimum wage, would eliminate certain exceptions to the law which have been in effect for years, and would place other restrictions on both employer and employee. Superficially, the measure would seem sure to improve the lot of the lowest-paid workers. Actually, there is good reason for believing that it would do just the opposite. For the most part, the minimum wage directly affects only the unskilled, the marginal worker, the beginner, and the part-time worker. The value of these workers to the employer is very limited. If the law required him to pay them more than their productive worth, he would necessarily employ as few of them as possible.

This would be particularly noticeable in enterprises such as retailing, which offer many opportunities for beginners and occasional workers. The typical retailer really has to watch the pennies now if he is to make both ends meet. The consensus of experts in the field is that too high a minimum wage, along with other restrictions, would lead to widespread layoffs.

Unwise social legislation can be a two-edged sword, that will hurt those it is designed to help.

foods occupy a dominant place in the American diet, and nothing has appeared to dislodge them.

New AG Courses Offered At Tech

Lubbock, July 5. —Among the new agricultural courses to be offered at Texas Technological college this fall will be farm law and advanced agricultural statistics in the agricultural and economics department. Also there will be two courses of graduate level in animal husbandry.

The two new courses offered in the animal husbandry department are marketing of eggs and dairy cattle breeding. The first will include all phases of handling and testing eggs as well as final market responsibility and best transportation and storage facilities.

The second will concern the techniques of artificial breeding to build up individual dairy herds.

Economic Highlights

As Felix Morley points out in "Nation's Business," we have so far taken three major steps in our effort to contain communism. The first was the Truman Doctrine, with its military aid to Turkey and Greece. Next came the Marshall Plan, now officially known as the European Recovery Program, with its multi-billion dollar economic aid to 15 Western European countries. Finally, we have the recently signed Atlantic Pact, whose purpose is to form a defense line in Europe to bar the red tide.

Mr. Morley writes, "Obviously these three steps form a series of hastily concocted emergency measures, impossible to dignify as a carefully planned policy. If the purpose was to contain communism within a certain geographical area, then we should have established eastern as well as western carriers. . . . The final debacle in China . . . is painful evidence that communism is not being contained. And if Asia goes red, the cost of subsidizing a line of independent outposts in western Europe will soon become prohibitive, even for the fabulous wealth of the United States."

It would be folly to minimize the reverse the western powers have received in China. At the same time, it is asy to exaggerate the possible immediate effects of the great victories the Chinese communist armies have won. A red China is a very different thing, for example, than a red France or a red Italy would be. The Chinese communists, so far as anyone can see, have neither the intention nor the means to do much for communism as a world-wide force. They have before them a staggering task—to attempt to organize, and to pull from the nether depths of poverty and depression a vast, over-populated nation which is largely illiterate, and measured by

OLD TITUS LIKES ITS MOONSHINE

The Texas Liquor Control Board Inspectors in May reported the seizure of 11 illicit stills.

With the stills, which had a cubic capacity of 455 gallons, Inspectors captured 1,140 gallons of mash and made 10 arrests. 10 gallons of moonshine liquor was destroyed.

Four stills were taken in Titus County, 2 in Grimes County, and 1 still each in the Counties of Henderson, Dallas, Harrison, Marion and Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whisnant of Socorro, N. M., have returned to their home after visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Homer Winston and family and other friends and relatives here for several days.

current western standards, is almost wholly primitive in living and outlook.

The main energy of the masses of the Chinese people is pretty much absorbed in seeking a place to live a daily ration of rice, some relief from murderous and unproductive toil. The past governments have been incredibly corrupt. Government officials, the warlords, the commercial interests—all have exploited the nation unmercifully. Going by reports from American businessmen and reporters in Shanghai since the communists took over, a real effort is being made to eliminate graft, and the old system under which no one could do business in China without bribes. At the same time, these reports emphasize that the new administrators are inexperienced, that it is difficult to find anyone with real responsibility, and that administrative problems are a long way from solution.

Communism is not being contained. But it is finding the way far from smooth.

PLAN ATLAS OF THE SKY—Dr. Edwin P. Hubble, well-known U. S. astronomer, puts the unique 48-inch Schmidt photographic telescope through its final series of rehearsals at Mt. Palomar, Calif., preparatory to a four-year astronomical mapping project. The survey will provide the first definitive photo atlas of the heavens. The Schmidt telescope, which covers a wide area, will operate in conjunction with the famed 200-inch Hale instrument. It would take the 200-inch telescope 5000 years to cover the same ground. Scientists expect to be kept busy for 50 years or more examining the results of the Schmidt survey.

One Tree We Are Going To Steal Some Time

When we go back to Tennessee, we spend a lot of time at the home of a nephew, Vernon Stricklin. This for several reasons. One, that he and family make our stay as pleasant as possible. Another that their table is loaded when we get there, and lastly, there are good beds to nap on. Those people were accused of telling little "white" lies by this writer. It's the same old story each time you are invited to the table: Nothing to eat."

In former years, this was a sad message. We expected to find corn pone and water. Now we take that message with a grain of salt, several grains in fact, as we find the table loaded with the best of eats. But we imagine our nephew sorta watches us about the time we get ready to leave for fear we'll take one of his big trees to Texas—may just be imagination, however.

Now Vernon and family live on his paternal grandad's old place, the old Jake Stevens Farm. Since we were a mere boy, there has been standing a "water" oak tree out in the horse lot. It wasn't too big when your writer was a lad, but is a whale now. While there he took plowlines and measured the tree about four feet above the ground. It was just shy 15 feet in circumference or 5 feet indiameter. It shades approximately 10 0feet at noon, and is not particularly noted for height.

The reason Vernon does not want us to get off with this tree for our own back yard, is that he can drive team and implement under it at noon, throw off the harness while the team and he eat, and cool and nice when he gets ready to hook the team on again.

We'll catch him napping one of these days when we go back there. There are a lot of other pretty trees around the place, but we want that "water" oak.

Shrub Tonic For Yellow Leaves

College Station—If you green-leaved shrubs have turned yellow about this time of year, give them a little tonic—tonic in the form of a quarter to half a pound of copperas and one pound of sulphur for every large shrub or small tree.

That's the advice of Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of Texas A. and M. College. This copperas-sulphur tonic will turn the leaves green again, like they should be. Fertilizers mixed with the soil at the same time will also help prevent further yellowing of leaves.

Here's something else that will help keep the plants going this summer. Spread a vegetable mulch around the shrubs to keep the roots from dryin gout when the summer temperatures soar, mulch holds moisture in the soil, making it available to plant roots. Miss Hat filed says. The mulch, spread over several square feet several inches thick, will gradually work itself into the ground.

Compost, grass cuttings, straw, or any kind of decaying plant material are all good, Miss Hatfield says. Grass cuttings furnish nitrogen and other plant foods. They also make the soil acid, making iron more available for plant use. This helps the leaves stay green, she concludes.

For Friends — Roamers — Countrymen —

QUITE literally, it's one car in a thousand—999 other cars take the road for every Estate Wagon Buick turns out.

But it's far more than something exclusive, as you'll soon see when one takes its place in your garage.

For those times, for instance, when house guests arrive—what smarter equipage could you send to the station, what greater comfort, what handier way to manage the luggage problem?

And when the Lord and Master yearns for a few days away from it all—what's handier than this nimble gadabout, that lets him fold down a back seat at nightfall and enjoy full-length double-bed sleeping space?

And that place in the country, calling for a car that can go just about everywhere, do just about everything . . .

Tone in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening

That's when you'll go for the ruggedness of this beauty with its steel framing, steel top and springs of durable, service-free coiled steel. That's when you'll go for Dynaflo Drive! too—and the steady, even, fluid pull that takes furrowed fields, rough pastures and narrow back roads with equal, shift-free ease.

In all truth, this is a star of many roles. Smart and sleek, finished like an express cruiser, it's a standout for style in any parking line-up, a family favorite for its quick readiness to take on any transportation job.

It's a buy, too, like all Buicks—and your dealer is offering pleasantly prompt delivery. Why not see him today about the car that both literally and figuratively is one in a thousand?

Two of President Truman's pet bills are probably dead for this session of congress, at least. They are the civil rights bill, so called, that was a sop to a minority race for the delivery of votes in areas where they held the balance of power. The fact is fast growing on people from other sections of the country other than the south, that such a law would be hard to enforce and cause more confusion than presently. In fact, there is no section of the country where such a law is enforced at present. Then, there was the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law, which was a must with the administration. But the Democrats of the south in coalition with the Republicans of the north, which together hold the balance of the votes, have killed any radical change in the law. Of course the labor union bosses have given notices that they like the T-H bill better than the Truman bill. And indicate they will have a better fighting chance to unseat some of their "enemies" in congress next year. Maybe so and maybe not. That remains to be seen, as it is an off year election, and the more conservative people usually cast a heavier vote at mid-term elections.

Some people contend that the Bible is 100 years behind the times, and has been outgrown by civilization. The writer receives a small four page tract monthly put out by a church at Brownwood, Texas. In the last issue, the minister gave one of the best refutations of the above, we have seen or heard in a long time. Briefly we are passing a bit of his arguments along to those who love the Bible and the church. For instance, up to the 19th century doctors practiced bleeding and frequently bled people to death, including President George Washington. But Moses 3500 years ago gave people the importance of blood to life. Read Gen. 9:4 and Lev. 17: 11-14. Again up to the 16th century, astronomers believed that the earth was stationary, and that the sun revolved around it. Galileo found the earth moved, but was persecuted by the priest for heresy. Read Job 38: 12-14 for a description of the earth's rotation. And the geologist up to the 15th century maintained that the earth was flat, and one could come to the "jumping off place". Some people in Columbus' time thought he was a crank when he stated that he could find a nearer way to Asia by sailing west. His only mistake was in the distance from Spain, west to Asia. Read Is. 40: 22. Last but not least, men seemed to know little about "paths" in the sea. Ships kept colliding while crossing the fog bound Atlantic, and the shipping interest appealed to Matthew Fountaine Maury, an avid Bible reader to help them. Maury remembered that David in the VIII Psalm spoke of the "paths" of the sea. Maury investigated and found two, the tide of one running from east to west and within 60 miles of it another that ran from west to east, between Europe and America. Now the ships that go east take one and the west bound another. This was in 1855, and the navy adopted the plan at once, and the private shipping interest later. The Bible still "furnishes man, completely, to every good work," and will continue to do so as long as this old world shall stand. A number of other good arguments for the supremacy of the Bible was noted, but the above will suffice.

We noted that a number of our good exchanges disregarded the telegram of Monday from the State Department at Austin, not to run the constitutional amendments again, as a new date was being set for the election, with perhaps the addition of other amendments. Likely the date for regular fall elections, which generally come the first Tuesday in November, will be the date set. The State proposed to pay for the one time the amendments had run, but not after the notice. So, the papers that ran them last week either wasted space, or wanted them for "space killers".

The Southern Textile News cites the fact in an article reprinted in the Southern Weekly, that there had been a 700 per cent wage increase in Georgia and the Carolina cotton mills in the past 35 years. In other words, in 1904 women spinners were getting 11c per hour, while the male weavers drew only 16c. Now the hourly wage is $1.15 and $1.30. While this is a radical increase, many other industries have shown equally as good increase. Not with strikes, as much as perhaps with better management seeing the need of the employee, and that better pay got better work. The very best of printers in 1904 drew only about $10 per week. Now its $90 and better. In 1900 farm workers got $8.35 per month, board and washing (clothes) in Tennessee, and $15 per month, board and washing in Texas. Now a farm hand will not look at you for less than $1.00 per hour.

The anti-segregation law got another blow Tuesday when the bill was defeated in Congress. According to Southern Weekly the politicians are putting forth an argument for the law that the democrats will not be re-elected next year if they cannot show something done about civil rights. They are afraid of the negro who will ask "What have you done about civil rights?" We are not worried about such a question. The negro of the South knows his friends. The negro of the South knows that his friends have always stood by him and gives him more attention than does any of the negro-philes of so-called social-minded states. We noted thirty months ago when in a county where the Mexicans were in the majority, that there was no social equality practiced by those people who were yelling for negro socializing. They did not even have anything to do with a poor negro bey there. Phooey on such notions. Yoakum County Review.

According to the Lubbock Avalanche, there are now eleven young men in the legislature, who are otherwise attending the University of Texas school of law, for a degree. Seven others commute to Baylor University at Waco before and after sessions in the legislative halls. No wonder our legislature has dropped to such a low esteem in the sight of the people of Texas. There is no one so heartless as to wish to deprive our coming young men of an education, particularly veterans. But most of us are strictly against giving youths a law degree while they are supposed to be helping to make laws, and at the taxpayers expense. The Herald believes that to make a good state senator or representative, that a person should be on the job continually. Further that he should be a mature man, who has really studied the needs of the state. As long as some districts continue to send these youths down there to make the laws of our state, just because they need a law or any other degree, just that long will we have a lot of poor legislation, hastily thrown together with a maximum amount of mistakes. Witness the calling off the Constitutional Amendment election in September. A pure waste of money. For that reason, the people are not willing to give the legislature a standing salary of some $5,000 per year, and a continuous sessions, except recesses, instead of the measly $10 per day for 120 days and $5 per day thereafter, and then expect them to live decently and provide for a family. But as long as Texas people continue to send youths and crackbrains down there to represent them, just so long will they expect the members to live on branch water and fresh air.

Did anyone outside or inside the boss ridden section of south Texas expect anyone than one of the bosses to be installed as County Judge of old Duval county, the county that "stacked'em in" for Lyndon Johnson and Truman, last fall? As long as there are any Pharrs or other bosses down there, they will run Duval county to suit themselves, and the laws that prevail in the rest of the state be damned.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower has given the nation timely warning about giving the Federal government blanket aid to the public schools of the nation. Ike did not do this as an army man or general, but as a lover of freedom, and as president of the nations largest university, Columbia. The matter of federal aid is now being debated, and if the bureaucrats get charge of our schools, they will dictate what is taught, who teaches, and who attends this now, tell farmers what they can plant, and how much, the schools will go into the same category. But General Eisenhower's warning does not stop at the schools, which are now largely managed locally, although they receive state aid, but he warns against other paternalistic aims of the government. Can't people remember what happened when Hitler took charge of the schools in Germany and Mussolini in Italy? Are their minds so wrapped with the new gimmeocracy that they can't see they are drifting fast into socialism, and worse perhaps, communitism? Folks don't delegate any more of your local affairs to the tender mercies of the federal government. Our nation grew great and strong by avoiding Washington control of affairs. Our government is now promising things which it can't possibly deliver. Such ideas come from countries we are now supporting with our tax dollars.

WATER FROM MISSISSIPPI ON PLAINS, SOUTHWEST, MAY BE PRACTICAL IDEA

The Herald had a personal letter from a Mr. Charles Eli Sexton, who writes us from Washington a rather long personal letter. On top of that he sent us a mimeographed letter outlining a canal from the upper reaches of the Mississippi river, way up in the western Dakotas and eastern Wyoming and Montana. Then there was a map showing the course of the canal.

The idea is two fold and sounds pretty good on paper, and maybe otherwise. And before we jump at the conclusion that it is just another bureaucratic idea to spend money, let us say he is a columnist on Eleanor Medill Patterson's Washington Times Herald. And if you think that is a New, Square or Fair deal paper, you have another thing coming. But here's the general idea:
 The canal would take a lot of water out of the Missouri that goes on down to the Mississippi, to cause floods and erosion in the Mississippi valley and delta. In the second place, the water thus diverted would help in bringing a semi-desert section, with a lot of level fertile land, into the highest state of cultivation imaginable. Some of it would be diverted into low places for lagoons, lakes, etc., which might help to increase the rainfall. Here is a bit of figures on elevations. The canal would start with an elevation of approximately 5100 feet. But around Cheyenne Falls, Nebr., 4500 feet, and 4000 feet at La Junta. Here it is proposed to put in a series of locks with power plants, to let the water down a quick drop, reaching 3900 feet west of Amarillo; then to a drop to 3600 feet at the SE corner of New Mexico. The canal would come within a few miles of Plains and millions of gallons could be diverted to the farms of eastern Yoakum and Terry county, he stated.
 There is a rise in the elevation of the ridge west of Plains, that by making the canal several feet under ground, then pumping, a lot of fine soil in New Mexico could be irrigated. Yes, he admitted, it would cost a lot of money. Almost half as much as the Marshall plan for one year.

 To say the least, Mr. Sexton's letter, his mimeographed description, and his map which was taken from the Washington Times-Herald, are intriguing. We are putting them away, and if any of our readers wish to see them, we will be glad to show them.
 In conclusion, we might add that Mr. Sexton is a Missourian by birth, and was graduated from the Independence high school just a year behind President Truman. He has followed a number of vocations, and was reasonably successful in them. In other words, he cannot be classed as a day dreamer.

BIDS TO BE ACCEPTED ON CAFETERIA ADDITION TO SCHOOL

S. P. Cowan, Superintendent of the local schools, announced last week that bids will be accepted in the office of the contractors, Wilson and Patterson, in Ft Worth, until July 14 for construction of a 35,000 cafeteria addition to the Jessie G. Randal school. Work will begin as soon as the contract has been let, and it is hoped that the building will be ready for occupancy by Nov. 1.
 Main objective of the addition is to relieve the one-half day schedule that the children have been forced to follow for the past two years.
 The building will be divided into six class rooms, with temporary partitions, and will be used for classes until the situation is relieved enough to warrant turning it into a cafeteria.

MAINTENANCE CREW WADES MUD

To Maintain Good Gas Service

PIPE line maintenance crews are but one of many divisions behind your natural gas service. A crew's job is to keep transmission pipe lines, carrying natural gas to your home, in good repair and to work during such emergencies that might occur.

The picture, shown above, was made of a maintenance crew carrying repair equipment to the scene of a line break. Maintenance crews are trained to meet such emergencies, and due to their training the customers of the town this line serves continued to have good gas service although the natural gas flow was cut while the repair was being made.

Yes... maintenance of pipe lines is very important to good gas service.

Maintenance of pipe lines is only one of many functions performed by employees of West Texas Gas Company... all of which are designed to furnish you good natural gas service, high in quality, low in price... the best bargain in your family budget.

The Picture

Members of one of West Texas Gas Company's maintenance crew are carrying a section of pipe to the scene of a pipe line break. Mud was so deep repair equipment could not be transported on trucks to the break, indicated by arrow, which is over one quarter of a mile from the men.

June The Hardest Month On Hogs

College Station—The good old summertime often means a bad time for hogs. June is the month hogs may become over-heat with the heat they feel even though the temperature climbs higher in July and August.

Apparently the hogs become adjusted to the heat during the latter part of the summer, says E. M. Regenbrecht, extension swine husbandman of Texas A. and M. College. Now is the time to watch your hogs to make sure they have plenty of cool shade, lots of drinking water and, if possible, a sanitary hog wallow.

It's better to handle the hogs on dry ground in the summer-time, rather than allow them to lie in an old mud hole constantly. A concrete hog wallow, he says, is better than the mud hole. The wallow should be constructed out in the sun, but very near the shade. There's a reason for this.

Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Snedeker and children returned last week from a two weeks vacation spent in Oklahoma City and Colorado. The children remained with relatives in Oklahoma City while Mr. and Mrs. Snedeker visited Colorado Springs and other vacation spots in Colorado.

This way, a small wallow will take care of a large number of hogs. With the wallow out in the sun, the hogs will get wet in it, then go immediately to the shade and lie down. A breeze will keep them cool until they dry off.

On the other hand, if your hog wallow is in the shade, you'll find the hogs will stay in the pool all the time. As many hogs as possible will pile in, crowding out some that may become overheated.

It's not good for hogs to stay in the pool all the time, Regenbrecht concludes. So, the arrangement of the wallow in the sun near the shade will give all the hogs a chance to keep cool.

The Retailer's Counter

The head of a national retailing association recently described the width of the retailer's counter as "the most important area in the country." He then said that "it's up to the retailer to bridge this last three feet by intensive selling today. The country simply can't afford another depression or major recession with the amount of public debt we're carrying." Finally, he said that retailers have done a poor public relations job by letting the public think retail profits are excessive when, actually, they amount to an average of only 3.6 cents out of each dollar worth of goods sold.

Most of our spendable income goes across store counters. A high percentage of all employed people work in stores of one kind or another. It is often said that mass production is an American miracle, which has given our people an amazing flood of goods at a very reasonable cost. But mass production couldn't work unless there was mass distribution to move the output of our factories into the hands and homes of users. he retailer is the key man who brings producer and consumer together.

Rat And Flea Poisoning Begun In Terry County

The Commissioners Court agreed upon a plan to resume the poisoning of rats and fleas in Terry county, Judge H. R. Winston reported.

The rodent and flea killing program, which is primarily for control of plague, typhus and other rat borne diseases, is made possible by co-operation of the county with the State Health Department and the State Health Officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox. The program is also considered very beneficial from an economic point of view.

Mr. John Black of Brownfield, State trained rodent control specialist, began the poisoning and dusting work July 5th, according to Judge Winston, and residents of the county are invited to request the services of Mr. Black, by calling No. 36J in Brownfield, the County Health Unit.

In order that Mr. Black may service a greater number of farms with a minimum of travel, Judge Winston states that requests should come from five to eight farmers in one community at the same time so that all may be serviced while Mr. Black is working in that community. The killing of rats and fleas will be done without charge, since it is a county supported project.

Mr. Black is authorized to use the highly effective rat poison known as "1080", which by State regulation cannot be used except by specially trained operators. He will dust rat runs and burrows with DDT dust, which remains effective for killing fleas for several weeks.

"POOR TIMBER" BUSINESS BOOMS—Old-timers used to say "there's not an inch of good lumber in a square mile of it," but forward-looking timber farmers are ready to turn North Carolina's old-field softwood trees into profits. The secret is a crosscutting process promoted by the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development which makes softwood timbers last up to 30 years instead of five. Small plants like the one above can turn out up to 600 fence posts a day, at 65 cents a post. Lumber, crosscuts and electric light poles are also produced, from timber formerly considered worthless.

A similar program for rat-borne disease control was in progress in Terry County during 1947, with Mr. Black as its operator. Since that time, Mr. Black has been employed locally on plague and typhus surveys, also under Dr. Cox and the State Health Department. The program of rat and flea killing has continued and is now in progress in Yoakum, Gaines, Hockley and Lubbock counties, each having a specialist employed for the work. Residents of these counties may also request rodent and flea poisoning service through their Health Unit of through the office of their County Judge.

Farmers requesting poisoning work done should give clear and complete directions on how to reach their farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Thomas and son Michael Lee, are here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Thomas of Thomas Furniture. Leroy is taking taxidermy in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ladd of Sherman, Tex., will read the Herald another year, complimentary his nephew, Mr. Geo. W. Chisholm.

Miss Mary Jo Jones spent the past weekend in Lorenzo visiting friends.

Offered Good Profit On Suburban Property

While driving out recently we stopped at the Garner grocery and filling station just beyond the Magnolia road headquarters spur from the Santa Fe that crosses the Lubbock highway. We asked if he owned the Cook property. He stated that he owned nine acres, but that a drilling boss rented the old Cook home from him.

He and family occupy an four room modern house in the rear of the store. He went on to say that he paid $13,000 for the property some two years ago, and had been offered $30,000 cash, recently, by a man who lives just east of the cashuroy erty, of the M of the caprock.

We consider that good increase in any man's country, and shows that Brownfield property is in demand by outsiders. He keeps a good stock of groceries as well as a filling station.

Urges More Extensive Use Of Milk

AUSTIN—In view of the fact that June has been proclaimed National Dairy Month, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges that with the more extensive use of milk, both producer and consumer be concerned as to its quality. The use of clean safe milk is a health measure.

Local interest in improved methods of producing wholesome milk has increased greatly in the past two decades and the striking advance in milk control has been responsible for the enormous saving in infant life.

Milk is perishable and especially during hot weather. To insure milk of good quality requires cleanliness, sterile utensils, protection against flies, careful bottling and maintenance at low temperature. The presence in fresh milk of large numbers of bacteria, due to insanitary methods of production is a health hazard.

Dr. Cox added, "Among the diseases which may be transmitted through milk are tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, septic sore throat, undulant fever, diarrhea, and enteritis. Numerous milk-borne outbreaks of disease occur every year in this country from the use of milk that might have been safe with proper care."

"We should firmly insist that the milk we drink be carefully produced, so that we will have the maximum practicable protection along the line from the cow to the consumer."

POOL HD CLUB HAS MEETING

CASPIAN YIELDS BIG STURGEN

MOSCOW —(AP)—A sturgeon more than 113 feet long has been landed in the Caspian near Baku. The fish weighed more than 1,130 pounds. It was brought to Moscow and went on sale in one of the local fish stores.

The Russians will probably claim that they were the first to use stainless steel for teeth and denture materials.

Gas Measurement Signed Into Law

Austin, Jun. 30. With the signing by Governor Buford H. Jester, Thursday of House Bill 159, a long and sometimes bitter struggle to provide Texas with a standard for the measurement of natural gas was successfully concluded.

"I am convinced that Texas takes a step forward with the Measurement Law," said Governor Jester in signing the bill. "We have reason to hope," he said, "that this standard may be recognized soon in other oil and gas producing states and become the accepted standard over the nation."

"This bill is so just and fair," said Senator Lane and Representative Fly in a joint statement Thursday, "that sooner or later it had to become the law of our state". It is particularly in the interest of the thousands of small royalty owners, many of whom are not aware of the numerous ways in which purchasers heretofore could manipulate measurement practices to conceal the true volume of gas received. It was clearly the duty of this State to provide this protection as well as to assure itself of its proper tax revenue from this source.

Wellman High School Homemakers Busy This Summer

The Homemaking girls of the Wellman high school have been doing summer project work. Some of the projects were gardening, sewing, and re-modeling different rooms of the home.

Jo Marie Crowder, Jimmie Sue Putty, Betty Lou Briscoe, Darlene Thornton, Velma Jean Bruce, Robbie Curry, Ima Jean Elliott, and Frances Liles, have taken the summer project work under direction of Miss Willie Mae Hines, teacher, and Miss Esther Sorenson, area supervisor.

In class the kitchen cabinets and dining tables were varnished and gone over with water protector. The floor of the newly acquired living-dining room was sanded and waxed.

One day was spent in Brownfield selecting materials for new kitchen curtains, which were made in class. A small green and white check, with white panels was chosen.

The FHA year book was started and will be finished at a later meeting of the year book committee.

The last field trip was spent in Lubbock, going through Keetons Packing House, Baldridge Bakery, and finished with lunch in McKenzie park, followed by a pleasant afternoon spent at a skating rink.

NEW TITLE — Blonde Joan Olander smiles her appreciation for the title of "Miss Trampway," bestowed upon her by engineers constructing the "glorified ski lift" between Palm Springs, Calif., and Mt. San Jacinto. She will reign for a year as "the girl we would most like to ride into the mountains with."

Mrs. Eldora A. White spent the week end in San Angelo, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Barker, and visiting her son Ted, and Mary Beth Barker.

Miss Mattie Morgan, who underwent surgery in a Lubbock hospital several weeks ago, has returned home.

Double Ring Service Performed in Home of Bride's Parents

A double ring ceremony united Wanda Jo Winn, daughter of Mr. Mr. and Mrs. Foster Winn, of Johnson, and George Henson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Henson of Johnson, in marriage Saturday July 2, at 9 A. M., in the home of the brides parents. Rev. Don Rogers officiated.

The vows were exchanged before the fireplace, which was flanked by baskets of pink, white and yellow gladiolus and fern. A bouquet of white daisies was the only decoration on the mantle. A bowl of sweet peas decorated the piano top.

Pre-nuptial music was offered by Mrs. C. A. Winn, aunt of the bride, and Miss Patsy Winn, cousin of the bride, who sang "I Love You Truly". She wore a white satin gown with a yellow carnation corsage. The brides sister, Miss Verna Winn wore a white net gown and a yellow carnation corsage. She sang "Always". Mrs. Winn played the traditional wedding march, and offered "Beautiful Dreamer" during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white eyelet embroidery dress with fitted bodice a rounded organdy yoke. The cap sleeves were formed by wide bands of organdy, and a deep band of organdy circled the flared skirt. She wore a halo of pale pink roses and pale pink and blue net.

The bride carried a white Bible belonging to her cousin, Mrs. Genevieve Gordon of Lubbock. It was topped with a spray corsage of pale pink rosebuds in a nest of pink and blue net and tied with white satin ribbons. Baby pink rosebuds were caught in the lovers knots in the streamers.

For something old and borrowed, the bride wore her mother's wedding band. Something new was her dress and a strand of pearl and rhinestones, a gift of the groom. She wore a pair of blue garters belonging to Mrs. Gertrude Meeks of Sundown.

Gee Gee's Chit Chat

July seems no hotter than June. Everything is taking a slightly wilted look, however, except the weeds. And the weeds seem to be getting their just dues, thanks to most of the natives, in the clean-up campaign.

Have you been by Nelson Jewelry? Lynn is having a big sale, and he has some interesting "grab boxes" that can be yours. We can't decide which box to grab.

For the first time in years we spent the Fourth of July in our own back yard instead of trekking off to the mountains or somewhere. Brownfield seemed as quiet as a mouse except for the fireworks. Spirits seemed high, though, some as high as 100 proof.

Checking with a few merchants around town, we have found that quite a few covered garbage containers have been sold. If you haven't gotten your yet, we understand there are still some left.

Was talking to the county attorney (Geo. Neill) the other day and he was rifling through a bunch of cold checks. We were talking about people who wrote cold checks and decided that we might pick up enough to pay our income taxes if we could get away with writing them like some people do. Seems like we read somewhere one time that it shouldn't be the writer who is prosecuted, but the taker. But (Continued on Page 4)

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

You know the things congress tinkers with or talks about run into the hundreds. For a person who wants to sit in the shade and dream or think—or maybe just sit—congress gives the greatest heed. If you are not allergic to perspiration you get scant attention—you gotta be a "problem" to get the dinero.

But the subjects blathered about there in Washington—town—education—farm programs—minimum wages—housing—aid for the other guy—a dozen kinds of security—communism—it bogs me down. If congress had ten times the number it has now, it couldn't cover the subjects or know whether it was afoot or horseback or where the citizens would come out, if half of the fancy ideas got on the law book.

Most subjects could be debated via radio and there in Visionarytown?by-the-River till the cows come home, and like the explosion on the steamboat, where would we land. Confusion would still prevail. And to make a long story short until Mr. and Mrs. Citizen puts a foot down and says to their talkative and maybe half-way yokel congressman to cut out acting like a junior—fix up the navy and army 100 per cent, and come on home. What we need is a breathing spell and rest from programs. And how, chimed in Henry.

Yours with the low-down,
JO SERRA

Luncheon with Wendy Warren

I guess I'm just lazy when it comes to luncheon interviews. I like the ones close to CFS, so I can leave after my "Wendy Warren and the News" broadcast at 12:15, and be at the restaurant in a matter of minutes. Today I took vivacious Betty Winkler, star of CBS' "Rosemary", to Louis and Armand's, which is directly across from CBS. But I'm beginning to run out of close ones... maybe I should save a few for a rainy day.

For a small restaurant, Louis and Armand's is almost "plushy". We took a table right in the middle, where we could scan the predominantly radio crowd, and spotted a lot of friends. The food is excellent, with a strong emphasis on sea foods, and a superb chef's salad, which was what we both ordered.

Betty Winkler, as you probably know, has the rare good fortune to be part of a husband-and-wife team... on a daytime serial! Betty first met her husband, George Keane, when he auditioned for, and landed, the part of Bill Roberts on "Rosemary". It wasn't too long before wedding bells rang on the program for Rosemary and Bill... but the courtship must have been mighty eclectic, because Betty and George were married in real life soon afterwards!

Betty was born in Berwick, Pennsylvania, and a few years later her family moved to Akron, Ohio, where 4-year-old Betty first showed her histrionic talent in a blackface song routine at a local entertainment. Along with her first year of kindergarten, Betty plunged right into dramatic lessons and piano instruction. With such an early start, it is not surprising that when she graduated from Hyde Park High School in Chicago, Betty was engaged as a member of the Cleveland Playhouse Repertory Company, and played leads with the troupe for a year in Akron and surrounding cities.

Then, about 1937, came radio, and Betty Winkler started right out playing leads in such programs as "The Trial of Vivian Ware", "Girl Alone", "Able's Irish Rose", and now, "Rosemary".

In addition to her radio work, Betty and George belong to Actors Studio, a select experimental acting group headed by two of Broadway's top people, Director Elia Kazan and producer Cheryl Crawford.

As we sipped our coffee, I asked Betty what difference success has made in her attitude toward her work. "It's wonderful," said Betty. "I used to have to spend all my time getting ahead. Now I find that I have much more time to devote to some of the things I have always wanted to study... music, art, psychiatry... and even cooking! Then, with a twinkle in her eye, Betty added, "I'd love to have you come for dinner some night." What could I do? My hand was forced to reach for the check.

News From The Service Office

If you are an honorably discharged veteran and have moved to Terry county from some other county in Texas, and if you do not have an official certified copy of your discharge, marriage, and birth certificate of your children, you presumably do not need the above mentioned documents.

With the future benefits that you may be entitled to receive, I feel that your file with your County Service Officer is incomplete without these documents.

For immediate hospitalization in emergency cases, you need a copy of your discharge, to be admitted to a Veterans hospital. Your County Service Officer will be glad to procure for you, without cost, any recorded documents that you might need in the future.

House Bill 1004, passed by the State Legislature, and amended 1943, permits County Service Officers, without cost to the veteran, to receive marriage certificates, divorce decrees, death certificates, and certified or photostatic copies of discharge.

If you, as a veteran, need any of the above, please contact your County Service Officer, on the main floor at the court house, Brownfield, Texas, or call 247M.

"Why make a Will", and some reasons for immediate action on this important subject. If you are the beneficiary or widow of a deceased veteran, and say that you have two minor children, who will receive the remainder of a $10,000 NSLI policy, which is being paid by the VA at your death? There will be an administrator appointed by the court, instead of an executor named by you. A guardian or custodian must be named to receive the shares passing to your minor children. This could be a bank official or and outsider, unless you make a will.

Your estate will be hampered by the inability of the court's administrator to act as quickly and effectively as would your instructed executor, unless you make a will.

Those attending were Messdames A. L. Harris, L. Holliday, L. V. Alexander, J. B. Willett and J. W. Stone.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Collis and children of Brownfield, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Tuttle and children of Tokio, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Holmes and Children, Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Tuttle and children and Mr. and Mrs. Milan Tuttle and children took Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tuttle.

SUMMERY!

Cotton sunbacks are the girls' first choice for summertime, the fashion experts report. They serve double duty because when topped by a jacket or bolero, they're suitable for the business world. Without the jacket, they're just right for play in the sun. Clifford of del Mar uses pincheck and plaid cotton for his interpretation of the versatile sunback style, the National Cotton Council reports.

STRICKLINGLY SPEAKING

We hope that if the nation adopts Uncle Harry's plan of helping people of backward nations, that we are very sure they are loyal to the American way of life. We are fed up on off brand office holders.

We always try to make the home of Cousin Will Smalley good for one meal ticket while in Tennessee, if his wife Ann is feeling well. And she'll always maintain that she is feeling fine, and by jinks she always puts a meal on that table fit for a king.

Then the afternoon is usually spent in reminiscences of our youth the pranks we played and the hickory switches that sometimes stung us. But we were a tough lot. We used to guarantee that we could stomp open a chestnut burr after toughening our feet going barefoot three months in spring and summer.

Will can ply the questions about Texas. For instance, he could hardly understand how it came about that Phillip Rogers, who now farms out here in the PLeasant Valley section, could possibly have a field of 160 acres with all the rows the same length. What about the ditch banks or a creek running atgoddling, he would want to know?

It takes all kinds of conditions to make up a great nation. These people are perfectly satisfied with their lot, and they have plenty about them. But a man that has ever farmed out here would no more farm back there than he would fly. Too much hard work.

Not trying to change the subject from the sublime to the ridiculous, we wish to hire out to some farmer as is weather Pronosticator. Our rheumatism has been bothering of late.

Knowing the peculiarities of men, we have never hinted that one of those farmers that ars satisfied back there, move out here. Even Phillip Rogers, mentioned above just came home with us in 1946 to visit. He had no idea of ever living here. But he met and married a Terry county girl. That settled it.

But if we asked a man there, who is doing well, to come out here, and he and family were dissatisfied, we'd get the blame. We don't want that.

A paragrapher is responsible for the assertion that things seldom get done unless there is a penalty for not doing them. That was the reason the new law was passed at this session of the legislature penalizing school, city and county officials for not publishing things that the law requires to be published. The negligent official heretofore simply posted the notice some place where no one ever saw it.

That was the way an official in a south Texas county got his county bonded about a million dollars worth. Put one notice behind the court house door, the others out in the chapparel thick-

Counties Should Have Some Of Sales Tax

Wichita county seems to be leading a move in trying to get House Bill No. 313 through the Senate, and ready for the signature of Gov. Jester. The House passed the measure 124 to one, and the Senate has reported it out of committee favorably.

This bill would change the sales tax on cars which all of the 1 per cent now goes to the State Treasury. If divided, it would give each county general fund 1/2 per cent. If you wish Terry county to get its share of this sales tax, get in touch with Senator Corbin at once.

According to Herbert Chesshir, tax collector of Terry County, he now sends the State Treasury more than $30,000 yearly. So, $15,000 of this going to the general fund here would look good.

HARVEST FESTIVAL PLANS TAKING SHAPE

At their regular meeting last Friday at the Esquire, Brownfield Rotarians held an open business meeting and a general discussion, instead of having a program. Plans for the coming Festival was discussed, and committees set times for their meetings.

Committee heads are getting their plans lined up and hope to be able to release more information on the Festival, which will be held October the 19th.

Watch this paper for further announcements concerning the Festival.

"THE CAR OF THE FUTURE"—That's what they called this unconventional-looking automobile at the Oakland, Calif., Auto Show. Above, model Sherry Stevens steps into the teardrop-shaped vehicle, which has four independently sprung wheels set in a diamond shape. The wheel arrangement gives it a turning radius of 12 feet—about half that required by a standard auto. Only drawback to the "Car of the Future" is its building cost—$5000, not including labor.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

—by Reynolds Wright—
NEW YORK, July 4—One of the greatest classics of economic literature is a book called "Extra? ordinary Popular Delusions and the Madness of Crowds."

It contains fascinating accounts of such hysterical booms as the Tulip Mania in Holland, the South Sea bubble in England, and that great inflation in France known as the Mississippi Bubble.

The stern moral to be drawn from the book is that mass opinion on the future course of any thing economic is almost invariably wrong. Now the Federal Reserve have come along with a last-minute judgment, in early 1946, the survey shows, the great percentage of people thought prices would continue to rise. One year later there was the price break of early 1947. This time the great percentage of the people, when asked their opinion of the future, thought prices would fall. Instead, prices rose, so that a year later the majority was once again assuming that the only direction was up. Now, in the midst of fall-in prices, 55 percent of the people think prices will continue to decline; only eight percent expect a rise. So, if past experience is any guide, you can look for a reversal of the present trend and merchants will experience a revival of buying.

CO-PILOT—There will be a lot of fuss and feathers—and rightly so—this summer over TWA's twentieth anniversary of its transcontinental service. In 1929, Transcontinental Air Transport, daddy of Trans World Airline, hooked up with Pennsylvania railroad to make it possible to travel days in the air and nights on the rails to cross the continent in the then incredible time of 48 hours! But we wonder how many know that perhaps the single most important personal factor in the line's development has been a former co-pilot of its competitor, American Airlines. That would be Howard Hughes, who became interested in commercial aviation in 1932. Under the assumed name of Charles Howard he talked himself into a job with American to learn the business from the ground up. In 1939, he bought a controlling interest in TWA, personally guaranteeing payment for the line's new Stratoliners, first four engine transport in commercial aviation. Since then the fabulous flyer-industrialist has made tens of millions available to help TWA over the rough spots. And it was largely he who conceived the giant, 300-mile-an-hour Constellation which has enabled TWA to shave that 48 hour transcontinental journey of 20 years ago to less than 10 hours today.

THINGS TO COME--To gladden the housewife's heart, here's a miniature, old-fashioned coffee mill that grinds pepper corn fine or coarse. . . and new salad bowls made of birchwood that are washable and liquid proof, and will not stain from oils, alcohol or water. . . also, the device for which millions have yearned: a ketchup bottle out of which you can get ketchup; a gadget rations out just the right amount, no more no less. . . And if you're going prospecting while on vacation, there's a Geiger counter no larger than a camera that will show you if you are near atomic material and a fortune. . . More practical, perhaps, is the new Westinghouse waffle-baker with a built-in rim to catch the overflow. . . If you own a railroad or only cross the tracks you'll be glad to know there's a new gyrating warning light for speedy Diesel locomotives that flashes red automatically when the train stops. . . By using plastic for the handles, a manufacturer is able to offer new pinking shears at half the weight of all-metal ones. ports quote Congressional leaders as being convinced that there must not only be no increase in taxes, but that numerous wartime excise levies must be reduced or eliminated in order to stimulate consumer buying. Consumers apparently feel the same way judging from the results of a recent poll taken among labor union members at Cleveland by Schenley Industries, Inc. An overwhelming of those casting "tax ballots"—91 percent to be exact—favored immediate reduction of so-called "luxury" taxes on such items as cosmetics, alcoholic beverages, movie admissions, rail and airplane tickets and cabaret checks. Union members covered in the poll, many of whom who are employed in consumer goods industries, said lowering the war-emergency taxes would increase their own buying power and at the same time make their jobs more secure. The taxes, which take from 15 to 46 percent of the price of the various items and services, were favored by only 168 of the men and women who cast ballots. Since both Congress and consumers appear to be in accord we may soon see a reduction in such levies—especially since revenues on near all of them have fallen off sharply, indicating a growing reluctance to pay on the part of the buying public.

BITS O' BUSINESS—Maybe it's a cloud no bigger than a man's iness arenthou serg,sao or ts.1.es hand, but there are signs that industry is stepping up its hiring. Even from Bridgeport, Conn., which was hard hit employment-wise, comes word that this fall will see an upturn in industrial activity and jobs. . . Despite a probable surplus in tin, the government is going to continue to give foreign producers a high price for the metal, says Washington. . . Truman is now studying the mid-year report of his economist. Last time they told him inflation was the problem, now it's inflation. . . Employment in the aircraft industry is rising as military plans move to the plant level. . . Lower prices have spurred consumption of canned fruits. . . Railroads may lower their freight charges on Florida citrus fruits to meet the competition of trucks.
