SCHOOL BONDS SOLD; PLANS FOR NEW HIGH SCHOOL IN FINAL STAGES

C. G. Griffith, president of the school board, announced Wednesday morning that school bonds in the amount of $550,000 were sold June 6, 1949, and have been delivered this week.

The bonds sold for 2 3/4, 3, and 3 1/2 per cent, with an interest rate of 3.148 per cent. Buyers were an association composed of Dittmar & Co.; Rowles, Winston, & Co.; M. E. Allison & Co.; and J. M. Dain & Co. There were 21 bidders.

All bonds maturing on or after July 1, 1965, are optional.

Burton G. Hackney, attorney for the Brownfield independent school district, was in Austin and Dallas for several days last week securing registration of the bonds with the attorney general of Texas and the state comptroller.

The present bond issue was voted May 25, 1948, in the amount of $750,000. Due to some controversy, four law suits were filed against the school board but all difficulties have been ironed out.

An election will be called at a later date to cancel the remaining $200,000.00 of the original bond, which will not be charged against the district.

Final plans are in the making for the new high school building, and the contract should be let within 60 days.

Bids will be received in the office of the architects, Wilsor and Patterson, in Fort Worth, for the new cafeteria addition to the Jessie G. Randal school. The cafeteria addition will be partitioned off into six temporary classrooms, but as soon as the new high school is completed, the addition will be converted into a cafeteria.

The owners have been in business together for the past two years. Their building is located at 304 Tahoka road.

Mr. Wagner has lived in Brownfield for ten years, having moved here from Post. Mr. Bryant has lived in Terry county since 1925.

Two Teen-age Youths Attempt To Pass Checks

ORPHANAGE IN FRASCATI, ITALY SPONSORED BY LOCAL CHURCH

This building being used for "Frascati Orphan Home" to house two families of the workers in the home, and will be used also to house at least ten orphan boys.

Just back of this building and towering above it is the larger building of the home, that has only recently been repaired. This building houses a chapel that will seat some 100 people, the dining room, and offices of the home, and also three families of workers. In addition to this it will house some 40 orphan boys eventually.

Written in large letters on the front of the building is "Chiesa Di Cristo," Church of Christ. So far as we know this is the only building in Italy that bears the name of the Church of Christ. A congregation of some 56 Italians, and 13 Americans meet in the chapel of this building, and worship God in Spirit and Truth.

FORBES STILL KEEPS BUSY AROUND PLACE

W. P. Forbes, one of the real old timers, was in to see us one day last week, when the conversation drifted to the long past.

Way back in the early 'teens, a young man, his wife and small children drifted in from old Red River county, and purchased a place in the Pleasant Valley section.

That was W. P., and he was among the early cotton raisers of the country. He hauled his cotton to Tahoka to be ginned, and sold.

By and by, World War I began to show up, and like most men in the draft age, W. P. decided that he had rather register in his old home county.

So, he sold to Dr. John R. Turner for town property.

But you never see him messing around town unless he has business. He is busy with his yard and garden. If the world was made up with men like W. P. Forbes, we would have little use for officers and jails.

BUILDING PERMITS TOTAL $165,000.00 THIS WEEK

Building permits this week totaled $165,000.00, with permits being issued to John L. Cruce, Jr., to construct a 91x74 1/2 residence and garage in the Sunrise addition on the Tahoka road, at a cost of $13,500; to W. O. Helms to erect a 14x28 residence at 1218 So. Third street, at a cost of $1000; and to George T. Mathes to erect a 20x24 frame and stucco residence at 81 1/2 So. Third street, at a cost of $2,250.

MINISTER TO GATHER NEWS FOR HERALD

RED CROSS CHAPTER TO ELECT OFFICERS

Lewis Simmonds, chairman, announces the annual meeting of the Terry County Chapter of the Red Cross at 8 P. M., Friday, July 15, in the district courtroom.

Purpose of the meeting will be to elect officers for the coming year. Simmonds urges every one to attend the meeting.

Lots Of Land To Be Replanted

Have been drifting around some of late, and in most sections, there are some good crops to be seen. And in the same section, a lot blown out. This blown-out land went mostly in that 70-mile gale on the afternoon of June 24.

Most people are afraid to replant the blown-out portions, even though there seems to be sufficient moisture to bring it up. It is so loose and pulverized that the least wind would cover the seeds too deep.

In the time, we have been mostly in the Pleasant Valley and Harmony sections, but have seen a bit of other communities, or talked with people who live there.

One of the mysteries is that some will apparently have a pretty good crop on some of the sandier soils, and the next man on harder land will have no cotton. Was it the method of planting, condition of the soil when planted, planted too deep or too shallow? You answer that one.

In our spying rounds we have discovered a few melon patches, and a lot of pea and bean patches, mostly for enough from any residence to make a raid on them fairly safe from detection, and most of them are large enough that the owners would not miss a mess taken from them.

What we think about the weather since the middle of June would not do for publication. Up to that time there was an abundance of rain and a minimum of wind. Then after the rain checked up, the wind started in all its fury, making up for lost time in April, May and June.

Well, we hope the storms are done for awhile and that a good rain will put the blown-out portions of the county in condition to replant. Not too late for quick maturing feed, or wheat for the fall.

OLDEST RESIDENT IN TERRY COUNTY SUCCEDES SUNDAY

Stephen Dupuis, father of Mrs. J. B. Worsham, died at about 10:40 p.m. Sunday night in her home, following a four-day illness. He was 104 years old.

A native of Avoyelles Parish, La., Mr. Dupuis had lived in Brownfield since 1941 and was a retired farmer. Until last Wednesday, when he became ill, he had been very active and alert.

He was pictured in Life magazine not long ago as one of the few remaining Confederate war veterans in the United States.

He enlisted as a dispatch carrier under General Taylor when he was 16 years old and served throughout the Civil war. He did very little actual fighting during the war, but commented several times that he had some narrow escapes while carrying important dispatches.

Survivors include another daughter, rs. Belle Eden; three sons, J. L. S. T., and J. W. Dupuis; seven grandchildren; 16 great-grandchildren, and five great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services and burial was in Alexandria, La. He was buried in his Confederate uniform.

Everyone who is interested is urged to attend.

New Lighting System For Brownfield High

With the repairing and remodeling of all the schools in the Brownfield school district this summer, a new natural lighting system is being indocrinated in the interior of Brownfield High school, S. P. Cowan, superintendent, has announced.

The interior is being remodeled to conform to standard practices for the introduction of natural lighting in the class rooms. With the new system, ceilings of the rooms are painted with flat white paint, and reflects 85 per cent of the light. At eye level, when seated, walls are painted to reflect 60 per cent of natural light. From eye level downward, walls are painted a contrasting color to reflect 50 per cent of natural light.

Fla surfaces in the room, such as the desks, which cause a glare when varnished will have a mat, or dull finish. Chalkboards will be painted green.

The purpose of the new natural lighting system is to control contrasts, instead of controlling glare. The new system practically eliminates glare, and in eliminating glare in class rooms, pupils are assured better posture, along with protecting eyesight. This new methods harnesses natural light, so to speak, and puts it to work reflecting light, rather than glaring.

It is hoped that sooner or later natural lighting can be adopted in all schools in the Brownfield district.

Milk Of Human Kindness Still Flows In County

Doc Keys, of Gomez community, has been ill for several weeks and his crop was going to "pot." Several of his friends and neighbors got together Monday and went to work.

With 50 hoe hands and seven tractors, the men worked all day and cleaned up more than half of Keys' crop. The women served dinner at noon to the workers.

The men who furnished their labor that day would like to thank Jack Griggs for donating the ice that was used that day for the dinner and their drinking water.

Country Club Golfers On Last Lap Of Tournament

Players in the Brownfield country club handicap trophy tournament, which has been in progress for the past two weeks, have completed their semi-finals and finals and are going into the championship matches of the meet.

Results of the semi-finals are: Harold Crites over Thad Risinger; Charles Kersh over John Cadenehead; Sam Privitt over Fred Smith; Clyde Lewis over Jack Shirley Joe McGowan over Bill McKinney; and Warden won by default.

In the final matches, Crites won over Kersh; Privitt over Lewis, and McGowan over Warden.

Colored Cafe Burned Monday Morning

L. H. Herbert, owner of a colored cafe in the flats, suffered total loss of his business early Monday morning by fire. Cause of the fire was unknown, but it is believed that a smoldering cigarette started it.

Since there are no water plugs in that section, local firemen who answered the call were unable to reach the flames to put them out.

FINAL PLANS BEING DRAFTED FOR SOUTH PLAINS HEALTH UNIT

Spokesmen have announced that the initial plans and building for the proposed $61,000,000 South Plains health unit to be built in Brownfield have been approved, and that final plans are being now.

The building, which will be located at the corner of North Fifth and Storey streets, will include a state regional laboratory and a $3,000 film library. Other features of the brick faced, flat-topped modern building will include off-the-street parking, outside electrical outlets (for showing lawn movies at night), and a full treatment of natural lighting in all rooms.

A Lot Of Folks Drive Blind

AUSTIN — Would you drive with your head tucked under the dashboard of your car.

It's as sensible to do that, State Highway Engineers D. C. Greer said today, as to ignore warning signs along the streets and highways. "Either one represents a case of flying blind," Greer said, "and cars aren't equipped for blind flying."

The Texas highway department is cooperating this month with the Texas safety association in an effort to impress the importance of traffic markers on motorists and pedestrians alike.

"Traffic signs and signals and pavement markings cover almost every situation that can be anticipated, yet the regularity with which they are ignored is appalling," Greer said. "A conscientious observance of traffic signs would help greatly to reduce traffic accidents."

Greer pointed out that traffic signs were easily recognized by their distinctive shapes, even at a distance that makes their lettering illegible. And he urged drivers to increase their own traffic protection by learning what these shapes are.

"Round markers are used to indicate approaches to railroad crossings," he said. "The familiar 'crossbuck' marks the crossing itself. Oblong signs indicate speed limits or other regulatory instructions. Diamond shaped signs warn of danger ahead. Eight-sided signs are used only for stop signs."

The Highway Engineer emphasized that every sign has a meaning and a purpose, and is installed for the protection and guidance of the people only after study by traffic engineers has established its advisability.

BIBLE COMMENT

Book of Psalms Gives the World Religion in Poetry

DURING coming weeks many Sunday Schools will be studying lessons in the Biblical Book of Psalms. The comment in these columns is directed to many readers not in Sunday Schools, but interested in religion and the study of the Bible.

The Book of Psalms must be studied as a whole. If one would grasp their nature and significance in the faith, worship, and life of ancient Israel, and their place and effect in relation to religious life in general.

Only as one reads the Psalms as a whole can one grasp the depth and immensity of their contemplation of every mood and emotion of which the human soul is capable, and their reaction to every experience that mankind has known.

Here are souls in the very heights of exultation and religious ecstasy, dwelling on the mountains, with the clear view of God, and the full inspiration of His presence. But here are souls, also, crying out of the depths of despair, and finding light in the valley of darkness. Here is realism in the face of suffering, and persecution, and the designs and hatred of enemies. And above all realism in the face of change and decay, and the grimness of death itself.

Here, too, is the voice of friendship and fellowship, the pilgrim songs of those who through life are journeying and worshipping together.

There is nothing left out in the whole range of human emotions, doubts, fears, inspirations and ecstasies—all of life's experiences from the cradle to the grave are there.

From the opening Psalm 1, recounting the blessedness of the man "that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly—but his delight is in the law of the Lord," to the closing 150th Psalm with its typical song of praise the Psalms move in the rich areas of nature and human nature.

And each of us may have it as his, or her, book of devotions.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

"Little fellers" doing "big things" is what we been having too much of—that is how I diagnose our symptoms. We are in bad shape, says Mr. Brannan. Mr. Brannan is our Dept. of Agriculture Big Smoke. He says that "the biggest economy crash in history" is around the corner—but he can fix it, he says.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY

AP Special Washington Service Washington — July—(AP) — Chances appear dim for passage of any kind of tidelands bill at this session of congress.

Conferences between Sam Rayburn, house speaker, (D-Tex.), and federal and state officials have pointed up how completely the two factions are at odds over ownership of the oil-bearing, offshore lands of Texas, Louisiana, and California.

Texans, themselves, both here and in the state capital, have genuine differences of opinion. All are interested in preserving the revenue which the Texas state school system gets from oil leases in the gulf. They differ in how to go about it.

Most of them think Texas should stand pat, and believe firmly they can win in the supreme court on the basis of the provisions under which the state joined the union in 1845.

On the other hand, some of them who have been in the thick of the fight are afraid Texas ultimately will lose out in the court fight and end up with total loss of revenues from the submerged oil areas. They think the smart thing to do is to compromise the issue and make sure the Texas school funds always will get an income from such oil.

Even though the controversy isn't settled by congress this year it undoubtedly will have another chance to act before the supreme court decides the prospective suit of the government for title to the off-shore lands of Texas and of Louisiana.

The court has ruled that the justice department can file the suit. The actual filing is a formality which probably will take place some time between now and gans, we will likely say okay. We will dig up the do re mi to keep prices up for the farmer and at the same time, he says, we can buy cheaper at the corner grocery.

Mr. Barnum and Mr. Bailey, both of 'em, if they were living now, would need to take a back seat to this new and great "Govt. wizard"—and round and round she goes.

And now—with a tip to our U.S.A. senators. The senate is investigating gasoline prices. Jump on a boat, I say, for socialistic France or Italy where gas sells at two times as much as here, or take a squint at the crepe hanging on the Texas gas pumps where new taxes there are jacking up prices.

Yours with the low down, JO SERRA

the convening of the court next October.

Consideration of the case, or at least a decision, is unlikely before next spring or early summer. Congress convenes early in January, so that would leave a few weeks for passage of tidelands legislation if the federal and state authorities could come to a meeting of the minds.

The legislators could act without regard to the opinions of the state and government officials, but they won't.

AROUND THE CAPITAL

Each Wednesday the Texas congressional delegation holds a luncheon in the speaker's dining room in the house wing of the capitol.

Summons, or announcements, are mailed out by Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson. He is serving his turn as delegation secretary. The reminders he sends his colleagues are no stereotyped notices.

Two examples:

June 13 — Leave us face it! Reality must at times be recognized. June has no "R"—therefore, oysters cannot be expected at the open meeting of the Texas delegation on Wednesday.

June 21—At the closed luncheon of the Texas delegation tomorrow will have opportunity to offer gripes of wrath, reports of unreported train wrecks, methods of putting wheels on carriages, and other items of individual interest.

In order to cull the deadwood from its mailing list of 2,000 names, the Texas state society of Washington sent a letter to all on the roster asking them to fill out an enclosed return post card if they wanted to be kept on the roll.

Among those returned promptly was one, written in ink and signed "O'Leary." It said:

"I ain't never been in Texas. I don't care about ever going to Texas. And take me off your list."

Nobody knows just how he got on it.

Col. R. B. Creager of Brownsville, the long-time Republican national committeeman of Texas, has been here talking politics with his friend, Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio, and other party leaders.

He said he would watch with interest the August primary election in Virginia to see how the Republicans fare. It will be the first time since the Civil War that the GOP has participated in primary balloting in the Old Dominion state. If it does all right there, the party likely will move to enter primaries in other southern states, Creager said.

The Herald Has One Price To All

The Herald is very sorry if our advertising solicitors refuse to take copy from one advertiser cheaper than from another. Our rule and guide for the last 40 years is to treat all alike. Of course, there is a sliding scale for the larger advertisers. We suppose this is practiced by every newspaper and magazine in America.

The same is true of subscriptions. No one gets The Herald free. All persons in the trade area pay their $2 for The Herald, and all others $3 per year, regardless of their standing in the community, wealth, poverty, race, creed or color. The Herald is forced on no one.

Up until a few years ago, we allowed each business man who carried an ad more or less regularly, one copy, as a checking copy. But now their Herald is charged on their account when it expires. We furnish them tear sheets of ads on which they get a rebate, just like national advertising agencies.

This is not because we try to be hardboiled about the matter, but we would regret for John Smith to tell us some day that Bill Brown told him that he was getting The Herald free.

Last week Abernathy celebrated his 40th birthday, and our good friend, Beauford Davenport did the affair up in good style including some pictures. In one picture, he showed a full bearded young man standing between two ladies, that represented how they looked 40 years ago. We'll admit the style of the ladies looked quite familiar; we have some pictures taken in Brownfield about that time. And we passed through Abernathy 39 years ago the past June, and that's fairly close to 40. But we saw no men here or in that city, Lubbock or elsewhere with full beard, except men toward 70 or 80 years of age wore full beard. A few in the middle aged group wore mustache at that time. However, Beauford's dray wagon with the bed extending out over the wheels, and a spanking, prancing team drawing it, along with the gals with their umbrella-las riding therein, was quite a familiar sight. Anyway, our congratulations go out to Abernathy from an older town. Brownfield was quite old and staid at that time. It was all of FIVE years, having been born in 1904.

Along back in June, or was it May? there was no little stir about about the use of DDT on dairy cattle, and as it seemed that it all came from the Dept. of Ag., it appeared that some had their wires crossed, and that there was a difference of opinion about the matter among the USDA and Texas A. & M., all working together. Now it develops that the original statement still stands and should be read carefully: "Do not use DDT and similar chemicals Not that it hurt the cattle or the barn, or those that use it. There was some question of milk contamination. Not that it is known that anyone was ever made sick using milk from dairy cattle on which the DDT had been sprayed. Then of course the question came, "What will we use to keep down the flies in the dairy barn?" Well, the authorities came right back with that old time reliable, the "daddy" of all sprays, pyrethrum. Yep, you can still get it at your drug store, or in most grocery stores. So, that ought to settle that.

Among we, the laity of the oil business, are apt to think that every drop of crude that comes out of the ground is as alike as two peas in a pod. This is no more true than lignite, anthracite or bituminous coals are alike. No two oil fields produce the same kind of oil. Some are high in wax content. Others are a source of lubricating oils, still others yield fine grades of kerosene, diesel fuels and heating oils. Some have a general purpose ability to meeting all needs. But all this is worked out in huge laboratories, handled by chemical experts. Too many of us imagine that an oil field section consists of a roaring, colorful town, with oil wells, refineries, etc. Most refineries using crude, may be a year in assembling the kind and grades of crude oils that they wish to blend to make the best grades of gasoline. Just because your favorite filling station happens to have just the gas and Russia remains one of the few countries in the world that believes that prisoners of war should be used to rebuild factories, roads and bridges that the prisoners' country destroyed during the war. For two or three years after the conflict, many thousands of German prisoners were used, but as the need for recruits of a communistic army of native Germans arose, most if not all of them were released, provided they got in the army manned by Russians. It was also well known that Russia held hundreds of thousands of Jap prisoners, although the Japs had no chance to damage Russia, as they never invaded that nation. Now the Kremlin announces that within the next six months they will release the remaining 95,000 Japanese prisoners of war. On the other hand, the Japanese government gives the figure of their natives now held by Russia at 398,743. We imagine that many of these will never see their native land again.

A meeting of Statewide Cotton Committee is announced for Dallas, July 28, according to Burreis C. Jackson of Hillsboro, who is a leading administration democrat of Texas. The meeting will be held at the Baker Hotel, Dallas, and the United States secretary of agriculture, Charles F. Brannan, will speak. This will be the annual research congress that is working to find more ways to use cotton, and while Mr. Brannan will be allowed to choose his own subject, it is expected that it will be around the congress theme, "Cotton, Today and Tomorrow."

So serious was the hospital fire in one of the smaller cities of Illinois last year, that the National Fire Underwriters have announced a rigid system of inspection of all hospitals in the USA. Seventy-three, mostly patients, perished in that fire, all unable to take care of themselves. It was said to be the worst tragedy of the kind in the history of the country and pitiable beyond description. In cities where land is both high and scarce, hospital building in the last few years has been confined to suburban areas, where more grounds could be obtained, and the buildings confined to as few stories as possible. But the into being, they will be unions in name only, just like Russia today.

Here's good news for our nation of heavy meat eaters. It is said the supply is altogether adequate and that there will be at least 150 pounds per person in the United States for the next year, against only 145 pounds this year, and at perhaps some reduction in price. It is stated that the country's pastures and meadows were never better, and if rain comes to the corn belt soon, there will be another bumper feed crop, although that crop is fast deteriorating from extreme heat and a prolonged drought. Most Americans plan their meals around meat as the central idea. The farms and ranches, the butchers and retailers are doing a jamp-up job seeing to it that the American tables are well supplied with beef, pork and lamb, as well as a fine quality of cured meats.

The right to work, whether union or non-union, has been upheld by the United States supreme court, in this language: "There cannot be wrung from a constitutional right of workers to assemble to discuss improvements in their working standards, a further constitutional right to drive from remunerative employment all persons who will not or cannot participate in the assemblies. The constitutional right of employees to assemble, to discuss and formulate plans for furthering their own self interests in jobs, cannot be construed as a constitutional guarantee that none shall hold jobs except those who join in the assembly, or agree to abide by the assembly's plans." Now before any gather the notion that the above opinion was written by a reactionary, anti-union man, we might state that it was written by Justice Hugo Black, a dyed-in-the-wool new dealer. All his colleagues agreed unanimously to this opinion.

Mr and Mrs. Walter Skiles visited Mrs. Emma Skiles, Mrs. Emiline Justus, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sorrells, in Stamford, the past week end. They also attended the rodeo there.

You know, somebody, if they can, I wish they would let me know why it is that our U. S. A. must do the advising and worrying for the whole world. We are the champions on barging-in with free advice. We want to help everybody do their local chores. We tell 'em how—we furnish half the cash for the job. We are the wise guy—windy. We are the quick—rich to the rest of the world—a cinch for a touch. That is us.

For "horse sense" in IQ test would not show us too stupendous. Horse Sense you know is minding your own affairs and keeping your mouth closed, at least part of the time and thus not expose too much of your ignorance. That is what a horse does—that is how the saying got started. Yep.

Instead of supporting 600,000 or 700,000 on the Govt., payroll, to think up fancy thoughts and ways to impress the world we should be rummaging in our sock to see how near it is to the bottom. We should calm down. The atmosphere would clear up mightily if we would remove a flock of our heavy thinkers. Around 650,000 of 'em are costing us around 3,000,000,000 per annum in cash—cold cash—that is—yours and mine.

That Mr. Harry Bird... that old Virginia democrat—he is doing his level best to remove some of this deadwood. A postcard to him would be a nice gesture—that is unless you think 3 billion is just chicken feed.

Spelling "Ice" With Trucks

Spelling out the name of the product they deliver to customers of the Kansas City Ice Co., this fleet of 88 Chevrolet trucks has a total mileage of 13,200,000 miles and is probably the oldest automotive fleet of its size in the country. Vehicles have been in operation nearly 19 years and are still in daily service on numerous delivery routes throughout Greater Kansas City.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By Reynolds Knight
 NEW YORK, June 27 — The cost of building is down five per cent from a year ago, and will decline an additional eight per cent over the next few months. This is the opinion of the F. W. Dodge corporation, and is based on a survey of the costs of building one-family houses and large apartment buildings.
 So once again prices respond to the old law of supply and demand. Throughout the nation, builders report that the old shortage problems, which plagued the building boom last year by adding to costs, are rapidly being ironed out. This is the best possible kind of news, and may possibly revive the building plans of many a family that had shelved its hopes for a new home.
 Meanwhile, public construction, where costs are not so much a factor because they are paid by taxpayers' funds, continues quite strong. New school construction will total $890 million this year, a substantial increase over the 1948 figure of $567 million. New hospitals, new highways and public improvements generally will hold strong this year, thus supplying a badly needed stabilizing influence to the economy.
 MORE FOR YOUR MONEY—Today's economy houses still are priced substantially above homes of comparable size built in 1939, but many builders contend that prospective buyers are using the wrong yardstick. They fail to realize that the 1949 version of a home contains numerous labor-saving and comfort-giving devices that were not even in existence before the war.
 Just to prove his point, an eastern builder took inventory of the new improvements contained in a home he completed this month. He found ten innovations in the equipment or materials that were not available ten years ago. All contribute to better living.
 For example, his heating system is controlled automatically by electronics. The plant is operated by Electronic Moduflow, a system which was perfected by engineers of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company during the war. It was used first to control temperature in aircraft cabins. Now it is installed in thousands of homes and even in trains and buses.
 The builder also found that his plus items included a picture window glazed with double-paned glass. New devices in the kitchen alone included an awning-type window that opened with the turn of a crank, electric range, refrigerator and clothes washer, a housewife's secretary, an electric clock, ventilator and mar-proof work areas.
 THINGS TO COME—Right in the middle of a heat wave, a Chicago company announces a new fast-freezing icemaker designed for restaurants, cafeterias, clubs and bars. Called the Electric Iceman, the unit can turn out 9,000 ice cubes every 24 hours.
 Having trouble teaching Junior to tell time? There's a new electric clock with a different picture at each hour. The clock comes in nursery colors. The air force is developing a big steel flywheel to simulate a landing strip in testing airplane tires.
 Also from the airplane field, Crosley Motors has taken its new Hydradisc brake. Instead of expanding shoes working against a revolving drum, as in conventional brakes, the Hydradisc has two friction "spots" which clamp, under hydraulic pressure, against a disc which is part of the wheel.
 Now they've got a toy automobile which can be steered by remote control.
 Product of the week: A dough roller made entirely of Bakelite styrene plastic, and aimed to supplant the traditional rolling pin. The new product is circular in design, and has eight parallel rollers, each one-half inch in diameter. Said to be much more efficient than the old-fashioned rolling pin, but it won't lend itself so readily to household jokes.
 HOME TOWN—The value of sales promotion on the home-town level is being proved by current clay floor and wall tile sales, according to construction industry authorities. Despite a

"Right Smart" Out In California

We always get a kick out of talking to Brock Gist when he visits here from California, where he has lived since the early 20ies, and reared a family. His wife is the daughter of Noah Bell, Terry county pioneer. But back to Brock's talk. Most people, especially young folks, get the California "slanguage" in a big way soon after making that state their home. Not so with old Brock, who was just a young man when he went out there. He still has the old Texas tang to his tongue.
 Brock said he did not know that he spoke so much like he did when he left here about 1922 until recently, when his boy obtained a recording machine, and he got to listen to his own voice. But there are some things that I did quit, says Brock, and one of them was "right smart." That, he says don't mean a thing to Californians.

A word, or words may have another meaning in different sections of this country, despite a lot of travel and mixing these days. For instance, a guy from Texas got no little amusement out of hill people back east when he inquired the distance any place "it's a good piece." Now that was quite logical, for who had ever measured the distances of those "ridge" roads before the invention of mileage meters on cars?
 The use of the word "pack" for "carry" by Texans was no little mystery to the fellows from the old States. And southerners get a kick from the northerner's "that" for thought, and "creek" for creek. And most of us, except the ducky, laugh about the one about the educated colored boy who corrected his younger brother on the word "molasses." Said resist devaluation to the bitter end.

 First signs of a check in the sales volume of television sets begin to appear. It's the old story: price cuts make people think that more price cuts will follow. The country is getting its lower prices for which it yearned a year ago, and some people don't like it at all.

the youngster, "molasses I aint had none yit." The habit of the people from the deep south of skipping their "R's" is well known.

But this writer was surprised a few years ago when a famous traveler and linguist stated that the mountain folks of Virginia, Carolina and Tennessee use English as spoken by the landed gentry in England in the 17th century. Reason, the sons and daughters of old England had settled in these mountain communities. Few had migrated, or few strangers had come among them to settle in the past two centuries.

Mrs. Ruby Davis of San Diego, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Crowdo Jr., and Jeanne, of Valejo, Calif., spent last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cornett and Clairice, of Brownfield, and Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Davis, and Sandra, of Lamesa.

building let-up, tile sales are holding at near record levels, whereas in the past, sales have always risen or fallen right along with residential construction. Although home building was off 12 per cent in the first quarter this year, clay tile sales decreased by only .006 per cent. Local promotion is an important reason, tile industry leaders say. Strong promotion by dealers has been one of the industry's major aims for two years. Main elements in the effort are sales aids for clay tile contractors, who are the outlet for 99 per cent of tile output. These include newspaper ad mats, telephone directory ad mats, direct mail kits, home show exhibits, and localized sales literature. They are made available through the industry's public relations and promotion bureau, the Tile Council of America, and have been used by 15 per cent of the country's 3,500 tile contractors. Results are evident in continued peak sales and a tile production record averaging about ten per cent over pre-war highs for the past 18 months.
 BITS O' BUSINESS—Britain denies it stoutly, but rumors of pound devaluation will not subside. All the arithmetic is on the side of devaluation. England has not yet been able to close the gap between her heavy imports and her not so heavy exports. But the Labor government there, which needs the high purchasing power of the $4.03 pound in order to buy needed foreign products, will

A Tip For Summer
Showers

Lovely Joan Alexander, who plays Della Street on CBS's "Perry Mason," passes on this novel idea for shower gifts... a doll made out of practical kitchenware. Paint a cute face on the back of a kitchen spoon, back it with a dishcap for hair, and cover the "head" with a potholder kerchief. Then with picture wire, make a "body" with an egg-beater, small strainer, spatula, serving spoon, measuring spoons, potato-masher, and wooden fork. A dish-rag makes a shawl for the bodice, and dish-towels drape into a full skirt, topped off with a red checkered apron. The arms are made by wiring bundles of kitchen knives, forks, and spoons. This makes an attractive display for the shower, and every item will be of real use to the bride... if she can bring herself to take the doll apart!

ROMANS TOLD NOT TO BLOW OWN HORNS
 Rome, (AP)—One of Rome's post-Mussolini freedoms is slowly being snuffed out. That is the freedom to blow your automobile horn.
 Acoustic signaling, as it is called in Italian road manuals, was strictly taboo in Rome during the Fascist regime. With the fall of Rome, June 4, 1944, Italians went on a tremendous toot. The seven hills rocked—and continued to rock for five years—to the unrestrained sound of automobile horns.
 Editorials finally began appearing in the Rome press calling for a return to the once-oppressive days of silence. And just the other day, traffic signs were erected near the Palazzo Venezia. They show horns with lines drawn through them—meaning don't blow them around here.

Deficiency Of Salt May Be Serious

AUSTIN—A deficiency of salt in the human system can cause serious consequences, and for this reason Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises every person whose work is such that it causes excessive perspiration to add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water taken during the day.
 Farmers, mechanics, printers, carpenters, construction men and all others whose work causes them to sweat profusely are in danger of having their body salt content seriously depleted, and as a result may suffer from heat cramps or heat fag. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat, and when the thermometer hits the high register, the human body may lose as much as 40 to 50 grams of salt during a single day.
 In many industrial plants, workmen are furnished with and urged to take a tablet of pure salt and dextrose with each drink of water. Many find this a pleasant way of taking extra salt, but others prefer to add the needed amount of extra salt to their food and drink.

"Take your extra salt in any manner that is agreeable to you," says Dr. Cox, "but take it. Heat cramps are very painful and exhausting. They are characterized by cramps in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases there may be nausea and vomiting. Body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until a deficiency exists; then the abdominal muscles begin to cramp."
 According to the State Health Officer, it is a wise precaution to keep the body supplied with salt, and thus avoid possible suffering and loss of time from heat cramps.

Home-building experts are recommending stainless steel nails that won't rust out or 'bleed' corrosion products through paint.

Entitled "HOW TO MAKE HOME BREW" the following recipe which has been contributed by a "prosperous Garza vounty farmer" was published in Post Dispatch Aug. 1938:
 "Chase wild bull frogs for three miles and gather hops. To them add 10 gallons of tanbark, one-half pint shellac, one bar homemade soap. Boil 36 hours. Then strain through an I. W. W. sock to keep it from working. Add one grasshopper to each pint to give it a kick. Pour a little into the kitchen sink; if it takes the enamel off, its ready for bottling.—Post Dispatch.

Baptist Again Refuses Union Invitation

The Southern Baptist has again refused to participate in church union movements, this time declining to send official delegates to a Conference on Church Union at Princeton, N. J., next December.
 "We would agree with you concerning the challenge of secularism, materialism, and sin." We do not agree that church union provides the answer to this challenge," declared Dr. Duke K. McCall, executive secretary of the S. B. C. Executive Committee.
 "As Baptist we believe in the freedom of the conscience of the individual to arrive at his religious convictions from a study of the Bible under leadership of the Holy Spirit. We recognize that this freedom has produced varying interpretations and differences of opinion. We believe that the cause of Christ will be served best by each individual remaining absolutely true to his conviction concerning the teachings of the word of God.
 "It is further our conviction," Dr. McCall continued, "that any effort at church union must either dilute these convictions to produce a common denominator of faith for all who enter the union, the union must ignore these differences and pretend a unity which is not a reality."

REDS BLAME U. S. EGG POWDER FOR DISEASE

MOSCOW — (AP) — The Soviet medical paper, "Medical Worker," claims that large numbers of Europeans are suffering from stomach ailments as a result of eating Marshall Plan egg powder.
 "Medical Worker" claims that most American egg powder sent to Europe is infected with bacteria of the salmonella family, dangerous bacteria held responsible for epidemic meat poisoning and other serious diseases.
 "Medical Worker" cited an essay by a German doctor which appeared in the American zone of Germany. The Soviet paper said the German doctor had been exceedingly careful not to draw any conclusions from his study, but that he had given the basic facts.

Your Job at Home

Food storage, as every homemaker knows, is an important part of housekeeping. Nutritional values of foods are frequently lost and spoilage results through improper refrigerator care. And there is no better way to protect the vitamin content and prevent drying out than by wrapping in Sylvania cellophane. Lettuce, watercress, carrots and other fresh vegetables retain their crispness and nutritional values when protected this way. Ready-to-eat and ready-to-cook dishes like this Beef Casserole Au Gratin keep moist for hours if wrapped in cellophane. It can be made well in advance and stored in the refrigerator until cooking time.

- Beef Casserole Au Gratin
- 1 large onion sliced
  - 2 tbsp. fat
  - 1 lb. ground beef
  - 1 can tomato soup
  - 1 can tomato sauce
  - 1 c. cooked mushrooms
  - 1/2 lb. cheese
  - 1 pkg. wide noodles

Brown onions in fat, add ground meat, cook until red color disappears. Add tomato soup, tomato sauce, mushrooms and half of cheese diced. Cook noodles in boiling salted water, drain and add to meat mixture. Blend and pour in casserole. Slice remaining cheese as top crust. Brown in moderate oven. Serves 6.

A. H. Herring was in the past week and called to run and ad. He stated that the recent winds, and especially the one on Friday night, June 24, caused him to have to do considerable replanting. Mr. Herring said it would be pitiable to contemplate what another hour of that wind would have done.

Kellie Sears says it was the worst he ever saw at the time of year, and even made the Old He admit it was the worst he ever saw. Another hour, and everything would have been seared by static electricity, thinks Kellie.

Beauty by Chrysler

The Beautiful Chrysler | Silver Anniversary Model

Beauty In Appearance! Every clean, lovely line has purpose and meaning. Beauty that is useful is the Chrysler idea. A striking line of chrome along the fenders may please your eye, but it's there to act as a curb rail. Behind each detail of Chrysler design there's a story of common sense and imagination in engineering.

Beauty In Comfort! A chair at home is beautiful if fine design gives it grace and comfort. Chrysler chair-height seats have this kind of beauty, too. Perfectly proportioned for comfort, they seat you at the proper height to see the road and to enjoy your drive. Comfort that has beauty through fine design—that's the secret of Chrysler engineering and the relaxing pleasure of driving a Chrysler.

Beauty In Performance! You know what we mean the moment you feel the smooth response of the great Spitfire High Compression engine. With Prestomatic Fluid Drive Transmission, driving is wonderfully easy. Start in third, a slight lift of your toe takes you into cruising range. You rarely touch the gear shift lever. A few minutes in this car gives you pleasure it would take a book to describe. Phone for a demonstration today.
