EIGHT MILES OF F-M ROAD TO BE BUILT

The farm-to-market road from State 137 at Union to Lynn county line, a distance of approximately 8.1 miles, is hereby designated subject to the availability of funds under the terms of Senate Bill No. 287 and subject to the condition that Terry county will furnish all required right-of-way free of cost to the state.

Upon acceptance of the provisions of this order by the proper officials of Terry county the state highway engineer is directed to proceed with the preparation of plans for construction at an estimated cost of $61,000.00 and when right-of-way and funds are available to proceed with construction and to assume the road for maintenance upon completion of construction.

Armory Ok'd For Local Guard Unit

Sam Privitt, commander, has announced that the Brownfield city council has approved the building of an armory on the 15-acre tract of land belonging to the city directly south of Coleman park. The proposed armory calls for a $17,000.00 building. Plans are at a standstill pending a satisfactory report after the next federal inspection, which will be held within the next two months.

At previous federal inspections, the local unit has received unsatisfactory reports because of a lack of personnel. The present strength is 46, and the required strength is a minimum of 65 men. A membership drive is on, with a $25 reward offered to the man bringing in ten members. So far, Bryan Zant is ahead in the contest.

Captain Albert Thompson, army instructor for the 132nd field artillery battalion of the Texas national guard and three other units, including Brownfield, assumed his duties last week. He attended the regular meeting of the local unit Monday night.

Thompson, who is stationed in Lubbock, has been in the army for ten years, and has recently returned from three years' service in Trieste. Also present at the meeting Monday night was army instructor, Master Sergeant Robert McCune of Amarillo.

Tried To Get Old He On Broadcast

Our nephew, Alton Stricklin, who is manager of the bargain section of a large hardware-furniture business in Cleburne, that covers a half block, wanted us to say a few words Saturday afternoon at 2:30, when he went on the air for his section of the store. Glad he did not insist much, as he is a fine lad even if kin to us. But he gave them some fine piano selections, as well as some shop talk along with his announcer. It was our first time to set out a broadcast.

We blowed up on broadcasting down at Lake Undy, a resort near Athens, that used to belong to Arch Underwood of Lubbock. That was back in the 30's. There was a large bunch of west Texas editors on hand, as well as a raft of well-known state politicians from Dallas and other places. Late that evening, after guests had been subjected to about every trick device known, and most of us (Continued on Page 8)

DeMOLAYS NEAR END OF BASIC WORK

After completion of their basic chapter work, which should be within the next three weeks, the members of the DeMolay club plan a barbecue. There are 28 members in this club, which is sponsored by the Masonic lodge, and they hope to increase their membership within the next few months. Dr. Gordon E. Richardson, chapter advisor, announced that the DeMolays plan to enter a DeMolay boxing team in the TAAF tournament to be held here August 2 and 3. So far, the team is composed of Lyle Shelton, Don Andress and Doug Tankersley. Master counsellor of the group is Jerry Ellis. Bill Tankersley is senior counsellor and Jimmy Billings is junior counsellor. Election of officers is scheduled within a few weeks.

NEW SEAGRAVES FIELD HONORS BLUE GRAHAM

Dedication services for Graham field in Seagraves will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, July 24. The new baseball stadium will be dedicated in honor of E. U. (Blue) Graham, who was a member of the Seagraves baseball club. The son of Mrs. E. A. Graham, he was stricken June 5 with a fatal heart attack while at bat

RETAIL TRAINING INSTITUTE GOING

James King, chairman of the education committee of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, announced last week that the local chamber will sponsor a retail training institute for salespeople and management personnel of all types of stores.

Wednesday, July 20, is the date set for the school to begin. The first meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the high school. Courses will be of two or three weeks' duration and will meet according to student wishes.

The institute will be taught by Miss Lucille Dunn, retail training specialist on the staff of the University of Texas industrial and business training bureau. She has had seven years in the retail training field.

The institute will offer six courses. There are four sales courses, including selling today, grocery selling, variety store selling, and selling hardware and auto accessories. The two informative personnel courses in management institute are how to train an employee and how to supervise employees.

These training courses are a part of the distributive education services offered by the University of Texas division of extension, in cooperation with the state board for vocational education.

Enrollment fees for the selling courses are $1; fees for the management courses are $1.50.

Everyone is urged to attend the meetings. For further information concerning the courses, contact David Nicholson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, at his office at 608 W. Main, Brownfield.

PLAINS MAN SERIOUSLY BURNED SATURDAY

Cliff Johnson of Plains was seriously burned at his home near Plains Saturday night when a gasoline motor ignited and exploded.

Johnson was cranking the motor when a spark evidently ignited the gasoline, causing an explosion. Gasoline had spilled on his clothing and ignited. Although he received serious burns on the right arm and leg, his life was probably saved due to his quick thinking when he threw himself on the ground and rolled in the dirt.

He was brought to Treadaway-Daniell hospital where he is still under treatment.

After Twenty Years, Meadow Class '29 Has Homecoming

After 20 years separation, the members and their families of the senior class of Meadow high school in 1929 held their class reunion in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Burleson Saturday, July 16. A delicious meal, consisting of fried chicken, roast, vegetables, salads, cake and iced tea was served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Doc McCoy, Winona and Kenneth, of Meadow; Mr. and Mrs. Horace Simms, Janelle, Sonny and Norma, of Eunice, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hinson and Suzanne of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Timmons, Herschel, Ray, Timmie and Donnie Ray, of Meadow; Mr. and Mrs. Burnice Sisk, Bobbye and Marilyn, of Fresno, Calif.; Vorus Kelly of Dallas; Maggie Whatley of Lubbock; Mrs. Cora Mae Judah and Edna (Hester) Simms. The only member not able to attend the reunion was Mrs. Berta (Lenow) Widener of Lubbock, who was attending a relative in Mayo clinic.

Bridge and "42" were played, but by far the most popular pastime was reminiscing about the "good old days." Mrs. Burleson reports that this particular class was the first in Meadow high school to gain credits of affiliation with the state department of education; the first to wear caps and gowns at graduation; the first to adopt the "bronco" emblem for

Mayor Primm Urges City Continue 'Drive on Polio'

BUILDING MOVES ALONG AT GOOD CLIP; PUBLIC STRUCTURES LEAD

We note that the Women's club building is nearing completion and while not large to a degree of being amazing, it will for the present answer the purposes for which it is built. Congratulations are in order to the ladies of the town who have worked and saved their funds for this beautiful building. Additions can be made as the town and clubs grow.

Then the foundations are completed for the first section of the new Presbyterian church. As we understand it, the portion now being built will comprise the auditorium or sanctuary, and the educational part will come later, as the congregation grows and funds are accumulated. Material is being assembled at the site on East Broadway.

And of course most of us sidewalk supts. are admiring the fine new building of Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., as it rises from its basement and goes on to become a very modernistic two-story building at Broadway and Fourth. Even though the weather is hot, the workmen are making rapid progress.

Contracts have been let and work is to start soon on the addition to the Jesse G. Randal school, which as soon as the new high school is built will be turned into a cafeteria. When the high school students are moved to the new plant to be built at the end of Broadway, some of the grades will occupy the present high school building, and the cafeteria will then open. Temporary partition walls are to be put into the addition so that it can easily be converted into the cafeteria when the time comes.

Then, things are shaping up for the $61,000 South Plains health unit headquarters down on North Fifth. There is a possibility that the new building will be ready to move into by the first of the year.

When they move out of the courthouse, that fact will yield some much needed room for other offices over there. For instance, the home demonstration agent is now crowded into a hole in the wall too small to cuss a cat in.

RITES CONDUCTED TUESDAY FOR HART INFANT

Iva Jane Hart, 27-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Hart of Tokio, died Monday in Treadaway-Daniell hospital following a short illness.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the Four-square Gospel church with Sister I. M. Norris officiating.

Interment was in the Terry county memorial cemetery under the direction of the Brownfield funeral home.

Survivors include the parents, one sister, Betty Louise; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Hardy of Quincy, Ill.; and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Hart of Brownfield.

OIL WORKER INJURED IN 30-FOOT FALL FROM RIG

John J. Van Stavern, 33, was injured at about 1:30 p.m. Wednesday when he fell from the rig on which he was working, near Seagraves, approximately 30 feet. He was brought to Treadaway-Daniell hospital by a Webb funeral home ambulance and was hospitalized. He received a broken foot, back injuries and multiple bruises.

Van Stavern is an employee of Atlantic Refining company.

TESS FULFER TAKES OVER ESQUIRE

Tess Fulfer took possession of the Esquire cafe Saturday, July 16. He leased the business for three years from Bobby Jones.

Fulfer announced that the Esquire will cater to private parties and banquets. He has had several years of experience in the cafe business.

For the citizens of Brownfield who feel that, since the city has been fogged and sprayed with DDT to control flies and mosquitoes, they can breathe a little easier on the polio count, Mayor C. C. Primm and Bill Aschenbeck, city secretary, wish to remind them that the case is quite the contrary.

Within the past ten days, Lamesa has been hit with three cases of polio, while Lubbock has several known and suspected cases.

Although their efforts have been effective, city officials urge individuals to cooperate by doing their own spraying around their premises and to keep their weeds cut and burned.

Aschenbeck stated that, while it is true that at one time city officials asked people not to burn their trash, the case is in reverse now, and he asks that everyone burn their trash every day. All watermelon rinds should be left outside the barrels and dosed with DDT.

He also urges each family to have a trash barrel of their own. There are several families using one barrel at the present time. These barrels can be obtained from any wholesale oil company.

Both Primm and Aschenbeck feel that Brownfield has been lucky to escape any polio cases this summer, but they ask that each individual not relax their efforts to control the flies and mosquitoes. Although the entire city is fogged and sprayed with DDT regularly, these measures alone will not prevent an epidemic.

Persons with outhouses on their premises should keep, and use, lime and DDT daily around such buildings.

Troop 49 Returns From Lake Texhoma

Ralph Bailey, scoutmaster, reports that members of Boy Scout troop 49 returned home Sunday, after spending a week at Lake Texhoma, near Denison. Representing 18 troops, 280 boys attended the camp July 10-16.

Troop 49 brought back the camper stake, or trophy, for the outstanding troop in the camp. They were judged on Scout hikes, Scout living, best camp site arrangement, and sportsmanship. Teh boys also drew Wells Fargo, to deliver the gold, against the Indians and bandits. They got the gold through in 25 minutes.

All in all, Mr. Bailey reported, it was one of the best camps the Scouts have ever attended. The boys placed second and third in rowing, which was admirable considering the lack of water in West Texas to practice in. The swim meet was rained out.

All boys attending camp finished several merit badges. Even Dr. Davis, Lee Orville Lewis, Bob Morris and Mr. Richmond passed their cubbing tests and are ready (Continued on Page 8)

Banks Show Seasonal Drop On Call

No one of course was expecting anything but a drop in deposits in the two banks at mid-season. Right now money is being used to advance a new crop in Terry and vicinity, such as chopping cotton, poisoning and for labor in general. Deposits always show a drop at this season of the year.

If you noted the loan side of the statements of the two banks you saw that they were doing a whaling good job of taking care of the agricultural as well as other needs of the area. Both banks are time and panic tested. They weathered the storms of the early thirties, and stand like the rock of Gibraltar.

One thing that can be put on the credit side that helped a lot was that well little wheat crop in the area. Of course, a lot of that is in government loans, and has never showed up in bank statements.

Nation's Business Census Started

Retail, wholesale, and service trade establishments throughout the United States, Alaska, and Hawaii (approximately three million in number) will report on their 1948 business operations in a complete census of business to be conducted by the United States bureau of the census.

Full-scale enumeration began Wednesday, July 20 by 4,500 census takers working out of 300 district field offices now being established by the census bureau. One of these offices is located in Brownfield with the Rev. J. R. Russell as enumerator.

Information on sales volume, payroll and employment, principal merchandise lines and other basic items concerning the country's distributive system will be collected for the first time in almost a decade. The most recent business census was taken in the year 1940, covering activities in 1939. That census reported retail sales of more than $42 billion and wholesale trade of more than $55 billion. It has been estimated that comparable figures for 1948 will nearly treble the 1939 totals.

New legislation enacted by the last congress marks an important change in census coverage of the distributive and service trades. The Act of June 19, 1949, directed a business census to be taken quinquennially instead of decennially as in the past. The 1948 census will be the first in the new five-year series. A strengthened program of annual and more frequent surveys which will bridge the gap between censuses was authorized by the same act.

THEY WANTED TO KNOW THE PRINTER

One of the club ladies received a letter from a lady down in central West Texas recently wanting to know the name of the printer who put out their club year books last year. She thought that perhaps they were printed in Brownfield, they were, so the recipient informed the inquiring lady, at The Herald office, and they were the prize winners.

The lady went on to state that everyone admired the books and the way they were gotten up. So, they wanted to know who printed them, as her club would like to get into the prize-winning on year books, she stated.

But another thing comes to mind. Should The Herald print a book for some other place that would either win over, or run the local clubs a neck and neck race. We might add that any number of Herald-printed year books have taken first, second and third prizes in the past 20 years.

TEXAS BEING DRAINED OF NATURAL RESOURCES

AUSTIN, July 13 (Spl.)—A warning that oil and natural gas resources of Texas and other parts of the south are being drained away so rapidly that the supply "will dwindle sharply during the next 20 years," leaving this section of the nation "indeed a blighted area," comes in a national report just received at the state office of the Texas Rural Roads association.

The findings, contained in a complete copy of the National Planning association's report to the president's council of economic advisers, is titled, "The Impact of Federal Policies on the Economy of the South," including Texas. It has not yet been distributed, but a copy came to the Texas Rural Roads association president, Jim Cantrell of Princeton, North Texas banker and farm leader. The report represents months of careful study by qualified economists, including Dr. L. P. Gabbard, head of the department of agricultural economics and sociology, Texas A & M college, at college station.

"It gives every patriotic Texan food for thought," Cantrell said. "Wake up Texas," he declared. "Let's close the gate before all our horses are out and gone forever."

Pointing out that in physical resources, Texas and the other southern and southwestern sections of the country chiefly depend on oil and natural gas, the report declares that the very life blood of these states' economy is being drained away daily in ever larger amounts. It is a problem which calls for immediate and serious consideration if drastic harm to the states is to be prevented, the report said.

BURYING THE HATCHET—Taking their cue from the Atlantic Treaty, eight Indian nations from the Northwest have signed a friendship pact. Above, Cleveland Kamiakin, representing Yakima Indians now living on the Colville Reservation in Idaho, affixes his thumbprint to the treaty in Yakima, Wash., assisted by Ann George. The pact marks the first such alliance of Northwest Indians in history.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

You know, this governor of Utah, Mr. Lee—that boy sees eye to eye with me. He figures states should have some self-respect—also some independence. I've been harpin', till maybe some people are tired, on where we are coming out as more governors and mayors and chambers of commerce keep on being took in by this big government scheme of putting up half, if the state of the county or the town will put up the other half for a new flock of swimming pools, or an airport, etc., etc.

You go to work and elect yourself a governor or a mayor, and you figure he has been around some, knows that all the dinero in Sambo's jeans is put there by us citizens, and knows too, that every time Sambo divvies one half for anything, that he puts it on your income tax bill next spring. That is what the governor and the mayor should know—and positive.

But this Gov. Lee, he is one that does savvy. He waded into the governor of California and told him at the meeting of governors in Colorado Springs that the time may be coming when Gov. Warren could fold his tent as governor as Washington, D.C., took over California, lock, stock and barrel, via gifts.

Those Utah folks sure picked out for themselves a governor who is no green pea.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

Summer Care Of Pullets

College Station, July — It's pretty hard to say that one thing is more important than another when it comes to properly taking care of the pullets that will be the egg producers this fall, says W. J. Moore, associate extension poultry husbandman of Texas A & M college, but plenty of tender green feed on the summer range is one of them.

Good range furnishes the growing pullets with a supply of vitamins, minerals and other growth factors that just can't be supplied fully from any one source, continues Moore. Pullets should not be pushed too fast. It can cause trouble later on. They develop sexually before they develop physically and actually begin laying before they are mature. So it's best, says Moore, to keep the pullets growing in body and gain-

Veneral Disease Control Campaign

AUSTIN, TEXAS—A statewide educational campaign for the control of veneral disease, which will be carried out throughout the summer and possibly into the fall, has been announced by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, who states that the public will be reached by means of radio, newspapers, movies, and lectures by health authorities.

"While it is true that great advances have been made recently in the control of these diseases, nevertheless a lack of full information on the part of the public has hindered the complete success of the program," Dr. Cox said.

"There has been a steady decline in the incidence of new cases reported, in infant and in adult mortality rates, and in the admissions to mental institutions due to syphilis, since 1933 when intensive measures for the control of veneral diseases were initiated. But this decline has not been great enough," Dr. Cox added, "and this is partly attributable to a lack of accurate information and the general apathy concerning veneral diseases which followed the termination of the war."

"The spread of many completely false ideas about these diseases and their treatment has also led to a feeling of complacency, and the belief that a patient can diagnose his own case, and treat it with self medication. This is a particularly dangerous untruth; only a competent doctor can diagnose and treat veneral diseases, and it is the purpose of this educational campaign to fully inform the public of the actual dangers of veneral diseases, and what measures must be taken to control them."

Dr. Cox said that this campaign of the Texas state department of health will coincide with other similar educational campaigns which will be conducted by health officials throughout the entire nation.

The Misses Earlene and Evelyn Jones returned to their home in Dallas Tuesday after spending a week's vacation in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Howze.

now is the time to practice proper poultry range management.

Rebuilding Lives and Homes Begins

Top, in Cape Girardeau, Mo., shelter, Red Cross Nurse Marie Brooks cares for Kenneth Probst, one of a family of 13 who lost all possessions in May 21 tornado which levelled 21 city blocks. Emergency feeding, shelter, medical care is followed by Red Cross aid in restoring possessions and health to victims of storms where their own resources cannot meet needs. Below, Red Cross building expert checks demolished 5-room home of Robert Gilmer, Amarillo, Texas, veteran, who lost everything in May 15 tornado. Expert will follow through on this and scores of other homes where complete or partial building and repair is financed entirely from Red Cross disaster funds. Three-quarter million dollars has been set aside for such long-range help to storm and flood victims stricken in 6 states in first three weeks of May. Aid is always given outright on basis of what is needed to restore family to normal life: can range from replaced kitchen equipment to entire, new furnished home or medical care for as many years as it takes disaster victims to recover.

Sanitation No. 1 Item In Fly Control

College Station, July — Sanitation is the number one item in a successful fly control program. Insecticidal treatment is of little or no value unless a thorough job of cleaning up all fly breeding places is done, says James A. Deer, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A & M college.

It is a known fact, adds Deer, that flies carry the germs of many diseases, and with the increasing amount of polio in the state, it is more important than ever to get rid of the flies and other insects that may be carriers of the disease.

Deer says, if DDT is not giving good results, try a two per cent chlordane household spray. It should get the flies as well as other insects that are bothersome in and around the house.

Premises should be kept clean at all times. Keep garbage in covered containers and keep the lids on these containers. Clean up and destroy breeding places around the farmstead and don't expect the insecticides to do the entire job. They'll help, says Deer, but there is nothing that can be substituted for cleanliness, but, he concludes, if you mix the two together in liberal proportions and use them, you can keep flies under control.

One treatment is not enough, and if complete control is to be maintained, constant watch must be kept to see that the flies are kept in their place and the only good fly is a dead fly.

AGITATION IS ART, SAYS "PRAVDA"

MOSCOW — (AP) — Agitation is an art, says "Pravda."

"The ideological level of Bolshevik agitation," said "Pravda," "is being continually raised."

"But," it added, "it is not in the Bolshevik tradition to rest on past achievements. New problems demand further improvement in political agitation, and increased sense of responsibility and better qualifications in agitators."

"It is not only, however, a matter of teaching the agitator to elucidate complex questions simply and understandably and to select for his talk the most instructive facts. The art of agitation lies also in avoiding the commonplace and being able to approach different strata of the population differently."

RICE DETERIORATES IN RELIEF WORK

BANGKOK — (P) — Rice sent for relief of suffering residents of the southern provinces of Thailand (Siam) has undergone a corruption process before reaching the starving.

The rice has been changed from 30 per cent to 50 per cent broken grade, reported Deputy Agriculture Minister Nai Kittha Vathanasitp after a tour of the area.

It is noted that the Senate Journal carries a bill that, if enacted, will fill a long want in this state. It is proposed that all confiscated liquors must be turned over to the liquor control board. Now, what? — Yoakum County Review.

The Herald believes that Terry county is fortunate in view of the fact that it only has four school districts in the county, and all are consolidated, and each of the small consolidated portions pay an equal tax in the district. But Mr. Charles H. Tennyson, of the public relations department of the State Teachers association, comes up with the assertion that the little "dormant" districts that have been "farming out" their scholastics to the larger district for the $55 state funds they draw, or in a few cases a very small local tax, are at the end of their rows under the new Glinder-Aiken setup. They must either consolidate and pay their just portion of the school taxes or quit sending their scholars to the bigger districts. We admit that we have not given the law very much study, as we figure that one is for school people to figure out. But from what Mr. Tennyson says, it looks like the small districts as well prepare to go down in their jeans pockets and dig up more taxes, just like other districts. That is nothing but right, as Pole Cat Center is under no obligations to educate the youths of Possum Trot.

Heretofore, it seems that the small house planners all worked on the theory that all that was needed for the modest little cottage was warmth in winter. Not a lot of consideration was given to the fact that people like to be comfortable in the summer as well as winter. So a lot of unnecessary heat and humidity was passed over lightly, or at least a little rock wool insulation was all that was done about the matters. Now, engineers of the university of Texas are going to do something about the matter, and they are to come up with something before very long. They are building some cottages, all with the same floor plan, but with vastly different roof and building materials, insulation, etc. Let us hope they find a way to make the small cottage something other than an oven in the summer.

In the crowd with the most votes that really count these days in the capitol city along the grand old Potomac. It matters not whether they are red, white, black, yellow or gingercake. The number of votes, come general election time, is the crowd that gets the cream and gravy down where the political pot boils all the time. The ordinary and unorganized guys that sell the soap, the BVDs, nails and baby beds, are not considered fit for anything except to pay taxes to be transferred to the majority groups in exchange for the votes. Why cuss Russia? We are drifting down the same old stream with them. Of course our first stop will be socialism, and we are just in the outskirts of that now. Then will come communism with a full dictatorship, with state politics and religion combined. Yes sir, Bo, we are drifting, and we mean at a very rapid rate. Voters are warned to apply the brakes. Better ask the guy that represents you at Washington and Austin how he stands on matters.

This nation seems to be divided in their opinion of the good, if any, that has been accomplished at this time by the United Nations. Perhaps the great trouble is that most of us poor deluded souls were expecting miracles, or the impossible. Perhaps most of us did not expect the crankiness of the Kremlin that developed after they were given the veto. Few people then thought the Rusksos would throw all the tools in the cogwheel, but one can never tell about that bunch. And it seems that some opposition is developing in our legislative halls in Washington against supporting a united western Europe, other than the organization. No cash to be laid along the line, and cash is the main thing those Europeans are looking after. Of course, we live to be a bit patient with folks that do not see eye to eye with us. But could this long-suffering patience finally break this strong nation? This is one of the questions that is now being posed in the congress.

"Of one thing I am sure. No war of importance will ever be started while the General Assembly is in session. An aggressor just could not get away with it." Thus Secretary-General Trygve Lie climaxed a spirited recital of UN's struggle to maintain peace now and build for the future. His assurance roused the Rotary audience of 15,000 in Madison Square Gardens to frequent demonstrations of enthusiasm. Especially noticeable was the spontaneous outburst which endorsed his confidence that Rotary clubs would get behind the Appeal for Children, now campaigning for funds desperately needed. The warmth of this applause may well have resulted from the moving plea for the children that the convention had heard at an earlier session from cinema actress Madeline. Few people of which we are aware are opposed to people quitting their jobs when they are ready. We believe in playing the game fair and square, and of course, we believe the laboring man has the inalienable right to stop work when his job does not suit him. But a lot of us common herd still believe in the old idea that the "right to work" still holds good in this land of the free and the home of the brave. Yes, sir, we believe that no one has a right to tell another American that he cannot work, and a lot of us silent but unsung section believe this right should be upheld by law and force if necessary. And despite the hoodlum section of a few of the labor organizations a lot of us do not believe that the striker has the right to beat up those who wish to work, or to destroy the property of their erstwhile employers. Our nation was not founded nor did it grow great on mob violence.

What is our nation coming to when four governors of the north-west states do not believe in turning over the Columbia river to the federal government to create a Columbia river authority, based on the TVA idea. These governors are the chief executives of Washington, Oregon, Utah and Idaho. Could these elective officials be part and parcel of the capitalistic idea? No, dear reader, these governors yet believe that their people are not ready to turn over their industries and possible tax-paying sources to the Washington bureaucrats. They further warn that the US is fast drifting into a despotic system of one-man control, just like prewar Germany and Italy, and presently Russia, with her attached satellites. Like a lot of other people, these governors believe that when needed, private capital will develop the CRA if Washington will permit them. And that this private deal will pay taxes that will be needed by these four states to carry on their business.

The young woman on trial, accused of stealing secrets from the department of justice and passing them to a Russian spy, really must have had a pocketbook! With all the days of testimony, the array of names and incidents that involves so much intrigue and so many persons, that all started with the lady's purse, is the basis for our wonderment. But, as any Big Spring man knows, it is amazing how much can be crowded into a woman's handbag. They are museum pieces, with old letters, receipts, bills, check books, calling cards, cosmetics, hairpins, hose to be mended, keys, stamps, perfume capsules, combs, vitamin pills, jewelry to be repaired. It appears that the young woman on trial was carrying the files of the department of justice in hers. Perhaps it was one of those fishing creels that the ladies sling over the shoulder of a cotton dress.—Big Spring News.

Texans in Washington

By Tex Easley
AP Special Washington Service
Washington, July 22 (AP)—This column is being written from the temporary "press gallery" in the new house office building where the house of representatives now is holding its sessions.

Anyone who has ever been around the noisy, bustling press quarters at a national political convention will have an idea of the atmosphere in the place.

The house and senate moved out of their historic old chambers on July 2 so workmen could begin the job of remodeling and rebuilding the ceiling. (Incidentally work is going slowly because of a carpenter strike.)

The house moved into the ways and means committee room in the new house office building across the street from the capitol building. The senators moved into the little supreme court chamber near the center of the capitol, where the senate sessions were held from 1819 to 1859.

Space is at a premium. Since there are no galleries in either of the temporary chambers, the public is barred and reporters are assigned to a narrow row of seats just behind the legislators.

The temporary press galleries where the newsmen write their stories have been created by blocking off sections of corridors and lounges which adjoin the rooms where the lawmakers are meeting.

While the change is an inconvenience to most congressmen and senators, it is not without advantages to reporters. They are on the floor with the legislators, thus making it handy to corner them for questions. Normally, reporters do not have the privilege of the floor and must send a doorkeeper in with a request that they come into an anteroom or lobby.

Senators going between their offices and their temporary chamber have to walk through the corridor that has been roped off for the press. While your correspondent worked at a typewriter the other day, Texas senator Lyndon Johnson happened to stride by at a particularly opportune moment. He readily answered a question concerning his subcommittee's action on a natural gas pipeline measure.

At this very moment, here in the house "press gallery," Rep. J. M. Combs of Beaumont has come up to say hello. He says "Pass the greetings on." The "judge" from the Sabine-Neches area of deep southeast Texas walks through here taking a short cut back to his office.

The one member of the house now closest to the new chamber is Rep. Gene Worley of Shamrock. The door of his office is directly opposite that the members use to enter the ways and means committee room, leaving him only a three-step hike to answer to roll calls.

This proximity has some satisfactory aspects for the Panhandle congressman, however. He usually has to push his way through a cluster of people to get into his office. He keeps his door closed to keep out the clatter and shuffle of fellow colleagues, as well as hard-out lobbyists. The latter, deprived of spacious lobbies and corridors around the regular house chamber and the house restaurant, find themselves conspicuous in the new surroundings.

WOULD HEAT CAUSE HAMMERING OF HUMANS?

Early this week the Lubbock dailies told us of the brutal beating one Littlefield section farmer received at the hands of another farmer wielding a wrench, whether pipe or monkey not stated. Right on the heels of that, the papers related that a young guy had hammered the life out of an elderly second-hand dealer over at Slaton, taking a suit and other belongings.

In both cases almost immediate arrests were made, and the murderers landed in jails at Littlefield and Lubbock to await action of grand juries. Then, a negro man at Lubbock was given 15 years in the pen for knifing his spouse to death earlier this year. Perhaps this sentence would have been stiffer, but the man caught his wife galivanting around with another negro in a car.

Now these cases are nearby home. The papers have been full of such brutal slayings all over the nation. Could it be the heat—the humidity—or both?

New appointive officers are Jake Gore, sergeant-at-arms, succeeding H. L. King, and M. J. Craig, Jr., historian.

Schellinger, fellowship; Cecil Hill, Boy Scouts; John Kendrick, school awards and entertainment; Murphy May, Boys' State; J. B. Huckabee, junior baseball; H. L. King, ceremonies, burials and parades; Mon Telford, Mexican membership, and Paul Campbell, youth.

Milton Bell will head the membership committee, and Burton Hackett, "Slick" Collins, Johnny Wieland, Jack Simmons, and Jake Geron will serve with him.

The main project that the Legion will undertake for 1950 is to raise its membership to 1,000.

During the past year, members of the local post built a $3,000 Scout hut for the Legion Boy Scout troop No. 74, of which Cecil Hill is scoutmaster. Year before last, the members purchased the three acres of land which lie directly north of the veterans' hall with the aim of building a Scout village there. Since their own Scout hut has been erected and is now in use, the Rotary club's troop No. 49 hut has been begun.

The prime future goal of the Legionnaires is to build a central assembly.

It is hoped that the other two Brownfield Boy Scout troops will see fit to build their Scout huts on the site. The prime future goal of the Legionnaires is to build a central assembly hall for the Scouts on this location.

Other activities of the American Legion during 1949 was to remodel and redecorate Veterans hall, inside and out. A $1,200 addition was also added to the veterans training building.

Milton Bell has been named as head of the convention committee. At the district American Legion convention in Lubbock last spring, Brownfield was named convention city for the fall meeting.

Economic Highlights

(Happenings that affect the dinner pails, dividend checks and tax bills of every individual, national and international problems from local welfare.)

By now, the American public must be thoroughly confused over the various communist-spy cases that have been in the headlines so long. The Hiss-Chambers trial, with its mass of charges and its countercharges, has all the quality of a wild movie melodrama. So, to a lesser extent, had the Judith Coplon trial.

The judges and the juries will decide on the merits of these and other cases. However, certain recent developments, directly affecting the FBI and the department of justice, need clarification.

There has been a widespread criticism of the publication of an FBI report which indicated that a number of very well-known people may be communists or communist sympathizers.

The impression is that this report represented the FBI's considered opinion, and that the bureau is making a practice of tarring people with a red brush on insufficient evidence.

The FBI report in question was never supposed to be made public, and was never supposed to be conclusive evidence. As the Washington News put it, "These papers read in court are for the most part only unsubstantiated complaints and accusations. They are merely work sheets in proposed, pending and inconclusive investigations. As the first line of defense against the communist underground, it is the FBI's duty to run down all reports it receives, wherever they may lead, even though it knows most of them may wind up in blind alleys." In other words, any police force worthy of its salt must gather and keep all possible information on cases that come before it, including that which later proves to be untrue.

This being so, why was such a report ever made public? That is an interesting and important story. The government, in the Coplon case, wanted to restrict the reading of it to the judge and jury. This gave Miss Coplon's lawyer just the opportunity he was looking for. It is a cardinal principle of American justice that defendants be protected from secret evidence. The judge backed the lawyer up—obviously he had no choice in the matter. He said, "If this case endangers the government, the government should not be here." In other words, the department of justice had the choice of producing and making

4-H Safety Workers in All-Out Attempt to Reduce Accidents on Farms in 1949

MR. FARMER, has the 4-H Club member in your family checked your farm and home for accident and fire hazards lately? If not, you can expect him to do so any day now. 4-Hers are making an all-out attempt to reduce the annual cost of accidents affecting farm folks—including motor vehicle, fire and property damage—which totals more than one billion dollars, or about $35.00 per person! They are also trying to cut down the number of accidental deaths, which kill 51 farm residents in the U. S. every day in the year.

Your 4-H'er doubtless will caution you to drive carefully on highways, and use proper signals when turning or stopping (top right). More than 7,300 rural people are killed annually in motor vehicle accidents. In fact, more fatal automobile accidents occur in rural areas than in any other location.

Falls rank second in farm accident causes. So watch your step when carrying a clothes basket, like the girl shown in right photo. Your 4-H safety worker probably will suggest you tack down throw rugs or put them on non-slip matting, and keep stairways uncluttered.

Are your lightning rods properly grounded? The 4-H'ers shown at top left found the ground wires broken, and therefore worthless. Lightning, which is one of the greatest causes of farm fires, each year destroys 20 million dollars worth of farm property, kills 250 farm residents and injures 1,750 others.

National Farm Safety Week will be observed July 24-30. Rural boys and girls taking part in the National 4-H Farm Safety program want to make you, your family and neighbors safety-minded so that accidents mentioned above won't happen.

For achievements in safety work, the 4-H boy or girl may receive a prized sterling silver medal of honor as county winner. General Motors also provides an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, next November, for the state winner, and $300.00 college scholarships for each of the eight national champions. By practicing safety from this time on, you'll not only help your 4-H'er in his safety work, but help save a life—which may be your own.

The National 4-H Farm Safety program is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By Reynolds Knight
NEW YORK — July 11 —The American market is changing and by 1960 should differ radically from the market of today. This is the conclusion reached by a market study made recently by H. M. Beville, Jr., research director of the National Broadcasting company.

The study has some findings of significance to every manufacturer and to every store owner. Broadly speaking, the study indicates that the American market is becoming more standardized in taste and behavior. This could mean an even greater acceptance of nationally advertised brands. Population is also moving westward, increasing the importance of those markets as compared to eastern trade centers. Most dramatic of all is the steady increase in leisure time. The work week averaged 52 hours in 1920, will be down to 37.7 hours in 1960. So those people who sell the goods and services for recreation should be able to look forward to a growing market. Though the American family is growing less, there is a steady increase in the number of family units. This should provide an increasing demand for small homes and the furnishings necessary to make those small homes livable and attractive.

FIRE-RESISTANT GAS TANK —During the war many Navy planes, damaged and afire, managed to make emergency landings on carrier flight decks or landing strips only to have their loads of high-octane fuel ignite and explode, destroying craft that otherwise would have survived. The Navy sought development of a gas tank that could resist flame and heat long enough to give fire-fighting crews a real chance to save such casualties. The other day the Navy and B. F. Goodrich conducted a joint demonstration of a new fire-resistant fuel cell. Technicians squirted an 1800-degree flame on a conventional tank and it ignited within two minutes, spilling its burning high-octane gas on the ground. A similar flame directed against the new container for ten minutes caused no damage. The secret, explained BFG, lies in a special flexible coating developed by the company's aeronautical engineers. It can be applied with a brush to practically any type of container. Other applications foreseen for this secret coating include automobile, truck and bus fuel tanks, storage containers for volatile liquids, and, of course, fuel cells for commercial aircraft.

THINGS TO COME—For small families, there's a new portable dishwasher that will wash, rinse and dry a complete service for four within five minutes. Two manufacturing companies last week announced fluorescent lights with substantially increased life spans. These new long-life lamps are now good for 7,500 hours, it is claimed. The Underwriters' laboratories have just approved a light switch with a glowing bulb attached. Purpose of bulb is to mark position of switch so you can find it in the dark, though makers also suggest it can serve as a night light.

Neither wind nor rain nor snow will extinguish the flare from a petroleum-base product now being marketed as an emergency signal for motorists stalled on a dark road.

The old-fashioned wooden Coca Cola cases are soon to be replaced by lighter cases made from a combination of aluminum and magnesium. The new container has definite merchandising advantage it is said.

Now comes the safety eyeglass for children. The new spectacles were tested by a steel BB fired at a distance of 35 feet. The lens cracked under the test, but did not shatter.

PROJECT FOR YOUTH—This year' crop of engineering graduates who yearn to build towering skyscrapers or other giant structures may find a smoother path to fame and fortune in developing instruments for measuring ultra-fine dimensions. This is the suggestion of Dr. Haakon Styri, director of research for SKF Industries, Inc., who points out that precision manufacturers are intensely interested in developing super-sensitive gauges capable of measuring differences down to and even below a millionth of an inch.

"Mass production methods have created an urgent demand for new and better types of gauges to make fast and accurate measurements of the finer tolerances toward which industry is constantly advancing," he said.

Dr. Styri explained that the gradual reduction of manufacturing tolerances, the limiting dimensions to which millions of mass-produced parts are made so that they will fit perfectly into their proper places when assembled, has been due to the increasing accuracy of machine tools.

"Forty years ago, measurements of one-ten thousandth of an inch were considered the ultimate in perfection. Now it is possible to determine these to within a few millionths of an inch," he said.

BITS O' BUSINESS — That wonderful fireworks display you saw last week probably cost $500 for each 15 minutes, more if the display was especially elaborate.

England and other countries make much of the "dollar shortage," but, as one official put it, most American citizens are suffering from the same ailment too, particularly after paying their taxes.

New York City department stores were packed with people after the Fourth. Clearance sales were the attraction, with men's shirts and women's bathing suits being in particular demand.

DRUNK ON DUTY—IT'S DUTY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Three Miami Beach policemen recently sat down at a table with a fifth of 100-proof bourbon and got drunk—with the blessing of their superiors and in the interest of science.

The trio were serving as guinea pigs for the city's new "drunkometer," a device for measuring the extent of intoxication. All drank two, four and ten-ounce shots of bourbon then breathed into a sterile balloon. The alcohol content was rated at .180 or better in each policeman—150 is considered drunk.

They agreed it was a staggering ordeal.

public the alleged evidence, even though in the FBI's opinion this would endanger the national security, or it could refrain from producing it and let its case against Miss Coplon go by default. The department took the first alternative, over FBI objections. As David Lawrence said, "Had it been left to the FBI, the case would have been dropped because the bureau values its sources of information more than it does the winning of a single case." Most commentators tend to believe the FBI was right and the department was wrong.

Gilmer-Aiken Passage Spurs Teaching Professions

Austin, June — If university of Texas college of education summer enrollment is a barometer, the teaching profession is gaining in popularity.

Graduate and undergraduate enrollment is up 20 per cent over last summer, Dean L. D. Haske said.

With higher salaries in the offing, an increase in the number of undergraduates taking teacher training is hoped for to help alleviate the teacher shortage.

Given as reasons for the enrollment rise are special offerings by the university's college of education of particular interest to teachers and administrators, increasing competition for jobs as school administrators, and a general desire for advanced study as result of the new minimum foundation act.

Cull The Loafers

College Station — July — It is a direct loss to the poultry producer to feed non-layers during the summer months, says W. J. Moore, associate extension poultry husbandman of Texas A&M college, and it's also one of the reasons poultry producers are not doing a better job of maintaining high egg production during the summer months.

He advises poultrymen to sell the non-producers just as soon as they are noticed. Chances are they'll not come back into production until late fall or early winter, and during this time, feeding them is a dead loss.

Hens that show a shrunken, dried-up comb, yellow beak, new feathers, yellow shanks and yellow vents should be culled and sold. Hens that lack vigor and spend their time loafing should also be removed from the flock. A good producer has to eat and drink lots of clean cool water and they can't do this unless they rustle. Of course, the poultryman must do his part by supplying this feed and water, adds Moore. The poultry producer who does a good job of culling continuously will be well paid, and at the same time, he'll be following one of the important practices of efficient poultry farm management, concludes Moore.

'HOPPERS ON THE MOVE—A band of grasshopper nymphs marches in close formation over dry ground near Demio, Nev. These insects, newly hatched, will take to the air when their wings are developed. The eggs they lay pose a potential threat to fertile California and Oregon croplands unless they are destroyed before they hatch next year.

STAMPING OUT 'HOPPER PLAGUE—Department of Agriculture planes are loaded up with poison bait in Yellowstone County, Montana, where hordes of locusts have invaded the plains. The bait consists of poisoned bran which is sprayed over the grasshopper-infested area.

Cut Back Trees And Shrubs Now

College Station — July — If you plan to cut back overgrown trees or shrubs, do it now or wait until winter. Large limbs removed later may lead to winter injury.

Sadie Hatfield, extension specialist in landscape gardening of Texas A&M college, says cutting back a plant during the growing season starts new growth and this new growth does not have time to harden before frost. Then the tree or shrub is killed back. Heavy frost often kills large shrubs or even trees.

Fertilizing and watering in late summer stimulates new growth, adds Miss Hatfield, and this new growth may also be damaged by cold weather if it doesn't have time to harden before the cold weather hits.

Badly injured plants may not die but they will look sick for a year or more. Blooms and fruit may be light on the injured plants next year.

Miss Hatfield says cut the limbs off smoothly. Don't leave stubs. A tree or shrub will heal quickly if the cut is smooth, but a stub will not. That may take years and it leaves ugly lumps along the trunk branches.

Investigate thoroughly anyone who represents himself as an expert and wants to trim your trees and shrubs in late summer or early fall. She says some plants can survive such rough treatment but all of them will not.

Dead limbs may be cut off at any time without risk. Injured or diseased limbs may need to come off even at a risk, but she cautions, always use a sharp pruning saw and if the wounds are covered with clear shellac, they will heal faster.

TECH COW MAKES HIGH BUTTERFAT TEST

LUBBOCK — July — Texas technological college's registered Holstein-Friesian cow, Premier Colantha, has completed a 304-day production test of 513 pounds of butterfat and 14,639 pounds of milk made in the herd improvement registry tests in Brattleboro, Vt.

The cow was milked twice a day and was four years old when she began her test period.

Tech's Premier Colantha is in production now with her third calf and has produced 260 pounds of fat in three months.

INSECTS' END—Dead grasshoppers like these carpet the plains of Nevada after Department of Agriculture aircraft sprayed the area with poisoned bran. Millions of the locusts swept over the state this year, and the eggs they laid present a hazard to California and Oregon crops when they hatch and migrate next summer, unless they are wiped out.

Room For Improvement

College Station — July — Poor quality hogs are usually a drag on the market. They sell for less money and when market conditions are tight, poor quality hogs are graded down severely.

Regenbrecht says a hog of poor quality is cold-blooded, long-legged, high-flanked, slow in developing, small-horned or in other words it just doesn't have what it takes to make a choice animal at six months of age. Improvements have been made but much more can be done, especially with the range hog industry in Texas. Range producers, says Regenbrecht, produce hogs at a low cost and the price of a good boar would not add to this cost, but the increased prices received for the better pigs would certainly more than pay the difference.

First cross pigs do sell for more money and leaving their ears on also adds to the sale price, he says. A few days ago visits were made to several auction sales, where range raised feeder pigs were sold in large numbers, and the difference paid for poor quality pigs and hogs was carefully noted. Regenbrecht reports that cold-blooded feeder pigs sold for $8 to $12 per hundred pounds; better marked and better quality feeder pigs sold for $15 to $16 per hundred and the extra good ones were going at $19 to $20, and the demand for the best was strong. This is a difference of about $8 to $11 per hundred and the use of better boars made the difference.

The county agents, vocational agriculture and GI agricultural teachers in Texas are interested in going something about this problem and they can get help from the Texas Swine Breeders association. The association will work with any individual or organization interested in improving the quality of hogs in Texas.

The fastest way to make range hogs more profitable for the producers, says Regenbrecht, is to put good boars with the range sows and thus produce a better quality feeder pig that can be readily sold on the market.

A number of range hog producers are following this practice and they are finding it profitable, concludes Regenbrecht.

Fifty-First Legislature

The great weariness which the members of the fifty-first legislature doubtless feel as the session nears its close is shared to some extent by Texans who have been observing the proceedings. There are no regrets on anyone's part that the session is about over.

This legislature has not differed greatly from the traditional pattern. It has had more difficulties than normal, because of the fact that it was urged to spend, and wanted to spend, and found that the revenues limited its appropriations in an uncomfortable fashion. Its mishandling of finances mars a record which in some respects was better than usual. It has seemed bent on spending, regardless. Today, nobody knows the score, as some of its appropriations may be annulled by the comptroller's estimate of revenues.

Its performance has demonstrated the need of something to give Texas legislatures direction and purpose when they convene, so that lost motion can be reduced. The fifty-first has undertaken to meet that need by ordering the creation of an interim committee to map out a program for the next session. We hope it accomplishes its purpose. — San Angelo Standard-Times.

To Patrons Of Wellman School District

All who are interested in what I believe to be the welfare of our schools are urged to vote for this increase in tax rate which is explained in another part of this paper, and thereby keep the burden and responsibility of raising needed extra revenue off of the equalization board. We must raise the extra revenue, and we believe it to be the best policy to raise the rate which the school board can lower but not exceed when the extra revenue is not needed while on the other hand, an increase in property valuations would most likely be rather permanent.

The state will require us to raise an extra $3000.00 this year but has promised in return to grant us an increase of $20,000.00 which is good business any time.

Again may I say, come out and vote on this tax issue on July 23. If you think it is for the best interest of the school, vote for the increase, but, if not in favor of a tax rate increase at this time and desire an equalization board to raise the extra revenue by increasing property valuations by about 50%, vote against the issue. Above all, vote on July 23. All tax paying voters are eligible to vote except those who own no real or personal property.

Sincerely yours, J. T. Bryant, (Supt.)

Contract Is Let For New School Cafeteria

C. G. Griffith, president of the Brownfield independent school board, announced last week that the contract had been let for the construction of the new cafeteria addition to the Jessie G. Randal school.

Lloyd Moore, local contractor, received the contract for the addition and work will start immediately. Plans call for the building to be completed with 80 days at a cost of approximately $35,000. The addition is being built to relieve the one-half day schedule which children in Randal school have been running on for the past two years.

Upon completion, the building will contain six temporary classrooms. As soon as the new high school building is completed, the building will be converted into a cafeteria for the Randal students.

On Broadcast

(Continued from Page One) refused to sit down for fear the seat would collapse, they brought a mike to the lawn and we were asked to say a "few" words.

We did, thinking the wire that ran off toward a huge oak was the end of the matter—just another trick. After several minutes of rambling harrange, we desisted and several, including Arch, who is always happy to make one feel good, stated that we made a fine talk. We hope, we stated, that the robins, redbirds and blue jays up in the trees heard it. "Sure," says Arch, "it was a KRLL look-up, and you were heard by listeners all over the state." Right then and there is where our broadcasts ceased.

But very recently we had some kind of membership card from a radio station at Ansonia, called the Storm Cellar Sitters club. Don't think it has a frazzling thing to do with broadcasting. Rather a reminder that we, the people of the Panhandle-South Plains are becoming more or less jittery of those little funnel-shaped clouds that have been all too frequent in our section this spring.

Anyway, the motto seems to explain matters. This SCSO organization stresses "Caution Above Bravery." We'll admit we are afraid of those whirl-em-nigh clouds, but we are also allergic to storm cellars. We always expect to meet a raft of black widow spiders head-on in one of them.

Donna Weldon Is Outstanding 4-H Girl

Donna Weldon is a 4-H club poultry demonstrator in the Wellman 4-H club. She is one of the Terry county girls to attend the district 4-H camp in Lubbock July 11, 12, and 13. The camp is one of the many rewards Donna has received during her three years of club work. She is 12 years old and is now doing her third year of 4-H work. This is her first year to live in Terry county. The first two years of her 4-H work were done in McCulloch county.

She has learned much from the work done since she has been in 4-H clubs. For two years she has carried a clothing demonstration and for one year a poultry demonstration. While Donna lived in McCulloch county, she received a gold pin in a garden contest and won a blue ribbon on her dress in the county dress revue. During her first year in club work, she took care of the house while her mother was in the hospital. She planned the meals and bought the groceries while her mother was ill. During her second year, she was club representative to the county 4-H organization. This year, she has cared for her niece, nephew, and the house while her mother was away for six days. Other work she has done is make 20 garments, can each year from her own garden for family food supply, help can for ill neighbors, needy people, and lunch room, repair book case and clean the house for her family.

The Wellman Home Demonstration club chose Donna as one of the local talent winners and gave her $10 to invest in chickens. Out of the original 100 chicks, she had 97 to live. When the birds were large enough, she separated the cockerels from the pullets and now she is dressing the cockerels and selling them.

Donna has enjoyed her 4-H club work and gained valuable experience and knowledge as well as trips, ribbons and money.

Mildred Blevins Married to R. E. Smith, Jr., July 16

Mildred Louise Blevins and R. E. Smith, Jr., were married in a double-ring ceremony Saturday, July 16, in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. G. B. Lindley. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Billy Bob Auberg, a close friend of the bride and groom.

Vows were exchanged before an improvised altar of twin candelabra, each of which held seven tapers, and basket of white gladioli.

"Until" was played, as Barney and Dewey Lindley, brothers of the bride, lighted the candles.

Evelyn Blevins, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a pale yellow taffeta frock. Dale Bagley, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Miss Mary Wanda Whitney was maid of honor, and was dressed in green taffeta, styled like the bride's gown. She carried a bouquet of carnations.

Given in marriage by her brother, Herman Lee Blevins, Jr., the bride wore a traditional white slipper satin gown, made with long pointed sleeves, a fitted bodice and a full skirt. A scalloped net yoke formed a high, round neckline, and buttoned down the back to a low waistline. Her fingertip veil fell from a band of red rosebuds and was edged in English lace. She had a penny in her shoe and wore a borrowed blue garter. For something old, she carried a blue lace-trimmed handkerchief. Her arm bouquet of long-stemmed red rosebuds was placed on her mother's marriage license, also dated July 16, and was tied with white satin streamers looped in lovers knots.

The bride's mother wore a navy and white crepe dress, and the groom's mother wore navy crepe. They both wore pink carnation corsages.

J. W. Bevins was best man. A wedding reception was held in the home immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and was centered with an arrangement of red roses and white tapers, flanked by the punch bowl and the cake. The three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple. The buffet was decorated with flowers and white tapers.

The Misses Inez Smith, sister of the groom, and Virginia Martin presided at the table. Guests registered in the white brode's book, which was decorated with deflexis fern, baby's breath and pink Elfe rosebuds.

The couple left immediately following the reception for a short honeymoon in south Texas. For traveling, Mrs. Smith wore a two-piece navy and red dress, with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

They will make their home in Abilene where the groom is employed with an oil company.

FILM STAR WEDS TEXAS OILMAN

Red-haired Greer Garson prepares to slice the wedding cake after her marriage to Col. E. E. (Buddy) Fogelson (extreme left) Dallas, Tex., oilman, rancher and wartime member of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's staff. Also in the picture are New Mexico Gov. T. J. Mabry (next to Fogelson) and State Supreme Justice James B. McGhee, who performed the ceremony held at Santa Fe, N.M., on July 15.

ONLY THE GAS REFRIGERATOR Freezes with No Moving Parts...

STAYS SILENT LASTS LONGER

With families who've had experience, there's no question about it: the Gas Refrigerator is first choice! For this time, they want a refrigerator that can't make noise, won't cause worry.

Only Servel stays silent, lasts longer because it has a different, simpler freezing system. There's no machinery to make a sound, no motor to need fixing. A tiny gas flame does the work without a single moving part. That's why so many of America's almost 3,000,000 Servel-owning families report that their Gas Refrigerators are still on the job after 15, 18 and even 20 years.

See Servel for yourself. Be sure to notice its big convenience features, too. Large ice cube and frozen food compartment. Flexible interior. Dew-action fresheners. Come in today—choose your silent Gas Refrigerator.

A Rambling Notion Hits Us In High

Since returning from Tennessee about the middle of June, we had settled down as a native or pioneer should do. Our wanderlust seemed to have been well corked for the time, but last weekend it hit again, even unto the third and fourth generations. Hot as it was even here, we wanted to see how they fared down in the sticks, and by heck, we took off Thursday afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Lester McPherson, who has a brother, Bluford Adams, and family, living in Brownwood.

The trip was fine, and we found that many of the areas had good showers and crops, while a bit late most places, were showing up, and so much ahead of last year. Our kids and the pups welcomed us, and Mrs. Mack's folks seemed tickled pink to see her. So, we settled down for a rest. Not too hot, but a conditioner felt OK in the rooms. Soon, we were planning a trip Friday over in Johnson county to eat peaches and cream, and hear Meeks, our brother, pull the bow on some of the old-time tunes, with an occasional little tenor yell, a la Bob Wills and his Texas Playboy band.

Alton and his son and family drove out from Cleburne, as Alt usually accompanies his dad. It happened that Meeks' fiddle bow just had 36 hairs left in it, and as an average of nine gave up the ghost on each tune, we only had about four. Herman and the Old He hope he has a new bow when we go back. Alt and Miss Violet gave us a number of piano selections, however.

Hot as old billy out there when we arrived and found Meeks peeling peaches and Violet washing. But in a couple of hours, and just before we got about ready to hunt a hole of water in the creek, a thunderstorm broke with a violent rain and 25 degrees lower temperature. We slept like two logs in a mill dam that night. And did we eat those peaches? Got a buck a bushel for the few he has sold.

So, they invited us to load on all we wanted on the car, which we did—or they did. They will have a very light pecan crop this year, and this holds good for all central Texas, from what we hear.

So, back to Brownwood Saturday afternoon for rest until time to start home about 5 p.m. Sunday. Had a whaling good time.

A meal! Millions of children have to be coaxed to eat, but not these youngsters, who know war's effects first-hand. They are getting their daily supplementary meal from the national U.N. International Children's Fund (UNICEF)—supported by member governments, as well as by personal contributions from three-score countries made to U.N.'s world-wide Appeal for Children during 1948.

Weldon In Armored "Victory" Division

Recruit Eugene Weldon, son of T. C. Weldon of Willman, has been assigned to the fifth armored "Victory" division for eight weeks of basic training.

Reactivated July 6, 1948, the fifth armored "Victory" division hung up a brilliant war record in six European campaigns during World War II. Before the end of 1949, Camp Chaffee is expected to have 20,000 troops, making it the largest army training center in the nation.

Before entering the army, Recruit Weldon was employed at ranch work. He is now assigned to company "A," 47th armored infantry battalion.

SPORTS BRIEFS

In an exciting new sport, underwater hunters use corrosion resistant guns and special fins to hunt for fish.

No more rusty seats. Modern playground slides are made of stainless steel so they don't corrode a stain children's clothing.

Mrs. Jack Browder is spending the week in Peets visiting her son, Norwood.

Gee Gee's Chit Chat

Most people we have talked to this week are a little stunned to learn that a 12-year-old child can have a record of burglarizing some 45 homes within a space of a few months. They get younger and younger, don't they? The more need for a youth center in Brownfield, which is one of our pet subjects, as you may know. There are some good organizations in Brownfield working toward the aim of keeping our younger generation out of reform schools and making better citizens of them. The only trouble is, it's not the children who really need supervised and directed activities that go. One other major drawback is the lack of concern, displayed by the majority, as to what happens to the kids.

Therefore, we always like to thank those who make an effort to help these children. The De Molays, sponsored by the Masons, is doing excellent work. The Boys club is another that is doing its part. And now, we hear, we will soon (he hopes) have a Hi-Y club for high school boys, according to information received from A. V. Bollinger, over in the South Plains health unit. A branch of the YMCA, this is a fine organization for young boys, and we hope it'll go over with a bang.

It's a shame, isn't it, when a fellow has to stand by and watch his place of business burn to the ground because there are no fire plugs near enough to fight the blaze?

This week Mayor Primm thanks the people for their cooperation in doing their part during clean-up week. In general, a pretty good job was done. It is interesting to note that, thanks to the fogging that has been done frequently, there are fewer flies and mosquitoes. But there is still plenty to be done, since the polio seems to be closing in on Terry county. It's like having a bad dream... you don't want to dream it, but a train is rushing down the tracks and you are frozen there in front of it. You can't get off the tracks, nobody will pull you off, and nobody will wake you up. Well, if you think that's bad, just try having polio once. And you may, you know.

Gruesome old ghouls, ain't they? And on this pleasant note, we take our leave for this week.

Mildred DuBose and Howard McIlroy spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Wadrop, in Lubbock.

Mrs. Ben J. Hill left Tuesday for Salina, Calif., where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Kathie Garcia. Her grandson, Wade Hill, of Lubbock accompanied her.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Bailey and Sandra and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brownfield and family left Sunday for a two-weeks' vacation in Mexico.

Mrs. J. I. Howell and daughter, Eva Jane, of Jasper, are here visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. Virgil Crawford, and family for two weeks.

TEXAN ADDED TO DIRECTORATE OF AMA

A Texas physician who recognized the medical needs of small town and rural areas and has made great strides towards meeting those requirements has been elected to share his know-how with the nation.

Dr. F. J. L. Blasingame of Wharton is the newest member of the nine-man board of trustees of the American Medical Association, elected by acclamation of the recent AMA convention in Atlantic City, N.J.

This 42-year-old general practitioner and surgeon was born in Hot Springs national park, Hot Springs, Ark., but moved to Hempstead when he was two years old, receiving his education there through high school. His medical degree was obtained at the university of Texas medical department at Galveston.

FREE TUBERCULIN TESTS FOR LATIN AMERICANS SATURDAY, JULY 23

The health department is giving patch tests to find tuberculosis cases in the early stages. All Spanish families, especially children of all ages, are urged to take a patch test.

This is the best means found to screen out tuberculosis families to get them under treatment early enough to get good results from it. We find open cases that are a public health hazard and help them get proper treatment and to keep isolated. In this way, we keep down the spread of this very dangerous disease.

The Rev. E. R. Hammock, Baptist missionary to the Spanish people of Terry county, is assisting in the organization of these clinics. A clinic was done in Meadow last week at which 24 children were tested.

This is a free service and for all who will come in.

The latest jet planes are made of stainless steel because friction at ultrasonic speeds melts the metals used in older types.

Yachtsmen find that stainless steel insect screens last indefinitely because of their high resistance to salt air corrosion.

backfired on Larry Guenther. Just before lunch time, he turned a crank on a cement mixer. The crank slipped and struck him on the lip. He lost two teeth and all interest in a chicken dinner.

STRICKLINGLY SPEAKING

The Old He
Don't know how we are going to get along with this column this week. In fact, when one begins to try to make notes for a doggone column, he heads up in a dead-end, one-way street.

One thing this whole force is proud of, and that is the arrival of Mr. Hugh White from Montana, to be the guardian angel of the old "Merg." Mrs. White and the seven-year-old son will visit for awhile in old Alabama while Hugh looks for a house.

We got badly fooled in Hugh, however. Coming from where he did, we expected a cut-and-dried Yankee. But he was born and reared in our old state, Tennessee, McMinnville, if you please. So we are of the same old dirt, and if he or we want to say you'll, we'll all understand.

Now we did not object to a Yankee. What we wanted was a linotype operator, or we'd have asked questions about his birthplace to start with. Fact is, there has gotten to be just about as many danyankees here as there are johnny-rebs. And all of us get on just fine.

Not trying to change the subject from the sublime to the ridiculous, then colored gals up at Littlefield have become regular outcrops. During the long Fourth holiday, one satisfied her sporting blood by shooting her ol' man. Another borrowed a neighbor's car and ran it through both walls of another family home.

Then there was a colored man who was held for selling booze to the "dry" people in "dry" territory. Yet the County-Wide News of that city says they had a quiet Fourth. Wonder what would happen if the Littlefield colored population suddenly decided to get wild?

Homer Steen in his Floydada Hesperian quotes a bit from the Christian Advocate, official Methodist publication. According to the FH, the Advocate criticized the government of the USA for not trying to get along with Russia, as well as its habit of pumppriming to keep up prosperity. Homer suggested that the Advo-

FIREMAN RED!

Despite the fireman-red shade of her cotton broadcloth outfit, this young lady doesn't suffer from the heat. Designer Jo Collins took a cue from the cradle crowd's fashions and styled this diaphanous suit that is perfect for days when the mercury shoots skyward. The cool play-suit is cut in one piece, the National Cotton Council says.

T-SHIRT STYLE

The cutest thing under the sun is a pretty girl at the beach—especially when she's wearing a smart cotton T-shirt with a little Red Riding Hood effect. With the T-shirt, designed by Gantner, she wears cotton shorts a shade darker.

BACK INTEREST

Dame Fashion decreed "back interest" for summer cottons, and all the girls were quick to obey. A busy career girl chooses Adell Simpson's two-piece suit with a flared back for her round-the-clock dress. It is made of a new sharkskin cotton fabric designed by Hope Skillman, according to the National Cotton Council.

cate go over to Russia and try seeing how well he can get along with a mad dog.

And, according to the Crosbyton Review, psychiatrists, (guess that's the way to spell it), say that those who worry about their going insane are not the ones that go berserk. It's always the guy or gal who thinks everyone else is out of step. So, Editor, Curry concludes that all newspaper folks are a bit "latched in the head" or they never would have gotten into the newspaper business in the first place.

There is not a man on earth that enjoys a good chew of tobacco more than lawyer Joe J. And he does not consider that he is really using the weed unless he has slightly less than a half plug in his jaw. Joe says one of his friends has quit "chewing," and wonders if he, Joe, is going to furnish the cure for wasp-nest stings and red ant bites. Joe says that if a guy does not have the guts to carry his own remedy, they can just suffer the consequences.

The people of this city are reporting some housebreaking, some of it during the day when the family is away. And they are taking some things. The officers are checking up on folks that prowl around over town with nothing in particular to do. Some of these days some lads are likely to land in Sheriff Ocie's hoosegow. While in Tennessee recently, a blue bird was hatching and feeding a brood in our nephew's rural mail box. The old mother, or was it the dad bird, didn't like the idea of being crowded with mail. So, as soon as the carrier left, they would politely toss the letters as well as the daily Commercial Appeal right out on the ground.

The Stricklin family never disputed the ol' bird's right to the home, so they would just pick up the mail off the ground, and go berserk. It's always the guy or gal who thinks everyone else is out of step. So, Editor, Curry concludes that all newspaper folks are a bit "latched in the head" or they never would have gotten into the newspaper business in the first place.

Be seeing you next week, maybe, if it don't get any hotter.

WILL SPEND SUMMER HERE AT HOME

The past week, The Herald had a bunch of attractive folders from one of the popular airlines that make this section. They were all done in colors, and were calculated to arouse the "ambish" of the tired business man to get away from it all, quick, by air.

Of course, the folders showed the usual beautiful scenery spots around Havana, Panama, Peru, Rio, cool Colorado and others, not forgetting to spread a few shapely feminine figures around on the beaches. But when we looked at the price, per, we decided to spend our summer under the big Chinese elm at the back of the house.

Anyway, we thank them for their thoughtfulness and expense of sending us all this matter. But so far, we have never made up our mind to even take a spin over the city of Brownfield. We ain't in no hurry.

"Runout Plant Breeds Called Myth

DES MOINES, Iowa — (AP) — The belief that some crop varieties "runout" is a myth, says I. J. Johnson, head of the farm crops department at Iowa state college.

It has sprung, he said, from the speed with which some crop varieties have replaced the old in recent years. The belief is that certain varieties of self-pollinated crops may break down after a few years of replanting in a particular area.

"It's biologically impossible for oats or any other self-pollinated crop to run out in the sense that this term is ordinarily used," he says. In the case of Tama and Boone varieties of oats, Johnson said, these varieties were resistant to most of the diseases that were bothering oats at the time they were developed. Then Helminthosporium blight blossomed into a serious disease for oats and Tama and Boone were susceptible to it.

"That is why we switched to Clinton oats which was resistant to Helminthosporium as well as other diseases," he explains. "However, the Tama and Boone varieties did not run out. They were still as resistant to the other diseases as at the start."

Hybrid corn, he says, is a clear case of a plant that literally runs out after the first year. However, hybrid corn is not a true crop variety, Johnson says. It cannot breed true.

922 Attacked By Poliomyelitis In State Of Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS — With the alarming total of 922 Texans having been attacked by the dread disease poliomyelitis, 1949 bids fair to be the worst polio year the state has ever experienced, and health officials in every section of the state are exerting every effort to bring the disease under control.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, has re-iterated his appeal for every citizen to cooperate in a continuous clean-up program, ridding their premises of all rubbish and trash piles, and any such filth as will afford breeding places for flies and other disease-spreading insects.

"This polio situation will never be controlled without the observance of stringent basic sanitation measures," the state health officer said. "The filth on your premises may cause the disease to attack your neighbor, and the same condition on his premises may cause polio in your home. This problem of controlling polio is one demanding the closest program of continuous cleaning up is instituted and stringently enforced, we shall continue to face the menace of polio in all sections of the state."

Dr. Cox emphasized to parents whose children are suffering from polio, the comforting knowledge that about 60 per cent of all cases of recognized polio recover completely, and at least 25 to 30 per cent of recognized cases recover with only minor disabling paralysis.

"Only about eight per cent of polio victims develop the deadly bulbar type, which affects the nerves at the base, or "bulb," of the brain," Dr. Cox said. "Most patients suffering from bulbar polio die within a very short time. But it is a comforting thought that 92 per cent of polio patients never develop bulbar polio, and make a partial, or in many cases, complete recovery and are restored to health."

RETRACTION

J. T. Bryant, superintendent of the Wellman schools, called to our attention that The Herald erroneously stated, in last week's issue, that valuations in their school district will have to be boosted to a 50 per cent increase AND the rate raised to $1.50 for $100 valuations.

This is incorrect, as the outcome of Saturday's election will decide whether or not the other action must be taken. If the vote fails to pass on $1.50 on the $100 valuation, then a raise of some sort must be made on valuations.

KITCHEN MEMO

Growing children need vitamin-packed food for between-meal snacks. Old-fashioned Oatmeal Cookies contain molasses rich in iron and the oatmeal is loaded with Vitamin B. Cream 1/2 cup shortening and 1 cup sugar together. Add 2 tps. vanilla and 2 eggs, one at a time beating well after each addition. Add 1 tsp. molasses and 2 tps. soda which has been dissolved in 1 tsp. water. Stir 1 cup flour, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1 tsp. salt and add to mixture. Stir in 2 cups oatmeal, 1 cup raisins, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts. Drop from a teaspoon on ungreased aluminum cookie sheet. Bake in preheated gas oven at 375° F. Yields 4 doz. cookies.

There's much more fatigue in drying than washing clothes because of the 45 lbs. of wet wash to be carried out to the line, hung to dry later, taken in and sprinkled for ironing. A gas dryer automatically eliminates all this back-breaking drudgery.

Children's treat: Skewer bananas on wooden sticks, dip in melted semi-sweet or milk chocolate. Freeze in cube compartment of your gas refrigerator.

There are 5,000,000 working wives who have families to cook for. Many of them prepare oven meals ahead of time, set the clock control on their gas ranges so they'll be free to do other household tasks while the meal cooks without watching.

A pastry brush is a handy kitchen accessory. For example, when making a gelatin dish, brush the mold with oil so that when set, the gelatin slides out easily.
