Local Citizens To Decide City's Part In Dam Project

If Brownfield is to participate in the Canadian River Dam development project, the people of Brownfield will have to decide for themselves to do so, according to information given Wayne (Red) Smith, manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.

Smith was informed of the situation by Clarence Whiteside, a member of a special Panhandle-South Plains committee on the project.

Whiteside, who is also a Lubbock city commissioner, told Smith that the civic groups in Brownfield, as well as city officials and other persons interested in being included in the project, must get behind it and work for it. "No one else is going to do it for you," Whiteside told Smith, and suggested that a representative from Brownfield attend all future meetings on the proposed $85,000,000 Canadian River Dam project.

A resolution should be filed by the city council, asking that Brownfield be allowed participation in the project, with Howard E. Robbins of Amarillo, who is with the Bureau of Reclamation. After the resolution is filed, a questionnaire will be sent here to be filled out by proper authorities, according to Whiteside.

Whiteside spoke to Smith on the matter just before Whiteside left for Washington as a member of a special committee to urge early United States consideration of the project.

The bill has been passed by the Senate Interior and Insular Committee since its approval by the House last year.

Mayor C. C. Primm filed the resolution for Brownfield two weeks ago and received the questionnaire from the Bureau of Reclamation. The questionnaire was mailed back to the bureau this week, according to information received from Primm.

Chamber Commerce Building Deferred

Judge Homer R. Winn, county judge, stated this week that the proposed building of the Chamber of Commerce building on the north side of the courthouse park had been held up pending a ruling by the Attorney General's department.

This measure was taken when some opposition, mostly by some of the farmers, developed against erecting the building.

CELEBRATED WITH FISH FRY SUNDAY

A fish fry was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lasiter of the Johnson community Sunday evening.

Those present were the families of C. A. Winn, Foster Winn, G. W. Henson, Dell Lasiter, Mrs. Laura Winn and Mrs. Katie Mae Groves.

Mrs. Hiram Parks of Lubbock visited Mrs. Jerry Kirschnert Tuesday.

Woman Hurt In Car Accident Improved

The condition of Mrs. A. O. Waters, who was injured late Saturday night in an automobile accident, is described by hospital attendants as "satisfactory."

Mrs. Waters, who is being treated at Treadaway-Daniell hospital for a broken right arm, a severe laceration behind her left ear, a fractured pelvis, and minor face cuts, was injured when another automobile struck the car in which she was riding from behind.

Driver of the car in which Mrs. Waters was riding was J. C. Beall. Mrs. Beall received minor injuries, but was released from the hospital Sunday. Beall was not injured.

No one in the other vehicle was injured, according to investigating officers. Both automobiles were travelling north on the Seagraves highway at the time of the accident.

Father of Local Man Is Called

Thomas Huey Floyd, 75, died in a Mt. Vernon, Texas, hospital Feb. 16, following an illness of six years. He was the father of Loyce Floyd of Brownfield.

A native of Troy, Ala., he moved to Mt. Vernon in 1876. He had previously lived in Brownfield for about one year.

Other survivors include his mother, two daughters, a son, three sisters, three brothers, and nine grandchildren.

Judge Perhaps Knows His Whiskey

We have noted not a few folks with tender flesh from west Texas, including our own Chamber of Commerce manager, has taken Federal Judge Stephen Chandler of Oklahoma City apart. They are sorter riled at what his honor said about sentencing some negro "moonshiners" not "bootleggers" as the west Texans have called them, to the pen, of the "shiners" can take their choice of being exiled to "western plains," which includes a lot of territory, and not necessarily west Texas.

After a raft of criticism appeared, the Judge tried to explain that wood is scarce, and that the kind of water that makes good whiskey—if there is any that's good—do not grow or flow in west Texas. And he is exactly right. Any one that his ever lived in sections where legal distilleries exist know this hard water we have in west Texas is not fit to make liquor. The best whiskey in the world is made from free stone water springs in Kentucky and surrounding states.

We believe that the one idea the Judge aimed to convey to the negro moonshiners, was that if they came to west Texas, they'd be put to legitimate work in cotton or wheat fields instead of making booze.

And maybe the Judge reads some Texas dailies. If he does, perhaps he reads the Liquor Control Board's monthly raid sheet. With the exception of one still each in Lamb, Erath and Somervell counties in west Texas the past year or two, hundreds have been captured and destroyed in a dozen extreme east Texas counties, where there are wood to hide stills, wood to burn and better liquor making water than we have in west Texas.

Had the Judge's critics ever thought of that?

A Proclamation

WHEREAS, it is the conviction of the United Council of Church Women, in fellowship with all those who seek the divine guidance of our Creator, that the many problems confronting us today can be solved only with the help of Almighty God; and

WHEREAS, World Day of Prayer has been designated on an international, interdenominational, interracial basis to join the peoples of the world together in furtherance of the doctrine "The Lord is Thy Keeper"; and

WHEREAS, in order for the church to fulfill its important role of exerting practical witness to the fact of God's purpose in human affairs, thereby advancing the international cause of peace on earth, it is necessary that we be ever mindful of the vast power of prayer in furthering His word and His work and in combating the forces of evil that surround us;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, C. C. Primm, Mayor of the City of Brownfield, do hereby proclaim Friday, March fourth, 1949, as in the City of Brownfield, and call upon the people of our city to observe this day as an individual invitation to attend a specific World Day of Prayer meeting; and if the duties of some are such as to make this impossible, I urge them to pause in their work for one minute of prayer at High Noon, to ask that God give us light to guide us, courage to support us, and love to reunite us.

"WORLD DAY OF PRAYER"

WITNESS my hand and Seal of the City of Brownfield, this twenty-first day of February, 1950.

C. C. PRIMM, Mayor.

Filings For Three City Officials Now Open

As we went to press, no names had been filed with J. H. (Bill) Aschenbeck, city secretary, for offices open for the city election to be held April 4. Three officers are to be voted upon in the election.

Terms expiring are those of Mayor C. C. Primm, who was elected last year to fill the unexpired term of the late Mayor Tom May; Councilman Henry Chisholm; and the unexpired term of S. T. (Sam) Murphy, who has resigned.

Filing deadline for candidates is midnight, Friday, March 3, which is approximately 30 days before the election date.

Hi Ho Drive In Opens Tomorrow

"The Walking Hills," starring Randolph Scott, will be the feature picture when the Hi Ho Drive In Theatre opens Saturday, Feb. 25.

The box office will be open at 6:45 p.m., with the feature beginning at 7:15 p.m., according to the management.

H. D. Bevers, L. D. Bailey and C. K. Bailey are the owners of the drive in theatre.

Admission is 44c for adults and 9c for children.

DEMONSTRATION WILL BE HELD

There will be a frozen foods demonstration given by a home economist from International Harvester Co., at the Farmer's Implement Co. on Tuesday, Feb. 28, at 8 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

EXTENSION MAN HERE

Joe Matthews, administrative assistant of the Texas Extension Service of College Station, was a visitor in Brownfield Thursday. He is acting as district agent in the absence of W. N. Williamson.

Williamson is on a year's leave, studying at Harvard University.

SPNMPOA Will Meet In Odessa

Officers of the South Plains and New Mexico Peace Officers Association met at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in the office of Sheriff Ocie Murry to discuss plans for the semi-annual SPNMPOA convention.

The convention will be held in Odessa April 18, according to Murry.

Those present for the meeting were Murry, Chief of Police Hoyt Curry of Plainview, Sheriff Ernest Broughton of Odessa, and the district attorney from Odessa.

1950 License Tag Sales Hit 500

Approximately 400 license tags for passenger cars for 1950 have already been sold, according to information received from Terry county tax assessor-collector Herbert Cheshsir. Cheshsir said that there will be some 4000 passenger car tags sold this year, about 500 more than were expected. Cheshsir said that the extra tags have arrived in his office.

More farm and commercial truck tags will probably be sold this year, also, Cheshsir said. Only about 50 each of the 1950 farm and commercial tags have been issued so far.

License tags for 1950 must be on automobiles by April 1st, according to Cheshsir.

New County Agent To Be Here March 1st

J. A. (Jim) Foy of Levelland has been appointed to succeed Jack Cleveland as Terry County agent. He will assume his duties March 1.

Foy has served as assistant county agent of Hockley county for the past two years. He is a graduate of Texas Technological college, and is married and has two sons, James, age five, and Ronald, age two.

Cleveland resigned as county agent two weeks ago when he purchased the Phillips 66 wholesale gas and oil agency from Plains Liquefied Gas, Inc.

Foy and his family will move to Brownfield as soon as housing is available.

Dr. E. N. Jones Addressed Group

The real advertisers for any community are those persons who have personal daily contact with its visitors and make a good impression on them, according to Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Texas Technological college, in an address made at the annual Brownfield Chamber of Commerce banquet held Monday night at the Esquire Restaurant.

Dr. Jones listed ten tests for a town, which make for a better community: attractiveness, healthfulness, education, people, recreation, living, accessibility, business, employment, and progressiveness.

About 150 persons attended the banquet. A. M. Muldrow, vice-president, was toastmaster, and the speaker was introduced by H. B. Virgil Crawford, president of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce. Wayne (Red) Smith, manager of the chamber introduced the visitors who were Marshall Crawford of Lamesa, W. H. Collins of Lamesa, J. M. Crook of Lubbock, O. L. Bird of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ratliff of the Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

Special music was given by Ruth Huckabee, pianist; Ann Snedeker, vocalist; Ronnie Daniell, clarinetist; and Lyle Shelton, trombonist. Mrs. Richard Young was accompanist.

TERRY GUN CLUB TO MEET FEBRUARY 28

Fred Adams, president, announces a very important meeting of the Terry County Rifle and Pistol Club, to be held at Zant's Gun Shop Tuesday, Feb. 28, at 7:30 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is the election of new officers for 1950. Adams urges all members to be present.

Baby Contest By ESA Underway

Junior Deputies Will Meet Monday

The Brownfield Junior Deputy Sheriff's Posse will meet at 9:45 a.m. Monday, February 27, at the Ward school, according to Sheriff Ocie Murry.

At the meeting Monday, plans will be made for a trip to the Boy's Ranch at Amarillo Saturday, May 6. The Brownfield Junior Deputy Sheriff's Posse, along with the posses from Meadow and Wellman, will spend two days, May 6 and May 7, inspecting Boy's Ranch. They will camp out at the Ranch the night of May 6. The Wellman Junior Deputy Sheriff's Posse will meet at 1 p.m. Monday, Feb. 27.

Car Stolen Here June 13 Recovered

Sheriff Ocie Murry will go to Hot Springs, Ark., next week to take into custody James Wade Cawley for the theft last June 13 of a 1948 Ford from I. W. Bailey of near Tokio.

The automobile was stolen from the streets of Brownfield and officers had been unable to trace the car. Cawley was picked up in Hot Springs Monday afternoon and is being held there for local officers.

Hot Springs officers told Murry that the automobile was in fairly good condition, although it had been driven quite a few miles, evidently.

Cawley will be returned here for trial.

Several baby's pictures have already been entered in the baby contest sponsored by Epsilon Sigma Alpha, local business women's sorority.

Any child between the ages of one year to four years may be entered in the contest. There is no entrance fee. Persons wishing to enter a baby in the contest may contact Miss Sue Jones at telephone number 444 or Miss Margaret Goza at number 402-J.

Ballot boxes containing pictures of different entrants in the contest have been placed in businesses over Brownfield. Votes are one cent each.

At the close of the contest, which will be sometime the middle of March, the king and queen babies will be crowned and presented gifts.

Pictures of the contenders for the crowns will be on display in a window of Griffith's Variety Store this week end.

F. S. Burda Manager Of Bargain Center

Floyd A. Burda recently assumed his duties as manager of the Brownfield Bargain Center, following the resignation of Searcy Orr. Burda came here from Munday, where he was manager of Martin's Department Store.

Burda had twenty years' experience in the retail goods business. He formally managed the Bargain Center in the spring and fall of 1948.

His wife and two sons have not yet moved here from Munday.

27 New Homes Going Up In East Brownfield

Two ladies that we know pretty well, were out driving around one day last week, just for the airing, but noted so many new homes under construction they decided to count them. They did count those from the Tahoka road to the old Lamesa highway. There were 27 under construction in that area. They did not go into the north, west or south part of the city.

This reminds us that we called at a lumber yard one day last week on a bit of business, and seeing several house plans laying around on tables and desks, we remarked that it looked like someone was going to build a new home. The gentlemen we were talking to replied that it looked like just about everyone had decided to build all at once.

And while about the matter, we understand that three local citizens have contracted for some 100 lots and propose to do a lot of building on them. Also that another man from the north Plains is trying to get a block of some 100 lots here to build houses on to sell on easy terms.

Both of the above are too previous to mention and call names as yet, but the first mentioned is, we understand in the planning stage now.

If present building had reached the pitch last year that it has this year, Brownfield would show another double in population in the decade, and may do it anyway. It doubled from 1924 to 1930, and again from 1930 to 1940.

If we can just scrape up 8,018 this year, we shall have doubled again in the 1940 to 1950 decade.

REMEMBERS CIVIL WAR DAYS

Pioneer Celebrated 90th Birthday Sunday

A lot of folks, old timers and new friends called at the J. M. Noble residence on Tahoka road Sunday to shake hands, chat a few minutes, and wish him many more happy returns of the day. Lastly they repaired to the living room where the daughters-in-law served delicious cake and coffee.

This old timer was born in Kaufman county, Texas, in 1860. He informed us that he could remember a bit about the Civil War. At one time the soldiers camped on a creek near the Noble home, and he tried to volunteer. But they persuaded him to wait till they came around again. He had an older brother killed during the war between the states.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble were married in Taylor county, to which county the Noble family migrated. They celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary in 1942, and their 60th wedding anniversary will be coming up in two more years.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble then moved to their new ranch on the line of and Terry counties. They built a large home for that day, and theirs was a favorite stopping place for belated movers and wagon freighters for many years. Friendship ties were made between these old settlers and many people that will last as long as they shall live.

Among the out of town people who called to pay their respects to Mr. Noble on his 90th birthday were a niece, Miss Frances Reasonour, of Kaufman, Texas, and from Tahoka, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Happy Smith, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Small, Mrs. Claud Wells, Mr. Dr. McCoy, Marvin Wood, Mrs. W. A. Yates, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Tankersley, Mrs. N. M. Barham, Mrs. B. Ramsey and LaMerle; Mr. and Mrs. L. Lumsden, Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Madison Yates, Lamesa.

The children, all present, were Levi Noble of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Noble, Tahoka; Mr. and Mrs. Mack Noble, O'Donnell, and practically all the grandchildren. Of course this includes the Robert Noble family here that live next door to this aged couple.

Many happy returns of the day, old friend.

Fight Heart Disease

1948 Figures Show Rise In Heart Toll

The toll of heart disease is on the increase. Figures for 1948 from the National office of vital statistics show that deaths from diseases of the heart and blood vessels increased nearly 2% over the 1947 total (from 623,176 to 637,679). The goal of America is 6 million dollars. Fifty-five percent of funds collected will be kept here for use. The other 45 percent will be used in research work in trying to find a remedy to stop or check the disease before it gets such a start on the victim. You can do your part in helping combat this dreadful disease by donating your pennies, dimes, nickels and dollars. Your 1950 heart campaign is on now . . . Give Today!

Miss Nancy Morgan Is Shower Honoree

Miss Nancy Morgan, bride-elect of Mack Ross, was named honoree at a miscellaneous bridal shower given in the home of Mrs. A. W. Turner Feb. 21.

Alternating at receiving guests at the door during the afternoon were Mrs. C. P. Henderson and Mrs. Latham and Mrs. R. M. Moorhead. Mrs. Turner headed the receiving line, which consisted of the honoree, her mother, Mrs. F. L. Morgan, and Mrs. C. E. Ross.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of yellow and orchid were carried out in decorations throughout the house. The mantle featured an arrangement of white gladiolus tied with yellow and orchid streamers, and a bowl of daffodils and jonquils graced the coffee table.

Mrs. T. W. Burton and Mrs. E. McBurnett alternated at the guest register, which was lighted with a single taper in a ruffled yellow and orchid holder studded with daffodils. A jonquil tied with an orchid streamer marked the place in the guest book.

The tea table was laid with yellow net over yellow satin and was centered with an arrangement of jonquils and fern, from which long orchid streamers proclaimed "Nancy-Mack. March 5th." The centerpiece was flanked with four tall yellow tapers in silver holders. Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Brown alternated at the silver tea service. Assisting in serving the pinwheel sandwiches, mints and nuts, were Mrs. Stell, Mrs. Patton, and Misses Charlie Gaston, Jo Anne Shelton and Kay Szylowski.

The credenza was covered with white satin and sprays of forsythia decorated the base of a miniature bridal scene. Tapers in silver holders were set at each end of the credenza.

Mrs. Rufus Franks, Mrs. J. E. Smith, and Miss Bobbie Helen Brian offered piano selections during the afternoon.

The remainder of the hostesses alternated at displaying gifts. Guests called between the hours of 3 p.m. and 5 p.m.

MRS. BALLEW HOSTESS TO CRUSADERS CLASS

Mrs. Donald Ballew was hostess at a coffee given at the Esquire Restaurant Feb. 15 for members of the Crusaders Class of the First Methodist church.

Home made cinnamon rolls and coffee were served to Mesdames Bill Buford, George Ford, James Warren, E. F. Latham, J. F. Anderson and W. L. Reagan.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wingerd left Saturday for Austin, where they visited their daughter, Marion, a student at the University of Texas. From Austin they went to Florida for a few weeks vacation.

Bill McKinney spent Wednesday and Thursday of last week in Dallas on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Jot Akers and Judy spent the week end in Dallas, where they attended a gift show.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Burnett of Plainview visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burnett, Sunday.

Mrs. Virgil Short

Glover-Short Vows Exchanged Feb. 12

Miss Gwenette Glover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Glover of Roswell, N. M., became the bride of Virgil Short, son of Mr. and Mrs. Les Short Feb. 12 in the First Baptist church at Roswell. The Rev. Arthur DuLaney officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The altar was flanked with baskets of pink and white snapdragons and palms. The entire church was decorated with tiered candelabra.

Mrs. Luther Tankersley, organist, played "Always" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." She accompanied Miss Gloria McMains as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bridesmaids, who also lighted the candles, were Misses Freda Ann Anthony and Eleanor Bassett. They wore dresses of blue satin, designed with off-the-shoulder bodices and hoop skirts. They wore short blue veils and carried colonial bouquets of pink roses centered with candles.

Beverly Watkins, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a gold satin dress made on lines of the maid of honor's dress.

Miss Dixie Glover was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a pink satin dress made with a fitted bodice with a rounded yoke of illusion, long pointed sleeves, and a full skirt with a bustle effect. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown made with a fitted bodice and a full, gored skirt extending into a cathedral train. The bodice featured a rounded neckline, with a yoke of illusion net, embroidered in seed pearls, and the sleeves terminated in calla points over her hands. Her fingertip length veil was caught to a satin tiara, looped with seed pearl ropes. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses, centered with an orchid, showered with stephanotis and white satin ribbon.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with navy and white accessories. The mother of the groom wore a mauve suit with

Miss Johnnie Wilson And D. C. Moore Wed

Miss Johnnie Wilson, daughter of J. H. Wilson, and Donald C. Moore, son of Mrs. Tom Oats of Meadow, were married Feb. 13 at 9 a.m. in the First Presbyterian church at Hobbs, N. M. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Hall.

The bride wore a tan gabardine suit with brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

Miss Nancy Wier, maid of honor, wore a maroon suit with black accessories, and a maroon variegated corsage.

Best man was Robert Ferguson. Mrs. Moore attended school in Aransas Pass and Brownfield. The groom is a graduate of Brownfield high school.

After a wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the couple are at home in Lamesa, where he is employed with an oil company.

Entertained With Party February 17

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Patterson entertained at the Seleta Jane Brownfield club house last Friday night with a bridge party.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Self received high couples prize, and Mr. Patterson and Mrs. N. L. Mason received second high couples prize. Bingos went to Mrs. R. N. McClain and Mr. Ned Self.

Those present included Messrs. and Mrs. Grady Goodpasture, John Portwood, Lee Brownfield, R. E. Klofonda, Glen Akers, McClain, Herbert Cheshire, J. O. Rodgers, Mike Barrett, Murphy May, George Germany, Jake Gore, Burton Hackney, Tommy Hicks, Harry Connelius, R. L. Bowers, Edgar Self, Ned Self, Sam Teague, Bill Lohman, Charlie Price, and W. A. Roberson, and Mesdames N. L. Mason and Wilson Collins.

Individual cherry tarts and coffee were served.

Mrs. Price Will Be Honored Sunday

Mrs. Sally D. Price, pioneer of Terry county, will be honored by her children Sunday, Feb. 26, with an open house from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. in observance of her 82nd birthday.

A resident of Terry county since 1902, Mrs. Price has seven sons and two daughters.

All friends and relatives of Mrs. Price are invited to attend her birthday celebration.

RICHARDSON HOME SCENE OF PARTY

Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Richardson entertained a group of friends with a dinner and Canasta party February 15.

The guest list included Messrs. and Mrs. Wade Moriarity, Clovis Kendrick, Lee O. Allen, Burton Hackney and Jack Cleveland.

Ganelle Newman Is Bride of Jack Pearce

In a double ring ceremony read in the First Baptist church at 6 p.m. Feb. 17, Miss Ganelle Newman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newman, became the bride of the Rev. Jack Pearce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Pearce. The Rev. A. A. Brian officiated.

Vows were exchanged before a background with woodwardia fern and baskets of white gladiolus, flanked with tapers in candelabra and palms. Aisle candles were also used in the decorations.

Misses Marilyn Tranor and Frankie McIntosh, students at Hardin - Simmons University, lighted the candles. They both wore dresses of blue taffeta with blue net halo hats.

Miss Bobbie Helen Brian, organist, offered the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Beryl Lovelace as she sang "Savior, Like a Shepherd Lead Me" and, at the close of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Brian also accompanied Homer Newman of Oklahoma City uncle of the bride, when he sang "Because."

Maid of honor was Miss Norma Newman, sister of the bride. She wore a blue satin dress, fashioned with a fitted bodice with a bertha collar and a full skirt with a net overskirt. She wore a satin and net halo hat and carried an arm bouquet of pink variegated carnations.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Keller Greenfield of Houston, who wore a blue dress fashioned on lines of the maid of honor's dress, and Mrs. Carol Reeves who wore a similar dress of pink. They wore matching halo hats and Mrs. Greenfield carried a nosegay of pink carnations, while Mrs. Reeves carried a nosegay of blue carnations.

Karen Newman, sister of the bride, was flowergirl. She wore a white satin dress and carried a basket of pink rose petals. Wendell Newman, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white slipper satin dress made with a fitted bodice with a sweetheart neckline edged in seed pearl scroll work. The long sleeves terminated in points over the hands. The full, gored skirt fell from a low, rounded hipline, and ended in a chapel train. Her veil of illusion net was fastened to a satin and seedpearl tiara. She carried a cascade bouquet of carnations, centered with an orchid.

Something old that the bride carried was a handkerchief which was carried by the groom's grandmother at her own wedding 57 years ago. Something borrowed was her wedding veil, which belongs to Mrs. Harley Stone, and something blue was a pair of garters given her by Mrs. Virgil Sharp. Mr. Newman placed a penny in his daughter's shoe of Brownfield high school, and is a January graduate of Hardin-Simmons University. The groom is pastor of the Calvary Baptist church.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dick Russell and Warren, Miss Maud Sharp, Miss Darlene Sears, Mrs. Vana Clark, and Mrs. David Green and Deborah, all of Fort Worth; and other friends and relatives from Seagraves, Lubbock, Tahoka, Andrews, and Meadow.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Newman and daughter of Oklahoma City were among the out of town guests at the wedding of his niece, Miss Ganelle Newman, and the Rev. Jack Pearce.

MRS. BROWNFIELD HOSTESS TO CLUB

Mrs. Lee Brownfield entertained members of the Pleasure bridge club February 15.

Pie and coffee were served to Mesdames George Germany, Jack Hamilton, Mike Barrett, J. T. Bowman, John L. Cruce, Tom Harris, E. L. Sturgess, Grady Goodpasture, C. C. Primm, Joe Shelton and Water Hord.

Mrs. Hord scored high and Mrs. Cruce was second high. Prizes for high cut went to Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. turgess and Mrs. Harris.

Lee Orville Lewis, Dr. E. C. Davis, and George Steele are fishing this week at Sugar Lake in Old Mexico.

Dick Burson of Salem, Ore., has been here visiting his sister, Mrs. Money Price, and other relatives and friends.

O. L. (Pete) Peterman of Lubbock, formerly of Brownfield, was a business visitor in Brownfield Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Porter of Terrell visited his sister, Mrs. Homer Nelson, and family last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Billingsley of Levelland visited Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Rogers Sunday.

Gee Gee's Chit Chat

Two of the most charming newcomers to Brownfield are Robby and Bobby Chapman, 15 month old sons of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Chapman, who recently moved here from Dallas. They are the grandchildren of Kitty and Roy Fleming, and these days, Kitty and Roy don't care whether you buy a typewriter or an old beat up plate or not. Just as long as you admire Robby and Bobby, and who could help it?

Speaking of babies, I would remind you of the baby contest which opened last Friday under the sponsorship of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha, business women's sorority in Brownfield. The proceeds of this contest will be split up for different projects, such as the Girl Scout Little House, to which the ESA donates. Votes are a cent each, and pictures and ballot boxes have been put up all over the city. Since the ESA as a group contribute a great deal to the community and co-operate with every project (remember what a great part they did in the Harvest Holiday?), I hope that each of you will support their contest.

Well, here we are, looking for houses again. Our new county agent, Jim Foy, his wife, and sons would certainly like to have a home. Jim has been appointed to succeed Jack Cleveland, but, unfortunately, Jack didn't will him a house with the job. So, please, if you have a house for rent, call me or call 27.

While sitting in my "downtown office" (the Brownfield Coffee Shop—and you'd be surprised what you can pick up around an eating joint) one day, slaving over a hot coffee cup, a few of us voted Tess Fuller (my landlord) "the man who wears the best looking ties in Brownfield." He must have a jillion ties, and he never wears one that doesn't catch my eye. Of course, some of them have the same effect as a light tap on the head with a baseball bat, but they're still pretty.

Although, I casually mentioned the fact last week that the 1950 Heart Campaign is now in progress, I can't help saying here that the campaign is sadly lagging. Only about $100 has been contributed, and about $15.00 of that is in the Farm and Home Appliance "heart." I might add that there is a touching little story connected with that particular $15.00, and, for a price, (to be dropped into the heart, of course) Harmon might let you in on the secret.

And speaking of campaigns, I may as well break the news to you that, come March 1, the 1950 Red Cross drive will be on. The goal this year is $3222, so please begin stealing a little of the grocery money the old man gives you to give to the Red Cross.

Since I'm not doing anything but plugging something, let me give you this personal invitation to attend a frozen food demonstration to be held at the Farmer's Implement Company at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 28. Some very helpful and interesting facts on the preparation of frozen foods will be given.

You know the poisoners I mentioned last week? Well, some local sleuths think they have the goods on one over in the north-east part of town. I regret that it is impossible for me to name names in such a case, because, if the suspect actually is guilty, it is my opinion that such a person should be held up as an example. Unfortunately, printing the name of some person and stating definitely that he or she is a dog poisoner or anything else, without it being a known fact, is, to make a trite statement, asking for it. A libel suit, that is. And I simply do not have the time right now to go to court.

How do you like our little fillers we have been using lately to replace "At the age of 29 years, the hide of an African hippopotamus is 2 1/2 inches thick"? In other words, kids, it's time to join the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.

About the latest coalition to come to light in Congress is a combination of northern "Democrats" and Republicans to seek the defeat of the Lodge-Gossett amendment to change the old electrical college group setup. Of course these guys all want that minority vote that may mean the difference in election or defeat in some of the larger northern cities, notably Chicago, Detroit and New York. The Senate passed the amendment by two-thirds majority and votes to spare. It now goes to the House. The coalition above mentioned believe it will help the south more than any other section, and for that reason are against it. This is queer argument, as the GOP would get some electoral votes in every southern state according to percentage of popular votes, whereas they get none now. But a lot of those "statesmen (?) are for anything they think will injure the south.

Maybe the agronomists of the Blackland Experiment station Temple, Texas, have come up with something that will be worth much to all Texas. They apparently have found a poison that will actually eradicate johnson grass. But here is the catch so far. It costs 41 cents to poison 100 square feet. However, as costly as it is, it may be a Godsend to those who have places just beginning to be infested around the fences and small spots in the fields. Then, too, it may be that in time the price of the chemical may be reduced by mass production, etc. Name of the chemical? You asked for it—sodium trichloroacetate. Now you can tell the other fellow the name. Better still, ask your druggist. We'll bet they have a better and much shorter name for the stuff. Anyway the stuff will kill 90 percent of the j-grass in 21 days and all in 4 1/2 months.

Since some of the former New Deal and Fair Deal boys have either fled the country or have been given pen sentences for handing over military secrets to Joe Stalin's crowd, we have about heard the last of that expression, "red herring" coming from the White House. Pity the courts did not go on with a house cleaning before the horse left the stall. We'll admit that it does look red, not red herring, but red Russian.

According to our calendar, this is not only Washington's birthday week, but is also Brotherhood Week. While in this land of the free and home of the brave, this "brotherhood" is stressed more as between the Christian faith and the Jewish faith, which run concurrently up to New Testament times, we believe it might go even further, than just the two great Bible faiths mentioned above. Why not include Mohamadens, Brahmas, etc. They, too, are religious sects, but do not believe in the God that Christians and Jews worship? As individuals, most of us who profess to be Christians will think that the guy that believes differently from us are nutty, yet we will at the same time admit he has every right under our constitution to worship just as he likes without let or hindrance. However, we should, if we like, sincerely try to convert by reasonable means instead of malingering or persecution. In our way of thinking, we believe that all have a right to his way of thinking in any man's country.

We are truly glad to see the magazines of nationwide circulation beginning to change their ideas editorially on many things. Perhaps this change has been brought about after seeing a lot of the politicians appeal to the minority groups for votes in order to win elections in close states.

A current issue of the Saturday Evening Post had a fine editorial along that line, and we might happily say that this great magazine is coming over to the southern way of thinking along this line. The Post stated that George Washington Carver, Jackie Robinson and Levi Jackson had done more than any law, including the proposed FEPC in the elimination of discrimination toward the negro race. In fact, the Post believes the FEPC will do more harm than good by antagonizing. The Post also called attention to the New York district attorney who recently pulled a boner in trying to get a bowling tournament changed that stated "only white males" were to participate. The affair was canceled entirely. The constitution does not forbid us to choose our companions, the Post goes on to say. Then the Post mentioned the anti-lynch law now being agitated to get minority votes, when lynching has all but disappeared. And the writer then went on to say he believed each state should control its own elections, and if they wanted to pay poll taxes, that was up to each state to decide. In conclusion, the Post stated that some of the force laws was just about as congenial to the average citizens as to force a Presbyterian minister to enter a college of cardinals. This magazine believes that education and persuasion is a better means to anti-discrimination than force of any kind.

The Lubbock Avalanche paid a glowing tribute to the late humorist and cowboy, Will Rogers, on the occasion of the unveiling of an equestrian statue of Will and his pony, Thursday last week. The writer compared Rogers with the donor of the statue, Mr. Amon G. Carter, publisher of the Star-Telegram, Fort Worth. So far as we know Mr. Carter is a good man, a fine citizen, etc., but his benevolence, except on a few occasions, is confined to his home city. That of Rogers was nation-wide. And so far as we can gather from reading the S-T, and we have read it since The Star and The Telegram were consolidated, most of Mr. Carter's entertainment at his ranch, as well as the handing out of his ten gallon Stetsons, go big name people, many of whom are very wealthy in their own right. But,

Coal-Black Nightmare

Will Rogers could mix with the highest, even guy President Cal Coolidge to his face, or pass the time of day with a sheepherder. We shall never forget a hot night back about 1933 when things were real tough and the humorist was real lecturing by plane jumps in the bigger cities of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, to raise funds for sharecroppers who were near starvation. He was speaking that night from Little Rock, and was half sobbing and choking out what he had seen in the bottoms of Arkansas that day. Will Rogers is a national hero, and always will be. And while we do not like to pose as a critic, we just wonder what kind of a remark that grinning comedian would have uttered if he knew anyone was erecting a $25,000 statue to his memory. We wonder if he would rather recommend several scholarships in Tech college for poor boys and girls instead of the statue?

Our total oil reserves are said to have reached the enormous figure of 27 billion barrels. For this, we can thank the venture-chance; those who will take a chance. The geologist has been a big help, but his aid is not fool-proof yet, we are told. In other words, just one out of five holes in wildcat territory last year was a producer. The only sure shot yet is to drill an expensive hole in the earth and take a look see. Expenses last year reached the huge figures of 350 million dollars for drilling alone. Then since four out of five are dry holes, the expense of bringing in one producer is 250 thousand dollars. The cost of exploring for oil and gas last year in the USA was estimated at one billion dollars.

Recently a prominent man stated that the "welfare state" was just a throwback from the old "slave state." He stated that some, if not all the southern states passed a law in pre-civil war days, that when a slave became old or feeble, he must be cared for, clothed and fed, and must have medical attention paid for by his owner. Then there are

Picture Depicting Re-Education of Disabled Vets

Brownfield residents will soon see at the Rialto theatre a 10 minute educational movie short dramatizing the story of the disabled American veterans.

The film, titled "How Much Do You Owe?" stars James Stewart, famous motion picture actor, and General Jonathan M. Wainwright, hero of Bataan and Corregidor.

With Jimmy Stewart contributing his services and the entire motion picture industry cooperating to make the film and its distribution possible, movie goers will see a dramatic, alive and realistic presentation of the rehabilitation of the disabled veteran.

The recent 28th national convention of the Disabled American Veterans in Cleveland unanimously adopted a resolution commending the motion picture industry for its contribution and a special citation was awarded Stewart.

The story was written by Col. Owen Crump, well known Hollywood writer and producer and was directed by Ralph Staub, able Columbia Pictures director. Step by step through the thread of the plot of the short, is the courageous story of the problem facing the disabled veteran. A realistic presentation is made of the problems that every community faces and the manner in which the DAV serves.

JAIL MORE POPULOUS
 CHICAGO—(P)—The "guest list" at the Cook County (Chicago) jail was larger in 1949 than in any other postwar year. The average daily population was 1,158. On Nov. 2 there were 1,280 prisoners on hand, the greatest number since the prohibition era. Commenting on the apparent popularity of the place, Warden Chester Fordney said: "I have a fine jail."

New and Near Record Crop Produced In '49

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 24—The crop harvests of 1949 may long be remembered by Texas farmers. New records and near records were made for almost all field crops and yields were uniformly good. E. A. Miller, extension agronomist of Texas A & M college, says figures recently released by the Office of Crop Estimates, USDA, show just how good the 1949 Texas crops were.

Total crop acreage in the state set a new record; 30,141,000 acres as compared with the 10-year average of 27,200,000 acres. Miller says 5,900,000 bales of cotton were produced on 10,725,000 acres and this is the largest cotton crop ever produced in the state. The second largest crop was produced in 1926—5,628,000 bales but it was harvested from 18,374,000 acres. The 1949 per acre yield was 264 pounds and was the highest since 1894. Miller says last year's crop was more than double the average production for the past 10 years.

The wheat crop of 102,848,000 bushels was second only to the record crop of 124 million bushels made in 1947. It was 74 percent larger than the 1948 crop and almost double the 10-year average.

He says the grain sorghum crop also approached the record crop of 1944, and was 58 percent above the average for the last 10 years. The 1949 grain sorghum production totaled 92,676,000 bushels.

The per acre corn yields were the highest since 1919. It was 6.5 bushels or 40 percent above the average. The total acreage in corn was reduced, but the total yield was 13 1/2 million bushels above last year and was 58,208,000 bushels.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Chapman and twin sons, Robby and Bobby, have recently moved here from Dallas. Mrs. Chapman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fleming.

AN EDITORIAL
"OPEN YOUR HEART"

In an age of superb achievement in the physical sciences and the areas of technology, it comes as a shock to learn that the causes of our nation's leading health problem, the heart and blood vessel diseases, still baffle medical science.

According to Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, heart disease is the most challenging problem in public health today. The cardiovascular diseases, Dr. Scheele reports, cause ten out of twenty-three of our deaths, with one out of every twenty persons in the country suffering from one form or another of these afflictions.

Those words are both impressive and depressing; the toll of the heart diseases cannot readily be dismissed. But happily there is a more hopeful side to the picture.

Over the past twenty-five years there has been greater scientific advance in the understanding of cardiovascular diseases than in all the years before. New surgical techniques and the uses of new drugs have brought alleviation in several forms of heart disease and have reduced their toll sharply. New approaches to diagnosis and treatment now offer relief to many cardiac sufferers and a positive way of living for more happy, useful years.

It is by no accident that this span of years in which the richest advances have been made in coping with heart disease coincides with the lifetime of the one voluntary agency devoted to their understanding, the American Heart Association. That devoted group of the country's leading heart specialists, an organization that only recently emerged as a national health agency embracing leaders in the lay field, has been the spearhead of the assault upon the secrets of the human heart function. And in its positive program of research, of public and professional education, and of guidance in community cardiac services through local heart associations (tripled in number in the last year or so), the American Heart Association deserves continued public support.

The cause of "Heart" is the cause of all of us. Until effective control of the heart diseases has been achieved, a dread shadow remains upon the lives of all those we love.

We urge every citizen to help provide the tools for our men of medicine to carry on the fight against our leading cause of death. When the volunteers of the Heart Campaign come to you—

New Mexico Art To Be On Exhibit Here

The general public including school children, are cordially invited to attend an art show of works of William Lee Lewis Thursday, March 2. The show is being sponsored by the Alpha Omega Study club in the Seleta Jane Brownfield club house. The hours are between 10 and 12 a.m., 2 to 5 p.m., and 7 to 9 p.m. There will be no admission charged.

Mr. Lewis' oil paintings consist of mountain ranges, aspen trees, and desert scenes of New Mexico and Colorado. A realist in the way he paints, Mr. Lewis features a strong, bold line and insight into New Mexico landscapes. Predominant feature of most of his work is the contrast of light and dark with the center of interest, some natural mountain or desert formation. All of his work is in oil and he spends week ends and weeks in the country sketching those scenes which later come to life on his studio easel.

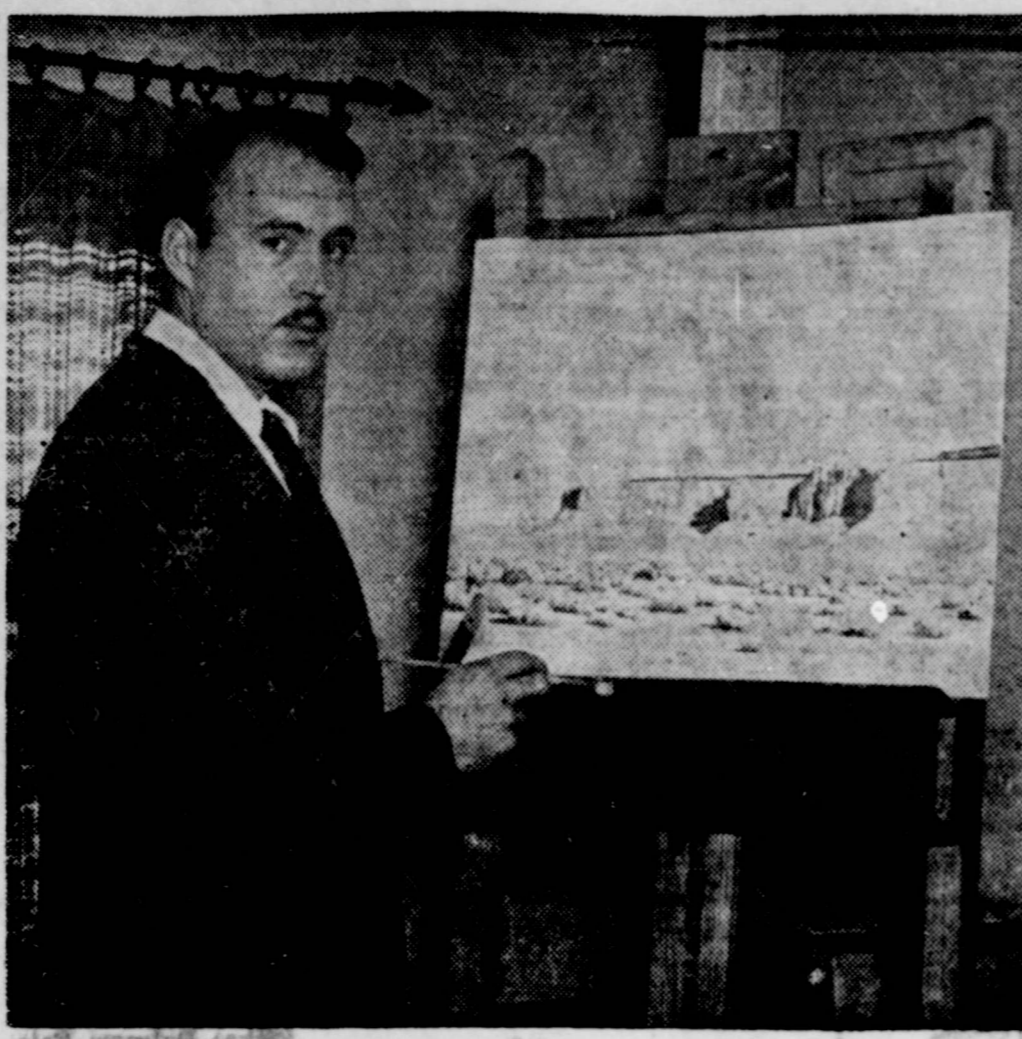

Born in Salida, Colorado, in 1918, Lewis has spent much of his life in that state and has a strong feeling for the West. Having displayed a life-long interest in art, Mr. Lewis decided to establish his home and art career in Santa Fe in 1946 shortly after his marriage in California to Willetta Cook of Lovington, N. M. They were both eager to return to their "real West."

At this stage Lewis paints as a realist, portraying the West as seen by a Westerner. He avoids the conflicts that rage in the art world, holding that no one school has so far reached the ultimate end in art and that there is much to be learned from all approaches.

"My present ambition is to portray the country as I see it, with all its harshness, bitterness, and loneliness, as well as its beauty. I strive to paint it in the best way I know with slight regard for the religious fervor of the soap box orator in the studio. I plan to paint for the next thirty years so am in no hurry to change my style or settle on any one school until the necessity is evident to the type of thing I wish to accomplish."

Mr. Lewis' main galleries are the Santa Fe Art Gallery (Patio Shop) in Santa Fe and the Blue Door Art Gallery in Taos. He also exhibits at the Yucca Gallery in Raton. He has had one man shows or has been included in exhibitions in La Jolla, Laguna

Yoakum HD Council Met February 13

The Yoakum County Home Demonstration council held its monthly meeting in the old courthouse building Monday, Feb. 13, with Mrs. C. A. Prewitt, council chairman, presiding.

An all day training school on parliamentary procedure was participated in by county home demonstration council members, beginning at 10:30 a.m., following the council meeting.

A program was given with club members and guests discussing the following parts: Texas Home Demonstration Constitution and By Laws, Mrs. G. F. Maltby; Discussion of County Home Demonstration Council manual, Miss Ozella E. Hunt, county home demonstration agent; Duties of President or Chairman, Mrs. Prewitt; Duties of Vice-President, Mrs. J. M. Akin; Duties of Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. I. L. Smith; Writing Minutes and Paper Reports, Mrs. R. I. Webb, Jr.; Committee Organizations, Mrs. J. T. Anderson; Activities of Local Leaders, Mrs. L. B. Curtis; Council Delegates, Mrs. H. L. Suddreth; Questions and Answers of THDA, Mrs. George Buland; Evaluation of Meeting, Mrs. N. L. Bingham.

Slide reviews of irrigation projects and also slide reviews of the district style show held in Lubbock in November were shown by E. H. Bush. Four Yoakum county women, Mesdames J. T. Anderson, I. L. Smith, Paul Cobb, and Noel Clanahan, were featured in this review in suits and coats that they made.

Guests attending the meeting were Mr. Bush, associate county agent, Irrigation, of Lubbock; Mrs. Maltby, vice-president Dis-

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

In this epistle I will delve into "What Is A Corporation." There is no need for a 2 inch thick book on theory. I reckon then, says Herry, that you will be puzzled us as complete, but just quicker. Quiet, I says.

A corporation, once it gets its chin above water and is a success, is big looking. But being big and being useful can go together, like this General Electric Company that pours big dinero into research and comes up with useful things like bigger and better X-rays, turbo-jet engines, and a 1000 helpful gadgets.

But back to my topic—corporations. There was a fellow out in Puget Sound who—50 years ago—figured he could take some of the moisture from fresh milk—put the product in a can—sell it—make some money. Canned, it could be shipped farther—keep longer, and fresh, in hot and devious climates. So he got himself a few cows—got a few extra dollars here and there from trusting friends—and he was in business. His was a corporation, right off the bat.

This gentleman's experiment, as it turned out, was a success. You will see the red and white Carnation evaporated milk can from Seattle to Scotland to South Africa to Asia. This company looks big now, but its set-up is exactly as it was when Mr. Stuart bought his first contented Holstein—and risked his first few thrifty dollars.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS
Santa Fe System carloadings for week ending February 11, 1950, were 20,827 compared with 22,289 for same week in 1949. Cars received from connections totaled 9,991 compared with 10,883 for same week in 1949. Total cars moved were 30,818 compared with 33,172 for same week in 1949.

Santa Fe handled a total of 30,652 cars in preceding week of this year.

Among our new readers is Jim Dosier of Ropesville. He, however, lives in Terry county. Thanks, Jim! Hope you like the Herald.

Sea slugs swim in the water or crawl on the ocean floor.

District 2, THDA, Muleshoe; and Miss Kate Adele Hill, District Agent, Lubbock.

Thirty three persons attended the meeting. The Plains Home Demonstration club served lunch during the noon hour.

APPOINTED—Gov. Allan Shivers has announced the appointment of John Ben Shepherd (above), 34, Gladewater attorney, as Secretary of State. The appointment is subject to Senate confirmation. Shepherd will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of former Senator Ben Ramsey, who announced that he would leave the post. Ramsey is generally considered a probable candidate for Lieutenant Governor in this year's coming elections. Shepherd was recently selected by a national magazine and the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce as one of the "nation's 10 outstanding young men of 1949." (AP Photo)

Club Judging Contest At Amarillo Show

A livestock judging contest for FFA and 4-H club boys will be a new feature of the 1950 Amarillo Fat Stock Show. Last year a boy's grass judging contest attracted much interest and it will be held again this year. The show will operate on its usual "free gate" system, the dates being March 6 through 10.

The Amarillo show is recognized as one of the outstanding livestock shows for 4-H and FFA exhibitors of beef calves, fat swine, and lambs for boys from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico. The new livestock building will add to the housing facilities which have been very crowded, according to Art Bralley, secretary.

The sale of Hereford breeding cattle for Wednesday, March 8, will be one of the highlights of the show. March 9 will be "Quarter Horse Day" and this will attract people from throughout the nation to the Quarter Horse Association meeting in Amarillo during the show. Jack Roach, president, Amarillo Fat Stock Show, expects the event to be one of the best in the long and colorful history of the Amarillo show.

Rhoden Heads Sales Force of Cottonoil Co.

ABILENE, Tex., Feb. 27—Appointment of Clifford Rhoden, of San Angelo, as sales manager of the feed department of the Western Cottonoil Co., Southwest division, was announced here by W. A. Williams, vice president of the Western Cottonoil Co. in charge of the feed department.

Appointment of Rhoden further broadens the distribution, sales and desales promotion of Paymaster Formula Feeds which are produced by Western Cottonoil Co.

Mr. Rhoden brings a wide background in the feed business to his new position. He has been in the mill field for 25 years in Winters, Abilene and San Angelo. Since 1946, he has managed the Western Cottonoil Co. mill in San Angelo.

FRAUD FOUND IN JOBLESS PAY

SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—Cases uncovered by Utah's "fraud unit" have led a department head to conclude that "a lot of people don't think it's a crime to cheat their government." The three-man unit is a part of the state department of employment security. Its job is to find any illegal claims for unemployment compensation.

One young man was receiving unemployment compensation payments in a small town while working in Salt Lake City. The boy's mother forged his name to papers in connection with the case and three officials of the town government swore that the handwriting was that of the boy himself.

Two carpenters continued receiving unemployment compensation after they went to work. "When we filed charges we got a letter from the defendants' attorney calling us 'Russian commissars' and so forth and informing us it was none of our darn business what his clients were doing," said Curtis P. Harding, department administrator.

LUBRICARE
keeps your Buick livelier longer

JUST realize one thing, good madam, good sir—as you pilot your Buick down the highway past the parade of lesser cars, you're the secret envy of most other drivers.

So you owe it to this admiring audience to keep that wonderful Buick of yours purring at its proudest—gliding over the roughest roads like a car on a cloud, with never a squeak—lively, long-striding, and staying that way longer!

And one of the easiest ways to do that is to wheel into our shop once a month—ask the man for our LUBRICARE—and here's what will happen:

1 One of our trained Buick mechanics will lubricate your car as the factory engineers specify—covering many points never touched elsewhere.

2 While he goes over your Buick, he gives you an extra service only a Buick man can render. He inspects the entire car with a trained Buick eye—making sure you get lubrication plus Buick care.

3 When you get your bill, you'll find a wonderful surprise—our LUBRICARE costs no more than a routine "grease job" but, man alive, what a difference it makes!

New Board Game: Telepathy

BY WALTER KING

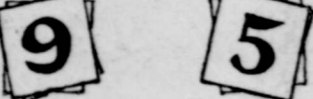

TELEPATHY is the passing of thoughts from one person to another without any talking, whispering, or signaling of any kind. Maybe it can be done, and maybe not.

But this new board game provides some real fun based on the idea of telepathy. Most amusements of this kind depend entirely on chance for each move, but this game hinges largely on your memory and your ability to guess the thoughts of your opponents.

The playing board is made from a piece of cardboard 10 inches square. Rule off the 100 square inches, number them as shown in the diagram, and color 11 squares black. The black squares are the "hazards" and you will notice they get closer together as you climb up the board.

You will also need two markers, and two sets of "telepathy cards." The markers may be ordinary checkers or good-sized buttons of different colors. The telepathy cards should be about two inches square. Each player gets nine of these cards which are numbered from 1 to 9.

To play the game, pull out a card, place it face downward on the table and ask your opponent to call a number. His aim is to guess which number you have drawn and to call another number as far away from it as possible because the difference in the number you pull and the number called by your opponent determines the number of moves he gets.

For instance, if you pull 7 and he guesses 2, he gets five moves. If you pull 3 and he guesses 3, he misses his turn. Also if he lands on a "hazard" he misses his next turn.

Players guess alternately. After a player guesses, the card is turned up on the table until the next card is placed, face up, over it. When all cards have been drawn the nine cards are reshuffled and the selection starts from a full deck again.

To win, you must reach the 100 square before your opponent, but you must finish right on the last square and not go beyond it. Any move carrying you past the 100 square forfeits your turn.

Teen Time

By Bess Ritter

Start a money-making hobby by covering scarred table and desk tops with plastic fabric.

Since practically every household has a battered piece of furniture, so you're bound to do well if your price is reasonable. The work is easy. First, remove grease and grime with a good detergent. Second, fill holes and dents with wood plastic. Third, roughen the surface with coarse sandpaper. After this, all you do is spread glue over the entire surface, then cover it with an attractive plastic material. There should be enough to permit you to fold it over and tack it down to the underside, after drawing the cloth fairly taut. The best way to get customers is to do like the average vacuum cleaner salesman: Fix up a small table, and tote it from door to door.

PUZZLE PATCH

Theme: Alaska

Alaskan Cities
Use the words and pictures to decipher the four Alaskan cities concealed in this rebus:

Riddles

- Why is a lady in a cotton dress like a book?
- Why is a pig with a "curly continuation" like the ghost of Hamlet's father?
- Why should Denmark be an eminently religious country?
- Why can you never buy a new stop watch?
- What is the difference between a boy "over whose head 12 summers have passed," and a man taking a nap?

Posers

- There are three types of individuals among bees. What are they?
- With what city is the expression "white lights" most usually associated?
- In what famous story does the leading character sleep for 20 years?
- What form of poetry is identified by being 14 lines in length?
- What insect is fabled to sew up eyes, ears, and mouth of people who don't behave?

Triangle

This triangle was suggested by Alaska's Aleutian ISLANDS. The first word is a "pronoun," the second an abbreviation for "Doctor of Science," the third "a unit of reluctance," the fourth a combining form for "blood," the fifth "a fortification," and the sixth "to call for with authority."

Geo. W. Neill Announces For County Attorney

I have delayed earlier announcement, in order to feel the public pulse, and to learn if the people wanted me again. I am elated over the re-acton this delay has brought. I am proud and thankful for the large number of good citizens, who have voluntarily solicited and urged me to run for re-election to this office. In fact so many have been so sincere, it would be derelict to not respond, even if I was unconcerned. But I am concerned. I really want the office another term, and would be grateful to get it.

I feel able, physically and otherwise, to fill its every duty, to take the raps, forbear its aggravations, with patience, and enjoy its emoluments.

The functions of the county attorney's office is not limited to "book learning" alone. It often requires discretion, common sense judgment, and a knowledge of humanity. In this scheme, as many agree, I seem to fit well. I have gotten along nicely with every one, been faithfully on the job, during this term, and would

Announcement

To the voters of Precinct 2, Terry county:
I wish to take this means of announcing my candidacy for the office of Terry county commissioner for Precinct 2, subject to the action of the voters at the Democratic primaries.

I am a native Texan and have been a resident of Precinct 2 for the past nine years. I have had considerable experience in road work and in dealing with the public, and feel that I am thoroughly qualified to handle the duties of the office in a capable manner.

This is the first time I have ever asked for public office. If elected, I promise to fulfill the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

Your vote and influence will be appreciated.

West Texans Take Exception To Decision Oklahoma City Judge

That West Texas still denotes the wildest and woolliest of all territories in the United States is quite evident in an article published in the Lubbock Avalanche Journal the morning of February 22.

The gist of the story is that a Federal judge in another state was sentencing two negro moonshiners and offered them either five years in the penitentiary or exile to West Texas. It would hardly come as a surprise if the instance were in New York or Chicago or some other place more or less remote. The surprise of the whole thing is that the situation developed in Oklahoma City, practically in our laps.

Since the appearance of the story, hundreds of letters have been pouring into Oklahoma City protesting the Federal Judge's action in placing West Texas in the same category with Siberia and other places of exile.

The sentencing judge has since backed down on his "exile" story, claiming the reason for his decision was that since West Texas has no woods, he simply thought that the moonshiners couldn't get the wood to build a fire under his still. Aside from the fact that there would be no wood available, he said that West Texas water would not be suitable to use in their stilleries.

Since we have an on-his-toes manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, he also has taken exception to this gross defamation of West Texas and his letter to the Daily Oklahoman appears below:

TO the Daily Oklahoman Managing Editor Oklahoma City, Okla.

Dear Sir:

In regard to your Federal Judge Stephen Chandler and his very intelligent verdict handed down in Oklahoma Feb. 20, at which time he stated that he would be lenient on two of your local bootleggers if they would move to the Plains country or West Texas.

This verdict handed down by your distinguished, highly educated and esteemed Judge commanded a great deal of thought and meditation before handing down such a verdict. We know here in West Texas that he pondered long and hard about the consequences. Now a Federal Judge is a well educated man, respected civic leader and his actions are copied and followed by a great number of people who look to him for leadership and guidance. Due to these facts we know you are proud of this intelligent foresighted judge and we know in the future when he pounds his gavel (or head) against the desk for respect in the court room I am sure every-one attending court will be silent and bow their heads in respect for a great judge. (They will be silent for no other reason than to see what's going to happen next).

In other words if this is over the well educated, highly esteemed judge, molder of men and civic leader's head—keep your damn bootleggers in Oklahoma.

Sincerely,
Wayne (Red) Smith, Manager Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, Brownfield, Texas.

P.S. If you print this letter (which I doubt) I will suggest that the paper boy that delivers your paper stop long enough to explain this letter to your highly educated, esteemed judge.

Projects For 1950 Set Up By C of C

Utility extension for future housing and industrial expansion in Brownfield was named by Wayne (Red) Smith, manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, as the top project of the group for 1950.

Surveys of the city are now being made, following action taken by the junior and senior Chambers of Commerce in an effort to provide certain sections of the city with electricity, light and sewage.

The other three main projects to be taken over this year are participation in the Canadian River Dam program, the development of more livestock raising in Terry county, and the organization of a Terry County Fair Association.

Smith said that the chamber of commerce realized the necessity of having an annual county fair and that as soon as the city and county provided the fairground, the chamber of commerce would begin having a fair each year.

Other projects to be undertaken by the group this year are the encouragement of more deep breaking of farm lands in the county, and the provision of downtown parking space for shoppers.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—Will VA give a free medical examination to any veteran?

A—A free medical examination will be given any veteran when such an examination is necessary to determine the veteran's entitlement to some VA benefits.

Q—Did the dividend which I received on my NSLI policy result from fewer war deaths?

A—No. The government assumes liability for claims traceable to extra hazards of service in the United States armed forces as a cost of war.

Q—I want to make dancing my life work. How can I arrange for lessons under the GI Bill?

A—Since the course you contemplate is one which is frequently pursued for recreational purposes, you will have to submit to VA complete justification that the course you want is in connection with your present or contemplated business or occupation. Prior approval must be obtained from VA before you start such training.

Q—Since my discharge from the Army, VA has waived the premiums on my NSLI policy because of my total disability. Will the waiver affect the amount of the dividend I will get?

A—No. Dividends will be paid for all periods the insurance was in force under waiver of premiums.

Economic Highlights

In an editorial called "Those Hidden Taxes," the New York Herald Tribune observes, "The citizen who grins and bears it each week when he takes note of deductions from his take home pay, or who gulps when he makes the quarterly payment on his income tax, has perhaps mercifully been spared a consciousness of the hidden taxes which fall upon him every day. . . . The problem of tax reform, however, requires knowledge on the part of the citizens. It is to the advantage of the individual that he sees through the tax smokescreen which the experts have laid down—that he feels the pain of what has devised to be painless."

The Herald-Tribune ran a series of factual articles, by Robert S. Bird, dealing with the impact of hidden taxes on the ordinary taxpayer. It is a sure bet that not one citizen in ten thousand has any accurate idea of how deep these taxes cut into his earnings. For instance, on a $10,000 house it was found that no less than 639 hidden taxes were involved in the construction, development of site, and purchase financing. These taxes, Mr. Bird says, were collected by the Federal and state governments from the architect, builder, banks, agents, insurance companies, contractor, manufacturers, jobbers and others.

Hidden taxes are not confined to big purchases like a house. The Tax Foundation found that 151 taxes applied to a loaf of bread. A woman's spring hat carried 150 taxes. A man's suit came in for

116. A humble egg accounted for 100. Mr. Bird writes: "In none of these studies were local taxes taken into account, nor the Federal and state levies on the various steps behind the supply and manufacturing point. As an example of how complex the tax shifting devices work, the economists found that even the length of time an article remains in stock sometimes determines who bears the weight of a particular tax."

No one knows the actual total of hidden taxes. Estimates indicate they may run as high as $700 per family per year. And, of course, they come on top of all direct taxes. The magnitude of the latter is shown by the fact that in 1949 the average taxpayer worked one month for the Federal government to pay the Federal income tax alone.

The Federal government is the biggest tax eater by far. It takes 71 cents of each tax dollar, while the states take 15 cents and local units 15 cents. By contrast, in 1932, the Federal government took but 22 per cent and in 1939, 39 per cent.

What to do about this tremendous problem is a tough question. The Herald-Tribune says, "The overlapping of tax jurisdictions, the continuances of taxes which have outlived their original purpose, the crushing proportions of the tax burden as a whole require the most careful study. . . . But the first step is to know, and the second is to be aroused."

SAYS MARRIAGE IDEAS SPOIL U. S. WOMEN

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—(AP)—American women are spoiled, says Dr. Perihan Cambel, Turkish-born associate professor at the University of Florida. "In America," she says, "a woman thinks only of getting married. In Europe a woman thinks first of her career."

Here doing cancer research, Dr. Cambel says Turkish women who attend the Universities take military training in summer, learning marching, shooting, radar, nursing and food service, and many have entered aviation.

"But wrong ideas you have about Turkey do not compare with ideas we have about America. You have no conception of the warped picture of American life one gets from seeing only Hollywood movies. Everyone lives in skyscrapers, wears furs and there is gold in the streets."

Terry County Service Officer

All public documents, such as discharges, birth certificates, marriage certificates, divorce decrees needed by veterans and or dependents in processing any type of claim with the Veterans Administration can be procured by your local service office if the document is of record in any county clerk's office in Texas. Under House Bill 1004, passed by the State Legislature and as now amended, the above mentioned certificates or documents may be had on request by service officers, and no charges will be made to the veteran or his dependents.

Every discharged veteran should immediately after being discharged, have his service record placed on record in his home county. Any veteran who has lost or misplaced his discharge from the military services should report to his county service officer and make application for certificate in lieu of the lost discharge. Anyone finding official papers pertaining to a veteran is asked to bring them to the county service office.

World War II veterans are entitled to non-service connected benefits the same as veterans of World War I. For example, if a veteran who served 90 days or longer and was in good health at the time of his honorable discharge, has since become totally and permanently disabled from disease or injury, and is unable to pursue a gainful occupation for himself and family, he is eligible for a non-service connected pension. He will receive the sum of $60 a month. After drawing this amount for a period of ten years, his pension will be increased to $72 a month.

We would be glad to take listing on apartments and houses to rent. We would also submit your rooms and apartments without charge to you or the veterans who have recently moved to Brownfield. If you have an apartment or house to rent call the service office at the courthouse phone 247-M. We will be happy to find you a renter. If you need someone to work for you we would also try to find a veteran who needs employment.

We extend to all veterans, their friends and dependents an open invitation to visit the county service office, and we welcome the opportunity to render service in any manner possible at all times. The office is located on the ground floor of the courthouse.

"VISIONS" STIMULATE SEARCH FOR AIRMAN

SINGAPORE—(AP)—Visions of seers here and in the United Kingdom of a soldier on the shores of a lake have provoked British security forces in Malaya to renew their hunt for Brigadier M. D. Erskine, commander of the Second Guards Brigade. He has been missing since Oct. 30 on a flight between Mentakao, in Pahang state, to Kuala Lumpur, the federal capital.

"The visions tallied so remarkably that we could not afford to ignore them," said an army spokesman. The forecasts of one of the U. K. seers have proved accurate in the past.

PLAINS NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McClellan returned this week from Dallas, where he underwent an operation. His friends are glad to see him up again.

Mrs. T. E. Coke is in Abilene under the care of a doctor. The last report was that she is feeling better.

Mrs. Tommie McDonnell was in the hospital in Brownfield this week-end.

Several from Plains attended friendship night of the OES in Denver City Monday night. Two officers from here filled stations. A good time was reported by all.

Mr. and Mrs. John McKee are visiting relatives in Stamford this week.

Mrs. A. L. Wildman is in the hospital at Denver City.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bandy, R. H. Bandy and family visited their son and brother, D. L. Bandy and family at Meadow Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Bryant went to Plainview Monday to church conference.

Went Webber of Phoenix, Ariz., is here visiting his father J. S. Webber, brothers Joe and Ford,

Like ripe olives, some people love bread pudding, others abhor it. The bread pudding, because of the high flavor, will convert the bread pudding-haters in your family. It contains plenty of body-building iron. Arrange 10 slices of bread in a well-greased baking dish. Beat together 2 eggs, 3 cups molasses, 2 tbsps. sugar, 1/4 cup salt. Add 2 cups scalded milk. 2 tbsps. melted butter and pour over the bread cubes. Put baking dish in pans of hot water and bake in moderate oven of 350°F. for one hour or until firm. Serves 6.

A coarse quarter-inch wire mesh fastened under the register of your gas floor furnace will catch dust particles. Clean it occasionally to keep free passage for hot air.

Added flavor for gravy: Stir in a quarter-cup while the gravy is cooking.

Shave meat or poultry uncrapped in your gas refrigerator because contact with the air delays spoiling.

The rusty scale that drops down from the bottom of your automatic gas water heater should be brushed off the burner about twice a year.

sisters Mrs. Irby Bedford and Mrs. Ruth O'Neal. Mrs. S. S. Jobs underwent an operation Saturday at the West Texas hospital in Lubbock. She is doing fine and expects to return to her home in Farwell this week end. Mrs. Jobs was formerly band director at Plains school.

Jasper A. Syfreet, 100 years old, passed away at his home in Lubbock Sunday. He brought his family to the south plains in 1895 in a wagon train. Mr. Syfreet is the father of Mrs. O. V. Maybre, who is one of the early settlers of Yoakum county. Mrs. Maybre and her husband were the first couple to be married in Yoakum county. They now reside in Denver City.

Rev. E. L. Nawgle has been ill the past week and was not able to hold services at the Methodist church Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Padgett from Levelland were visiting friends in Plains Sunday. Mr. Padgett owns a section of land north of Plains, and surprised at the many new buildings being under construction.

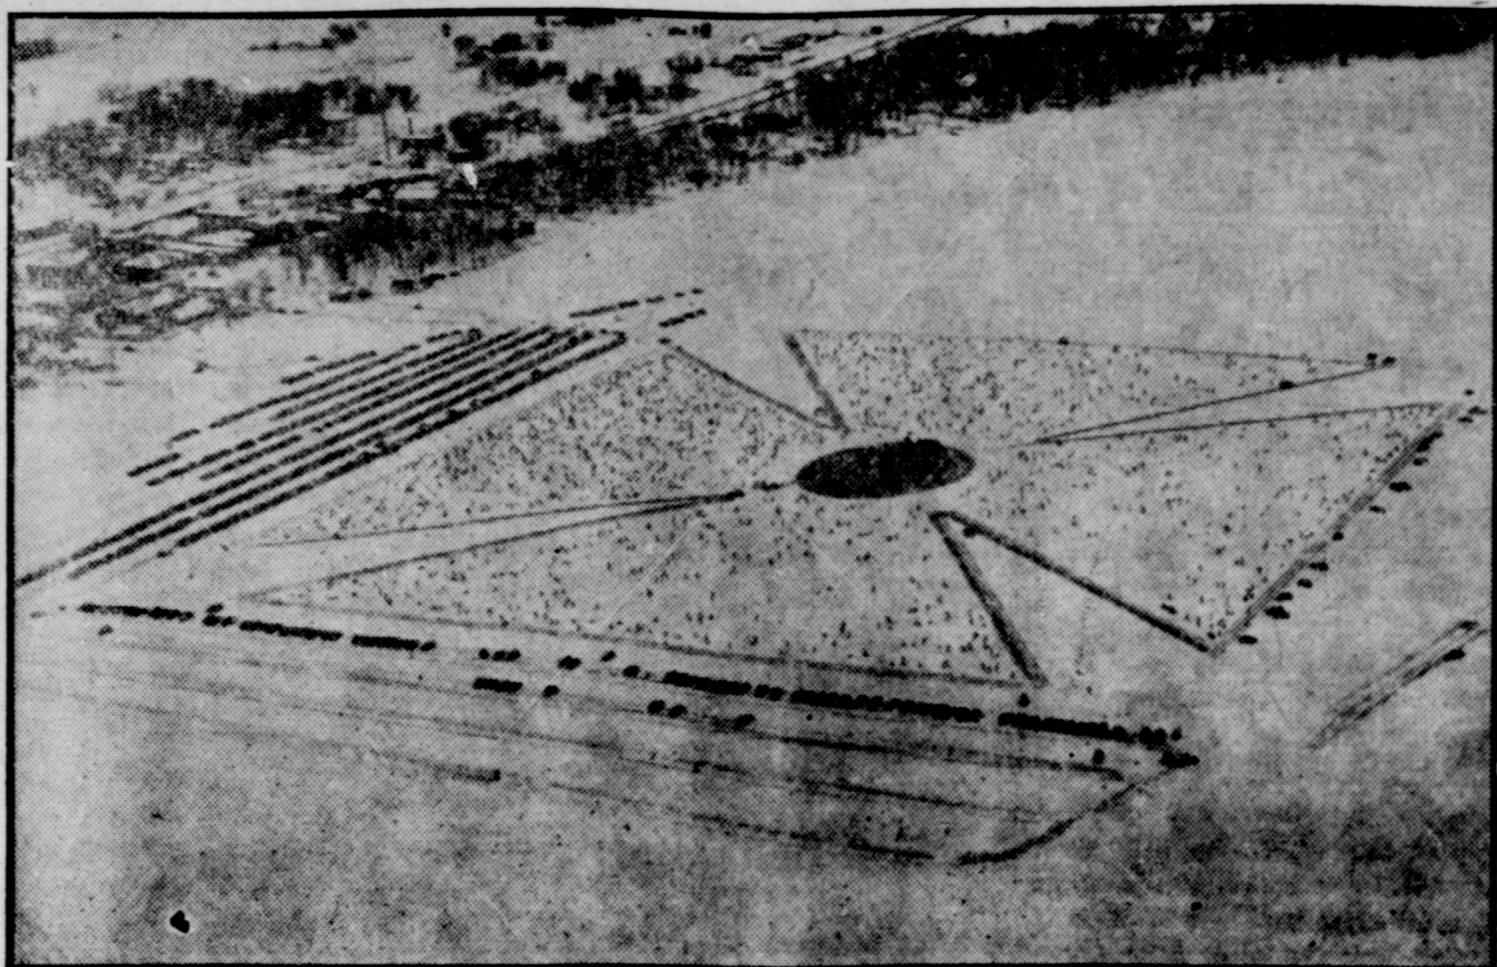

An Old Gal Friend Writes the Editor

Had a letter last week from Miss Kathleen Hardin, R. N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hardin of this city, who is nurse in a large Houston hospital. And it seems that the graduate nurses could take on part time at the first aid station at the rodeo while the Fat Stock show was in progress there recently.

There she met Roy Rogers and his company, and to use Kathleen's words, "learn that all the Hollywood folks are not bad." She stated that when a man or boy, the latter in the junior contest, happened to get hurt, there were none that made more trips to the first aid station to find how they were getting along. Nor had she ever met people who acted more natural than Roy and his crew.

She stated that while Houston was growing and was reaching thumping proportions, they were just country boys and girls still out for a good time. They really liked Roy and his folks, and want them to return next year, and the chances are real good that they will come back to Houston next year.

Roy, Dale Evans and Hayes were especially popular. Few snobs in Houston, Kathleen says, and even if a guy comes from another "country town" and gets a bit out of line, the Houstonian just shrugs and remarks: "Guess he was just having his day."

FISHING GROUND HOLDS 2500—Maltese cross outline in dye on ice is the happy fishing ground for 2500 men and women who take part in the annual Veterans of Foreign Wars-sponsored contest at Forest Lake, Minn. Great Minds Run In Same Channel?

M. S. Williams over on west Hill was in to get his name on the Herald honor roll one day last week, and just decided to chat awhile. As usual we are always open for a gabfest. Naturally our conversation lead to mention of this, that and the other place.

Finally Cleburne was mentioned, and Mr. Williams stated that he had lived there for years. Also, that while his wife was born in Milan county, we believe, they had married in Johnson county. M. S. came to that section in 1892, and landed in Terry in 1924.

So you see the Williams family are no new comers here.

Another Old Gal Friend Heard From

Had a letter last week from Mrs. Mary (Corning) Roe, with three bucks therein, and said she'd simply neglected to renew for her paper. But her paper was due to come all February, and she wasn't exactly in arrears.

Mary was for many years a nurse at the local hospital, and a good one. Indeed she has brought the bed pan to us a few times. She was reared in old Terry, and we have known her since a baby. Any time she and hubby get tired of the Pacific northwest, old Terry will welcome them home.

Poems About Pioneers Written By Tech Prof

LUBBOCK, Feb. 24—"Sunrise in Texas," a book of poems about the men who made Texas by Dr. Everett A. Gillis, has been published by a San Antonio firm.

Dr. Gillis, associate professor of English at Texas Technological College, dedicated the new book to his mother, Mrs. Earle A. Gillis, Fort Worth. Mrs. Gillis was selected as the "Texas Mother of the Year" and "National Mother of the Year" in 1949.

Poems in the booklet include "Parson John," "Sam Houston," "Bigfoot Wallace" and "Davy Crockett."

Dr. Gillis also wrote two earlier books of poetry—"Hello the House" (1944) and a collection of war poems, "Who Can Retreat?" Modern turkeys mature in seven months although a couple of generations ago nine months were required.

Eggs Are A Top Protein Food

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 24—Eggs are an excellent protein food. They are rich in vitamin A and this makes them a good body building food. The vitamin B helps to promote good digestion and egg yolks are one of the richest sources of vitamin D. You get all of this and more, and it's all done up in one neat package when you eat eggs, says Lucille Shultz, associate extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A & M college.

Right now eggs are one of your best buys. They are cheap. The supply is abundant and next to milk are the most important protein food you can use in the diet for the growing child. Besides the vitamins, they contain iron which is a body builder and the phosphorus helps make strong teeth and bones. The appetite appeal of colorful egg dishes, she points out have no age limit—from baby to granddads. Eggs make fine dishes for breakfast, dinner or supper and should be served every day.

Miss Shultz says the growing child should have at least one egg every day and that adults should eat eggs four or five times a week. She says there are many different ways to prepare eggs for the family table and that the method of preparation should be varied for variety adds to their appetite appeal.

She offers these suggestions on egg cooking. Eggs should be cooked with low heat—high heat tends to make the eggs tough. For best success in beating egg whites, use them when they are at room temperature. Strictly fresh eggs, she adds do not peel easily and the older eggs should be used for hard cooking. When you make custards, overcooking will cause the eggs to curdle and too much beating or mixing, in the case of cakes, will cause a loss of air and you'll lose the lightness and fluffiness that you want in your cakes. If you are interested in getting more information on preparing egg dishes and hints on cooking, she suggests that you call on your local county home demonstration agent for recipes and cooking hints.

THE CHALLENGE OF HEART DISEASE

by H. M. MARVIN, M.D., President, American Heart Association

This February, thousands of men and women throughout the nation are making the 1950 Heart Campaign their concern. These volunteers in the fight against heart disease will receive generous support from the public, whose interests they serve. Heart disease is not their concern alone. It is the concern of every American.

Consider these sobering facts. In a single year, the heart diseases bring death to more than 600,000 people. As it happens, this exceeds the death toll taken by cancer, tuberculosis, pneumonia, kidney diseases and accidents combined. Further, there are at least 10,000,000 people disabled to some extent by diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

The 1950 Heart Campaign is alerting the American people to the tremendous destructiveness of heart disease. At the same time, it offers all of us a way of assisting physicians and medical scientists to find answers to this, the most serious health problem of our time.

Through the 1950 HEART Campaign, the American Heart Association with its affiliates is asking for a total of $5,000,000. This is the minimum needed to carry forward a carefully planned, nation-wide attack on heart disease through research, education and community service.

A major goal of this program is to discover the still unknown causes of rheumatic fever, high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries, which together account for 90 per cent of all damaged hearts. The many significant advances made in recent years justify the hope, and the belief, that persistent research will bring still greater advances in prevention and treatment of heart disease in the near future.

Public education and community "heart" programs are being developed and expanded. The public is being given useful facts about the heart diseases, facts to replace unheeded, damaging fears. And, all over America, local heart associations are working to assure the best possible services to all who need them. This program should concern everyone of us. Its success depends upon public understanding and generous support of the nation-wide fight against the heart diseases.

Will Dixon Writes About Our "Coal Mines"

Hello Jack: Here's a little history about 50 years old, down on the Texas plains, when there were more coal mines than there were unions. The old Texas longhorns were the miners and the ranchers were the owners, who employed cowboys to see that the "miners" stayed in order. But anybody could get out and pick up the fuel without a union card—and no John L. to shoot the bull.

In the good old days, mostly in the fall of the year, you could see the coal wagons out in the pastures gathering coal for the winter. They didn't have coal dumps in those days. Nor did you need a contract. Maybe the T-H will soon put John L. where he belongs. Our old time coal pickers worked only when they wanted to work, and the emergency depended on how cold you were or might get before the winter was over.

West Texas in those days was the land of Utopia; the cows furnished the fuel and the windmills pumped the water. If any of the old timers are in need of winter fuel, send them up here and I'll see that they get it. I'll venture to say we have enough down wood to burn up all the stores in west Texas. So if you are cold and out of wood, come to Washington—W. T. Dixon, Amboy, Washington.

Dear Bill: The days are gone forever when south Plains folks have to depend on either John L's or the steer miners. The town people all burn natural gas, of which Texas has half of the nation's supply and reserves, and the farmers have their own plants to burn butane gas. Come down and see our big oil fields some day. You'd be surprised.—AJS.

Delinting Cuts Cotton Production Costs

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 24—Cutting the costs of producing cotton in 1950 is one way that cotton farmers can increase their income from growing cotton and that is a mighty important consideration. Lower selling prices and continued high fixed production costs have started farmers searching for ways to cut costs and Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist of Texas A & M college, says planting delinted cottonseed is a money saver.

He says many gin communities have installed the necessary equipment and are performing this service on a community basis and he cites the work done in Childress county as an outstanding example. Farmers in Childress county estimate their savings at more than $2.23 per acre and here is how they figure it.

One bushel of delinted seed will plant 3 1/2 acres while a bushel of fuzzy seed will plant up to two acres. The delinted seed can be planted with a 5 hole corn plate rather than the regular cotton plate and this gives an even spacing of the seed and saves many hours of hand hoeing or chopping. On a 100 acre, Elliott says, 50 bushels or more of fuzzy seed are required for the planting operation against 27 bushels of delinted seed.

FLYING NEWS AND VIEWS

By EDWIN E. DUNCAN

In writing this column it is our intention to acquaint the reader with the activities at the local airport, with the boys and girls who are flying, the types of planes they are flying, and when possible include a few lines here and there on the merits of private aviation.

One of the newest planes based on the local field is the new Piper Stinson purchased back in December by Homer Wheatley of the Johnson community. The plane is a large, 4 passenger, maroon job similar to the Stinson owned by Roy (Pete) Harris, manager of the Triangle Airport.

Mr. Wheatley, who is still flying on student pilot's license, has been logging flying time fast and furious and will soon be ready for his private license. Sunday afternoon he took off for Austin on a business trip where he remained overnight before returning to Brownfield Monday afternoon.

Another new plane owner is Kenneth Moore who bought a new Piper Clipper last May. The Clipper is a little lighter plane than the Stinson, but is also a 4-passenger ship. Kenneth's ship has an attractive ivory finish and is trimmed in red. Last Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Moore flew up to Olton, Texas.

I. O. Mullendore, of El Paso, is the owner of the BT-13 now based on the local field. Mr. Mullendore is an old-time flier who has renewed his interest in aviation. He is receiving instruction from Kelton Miller, and can be seen nearly every day practicing take-offs and landings as well as other elementary maneuvers. The BT-13 is a war surplus Army trainer.

Representatives of the West Texas Cotton Oil Company landed at the field last Thursday in a Beechcraft Bonanza. John Paxton was the pilot of the plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hutchinson, of Lubbock, stopped by in a Cessna 170 last week while on their way to Snyder.

Dr. and Mrs. Renegar, of Levelland, flew down to Brownfield for a visit last Thursday in their Stinson Voyager.

Roy (Pete) Harris and R. C. Harris were in Lubbock last Wednesday to attend the demonstration showing of the new model Cessna airplanes.

Roy W. Wicker rented the little Piper PA-11, the blue and yellow, 2-passenger plane, last Friday and flew down to Seagraves to have a quick look over his farm.

Joe Greenhill, from Pecos, Texas, has bought the old PT-19 from the Triangle Flying Service, and is having it recovered and overhauled in preparation for relicensing. The PT-19 is a war surplus Army trainer.

One of the things that concerns pilots most is the weather, especially strong wind. When the boys are unable to fly, they usually sit around the hangar and talk about the weather. Last week while doing a little hangar flying we got to discussing the difference in winds in different parts of the country. One fellow, we won't say who, soon put a stop to our tales when he told about the conditions where he learned to fly. It seems that it was somewhere over in New Mexico where the wind could really blow. He claimed they used log chains for wind socks on the hangars. As long as the chains were blowing straight out, they figured it was still safe to fly. But when the wind began to pop links off the end of the chain, they knew it was time to get on the ground.

Methodists Not All Who Like Chicken

Met up with our good friend, Rev. J. N. Hester over at the postoffice one day last week, and he informed us that he was shaping up things at his place in south Brownfield to raise some baby chicks this spring. Of course we pulled that old chestnut about Methodist preachers liking chicken.

He just grinned, and told us about another conversation in which that old saw was spoken. Whereupon, a Baptist minister that was present "lowed as how that "Baptist preachers were eating and liking chicken 1000 years before there was a Methodist preacher or church."

Now, you can take the argument from here on. But will say this. Preacher Hester knows his onions when it comes to raising chickens. He came by it honest from his mother and dad.

FARM QUESTION BOX by ED W. MITCHELL Farm Advisor General Electric Station WCY

- Q. What can I do to get rid of lice on chickens? A. Get the lice down to save on spray material, and spray in the spring with any good weed killer. Q. Provide a dust box with a little DDT dust mixed with the dirt and paint or pour a little black lead in a shallow box about the roosts about once a month. Apply it just before the birds go to roost. Q. I have about 700 feet of iron pipe which is rusted nearly full. Is there anything I can do to clean this pipe out, or must I dig it up? A. I think you must dig it up. It is hardly possible you could flush the pipe line several times with sulfuric acid and open it up a little. But it is probably cheaper and better to abandon it and lay a new line with drawn copper tubing. Q. We have just bought some land which has quite a bit of poison on it. Will you please tell us how to get rid of it? A. That rotting may have been due to dampness, or disease or rotting in the turkeys. This year try storing them in sawdust in a cool, damp cellar.

Advertisement for Studebaker cars showing various models and a large image of a Studebaker sedan. Text: For the motorist and non-driver alike, the automobile industry stimulates a tremendous amount of interest. Concrete evidence of the public's enthusiasm is manifest in the large numbers of people who visit dealer showrooms and by the hundreds of visitors anxious to join automobile plant tours such as those conducted daily by Studebaker in South Bend, Ind. High lights of these tours include (1) the body shop where a specific passenger car body type is lowered onto a specific chassis moving along the final assembly line; (2) the upholstering division where layers upon layers of expensive material is cut for seat backs, seat cushions and headlining. What the visitors don't see are the nearly continuous road tests conducted at the Studebaker proving ground as expert drivers go looking for trouble as, for instance, (3) the sand track. The final thrill for the "tourists" comes as they watch two endless rows of new cars (4) rolling off the final assembly line at a rate which made 1949 the biggest year in company history.

VA Teacher Judged Area 11 Contest

Lester Buford, vocational agriculture teacher in Brownfield High School, judged the Area 11 Future Farmers of America contest held in Amarillo last Saturday. He recently judged the Area 2 contest held in Colorado City. Since there are only 12 areas in the state, each area covers many counties. Buford is in great demand as a judge for these contests, according to information received.

A graduate of Texas A & I College, Buford holds a Masters degree from Texas Technological college. He has taught in Brownfield for three years.

That his junior and senior FFA teams will represent Area 11 in the state FFA contest, to be held at Huntsville March 18 is indicative of Buford's ability as a vocational agriculture teacher.

The Brownfield teams won first places in junior and senior FFA quiz and in senior farm skill demonstration at the Area 1 contest in Seymour Dec. 17.

High School Class Observes DE Week

Two members of the Brownfield High School Distributive Education class and their co-ordinator, Otis Davis, attended the State DE convention at San Angelo this week. The members are Dick Proctor, president of the class, and Wendell Dumas. Governor Allan Shivers has designated the week of Feb. 20-26 as "Distributive Education Week" in Texas. The high school DE class is taking part in the observance.

Members of the class and their places of employment are as follows:

Dick Proctor, second year, Latham's Dry Goods, elected delegate to the convention for the second time.

Wendell Dumas, second year, L & T Grocery.

Eura Lee Burns, Nelson Jewelry, DE club sweetheart for 1949-1950.

1948 FIGURES SHOW RISE IN HEART TOLL

The toll of heart disease is on the increase. Figures for 1948 from the National Office of Vital Statistics show that deaths from diseases of the heart and blood vessels increased nearly 2% over the 1947 total (from 626,176 to 637,679).

Cancer deaths increased about 4% over the 1947 total. The other four leading causes of death in the U. S. showed a decrease—nephritis (kidney disease) deaths went down 3 1/2%, pneumonia and tuberculosis dropped nearly 9%, while deaths from accidents declined 1 1/2%.

The toll of the heart diseases continues to be greater than the next five leading causes combined.

Morgan Pace, first year, Tudor Sales.

Lena Ruth Cypert, second year, shoe department at Brownfield Bargain Center, has approximately 2500 hours on-the-job training.

Edna Harbin, first year, Collins Dry Goods.

New Phone Co-Op Is Organized

A telephone co-operative, to be known as the Polka-Lambro Rural Telephone Co-operative, was formed last week at a meeting held in the Tahoka High School auditorium.

More than 250 persons attended the meeting, which was under the direction of Tom Garrard, Lynn county judge.

The group seeks to obtain rural phone service for Terry, Borden, Lynn, Gaines, Dawson, Garza, Hockley, Yoakum and parts of Lubbock and Martin counties.

J. S. Allen was appointed temporary chairman of the board of directors elected at the meeting.

Other directors are B. R. Osborne of Brownfield, V. H. Wheatley of Brownfield, George Teague of Lamesa, Claude Thomas of Post, and Lloyd McCormick of Tahoka.

The name Polka-Lambro comes from a combination of the names Post, Tahoka, Lamesa, and Brownfield.

Hiram Bingham was in Saturday to get the Lubbock Avalanche daily and Sunday headed his way. And we had a nice friendly chat with Hiram. A

SHAKESPEARE THEATER PLANS PROGRAM

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, England—(AP)—William Shakespeare's sleepy home town has announced its program for the summer boom days when American and continental tourists traditionally flock here to honor the bard.

The 1950 season of plays at the Shakespeare Memorial Theater will be the longest ever—six and three-quarter months. First play of the season, "Measure for Measure," opens March 9.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Stice and her father, the Rev. Don Rogers, recently returned from a week's visit in Dallas, Fort Worth and Waco.

Four other renewals late last week were G. W. Chisholm, Clarence Griffith and Mrs. Jim Nelson, city, and A. L. McCoy of Meadow Rt. 1. Thanks a lot, friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lyle, of Lubbock were visitors in the A. J. Stricklin Sr., home Sunday.

Some Up In Air Over C of C Building

We guess the Herald stays a little behind the times, so did not know that a proposition was up to put a chamber of commerce building on the north side of the courthouse lawn until it was announced. But was over to the courthouse last week and found that petitions were prepared to circulate among taxpayers to forbid its construction.

Struck up with at least one farmer that seemed to be a bit more filled than the majority. He remarked that just as well put a blacksmith shop on one corner. Being a friend of the petitioner, we suggested that would probably be OK if the blacksmith shop conformed in architecture to the courthouse and kept the premises clean.

We jokingly told our friend that we had seen horse troughs on the square, but he shut us off with the remark that those days are gone forever. They sure have, but we wish some of them were still with us, especially common honesty and less hold ups, robbing, killing, raping, etc.

And we might add that there are two sides to this question. The Brownfield Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce are pretty important to the farming interests of the county. They promote and pay premiums at our fair and stock shows, and we might add that no one works harder than the C. of C. to provide for migratory labor in order to help the farmer gather his crop.

Yes, there are two sides to the argument.

Texas Mentally Ill Must Have Care

By Roger J. Williams (Written for Associated Press)

The people of Texas are stirred up and righteously so, about the problem of proper care for the mentally ill. The state legislature is in special session just now to cope with the emergency.

Is there any way whereby mental disease can be prevented or cured or must we look forward decade after decade to mounting costs? Is mental disease going to cripple increasing thousands of Texas year after year, and are we helpless in the face of the problem?

Fortunately the answers to these questions need not be pessimistic because I believe by searching out the roots of the problem and attacking mental diseases at their roots, they can be prevented and cured. There is a fundamental need which I have been attempting to stress in recent years—the need to understand better real people, both well and unwell.

What we have failed to realize in the past is that people who are mentally ill are always ill in other ways at the same time. There are probably always reasons for mental disease which lie in the intricate chemical and physical changes which take place in drain tissue. The weight of an adult brain is about 1/40 of that of the whole body. But of the total chemical energy released in the body about 1/4 is released in the brain! In mental disease this tremendous activity is impaired.

At the biochemical institute at the University of Texas we have

Religious Leaders Endorse Heart Campaign

The 1950 Heart Campaign, which is seeking $5,000,000 to carry forward the American Heart Association's attack on heart disease, the nation's leading cause of death, has received the warm endorsement of prominent leaders of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths.

Dr. Peale in an appeal to every American to support this nation-wide health crusade Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, of the Marble Collegiate Church, New York City, said: "Through the efforts of the doctors and scientists of the American Heart Association and its affiliates, there is great hope that the heart diseases will be controlled. But our contributions to this great fight—our gifts to the Heart Campaign are vitally necessary."

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, the Temple, Cleveland, Ohio declared, "The unselfish, collective efforts of medical scientists to control and eradicate disease is living proof of mankind's spiritual growth. The heart diseases remain largely unconquered. The collective efforts of our doctors and scientists is not enough to defeat this common enemy. Our help is needed. So let us open our hearts and give generously."

D. Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia, expressed his support for the 1950 Heart Campaign with these words, "Individual contributions are needed in order to realize the hope of eventual control of the heart diseases. Financial support of the Heart Campaign of the American Heart Association and its affiliates will help safeguard the hearts of our citizens. This safeguard is scientific research, broad dissemination of the facts about heart disease and community heart programs."

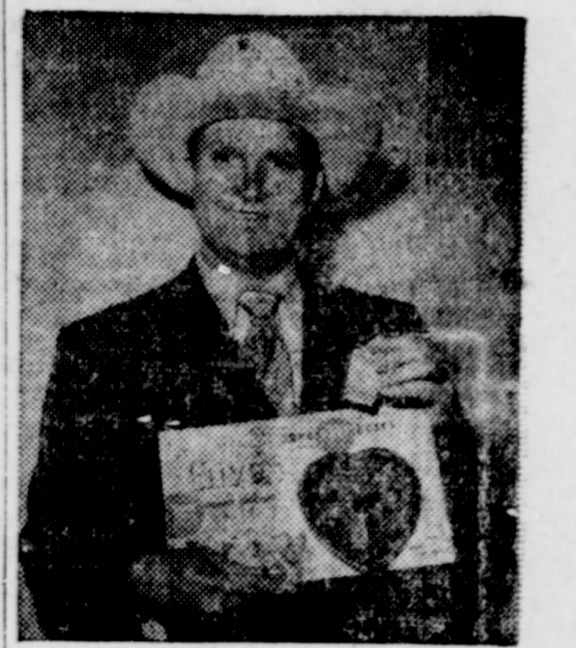

Addressing themselves to all Americans, these religious leaders have asked contributors to "Send your contribution to HEART, care of your local post office."

JERUSALEM HAS YOUTH VILLAGE

JERUSALEM—(AP)—A new "Youth Village" is operating in the urban area of Jerusalem for immigrant children from all parts of the earth. The village consists of 250 acres and 20 buildings.

Its population already numbers 150 children between the ages of 10 and 17. They came from India, Turkey, North Africa, Poland, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and France through the "Youth Aliyah" organization. Another 100 children are expected shortly.

"Open Your Heart"

Gene Autry contributes to the 1950 Heart Campaign for $6,000,000 to fight heart disease through research, education and community service.

Stricklin Speaking

By Old He
The dailies report that a cyclone recently struck the Hurricane community in Tennessee. It would be interesting to a lot of the old timers out here to see what would happen to a cyclone if so unfortunate as to run into a sandstorm.

We note that they have a beer election coming up in Scurry county. This was all brought about by Snyder becoming an oil town. Ha, ho, hum! What a waste of time, money and energy. Might as well try to vote Brooklyn, N. Y. dry as Snyder wet.

Has your seed catalog arrived? Best time to begin thumbing through one, smacking your lips over those fresh vegetables you DON'T raise every year.

If many of us old timers are still around, we may celebrate Terry's 50th anniversary in 1954. However, the new kind of counters may tell us we will have to wait till after December 31, that year, to make up the 50.

Yep, they tell us now that the second half (50 years) of the 20th century will not start till after December 31, this year. Back in 1900, Jan. 1, we foolish folks thought we were in a new century. Don't we make progress? But there were not so many smart folks back then.

Last week Cecil Smith got an after midnight call from his brother Adolphus out at Phoenix, Ariz., to tell him that a little son had just arrived. Now sons in the Smith family are rather scarce, so this one will bear the family name, "Cecil." But our Brownfield Cecil said Adolphus was so doggone excited he couldn't tell him how much the chap weighed.

A new Texas brag. A west Texas jackrabbit whipped the tar out of an 80 pound dog. But the 80 pound dog was an import from California, and of course had no chance against anything Texas has.

It's funny how the weatherman

The Way Those Rumors Are Flying Around

Gosh all hemlocks! The way those building rumors are flying around, you'd think Brownfield would pass Heavenly Houston or at least Big D in the next few years. It may be just possible that there is a mite of reality to some of them—but mostly hot air.

You will hear that this big plant is going to be moved to another site, and a huge grocery built on the site with oodles of parking room. Then there will be another that two or three residences is to be moved off a half block of a main street to give room for another.

So far as we know right now about the only final decision to build is the Masonic lodge on the east side of the square, and that depends somewhat on funds raised locally, we understand.

But a whale of a lot of residences are under construction and many others planned. We might also mention that the 16 unit apartment on east Ripper to is about complete, and we hear some tenants are moving in.

Although he had been away from Brownfield some 20 years, Ben Hurst is still sending in the yearly donation, and ask us to keep 'er coming. All that time he has been manager of the Cicero Smith Lumber Co., at Wellington, Texas. Well, here she comes, Benjamin.

gets a habit all their own. They hang onto the word "probably" like a long lost brother. It is reported that one called up his best gal, and frankly told her "she was PROBABLY the sweetest girl in all the world." We'll probably have some afternoon showers late this spring as well as some probable sandstorms.

A man with that strange sounding name, "John Smith," witnessed a minor holdup recently. When he told an inquisitive policeman his name, the cop said: "Don't give us that old one, we want your real name." "All right," said Smith, "it is Winston Churchill." "That's more like it," replied the cop. Seems like it is bad to be Smith, but when the qualifying John is added, it's just too bad.

Which goes to show how contrary people are. For instance, the proud parents will spend a whole year trying to get the baby to talk, and the next 20 years in trying to get her to keep silent.

It is said that husbands like clinging gowns—those that cling at least four or five years.

The white and negro folks met at a negro church at Clarendon the 21st of Feb. to engage jointly in the celebration of the Golden Wedding anniversary of an aged and highly respected colored couple by both the white people and members of their own race. Now wasn't that a lot better than being "forced" to come together?

Mr. and Mrs. R. Wiggins and children spent the week end visiting in El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blackstock and Emily visited Sunday at Big Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Fox visited in Mineral Wells over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mitchell and children of Lamesa were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Rutledge Sunday.

Guests in the J. W. Christenson home over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Patton of Abernathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Webb and son returned Friday from El Paso where they attended the Southwestern Championship Rodeo.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Stephens visited over the week end with relatives in Strawn.

Friday night, Feb. 24, is the date of "Here Comes Charlie" at the Gomez school house. Don't miss it!

Still Ginning Cotton Right Along

Some of the five gin plants here are still running, and at least two of them fairly regular. Indeed by the last part of last week, there were many bales on the yard awaiting their turn. Parity on seed is now off.

There was considerable wind Tuesday, the nearest we have had to a sandstorm in some time, and those who drove out say sand was moving in some sections.

About 9:30 p.m., a howling norther hit like a ton of brick that raged for a few hours, but all was calm; all was bright—Wednesday morning.

Some of Old Timers Visited Sunday

In view of the fact that the Stricklins had company on the day that the birthdays of two old timers came around the 6th, we decided to pay a belated call on them Sunday afternoon. The first visit was in the home of Uncle Jimmie O'Connor and his daughter, Mrs. Nannie Hamilton, on west Powell.

Uncle Jimmie, or the "little boy" as we sometimes call him, like the Old He, is a native of the old Volunteer state. He was a native of Sparta, Tenn., over in middle Tennessee, while the writer called Middleton, over in West Tennessee home. Both are and were Democratic strongholds, while just a bit east of where Uncle Jimmie first saw the light of day, was East Tennessee, where the GOP have held more or less sway for more years than both can remember. But Middle and West Tennessee always elected their state and U. S. senate officers, as they had more voters, and we don't mean crooked ones.

But it was from the mountain district of East Tennessee that hailed one of the state's most noted governors, Robert L. Taylor. But the first time Bob ran, his opponent was his brother, Alf, a Republican. The brothers spoke in most county seat towns over the state, and Bob regaled the audiences with his fiddle. Years after both of us left Tennessee, and Bob had joined the hosts of his departed forebears, Alf was elected governor of the state on a "fusion" ticket. The Demo party got too rotten, and a lot of honest Democrats joined the GOP in putting them out.

Back as far as we can remember, the two congressmen from east Tennessee districts have been Republicans, while the other ten from middle and west Tennessee have been Democrats. You might not guess it, but statistics show that east Tennessee furnished 30,000 troops to the Yankee army 1861-65. However, the rest of the state gave the Confederacy around 200,000. Those east Tennesseans are still Republican, but they believe they have a God given right to use their own grain as they please, and that means corn squeezings as Snuffy Smith would say.

Getting off the subject on politics in a state far removed from the south Plains, reminds us that Uncle Jimmy once told us that he was while a young man, a whiskey gauger. We asked him if he ever helped raid moonshiners. "No, Lord no," he said, "that was too dangerous for me. All I had to do with it was go into licensed saloons and gauge the whiskey in barrels to see if the proof was what it was supposed to be, or had been watered." One of his hard jobs he once told us was to catch these saloon men adding moonshine liquor to taxed whiskey in barrels to beat the government out of revenue.

But maybe, we told too much on Uncle Jimmie, that 94 year old lad. For those who don't know, will say he is a very conscientious church member now and attends regularly.

Mrs. W. G. Hardin, Pioneer, Visited

Just as Uncle Jimmie O'Connor, mentioned elsewhere in this issue of the Herald, was an interesting character, so also is Mrs. W. G. Hardin. When we came to Terry county some 41 years ago, many dances were held, and they were not considered any sin. And about that time, Mrs. Amella Dial was just about the best fiddler in these parts. And her sister, Miss Dolores Daugherty, now Mrs. Redford Smith, was a guitar accompanist of no mean ability. The favorite dance place was the old wooden courthouse district court room. The benches were hand made, and could be stacked out in the hallway, except a few around the old court room, left for sweaters or set-overs. Mrs. Hardin was not too good on the old breakdowns, but when it came to the "Waltz Me Around Again, Willie" sort, she had few equals.

But after she and Mr. Hardin married, she became a church member, and has lived a consecrated Christian life. She didn't think she could raise a family and play for dances. And she succeeded in raising two fine daughters and two sons that are a credit to this couple.

Mrs. Hardin was running a millinery department to the old Mercantile when we landed in

Union HD Club Met With Mrs. H. H. Hill

The Union HD club met in the home of Mrs. H. H. Hill Feb. 16. The president called the house to order.

The program was on "Soil Conservation."

Refreshments were served to 13 members.

The next meeting will be March 2, in the home of Mrs. B. Y. Howze. Everyone invited.

Coffee Complimented Mrs. Curtis Sterling

A coffee, introducing Mrs. Curtis Sterling, was given in the home of Mrs. Conrad Vernon Wednesday morning. Mrs. Bob Tobey was co-hostess.

Home made cinnamon rolls and coffee were served from a table laid with a maroon cloth, centered with an arrangement of yellow carnations.

Approximately 25 guests called between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Continued Dry Weather Is Most Discouraging

An Associated Press news item appeared last week from Amarillo that had a very sour note, coming as it does after the banner crop year in all the history of the Panhandle. South Plains section. Not only did the area produce one of its largest wheat crops, but the banner cotton crop of all time, and in the case of Terry county, the greatest grain sorghum crops on record, not only for this county but perhaps any county in the world.

But this dispatch related without reserve that if some moisture, and in abundance, don't come, and soon, the Panhandle as well forget about a wheat crop this year. It made no bones that this section is reaching a critical stage, when moisture means a wheat crop, or lack of one outside of the wheat farms under irrigation.

We have not been all over Terry county in the past few weeks, but we have seen considerable of it. Admittedly the wheat is needing moisture. But to say the least, perhaps the critical stage is not as advanced as further north in the harder lands. There is practically no runoff in our county.

Let us take September and October of last year. In September, we had 7.26 inches of rain, followed with 1.24 in October, making a total of 8 1/2 inches of rain in the two months. True, November was a minus on moisture, and little fell in December. But the shorter days with less sunshine, and a minimum of wind did little to sap that moisture from down deep.

Therefore, in our limited drives, outside of some wheat on very sandy land that had been damaged mostly by wind, the grain looks just about as green as a month or two ago.

So, if we do not have too much wind, and can get a good rain in a few weeks, we'll make some wheat. Some farmers have told us that an inch rain would make the moisture meet.

Mrs. Bill McKinney was called to Farmersville, Calif., last Friday by the serious illness of her father, J. J. Frasier.

Brownfield, and she had an artistic touch in planning head wear for the ladies at the turn of the century. She is also a poet of no mean ability, many of her poems having been published. We regret very much to say that her devoted husband has been in very poor health for the past several years, and her tender care of him would register high regards from us other than just being old time friends.

People should go see these shut-ins more than they do, and this applies to yours truly in full measure.
