Negro Murdered In Fight Sunday

A 30 year old negro man was released from the county jail Wednesday morning under $1000 bond, according to Sheriff Ocie Murry.

The man, J. C. Williams, is charged with the murder of another negro man, Sam Williams, at about 1 p.m. Sunday in the colored section in north Brownfield, Murry said.

Sam Williams, about 45 years of age, died after the other man emptied a .44-40 revolver at him in front of a cafe Sunday. Four of the bullets struck the victim, one in the left chest, one in the left arm, one in the right shoulder and another in the right collarbone.

After being hit, the man staggered about 100 yards from the scene of the shooting before he collapsed, witnesses said. He was rushed to Treadway-Daniell hospital in a Brownfield funeral home ambulance, and was pronounced dead upon arrival. Doctors attributed his death to the bullet wound in his left chest. Witnesses of the shooting said that the two men, who are not related, evidently "had words" and that the slain man lunged at J. C. Williams with a knife, cutting him across the left forehead and left eye and nose. He was treated by a local physician before being lodged in jail.

Highway patrolman Vic Atwood arrested Williams at his home shortly after the shooting. Williams is to appear before the district grand jury March 23.

Alonzo Miller Back With Furr Food

The many friends of Alonzo Miller and family will be happy to learn that he has been sent back to Brownfield from Hobbs, N. M., as manager of Furr Food store here. He will move his family back to Brownfield as soon as a house can be obtained.

Jerry Harris and family have made many friends while here as manager of the Brownfield store, and will regret to see them go. He will take Miller's place at Hobbs.

Preaching Mission To Begin March 12

The annual Preaching Mission at the Frist Presbyterian church will begin Sunday morning, Mar. 12, and will continue through Sunday, March 19, according to J. Preston Murphy, minister of the church.

Sunday services are at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The evening services, Monday through Friday, will begin at 8 p.m. A nursery will be available at each service, for small children. The preacher of the mission is

ESA Baby Contest To Close March 14

With the close of the baby contest only a few days away, Lynn Roberson and Michael Lee Thomas are still in the lead. The contest, which will close at 9 a.m. Tuesday, March 14, is being sponsored by members of the Beta Theta chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

Mineral Deposits Survey Being Made

David F. Tipple of Lubbock was in Brownfield Tuesday of this week conferring with Wayne (Red) Smith, manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce. Tipple is assistant division freight and passenger agent for the Santa Fe railroad.

Tipple and Smith discussed the possibilities of mineral deposits and their potentialities. Tipple said that the Santa Fe is interested in the development of Terry county and that they planned to prepare a brief for the main office in Chicago.

Several Names Are Filed for Offices

Mayor C. C. Primm and city secretary J. H. (Bill) Aschenbeck are unopposed for the election of city officials, to be held April 4, it was learned just before we went to press.

To be elected are a mayor, a city secretary, a city marshal and two city councilmen.

Names filed at the city hall up until noon Thursday are Leonard Lang, two year term; Henry Chisholm, re-election for two year term; Sam Houtchens, two year term; A. M. (Al) Muldow, two year term; and V. L. (Pat) Patterson, two year term. H. H. (Harmon) Howze has filed for the unexpired term of W. G. (Willie) McDonald, who resigned two weeks ago due to ill health. The regular election and a special election for the unexpired term of McDonald will be held on the same date.

Deadline for filing for the city offices is Saturday, March 11, according to an election notice published by the city.

Presiding election judge is D. R. Moorhead, and clerks are John J. Kendrick, Jake Geron and Lee Brownfield.

Mrs. G. G. Gore Gets Broken Hip

After getting out of the family car at the Church of Christ Wed. night to attend prayer service, a dog ran between Mrs. G. G. Gore's legs, throwing her down. She was carried to the hospital immediately.

X-ray Thursday revealed that her hip bone was broken, which means she will be confined to the hospital or home for some time.

Forests cover half the area of Sweden.

School Band - Chorus Will Present Benefit

A benefit concert, with proceeds to go to the 1950 Terry County American Red Cross Fund Campaign, will be presented by the Brownfield high school band and chorus on Thursday, March 30, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The 70 piece and 40 voice chorus is under the direction of Richard Young.

Young said this week that the concert program will be something entirely new and will include light classical and popular as well as novelty numbers.

The band and chorus will present their last formal concert for the year on April 23, ending a year full of activity.

Tickets will go on sale Monday all over Brownfield, with all proceeds going to the 1950 fund campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wier returned Sunday from a visit with her mother, Mrs. J. M. Jordan at Waxahachie, and with his mother, Mrs. R. R. Wier at Itasca. While on their trip they also visited his brother, Joe Wier and family at Covington.

Wellman To Present Talent Show Tuesday

Several St. Patrick's Day numbers, arranged by Ruth Huckabee, will be featured on a talent show to be held at Wellman school Tuesday, March 14, at 7:45 p.m. Anyone who can sing, play a musical instrument, dance or demonstrate any other special talent, is invited to enter the show and compete for first and second prizes.

No charge will be made at the door, but everyone will be asked to donate whatever he wishes to the American Red Cross 1950 Fund campaign, according to Mrs. Miller Rich, chairman of the Wellman drive.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Quarterly Conference Will Be Held Sunday

The Fourth Quarterly conference of the First Methodist church will be held Sunday, March 12, at 9 a.m.

Dr. J. O. Haynes, district superintendent of the Lubbock district, will preside.

Dr. Haynes will also speak at the 11 a.m. service Sunday.

Paul Cobb was in from his place in eastern Yoakum, Monday. He stated that the oil well on his place had been plugged. Whether the plugging was permanent, or he meant that it had been plugged back to where there was some oil show, he did not elaborate.

Don't Know When Traffic Lights Will Go Up

Had a talk with Jim Cousineau recently about the traffic lights to go up at the corner of Broadway and Fourth and Broadway and Sixth. Jim is the boss of such things, but he was rather evasive in his answer. In fact, the poles have been in place for two or three weeks.

Here's the pitch, according to Jim. We are simply kept busy here of late stretching wire and poles to new residences, erecting transformers, etc. "We just can't keep folks waiting with new homes and who are anxious to move into them."

So, the traffic lights will just have to wait until there is a lull in home building. Jim told us that they used the whole spool of wire the week he gave us the above information, in order to reach outlaying new homes.

Some Don't Like the Red Cross

If until this week some one had told us that there were people with any serious objection to the Red Cross, we would have been greatly surprised. But our solicitor for a page ad advertising the drive, ran into several. She did not ask them to elaborate, nor have we, as it's none of our business.

We know that during the first World War when our boys began to come home, not a few of them had serious objections to the Young Men's Christian Association. The reason stated was that the YMCA not only sold everything to the soldiers, but at boosted prices. At the same time the boys stated they got what the Salvation Army had for free. They never sold anything.

But back to the Red Cross, perhaps we have not been keeping up with the trends as we should or we would have been better posted. But frankly, we did hear a few years ago that some were falling out with Red Cross, because at that time, they were rebating a large percent that labor unions donated.

But until we hear something worse than that and nearer home, we'll just have to tag along with them, knowing many good things they have done for sections of Texas hit hard with disaster, such as cyclones, explosions, etc.

32 New Names Added To C of C Roster

Thirty two new names have been added to the list in the annual Chamber of Commerce membership drive, bringing the total membership up to 165, according to Wayne (Red) Smith, manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.

Smith said Wednesday that the drive has met with good response and that many out of town members have been secured.

Team captains for the drive which began Feb. 23 were R. J. Furtell, Ned Self, James H. Dallas, Clovis Kendrick, Frank Szydoski, A. M. Muldrow, J. E. Gillham, Dr. W. A. Roberson, Paul Campbell and Herbert Cheshire.

To Conduct A School of Music

A school of sacred music will be conducted at the First Baptist church of Brownfield beginning Monday night, March 13, at 7:30. Fifteen Baptist churches in Brownfield association will participate in the school which will be held two hours each night, Monday through Friday.

Carl Nance, music director of the First Baptist church, Levelland, will assist Gerald Nelson, local director, in the school.

The purpose of the school is to teach choir members how to read music more effectively, to develop congregational song leaders, and to encourage the organization of special choirs of the different age groups.

On next Sunday afternoon, March 13, at 3:00 at the First Baptist church in Brownfield, there will be an association-wide hymn sing. The choirs of the various Baptist churches will assemble for mass singing, enjoy special numbers and develop hymn appreciation. The public is invited to attend this special afternoon service.

The Weatherman Lets Go with Both Barrels

The old timer scanned the western skies early Monday morning with some misgivings. The new comer perhaps saw the black smoke huddled low in the west that was coming from the two carbon black plants near Seagraves, and from the oil fields further west. It didn't look good.

Along about nine, the wind perturbed up some, and by noon it was a howling wilderness, with the big dogs telling the little 'uns to get out of the way. Sand and dust filled the air, and tumbling weeds tried to see what kind of a record mark they could make by jumping high fences. Paper and old rags and other light junk swirled in the air.

By two PM, hats from Seagraves and Seminole began to pass, and when you stepped out from a secluded corner to cross the streets, you were whirled until you felt as intoxicated as a drunk Indian.

The real estate exchange was doing a land office business. We got a lot of soil from Gaines and Yoakum counties, and they from Lea county, N. M. On the other hand, we showered the tight lands of Lubbock and Lynn with some of our prime sandy soil.

The fall had been lovely; never saw one better for gathering. Even winter had been unusually mild and little wind. We had it coming folks, and sure as heck got it.

Of course the above is not going to suit Red Smith, manager of the C. of C. Not good advertising, he'll say. We know it Red, but all of us lived through it. No one hurt, except burning eyes, and ears to wash out. No houses were tumbled from their foundations; not a long line of people on slabs at the morgue, was there?

All that were here knew about the wind before this came out. Others probably won't move here anyway. But don't the next few nice days look fine after a howling sandstorm?

Mr. and Mrs. Mack Thomason and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. French visited in El Paso last week. The Thomasons visited their nephew, Dewitt Baldwin, and family and the Frenches visited their sons.

Last Rites Held For Rev. Duncan

Funeral services for the Rev. C. A. Duncan, 60, retired Methodist minister who lived in the Foster community, were held last Saturday at 2 p.m. in the First Methodist church in Brownfield. The Rev. Duncan died in Treadway-Daniell hospital last Friday.

The Rev. H. W. Hanks of Hale Center officiated, assisted by H. L. Thurston, minister of the Brownfield church, and the Rev. O. B. Annis, Interment was in Terry County Memorial cemetery, under the direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

The Rev. Duncan had been a resident of Terry county for 25 years. At the time of his death, he was farming in the Foster community.

Survivors include his wife; his mother, Mrs. J. A. Duncan of Coleman county; three brothers, Eulis and Clyde Duncan of Coleman county, and E. D. Duncan of Rt. 2, Brownfield; and five grandchildren. A daughter and a son preceded the Rev. Duncan in death.

Active pallbearers were V. Her-ring, T. L. Smyth, E. D. Duncan, Jr., Marvin Duncan, Leroy Joiner, and Pete McNeil.

Lee Bartlett was named president of the Terry county unit of Texas Rural Roads Association in a meeting held in the county courtroom at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. County Judge Homer Winston acted as chairman of the meeting.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Bruce White, vice-president, and Mrs. O. L. Jones, secretary-treasurer.

Robert G. Dillard, executive director of the Texas Rural Roads Association from Austin spoke to the group of about 75 persons. He told them that the taxes on natural gas, which is one cent per 1000 cubic feet, in Texas is less than taxes on cigarettes. He said that natural gas is piped from Texas to the north where it is put down in wells in mines and used to permeate coal.

The TRRA works on the theory that, since natural gas taxes are so low, the natural resources of Texas are being drained and as there is no way of knowing how long they will last, the taxpayers should take some measures to protect themselves against the day when we will have to revert to using coal for fuel.

At the present time, Terry county is eligible for only 12 miles of paving under the Bascom bill, which expires next year. Dillard is one of the leaders of a group preparing another bill, which will be presented at the next session of the Texas legislature.

Visitors at the meeting were Judge O. T. Dent, vice-president of the Lamb county TRRA; George Brown, president of the Lamb county TRRA; and Frank Bogen, one of the directors of the Lamb county TRRA.

LUBBOCK MAN NAMED SUPPLY PASTOR HERE

The Rev. George A. Dale of Lubbock has been chosen supply pastor to preach at the First Baptist church until another pastor has been secured.

Since the resignation of the Rev. A. A. Brian to accept the vice-presidency of Howard Payne college in Brownwood, the pulpit of this church has been empty.

Local Bank In High Place In Bank Circles

Monday the Herald received a telegram from Mr. Clinton B. Oxford, Editor of American Banker. We are publishing this telegram verbatim, as it thoroughly covers the subject, and needs no further comment from us. But we do ask you to note how the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., is climbing up in the financial world:

New York, March 6, 1950 Editor, Terry County Herald: Brownfield, Texas.

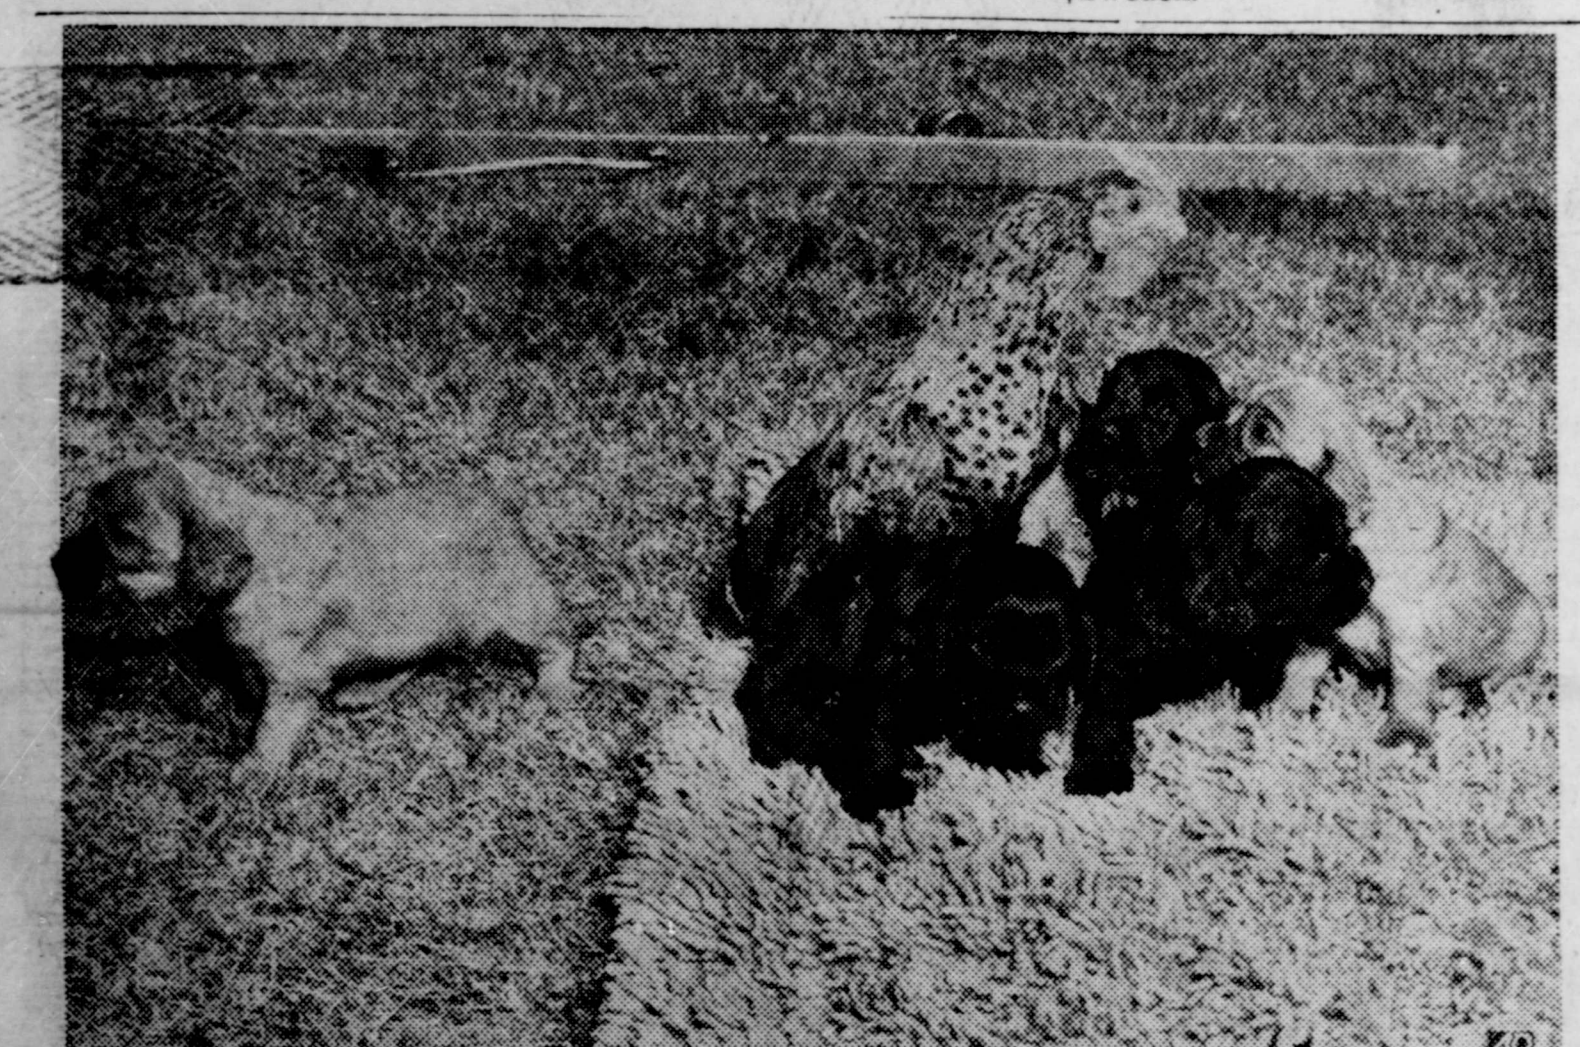

For release March 7th: The Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., which reported deposits of $9,136,316.00, on December 31, gained 589 places in its standing among 1900 largest banks in the United States during 1949, and now ranks as the 1825th. Largest in size compared with 2414th place at the end of 1948. This is revealed in the 1950 annual roll call of the largest banks in the United States. Published today (March 7th) in the Daily American Banker of New York, which is the largest trade newspaper of banking and business.

Clinton B. Oxford, Editor American Banker. The Herald herewith congratulates the local institution in having passed 589 banks in the United States in volume of deposits the past year.

CHESTER IS A "MOTHER"—Chester, a Bantam rooster owned by Mrs. Leon Henderson of Denton, Tex., has adopted eight Cocker Spaniel puppies against their mother's will. Mrs. Henderson found Chester in the dog-house trying to cover the puppies when they were two weeks old. When the puppies' mother tried to enter the doghouse, Chester flew into a rage and drove the dog from her home. Mrs. Henderson says Chester's crowing has been replaced by clucking. (AP Photo)

Service Office News

By C. L. Lincoln

Application blanks are available for Gold Star lapel buttons at the service office on the first floor of the courthouse in Brownfield. These initialed buttons are free to mothers, fathers and widows. The cost to brothers, sisters, sons and daughters is about $1.50 per button. The service officer will need the following information in filling out applications: full name of deceased veteran, grade and serial number, date of death. Only a few of the eligible applicants have applied through the local county service office for the Gold Star. We will be glad to assist anyone who might be interested in procuring a Gold Star button.

Veterans Administration are not subject to income tax, state or federal payments of benefits due or to become due shall not be assignable and such payments paid to, or on account of a beneficiary under any of the laws relating to veterans, shall be exempt from taxation, shall be exempt from the claims of creditors, and shall not be liable to attachments, levy, or seizure by, or under any legal process whatsoever. (Special Dividends for National Service Life Insurance). The above benefits has reference to compensation, pensions, retirement pay, adjusted compensation, subsistence allowance and many other benefits paid under laws administered by the Veterans Administration.

Any person who has knowledge of any veteran who has died, and who has no headstone or marker at his grave, is asked to please report this fact to the veterans county service office at the courthouse in Brownfield.

According to information given out by the VA concerning the payment of the special dividend where the insured has died the following procedures will be used:

1. In cases where insurance was in force when the insured died the special dividend will be paid to the beneficiary or beneficiaries currently receiving death benefits if the death benefits have been completely paid to the beneficiaries last to receive such benefits. In this type case: payments will be made automatically, without necessity of filing claim upon the part of the beneficiary.

2. If the insurance lapsed prior to the death of the veteran to whom it was issued a special dividend will be paid to the estate of the veteran through his executor or administrator, if there is one. If no executor or administrator has been or will be appointed payment will be made directly to those persons entitled to the personal estate of the veteran under the laws of descent and distribution of the state of which he died a legal resident. A claim will be required for the special dividend in these cases and a form for this purpose is now being devised. These forms will not be distributed generally but will be sent directly to the persons determined entitled to the special dividend. At the present time forms and instructions to put this part of the program into effect are being devised and formulated and will soon be furnished to the appropriate VA office.

RUSSIANS BUY HITLER BUSTS

BERLIN—(AP)—Russian officers are the best customers of a man who earns his living in Berlin today by making bronze busts of Adolf Hitler. In an obscure cellar shop in Berlin's Soviet sector works the sculptor Kurt Fall, the man who makes the best of the Russian's hunt for Nazi souvenirs.

Fall sells Adolf Hitler 'full face' and 'profile' to Soviet officers who are about to go back to Russia.

ORANGE MARKS ROBBER

PASADENA, Calif.—(AP)—"Look for a man spattered with orange juice." That's the advice Hugh Smith, market proprietor, gave officers investigating a robbery at Smith's market.

Smith said the thief got away, but not scot-free. Mrs. Smith chucked an orange at the robber as he fled, scoring a direct hit.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—Under provisions of the GI Bill, how long can an on-the-job training course last?

A—On-the-job training courses, other than apprenticeships, must last not less than three months or more than two years. Apprenticeship courses, under supervision of state or federal agencies, may last as long as four years.

Q—I am a disabled veteran and wish to go into training under Public Law 16. Will I be permitted to decide my job objective?

A—Before you can take training under Public Law 16, VA will have to determine that you have a vocational handicap as the result of a service-incurred disability. Then VA counselors will help you decide on a job or trade objective.

Q—My son, a veteran of World War I, died of a service-connected disability about three years ago. I understand I should have filed for burial allowance within two years of his death and it is now too late. Is this true? And is there a deadline date for applying for compensation?

A—The two year limitation from date of burial will apply in your case in so far as the burial allowance claim is concerned. On compensation, since your son died of a service connected disability, you are eligible to apply for compensation at any time after his death. However, payments if awarded may commence only from date of claim.

Q—I was discharged from the U. S. Army in 1945 and have been taking a GI Bill training. I recently married and hope to save enough money to make a down payment on the purchase of a home. Is there a deadline for me to apply for a GI loan?

A—Yes, there is a deadline. You have until July 25, 1957 to make formal application for a GI loan, guaranteed or insured under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act.

U. S. auto workers are paid from three to 10 times as much as similar workers in Europe.

GETS TWO AWARDS

Yoo-hoo, Mrs. Bloom — Mrs. Cramer—Everybody! This is Molly Goldberg. Come give me an ear so I can tell you the many things that have happened to me and my family lately.

"The Goldbergs"—Jake, Rosalie, Sammily, and Uncle David also—all of us have moved to a new day and time. We can be heard now on Saturday nights over CBS. And we want to be sure you switch with us. Jake says not to forget to mention that there's no change in us for television. It's still Monday nights over CBS-TV that you'll see us.

Another Yoo-hoo, Mrs. Bloom. That's me, all the news. "The Goldbergs" have received two special awards. Isn't that wonderful? One is a "Citation of Merit," presented to us by The National Conference of Christians and Jews during Brotherhood Week. It's "for outstanding contributions during the past year towards mutual understanding and respect among people of diverse backgrounds through the powerful media of radio and television."

The other award is from the Veterans of Foreign Wars for "the understanding portrayal of family life, which is the deepest strength of our nation."

All of us are happy beyond our vocabularies about these gratifying awards and for the opportunity to come into your homes each Saturday and Monday nights over CBS and CBS-TV.

TEXAS TODAY

By Mac Roy Rasor
AUSTIN, Tex., Mar. 10—(AP)—Battle-wise Texas veterans are still on the conquest.

This time they are conquering lands right at home—making "worn out" soil "magically" give forth bountiful crops that bulge the eyes of oldtime farmers.

That "magic," every vet knows, is just plain "know-how." It won battles. It's raising crops. It has been coming to veterans in scores of on-farm training programs, complete with subsistence payments, through the GI Bill of Rights.

Since the program started July 1, 1946, some 32,000 Texas farmer-veterans have parked the tractor, finished the chores a little early, and gathered at some community center to learn the tricks that take many of the tears out of farming.

The results: "The most tangible any government training program can show," says Sam L. Adams, the state vocational education board's overseer of the program in Texas.

Adams has completed a voluminous survey to prove his point: the farmer-vets in training have invested more than $100,000,000 in homes, land, stock and equipment.

A year is about 365 1/4 day long.

The bride wore a gray suit with a pink blouse and pink and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs. Carroll was her sister's matron of honor, and C. S. Carroll was best man. Mrs. Armstrong is a graduate of Meadow high school. After a wedding trip to Arizona, the couple will be at home in Ropes. Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Guest of Post visited his sister, Mrs. Grady Dickson, and family Sunday. Their mother, Mrs. J. A. Guest, who has been visiting in Post returned to her home in Brownfield with the Guests.

Miss Nancy Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Morgan, and Clarence Mack Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ross, were married at 3 p.m. March 5 in the First Baptist church. The Rev. A. A. Brian, former pastor of the church, officiated. The double ring ceremony was performed before a background of woodwardia and candleabra. The altar was draped with white satin and was flanked with baskets of white gladiolus and fern. Aisle markers of white satin were used. Mrs. Richard Young, organist, played "I Love Thee" as Misses Iona and Ann Gaston of Ralls, cousins of the bride, lighted the candles. The candlelighters were gowned in light blue taffeta dresses made with fitted, off the shoulder, bodices and full skirts. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow and orchid, centered with candles. Mrs. Young also played the traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Ann Snedeker as she sang "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Thine Alone."

ed with satin rosettes at either side. Her cascade bouquet was of white roses, centered with an orchid, and was tied with white satin streamers. For something old and borrowed, the bride wore a diamond bar pin, belonging to an aunt, Mrs. Ida Bruton. Something new was a string of pearls given her by the bridegroom, and she wore a pair of blue garters, gift of father placed a lucky penny in her shoe just before the ceremony. John Earl Dalton served as best man. Ushers were Jerry Worsham, Jarvis Roach, Alfred Brian, Joe Vernon, Odell Quante, and Rufus Franks. Darrell Franks, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. The bride's mother wore a black crepe dress with black navy accessories. The mother of the groom wore a navy blue suit with navy accessories. Both had gardenia corsages. A reception, given in the home of Mrs. Bruton, followed the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with yellow net over yellow satin and was centered with the three tiered wedding cake. A fan-shaped arrangement of acacia and jonquils decorated the buffet. Members of the wedding party presided at the table and at the guest book. For a trip to Colorado, Mrs. Ross chose a navy blue gabardine suit with white and navy accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Ross is a graduate of Brownfield high school and attended Draughon's Business college. The groom also graduated from Brownfield high school and is a student at Baylor University at Waco, where the couple will make their home. Out of town guests who attended the wedding are Mrs. Florence Berry of Merkel; Mrs. Lillian Blake of Wolfforth; Mrs. E. L. Miller and Nancy of Sla-

Honor Miss Wartes

Miss Bennie Wartes, who will marry Charles H. Bush this month, was complimented with a coffee and personal shower given March 2 in the home of Mrs. Loyd O. Turner. Other hostesses were Mesdames Nathan Cheshir, Ray Shanke, and Bob Campbell. The table was laid with a white Madeira cloth, centered with a miniature bridal couple standing underneath an arch, flanked with yellow tapers. Yellow and chartreuse streamers led from the centerpiece to either corner of the table. The following guests registered in the bride's book, which was marked with jonquils and satin streamers, Mesdames Harold Simms, J. C. Jennings, W. R. McCord, Dale Wood, Mon Telford, and Gene Jenkins, and Nina Loe, Carolyn Harris, Ann Lilly, Shirley Miller, Alma Ruth Kennedy, Mary Chisholm and Gene Carr. After the honoree opened her gifts, the group played Canasta. Jack Browder made a business trip to McAllen last week. Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Sloan of Abilene visited Mr. and Mrs. Wayne (Red) Smith this week. Jo Anne Dickson, a student at Baylor University, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Dickson over the week end. Mrs. E. O. McIver of Slaton visited Mrs. L. L. Bechtol one day last week. Mrs. Earl Anthony Sr. was in last week to renew for the Herald going to her daughter, Mrs. W. G. Terry at Midland. After several years with oil crew headquarters in Jackson, Miss., the Terrys have moved back to Texas. Our old friend Jim Lindley was in to see us last week, looking for a place to live. He has been running a grocery between Lamesa and Ackery for the past year, but decided to move back to the old home town. A better couple you will not find often.

Gee Gee's Chit Chat

A few more days like Monday and we'll have to re-christen this the Lea County Herald, huh? That's one of the kind of days I prefer staying home under the bed, and to think that we probably have several more to look forward to. Oh, joy. Knowing very little about city politics, I will refrain from a discussion of same, but feel safe in saying that, come April 6, everything promises to give the natives a hot political race in Brownfield. Officials of the Farm Bureau of Terry county are busy selling memberships in the bureau, according to Homer Winston. Membership stands now close to 600 in the organization, and it is hoped that, at the close of the intense campaign, the bureau will have 1000 members. The Farm Bureau stand for, among other things, fair prices for farm products, more and better farm-to-market roads, continued support of the National Farm Program to place farmers on a parity with other groups and conserve soil and other natural resources, and many others. The 1950 Terry County Red Cross Fund Campaign, which opened March 1, fell flat on its face, according to Herman Cheshir, fund chairman. Of course, there's still the rest of March to work on it, so perhaps it can be pulled up on its knees, anyway. Mrs. Miller Rich, who is well known all over Terry county, possibly, is chairman of the Red Cross drive in Wellman. A person, who is popular as chairman of things of this sort because she is "on the ball," Mrs. Rich now plugging a talent show, to be given at the Wellman school auditorium March 14. Proceeds will go to this year's fund campaign, and I'll bet it's a whopping success. Let's all go down and help the Wellmanites have fun and support the campaign. Members of the Brownfield Concert Association will get a chance to get the first square of their membership cards punched March 23, when John Anglin will present the season's first concert. Anglin, noted Negro lyric tenor, is a veteran of many concert appearances, as well as a popular artist on big radio programs. It was quite interesting to note, when we were putting out posters concerning the concert, the attitude of some of the people who noticed the posters. I am happy to say that the general attitude was that of interest and respect for real art, although for a few of them, the Civil War is still as fresh as though it happened last month. All I have to say on this subject is that if you refuse to hear this concert just because the skin of the artist is not the color of yours, a pox on you. You deserve it. Lovingly departing thought for the day: next Wednesday is Income Tax Day.

The farm cash income in Texas was nearly 84 1/2 million dollars in January, which was a 40 percent increase over that of Jan. 1940. Cotton of course was the leading item with $27 million plus; cattle $14 million plus and milk products around $10 million. While there was a filling off from farm incomes particularly in the southern part of the state, the high south Plains really went to town with a 209 per cent increase over a year ago. In fact, in January the cotton harvest was still going strong on the south Plains. Of course included in the $84 million was mohair, rice, wheat, sheep, vegetable and fruits from the valley region. The farmers of this section are in the best shape financially than for many years, if ever, and as long as the farmers have some long green, you can bet on the rest of us having at least three squares per diem.

Many political observers around the nation's capitol are now busy trying to find just what reaction if any the elections last week in England, will have on those of this country this fall, if any effect. Observers as well as the politicians themselves have a wide difference of opinion. It just depends on what political party the speakers belongs. Us lay politicians can see very little difference in Atlee's social-labor and Churchill's conservatives. Neither would change the state medical setup, nor the nationalized industries, which we understand amount to some 20 percent, but would go no further. There is, however, apparently some difference in opinion when it comes to foreign affairs. Churchill, it seems, wants another big four peace meeting with Joe Stalin, and held in Moscow. But the very close vote changed the scene in Parliament. While the socialists had a top heavy majority before hand, their majority is so slender now that they must depend on coalitions. And too, the ousting from power of socialists in New Zealand and Australia is pointed out as a drift of English speaking nations away from socialism and especially communism. The big question is, does this show a drift here in the USA away from the welfare state? That will be decided at the polls this fall.

The new or fair dealers have a funny way of working up at Washington. This all came out in the "washing" recently when the FEPC was to be voted out of committee and before congress. It was brought out later and amended to death, possibly by petition of two thirds of the membership. But in a committee vote to bring out the bill there were four Democrats and two Republicans for, and four Democrats (southern variety) and two Republicans against it. Representative Sabbath (Dem) of Illinois surely laid on McDuffie when there was a tie vote to keep the bill bottled up. It is a well known fact that both national party conventions endorsed the FEPC. And, of course Sabbath and the northern left wingers refer to themselves as the "Democratic party," and to all southerners who do not go along to appease all minority groups for a few votes, as "Dixiecrats." It leads one to wonder why these left wingers from the north have suddenly become the true Democratic party, when the south carried the ball for 150 years, sometimes almost alone. Those of the north won the nickname of copperheads during the Civil War period, and sometimes we think the name pretty appropriate today, as like their namesake, they strike when least expected with no warning. Of course they want the negro and foreign born minority group votes in the north so as to carry elections. A numbskull can understand that.

The smell of decaying potatoes that our government has been buying and burying, in spite of millions of low income, and hungry people could use, is creating some things hard for them to explain. It reveals the fact that all is not on the uptap in the great administration, as people hear more and more about the potatoes and eggs. Now comes the question of the silver storage that the paternalistic government is buying from the western states at 90 cents per ounce on a 73c market. Those who manufacture silver in the USA are just buying from other countries at 73c, all they want, while Uncle Samuel hordes his silver. But you know how blocs work, and the western states bloc are keeping the US in the silver business up to its neck, to get these western votes. Treasury officials say the government has on hand plenty silver for all coinage purposes to last for years, but the silver bloc says we must buy and buy, vote and vote, on and on.

Virginia Doss is one of the editorial writers of The Southern Weekly. While not the least radical in her thoughts and expressions, she fails not to declare her mind in ways those who run may read. In her article of March 1 issue, she says that right after Harry S. Truman found that he had been re-elected by the scratch of his teeth, he forthwith declared that he was elected by organized labor and not the solid south. He forgot that nine states, including the 23 votes from Texas, went to him, and saved his hide, and only four went for Thurmond. So, states Virginia Doss, "the National Democratic party want the support of the south at the polls, and only silence and obedience on all other occasions." It is a deadly coalition that must be broken up. This fact came to the fore recently in the discussion of the Gossett-Lodge amendment. The AP reported that many northern Democrats were afraid it would increase the power of southern Democrats. One of them, not named, was quoted as follows: "We could not take the chance of losing the electoral votes we now get from the south, so to be sure of the south we must nominate candidates acceptable to southern Democrats. . . but we'll have to abandon many of the principles for which the "progressive" Democrats now stand." For the defeat or the extraction of the teeth of FEPC and making it strictly a volunteer measure, we have to thank the Republican party in coalition with Southern Democrats. But to again quote Virginia, "the deadliest coalition is the one in elections between the Northern and Southern Democrats, and the time is long since past when it should be broken up."

One of the frequent requests the Herald gets from down state folks is to please "announce in your paper that the Hon. Joe Doakes will address the people over radio station CASH, on a certain date and hour." Then it goes on to state that so and so is buying the time over the station. In other words, the task force on the measure asks the newspapers to announce free that Dokes is using time on such and such a station at so much per. Well, if the radio is such a hot number, why call on the press at all? Why not just announce it over the radio? They get the dough. According to some people some millions of Americans sit day and night with their ears glued to the radio. And they will hear every squeak and squawk. The latest request the Herald has come from the State Water Code Committee. Folks, to be perfectly frank, we don't think we could ever sum up that much common old gall to ask one advertising medium to advertise free something that another advertising medium is being paid for. And we watch pretty close, and find that few of our exchanges not connected with some radio station let the bite be put on them.

Nope, She Don't Read the Herald

Jack Stricklin of the Terry County Herald seems to be getting restless. He had a bold headline in his paper last week that said: "AN OLD GAL FRIEND WRITES THE EDITOR." Doesn't he know that his wife reads that paper?

Now don't get excited Bro. Hill, about what might happen to the Old He while he slumbers some night. Lots of times the wife will tell us some item of news for the paper that probably appeared in the Herald the week before. She reads every paper except the Herald.

And beside, the "old gal" we alluded to, is not so old, after all. In fact, she was born here in Brownfield when the writer was well passed 30.

Former Resident Receives Degree

Tom P. Hart was the second highest student in his petroleum Engineering class when he graduated with honors at Texas Technological college in Lubbock Jan. 28.

Hart, who married Patsy Ruth Carter, is a former resident of Brownfield. His father, Joe V. Hart, now lives in Amarillo.

A member of Tau Beta Pi, Pi Epsilon Tau, and Alpha Chi, all honorary fraternities, Hart and his wife have moved to Houston, where he is employed with Shell Petroleum company.

Pierce Brooks Still Appointing TSC Men

We noted with some bit of amusement in the Levelland Sun-News that the sheriff of Hockley county had been appointed on a committee by the president of Texas Safety Council, Pierce Brooks of Dallas.

The Sheriff is none ahead of the Old He. Annually we are appointed "honorary" director of the council by Mr. Brooks, who we understand is a big insurance tycoon of Dallas.

And if you need further information, remember who is on the ballot almost every two years for some state office, with a name that sounds like Pierce Brooks of Dallas.

But we get a big kick out of the "honorary" card we get.

All Signs Fail During Dry Weather

We believe we mentioned, or intended to do so, a week or so ago, that a brother of Mrs. Fred Smith, was up from Big Spring, and called at our home, he also being a nephew of Mrs. Stricklin. Now this man, Joe Roberts gave us a rain sign that "never fails" says he.

Anyway, he has been an employee of the Goshien oil refinery at Big Spring for some ten years. And for even longer than that, the employees have noted that when the clay that covers the pipes in the cracking section, begins to get loose and fall off, look out for rain.

Well, says Joe, the stuff has begun to tumble, and you can look for some rain around March 6th. Well, it came, but the rain proved to be a sand shower.

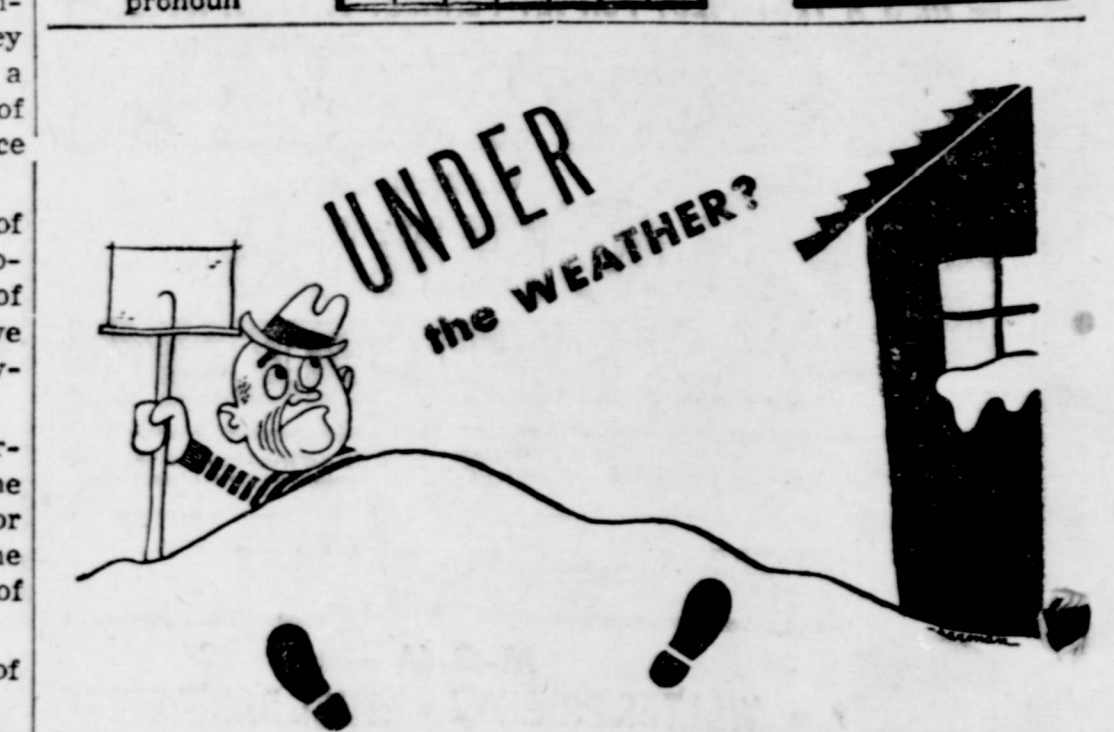

And again the old saying, "all signs fail in dry weather" proved its truth.

Inspectors Capture 12 Illicit Stills

The Texas Liquor Control Board inspectors in January reported the seizure of 12 illicit stills.

With the stills, which had a cubic capacity of 705 gallons, inspectors captured 685 gallons of mash and made 7 arrests. 21.75 gallons of moonshine liquor were destroyed.

Two stills were taken in Smith county, 3 in Red River county, 4 in Harrison county, and one still each was taken in the counties of Cass, Bowie and Limestone.

Snake Season Tips

Texas are cautioned about poisonous snakes and advised what to do if bitten in an article in the February issue of TEXAS GAME AND FISH, official departmental publication. The author, John E. Werler, Curator of Reptiles, San Antonio Zoological Society writes that more persons die from snake bites in Texas than in any other state and adds that the Lone Star state has at least 18 varieties of poisonous reptiles. He says the keeping of premises clear of rubbish is one good way of keeping snakes away from homes. The trash often times attract mice and rats which snakes feed on and also provides cover for the reptiles.

Is Socialism Here? ..

A survey made by a newspaper trade magazine of several hundred editors of both daily and weekly newspapers, show that eighty-five per cent of them believe that the United States is drifting toward socialism or has already crossed the border line between private enterprise and socialism.

Most of them believe that the majority of the people do not want socialism, in fact they state that those who are responsible for the trend do not want it but that selfish interest in big business and among some classes of labor are battling it out and that they will be responsible for the downfall of individualism in the United States.

As long as the Government can keep the quarrel between labor and capital confined to the two combatants the fight will go on but when the Government takes over key industries, then labor and the Government will have to make peace or the Government will have to use force. Should this ever happen we will have socialism, communism, fascism or something kin to the three isms. They all add up to about the same thing—Slatonite.

FLYING NEWS AND VIEWS

By EDWIN E. DUNCAN

To try to mention in this column the name of everyone who flies at the local airport, without taking the chance of leaving someone out, would almost be like trying to stand on a street corner here in Brownfield during a sand storm and get the name of everyone who drove by during a day's time. However, the least I can do is tell you who the student pilots are—that is, the ones who have yet to solo or those who have soloed but have not earned their private license.

Bill Noble made his solo flight during the early part of last year and will soon be ready for his private test.

Herman Wheatley soloed in April of '47, and flew at various intervals until the latter part of last year when he purchased a new Piper Stinson. Since then he has been filling his log book at a good pace.

Carol Henson made his first solo flight last July, but had slowed down on his flying until just recently when he began logging time again.

Howard McElroy soloed several years ago, but has not been putting in as much time as most of the boys.

Jimmy Giblin made his memorable flight in September of last year.

Last November was the month for Bob Condra's first solo hop.

Among those who have yet to experience the thrill of their first flight alone are Hubert Hall, W. E. Buchanan, Arvel Fleming, Fred Shipley and J. J. Handley. Claudie Gore and Ray Halley flew down to San Angelo and back Sunday in the Piper Cruiser.

Murl Brown, of Levelland, who recently purchased a Piper Cruiser with Bob Taylor, is taking instruction for his private license at the local field.

Herman Wheatley and Paul Blackstock, a private pilot, flew to Plainview Wednesday of last week in Mr. Wheatley's new Stinson.

Virgil Olmstead, of Hobbs, N. M., rented the little green J-3 Cub for a trip home last week.

Dr. Edgar and Dr. Renegar, of Levelland, made a business trip down to Brownfield Saturday in their Stinson Voyager.

The large Cessna 195, the executive type plane owned by the Plymouth Oil Company, was on the field Sunday.

Roy D. Harris, manager of the Harris Flying Service, and Herman Wheatley flew to Fort Worth Monday to attend the C.A.A. conference being held Monday, and the Agricultural Conference being held Tuesday and Wednesday.

Hank Goehry, of Plains, former G. I. student, was in Saturday in his Piper J-3 Cub.

Although we are not bothered too often with fog in this part of the state, there are places farther south where they never know when to expect it. Down around Houston the fog gets so thick they have to use a shovel to get from one hangar to another. Not so long ago a friend of ours took off from there and flew up to Austin. Later in the day he started home and just before he got to Houston he noticed that fog had moved in. It didn't worry him so much because landing in fog had become a habit with him. He went ahead and circled the field and landed. It wasn't until he got out of his plane and was looking for the hangar that he discovered that he had landed 50 feet too high.

English Minister Proves Interesting

Many were in attendance at the Crescent Hill church Wed. Mar. 1, to hear Minister Leonard Channing of London, England, Church of Christ. And those who ventured out in the rather icy winds were well rewarded for their time, as Mr. Channing proved to be a very interesting speaker, and possessed a very pleasing personality. Some said that the speaker in appearance and mannerism, reminded them of Dr. John R. Turner.

His language, while having a decided English slant, was easily understood by Texans. First off, he announced that the Church of Christ is very weak in Britain, there being only about 40 churches and less than a dozen regular ministers in England. Scotland and North Ireland. But the speaker stated that they maintained their own schools of Bible instruction, public speaking and even debating. His own congregation has some seven men other than himself that can be sent out to preach.

He related that the English are very lax in a religious way, especially since socialism has hit the country, many making their political faith their religion. On an average less than 12 percent attend church even irregularly. He himself had come out of the Established Church, which is as much of a political as religious body, he stated. Socialism and other isms had sapped spirituality in the old country.

He stated that he was astonished at the amount of food and other merchandise he found in American stores that could be bought without a ration card. Also, the well fed, clothed people in America, and complimented them that they were still going along with the old plan of private ownership. He rather hinted that we'd better lay off the "welfare state."

He had seen two things during the afternoon that pleased him, and made him think of home across the sea. One was an English made car observed between Lubbock and Brownfield, right hand drive and all. The other was an English lady, Mrs. May, who lives in Brownfield. He hoped Mrs. May would make him a pot of tea while he was here.

The minister is travelling on his own, but we understand that most of the churches visited are helping him quite liberally. His salary, he said, was $75 per month, and was well near the top of professions in that country. An American minister could not live on it.

As to rationing, he said vegetables were not rationed, but fresh fruits, such as the imported varieties, citrus particularly, meats, eggs and butter were strictly rationed, as well as most clothing.

While preparations were made for baptism of a youth, it was suggested that the audience ask questions. One was would late election have anything to do with rationing? He stated he could not discuss politics too much as he had been asked not to do so by immigration authorities. He did not state whether they were American or English immigration men, presumably though, the latter.

Mrs. George Warren and daughter, Mrs. Bob McDonald, of Levelland were among the out of town guests who attended the wedding of Nancy Morgan and Mack Ross Sunday.

Amarillo Fat Stock Show Catalog

The Herald received the huge catalog and prize list of the Amarillo Fat Stock show last week, and it is a huge outfit. Would have passed off for a World's Fair edition, instead of a regional affair. The big mail order catalog sized book contained about 230 pages on book paper. Of course a great lot of it was ads. Some printer sure made a killing.

But the book was interesting. Aside from the ads and prize lists, there were enumerable pictures, mostly of people eating barbecue as well as the outdoors. It seemed that we could detect that king of barbecue makers, Mr. Snider in some of the barbecue scenes. You know that everyone with a good appetite likes to look at eating scenes.

Then, there was a raft of riding and roping scenes, including a few scenes of Boys' Ranch near Amarillo. Oh, yes, you might want to attend, so the dates are March 6th to 10th inclusive. Started Monday.

Satisfied with the Special Session?

Last week the special session ended down at Austin, and it did what it was called to do, and promptly. That was to provide modern buildings and facilities for Texas eleemosynary institutions. Some $25 million was provided for the first year.

But to say that all are satisfied is not strictly the truth. The cigarete smokers for one class. They caught it where the chicken caught the ax. Maybe, some will roll their own, but we doubt it. The shop made ones are too convenient.

Some thought natural resources, like oil, gas, sulphur, etc., that are being piped or hauled out with no returns to Texas, should have been tapped. But we have an idea that they will get a summons come next regular session. Just being saved up for a rainy day.

Like other citizens who were invited to write a letter to Gov. Allan Shivers before the session started, the Herald made its letter in the form of an editorial of Jan. 27th, which we sent the governor. He also being a newspaperman, we thought he'd like the scent of news ink better than a typewriter ribbon.

And it seems as if he did. He wrote us a very nice letter Feb. 13th thanking us for being willing to leave the matter of new taxes up to himself and the legislature.

We might add that a lot of local legislation passed, and some needed statewide laws. Among them was some to put teeth into the law to protect children from sex perverts.

TOKIO NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Norris spent the week end in Paducah with their son, Lewis Norris, and family.

Roy Taylor and J. W. Sherrin left Sunday for Possum Kingdom.

Chasing Killers

By I. R. Hegel

If you would like the exciting work of chasing killers, the profession of medical technology should appeal to you.

The work, like every field when killers abound, has risk. When girls begin their training for medical technology they are told: "Either you're a careful bacteriologist or a dead one." For in the laboratories of hospitals, public health departments and the varied government services, technicians work with deadly disease germs.

But the technologists consider the risks insignificant compared with the satisfaction that comes from safeguarding people's lives and adding to the ever-growing store of medical knowledge that will safeguard future generations too.

Each day has its special thrill. No technologist knows in advance whether she will be following a routine blood count or experimenting with dicoumarin, a new drug which is already saving countless lives by the prevention of blood clots.

During the last war, when enough trained workers were not available, high school graduates were employed in hospital laboratories. These youngsters were all top-ranking students who had received high grades in chemistry, biology, physics and mathematics.

Young people who want to be medical technologists of the future are advised to attend a university and then follow it by a year of internship for a B.S. degree. Choice of employment for the

Stricklin Speaking

By Old He

The Associated Press at long last seems to have located where the expression, "as smart as a Philadelphia lawyer," came from. The term seemed to have been applied to Alexander Hamilton in the court defense of one John Peter Zinger on a charge for libel. Hamilton won the case, of course.

And while on the subject of libel, a lady that had a dog poisoned lately thought she had found the man who did the dirty deed, and wanted us to print his name. She claimed he lived in the north part of town. We did not ask who she thought his name was, as we did not crave a libel suit on something we could not prove. But neighbors might watch his comings and goings at night, and perhaps catch him in the act.

Anyway, sometimes the action of the dog, if he gets over the poison, will have a reflex action on the owner. That happened recently in our family, when our's and another dog friend made a foray on a neighbor's chickens, killing a dozen hens—not to eat—just for fun—all $24 dollars worth of it.

Some of us like to gey the other fellow about his religious faith, particularly the name of the church in which he has membership. Recently we heard a new angle to this one. It seems a stranger was in town, and looking over the burg.

Meeting a friend he asked if God and Christ had a falling out in this town. "Not that I know of," replied the native. "Well," says the visitor, "I saw a Church of Christ, then about two blocks further on a Church of God." It is your argument from here on.

As your writer grows older, he may not become more sagy, but perhaps a bit more cagy. We sometimes find to our disappointment what we have hitherto considered our friends, fraternities or brethren, are just that in name only. And we sometimes wonder if it is worth the time and money to try to keep up with the Joneses. In fact, we have discovered that you do not have to belong to any organization to have real, true friends.

About the nearest approach we find of staying with the "faithful" is along a political line. Presently, if you are an ardent Fair Dealer, you are the cat's ankle. If there are any plums to be handed out, the brass collar boys get them—all of 'em. They get the job whether qualified or not. They are allowed enough money to hire someone who is qualified to carry on.

In the past, we'll admit that what you belonged to carried you places. Now it's just a formality. It is a chance to donate, pay dues, dine, make trips to distant places with congenial company that "spread it on" when they get away from home. But when it comes to a business proposition, we have about decided that it is just as well to be a lone wolf and save dues and other expenses.

If you are a church member, any of them, it is strictly a business proposition. It appears that the time is here that only the big agendas come first. Local distribution of food and clothing to the poor is out. Let the Red Cross handle that. And if in your mind's eye you ever imagined that you,

LOCKED UP BY "RADAR"—Natalie Robertson, Los Angeles, Calif., shows how the "radar" calling-card house lock works. Resident comes home, slips card into slot and the door opens. Anybody else's card would set off a burglar alarm. Card, much like a "charge-a-plate," has concealed graphite patterns which fit like patterns in the slot.

yourself should ever need a basket of groceries, or some clothing, most of us have in mind some party who belongs to some other church or no church, that we could, with confidence direct our appeal for help. For that reason, we believe the work of the churches are losing their human touch to some extent.

In the early days here in Brownfield, members of the fraternities were good to visit the sick whether or not the ill one was a member. Now they expect one to let the hospital or a home nurse attend that matter. It might make someone decide it would be better to cut the lodge dues and take out hospital and accident insurance.

Of course they will give you a whale of a funeral when you pass on. But when it comes to a business proposition, man to man, it goes to the guy that can concoct the biggest lie. And like old Hitler, "the bigger the lie the better." Truth and nothing but the truth is just a formality of the trials courts. A lot of people rather hear a falsehood than the truth—it sounds better.

And in most places, we learn that the vet organizations are far from being the buddies they were during the war period, and are just as nice to someone that beat the rap as to the fellow that went through it with them. Well, generally speaking the guy that stayed at home has more money now, and would therefore be more attractive company, to some at least.

And in most organizations a few run them. The common herd is just used to pay dues. But that just suits them. There is nothing requiring any exercise of mind or muscle.

Sometimes an election seems to be a travesty of justice. Week before last an election was held in Gaines county to vote bonds for recreation parks at Seminole, Seagraves and Loop. Seminole voted about three to one against the bonds, but Loop and Seagraves saved the day by voting almost unanimously for the bonds. But here is the catch. Seminole will hog the $50,000 bond issue by grabbing off half the money; the other $25,000 is split between Loop and Seagraves.

KITCHEN MEMO BY JEAN CLARKE

A variation on the pork-apple combination will be welcomed by economical cooks who serve this inexpensive meat frequently. For Pork Patties mix together 1 1/2 lbs. pork, 1 cup evaporated milk, 1/2 cup rolled oats, 1/2 tsp. powdered sage, 2 tps. salt, 1/4 tsp. pepper. Put into greased cups, bake in slow gas oven (325°F.) 45 mins. or until brown. Meanwhile, remove cores from 2 medium-sized apples. Cut each crosswise into three rings. Dip both sides of sliced apples into 3 tps. sugar. Brown in 1/4 cup shortening. Remove pork from cups and top each piece with apple rings. Fill center of apple slices with jelly. We suggest 6 tps. sharp jelly. Serves 6.

Egg yolks stored in your gas refrigerator keep moist when covered with oil, milk or water.

If you have a hollower in your gas oven, sprinkle salt over it to prevent smoke and odor. Allow the oven to cool, clean up immediately.

Sausage companion: Sprinkle toasted buttered enriched bread with grated orange rind and sugar. Broil in broiler 4" from flame. Broil sugar bubbles.

Three miles of laundry (16,000 ft.) are hung on lines each year by the average homemaker. An automatic gas clothes dryer saves all the lifting, pinning up and weather worry.

Try an egg slicer for cutting up cooked beets.

Texans In Washington

By Tex Easley
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—(AP)—A quite-spoken little Texan has been one of the key figures in the coal crisis, although his name seldom gets in the papers. A native of Gonzales and a former Texas state senator, Welby Hopkins is chief counsel for the United Mine Workers and sits at John L. Lewis' side in talks with mine owners and government mediators. Now in his forties, Hopkins came to Washington in 1936 as an attorney with the Justice Department. His performance in handling the government's case in the Harlan county, Ky., coal field troubles a year later led the UMW to hire him as the union's top lawyer. He lives in a colonial home in nearby Alexandria, Va., not far from the 150 year old, two-story white frame house owned by his big boss.

A search for figures to show how much money Texans pay into the federal treasury and how much they get back spotlights the complexity of our government. You can't find a clear cut answer to the question. You can pretty well determine how much is paid in, but not what Texas or any other state gets back for its tax dollars.

No one can figure, for example, how much a state receives as its share of national defense dollars or indirect benefits from the billions spent in Marshall Plan foreign aid. Fifty cents of each tax dollar goes into those two programs alone. Taxes indirectly paid by consumers show up from the state of origin of the commodity; the whiskey and cigaret taxes Texans pay is collected by the government largely in Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and the Carolinas. Last year Texas paid a total of $1,417,124.034 in direct taxes into the treasury, including $757,422,379.89 in individual income taxes, $416,392,905.90 in corporation taxes, $81,803,610 in employment taxes and $161,505,144 in miscellaneous taxes.

The increase in government costs over pre-war years is reflected in tax collections. Texas paid only $132,352,083 in direct taxes into the U. S. treasury in 1940. Its 1949 payments were almost a third as large as the total national collections of $5,340,452,346 in 1940. The total federal collection of such taxes in 1949 amounted to $4,463,125,018. The national debt increased from $48 billion on June 30, 1940, to $265 billion on Jan. 1, 1950. As for ascertainable direct

Flies Biggest Disease Spreaders

Millions of flies help to cause the illness and death of thousands of children and adults each year in the United States. Hundreds of these casualties may be in the state of Texas this year if residents fail in their responsibility for developing the best possible sanitation measures in the area where they reside. Typhoid fever, summer complaint, and other intestinal diseases can be traced to the common house fly as the carrier of infection.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, speaking in this connection recently said, "Be sure that your windows and doors are tightly screened so that stray flies from a careless neighbor will not endanger your family. Be sure that flies are kept away from food, drink and utensils used in the preparation of food. Make sure, if you live in rural districts, that outside privy vaults are tightly covered so as not to permit the entrance of flies. Infections from this source can be picked up and spread to human beings through contact with food, drink and utensils. Keep all garbage covered until collected or buried. Eliminate all breeding places for flies and you will be helping your community in its work of controlling communicable diseases and preventing unnecessary illness."

Dr. Cox said that the State Health Department would furnish upon request a pamphlet outlining safe and practical methods recommended for use in fly control.

benefits to Texas in dollars and cents in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949, the total amounted to $372,826,679. This figure does not include hundreds of millions of dollars spent annually to maintain the numerous army, air force and naval installations in Texas. Each of these means large payrolls and purchases of supplies, which brings business to local merchants and indirectly helps the whole community.

An Anson Man Pays Visit Saturday

We had a very pleasant caller Saturday afternoon in the person of Cecil Hunter of Anson. Now as that was our old stomping ground before we headed for the "hawldies" in 1909, we had much gab in common. But Mr. Hunter is no stranger here, as he formerly owned the place where Mon Telford now lives.

He is selling a Motel in Anson, and of which appears in classified column. Not his, but he is agent for its sale. We got to talking of old times and old timers. But found that a great majority of the merchants we knew have passed over the great divide. Only two or three still there.

The conversation drifted to good luck that seems to follow some while bad luck plagues others. He related that there was a firm in that little city during the war, but one of them was subject to the draft. So, he buys a section of third or fourth class land down in the shinnery south of Anson, became a "farmer" and evaded the draft.

Time rocks along, and after hostilities were over, the young farmer found no buyer for his land. But the bit of oil and drill hit a pool centered in the land that made the fellow rich.

Some people seem to have all the luck.

The Day Twins Move Down To Terry

Caey Day was in one day last week from Slaton, and brought his identical twin sons, Don and Dan, along. And they were as much alike as speckled eyed peas. When some one remarked that they couldn't tell which out-favored, both grinned, and their grins were even alike. But folks, they are nice looking boys, and if any of you Terry county girls are good at guessing, take your choice of Don and Dan.

Caey had us order a daily for the boys, and it will come to them as Don and Dan Day, and believe their checks are made the same way. They will have charge of the Day ranch out in the Pool community, and get their mail on route 1, Meadow. Welcome to Terry, Don and Dan.

BANGKOK.—(AP)—To forestall possible Chinese Communist infiltration from Indo-China, Thailand has banned border crossings by Chinese except by visa. Thailand formerly had reciprocal agreements with Burma and Indo-China to permit border crossings for trading purposes.

AID TO THE BLIND COSTS BROKEN RIBS
CHICAGO.—(AP)—Mrs. Gladys Mattson took a blind man by the arm to help him across the street. A car ran through a red light and byre down on them. Mrs. Mattson pushed the blind man out of the way. But she didn't have enough time to save herself. Her unselfish deed cost her several broken ribs.

NOTE THESE STYLE LINES WELL. They're straight out of the Buick Riviera book—and they cloak interiors that are roomy as much-higher-priced cars.

FORE AND AFT - a Beauty and a Buy

It's lithe, long and lovely—and it calls not just for one look, but for two.

See how this sleek Sedan looks coming down the road—bold grillwork shining, broad bonnet purring with power, and the wide, curving, unbroken sweep of a one-piece windshield giving you horizon-wide outlook.

And spot the pretty picture you make going away. The broad, wrap-around rear window and topside styling in the Buick Riviera manner.

The graceful, spacious trunk, the "double bubble" taillights, the sense of high-fashion fleetness in everything from rear fender lines to the curve of the roof.

Yes, that's beauty—beauty in the unmistakable Buick manner. But observe also:

Interiors are extra roomy in all dimensions. The biggest you can buy for the money, we believe—and bigger than many higher-priced cars.

And, since this is a Buick SUPER, there's sensational new power under the hood—Buick's own F-263 Fireball straight-eight, this year's big news in valve-in-head power.

Yes, when you go stepping in this one, you'll really step—with roominess and top-drawer styling and the level going of all-coil springing—yes, and Dynaflo Drive* too, if you choose—making your pleasure complete.

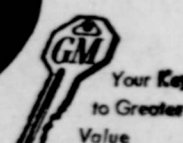

The price? Well, drop in on your Buick dealer, ask about the SUPER 126 and be prepared for happy listening. Here's a buy—so grand a buy you'll lose no time getting behind a Buick wheel.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Features like these mean BUICK'S THE BUY

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines, five hp ratings. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with bumper-guard grilles, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • DYNAFLO DRIVE standard on all ROADMASTERS, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL series • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

Duo Pianists Next Symphony Feature

On March 14, the Medleys will return to Lubbock as guest artists on the fourth concert of the 1949-50 season. In bringing these duo-pianists to Lubbock audiences, the Lubbock Symphony is following its policy of presenting local artists of professional rank. Also, this marks the first time a two piano team has been included in Symphony programs.

Bill and Pat Medley are a youthful husband and wife piano team just beginning their careers in their chosen field. These charming and personable young people have great talent and enthusiasm and readily project their warmth over the footlights.

Pat began her musical career at the age of seven in Arkansas, and Bill was already started on his. He had begun attracting attention at the age of five when it was discovered he was picking out tunes on the piano. Both have continued their musical education throughout their public school careers. In 1944, while Bill was still in Lubbock high school, he had his own program over KFYO. He graduated from Lubbock high school in 1945 and was awarded a medal for outstanding work. Upon graduation, he joined the staff of radio station KTHS at Hot Springs, Ark., as pianist and it was here that he met Miss Pat Duncan, the future Mrs. Medley. They attended Arkansas Tech and decided to combine their musical abilities and futures and enter the field as duo pianists. They have appeared in more than thirty engagements in Arkansas. At Arkansas Tech, they were singled out by Roy and Helen Ringo, also duo pianists and instructors at Tulsa University, as professional students and transferred to that school for further training. They were presented by the University of Tulsa in a debut recital in the Will Rogers Auditorium on May 6, 1949, and won an ovation from the audience.

Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Medley of Lubbock. Tickets went on sale Monday, March 6, at the Adair Music Store and the Varsity Book Store in Lubbock. Reserved seats are $2.40; general admission, $1.80. Mail check and stamped, self-addressed envelope for tickets to Lubbock Symphony, Box 894, Lubbock, Texas.

Plate of T-Bone, But No Editor on Hand

Met up with Bill Tilson, director of Farm Bureau for this area Saturday. "Why wasn't you out at the banquet at the Esquire last night," says Bill. The first we had heard of it. But he insisted that some one was asked to notify us. So we asked the Junior Editor if he had received an invitation. His answer was in the negative. Somebody laid down on the job—or did he? Could be that he found a good friend that he had rather see eat the T-Bone.

Anyway, we are glad that someone remembered, even if the invitation never reached us. Let us state right here that as we understand it, the Farm Bureau is making fine progress in its drive for new members in Terry county, and the way they are going after the matter, they will surely get the quota they seek. We believe they want the minimum of 300 new members.

And Dave Beasley was along, and we started our old fuss about the C of C building on the courthouse park. Dave loved as how he was going to put in a hamburger joint on the northeast corner. We hope he sells 'em on a credit and that our face suits him to go on tickets.

Anyway, Dave and the Old He can disagree and still be the best of friends. We respect his views, and he returns the compliment. A friendship would surely be lost if they fell out over a little thing like different ideas.

But possibly Dave and this writer are pretty well agreed that the old farmer is really up a tree this year with the tree fixing to fall and the farmer undecided which way to jump. This limitation of acreage has certainly fixed up things to cause a farmer to lose some sleep, and have a few nightmares.

If there ever was such a thing as a guy getting hold of the hot end of the poker, the farmer certainly grabbed it this year. And he must work out his "salvation in fear and trembling." Us guys with desks and offices are poor, very poor advisers.

Some Hot Old Races Back In 1910

Just got to wondering toger day how much we were worth in actual cash, other than American money, and looked through some old keep sakes. Aside from a couple of silver dollars, and a "lucky" $2 bill of US vintage, we decided we were about broke.

It is true that we had a 100,000 mark German note issued soon after World War I, and a varied lot of tokens in Sales Tax states, along with a bunch of small coins and bills, principally of Jap origin. So we began to wonder if we could sell the whole capudalism for a soda pop.

But there was something else to ponder. There was our registration certificates for both World Wars. The first was issued Sept. 12, 1918. We beat that rap, as the war closed two months from that day, save one. It was signed by Geo. W. Nell.

The other was issued the 27th day of April, 1942, was signed by N. R. Black, and we beat that one too, although back then was noted for our proficiency as a rifle shot. We were 38 when the first was signed, and 61 when we signed the latter. Talking about being born 30 years too soon—we weren't.

Then there was an old candidate card of the vintage of 1910, when Terry was a part of the old 64th Judicial district, with all of the candidates living at Plainview, as that was the principal burg in these parts at that time. An especially hot race was on that year between the District Attorney incumbent, L. C. Penry, and Ruben M. Ellerd, who wanted the job.

It was really a hot race, and while both contestants lived at Plainview, there were some near fights about the race right here in Brownfield. Penry won by a sizable majority, as he was a good singer and church goer, wherever he was on court duty, and that fact counted in those days.

But here was what appeared on Ellerd's card: "Ellerd wins 70 per cent of his cases; Penry wins 43 per cent of his cases. By their fruits ye shall know them." So, you see, Bro. Ellerd could quote scripture too.

Club Luncheon Held Wednesday

Pot luck dinner was served to members of the Brownfield Country Club ladies organization at noon Wednesday. Hostesses were Mesdames Jack Bailey, Ike Bailey, Lee O. Allen, Milton Addison, Bill Anderson and Mike Barrett.

The table was laid with a green cloth and featured a centerpiece of carnations at the foot of a shamrock tree. Chicken a la king, vegetables, salad, ice cream cake, hot rolls, and coffee were served to about 30 members.

After the business meeting, at which members were reminded to watch for notice of a special party in April. Most of the members played bingo. White elephants were given as bingo prizes.
