City Election To Be Held Tuesday

Polls will open at 8 a.m. Tuesday, April 4, in the city hall for the election of several city officials, and will remain open until 5 p.m., according to information received from city secretary J. H. (Bill) Aschenbeck.

A special election will also be held Tuesday for the election of an alderman to fill the unexpired term of W. G. (Willie) McDonald, who resigned several weeks ago due to ill health.

To be elected Tuesday are a mayor, a city treasurer, a city marshal, and two city aldermen.

C. C. Primm and Aschenbeck are unopposed for the posts of mayor and secretary, respectively.

Candidates for aldermen are Henry Chisholm, re-election; A. M. Muldrow; Sam Houtchens; and V. L. Patterson. Candidates for the unexpired term of McDonald are L. M. Lane and H. H. Howze.

Election judges for the election will be D. P. (Stuffy) Moorhead, Lee Brownfield, A. J. Geron and John J. Kendrick.

Absentee voting began March 16, according to Aschenbeck. As we go to press, only eight absentee ballots have been turned in.

CC Board Members Will Be Elected

Ballots will be mailed this week end to members of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce with the names of 18 candidates for the CC board of directors.

Nine names are to be voted upon to replace the following members whose terms are expiring: C. G. Griffith, Paul Campbell, E. G. Akers, W. E. Latham, Homer Winston, J. O. Gillham, R. J. Purcell, Hiram Parks and George Wade.

Wayne (Red) Smith, manager of the chamber of commerce, urges that the ballots be returned to his office not later than April 15.

Names on the ballot are Tess Fuller, J. M. Teague, Grady Goodpasture, Conrad Vernon, John Fortwood, Doug Jones, Roy Herod, O. H. Allen, Ike Bailey, L. M. Lang, John O'Dell, Harold Crites, R. E. Self, C. L. Aven, Jack Cleveland, Bill McGowan, S. J. Cowan and Dr. W. A. Roberson.

Members of the board of directors will elect their 1950 officers following the board election, Smith said.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Heath and Norwood visited Rhea Heath and family in Anarillo last week end.

Terry County Falls Short of ARC Quota

Herman Chesshir, 1950 fund chairman for the Terry County Red Cross, said that only $1388.06 of the set quota of $3222.00 for this county had been raised. The drive, which began March 1, closes today (Friday).

Although it is expected that several hundred dollars will be turned in before tonight, Chesshir expressed the belief that Terry County will not reach their quota this year.

A benefit variety talent show was staged in Wellman March 14, under the direction of Mrs. Miller Rich, which netted nearly $200 for the drive.

The Brownfield high school bands and chorus also staged a benefit concert last night, with all proceeds going to the 1950 fund.

ACC Man Named Assistant Coach

L. G. Wilson, a senior student at Abilene Christian college, has been chosen assistant coach of the Brownfield high school Cub football team and will assume his duties about August 1, according to superintendent of schools S. P. Cowan.

Both a football and basketball letterman at ACC, Wilson will receive his degree in May. He is to coach both "A" and "B" Cub football ends.

A. G. (Toby) Greer is head football coach and Faris Nowell, head basketball coach, has been assisting him.

Wilson is a veteran of World War II and is married.

Troop 5 Elected New Officers

Girl Scout Troop 5 met at the Little House Tuesday, March 28. The meeting was called to order by Ima Jean Frost.

New officers elected were: Willian Key, president; Betty Cabbiness, vice president; Gwendolyn Thompson, secretary; Rita (name not given), treasurer; Patsy Sue Durham, reporter; Betty Daniels, pianist, and Patsy Teague, song leader.

Those present were Royda Dumas, Patsy Teague, Ima Jean Frost, Jerry Dumas, Teddy Johnson, Olive Wood, Betty Criswell, Betty Daniels, Sandra Yandell, Betty Cabbiness, Veda Ritchey, Gail Davis, Myrtle Jones, Patsy Durham, Carolyn Warren, Gwendolyn Thompson, and the sponsor, Mrs. Parks, and one visitor, Ginger Hyman.

'STARS OF TOMORROW' ARTISTS ARE NAMED

Peggy Black and Martin Line Jr., will be guest artists on "Stars of Tomorrow" radio program Saturday, April 1, at 9:45 a.m. over station KTFY.

Miss Black will sing "Love Stars" and the "Vilia Song" by Franz Larehar. Line will sing "Just a Song at Twilight" and "Lucky Ole Sun."

They are the voice students of Mrs. John Luckie. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ross Black, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Line.

PLAINS SENIOR CLASS WILL PRESENT COMEDY

"My Heart's In High," a comedy in three acts, will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday, April 7, in the Plains school auditorium by the Plains high school senior class.

Admission is 25c for students and 50c for adults.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

TWO WINNERS NAMED

Mrs. Ted Hardy and Judy Barrow held the lucky numbers which entitled them to have a dress or draperies made free of charge when the new Fabric Mart held its opening Saturday, March 25.

Owners of the mart, Mrs. Roy Fleming and Mrs. Homer Winston, made the announcement this week. The mart is located in the Fleming Typewriter and Gift Shop at 208 S. Fifth.

A large crowd attended the opening of the shop, which sells dress materials, as well as draperies, linings and suitings.

Noted Violinist Will Present Concert Here

Sidney Harth, outstanding violin virtuoso who appears here Friday, April 2, at 3 p.m. in the Brownfield High school auditorium tells the following story:

"On my first public performance (a school contest), I broke the violin before the concert by falling down in the lobby. However, I went on and played on the cracked instrument and received highest rating. In fact, one judge remarked, 'The red head is very talented. He should go far.'"

Sidney Harth has come far. His performance at Town Hall and on the "Telephone Hour" attest to that. Further proof rests in the statement, "I knew you could do it." That one sentence summed up the elation of Sidney's many teachers and admirers on his winning the 1948 Walter W. Naumberg Foundation Award.

More important than the mere congratulations due a winner of this award was the deep rooted faith the quotation conveyed in the ability of Sidney Harth to become one of America's outstanding violin virtuosos.

Most important was, and still is, Sidney Harth's own belief in himself and his capabilities. For, although the praise assuredly is welcome, Sidney Harth has always known that the only real success comes not through any single triumph but rather through hard work—and lots of it.

It was just such an attitude that impelled Sidney Harth to decline a contract with the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra in favor of continuing his studies for a Bachelor of Music Degree at the Cleveland Institute. Many another violinist, of course, would have grabbed at the chance for immediate success at the expense, perhaps, of future limitations.

This is the second concert to be presented by the Brownfield Concert Association. A large crowd attended the concert presented by John Anglin, lyric tenor, March 23.

The third, and last concert for this season will be presented April 30 by Henry L. Scott, often called "the Will Rogers of the piano."

Admission to the concert is by membership card only.

Mrs. G. E. Geron of Ft. Worth is here visiting her son, Jake Geron and family.

Tour Of Homes Is Set For Next Wednesday

James Pinson, interior decorator with Decorator's Studio in Lubbock, will lecture at the First Methodist church at 2 p.m. Wednesday, April 5.

The lecture will precede a tour of six homes in Brownfield, sponsored by the Hope Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church.

Proceeds from the house beautiful tour will go toward establishing an infant nursery in the church. Tickets are on sale for one dollar and may be bought from any member of the circle.

Homes to be visited on the tour are those of the Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Thurston, 402 E. Tate st.; Mr. and Mrs. John L. Cruce on Tahoka Road; Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Webber, 618 E. Cardwell; Mr. and Mrs. and Mrs. George O'Neal,

FFA Parent, Son Banquet Slated

The local FFA chapter is planning their annual Parent and Son banquet which is to be held in the high school this Friday evening beginning at 8:00 p.m.

For the past three years the Greenhands of the chapter have been growing broilers for the banquet. They also aid in the banquet preparation by dressing and preparing the fowls for the home economics girls to fry. All committees have been appointed to aid in the preparation of the annual event.

The FFA members are planning a better program for their parents than has been given in the past. Two honorary degrees will be presented to individuals that have helped advance vocational agriculture and the FFA work in the local chapter.

Jerry King will serve as toastmaster and Ray L. Chappelle as guest speaker. Mr. Chappelle is head of the vocational education department at Texas Tech college.

The two home economics teachers, Miss Foster and Miss Terry, will prepare the banquet dinner.

Another Old Timer Goes to Meet Her Maker

We have heard ministers of the gospel state that it was hard for them to make an address at a funeral, especially if the subject of the oration had lived a rather questionable life. About all they could do, would be to preach to and warn the audience. The same can be said of a writer. If those who pass on have lived a righteous life, there is much to be said. Otherwise, the briefer the better.

But knowing as we do Mrs. G. W. Chisholm, 72, who passed beyond this vale of tears at 12:27 last Friday afternoon, we can say much without the least fear that others may say we said too much. In the first place, she was a devoted Christian, and so lived every day, always prepared to meet her Savior. She was always in her place in church if at all physically able.

She was the kind of wife that all of us can admire in this day of loose marriage relations. She loved her husband and children, and set an example before them so that when they grew up, they would not depart from it. She loved her neighbors and friends, and they always had a welcome abiding place at her home. Mrs. G. W. Chisholm not only set a good example for her family but her community as well. Truly a "Mother in Israel" had been called home. So let all of us so live that we will be prepared to go when we are called.

Mother Chisholm was a native of Sherman, but has been a resident of Terry county since 1917, so can rightfully be classed as a native of Terry county.

Census Count To Begin On April 1

Appropriation Made For Airport Site

The House Committee on Appropriations has approved a bill which carries a provision for federal assistance to the Brownfield airport. This information was given this week to city and Chamber of Commerce officials by George Mahon, United States representative from the 19th district.

This is part of a national program for municipal airport development based upon commercial and military requirements. The bill provides a total expenditure of $12,000 at Brownfield, $3,000 to be contributed by the federal government and the remainder by the city. These funds are to be used for acquisition of the site.

Mahon, who is a member of the Appropriations Committee, stated that he expects the bill to pass the House of Representatives within the next week. He thought there would be little doubt but that the House and Senate would take favorable action on the measure. The work would be done during the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1950.

Brownfield Chorus Sings at Levelland

The Brownfield Community chorus, under the direction of Richard Young, will present an Easter cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" by Stephen Dupuis, at 8 p.m. Thursday, April 6, in the Levelland high school auditorium, according to Mrs. Grady Goodpasture, president of the chorus.

Flowers for the stage will be arranged and donated by Rhea's City Florists at Levelland.

Mrs. Richard Young is accompanist for the chorus, and soloists are Ann Snedeker, Dr. W. A. Roberson, Jack Shirley, and Crawford Taylor.

No admission will be charged.

Cub Pack Meeting Will Be Monday

All boys eight years of age through 10 years of age are invited to become Cub Scouts, when a pack meeting is held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 3, according to Joe Preston Murphy, cubmaster.

Awards will be presented to a large group of Cub Scouts at the pack meeting, Murphy said.

The Cubmaster urges that all boys who are interested in becoming Cub Scouts to be present, with their parents, at the meeting Monday night.

Agricultural Census Coming Next Month

Texas farmers and ranchmen will soon be receiving a copy of the 1950 agricultural census questionnaire and each is requested to fill it out and have it ready for the census taker when he calls next month. The questionnaire is being sent to all rural route boxholders and to boxholders in small towns where there are a considerable number of farmers. The copy should not be discarded, says Tyrus R. Timm, extension economist of Texas A & M college, but should be studied carefully and completely filled in with accurate information. Here's why.

The Census of Agriculture provides an inventory of our farms and farm resources. It gives facts indispensable in dealing with current farm problems. It benefits everybody, says Timm, because it gives a picture of what is happening in the rural areas of the state and nation and includes facts on land use, crop and livestock production, how many people live on farm, kinds of machinery used, farm home facilities and a large number of other equally important items.

In most states, it provides the major source of county figures on agriculture as well as the basic information on the changes, growth and improvements in agriculture in each county. Timm points out that the information taken from the census often is used in planning programs designed to improve farming and rural life and farm organizations likewise base many of their decisions on this information. The annual estimates of the production of crops and livestock products are based upon figures obtained in the nationwide farm census but most important, it provides the basis for the making of allocations among counties of quotas for the acreage of many important farm crops.

Timm says the information you give the census enumerators is confidential and cannot be used for taxation, investigation or regulation. An Act of Congress provides the protection. Every person who fills out a census form or answers the questions asked by an enumerator are likewise required to give accurate and truthful information.

The accuracy of the farm census will depend upon the cooperation of every farmer and ranchman. The accuracy of the county totals depend upon accurate returns from each individual for county totals are obtained by adding the individual reports together.

When you get the agricultural census questionnaire, don't throw it away, but answer every question asked completely and accurately for as Timm points out, the farm census is mighty important to agriculture.

VETS WARNED ON ADDRESS CHANGES LATE IN MONTH

The VA finance office receiving address changes after the 20th of the month cannot always effect the change on the checks due to the veteran on the 1st of the next month, because its books, by then are already in the hands of the U. S. Treasury disbursing office in Dallas, and the checks being printed for bulk mailing the last of the month where address changes are necessary late in the month arrangements should be made by the veteran to obtain his check at the old address on the day of delivery otherwise the post office regulation require that the check be returned to the Treasury for remailing which sometimes causes delivery delays up to two weeks only exception to this rule is when the new address remains under the jurisdiction of the same post office as the old address and the veteran has given that post office his new address on Post Office Form 22. Address changes can be made by the VA only when new address is furnished over signature of the veteran. Form 4-572 or by letter to the finance officer bearing the veteran's signature.

DEADLINE ON RETROACTIVE COMPENSATION BOOST SET

Veterans with service-connected disability ratings of 50 per cent who have not yet established their right to additional compensation for dependents should be reminded that they have only until May 1st to do so if they want the increase to be retroactive to December 1st.

The VA will not grant the increased compensation until it receives proof of dependency and relationship if this evidence is received by May 1st, the additional pay will be authorized from last December when Public Law 339 went into effect otherwise according to VA regulations the effective date of the increase will be the date the evidence is received. The VA should also advise the VA that he has dependent and is securing evidence to send in if this has not been done. It should be and the evidence sent to the VA before the deadline May 1st.

Fish Will Respond To Fertilizer

Plenty of food for the fish in the farm pond will mean more and larger fish. A scant supply of food very often means poor and stunted fish. The cheapest and most practical source of food for the fish is that food which can be produced in the pond where the fish live, says R. E. Callender, extension specialist in wildlife conservation of Texas A & M college, and will consist of both plant and animal life.

The production of microscopic plant and animal life known as plankton or "bloom" is the first and most important step in the food chain. Ponds containing water that is high in plant food usually produce plenty of "bloom." This plant food gets into the pond by being dissolved from the soil as the water flows over the watershed. Water flowing over poor soil doesn't pick up any fertility and it must be supplied.

Farm ponds can be fertilized just as crops are fertilized and the same fertilizers can be used, says Callender. He says 400 pounds of cottonseed meal and 200 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate make a very good mixture. He recommends the application of 300 pounds of the mixture about this time of the year; broadcast it on the surface of the pond and follow with a second, third and fourth application of 100 pounds each at 3 to 4 week intervals. The fertilizer program should be completed before extremely hot weather arrives and before July 1 if possible, he adds.

Following this, it is suggested that insecticides be sprayed manually to those places inhabited by the insects. Experience has shown that a 2 per cent to 5 per cent solution of DDT is still the most effective insecticide to use for general sanitation. This is spread to form a thin coat on the surface, where it can remain for future destruction. A spray that will just moisten the surface is sufficient to be effective. Spray only those areas where you know the insects gather.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

Santa Fe System carloadings for week ending March 18, 1950, were 21,746 compared with 22,052 for same week in 1949. Cars received from connections totaled 10,505 compared with 10,633 for same week in 1949. Total cars moved were 32,251 compared with 32,685 for same week in 1949.

Santa Fe handled a total of 32,148 cars in preceding week of this year.

BIB'F COMMENT

FOR MARCH 26

Apostle Paul: Roman Citizen And Christian

WHEN the Apostle Paul made his great declaration in Romans 1:14-16, "I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth: to the Jew first, and also to the Greek." he was speaking as a Roman citizen, as well as a Christian Apostle.

Paul was a free-born citizen of Rome in a Roman world in which the mass of men were slaves. Many born in slavery had purchased their liberty with a great price, like the chief captain in Acts 22:28. Paul, of course, had not seen Rome, though he was to go there as a prisoner, late in his missionary career. Rome was not just a city, but a world power, that had brought all of that world beneath its rule. To be a Roman citizen anywhere was to possess rights and privileges unavailable to others.

When Paul was arrested, through the false charges and investigations of his persecutors in Palestine, and could not get justice there, he did what citizens in modern democracies have often done when they have regarded themselves as denied justice in a lower court: they have appealed to a higher court.

These courts followed interesting and great events, the dire peril of the voyage and shipwreck described so vividly in Acts 27, the eventual arrival in Rome, the comparative freedom of his life as a prisoner there (Acts 28:16, 30-31), his writing of the great Epistles of the imprisonment, such as Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, and Colossians, the long awaiting for the justice he hoped for but never received, and the disillusionment that led him to write so differently about earthly powers, in Ephesians 6:12 from what he had written, earlier and before that disillusionment, in Romans 13:1-3. Paul brought to Rome a power mightier than his own.

Insect, Rodent Control Not Easy Job

"There is no easy road to the abatement of insects and rodents," says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, Austin. Frequently people get enthusiastic about the destruction of the insects and believe that, if an airplane flies over the town, or if a huge fogging machine rolls through town spreading an insecticide, the insects will be killed instantly and peace from the insect nuisance will remain forever. This is an erroneous and, unfortunately, bad practice, because it creates an unwarranted sense of security.

Before any killing is anticipated, a thorough clean up of the community should be carried on. This means cleaning up the rubbish and garbage and eliminating all insect feeding and breeding places. It might mean the draining or filling in of wet areas for destruction of the mosquito larvae. When this is done, one will be surprised how few insects are left to become a nuisance and, perhaps, a public health problem.

Following this, it is suggested that insecticides be sprayed manually to those places inhabited by the insects. Experience has shown that a 2 per cent to 5 per cent solution of DDT is still the most effective insecticide to use for general sanitation. This is spread to form a thin coat on the surface, where it can remain for future destruction. A spray that will just moisten the surface is sufficient to be effective. Spray only those areas where you know the insects gather.

Hundreds Tell Bob Wills Of Hadacol's Numerous Blessings

Hundreds of folks, who are benefiting every day from taking HADACOL meet at the Trianon Building in Oklahoma City where Bob Wills, famous band leader, and his Texas Playboys broadcast each noon for HADACOL.

"It looks like all my fans are getting wonderful benefits from HADACOL," said Wills. "It is a real pleasure to broadcast for HADACOL because the folks taking HADACOL are so enthusiastic that I feel like I am performing a real service for mankind."

Hundreds have told Wills of the blessed benefits of HADACOL and the following statement by Miss Betty Lou Lobb, 720 College St., Bethany, a well known singer, is a good example.

"I was tired, run down and lost my appetite. I suffered with gastric disturbances. I had tried almost everything but it didn't seem to help me. I had heard about the wonderful results HADACOL had been bringing to so many of my friends. Soon after taking HADACOL I was feeling much better, had no gastric disturbances and had a wonderful appetite. I am no longer nervous. I am sure that HADACOL has helped me a great deal and I recommend it to my friends."

Miss Lobb suffered with a deficiency of B Vitamins and important Minerals which HADACOL contains.

A lack of only a small amount of the B Vitamins and certain Minerals will cause digestive disturbances. . . . Your food will not agree with you. . . . You will have an upset stomach. . . . You will suffer from heartburns, gas pains, and your food will sour on your stomach, and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the symptoms and signs of the lack of the

Bob Wills Hears About HADACOL'S Blessings

Bob Wills, famous western music band leader, loves to talk with his fans at the Trianon Building auditorium in Oklahoma City about the blessings of HADACOL. In the picture above Miss Betty Lou Lobb, 720 College St., Bethany Okla., a very promising young singer, tells Bob how HADACOL has helped her. Hundreds of folks who are obtaining rich blessings from the precious B Vitamins and Minerals in HADACOL visit Wills each week for his network broadcast, which is originated from KBYE, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma's western music station, and sent over a leased wire to stations, KRMG, Tulsa; KWBN, Fort Smith; KGLC, Miami, Oklahoma; KLYN, Amarillo, and KWFT, Wichita Falls.

B Vitamins and Minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the Vitamins and the Minerals which your system lacks.

HADACOL contains not only one, but 5 of the B Vitamins. HADACOL contains not only one, but 4 of the necessary Minerals. It comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have already been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL. So, it matters not who you are . . . it matters not where you live . . . or if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, give this wonderful preparation a trial. Don't go on suffering. Don't continue to lead a miserable life. Many persons who have suffered and waited for 10 to 20 years or even longer, are able now to live happily, comfortable lives again because HADACOL supplied the B Vitamins and Minerals which their systems needed. Be fair to yourself. Give HADACOL a trial. Demand the genuine HADACOL. Accept no substitutes.

Industry's Eyes On West Texas Area

Presented below is a synopsis of a report on potential industrial utilization of grain sorghums as prepared by Texas Electric Service company and released by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in the March issue of "West Texas Today," official publication of the TCC.

This report has been prepared in the interest of determining the authentic potentialities of grain sorghums as a source of raw material for industrial utilization. Grain sorghum industrial potentialities are both varied and numerous, enhancing a practical promise of a future economic stabilization of grain sorghum production through establishing of industries using vast quantities of grain sorghums in the manufacture of a surprisingly large number of industrial, commercial and household needs.

The only practical approach to making reality of the promise in store is through extensive scientific research to formulate the industrial processes of production. Most research presently in progress in this field of study is being carried on by private business and consequently, most of the results are confidential.

The proper utilization of natural resources always progresses the standard of living of peoples. In grain sorghums we have excellent opportunity of this. All our factors being equal or above it is quite possible to develop manufacturing and processing of grain sorghums in the center of production in West Texas. Many potential operators of such types of industry are casting speculative glances toward the area already. In this survey consideration has been given to the records of past production of grain sorghums. Further expansion possibilities of the crops will be governed by demand. All known available information related to industrial uses, presently in practice, and proposed or indicated by research, have been summarized and compiled herein.

Texas Top Producer
With grain sorghums production being explored and presented separately from this report, suffice it to say here that the report goes into considerable detail to show production progress through the year 1947. Texas ranks first in acreage, first in yield and first in value, among the states, in grain sorghum production. Fort Worth is Texas' most important grain sorghum market. The grain sorghum crop now generally ranks either second or third in volume and value among Texas crops. The crop is subject to thorough mechanization through harvesting. Plant breeding can secure type and characteristics desired. Mechanization permits exceptionally large acreage with minimum manpower requirements.

Dr. E. F. Horan, research associate, Midwest Research Institute, sums up the potential industrial relationship between grain sorghums and corn with this brief statement: "It is possible to do with grain sorghums that which already has been done with corn."

Perhaps the best way to visualize the industrial possibilities of grain sorghums is to review the hundreds of industrials, commercial and household items produced from corn. Thus, grain sorghums present an economic opportunity worthy of the careful consideration of research, industrial, financial, promotional and related peoples. Grain sorghums have practically all the industrial possibilities as has corn and undoubtedly additional ones. The two crops are kindred botanically and agronomically, and in chemical composition.

Compares With Corn
The extent to which grain sorghums are used in industry will depend upon their relative price in comparison with other grains and upon any specific uses which their products may have. Usually, sorghum grains sell for less than corn, making them potentially more economical than corn as a source of chemical raw material.

Here in Texas, the leading grain sorghum producing state, with its many other advantages to offer industries, is the logical place for development of a nucleus of basic industries utilizing sorghum grains as raw material. From the foundation of the basic industries should come the development and growth of numerous and varied processing and production industries using as their raw materials the products of the basic industries.

WHAT, NO FEATHERS?—One of nature's oddities is this strange creature caught by coon dogs near Mount Enterprise, Tex. The animal's head resembles that of a fox, and it has a tail like an opossum and feet like a raccoon. Stranger yet is the complete absence of hair and an extra tail starting to grow on its back. Charles Hudson, of Dallas, shown holding the animal, above, was unable to get it away from his dogs, before they killed it.

Needs Little Moisture
Grain sorghums were introduced into this country over 85 years ago. Soil and climatic conditions prevailing in our so-called sorghum grain belt were the immediate reasons for acceptance and propagation of grain sorghums. The need for a crop on which the farmers could depend to supply the necessary feed for his farm animals caused the farmer to turn to grain sorghum, which has a unique characteristic of thriving where climatic conditions are unsuitable for most cereal grains. Grain sorghums, more than almost any other crop, lend themselves to mechanical handling. Grain sorghums can survive and produce on a minimum amount of moisture.

Added to these reasons we may expect increased acreages of grain sorghums is the greatly increased usage of them for livestock feeding over the entire country; the increased use as an adjunct in beer malts; its possibilities for heavy consumption by distillers in making whiskey; its potentialities as food for human consumption; for starch manufacture, and an ever-increasing number of other uses.

It is of utmost importance that the right varieties of grain sorghums be planted in their best adapted areas. Education has done much to bring about this result during the past five years. Our eminent plant breeders work unceasingly on this problem. They have done and are doing invaluable work in bringing out new varieties and improving old ones to fit the needs of our farmers and of industrial markets.

Development of industries in the midst of the nation's greatest grain sorghum producing area is a logical method of promoting a vast new and sound economy for the great Texas sorghum grain crop, a program of development through which all our people and businesses may benefit.

Potentials Enumerated
To mention them briefly, some of the potentials of grain sorghum processing belong to the distilling and brewing industries. Potential products other than those just intimated are fuel alcohol, synthetic rubber, starches, foods, sorghum oil, dyes, acids, and a juice which contains sucrose, glucose, fructose, starch, pectins, and gum.

Of major importance in considering the potentialities of the grain sorghum crop is the desirability of the establishment of a "Grain Sorghum Feeding Belt" fully comparable to the corn belt. The possible multiple uses of grain sorghum industrially and the obvious possibilities of a "Texas Grain Sorghum Feeding Belt" give us two outstanding industries of potential grain sorghum consumption. In fact, livestock can consume much of what might otherwise be waste from some grain sorghum industrial processes, as: Production of alcohol.

We have vast acres ideally suited to grain sorghum, cotton, roughage, hay and pasture. Grain sorghums are highly comparable to corn in feeding value; our climate is ideal for feeding—superior to the cold of the corn belt. Population trend favors a growing market for quality meat in Texas and the Southwest. We can finish cattle here and profit. The development of such an industry would multiply our number of hides leading to tanneries in turn leading to shoes and other leather goods manufacturers, leading into a long chain of potential and reasonable Texas industrial developments.

Distilling — Motor Fuel
Prior to World War II, grain sorghums were only used to a limited extent in the distilling industry. Its use during the war was so successful that many grain distillers have accepted the grain sorghums as one of the standard grains for the production of alcohol and grain spirits. One problem confronting distillers in processing mlo is the condition in which the grain is received. It is contaminated with dirt, weed seeds and sand, which requires considerable cleaning. This problem, when considerable processing activity appears, may itself lead to additional industries in the field of grain sorghum usages.

Concerning production of motor fuels from grain sorghums, Dr. W. J. Hale, president of the National Agrol Company, says that grain sorghums have a promising future of fuel and that ethyl alcohol from grain sorghums holds the key to the future of fuel for internal combustion motors. Alcohol has a high octane rating and will not knock under burning. Furthermore, when it is used in dilution with water, in a somewhat modified motor, there will be registered a higher efficiency of said motor—double that of today. In brief, ethyl alcohol is the fuel par excellence for the auto, the airplane and the rocket. Hale further says that as alcohol comes into its own, there will be need of many alcohol plants—possibly five hundred equally distributed throughout the country, and yielding about three billions of gallons of ethyl alcohol per year. Even this is only enough to permit of a 10 percent blend of alcohol in gasoline—a type of fuel much better than ordinary gasoline, and one that will permit an eight to one comparison ration, and thus make possible a 50 percent greater mileage per gallon of fuel over the mileage obtained with gasoline alone.

Concerning potentials of producing breads from whole grain sorghums, suffice it to say that flour can be readily milled from such varieties as hegar, kafir and mlo. Work has been done by the Home Economics Division of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, to determine the palatability and utility of this flour in breads and pastries. All who tasted the culinary products during the tests pronounced them to be very palatable.

We conclude that though few processing plants are yet in operation to produce the many items we have mentioned concerning grain sorghums, research is giving us information concerning the startling possibilities in the field, and West Texas, the leading grain sorghums producing area of the leading grain sorghums producing state of the nation, faces a bright future.

Wayne (Red) Smith, manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, was in Plainview last Friday conferring with Raymond Lee Johns, branch manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, about Brownfield's participation in the proposed $4 billion dollar Canadian River Dam project. Johns said that, as of March 21, Brownfield was definitely assured participation.

Domestic and economic justification briefs of why each particular city will need water from the project are to be presented at the hearing on the bill in the US Senate April 15, Johns told Smith. Although a few of the cities participating in the project are not immediately in need of the water, some of the towns are in dire need.

The project will not be a federal project, but will be owned by the different towns participating. Each town will have one board member representing them in the association, and the towns will repay the federal government over a period of years for the dam.

Towns participating are Brownfield, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Littlefield, Levelland, Lubbock, Slaton, Plainview, Amarillo, Pampa and Borger.

Two Old Timers Meet and Blow Off

A. Y. Edwards was in last week from Tokio to get his Herald up for another year of reading, and naturally we got to talking about old times out here on the Plains. He came to Lynn county in 1906 and we to Terry three years later.

We remembered that we had seen him over there on occasion, and asked if he ever worked for Vinson Coal, Grain and Wagon yard. He had. And he worked for other firms that we remembered.

Finally the conversation drifted to J. E. Stokes, pioneer hotel man of Tahoka. He mentioned that Stokes disappeared quite mysteriously, and had never been heard from, although some leads were run down with no results.

This had simply been forgotten by the writer, but it all came back when he mentioned it. We also remember that his son, Joe, married a Miss Gladys Congdon in the lobby of the old Hill Hotel here about 1910.

Joe later was elected county judge of Lynn county, but died rather young. His widow still lives in Tahoka. Mr. Edwards stated.

Announcement

I take this method of announcing my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Terry county, subject to the action of the voters at Democratic primary July 22.

I am 37 years old and have lived in Terry county for the past 33 years, having been reared by a pioneer southwestern Terry county family. I am married and have five children. I am a taxpayer of our county. I know I am qualified to perform the duties of the office satisfactorily and efficiently, and if I am elected I will do my very best to be fair to all and show no special privileges to none.

I hope to see every voter between now and the time of the primary. However, if I should fail to see any one, I want your vote. Your vote and influence will be greatly appreciated.

Yours respectfully,

Fascinating Fashions By Judy Seaton

Although the short "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" coiffure seems to have a strong hold on fashionable femininity these days, there have been murmurs lately that long hair may be coming back. Both lengths have their advantages; certainly the smart short bob suits the piquant new "flapper" fashions so reminiscent of the fabulous Twenties. Practical considerations, too, make it popular. It's about the easiest hair style to take care of that's come along in ages.

Naturally curly hair, like that of Mary Jane Higby, is particularly suited to this style. Mary Jane, who stars in the NBC daytime drama, "When A Girl Marries," has her hair trimmed in a soft feather bob, and keeps it always impeccably groomed. "A light, fragrant pomade to brush over short locks is a real boon to the brief bob and all that's needed to keep it in place," Mary Jane says.

On the opposite side of the fence is Rosemary Rice, blonde young actress currently featured in the CBS-TV drama, "Mama." Rose-

Soil Conservation District Planning

According to an extended report from Riley Carlton, the Cochran-Yoakum-Terry Soil Conservation is busy planning in many ways to help farmers of the area get their land in shape for contouring, terracing, etc. A great number of them were presented for approval. At a recent meeting at Plains, there was a number of applications for farm planning.

Then too, there was a great number mentioned that had finished their farm plans. Several others had made application for engineering and laying out their farms for terrace lines, etc. The idea of soil conservation and better farming methods seem to be catching on at a rapid rate in this section of Texas.

As a result, many farmers tell us that their farms have blown less this year than ever before, the amount of windy days and velocity of it considered. Along with this has come many requests to retire from cultivation certain classes of land, presumably the sandier soils.

Cover crops are to be planted on them, and grasses suited to the soil will be sown this summer or fall. We note that at least one irrigation farmer had several thousand feet of concrete tile installed to facilitate irrigation and at the same time conserve water.

Along with other improved farm methods, none seem to get better hand from the farmer audience than deep breaking. In Mr. Carlton's report he says that Roy and Pete Golden of the Union community first broke land to a depth of 14 inches in 1945.

We agree that was when the area really began to take hold, but some land just a mile west of town on the now Arthur Sawyer place, was deep broken, using a road tractor way back sometime in the twenties. But farmers neither had the tractor power they have now, nor the late model plow, so the idea fell into disuse.

Don't Forget the Census Man's Coming

Coming to Terry county and Brownfield all on one and the same date, the census taker and "all fools day." And may we make a slight gesture, we hope some April showers as well. But the main thing is to let's all get in the count. Remember Brownfield has doubled its population every ten years since it became an organized city in 1924.

But all of us will have to get in line and answer to roll call if we have over 8,018 this time. In 1930 we had some over 1900, and in 1940 we had 4009. All hands and the cook will have to be counted if we get double or nothing this time.

Here's one thing that is going to knock us hard this time. We should have sent off to Kears & Sawbuck for a "killidge" as all our college youths will be counted in the town or city where they attend college, whether or not they ever intend to make that their home. So you'll just have to forget Jasper and Jane, who are off to Collegeville.

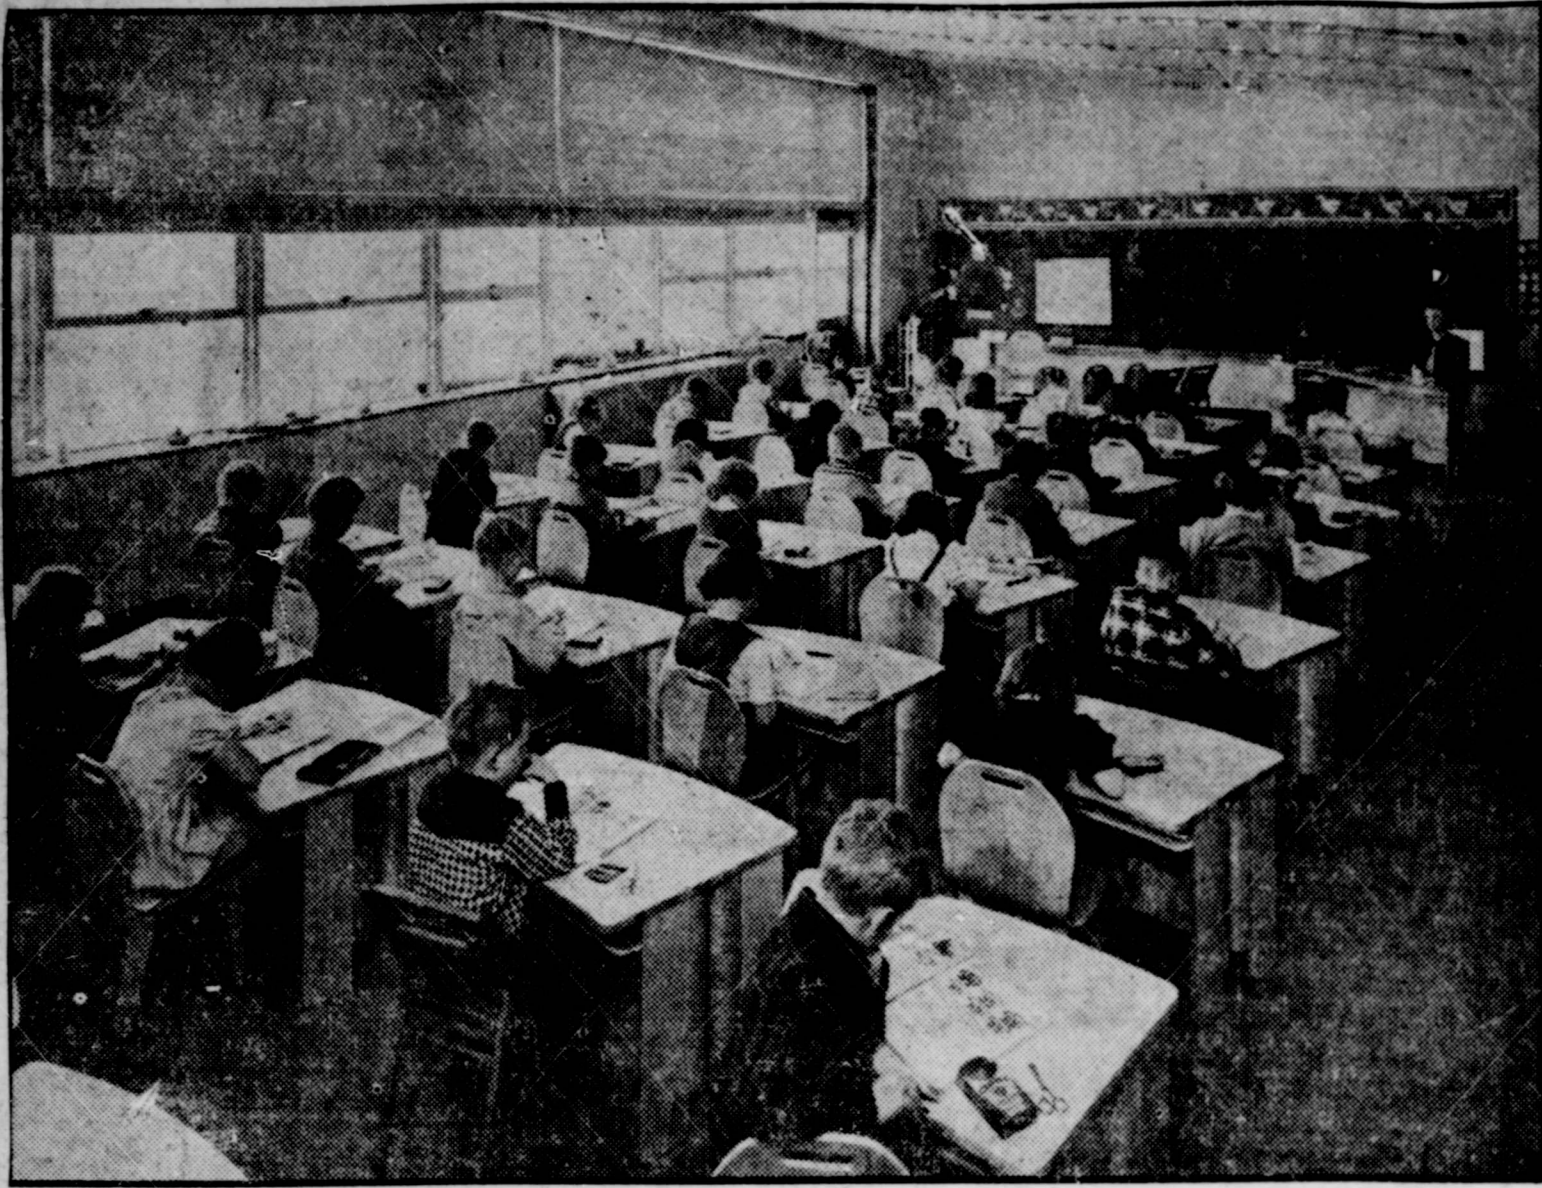

This leads us to wonder if Aunt Hannah, who happens to be visiting for six or nine months in Hackensack, New Jersey, will be counted there or in the place she calls home?

This was probably a move of the chambers of commerce for the college towns to show up a big population at the expense of the towns the kids really call home.

VISIT IN SWEETWATER

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nelson were in Sweetwater Tuesday night visiting Mrs. K. M. Camp and daughter.

Mrs. Camp's husband, a salesman for Behrens Drug of Lubbock for almost 20 years, died of a heart attack in Snyder Saturday.

"LITTLE RED SCHOOLHOUSE" GOES MODERN—A far cry from the rustic schoolhouse of Grandpa's day is this first grade classroom in Munster, Ind. Youngsters sit on posture-training chairs and use individual plastic-topped desks. The "blackboard" is made of green glass to reduce eyestrain. Easy on the eyes, too, is the lighting system—a glass wall with white basswood blinds to control sunlight, and sloped ceiling with recessed fluorescent lighting. Despite the innovations, crayons and scissors are still standard equipment for the youngsters.

WATCH YOUR STEP, MARIE — Somebody ought to remind comic Jerry Lewis, left, that he's on hand to snap Marie Wilson's picture some time before the train pulls out of Hollywood station. If he doesn't hurry up the train will be 10 miles out of the station before he can focus the camera.

Report Given On FFA State Meet

The local FFA contest teams left on Thursday for the state contest. They stayed the first night in Fort Worth. The second day they arrived in Hunstville where the state leadership contest is held.

After participating in the quiz and farm skill demonstration all members visited the homes of Sam Houston and the Sam Houston memorial. They saw relics of Santa Anna and Sam Houston. That evening all drove to the big city of Houston and stayed two hours in Playland.

On Sunday morning the group stopped for church at Giddings, and proceeded from there to Austin. All decided to climb to the top of the capitol, then visit the senate chamber. That afternoon the three teams visited the reptile gardens, zoo and three museums in San Antonio. The Monday morning before leaving for Brownfield all decided to visit the Alamo and the old Mexican village.

Each of these places visited were very interesting. Only one of the ten boys had been to most of the places of interest that were visited by all members of the group.

Club Members Study White House Ladies

Mrs. A. C. Greer was hostess when the Alpha Omega Study club met in the Seleta Jane Brownfield club house March 28. Program chairman was Mrs. Coleman Williams. "Women in the White House" was the theme. Mrs. Jerry Kirschner compared Dolly Madison to Bess Truman, which Mrs. Zeb Moore gave.

Strawberry shortcake and coffee were served to Mesdames A. J. Geron, E. C. Gerstenberger, Jack Hamilton, Wayne C. Hill, R. E. Klotfanda, Arlie Lowrimore, W. T. McKinney, Robert Noble, George O'Neal, V. L. Patterson, Truett Flache, Williams, Kirschner, Moore and Greer.

Bob Brown and John Wall attended the funeral of John Murphy in Mineral Wells last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy and family of Rankin visited in the Walter Skiles home last Wednesday.

SCOUTS CONTINUE CERAMIC WORK

Girl Scout Troop 6 met at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the Girl Scout Little House.

They completed work on the roses and leaves to put on their ceramic heart pieces.

Those present were Lynn Cary, Barbara Chesshir, Wanda Cornelius, Betty Dawson, Josephine Grissom, Beverly Isaacs, Nancy Sue King, Donna Jane Newsom, Melba Willis, Jeanna Cook, Beverly Brown, Linda Sutherland and Ann Griggs. Mrs. Margery Moorhead, leader, was also present.

CORPORATION CHARTERS SIX MILLION IN FEBRUARY

Charters were granted to 329 firms with a capitalization of $6,032,000 in February 1950 as compared with 368 charters issued in January with a capitalization of $6,393,000, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

A total of 250 charters were issued in February 1949. Totaling 73, merchandising firms received the greatest number of charters; followed by real estate, 64; manufacturing, 21; construction, 19; oil, 11; and banking and finance 6.

Corporations with a capitalization of $5,000 to $100,000 received 160 charters in February. Businesses with a capitalization of less than $5,000 totaled 92 charters, and 11 charters were issued to firms with a capitalization over $100,000.

SHARK LEAPS INTO BOAT

MELBOURNE—(AP)—When a 18½ foot shark leaped into their small fishing dinghy, two men and a woman fought it for 10 minutes before killing it. Fred Gay finally killed the shark by hitting it on the head with the tiller. Neither Gay, Douglas Miller nor Miss Edna Martin were seriously injured by the shark's threshing tail and snapping jaws. Said Miss Martin: "I'll never go fishing again."

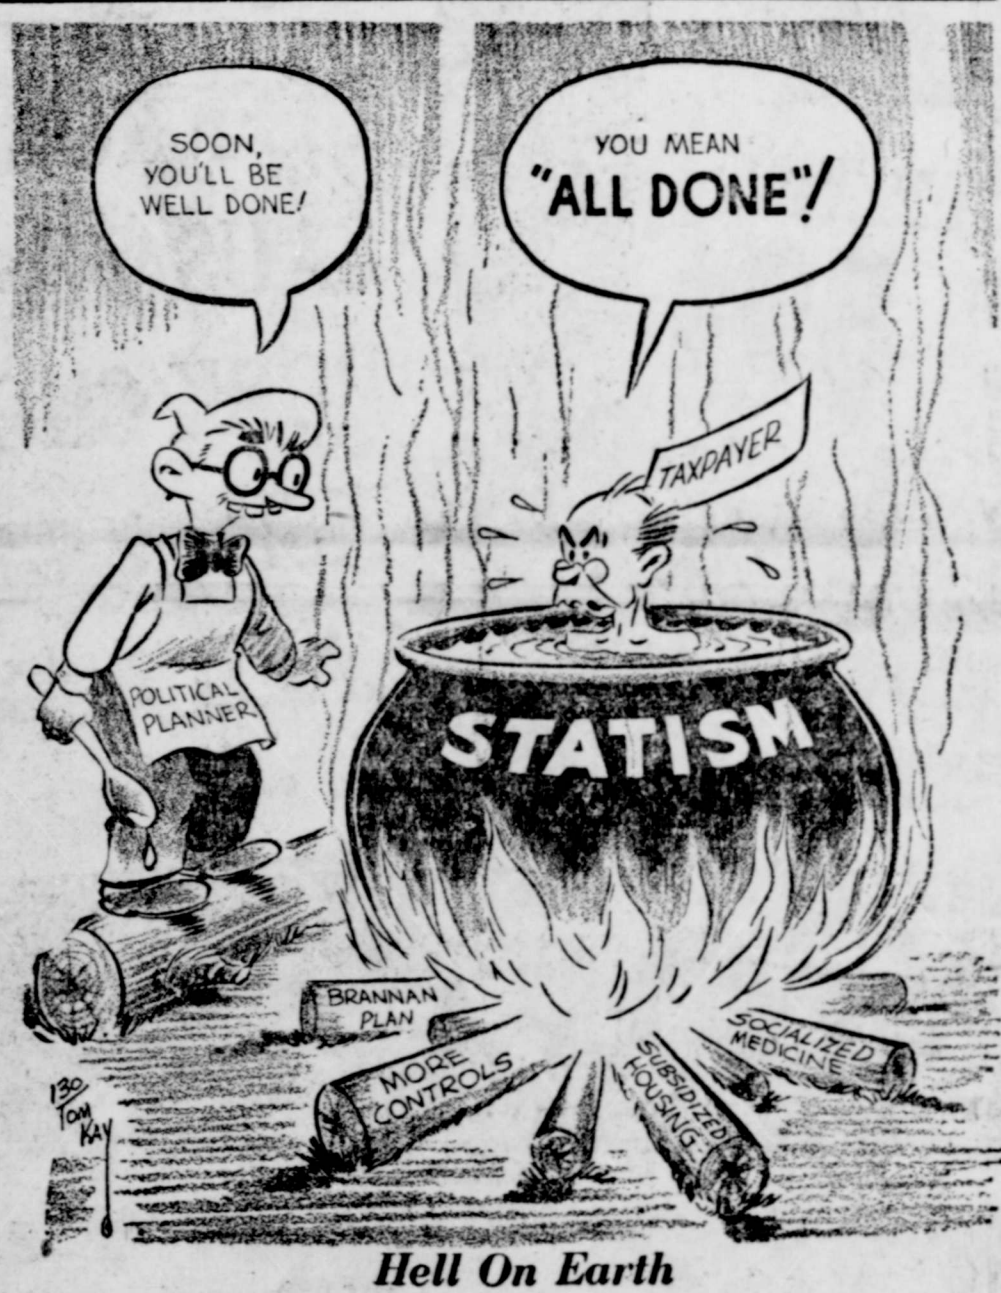

Mr. and Mrs. George O'Neal and Don visited Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Schmidt in Lamesa Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Scott of Muleshoe are here visiting their son, Joe H. Scott and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Howell of Meadow visited Mr. and Mrs. Tobe Helms Sunday.

Iowa produces more chickens and eggs than any other state.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—After I mailed my last NSLI premium by postal note, I realized that I had failed to identify myself on the note. What shall I do now?

A—You should write to VA at once giving the amount of the postal note, the date and post office from which it was mailed as well as your name, address and policy number. In future premium payments on postal notes, you should make sure you write your name and address clearly on the back of the note and your policy number on the front.

Q—My husband who is now totally disabled, received a bad conduct discharge. Is he barred from receiving benefits from VA because he was not honorably discharged?

A—Under existing legislation it is not necessary for a veteran to have an honorable discharge in order to be awarded VA benefits. It is, however, necessary that the discharge be under conditions other than dishonorable.

Q—I am at present receiving $15 monthly compensation. If I become permanently and totally disabled for causes not due to service, will I be entitled to non-service pension?

A—Yes. Payment will be made to you under the benefit paying the higher amount, if you are otherwise eligible.

Q—I have been disabled ever since my discharge from the Army two years ago, but only recently did I make application for compensation. If VA allows my claim, will payment be made retroactive to date of my discharge?

A—No. The general rule with reference to the effective date of award of compensation is that it becomes effective as of the date of the application. If application is filed within one year from date of discharge, the award may be made retroactive to date of discharge.

NEW RADAR TUBE HAS ENERGY
NEW YORK—(AP)—Engineers call one of their latest tube products a "graphophon" because it has what they describe as a "visual memory." It has the ability to store radar or other electric signals for more than a minute for laboratory observation. Ordinarily such phenomena fade off the screen of the tube in a few seconds.

FIREMEN FIRED WITH ENERGY
EAST MOLINE, Ill.—(AP)—Firemen were on their way to the station from a false alarm when they sniffed smoke. They stopped, got down and doused a fire in the brake section of the fire truck.

TEXAS CANDIDATES MUST TAKE LOYALTY OATH
CORSIKANA, Tex.—(AP)—Candidates for various offices in the Democratic primaries this summer must take loyalty oaths.

This was pointed out here by John C. Calhoun, chairman of the State Democratic Executive committee.

In taking the oath they swear they believe in our present representative form of government and will resist any effort or movement from any source which seeks to subvert or destroy it.

COLD STORAGE—Freezing Manhattan weather provides outdoor cold storage for a 20-pound lobster brought in from a fishing trip about 100 miles southeast of New York. The giant lobster is displayed by Joe Sullivan, crew member of the fishing boat Felicia.

FLYING NEWS AND VIEWS
By EDWIN E. DUNCAN

Eldon Baggett flew down to Possum Kingdom dam Saturday morning in the Piper Cruiser. He remained for a week-end of fishing.

Roy (Pete) Harris flew to Denver City Friday morning to return a Cessna 140 to R. M. Gillett who had left his plane at the local field for an annual inspection.

Roy D. Harris and R. C. Harris flew to Lubbock on business Thursday afternoon in the Stinson.

Gene Dobbs flew in from Marshall, Texas, Thursday of last week in a Cessna 140. Among those he visited here in Brownfield were Milton Bell and family. Thursday afternoon was spent giving airplane rides, and Friday morning Mr. Dobbs took off for his return trip home.

A flying evangelist, Rev. Barnett, of Dallas, landed at the field Thursday of last week in a Stinson Voyager. He was in this section in regard to business in Seagraves.

Gordon MacRae, recently making a personal appearance at the Strand Theatre, in New York City, has been besieged by autograph seekers every time he sets foot outside the stage door.

MacRae, who is star of NBC's "Railroad Hour," is also the star of a new movie, "Backfire," playing at the Globe, another New York theatre. His most enthusiastic fan was the youngster who asked him at the Strand stage door—to hurry up and sign her autograph book, so she could get over to the Globe in time to catch the next performance of his picture!

Robin Morgan, who plays Dagmar in the CBS-TV period comedy-drama, "Mama," has just been catapulted into a hobby she claims she'll never give up. Four weeks ago, a scene in "Mama" necessitated a stamp album and stamps as a part of the props. After the program was over, eight-year-old Robin was given the props and by now is a confirmed philatelist, writing all her friends all over the world for additions to her ready-made collection.

Bart Robinson, who plays Walter Manning, husband of "Portia," the lovely attorney, in the NBC daytime drama, "Portia Faces Life," received his favorite fan letter the other day. In the script Bart, as Walter, has been on trial for murder and, after much suspense, Portia finally succeeds in proving his innocence.

The fan wrote that she had known all along who really committed the crime, but "I was so sure Portia would get you off, I decided not to say anything unless I had to."

Elizabeth Watson, of MBS's "Juvenile Jury," was visiting a neighbor who had just added a brand new baby girl to her family. As seven-year-old Elizabeth's favorite fiction character at the moment is "Snow White," the neighbor said that she supposed that was what Elizabeth would have named the baby. "No," answered the little girl, as she watched the squalling, very pinkish infant, "I'd call this one 'Rose Red!'"

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He
A down east joker says that a bank is a place where they lend you an umbrella in fair weather, but when it rains they want the umbrella back. That may be true down east brother, but out here the reverse is true. The minute the showers stop and the drought starts they want their umbrella.

You can't always judge by size. Sometimes a man can be found under a woman's thumb nail.

Trouble always exceeds demands. There always seems to be a surplus of trouble.

A lot of us poor but honest folks spend so much of our time trying to hide the secret that we are poor we can't live within our income.

Frequently we find that our train of thoughts are all empty box cars.

A governess explained why she left her last job. "A backward child with a forward father."

Why is it when you ask a guy out here when it is going to rain, he always takes a gander at the sky, then answers: "I don't know."

Eddie Warren of the Post Dispatch does something else than gaze in the shop windows up and down main street. He has come up with a brief, very brief, income tax form to replace the bungleome No. 1040. Here 'tis: How much did you make last year? How much were your exemptions? Anything left? If so, send it in.

Some brain cells still working: A Panhandle judge tried three boys for juvenile delinquency, and gave them suspended sentences. He then sentenced the father of one of the boys for 90 days for contributing to juvenile delinquency.

Our mistake: Headline in the Andrews County News: "Baptist Raise Money For Electric Chair." Another look, and the "chair" turned out to be "chimes."

Old men see visions and young men dream dreams in reverse. Old men dream of success. Young men see the visions.

Here's one example: Uncle Harry Truman with no tax to pay on his income, makes more clear money than his millionaire friends.

Seagraves finally got its school district name changed. For almost the duration from organization of Gaines county it has been known as the Blythe County Line District, as it took in part of Terry and a bit of Yoakum county.

The Seminole Sentinel incorrectly states that it was thus named when the railroad came to Seagraves about 1915. The railroad reached Brownfield in July 1917. It was either late that year or early 1918 when the rails reached Seagraves.

By the way, we'll bet there are a lot of newcomers, some not so new that don't know that Seminole once had a railroad that came up from Midland. It got to Seminole about the time or just prior to the time we got our railroad.

But the road bed was poor, the ties being poles, cedar posts or discarded cross-ties from east Texas, and steel rails from old sawmill roads in the timber belt, that the road was abandoned two or three years later. We never saw the road, but could have as we were in Seminole late in 1917. The depot was about a mile from town, and we didn't drive down there. We believe it was known as Midland Northern.

But back to Blythe. It was an old ranch postoffice and store for years and later had a one teacher school. But Mr. Seagraves was one of the Santa Fe high moguls of the time, and the little terminal was named for him.

While on the subject of railroads, Ropes, Meadow, Brownfield and Seagraves got their road not only during the worst drought ever witnessed in these parts by white people at least, but right during World War I. Lucky for us, the plans were made and material brought by the Santa Fe before the war started, or we might not have had a railroad until up in the twenties.

We are cutting this affair pretty slim this week, as we can think of nothing else much except the raging sandstorm that has been blowing now for two days and nights.

The weatherman says the first part of the program was a low pressure area that developed in the northwest. And the finale, they say, was another low pressure that developed down in old Mexico, sending the barometer to new lows for some time.

As a result they look for cyclones in various sections of the USA.

TOO MUCH THINKING TO BE A DEMOCRAT

The author of the following is unknown to us, but this little rhyme registers our passing it on:
Father, must I go to work?
No, my lucky son,
We're living on Easy Street
On dough from Washington.
We've left it up to Uncle Sam,
So don't get exercised,
Nobody has to give a damn—
We've all been subsidized.
But if Sam treats us all so well
And feeds us milk and honey,
Please, daddy, tell us what
The hell
He's going to use for money?
Don't worry, bub, there's not a hitch

In this here noble land—
He simply soaks the filthy rich
And helps the common man.
But, father, won't there come a time
When they run out of cash—
And we have left them not a dime
When things will go to smash?
My faith in you is shrinking,
son,
You nosy little brat,
You do too damn much thinking, son,
To be a Democrat.

Bennie Ruth Wartes Bride of C. H. Bush

Miss Bennie Ruth Wartes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Wartes, became the bride of Charles H. Bush Jr., son of Mrs. C. H. Bush Sr. of Tulsa, Okla., in a single ring ceremony at 4 p.m. March 24. The Rev. A. A. Brian performed the marriage in the home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a blue suit with beige and pink accessories. She carried blue iris and pink roses on a white Bible. For something old, she wore a garter belonging to her sister, Beverly Ann Wartes, and something new was a pair of pearl earrings. She wore a string of pearls belonging to her mother, and had a lucky penny in her shoe.

Mrs. Marie Mason of Midland was matron of honor. She wore a gray suit with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Pre-nuptial selections were played by Mrs. Jeanne Mayes. She also played "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "To Each His Own" while Beverly Ann Wartes, sister of the bride, and James Singleton of Seagraves, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles.

Dwayne R. Witherspoon served as best man.

The room was decorated with yellow gladiolus, tied with blue ribbons, and greenery placed around the window before which the vows were exchanged. Candalaria flanked the window.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with ecru lace over green and was centered with the wedding cake, decorated with green and yellow, topped with a miniature bridal couple. Mrs. J. F. Singleton, aunt of the bride, served punch and Mrs. Robert Hamm, also an aunt of the bride, served cake.

After a wedding trip to San Angelo, the couple is at home at 19 W. Cardwell.

Out of town guests were present from Ralls, Seagraves, Midland and O'Donnell.

Mrs. Bush is a graduate of Brownfield high school, and attended Texas Technological college for two years. She is a cashier at Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co. The groom graduated from Tulsa high school and attended Tulsa University. He is permit agent for the Texas Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jenkins and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Carter and daughter of Hobbs, N. M., visited Mr. and Mrs. John Bradley in Friona over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Browder and Mrs. Kenneth Threet visited Norwood Browder in Pecos Sunday.

Shower Honored Mrs. R. N. Lowe

Mrs. R. N. Lowe, the former Gertrude Jones, was complimented with a miscellaneous bridal shower Thursday, March 23, in the home of Mrs. O. L. Stice. Other hostesses were Mesdames A. J. Stricklin Jr., Roy Collier, Raymond Reynolds and Shorty Forbus.

The honoree's chosen colors of yellow and white were carried out in decorations throughout the house. An arrangement of yellow gladiolus and acacia decorated the mantle.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Stice, the honoree, Mrs. T. L. Lowe, Miss Sue Jones, and Mrs. J. C. Jennings.

The tea table was laid with yellow net over yellow satin, and featured an arrangement of white stock and sweetpeas and acacia, with a cupid's bow and arrow concealed among the flowers. White tapers in crystal holders flanked the centerpiece. Mrs. Wilson Collins and Mrs. Madeline Holder presided at the silver tea service.

Miss Margaret Goza registered approximately 100 guests between the hours of 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Mesdames Doug Lowe, Stricklin and Forbus displayed the gifts.

Roswell Ceremony Performed March 18

Miss Vicki Lynn Walker of Mt. Pleasant and Billy Jack Little of Wellman were married in Roswell, N. M., March 18. The ceremony was performed in the First Baptist church at Fifth and Pennsylvania by the minister of the church, Rev. Frank Dulaney.

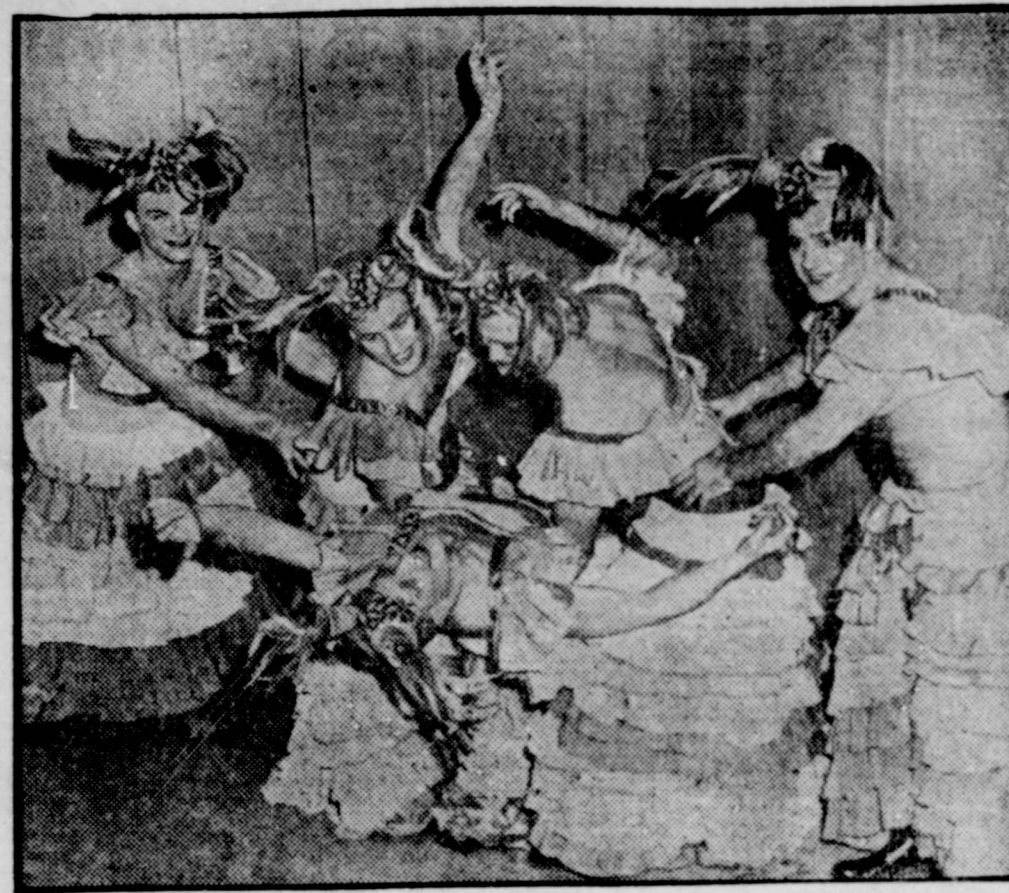

The bride is the daughter of T. O. Walker of Lamesa, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Little of Wellman.

For her wedding, the bride chose a navy blue crepe dress, with navy accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

Mrs. B. G. Little, sister-in-law of the groom, was matron of honor. She wore a powder blue pique dress with white accessories, and a red rose corsage.

Best man was Bobby Gene Little, brother of the groom.

Also present at the wedding were Edna Earle Walker of Lamesa, sister of the bride, and Doyle Crowder of Wellman. The couple left immediately following the ceremony for a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M. They are at home in Brownfield, where the groom is a cement contractor.

Betrothal of Miss Overman Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. John Overman announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Ruth, to Alton Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Martin, on April 14.

Both Miss Overman and Mr. Martin are graduates of Brownfield high school. He attended Texas Technological college for one year, and is now employed at Shamburger Lumber Co.

Mrs. J. L. Moore Hostess to Guild

The Presbyterian Women's Guild met in the home of Mrs. J. L. Moore at 2:30 p.m. Monday. Mrs. Phil Gaasch presided.

Mrs. A. M. Muldrow gave the devotional, and reviewed the 21st chapter through the 25th chapter of "The Greatest Story Ever Told." Detailed plans were made for entertaining the Abilene Presbyterian meeting to be held here April 24.

Coffee and ice box pie were served to Mesdames R. E. Klondanda, L. E. Hamilton, L. L. Bechtol, W. B. Brown, J. M. Teague, A. H. Pierce, Muldrow, J. Preston Mruphy, Gaasch and a visitor, Mrs. Doyle Grogan of Wichita, Kans.

MRS. STERLING IS HOSTESS AT COFFEE

Mrs. Curtis Sterling was hostess to the Alathian Sunday school class of the First Baptist church at a coffee March 23.

Coffee, cakes, mints and cookies were served to Mesdames Charles Yoast, Andrew Cooper, Joe Plemmons, Jake Geron, Vernon Townes, Bill Liles, Thurman King, Jack Ruark, Archie Waddell, and K. D. Miller.

Shower Honored Mrs. B. Smith

Mrs. Bernarr Smith was complimented with a pink and blue shower March 24 at the Esquire restaurant. Hostesses were Mesdames Carl May, J. F. Anderson, W. M. Lewis, Vernon Townes, and J. D. Mitchell.

The room was decorated with bowls of pink and blue carnations. Lime sherbet and cake were served to about 440 guests who called during the afternoon.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Roy Parks and a Mrs. Meadow of Lubbock, and Mrs. Hubert Lewis and a Mrs. Mentley and daughter from Snyder.

HOPE CIRCLE MET WITH MRS. GLICK

Final plans for the house beautiful tour which the group will sponsor April 5 were made when Hope circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church met in the home of Mrs. Bill Glick Mar. 23.

The Rev. H. L. Thurston gave the lesson from the "Methodist Primer."

There were thirteen members present.

LAS AMIGAS CLUB MET WITH MRS. CLEVELAND

Mrs. Jack Cleveland was hostess to Las Amigas Bridge club when it met March 22.

A salad plate and iced tea were served to Mesdames Harlan Glenn, Clovis Kendrick, Gordon Richardson, J. T. Hoy, Tom Harris, Frank Ballard, Burton Hackney, O. L. Stice, Lal Copeland, John Portwood, E. L. Sturgess and Glen Akers.

High prize went to Mrs. Richardson, and Mrs. Harris was second high. Binges went to Mrs. Hackney and Mrs. Harris.

Gee Gee's Chit Chat

Well, at least, up to date, we haven't had a tornado. Everything else but that has blown by, though. Weather is stinking period.

All set for the House Beautiful tour next Wednesday? Well, get your ticket from some member of the Hope Circle in the First Methodist church and come on. Even if you don't like to look at houses, the lecture to be given by James Pinson, interior decorator with Decorator's Studio from Lubbock should be very interesting. And if you don't like to listen to lectures, either, you can go along and amuse yourself by murmuring, "Filthy housekeeper, eh what?" Proceeds from sale of tickets to the lecture and tour will go for establishing an infant nursery in the church. It's a very worthy cause, and I think you'll enjoy the lecture and tour immensely.

Come Saturday, April 1, George O'Neal, who is crew leader for the census enumeration in Terry county, will send his recruits out to knock on your door and ask you several pertinent questions. Here's hoping that you will co-operate with these enumerators by answering their questions accurately and kindly. George was telling me the other day that questionnaires have been mailed out to farmers in the county for agricultural information, and he asked that we stress the importance of filling in the questionnaire concerning the 1949 harvest of the land he now controls. In other words, if you lived 10 miles down the road, best way, please fill out your questionnaire on that land and not the land you are farming now, and leave it where your wife can find it. This is very important in collecting all of the correct data for the 1950 census.

Today (Friday) is the last day of the 1950 Terry County American Red Cross fund campaign. Unless some sort of miracle happens, I am about to set a good raking over the coals from u-no-hoo because it's such a sad flop, since I talked him into serving as fund chairman. Anyway, I'd like to thank Herman Chesshir, who served as fund chairman, and all of the other workers and the people who did contribute to the drive. Special thanks go to the Brownfield school board, Superintendent S. P. Cowan, Principal O. R. Douglas, band director Richard Young and his fine junior and senior band and chorus who made the benefit concert possible. Thanks, also, to the J. e. of the Herald who printed our tickets for the concert, an d to all the workers in the outlying districts who devoted their time and efforts to the drive. Also Charlie Didway, publicity chairman, and all the fellows and gal at KTFY. And if I've missed any of you, I'm sorry.

Comes now April Fool's Day. Better batten down your hatches, etc. Far be it from me to encourage vandalism, but with the fly season coming on, here's hoping the pranksters put all the out-houses where they can't ever be found again.

With Easter only a fraction more than a week away, be sure to mail your money for your Easter seals to the Executive secretary of the Terry County Crippled Childrens Association. That's Ruth Huckabee over at the first National Bank. And also make plans to attend the Brownfield Community Chrous' presentation of "The Seven Last Words of Christ" at 3 p.m. in the high school auditorium next Friday, April 7.

Did you ever try eating one salted peanut and stopping? Well, Richard, that's why I simply glare at you 'these' days when you leave only a handful of bills and the Police Gazette in my mailbox. I got a fan letter Monday of this week, and now I want more. Which is just another way of proving that a woman is never satisfied, huh?

Well, 'tis better to have tried and failed than to never have tried at all. I always say. Is that a broad enough hint, or do I have to crown you with a baseball bat?

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Machen and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Quentin visited Mr. and Mrs. Murry Machen and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Machen in Oton over the week end.

Mrs. A. E. McCarter of Andrews visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wall, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Marchbanks spent the week end in Lubbock visiting Mr. and Mrs. Rich Marchbanks.

CHALLIS NEWS

Mrs. E. E. Zinn, Brother Vance Zinn and wife visited with Mr. and Mrs. Lence Price Sunday afternoon. Also visiting the Prices were Miss Abbie Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Red Moore of Sweetwater. Mrs. Virgil Kinard visited with Mrs. W. J. Henderson Thursday afternoon. Miss Wanda Langford spent the week end with her folks Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Langford.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Stevens and family visited Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Bagwell Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Henderson visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Henderson Sunday.

Melvin Carroll and Jessie Lee Upton of Meadow visited Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Carroll Sunday.

Brother Earl Fort of Wayland college will be with us this week end. We cordially invite all to attend our service Saturday night, April 1, at 7:30. We are glad to report that Miss Ella Howard and Mrs. Lence Price are some better and sincerely hope they will be well soon. Mrs. Lula Lewis is home from Mineral Wells where she has been taking treatments.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gage visited her mother, Mrs. S. J. Billings, and her sister, Mrs. Earl Chester in Sudan Sunday.

Most of our readers have either read or heard of "Law West of the Pecos." The Dallas News is now running a series of true stories that might be entitled "Injustice at Lockhart, Texas." The story is that an Austin couple traveling in the Lockhart area one night ran into a mule on the highway. In the neighborhood lived an old German-American and his wife, supposed owners of the mule that was violating the law by running at large on the highway. The Austin couple sued the old man, who had by hard labor and economy saved around $3,000, so they might live without dependence on the state after they were too old to work. The old fellow was summoned to appear in court, and drove the 25 miles into Lockhart, but the district clerk informed him that there was no court being held that day. The old gentleman gave the clerk his name and address to notify him, when court did set. As the old man could neither read nor write English, he was so ignorant of the laws of Texas that he failed to see a lawyer. When his case came to trial, he had not been notified, and the fact that Hagedorn failed to appear, the court ruled that he was guilty of neglect in keeping his livestock off the highway. He also sustained the $3,000 suit for damages claimed by the plaintiff. The first the old man knew of the matter was that his bank account at Lockhart had been garnished. It then developed that the old man did not own the mule, but that it belonged to his son on another farm, who had nothing with which to pay damages. The judge called another trial, and reversed his judgment. The court of civil appeals sustained him, but the Supreme Court of Texas voted 8 to 2 that the old man was guilty as charged, as he failed to appear in court. These are the same men who are such sticklers for technicalities, that they reversed the trial of a young hoodlum because the indictments failed to state the old woman was stomped to death "with his feet." And still another case where a man drowned his wife, but the indictment failed to state "drowned in water." Such things not only give the criminal every advantage under the law and justice, but it is causing people, good folks, to lose respect for the law. Our notion is that the people should read and inform themselves, and at every opportunity out from office a bunch of the men now composing the supreme court of Texas.

We have not said a lot about the value of advertising in these columns in some time. The reason is that we believe that Brownfield business men are at least the average on buying advertising space, if not a bit above the average. Anyway, we wish to drop some thoughts right here by asking a question. What mountain peak in Colorado have heard of most? Did you know that there were 26 other peaks in Colorado higher than Pike's Peak? One of them is 14,420, but Colorado Springs has used advertising unsparingly about Pike's Peak, and you remember it, and perhaps could not name another to save you. That city has spent money making the peak accessible to tourists. New Orleans has done the same by its Mardi Gras; San Antonio its Battle of Roses, and Pasadena its Rose Bowl, just to name a few. These dates and places have been kept before the people. Coming down to home, let us remember our own Merchants Harvest Festival an unknown quality three brief years ago. Now it is almost a must in this area, and gradually spreading over large sections of Texas and New Mexico. Very few merchants will expose their ignorance these days by making a statement that advertising does not pay. But advertising to pay must be systematic, persistent and regular.

We have examples of how planned economy works in most every home. One or more members of the family are told what they must or must not do. The selection of his clothing or food is not left up to him. If his food don't suit him, he can take it or leave it. The same plan goes for his clothes. If the member needs a physician, that is not left up to him; others make the decision for him. Any rebellion he may raise is quelled with the paddle. Of course the subject above is only a small fry of 3 years, we'll say. But the smart boys up at Washington want to extend this idea from the cradle to the grave. But take heed, the boss boys do not want regimentation to engulf themselves. They want absolute freedom from restraint. It is remarkable how the politician can rear back on his pastures and paint a glowing picture of the joys of welfare for all the folks when he gets into office. We are persuaded that some of these days the people are going to wake up and tell the politician that they prefer freedom, the same kind that their forefathers had, and for him to go jump in a lake.

Sometimes we fail or just simply refuse to see the other fellow's point of view. Suppose Jones, Brown or Smith are running a corner grocery. Or it could be John Doe of John Q. Public. His name doesn't matter. Let us say that the grocery is losing money, hardly thinkable in these days. The owner will either close his store or sell to some other sucker. On the other hand an organization of Smiths, Joneses and Browns, Bartovskys, Kahns and others build a line of railroad through Pikersville back some 40 years ago. There were no paved highways then; no bus and truck lines, and the little branch line did a good business. But when competition comes, the revenues that Pikersville pay the railroad do not pay to keep an agent there, or even for the train to stop. So, the managers of the little road go before the Railroad Commission and plead and beg to let them discontinue the agents and stops at Pikersville. But the two dozen denizens of Pikersville raise up in their wrath and indignantly demand that the commission force the railroad company to keep the agent and stop at their town, even if it do lose money. Is this doing unto others as you would wish them to do unto you?

Our president has made much of the prosperity of our people in his State of the Union speech. In fact he went on to predict that the average income would be $12,000 in a few brief years, providing of course the dealers kept charge of matters. What Mr. Truman played shy of mentioning was that the dollar just bought 57c worth of goods at present, and could by such business methods as are in vogue at present get to be as worthless as Chinese money. We admit that those who have had government props to help sustain prices, have fared well. They and the labor unions are the ones that are buying the new cars and building nice homes. It is not the little merchant, shop owner or white collar worker. This class is just about making both ends meet by practicing rigid frugality. In many instances, the white collar man's pay is just about what it was in 1941. Also, Mr. Truman did not tell his hearers and readers about the huge army of unemployed, which is constantly growing, and we do not mean strikers. It is the laid off people. To illustrate the point, some of the printer's journals that we get shows a constantly increasing number of applications for work. A year ago, there would be but few, and the columns wanting laborers are growing shorter proportionately. This shows which way the wind is blowing. We hope the drop is not too radical.

Will It Do the Trick, Sam?

The longer the human race lives upon this old earth; the more excavations the scientists make in ancient lands, the more the Bible is confirmed. On the other hand you hear less and less from agnostics. We older people will remember the fellow Swope, a teacher in Dayton, Tennessee schools, who tried under the new Tennessee anti-evolution laws. That great agnostic lawyer, the late Clarence Darrow of Chicago defended Swope, while the late William Jennings Bryan, thrice a candidate for president of the USA prosecuted. Once Darrow put Bryan on the stand, quizzed, and ridiculed him about the sun standing still while Joshua fought a battle. In the current issue of Readers Digest, a noted scientist practically confirms the Bible story. He also states that the phenomena was also confirmed by records that have been recently found in Egypt, Babylon and other ancient countries. But like all scientific men, he sees natural causes and not miracles, as such. Such for instance in the Bible account of waters of rivers turning to blood (reddish color). This, the author thinks was an old rusty comet that got too close to the earth, and the rust colored rivers. Also, the writer brought out the fact that up to some 750 B.C., there was only 360 days in a year. This of course in a few years, with the loss of 5-4 days would have changed the harvest time. But he goes on to say that evidently the orbit of the earth got into a new groove or track, and the time to circle the sun lengthened, and the years was changed to 365 1-4 days. We have heard smart people make fun of the idea that the sun goes around the earth, instead of the other way around. Yet, most of us still say the sun rises in the east and sets in the west. The Bible story about the earth and its people still stands unjarred by the world's critics.

Western Novels Attracted Tech Prof to United States

Zane Grey's rip-snorting novels of western life attracted Austrian-born Theodor Alexander to Texas and the friendly atmosphere of a Texas campus has held him here.

Alexander, now a foreign languages instructor at Texas Tech, came to America when he was 18, served in the army in World War II and came to Tech as a student after his discharge. "I thought Tech offered the most democratic form of education," he says in explaining his migration from Boston—his first port of call in America.

Alexander received the B. S. and M. S. degrees at Tech and became interested in teaching scientific German. He joined the faculty in 1947 and married Beatrice Witte, another Tech student.

He's glad now that he read those German translations of Grey's western novels. He also thinks the average American is too complacent about our way of life.

"American democracy is something to treasure, and I still get excited about it," he says.

IT'S EXASPERATING, ANYWAY

One spring day while driving along a back road in the hills of Arkansas and wondering at the phenomena of crops growing on the steep hillsides, a tourist noticed the struggling figure of a man in the road ahead of him. Thinking the man was hurt, the tourist jumped out of his car and assisted the man to his feet. "Are you hurt?" he inquired anxiously. "Shucks, no," the man replied angrily, "but that's the third time I've fell out of that corn patch today."

ED SMITH NAMED AS WIGGINS AIDE

Ed Smith, newly appointed assistant to the president at Texas Technological college, Lubbock, first came to Tech as a football prospect from Del Rio high school and is now one of his alma mater's most ardent gridiron fans.

Smith, 33, was recently named by the Board of Directors to replace Frank Junell, who has served as assistant to Pres. D. M. Wiggins since 1948. He will carry on as associate professor of accounting for the remainder of the semester, dividing his time between the classroom and his administrative duties.

A native of Ozona, Smith spent his early years on a ranch near Del Rio. He came to Tech in 1934 and was quarterback and half-back on the Red Raider teams of the 1935-36-37 era.

In 1938 Smith received the M. A. degree at the University of Texas. He served in the Navy during World War II and was appointed to the accounting faculty in 1948.

Since 1975, United States Marines have made more than 200 landings on foreign shores.

Texans In Washington

By Tex Eastley

Odessa grammar school youngsters don't like the idea of another state larger than Texas, which Alaska would be if admitted to the union.

Fifteen of them wrote their views in separate letters to Sen. Connally. Apparently most were sixth graders.

Leland Young had this to say: "It wouldn't be fair to Texas because it has been the largest all the time. Many of our songs would have to be changed and so would books and many other things."

Kay Donald Baker observed that Texans had had to fight Mexico to win independence and that all Alaska had done was "to sit up there and freeze."

Several suggested that if Alaska is admitted, it be divided into three states.

Big, jovial Congressman Frank Boykin (D-Ala) has closer ties with Texas now than ever.

Oil has been struck on parts of his vast tract of land in Alabama, which somewhat compares in size with the King ranch, so he is one of the leaders in the fight to prevent a reduction in the 27 1/2 percent depletion allowance on income tax returns of oil operators.

A lot of south Texas folks will remember Boykin from the trip he made about four years ago with a congressional committee inspecting waterways. Wherever he went his jolly voice called out the slogan with which he is identified here: "Everything is made for Love."

On that particular inspection trip Boykin took a liking to Brahma bulls, so near Corpus Christi he bought a car load on the spur of the moment and sent them to 4-H clubs in Alabama as a gift.

COURSE HAD EVERYTHING—INCLUDING THE STOVE

FORT COLLINS, Colo.—(AP)—How to lash a cookstove on the back of a horse is one of the things students in horsemanship learn at Colorado A & M college. Officials claim their course in packing and outfitting is the only one of its kind in American colleges. To enter, a student must know how to ride and care for a horse.

Snyder Gets the Bad With the Good

Money is drifting into Snyder by the millions of dollars. And with the money, a lot of good honest people. Some of them have check books that they can use up into the millions of dollars. Others are just daily workers trying to hold their own.

But along with this comes the scum of the earth. We have been told by parties that know, that it is dangerous to be out alone in some sections of Snyder at night. This idea of bad with the good, was brought home forcibly recently.

Two men and a woman were killed, two being husband and wife. The husband killed the proprietor of an out-of-bounds hotel, then his own wife and then shot himself. He died Tuesday, the others were dead when the room was broken into by officers.

One man was a wife deserter; the other an ex-convict. The hotel owner had on a bath robe, and the woman was in a very compromising position on a bed and

NO INCREASE IN S. S. PAYMENTS NOW

John G. Hutton of the Lubbock branch of Social Security Administration has answered a question that perhaps many beneficiaries of SS have asked since the payments of both the employee and employer have been advanced from 1 per cent to 1 1/2 per cent.

Mr. Hutton states that there will be no increase at this time, as only congress can grant the raise in benefit payments, and as of this time congress has not acted upon the matter.

nude. One of the men had deserted his family in Oklahoma. The other was fresh out of the Arkansas pen.

They are all under sod by now, but such capers leave a dark brown taste in the mouth of honest, Christian people.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

If I choose to break into the White House—as boss-man there—I would get myself a platform with just one plank, "private ownership," and tour the land. The voters need a refresher course. Everybody, at heart, is for private ownership—so I start off with no argument. Everybody figures it is proper and okay to own his own house and lot—his own overcoat—a chicken house full of chickens—a meat market—a cigar factory, or what have you.

So everybody being in this mood and favoring private ownership, the next step is, what is socialism. Under socialism a Big Govt. does the owning—not you. The difference is that simple.

In 1933, the paper says, the Govt. owned eleven electric stations. Then came TVA, the tax-dodging Govt. fundiddles—and today we have 625 federally owned or financed plants in operation, being built or proposed. And with these 625 mostly tax exempt Govt. outfits breathing on the backs of your pecks, no crystal ball is needed to see who may be the next owner of your henhouse full of chickens, if you now have such a henhouse. Anything that can happen to such a complex thing as a kilowatt factory, can easily enough—easy as pie—happen to a henhouse full of chickens.

One plank "in my platform—"private ownership"—that would make it a cinch, and how.

Yours with the low down, JO SERRA

THE WINNER—AND STILL CHIMP!—In this game a fellow should protect himself against card sharks, so it doesn't hurt to keep a few cards in reserve should the opponent start cheating. Here we have one great mind pitted against another—a critical moment for Canasta and the prestige of the human race. Can you spot the missing link?

Preston Smith, Lubbock Solon, For Lt. Governor

Preston Smith, 38 year old Lubbock business man, entered the political arena last week by announcing his candidacy for Lieutenant Governor.

Preston Smith

Smith is a three-term veteran of the Texas House of Representatives. He was first elected in 1944 to represent District 119.

During his service in the House, Smith has been for four years a member of the appropriations committee. He has also served as chairman of the sub-committee on higher education. He is a firm believer in the application of sound business methods in the operation of the state government.

Born on a Williamson county farm, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Smith, he stayed with farm life until 1931. He is the seventh child in a family of 13 and has six brothers and six sisters.

Much of his career in the House has been devoted to championing the cause of Texas' rural people. He was author of the rural hospital bill and co-author of the rural telephone bill, and also has been active in the fight for farm-to-market roads and soil conservation. Smith has been a supporter of all veteran legislation.

Of his hospital plan, Smith says, "This measure will go a long way toward solving the doctor shortage in small communities. If the counties will vote bonds for hospitals and then lease them to some of the young doctors just out of college who have no financial means to build their

Texas Leads in Life Insurance Companies

The Herald notes from a recent issue of Life Insurance News Data that there are now over 600 life insurance companies in the United States. This means that there are now 146 more than four years ago. Texas leads all states in the number of companies with 108, and Louisiana second with 82. Wyoming is the only state with no insurance company.

New Orleans leads with 39 companies and Dallas is second with 32. Houston has 20 and Fort Worth 15. New York and Philadelphia have 18 each. The national capitol has 12 insurance companies.

Notice to Bidders For Time-Warrants

Notice is here given that, at 10 o'clock A. M. on the 10th day of April 1950, in the Commissioner's Court room in the County House in Brownfield, Texas, the Commissioners Court of Terry county, will receive bids for the purchase of the following Terry county time-warrants, awarding them to the highest bidder for all cash:

Six warrants for $1,000.00 each, all maturing April 10th 1955
Five warrants for $1,000.00 each, all maturing April 10th 1956
Five warrants for $1,000.00 each, all maturing April 10th 1957
Five warrants for $1,000.00 each, all maturing April 10th 1958

All of said 21 warrants bearing date of March 1st 1950, bearing interest at rate of 3% per annum, containing the usual legally required conditions and provisions.

The issuance and sale of said warrants have been authorized by order of the Commissioners Court, on the 28 day of Nov. 1949, recorded in Vol 5 at page 308 of the Minutes of the Commissioners Court of Terry county.

The Commissioners Court reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Witness my hand this March 21st 1950.

H. R. WINSTON
County Judge of Terry county Texas.

Luncheon Scoops

by Wendy Warren

My luncheon date today was with the irrepressible Abe Burrows, famed humorous balladist, and I looked forward to it excitedly. My record collection is particularly distinguished by a set of Abe's wonderful, brash takeoffs on popular song writing... "Leave Us Face It, We're In Love," and "Darling, Why Shouldn't You Look Well Fed, Cause You Ate A Hunk Of My Heart," being two of my favorite Burrows satires on sentimentality.

We dropped into Cherie's in the East Fifties for lunch. Abe, who is currently in the lively new video show, "This Is Show Business," is a tall, well-built man in his middle thirties, whose eyes have a kindly twinkle vying with a lively shrewdness.

"At New York University," Abe told me, as we launched into the interview, "I studied to be an accountant—and was, too. Also a wall paper and maple syrup salesman, a Wall Street runner, a... well, in 1938, Frank Gaylen and I sold a radio script for a Rudy Vallee show, one thing led to another, I found myself writer for "Duff's Tavern"—and there I was, with a new career. But I became an accountant-type person again every year around March 15th."

Abe Burrows' fey sense of humor is compounded of so many things, and is so spontaneous, that he finds it difficult to stick to a script—even one he has written himself. A tendency to ad lib inevitably shows up on any Burrows' appearance—thus contributing considerably to the general comic atmosphere. "This Is Show Business," on which Abe, has ample chance for impromptu observations on things in general keeps him in his element.

Somewhat bald, Abe kids that, too—and is president of the Benvolent and Protective Order of Bald Eagles, which each year elects the ten most distinguished bald-headed men. An astute chap, with keen powers of observation and a good sense of cultural values, Abe satirizes very gently—and never seems to direct his barbs at specific persons or things, but rather at attitudes.

"I guess," I suggested, as we concluded our talk, "that you've said the last word on the overly sentimental, slushy approach to love."

"Never the last word," Abe protested, twinkling. "How about—let's see—'Darling, this is the end, but you can get a transfer from the conductor, or 'My heart was in my shoes—and you stepped on it,' or..."

"Stop," I cried, "you'll destroy my last romantic illusion!"

REFUGEES GET TB TREATMENT

CAIRO—(P)—The World Health Organization has "virtually completed" vaccination of 215,572 youthful Palestinian Arab refugees against tuberculosis. The refugees were among 900,000 who during the Palestine War, fled from Palestine. Since then they have been living in refugee camps in Arab areas.

the way of worthwhile legislation for the rural areas. Texas needs the services which the rural population provides. The rural population needs better facilities for day-to-day living. As Lieutenant Governor, I will continue my efforts to see that this important segment of our population receives as many needed improvements as possible, along with other necessary and important legislation."

Smith also authorized the bill, in the House, which would require all boards, bureaus and agencies that spend state tax money to hold open meetings and to advise the press in writing in advance of such meetings. The measure passed the House but did not get through the Senate.

Smith has been a Lubbock resident for 18 years. He has been in the theater business since 1936.

His schooling includes a diploma from the Lamesa high school and a degree from Texas Technological college in Lubbock where he studied auditing and accounting.

In 1935 Smith joined forces with another Smith—Miss Ima Smith by name—who is now Mrs. Preston Smith. She also is a Texas Tech graduate, born and reared in the state. The Smiths have two children, Preston Michael, 9, and Jan Lauren, 5.

A member of the Methodist church, Smith is also active in the Kiwanis Club and is a 32nd Degree Mason.

BROWNFIELD SENIORS ARE INVITED TO H-S UNIV.

Students of Brownfield high school are among more than 4,000 students of Texas who have been invited to the 27th annual senior day program to be held April 29 on the Hardin-Simmons university campus. Schools within a radius of 200 miles of Abilene are expected to send their seniors for the day of entertainment and education.

"Senior Day has been held on the campus for a number of years in order to acquaint graduating high school students with life on a college campus," Prof. W. C. Ribble, faculty chairman of the program said. "All training and recreational facilities of the University will be open for their inspection."

"WELCOME, SPRING!"

How about it—got that "new-car" fever?

Got a hankering to take hold of a brand-new wheel—touch off the power in a smooth, firm, lively new engine—set out to meet spring in fresh new styling and sparkling colors?

Got a suppressed desire to make it really something good this time—and step away in a Fireballing new Buick, with all its room and comfort and standout styling?

Well—why not?

You know there's no better buy you can make—and no wider choice than you're going to find among Buick's array of beauties for 1950.

You know there's no livelier action—no smoother ride—no roomier comfort for the money than you'll find right here.

And if you don't know it—we'd like to repeat this:

If you can afford a new car, you can afford a 1950 Buick.

The SPECIAL's prices start just above the lowest bracket. You can choose between thrifty standard-finish models—and de luxe versions a bit richer in trim and outside finish.

You can have a Coupe, two-door or four-door models—sleek-lined jetbacks or tourbacks with roomy luggage compartments.

You can dress them up, if you like, with a long list of added equipment—including 1950 Dynaflo Drive* for instance—or hold the list down to the essentials everyone wants.

And your budget is going to find continuing reason to be content that you blossomed out in a Buick.

For in the hands of owners, the SPECIAL is proving thrifty to run as well as thrifty to buy—and what more could you ask?

Which suggests—why not see your Buick dealer now and ask him the exact details and prices, trade-ins, delivery and terms?

Mrs. Jesse Williams Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Jesse Williams, the former Marie Stephenson, was honored with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. J. D. Beasley in Meadow recently. Other hostesses were Mesdames Jess Pendergrass, Son Beasley and Robert Beasley.

The bride's colors of pink and green were carried out in the house decorations and the refreshments. The servicing table was laid with a lace cloth, centered with an arrangement of roses and snapdragons topped with a cupid's bow.

Pink and green iced cakes with green punch were served to approximately 75 guests during the calling hours.

Out of town guests were from Lubbock, Lamesa, Ropes, Levelland and Hobbs, N. M.

What About Moving Sand In Resident Area

A few weeks ago a neighbor said to the writer: "Why don't you get after the city street department, and try to get them to clean the sand, dirt, and debris from the gutters? It has been months since this was done, and if a rain came, water would run all over the street. Besides it don't look good."

We admit all of this. But as just one of the taxpayers, the Herald don't feel that it is any more obligated to gouge the city government than other taxpayers. Besides, we don't know whether or not they have the wherewithal to do this work. It used to be done, it is true. But very little street cleaning is now practiced outside the downtown streets.

Perhaps the city street department is waiting until the sandstorm season is over with, and give them a real spring cleaning. Then funds for the work may not be available. We have not been informed along this line.

Still another citizen suggested that it was noticeable that streets on which the councilmen lived were always clean. We have also heard the same idea advanced about county commissioners. That they always kept the roads well grading leading up to their own farms.

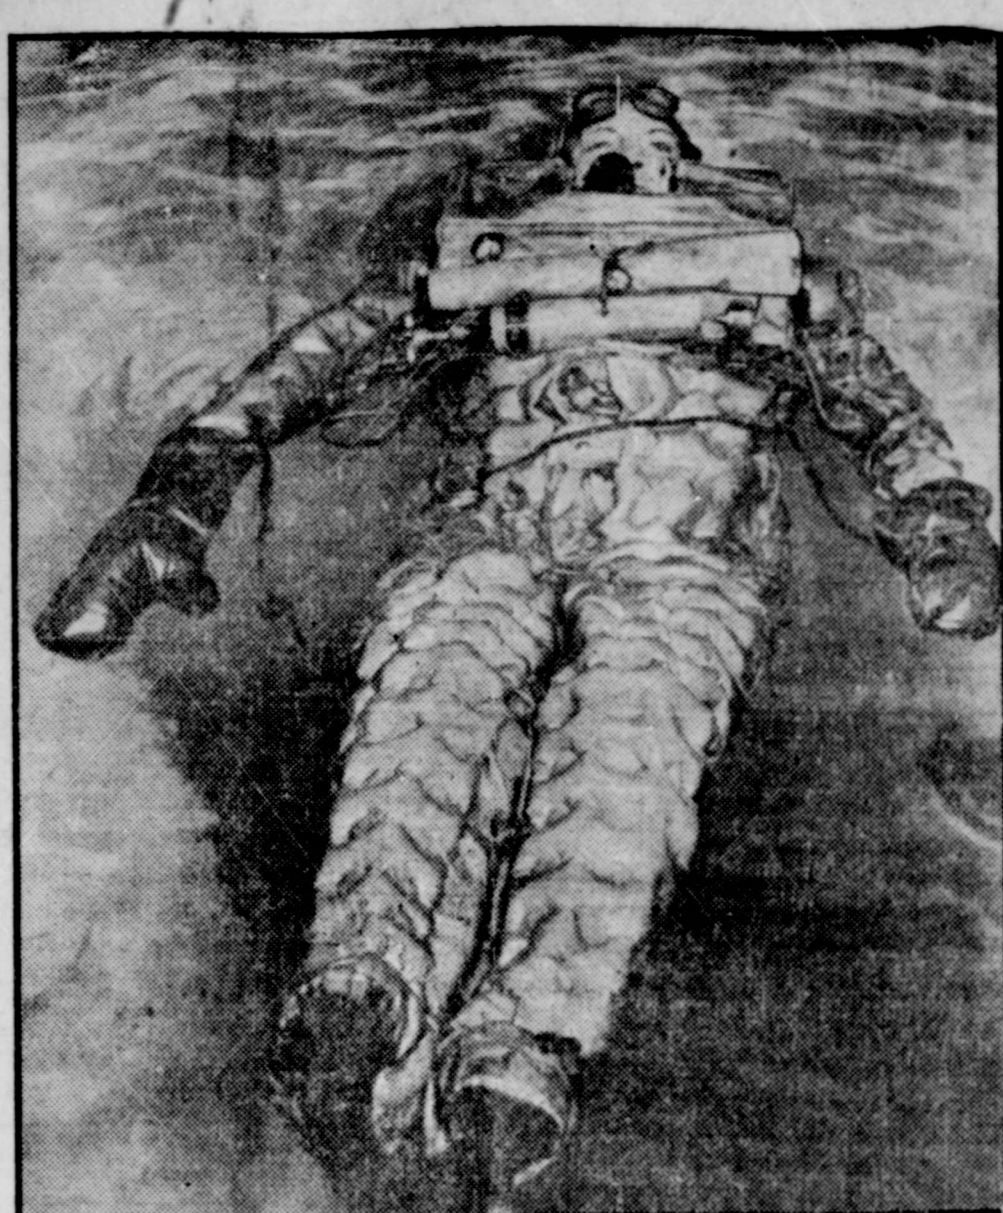

It might not be a bad idea for a bunch of people to call on the city council at their next session and try to find out just what is the deal. Many times we can say a lot before we make an investigation, and in the end find that we are mistaken.

OUR PLAINS REPORTER HERE THIS WEEK

Mrs. J. P. Robinson of Plains, reporter for the Herald, was a pleasant visitor here Monday, and came around to see the folks she works with to make the news. Mrs. R. is a good natured smiling lady, despite the fact that she shows what some folks called a mark of high temper—slightly red hair.

After this we can say Mrs. R. knows her news, and she has a way of finding it over there in the county seat of Yoakum. We ask the good ladies of Plains and thereabout to phone or write Mrs. Robinson when they have any news, either of a social nature, or purely personal.

She'll do the rest. Call again when over, Mrs. R.

Carr Announces For State Representative

Waggoner Carr announced his candidacy Thursday for the office of State Representative from the 119th District, which includes Lubbock, Hockley, Crosby, Lynn, Cochran, Terry, Yoakum, Dawson and Gaines counties.

Carr made this brief formal statement:

"I will represent every person in the district fairly and without favoritism, regardless of where he lives.

"We will work together in solving our state problems. Your opinions and advice will be solicited on all matters. Since I owe no favor to any individual or group, my fairness and efficiency will not be impaired by political deals or secret promises. My only obligation will be to represent the people of this district, and this I will do to the best of my ability."

Carr was elected county attorney of Lubbock county in 1948 by a decisive majority. Prior to his election, he served as assistant district attorney of the 72nd Judicial District of Lubbock, Crosby, Hockley and Cochran counties.

Waggoner Carr is 31, married, and has a son 10 months old. His wife is the former Ernestine Story of Tahoka and Lamesa. Carr has lived in west Texas since 1932, having moved to Lubbock that year from Hunt county. He graduated from Texas Tech in 1940 with a BA degree in government.

"I believe I held down practically every job in the books in order to remain in school," he recalls.

After graduation, Carr entered the University of Texas law school. When war was declared, Carr interrupted his legal education by volunteering for service. He entered the army as a private and was an aviation cadet when discharged 37 months later.

Upon discharge, Carr reentered law school an dwas licensed to practice law in 1946. Upon graduation he returned to Lubbock county, where he engaged in general practice of law with his brother, and for a time was an instructor in American Government at Texas Tech. He became assistant district attorney in 1947.

Carr has been active in West Texas civic affairs. He is a member of the State Bar of Texas and the Lubbock County Bar Association, a director of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce and past chairman of the agriculture committee of that organization, a member of the American Legion, the Lubbock Lions Club, Texas Tech Alumni Association and the Methodist church.
