Telephone Company Planning Expansion Program

Large Scale Project To Begin Next Month

The Southwestern Associated Telephone Company's plans for further expansion of the Brownfield telephone system were announced today. At a recent directors meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the civic committee, headed by Herbert Cheshir, requested Wayne (Red) Smith, manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, to obtain information regarding expansion of the telephone system here.

Smith was in Dallas Wednesday conferring with Ray Red, general manager of the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co., and has released the following information.

Work of expanding the cable and wire system is scheduled to start in May, 1950, and be completed before the end of the year. Many of the existing cables will be replaced with cables of greater capacity, and new cables will be added in order to reduce the number of party line telephones. New cables will also be added in newly developed and developing areas. The present project, when completed, will provide capacity for over 3,000 telephones—more than twice the number now in service.

Central office telephone equipment and operating switchboards are to be expanded to take care of increased number of telephones and increased use of the telephone. Three new switchboards will be installed in August of this year. While telephone company studies show that only two additional switchboards will be needed when the cable and wire system is completed, three are to be installed to take care of future growth.

In 1941, just before the war, Brownfield had less than 500 telephones. Today it has almost 1,500 telephones, or approximately three times the number in service before the war. (Turn to page 12, please)

Jaycees Elect New Directors

New directors elected by the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce at Monday's regular meeting at the Esquire restaurant were Bob Tobey, Bob Moore, Jack Thomas and Curtis Sterling. Dr. W. A. Roberson was also re-elected to the board.

The group discussed plans for the annual calf show to be held April 22 and for the Jaycee rodeo to be held in June.

Independent Cagers Win Tournery Trophy

A trophy, signifying that they are second place winners of the Plains basketball tournament held last week end, is on display at the Fair Department Store this week.

Members of the Fair Store Five team beat out Hobbs, N. M., Thursday, and stopped Plains Friday to put themselves in the top brackets for the finals. They lost to Lamesa Saturday, taking second place in the tournament. Six teams were entered in the tourney: Plains had two teams entered, Loop, Brownfield, Hobbs and Lamesa. The American Legion team from Plains was consolation winner.

John Thompson, John Bailey, Eddie Courtney, Felix York and Melvin Dixon, manager of the Fair Store here, make up the team.

Two New Board Members Are Elected

A light vote was cast in the Brownfield Consolidated school district last Saturday, but two new faces will be on the new board. There were two to be elected, and four names on the ballot. The voting resulted as follows:

- | | |
|-----------------|-----|
| L. V. Alexander | 329 |
| Hubert Thompson | 328 |
| J. M. Hill | 230 |
| Harlan Glenn | 186 |

On the Terry County Board of Education, two were up for election. They were Hugh Harred of Precinct 1, and B. F. Finley of Precinct 2. Both were re-elected. As Supt. Lee Fulton and wife, were out of town, we were unable to get a report on results of the election in the Meadow, Wellman and Union districts. Mr. Fulton had to be carried to a hospital at Temple.

In their first meeting Monday, the new school board got under way by election of new officers. Alton Webb was elected president, and C. G. Griffith vice-president. Ike Bailey was re-elected secretary. Presumably R. A. Simms was retained as assessor-collector of taxes.

Wednesday the board toured the district, examining all buildings belonging to the district, including the Gomez Ward, Phyllis Wheat colored school, and other buildings in the city.

This was done in order to check on the condition of buildings, and in order to provide repairs if needed. Other members of the board other than those mentioned above are the holdovers, Cecil O'Neal and W. J. Carter.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne (Red) Smith and children spent the week end in Ruidoso, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Ural Bernard and son, Don, spent the week end with the Tracy Cary family.

Road Right of Ways Obtained This Week

Right of ways have been obtained for two farm-to-market roads in Terry county, and construction will probably begin in the near future, according to county attorney George W. Neill.

Roads to be constructed are one from the Union gin east to the Lynn county line and a cut-off road from the Levelland highway to the Seagraves highway.

The road running east from the Union gin will connect with the farm-to-market road at New Moore, which runs to Tahoka and to O'Donnell. The cut-off road from the Levelland highway will run south on the west side of Brownfield townsite to the Seagraves highway, Neill said.

New Banner Jobber Assumes Duties Here

J. H. Pillow of Seagraves assumed his duties as jobber for Banner Milk Co. here March 21. He has served in that capacity in Seagraves for the past 11 years.

Pillow, who is married, said that he planned to move to Brownfield in the near future.

An advertisement in this issue of the Herald announces the return of Banner products to Brownfield after an absence of over a year. Pillow said that milk, all milk products, including ice cream, chocolate and orange drinks, and ice will be sold and delivered in Brownfield.

5,859,727 Bales of Cotton Ginned in Texas Last Year

Texas' 1949 cotton crop yielded almost twice as many bales as the year before. The crop last year amounted to 5,859,727 bales ginned, compared with 3,062,823 in the previous year.

The Census Bureau's preliminary figures for the 1949 Texas cotton crop released last week, disclosed that Lubbock county was the big state leader in the number of bales ginned last year. Lubbock county ginned 261,495 bales compared with 126,413 from the 1948 crop.

Second place was taken by Cameron county with 218,972 bales, against 111,919 the year before. Hockley county came in third, ginning 208,088 bales last year and only 71,324 in 1948.

Other Texas counties ginning more than 50,000 bales of cotton from the 1949 and 1948 respectively for this area are:

County	1949	1948
Bailey	69,619	23,703
Cochran	61,747	15,495
Crosby	116,252	37,397
Dawson	175,057	53,020
Floyd	70,942	30,312
Hale	118,285	66,794
Lamb	192,925	89,445
Lynn	185,527	51,637
Terry	80,793	24,218

In the above report no figures were given on Gaines and Garza, both figured in as south plains counties.

City Election Tuesday Was a Quiet Affair

Tuesday's election for city officials here was a quiet affair. However, there was a fairly good vote turned in. The reason we state that the election was quiet, no one announced, nor was there any canvassing for votes that we heard of. They merely had their names placed on the ballot or it was placed there by friends, and that was that.

There was no other issue to bring out a heavy vote, like for instance, a bond issue, or the approval of some amendment. There was a few votes cast by write-in. Really there were no candidates other than voluntary ones. The unofficial vote as given the Herald was:

- | | |
|--|-----|
| C. C. Primm | 400 |
| For City Secretary: | |
| Bill Aschenbeck | 496 |
| For Councilman (unexpired term Willie McDonald): | |
| Leonard Lang | 255 |
| Harmon Howze | 239 |
| For Councilman (regular 2 year term, two to be elected): | |
| V. L. (Pat) Patterson | 355 |
| Henry Chisholm | 268 |
| A. L. Muldrow | 247 |
| Sam Houtchens | 105 |
| Both Primm and Aschenbeck for mayor and secretary, as well as Henry Chisholm were for reelection. Patterson and Lang are new members. The holdovers for city councilmen are J. B. Knight and Herman Cheshir. | |

Looks very like we have a good lineup of business men, any way the voters might have decided. And there will perhaps be harmony and a crew that will work together for the advancement of our city.

Rotarians Elected New 1950 Officers

C. G. Griffith was elected 1950 president of the Brownfield Rotary Club in a regular meeting held at the Esquire restaurant last Friday. He will succeed C. K. Kendrick.

Other officers elected were A. M. Muldrow, first vice president; John Hill, second vice president; H. M. (Dube) Pyeatt, secretary-treasurer; and Sam Privitt, program chairman, and R. C. Norris, assistant program chairman.

Muldrow succeeds Griffith, and Hill succeeds Muldrow. David Nicholson was last year's secretary-treasurer, and John Hill and John Portwood were program chairman and assistant program chairman, respectively.

Members of the nominating committee were headed by W. Graham Smith.

Lions Club Making Plans For Recreation Center

Easter Egg Hunt Slated Tomorrow

The third annual Easter egg hunt sponsored by the Brownfield Lions club will begin at 2 p.m. at Coleman Park tomorrow (Saturday), according to Dennis Q. Lilley, J. Preston Murphy and W. L. (Chick) Lee, members of the committee.

As in the last years, the hunt will be divided by age groups, with the children who are too small to be without their mothers hunting their eggs inside the park. The older children will conduct their hunt outside the southeast corner of Coleman Park, the committee said.

Prizes will be given in the different age groups, but, as we go to press, the prize list is not available. Winners will be announced next week.

All children in Brownfield are invited to participate in the hunt.

Furr Food Winding Up Courtesy Month

Ending a month long courtesy campaign in all Furr Food stores in the area, several employees of the local store have received silver dollars for their efforts, according to Alonzo Miller, manager of the Brownfield store.

All employees have been observed by representatives of the firm whose identities were unknown. Employees were judged on their friendliness, courtesy and personalities.

Those in the Brownfield store who received two silver dollars were Lois Taylor, checker; Frank Kastl, assistant manager; John Green, produce manager; C. C. Reed, Bill Neal, Gerald Nelson, Lee Brownfield, Melvin Moore, Norwood Heath, Don Noble, Don Anderson, Bill Liles, C. W. Denison, Jerry Bond, and Crawford Burrow. Mrs. Young is accompant.

Miller recently moved back to Brownfield from Hobbs, N. M., where he was manager of Furr Food Store. Green, also formerly employed in the Hobbs store, and Kastl, employed in the Carlsbad, N. M. store, moved to Brownfield a few weeks ago.

GAINESVILLE PASTOR ACCEPTS LOCAL POST

The Rev. Fred Stump of the Grand Avenue Baptist church at Gainesville, Texas, has accepted the pastorate of the First Baptist church in Brownfield. He will assume his duties Sunday, May 7.

The Rev. Stump has been minister at Gainesville for the past three years. He is 37 years of age, married, and has two daughters, ages 11 years and 5 months.

With the resignation of A. A. Brian as minister of this church March 1 to accept the vice presidency of Howard Payne college, the pulpit of the church has been filled by supply pastors.

POSSE MET MONDAY

The Terry County Sheriff's Posse met Monday night in the Jaycee show barn for a short business session and a barbecue. Cliff Jones, Tess Fulfer and Mrs. Harvey Dew were in charge of the barbecue.

Members discussed buying posse badges, and the year books were given out. Plans are being made for the group to participate in the Jaycee rodeo, to be held June 22-24.

ATTENTION ING!

All members of the Brownfield National Guard who have been requested to turn in their equipment are asked to do so immediately, according to Capt. Samuel J. Privitt, commanding officer. The equipment is federal property and must be inventoried.

Herald Takes To the Air

Something new has been added at the Herald as of Wednesday this week.

Edwin (Smillin' Jack) Duncan, our very able floor man, and Mary Dee (Aec) Mason, advertising solicitor for the Herald, took to the air Wednesday in a Piper Cruiser rented from the Triangle Airport. Their destination was Seagraves, their aim was to track down an ad for this issue of the Herald.

After being gone from Brownfield less than an hour, they brought home the bacon. The bosses indicate that this just might become a habit.

Chorus to Present Cantata Tonight

Making their first formal appearance in public, the Brownfield Community Chorus, under the direction of Richard Young, will present "The Seven Last Words of Christ" at 8 p.m. tonight (Friday) in the high school auditorium.

Members of the chorus are: Mesdames W. A. Roberson, Bill Neel, Gerald Nelson, Roy Herod, M. J. Craig, Jr., J. E. Smith, John Luckie, Bill Glick, Bob Tobey, Sam Privitt, Wayne C. Hill, H. L. Thurston, Grady Goodpasture, Truett Flache and Ruth Huckabee, Ann Sneeder, Bonnie Dymartin, Nancy Wier, Ethelene Bucy, Dr. W. A. Roberson, Crawford Taylor, Jack Shirley, Dr. R. E. Klofanda, Bill Glick, Jim Reed, Bill Neel, Gerald Nelson, Lee Brownfield, Melvin Moore, Norwood Heath, Don Noble, Don Anderson, Bill Liles, C. W. Denison, Jerry Bond, and Crawford Burrow. Mrs. Young is accompant.

Soloists are Miss Sneeder, Dr. Roberson, Taylor and Shirley. The group presented the cantata in the Levelland high school auditorium last night (Thursday).

Mrs. Glick and Mr. Liles are in charge of decorations. Decorations are courtesy of Hoy's Flowers, and the piano is being loaned by B. E. Adair Music Co. in Lubbock. Flowers for the Levelland appearance were the courtesy of Rhea's City Florist.

The public is cordially invited to attend the cantata.

Plans for a recreation center, to be called the Brownfield Playground, were approved by the board of directors at the regular Wednesday luncheon meeting of the Brownfield Lions Club at the Esquire restaurant, according to Jack Griggs, president.

Bob Tobey and Milton Bell announce that the miniature golf course, of which they are in charge, is already under construction. The course is to be a complete nine-hole miniature golf course.

The program centers around the Lions club swimming pool, located at Buckley and South 5th streets. Also included in the program are a three-lane duck pin alley, a wading pool, playground, a softball park and general beautification of the entire area.

Herbert Cheshir is general chairman of the program, and his committee consists of J. T. Bowman and Arlie Lowrimore. This is the original swimming pool committee, and they will also be in charge of the wading pool.

Working with Cheshir's group is the finance committee, headed by Richard Kendrick. His committee is as follows: Milton Bell, Roy Herod, Dr. T. J. McIlroy and W. T. McKinney.

W. G. (Willie) McDonald has charge of the softball project. It is hoped that the block directly south of the pool can be obtained for that purpose.

Griggs said that the club already has quite a lot of the equipment necessary for the program. He said that the club has had the playground equipment for the past three years, and that very little, if any, more will be necessary for some time. Much of the equipment for the duck pin alley and the miniature golf course has also been acquired, Griggs said.

Griggs said that the Lions club did not plan to make it a club project, but want it to be a community project instead.

Clyde Bond Jr., is manager of the swimming pool.

The present board of directors includes J. B. Ricketts, Les Short, W. T. McKinney, Lynn Nelson, and J. E. (Buddy) Gillham.

Land on which the project is located belongs to the city.

Waggoner Carr

Apology Goes To Waggoner Carr

We had a cut last week of Waggoner Carr, Lubbock attorney, who is a candidate for State Representative of the 119th district. But for reasons that none other than newspaper folks understand, the picture was left out. Our apology to Atty. Carr.

WILL HAVE DANCE

All members of the Brownfield Country Club are asked to attend a club dance Saturday, April 8, at 9 p.m. at the club house, according to Mrs. E. V. Tarbuton, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The price of admission will be either a record or the price of a record for the new "juke box."

COYOTE HUNTERS AND THEIR KILL—Texas ranchers troubled with coyotes should call on these Fairfax, Mo., hunters. During the winter seven Missouri, Kansas and South Dakota dog owners killed these 216 coyotes that hang on a rack at the

Ralph Seymour farm near Fairfax. Two of Seymour's sons, Blaine (left), and Dale pose with three of the dogs used in the chases. The coyotes fell prey to the powerful jaws of 30 greyhounds and staghounds. (AP Wirephoto)

This week we had a mimeographed letter and a mimeographed explanation of the position of the Lone Star Gas Co., anent piping natural gas out of the state. Naturally we can understand that the Lone Star and other big gas companies take the position that it is just one of the natural resources that is surplus property, and sometimes goes into the air as flares, and the best way to get rid of it is to pipe it out to people who need it. Then the material we received of course advanced the argument that it was held by the Supreme Court that a clause in the US constitution does not permit any state to collect any tax that is a burden, and impedes the free flow of commerce between the states. However, we might mention that some of the states put such a high tax on oleomargarine, a resource of the south, that it was impossible for this product to compete on the butter market, despite what the supreme court said. In fact, the matter never has been so much a question of "getting the money" with the Herald, as the fact that Texas is a prairie state principally with no timber or coal to speak of to use for fuel when our natural gas has been piped out and burned. At that time, should John L. Lewis be the dictator as he is already, almost, we Texans would freeze in our homes come winter. And our gas is going to play out some of these days. Most experts now estimate our reserves, with present use, is good for some 25 years. But the demand is increasing faster than reserves are found. Oh, there will be a substitute, says some. Perhaps, but the price of gas made from coal, for one, will be so much higher than natural gas that we will decide we are being robbed. Besides, who will dig the coal or shale?

That fuss now going on up at Washington between the State Department and Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin is not exactly calculated to be good and wholesome for this government, especially since we have a cold war going on. If, as some seem to think, Mack is just doing this accusing to draw votes to the GOP, we believe he is playing with fire. And the fact that the number of commies he mentions as being in the State Department is moved up and down, almost daily, makes it appear to many that there is a very dark person hidden under a wood pile. On the other hand, if Secretary of State Dean Acheson is harboring Communists or fellow travelers, that too is bad for the government. What possibly started the whole racket was that Mr. Acheson had some good and encouraging words for Alger Hiss after that party was condemned by a jury of American citizens of subservient actions. Right then Acheson left himself wide open for attacks of not only himself, but his entire personnel. The railings of McCarthy may lead the Kremlin to decide that they have the American State Dept. by the tail with a downhill drag. Then too, there is the common people, we here at home, to consider. Most of us have heard that old one about where there is smoke there must be some fire. However, it is the opinion of this writer that neither side is fooling old Joe Stalin. He possibly knows more about who's who in the state and other departments, including the defense department, than some who are spouting off. To say the least, if there are any questionable characters in the State Department, they should be ousted.

The so-called Democratic party now controlled lock, stock and barrel by radicals of the north, is out to raise money in the south by giving $10 per plate feeds in the larger cities. This money is to be used in the north, and there is no secret about the purpose of its use. It is to re-elect 127 Democratic congressmen who voted for the coercive Truman FEPC bill that would strangle and embarrass the south. These birds want to defeat 103 Republican congressmen who are against the FEPC along with most southern congressmen. The politicians now in control of the national Democratic party are no better than the carpetbaggers of the post Civil War era, who were usually termed "scalawags" here in the south. And we think it is a pretty good name for them to this day. However, the more modern name is fifth columnists. Those of the south who go along with them are traitors to this section of the nation. The FEPC will just cause unnecessary trouble between the races, and perhaps prolong bad conditions that are now being worked out voluntarily and satisfactorily. The whole idea of the Truman administration is to get the bloc vote, both negroes and recent foreign extraction in the north, especially around the big cities. Even such sticklers for party regularity as old Sam Rayburn and Tom Connally can't stomach the FEPC.

Way down in Florida where the climate is always more or less warm, politics too, are getting a bit torrid, especially as concerns the US Senatorial race. Claude Pepper, who has served 13 years in the Senate, is up for re-election. As most know, Pepper is an extreme leftist, and a Truman wheel horse. So, the boss boys up at Washington are quietly putting it out to delay the FEPC vote until it is known whether or not Pepper is re-nominated, which is equivalent to re-election in Florida. It will be remembered that Sen. Pepper offered himself on the altar of sacrifice for nomination for President of the USA at Philadelphia in the summer of 1948, but HST got the nod, and Claude campaigned at least half heartedly, for him. Pepper's opponent is a two term congressman, whom he (Pepper) is calling a Yankee. Truth of the matter is, Rep. Smathers was born in New Jersey, but has been a citizen of Florida since he was 6 years of age. It would appear to the Herald that it would make little difference where a man is born so long as he is a patriotic American, whether Democrat or Republican. But speaking of name calling, Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia once called Pepper a skunk on the senate floor.

We have not seen a copy of the questionnaire sent out by the Census Department to farmers prior to the call of the census taker, but we have been informed that some 300 questions are asked. And some of them are quite as puzzling as those the internal revenue department want to know. So, it may come to the point where the old farmer will be like his counterpart in town on the social security and withholding tax proposition. You know Uncle Sam has made all us guys that employ people both assessor and collector of taxes, sans pay. Sometimes we wonder if the average person from whom a portion of their wages are withheld, ever figure how much taxes they are paying, and what it amounts to in a year's time. If he ever does worry any, he does not make his complaints known to the boss. On the other hand, the boss has to assume all the headaches for mistakes, even though made honestly, that are wished on him for free. The old boss can be fined or imprisoned, or both if he fails to act as Uncle Sambo's assessor-collector.

From what we gather from the complaint of a Dallas News reader at Sweetwater, the old reliable Texas daily does not think soil conservation in west Texas is doing any good. To begin with, this section has been blowing some throughout the 41 years that the writer has been an inhabitant, and may do so for the next 40 years. We definitely believe, however, that soil conservation is really working. We know that deep breaking of the sandier soils is working. Anyone with two good eyes and half sense can see that. We have our droughts too, always have according to geologists, and perhaps always will as long as this is a semi-arid section. In our time we had a bad one 1917-18, one in the twenties, two in the thirties, and two or three in the 40ties. We didn't see the article in question. Perhaps none of the editors of the News wrote it in the first place. Could have been a contributor. But is it a well known fact that this section or for that matter anything west of Weatherford is verbiest with the News. That paper has been particularly harsh toward us for the past 30 years when west Texas, with the area around Jones county, began to lead north central Texas counties in cotton production. Then when some 18 counties here on the south plains got to producing two-fifths of the Texas crop the old News almost became a hater. For that reason, the Dallas News circulation in west Texas has always been very limited. We have heard west Texans say they thought the News a great paper, but due to its disparaging attitude toward west Texas, they would not take that paper.

MAGIC CARRY-ALL COAT

The coat worn by this young lady is as amazing as a magician's cloak. Designed by a U. S. Department of Agriculture clothing specialist from waterproof and wrinkle resistant cotton, the coat is heaven-sent for the feminine shopper. It has hidden pockets in the sleeves, skirt, and top for bus tokens, shopping lists, pencils, wallets, and other items needed by a shopper. The carry-all bag to accompany the cotton coat holds the largest size grocery bag and has a waterproof cover for rainy days.

Loyalty To Party or Principle

(An editorial from The Lamar County Echo, Paris, Texas)
The Democratic State Executive Committee held a meeting in McAllen last week to discuss party problems and to oust a few members who refuse to go along with Truman and his socialist-labor program. A resolution was adopted to require county and precinct chairmen to sign "party loyalty" oaths. This action was taken obviously to purge those officials (who were elected by the voters in their respective counties and precincts) who did not support Truman in the last Presidential election and who may not choose to support him if he is the party nominee again in 1952.

There is a pledge on every primary ballot which binds the voter to support the nominee of "this party." But, there is a vast difference between this pledge and the resolution adopted at the McAllen meeting. We have no primary in Texas to select a nominee for President of the United States. Democrats are not privileged to signify their choice, other than through the various precinct, county and state conventions.

In the campaign of 1948, Texas Democrats would not endorse the platform of the national convention, nor its nominee, Mr. Truman, made every effort to submit the names of Truman and Governor Strom Thurmond to the voters in the run-off primary, and abide by the results so far as casting the electoral vote of Texas was concerned. Governor Thurmond, who was a Democrat and stood for all the time-honored principles of the party, would have undoubtedly received a good majority over Truman if the voters had been free to express their choice, as they are for all State and local candidates. But the Truman machine said "no" and there was only one thing left for a Democrat to do who held party principles above a party "label"—that was to vote for Thurmond under the so-called "Dixiecrat" column. Those who pursued this course were immediately branded as disloyal to the party, and since that time have been purged from participation in party affairs, so far as the powers that be are concerned. The Trumanites have made several gestures to restore harmony in the ranks, but on every occasion they have demanded that the Dixiecrats "repent" and join forces that are advocating a welfare state, and are plunging this country into bankruptcy and bureaucracy.

This brings up the old question—is a party more important than a party principle? Evidently it is for the label, so far as Texas Democrats are concerned, for we find men high in the party ranks who are outspoken in their opposition to the Truman program yet, when election time rolls around they are actively supporting a candidate who advocates and practices those things that Democrats have always opposed.

Frankly, we do not believe there is anything sacred about a party label. And, furthermore, we believe that every voter who goes to the polls in any election should have the privilege of casting his ballot for men or measures that reflect his views on the issues involved. When we cannot do this, we no longer have representative government in this country. We believe that the welfare of the country should come ahead of any political party.

And the Democrats are not the only label loyalists. We have many Republicans who practice the same inconsistency. They will support their party's nominee on any platform. We need a change in our way of thinking—and voting.

PREHISTORIC ELEPHANT BEING UNCOVERED

Remains of a pre-historic elephant, believed to have been buried by a glacier 20,000 years ago, are being uncovered by North Texas State college geology students near Denton. Students working under direction of Dr. Walter Hansen of the geology department have already uncovered a five foot tusk and a large pelvic bone. The bones were first discovered by workmen digging in a gravel pit southeast of Denton.

Gee Gee's Chit Chat

Be prepared! I'm really windy this week, kids, so if you only have one or two minutes to read this just lay it aside for another time.

Big news this week is Easter. All (or rather almost all) the merchants in town have their windows decorated with an Easter theme, and they are very attractive. One of the most striking ones is Brownfield Floral. The south window hits upon the religious theme, complete with the dove of peace hovering around one of the columns. The north window probably appeals to the rest of the kids, because it's full of wabbits—even Bugs Bunny. And such a delicious odor when you hit the front door. They're simply stinking with lilies out there.

Speaking of flowers, have you by chance noticed the beautiful tulips bordering the front of the Methodist parsonage? And, as usual, Mrs. Clarence Lewis' famous pansy bed is almost bursting out of its berth with its profusion of beautiful, velvety pansies. I pecked over her back fence when admiring said pansies, and she has some lovely tulips, too.

Do you plan to put in an appearance at the high school tonight at 8 p.m. and hear all the little bunnies in the Brownfield Community Chorus lay a batch of Easter eggs? All kidding aside, really, you shouldn't miss "The Seven Last Words" tonight, despite the fact that the director, Dick Young, said that we sounded like a banzai raid at the last rehearsal. This cantata is one of the most beautiful works, and if you've never heard it, you shouldn't miss it.

If you were in town Monday you already know that, despite the sand, many persons were taking advantage of the big Dollar Day bargains being offered by the merchants. And even more heartening, Tuesday was a pretty big day for some merchants, too. Do you suppose some of the natives have inside dope that a rain approacheth Terry?

While talking with Royal (Doc) Kiofanda, our busy veterinarian, the other day, he said that he has been in Seminole for the past two Saturdays inoculating animals, dogs that is, against rabies. Which is surely a good thing. All dogs lovers know that protection against rabies for your pets is as important as diphtheria, whooping cough, typhoid, etc. shots for yourself and your youngsters. If you've never been out to Doc's place, you ought to go out and see what a swell place he has for animals. Our Stinky thinks Royal is fine—even after Doc practically amputated one of his ears removing a tumor.

Look for the big opening of the Zesto drive inn. I simply drool when I think of that rich, custardy ice cream that they put out. Harley Stone and Claud Henderson said this week that they will probably open some time next week, so watch this paper for the announcement.

Have you noticed the tricky treasure chests being displayed at Copeland Hardware and McWilliams Furniture? A big gold chest holding electrical appliances, such as a mixer, toaster, waffle baker, iron, egg poacher. Golly, how'd you like to wake up and find that in the kitchen with you some time?

How many of you (besides me) have said that you wouldn't clean house until July? Well kids, I sure told a goody when I said it because (I hate to brag) I'm all through with the Spring house cleaning. When Kitty Tobey asked me if the Hope circle of the First Methodist church could include my house in their tour of homes last Wednesday, I blithely replied, sure. Monday it occurred to me that I might should straighten it up a little, and brother! It's simply amazing the things one can find in the back of closets. For instance, what do you suppose I might be

Gangbusters

Three-year-old Polly was in the garden helping mother pick string beans. Suddenly mother found a huge bean and showed it to Polly: "Look, Polly! Look at the monster I just picked!"

Of course Polly wanted to find another to match her mother's. She hunted and hunted and finally at the end of the row she found one.

"Mother!" she called as she came running. "Look at the GANGSTER I found!"

Preparedness

Little Janet had been sent upstairs to get washed and ready for school. She called down to her mother, "What dress am I going to wear?"

Her mother answered, "Just get washed, never mind what dress." "But," Janet protested, "I want to know whether to wash for long sleeves or short."

EASTER PARTY GAMES

AFTER the Lenten season, what's better than to have an Easter Party? Easter games, Easter trimmings and everything.

Here are a couple of games for your party. You can supply the rest with Easter decorations, bunnies, cotton chicks, eggs and so forth.

For a starter, play "Good and Bad Eggs." In this game, the players are the "eggs" and the basket is a row of chairs placed close to the wall at one end of a room. Have every other chair placed with its back to the room.

But, there is one less chair than players. The "eggs" stand against the opposite wall, facing it. At the word go, the eggs race to get into the basket—or sit in the chairs. The player that doesn't get a seat is a bad egg and must drop out of the game. The good egg is the player who gets the last chair—because one chair is removed each race, just like in musical chairs. A candy egg would be a nice prize for the winner.

Hide the Bunny in a hard-to-find spot and the players must search for it. When one player finds the basket, he must not tell anyone. He takes one egg, goes back to the main room and sits down quietly.

The game can be played by teams and the team whose players all find the bunny first wins.

Another game which has a similarity to musical chairs is "Poor Egg." You will need an egg for this—paper, candy or hard-boiled—and music. The music can be supplied by piano, record player or radio.

Players sit in a circle. When the music begins, players start passing the egg to each other. Before a player can pass, he must say to the player on his left, "Have an egg?"

The player receiving the egg must say, "No, thank you," take the egg, and before passing it to the player on his left, say, "Have an egg?" and so on.

When the music stops suddenly, whoever has the egg at the time drops out of the game.

GI Training Program to End In 15 Months

The Veterans administration warned ex-GIs today—more than 15 months in advance—that the veterans education and training program runs out July 25, 1951. VA explained yesterday that it is issuing the warning now to give veterans ample opportunity to make their plans.

Any veteran who is enrolled in school on the terminal date may complete his training, it said. But he may not begin a completely new course.

Any veteran whose schooling has been temporarily interrupted—by summer vacation or other reasons beyond his control—when the "cutoff" date comes up, has the right to return to school.

There are two exceptions to the deadline date—(1) veterans who were discharged after July 25, 1947, and (2) individuals who enlisted or re-enlisted under the armed forces voluntarily recruitment act.

Facts To Know About Gov't Soldiers' Homes

It still is unknown to many that war veterans, and other veterans who were retired from or disabled in the Armed Forces in line of duty, are eligible for domiciliary care in the "Soldiers' Homes" maintained by the VA.

Generally, in order to be admitted, the veteran must submit evidence of separation from service under other than dishonorable conditions. He must be seventy-five per cent or more disabled in the opinion of the doctor who examined him for entrance. It must be found that he is financially unable to support himself. His application for admission may be filed with any VA regional Hospital or Home. VA Form 10 P-10 is used for this purpose.

No veteran should rush to one of these homes without first having had his eligibility determined and a bed authorized for him. This is particularly true as to the Home at Bay Pines, Fla., which has a capacity of 813 beds. Many veterans feel that this is a choice spot during cold winter months. They grab a train or bus and report there, only to find that a bed is not presently available.

While there were approximately 335 vacancies in the Home at Los Angeles, Calif., (capacity 3,638 beds) during early October, the large local veteran population in that state and nearby makes it inadvisable for veterans from other parts of the country to seek hasty admission there. The Home at Biloxi, Miss., capacity 793 beds, has been filled for years. To ease the situation, new Homes are in preparation at Medford, Ore.; Clinton, Iowa, and Thomasville, Ga.

TO UNDERGO SURGERY

Rev. Don Rogers has been in a Dallas hospital the past two weeks. He will undergo major surgery April 17, according to his daughter, Mrs. B. Stice, who returned home from Dallas Sunday. She plans to return to Dallas for her father's operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kirschner left Tuesday for Muskogee, Okla., where they are visiting his brother, Harry Kirschner, who is seriously ill.

Mother Seriously Ill In Tennessee

Mrs. Bill (Cousin Margie) Williams was in to see us late last week. She stated that they were expecting her mother, Mrs. Atkins, from Slaton Sunday afternoon for a short afternoon visit, and asked us out. But we too, had company.

Margie stated that her mother was leaving for Bolivar, Tennessee, where her mother, Mrs. Add Sherrin is at the point of death. We cannot hope that Mrs. Atkins will find her mother better, after Margie told us what the trouble was with her grandmother. Speaking of the cousin stuff that Margie and the Old He use in greeting each other, we are really distant—very distant—cousins. The relation came through the Cox and Mashburn families.

The Williams live about 8 miles north of town on the old Levelland road, and have one of the best farms in that area, which is well improved. We have been promising ever since the wood burned to visit them, but Margie always asks us to come between meals, dagnabit.

We can say what we want about them while they are away.

Jerry Kirschner was in Dallas this week on business.

MON AND KATE ARE SASHAYING AROUND

Had a card from Mon and Kate Telford last week. They were "towering" Arizona, California and perhaps other states. Among other places they had visited was Santa Barbara, where Mon Jr. and wife live. Also, they had been over to Catalina Island, but perhaps the mysterious submarine ran them off.

They were evidently getting hungry, too, as the letter was written from Phoenix, and they were to call on Mumford and Jimmie Smith at Glendale, Ariz. Boy, after old Mon visits their table a few times, Mum and Jim will have to live on bread and water for awhile to make ends meet.

We can say what we want about them while they are away.

FARM QUESTION BOX

by ED W. MITCHELL
Farm Advisor
General Electric Station WGY

Q. What makes a chicken get a twisted neck?
A. It is a common symptom of food poisoning, or ptomaine poisoning. Check to see that they are getting no rotten meat or spoiled, musty food. It may be partial or the start of paralysis due to worms or virus, or both, or perhaps partial blindness. However, in any case, about all one can do is keep weighing out birds as soon as they show any signs of trouble.

Q. How can I control chickweed in my garden, and spiders and rats in the house?
A. Chickweed has a wide, flat leaf and is easily killed by any "weed-killer," just spray the foliage lightly to avoid killing grass or plants nearby and you will soon be rid of it. A good solution, where the weed is in the lawn is one pound of sulfate of ammonia per one gallon of water. Keep spiders under control with an occasional spray of a fly spray, containing pyrethrum and DDT. Rats are a harder problem to solve. Close all means of entrance; fumigate any rat holes or places where the rats and gas can be confined together, and follow that up with traps and poison.

Q. We burn wood in our furnace and always get a certain amount of creosote. I have been told that the wood should be cut a year ahead so it would be more dry. However, I'm wondering if wood cut so long would contain as much heat.

A. Dry wood, a hot, fast fire and short runs of stovetop all help remedy the creosote problem. Dry wood burns better and gives off more heat than wet or green wood, and a cord of dry hardwood is about equal to a ton of coal in heating value. Warm the chimney before you start a fire and you will get less creosote.

Q. My climbing roses are climbing over my garage roof, when and how should I prune them?
A. Keep climbing roses thinned out to about nine canes per hill, three one-year old, or new sprouts; three, two-year old (these bear the most and best flowers); and three, three-year old, that bear fairly well. Cut the three oldest canes, and anything over three new shoots back to the stump as soon as blooming season is past.

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He
The gentleman (?) and wife of Austin who sued and collected on an old American of German extraction, who did not know the law, or hardly the English language, we hope will be satisfied with their ill gotten gains. The writer would always feel like a heel about the matter in their place. In the end ill gotten gains turn against their possessors.

About once or twice monthly we get a copy of Lamesa Daily Reporter, accidentally we suppose, only the two words, "Brownfield, Texas," is printed on the paper. So, supposedly the mail putteruppers here decide it is just as easy to put the paper in our box as in the waste basket.

Well, we like a Lamesa paper regularly, as for some 30 odd years we got one or both of them regularly. The original paper was the Dawson County News, and was put out better than 40 years ago by a real old time printer.

It is reported that there was a negro woman cook in a prison, who asked for a pardon when the governor visited the institution. She was asked if she did not have good food and a reasonably good bed. Also if she were not well treated. "Oh, yes, dat's all true, but they tell me this place has a generally bad reputation elsewhere."

Then right on the other hand, there are people white and black, who are so confounded curious, and have heard so much about the reputation of hell, that they are determined to go there and give it a trial.

We hear a whale of a lot about communists of late. In fact our daily papers as well as radio is so full of it, that it often crowds out a lot we'd rather read or listen to. An article recently in the Andrews County News stopped us short. It stated that the Plymouth Colony of Massachusetts was originally communistic. Everything the colonists eat, wore or used was rationed out.

But the idea did not suit the people; they began to steal from each other, and some refused to work. After the second year, each was given land and tools to work it. And it is stated that even the women who had "felt too badly" to hardly get out of the house, carried the children to the fields, and helped the men folks make crops.

Therefore we can hardly believe that the communistic, or even the socialistic ideas will ever suit Americans, especially the rural portion, or even the small town and city folks. It will likely suit some of the foreign element, those who have to be bossed, and big city folks of lower class.

In a late issue of our old Hardeeman county, Tennessee paper, the Bolivar Bulletin, there was a story taken from a Memphis daily about the different industries of that county. One was about a man who had a small processing plant in a village, who extracted oil of sassafras from the bark of the roots of that tree.

The article went on to say that even the currency the owner paid to those who sold him stumps and roots of this very fragrant tree, carried the odor of sassafras. A negro employee asked the boss if it were possible to pay him with some money that had not been around the plant. Reason: "My wife don't have any trouble finding my money."

Near this sassafras processing village, is another noted small town. It is Grand Junction, and chiefly noted for the National Field Trails each year. At that time all the champion or near champion bird dogs are brought to the 25,000 acre Ames Plantation where enticing prizes are offered for the pointer or setter that locates the most quail.

This old plantation with its fine old mansion has been given the University of Tennessee, together with the stock, farm implements, etc. The donor was the wife of the late owner, of Boston, who when her husband was living spent their winters on the plantation and their summers in Boston, Mass. But provision was made for the National Field Trials to go on as usual.

And speaking of Tennessee, Phillip and Faybelle Rogers and the kids returned last week from a visit back there. And guess what, they had a carton of home canned kraut, and lot of black-berry and apple jelly the folks had sent us from back there. Yum, yum.

And grandma says she feels that age is slowing her up quite a bit. She can no longer switch off the light at the wall and get in bed before the light goes out.

TO HAVE PROGRAM

The Pool Home Demonstration Club will have a booth at the Pool school house today (Friday). The club will also present a program.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

SUPER MARKET SELLS ART—With drug stores selling roller skates and hardware stores installing soda fountains, it was only natural that sooner or later the grocery store would stock oil paintings. That's exactly what happened at this super market in Caldwell, N. J., where the customer can buy a hunk of surrealism on canvas with his canned goods, if it strikes his fancy. Paintings, ranging in price from $10 to $100, are sold on a "self-service" basis, with all the proceeds going to the artist.

OHIO READER WANTS HER PAPER TO COME ON

A reader of the Herald almost if not the entire 41 years it has been in the Stricklin family, Mrs. Anna Kochensparger of Columbus, Ohio, says she has been missing the Herald of late, and did not receive a notice of expiration.

We are very sorry, Mrs. K., and we have put you back on the list. The lady that looks after the mailing list says she thought she mailed you a statement in Feb.

Mrs. K. enclosed the funds for another year. So, she has been missing some of our weather reports here in old Terry, and she likes that as she owns some land here. Well, it is still dry at this writing, and we have had some rip-roaring sandstorms.

And Mrs. K. says they are having spring weather up there in Ohio, but have had high winds. They were pretty low, here, scooping up sand by the wagon load. Come down to see us sometime, Mrs. Kochensparger.

U. S. dairy cattle have been increasing at the rate of 2,000,000 every ten years.

Health Unit New Building Program

A week or so ago, we read where some group of property owners, presumably, were petitioning the commissioners court and the city council to stop the erection of the Health Center on the property across the street and just west of the new $550,000 high school building, also under construction. We did not learn their names, as it did not greatly concern us.

We did learn however, that the above officials told the petitioners that the foundation of the new Health Unit had been put down, steel and other material was on the ground to build it, and that the contractor was under $60,000 bond to carry out his contract.

That if the petitioners wished to file an injunction, they would have to make a bond of equal amount. So far as we can learn, nothing has been done to stop the work. We also remember that the site first proposed on North Fifth was objectionable to some and the site was then changed to the present one.

In the meantime, Levelland has offered to not only furnish the site but to put up the cash for the building. If work should be stopped, Brownfield stands to lose this project that means thousands of dollars from the State and Federal government annually.

MRS. MONEY PRICE ENTERTAINED CLUB

Mrs. Money Price entertained the Kolonial Kard Klub March 31 at 3 p.m. at the Esquire Restaurant.

Sandwiches, pie and coffee were served to Mesdames Looe Miller, Toke Howze, A. A. Sawyer, Mike Barrett, Walter Hord, Leo Holmes, Bill Price of Denver City, N. L. Mason, Bill Williams, Roy Collier, E. C. Davis, Roy Winger and Marner Price of San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Mrs. Marner Price received high prize for guests, and Mrs. Collier was high for members. Mrs. Winger was second high, and Mrs. Mason bingoed.

MR. AND MRS. YOUNG ENTERTAINED SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Young entertained with a breakfast Sunday morning at 10 in their home honoring Sidney Harth and Moreland Kortcamp.

Those present were the host and hostess, the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Privitt, and Carr Austin.

Harth, a noted violinist, presented a concert Sunday afternoon at the Brownfield high school auditorium, under the sponsorship of the Brownfield Concert Association.

We hope that the matter has been amicably settled to the satisfaction of all, and the work can go to completion.

Wooley Thinks Post Dynamited Twice

Our old friend W. M. Wooley was in for a small sized racket with the Old He one day last week. He came in to talk about the dynamiting at Post that we ran in these columns a few weeks ago. He thinks perhaps that the dynamiting idea was carried out twice down there, about 1910 and again in 1917.

We don't remember any but the first round, and as the article stated the Herald was located in a little 16x30 building on the site where the State Bank made its home so long. We remember the distinct jars when a bunch of the stuff would be set off, and very faintly, there would be a dull thud.

Wooley remembers that the Ralls section got a good rain covering an area that was not very long or wide. We had something to say about the matter in the Herald at that time, and some of these days we are going to take the trouble to look the matter up.

Mr. W. and the Old He kinder run in the same channel. Both lived awhile in Jones county, and while we came to Terry, he went to Crosby county, where he lived until some six years ago, then he moved down here.

We never come any ways near fighting about our ideas, but sometimes we both "spute" so loud some stranger might get the idea that knives would be flashing and six guns roaring the next minute. Merely fuss and feathers.

Different parts of the same fur felt wear differently. The backs of most animals wear better than the sides and the sides outwear the bellies and the paws.

In its wild upper reaches, China's Yangtze river has a name for every tribe along its banks.

Cancer Education Aimed at Doctors

An unprepared medical student is said to have answered all examination questions with "in the treatment and diagnosis of this disease, there is a great gap between theory and practice." Out of ignorance comes a sad truth. Unfortunately all physicians cannot automatically and instantaneously know the latest information about cancer. Lives may be lost because of this gap. Helping the general practitioner keep abreast of new developments is part of the task of the American Cancer Society. More than a third of the budget of its national office is spent in this fashion. Medical brochures on cancer in important sites have been sent at regular intervals to 125,000 physicians. Dramatic color teaching films on early diagnosis are being produced in cooperation with the National Cancer Institute.

To meet the need of the specialist, a scholarly magazine CANCER is being published. Planned for the near future is a digest-type magazine that will serve the physician who must read as he rushes from call to call. Every year some 70 promising medical students receive American Cancer Society fellowships so they may continue their work with special emphasis on cancer.

The American medical profession in the first 50 years of this century has made our people among the healthiest in the world. You can help them fight cancer by supporting the 1950 Cancer Crusade of the American Cancer Society. Strike Back: Give to Cancer.

FFA Dairy Judging Contest Held Here

Eight schools of the Brownfield District of Future Farmers of America participated in a dairy judging contest at local dairies. The boys, 35 in number, judged three classes of animals at Mr. Buchanan's and two classes of cows at Mr. Ors. Brownfield had two high point boys of the district, Byron Wise and John Burris. The Brownfield team was composed of Charles Bartley, John Burris and Byron Wise. The three team members plan to attend the Plainview judging contest April 10. The team placings were as follows: First, Brownfield; second, Meadow; tie for third, Plains and O'Donnell; fourth, Tahoka; fifth, Wellman; sixth, New Home; and seventh, Wilson. Post failed to enter the contest.

All the chapters express their appreciation to the Buchanan Dairy and Orr Dairy for the use of the good classes of cows and heifers that were made available for the contest. Thanks and appreciation is also extended to Mr. Orr and his son Warren, for their serving as official judges for the contest.—Chapter Sec.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fulton are in Temple this week on business.

Roger Curry Leases the Plains Paper

Our friend, W. J. Hale, owner of the Yoakum County Review at Plains, called Saturday for a chat, as he usually does when he is near our office when in Brownfield. He announced that he had leased the paper to Roger (Red) Curry, who was to have charge this week.

Curry worked for some years on the Herald before the late war, and for some time after returning after the hostilities were over. He then worked for the Lamesa paper and the Brownfield News until recently. Indeed Roger has played around with newspapering since a lad.

We predict that he will make a go of the Review. He has a wife, the former Bettie Longbrake, and one child.

Mrs. B. R. Lay was in from the store at Johnson, Tuesday. We suppose she got old Bernard to lay off running for office long enough for her to come in and wash, while he sold candy and gum.

NEW THEATRE SEATS

New seats have been recently installed in the Rialto Theatre for the comfort and pleasure of their patrons, according to Sammy Jones, manager of the Jones Theatres.

Other improvements have been made recently at the Rialto in the form of interior painting and new front doors.

Around the Studios

With Charlie Brooks
When Vera Zorina was on CBS's video show, "This is Show Business," she was sharply queried by regular panel member George S. Kaufman on the meaning of the ballet. "One time I watched a girl in a ballet gracefully performing a dance," Kaufman told her, "and I figured out she was supposed to be a nymph skipping through a waterfall. Turned out to be an interpretation of a lady exchanging a girdle at Macy's!"

Geo. S. Kaufman

Betty Winkler, lovely star of CBS's exciting daytime drama, "Rosemary," was hurrying away from the studio the other day, her mind full of the problems Rosemary is currently having in the script, adjusting herself to the strangeness of New York City, after coming from a small town. A woman came up to Betty and asked how to get to Lexington Ave., some three blocks East. "I'm sorry," said Betty, "I'm from out of town myself." It wasn't until she was well past the inquirer that Betty, who actually is a New Yorker of several years' standing, realized her own absentmindedness.

Betty Winkler

The Women's Commentator Contest, sponsored by CBS's "Wendy Warren and The News," has just ended, and Mrs. Frances Jarmon, of Radio Station WDCN in Durham, N. C., is the lucky girl to come out on top. In the opinion of the judges, Frances' inspiring story of the remarkable rehabilitation work done by Miss Antoinette Lamonte, young Superintendent of the Raleigh, N. C., Women's Prison, was the best local news story submitted. Result: Mrs. Jarmon has won a week in New York City as Wendy Warren's guest, and will see all the hit Broadway shows, and make a gay, conducted whirl of the city's high spots.

Frances Jarmon

During a rehearsal of "Portia Faces Life," the cast began discussing the current New York water shortage — and relating anecdotes about the ways in which they and their friends tried to conserve. "In fact," quipped Bart Robinson, who plays Portia's husband, Walter Manning, "it has reached the point where New Yorkers are spending water like money!"

San Francisco Invites DAV

CINCINNATI—National Commander David M. Brown of the Disabled American Veterans receives official invitation from John Shannon in behalf of the City of San Francisco to hold 1950 national DAV convention in Golden Gate City, Shannon, offering cable car replicas to Commander Brown, has been appointed General Chairman of Arrangements, it was announced at DAV National Headquarters here. The DAV conclave will be held August 13-19.

Harvey E. Jones Claimed Monday.

Funeral services were held here Tuesday for Harvey E. Jones, 80, who died in his home at Plains at 5 p.m. Monday. The Rev. T. L. Burns officiated.

Jones had been a resident of Plains for the past two years.

Burial was in Brownfield cemetery, under the direction of a Lubbock funeral home.

Survivors include his wife; one son, Leslie Jones of Lamesa; two daughters, Mrs. Opal Smith and Mrs. Lucretia Cheek, both of Plains; seven grandchildren; and 10 great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond DuBose and daughter of Amarillo visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. DuBose, this week.

CHARLIE McLELLAN of Eagle Lake, who won the nickname of "Last-Mile Charlie" in the last legislative session, has announced as a candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture.

The 50-year-old legislator led the fight for a natural gas tax to finance "pavement for that last mile from the farm-to-market road to the farm" and was cited by the Texas Farm Bureau Federation in its convention for outstanding Service to Agriculture. He was one of the organizers and the first secretary of the Texas Rural Roads Association. McLellan is a World War I veteran.

OWEN E. PARRISH ENLISTS IN AAF

Owen E. Parrish, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Parrish of route 5, Brownfield, enlisted in the Army Air Force Thursday, Mar. 30.

He went from here to Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, where he will receive his basic training. From there he will go to a specialized school.

Parrish is a graduate of Union high school.

He has hundreds of different faces, and hundreds of different names . . . but he has only one thought: to serve and work in behalf of this nation's wartime disabled veterans, their widows and dependent children.

"He" is a disabled veteran and has served in every battle area of the world . . . suffered every type of disability recorded by the Veterans Administration. Each month the Disabled American Veterans, as part of a national program to honor seriously disabled veterans who have successfully rehabilitated themselves, selects a "Hero of the Month."

This month, in special recognition, the DAV has selected as "The Hero of the Month" the DAV National Service Officer. Located in every regional office of the Veterans Administration—and through these offices all VA hospitals—the DAV National Service Officer assists without charge the veteran, his dependents, and his survivors in compensation, hospital, job, insurance or any other matters pertaining to veterans affairs. During the past fiscal year DAV national service officers obtained more than $19,000,000 in government benefits for disabled veterans. Disabled veteran benefits are not automatic. In every instance a claim must be filed. Rules, regulations and laws covering the benefits accorded disabled veterans run into hundreds of pages of fine type. There are heaps of bulletins, manuals, circulars and decisions. There are organizational orders, rating schedules, procedures and technical rulings.

The DAV national service officer cuts through this labyrinth of laws and obtains for the disabled veterans—or his widow or dependents—their rightful benefits. Although service officers are not lawyers, they are experts. They appear before Veterans Administration claims boards as "attorneys-in-fact" or "friends of the court." Prior to this appearance they have dug deep into the case. They have sweated out long hours over regulations and often turn detective to unearth important evidence in favor of the claimant.

The DAV this month salutes not a single veteran who has overcome his disabilities to make his remaining abilities pay off . . . but a corps of almost 300 men who, under the direction of DAV national headquarters in Cincinnati and its National Service Office in Washington, D. C., are hard working, unselfish, untingering in their devotion to duty.

FARM QUESTION BOX

by ED W. MITCHELL
Farm Advisor
General Electric Station WGY

Q. Can you tell me about radiant heating for poultry houses?

A. Radiant heat for brooding is growing in popularity, but the convenience of doing away with hovers is only part of the reason. Overhead lights are only part of the installation. Hang 250-watt infrared heat lamps three feet above the center, warmer area of the floor and space them about three to five feet apart each way. Use porcelain sockets and drop cords so height can be adjusted. In addition, place electric heating cable in a cement floor or in sand on your present floor in loops about six feet apart in the warm center and nine feet apart along the sides. Use a thermostat and start with a floor temperature of around 82-85 degrees Fahrenheit and reduce it gradually.

Q. Paint will not stay on my house. I have tried everything including painting with aluminum paint as a base, but it peels in just a short time.

A. Paint often peels if a house is insulated in such a way that the insulation collects and holds moisture enough to keep the siding damp; or if the wood is not seasoned and dry; or where there is a knot or resin on the surface. The remedy is to ventilate walls enough to keep them dry; let wood become dry and seasoned; cover any knots or resin spots with a good quality shellac or varnish; and then apply a good grade of paint.

Q. Can you give us any information on home freezing of eggs? Is it practical, and how long will they remain in good condition?

A. The government has a few million pounds of frozen eggs, some of them probably two or three years old which should be ample proof that eggs can be frozen and held for an indefinite period. Use only fresh eggs, preferably fertile and plunge into boiling water to kill as many shell-born bacteria as possible. Use clean, new, waxed cups you can buy at the locker plant and add a little salt or sugar and beat them a little bit. You can freeze yolks and whites separately or together. Freeze promptly. The freezer box should be zero or lower.

Q. Can you give me information on using heating cable in the floor of a brooder house to raise chicks with radiant heat? How does it work?

A. It works very well. More and more poultry men are changing over to this system because it works so well. Build an insulated brooder house and provide adequate ventilation with electric fans. Lay the cable 1/2 to 1 inch deep in the concrete floor and use 1/2 inch of sand or litter and hang 250-watt heat lamps overhead. This does away with brooders and chicks can select the degree of heat they prefer.

Mahon Believes Grain Support Price Almost Sure

Cong. George Mahon reported to the Herald this week that his mail from the District indicated concern over the failure of the Commodity Credit Corporation to announce a loan support for the 1950 grain sorghum crop. Over a period of months Mahon has urged such support, indicating his belief that a support program would be announced.

In his report this week, which was also sent to the office of the county agent and county PMA office, Mahon stated that no one could guarantee that a support program for grain sorghum would be provided but that every indication pointed in that direction. The support program on grain sorghum last year was announced on March 14. In conferring with officials in Washington, Mahon has insisted that it is most important that a support program be announced as soon as possible and at a level not below last year.

On March 23 the House of Representatives passed a measure strengthening the Commodity Credit Corporation and increasing the capitol stock. Favorable action by the Senate is anticipated. Mahon said that indications are that after this measure has become the law an early determination on the grain sorghum support program will be made. He is hoping for favorable action.

A SOLDIER in Chicago cashed a war bond by using his dental plate, inscribed with his name and serial number, for identification. Probably got tired of putting the bite on his buddies.

With all this talk about the perils of atomic energy, it's probably wise to remember that a woman, too, can be dangerous with an atomizer.

Experiments are being made in England with water-filled tires for motor vehicles. Sounds like a good idea—hope it doesn't fall flat.

PAT SAYS HE DIDN'T SAY WHAT WE SAID HE SAID

Pat Patterson of Piggly Wiggly acknowledges he does not read the Herald—much. But he found last Friday and Saturday that a heck of a lot of others do, when they began to march in and ask about the wind being from the southeast Tuesday morning of the 21st, at sunrise. And according to record, Pat didn't exactly say we prevaricated, but that we were mistaken about what he said.

Being hard of hearing might have been some of the trouble, but at that time we felt so sure that the best place for the wind to be from was the southeast, that we wanted to hear it that way. Later, we learned that the northeast was the prime place.

Pat says, he was standing under the stop light at Broadway and Sixth, OK, and that he really tossed up some good old Terry county soil, as there was plenty in the vicinity following the dusts. But instead of going toward the Bargain Center, it went toward Piggly Wiggly, showing that the wind was exactly from the right place, according to the Indian sign for a good crop.

Talking about Indians, back in Tennessee when we were a boy, they used to say the Indian sign for rain was cloudy all over and pouring down in the middle. Wouldn't you like to see a sign like that?

Anyway, the Arbuckle goes to Pat for the misquotation.

'Bugs' Are On the Loose In Texas

Home gardeners and truck crop producers in many sections of the state are already busy at the job of keeping destructive bugs out of their vegetable crops. The fight will soon be general over the entire state and chances are good the bugs will put up a stiff scrap for their share of the products raised on the farm and in the garden. A show of weakness on the part of the producer may be fatal for the vegetables.

Circular C-264, "Vegetable Insect Control" has been prepared by Texas A & M entomologists that is full of useful information on insects and insecticides. They point out the need for complete control and describe the insecticides that have given the best results. Recommended control measures are listed for all of the more common vegetable insects found in the state.

The entomologists suggest that you visit your local county extension agent's office and ask for a copy of C-264. It is free for the asking.

SURPLUS POTATO "BLUES" — Tons of surplus potatoes bought by the government under the price support program are being treated at storage depots to prevent their being smuggled back into the commercial market. Above, workman Roy Gibson "injects" a harmless blue dye through a perforated steel rod into sacks of potatoes at the government's storage plant, Cohocton, N. Y.

Low Down From Hickory Grove

We can do more fool things in this land of the free, than anybody in his right mind could conjure up. What we really need is an iron curtain. We are so busy helping out—north pole to south pole—that our own home roost is needing attention and an airing.

As we go all-out to quarantine communism, we hardly notice the same disease creeping in upon us. It is in a milder form—for it is socialism, the early symptoms of what is next. And that is where the iron curtain could come in. With less foreign gab to bother us we could center our view on what is cooking all about us—give us time to pry into how come our Govt. could spend 40 billion a year—unless there was something in our own wood pile. Forty billion is 1000 bucks for every family.

We been kept so mentally occupied via big phrases that we have not seen socialism sneak in under the tent. And furthermore who gives a hoot about other guys worry. Take a barber in Keokuk, why should he bother, he says, if socialism barges in at the powerhouse away off some place like Texas. Well brother, take a glance at the barbers in merry old England. The hair tonic business there has folded. Why bother with tonics as the Govt.

Vets Land Program Now Conditional

Although the entire $25,000,000 principal of the Veterans' Land program was committed by March 18, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles stated today that additional applications are still being accepted "under certain conditions."

"Where both seller and veteran understand that we cannot guarantee there will be money available to complete the purchase," said Giles, "we are putting the application on file."

The $25,000,000 fund is a revolving one and thus additional purchases can be made from time to time as veterans make their semi-annual payments. Giles pointed out. Some veterans are also retiring their indebtedness at a faster rate than their contract demands. One tract in Dickens county has already been paid for in full.

"Also," Giles explained, "every withdrawal enables us to process one of the applications accepted on this conditional basis. We will act upon these when new applications, if and when money is available, in the order they are received."

The down payment accompanying a "conditional" application will be deposited in the State Treasury, Giles said, and will be returned if the transaction is not completed.

No application has been accepted since March 18 except this "conditional basis," Giles stated.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS
Santa Fe System carloadings for week ending March 25, 1950, were 22,390 compared with 21,266 for same week in 1949. Cars received from connections totaled 11,231 compared with 10,792 for same week in 1949. Total cars moved were 33,621 compared with 32,058 for same week in 1949.

Santa Fe handled a total of 32,251 cars in preceding week of this year.

Cancer Hereditary? No, Say Researchers
"My mother died of cancer. Does that mean I too will develop the disease?" The answer to this frequently-asked question is: No!

Science has produced no evidence that human cancer is directly hereditary. In animals and in humans, however, there is some evidence that a tendency or pre-disposition toward cancer may be inherited.

Why No Better Reports on Cyclones?

Tex Easley the AP Washington correspondent for hundreds of Texas newspapers including the Herald, says that an effort is being made to find why better reports on the approach of cyclones cannot be made. Indeed, Representative Lindsey Beckwith of Gladewater has asked the United States Weather Bureau if better reports or warnings cannot be made, on the order of hurricane warnings.

In the first place the USWB says the cyclones go under two names, tornadoes and twisters, although they are the same animal. One trouble is that unlike hurricanes, cyclones develop suddenly maybe in some isolated settlement, and move quickly into a thickly settled area, where great destruction is wrought.

The hurricane on the other hand instead of being 1000 feet wide, are sometimes 200 miles wide. And instead of traveling at a rate of 25 to 40 miles per hour, the hurricane is sluggish and moves some 12 miles per hour. They can be detected in their formative stage and the direction they travel can be traced, although they sometimes change course.

This permits of storm warnings days in advance, and people along the coast have time to batten down their windows. Here is some of the things, however, the US-WB tells us if we see a cyclone coming. If it is coming straight toward you, and they are usually out of the southwest, run to the right. If the twister is moving some to your right, then turn to your left. If in a storm cellar, sit in the southwest corner.

It is said that only two men have been privileged to see up through the center of a twister funnel and live. One an Oklahoman and the other a Kansas man. Both were in or entering a storm cellar at the time. But they were so scared they can tell little of what it looked like.

As to frequency of cyclones
May and June are the high months in number. May with 77 and June with 74 on an average.
Sept. with 4 and December 11, are the low months. April is rather high, too.

Easter Cantata To Be Presented Sunday

An Easter cantata, "Life Eternal," will be presented by the choir of the First Baptist church next Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock worship service. This thirty-five minute music feast will be broadcast.

Gerald Nelson is director of the mixed choir of thirty voices. Mrs.
Ruth Huckabee is the organist and Mrs. Jimmie Moore the pianist.

The choir personnel will be:
SOPRANO: Mrs. R. A. Brown,

R. M. KENDRICK SEEMS TO BE IMPROVING

R. M. Kendrick, president of the First National Bank, who underwent quite a serious operation at the Lubbock General hospital last week, is reported to be a bit better. Indeed his son, Clovis, reported to us Tuesday that his dad appeared to be improving.

The operation was for a throat infection. It had become difficult for him to talk before the operation. Clovis stated that it still was a bit difficult, but he felt that his dad was improving some,
and might be able to be brought home this week end.

His many friends will be glad to learn that he is doing fully as well as could be expected.

FLYING
NEWS AND VIEWS

By EDWIN E. DUNCAN

J. J. Handley, of the Welch community, made his first solo flight early last Monday morning.
Mr. Handley began flying several weeks ago, and is now over the big hump in the life of a student pilot. Congratulations, Jay.

Another in line for congratulations is Darrell Green who made his solo flight last Friday evening.
Darrell is the young man who is serving in the capacity of apprentice mechanic at the local field.

Burton Rowe is the latest to enroll for flight training, and has already started logging time.

Rufus Walker, from Odessa, stopped at the field last Monday morning while on his way back home. He was in an Aeronca Champion, and really gave the boys a demonstration on how to handle a light plane in a strong wind.

W. E. Madden, also of Odessa, flew up to Brownfield on business last week.

Hank Goehry was over from Plains last Saturday to have a few minor repairs taken care of
on his J-3 Cub.

Carl Oberholzer, of Midland, stopped in at the field last Friday for a few minutes of hangar flying. He was in his Stinson Station Wagon.

Roy D. Harris flew a new Piper
Pacer down from Lubbock
Wednesday afternoon of last week to give demonstration flights at the local field. The Pacer, a 4-place, 125 h.p. plane, is the latest design put out by the Piper Aircraft Company. A greatly improved version of the Piper Clipper, the Pacer has a remarkable take-off and climb ability for a plane of its class, and will outperform many planes in the heavier classes.

Among those flying and riding in the new Pacer during its brief visit at the field were Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Harris and Duane,
Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Moore, Mr.
and Mrs. Bill Gorby, Mr. and Mrs.
R. C. Harris, Bill Green, E. W.
Wilgus, Perry Anthony, Darrell Green, Jack Hamilton, Tommy
Hamilton and this reporter.

Mrs. Mary Dee Mason, adsorlicitor for the Herald, and this reporter flew to Seagraves on business Wednesday in the Cruiser.

Needmore Club Has Meeting

Mrs. Grady Davis was hostess to members of Needmore club
Wednesday, March 29.

Roll call was answered by a helpful sewing tip.

For recreation the game of the "Wife's Dress" was played.
The winner was Mrs. Norvel
Hulse.

Minutes of the last meeting was read by the secretary and approved by the members.

Mrs. Grady Davis gave a demonstration on mirror painting.

A report was made from the
"Messenger" by Mrs. Norvel
Hulse.

Mrs. Lee Bartlett made a report of the last council meeting.
Refreshments of punch and Easter cookies were served to eight members and the meeting adjourned.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Norvel Hulse.
Everyone is invited to come either as a member or a visitor. —Re-

HERO of the Month

AS SELECTED BY THE JURY

The gentleman from Florida has refused to "yield."
Congressman Charles E. Bennett, of Florida's 2nd district, a disabled war veteran, became a victim of polio during the Philippine invasion of World War II.

And breaking his right leg recently after a fall on an icy pavement was another hurdle that Congressman Bennett has taken in stride.

Because of his ability to cope with serious handicaps caused by World War II service and reach his goal, the Disabled American Veterans has selected Bennett as
"The Hero of the Month."

The selection is part of a national program to honor each month a seriously disabled veteran who has successfully rehabilitated himself.

In 1941, young, healthy and ambitious, Bennett ran for Congress but it wasn't until 1949—after polio had crippled both legs—that he achieved his ambition. Already a member of the Florida state legislature, he was campaigning for the United States

Congress and then came Pearl Harbor.

Bennett withdrew from the Congressional race and enlisted in the Army as a private. That was the beginning of a period that would have beaten a man with less grit. In 58 months of fan-try service he saw combat in British New Guinea, fought at the Toor River in Dutch New Guinea, commanded a "tornado" task force of the 33rd Division and took part in the Philippine Invasion.

The battle of Lingayen Gulf—Luzon—Bagio occupied the spring and summer of 1945. He rose to lieutenant and then to Captain.

And when a call came for American officers to lead Philippine guerilla forces he volunteered. During his command of 1,000 guerillas he won the Silver Star for gallantry and fell victim to polio.

There followed 20 months of hospitals. But with the aid of two canes and a brace on his right leg he campaigned up and down the second district of Florida, which includes his hometown of Jacksonville, to beat an opponent with six years of Congressional experience.

He is a member of DAV Jacksonville Chapter No. 1 and a graduate of the University of Florida.

Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show Apr. 8-14

Entries for the 23rd annual Panhandle-Plains Dairy show at Plainview promise to exceed last year's record of 504 head of choice dairy cattle. Recognized as the largest dairy show in the south and the third largest in the nation, this event exhibits the finest in the Guernsey, Jersey, Milking Shorthorn and Holstein breeds.

The only show in the nation to provide milking facilities for all of its exhibitors, the 1950 Panhandle-Plains Dairy show is offering over $3,600 in prize money equally distributed to all breeds eligible to show.

Catalogues and entry blanks are available at the Chamber of Commerce office in Plainview, and many entries have already been received from exhibitors in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

The first entry for this year's show was received from Floyd Pruden, Altus, Okla. The dates of the show are April 8-14.

Daggone Such A Fortune Telling Machine

As innocent as a newborn babe, we stopped at that there weighing and fortune telling machine between the Bargain Center and Joe Gowans office the other day, looked each way for possible spies, and inserted our only penny at the place where it says August. You know you put the coin in your birthday month.

Folks, we were horrified at the result; us, one of the outstanding moral moguls of the town. What did it say? "Your failure is that you take chances and inclined to gamble." To heck with such a machine.

We admit that our life has never been full of sublime virtues, but chance taking and gambling is not one of our sins. We just never was accused of having "sporting blood" in our veins.

And now we are inclined to doubt the weight the machine gave us, 181 pounds. From now on we'll spend our pennies with strictly weighing machines, or slip in and weigh on our grocers' scales, free.

Food Handlers Taught Sanitary Methods

The Texas State Department of Health's program of teaching food handlers sanitary methods of preparing and serving food continues to be very popular, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer. It is one method of attack on that great group of respiratory diseases which include influenza, scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough and the common cold, the viruses of which are spread from person to person by the excretions of the nose and mouth.

Restaurant sanitation programs have become more necessary because of changes which have taken place in our national eating habits. Once upon a time it was customary for most people in Texas and in the USA to eat three meals a day at their own table. To "eat out" was an unusual and exciting event. Now, all the family, including the baby, eat out.

In this constant mingling of people to eat and drink there exists a vast and complicated arrangement perfectly designed for exchange of saliva via cups, glasses, spoons, forks and fingers that go in and out millions of mouths. There are few hours in the day in any community when these vectors of respiratory and other diseases are not busy.

The prime purpose of restaurant sanitation is to have all dishes and utensils sterilized and to have all those who handle or serve food understand and practice restaurant sanitation every day and all the time.

The public in every community needs to be concerned about the cleanliness of its public eating places. You can help by demanding cleanliness in the places you eat.

"N-I-I-CE KITTY!"—Television announcer Jim Huribut satisfies a lifelong—though uncommon—ambition by scratching a lion's back. The lion in this case is "Dillinger," a star boarder at the Lincoln Park Zoo in Chicago. Huribut, who "interviews" zoo inmates on a weekly TV broadcast, was assured in advance that "Dillinger" is just a lovable character at heart.

Weatherman-Who Does He Think He Is?

The weather for the past three weeks has been very unsatisfactory. One of our favorite authors, Mark Twain, once had a bit of criticism of New England weather in one of his books. He "lowed as how everybody talked about the weather, but nobody did anything about it. We wonder sometimes if firing the present weather set-up would help matters. Just tell them of that we hoped such an idea would be a lesson to them.

And if them cold fronts that are cooked up in Alaska, Canada and the Pacific northwest have anything to do with our harassing dusts, let's politely tell these foreigners to keep their weather to themselves. That we prefer gulf breezes from Texas to the brand of stuff they put out. There are a few other complaints, such as lack of moisture, but we are waiting on April to bring the showers.

Anyway, as long as these Terry county farmers come in with a grin on their faces and offer to buy us a cup of coffee, what the heck is the use of us tearing our shirt? We don't own but a few hundred square feet of land to our name, yet we are the ones—us town people—who are doing most of the aching.

Speaking of weather, a Texican from down Mercedes way is said to have prayed a big rain on the watershed of New York City. He is described as "a sort of Evangelist." But he has already commercialized his prayer, and sent Gotham a bill for $7000 for services rendered. As a compromise, it has been suggested that the preacher bring his cattle up from Texas and graze them on Central Park.

Well, as we have that Christian duty in disciplining the Weatherman, so will let up on him for this week. By the way, when do YOU think it will rain? And don't you think the Mercedes preacher could find some dry spots to pray rain on in Texas?

BUILDING PERMITS HIGH IN FEBRUARY

Texas building permits in 46 cities totaled $46,523,450 in February, or 72 per cent more than in February 1949, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported.

Houston permits totaled $13,054,400; Dallas, $6,610,001; San Antonio, $4,410,472; Fort Worth, $3,547,492; and Austin, $3,297,550.

Waggoner Carr, Lubbock attorney, who is making the race for State Representative of the 119th district, was a pleasant caller last week.

INSPECTORS CAPTURE SEVEN ILLICIT STILL

The Texas Liquor Control board inspectors in February reported the seizure of 7 illicit stills.

With the stills, which had a cubic capacity of 370 gallons, inspectors captured 910 gallons of mash and made 7 arrests. 17 1/2 gallons of moonshine liquor were destroyed.

Two stills were taken in Smith county, and one still each was taken in the counties of San Augustine, Marion, Freestone, Bowie and Red River.

Cancer Cure Rate Shows Good Gain

Intensive educational campaigns against cancer are making progress. A Vermont hospital study made in 1937 showed that less than 20 per cent of the cancer patients coming for treatment had local and thus potentially curable conditions. By 1947, after ten years of education by the American Cancer Society, another survey showed that almost 60 per cent of the patients had localized cancers.

In Connecticut the five-year cure rate rose from 22.1 per cent in 1940 to 33.5 in 1946. In great hospital centers throughout the country, women are unquestionably presenting themselves earlier with symptoms of breast cancer, and cure rates are much higher than ten years ago.

Spreading information about cancer does bring patients to physicians earlier and does save lives—but there is much to do. In 1948 a careful study indicated that only half the population of the country knew even one of the cancer danger signals. These symptoms are:

1. Any sore that does not heal.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
4. Any change in a wart or mole.
5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
7. Any change in normal bowel habits.

Revival To Begin April 9 at Turner

Beginning Sunday, April 9, and continuing through Sunday, April 23rd, a revival will be held at the Turner Baptist church, seven miles northwest of Tokio.

Morning services will begin at 10 a. m., and evening services will begin at 8 p. m.

Speaker for the first week of the revival will be J. R. Lanier of Brownfield, and Rev. O. B. Hudson of Brownwood will be speaker for the last week.

Andrew Lamberts of Wayland College in Plainview will speak on "Communism" Saturday, April 15.

The public is cordially invited to attend the revival.

Joint Communion Service Is Held

The third annual joint communion service of the First Methodist church and the First Presbyterian church was held Thursday at 7:50 p. m. in the Methodist church. The two churches alternate between the two congregations to observe Maundy Thursday each year.

Choirs of both churches sang as a group. The Rev. J. Preston Murphy of the Presbyterian church gave the communion meditation.

Those who have attended the past three years, say that it is the "high light" service of the year, according to H. L. Thurston, minister of the Methodist church.

Wayne (Red) Smith, manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, was in Dallas Wednesday on business.

Mrs. Hiram Parks, former resident of Brownfield, underwent surgery in a Lubbock hospital Tuesday.

WIFE MEMO
BY JEAN CANNON

For the families who like their wife with cheese, this recipe puts the cheese right into the filling to cook with the apples in a pastry shell. To make Chelsea Apple Pie, scald 1 cup evaporated milk in a double boiler. Add 1/2 lb. shredded processed cheese and 1/4 tsp. salt. Keep over heat until cheese is melted, stirring frequently. Gradually stir the mixture into 2 eggs, slightly beaten. Combine about 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 tsp. cinnamon, 1/4 tsp. nutmeg. Scramble over 2 cups apples, thinly sliced. Put apples into uncooked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 15 mins. Then turn down gas to reduce oven heat to 325° F. Place custard mixture over apples in pie shell. Continue baking until a sharp knife inserted near the center of pie comes out clean—about 25 mins. Cool and serve.

All automatic gas ranges built to "CF" standards are equipped with lifetime guarantees for top, oven and broiler burners.

As soon as cooking pressure is reached turn down the flame under pressure cooker. Then begin 60-second time for cooking period.

When cooking fudge, don't beat it so soon as it's taken off the burner. Boil, pour fudge into chilled bowl, then beat with egg beater to get it creamy.

Don't be too startled at the amount of lint you get in the lint trap of your gas dryer. It's no more than when clothes are hung outside. Only difference is that outside the wind blows the lint away and you can't actually see it.

Sharpen the flavor of baked apples with a peppermint stick slipped into the core just before you slide them into the oven.

Last Minute Moronic Meanderings

One of the editors of a daily paper that we get took the cigarette companies to task about their insistence that their product was fine for the throat, T-zone, no cough in a carload, and what have you. It just made us think that if a lot of us country bumpkin weeklies could get those fat half page ads, we'd just let them maintain that they cured whooping cough, gout or cancer. This of course providing the cigarette companies would do the passing muster with the powers that be. By the way, we heard over the radio that at least two of them had to stop making such claims. All cigarettes, the authorities said, contained about the same amount of nicotine and irritants, and the same brand would vary about as much as they did with other brands.

About this time of year we see so much about Easter and Holy Week that we get to wondering why it is so called? We wonder if anyone thinks that the unjust trial and crucifixion of Jesus could be said to be holy, and wonder if His death occurred on a different day each year. Easter is an old Saxon spring festival, and is just used one time in the old King James versions of the New Testament, and even that one corrected "Easter" to "Passover" in the footnotes. All newer versions render the passage correctly. But we have just as much Bible authority to celebrate Easter as we do Christmas.

We note that most of the big gun lawyers say that old man Hagedorn should have been stuck, and all his money taken away from him, even if he did not own the old flea bitten mule that caused the wreck. Of course the lawyers are going to hold up their side, even though practically all other people believe in justice more than technicalities. One of these days perhaps the people will get so filled up that they will send a majority of men that are not lawyers to Austin and relegate some of the ancient findings of courts to the junk heap.

"Freezing weather bearing down on west Texas," says the north Texas daily headlines. Well, it did get rather cool after several days of 90 degree weather,

Telephone Planning ..

phone company records show that 847 telephones have been installed since January 1, 1946. Brownfield's telephone growth has not been confined just to the number of telephones added. The number of long distance outlets have been increased from 12 to 24. Three new long distance circuits are to be added in 1950.

It is expected that the rapid growth of Brownfield will continue for several years. At the present time, there are approximately 164 applications for service on hand. While many of the applications are in newly developed areas, the telephone company expects to install more than 75 additional services before new cable and switchboard installations are completed. Over 40 new telephones have been added this year.

When the present expansion plans are completed, the capacity of the telephone system will be six times as great as in 1941, almost the same as five new systems the size of Brownfield's before the war. Greatly enlarged facilities in the business area will make it possible to eliminate party line telephones. Present planning indicates that all known applicants will be served by September. Persons desiring telephone service and who have not applied are urged to file their applications with the local telephone office at a very early date. The telephone company is anxious to provide all necessary facilities while heavy construction crews are at Brownfield.

As more telephones are installed, more calls per telephone are made. Telephone records show that 704 telephones in service at Brownfield on September 1, 1946, made 4,150 local calls on the average day, or 5.9 calls per telephone per day. The 1,432 telephones in service in January 1950 made 14,577 calls on the average day, or 11.1 calls per telephone per day.

Notice To Bidders

Notice is hereby given that the Commissioners Court of Terry County, Texas, will, on the 24th day of April, 1950, at 10 o'clock a.m. in its usual meeting place in the court house at Brownfield, Texas, proceed to receive and consider competitive bid for the purchase of the following described road machinery: Crawler tractor with front end loading attachment. Tractor must be powered with diesel engine developing at least 40 h.p. at drawbar and weighing at least 16,000 lbs. Tractor must be fully equipped including direct starting and lighting equipment, grill guard, track roller, sprocket and idler gears. Loading attachment must be hydraulically operated including down pressure, lift, and bucket control. Bucket must be at least one cubic yard capacity. One ten ton capacity, single axle, tilt-bed type trailer with 10"X20, 12 ply tires. One AC W-Speed patrol with front end loader will be offered in trade, and will at such time let a contract therefor if any bid be accepted; all such bids to be made as required by law; and if any bid be accepted it is the intention of the Court to issue time warrants on said County in payment of all or part of such proposed contract, in the maximum amount of $8,000.00, to bear 3 per cent interest per annum, the last maturity date of such warrants to be not later than the year of 1954.

SCOUT CAMPOREE TO BE HERE APRIL 14-15

Members of the Comanche Trail district of the South Plains Boy Scout council will hold a camporee in Brownfield April 14-15, according to A. M. Muldrow, district committee chairman. Plans for the camporee were made at a recent meeting of workers from Ropesville, Wellman, Meadow, and Brownfield.

HERE SHE COMES DEAR OLD TERRY

Received the cash by mail this week for a short time subscription from an old time friend, Mrs. W. S. Crowder. Her letter was addressed to "Dear Terry County Herald." Mrs. C. says she plans to be located at one place (Memphis, Texas) for the duration of the short period. We can change it to a new address, for that matter, Mrs. Crowder. The Crowders were early settlers in Terry county, and some of the boys still live here. They were fine citizens, and always took part in the affairs of the county and community in which they live. Her late husband, Bill, was usually in all old time fiddlers' contests as long as he was physically able to attend them.

Mrs. Crowder writes: "I like to hear from the old home town, and the children there just can't write it all. I have always enjoyed the paper very much."

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 4 PLANS SUMMER CAMP

Troop 4 of the Girl Scouts met at the Little House Wednesday afternoon in a regular meeting. New officers were elected as follows: Janell Lewis, president; Jane Griggs, vice president; Marie Robinson, secretary; Patricia Hamilton, treasurer; Anna Lee Jones and Wilma Garnett, reporters; and Ginger Dunn, historian. Plans were also made for summer camp.

Lubbock Man Seeks Place On Appeals Court

Atty. G. H. Nelson, well known attorney of Lubbock, has announced as a candidate to succeed Judge F. L. Hawkins, aging member of the Court of Criminal Appeals. Many of our readers know Mr. Nelson quite well, as he once resided at Tahoka, and was for several terms District Attorney of the 106th Judicial District.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and children moved to Lubbock in 1936, where he entered the practice of law. Mrs. Nelson is a sister of Atty. Burton G. Hackney of this city. Nelson was born at Hughes Springs in east Texas, and is 48 years of age.

W. M. GOLDSTON HAD STROKE IN MARCH

One of the daughters of W. M. Goldston, who lives at Denver City, called the Herald this week and informed us that her dad suffered a very bad stroke on March 7th, and was still seriously ill.

Miss Goldston doubted that he would know old friends if they called, as he is not rational much of the time. Just wanted to let his old friends know of his condition.

The Goldstons were early settlers in Terry, where he farmed many years before moving to Denver City. Mrs. Goldston and Mrs. Jim Lindley are sisters.

HOLLOWAYS FROM ALABAMA CALLED

We had a surprise call from Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Holloway of Sheffield, Alabama this week. They were on their way home from California where the parents of Mrs. Holloway live, and were to spend Wed. night with friends in Lubbock.

Never had met them before, but seemed as if we had. Mrs. Holloway was reared at Middleton, and they spent a night with one of our nieces recently while on their way to California, and they promised to call on us while passing through Brownfield.

This old world is getting smaller and smaller. Used to be before cars and paved roads that we rarely saw people from back there. Now it is quite frequent.

W. T. SPARKMANS MOVE NEAR WEATHERFORD

The Rev. W. T. Sparkman and his family moved Tuesday to near Weatherford, where he has accepted a pastorate.

He has been pastor of the West Side Baptist church for the past three years. Before moving to Brownfield, he had been pastor of the Gomez Baptist church. Supply pastors will occupy the West Side church until another pastor accepts the position.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cornett were their daughter, Mrs. James Dunn, her husband and daughter from Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Holgate of San Angelo are here visiting their daughter, Mrs. Jack Hamilton and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Newman of Oklahoma City are visiting friends and relatives here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Holgate and family of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hamilton and Mrs. Pat Steen and family Sunday.
