BROWNFIELD, TEXAS

FRIDAY, JULY 7, 1950

NUMBER 50

HEED THE WARNING—In the frontier West Texas days, cattle rustling wasn't a healthy pursuit—if the culprit got caught. This sign, and that culprit hanging from the tree limb, recreate a bit of the old frontier west as Abilene, near Abilene, got ready for its annual Fort Griffin Fandangle. That's the Shackelford county courthouse in the background. The Fandangle was a three-day affair. (AP photo)

Officers Probe Area Burglaries

Local authorities, as well as a federal postal inspector, are investigating two burglaries at Meadow early Tuesday morning according to Ocie Murry, sheriff. The burglars broke into the back entrance of Jones Grocery store in Meadow and took two cartons of cigarettes, and into the Meadow postoffice and took $1.65 in change in the early morning burglaries.

Reported burglaries of four firms in Ropesville, in which only a little change, cigarettes, candy and gum were taken, led officers to believe that both the Meadow and Ropesville burglaries are linked.

Investigations are going on, and Murry said that officers hoped for an early break in solving the burglaries.

Another Old Pioneer Passes Over the River

When the writer arrived in Terry county in January, 1909, W. M. Green and family had been residents less than two years, having moved to the Gomez community in 1907. He was regarded as one of the best and most moral citizens of the county, and was highly respected by old and young.

This old pioneer departed this life at the ripe old age of 92 at the local hospital at 8 p. m. Friday. He was preceded in death by his life companion some seven years ago. Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church at Wellman Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial was made in Terry County Memorial cemetery following, with Brownfield Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Masonic rites were conducted at the graveside led by Raymond Simms, an old friend of the family.

Mr. Green was a native of Benton, Ark., and three brothers and two sisters still reside there. Of the immediate family only two sons and a daughter survive, being Elmer G. of Amarillo, and Everett M. of Tatum, N. M., and Mrs. Grover C. Lewis, Rt. 3, city. Since the death of Mrs. Green, deceased had made his home among his children.

The three surviving children and their families attended the funeral.

3-County X-Ray Survey To Begin

Corneise Brings In First 1950 Cotton Bloom

F. M. Corneise, who several years ago bought the Arthur Green place southeast of Brownfield some 2 miles, claims the Herald yearly first bloom from 1950 cotton. The bloom, a white one, was brought in July the 3rd. We failed to get the acreage of Mr. Corneise's cotton field.

He is an irrigation farmer, and was among the first to put down an irrigation well in Terry county. He raises much other stuff other than cotton, especially roasting ears. The cotton was planted around the 8th day of May, or whatever day it was along about that time when we had one of the worst dust storms of the year.

This is the first time Corneise has won on the first bloom. However, he stated he had them the 20th of June last year, but was so busy with his wheat harvest that he did not have time to bring one in.

Mr. Corneise has been farming in Terry many years. He is no newcomer by any means, having first farmed in the Gomez area.

Ross Motor Building Large Warehouse

The Ross Motor Co. is having a large warehouse for storage purposes built in the rear of their show rooms, offices and supply rooms, on south 8th street. Ross Motor Co. is the local agency of Pontiac cars as well as GMC trucks, and farm implements.

The size of the building is 50x120, constructed of wooden frame and concrete floor with walls stuccoed. This building will give them an extra 6000 feet of floor space, or a total of 16,000 altogether.

Mr. Ross stated that it would be some 30 days before the new building is ready for occupancy.

Mrs. J. W. McPherson and children returned to their home in Big Spring Thursday, after visiting several days with her mother, Mrs. Cora Snyder and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Lilly McPherson.

A mass x-ray survey, for everyone over 15 years of age living in Terry, Gaines, Yoakum, Dawson and Hockley counties will be made some time in the early fall, Dr. Frank P. Miller, director of the South Plains Health Unit, said this week. A mobile x-ray unit, staffed by state health department employees, will undertake the project.

The purpose of the survey, Dr. Miller said, was to discover unsuspected cases of tuberculosis, and will be given free to anyone over 15 years of age.

Philip W. Gauss, jr., will be in Brownfield Tuesday, July 11, to hold a preliminary organizational meeting in the courtroom at 2 p. m. At least two representatives from every civic and social organization in the area should be present at the meeting.

Mr. Gauss is supervisor of operations of the tuberculosis division of the state health department in Austin. "It is not possible to place too much emphasis on the importance of this original meeting. We know, as a result of a great deal of experience in organizing county-wide surveys, that it is extremely important that a large group of people be present at the meeting on the 11th," Dr. Miller asserted.

Civic clubs are being contacted now by members of the South Plains Health Unit, but if any individuals would like to participate in the organizational work, they are urged to attend. Additional information on the meeting may be obtained by phoning the health office at 353 in the courthouse.

More than 100 flags were sold and distributed to local merchants and citizens by members of the Grand Post 6794, Veterans of Foreign Wars, according to Dr. A. H. Daniell, commander.

Members were busy last week selling the flags and sending crews to the places of business and residences, preparing the receptacles for the flags.

Daniell said this week that any persons who are not contacted during last week's sale may still purchase flags from the VFW by contacting him or Harmon Howze.

Plans Underway For Lions' Election Party

Every man, woman and child is cordially invited to attend the big Election Party being sponsored by the Brownfield Lions' Club, according to W. T. (Bill) McKinney, election party chairman. The party will be held on the courthouse square on the night of July 20.

Several women's clubs in the city and county are assisting the Lions in arranging and staging the party. Clubs who are helping are the Pleasant Valley, Meadow, Harmony, Needmore, Johnson, Pobl, Tokio, Gomez, Willow Wells, Wellman, and Union Home Demonstration clubs, and the Delphian Study club of Brownfield.

McKinney said that almost every woman in the county is being contacted and asked to bring pie, cake or supper box to the election party. The party will center around the election board, which members of the Lions club will run on election night, July 22.

Members of McKinney's committee include Dr. W. A. Robertson, Conrad Vernon, Lynn Nelson, Roy Herod and Les Short. This committee was recently appointed by Dr. T. H. McIlroy, club, president.

McKinney said that the committee estimates a crowd of 10,000 will attend the party.

Ready To Wear Sale Nearing End of Run

The big clearance sale at Shelton's Ready To Wear is still underway, according to Mrs. Joe Shelton, owner.

Being held for the specific purpose of clearing out all, or most of, the merchandise to make room for workmen who will begin remodeling and redecorating the interior and show windows in the near future, the sale is one of the largest ever seen in Brownfield.

L. L. Manny of Kansas City, Mo., who is representative of the Hastings Sales Co., is supervising the sale.

The management of Shelton's wishes to thank the public for their cooperation during the big store-wide sale.

For some of the "near the end" sale bargains, consult Shelton's advertisement in this issue of the Herald.

Veterans Asked To Register In County

Veterans organizations in Brownfield, including the Terry County Service Office, are seeking to make up a complete roster of names of veterans in the county. Many veterans have no official records in this county, according to information received by this office.

All veterans who have not registered at the county clerk's office or at the service office, and veterans who have recently moved to Brownfield, are asked to contact Dr. A. H. Daniell, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post; Dr. W. A. Robertson, commander of the American Legion post; or C. L. (Abe) Lincoln, county service officer.

Information to be given includes entire name, rank and serial number, address, date and place of birth, blood type and RH factor, name and address of nearest relative, enlistment place and date, place and date of discharge, foreign service, date of foreign service, campaign ribbons or medals.

One of the main purposes of the complete registration of veterans in the county is to prepare a list of blood types and RH factors for use of local doctors and hospitals.

He was brought to the hospital by a Brownfield Funeral Home ambulance, where he was treated for a deep cut on the shoulder and bruises. He was not hospitalized.

No Corn, No Cobs, So Needs the Herald

We had a letter under date of June 26th from Bell Garden, Calif., from O. E. Pollock, who has wheels under his feet, and moves about every time the moon changes. He was renewing for his Herald, and stated that since they did not raise corn out there, he had need of the Herald to take the place of cobs.

Anyway, he reluctantly acknowledges that he gets a kick out of the Herald, and looks forward to Monday following the day the Herald is published. He is he says, just 18 miles from Long Beach, and invites the Old He and wife to crank up the Chevy and visit, so we can go to the beach and get our feet wet.

We might state right here that we have been averse to wetting our feet since youth. We always tried to slip off to bed or pallet as a youngster without the formality of footwashing. And after we grew up, we determined to never make a kid wash his feet if he were sleepy.

Pollock wishes all good health here in his old time abode, old Terry county, Texas. We'll do our part by trying to get the Herald to him each and every week.

ELECT GEORGE WADE, SHERIFF OF TERRY COUNTY

Stricklin Speaking

By Old He

We wonder if HST hasn't about decided that "red herrings" are really red, or at least pink salmons. The little man from Missouri seems to be having a hard time making up his mind.

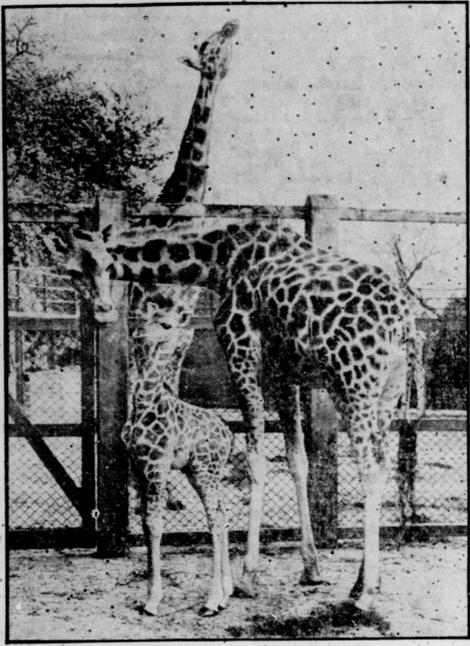

Speaking of reds, our old friend L. R. Rainey was kinder het up Tuesday when he informed us that he listened to the negro singer address a bunch of reds in Harlem Monday night. Of course, Robe-son, and not Rob-son as we have heretofore pronounced it until corrected by L. R., thought the USA "all wrong and Russia absolutely right."

Just why the present administration don't insist that such tripe as Robe-son isn't sent to Russia is a mystery to-us.

They jest ain't no tellin' what you'll run upon these days. Saw two guys busily engaged in a croquet match at Coleman Park Sunday. One of them was, Red Black and the other Jet Green. Yep, that's the names they go by.

Speaking of Coleman Park reminds us that just as we were fixing to enter our abode Sunday noon and fix to look sorry over the viands, if any—spread before us, when along came Phillip Rogers, his frau and brats; and two young ladies, and invited the Old He and wife to a feast at the park. They didn't have to repeat the invitation.

There was an abundance of fried chicken, bread, salads, pickles, tea, cake and other things to make a hungry man forget how dinged poor he is. The only thing that we can suggest that be added to our fine little park is a few beds scattered around for those who crave sleep following a prolonged gorge.

Don't think we have had anything to say about the 13 year locusts back there in Tennessee in May. Boy, they were there in all their glory, but we failed to hear them. Maybe there is some consolation in being hard of hearing after all. Those who could hear well, complained of the incessant wher-r-ing day and night.

But as a boy we could hear them, and we imagined then they were the same little varmints that bothered old Pharaoh over in Egypt, when he and Moses were having it round and around about letting the Israelites go. But later on we learned from scientists that what the Egyptians had was really a bunch of old jumbo grasshoppers, called locusts in the Bible.

But we children imagined the 13 year locusts said, fa-ro-o-o, fa-ro-o-o. This was our childhood idea of spelling Pharaoh. Our sister, a few years our senior dearly loved those old blue damson plums, and the locusts one year really took to them. But they ate those plums over the fighting protests of our sister, who occasionally went out, shook the tree and tossed stovewood up into the upper branches. The locusts got most of them before they were ripe.

We note that "The Broadcaster" publication of the Baptist General Convention new radio station at Dallas, KYBS, has one program entitled, "whistle while you work."

This is all very fine for those who still possess the teeth they grew in childhood. But right here, we wish to state that these store bought teeth are poor instruments through which to whistle. And so far as we are concerned, all the "whistle bait gals" that the younger generation speak of now, are safe from any such signals from the false teeth fraternity.

Why can't some enterprising young dentist with time on his hands design a set of falsies that a man might do Yankee Doodle or Dixie through?

Our good friend Jake Sandage was in this week to send out a couple of last week's Heralds to relatives back in Arkansas. Just what there was in last week's paper that Jacob wanted them to see, he sayeth not. But he did tell us that since we often mentioned Malvern, Ark., that he had a host of kin there, and we could stop off and rest and eat for a month among them some time when we're passing through.

All we'd have to do is to soft soap about Jacob a bit, and tell them what a whale of a good citizen he's making old Terry. That'd be an easy one. And speaking of Arkansas or Arkansas from a safe distance, he told us a hog story, whether the razor-back or poland variety, it don't matter.

Anyway, a hunter back there with an old muzzleloader gun ran out of bullets, but he rammed a peach seed down the muzzle and shot a deer but failed to stop the animal. The seed lodged

Brownfield Well Nigh Deserted July 4th

You have read the stories of the Deserted Village and Ghost Town. Well, this burg almost lived up to that idea Tuesday. It reminded one of that Christmas poem about "nothing stirring, not even a mouse." One could get around over the streets at the very busiest intersections all day the 4th without endangering bone and body.

The inhabitants were all away. Many people that love to see the ponies pitch, were at Levelland or Stamford. Some were trying out a new fish bait at some lake or river. Some were visiting their wife's kin folks, while others were watering the grass or just plain taking it easy.

It has been several years since the people of Brownfield tried celebrating the National Birthday here at home. Once upon a time that was the favorite time to hold forth with picnics and barbecues. And of course we always had some orator with a thundering voice on hand to make the welkin ring. And the idea also gave the local politically minded ones a chance to shake hands and kiss the babies.

But it seems that those good old days are gone forever, so far as we are concerned. Dates for other events are set away from the Fourth of July. Therefore our folks have to go to other celebrations, unless of course they just want to take the day easy.

As for us we had as soon work on a holiday as any other. They all look alike to us, and it seems that it strikes our linotype operator, Mr. Duncan, about the same way.

In a few years the hunter was out in the woods and heard a bunch of hogs chasing something. It was that deer. A peach tree had grown up in the deer's head, and had ripe peaches on the tree. The hogs were chasing the deer through the woods to dislodge the peaches.

Everything else being equal we are for the southern Koreans. We hope they whip the hound out of those damyankee northern Koreans. He! He! Heard of one report that the US airforce had shot down some Australian planes. Could be, and to speak seriously we understand that many of the Chinese Communists were armed with American made guns.

These guns were given the Chinese Republic, it is stated, to defend themselves, but the high moguls could sell them to the Commies for cash. The Chinese like the Koreans let the love of money rule their lives, and d—n the country.

Sometimes we think the best thing we can do is drop all such cattle in Asia and Europe and let them kill off one another. If the Chinese and South Korean Republics should get the downhill pull, the Commie section would sell their guns and ammunition to them. North or south, they're all alike.

About the only way we can see for southern people who believe in segregation of the races to guarantee their children have their own race in college with them, is to send them to southern denominational schools. They are privately owned and operated.

But just wait until Harry is re-elected, and he and his supreme court will see that no schools, whether privately or publicly owned may bar any race, creed or color from their dormitories or school rooms. Just give Uncle Harry and his tribe another chance.

Arthur Takes Exception To Reporter's Remarks

We had heard that Arthur Sawyer, who has some land in the general vicinity of the oil well in the Wellman area, and that he had off hand offered to take a pretty nice lease, royalty or both ranging around $100 bucks per acre. A bit later, we found Arthur in the midst of several others doing some talking, but what appeared to us more gesticulating than talking.

All looking sorter amusing to us, when we drew near, and could get in a word edge-ways, we remarked that we did not know that he had adopted the wop-idea of making himself understood. His comeback was, "I was aiming to buy you a zupa ar buckle, but just for that remark, you'll buy it yourself, or do without." But it was really funny. Looked like he intended to take the stump for some of his political friends. But he would not even compromise by taking the ar buckle on us.

Which reminds us that Arthur tried to check up on us back in Tennessee in May. He and wife stopped at a drug store at Bolivar and inquired about us, and the drug store in turn rounded up a grand-niece of the Old He, who came and had a short conversation with them. But we are glad it was the Hudson Drug store where they stopped.

Dr. B. V. Hudson has always been known as the soul of courtesy and good taste. And even though in his grave for the past year, his mode of business still obtains, and any short comings of ours would have been forgotten, and our virtues, if any, enlarged upon.

Reminds us of a story that went the rounds back before the turn of the century, and probably

WHATSAMATA WITH THOSE MOONSHINERS?

The Texas Liquor Control Board inspectors in May reported the seizure of two illicit stills. With the stills, which had a cubic capacity of 95 gallons, inspectors captured 275 gallons of mash.

One still was taken in Smith county and one was taken in Anderson county.

Four local option elections were held in the state in May, mostly trying to legalize wine and beer in dry areas. All remained dry.

SANTA FE DECLARES A $1.50 DIVIDEND

A dividend of $1.50 per share on its common capital stock was declared today by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company.

Fred G. Gurley, Santa Fe's president, announced the dividend, No. 150, following the monthly meeting of the Santa Fe board of directors in Chicago today. It is payable Sept. 1, 1950 to stockholders of record July 28, 1950.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay Price and Mr. and Mrs. Riley Luker spent Sunday in San Angelo.

true, and when Dr. Hudson was a much younger man than when we last talked with him some two years ago. It happened that the doctor was left alone for a few minutes at least, and he was filling a prescription behind the partition, but watching through the usual peephole.

A man walked in, didn't see anyone, and there being a hole accidentally made in the glass of the cigar case, the guy reached in to help himself. The good doctor sang out from the prescription department, "Just take one!" And as the pilferer beat it out the door, the same kindly voice echoed, "Call again!"

CHAMP MILKER—Grand champion milker Frederick Phelps, age 13, presented a "Key to Health" to Wanda Matyszczuk, queen of the Dairyland Festival here at Watertown, N. Y. Phelps also provided the queen, at center, and her attendants with the milk they are drinking. He milked almost 19 pounds of it in three minutes.

Ricketts Gives Low Down On Boyhood

Went by Warren & Ricketts to get our gas tank filled up on credit Tuesday afternoon—the hottest day of the year. The old Chevy had been sitting in the sun all afternoon, and it was like an oven on the inside. And even near the pumps, no wind got inside. So, after the fillup, J. B. Ricketts wanted to know if we were going back to Tennessee. Thinking he had reference to Terry county farmers wanting to send us back so it'd rain, we said no. Then corrected to our visit back there in May.

J. B. not knowing that we were almost ready to pop like popcorn, began to tell us of some of his ups and downs back there in boyhood. One time their dog ran a deer off a bluff near the Tennessee river, and added the deer. The old dog and an older relative of Ricketts sailed into the deer, the relative wielding a knife. J. B. at the top of his voice aged his kin on with "cut the *$&! deer's throat." The next he knew a brother-in-law was paddling his rear end.

Then one day he and his dad were out in the woods sawing timber with an old time cross-cut saw. J. B. wanted to hunt instead, and kept mumbling. He related that before he knew what was happening, his dad, without saying a word or stopping the saw jerked off a second growth limb and was flogging the dickens out of him.

That reminded us of the first and only time we ever used a cuss word in the presence of our dad. He was a Civil War vet and probably used the Lord's name in vain during that time, but none of the children ever heard him use anything stronger than "Oh, pshaw!" Dad, an older brother and the writer were on a stream fishing one day when we were about 10. We had hand fishing poles and several set-hooks out.

All at once one of the set-hook poles began to bang the water, and the brother ran to it, and pulled what we thought was a big snake out of the water. We exclaimed, "g—d, what a moccasin!" It was an eel, the first we'd ever seen. If dad heard us, he never let on, and we did not repeat. He was pretty handy with some privet switches that grew in our front yard.

Move The Surplus Foods!

No one will begrudge a weary Congress its desire to finish its work in the next six weeks and go home. But we submit that its work will not be finished if it does not act in this session to dispose effectively of the nearly two billion dollars worth of surplus foods now wasting away in caves and warehouses.

Consider: the eggs, butter, cheese, dried milk, poultry and other products bought by the government to help farmers maintain prices are rolling up a storage bill of $237,000 every day for US taxpayers. Consider: while this is happening, millions of people in Europe and Asia face hunger (and indeed, in countless cases, actual starvation) for want of these very foods.

So when we ask Congress to dispose "effectively" of these idle surpluses, we mean simply to get them out of the caves before they rot and into the homes where they are desperately needed. The way to achieve this is readily at hand: appropriate the funds necessary to deliver the goods ship-side at U. S. ports, and let American welfare agencies already operating overseas take it from there. It is swift, it is efficient, it is life saving, and in the long run it is more economical than the present inaction. If terms of goodwill engendered for America in the far corners of the globe, the value of this program is incalculable.

Who are the agencies we recommend to do this job? To name only one of several, there is CARE with its four year record of having delivered in Europe and Asia more than 9 million food and clothing textile packages valued at $100 million dollars.

We believe the American people will support our appeal to Congress: Move the surplus foods! Move them NOW to give new life, new hope, new strength to the peoples whose struggle for survival is a vital part of our own struggle to establish a healthful and peaceful world.—Exchange.

The Car that puts your Best Foot forward

WE think you'll agree that the whole story of an automobile isn't told in its power, its room, its styling, even in its ride.

There is the all-important point about what a car does to you—and that's where ROADMASTER really shines.

For you can't slip into this bonny beauty's broad seats without feeling like somebody pretty special.

When you take its neat wheel in your hand—when you cut loose, with a tootouch, the rich baritone of its big Fireball straight-eight power plant—when you feel the smooth surge of its Dynaflo-cushioned take-off—

Man, then you know you've got a real automobile!

And don't overlook this:

That graceful sweep of chrome along the fender—found on no other car made today—is a mighty eye-catching note of distinction.

Those four Ventiports, too, cause many a head to turn—they mark you unmistakably as the owner of the biggest and best Buick built—a car as fine and rich as any man has need for.

There are a lot of good, solid, dollars-and-cents reasons for making ROAD-

MASTER your choice over any other: Its size. The commanding performance of its 152-hp Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight engine. Dynaflo Drive standard. A ride that's quite matchless in its gentle softness. Distinguished styling from bold, protective front end to gleaming "double bubble" taillight.

But if you're ready for a car that's more than just an automobile—if you want one that puts your best foot forward in any company—that's the real reason for seeing your Buick dealer quickly—to talk turkey about a ROADMASTER.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT
This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

Ask Committeeman, Says, Hugh Harred

Do you know your community committeemen, and are you using them? asks Hugh H. Harred, chairman of the Terry county PMA committee.

"These committeemen were elected by you and the other farmers in your community, and they are there to help you with conservation problems, with price support problems, and with acreage allotments and marketing quotas," Mr. Harred said. "And," he added, "when they don't have the answers they may be able to help find them."

While these committeemen do not receive a regular salary and are paid only for the time actually engaged in PMA administrative work, they are on call at any time to help their neighbors with any PMA programs.

Harred pointed out that in administering PMA programs for the 1948-49 fiscal year, community committeemen worked an average of 6 1/2 days, for which they received a national average of $6.30 per day.

PMA community committeemen of Terry county are the following:

MEADOW: Carl Russell, Ben J. Henson and A. L. McCoy.

CHALLIS: J. S. Smith, Leonard Lang and Hubert Hinson.

PLEASANT VALLEY: Cecil O'Neal, Roy Sparkman and E. V. George.

UNION: Frank Sargent, W. L. Benton, and Whitt Coor.

POOL: L. M. Waters, Jr., Curtis L. Hulse and Raymond Green.

WELLMAN: Victor D. Watts, Glendon C. Brown and Glenn Baker.

LAHEY: Elmer R. Edwards, Willie Hyman and A. R. Baldwin.

TOKIO: Wayne Sherrin, Bern A. Floyd and Heywood P. Smith.

JOHNSON: Bill Blackstock, C. A. Winn and Alton O. Webb.

TERRY STILL DRAGGING ON BOND BUYING

Old Terry is still dragging badly on its Independence Bond Sales drive according to last reports we received. Of its $21,000 quota, the county had purchased only $2,835.25 or just 13.48 per cent of its quota.

Yoakum was doing far better with their $6,000 quota. They had bought $2,475.00, or 41.25 percent.

What we can't understand, is that Dawson county with more population than Terry was given a quota of only $16,000. But that was as far as the comparison went. They had over bought to the tune of $41,137.40 or 257.11 percent of their quota.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond DuBose and daughter of Amarillo visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. DuBose over the Fourth. His sister, Charlie DuBose, returned home with them for a visit.

Big Demand For Improved Pasture

By Riley W. Carlton
Riley W. Carlton, work unit conservationist in charge of the District Soil Conservation program of the CYT (Terry and Yoakum counties particularly), was asked the other day what was being accomplished this year in the way of seeding permanent pastures and cover crops. Also if any improvement was being done by farmers here to improve application of irrigation water.

Mr. Carlton stated that many things were being done this year in the seeding of permanent pasture and establishing cover crops whereby grass can be drilled in 1951. He gave a few examples. His personnel has been very busy since early in May of this year seeding in grasses by different methods of planting. Auvie Johnson, in southwest Yoakum county, has been assisted in establishing 34 acres of blue panic and before the season is over Mr. Johnson expects to have 100 acres of this grass. Also out in that same county, J. D. Beasley recently completed drilling 60 acres of blue gramma grass. Joe Gurry, in southwest Yoakum county, has already drilled in 10 acres of blue panic grass.

Last year Leon Saffel, east of Meadow, used a wheat drill and about 20 pounds of milo maize per acre to establish a cover crop. In this crop residue, early in May of this year, Mr. Saffel assisted by the District Soil Conservation program drilled four kinds of grasses. Out in the Johnson store community, Herman Wheatley established approximately 38 acres of cover crop of milo maize, late in 1949 for a ground cover, and early in May of this year drilled in grass mixtures and some single specie planting. During the month of July, there are several leading farmers throughout the district who plan on establishing a cover crop of milo maize drilled in with a wheat drill and in the spring of 1951 they will seed this acreage to permanent grasses. A few who plan to get grass started by first covering the ground with a crop residue are: J. T. Fulford, 75 acres; Monte Simpson, 100 acres; Cletus Floyd, 50 acres; Loyce Floyd, 20 acres, and Earl McNeil, approximately 100 acres. Many more will follow out the same plan.

The district program personnel expect a busy period during August and September. Al Muldow has plans under way to seed in 500 acres of weeping lovegrass. Roy Golden plans on seeding 25 acres of weeping lovegrass and L. D. Stanford expects to seed in 25 acres of lovegrass early in August. Henry Williams has plans to seed 40 acres of weeping lovegrass. On this farm a nice large acreage of weeping lovegrass has been furnished grazing for about 60 head of cattle. There are many more who want to seed smaller acreage on their farms this year.

So many of our progressive farmers within the CYT district realize two things—first, that now is the time to prepare for a drouthy year, secondly that livestock has a definite place in our farming program by utilizing land that is not desirable for grain sorghums or cotton production.

Early in August several farmers plan to establish alfalfa under irrigation and there are a few who have made preparation. They are C. F. McNeil, who lives near the Union sign—he expects to have 25 acres; Bain Price, west of Plains, will probably have an equal amount; Glen Edwards, in west Yoakum county, now has 6 acres of alfalfa. Out in Yoakum county, Rusty McGinty has seeded in about 20 acres of weeping lovegrass. Down the Lamesa highway, Murphy May recently over seeded approximately 10 acres of rye and weeping lovegrass in an old native pasture.

Practically all of the grass planting done so far has been by the use of a grass drill bought by the West Texas Cotton Oil Mill back in 1948 and loaned to the CYT district. A considerable acreage of grass mixture was seeded in 1948 and 1949 by the use of the same drill. A few of the good examples of grass seeding in 1949 by the use of this drill was Ray Hughes, W. A. Bynum, Boyd Howze, James King and James Heartsill farms. Many more could be mentioned here.

For a twelve months grazing program under sprinkler irrigation, R. J. Purcell had the district program to plan 160 acres to be established starting early in August of this year. His plan is for 25 acres of alfalfa, 65 acres of improved pasture of four varieties of grass and two legumes. Approximately 70 acres of cropland will be used each fall for seeding of wheat or Balboa rye for a winter supplementary pasture and by thus designing this quarter of a section of land he will have a twelve months grazing program if a rotation system is followed in the grazing of the pastures.

Many of our irrigation farmers under the district program are using better improved methods of water application. Early in March, H. L. Holleman installed 2100 feet of underground concrete pipe in order to save water and land. Last week, R. J. Purcell completed approximately 4500 feet of underground concrete pipe construction. Also Andrew Cooper southeast of Brownfield, has completed 1500 feet of the same type of installation.

There are some four or five more irrigation farmers who will install this same underground system by January first.

Two leading farmers plan on doing bench levelling in August to seed grass and alfalfa.

A day's drive over this part of the CYT district will reveal considerable acreage of improved pasture established in 1948, 1949 and more in 1950. All this is being done by assistance from the district program. It would not be amiss here to say briefly that the district worked heavy early this spring in laying out lots of terrace systems and many a mile of contour guide lines. So it is easy to say that hundreds of our farmers are using more and better conservation practices in order to save their topsoil and to increase crop yields.

Uncle Jack Blankenship Gets The Age Prize

Uncle Jack Blankenship of this city, and a former Lynn countian was really strutting his stuff at the reunion of old timers over at Tahoka last Saturday week. He was declared to be the bellwether of the bunch, being a prime 87 year old lad. Let us say now and here that Uncle Jack is really a prime old cooter considering his age. No glasses; no hearing aid, and a good memory. In fact, in a way, Uncle Jack is a pretty good looker for a kid whose birthday runs well back into the nineteenth century.

Anyway, he got the prize for being the oldest person there among the early day Lynn county settlers. Uncle Jack became a reader of the Herald when he lived in that county. In the early settlement of the two counties, Lynn and Terry, much corn was grown on the sandier soils of Terry. That was before the days of the European corn borer. He would come over from his ranch and buy corn for his hogs and poultry. We would guy him about coming "down to Egypt" to buy corn.

Later Uncle Jack sold his holdings in Lynn county when prices got good with the coming of their railroad, and bought over in Yoakum county, where he lived until he moved to Brownfield. Uncle Jack and wife also attend and old settler's reunion almost annually down in the Knox-Haskell county section.

G. G. Wyman of Fort Worth spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Artie Wiman and other relatives.

DIDN'T GET AWAY — Billy Brown, of Morehead City, N. C., strains just a bit to hold up this 17-pound mackerel caught in the Gulf Stream off Cape Lookout, N. C. It was the first to be landed by rod and reel during the 1950 season.

Opinions about the prospect of war in the far east, starting with Korea, has about as many and varied ideas as the color of a sack of cats in an alley. Some will suggest you with convincing argument that the last two wars Nos. 1 and 2, have started by, for or concerning small nations. This may or may not be a similar condition. Possibly World War II would never have started if the League of Nations had been as strong and determined as the present United Nations, although the latter is not what one might call a Sampson. At least, however, it is united, and has the USA in it, which was denied the League of Nations. There are presently some 27 nations behind the steps Uncle Sam has taken in Korea, some fairly strong, some medium and others just plain weak sisters. But at least their heart is in the matter to establish peace and stop an aggressor. It is the general opinion among those with whom we have talked, that while Russia and her satellites are fairly strong, it is doubtful if the Kremlin is ready to go all out against the rest of the world. Then, a lot of folks have an idea that some of Russia's allies are not too much trusted by Stalin and his lieutenants. They might not stand hitched if a war should come. Therefore we look for Russia to do a lot of talking and blustering, but if this first aggressor is stopped cold, maybe that will be the end of the matter. We hope so, to say the least.

When there is an expected crisis, you can always bet the American people will do the foolish thing and make a pure deal of themselves. Just as soon as it was known the United States was to lead the United Nations in some fighting to stop the Communist section of Korea from overrunning the southern part, Americans all over the nation remembered gas and tire rationing and began to buy extra tires, and if they had storage facilities, would no doubt buy gas by the wholesale. This has happened a time or two since War II when sugar, meat, etc., got a bit high. And it amounts only to running such commodities sky high. According to those grounded in high finance, if you were expecting a depression anyways soon, you may put your rose-colored glasses on again, for times are going to be OK as long as there is war talk, and employment, already high, will get higher. In the meantime, our synthetic rubber plants are just done up in cellophane—they won't have to be rebuilt with scarce steel this time. So, just buy as per usual, unless you aim to go into the tire business.

A brand new form of "democracy" has been born up at the capitol on the Potomac in the form of a questionnaire to business firms, especially if the firm is larger than the hole-in-the-wall variety. The official name of the new quiz program is House Select Committee of Lobbying Activities, and its chairman is Representative Frank Buchanan (D-Pa.). To start with, the questionnaire, like all others is burdensome, boring and impudic. The boys up there want to know among other things how much the questionee has spent in the past 3 1/2 years for advertising, dealing with pending legislation, when and where such ads—if any—were run. Of course the obvious intention of the committee is to scare business and industry out of publishing such statements, for instance, such as the statement of Western Railroads in last week's Herald, which was paid for at regular rates, and was their side of the argument concerning the present switchman's strike. It is a clear cut attack upon the free speech of business and the free press of the nation, guaranteed by the constitution, which is fast being amended or ignored to its death. Buchanan and his committee ignore the fact that up to the present sorry condition of our dictatorial government, it was no sin to express their opinion in newspapers and magazines. In the meantime, Buchanan and his fellow workers will grab all the free publicity they can get. It is to be hoped that business men will refuse this "forced" procedure. That book that John T. Flynn came out with recently, "The Road Ahead," is a hot potato to the would be dictators of the Queer Deal. It pinches where it hurts most.

We are glad that although we have reached the stage of our life beyond the rim of prime usefulness in the way of production, either in goods or sound reasoning, that we have not reached the point that we believe it a sin to be large. Further, we don't believe the majority of true blue American people believe that way. We believe that if a grocery, we will say, wishes to manufacture as well as sell merchandise, that is their affair. Presently, for instance, let us state that both local banking institutions to some extent, are engaged in printing their own forms. Have you ever heard us ache about that? We do not believe they are doing anything in restraint of trade, although their principal business is banking. Perhaps if the Herald had a lot of spare money, we might engage in banking on a local scale. Note that we qualified the above with the word "might." We do not think they are trying to create a monopoly, and we do not expect to even try to get the matter before the supreme court. Also, the Lubbock Avalanche, Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Dallas News are much larger and more important than the Herald. Yet, we'd be the last guy that rebels took a lot of jeering from the "down the line guys" because we professed to see the negro in the woodpile. While many of us southern people chose to vote and lose on the States Right ticket, the National Republican platform was a lot nearer what most of us old timers have considered true Democracy, and what the Democratic party has heretofore stood for. Back in October 1948,

It's Time for BROOKS!

PIERCE BROOKS

for LT. GOVERNOR

A Business Man for a Business Job

Yes, Texas and Texans got what they voted for in 1948. Our tidelands are taken; negroes, plenty of them will be admitted to our higher educational institutions. They will also be served at your table in railroad dining cars. Oh, yes, we remember that the voter straight boys told us that it was just a vote getting scheme to get votes, and it was possible and for that matter—did happen to us. Remember that the National Democratic platform of 1948 gave us a very broad hint as to what we might expect, and a lot of us would want them cut down to our size. Not on your tintype. We are glad we have the large dailies that are able to bring us the news from the four quarters of the universe daily. We are not aware that the A & P grocery concern has robbed anyone. Nor do they even try to force anyone to trade with them, nor do they try to boycott any manufacturers. No, we are glad that we do not consider it a sin or a crime to be large.

all that could be desired, there were some 3000 periodicals, monthly, weekly and daily, with some 30,000,000 readers. Now there are 253 periodicals with only a matter of 2,500,000 readers. Why? Some government officials tell the papers just what they can and cannot print, which is mostly interviews with college students, factory workers, etc., praising Communistic China, along with nasty attacks on the wickedness of the American "imperialistic" government. The readers get tired of a daily and weekly fare of such tripe and stop their papers.

Another Editor Says

From "The Editor's Column"—

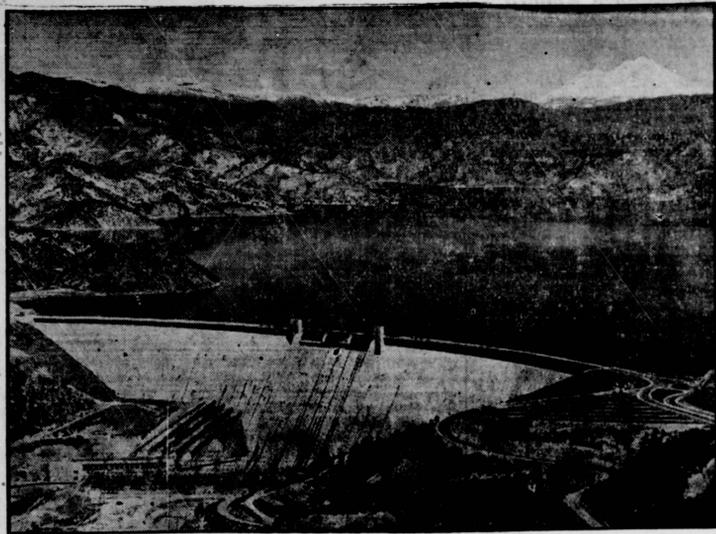

Groesbeck Journal

Senator Tom Connally threw up his hands and exclaimed "I am shocked and surprised." This was in regards to the four to three decision of the Supreme Court on Monday of this week when that once august and once dignified body said that it's all right for the federal government to steal the Texas tidelands if it wants to steal them.

This column cannot see why Senator Connally is shocked and surprised. Surely he knows by now that the Supreme Court of the United States is no longer a judicial body, but that it has long since become a legislative body. And Senator Connally should know that he has helped make this condition possible by helping to confirm political appointment after political appointment to the Supreme Court, instead of demanding that able and recognized jurists be appointed upon the Supreme Court.

Nothing emphasizes more fully politicians instead of jurists have been placed upon the Supreme Court when it is realized that two of the court members disqualified themselves in passing judgement on the "Tidelands Case." They were Tom Clark of Texas and Judge Robert Jackson, both of whom had formerly served as Attorney General, and both whom had dabbled in trying to take tidelands away from the States.

There are some very able judges

READY FOR GRAND OPENING—Scenic splendor, both natural and man-made, is amply evident in this view of California's Shasta Dam, which was scheduled to begin operations at dedication ceremonies June 17, as part of the Shasta Centennial. The huge dam, three times as high as Niagara Falls, is the main structure of the California Central Valley Irrigation and flood control program. Towering in the background, at right, more than 60 miles away, is Mt. Shasta.

es on federal benches throughout the United States. . . . Judges who have spent a lifetime studying law to qualify themselves for the positions they hold. How many such judges have been promoted to the Supreme Court during the past twenty years? Not one. How many real judges has

President Truman appointed to the Supreme Court? Not a single one. Every appointment made by President Truman has been a political appointment. The court is packed with ex-Senators, ex-Governors, and without politicians who could no longer win elections in their home states.

It should be something unusual and historic for the Supreme Court of the United States to overrule all of the able lower courts through which a case must pass to arrive before the Supreme Court, but it is not unusual any more. It is happening almost every month now, and the decisions get more ridiculous all the time, such as recently turning a Negro murderer free in Dallas because there was no Negro on the grand jury.

It seems time for Congress to do some real investigating of the Supreme Court of the United States. Lots of time is being spent in Washington investigating communism. Some of this time should be spent investigating the foundation stones of our government—such as the Supreme Court, for it appears that these foundation stones are about to crumble away. Tom Connally says he is amazed. What does he think about the rest of the country? One day a law is valid, the next day it is invalidated by a politics-riddled Supreme Court. We should stop being amazed and start doing something about it.

TANKERSLEY AMONG TECH ROTC TRAINEES

Over at Ft. Belvoir, Va., one of the largest summer training camps of embryonic engineers of officers in the history of the nation, got under way June 17th. There are 797 of them from all states.

The arrival of twenty from Tech college helped to swell the large number from all sections. Among them from Tech is Don F. Tankersley, son of H. J. Tankersley, Rt. 5, city.

Saw A Few Crops Sunday Afternoon

Well, it's again the time of year when yours truly likes to drive out in the farm sections of old Terry to check up on these boys that are always wanting to banish us on account of rain. Fact of the matter is, we have just about arrived at the conclusion that they are not so much worried in getting us to leave, as they are in keeping us from spying on them.

Anyway, our route Sunday (the our included the wife) lay west to Gomez, then south to the Brownfield-Seagraves highway. Had been some time since we made that four mile jaunt of fine farms, and viewed some very nice crops. Got out about the old S. W. Jones farm home, and remembered we had taken not a few mighty good meals in that home before Uncle Sam Jones moved to town and finally passed to the Great Beyond. Few better men ever lived.

Over about where that neighborhood road joins the highway, is some pretty sandy farms, and just a few years ago, all they did was blow. But someone seems to have a hold on them now that has kinder fouled up that wind erosion. A year or two ago the owner got some stalks to stick, and he has never let the ground get denuded since. It seems pretty dry, however in that area, and on to Wellman. And the crops are late, on account of being hailed out last month.

At Wellman we took the Farm-Market road to where it junctures with the Foster FM road. Passed within a half mile of the new oil well, but did not stop as we had an idea that they did not need us to show them anything, or give them any advice. So we kept on driving and looking at crops. We do understand that business fairly well.

After one gets north of Foster, and in a bit harder land and especially where missed by hail, the crops are older and looking quite well. In places however, even in that section, some of the crops, or portions of them have been sanded out. Some looked as if the land had never been planted, especially wheat stubble. We have an idea that some of this land will be allowed to lay fallow until fall and re-seeded to wheat.

Observed that in one or two places along the drive they are still deep breaking, and wherever you see that, you will not see blownout crops. We hope we have more and more deep breaking in Terry county. We used to think that the first year after deep breaking would be a failure. Might be on an extremely dry year, but last year the yield was very satisfactory, and in most instances far ahead of sanded out fields.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—I am the stepmother of a World War II veteran who was killed in action. He was in my care and custody prior to his entrance into service May I file a claim for compensation?

A—Yes.
Q—My brother, an honorably discharged World War I veteran, was buried in Potter's Field because his estranged wife was not interested in where he was buried. What procedure must be followed to have him buried in a National Cemetery and will VA pay the expense?

A—Application for burial should be made to the superintendent of the National Cemetery where burial is desired. Upon application to VA an amount not to exceed $150 for items of disinterment and reburial may be allowed, it being assumed that no allowance has heretofore been made by VA for burial purposes.

Q—I have been receiving compensation from VA and $21 additional for a dependent wife. She has now gotten herself a job and is earning a fair salary. May I still claim her as a dependent?

A—The additional compensation provided on account of wife or child to veterans having a disability of 50 percent or more is not based on dependency but solely on relationship.

Q—I married shortly after I was discharged in World War I, but my wife left me after a few months without reason. Can she obtain part of my total disability pension?

A—If the separation was without any fault on your part and you can establish the fact, the regulations governing apportionment will preclude an allowance

"Stars In My Crown" New M-G-M Release

"Stars In My Crown," an unusually tender, heartwarming story of two-gun Parson Gray in a small western town, will show at the Rio Theatre July 16-19. Several Brownfield citizens were present at a screening of this picture recently at the Rio. Adopted from the book written by Joe David Brown, "Stars In My Crown" was directed by Jacques Tourneur and was produced by William H. Wright, two of Hollywood's top directors and producers. It is an M-G-M picture. Joel McCrea, as the two-fisted Parson Gray, turns in a top performance, probably one of his best. Ellen Drew, who plays his wife, tender wife, Harriet, leaves nothing to be desired in her getting. Narrator of the story is John, small ward of the parson and his wife, played by Dean Stockwell. An outstanding supporting cast, which includes Alan Hale, Lewis Stone, Juano Hernandez and Amanda Blake, puts out top performances to make this one of the year's best "family" pictures. Not only does the top acting performance make this a "must" on your movie list, but the entire picture is a masterpiece of detail, including the old-fashioned hand turned potato peeler, and the device used on the dining table to "shoo" flies from the food. "Stars In My Crown" is no extravaganza of fabulous props, nor is it a psychological thriller. It is a real heartwarming, true-to-life story, set in a typical southern California frontier town. It merely deals with human life, the story of real people, their trials, their fun and the effect their "parson" has on their lives. A picture the whole family will

SCATTERED SHOWERS VISIT TERRY SECTIONS Been trying awfully hard to rain this week, and in some areas of Terry and adjoining territory, fairly good showers have fallen. But the local gauge showed an 19-100 inch that fell early Wednesday morning. We understand that a good rain fell in the Needmore section and into Hockley county Wednesday, that ranged from a half to an inch. We heard reports of other purely local falls. Phillip Rogers reported that a few sections around the Pioneer salt works in east Terry, got over an inch Tuesday afternoon, and more Wednesday morning. What the whole area needs is a general rain the worst way.

Hi-way Operations: Traffic Safety

STANDARD FLASHING BEACON

Highway Traffic Signals Flashing Beacons

Do you know the meaning of a flashing red or flashing yellow beacon and the purpose for which they are used? If you do not know, you are not in a class by yourself. There are many motorists in this "don't-know-class" who should graduate to a higher knowledge of flashing beacons. By so doing, they could help to insure their own safety as well as the safety of others. They could perhaps save themselves the sad experience of some day having to explain a traffic violation to the judge. The flashing red beacon means STOP and then proceed when it is safe to do so in the same manner as you would after stopping for a STOP sign. If you run through a flashing red beacon without coming to a full stop, you are just as guilty of a traffic violation as you would be if you ran the red light of a stop and go signal. The flashing red beacon is generally used instead of or in conjunction with a STOP sign where it is especially desirable to emphasize the need for stopping, and for important intersections where the traffic conditions will not justify the installation of a stop and go signal. The flashing yellow beacon means CAUTION. Drivers of vehicles may proceed through the intersection or past such signal only with CAUTION. Flashing yellow beacons are most frequently used to mark a physical obstruction existing in the roadway, an important intersection hidden by an obstruction or sharp curve in the highway or a sudden change from rural conditions, where relatively high speeds are safe, to those of an urban district where speed must be reduced. Flashing beacons have an important part in the scheme of traffic control, and a better understanding by motorists of the purpose for which these signals are erected would increase their effectiveness many times. At the lighter traffic intersection which will not justify the more rigid control of a stop and go signal, the flashing beacon marks the existence of an intersection of more than average importance by either emphasizing the need for stopping with flashing red or proceeding with caution with flashing yellow. When the beacon shows flashing red, be ready to stop; when it shows flashing yellow, be alert and ready for any emergency that might confront you.

Consumers Benefit From Allotments

More and better food for consumers is one of the benefits resulting from compliance with acreage allotments, says H. H. Harred, chairman of the Terry county PMA committee. He explains that, where a farmer seeds within his allotment, he not only is cooperating with his neighbors in protecting farm prices but in the case of food crops he is contributing to better diets for consumers. Thus, the land taken out of the allotment crop is not being used to produce unneeded surpluses but is being used to produce something that is needed. This year, he points out, there is enough wheat to meet all the need of consumers and leave a carry-over of around 450 million bushels, but there had been a drop in the consumption of meat as compared with 1947. "If the per capita consumption of meats, especially beef, could be increased by only 10 pounds from the 145 pounds consumed in 1949 back to the 155 pounds consumed in 1947, and if fluid milk consumption could be increased from the 380 pounds per capita of 1949 to the 432 pounds actually consumed in 1945 we would have a ready market for the forage from about 35 million acres." Acreage allotments, he explains, call for about 31 million acres to be taken out of corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco, peanuts, rice and potatoes. As the chairman explains, "complying with acreage allotments and shifting to more grass and legumes not only provides a better diet for consumers now, but it builds up plant food reserves in the soil to assure a continued better and more balanced diet for the future."

Of course Gene has been home now about three years, and naturally the plans could have been changed a great deal. But he has hardly been home long enough for much of a south Korean army to be trained to stop a well heeled army from the north. Floods, tornadoes, storms, fires, and other disasters this year have struck an estimated 40,000 families in 16 of the 16 states comprising the American Red Cross Midwestern Area, shown by the above map. Red Cross officials in charge of aiding disaster victims in the area report a number of disaster operations continuing into the second half of 1950. Largest continuing operations are in the North Dakota-Western Minnesota flood area, where Red Cross has provided continuous assistance since the end of March, with operations complicated by recurring floods and blizzards.

At a rehearsal last week for the CBS radio period drama, "Mama," Dickie Van Patten, who plays the Hanson son, Neil, was going through a sequence which had him promising to make the ice cream for a party. As he left, Dickie yelled back, misreading his line, "Call me and I'll turn the cream!" And for a second he couldn't figure out why the rest of the cast burst into laughter.

At last Teri Keane, who plays Chichi in NBC's "Life Can Be Beautiful," feels that the script is catching up with her. When she and John Larkin, who is "Perry Mason," announced their engagement, Chichi was right in the middle of recovering from an unhappy love affair in the story line of "LCBB." Santa Fe Crop Report for Northwest Texas

Northwest Texas wheat production was one of the poorest in many years, despite the fact that some communities had nearly an average crop. The Wichita Falls-Vernon territory made an excellent showing, and in a few isolated areas on the high plains yields were average or better. Although official state forecasts have held close to the 25,000,000 bushel mark since April 1, drought and insects cause terrific acreage abandonment during the spring, and a total crop of 20,000,000 bushels is all that can be seen in some circles. Harvest is nearly complete in all areas. Much of the former wheat land is going into grain sorghums, and a substantial amount has been set aside and undergoing summer fallow for planting to wheat this fall. Cotton generally is up to a good stand, having had the benefit of moisture, but many fields are late as early plantings were damaged by wind, hail and heavy rains.
