Not Neutral—Not On The Fence—A Paper With An Opinion And A Purpose

The Herald has grown with this section from strictly a ranch country. This area now consists of thriving towns and cities, supported by scientific farming and stock farming, augmented by huge oil fields, with the nation's largest known oil reserves.

Best Advertising Medium

The Herald subscription list is a splendid blend of town and rural readers, folks who can and do pay for their papers—they do not ask or want it donated to them. Many 30 and 40 year continuous subscriptions.

NUMBER 13

Terry Producing High Quality Oil

While the Wolfcamp and reef wells of Terry county are good producers, they are also putting out a prime oil, running from 41 to 45 gravity. Some have informed us that the oil being taken from the reef wells in Terry county could almost be used in the crankcase of a car without refining.

One Failure—Two Producers
As stated last week, the No. 2 Beaver, west offset to the discovery, the No. 1 Beaver, was apparently a failure, as the reef was struck in thin streaks. However we were later informed that there was a possibility that it might be finished as a weak pumper, as there was quite some porosity in the thin shales of reef that was penetrated. It was at least 225 feet low structurally in comparison to the No. 1 Beaver, which we believe made around 2280 barrels on test.

An east offset to the No. 1 Beaver, is the Magnolia Petroleum Co., No. 1 Scales, which according to the test given late last week, ran proportionally around 3000 barrels per day on an hour's test. So far as we know, the official porosity test has never been given the well. This well is also in the Wellman field. Down in the new field in south shallow Adair field, the third well in that area was brought in as a 1246 1/2 barrel-a-day producer. This is the Wolfcamp strata well, two others of which have been finished and prorated.

This was the No. 1 Willard, which will be remembered as having been carried to some 12,500 feet with no show but sulphur water. It was plugged back to the Wolfcamp, 8,490-8,556, and finished as stated above. It was the discovery well of the Wolfcamp in that area.

Some of the offsets of the Cotton well five miles southeast of town, should be getting down about the reef pay.

The first of the series of wells on the A. M. Brownfield lands three miles east of town is drilling, and the other three should be started by Nov. 1, according to prior announcement. The other two will be on dodged sections south of the first well. We were informed that the well on the Ray Brownfield holdings east of town six miles, was getting down to pay—if any.

Some one from town was out there recently and stated there was an oil seep in the slush pit, but whether from the well or accidentally put in the water, the person did not know, and of course the driller and crew puts out nothing usually.

Anyway, we look for some headaches and disappointments along with the good news.

Farmer Killed By Tractor Last Week

R. D. Shewmake was run over by a tractor Friday of last week, and died soon after reaching the hospital here. It is believed that his lungs, liver and possibly other organs were crushed, as well as his ribs on that side of his body. Following funeral services at the Crescent Hill Church of Christ, Sunday afternoon, the body was laid to rest in Terry County Memorial Cemetery. His wife died several years ago.

Homer Winston, our County Judge, owner of the farm, which is just over in Gaines county, was driving the tractor that was pulling the combine at the time. Homer stated that he looked around, believing there was something wrong, and saw Mr. Shewmake laying just behind the tractor. It had passed over his shoulder body and one leg. When Homer got back, Mr. Shewmake informed him that he was done for.

At the hospital he was put under an oxygen tent, but drew only about two breaths, and passed away. Some cotton pickers, one the injured man's niece were nearby, and with their help, he was loaded in a car and rushed to the local hospital.

The victim is survived by several sons and daughters.

Standing of the Queen Candidates

The queen candidates for the Harvest Festival standing as we go to press is as follows:

Brownfield High
Peggy Black, senior	53,700
Leahdale, Portwood, soph.	29,200
Juan Nell White, freshman	21,400
June Whitaker junior	19,600
Rural Schools
Meadow—Alene Curtis	34,700
Wellman—Beth Golden	16,200
Union—Peggy Kay	15,800

Cotton Men Open Cotton Office Here

You probably saw the announcement ad of Bill Williams in last week's Herald. He is opening offices in the Money Price Implement building, and will be prepared to pay the farmer the highest market price for their staple.

For the present at least, Bill and wife, Cousin Margie, will make their home out on the farm, seven miles north of town on the old Levealand road. Two other buying firms will also have offices in the city.

The Trout Co., of Lubbock, will be represented in this city again this year by T. I. Brown, well known cotton buyer. Their offices can be found in the Brownfield building on the west side of the square, rooms 4 and 5. Then there is another local firm in the market for your cotton, being Chessier & Murdough. Their offices are in the new State Bank and T. Co. building. These are all reliable firms, and the Herald gladly recommends all of them.

You're A Stranger In Brownfield But Once

Here's a list of 14 new folks that have arrived in our town since our report last week, up to and through the 14th. We hope all of them will like Brownfield, and will wish to make it their permanent home.

To those who have been here for some time, let us repeat the admonition of last week. Please go out of your way to make these new people feel at home, and if you can help them in any getting located, do so by all means.

It is no joke to go to a new town and find the people are giving you the cold shoulder. Remember that you was once a new comer yourself!

Jack M. Brown, Odessa; W. D. Clarke, Big Spring; J. L. Clay, Houston; C. R. Cook, Electra; Olen F. Divon, no past address; William J. Enis, Colorado City; M. H. Leach, Iowa Park; Bobby Mosley, Lovington, N. M.; Glenn Morrow, Snyder; H. C. Oldham, Lamesa; Kenneth E. Scates, Snyder; G. C. Sealey, Odessa; Hugh Sullivan, Colorado City; Johnnie W. Wright, Eunice, N. M.

Just how many of these people are married or have both a wife and family, we were unable to learn.

PATCH TESTS TO BE GIVEN IN SCHOOLS

Patch tests for tuberculosis will be given in all schools of Terry county for first and sixth grades.

The date for the test is set for Monday 23rd at the Randall school. Others who would especially like to get these tests may come to the South Plains Health Unit on Saturdays until noon.

Pictured above is Miss Leah Dale Portwood in her majorette uniform, who is a candidate for the Harvest Festival Queen. She is a Sophomore of Brownfield high school, and this week, she is running second to the Senior Queen candidate, Leah Dale is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Portwood.

First National Bank Adds To Staff

Two vice presidents and one director have been added to the First National Bank and the promotion of a staff member from assistant cashier to cashier have been announced by W. R. McDuffie new president.

L. H. Hudspeth of Abernathy and Clyde L. Wilson of Lubbock have been named vice presidents. Frank Ballard, owner of the Ballard Plumbing and Electric Co. has been added to the board of directors.

Crawford Taylor, who has been promoted to cashier from assistant cashier, has been with the bank since 1947. This promotion comes as a reward for faithful service to the bank and community. Mr. Taylor is originally from Watakoneto, Ohio, and attended the Ohio school system. Prior to serving five and one-half years in the Air Force, he was in radio work. He is married and has one daughter, five.

Hudspeth graduated from Hardin-Simmons college in 1938. He was employed by the First National Bank of Burkburnett, his home town. He served four years in the Navy as a Naval aviator. Since his return from the Navy,

Bond Election Ordered For Additions On Courthouse

Local Church Has Outgrown Its Home

About 25 male members of the Crescent Hill Church of Christ met at the building Tuesday night to see what might be done about taking care of the overgrown condition. R. O. Black presided at the meeting. A report of the progress being made was heard. It was the consensus of opinion that either an addition must be built, or the congregation swarmed and another edifice built.

The report stated that some three years ago, the congregation owed around $40,000. Since that time a ministers' home costing $13,000 has been built, and landscaping and other, such as walks, etc., have totaled something like $5,000. Yet the indebtedness has been reduced to $10,000.

In addition to the above, much evangelism has been carried forward, both home and foreign, including some $15,000 in Italy, including sponsorship of Fracanti Orphan home. Several congregations have been established over there, all independent of the home (Brownfield) congregation now.

It was reported that some 600 now attend the Crescent Hill church regularly, and is fast overflowing the present building. Therefore the purpose of the meeting was to discuss the building of another church somewhere in a different area of the city.

All Favor New Building

It was reported that all present favor a new building and establishing a new congregation. Plans, of course were tentative, but a committee consisting of R. L. Bowers, Henry Chisholm and R. E. Self were appointed to investigate sites. Another meeting is to be held the 3rd Tuesday in November to take definite action.

If present plans materialize, another building may be erected in the south part of the city, and should be begun around the first of the year.

Farm Bureau Had Barbecue Tuesday

A drive for new members was discussed Tuesday evening at the Veterans Hall by the Terry County Farm Bureau at their regular annual membership meeting.

H. L. King made a talk on the child labor situation. Past resolutions to increase speed on pick-ups from 45 to 60 miles per hour were made.

Officers were elected for the new year as follows: Homer Winston, president, re-elected; Jake Fulfer, vice president; Kenneth Purtell, director of precinct 1; A. L. McCoy, director of precinct 2; Herman Wheatley, director of precinct 3; Bill Carter, director of precinct 4 and H. L. King was elected secretary and treasurer.

Delegates appointed to attend the convention in Mineral Wells in November were Herman Wheatley, Robert Young, Earl Brown, A. L. McCoy, G. I. Simms and Homer Winston.

Ches Gore had charge of the barbecue and about 400 people enjoyed the affair.

Amarillo Man Joins Insurance Company Here

Sid Lowery, Jr., comes from Amarillo to join the staff of the Robert Noble Insurance and Real Estate Co.

Mr. Lowery will be in charge of the insurance department. He is well acquainted with the insurance business and will benefit everyone having insurance problems and will be happy to discuss them with you.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowery and their 14 month old daughter are living at 805 E. Hester and are members of the Baptist church. He belongs to the Masonic lodge.

Plainview Cleaned Cubs Last Friday

The Cubs are having a rather bad season since they re-entered Class A. They have two wins, one from the Lovington, N. M. team, said to be rather weak, but took one from the Muleshoe Mules, who are rather tough.

One the other side of the board, they lost to Tahoka, but were not exactly swamped, and week before last they fell to the Littlefield Wildcats, last year's state champs, who seem to be on their way to another state championship. The score was 6-0-odd to 6.

They fared no better at Plainview last week end when the PV Bulldogs took them about like the Littlefield Wildcats. They play Levealand this week, and we're all hoping they don't let that bunch shove them around. Go to 'em.

Last weekend the Juniors over at Tahoka took a notion they should have another crack at the Brownfield Juniors, and while they were not beat as bad as in the first game, they were cleaned again.

Local Men Attend Meet in Mineral Wells

A. M. Muldrow and Wayne B. Smith left Wednesday to attend a meeting of all board of directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Mineral Wells.

The main speaker was John Ben Sheppard, sec. of Texas. Hubert Harrison, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce was host with a barbecue in honor of all managers and their wives.

A general discussion was held on reorganization and improvement of the WTCC. Since D. A. Brandeen of Abilene, has resigned as executive manager, Raymond Lee Johns of Plainview has been acting. They plan to bring the WTCC to each community more so than in the past.

Mrs. Muldrow and Mrs. Smith also attended the meeting with their husbands.

Bank Deposits Now Over $13 Million

This week the Herald is giving the readers a statement of the two banks here, the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., and the First National Bank. This is a requirement of the banking laws of the State and Nation, in order that the people may see how their banking institutions are progressing. We hope our readers will make full use of the statements.

We find a comparison with the statement of a year ago, the two banks have gained some $2,880,000 over the statements of one year ago, and nearly $400,000 over the statements of June 30th, the close of the fiscal year.

Taking a combination shot of the two banks, we find the deposits are $13,218,790.08. The resources run to $14,042,023.17, and the loans and discounts are now up to $5,280,607.39, which is considerable more than the last call.

To say the least, the banks are in flourishing condition, which of course reflects the prosperity of the trade area. If the present prospects for a crop and prices still run high during the gathering season, there is no telling what the deposits will be, come December 31 call.

LAMESA C OF C HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Gov. Allan Shivers was the principal speaker at the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner in Lamesa Monday night at the new Lamesa high school cafeteria.

Attending from Brownfield were Virgil Crawford, Al Muldrow and Red Smith.

Miss Mary Ballard
Mary Ballard Buys Entire Go're Stock

Miss Mary Ballard is now sole owner of the Go're Shop on West Main. A deal was closed Saturday in which Miss Ballard bought the interests of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Ballard, a partnership that has been in operation for the past 2 1/2 years.

Mary Ballard is one of the sweetest girls that ever grew up in Brownfield, and her friends are legion. Once a friend, always a friend, has been her motto. Mary has had several years experience in ladies ready-to-wear, and she knows what the public likes in that line.

In a statement to the Herald, Miss Mary remarked that in the future, as in the past, she would to the best of her ability, go out of her way to please her customers.

She asks that old friends as well as new people who are coming to Brownfield and vicinity, call and see her shop.

NEW BUSINESS TO OPEN ON HIGHWAY

George Martin is opening a used and new car lot on the Lubbock-Seagraves highway between Alex' Cafe and Harold Crites Texaco service station.

Martin moved to Brownfield three years ago from Ropesville where he had lived 26 years. Six years prior to his moving here, he was associated with the Goodpasture Grain and Elevator Co. in Ropesville.

Until a year ago, he was connected with the Martin and Walker used car lot. The past year he has been connected with Teague-Bailey Chevrolet Co.

Watch for the opening date in this paper.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Cruce, and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bowman attended the SMU-Oklahoma game in Dallas Saturday.

CHECK THOSE SHOOTIN' IRONS—Two Kansas City policemen, Patrolman George Marshall, foreground, and Cpl. Charles Swift, right background, look over the "shootin' irons" of Texas farm boys at the national convention of Future Farmers of America in Kansas City, Mo. The Red Cross is asking everyone that has surplus clothing to give to the needed children of Terry county to bring it to Abe Lincoln's office in the courthouse. Winter clothing and shoes are especially needed. It will be distributed and given to the most worthy causes.

SEMINOLE BOOSTERS HERE

The Junior Chamber of Commerce met Monday for their regular luncheon and had as their guests the Seminole Boosters for the Gaines county fair.

The Brownfield Sheriff's posse were in the opening parade Wednesday.

The Lottie Moon Circle will present the program and the Blanche Grove Circle will be hostess.

Wenzel Takes Many Prizes at State Fair

A. D. Wenzel, the Berkshire breeder of north central Terry came in this week with a grin on his face, and he knew straightway that he had hit the jackpot at the State Fair at Dallas. According to the Dallas Times-Herald of the 10th, he had a long string of prize winners again this year, but admittedly hotter competition than ever before.

His hottest competition came from R. G. Patterson & Son, Clifton; J. A. Wisdom & Sons, Farmersville and Kenneth Hoffman, Atascosa. Mr. Wenzel stated that they left Dallas Sunday morning and made the drive home in the loaded truck in twelve hours. He took the same route we took last week, via Haskell, Graham and Jacksboro.

This year, however, he cleaned up for 10 first places; three seconds and entered four champions, two reserve grand champions and two senior champions in the division. He was mighty well pleased with the results he obtained this year, this being his third consecutive year to exhibit there.

A. D. says he will be on hand next season with a full line of prize winners if nothing interferes. He received some extra prizes on Wednesday the 11th also, with seven head of barrows.

Here is a bit of the secret of raising prize swine, according to the Times-Herald article. Good stock to start with and a daily menu of maize and some supplements.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Short will move to Post soon, where Mr. Short will op.n a Buick agency.

More About the Drive-Teller's Window

We stated last week that we'd give a bit more information about the Drive-in deposit plan at the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co., this week. In using this method, you are advised to drive in on the Broadway side of the bank, as that would throw the car driver next the window. After being served, drive into the Fourth street side of the bank.

As we understand the matter, you make out your deposit as usual, and include the adding machine proof or tape. Should you wish some change, either include currency or your check for the amount of change you wish. If there is a mistake in addition either under or over the amount, you'll be notified by telephone immediately, and in a day or two you will receive the correction by mail.

It is very important that you include the adding machine list with your deposit in order that

Here's HOW Your FESTIVAL DOLLARS Accomplish So Much!

$12,000.00 on Brownfield's School Band

Our Band is classed as one of the outstanding bands in West Texas. The Brownfield Rotary Club has donated $12,000 to this project for new uniforms, band instruments, band instrument repairs, sheet music and miscellaneous expenses. Our bands have grown from approximately 35 to 96 members. The Senior band now has 56 members and the junior band 40. They won sweepstake awards in contests last year. The band is under the direction of Harold R. Mulkey.

$5,000.00 Donated on Cub Football Stadium

What a great improvement at the Cubs Football Stadium. The Rotarians donated $5,000.00 toward this big project. This included the rebuilding and resoding of the football field, general work on the parking area, new fences, the purchase and installation of the new steel section, which seats 2100 people, and the painting of the structure. The bleachers now have a seating capacity of 4500.

$3200.00 on Rotary School Bus Last Year

What a fine project this is. A school bus paid all the way by the Brownfield Rotary Club. The initial cost of the bus was $1000.00 plus $1000.00 on maintenance and repair bills plus $1200.00 for a bus driver. This is the expense for last year's operation. The expense so far this year is approximately $800.00 for repairs and a complete overhaul job on the bus, plus the salary for the bus driver of $1200.00. This bus operates in the city limits, making 8 rounds daily, and handles approximately 350 school children a day.

$3000.00 on Boy Scouts Hut

Boy Scouts Hut is located on the Legion site at the intersection of the Seagraves Highway near the American Legion building. $3000.00 has been donated by the Rotarians for this project which accomodates the Boy Scouts as a meeting place. Their membership now numbers in the sixties. Ralph Bailey is Scout Master for this Rotarian sponsored group of boys.

$500.00 Donated to Seleta Jane Brownfield Club House

The Rotarians have donated $500.00 to the clubs of Brownfield for the Seleta Jane Brownfield Club House. This nice club building is located at the corner of South Club and East Broadway street and has a membership of approximately 50 members.

$2200.00 on Girl Scouts Little House

Another worthy cause. The Girl Scouts Little House. This project furnishes your school children a permanent meeting place and at the same time a training center. There are approximately 200 members in this fine organization at the present time. The Girl Scouts Little House is located on the left as you enter the Coleman Park.

Here it is folks... All in a nutshell. What the Brownfield Rotary Club does with the money they derive from the Harvest Festival each year.

When asked to buy a ticket, don't refuse. Remember this is helping you and yours in a direct or indirect way. Every dollar they make goes to help make and build a better Brownfield.

A Trip To See the Sights In Central Tex.

Previously, we had planned to go to see our two brothers this weekend, but the weatherman said last week end was going to be ideal for a trip, football, fairs, and what have you. So the Mrs. and Old He decided to take the bull by the tail, and made a hurried get-away last Friday A. M. One of the brothers, Tom and family live down at Fort Worth. The other has made Johnson county between Grandview and Cleburne his home since about 1896.

Found a new way to Cowtown, to us at least That route has been there for years, but we'd took the one by via Stamford, Albany Breckenridge and Mineral Wells, longer and as crooked down around Mineral Wells as a black-snake trail. The one we traveled on this trip was via Haskell, Throckmorton, Graham, Jacksboro, etc. It is not only several miles nearer, but much straighter, and with the exception of the paving between Graham and Jacksboro, the roads are good. That section is a bit bumpy.

It was noon and past by the hall clock, when we arrived in Throckmorton, and the first time we had ever seen the country through that way. So, we decided to stop and dine. Had no sooner got settled at the table than in came Ike Bailey, the Mrs. and daughter, headed for the fair and a bunch of football games at Dallas and Fort Worth. They stated that was their route all the time to Dallas and Fort Worth.

We had heard of Springtown all our life, but that was the first time we were ever there. The man at a filling station informed us that the artesian wells thereabouts give the town its name. At one time they had a thriving college there, and the old buildings still stand, and reunions of the old students is held there annually.

Called on a cousin in Fort Worth we'd never seen before, Mrs. J. Morton Westbrook. She had written us once for information about the kin (Howells) in Tennessee, and while on vacation in New Mexico last summer, called by for a short visit. She too, is interested in ceramics, and she and the Mrs. had much in common. Cousin Myrl Westbrook's main business is remodeling fur coats, etc. She has customers as far away as Lubbock and Amarillo. Also met the son, Bill, and her husband when they came in from school and work. Her mother was with her last summer, that being the first time we'd seen her since 1910, before she married.

Thence across town to Polytechnic and the home of Tom Stricklin, our oldest living brother. He will be four score Nov. 3. His wife, Alice, had a good hot supper ready for us, and you know traveling kinder gives a kick to the appetite. Tom still believes that old one, early to bed, and early to rise, so we were off early next morning to view some very swell homes two of his daughters are building out on the rolling hills toward Weatherford.

One of the homes is finished and occupied, the Jack Burton home, but the Bob Burton home is about 5 percent complete. They are costing some $35,000, but we don't believe they could be duplicated here for less than $60,000. The streets in this restricted area, are not straight but wind this and that way around among the hills. Also, their son, Glen had bought a place in Glen Garden area that he was enlarging and remodeling. Being an electrician and an average carpenter, he's doing the work at odd times.

We also visited Mrs. G. G. Gore at a hospital, who recently underwent a bone grafting operation. She and Mr. Gore were tickled pink to see us, and we are very glad to state she is doing nicely now. G. G. has an apartment nearby and some of the daughter-take it time about staying with him. Mr. Gore stated his health was good in the lower altitude.

So, on down to Cleburne in the afternoon. Alton tricklin, a nephew is manager of one of the Dickson Hardware - Furniture stores, and a large crowd was there listening and looking at their television of the Oklahoma-SMU game. But as Alton and wife were not much more interested in a football game than we, we took off to southwest Cleburne, where Alton and Bettie are also building a nice new home that would cost at least $18,000 here but much less there.

Josh Lee To Be Festival Speaker

Among the many features of the fourth annual Harvest Festival here Oct. 31, will be Josh Lee as the principal speaker.

Josh Lee

who can hold an audience without a rope," is a former U. S. Senator from Oklahoma and at present is a member of the Civil Aeronautic board. He was known as "the wit of the Senate" during his term in the legislative halls of the nation's capitol.

Born in Alabama, he was three years of age when his family moved to a ranch in the Indian Territory, that was later to become the state of Oklahoma. Later, they moved in the traditional covered wagon and settled in a sod house three miles west of Hobart, Okla., where young Lee attended a frontier school. His later education was obtained at Oklahoma Baptist university and the University of Oklahoma, from which he graduated.

Upon graduating from the University, he spent ten months as a buck private in France with the American Expeditionary Forces. When the war ended, he returned to the Univ. of Okla. as a public speaking instructor. He later organized a department of public speaking and served as department head until he took a leave of absence to become a candidate for the House of Representatives in 1934.

He was elected to Congress and to the U. S. Senate in 1936.

He has been proclaimed one of the greatest orators in American public life. George Creel, writing in Collier's said, "Josh Lee is the closest approach to Delsarte that this country has ever produced. Watching him speak is a post graduate course in synchronization, for not only are his voice and hands symphonic, but even his ears and toes contribute to swelling harmonies."

POOL HD CLUB MET WITH MRS. DUNCAN

The Pool HD club met Oct. 10 in the home of Mrs. Gertrude Duncan.

Roll call was answered and ten members were present and one visitor, Mrs. Lawrence Dunn.

The group quilted on a quilt for Mrs. Dunn.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Jack Brown Oct. 24 at 2 o'clock.

JACK BROWDER LOSES HIS MOTHER

Jack Browder was notified last Monday night that his mother, Mrs. Molly Browder, 90, of Groveton, Texas, was seriously ill, and left at once for that place, where his mother died the same night. She had been ailing for some time. Had lived at Groveton practically all her life.

Mrs. Browder is survived by Jack and two other sons and one daughter; also 8 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren. Her body was laid to rest in the Groveton cemetery.

Marriage license was recently issued to Christopher Dewey Geutersloth and Mrs. Viola Payne.

midnight, the hay was hit for a good night's rest. Didn't hear a single big old diesel truck go by all night.

With a brief stop in Cleburne next AM to say goodbye, and invite 'em out to see us, we hit the road for home, or at least to Snyder, where we spent the shank of the afternoon and night with Herman, Sallie and Sara Beth—yes, and Rover. More chaw and sleep, and away on the last leg of our journey to the banner town of the banner county of the banner state and banner nation.

Found all well or practically so. Brother Meeks seemed to be the worst sufferer, but he lacks a lot of being abed.

COLEEN HORD IS THE PINCH HITTER

The Herald was well pleased this week when able to get Mrs. Coleen Hord as a pinch hitter on the social and other happenings. She is a good one, and a willing helper, as she once served as reporter on the Herald.

She is always in a fine humor, and there is little wonder that her husband, Old Walter, thinks she's it, and the two boys devoted to her. Thanks a lot, Coleen, for helping until we land a reporter.

How to Solve Fall Flower Problems

Stray petals from autumn flowers are easily dealt with by this efficient young homemaker, who whisks them away as they fall with her carpet sweeper.

HOMEMAKERS who try to bring the beauty of autumn into their homes in the form of flower arrangements often find themselves regretting the effort.

Stiff-stemmed fall flowers are often difficult to arrange, and when they begin shedding, spread petals in profusion all about them.

If you, too, have reached the point where you feel asters and chrysanthemums are better left in the garden or the florist shop, here are some tips that may help you regard them as more pleasure than bother.

Use crumpled chicken wire in the base of your vase as a foundation for your flower arrangement. First fill the chicken wire with leaves, and then place the flower stems one by one.

If your arrangement seems bunched because of the heavy heads of the flower, include a few sprays of wild grass as background. These will lend balance as well as grace.

As the season wears on, and autumn blossoms become scarce, try using fruit and vegetables as centerpieces. Such homely kitchen provisions as eggplant and squash have rich color tones that can add decided beauty to your home.

Much of the shedding of chrysanthemums can be avoided if care is taken to place them in a spot where they will not be brushed against. Bruised petals are the ones that tend to fall.

When shedding starts, it helps to apply a drop of wax to the base of the loosened petals to hold them in place. This is done by holding a lighted candle over the crucial spot and allowing it to drip.

To keep stray petals from marring the appearance of your home, keep the litter cleared away as they fall. Carpet sweepers are excellent for quick clean-ups without back-bending.

New models, which function efficiently without arm pressure from the user, make this a near-effortless chore. The trick is in the improved brush action which adjusts automatically to short, medium or long nap carpets.

Play Fireworks Safely This Year

BY WALTER KING

NATIONAL birthdays the world over call for celebrations and in many countries this means "Boom! Bang! Crackle!" all day and a spectacular fireworks display at night.

In 1950, let the slogan for your celebration be, "Safety first, fun and fireworks second." Be alert. Make yourself a national guard and help keep down accidents. Discourage careless use of matches and prevent the tossing of crackers where explosions might take place near a person's face or clothing.

A good way to strike confidence in your safety ideas is to offer suggestions to your friends for an improved standard of firecracker fun. Sky rockets, for instance, have a nasty habit of zooming up at unsatisfactory angles unless one knows how to handle them. And many an ankle has been damaged out by a rocket which struck with deadly accuracy as it skimmed crazily along the ground instead of heading for the stars.

Much trouble can be saved in the case of rockets if a long-necked bottle is buried in the ground or in a pail packed with earth. The bottle should be set in tilted at an angle of about 60 degrees with the ground level. Then if the rocket stick is inserted into the bottle the result is bound to be safe.

It is always well to read the directions that go with fireworks. They must be there for a purpose and that purpose is to give you full fun value for your money as well as to warn you of any possible danger.

Roman candles and the fire-spitting type of fireworks sometimes "backfire"—that is, the part held in the hand may become excessively hot or it may even cough hand, stick the candle in a funnel if possible. Fireworks perform just as well if forced to behave themselves.

Before lighting the Roman candle type of fireworks, loosen the paper around the wick a little bit. This makes the candle "catch" more easily. It is always best to use "punk" or a long taper when lighting fuses. This not only is safer but it is quite a saving on matches.

Puzzle Answers

SHOOT STRAIGHT: You can shoot 21 different squares: nine of the size made by the first marksman, four of the size made by the second, four equal to Nos. 1, 5, 9, 17; two equal to 1, 10, 11, 20; and two of the size formed by 4, 6, 15, and 17. Your score? Twenty-one is a marksman, 17 to 20 is a first-class shot.

PUZZLE TARGET

TAKE A SHOT

To qualify as a marksman on this target puzzle you must fire four shots at the 20 small bull's-eyes so that they will form a square.

The first person to try scored with Nos. 13, 14, 17, and 18 as you see. The next marksman hit No. 3 with his first shot but went a bit wild with his second which landed in 6. As a result he had to put the next two shots in 13 and 18 to register a somewhat larger square and still qualify.

Now it is your turn to shoot. Remember, if your second shot happens to go wild you must use your wits to discover how best you could qualify by shooting out a square with four shots.

You may shoot as many rounds as you like. The puzzle is to estimate in how many different ways it is possible to form a square on the target with each four shots. Use your pencil to do the shooting.

Here is a useful tip. You cannot form any of the squares without using at least one of the following bull's-eyes: 3, 5, 6, 14, 15, or 20.

One of World's Most Noted Bands Here For Harvest Festival

The Cowboy band of Hardin-Simmons University probably has gone more places, has been seen by more people, and has appeared on more different types of programs than any other university group in the country.

The Cowboy band will be in Brownfield, Tuesday, October 31, to perform at the Harvest Festival.

During its 26 years of organization, this band has appeared in London and Birmingham, England; in Paris, Amsterdam, Mexico City and in 40 of the 48 states. Through Lions International and Veterans of Foreign Wars it has become known throughout the world. It was named champion of all adult bands at the Lions International convention in New Orleans in 1941, at the San Francisco convention in 1947, and again in New York City at the 1950 convention. In August the band represented the Texas department of VFW and brought fame both to itself and to the Texans.

The great demand for this group of Cowboy musicians undoubtedly is due to its unusual showmanship. Besides being able to play concert music, it stands ready to parade or to put on a stage show in colorful western regalia. The Cowboys take pride in being typical but not flashy. Their leathers are faded, their flapping leather chaps are battered and scarred, and their ten gallon hats have individualistic crushes from long wear.

The only flashy members of the organization are the six comely cowgirls mounted on their six white horses. When the band is on parade, the cowgirls and the horses carry the six flags that have flown over Texas soil during the history of the Lone Star state.

Their parades are different from the usual parade. The Cowboy musicians look upon their parade as a show to entertain the spectators, and their first rule is to relax and enjoy it themselves.

TUBA SUIT—It takes a big man to play the tuba, and Ralph Ladnier, 18 year old freshman from Biloxi, Miss., is filling that role in Baylor University's Golden Wave Band this year. A special suit had to be tailored for him. Two other members of the band show just how big that uniform is. They are Betty Ann Northcutt, left, from Mineola, Texas, and Betty Jane Wilson from Shreveport, La. (AP photo)

Behind the Scenes In American Business

By Reynolds Knight

Researchers in American business have reached a stage of proficiency where they can now go literally to the United States military services and ask: "What do you need in the way of newer or better products?"

Two of our foremost chemical research groups recently asked the armed forces to outline their needs and problems, promising that they would go to work solving them: They were not kept waiting long, being provided with a large budget of "things to do."

The Air Force has much that it would like to see accomplished. Turbo-jet engines, roaring along at super speeds, throw off super-hot gases. This calls for the use of stronger ceramics and more titanium, an essential light weight metal that is not in too plentiful supply.

All weather, supersonic aircraft also require better electrical conducting coatings for outside surfaces. Dust, snow and ice cause an accumulation of static electricity on present coatings, interfering with radio communications.

The Army, Navy, Air Force and Signal Corps all have their special problems requiring solution by a host of industries working cooperatively. Chemical researchers will carry their experiments into other plants, other industries. The result will be better products for civilian living as well as for the military services.

HD Council Holds Annual Meeting

The Terry County Home Demonstration Council held its annual meeting in the home demonstration agent's office Saturday, Oct. 14.

Annual reports were given by the vice chairman in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Johnny Winston; secretary, Mrs. H. B. Settles; treasurer, Mrs. W. F. Jones, and chairman, Mrs. A. J. Bell, and the chairman of the following committees: Education-Expansion, Mrs. Lee Bartlett; Year Book, Mrs. Hardin Joyce; Exhibit, Mrs. Kelley Sears; Finance, Mrs. Doc Settles; Marketing, Mrs. M. E. Henson; Recreation, Mrs. Thurman Salesbury; Sponsors, Mrs. Roy Moore, and Reporter, Mrs. Lloyd Holloway.

Christmas and all occasion cards have been ordered and will be sold soon by all council members. A very nice box of personalized box of stationery will be given to the person selling the most cards.

The TCHD council received $15 for the educational exhibit displayed at the South Plains fair.

An achievement tour will be made of all the clubs in the south side of the county Oct. 26. Plans were made to make and fly the United Nations flag on Oct. 24.

The following officers were elected: Chairman, Mrs. Kelly Sears, Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Lee Bartlett, Secretary, Mrs. Ralph Murry; Treasurer, Mrs. Doc Settles; and reporter, Mrs. Lloyd Holloway.

The next council meeting will be Nov. 11.

A reporter's training school will be conducted Nov. 4 at 2 p.m. for all the 4-H and HD club reporters. Nov. 4 will also be the date for the council rummage sale and bake sale to be held on the court house lawn.

Plan Now For 1951 Cotton Crops

The present world situation and weather conditions over much of the cotton producing areas of the nation can have a strong bearing on the 1951 cotton crop in the United States. World conditions have materially increased the demand for cotton and weather conditions are very unfavorable at this time so far as the production of high quality planting seed for 1951 are concerned.

According to Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist of Texas A & M college, the seed situation is so bad that steps must be taken immediately to prevent an actual shortage of the better adapted varieties of planting next year. He says too much moisture at harvest time materially affects the keeping qualities of cotton seed. When seed that is high in moisture and free fatty acids is stored, heating occurs and this causes seed losses as well as poor germination. He says there is practically nothing that can be done to take care of the free fatty acid problem but that good storage facilities and the proper handling of the stored seed will help some and will hold the damage that can be caused by too much moisture to a minimum.

Elliott says that all reports indicate that the demands for cotton will remain high. No announcement has yet been made regarding the probable acreage of the 1951 cotton crop but indications are that it will be much larger than the 1950 acreage.

Miss Crocker Is Bride Of Lieut. Burnett

Miss Helen Wells Crocker, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. G. Rowell Crocker of New Bedford, Mass. became the bride of Lieut. Walter De Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burnett of Brownfield Saturday, Oct. 14, in St. Martin's Episcopal church, New Bedford, Mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a bertha effect ivory satin slipper gown edged with heavy lace. The skirt fitted around the waist with train. Her cap was of stiff lace with fingertip veil of illusion lace. The bride carried a bouquet of fleur-de-amour flowers.

The matron of honor wore an emerald green satin, and the three bridesmaids wore copper satin, flamingo and cameo rose. Their corsages were made of tiny pom-poms to match each dress.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.

For her going away suit, Mrs. Burnett wore a wine suit with matching black accessories.

Immediately following the reception the couple left on a wedding trip to Cape Cod and New York City. On their return they will live near Scott Field, Ill. where he is now stationed.

OLD LANDMARK MOVED AND GETS FACE LIFTING

The old Daugherty residence that was moved out on the Tahoka highway, in east Brownfield, is getting a face lifting, and it won't look like the same place soon. This old home, among the first in the city, was moved to make room for modern progress, the lovely new Furr store.
The old home of one of the pioneer families is having two rooms added, and the whole building will be stuccoed, and other improvements made. So if you want to remember how this old place looked 45 years ago, better see it as it is undergoing a transformation.
The residence now belongs to Robert Whitney.

About the Display Of the UN Flag

The HD department of the A. & M. college sent quite some information this week concerning the display of the United Nations flag, when it is supposed to be flown by all schools throughout the land, Oct. 24. Supposedly all schools have been notified of the flag etiquette of this new emblem already. But some, notably the American Legion in convention at Los Angeles recently, did not concede that the UN or any other flag should take precedent over the Stars and Stripes in the way of display. But the recent developments in Korea has accentuated the importance of United Nations greatly. While with the Vets that the national emblem should come first, nevertheless the Herald, along with many others, see a ray of hope—a rainbow as it were—on the horizon that may mean that UN will soon be prepared to force peace on some nations whether they want it or not. The first US internal combustion automobile patent was granted in 1895 to Geo. B. Selden.

PLAINS NEWS

(Delayed)

Mrs. Dovie Moreland spent the week end in Levelland with her daughter.

Mrs. Bob Jones is a patient in the Brownfield hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Posey were week end visitors in the Robertson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Casey returned to Alamosa, Colo., after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Meals from Tahoka were visitors in the Wallace Randolph home over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Courtney spent Sunday in Lubbock visiting Mr. and Mrs. Troy Smith.

Mrs. Caryl Light and daughter Caryl Marie are visiting relatives in Liberal, Kans., this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Mays from Hobbs, N. M., spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McCargo.

Mrs. Pete Sampson has accepted a position in Red and White grocery.

The Do Si Do club met in regular session Saturday night. Our caller has been called into the service, so the members are taking over and some of them are getting to be "professionals."

Mr. and Mrs. Arnie Johnson attended the funeral of his cousin, Jackie Johnson, in Stephenville Thursday.

An insecticide, scabrin, has been extracted from the roots of the ox-eye weed.

The scientific name for ox-eye weed is heliopsis.

BOUNTIFUL BARREL—Not too sure of what it's all about, Mrs. J. H. Orr, left, her son and daughter-in-law examine a "mysterious" water barrel on their farm near Simmons, Mo. It seems that although the barrel is emptied each day, it refills by itself during the night. At least, that's how the story goes.

LUBBOCK AND TAHOKA CARS COLLIDE HERE

There was a slight smashup between a car and a pickup driven by Don McGlanor, REA man of Tahoka, and a car driven by George Heath of Lubbock. The collision occurred at the juncture of highways 62 and 137 with Broadway.

The car and pickup were slightly damaged, but we understand that neither driver was seriously hurt. Heath is a brother of Herman Heath, former West Texas Gas man here.

VFW MEMBERSHIP DRIVE IS UNDER WAY

The kickoff in the VFW organization drive for new members started this week with a bang. Two teams headed the drive for 300 new members. Their quota given them by the state organization, was 175, but they are going to try to exceed the quota.

The two teams will be known as the Old Golds and the Blues. Losers will entertain with a steak dinner. As of now the Old Golds are leading.

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He
Yes, we are all aware that Regulation W is now on with a bang. But to most of us with all the other regulation letters from A to W on, we have not made much outcry, even though reminded by papers and radio. Well, we only have XYZ left, then we'll have to start in with A-1, and on and on and on. We sure are a well regulated nation.

By gum, folks, we believe Clairemont is going to pull away from Gail in the county seat race. We don't mean they are running for the same seat, as the former is in Kent county and the latter in Borden. We are talking about "the mostest population fustest." We saw Clairemont Friday and Gail Monday. Now they are building some new houses in Clairemont, and one oil company seems to be putting in a supply house there. Counting the chickens, Clairemont would have way over 100 inhabitants. You'd have to count the chickens, donkeys and other fowls and animals to pass '99 at Gail. But both are sweet old towns, and we love them. They don't seem to be in such a hurry that they are not nice and polite.

Going down to Cowtown Friday, we stopped in to see why in heck we don't get the Aspermont Star any more, and what Afon Richards got all swelled about. It was about 10:30 AM, and both the front and rear doors to the plant were open, and most of the folding for the week's issue was out, although we had to fold 'ons to carry along.

The wind was whistling in through his high weed patch in the back of the lot, and it was nice and cool in there. We found and took nothing but a paper, as he had the dime out with him after Arbuckle, no doubt. We called on no other papers during the entire trip down, as we supposed they were all taking Friday the Thirteenth off as a holiday.

Down at Cleburne we found that we had one constant reader of this mess you are now reading, if you are. But there was some things she wanted clarified. She's the wife of our nephew, Alton Stricklin, and being a woman she was a bit curious. We can say that safely at this distance. She wanted to know about some of those "slander suits" we were threatened with. She understood the one about the "three rooms and a path," OK, but she was curious to know what we called that cafe, that caused a suit to be threatened from that source. She'd seen greasy spoons, but never would have guessed that was it. And she thought maybe the suits were serious.

And there was our brother Tom, down at Cowtown. He 'lowed as how he looked for the Stricklinly. Speaking the first thing. At least we have some readers among the kin. We have some out here too. Just as sure as we say something ugly about some person or thing, we are pounced on like a duck onto a Junebug. But let us praise 'em to the "flowery beds of the sky," and they don't see it.

Changing the subject to nearer home, we saw in the Ropes

Plainsman that 'leggers of Hockley county were very unhappy. The paper stated that they had been raided, fined, fined and raided, until all their sweet profit had gone up in blue smoke, and no money left to buy the children any winter shoes.

Here of late the Terry county officials have been making it rather uncomfortable for the Brownfield "leggers." Some dwellers out in the east part of town had complained of brazen disregard of the law. Others in the north part of the city. We wouldn't know as we have had no occasion to call on any of the gentry for lacquer.

Switching from bootleggers to babies. Old Marion Craig No. 1, is about the cockiest rooster of the sidewalks these days. You know he has just recently become grandpappy since Marion J. the III appeared on the scene. But nary a cigar did old No. 1 pass. M. J. the II did all the cigar passing, announcing that it was a boy.

But you could tell from that laught that No. 1 put over, that he was as proud of the new arrival as could be.

Like the jokes of 30 years ago on the Model T Ford that helped to make the noted car what it is today, we now have with us a series of jokes on Hadaçal, the highly advertised vitamin. One of the latest was pulled by a speaker at the State Teachers Association convention.

A girl that could neither read or write called on the superintendent of a large city schools for a job as teacher in the schools. Without the slightest hesitation, the school head gave the girl a dose of Hadaçal and put her to work.

This being Oil Development Week, Brownfield can now fit right into the picture. Heretofore most of the play has been out from 15 to 40 miles, although a lot of the workers, such as drillers, roughnecks, doodlebuggers (seismograph crews) have made their home here, and we had headquarters, both production and office forces of some oil companies.

But now all kinds of oil field folks are coming to Brownfield, including the supply houses of all kinds, since oil has been discovered in our back yard, as it were. It is a little late to get started this year, but Brownfield should be right in the forefront in the promotion next year of Oil Development Week.

But our neighbor to the north, Levelland, is doing something about the matter this year, and are celebrating. The petroleum industry is not just a marketer of gasoline, fuel oils and other petroleum products. Like other fields of industry it is working to make a better future for the young people of our nation, and for everyone.

It brings new dollars into the community; it fissures new life into the body politic.

That secretary pictured daily in some of the newspapers we gets, gets off something rather rich occasionally. One day last week she stated that she had put off so much to do next week that she was completely worn out.

This is partly our trouble that jammed us up this week. We were out looking, seeing and being entertained last week end. And now we have so many things to do and think about that we don't know where to start.

That being the case, we as well draw up the ladder this week, and go back to sleep. Be seeing you.

CHRIST PRAYING IN THE WILDERNESS

Millard Coody, as Christ, prays for guidance before going forth to preach. Scene is from the religious sequences of "The Prince of Peace," Cinecolor feature based on the 1948 Lawton Oklahoma Easter pageant. It opens on Tues., Oct. 31st at both the Rig Drive-In theatre and the Rio theatre, Brownfield.

More, Better and Best Owners Of New Cars

Yes, sir, more and more folks are stepping out in a new car here of late, but we don't find one registered by a guy by the name of Stricklin, strange as it might sound. Nonetheless, we offer sincere congratulations. Here's the crowd week ending October 14:

I. M. Bailey, Chevrolet; T. P. Brown, Ford; N. R. Butcher, Plymouth; James W. Evans, Studebaker; First National Bank, Buick; William Grace, Ford; C. B. Hester, Mercury; W. M. Ingle, Mercury; W. I. Klutin, Mercury;

Homer Shaugter, Chevrolet.

Tyler Martin, C. H. Merritt and E. L. Moore, each a Plymouth; R. F. Mobley, Oldsmobile; J. L. Odell, Buick; Wendell E. Peterson, Chevrolet; C. C. Primm, Buick; Pearl Rushing, Chevrolet; W. H. Shewmake, Mercury; Southwestern Leasing Co., Ford; Preston Spray, Ford.

Newcomers to Brownfield are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Steele of Denver Colorado. Mr. Steele is the brother of George Steele of Brownfield. Mr. Steele will open an electric shop on the Seagraves highway as soon as the building is completed.

Lift Heavy Object Without Injury

Each year thousands of people are victims of sprains, strains, hernias and other injuries simply because they do not know how to properly handle heavy objects, says E. C. Martin, state leader of agricultural programs for the Texas A & M extension service and chairman of the State Farm Safety committee.

He says that records kept by the National Safety Council show five common causes for lifting injuries. They are lifting and lowering objects with the back muscles instead of the leg muscles; insecure grip or footing and unsafe placing of hands or feet; using quick, jerking, twisting or awkward movements of the body; obstructed vision, unstable loads, or inadequate control and insufficient help or failure to use mechanical aids.

Martin points out that the common practice of bending at the waist when lifting something places a severe strain on the sensitive back and abdominal muscles. By bending your knees and keeping your back straight when lifting something heavy, you can place the strain on your leg muscles which are less likely to be injured.

Before doing any lifting around the farm, Martin suggests that you examine the job carefully. See if you can't reduce the amount of necessary lifting, and find some way to use mechanical equipment if possible. If very heavy lifting must be done by hand, get someone to help you do the job.

LATE COPY OF THE LINK RECEIVED

The Herald received a copy of The Link, official publication of Howard-Payne college at Brownwood last week. There was some interesting reading matter in the publication.

On the front page was a picture of one of the professors showing a bunch of the Howard-

Payne faculty "the scientific principles of atomic energy." Among the number was vice-president, Dr. A. A. Brian.

Now remember it is not just Reverend, but Doctor Brian the next time you meet him. The difference in what you call him might be the difference in your getting a coke or coffee or just a stare.

Made in widest variety of engine-body-chassis combinations to fit every trucking need.

Think twice today when you buy a truck!

THAT new truck you're considering may have to last a long time. So you'll be wise to look at a GMC for these important reasons:
GMC's are built by the world's largest exclusive manufacturer of commercial vehicles - with the broadest truck engineering experience.
GMC's are real trucks. Engine, transmission and frame, as well as cab and axles, are all specially truck-built to give you longer service.
GMC truck-built engines have high horsepower with higher sustained torque - greater pulling power. They are built to give extra years of service with less maintenance.

GMC extra-value features include Synchron Mesh transmission, Tocco-hardened crankshaft, full-pressure lubrication, recirculating ball-bearing steering gear, airplane-type bearings and Lifetime Weatherscaled cabs as standard equipment on practically all models from 1/2 ton up.

That's why more truckers are buying GMC's today than ever before - experience proves them best in the long haul!

J. B. KNIGHT CO. PRESENTS

Two proud new International Sterling beauties!

Blossom Time and Brocade

We have double news, double excitement in our silverware department! For now we can present International Sterling's two newest patterns - the loveliest, the most beautiful of all!

Blossom Time, a perfect, full-blown flower, captured forever in shining silver. And an added advantage - Blossom Time comes in a balanced place setting. The flower swings to the right on pieces that go to the right of the plate, to the left on others!

Brocade, inspired by rarest fabric - a richly carved, exquisitely detailed pattern. The essence of luxury, yet completely right anywhere.

Truly a pattern of distinction.

There'll never be a better time to choose your lodged-for solid silver. Come in today and let us show you International Sterling's two newest beauties.

Let's All Join Whole Heartedly In Oil Progress Week

We hear a great deal these days about the American way of life, and it is all to the good. It would be difficult indeed to think of another subject so infinitely varied or so richly rewarding. Yet it is not enough simply to go on talking about it. If the American Way is to have any valid meaning, we must live it. And before we can live it, we must understand it.

It is in this conviction that we welcome the arrival of Oil Progress Week, October 15-21. The men and women of oil have set aside this time to report to their fellow townsmen and the consumers of their products on their contributions to our well-being and their plans for the future.

Starting less than a century ago with only a hole in the ground, the oil men of this country have helped change the face of our civilization. They have given us the power for mobility and flight. Not only have they provided the lubricants for our vast industrial machine but today they are providing more than half of the total energy used in this country. They have helped make possible untold hundreds of good things—from lipsticks to wonder drugs. Moreover they have established comfortable reserves of oil which add greatly to our national security. They have, in short, done much to transform the existence of yesterday to the good life of today.

However, Oil Progress Week is designed not only to remind us

Welcome Small
Fry Newcomers

Here is the list of new arrivals via the Stork Route from October 9, through the 14th. We are glad to have these boys and girls in our midst. They are the future leaders of our community:

Marion James Craig III, to Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Craig, Jr.; Regina Mae Craker, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lee Craker; Patricia Diann Martin, to Mr. and Mrs. Coy Ray Martin; Sherry Kay Miller, to Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Miller.

South African gold mines reach 9,000 feet in depth.

of what the oil industry has produced, but what has produced the oil industry. Gasoline and plastics and wax for bread wrappers are simply the evidence of a deeper, driving force—the force that has made possible our whole industrial structure. This is the American way—the determination, the initiative, the opportunity to create more and better things for all of our people everywhere. We call it Freedom.

In setting aside this week to tell their fellow-citizens about their industry, the 1,800,000 men and women of oil are performing a valuable service. In showing how progress in industry and the whole American dream have been realized, their efforts merit our attention and good will.

This Is a "First"

In this issue we enjoy a "first" in that we have a fine advertisement from the American Medical Society. This is the first advertising received by the weekly press from the AMA, but we hope it won't be the last. The AMA has had an iron clad rule against advertising in the papers. We do not think that the AMA had any prejudice against the press, but the attitude seemed to be reflected on the character of the press. Many doctors are great humanitarians and we editors regard them as such. But no institution or profession serves humanity more unselfishly than do newspapers and newspaper people. Newspaper people had become sensitive about this apparent outlawing of paid newspaper advertising that they refused to give the AMA any free publicity, regardless of the worthiness of the cause. But now that the AMA has apparently receded from its former attitude toward newspaper advertising, we may see a closer relation between the two professions.—Anton News.

LUBBOCK FAIR SETS ATTENDANCE RECORD

Attendance records for the past 15 years were shattered Saturday, Oct. 7, when the Mid-Century Panhandle South Plains Fair closed. Total attendance showed 140,088 people visited the fairgrounds at Lubbock during Oct. 2-7. This number is exceeded only by 145,273 of the 1935 fair and the 141,610 who visited the fairgrounds in 1934.

FARMERS!

Our plants and equipment have been completely overhauled, and are in top notch condition. Wheat Allotments In Effect for 1951

Questions continue to come in to the Terry county PMA office as to whether wheat acreage allotments will be in effect for the 1951 wheat crop. According to PMA chairman Hugh H. Harred, the program is in effect and there is no change from the announcement made by the Secretary of Agriculture July 14, 1950.

According to the chairman, we carried over more than 400 million bushels of wheat from last year. This year's crop is estimated at more than a billion bushels. That means a total of more than 1,400,000,000 bushels to carry us through until next harvest. It takes about 750 million bushels of wheat to meet our domestic needs, including food, feed, seed and industrial uses.

In addition, it is estimated that we may export not more than 250 million bushels in the year ending next July 1.

In the chairman's words: "It looks now as though we'll have nearly 500 million bushels of wheat more than enough to meet all our needs. As we are situated today, that is a comfortable safety margin. Certainly there is no need for plowing up our grass lands and planting more wheat.

"The wheat acreage allotment for the crop that is to be harvested in 1951 is more than 72 million acres, the same as for this year. In spite of unfavorable conditions in some of the winter wheat areas last fall and winter, our crop this year is over a billion bushels. Reports from most of the winter wheat country this fall indicate far better conditions than a year ago."

COTTON RUINED BY TOO MUCH HAIL

Two ladies reported to us that they met Ralph Carter out near his Tokio community farm last Monday. To them the cotton looked OK, but Ralph stated the cotton was to be plowed under.

During the big six inch rain out there four weeks ago, they had an awful hail storm, and Ralph stated that every boll was injured.

Hero's Death Better Than Winning Girl

Screen star Cornel Wilde had his choice of winning the girl or dying a hero's death in 20th Century-Fox's "Two Flags West," at the Rialto Theatre Sunday and Monday, and readily chose the latter.

"Dying kills them," explained Wilde, meaning the fans.

"Any time an actor plays an important, favorable character who dies with his boots on, he's sure to be remembered longer by the audience than the live ones. By dying, he makes the supreme sacrifice as a hero and becomes, therefore, a bigger hero."

As a matter of fact, Wilde points out, a character need not be seen to be felt. The novel and movie, "Rebecca," as well as the Academy Award picture, "A Letter to Three Wives," revolved about an absent personage whose presence was felt more strongly than the rest of the cast.

In "Two Flags West," co-starring Joseph Cotten, Linda Darnell and Jeff Chandler, Wilde portrays a Union army officer, a man of honor, who sacrifices his life in the defence of his country and the woman he loved.

His heroism inspires similar actions from Actor Jeff Chandler who, as commander of Fort Thorn, an outpost in New Mexico, gives himself up to the Indians as a sacrifice to avenge his killing of the Indian chief's son. Wilde is a little envious of Chandler's death scene. "The audience won't forget that action," he opines wistfully but enviously.

Annual Conference TAA Met In Austin

The annual conference for Texas Administrators Association convened in Austin, Sunday, Oct. 15 and 16. Brownfield was represented by S. P. Cowan, superintendent of schools, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith and Mrs. Herman Chesher.

The conference started Sunday evening with a dinner meeting. E. T. Robbins, superintendent of Alamo Heights of San Antonio presided, at the meeting. The first part of the program was in honor of W. T. White, school superintendent of Dallas, who had been elected president of the American Association of School Administration. Dr. J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education, gave a very interesting talk on the history and background of Mr. White, picturing him as one of the leaders of education in the nation. J. P. Moore, superintendent of schools at Fort Worth also gave a talk on his associations with Mr. White.

Dr. Harold C. Hunt, general superintendent of the schools in Chicago, Ill., was the main speaker of the evening. His topic was "The Administrators' Many Parts."

L. P. Sturgen, assistant commissioner of education presided at the Monday morning meeting. Mr. Sturgen introduced the various departments with the Texas Education Agency. Dr. Hunt's topic for this meeting was "Raising Our Professional Horizons."

For the first time in history of education Texas laymen were called in to get their thoughts and viewpoints in education. Five hundred laymen from various sections of the state attended the meeting. They discussed possible means of the Gilmer Akin Bill to give better service to the school children. After a general discussion the laymen divided into 20 different groups—each assigned specific subjects to discuss. Each chairman reported to the general meeting on their recommendations. Different phases of the educational program was discussed in their last meeting Monday afternoon.

The conference concluded Monday night with the inauguration of 21 members of the state board which were elected from the different districts over the state. Dr. J. W. Edgar, formerly of Austin, was inaugurated as Commissioner of Education.

ACP To Aid In Building Soil Reserves

Mobilizing the resources of the country to strengthen the nations defenses includes wise use of our land and water, say Hugh Harred, chairman of the Terry county PMA committee. "No stockpile of guns, ships, planes and even atomic bombs will offset an adequate supply of food."

In this opinion, food is basic defense material, and the country is fortunate in having adequate supplies. Even the anticipated increases in military procurement in the coming months is not expected to result in any noticeable reduction in supplies for civilians.

This favorable situation, according to Harred, is largely the result of the conservation practices carried out by farmers on their farms during the past 14 years together with increased use of other technological developments in agriculture. These have stepped up farm production nearly 40 per cent over what is in the 1935-39 period and it is expected that the per capita consumption of food this year will be 11 per cent more than for this same pre war period.

In 1951, the chairman points, out, the ACP will continue to be used to encourage and aid farmers to increase the acreage of cover and green manure crops. Assistance will be available for pasture improvement including the application of lime, phosphate and potash. Under the 1951 ACP conservation practices which strengthen the nation's stockpile of potential productions will be given priority.

TEN CASES FLU REPORTED IN TERRY CO.

According to the State Health Dept., report week ending Sept. 30, there were 3 cases of gonorrhea, 10 of influenza, 3 pneumonia cases and 2 of whooping cough.

The same week Yoakum county reported 2 cases of influenza and two of measles.

Mr. Ivan Hill of California is another newcomer in Brownfield. Mr. Hill is the cousin of Dr. Wayne C. Hill of Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Gay Price and Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Mason attended the state prison rodeo in Huntsville Sunday.

The Word Is Poison!

For one of the taut, dramatic scenes in Harry M. Popkin's mystery thriller, "D. O. A.," which co-stars Edmond O'Brien and Pamela Britton, O'Brien has to speak a few lines of highly scientific dialogue.

To his horror he discovers that a friend has poisoned him because of certain information he has about a murderer. He goes to a doctor for a diagnosis of the poisoning, and discovers that it is a drug called Iridium, which has a fancy chemical formula and an equally unpronounceable chemical name, Phlogeno-oxylcin.

"Are you sure we can't substitute another word for that one?" Director Rudy Mate asked the chemical expert called in to verify the drug.

"Don't worry about it," countered O'Brien smoothly. "In my last picture, 'White Heat,' I knocked off Jimmy Cagney, and he was the world's most desperate killer. If I could knock him off, I can certainly knock off a little word like Phlogeno-oxylcin."

And so he did, without a hitch, much to the astonishment of the staff and cast.

"D. O. A.," is being released by United Artists. It will arrive next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Rialto Theatre.

Want a long run for your money?

Better Buy Buick!

YOU want a new car to be tops in things like style and room and comfort and power—and a thrill-packed fifteen minutes with the nimble number pictured here will show you it has all these things in abundant measure.

So you ask us—how about money? What does it cost to buy a Buick—and to own one? All right—let us ask you some questions.

Take first cost. Do you know that Buick prices start down at a level below what you'd pay for some sixes—and that every Buick, on a cents-per-pound basis, is a stand-out buy?

Take operating cost. Do you know that the bang you'll get from Buick's Fireball power comes from a valve-in-head engine—recognized by engineers as a thrifty saver of fuel?

Do you know that owners of 1950 Buicks are writing us rave letters, saying that this year's version is the most economical Buick ever built?

Do you know that such comfort features as coil springs on all four wheels protect the car as well as the passengers—and throw in an extra saving because they need no servicing, and are practically breakproof to boot?

Do you know that Dynaflo*—in addition to keeping you fresh as a daisy on a day-long drive—cuts down the strain on transmissions and engines—and eliminates all friction clutch repairs, because it hasn't any?

Take final cost. Do you know that when the owner of a Buick gets a yen for a later model, the prices that Buicks command on a used-car lot are the ultimate proof of their long-run value?

So if you want a real run for your money, better buy Buick. And the first step is very simple: Go see your Buick dealer—soon—and get an order signed.

FOUR-WAY FOREFRONT—This rugged front end (1) sets the style note, (2) saves on repair costs—vertical bars are individually replaceable, (3) avoids "locking horns," (4) makes parking and garaging easier.

FLYING NEWS AND VIEWS

By EDWIN E. DUNCAN

In the last few weeks the Brownfield airport has greatly come to resemble a large city air terminal. Oil company airplanes visiting the field have varied greatly in size from the smaller 2-place planes to the large twin engine models. A twin-engine Lockheed belonging to the Trinity Drilling Company with offices in Dallas and Calgary, Alberta, Canada, was the center of interest for several days last week. Another trim job on the field for several days the latter part of last week was a stagger-wing Beech from Houston. A cream colored Navion belonging to the Penrod Drilling Company was also based on the field early last week.

These were just a few of the many planes stopping in during the past few days, either for gas or for business in town.

Clear, balmy weather the past week has made the condition of the field ideal for these visiting planes; however it's a sad situation when the runways get a little muddy and these visitors circle the field several times and then head for a larger town where they can have the benefit of hard surfaced runways.

Floyd Firebaugh, custom farmer from Roswell, N. M., arrived Monday morning to check on the possibility of cutting milo in this area. He plans to bring in self-propelled combines. Later this week Firebaugh is a flying farmer who uses his Stinson for business travel the year around.

Nelson Jay, associated with the Continental Oil Company, and who owns a Howard which is now based at the field, left Friday afternoon for Santa Fe. He returned to Brownfield Sunday evening. Jay made trips of this nature several times each month.

Roy D. Harris and R. L. McKenzie flew to Oklahoma City Wednesday of last week in the Stinson to attend a convention for airport operators. City officials, C. A. A. officials and airport operators from all over the U. S. were present. From Oklahoma City Harris and McKenzie returned home by way of Anadarko, Okla. They arrived in Brownfield Friday morning.

Herman Wheatley has been keeping his Stinson out at his home near the Johnson community where he has a private landing strip. We understand that Herman has been kept pretty busy taking his neighbors for airplane rides.

Bo Tucker has recently moved to Brownfield from Seagraves and now has his PT-23 based at the local airport.

Everett Winston, of Littlefield, flew to Brownfield Sunday in his J-5 Cruiser to attend the funeral of R. D. Shewmake.

Cotton Center, Texas, a small community near Plainview, has a population of only 30. Out near the edge of town is a nice little airport on which is based 16 privately owned planes, and the owners of these planes are all residents of Cotton Center.

FIRST OVER THE LINE—The first U. S. troops to cross the line dividing North and South Korea waved triumphantly at photographers as they stood on the 38th parallel. Accompanied by South Korean guerrillas, the Yanks were members of a 1st Cavalry Division patrol commanded by Lt. Mack Bender, at right.

SCORCHED EARTH—In South Korea, towering clouds of smoke hung in the air as U. S. security patrols put the torch to clusters of squalid mud and thatch-roof houses. The Yanks were ordered to adopt the "scorched earth" policy when it was discovered that North Korean guerrillas were using abandoned native villages inside American lines as hiding places.

Cotton Restrictions Removed for 1951

Cotton acreage allotments and marketing quotas are off for 1951, according to an announcement made by Charles F. Brannan, Secretary of Agriculture, this week. Cotton growers can produce all the cotton they can in 1951 with no restrictions, and still have the assurance of price supports. The present law says cotton prices must be supported at between 80 and 90 percent of parity next year. The level of support will be announced later.

The announcement does not alter the marketing quota program in effect this year. Producers who have over planted their 1950 farm cotton acreage allotment must pay the penalty on the excess cotton regardless of when the cotton is marketed. Even if the excess cotton is held over and marketed next year, the penalty must be paid. Brannan called for at least 16,000,000 bales to be harvested next year and stated that the removal of all restrictions will help to insure this production needed to take care of increased domestic and export demand and to bolster reserves.

Early English millers stopped their windmills in a straight up and down position to signify "out to lunch."

BRITISH PUT SMOKES BEFORE FOOD

LONDON—(AP)—Britain's little people would rather trim the food bill than deny themselves those cigarettes if a salary cut struck. Mass Observation, a commercial outfit that polls the British public on timely topics, got that result in a poll of middle class folk on this gloomy line: "Given a one-tenth reduction in income, where would you make the first cut?" Ignoring a dismal country parson who replied "across my throat," the figures showed that 32 per cent of those queried would take the first hitch in the food bill. But only 22 per cent would cut down on smokes.

BIBLE COMMENT

Western Liberalism Has Spoiled Bible Reading for Many

A TENDENCY to employ cold, western liberalism has spoiled the reading of the Bible for many persons. The Bible is an eastern book; it is full of the imagery that has characterized the literature, both sacred and secular, to emerge from the east. Many misinterpret the Parable of the Sower, which was intended to be symbolic rather than literal. In this age of agricultural machinery, methods of sowing seed have for the most part changed. The essential details of the parable, however, have not changed.

The parable poses a challenge concerning the sort of hearts and minds we are offering to God's seeds of truth. No matter how good the seeds may be, the sowing will be futile if the ground has not been prepared.

Designed to remind us that God will do His part if we do ours, the parable tends to confuse some with its use of the word "broadcast," a word that has come to have a new meaning in this world of radio and television.

References to the Parable of the Prodigal Son also indicate that many readers refuse to exercise leniency in their Bible study. In the Prodigal Son Parable, Jesus may have had some one actual father and his wayward son in mind; but it is more likely that He was telling a story designed to fit any such situation.

Another—the Parable of the Mustard Seed—serves to illustrate how great things in God's divine economy grow from small beginnings. The actual details of the parable are inconsequential alongside the inspirational theme of the incident.

And for those whose lack of faith must be bolstered by cut and dried proofs, the growth of Christianity itself authenticates the moral of the Parable of the Mustard Seed.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

Santa Fe System carloadings for week ending October 7, 1950, were 25,454 compared with 24,795 for same week in 1949. Cars received from connections totaled 14,472 compared with 11,903 for same week in 1949. Total cars moved were 39,926 compared with 36,698 for same week in 1949.

Santa Fe handled a total of 38,700 cars in preceding week of this year.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF BROWNFIELD

AS DECLARED IN OUR STATEMENT OF POLICY LAST WEEK, MR. W. R. McDUFFIE, PRESIDENT OF THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK, BROWNFIELD, WISHES TO ANNOUNCE THE FOLLOWING:

Mr. Crawford Taylor, who has been with the bank since 1947, has been elected Cashier of the bank. This promotion comes as a reward for faithful service to this bank and our community.

Mr. L. H. Hudspeth, who comes to us from Abernathy, has been elected Vice-President and will handle our relations with the oil fraternity. After thorough investigation I believe he has wider acquaintance among drillers, tool-pushers, and all types of contractors, than anyone I have been able to find. He comes highly recommended to us from the Wichita Falls producing area.

Mr. C. L. Wilson, Jr., of Lubbock, has been elected Vice-President in charge of installment lending. After considering a large number of trained installment men, I find Mr. Wilson to be the best trained man in his field and the most highly regarded in the Panhandle-Plains area.

Mr. Frank Ballard, owner of the Ballard Plumbing and Electric Company, has been added to the board of directors.
