Chisholm To Provide Three Offices

For some time those passing the rear of the Chisholm Grocery have been wondering about the addition of some 40 by 50 feet to the building. Until the walls were up, most believed this brick and tile addition was for storage.

This week, when there were two partitions in the addition, and there appeared to be three spaces, all fronting east on Fifth street, and it was noted that all would have plate glass fronts, something quite unusual with rear end grocery warehouses.

Henry Chisholm this week informed a reporter that they were for small business offices. Stafford's Cafe will go in one of them as that section of town is without a cafe. Just at this time we are not permitted to say what businesses will occupy the other two.

Each will be approximately 20 by 50 feet, and have 1000 square feet of floor space.

One Injured In Auto Accident

Newton Seymour, 25 year old man of Shamrock, remains in a critical condition in the local hospital with injuries received when the automobile which he was driving went out of control about midnight Tuesday and overturned on the highway west of Plains.

Investigating officers said that a 16 year old youth who had "hitched" a ride with Seymour at Lubbock stated that the car went out of control after Seymour attempted to right the vehicle after hitting a gravel shoulder on the highway. The youth was only slightly cut and bruised.

A Brownfield Funeral Home ambulance took Seymour to the local hospital where he was found to have a broken clavicle, broken jaw, multiple cuts and bruises and a brain concussion. His condition is listed as critical by hospital attendants.

Local Woman Hurt In Wreck Tuesday

Miss Bonnie Chappell, secretary of the First Baptist church here, was injured in an accident north of Floydada at about 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Chappell, and a brother, G. W., all of Silverton, were also injured, and Alfred Duncan of McLean was killed in the same accident.

Miss Chappell received a severe cut on her forehead and multiple cuts and bruises. Her mother and brother were reported Thursday to be much improved, but Mr. Chappell remains in critical condition. All are in a Floydada hospital.

The Chappell family was enroute from Silverton to Plainview, where Miss Chappell was to board a bus bound for Brownfield, after she had spent the Christmas holidays with her family. They were traveling in a late model pickup. Miss Chappell said that as they were meeting the automobile driven by Duncan, his car suddenly swerved and the car and pickup crashed headon.

Miss Chappell has been employed at the local church for several months.

Man Charged In Knifing Affray

Charges of aggravated assault were filed against Morris Smith here Wednesday, according to information received from Sheriff Ocie Murry.

Smith and his brother-in-law, Eugene Thurmond, became involved in an argument late Tuesday night, Murry said, and Thurmond was stabbed in the abdomen.

Smith was released under $500 bond Wednesday.

Escaped Serious Injury In Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. (Red) Tudor escaped serious injuries Tuesday afternoon when their late model Buick struck a hog on the highway about two miles east of Plains as they were returning from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dixop, at Hot Springs, N. M.

The couple was brought to the local hospital where they are being treated for multiple cuts and bruises. Mrs. Tudor received a broken arm in the accident also. The automobile was heavily damaged.

FORGERY CHARGES FILED ON COUPLE

Forgery charges were filed by county attorney George Neill here Wednesday against a Monahans couple.

Charged with forging four checks on the Trinity Drilling Co. in Brownfield recently were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stormes of Monahans. The woman is being held in custody by Monahans officers, and the man is in the Big Spring jail on similar counts.

The couple will be brought to Brownfield to face charges, Neill said.

MEXICAN RELEASED AFTER KNIFE FIGHT

A Mexican was released from the county jail Tuesday after paying a fine for aggravated assault following a knife fight in the "flats" at about 2 a.m. Sunday, according to Sheriff Ocie Murry.

Murry said that Bartillo Mirandez was charged with knifing another Mexican named Flores during an argument. Neither man was seriously injured.

Eddie Hedgoth Killed In Car-Truck Crash East Of Town Thursday Night

Eddie Hedgoth, 43, was killed almost instantly at about 8:45 p.m. Thursday on the Tahoka highway just inside the city limits.

Witnesses said that Hedgoth driving a late model car, was pulling another automobile, in an attempt to get it started. After getting the car started, Hedgoth had stopped to release the tow chain between the two cars, when a truck driven by James Sturm of Denver City, driver for the S & G Trucking company, struck the rear of the towed car. Hedgoth was crushed between the two automobiles, Roy D. Edwards of Route 3, Brownfield, was in the automobile being towed by Hedgoth.

Hedgoth and his wife and family had lived in Brownfield about 60 days. He was employed as weigher at Goodpasture Grain & Milling Company here.

No further details were available from city police, who investigated the accident, as we go to press.

Hedgoth's body is at the Brownfield Funeral Home.

Texas Lawmakers Demanding More Action

For some time now, our Texas Senators and Congressmen, while trying to go along as much as possible with the administration on its pussyfooting, do nothing attitude, have become awake, Senator Lyndon Johnson thinks the time for playing politics is over, and the powers that be up there should show some action.

In a speech recently the Senator did not mince words on just what he meant.

Johnson stated that he respected those eloquent men on their policy of "wait and see," which for the past six months has prevailed. In the meantime, we have spent that time building a "chicken wire fence" for defense instead of going into something elaborate and substantial. Again, too little, too late, perhaps. He wants to know how long we are to reenact a do nothing policy as we did prior to Pearl Harbor. He told those in authority without mincing words, that the people expect them to do something. That the public confidence in its leaders cannot be taken for granted eternally. That this confidence built up when the Korean crisis came six months ago, is deteriorating.

The people, Johnson states, are reading their newspapers, and listening to their radio, when one supposed leader says one thing and another gives quite a different version. It has come about that the people are tired of and fed up on double talk in Washington.

Johnson wants the United States to get busy now and plan global strategy, and that this is no time for "business as usual." Some of the Texas Congressmen are also getting fed up on following the leader down a blind alley.

Wellman Is Piped For Natural Gas

C. L. Hafer, manager of the West Texas Gas Company here, said that by the end of the week it is expected that all work will be completed in the laying of natural gas lines in Wellman. About 3000 feet of pipe are being laid in and around the townsite to meet the needs, Hafer said.

The local office expects to have approximately 25 immediate customers for natural gas. Facilities are now available to three school buildings, approximately 35 residences, and two gins.

Wellman will be serviced by either the Brownfield or Seagraves office, Hafer said.

Steele Electric Co. Opens For Business

Announcement is being made this week of the opening of the Steele Electric company at 804 Seagraves Road. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Steele are owners of the new business.

All types of commercial and residential wiring will be done and the firm is equipped to serve Brownfield and surrounding territory. Both electrical fixtures and equipment will be handled, and the firm is licensed and bonded. For the best in electrical service, call 820W, either day or night.

Mr. and Mrs. Steele moved to Brownfield from Denver, Colorado. He is a brother of George Steele of Brownfield.

Companies Bought Courthouse Bonds

At a meeting of the county commissioners and county judge H. R. Winston, December 18, $250,000 worth of bonds were sold to R. J. Edwards, Inc., of Dallas and Russ & Company, Inc. of San Antonio, following passage of a bond issue by county voters, approving the addition of a wing to the present courthouse and construction of new jail facilities.

Sale of the bonds must be approved by the Texas Attorney General before bids for the contract can be made, Winston said. It is hoped that construction can begin by February or March, he said.

Architect for the addition is Carl H. Stautz of Austin.

SCHOOLS TO RESUME SCHEDULES TUESDAY

Regular classroom schedules in all local schools will be resumed at 9 a.m. Tuesday, January 2, according to S. P. Cowan, school superintendent.

Students at Brownfield high school will report for classes at the old building Tuesday, Cowan said, and removal to the new building will be made Tuesday afternoon.

BUSINESS AND FINANCIAL OUTLOOK FOR 1951

By ROGER W. BABSON
Special Executive

The United Nations will withdraw from Korea during 1951. The United States in 1951 will have the largest national income of its history.

1. Excluding defense orders, the total business volume in 1951 will be less than that for 1950. However, national income in 1951 will be the highest ever recorded, as war orders take the place of peace production and high prices prevail.
2. The outstanding feature of 1951 will be the ever-increasing interference of the government in the lives of businessmen and consumers.
3. The Administration and its economic advisors are firmly convinced that radical inflation is about to break out next year. But the "brain trusters" are overlooking the fact that the boom is already old and that it is breaking badly when the Korean War broke out. War postponed the downturn which would have taken place much sooner. The date of the slide has only moved ahead.
4. Rushing to catch up on its neglected defense program, the Administration is anxious to shrink business volume to an unnecessary degree. Efforts at first will be along the line of tighter credit curbs, such as restrictions on mortgage and installment loans and increased bank reserve requirements.
5. As 1951 wears in, the effect of credit controls will cause a decline in legitimate business. Civilian production will decline more than armament production will increase. The public may then cry "This is a government-made slump; let's get rid of the controls."
6. If in 1951 it becomes evident that business is declining too fast as a result of government curbs, the planners at Washington may rush their patient into an oxygen tent.
7. Most labor groups will not be successful in getting a sixth round of wage increases in 1951. Although there may be more strikes in the first part of 1951, there will be fewer for the whole year as compared with 1950.
8. Tightness in the labor supply will be continued as the year wears on, particularly of highly skilled workers.

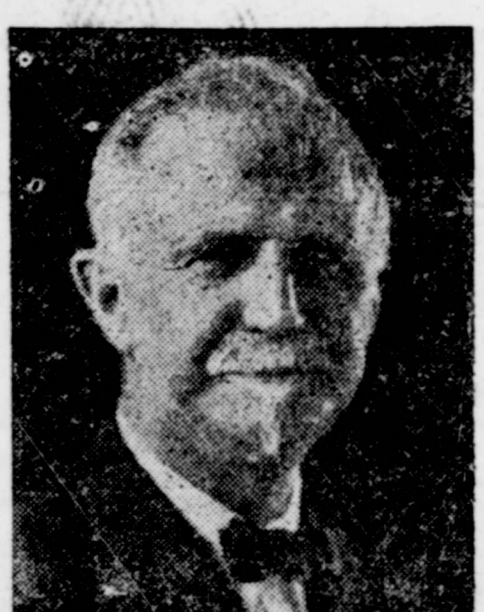

9. The Taft-Hartley Law will not be repealed during 1951 but may be amended. The Administrators of the law will continue to wink at some of its clauses.
10. Wholesale prices of many commodities will be marked by a mild decline in 1951 when compared with the price level for December 31, 1950. In some lines the drop may be quite steep from the high levels of late 1950. Retail prices for 1951, I do not now forecast.
11. The year 1951 should prove an excellent time to keep a tight grip on inventories. Commodity speculation for the risk will not pay in 1951. Furthermore, our expanding stockpiling of strategic materials present a real price threat in the event of a peace scare. Such stockpiles could then act strongly as a depressant on prices.
12. The cost of living will remain high during 1951. This prediction recognizes that living costs next year may be above the lower levels that existed during the first half of the year now closing.

FARM OUTLOOK GOOD

13. Farmers' income for 1951 should average no less than for 1950. Since the trend in the first half of 1950 was down, this forecast is not so optimistic as it might otherwise seem, for there is likely to be a weakening of the farmers' income position during the latter part of 1951.

14. Barring crop failures, the total supply of food available should be larger in 1951 than for

Roger W. Babson

1950, since the government will raise planting quotas as part of its attack on inflation. If the weather is extremely favorable, the government will be blamed for farm price weakness during the latter part of 1951.

15. With prospects good for a rising supply of feed grains, meat should be more plentiful next year than in 1950. Prices for meat, however, will be held up by continued high national income and by military needs.
16. Taxes will be higher.
17. There will be an excess profits tax in 1951. These excess profits taxes will be milder than those in force during World War II; but they will be inflationary and retard efficiency, economy and incentive.
18. There will be heavy pressure for increased federal "sales taxes" to discourage purchasing of luxury and certain nonessential goods. Congress will see the value of some such taxes as an inflation road block.
19. States and municipalities will again be under pressure to find adequate sources of revenue. Further increases in such taxes can be looked for next year with additional cities and/or states adopting sales taxes.

20. Despite renewed efforts to increase the long-term capital gains tax above the present 25 per cent figure, rates will remain unchanged.
21. Credit curbs will cut into the demand for automobiles and household equipment. Completions of fewer dwellings will also act as a damper on furniture sales.
22. Falling demand for hard goods should mean a stabilization of the public's spending for food and lower priced soft goods.
23. The trend forecast in No. 22 will mean a decline in department store volume, but I predict a rise in the sales of variety chains and of drug chains.
24. Barring new war developments, I look for continued shrinkage in our exports during 1951. Imports, however, should rise further. Total foreign trade should not be much changed, but the exporters will be on the short end of this business with the importers gaining.

25. It will become more difficult to convince Congress that additional heavy credits should be granted abroad except for war supplies.
26. As was the case this year, many domestic manufacturers will feel increasing competition from foreign merchandise. The cry for increased tariff protection will be heard again in the land.
27. Business and financial forecasts for next year are NOT based on the thought that World War III will start in 1951. Russia is certainly heading for war, but we do not believe she now wants it in Europe. She will be satisfied to have her satellites continue taking unexpected jobs at us, while the Politburo boys hand out the soothing syrup. But we may see another episode like Korea in 1951.
28. The first half of 1951 may actually see a budget surplus as a result of high national income and increased taxation. Later, if Congress goes along with the Administration's plans for huge rearmament, a federal deficit will arise during the last half of the year.

29. As a result of the preceding prediction, money supplies should not begin to rise until after business has turned down. Increases at such a time are not likely to have much effect on prices.
30. Government bonds will be held tightly between the floor of Federal Reserve support purchases and the ceiling of Federal Reserve anti-inflation sales. Under such conditions, prices changes should be negligible.
31. A great deal will be heard in 1951 about giving the Federal Reserve Board powerful controls over member bank loaning policies. Congress is not likely to pass such controls, however, unless commodity prices go a lot higher or World War III comes.
32. I see nothing now to indicate that we are entering a period of improved international relations. The dancer of war remains. Until it disappears, wise people will move out of large bomb-vulnerable cities and avoid having investments in such areas.

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He

Folks, we hope you had a nice time and enjoyed the Christmas holidays despite this strife torn world. The writer did for a fact. Most of the time we had our immediate families under the parental roof, which was a great pleasure in itself. In addition, the Madam rounded up a right smart bit of eats from some place.

We have a lovely lot of neighbors and friends in town and out on the farms, who generally notice that we are becoming a bit under-nourished, and bring in the stuff. But the biggest left we get out of Christmas is when one or more of the youngsters are viewing their presents for the first time. You talk about eyes sticking out on a stem, and losing their voice, that is when it all happens.

Herman Trigge donned our old red rodeo shirt, a rather comical hat—he needed no pillow to add weight—plus a good long white beard and mustache, and he had Robert and Mary Ann fooled at least. But Robert's greatest attention centered on the train on the track which was skimming around when Master Robert came in. It is not an electric affair—you wind it—and he has kept some one winding it since. His next attraction was his tricycle. Miss Ann liked her doll and buggy, but the train also caught her eyes.

Miss Sarah Beth was too small to notice her stuff, consisting of three tiny dolls in one of our old discarded Prince Albert 'bacca cans. She liked the can best, as it was glowing red. Wonder why people like red so well. Some men like red-headed 'dolls."

Among our Christmas joys was one we like for two reasons. We like pecans, and then these were given us by our long time friend, Mrs. J. L. Randal, and they grew in her backyard right here in town on East Main street. They were nice, papershelled nuts, well filled with meat.

We kinder smiled last week when we read Gee Gee's column on being careful in driving during Christmas, and watch yourself as well as the other driver. Yep, like most people, Gee Gee thought "the other fellow was most always to blame. So had we.

But we saw some statistics gathered by the highway patrol in the Abilene, highway district recently. This report, which is an accurate as one can possibly find, stated that this year better than 60 per cent of the highway fatalities occurred when there was not another car around. Driving too fast, too carelessly or DWI, had accounted for some 62 per cent of the highway deaths in that district consisting of a number of counties. About 38 per cent were killed in collisions with other cars, trucks or trains.

And speaking of traffic deaths on Texas highways, they sure ran high during the three day weekend holiday. There were some 80 violent deaths in Texas during that time, mostly highway accidents, and the last account we had the figures for the nation stood at 515. That was probably more than our losses in Korea for the three days.

Mailed some Christmas cards Tuesday over at the PO for another person. Asked a clerk if it was very unusual to mail them after Christmas. "Heck, no, we are getting plenty of them yet." And, by the way, we got some out of our box a moment later. Better late than never, they say.

Not changing the subject to the everyday pow wowing to a more pestering subject, we note that one former staff member of the State Department says that Hoover's plan will plunge us into World War III. We wonder what he calls what we are already in. Isn't it No. III, or is it about World War No. 2 1/2?

And speaking again of Korea, it is true that some 105,000 brave young soldiers and marines got safely away from Hungnam beach head, but thousands of heroic young men paid with their lives breaking through that horde of Red Chinese and Koreans. Their bodies now lay buried in hurriedly made graves in the frozen hillsides of that Godforsaken country.

At the same time it left many homes in the USA in mourning for a son or young husband and father who will never return, not to mention their close friends and neighbors.

For miles and miles along that route to the beach, hundreds of thousands of dirty Red hordes poured fire from small arms and artillery into the ranks of these boys, who were being shot from both sides of the narrow corridor they cut in the Red ranks to get through. While some 100,000 got through, thousands of others paid the supreme sacrifice in protecting their comrades.

While on this subject, we had a belated Christmas card from our fine old friend, Harve Harris of Bronco, N. M., which we wish to reproduce below verbatim:

"I wish to congratulate you on your writup in your last paper about the mess our government is getting into. You and the Plains editor both hit the nail right on the head. That is the way I have been looking at things all the time, but did not know how to word it like you.

"I keep this clipping in my pocket and show it to my friends. Most of them agree with you. It looks like anyone with good horse sense would see what the government is getting us into.

"I try to read all your writups, but I like this one best." Your old friend, Harve Harris.

Be seeing you next year (1951) we hope.

AID TO YUGOSLAVIA GETS PUBLICITY

Belgrade, Yugoslavia — (AP)—American food relief shipments to hungry Yugoslavia are receiving full publicity in the Communist government's controlled press. In this winter of hardship following the country's worst drought in many years, the man-in-the-street knows from where his help comes.

The first food ship to arrive from the U.S. was greeted at the port of Rijeka (Fiume) by Luba Babic, deputy chairman of the Yugoslav economic council, and U.S. Ambassador George Allen. Speeches of both remarking on America's prompt response to Yugoslavia's pleas for aid were front paged in the Belgrade press.

Folks, I am off on another contest. I will call this one, "Things or people giving me a pain in the neck." As a sample, one big pain is the guy who says it is the lack of education that breeds communism. To me that is hokey. Taint so at all. The longest and biggest sounding words mostly come from our new crop of inexperienced intellectuals who stir up and promote Socialism and

Communism in this land. And another "pain" specimen—it is the amateur legal guys in Govt. swivel chairs who say the private oil business west of the Rockies should be ripped apart. What they really mean, they would like to take over and run it. In England the Govt. is adding steel to its political fuddles. It already runs the coal mines, gas, air lines, most of the trucks, the Bank of England, etc. And without getting away from oil gasoline prices west of the Rockies and throughout the U. S. A. are far below prices in other

Behind The Scenes

BY REYNOLDS KNIGHT

New York, Dec. 11—Recent storms along the eastern seaboard and in parts of the Mid-West provided a full-dress rehearsal for community behavior in times of stress.

One of the first victims of a bombing attack is the public utility system. Coincidentally, when nature kicks up, the utility system is also quick to feel it. In one case disruption of community life is by design, in the other it is accidental.

There have been numerous suggestions that the electric utility services put their overhead wires underground, as the gas services do. However, this is impractical since utility executives say electric bills would have to go up 200 per cent to 400 per cent to cover the cost. In some cases, underground wiring systems have not worked well and maintenance problems have been great.

The Thanksgiving week end storm that disrupted public utility service in many sections of the East and Mid-West proved the value of storm emergency programs for the individual home as well as the community. Householders in hard hit areas discovered that it is important to know where auxiliary equipment is kept when the lights go out and the heat goes off. It is difficult to hunt for candles, flashlights and batteries in the dark. It is also important to know in advance those neighbors who own gas-operated appliances. When power goes off, so do electric refrigerators and ranges. Frozen food spoilage is rapid when the refrigeration system isn't working. Health authorities warn against the danger of poisoning. It may be necessary to store some food in a gas refrigerator if your own refrigerator is out of working order.

Warm clothes, medicinal supplies, a portable radio and the admonition to keep calm, complete the budget of things to do when community life is upset by storms or war.

C. L. LINCOLN Rental Income Defined By VA For WW Widows

Death benefit pensions to widows of eligible veterans of World Wars I and II who died of non-service connected causes, may not be paid to those whose annual income exceeds $1000, or to those who have no children, or to those whose annual income exceeds $2500 if they have a child or children. Rental income to be considered as part of the maximum annual incomes was defined in VA Solicitor's Opinion, dated May 12, 1943. It stated that "the reasonable rental value of property owned and resided in by the veteran's widow should not be considered as annual income." Net income, accruing to a claimant from rent, however, is considered as income by the VA in determining eligibility for pension on VA Form 8-534, item 13, the claimant should indicate net income received from property owned by her as well as from any room or rooms occupied by tenants or boarders attached to the 8-534 should be indicated gross rental income and the expenditures itemized involving the upkeep and maintenance of the property or rooms. The rent she might receive did she not live on the premises owned and occupied by her should not be included. The distinction lies not in the difference between rent and rental value, but in whether or not the property was "resided in by the claimant."

Dividend For Survivors—NSLI

The VA is now in the process of mailing dividend checks to beneficiaries presently receiving payments on policies and to beneficiaries of the policies wherein benefits have been fully paid in lump sum settlements. Except the unusual cases, the VA has assured that early and prompt dividend payment will be made on policies or certificates that were not lapsed at the time of the death of the insured.

Settlement of dividend on lapsed policies is more involved as the dividend will be paid to the person or persons entitled under the laws of descent and distribution of the State in which the deceased veteran was a legal resident. Therefore, the person or persons so determined entitled to dividend payment may not be the person or persons designated as beneficiaries of the insured. For some time the VA has been in the process of reviewing lapsed cases.

Nearly Half of Vets Make No Down Payment

In a recent survey made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics it is shown that nearly 40 per cent of all persons who purchased homes during the last half of 1949, in nine of the nation's large-city areas—paid no money down (Atlanta, Boston, Detroit, Miami, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Seattle and Washington) veterans made up 75 per cent of the purchasers and nearly half of these veterans made no down payment. The survey shows that most of the veterans (7 in 10) made down payments of 5 per cent or less in contrast, most non-veterans (7 in 10) paid 15 per cent down.

FINDS DUTCH INFLUENCE IN AUSTRALIA

Sydney—(P)—Aboriginal paintings in north Australia picture 18th century Dutchmen in the Dutch costumes of that day. The report was made here by G. Donkin, an explorer. He thinks some of the paintings also show the aborigines were influenced by India.

Climatic influences have much to do with the quality of cigars.

Gee Gee's Chit Chat

For two weeks I've had a hard time getting into stores to ask any of the personnel if they had any news, because of the heavy Christmas shopping traffic. Now, this week, it's been almost as bad. The exchangers, you know. Which reminds me that one of my ever-loving's Christmas gifts bore a tag saying, "If these don't fit, you can take 'em back." "These" were a pair of cuff links.

I'm afraid there isn't much doing this week in the old burg. The people in the stores are so tired from the rush of the past few weeks that they don't want to talk about anything. They just want to lean up against a counter and rest for a few minutes before they have to start taking inventory.

On Tuesday in his column in the Avalanche Journal the Plainsman said that he thought there should be a law against editorialists having to say or think anything halfway heavy or intelligent on the day after Christmas, and I think he has something there. Only, in my case, that goes for the week after, too.

Several of the local automobile dealers have recently been having their parking and used car lots "hot topped." The new Mid-Continent Supply Company, as well as Copeland's service station, on the Seagraves highway, have had the same thing done around their premises. Which, in itself, is not much news. What was news to me was the equipment used by the company that did the jobs. Perhaps I'm slightly behind on what's going on, but I had never seen this particular type of gravel spreader in operation before. It is a regular dump-truck with an attachment on the rear end that works on the order of a sifter, and fairly spreads the gravel over the asphalt at a rapid rate of speed. Probably whoever dreamed up this idea had spent many tedious hours tossing shovelfuls of gravel on a topping job.

This time next week it will be 1951 and a new year. Much water has flowed under the bridge in the past year, and we are all a year older. A glance at the old year shows that, in general, although our lives have been changed a great deal in a great many ways, we've had it pretty good. A glance into the new year has an ominous meaning for many of us, with war clouds hanging over the world.

But I, like all the rest of us, know that 1951 can not be wiped off the map. It has to be lived and we must hope for the best, whatever it may be. And I, for one, am happy that I shall live the next year as an American, although it may be lived all over America in army camps for many of us.

Because cowhere else in the world except in America is there so much freedom for the people. Sure, I know that many phases of our lives seem to discredit that statement, but in other countries people get shot for buying a farm and moving out to it to avoid the draft. In other countries, people get shot for profiteering and hoarding and other minor details like that. And in other countries, insignificant little columnists get shot for writing tripe like this. But in America, people are free to get away with things like that, and I intend to stand on my rights as an American citizen as long as my arches hold up. And if you're smart, you will do the same. Life is exactly what you make it.

So with this parting shot, we wind up 1950, May 1951 for each of you be happy and prosperous.

Mrs. Emily Vernon and children, Conrad III and Cathy, returned Tuesday night from an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Verson, Sr., in Longview.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nunn and Gilbert spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mashburn, in Moran. They were accompanied back to Brownfield by their daughter, Mrs. M. F. Shappard, and Mr. Shappard, of Dallas.

C. J. Breaud of New Orleans visited Mr. and Mrs. Sam Privitt Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Blair of Brownfield and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Blair of Brownfield and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Blair of Loop spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Willard Blair and family in Platau.

When the howling politician wants to make a great impression upon "his" public, one of the several well chosen sentences in his race for re-election has some high sounding phrase about the shortcomings of Wall Street. Even the soapbox orator's crowd over behind the iron curtain like to hear American politicians scoring Wall Street. But very little is said about Mr. John Doe, the actual stockholder in America, Incorporated. In a survey made recently by a large pen company of its own stockholders, it was found that 40 per cent of them had incomes of $5,000 or less, and that only 19 per cent had incomes from $5,000 to $7,000. And this survey also showed that the great majority of the stockholders approved of the company's liberal profit sharing plan with its employees. These replies were representative of many callings and professions, such as housewives, professors, janitors, ministers, and on down a long list of activities. But the myth of Wall Street is a handy tool in the hands of the lame politician trying to land an office. Why your next door neighbor may have his funds invested in the very company you have been attacking. He may be a very modest man who tells you little of what he has or his hopes and fears. But he may be putting his savings into something that may sustain himself and his loved ones after he reaches the age that he can no longer work and provide food and raiment for his wife and family. But there are chuckle-headed, braying cusses who have never tried to have anything themselves, and hate those who have, who will cheer such a jack-ass orator to the echo, when Wall Street is mentioned. Wall Street sets the price on nothing. It is the investors or sellers of stocks that control the prices. But the soapbox orator does not know this, and if he does, he wouldn't tell his cheering ignoramus.

Some of the most ardent Raw Deal papers in this section, are beginning to wake up to the destination the American people are being led by the powers that be. Among the last converts is the Anton News, which, believe it or not, agrees with Ex-President Hoover on the idea that we should get out of foreign entanglements, and get our troops home, and prepare to defend our frontiers against Communism. In doing this we should make the Atlantic and Pacific oceans our frontiers. Not Europe, Asia and all the islands of the sea. Western Europe is plenty able to take care of itself if it so wishes, and Asia is way out of our range or business. And quoting Editor Richards again, Europe is perfectly willing to guarantee freedom all over the world, if it takes every American boy to do it. Yes, some will accuse Richards and the writer of being isolationists. But we are no more isolationists than was the Father of our Country, President George Washington, who warned against foreign entangling alliances. We have tried to help out in the affairs of other nations, beginning about 1917. What have we accomplished in that 33 year period? Two world wars with thousands of white crosses over dead American boys all over Europe and on many islands of the Pacific. We believe that one European war was termed the 100 year war, and it was just about of that duration. In traveling in that section, you hardly cover mileage any greater than across some of our smallest states without running into another guard at a frontier, that speaks an altogether different language, and with vastly different ideals. Is there any wonder that these people are forever fighting among themselves? Let's do like Hoover says, make the Atlantic and Pacific our frontiers, and arm to the teeth. We have spent enough money on foreign countries in the past few years to run this nation many years. Do you want to see your children and grandchildren killed off in some foreign country? Do you want to see this happen to your neighbors children and grandchildren? Well then, the best thing to do is to warn our congress that we are getting tired of this gaff of trying to free, feed and arm one-half the world against the other half. Who is furnishing practically all the troops, munitions and money in the conflict in Korea? Not the UN.

There is at least one American industry that stands ready for any eventuality in case of an invasion or attempted invasion by the slimy scum from Stalinland. That is our oil industry. They are ready to deliver more crude and refined products than at any period in our history. The growth of the industry since 1940 has been little short of amazing. At that time it was thought we had about reached the limit of our oil reserves. But they have been upped 33 per cent, while the manufactured product has been increased 44 per cent. Everyone has all the oil and gas they want, and you pay very little more for it than you did ten years ago. And most of this increase has been the result of federal or state taxes. Moreover, the well heeled American oil people have carried the prospecting and exploitation to Canada and the Caribbean area, where virgin oil fields have been found at our front and back doors. In Canada alone, the known reserves have been increased by the astounding figures of 1364 per cent, and the crude production in the same ten years has jumped 462 per cent. With all these findings in the past ten years in our own country and nearby countries, as well as at home, the oil people have laid on the line billions of dollars finding more and more oil. Of course all their tests have not found the black gold; there were many disappointments both by the majors as well as the independent men, who could get together only enough funds perhaps to drill one test. And this is what we like to call free enterprise. Nature, of course, provided the natural resources thousands of feet under the earth, but free men with the will to go ahead, have made the most of them. Let us be thankful in these trying times that we have individuals who could and did act quickly, and not a slow moving government controlled industry, that never moves until caught in a jamb.

In the past decade few things have advanced to the point of electrification of the American farms. And it is believed by the close of the coming year—1951—the large portion of American farm homes will be supplied with electricity, for both lighting and power purposes. Of the whole, investor owned industry has supplied two billion dollars of the amount, which includes the rural lines and the generating units. Not only that, but these companies have sponsored extensive research work in the agricultural and mechanical colleges in the development of power machinery for the farms to be operated by electricity. And while we are on the subject of private ownership vs. government sponsored lines, it is a proven fact that the former is about half the wholesale rate of the latter for rural kilowatt rates, despite the fact that the government owned lines and generating units pay little or no taxes. The utility rate to rural lines was less than one cent per kilowatt hour, while the government rate was 1.57. It has been just about 30 years, since 1920, that REA really got a start toward going places, and today it is believed that 95 per cent or 5,500,000 of the American farms are supplied with electricity. And as in the case of the urban user, there is a fixed low rate, and the service must meet a good standard. This fact proves that there is no necessity to delve into socialism to electrify our farms, or to achieve any other worthwhile purpose. Remember the next time you throw a switch or push a light button, that you are indebted to free enterprise brought about by the investments of many stockholders with little or much spare money, for these conveniences.

within 24 hours after war was declared. What may look a little peculiar and out of line to most people is that the writer of the attack timed its appearance just about the time the government was cracking down on Communists and fellow travelers. Most people are proud that J. Edgar Hoover, and cast doubt upon his shaped and directed the activities of the FBI. "It would be indeed a calamity at this time in our nation's life that the insinuations and distortions of Mr. Lowenthal's book were to undermine the good of the FBI and Mr. Hoover, and cast doubt upon his work," says the New York Herald-Tribune.

33. The Stock Averages may work somewhat higher during the first half of next year, but something during 1951 they will sell lower than current quotations.

34. Stocks now in the best position for 1951 should be those that have not been popular as inflation hedges in the past months. I like good chain store stocks.

35. Investment Trust funds, pension funds, and insurance companies will provide an excellent backlog for sound Income Stocks where good values can be demonstrated.

36. The successful investor next year will be the one who follows a carefully planned investment program. Such a program will emphasize diversification — not only by company and industry, but also by quality. Over-concentration will not pay in 1951.

37. Highest grade taxable corporate bonds should hold in a narrow price range during 1951, but I see no reason for individual investors buying them. For my forecast for long-term government bonds, see No. 39 above. The only corporation bonds which interest me are CONVERTIBLES.

38. With income taxes slated to be increased in 1951, tax exempt bonds should continue in good demand. There has been some speculation in these, however, and any downward change in the tax outlook might cause a sudden turnaround in prices for municipals. Investors should see to it that their bond maturities are carefully diversified, with some part of their bond funds maturing each year.

REAL ESTATE ACTIVITY WILL DECLINE

39. The real estate activity for 1951 will be strongly affected by curbs on mortgage credit. Much of the recent boom was the result of easy credit—almost nothing down and small easy payments for years hence.

40. New home construction will suffer a greater decline than other lines. Nonesentential commercial building will also be hit.

41. The coming decline in new building will throw a wet blanket over speculation in vacant suburban lots.

42. The scare caused by the Korean-China War and fears of an early outbreak in other sections will adversely affect the demand for big city real estate. Lower business volumes and the Draft next year will also curtail such demand.

43. Small sustenance farms should hold up well in price as demand will be spurred by those seeking refuge outside the big cities. Demand for large commercial farms, however, should weaken as the year progresses.

44. The swing back toward rent control will act as a further damper on new building. There is no incentive to build homes for rental income.

45. Tighter credit controls will make it more difficult to purchase older residential properties, and the prices for these should weaken.

46. As building volume slackens in 1951, the quality of available materials and workmanship should improve. This will help those who have saved their money and can pay for at least half the cost of a new home.

DEFENSE ORDERS AND POLITICS WILL INCREASE

47. Those who can do so should attempt to get defense orders as a means of holding up production volumes and reducing overhead. Not too much profit from such war business should be expected, however, as these contracts will be subject to tight-listed renegotiations.

48. The political outlook for 1951 will be completely dominated by jockeying for position in the Presidential race for 1952. Most of Congress' time will be spent on International Problems; but either War or Peace could come early in 1951, which could make many of the above forecasts useless.

49. In Domestic Matters, despite recent election changes in party alignment, Congress will still be dominated by a conservative coalition of Northern Republicans and "unregenerated" southern Democrats. When the heat is on in a tough fight, the North-South coalition will still be able to curb onslaughts by New Dealers.

50. We are gradually headed for a One Party System and finally a Dictatorship. The Republicans will sometimes win with the slogan "HAD ENOUGH?"; but their reign will be short-lived. Too many persons are following the pernicious doctrine of asking for higher wages and shorter hours, speculation in stocks and goods, growing rich on paper, voting Democratic for selfish reasons and letting the country go to the dogs, war or no war!

Another Grand Glorious, Noisy Christmas

In view of the fact that world conditions are what they are, the mature people of the area could not keep their minds on the fact that the day, December 25th, was supposed to celebrate the birth of a babe that was to save the world from sin, born some 1950 years ago. But if the grownups had some sadness and misgivings in their hearts, they tried not to mar the day for the youngsters who were really celebrating.

But if the mature were trying to forget the turmoil and destruction over in Korea, in which a relative or the son of some friend are now engaged in a death struggle, the guy with the fireworks refused to cooperate. Well, perhaps these young fellows will be able to see so much fireworks in the next few years that it will become disgusting, even to them.

Just why anyone would conceive the idea that Christmas was the time to turn themselves loose to raise all manner of hell and highwater, is a mystery. Those who have read the life story of the Lowly Nazarene cannot possibly fit noise, confusion and drunkenness into the picture. They just do not jibe.

In the first place, someone conceived the idea of putting some boys just outside the city limits on the Seagraves highway to sell fireworks—to make money. Some say they were Boy Scouts—we admit we did not make a close investigation. Anyway, fireworks were sold, and doubtless the boys were told not to sell them inside the city limits. That was against the law. In other words, these boys—Scouts or otherwise, were taught the lesson of law evasion.

Preserve The Roads We Have Says Gree

We believe there are some miles of Farm-Market roads to be built in Terry county this year, if manpower and materials do not become too restricted. This includes the cutoff from the Levelland to the Seagraves Highways, running through the west part of the city, to divert a lot of heavy truck and passenger traffic off the main highways and streets in the city.

Then there is a plan to build another F-M road from Union to the Lynn county line this year. Contracts on the above have been let, we understand, but it will be some time before the conditions are such that they can be hot-topped, even if the grades and caliche bases were already down, which they are not at this time. So, if these roads are finished it will be late spring or summer.

We call our fellow Methodists and all others who will to join us in special prayer.

"Let us pray daily for the leaders of our country and of the United Nations that God will give them wisdom and courage to seek and to do His will.

"Let us pray for all who are under the shadow of war; for those who do battle for us—the homeless, the hungry, the children. Let us pray for our enemies that God may lead them in the way of righteousness and peace."

Local Methodists To Join In Peace Plea

Local Methodists will join Sunday, December 31, with the denomination's nearly nine million members in a national mid-century prayer for peace, it was announced today by the Rev. Dallas D. Denison, pastor of the First Methodist church, Brownfield.

He said the call to special prayer was sounded by the Methodist Council of Bishops and the church General Board of Evangelism in view of the "exceptionally grave condition of the world today."

In a letter to pastors of 42,000 Methodist churches, the board urged every congregation to unite in a "chain of prayer on Mid-Century Sunday, beseeching God's guidance in converting a world crisis to a just and lasting peace."

Declaring that "mankind's hope for freedom is in desperate jeopardy," the plea for prayer coincided with a similar request by the president of the new National Council of Churches, Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, of New York. He urged all Protestants to offer prayers on December 31 for "a peace which is the fruit of righteousness."

The letter to pastors, stressing individual and group participation, stemmed from the following call by Methodist bishops: "With a sense of deep urgency
