VOLUME 46

BROWNFIELD, TEXAS, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1951

NUMBER 31

TERRY COUNTY TO BE IN FOUR CO. REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT

The old 119th Representative District isn't what it used to be, not by a jugful, when it contained some 10 or 12 counties. In fact so many of the larger populated counties, have from 2 to 8 representatives, it has cut the number from 121 to 104 districts in the state. Harris will have eight, and Dallas, Tarrant and Bexar counties will have seven places each.

In the windup of the bill as passed Monday, Lubbock county alone got two places, No. 96. Our district, No. 97, is composed of Cochran, Hockley, Terry and Yoquim. Another district carved out of the old 119th is No. 98, composed of Andrews, Dawson Gaines and Lynn Counties, a rather funny shaped affair, but general conditions similar, farming, ranching and oil.

One of the old 119th counties, Crosby, joins Garza, Borden, Kent and Scurry in the 89th district. A lot of the central and east Texas counties that have been enjoying a representative to themselves, have had to take on from one to three other counties. Yeah, they howled to high heaven. Maybe some of them can now see why south and west Texas has been howling.

Rep. Redistricting Goes Over Big

Had a wire from Representative Waggoner Carr Monday to the effect that the House redistricting bill went over by the huge majority of 119 to 23. Let's follow, he said, but it had not come in Tuesday. However we got most of it in dailies.

Of course there were a lot of flimsy objections, particularly in east and southeast Texas, and one even from El Paso. The latter objected to Texasarkana, 61,000, getting two representatives and El Paso county only four, with 200,000 population.

But boy, won't west Texas shine at the next session, after playing Orphan Annie for 30 years? For instance, our district here will have four, two assigned to Lubbock county, with two other districts here on the south Plains, with a few of the outlying counties to the east and north going into other districts.

One of the great things the House refused to dabble with, and that was to try to change the Senate redistricting bill that came to them. That, some of them stated, would give the Senate an opener to change the House redistricting bill, causing delay and confusion.

Our new Senatorial district will be as small in area as our Representative district was before redistricting. East Texas has been stalling on this duty for 30 years, but they knew that the new constitutional committee would redistrict if they didn't, and they could like it or lump it.

We must hand one to Rep. Harley Sadler of Abilene. His home county, Taylor, was really entitled to one and a floral representative. But he, being one of the main leaders in redistricting, did not hold out for the floralist.

THAD RISINGER TO HEAD FUND DRIVE

Thad Risinger has been named to head the fund campaign for the Terry County Chapter, American Red Cross, for 1951, according to Mrs. Sam Privitt, chapter chairman.

Quota for the 1951 drive, which begins March 1, is $2,448.00. Although this figure is not as high as last year's quota for the county, several more millions of dollars are added to this year's national quota.

Plans are incomplete for the kick-off breakfast, preceding the drive, but it will probably be held some time next week, Risinger said.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Sinclair of Detroit, Mich., arrived Thursday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Walker and family.

Fishing for two weeks at Guaymas, Old Mexico, are Homer Winston, C. E. (Bill) Williams, Murphy May, and Dr. E. C. Davis.

FATHER OF LOCAL MAN IS CLAIMED

Funeral services were held this week in Aspermont for "Bud" Norris, father of D. O. Norris of Brownfield. The elder Norris died Monday in Aspermont.

D. O. Norris recently moved here from Colorado and operates the Norris Cleaners.

Texas House Passes Two Term Bill

The more we hear of the present Texas legislature, the better we like it. It is such a vast improvement over its predecessors for the past decade or so. They did not stall around a month before they got to work. They got to work, and we have a redistricting law after 30 years of waiting.

And many believed that nothing would ever be done by Texas legislature on that two term for the president of the USA, which 36 states must ratify before it becomes a law. It excludes HST, but if 36 states ratify, it is believed the president will hesitate to seek renomination.

By the way, the vote on this presidential tenure amendment was almost the same as the vote on redistricting. The Dallas News said 120 to 23. The Lubbock Avalanche said 119 to 23, which was exactly the same. Leads one to maybe think those east Texas birds might believe that a life tenure in the White House might help them to hold their old districts as is—or was.

But it was the same old new deal crowd, including at least one west Texan, Chambers of Brown county. Argument the same. Those for the amendment cited the fact that too long in office lead to dictatorship, and one legislator said Texas lost its tideland by keeping two men in office too long.

We are truly glad that the people all over the nation are waking up to the senile condition of keeping the same men in the presidency too long. Up to Roosevelt, all from Washington to FDR followed tradition and stepped down after two terms.

Tennessee became the 31st state to ratify, and we hope Texas is the 32nd. The amendment is in process of passage in South Carolina and Minnesota, as 33 and 34. It takes 36 to become a law.

Glass & Mirror Co. Open For Business

The Brownfield Glass & Mirror company, located at 311 Lubbock Road, is now open for business, according to Johnny Raybon, owner. The business was formerly located at 316 W. Main.

Although store front and automobile glass installations are the main business of the firm, a full line of Pittsburgh and Kamoc paints and painting supplies will be carried, Raybon said. The Brownfield Glass and Mirror Company is the only firm in Brownfield handling the Kamoc paints, with which more than 1300 shades of colors can be made.

In an advertisement in this issue of the Herald, Raybon cordially invites the public to visit his store, or call 809-W for service.

Raybon has been in the glass and mirror business in Brownfield for the past 15 years.

SAWYERS SAY VALLEY IS REALLY PITIFUL

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sawyer have returned from a visit at Corpus Christi and the Lower Valley of Texas. They report that the citrus area of the valley is in a really pitiful condition, and hardly believable unless one sees it.

They report that tens of thousands of citrus trees are being uprooted by bulldozers. They were killed during their worst freeze in history during January. Thousands of people who usually have work at this time of year are being fed by charity.

Mrs. Tom May is visiting her sister, Mrs. Raymond Barrier, in Dallas.

COUNTY HEART DRIVE LAGGING

Dr. W. A. Roberson, commander of the American Legion post here, said Thursday that the heart fund campaign in Terry county is "lagging badly". The American Legion post is sponsoring the drive in the county.

Persons are asked to drop their contributions in any of the red heart-shaped containers posted in businesses in Brownfield, or mail their contributions to him. The address is Dr. W. A. Roberson, 601 W. Tate, Brownfield. Checks should be made payable to the Heart Fund.

Club Observing FFA Week Here

February 18 through February 24 has been declared National FFA Week by the national organization.

In observance of this week the Brownfield chapter of Future Farmers of America is releasing some of the history of their chapter. The chapter was organized in 1939 by Thomas Neely, who along with S. P. Cowan and C. E. Ross have been honorary members of the chapter.

The Brownfield chapter has been one of the leading chapters in the state for several years, and now has 70 members. They have produced 46 state farmers, which is third in the state of Texas.

The members plan to have seven State Farmers this year. They are Chester Albert, John Burris, Glenn Paßen, Edwin Garnett, Charles Bartley, Bobby Carter, Bryce Waggoner, and Jerrel Rowden.

It is a tradition of the chapter each year to sponsor a FFA Sweetheart contest and a Parent and Son banquet. The 1951 FFA sweetheart chosen was Miss D'Aun Harrel. The banquet is set for April 16 this year.

The members have been having several cooperative projects in the shop. Some of them are making work tables, cabinets, and tool racks for the new shop. They also laid the tile in the vocational agriculture class rooms.

At the regular chapter meeting held February 12, members planned to clean up the grounds around their shop. The city of Brownfield has offered the use of a truck to carry away the debris. The members will also supervise grading of the school grounds and a general clean up of the campus.

The FFA motto is Learning to Do, Learning to Live, Doing to Learn, Living to Serve.

The FFA creed is to develop competent, aggressive, rural, and agriculture leadership; to create and nurture a love of country life; to strengthen the confidence of farm boys and young men in themselves and their work; to create more interest in the intelligent choice of farming occupations; to encourage members in the development of individual farming programs and establishment in farming; to encourage members to improve the farm home and its surroundings; to participate in worthy undertakings for the improvement of agriculture; to develop character, train for useful citizenship, and foster patriotism; to participate in cooperative effort; to encourage and practice thrift; to encourage improvement in scholarship; and to provide and encourage the development of organized rural recreational activities.

Mrs. Charles Beaver brought in the little month old daughter, Shirley, for us to see this week. A fine, bouncing daughter, except instead of bouncing, she was sound asleep while in the Herald office. She now weighs over 9 pounds.

JAYCEES NAME JUDGE, AUCTIONEER FOR ANNUAL STOCK SHOW APRIL 21

Lee H. McLeroy of Seminole, Gaine county agricultural agent, was named judge for the annual Terry County Club Boys Stock Show, sponsored by the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce, to be held here April 21.

Kenneth Bozeman of Lubbock will be auctioneer for the show. At a regular meeting of the Jaycees held Monday at the Esquire Restaurant, members discussed the prizes to be presented at the show. Prizes in the calf show will be in three divisions, with $5.00 going for the choice calf, $3.00 for the good calf, and $2.00 for the medium calf. Ribbons will also be presented to the top winners.

Cash prizes and ribbons will be awarded the first through tenth top swine in the show, with the swine falling into two divisions, heavy and light barrows.

R. N. McClain, general superintendent of the show, said that a first place calf will be chosen from among the choice group of calves. These calves that are sifted at the beginning of the show will not be eligible to receive prizes or ribbons.

Cash prizes given by the Jaycees for the stock will be matched by R. J. Purcell and Ross Black, owners of the Plains Liquefied Gas Company here.

Additional prizes of $5.00 and $3.00 will be given for the best showmanship in the calf and swine divisions, McClain said.

Also discussed at Monday's meeting was the purchase or renting of scales to be used for the show at the show barn. Here-fore, weighing of the stock has been at some local business where scales were obtainable. Johnny Kendrick is head of the committee for procuring the scales.

Approximately 75 calves and 50 hogs will be shown by Terry county 4-H and FFA club boys, McClain said. He stressed that each boy will be allowed to show and sell a maximum of two calves. Hogs in the show will not be classed or shown according to breeds.

McClain said that a date will be announced for weighing in of the stock. The calves will be weighed and then tied in the show barn for the sifting committee to observe. After the calves are sifted, they will be taken to the rodeo pens, where the placing committee will put the calves in groups for sale.

The sifting committee for the show is made up of L. C. Sprawls of Plains, Yoakum county agent, and Wallace Randolph of Plains, Vocational Agriculture teacher in the Plains schools. They will observe the calves at the weighing in, loading and unloading, and while the calves are tied in the show barn and as they are walked around by their owners.

McClain said that calves showing that they will be too wild to lead or are not halter broken and calves lacking in finish, making it impossible to place them in the choice, good, or medium classes, will be sifted.

Weldon Mason of Meadow, Texas Future Farmers of America president, is assistant superintendent of the show.

Fatally Injured In Crash Friday

Newsom T. Shows, Jr., 36, of Odessa, was fatally injured early Saturday morning when a panel truck he was driving collided with an oil transport truck in Plains. Shows died enroute to a Brownfield hospital, where he was being taken by a Brownfield Funeral Home ambulance at about 1 p. m.

Injured in the accident was Lewis B. Parker of Plains, driver of the oil transport. He is being treated in a Denver City hospital for minor injuries.

Investigating officers said that Shows was headed north toward Morton and apparently failed to see the oil truck approaching from the west. Highway patrolmen said the two vehicles collided almost in the center of the intersection and skidded about 30 feet before coming to a stop.

Shows had been living in Odessa for about a year. He was employed by the Bethlehem Supply company there. Survivors include his wife and two children, Newsom T. III, and Beverly Jeannette, all of Odessa; his parents Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Shows, Sr., of Melville, La.; and two brothers and five sisters.

Show's body was shipped overland Saturday night by Brownfield Funeral Home to Opelousas, La., for services and burial.

FIVE NEW RECRUITS IN GUARD UNIT HERE

Five new recruits have enlisted in the Assault Gun Company, Texas National Guard, according to Capt. Sam Privitt, company commander.

The five men are Jimmy Gray Fickett, Bill Tankersley, Wendell Acker, Sammy Wallace, and Weldon Hargrove of Seagraves. The five recruits bring the company strength to 51 men now, including four officers.

Enlistments in the unit are open. Capt. Privitt said, and any man over 17 years of age who is interested in enlisting may contact Sgts. Deryl Walker or Virgil Short or Capt. Privitt at the armory.

NEW BARGAIN CENTER HOME A BEAUTY

The new home of the Brownfield Bargain Center, Broadway at Sixth, is nearing a complete overhauling that transformed it from a grocery to a modern dry goods and department store.

A large amount of money has been spent in transforming this building, including a complete new front and many, many feet of front and side show windows. Announcement of removal date will be made soon.

Few dry goods stores even in the larger cities will be more convenient or beautiful. The Kirschners are to be congratulated.

Housing Addition Holds Open House

Formal open house will be held Sunday, February 26, from 1 p. m. until 6 p. m. at the Oak Grove addition, located just east of the Lubbock highway and south of Magnolia camp. The announcement was made by McKinney's Insurance Agency, agents.

A door prize of a $50.00 savings bond will be given during the open house, according to W.

(Bill) McKinney. The homes to be shown Sunday are in the Webb addition of the Oak Grove development. Two of the homes are completed, with several other houses in varying stages of construction, McKinney said.

The project was begun in November by McKinney, C. L. Cunningham and the Brownfield State

SNYDER YOUTH HELD UNDER $2,000 BOND

A 22 year old Snyder youth is being held in the county jail under $2,000 bond on forgery charges, awaiting action of the grand jury.

Charged with forging several hundred dollars worth of checks here on a non-existent drilling company is Cecil W. (Chick) Green of Snyder.

Sheriff Ocie Murry said that Snyder authorities turned the youth over to him early this week.

Store Burglarized Here Early Monday

Local authorities are continuing investigation of the burglary of Kyle's Grocery here late Sunday night or early Monday morning.

Sheriff Ocie Murry said that at least two, and probably three, persons were responsible for the burglary. Kyle Graves, owner of the store, discovered the burglary early Monday morning when he opened for business. Entry had been gained through the air conditioning vent on top of the building, Murry said, but the burglars left through the back door.

Approximately $400 was taken after the store safe was blown open with a charge of explosives, probably nitroglycerin, Murry said. No fingerprints were found, but tire tracks and footprints were obtained outside the store.

Murry and Deputy sheriff Cliff Jones expressed the theory that the burglary was the work of professional "safecrackers". They said that they believed that two of the persons worked inside the building while the third person waited outside in the car. A tear gas bomb on the safe had been released, and the authorities said that the burglars evidently wore gas masks while rifling the safe.

Possibly connected with the burglary here is the cracking of a safe in the Co-Op. gin in Meadow sometime last Friday night, Murry said. About $300 was taken from the safe after the burglars knocked the knob from the safe door and opened it.

Investigations of both cases are being continued.

Councilmen To Be Elected April 3rd

Three councilmen for the city of Brownfield will be elected on the first Tuesday in April, which is April 3, according to information received from J. H. (Bill) Aschenbeck, city secretary.

Outgoing councilmen are Herman Chessier, J. B. Knight, and L. M. Lang. The councilmen to be elected will serve two year terms.

March 2 is the deadline for filing application for candidacy for the election, Aschenbeck said. Names should be filed with Aschenbeck at the city hall.

Presiding judge at the election will be H. M. Bell, Jr., and clerks will be John J. Kendrick and Alva (Jake) Geron. Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 6 p. m. April 3.

Officials Discuss Plans For Rural Telephones

At a meeting held in Tahoka February, members of the Poka-Lambro Rural Telephone cooperative met with representatives of the Southwestern Associated Telephone company to discuss plans for setting up a rural telephone system in Terry, Lynn, Dawson, and Garza counties and surrounding areas.

The cooperative was organized on February 17, 1950, at Tahoka by some 300 interested rural people from the counties. A membership fee of $50 was set, and the membership entitles the member to a telephone installed in his home. He does not have to build any line, buy a telephone set, or maintain any line after the phone is installed. Monthly rate will be $4.25.

Sam Allen of Lamesa, coordinator for Poka-Lambro, said that approximately 97 percent of subscribers in the cooperative can be served with the telephone service.

A loan to the cooperative was approved by the federal government on October 26, 1950, in the amount of $1,837,000 to provide rural telephone service to 5200 rural subscribers, through 21 automatic dial exchanges requiring approximately 2900 miles of service lines. Allen estimates that the cooperative's exchange rates, plus their portion of long distance toll charges will completely retire the loan in a period not to exceed 35 years.

At Saturday's meeting, Bill Thompson of Dallas, spokesman for Southwestern, said that his company proposes to offer service with no line charges in the areas in which as many as two subscribers to the mile sign up. A farmer living off the county road on which the lines are strung will pay $13.50 for all over one pole which it would take to string the line to his house. Four hundred feet would be the maximum distance between poles.

Allen said that the Co-op. is obliged to offer service to any farmer in the district who pays his membership fee, with no added line charges, and that no distinction would be made between the farmer living on the main roads, and the ones living on a side road.

Thompson also said that a farmer living a distance from the main lines would have to pay approximately $382.00 per mile, to get lines strung to his house, while the farmer living on the main line where a pole already existed, would pay approximately $127.24 per mile for wire only.

When asked why Southwestern had not offered rural service before this time, the spokesman said that the company had to take their exchanges through Texas according to a pre-arranged plan.

Also present at Saturday's meeting was G. D. Shelly, district manager of Southwestern at Lubbock and Mills Roberts of Hobbs, N. M., district manager there.

Services Held For W. A. Johnson, 69

Funeral services were held at 2:30 P. M., Monday in the Plains Baptist Church for W. A. Johnson, 69, a resident of Plains for 17 years. Rev. Ted Brian, minister of the church, officiated. Burial was in the Plains cemetery, under the direction of the Brownfield Funeral Home.

Johnson, a retired farmer, died in a Denver City hospital at 4:10 a. m. Sunday. He was a native of Arkansas, but moved to Plains from Wellington in 1934.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. James B. Beach of Plains, and a brother, Claude E. Johnson of Gainesville.

COTTON YIELD CONTEST FOR CLUB MEMBERS

A cotton yield per acre program for all 4-H and FFA club members in Terry county is being held here according to information received from Jim Foy, county agent, and Lester Buford, Brownfield high school Vocational Agriculture instructor.

Sponsors of the program are Herman's Gin, Travis Gin, Needmore Gin and Foster Gin. Purpose of the program is to promote a greater yield per acre of lint cotton on farms of Terry county by improving the fertility and texture of soil and by better cultural practices.

Prizes of $125.00, first place, $75.00, second place, and $50.00, third place will be awarded for 1.) Irrigated lands highest yield per acre, and 2.) Dryland highest yield per acre.

This contest is open to any regularly enrolled 4-H club member or Future Farmer of America club member between the ages of 9 and 21 years of age on July 1st, 1951. Crop record books must be kept complete and turned in either to Foy or the club teacher by January 15, 1952, to qualify for the contest. The county agent and Vocational Agriculture teachers will then submit the highest yield in each section to the sponsors by January 20 to qualify for yield contest.

Five acres of cotton are to be entered in the contest, and must be staked off plainly and designated to the county agent or judging committee not later than July 1st by the member entering the contest. The crop must be the entry's bonafide crop, and he must own at least half share of the crop to be eligible.

Dryland in this contest is that land which was not irrigated during the previous year and will not be irrigated during the current crop year. A member may enter only irrigated or dryland contest, but not both. Last summer fallowed land will not be eligible this year. Any and all varieties of cotton grades and staples qualify and are acceptable. Material to be submitted by members will be regular 4-H or

FFA crop record book, gin tickets from contest acres, and certification from three disinterested and unrelated adults showing acreage, total yield, and that the yield was from the acreage designated.

Winners will be selected on the basis of the acreage yields per acre on five acres of cotton. Winners of the county contest will be entered in the district contest.

Our first state college—Texas A. and M. is now in its seventy-fifth year

DAVID F. HOUSTON

The man who first saw the true mission of the A. and M. College of Texas as a major technological institution and raised the scholarship level of the faculty and entrance requirements for students to real college level was Dr. David Franklin Houston, president of the college from 1902 until 1905. In his short time as president, Dr. Houston changed the entire course of the college's history. In 1905 he left Texas A. and M. to become the president of the University of Texas, and later became president of the University of Maryland. During the administration of Woodrow Wilson he served with distinction first as Secretary of Agriculture and later as Secretary of the Treasury.

thing and the good hearted Canadians donate print paper.

We talk a lot of the little red school house of 50 and 75 years ago. It is true they were great in their day, and most of us that are past that age like to refer to them. However, not all of them were painted red, or any other color, and some of them were log affairs no more than 75 years ago. The writer doesn't mind telling you that we once went to a log school, unpainted, and with just ordinary old hard benches, sans desks. But they were the forerunners of our present great school system. Yes, they cost money, the modern school facilities, we mean, but they are worth it, and between us friends, none of us are going to be able to take much of this old world's goods along when we shuffle off this present world. But in memory of the little red school house as the present great strides Texas is making in the idea of an education for all who wish, Gov. Allan Shivers has issued a proclamation that on Texas' 104th birthday, March 4 to March 10, be designated "Public School Week," here in Texas. Aside from the official memorandum by Gov. Shivers, a joint session of the Senate and House of Representatives, have concurred, and the resolutions officially signed by Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey, and Speaker of the House Ruben E. Senterfett. So, Public School Week will officially begin next Sunday and last for one week. We hope all the schools of this area plan appropriate programs for the week.

We note that some of the draft boards have complaints in some of the newspapers about their thankless jobs. And they are justified. It would be almost an impossibility to please all. The Herald believes, however, that the best plan for the draft boards to follow is to hew to the line. Let Banker Bilgilt's boy go right along with Farmer Cornstassel's boy. Both are just human cannon fodder when they get in the front line. And, there was considerable complaint during the last fracas about the large number of 4-F's. One fellow here designated them as "fake farmers." And some of them are still mad because they were so designated. However, you can't blame those who with just as much excuse to stay home, went on and took the rap. The Herald hopes that when universal military training is the law of the land, and it is sure to come, that it will be operated by men who see no dollar or any votes just ahead. Of course we would be the last person on earth to want to see the physically deficient either in mind or physically, sent off to training camps after they reach their eighteenth birthday. But we do want to see everyone's boy take the rap alike. Of course the male youths are not responsible for the blundering up at Washington that keeps us constantly on the verge of war. If Roosevelt and his hired men, as well as Harry and his hirelings had been tough with Russia back in 1946, when we could have been tough and backed it up, Russia and Red China would have been as docile as purring kittens today.

We may be a bit old fashioned, but we wish here and now to register our protest against the admission of 5 year old children into the public schools of Texas. A news release from WTCC says that it would admit 37,000 additional students into the public schools of Texas, and cost an estimated additional sum of five million dollars. It has not been too long when 7 years of age was entrance, and no one said much when it was lowered to six, as most people who can afford to do so, and are conveniently near, send them to kindergarten. But let's forget the monetary cost, and think in terms of the child. Most children at five are just big babies, and they should be with their mother another year at least. And if she is the right kind of mother, they will be far better off than if they were among strangers, both children and teachers. Perhaps it is somewhat the idea of a lot of parents who wish to be rid of their "brats" in daytime to leave the mother foot loose to roam around. But such parents have no business with children in the first place.

Had a personal communication from Senator Kilmer B. Corbin of Lubbock and Lamesa this week. And that reminds us that we wish he and Congressman George Mahon would make up their minds where they live. George always says he's from Colorado City and Lubbock. But Senator Corbin sent us some matter other than the fact that he wanted to read the Herald down there at Austin regularly. And we are going to pass it on to our readers. Some Senator by the name of Graham, doesn't state his home burg, has introduced a bill, which is labeled by its backers as an "aid to rural roads." But we agree with Senator Corbin that the bill has a catch, and to quote the Senator: "Actually it is nothing but a buck-passing bill to make the counties increase property taxes, so that the state can avoid passing a natural resource tax bill which would be paid largely by non-Texans." Corbin goes on to show that it would cost the taxpayers in his present 24 county district $549,992 from the surplus available of the state gasoline tax in the road bond assumption fund. If the law passes, he says, this money will have to be dug up somewhere, and that means that it must be passed on to the county taxpayers by the Commissioners Courts. This district would not get $600,000 of the 8 million for all Texas next year. Have an idea that Senator Graham has a close berth with the big gas pipeline boys. The bill would cost the taxpayers of Terry county $27,570, and Yoakum county $13,466, to mention the just two counties. We hope the Graham bill will die aborning.

THAT'S MINE?—Pop Penguin bent over for a closer look at his new-born son at the London Zoo, but wasn't convinced that it was his offspring. As the little fellow took his first steps, his Daddy couldn't help but wonder how any self-respecting Penguin could permit himself to be seen in a scraggly dark suit instead of a tuxedo.

Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd (seated, left) takes from Dr. W. M. Gambrell of Austin, president of the State Medical Association of Texas, the application for extension of a 50 year charter which founded organized medicine in Texas in 1901. The Medical Association seeks to extend its charter a second half-century. Standing (left to right) are trustees of the Association... which numbers more than 6,000 physicians and surgeons... Drs. F. J. Blasingame, Wharton; T. C. Terrell, Fort Worth, chairman of the board; Merton M. Minter, San Antonio, vice-chairman; and G. V. Brindley, Temple; and Tod Bates, Austin, executive secretary. Missing from the picture is Dr. E. A. Rowley of Amarillo, secretary of the board. Original incorporators of the Medical Association in 1901, all now deceased, were Drs. B. E. Hadra, Dallas; Taylor Hudson, Belton; R. F. Miller, Sherman; H. P. Cooke, Galveston; and H. A. West, Galveston. Approximately 100,000 charters have been issued by the Secretary of State between the first medical charter and its first half-century extension, Shepperd said.

Gas men, who are familiar with the handling of this very fine and convenient fuel, tell us that gas in its natural form is odorless. For that reason, companies retailing this fuel in Texas, at least, are required by law to include a scent or malodorant in the gas you use, so that any escaping gas that becomes dangerous to life, might be detected. Too many people when the weather gets real cold, bitten down the hatches, and if there happens to be a slight broken place in a window pane, it is stuffed with rags. The doors are closed and the key hung high. The folks within then prepare to hibernate. Those in the know tell us that such folks not only subject themselves to risk of death while they sleep, but otherwise they feel low in body metabolism, a bothersome headache, a run-down feeling, all of which are prime indications of having breathed too much gas. There should always, hot or cold weather, be some openings in the home for fresh air. If you have a closed window on the "out" side or another room for fresh air to come through first, medical men tell us that the cold air has some chance to warm up a bit before getting to your bedroom. Don't take a chance with this fine, clean fuel. Handle with care, and you are in no danger. Other than taking your life by taking up the oxygen, gas can accumulate in a room and become a bad, death dealing explosive.

In a recent release by the State Medical Association, we were given some figures that should be studied and heeded by those who may be inclined to go along with the new ideal idea of socialized medicine. This statement was made by Dr. W. H. Gambrell of Austin, president of the association and in anticipation of the fiftieth anniversary of the association in Texas. The doctor points with pride to the great advancement of medical science in the past years. This record was something that has not been achieved by any other nation that has ever existed in history, or for the same period of time. In that time, says President Gambrell, the life span of the human has been lengthened 19 years. It has seen typhoid and diphtheria almost wiped out as killers, and the great death dealing diseases of children, diphtheria, whooping cough and scarlet fever practically eliminated. With the discovery of some modern drugs, such as sulfa, antibiotics and penicillin, aureomycin and others, they have aided the free medical profession to explore their uses in many death dealing diseases. Let's examine some of the things that have happened with our present free medicine and uncontrolled physicians and chemists. The average life span of the average human has been upped from 49 years to 68 years. If the present trend holds good, one year of life expectancy will be added every 20 months, and 24 years from now the average life span should reach 90 years. As for childhood, the infant born today has three times the chance of surviving that it had in 1915. Then 100 out of every 1000 babies died the first year of their life. Now the rate is 30 in every 1000. So, why should we tamper with some foreign idea when free medicine is making the present rapid strides?

Our pet peeve this week is the request by some people and organizations for the publication of long-winded articles. We get several each week that could be boiled down in a fourth of the space and make just as good sense, and a lot more people would read them. Some of them are really good, and the general public should be made aware of the information contained therein. But some propagandists especially those with a stenographer paid for by old John Q. Public, will string things out to the breaking point. Some folks even go into so many details telling a "funny" yarn that they're not really humorous. Usually when we open a third class letter, with subject matter covering some three or four pages, with "MORE" at the bottom of three of them, we do not read them, but dash them into the waste basket. How is it the old saying went? "Brevity is the soul of wit?" Seriously, it seems that a lot of people have an idea that a linotype machine and an operator costs the publisher no-

Small Town Papers Must Stop Waste

At a meeting recently of the Newspaper Publishers Association, speakers who had delved deep into their subjects, spoke on the many angles of newspapering. While we did not attend, the subjects were read with interest by the Herald publishers. The gist of the addresses were that waste and unnecessary expenses must stop or else.

Due to the fast climb of materials such as the newspaper uses, along with a heavy overhead of trained personnel, one speaker stressed the fact that weekly as well as daily papers must set a higher subscription rate and get it. A lot dailies in the larger cities are having to combine. It is not even good business to send a paper to people who did not order it or want it.

Another speaker stated that the waste in using large pictures, sometimes almost full page affairs were a needless waste of space and money. A lot of times these pictures concern only one family or one firm, and are of no particular interest to the general reader. If the picture illustrates a tragedy in the community, then it becomes a community wide interest.

Another stated that papers should get rid of large ads that take a low rates that hardly pay expense of producing them, and in many instances were run for the "prestige". Sometimes these ads were taken on contract when materials and wages were comparatively low.

All the speakers emphasized the fact that if the small town newspaper stayed in business, it would have to practice economy and approved business methods.

Jake Comes In To See The Old Republican

Our old friend, Jacob Sandage, that unbranded maverick from Heber Springs, Arkansas, came ambling in to see us last week. Just wanted to see how a Republican looked, he said. He then added: "I always heard that Republicans were all rich, and knowing you as I do, Jack, I know confounded well you're not rich. And transplanted Tennesseans to Texas, are not Republicans, unless they get rich."

Carrying the conversation further, this very brilliant minded farmer, 'lowed as how, he too, was getting fed up on the tripe handed out at Washington and branded "Democracy". The stuff has too much of a Pendergrass odor to suit Jacob. He reads and thinks, and there is little that gets by him with an off color or odor. At this point we wish to second the motion of a very able editorial we read recently in the Lubbock Avalanche. That paper doubts very much that HST will try for another term. He has called about everyone that had the temerity to disagree with him ward heeler names, such to mention a few Pearson, the Marines, the Railroad Switchmen Brotherhood, and Senator Fullbright of Arkansas.

As the Avalanche writer states, some of these persons and/or organizations, have been known as some of Harry's best friends and supporters. But, the editorial continues, "you can't catch flies with vinegar—you use molasses."

RETURNED FROM FISHING TRIP

Mrs. E. D. Yeatts and son, C. E. Yeatts, his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Timmons of Lakeview community, returned Thursday from a fishing trip on the coast. They visited Mrs. Yeatts' daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Abel H. Pierce of Palacios, Texas.

Mrs. Yeatts says the cold spell froze fish in the Tres Palacios Bay by the thousands — people filled their lockers with the fish. They had to go in boats in deep water to catch any fish. She brought back some flounders and here children here, Mrs. Lois Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Geogre Wade enjoyed a fish dinner with her Friday.

MOVING DAY FOR THE BYNUM PRINTERY

Ralph Bynum, proprietor of the Brownfield Printing Co., was engaged early this week in moving. This is a real job when you go to moving heavy presses and other printing machinery.

Rex Headstream recently added some 30 feet to the rear of his building on the east side of the square, and Ralph got the new part, which is much better arranged for a printing office.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne (Red) Smith and children spent the week end in Rotan with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bridges. Mrs. Bridges had been visiting with her daughter and family here last week and returned to Rotan with the Smiths.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER HONORED RECENT BRIDE ON FEBRUARY 16

Mrs. Charles Wood, the former Shirley Jean Miller, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower given in the home of Mrs. T. A. Wartes from 5 p. m. until 7 p. m., Friday, February 16.

Hostesses were Mesdames T. G. Sexton, Dennis Lilly, D. L. Patton, Juanita Rogers, Terrell Miller, Marvin McNutt, A. T. Stafford, R. A. Brown, and Jerry Dumas.

Colors of yellow and pale green were carried out in decorations throughout the home.

Mrs. Miller greeted the guests and presented them to the honoree and her mother, Mrs. A. C. Miller. Miss Nelda Miller, sister of the honoree, registered guests in a white taffeta and lace covered-bride's book, made by Mrs. Sexton.

The refreshment table was covered with a yellow net cloth over yellow satin. Five pale green tapers in crystal holders flanked the centerpiece of yellow jonquils. Misses Barbara Miller, Mary Chisholm, Ann Lilly, and Barbara Harrel assisted in serving spiced tea, and green and white ribbon sandwiches. Crystal and silver appointments and pale green napkins were used on the table.

About 30 guests called during the afternoon.

Baritone Presents Concert Saturday

"Distinguished" is the word that seems to occur most often to the critics in their appraisals of Norþian Farrow, the young Canadian baritone who will be heard here in concert on Saturday night. A Washington paper called him "A distinguished looking Canadian with an equally distinguished baritone voice. The Buffalo Evening News reported that "He made an immediate and distinguished impression." That the word fits the tall, athletically built baritone will hardly be disputed but it scarcely indicates the variety and charm of his concert programs, ranging as they do from masterpieces of the classic and operatic repertory through the modern art songs to folk songs, spirituals and musical comedy. "That's the most wonderful thing about concert work," Farrow declares. "In opera you're the same character throughout the performance; in concert work you can be a dozen characters in one evening!"

The concert will be presented at 8 p. m., Saturday night in the new high school auditorium. This is the third of four concerts slated for this season for the Brownfield-Concert Association.

Peggy Lobbin

Fascinating Fashions By Judy Seaton

The colorful resort clothes displayed these days are heavenly enough to make you want to hop on the first plane, train or boat in search of sunshine. But, you don't have to be planning a cruise to rush in and buy them because these dreamy models are really your preview of the coming fashions for spring and summer. And it's a smart gal who buys cottons and vacation clothes now . . . when stocks in the stores are complete . . . rather than waiting 'til warm weather and finding all the best styles gone.

Radio actress Peggy Lobbin, heard on the serial drama "Rosemary" remarked, "I always begin buying my summer wardrobe during the first snow or cold wave in January. It not only helps me forget that I'm cold but it satisfies my ever present wanderlust."

Another advantage to winter buying of summer things, is that hand-in-hand with this practice, Peggy also finds she is reminded to spruce up last summer's wardrobe well ahead of time.

Peggy is shown wearing a colorful strapless formal of gay printed chiffon with a very feminine bouffant skirt, which is perfect for a cruise, vacation or a summer formal. And the addition of a little red or black velvet bolero, cape or jacket to "cover up" makes this simple ensemble suitable for any occasion.

Blonde, petite Elsie Hitz, an actress on the radio serial, "Life Can Be Beautiful," points out that linen, usually thought of as a "one season" fabric, now serves as a year-round material, which makes a linen suit, purchased now, a real bargain because it can be worn from spring right on through winter. "And," adds Joan Alexander, heard on the CBS radio serial mystery, Perry Mason, "the same holds true for velvet and for silk. So, what are usually referred to as "resort" clothes are really a pretty smart investment at any season of the year, but especially now, as they have the same pepping up effect on a woman as buying a new hat."

Popular Recipe for Parties

Here's a smart, easy way to entertain. Invite your friends over for a game of Rook and surprise them with a real chef's treat, spaghetti served with a canned spaghetti sauce, made with either meat or mushrooms. Dish it up in individual casseroles while the Rook enthusiasts are adding up the score. This makes a winning recipe for repeat parties, too, because with a pack of Rook cards you have a choice of 150 different exciting games. For variety, try serving your spaghetti topped with a grated parmesan cheese flanked by bread sticks and raw vegetable appetizers.

Shower Is Courtesy To Miss Dean

Complimenting Miss Ada Sue Dean, bride elect of Donald Ralph Neilson, a miscellaneous bridal shower was given in the home of Mrs. C. H. Heafner of Wellman February 13 from 3 until 5 p. m.

Hostess, other than Mrs. Heafner, were Mesdames Joe Houghton, W. B. Smith, W. R. Wade, and Homer Jones.

Colors of red and white were carried out in decorations in the home. Red and white carnations were used on the registry, at which Mrs. Jones presided.

Mrs. Heafner greeted guests and presented them to the honoree and her mother, Mrs. Sewell Dean.

Laid with a lace cloth, the refreshment table featured a centerpiece of a red and white styrofoam heart, filled with red and white carnations. Red and white heart shaped cakes and tea were served by Mrs. Hughton, Mrs. Wade and Mrs. Smith.

About 2 guests called during the afternoon.

Gee Gee's Chit Chat

The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra-la. They're blooming on ladies hats this spring, you know. And some of them are duds, if you'll pardon the expression.

But speaking of hats, Cobb's has some of the cutest little spring hats and matching handbags for the younger misses—real young, as a matter a' fact. There's practically every shape and size you could ask for, and if you're planning to put your little girl in the Easter parade, you'd best trade by Cobb's and inspect these hats and handbags. They're really smart.

Well, whether you want to admit it or not, Easter is just around the corner. It's in March this year, you know. In fact, it's the 25 of March, so you'd better be rounding up your wardrobe. In passing, I might add that I still believe the roof should cave in on persons who go to church once a year—on Easter and then just to show off their new clothes.

Hold on to your hats, kids, here we go again. I mean by that the dog-poisoners are on the rampage again. Not just plain old strychnine, either. Ground glass, if you please. So, dog owners, as well as dog lovers, best you watch your pets these days. I'm sorry to say that there's no season—much less an open one—on dog poisoners, so watch your pets from now on. Some folks get spring fever along about this time of the year. Others just develop a strong allergy to animals.

Would like to thank Joe Johnson and Charlie Kersh of Johnson Implement company for inviting yours truly and Mary Dee out Tuesday noon for their big barbecue which they threw for their friends and customers in this trade area. Tiny Nelson did a superb job of barbecuing, and it was a delightful feed.

Well, the season following the Christmas one is full of various fund drives for carrying on polio, heart, cancer, etc., research. Coming next week is the annual fund drive for the Boy Scouts. Jack Griggs will head the drive, and I hope you will cooperate in this project.

Also coming up in March is the annual Red Cross fund drive. Thad Risinger has taken on the chairmanship of this campaign, and I also solicit your help for this one.

March might well be called the "Gimme Month". It's "gimme" here and "gimme" there, but all of the fund drives are for worthy causes (whether you will admit it or not). If you will only stop to think, it's better to be on the giving end of these projects than on the receiving end of them. Remember that. Besides all that, they can be taken from your income tax, and your return is due the 15th, in case you don't remember.

Plans for the Jaycee sponsored Terry County Club Boys Stock Show, to be held here April 21, are underway, and it promises to be bigger and better than ever this year. The Captain and I are still eating (occasionally) on the calf we bought at last year's show, and it shore is delicious.

Thank you, dear little friends, for responding to my request for pledges of blood for the nation's blood banks. You know, it's getting along the time of the year when the old black funnels descend from the sky and flatten out everything in their paths, including people. A gentle reminder that it's getting that time came Tuesday morning when a twister and rain and hail storm hit Mineral Wells. It's little minor things like twisters that make you feel a little better if you're prepared for them. Whole towns have been known to have been wiped out, with a lot of injured people needing medical care. 'Tis better to be safe than sorry, you know.

Put down that shovel, I'm not through, yet.

Only kidding, kids, only kidding.

Engagement of Miss F. Steen Revealed

Mrs. Johnny Steen of 904 Tahoka Road, is announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Forrest, to Jim Cousineau, son of the late Mrs. W. L. Cousineau.

The double ring ceremony will be read Wednesday, February 28, in the parsonage of the First Baptist Church, with Rev. Fred Stumpp, minister of the church, officiating.

Both Miss Steen and Mr. Cousineau are graduates of Brownfield High School, and she is now employed as secretary in the city hall. The prospective bridegroom attended Texas Technological College, and is now water and fire marshal for the City of Brownfield. The couple will make their home in Brownfield following their marriage.

MRS. C. KENDRICK ENTERTAINED CLUB

Mrs. Clovis Kendrick was hostess to the Las Amigas club when it met in her home February 15 at 3 p. m.

Chicken salad and cherry pie were served to Mesdames Tom Harris, Jack Cleveland, Jack Bailey, Frank Ballard, Harmon Howze, Burton Hackney, Jim Finley, Wade Moriarty, A. M. Muldrow, O. L. Stice, E. G. Akers and K. L. Watkins.

Mrs. Cleveland scored high and Mrs. Howze was second high. Mrs. Muldrow, Mrs. Stice and Mrs. Howze binged.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Noel and children of Plainview spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bailey. The Noels formerly lived in Brownfield.

Mr. O. G. Cheek of Snyder, Mrs. E. D. Ballard, and Mrs. Crawford Taylor and Linda spent Sunday in Littlefield with Mrs. Ballard's sister, Mrs. N. T. Dalton.

Prentice Walker, Chad Tarpley, and Jack Shirley, all of Brownfield, and Jerry Kirschner of Lubbock attended the Golden Gloves tournament in Fort Worth this week.

Straws Leading Spring's Hat Parade

Versatile Bonnets Are Topped With Fruit

BY EDNA MILES

A BASICALLY simple straw hat that can team up with a suit, with a print dress, with a tailored dress, is the love of many women for spring. It's that hat that appears unfailingly in new forms each spring.

Since hair is longer this spring, more hair naturally calls for more hat. Spring's little straw hats are more generous than they've been in the past. Often, they sit straight on the head and while they may have flower trim, they're more likely to have artificial fruit as trimming. Cherries, for example, are very much in evidence on spring bonnets.

One bonnet appearing this spring is both universal and classic in feeling. Designed by Pinehurst, it's in petitpuri braid straw with cushion type brim. Clusters of chenille strawberries appear at each side of the brim, to provide balance. Face veiling is soft and flattering.

Another hat from this same designer has sideswept lines and a small scoop brim. It's a straw bonnet, too, and is trimmed at one side in trailing red cherries. It's banded in velvet.

Smart and feminine is this good-looking little straw number. Designed by Pinehurst, the hat features a small scoop brim. Trimmed with matching colored velvet band, its finishing touch is a lovely bunch of cherries (artificial, of course).

Fashionably smart is this young lady in her universal type of bonnet. Designed by Pinehurst, it's made of petitpuri braid straw and features a soft veiling and flattering cushion type brim trimmed with little chenille strawberries.

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He

This week our tirade will concern mostly a trip to central Texas, in which the Old He and wife had been kindly invited to a ride by our honorable Tennessee "Cousin," Phillips Rogers and his Terry county wife, along with the three small Rogerses, in their new car. So, we'll personate as little as possible, using the editorial "we" instead.

Going, we went via Lamesa, Gail and Snyder. Just had to stop at the latter a few minutes to see our daughter and granddaughter. So on through Roby, Anson, Albany, where we left 180, taking 283 for Cisco and 80 to Thurber. There we took F-M 108 through to Stephenville, and 67 to Glen Rose on to Cleburne.

After one got to Snyder, we became aware that they had much more snow and sleet than we. And as far east as Cleburne, it was nearly all sleet, and as wet as rain almost. They have a fine season in that section. Found the highways all mostly clear of ice and snow. Between Albany and Cisco, someone found some sandwiches, and a little branch water from Brownfield wells, we dined.

of the contrary habits found in it. Like Alton, the two girls, Nancy, 14 and Judy, six, are natural born pianists. And both rendered some selections, Judy doing a fine job on Tennessee Waltz, especially dedicated to Uncle Jack. Both studying music. They have nice home completed in the fall in southwest Cleburne.

Alton is manager of the new and used furniture annex of the large Dickson Hardware and Furniture, a firm more than a half century old. He has charge of the radio programs that originate in the annex, the program Saturday A. M. lasting for a half hour. He told of our visit, and dedicated Tennessee Waltz to us. Alton is no mean artist on the piano, having spent several years at Tulsa as one of the Bob Wills Texas Playboy Band. Bob has recently moved to Dallas and offered Alton double the old salary. But Alton is now a family man.

Cleburne has grown more in the past few years than in the 50 we have known it. Indeed, in one ten year period, they lost some 2,000 population, and had some over 8,000 in 1930. They had better than 13,000 last year. There are worlds of new homes over the city, especially in the southwest portion, and more building. We were driven over most of the city.

We were due at the home of our brother Tom and wife at Fort Worth Saturday night, so Alton and Bettie took us up about 5:30 Saturday. They were to visit her sister and attend a wedding anniversary that night. Found Tom and Alice just fine, and all their children well. Saw only one, Glenn, their only son, and his little son, Tommy. Eileen and the other little son, less than a year old, remained at home as she was cooking, and little Jerry was asleep.

Yes their two sons, (Glenn is helping to keep the Stricklin generation alive) named Tom and Jerry—not after the noggy drink, but Tommy after his grand-dad Stricklin, and perhaps Jerry after one of his mother's relatives. Two very fine kids. Had a nice long chat before bedtime, along with television of the Golden Gloves contests at Will Rogers Memorial Auditorium. Rain started about 8 P. M., and continued till we went to bed. And to think Tom had to wet his garden with a hose to break it. The moisture of the snow, mostly sleet and rain, was about 1.25 inches in the Cleburne-Fort Worth area, aside from the rain Saturday night. A good season is in the ground down there.

Up betimes Sunday morning with a hot breakfast and plenty Arbuckle, and a short wait for Phillip and family to come by from Arlington to pick us up. They were soon along and so we were off to a trip back to west Texas, via Jacksboro, circling to the left for Olney and Throckmorton. Fayette, R. is a strict church attendee, and it was just about 11 A. M., when we reached a small town in Young county by the name of Loving. So we stopped and attended church.

Some two blocks north of the highway and where two streets cross, there are three churches on three of the corners, Baptist Church of God and Church of Christ, all fairly nice buildings, of wood material. The church we attended, the C. of C., was new, and well arranged. The youthful minister had a good subject and delivered it well, "How to Find Christ." On to Olney, and found Phillip's sister had fried a chicken, and along with other things, we munched as we rode west. Out at Jayton, we almost lost all the religion we got at Loving. We had been seeing signs, "Detour 70," and when we turned off on 230 toward Clairmont, there were some partial barricades with "detour" on them. But these signs are frequent. Arrived at the Salt Fork to find the bridge torn up. So we had to go back to Aspermont and Hamlin and on to Clairmont, or take 70 to Dickens, thence to Crosbyton and Lubbock and on home. We took the latter and more than an hour of extra time, half of it in the Jimgam juggling through the traffic of the TOWN of Lubbock.

We believe this was about the most foolish stunt we've ever seen the State Highway department pull. Most of the time, they move over a few feet one way or the other and build a new bridge, leaving the old one until the new one is finished, and not absolutely block a much traveled highway. We had seen no previous announcements in newspapers that the bridge was out. A dumb stunt, if you ask us.

One little joke and we're through. The mother was holding up Jr. in front of the bank tellers cage. Says she, "Make a noise like a gorilla so I will not have to carry sonny to see the zoo."

Judging by what my friends tell me of their recent Christmas gifts, nylon stockings are among the most favored gifts a man buys for a woman. Getting the most from nylons in wear, beauty and comfort depends on various factors, and the petroleum industry, which plays a surprising role in the manufacture of nylon stockings, has compiled a helpful list of nylon facts:

We all talk about such and such a denier, but do you know what it means? Denier expresses the weight and thickness of the nylon thread. The higher the denier number, the heavier and stronger the thread.

To wash nylon stockings use warm water and a mild household soap. Rinse thoroughly in clear water.

Nylon stockings are not harmed by storage, so don't worry if you can't wear a pair right away. But do keep them in some snag-proof box.

Oil men are interested in stockings because some of the raw materials for nylon come from crude oil and natural gas.

Dangers Of Untreated Milk Emphasized

Surgeon General A. Scheele of the Public Health Service, Federal Security Agency, recently emphasized the dangers of drinking unpasteurized milk and called attention to some simple methods of heat-treating milk at home in the event community supplies of pasteurized milk are not available.

The Surgeon General pointed out that there are four approved home pasteurization methods which in the great majority of cases will provide adequate safeguards against milk-borne disease.

According to Dr. Scheele, two of the methods—which may in some instances impart a cooked flavor to the milk—are recommended primarily for emergency situations in which community milk processing plants may be put out of commission by fire, flood or other disasters, including bombing attacks.

The other two methods, which do not effect the flavor of the milk but take a little longer or require special equipment, are suggested for normal home use where pasteurized milk are not available.

"There are too many communities in the United States where raw milk is drunk regularly despite its recognized threat to health," Dr. Scheele said.

The emergency methods recommended by the Public Health Service:

1. Pour water into the outer unit of a double boiler and bring to a vigorous boil. Pour milk into the inner unit and place within the outer unit. Cover and maintain same heat for ten minutes.

2. Bring milk quickly to a boil in an open saucepan while stirring constantly. Immediately place saucepan in cold water and continue stirring contents until cool. Change cooling water whenever it becomes warm.

Dr. Scheele pointed out that although pasteurization destroys harmful bacteria it is not effective against radioactive contamination.

For residents of communities where there is little or no pasteurized milk, the Surgeon General recommends that raw milk purchases be pasteurized at home, either by the two emergency methods recommended for disasters or by one of the two following methods:

1. Heat the milk quickly in an open saucepan, stirring constantly, until the contents reach a temperature of 165 degrees F. A dependable cooking thermometer should be used. Then immediately place the saucepan in cold water and continue stirring the contents until they are cool. Change the cooling water when it becomes warm.

2. Use one of the approved home pasteurizers now on the market.

"Statistics of the Public Health Service show that consumers of raw milk are the victims of most of the outbreaks of milk-borne diseases in this country," Dr. Scheele explained.

Irishman, 107, Is Home In Texas

ITASCA, Texas. (AP)—Eighty-five years ago a slender, 22-year-old Irish immigrant walked down the gang plank in New York City after crossing the Atlantic in 15 days.

He looked at America with awe.

Today Daniel Gilday Sweeney, 107 years old and still slender, is still awe-struck by America and its people.

Asked if he had any advice to offer today's young people, the smiling Itasca man said:

"No. They'll make out on their own. That's the way Americans are!"

When he arrived in New York City in 1886 Sweeney had planned only to leave his county Donegal for a visit in the United States. But he's never returned to the "Auld Sod."

Long an American citizen Sweeney came here recently from Hamburg Ark. He plans to make his home with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Kemper.

BUY BUYS ANGUS UP IN KANSAS

Fred Buy informed us this week that he and his son-in-law, Robert Baumgardner, had just returned from a trip to Kansas where they attended an auction of Angus. They brought back thirteen cows and heifers and a nine-months old bull, all really aristocrats.

They were placed on the breeding farm north of town. Fred stated that the wheat crop in Kansas and Oklahoma looked like it was done for, but the roots may not be dead, and it might come out, he said.

Big Progress Shown By WTGC In Area

The current issue of Gas Emplacement News, put out by the West Texas Gas Co., shows by actual figures some of the growth made by towns and cities in the area in which they supply natural gas. This includes part of the Panhandle and practically all the South Plains.

Here are some revealing figures: The building permits jumped from 60 million in 1949 to 100 million in 1950, and in the past decade, 1940 to 1950, the towns in the same territory grew from 176,275 to 310,913. The percentage of increase was 76.4.

Brownfield's building permits grew from $825,910 in 1949 to over 2 million in 1950.

Oil News Is Still Not Sensational

Not a few disappointments are appearing in the oil picture for the area. But there are still a few bright spots now and then. But one after another of the three wildcat west of town have been charged off in the past two weeks, the Hulme well six miles northwest, the A. R. Brownfield project some eight miles west, and the Turner well near the carbon black plant.

All these were deep projects, and have missed the Conyon reef and probably pay. Also, a 2 1/2 mile east offset in the Adair-Wolfcamp pool in south Terry, appears to be below the usual pay in that pool and no oil so far. Another venture with a question mark is the Joe Johnson well 2 1/2 miles east of the South Brownfield Conyon reef pool. Evidently this well hit part of the reef but the electric survey was not too encouraging, and they are drilling ahead at some 10,500 feet.

On the brighter side is the new north outstep of the Corrigan-Fusselman pool in southeast Terry. A new well there is running high to the discovery. It is the No. 1-B Nystel. These are all deeper than the reef wells, between 11,000 and 12,000 feet.

Out west just over in Yoakum, in the Cobb pool 6,000 foot section, they are still finding pay. They are not gushers by any means, but fairly good producers, and we believe most are flowing wells.

The two new projects just north of town, one west and the other east of the railroad and Lubbock highway, are drilling ahead at around 5,000 feet.

Mother Of Mrs. Garner Claimed

Funeral services were held at 1 a. m. Thursday in the First Methodist church for Mrs. Oillie M. Burke, 64, who died in the local hospital at 1:55 p. m. Wednesday following a brief illness. Rev. Dallas D. Denison, minister of the church officiated.

Following the funeral services, the body was taken overland to Hominy, Okla., for services and burial, by a Brownfield Funeral Home ambulance.

Mrs. Burke had lived in Brownfield for the past three months, visiting her daughter, Mrs. Val Garner. She was a native of Llano, but was a resident of Wynona, Okla., at the time of her death.

Survivors other than the daughter here include four other daughters, Mrs. W. E. Bourke of Boston, Mrs. A. E. Wilson of Muncie, Ind., Mrs. P. G. Stergerwalt of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Frances Kruger of San Antonio; five grandchildren; two brothers; and seven sisters, including Mrs. E. P. Stanford of Plains.

Grade Of Local Milk Supplies Determined

The grade of all milk supplies in Brownfield have been determined by the local health department in accordance with the grade specifications of the Standard milk ordinance.

All consumers should purchase milk on the basis of grade and look for these grades on each bottle cap. Placards are posted in restaurants and fountains designating the grade of milk served. Certified pasteurized and grade A pasteurized milk are the safest grades of milk and certified raw and grade A raw milk are as safe as milk can be made short of pasteurization. Consideration should be given to the consumption of the safest milk.

The following milk companies are authorized for the distribution of milk in Brownfield:

May Print Warning On Liquor Bottles

There is now a bill in the mills of the legislature, HB No. 176, which is purported to be an aid to less drinking, and perhaps calculated to stop some of the driving while drinking. In brief, the bill would cause to be printed on each bottle of whiskey, wine or beer, 60 days after its passage, the following:

"WARNING: Do Not Overindulge — Alcohol May Be Habit Forming."

"DANGER: Do Not Drink and Drive—The Life You Take May Be Your Own."

Between us and the gatepost, we believe that the bill is a stall. You know a bunch of those anti-liquor gals, the WCTU, have been sitting in down there and they are demanding that the legislature submit the question of liquor or no liquor to a vote of the people of Texas.

And frankly, a lot of people, and this includes some of the pollsters, believe that a majority of Texas people are ready to try statewide prohibition again.

STILL LOTS OF FLU IN TERRY COUNTY

The State Health Department for the week ending Feb. 3, reported as follows on communicable diseases in Terry and Yoakum counties:

Terry: Gonorrhea, 1; influenza, 18; measles, 10; pneumonia, 8; and whooping cough, 2. Yoakum: chickenpox, 6; gonorrhea, 1; measles, 1.

What Price Eggs? $5,000 - Maybe

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — Sixty dozen eggs are worth less than fifty dollars today, but they may be worth $5,000 to a Texas poultry farmer four months from now.

Two cases of prize hatching eggs arrived at the University of Arkansas Experimental Farm here recently from Joe Fetchel, owner of Western Hatcheries, Dallas. Eggs from 40 poultrymen from all parts of the United States will be placed in mammoth incubators tomorrow and —21 days later—thousands of fluffy chicks will be hatched to compete in the Chicken-Of-Tomorrow Contest.

This competition is the climax of nationwide research during the last six years to develop bigger and better chickens for the dinner table. The pay-off will be June 15, when the breeder whose birds are judged best after a 12-week growing period will receive a $5,000 award from the A & P Stores, sponsors of the test in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, national poultry associations and agricultural colleges.

The Lone Star State finalist qualified by placing high in 1949 and 1950, state and regional contests.

Contest chickens are judged, both alive and dressed, for rapid growth, rate of conversion of feed to meat, uniformity of size and quality, yield of edible meat and eye appeal to the consumer.

Fetchel's entry will be of the White Plymouth Rock breed, a type originated in New England and now popular among poultrymen throughout the United States.

Plains Classes Thank Herald

Two classes of the young folks, Intermediate and Junior, of the First Baptist Church at Plains, wrote us a card of thanks last week. Their thanks were for the reason that the Herald does not carry liquor ads.

We might state right here that the Herald can get liquor and beer ads, but that is one condition we make each year when we list our paper with the directory companies, that we do not carry liquor, wine or beer ads.

Don't misunderstand. It is not because we do not need the many dollars they pay for ads. We think the big city dailies and particularly the national magazines, with their highly illustrated pictures of drinking is revolting.

We feel that if one ad in the Herald started one young man or woman on a drinking career, we'd be sorry.

SISTER OF MRS. SEARS CLAIMED

Mrs. Jessie Angel, sister of Mrs. C. Sears, died Thursday afternoon, February 15, in her home in Houston. She was almost 80 years of age, and had been ill for several months.

Mrs. Sears and Mrs. Kellie left for Houston soon after receiving word of the death of Mrs. Angel.

Funeral services were held Saturday and burial was in Parkdale cemetery in Houston. Mrs. Angel and her husband had visited in this area many times.

Baldwin Moves Up Subscription

A. R. Baldwin, one of our fine farmers of the Forrester Community, was in this week and renewed his paper for 18 months. For a bit we could not figure out why the odd number of months, or $3 worth of the Herald. Then we thought of the old habit of farmers in Terry county for many years of renewing so that their papers would expire in the fall.

Well most of the rest of us have more money in October than in February, which is just after taxpaying time. The Baldwin family moved to Terry from the good old state of Missouri during the 'teens. The family then included his dad and mother, as well as Grandpa Baldwin, who have passed on to a better land, we hope, as they were really good, old fashioned folks.

While somewhat scattered now, the Baldwins have made old Texas some good, reliable people. Give us more of such.

HURRY! AVALANCHE IS GOING UP!

We had a letter from the circulation department of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, that effective March 1, that's next Thursday, the Avalanche will be hiked to $12.95, daily and Sunday.

The daily without Sunday will be $11.00. If your paper is to expire soon, we can get you under the wire at the old rate. But you'll have to hurry.

WAS REALLY COLD IN TENNESSEE

Noticed an item in the old home county paper back in Tennessee that things really got bad during the recent cold spell back there, about a week before our last one. Some small towns were without electricity 12 days, and that meant kerosene lamps, and wood stoves. They are near the TVA projects and use electric stoves to cook with.

A niece also wrote us that she was without butane gas several days and had to visit a sister who burns wood, in the fireplace as well as the cook stove. She was pouring it on us. "If you Texans are going to furnish gas, why don't you do it?" Very likely their butane comes from Arkansas or Louisiana.

Gatewood To Tell Of Work In Germany

We are authorized to announce that Otis Gatewood, noted evangelist, who has been doing work in Germany for the past several years under direction of Broadway Church of Christ, will speak at Meadow Church of Christ, Sunday, the 25th, at 3 p. m.

At that time Minister Gatewood will give a complete review of the German work under his stewardship, in which many have been led to Christ, the establishment of a number of congregations, with a large central congregation building at Frankfurt, near the university.

Evangelist Gatewood will spend some six months in the United States, from one end of the nation to the other, reporting on the work in Germany. We might note right here that Mr. Gatewood was partially reared in the Meadow area, and did some of his first preaching there, and from there to the northwest in the Utah-Nevada section.

He is accompanied by Mrs. Gatewood, his son, David, and an adopted German daughter, Darlene, aged 3 1/2 years. The Meadow congregation cordially invites as many as possible to her Mr. Gatewood.

Implement Company Entertains Patrons

The Johnson Implement Company entertained their friends and farmers of the Brownfield trade territory with a barbecue given from 11 a. m. until 1 p. m., Tuesday at Veterans Hall.

"Tiny" Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Simmons were in charge of the barbecue.

Joe Johnson and Charlie Kersh are owners of the Implement company. It is reported that a large crowd, probably 500 people, attended the feast.

TWELVE NEW CARS SOLD LAST WEEK

For the week ending February 17th, 12 new cars were registered at the office of Assessor-Collector Herbert Chesshir, as follows:

T. C. Garner, Chevrolet; E. B. McBurnett, Pontiac; Warren R. Annear, Mercury; J. V. Burdett, Oldsmobile; O. B. Smith, Studebaker; L. O. Lewis, Pontiac.

T. A. DuBose, Plymouth; E. B. McBurnett, Pontiac; C. O. Hughes, Chrysler; Alfred Gore, Oldsmobile; Denis Q. Lilly, Chevrolet; Leon L. Light, Chevrolet.

Robot Stops Cars in Test

Improvement in Chevrolet brakes is illustrated by this picture showing the difference in stopping distances between a 1950 and a 1951 car using exactly the same brake pressure. To eliminate the human element, engineers used a mechanical pedal pressure applicator (inset) on both cars. When the foot lever (1) is tripped the piston exerts a constant pressure on the brake (2).

Death of a Ship

The abandoned 6609-ton motorship Tapti teeters precariously on a rock in the sound of Gunna, off the west coast of Scotland, where she ran aground. The crew of 62 was rescued after the ship was torn by rocks and tons of water poured into the engine room and holds.

GI'S EYE GIRLS' COWNS

It could have been a dream, so Cpl. Orva C. Craven reached out to touch the ruffle on the dress of the lovely vision before him. The model was real, as was the dress, both part of a special fashion show held for wounded veterans and servicemen at New York City's fashionable Hotel Pierre. Also admiring the white embroidered organdy evening dress and its contents was Pfc. George K. Malner, at right.

Brothers In Business

Business practices of 1951 are a bit different from those of seventy years ago, but according to William H. Carter (left), a good businessman has to stay young in his thinking, even if he's an octogenarian!

The 86-year-old president of one of the country's most progressive industries, Carter's Underwear, has been active in the knit underwear business for seventy consecutive years. His brother, Horace A. Carter (right) who is executive vice president, has been associated with the company for sixty-six years.

"Mr. W. H." has been affectionately dubbed the "General," and the medal proving how he ranks with his co-workers is a lapel pin with five diamond studded stars. Both brothers feel that eighty years plus of living and working is the best test of a man's worth. The knitting business founded by their father will be just as old this year as its live-wire president.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—Can you tell me what type of evidence I should submit to VA in order to apply for death pension benefits? My husband, a World War II veteran, died recently but not of service-connected causes.

A—You should submit proof of your husband's death; complete information as to your annual income, and proof of your marriage to your late husband. If either you or your husband were married previously, you should submit proof that the earlier marriages were legally dissolved.

Q—I started to school under the GI Bill a month ago. I just learned that my school, through oversight, had not yet returned my certificate of eligibility to VA. Meanwhile, I never received subsistence and my tuition hasn't been paid. If the school sends the certificate to VA now, will I get back subsistence and will the school get back tuition?

A—So long as the school sends the certificate back to VA within 90 days of the date of receipt, VA will consider that date of receipt as the date of your entrance into training. Subsistence and tuition will begin as of that time.

Q—Is there any limit to the amount of money I can borrow from a private lender under the GI Bill?

A—No. The GI Bill limit is the amount of VA's guaranty of the loan, and not on the amount of the loan itself.

Q—I am a World War I veteran and I have a $10,000 Government Life Insurance policy. I am thinking of turning $5,000 of it in for cash. If I do so, and later change my mind, will I be able to reinstate the cashed-in $5,000?

A—No. Under the law, U. S. Government Life Insurance surrendered for cash may not be reinstated. However, before you take any steps to surrender your policy, you should write to the Office of Insurance Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and ask what courses of action are open to you under your insurance contract that would preserve your valuable reinstatement rights.

Last Rites Held For Seagraves Man

Last rites were conducted at 4 p. m., February 16 in the First Baptist church here for Holland Thomas Redding, 26, who died of injuries received in an automobile accident February 13. Rev. Fred Stumpp, minister of the church, officiated.

Redding was critically injured when the automobile in which he was riding overturned four miles south of Seagraves early the morning of February 13. He had lived in Seagraves for two years and was a member of the Seagraves VFW post.

Survivors include four sisters, Mrs. Aubrey Bryant of Brownfield, Mrs. Otis Aldridge of Meadow, Mrs. R. D. Coulter of Seagraves, and Mrs. Amy Young of Breckenridge; and one brother, L. T. Redding of Brownfield.

Interment was in Terry County Memorial cemetery, under the direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Wayne (Red) Smith and James Harley Dallas attended the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet in Seagraves last Friday night. Smith is manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce.

DELEGATES ATTENDED HOUSTON CONVENTION

Chris Burda, Eddie Courtney, and Morgan Pace attended the Distributive Education Conference, held in Houston last week, as delegates from Brownfield High School. They were accompanied by Mr. Powell, D. E. coordinator.

Representatives from Distributive Education clubs from all parts of Texas attended the conference, which was the fifth of its kind to be held.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I see they are waltzing out the St. Lawrence again. This time it is a defense measure—a "must", they say. Heretofore it was for navigation, for more electric kilowatts, as a friendly gesture to our neighbor Canada, etc., etc. None of these arguments ever held water. There is electricity galore in Canada and in the U. S. A.—on both sides of the river and far beyond. And furthermore, with improvements in methods, steam-electric power is putting water-developed power in the shade. Steam generated power is becoming cheaper. You make it nearer where you use it, and with less long distant transporting line losses.

And navigation—there is not much of some on a river frozen for months on end. If wars could be held only during warm weather, then navigation might be a defense argument, but that would take a mutual agreement with the enemy. It might be hard to arrange. And as to this friendly gesture to Canada affair—Canada is not mad at us, we are not mad at Canada. But getting into a partnership arrangement and building jointly owned dams and power stations could, easy as pie, beget an argument.

Instead of a St. Lawrence dam being a "defense bulwark" to preserve World democracy, it is, if you look under the covers, just plain every day Socialism—dolloped up in "defense" regalia—and that is not square shootin', folks. Yours with the low down, JO SERRA.

Texans In Washington

By Tex Easley
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Six Texans are helping to operate cultural centers in Latin America through which the State Department seeks to promote good will and understanding between these countries and the United States.

One of the oldest centers is at Lima Peru, now in its 11th year, where Mrs. Edwin T. Cornelius, Jr., of Fort Worth is director of courses.

Another Texas woman, Miss Faye Bumpass of Lubbock, was there for several years, teaching English to the natives so they could instruct others. Miss Bumpass now has an assignment which takes her from one Central American republic to another, conducting special English courses and offering suggestions for improvement of the various centers. She spent Christmas in Guatemala.

Other Texans engaged in the program are:

Anita Provincio, of Anthony, N. M., and El Paso, with the State Department here; Louis L. Curcio of Houston, director of cultural center at Rosario, Argentina; Miss Virginia N. Hightower of Newgulf, teacher of English at Santiago, Chile; Mrs. Aurora De Luzardo, San Antonio, English teacher at Bogota, Colombia.

"MOST HANDSOME"

Miss Vivien Kellen, Connecticut industrialist on a Texas speaking tour, declined to say whether or not she plans to move her cable grip factory to Texas. But of Governor Allan Shivers she said: "The most handsome I ever saw." (AP Photo)

AN OLD TIMER HEARD FROM AGAIN

Last week we got the annual epistle from our old side kick, Pat Brothers, out there at Lawndale, Calif. He reports that the Herald is still a source of interest to the Brothers family. They are watching the development of oil here too, with much interest. He and wife are enjoying good health, he states, and hopes all here are enjoying the same blessing.

heart quiz

Can worry damage the heart?
No. Worry may produce a symptom such as palpitation, but not heart disease. If you already have heart disease, worry can make it worse.

Does overweight cause heart disease?
No. If you have high blood pressure or heart disease, overweight will put an extra strain on the heart and blood vessels and may cause further damage.

Should blood pressure be same at 50 as 30?
No special rise in blood pressure occurs with age. It is normal, however, for your blood pressure to vary with your activities and emotions.

Can heart disease be cured?
A few types of heart disease can now be cured by drugs and surgery. Other types can be controlled by reducing the strain on the heart.

OUT OF MOTHBALLS...

The famous USS Revenge, Navy Minesweeper which led the way into Tokyo Bay at the end of World War II, has returned to sea duty. The ship was taken out of mothballs and re-commissioned at Orange, Tex. On August 23, 1945, the proud Revenge led the way for larger ships entering Japanese waters to receive the surrender delegation. (AP Photo).

ICE DOWNS WIRES...

ICE CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE...

A residential street in Palestine, Texas, is completely filled with broken branches from trees after a hard freezing rain covered wires and trees with a heavy coating of ice. Electric service to this East Texas town was disrupted for a time and all communication lines are down. Estimates of damage to property in the area ran into hundreds of thousands of dollars. (AP Wirephoto).

SCAT!

Well, I never—my own adopted daughter acting like that! A cat named "Puss" appears to be laying down the law to Nan, seven-months old pet racoon in the Marsalis Park Zoo in Dallas, Tex. Puss nursed and reared the racoon, but the two had a falling out. (AP Photo).

SILHOUETTE OF WAR—Their weapons standing out in bold relief against a bleak winter sky, these silhouetted soldiers of the 24th Infantry Division slog across rugged Korean hills in search of the foe. Grimly appropriate is the number of men outlined, thirteen, an unlucky number. Other soldiers can be seen just over the knoll at right.

Some Coming And A Few Are Going

Among the newcomers who have arrived week ending Feb. 17th, and registered at courts or residences, and known to our news hounds, are as follows: David Leo and Kenneth Dale Pennington, both from Stinnett; Bill Sevorengr, from Kansas; J. L. Carroll, of New Mexico; Marvin W. Lee, Rusk, Texas; R. G. Huepers, Levelland; L. G. Corley, Hermleigh and Pat E. Lawrence, Abilene.

Six other pulled out for greener pastures, they thought; three of them to Farmington, N. M.; one to Lovington, N. M.; another to Lubbock, and the sixth to Big Lake, Texas.

No marriage licenses were obtained during last week period, nor were there any divorce suits filed.

Mrs. Miller Gets In On Three Year Rate

Mrs. S. T. (Sam) Miller was in Tuesday to renew her Herald for a three year period at our special rate of $5. Mrs. Miller remarked that the family had been taking the Herald for 35 years. She was not sure she would live out the 3-year extension.

But Mrs. Miller still looks pretty spry for a lady her age, and may have many more years in store. This family came to Terry from the Jones-Haskell section and settled on land about 7 miles north of town. We believe Sam Miller died on the old farm place, or while they lived there.

They raised a good family of children, who are making Terry county very excellent citizens. The only regret is that this will probably be the last visit of Mrs. Miller for three long years.

Tractors Pull More On Air-Filled Tires

Tractors with air-filled tires pull more on sandy and loam soils than when the tires are partly or completely filled with water. This is the finding of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Engineers and representatives of the tire industry, resulting from a series of trials at the tillage laboratory at Auburn, Alabama. There was less difference on loam soil than on sandy soil, indicating that on still heavier soil there would be even less difference in pulling power.

No Egg Support Prices

There will be no support prices on eggs this year. One way farmers may be able to beat the low prices when markets become too full is to produce quality eggs that usually sell several cents above the current market price. Proper packing is one of the big points in keeping eggs fresh. Warm eggs packed upside down will spoil three times as fast as when packed large end up.

ACP Adapted To Needs Of Individual Farm

Under the Agricultural Conservation Program the individual farmer is given the fullest opportunity to carry out the soil and water conservation practices which are most urgently needed on his own farm, says Hugh H. Harred, chairman of the Terry County PMA Committee. From the list of approved practices for Terry county the individual farmers may select the ones needed on his farm. There is no "Cut and Dried" program that has to be used on every farm. In fact, says Mr. Harred, the needs on each farm are different from those around it, since each farmer operates a little differently, and each farm is different in its production history, size, layout and kind of soil.

In using the ACP, the farmer—often with the help of the local PMA committeeman determine what should be done to check erosion and keep the farm from becoming less productive. The practices available to farmers are those which meet the most serious conservation problems in the area and the farmer makes his own selection.

Because the program is tied so closely to the practical living-making operations of farms, the chairman explains, it is administered by farmers who have been elected to county and community PMA committees. It is available to all farmers in the county and is flexible enough to fit into the production program and meet the major conservation needs of the great majority of farms. The county office is located at 406 West Main St., Brownfield, Texas.

ALL THE COMFORTS OF HOME

Maybe not quite all the comforts of home—but this cotton balloon cloth sleeping bag hits the spot with tired soldiers. Designed for use in cold climates, the bag weighs less than 11 pounds. Attached to the shell is a canopy which can be brought up over the sleeper's head. The canopy rolls into a carrying case. The wind-resistant, water-repellent sleeping bag keeps a soldier warm in 40° below zero climates.
