The press of the area had a letter from Rep. Waggoner Garr, of Lubbock at the close of the regular Legislature at Austin. Mr. Carr expressed deep appreciation for the fact that he was allowed the privilege of representing the 119th district, and that he had some measure in the solution of the problems confronting the district and the state. Among the things that stand out and of which he takes pride in the session, was Senate and House redistricting, a program of constructing more and better rural roads, a revision of the election laws, and putting teeth in many of the criminal laws, as well as a tax on natural gas that is going to other states, and for which Texas was not getting one farthing, while this precious natural resource was being drained out of the state. On the economy side, he mentioned the fact that by cutting down on governmental expenses, we are able to keep the taxes at the lowest possible point. Some new taxes were necessarily due, on account of inflation, and the fact that previous legislatures had not only spent a huge surplus built up during War II, but also refused to economize. He had, he stated, received some 3,000 letters as well as telegrams and petitions from his constituency, which he considered valuable in making a decision on what was best for the district. He then paid a glowing tribute to the people in general over the district, which he stated is composed of people who seek no other reward than the satisfaction of helping their fellowmen and women. In view of the fact that there can be some called sessions of this legislature, we do not consider this letter as a farewell address. But naturally Mr. Carr will not, after this present legislature dies, represent Terry and several other counties, as Lubbock county will have two districts of their own, and we'll be in the 97th instead of the 119th district, composed of Coehran, Hockley, Yoakum and Terry. In fact some four districts have been made of the old 119th. This resulted on account of failure of previous legislatures to redistrict the State after the censuses of 1930 and 1940, a period of 20 years, during which time this area has grown by leaps and bounds. If the United States were to get licked in a war at this time, most observers reason that it will not be on account of force of arms by any nation or combination of nations, but on account of the high cost of living. This includes such things as rents, taxes, housing, as well as food, for which the people will have to pay with 50c dollars. Unfortunately for the USA, some of the so-called leaders at Washington seem to think this country can continue to feed, clothe and arm the entire world outside Russia and her satellites, and then do all the fighting for the other "free" nations. There are hints that Gen. Ike Eisenhower is getting fed up on the situation in Europe and re-arming, particularly as regards France, to meet a Russian threat. Instead of the 50 division that he had expected by 1952, he now thinks it will be nearer 20. That point alone illustrates how the people of western Europe expect the USA to do it all and pay the bill. A little joke better describes the situation than we can express it, and in a few words: "Why do you Americans forever chase the dollar? Why don't you do as we, just wait for the dollar to be brought to you?" Europeans look upon the USA as the Utopia like an old play song went that was in vogue when we were a boy: "Where coffee grows on white-oak trees and rivers flow with brandy; rocky roads all lined with gold and the girls all sweet as candy." Yep, something like the above old song is just what the average European regards the USA of being like.

Among the Tru-Deal cohorts up at Washington, we believe that Secretary Snyder of the Treasury is the more reasonable, down to earth member of the cabinet. He talks and thinks like we guys from the folks of the creek. Secretary Snyder recently stated that any further increases in income taxes must fall with greatest weight on people of small and moderate incomes. He pointed out that 58 per cent of all taxable incomes now goes to those who earn less than $5,000 per year. This may have a silencing effect upon those who have heretofore thought and said that we can run this government by the simple expedient of "soaking the rich." Heretofore, the lawmakers have based their ideas of taxation on that alone, and they have not had the courage to face the facts. So, political taxation has reached its limit, and from this on, we must face the facts on an economic level. While the writer is classed in the lower income bracket—very low—and must realize that the taxation of the higher income bracket is just a step short of confiscation. Yet, even if the government taxes the higher incomes 100 per cent, that will not be a drop in the bucket to what it takes at this time to run government in time of war expenses. All of us whether we work with our hands, or as the chief executive of the largest corporations, have a direct and personal interest in taxation. Every one who earns money is a capitalist, large or small. Your pocketbook and ours, as well, are involved in the deal. Should there be any wonder that most people are interested in economy in government? And we should have no patience with any pressure group that wants all the economy to come from the other fellow. Not "as for me and mine, let the free gift dollars pour from the horn of plenty."

We believe that all retail merchants everywhere want to be law-abiding citizens. We know this to be a fact with local retail merchants. But this does not help the headaches they have had to endure for the past several weeks or since the first of a series of Office of Price Stabilization orders have gone forth. We have not seen any of the forms, but we have been told that even the large chain stores with the aid of experts have had a hard time figuring out some of the conditions. The smaller stores with no expert help have found that the endless forms and reports are a sore trial. Faced with protests from many of the retailers, OPS have changed some of the forms, but they still take much time and a lot of patience to compile. Others say that the government men may be a good fellow, but apparently some of them don't understand the orders any too well. What is really heartbreaking is that many retailers find they can add no cost to that of the wholesale prices they pay. And there is nothing for them to do but stop ordering such merchandise. The OPS has a lot to learn itself, and it is to be hoped that they apply themselves to the task, otherwise the whole basis of the national economy will be weakened. Even the consumers, whom OPS is supposed to help, may be hurt.

In order to equalize matters, the House Ways and Means committee has taken steps to equalize excise taxes between private and publicly owned utilities. This tax amounts to no great amount, 3 1/2 per cent, or about $14,000,000, but the fact shows that the congress is trying to get away from a plain show of partiality. Of course this tax will include municipal plants such as we have here, as well as the big authority plants, such as TVA, but it does not necessarily mean that our local plant will have to pay any or more state, county or city taxes. This just means federal government taxes. Presently one of the highest expenses of the privately owned plants is taxes—all taxes included—and runs around 20 per cent of the income. The greatest expense, naturally, is wages of employees and officials. The big federal subsidized plants do pay a token sum in lieu of taxes. This fact, along with subsidization permits the government owned plants to put out the so-called "cheaper power." There is not one reason on earth why a government institution, competing with a privately owned business should be favored by non-taxation. If it can't make the grade and pay its share of the taxes, it should go out of business. While this action of Congress is long overdue, it appears to us that it denotes sound business.

As congress uses the ax on a lot of unnecessary appropriations, those who benefit from these non-essentials are squealing like a bunch of drowning rats. To begin with, many of these budgets asked for by the bureaucrats have been watered to the saturation point, we are told. We hope and trust that Congress turns a stone deaf ear to the crowd that advocates "politics as usual," and cuts such budgets to the minimum. While the crowd at Washington calls that affair in Korea "police action," it is nothing short of war, and daily some of our fine young men are laying down their lives over there, far from home and loved ones. Of course the administration is telling us that we should get on a "pay-as-you-go basis" as soon as possible, but they are putting the cart before the horse, and instead of economizing where possible, they want taxes raised more and more so that the old FDR idea of spend and effect can go on as usual. Some of our best statesmen who have the country at heart, and are not looking for political plums, say the budget can be safely cut by at least 10 billion dollars. With a huge amount to be spent on a war, on top of political spending, with no economy practiced anywhere, can only mean cheaper dollars and more inflation. And finally the total destruction of the savings of the people.

It is said that a disappointingly small amount of people heard the five addresses of Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Texas. Some had one idea and some another. If you ask us, we think the people, while interested, wanted to show their welcome to the great general, just did not want to sit out on bleachers in a hot broiling sun, to listen to anyone. Many chose rather to stay in their air conditioned homes and listen on the radio or televisin, while literally thousands knew that the full text would be printed in the newspapers next day. To say the least his speeches has the big boys at Washington worried beyond measure, and they are studying plans almost day and night to counteract the reception of Mack in Texas. The great fear is that MacArthur will carry his campaign to the grassroots in practically all the other states. Added to other worries for the administration, the Gen. Wedemeyer testimony was anything but favorable, to the wavering, appeasing policy of the State department. Our own home boys who have come in recently from Korea, are just like Mack. They can't understand why we have to stall around the 38th parallel instead of getting enough men over there to whip hell out of the Reds and drive them out of Korea. Korea by rights should be one nation, not two, and not partly a Red government and the rest a civilized government. The two don't seem able to exist in close proximity. The Reds must always have an iron curtain anywhere they are near a free country. The metal Lithium is about as fifth as heavy as aluminum.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

You know the old song where it is "giddap Napoleon it looks like rain," and where the farmer comin' into town meets the city slicker who offers him two tens for a five, and to which offer the farmer said—as the song goes—"I knew right away the feller was a fool or a liar."

Well, now folks—city folks especially—in this modern era of speed and mayhem there is not a super amount of time for thinking on our own hook. Our thinking has been farmed out—turned over to the swivel chair marvels and gentry there on the Brainsy Potomac.

Nobody is going to convince me that any amount of personal pondering is going on when at Nation sits by and allows, without protest, a River Basin gent from Wash. D. C. blurt out in the press that the Govt. must take over, even more and more, to prevent in our U. S. A. a dire power shortage. What the man says is not so—not even one per cent so. Who Is Responsible For Our Predicament

By J. C. Phillips

Everytime that Mr. Truman reminds us that we must be afraid of Russia, because she has the atomic bomb, we also are reminded of several things, viz:

THAT: when the present Truman Administration went into office the United States was the most powerful nation in the world, and therefore it was in a position to enforce the peace of the world.

THAT: under this same Truman Administration, and during the time that we knew that Russia was steadily increasing her military might, we not only hastily demobilized our military forces—but we also destroyed billions of dollars worth of modern weapons of war.

THAT: during this period of time, when Russia was becoming stronger and our military strength was deteriorating, we further promoted the ratio of power in favor of Russia by implementing the Yalta agreement, resulting in the Chinese people being betrayed into slavery to the Communist conspiracy.

THAT: it was Mr. Truman who called attempts to expose the Communist conspiracy in government as witch hunting and red herring.

THAT: it was during the present Administration when atomic secrets leaked out to the Soviet government helping to make it possible for the Russians to develop the atomic bomb.

THAT: the Administration's policy of fighting a limited war in Korea, afraid of offending Russia, smacks of further appeasement of "dear old Joe."

It is time that we realized that the Russians are not supermen; that they have a great deal more to fear from an aroused America, with our atomic bombs, than we have to fear from them.

One Texan on Capitol Hill asked The Editor this question: "Well, you don't want another World War do you?" In other words this Texan thought the MacArthur recommendations would plunge us into World War III.

We had better have World War III, and get it over with, than permit the Communist conspiracy to take over.

We could lose every city that we have and we would still have more than our forefathers had to start with, provided that we retain our freedom and sense of moral values; whereas if we should retain our cities but lose our freedom, we will lose the moral values that have helped to make us the greatest and most prosperous nation, and it is questioned that if once lost they could ever again be recovered.—Youkum County Review.

Dr. Cox Commends Texas Dairymen

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, endorsing the observance of June as National Dairy month today released a statement congratulating Texas dairymen on the remarkable progress they have made in the past few years.

The use of clean safe milk is a health measure. Milk is our most nearly perfect food as it is rich in proteins, vitamins A and G and the minerals calcium and phosphate. Improved methods of producing wholesome milk has been a great help in the saving of infant lives.

Milk is perishable and especially during hot weather. To insure milk of good quality requires cleanliness, sterile utensils, protection against flies, careful bottling and maintenance at low temperature. The presence in fresh milk of large numbers of bacteria, due to insanitary methods of production is a health hazard.

Dr. Cox added, "Among the diseases which may be transmitted through milk are tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, septic sore throat, undulant fever, diarrhea and enteritis. Numerous milk-borne outbreaks of disease occur every year in this country from the use of milk that might have been safe with proper care."

"We should firmly insist that the milk we drink be carefully produced, so that we will have the maximum practicable protection along the line from the cow to the consumer."

New Draft Bill Lowers Age

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—President Truman Tuesday signed the new draft law.

The measure lowers the draft age, extends the Selective Service system four years and lays the foundation for universal military training.

Truman signed the bill in a White House ceremony at 11:15 a. m.

The new law keeps the draft in operation until July 1, 1955, and permits the induction of 18½-year-olds for military service if local draft boards exhaust their supply of older eligible men. It makes no change in the present maximum draft age of 25.

The present law, which would have expired on July 9, prohibited the induction of anyone under 19.

The period of service under the new law is 24 months instead of the 21 under the expiring law.

Although the minimum induction age under the new law is 18½ years, men still must register when they become 18.

Dale Wayne Cary Named Winner

Dale Wayne Cary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Cary, and a 1951 graduate of Brownfield High School, was named a winner of one of the scholarships sponsored by the Dunlap's Department Store of Lubbock.

Eighteen South Plains high school graduates are eligible to attend Texas Tech this fall as Dunlap scholarship students. Jas. G. Allen, dean of student life, announced Tuesday.

These students were selected from a field of 72 contestants who have taken the qualifying examinations during the last month. Students taking the tests represented 33 towns in the eight South Plains counties covered by the scholarship provisions.

The scholarship funds provide $100 each year for one high-ranking graduate in Lubbock, Crosby, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Hockley, Terry, Lynn and Garza counties.

Tests scores, used only to indicate the highest possible aptitude, are part of a consideration of each candidate.

Familiar Signs Often Ignored

Back in Caesar's time a writer of wit and wisdom named Publilius Syrus realized that "familiarity breeds contempt."

He didn't have traffic accidents in mind when he wrote it down, but the truth of his words hold true today in the attitude of motorists toward signs and signals.

The National Safety Council points out that familiarity with traffic signs, signals and regulations in any territory frequently traveled apparently dulls a driver's alertness and makes him a potential accident victim.

Most Mishaps Near Home
That partly accounts for the fact that nearly three-fourths of fatal traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of the driver's home, according to the Council.

To impress drivers with the meaning of all signs and signals the Council is sponsoring a "Signs of Life" program in August.

The Council says there are five basic shapes of highway signs. Round signs warn of a railroad approach, while the crossbuck is a danger signal near the tracks. The eight-sided or octagonal sign means stop. Diamond shaped signs warn of possible danger, such as curves. Oblong signs state the law, such as speed limits, no passing, etc., and must be obeyed.

Dallas Becoming A Great Fashion Center

Texas takes a $150,000,000 bite annually out of national retail sales through Dallas-made women's and children's apparel alone. R. A. Johnston, Jr., president of the Dallas Fashion Center told members of the Texas Press Association Friday. This multi-million dollar business is done in more than 5,000 stores in Texas plus approximately three times that many retail outlets in the rest of the nation.

The Dallas Fashion Center, comprised of 42 manufacturers, entertained members of the Texas Press Association at a luncheon fashion show, "Forecasts for Fall" Friday at the Baker Hotel in Dallas, during the T. P. A.'s annual convention.

Mr. Johnston welcomed members of the press and introduced Fred Massey, Jr., president of the Texas Press Association and publisher of the Terrell Tribune, who spoke briefly. In his wel-

Miss Laverne Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collier, of Lubbock was home for Father's Day. She is employed in the office at Hemphill Wells.

Miss Elizabeth Jo Anthony, employee of the Nelson Pharmacy, is taking a two-weeks vacation with friends out at Grand Canyon, Wyoming, and other points in the northwest. Miss Parilee Nelson, daughter of the proprietor is very efficiently 'pinch-hitting' for Miss Anthony. In fact Miss Nelson has the real sales smile, and anyone can tell it is genuine.

coming talk, Mr. Johnston gave a brief history of the Dallas apparel market, emphasizing the part the Fashion Center has played in its growth in both volume and prestige. Following Mr. Johnston's talk, Tom W. Perkins, Jr., of the McKinney Courier-Gazette, and a T. P. A. board member, announced a new editorial mat. service to be inaugurated this month, "Texas Trends from Dallas Fashion Center."

GOMEZ H. D. CLUB MEETS AT MRS. SEARS

Mrs. Kellie Sears was hostess to Gomez Home Demonstration Club with twelve ladies answering roll call.

Mrs. Sears was elected delegate to the Texas Home Demonstration association meeting at College Station in August.

An all day meeting was planned for our next meeting. Dress forms for some of the club members will be made.

It was voted at this meeting to shower the hostess at each meet with inexpensive gifts.

Mrs. Alfred Tittle gave a demonstration on textile painting. Refreshments were served to eleven members and one guest, Mrs. Homer Britton.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Jack Mason, June 28, at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Methodist Preachers And Laymen To Meet

Plans for the Texas Methodist Evangelistic Mission Oct. 27 to Nov. 4 in the Dallas-Fort Worth area will be advanced at First Methodist Church, Lubbock, June 28 in a meeting of Northwest Texas Conference preachers and laymen.

Ray H. Nichols of Vernon, Conference lay leader, is inviting every local church lay leader to attend the meeting.

Bishop William C. Martin will preside. Dr. Dawson C. Bryan, minister at the First Methodist Church, Houston, formerly with the Board of Evangelism, will explain the plans to be used.

Dr. Robert E. Goodrich, Jr., pastor at First Methodist Church, Dallas, will be the inspirational speaker at the luncheon.

Rev. Dallas D. Dennison, of Brownfield, is chairman of the Conference Board of Evangelism. Rev. Frank M. Beauchamp, Littlefield, is the Conference secretary of evangelism.

The campaign will be in co-operation with the Houston area where the date is Oct. 5-14. The two areas will exchange preachers so that every Methodist Church in Texas will have a period of visitation-preaching evangelism in the autumn.

"So great an undertaking as this has never before been entered in Texas Methodism," said Bishop Martin, who is also chairman of the nationwide movement for the Advance for Christ and His Church.

Juneteenth Slipped By On Us, Folks

Frankly, we don't think the colored population of Brownfield is yet large enough to take Juneteenth as serious as in some places. But we have noted that the shine boys, and in some cases the dish washers at the cafes usually take the day off. But Tuesday we did not visit a cafe or barber shop.

We understand that in some of the Southern states, the day is celebrated earlier in the year, but in that day, back in the 1860ties, communications were slow, and by the time President Lincoln's proclamation was issued in Texas, it was past the middle of June.

Coincidentally there was another celebration on the 19th here in Brownfield. One of our popular dentists, Dr. W. A. Robertson had a birthday. But he appeared on the scene many years after Juneteenth was born.

Flowers For Late Summer Blossoms

Now is the time to set out young flowers or plant seeds for late summer bloom. Sadie Hatfield, Homestead Improvement Specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College, says the seedlings will come out to take the place of the early flowers as they stop blooming.

The best standby for late summer is the zinnia. This flower comes in many sizes from the tiny "Tom Thumbs" to the "Giant Flowered" and you can have them in double or single blooms in any color. Miss Hatfield recommends the Mexican zinnia, a small, unusual plant, which is easy to grow. She says it is small enough to use in corsages, and the plant re-seeds itself each year.

Another hardy annual flower is the sun-flower. You can get this plant in the single or double blossom, in red or yellow. She especially recommends the red, for it is a true mahogany-like color, which is beautiful. Another similar plant is the Mexican sun-flower or Titonia which grows tall and is a good background, or fence plant.

The yellow cone flower is a hardy native plant which is good for cut flowers, and once started it comes back each year. It is a labor-saving flower.

Other suggestions for late summer annuals are petunias, Princess Feather, snow-on-the-mountain or milk weed, gillardia, marigolds, salvias, vinca or periwinkle, gomphrena or globe amaranth (purple bachelor buttons), and portulaca. The specialist recommends a moderately rich soil with deep watering once a week.

OPS Food Man To Be Here Tuesday

OPS price specialists, in their tours of the district next week, will emphasize to merchants that if they have not complied with the regulations, they should do so immediately in order to continue to operate legally.

Many of the compliance deadlines have already passed and firms which are delinquent should take steps to insure complete compliance, C. J. Taylor, district price executive said. Still other deadlines will be falling due soon.

Every merchant with questions on how to comply should take advantage of the price clinic day program to bring himself up to date with the regulations.

To help businessmen of this area to comply, L. C. Tyson, price specialist in the food branch, will be in Brownfield next Tuesday morning. While he will maintain offices in the Chamber of Commerce in block west of the court house.

Although a specialist in one field, he will be able to answer most questions concerning other businesses, and in any event will help the merchant get the necessary information from the regulations or from the Lubbock district office.

The price clinic day program is co-sponsored by the OPS and local Chambers of Commerce and other civic and community groups and organizations. The price clinic program schedule will continue throughout July, with the specialist visiting this town on the same day of the week through this month and next.

The core was taken from 9,790 to 9,804 feet. The slated 10,600 foot wildcat is in section 6, block E, EL&RR survey.

Six and one-half miles south of Brownfield, Standind Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 C. L. Anderson slated 11,000-foot wildcat in section 120, block T, D&W survey, Wednesday was drilling below 8,484 feet in lime.

Early Day Banker Visits Old Home Town

Once in a great while, some old timer will walk in on us at the office. Some we will finally recognize by either their looks or their voice. But O. T. Haley, a brother of Mrs. W. H. Dallas absolutely had to tell us his name. He began to look natural straightaway, when he called Tuesday afternoon. He now lives at Tulare, Calif., and he and Mrs. Haley are visiting relatives in Texas.

They first visited their son, O. T. Jr., of Colorado Springs, who is a Lt.-Colonel, and is presently with the national defense service, which was moved to the interior of the USA for security reasons. They next visited Mrs. Haley's sister who lives at Canyon, and on down to Brownfield. They still have two sons and two daughters living. Their oldest girl, Dorothy, died some eight years ago.

Had Confidence in Brownfield

When the late W. H. Dallas and his brother-in-law, O. T. Haley, came to Brownfield in 1917 from Big Spring, but fresh out of Missouri, and bought the Brownfield State Bank, they were a pair of optimists if there ever was such. At that time we had a war on, and the most distressing drought that ever hit west Texas. But it finally rained.

We do not mean that it was venturesome to buy a bank, but to build a large two-story brick building in a town of some 400 or 500 people.

The bank was then located in the old two-story wooden building now known as the Commerce Hotel, except that it was located where the Bargain Center is now located. Along about 1918, they purchased the corner lot plus a few feet off another lot south, at Main and Sixth, and turned in and built a two-story bank and office building.

Before moving to California, Mr. Haley moved to Plainview where he helped to organize a new bank. He has not been in the banking business since he went to the west coast, settling first in the Los Angeles area. Says Mr. Haley, "Jack, I never would have known Brownfield, where I used to live, was almost in the country. The only place that looks natural is the old bank building at Main and Sixth."

After a short visit to Midland, they will go to El Paso and take a plane back to Tulare.

"Small Business" Clinic In Ft. Worth

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce this week directed the attention of "small business" of the region to manufacturers' small business clinics to be conducted jointly by the Air Force, Army and Navy in Fort Worth's Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum June 25-30.

Prime contractors of the South, Southwest, Midwest and Rocky Mountains will display products they now are making for the Armed Forces, for inspection of manufacturers who are potential sub-contractors for such work.

Major sub-contractors also will exhibit their products for the benefit of smaller businesses willing to undertake sub-subcontract manufacturing.

The exhibit will be restricted from Monday, June 25, through Friday, June 29, to manufacturers—but on Saturday, June 30—its displays will be open to the public. The three branches of the Armed Forces will combine in a demonstration of military might.

Admission the first five days will be gained upon presentation of business credentials at the registration desk in the Coliseum.

Small business firms interested in the exhibit are being invited to communicate with the Project Officer, Armed Forces Small Business Clinic, P. O. Box 9038, Fort Worth, Texas.

Thrill-Packed Show Coming To Rialto

"Appointment With Danger," the Paramount thrill-film starring Alan Ladd and Phyllis Calvert, which arrives next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Rialto Theatre, has been selected by the Mystery Writers of America as the first motion picture to be awarded the organization's newly-created nomination seal as the best mystery picture of the current year.

The nomination seal is an innovation with the mystery writers, who recently set up a local reviewing board to see all mystery films. The honor given "Appointment With Danger" designated it as the first film of 1951 to be voted by the national membership for annual honors.

"Appointment With Danger" concerns solution of the murder of a postal inspector and the foiling of a million-dollar mail truck robbery. The picture features Paul Stewart, Jan Sterling and Jack Webb and was written by Richard Breen and Warren Duff Lewis Allen directed.

Moths Could Cause Damage Says Agent

Anyone not blind have noted the billions of moths that have appeared here the past week. If you hit tree or shrub in the daytime that has considerable foliage, these moths swarm out like bees. And at night thousands of the things try to get to the lights in the homes.

County Agent Jim Foy stated to the Herald that he had talked with many old timers who had no recollection of ever seeing as many millers or moths as there are here. He said they liked to have winked out an affair out at the Country Club Tuesday night.

Jim says they are not true leaf worm millers, giving them a name that was Greek to us. But, he continued, "in about two weeks these millers' eggs will hatch a bunch of worms, and those worms will be hungry. Just what they will eat, grass, weeds or row crops, we will just have to wait and see. But they can be very destructive."

"If we had a gas flare about every block in town, millions of them would be destroyed," he said. He was rather uneasy, judging from his talk, but he remarked that "sometimes old Mother Nature took a hand, and kindly equalized things."

Meat Prices Must Be Posted By June 25th

Official charts of retail beef cut ceiling prices will be posted in meat shops throughout the country on June 25, says the district OPS office at Lubbock. This date for posting ceiling prices is a week later than previously announced, and was finally selected as the date to allow for last-minute price revisions and distribution.

Housewives can refer to the price charts which must be posted by butchers in a readily visible place, to be sure they pay no more than the ceiling price for beef set for this area. The district OPS explained that the ceiling prices for beef cuts have been determined by geographic zones of the country.

The listed prices are for the cuts that are legally required by OPS. In addition to the posted price charts, retailers are required to have separate grades in separate trays with each tray tagged with its correct price.

New price charts showing lower prices will be effective August 1, and still lower prices will go into effect October 1. After the last reduction, beef will be selling at retail from 8 to 10 cents less, while cattle prices will be about 25 per cent higher than parity.

Along this same line, the Office of Price Stabilization is now engaged in a study of dollar-and-cents price ceilings at wholesale for veal. Provisions for a retail veal price regulation have already been studied. The proposed wholesale and retail ceiling price regulations of veal will be issued together and will be patterned after the beef regulations now in effect.

The district OPS office explained that before the regulations are issued that OPS discusses the problems involved with members of the industry. Both large and smaller packers and wholesalers make up the 13-man industry advisory committee on veal.

Apparel Prices Regulated. Practically all types of men's, women's, children's and infants' apparel is brought under ceiling price regulation at the manufacturing level by the Office of Price Stabilization, the Lubbock district office announces. The new manufacturers' regulation is OPR 45.

Purpose of the new manufacturing regulation which producers must comply with by August 15, is to roll back any cost margins that may have been widened since pre-Korean days, to restore normal cost-price relationships and to grant makers any needed relief from the general freeze order.

In addition to most kinds of garments and underwear, the regulation controls prices on bathing suits, handbags, neckwear, scarves and earmuffs, garment supporters, and other items important in the family budget. The apparel manufacturers' ceiling price regulation

Wish We Could Go To Middleton

Now what in heck possessed Francis L. Simpson back at Middleton, Tenn., to tempt us to go back there July 4th to a big Lion Club celebration. But there it was, all correctly addressed to "The Old He," care-Terry County Herald, Brownfield, Texas, and signed by the above.

It's not to be altogether a Lions' celebration. It is to be a Home Coming as well, at the high school grounds; consisting of barbecue, ice cream, cold drinks, ball games etc.

Last but not least, says the invitation, there will be a lot of my old friends there. And, all other Ex-Middletonites are invited. Thanks, Francis.

Miss Susie Carruth, R. N. and 1st Assistant Superintendent at the Veterans Hospital in Alexandria, La., visited Mrs. J. L. Bandal recently.

(CPR 45) is a further step in the planned program of providing "tailored" or special OPS regulations to cover the needs of each industry and to further hold the value of the buying power of our dollars, the OPS district office said.

District Price Executive C. J. Taylor, reminds sellers of most consumer services that their deadline for filing came last Friday, June 15. However, those who have not posted their ceiling prices on services in their place of business and have not sent along a duplicate copy to the district office, should do so immediately in order to continue to operate their businesses legally.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Folks, I have it. Have what, says Henry. Don't become petulant, I says. We been years getting a big Govt. that is much too big for its britches, so if I take two minutes to tell how to reduce the swelling, I will be doing pretty fair, I says. Okay then, says Henry, but keep it down to two minutes.

Here's how. Have an auction. Folks like auctions. Unload all our U.S.A. tax-eating experiments—left hand and all kinds—clean out, lock, stock and barrel. Sell Bonneville, the TVA, Hungry Horse dam, a couple dozen air-cooled office buildings there along the frazzled Potomac and elsewhere—including the swivel chairs—get out of every kind of venture the Govt. is now in but was not in there in 1776 when we began our climb to greatness. Avoidable debts are piling up from doing things the citizens should be doing at their own expense and risk.

And listen further, the auction plan of mine will bog down without your help. We will go from bad to worse. We will see a big-gity Govt. rationing girdles and false teeth like in Socialist England. We are just a jump behind Europe—a bogged-down Europe.

This auction, if we can get it rolling, by riding congress rough shod we can yet save our bacon—I think—and have a good chunk of mazzuma now going to the income tax gent.

Yours with the low down,
JOE SERRA.

What Are Co-Ops Made Up With?

Most of us when we think of one of our large corporations, are too apt to think only of a few Rockefellers, Morgans and Vanderbilts as the owners and controllers. Formerly, perhaps to their hurt, too many of the large corporations that are familiar almost daily in the lives of the general public, were very reticent about their business in a "publicly damned" attitude. Since the big companies began to give out information regarding themselves, the people are becoming better acquainted with them, and do not feel that largeness means corruption.

Here in Terry county, and the South Plains, perhaps, being used to big things and doing things in a big way, this prejudice against big corporations is, not so pronounced. But in the large cities and thicker populated section of the east, some of the corporations were almost hated a generation ago. A story in point comes out of a middle sized city of Michigan to show that people are changing, and that the former "souless" corporations are just business institutions made up of the savings of the Browns, the Smiths and the Joneses.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady had three small sons, ranging from a few months to six years. He was a veteran of War I, and he and Mrs. Brady had worked hard, and saved some. Considering the future of their sons and their educations, a means of educating them had to be started. They dropped in at their bank and bought $1,078.00 worth of stock in the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

In a few days by invitation of the officials of ATTCo, the Bradys and boys were invited to New York and their fare by plane was paid. This was not because they had bought some over $1,000 in the company. There were thousands of other stockholders.

But according to their records, the Bradys became the 1,000,000 stockholders in ATTCo. They were given a paid vacation and shown the sights of the city.

Can you imagine any other country on earth that has one million stockholders, large and small in just one organization?

Courses in real estate are now offered in 126 universities and colleges, according to the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Economic Highlights

Admirers of crime stories would find plenty to excite their interest in the 195-page report recently made public by Senator Kefauver's crime committee. But this blistering document is a far cry from a piece of fiction. It discloses a situation which, in the view of the investigators, is a direct and growing menace to American institutions. The report gives names, dates and places. Some of the names belong to men who hold or have held high positions in government—city, state and Federal. It describes the sordid tie-up between gamblers, police and politicians in large American cities. Some of the leading lights in the gambling business, it says, are veterans of the old Capone gang. And it charges that once-famous Mafia is the "binder which ties together the two major criminal syndicates as well as numerous other criminal groups through the country." A great many people seem to believe that the big-time gambler and racketeer now thinks of himself as a business man and acts like a business man—including paying his proper taxes. The Kefauver group takes a dim view of this belief. The gamblers make tax returns, true enough, but the committee thinks that these returns are, financially speaking, masterpieces of understatement. The government, it alleges "has been defrauded of huge sums of money in tax revenues by racketeers and gangsters engaged in criminal activities." It further emphasizes, "Huge sums in cash handled by racketeers and gangsters are not reflected in their income tax returns." It is extremely critical of certain tax accountants and tax lawyers who, it says, assisted the mobsters in defrauding the government.

One deduction which can be made from this remarkable, hard hitting report is that the "respectable gambler"—that is, the ordinary citizen who bets a few dollars now and then with his bookie or runs a handful of coins through a slot machine—is making a real and extremely important contribution to the power and wealth of the criminal syndicates. He, in fact, is the man who makes their existence possible. For their revenues come from the millions upon millions of small wagers that are made—not from the activities of a few people who bet thousands on a roll of the dice or a turn of the wheel. And so, this citizen makes all the resulting graft and civic corruption possible as well.

The committee offers 22 specific recommendations where the Federal government might aid in crime prevention. These include tightening up the immigration laws to make it easier to get rid of alien mobsters, a ban on the interstate transmission of gambling information, establishment of a Federal crime commission, and so on. However, it comes to the definite conclusion that crime is a local problem, which "must be attacked primarily at the local level, with supplementary aid, where appropriate, from state and Federal authorities."

This country has witnessed many a crime investigation, but Senator Kefauver's committee was the first to operate on a national scale. It has dredged up an enormous and shocking amount of information. Now it remains to be seen what the various units of government, and the people, will do about it.

Winter Or Summer Hazards To Babies

"Being a baby is a real hazard in either winter or summer but much can be done to avoid or at least lessen some of these hazards that are associated with hot summer days," declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Summer is the season in which death from intestinal disorders has in the past exacted its greatest toll.

"To guard the infant against such danger, care must be taken that his food, especially milk is pure and kept safe. If there is any uncertainty concerning the water supply, the baby should drink only water which has been boiled and cooled and kept covered. The baby and all his food must be protected against flies.

"Baby himself and all the things which he comes in contact should be kept as clean as possible. Plenty of fresh air and sunshine are essential for the best health of the infant. The baby's body should be gradually exposed to the direct rays of the sun; begin with exposure of only part of the skin surface for three to five minutes and slowly increase the area of skin and time once or twice daily.

"Care must be taken to keep the baby free from prickly heat by keeping the skin clean and not too warmly dressed or covered. If the baby is comfortable, he will get his usual amount of sleep and will eat and develop normally. In case the child shows symptoms of any abnormal conditions, the family physician should be consulted at once."

BONE SMASHING SALVES CONSCIENCE

RANGOON.—(AP)—Tin Myint of the Burma Territorial Corps was arrested by police here for smashing a skeleton over the head of a performing street magician. He said, "disgust at the way the man was duping the public" drove him to the act.

Several dams and pools and a large beaver population were found there by a party from the Los Angeles County Fire Department making an annual inspection of the remote area. Where the beavers came from and how they got there has the fire department puzzled.

Texans In Washington

By Tex Easley
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP)—The coastal states, in their fight for control of oil-rich submerged lands, lose possibly their No. 1 advocate in Congress with the resignation from the House of Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls.

Just who will take over when he leaves for Dallas July 31 to start work as the chief lawyer for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., hasn't been decided.

It probably will be Rep. Francis E. Walter, Pennsylvania Democrat.

Although Walter is now chairman of the House Judiciary subcommittee which handles tideland legislation, and introduced the pending bill to give the states quit-claim title to the property; it has been Gossett who really has carried the burden of the fight.

Texas Attorney General Price Daniel was among those who wired Gossett when reports circulated that he had the telephone company job under consideration. Daniel pleaded that Gossett reject the proposition because of his value to Texas, Louisiana and California in their fight for ownership of the tidelands.

In that regard, it is known that Gossett announced his acceptance of the new position only after much deliberation and after virtually all of his colleagues had advised him to make the move.

The determining factor, he said, was the fact that he has a wife and five small children. In a few years he expects to have three of his children in college at the same time.

As a congressman he gets just half the amount he will receive after August 1.

BEAVERS TAKE TO SUNNIER CLIME

NEWHALL, Calif.—(AP)—Southern California has beavers, too, and less than 50 miles from Los Angeles. A thriving colony of the aquatic animals, generally found in the northern states, was discovered recently high in Soledad Canyon east of here.

Several dams and pools and a large beaver population were found there by a party from the Los Angeles County Fire Department making an annual inspection of the remote area.

Where the beavers came from and how they got there has the fire department puzzled.

Motor Tours For 4-H Members

Motor tours of the Texas A. & M. College campus are planned for 4-H Club members who will be on the campus Monday, June 25 to take part in the state 4-H elimination programs. Each tour is expected to take about one hour.

These tours will give the boys and girls an opportunity to see the campus and provide them with something to do, either before or after they are through competing in the contests, said Mrs. Eloise T. Johnson, chairman of the State 4-H Roundup planning committee.

Individual and group tours have been encouraged in past years, but the large area that A. & M. College covers and the usual hot weather during Roundup have made walking tours unsatisfactory.

In addition to the tours, recreation activities for 4-H members will be conducted all day Monday at the Grove, an outdoor recreation center at A. & M. Athletic games, musical games and other activities are planned.

A 4-H party will be held at the Grove Monday evening for all contestants and other 4-H members who arrive on the campus Monday to participate in the State 4-H Roundup scheduled for the following two days.

Buick's newest engine—the F-263 Fireball—gives this year's SPECIAL the highest power in SPECIAL history

Remember—only BUICK has a FIREBALL ENGINE

WE get a chuckle, sometimes, over all the fuss that's being made about "new engines." You'll note that the key feature of their design in every case is the valve-in-head principle—whether these engines are already in production or still in the dream stage. Fact is, it takes this design to get the most from "high compression"—and how high you can go depends upon the available fuel. Using this design, wartime aircraft engines operated on 100 octane gasoline. It also takes this design to get the more-miles-per-gallon which folks like in an automobile. So what gives us a chuckle is this: No other type of engine has ever been used in a Buick—which means that Buick owners, all along, have been getting a lot of things that others have just "discovered."

When you come to check the field you'll find that there's a sweet freedom from roughness to this engine's operation—tracing to the fact that the whole mechanism itself is engineered smooth, and the further fact that every Fireball Engine gets a Micropoise balancing after assembly.

But that's not all. They get something more—vastly more—because today's Fireball Engine has one standout feature found in no other automobile. That name "Fireball" isn't just a trick word. It describes what happens inside this engine. Inrushing fuel rolls into a swirling ball of gasoline vapor compacted around the spark plug. And when the fat spark sets it off, a cyclone of power lets go. Of course, a Fireball Engine, being a valve-in-head, keeps pace with high-test fuel, when it comes to "high compression." But what's more important in the present state of the world is this: A Fireball Engine is designed to handle the not-so-high-test fuel we may be getting in the not-too-distant future. So, if you want to sample all that's fine in motorcar engines, your Buick dealer is the man to see. Come in soon, and find out what the rest of the world has been missing.

Kirschners Visitors Here Monday

Sam Kirschner and son, Martin, were visitors in our city Monday, both presently residing in Lubbock. Sam and Mrs. Kirschner started the Brownfield Bargain Center, their first store in this area. For many years they went it alone while the sons were in college. Martin came during the war, and Jerry later, as he was an army officer.

Since that time, the Kirschners have spread to several other towns, but all the other stores go under the name, Martin Department Stores. They have stores at Stamford, Lamesa, Littlefield, Plainview and Munday, as well as the local store. They have made general headquarters at Lubbock, but no store there presently.

FAMOUS OUTLAW HORSES FEATURED IN JAYCEE RODEO

"Pikes Peak" is a familiar landmark near Colorado Springs, Colorado, but to hundreds of the top cowboys in big-time rodeo circles, "Pikes Peak" is one of the toughest broncs they've ever come out of a chute on. This picture shows "Pikes Peak" three jumps from the chute, at a recent Elliott-Stainer rodeo; three seconds later there was a lot of dust, loud squeals, a groan or two—and another cowboy lay scattered in the dust of the arena!

Like his namesake, the mountain, "Pikes Peak" comes out high steep and slick. He's a tough one to get with, for his gyrations are not the spontaneous, spur-of-the-moment jumps the ordinary bronc makes in trying to get rid of the man on his back. "Pikes Peak" thinks if ever a horse did think, and each jump he makes is the result of cold, hard calculation. Watch for this cowboy-crippler at the Elliott-Stainer produced Brownfield Jaycee Rodeo, that will be held here June 28-29-30.

THRILLS AND SPILLS WILL HIGHLIGHT LOCAL RODEO

Last year when this photo of Abner Payner was taken, he had just parted company with "Blue Moon," a famous bareback bronc that is now one of the "Wild Bill" Elliott-Tommy Steiner bucking horses. "Blue Moon" is a sensational horse, and one to watch for when the chute gates start to swing open June 28-29-30 at the big three-day Rodeo.

"Blue Moon" has a record in the Southwest that few rodeo horses have been able to match since the beginning of big-time rodeo. He's spoiled the averages of more good cowboys in the bareback events than any other horse in this part of the country. While he's not a big horse, as horses go, his speed and snappiness make him one of the toughest broncs to qualify on in rodeo.

"Blue Moon" was destined to be a roping horse, but some event in his early life stirred up enough resentment of humans to prevent his ever submitting to being ridden. Not too much is known of his history, except that he came from one of the smaller cattle ranches in western Oklahoma, and that he had been well started as a ranch roping horse before he decided he liked to pitch more than he liked to work. The boy who had started him with an idea of using the big blue roan for rodeo calf-roping sold him to an Oklahoma rodeo contractor after suffering a broken arm in a fall. A year later he wound up in the Steiner rough string—and you'll see him as a star performer of the Elliott-Stainer produced Brownfield Rodeo, June 28-29-30.

HERE COMES THE BRIDE IN ALL HER GLORY

Golla! June must be the marrying month. For instance, last week six couples applied to County Clerk H. M. (Dube) Pycaat for the necessary instrument that would bind the lad and lassie "so long as death do not you part."

Anyway, we hope all the newly weds have the greatest enjoyment in double harness, and that the blessings of heaven rest upon each of them. We also hope that they will all choose to make this area their home. Those applying for marriage license were:

Carl Johnson Jr. and Miss Virginia Chambliss; James Elwood Fox and Miss Majorie Jeanne Graham; James C. Gandy and Miss Geraldine Martin; Larry W. Rambo and Miss Betty Ann Ferguson; Donald Albert Ethington and Miss Bonnie Dean Lewallen; Elmer Glenn Herring and Miss Alvis Charlene Reid.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends for the good food, flowers, help and expressions of sympathy during the recent loss of our loved one—The Stice Family.

Prentice Walker, Jack Shirley and Jerry Kirschner of Lubbock are playing in the Pro-Am Golf Tournament being held at Hobbs Country Club this week.

CAREFREE CASEY—Manager of the world's champion Yankees, Casey Stengel, has a way of looking unworried even when beset by the most crucial crises. And so it was small wonder that New York catcher Yogi Berra looked incredulous as his boss put on a carefree juggling act even while a Yankee relief expert walked towards the Yankee Stadium mound vacated by Tommy Byrne after the Detroit Tigers cut loose with a three-run second-inning attack.

DEADLY RIBBONS—Belts of 30 caliber ammunition make a pleasing, but deadly pattern, as Pfc. William Habjanitz, of Pittsburgh, Pa., checks them for defective rounds somewhere on the Korean front.

Virginia Chambliss, Bride-Elect, Honored

Miss Virginia Chambliss, bride-elect of Carl Johnson, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower Tuesday afternoon, June 12, from 3 until 7 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Hubert H. Heath. Assisting Mrs. Heath were Mesdames: Robert Noble, Everett Latham, C. E. Ross, Grady Goodpasture, A. W. Turner, Frank Dyemartin, Clemmie Hamilton, F. G. White, Oscar Tyler, Helen Norris, H. B. Grant, Fred Stumpp, W. E. Pool, Peachy Leach, Henry Newman, R. M. Moorhead, Gladys Moorhead. Also D. L. Patton, E. B. McBurnett, Sr., E. L. Redford, Odell Sears, and T. J. Sexton, Misses Nelda Key, Ina Nell White and Bonnie Chappelle.

Mrs. Goodpasture greeted the guests and presented them to a receiving line composed of the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Loyd Chambliss, Mrs. Carl Johnson and Mrs. Heath.

Piano selections were played throughout the afternoon by Mrs. J. E. Smith and Mrs. Jimmy Moore.

Miss Terry Lou Moorhead presided at the bride's book. The register table was decorated with a crystal bowl of pansies tied with a lavender satin bow. The bride elect's chosen colors of lavender and white were carried out throughout the receiving room.

The bride-elect's table was laid with a white linen lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of white and lavender gladioli flanked with lavender tapers. A miniature bride and groom standing beneath a heart-shaped archway of pansies and greenery decorated the buffet.

Line sherbert punch, lavender and white iced cakes, mints and nuts were served by Misses Bonnie Dyemartin and Norma Newman.

Approximately 55 guests called.

CLUB LUNCHEON HELD WEDNESDAY

The regular monthly luncheon of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brownfield Country Club was held Wednesday, June 13 at one o'clock, with Mrs. J. O. Gilliam as chairman for the occasion. Assisting Mrs. Gilliam were Mesdames Alfred Gore, Grady Goodpasture, and Sawyer Graham.

After the luncheon bridge and canasta were played. Mrs. John Cloud won high in canasta with high in bridge going to Mrs. Kenneth Watkins. Mrs. Roy Wingerd and Mrs. Gilliam bigged.

Next luncheon date will be July 11.

GRANDMOTHER IS HONORED WITH PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Skiles and sons, James Harvey and Donald Wayne of Brownfield, spent the weekend in Stamford where they attended an open house held for Mr. Skiles' grandmother, Mrs. Susan Emeline Justice, who is 89 years of age.

A buffet dinner was held in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lillie Skiles, with whom she makes her home. Sixty-one relatives and friends attended the dinner.

Open house was held in the afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock. Approximately 130 friends called throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. Skiles has 14 grandchildren, 41 great-grandchildren, and 18 great-great-grandchildren. She received many lovely and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Murchenson of Galveston are the parents of a son born May 14. He has been named John III. Mrs. Murchenson is the former Francis Rambo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Rambo.

Miss Ann Lingle, student at Texas University, was home for a short time between semesters.

Ferguson-Rambo Rites Solemnized

MRS. LARRY W. RAMBO

The marriage of Miss Betty Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ferguson and Larry W. Rambo was solemnized Friday, June 15 at 7:30 p. m. in the Presbyterian Church in Brownfield. Rev. Tom Keenan read the double-ring services.

An organ prelude of "Dream of Love," "I Love You Truly" and "Oh, Sweet Mystery of Life" was offered by Miss Judy Griffin. She accompanied Miss Kay Szydoski as she sang "Why Do I Love You" and "Because." "Love's Old Sweet Song" was played as the candles were lighted and "To An Evening Star" during the ceremony.

The altar was decorated with emerald and ferns, pink tapers in candelabra and baskets of gladioli. The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length dress of pink shadowed organza over pink organza and taffeta. Her finger tip veil of imported

MRS. MIKE BARRETT HOSTESS TO CLUB

The Gala Bridge Club met Thursday evening, June 14 at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. Mike Barrett.

Mrs. R. N. Lowe scored high, and Mrs. Frank Ballard second high. Mrs. Herb Chesshir and Mrs. Doug Jones won bingo prizes.

A sandwich plate was served to Mesdames Orb Stice, Harmon Howze, Lowe, Ballard, Chesshir, Jones and Miss Sue Jones.

silk illusion was attached to a small cap of the organza trimmed with pleated ruffles of organza. She wore pink satin opera pumps and organza mitts. She carried a white orchid, showered with stephanotis atop a white satin Bible. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. In carrying out the tradition of something old and new, borrowed and blue she wore a small gold filigree pin which had belonged to her maternal great-grandmother and been handed down to her mother.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Harley Starnes. She wore a ballerina length dress of rose organza over taffeta made shirtwaist style with full gathered skirt and tie belt. Rhinestone buttons trimmed the waist. Her matching organza hat was made with a wide ruffle to frame her face. White lace gloves and white opera pumps completed her ensemble. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses, orchid and pink carnations.

Bridesmaids and bridesmaid were Mrs. Billy Blankenship, Mrs. Jack Tankersley, Mrs. David Perry and Miss Betty Granger, of San Antonio, college classmates of the bride. Their dresses and hats were made identical to the matron of honor, of green organza over green taffeta. They wore white lace gloves and carried colonial bouquets.

Candlelighters were Miss Van Forbes and Miss Barbara Beard, who wore orchid organza.

James Rambo, of San Antonio, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsman were Lee Hughes, Pat McMillan, Jack Bynum and Robert Ferguson, brother of the bride.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Seleta Jane Brownfield Clubhouse. The couple was assisted in receiving by their parents and the matron of honor.

The bride's table was laid with a cut work cloth over pink and centered with a memory candle in an arrangement of pink carnations. The wedding ring cake was iced in pink decorated with pink roses and stephanotis.

Members of the house party were Mesdames Hayden Griffin, J. R. Watson, J. T. Hoy, Jack Stricklin, Jr., Clemmie Hamilton, David Platt and Miss Wanda Stafford.

For traveling the bride chose a two piece dress of navy and white linen with white accessories.

After a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Farmington, N. M.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wyman of Levelland, Mrs. Myrtle Gerst and James Gerst, of Austin.

Rivers-Cavitt Vows Held Sunday, June 3

In a candlelight ceremony read in the Crescent Hill Church of Christ, June 3 at 3 o'clock p. m., Miss Anne Rivers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rivers became the bride of Samuel Cavitt.

Jimmie Wood, minister of the church, officiated for the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of lavender gladioli and palms, with lavender tapers in branched candelabra.

Traditional wedding music and recordings by the Broadway Church of Christ of Lubbock and Horace Hoffman of "I Love You Truly" and "Because" were played.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white slipper satin fashioned with long fitted sleeves ending in points over the hands and a full skirt which fell into a train. Her veil of French imported illusion fell from a lace cap ornamented by a halo of seed pearls.

She carried a bridal arrangement of white roses with satin streamers centered by a white orchid.

For something old, the bride wore the wedding band belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ella Price. A strand of pearls from the bridegroom was something new and her garters were blue. A linen handkerchief belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Calvin Phillips, was something borrowed and she wore a penny in her shoe given to her by her father for good luck.

Miss Virginia Martin attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a lavender taffeta dress fashioned like the bridal gown with matching net mitts and a halo of net and rosebuds. Her bouquet was of lavender gladioli.

Garland Cavitt, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Ray Roberson and Miss Billie Jean Rivers. Their dresses of pink and green were fashioned identically to that of the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of carnations matching their dresses.

Ushers were Davy Cavitt, brother of the bridegroom, and Foy McWilliams, uncle of the bride.

A reception in the Rivers home was held immediately following the ceremony. The couple was assisted in the receiving line by their parents and members of the wedding party. Miss Patsy Phillips presided at the register.

The bride's table was laid with lace cloth over lavender and centered with an arrangement of snapdragons. Flanking this arrangement were lavender tapers in crystal candelabra. White napkins were lettered in silver with the names of the couple. Miss Billie Jean Rivers assisted by Mrs. Ray Roberson, served punch and cake. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom and was iced in white.

The couple will be at home in the Gilpark Apartments in Brownfield after a wedding trip to Utah and Ruidoso, New Mexico. For traveling the bride wore an off white linen suit and lizardator accessories and pinned an orchid corsage to her lapel.

Warren-Hogue Rites Held In Levelland

MRS. CARL HOGUE

Miss Barbara Warren became the bride of Carl Hogue in a ceremony held in the First Baptist Church of Levelland on June 3 at 2:30 in the afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Warren of Levelland. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hogue, Sr., of Brownfield.

Rev. J. H. Wright, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Levelland, officiated before an altar banked with pink, gladioli and greenery.

The arch was decorated with pink carnations and blue daisies with tapers in the background.

Mrs. Don Raymond, pianist, accompanied Mary Eathery as she sang "Oh, Sweet Mystery of Life," and Anette Rawls, who sang "Because." Together they sang "Indian Love Call."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of imported Chantilly-type lace over satin and net fashioned with a sheer yoke-outlined with pleated ruche and centered with seed pearls. The fitted bodice had long sleeves ending in points over the hands and a slender point at center front accenting the tiny waistline. Joining this, an immense skirt, made with a net petticoat with a wide ruffle, and shirred at the waistline swept into a long and graceful train.

She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of pink rose buds centered with an orchid with white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Mrs. Warren McCraw of Ruidoso, New Mexico, sister of the bride. She wore a strapless gown of taffeta with an overskirt of net with matching stole. Mitts and a julialet cap matched her dress. She carried a colonial bouquet.

Misses Ann Taylor and Jacquelyn Fryar of Levelland were bridesmaids. They wore gowns fashioned identically to that of the maid of honor.

Boyd Hogue of Levelland, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were G. A. Warren, Jr., of Levelland, brother of the bride, T. C. Hogue, Jr., of Brownfield, brother of the groom, Royce Lynn Hogue of El Paso, cousin of the groom, and Dick Heath of Lubbock.

Ring bearers were Doug and Don Hill of Big Spring, cousins of the bride, and Velta Warren of Levelland and June McCraw of Ruidoso, New Mexico, served as flower girls. Petals were strewn by Jella McCraw of Ruidoso.

A reception was held at the church immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Dick Heath presided at the punch service assisted by Mrs. Harban McCraw.

Out-of-town guests were from Big Spring, Lubbock, Brownfield, Ruidoso, Bowie and Knott.

For traveling the bride wore a two-piece aqua suit with beige accessories and pinned an orchid corsage to her lapel. After a wedding trip to Santa Fe and other points in New Mexico, the couple are at home in Brownfield where Mr. Hogue is engaged in farming.

The bride is a graduate of Levelland High School and the groom is a graduate of the Brownfield High School.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—I am a serviceman covered by $10,000 indemnity. What happens to the money if I die without naming a beneficiary?

A—The indemnity will be paid to your wife if you are married; to your child or children, if your wife is not living; to your parent or parents if you have no wife or children, or to your brothers or sisters if you have no one in any of the other categories.

Q—I am training several veterans on-the-job under the GI Bill in my automobile repair shop and I plan to grant a slight raise in the wage scale they are receiving. How do I go about it?

A—You must notify the State Approving Agency in your State. The agency will then notify VA, at which time necessary adjustments in subsistence payments will be made.

Q—I am a Korean campaign veteran in receipt of compensation for a service-connected disability. If I show a need for it, would I be eligible for Public Law 16 training?

A—You may be eligible if you are in need of training to overcome the handicap of your disability, and your disability resulted directly from armed conflict or during extra-hazardous service. Both requirements must be met.

Q—Is a veteran who lost his sight for reasons not connected with military service entitled to VA's special aids to the blinded?

A—Yes—provided the veteran is entitled to compensation for any service-connected disability. However, need not be blindness itself.

IT'S HEAVY!

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He

Speaking again of chiggers and huge moluka spent to find out more about them, as if everyone didn't already know: That they bite; that the place where they bite will itch, and the more you scratch, the more it will itch, as per the great announcement coming out of Washington. Let us state here and now that the Medical Department of Baylor U. at Dallas, has also been making some study of the chigger.

But praise the Lord and pass the ammunition, Baylor U. is not making a huge charge against taxpayers for their findings. On exhibition in the laboratory of the university, is a huge enlarged picture of Mr. Chigger, says the Dallas News, and the chigger is not an insect but a spider specie. And in their early life as a chigger they just have six legs, but later they grow two more, and turn pinkish in color. Then they are Redbugs. Oh happy day!

Then there is that old chestnut about the local bankers that will loan you money if you DON'T need it. This may be the case in some sections, but does not fit in at Brownfield. If you are worthy and really not a deadbeat, Brownfield bankers will accommodate you to any reasonable amount as a loan.

The old joke goes on then about how the bankers train in front of a mirror to say NO, sorter like Stalin's representatives. And don't forget the one eyed banker, whose glass eye always looked the most sympathetic.

Here's one to put in your pipe and smoke. Young people are not the only ones that made our USA population shoot sky high in the past fifty years. The oldsters had a hand in the pie, believe it or not. Here's some population figures to study:

In 1900 only 9.2 per cent of the population was under five years of age. Only 3.1 per cent of them were over 65. The 1950 figures shows that 16.3 per cent were under five, and the oldsters over 65 years of age had reached 12.3 per cent of our population.

We think it OK for President Truman to forcibly bring to the attention of the nation the huge losses annually from traffic accidents. But, on the other hand, we think he used poor judgement in comparing the annual traffic losses in our streets and highways to our losses in Korea. In the first place the comparison does not set well with folks who have lost a close relative in Korea.

Then too, the population of Americans in Korea sent over to shoot and be shot at placed at some 300,000 is hardly comparable to the 150,000,000 people in high powered automobiles in the USA, turned loose on highways numbering some 50 million presently, to sweep along at 70 to 90 miles per hour. Some also with too much liquor added to the high octane gas. A pitiful comparison, we think.

And thinking of our fighting men overseas brings to mind Flag Day which we observed here in a small way last Thursday. And we think it about time for Jim Miller to give us another article on Flag Etiquette. Not a few were heard to ask last Thursday why the flags were out.

Then there is some that fail to half-mast or half staff flags in the forenoon on Memorial Day. Sad to relate however, that the last large bunch of flags sold in this city are unmovable on the staff. So, a lot of business men did not put these flags out till afternoon. These flags should never have been sold.

We see where the Stanton Reporter, a weekly paper in a small county seat town down on the Tay & Pay, has been sold to a few men, and as Andy of the famous Amos and Andy team would say, "incapacitated."

There seems to be a growing fashion these days to incorporate or limit this, that and the other. Well, the Herald is in the incorporation of Brownfield. It is also limited—very limited.

Back to the bankers, we learn that one customer confided to his banker recently that his "sailing" was not altogether as smooth as it once was just a few years ago. His banker replied: "Well, you don't expect to make any money now, do you? What with the hel, higher wages, high material and higher taxes, what do you expect?"

That just about covers the ground, if you ask us. But many of us are still wondering why the government continues its "business as usual" non-essential spending. Do they want to kill the goose that laid the golden egg?

While speaking of the country and the government, many of us unthoughtfully call our country a "Democracy." It is not a Democracy, but a Republic. This is cited both in the Constitution and the Pledge to the Flag. Russia claims to be a Democracy. If they have a Democracy, we don't want one.

We know we are sticking our neck out, but Lord-a-massy, what trouble our pretty little brides go to in order to get hitched to some guy. There are the showers, the receptions and even rehearsals if there is to be a church wedding. Days and days are spent on the "trusaw," and even the bridesmaids must be just so so.

They must get off on the right foot, and the feeties must hit the carpet in 1-1000th of a second, timed to Mr. Mendelsohn's March. After we had recited all the above to the Mrs., her reply was—"the gals get a kick out of it." But do they ever consider the feelings of the poor bridegroom?

Anyway, at best these long, drawnout affairs put a crimp in the old man's bank account. Of course we have no statistics on the matter, but we just wonder if the elaborate affair put on by many couples, have any better staying hitched power than the simple, short journey to the home of the parson or Justice of the Peace? We wonder?

Being as it may be, and let freedom ring, that permits all and sundry to marry just as they like. But the wedding of Mrs. Blue Graham's daughter brings back to mind another wedding we saw some 42 years ago. That was when her grandparents, the late A. E. Graham and Miss Allie Sawyer had a church wedding at the old wooden Methodist Church here. In fact it was the only church building in Brownfield at that time.

And while we are standing corrected, the Mrs. also says the new kind of water cooler our daughter, Sallie gave us for Dad's Day, holds a gallon, not just a half gallon as we reported. And we got some more things.

The son's family presented us with a pound can of our old favorite, Prince Albert smoking tobacco. And our darling little girl friends, Jonelda and Becky Oakley of Lamesa, had Brownfield Floral deliver a carnation Sunday morning. These little girls never forget us on Dad's Day or

SQUATTERS TAKE OVER MAILBOX

HAMILTON—(AP)—A pair of sparrows took over squatters' rights in a mailbox at the home of William Yearday. He cooperated by placing a sign on the box "Please leave mail under the door; birds have taken over." Shortly after, there were four eggs in the nest.

FIVE NEWCOMERS ACCOUNTED FOR

According to records available, which may or may not be all, there were five new folks, some perhaps with a wife or wife and family, that came to Brownfield the past week to make this their home temporarily or permanently.

They were Henry H. Williamson, from Littlefield; Samuel Cavitt, Levelland; Charles L. Stark, Sweetwater; Claud Lormand of Baytown, and Basu Lee Goss of Sweetwater.

Those leaving were Bud Emory to Morton; J. A. Mitchell to Lubbock; William F. Richardson to Ft. Worth.

DANIEL ENDS MACEO GAMBLING WIRE SERVICE

Attorney General Price Daniel, left, obtains a court order from District Judge Jack Roberts of Austin stopping the Maceo gambling syndicate of Galveston from using telephone wires and equipment to bring horse race gambling information into Texas.

KOREAN "CONCERTINAS" WELCOME REDS—These Korean civilians clad in Government issue help American soldiers fashion barbed wire "Concertinas" which will join the full orchestra of booming Yankee artillery, staccato machine gun fire, and screaming bombs. This rhythmic combo plays fearful melodies for the Communists in Korea without a let up, but the Reds don't seem to appreciate good music.

FEEL ITS NEW EASE! . . . With sensational new Hydraguide power steering four-fifths of the work is done for you at your touch on the wheel! The littles lady can park the biggest Chrysler with two fingers . . . drive all day with freedom from arm fatigue!

ENJOY ITS NEW CONTROL . . . You can't imagine the feel of complete command this new kind of steering gives you. In city traffic . . . on awkward driveways . . . in snug garage doorways . . . you never felt steering control like it.

DRIVE WITH THIS NEW SAFETY! It not only makes steering four-fifths easier . . . but many times safer, too. Takes out the strain driving in ruts, sand, snow or cross-country. Even off the road onto a soft shoulder, Hydraguide helps keep your car steady with almost no effort!

This year, for the first time on any American passenger car, Chrysler presents the new principle of Hydraguide hydraulic power steering. It's not "in the future" . . . it's out on the road NOW! It is being called the most important automotive achievement since the development of the self starter. People who try it—even after hearing about it from friends—are completely surprised and delighted at the totally new ease and control Hydraguide gives them at the wheel. It is regular equipment on Crown Imperials, optional at extra cost on other Imperial and New Yorker models. Your Chrysler dealer invites you to try it for yourself.

PSYCHIATRIC JABBERWOCKY SLICE BEING URGED

SAN FRANCISCO.—(AP)—Dr. Karl Bowman, a psychiatrist at the University of California Medical Center here, has suggested the elimination of three psychiatric terms: "psychosis," "neurosis," and "psychoneurosis."

have become almost meaningless because psychiatrists cannot agree on their definitions. Moreover, he stated, the terms have little or no scientific basis. The psychiatrist recommends that all mental ailments be classified under three general classes of mental disorders: "mild," "moderate" or "severe."

VICIOUS BULLS AND OUTLAW BRONCS TO FEATURE ELLIOTT-STEINER JAYCEE RODEO TO BE HELD HERE JUNE 28-29-30

When the chute gates open on "Yellow Fever," a top bareback bronc in the Elliott-Steiner rodeo string, the cowboy whose spurs are in his shoulders will have to take a deep hold to last more than the first jump. "Yellow Fever" has lost the best of the top cowboys, and is typical of the bronses and bulls Tommy Steiner has scoured the Southwest for. His strings of rough stock are the largest, roughest and best in the entire southwestern part of the country. "Yellow Fever" has quite a record, and a unique background—one that particularly fits him for the job he holds in the rodeo world. He was foaled a few years back in the BRASADA, Maverick County, Texas, and until he was past four years old had never felt the touch of rope or human. A Maverick County rancher finally caught the big dun stud, and in the process of bringing him in, lost two cowboys and three horses to the hospital and glue factory. Two more top ranch hands suffered broken bones and plenty of bruises before the boss decided to give the big yellow horse up as an outlaw, and "Yellow Fever" was mighty close to his Maker until a small rodeo producer happened by and offered the rancher ten dollars for the man-killer. Two years at coming out of the chutes developed this horse's resistance to man to a free art. Tommy Steiner saw the horse lose his rider at several small shows before he approached the producer, and he had to pay the price of a top cutting horse before "Yellow Fever" became a Steiner bronc. This is typical of the care in selection that resulted in the bucking stock you'll see at the Jaycee Rodeo, June 28-29-30th.

REHEARSES OWN FUNERAL

BURLINGTON, Colo.—(AP)—J. W. Gernhart 75, doesn't expect to die for several years, but he wants to be sure he has the funeral service he wants.

With that in mind, the Burlington man will direct a trial run here June 3. He has asked a Colorado Springs minister to deliver the sermon. He made arrangements for a singer four years ago. He has designated eight regular and 24 honorary pallbearers. The entire service will be recorded. It will be played after his death. "Then I'll know what's going on," Gernhart explains.

NEW LOOK FOR TIRES

AKRON, O.—(AP)—Passenger car tires that are dirty and dingy after winter and spring driving can be made to look bright and black again in a few minutes.

Only a little effort is required to do the trick, reports the B. F. Goodrich Co. Use a tablespoon of detergent in a pailful of cold water and whip up some suds. After washing the tires with a rag or stiff brush, rinse them well with clear water. Dry with a clean cloth to regain the new look. Avoid using gasoline, kerosene or any other petroleum product.

IRISHMEN LIKE BACHELOR LIFE

DUBLIN.—(AP)—Although Ireland once had a reputation as a land of romantic lovers, statistics show that the marriage rate is far below most European countries.

Officials are hoping that this year's census will show that marriage is staging a comeback.

The 1946 census showed that only two out of five Irishmen between 30 and 34 years old were married—the lowest proportion in the world.

CROCODILE FOSTER FAMILY

MELBOURNE.—(AP)—Two Ballarat sportsmen are about to become "foster-fathers" to 30 man-eating crocodiles.

Bill Rowe and John Hutchinson brought the crocodile eggs from Queensland. Four have already hatched, other are cracking.

Hutchinson said they would take care of the young crocodiles in a special pool, with infra-red ray heating, keep them a few months, then give them to zoos.

MacArthur Speaks at Alamo

General of the Army Douglas MacArthur speaks to a large crowd in front of the Alamo, Texas shrine, in San Antonio. He charged that Secretary of State Acheson used Russian-type propaganda in defending a 1949 state department document which said Formosa had no special military significance. To left of microphones is Mrs. MacArthur while Gen. Jonathan Wainwright sits beside her. Arthur MacArthur (white cap) sits directly behind Wainwright. (AP Wirephoto).

Dr. Hill Has Right Slant On Sel. Serv.

Dr. J. A. Hill, president emeritus of West Texas State College in Canyon, strongly disagrees with the Selective Service system of deferring students from the draft on the basis of intelligence tests.

Expressing his views in an article placed in the Congressional Record by Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa, Dr. Hill said the examination procedure will overlook "an emotional quotient, an E. Q. that is equally important."

"When the government tells a boy, after some kind of examination or test, that he has been selected to go to Korea instead of college what will be the effect upon his personality?" asks the veteran educator.

"Here is a youth, 18, 19, or 20 years of age—still in the formative stage of life—not having yet come to himself—perhaps lacking in earlier opportunity—still wrestling for the control of his physical appetites—but having vast resources, unknown even to himself and undiscoverable through any known instrumentality (and there are millions of such)—to him Uncle Sam steps up, applies a very fallible measuring stick, decides he is just medium or less in intelligence, tattoos him accordingly, and sends him off to be shot at.

"What will be that boy's mental and moral reaction to such treatment? Either he will accept the government's evaluation of himself, or he will resent it with all the animus of his soul."

EAST GERMAN LEATHER BRINGS COMPLAINTS

BERLIN.—(AP)—East Germany is complaining sharply about the cracks in its leather industry.

The Soviet zone is especially strapped for good shoes. The Communist form of "self criticism" has given the East Germans the courage to flood the controlled press with daily beefs about the quality of leather, once Germany's pride. (West German leather is first class.)

The official Red Army newspaper, "Taegliche Rundschau" acknowledged the mounting complaints by saying editorially: "The quality has not been improved but on the contrary has deteriorated."

This is a pretty serious charge to level at the "Five-Year Plan." Fe Magazine.

Here's the Answer

SHE GOT HIS NUMBER—LITERALLY

FAIRMONT, W. Va.—(AP)—Police desk sergeant asked a woman who came in to report an accident the routine question, "Did you get the other car's license number?"

"You're doggoned right I did," snapped the woman, who said her car was hit by another vehicle in a parking lot.

"Here it is," she added, tossing a battered license plate on the sergeant's desk. The woman said she tore it loose after the man knocked her to the pavement.

MILL ON THE DENTAL FLOSS

A long-winded lecturer had been holding forth for over an hour, except for brief pauses from time to time to gulp a hasty drink of water. Finally, during one such intermission, an old man in the audience leaned toward his neighbor and announced in a loud whisper: "First time I ever saw a windmill run by water!"—Santa Fe Magazine.

EXTRA WIVES CREATE DOMESTIC TROUBLE

RANGOON.—(AP)—A wealthy business woman of Mandalay wants a divorce from her husband because living with him "makes it impossible for me to maintain the kind of a home I want."

The woman told a divorce court that during the 11 years of their married life her husband has taken four lesser wives and had affairs "with innumerable maid servants" in her employ.

THOSE WOMEN INSURANCE WORKERS

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—A woman rammed her automobile into that of Bruce Lovelace, chief criminal deputy of Tulsa county.

He got out of his car and asked for her insurance papers.

"I don't have any," she replied.

"Where do your work?" Lovelace asked.

"At an insurance office," was the answer.

Crop Dusters Should Have A License

Numerous reports of crop damage from hormone herbicides, such as 2,4-D, are coming into the Commissioner's office daily. The majority of these crop damages are being caused by people using this chemical who are without State license to do so. Such license may be obtained from the State Department of Agriculture upon application in writing for a nominal fee.

People using 2,4-D or any of its derivatives should bear this in mind. In addition to a general law protecting people against injury, there is a special law governing the use and sale of 2,4-D or any of its derivatives in many of the counties in Texas. Such local officials as the county judge, the county attorney, or perhaps the county agent and vocational teacher in agriculture can give advice on the contents of this special law regulating the use and sale of these chemicals referred to above, commonly called "weed killers."

In enforcing this law which he is charged, the Commissioner's first desire is to prevent any violations that are possible. For that reason he is asking the press and radio to call peoples' attention to such a law. The violations are too widespread and the injuries are too extensive over the State.

A "day of reckoning" is coming to a lot of folk if they do not observe the provisions of this law regulating the use and sale of these "weed killers."

Briefly, users of these "weed killers" should be registered with the State Department of Agriculture showing they have a bond, permit or license. The sellers of this chemical should do the same. The law requires this in many of the counties in Texas, and as stated above, your local officials know to which counties this law applies. In such counties, the Department is obliged to inspect your 2,4-D spraying equipment and many inspect the land where it is to be used. All this is for the purpose of protecting valuable crops such as cotton, legumes, shrubs, and vegetables against injury; and at the same time allow producers of such crops as grass, small grain, and rice to kill out their weeds and brush.

By all working together and using precaution, 2,4-D and its derivatives can save Texas agriculture a lot of money. In many sections of the State weeds and brush are the number one problem. By following the information and guidance of our research people on 2,4-D, it can be used with perfect safety.

Mayor Meets MacArthur

San Antonio, Tex., Mayor Jack White (center) had a few words with Arthur MacArthur (left) on the speakers stand before introducing the boy's father, General Douglas MacArthur (right). From the expressions, the mayor's remarks appear to be humorous. Behind Arthur is General Jonathan Wainwright. (AP Wirephoto).

HOUSE OF THE WEEK

In this space, you'll find "The House of the Week" with full descriptions. This series is made possible by area firms listed here... See them to help you with your Home Furnishing Problems.

A NEW HOUSE AT MINIMUM COST

Have you found that many of the house plans you see require a greater investment than you can make for a home at the present time? If so, you will want to examine this house closely. It was designed especially to meet a limited budget.

The kitchen is light and airy, and the arrangement is such that a minimum of steps will be required in preparing and serving the family meals.

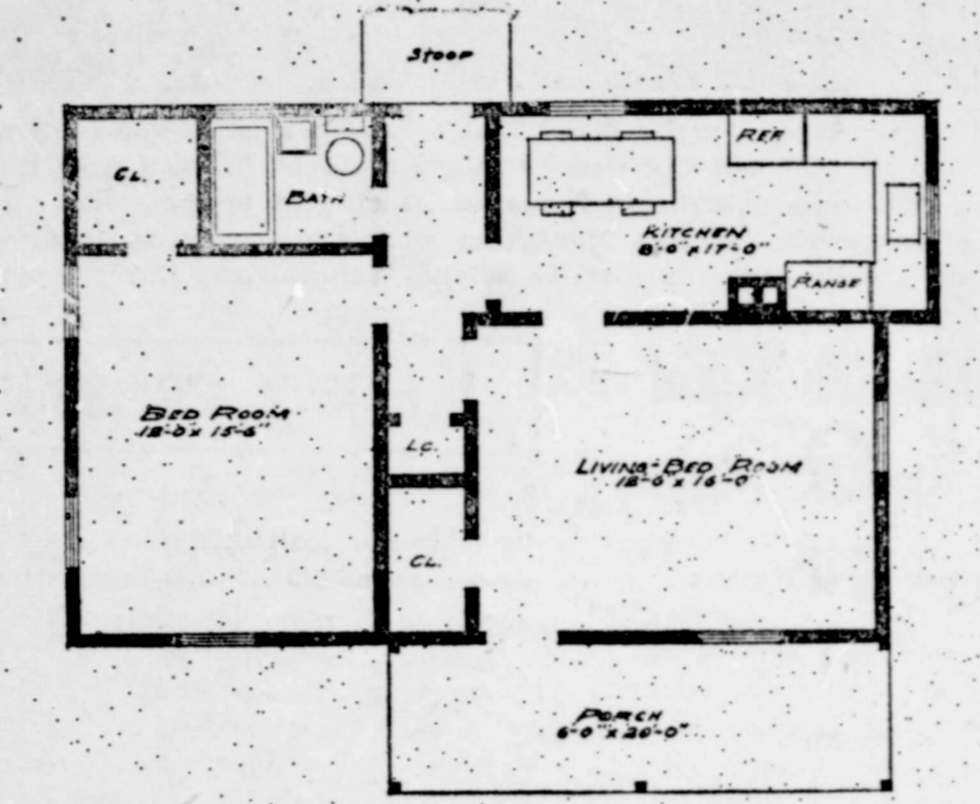

In order to add economy, the chimney, which is provided for the kitchen range, has been designed with two flues so that it can be used with a space heater in the living-bedroom. This room has a very desirable arrangement in wall space. In addition, there is an unusually large closet.

The bedroom is larger than is absolutely necessary. If you should want more room in the future, it will be quite simple to use approximately 3 1/2 feet of the end of this bedroom as a hallway and add another room to the left end of the house.

The small hall in this house will permit you to go to any part of the house without walking through another room. A large linen closet has been provided in the hallway and is easily accessible to the bedrooms, kitchen and bath.

It is possible that at some future date you may want to add a back porch or a workroom to this house. It would in no way detract from its appearance and would not require any structural change. You simply would remove the roof from the small stoop, which is provided at present, and put the porch in its place.

You can obtain blueprints for this TERRY COUNTY HERALD FARM & RANCH Plan No. 4912 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1. to Building Editor, FARM & RANCH-SOUTHERN AGRICULTURIST, Dept. L-193 Nashville, Tenn. Order by number—Plan No. 4912. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

STATE 4-H'ERS LEARNING HOW TO BOOST FOOD AND FIBER IN 1951

4-H Club members in Texas are learning ways to increase food and fiber production through efficient use of electricity, prevention of accidents and maintenance of family health. Special recognition will be given to those who submit the best reports of accomplishment.

In the 4-H farm and home electric and safety programs, medals of honor are provided for county winners respectively by Westinghouse Educational Foundation and General Motors. In the 4-H health program, attractive certificates are given to four clubs in each county by the Kellogg Company of Battle Creek, Mich. State winners in all these programs receive educational trips to the 1951 National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, in November. In addition, the ten clubs in the state reporting the best group program of health improvement each receive $20 for health education.

National awards are $300 college scholarships for six selected state winners in 4-H electric and eight in the safety program. In the 4-H health program a $100 U. S. Savings Bond is awarded to each member of the Blue Award group, to be used to start a fund for protecting and maintaining their personal health. Last year's state winners in Texas were: Farm and home electric—Charles Hoelscher, of Rowena, who also received national honors; farm and home safety—Earl West, Memphis, and health—Nancy Anne Rabke, of Tivoli.

All three programs are supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. Complete information will be furnished by county extension agents.

Cautions Against Over Bidding For Livestock

Price Stabilization Michael V. Disalle today cautioned livestock slaughterers against over-bidding for live cattle.

He warned that some slaughterers may be headed toward violations of the Office of Price Stabilization's price ceilings at the end of the June accounting period.

Unless these slaughterers stop overbidding the price of cattle, he added, they may find themselves out of compliance with the regulation and subject to its penalty provisions, including civil and criminal actions as well as reductions in their July slaughter quotas.

"I want to go on record now while this program is just getting started that violations of cattle price ceilings will not be condoned any more than the violation of any other price regulation," Mr. Disalle said.

"Live cattle prices have been under ceilings only since June 4, but from the reports we are receiving some slaughterers may find it rough going when they try to 'even out' during the remainder of the June accounting period.

"I want to caution them now to get back in line and to cooperate with this program."

Use Care In Handling Insecticides Urged

The battle with bugs is now underway. As the fight becomes more intense, there often develops a tendency among the human fighters to become careless. Any relaxation of proper handling and methods of application of many of the commonly used insecticides can result in injury or even death, say the Extension entomologists of Texas A. & M. College, to the careless handler.

They point out that insecticides kept in the house should be stored only in a closed metal container. When insecticides that are classed as dangerous are being mixed or applied, the handler is urged to wear a respirator and avoid dust drift or spray mist. The clothing worn when dangerous materials are being handled should be removed and washed before being worn again.

They advise anyone to consult a doctor immediately if any degree of illness is noted during or after applying one of the dangerous type insecticides. All fruits and vegetables that have been treated with insect poisons should be washed thoroughly before they are eaten. Applications of organic insecticides such as DDT should not be made within two weeks of harvest.

Materials that are highly flammable should not be stored in places where there is a fire hazard. When sprays are used in the house or barn, the specialists caution against getting any of the material in dishes, utensils and drinking or feeding troughs. Insecticides stored in barns or other farm buildings should always be clearly labeled poison.

The specialists suggest that you check with your local county extension agent regarding the toxicity of any particular insecticide.

STATE POULTRYMAN SCORES HIGH IN NATIONWIDE BREEDING COMPETITION

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., June 22.—Western Hatcheries, of Dallas, Tex., made a strong bid for honors in The National Chicken-of-Tomorrow Contest which closed a three-year breeding and production competition here today.

The White Plymouth Rock entry of Joe Fecthel, owner of Western, placed high enough in the nation-wide competition to claim one of the cash prizes offered by A & P Food Stores, originator and co-sponsor of the contest with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Charles Vantress, of Vantress Poultry Breeding Farm, Live Oak, Cal., won a double victory in the three-year competition. He also won the previous finals at Georgetown, Del., in 1948, with his Cornish-New Hampshire cross bred.

Close behind the California entry, which took the $5,000 first prize money, was Nichols Poultry Farm, of Kingston, N. H. Western was the top entry in the South, finishing seventh in a field that included 49 of the nation's outstanding breeders of meat-type chickens.

Contest officials pined to high ranking of Fecthel's entry on two particular points, economy score card and uniformity of size, the Western Hatchery broilers having finished third and second, respectively, in these categories.

Results of the contests already have been recognized by consumers as well as agricultural leaders. Housewives have been turning more and more to poultry which has remained moderate in price as many other foods maintained an upward trend. Meat-type chickens have been coming to market so far this year at the rate of about 800,000,000, compared to 616,000,000 in 1950.

DOUBLE TRACTORS BEAT MANPOWER SHORTAGE FINDLAY, Ill.—(P)—Farmer Leo Roney figures he has the manpower shortage licked.

He hitched two tractors tandem to pull a five-bottom plow. He rides the lead tractor and operates the one behind by a rod throttle. The rear tractor's clutch lever is extended to the front tractor by an angle iron and pipe lever.

He said he can plow 35 to 40 acres in a 12-hour day with the outfit. Normally, a farmer does well to plow 20 acres in the same amount of time.

What is believed to have been the first natural gas well in the United States was drilled in 1821 at Fredonia, N. Y.

PRESCRIPTION FOR SAGGING ARCHES

LOS ANGELES.—(P)—If your feet are giving out on you under strain of constant daily wear, members of the physical education staff of the University of California advise exercise to get them back in shape.

One exercise they can be done while reading the evening paper. With legs stretched out on a footstool stretch and separate the toes as if you were grabbing with them. The instructors also suggest walking forward with toes pointed inward, "pigeon-toed," as far as possible to strengthen foot muscles. The exercises also reduce fatigue, according to the body-builders.

1950 Tax Trends Are Upward

Taxes on Texas farm and ranch real estate increased in 1950 for the fourth successive year. The average increase for the state was four per cent, compared with 15 per cent for 1949.

Total taxes levied averaged 26.6 cents per acre. This is about 50 per cent higher than the 1936-46 average of 18 cents per acre. A record high of 29 cents was levied in 1931.

Taxes ranged from an average of five cents per acre in the Trans-Pecos area to $3.41 in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. This variation reflects the wide differences in Texas agriculture and the intensity of governmental development, according to Robert G. Cherry and L. P. Gabbard, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station economists, who made the 1950 tax study.

Some counties recorded slight decreases, and the rise in some counties was much higher than the state average. Cherry and Gabbard report that school districts were responsible for most of the increase in 1950. State and county taxes generally showed no appreciable change.

In recent years schools have increased their share of the total tax bill, while the proportion from county levies has declined. In 1950 school districts accounted 50 per cent of the farm and ranch real estate taxes, counties for 29 per cent, the state for 14 per cent, and other districts for 7 per cent. The extension of levies to most land by the Gilmer-Aiken school laws has been a contributing factor to the growth of school taxes, report the economists.

Although assessments per acre were higher in 1950, taxes were easier to pay than in 1949. The relative rise of taxes was less than the rise of prices over 1949. The tax-price ratio declined in 1950 from 1.03 to .97, which is slightly less than the base year 1913. The experiment station economists expect the upward trend of taxes to be halted at least temporarily, in 1951, since 1950 was the last year in which the state will levy a property tax for general revenue purposes. However, the possible tax load has not been greatly diminished because use counties may now levy an additional 30-cent rate.

First 1951 Bale Brings $3,050 To Producer

HOUSTON, June 18.—(P)—Sylvester Martinez, who farms 60 acres of irrigated land in Starr County, was $2,792 better off Monday because he brought to market the first bale of cotton in the nation this season.

The bale, picked frantically Saturday, was auctioned on the Houston Cotton Exchange about noon Monday. It brought $3 a pound, a new high, and an additional purse of $1,325, for a total of $3,050. Ordinarily it would have brought $257.83 at ceiling price.

The bale weighed 575 pounds, but Martinez had to make two tries. The first bale produced Saturday weighed several pounds less than the 450-pound minimum set by the exchange. Faulty scales in the field were blamed. But Martinez pickers still were working. Trucks were rushed back to the field, more cotton obtained, the bale reopened, and the additional cotton added. Then it was rushed here by truck.

The bale was purchased by Joseph J. Miller, senior partner and owner of Miller & Company. The white stork is believed to be strictly monogamous.

A Serious MacArthur

A serious-faced General of the Army Douglas MacArthur warns against what he called a campaign of fear gnawing at the confidence of the country and the "false propaganda" that America is weak in a speech in the Rice football stadium in Houston. An unexpectedly small crowd of 25,000 persons were in the 70,000-seat stadium to hear the deposed Far East commander. (AP Wirephoto).

IT'S THE SAME LANGUAGE, BUT:

ADDIS ABABA.—(R)—English is Ethiopia's second language and is being taught in all the country's schools, but foreign teachers of English here are not uniform in their use of the English language. Besides, some schools use English textbooks from England and others textbooks from America.

There are school teachers from England, the United States, Canada and India. Britishers are inclined to teach and use the King's English. Americans, of course, teach and use American speech and usage. The Canadians, while their speech is closer to American than British, tend to use British spelling and usage. The Indians, with rare exceptions, have an unmistakable foreign accent. Their spelling and usage are wholly British.

One of the largest schools here was for many years staffed by Swedes, and many of the students speak English with a Swedish accent.

Sparks From Capitol Tennesseans Didn't Like Old Terry

By Jim Sparks P. O. Box 2312, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas

Austin.—The crime-busting 52nd Legislature has adjourned but the laws it passed were being studied by law enforcement officials this past week and its House Committee to Investigate Organized Crime was preparing for another public hearing.

The House crime committee was studying records and getting set for the public hearing on the Maeo gambling group in Galveston. The hearing is slated for June 25.

With the aid of Attorney General Price Daniel, Director of Public Safety Homer Garrison and State Auditor C. H. Caveness, the five-man House Committee is assembling its evidence. The committee also has asked public officials of Galveston to testify at the hearing.

Six major crime-prevention laws were passed during the session and a dozen or more bills tightened court procedures bringing criminals to justice.

The new laws outlaw the mere possession of slot machines, punch boards, and policy or "numbers" games, and nitroglycerin used for safe-cracking and bombing. The Legislature placed a tighter clamp on "goof balls," the small barbiturate pill that results in emotional binges which frequently lead to criminal activities, and wrote a new and strong law against "hot checks."

The Texas House of Representatives' big club in the war against organized crime is the creation of the continuing crime committee to investigate local crime conditions in Texas and report back to the next session of the Legislature with recommendations for further laws curbing crime. The State Senate authorized its general investigating committee to do likewise.

Slot machines were a principal target of the Legislature. The new law gives owners or those possessing slot machines until Sept. 7 to get rid of the one-arm bandits. After that possession of slot machines can mean two to four years in the penitentiary.

Punchboards were outlawed with penalties of $100 to $1,000 fines or 30 days to a year in jail, or both, slated to be given violators for the possession of such devices.

The policy games, or "numbers racket," were made illegal in the closing hours of the session. Violations of this law will result in fines of $100 to $1,000, or up to 90 days in jail, or both.

The new "hot check" law is aimed at the bad faith writer of such checks. It provides for fines of $200 to $10,000 or prison sentences of two to 10 years, or both, if the maker of a bad check does not make it good in 10 days after notice. The bill was written this way to protect a person who innocently writes a bad check.

People who illegally sell, manufacture or possess "goof balls" will be punished by a fine of $1,000 or a jail sentence up to two years, or both.

ACTION SPEAKS LOUDER HASTINGS, Nebr.—(AP)—The hot dog buns at the picnic seemed a bit hard, according to the story circulating here. But the picnickers graciously withheld comment.

Until, that is, someone threw one of the biscuits to a dog—who promptly went off and buried it.

Checked Your Fire Insurance Lately?

It's too late to check or increase the amount of fire or other insurance on farm buildings after a disaster has struck. And according to C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A. & M. College, it is quite common to find "under-insured" farm properties in Texas.

Building costs have risen steadily during the past few years, and unless insurance policies are changed in keeping with these costs, the actual protection becomes lower and lower. To offset these increases, Bates suggests that farmers check their policies now to make sure that the insurance coverage on all farm buildings is adequate.

He illustrates with what happened a few weeks ago to a farmer in north Texas. This farmer lost by fire a dairy barn, machinery shed and grain bins. The buildings had a total undepreciated value of $3,390. The complete settlement from his insurance amounted to $1,049—a difference of $2,340 between the cash settlement and the inventory values which were only a fraction of the total replacement costs under present conditions.

This farmer through careful planning can replace each $1,000 of 1939 building values by spending now about $2,380. Chances are that he may feel so "cramped" for funds that the replacements will be inferior to the buildings lost. He must have the replacements to stay in business and he needs them now.

Such an experience can be disastrous to a family just getting started in farming and can cause even the well-established farm family to undergo many privations. Bates, therefore, urges farmers to review their insurance needs in the light of present day building costs and make the needed adjustments.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rogers, Middleton, Tenn., parents of Phillip Rogers of east Terry, Mrs. Thelma Jones, also of Middleton, and Mr. and Mrs. Oral Smithwick and little son, Dale of Arlington, Tex., left last Wednesday for their homes. Mesdames Jones and Smithwick are sisters of Phillip, and all had visited him from the 8th to the 13th.

Miss Carolyn Pippin, a niece of Phillip, decided to extend her visit out here for awhile. The older Tennesseans did not like Terry a little bit, and made no bones about the matter. They did not like the sand blowing while they were here on some of the necked wheat farms out in east Terry. Nor does anyone else like blowing sand or dirt or dust. They couldn't have chosen a worse time of year to visit this section. March, April, May and sometimes a part of June is the blow months here. The other nine months we have the most sultry climate to be imagined.

Nor do many people here like the hot, clammy weather of summer in the old states, nor the pinching wet blizzards, continuous, ice, sleet, snows and cold damp weather they have in winter. And this goes for a lot of natives of the old states now living out here. They seldom ever go back there to live or even to east Texas, as that goes.

You know it is sort of like the ancient saying of the old guy who married a gal named Sal. "I am glad that people differ in their opinion, or all the other fellows would have wanted Sal."

MacArthur Passes Empty Stands At Houston

General Douglas MacArthur's car passes some of the 45,000 seats in the stadium at Rice Institute, Houston, Texas, as he went to the speakers platform. An unexpectedly small crowd of 25,000 was in the 70,000-seat stadium to hear him continue his attacks on the administration's Far East policy. (AP Wirephoto).

Korea's Kellys, Pattons and McAuliffes

Although only a year old, the Korean War has already produced its own "Machine Gun" Kellys, "Blood and Guts" Pattons, and "Nuts" McAuliffes. Above are six of the men who will long be remembered for their exploits or exclamations. Gen. William Dean, missing since last July, won the Medal of Honor for attacking enemy tanks and assisting wounded in Taejon. Known among his men as the "hottest combat officer" in Korea, John Michaels was made a Brigadier General for his regiment's stubborn defense of a Pusan perimeter approach. Virtually unknown before the surprise dismissal of Gen. MacArthur, Gen. Matthew Ridgway is assured a place in history as the new commander of UN forces. Marine Brig. Gen. Lewis Fuller crashed headlines when he urged American servicemen to get rid of candy and ice cream and "get down to fighting." The first GI to win a Medal of Honor for action in Korea and live is M/Sgt. Ernest Kouma who singlehandedly slew 250 enemy soldiers. Capt. James Jabara became the nation's first jet ace after his F-86 kayoed six Russian-built jets in Yalu River dogfights.

"WESTERNS" FOR RANCH HOUSES

W. R. Leigh painting his latest "Western," entitled "Old-time Longhorn Roundup."

INTERIOR decorators all seem to agree that no ranch house is complete today without a Western painting — in fact, a "Western" gives the up-to-date American a "new look," the desired touch when modernizing any home. Remington, Russell and Leigh are the outstanding masters in this field of painting. Of the work of these three men Leigh's paintings are the only ones available today. His pictures vary greatly in size and price, beginning with color reproductions, etchings, water colors and oils of diverse dimensions. Those shown recently by the Milwaukee Museum — "Food and Robes for Winter" and "Leader's Downfall" — among his largest, 6 1/2 x 10 1/2 feet, and tagged $16,000 each, were pronounced by a prominent Milwaukee, Wisconsin, newspaper as worth every penny of the price. But not a single Hopalong Cassidy or Calamity Jane need be without an example of this great painter's work. The most recent of W. R. Leigh's "Westerns" is the picture shown on the left in the illustration above. It has been purchased by one of the large oil companies of the Eastern Seaboard, and the tour-guide service is distributing free, in states east of the Mississippi and southwest including Texas, a full-color 11 x 14 inch reproduction. Motorists who secure a Gulf Tourguide Bureau request card from one of their stations should mail it and ask for "Round-up" instead of the usual information maps. Mr. Leigh, called "Sagebrush Rembrandt" in the November 11th issue of Collier's, has recently been cited for distinguished service in the field of art by Kappa Pi, an American national honorary art fraternity, and on May 4th the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs awarded him a scroll as "the outstanding American painter who has contributed most to art in 1950-51." Leigh was born on a plantation in Virginia and is a descendant of Pocahontas. West Virginia also claims him as a native son, for Falling Waters, near Martinsburg, the township of his birth, has since become a part of this state. Now, he lives in a New York City apartment — "a cliff dwelling," he calls it — with his wife, Ethel Trapnager, founder of the famous Trapnager School of Fashion. An exhibition of Leigh's recent work is now on view at the Grand Central Art Galleries in the Grand Central Terminal, New York.

Willis McNeil Is Given Promotion

Willis McNeil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. McNeil of Brownfield, has recently been promoted to the rank of corporal. He was given this promotion for being the best qualified man in his company. Corporal McNeil joined the U. S. Marine Corps in 1950 and was sent to San Diego, Calif., for basic training. After he completed his basic training, he was sent to radio school in San Diego for special training, where he graduated with honors in January, 1951. Out of a class of 48 men, he ranked 10th. He is now stationed at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. Cpl. McNeil's address is given below and he would like for all of his friends to write him. Cpl. Willis F. McNeil 1115814 U. S. M. C. Old Soldiers Meet Again

Gen. Jonathan Wainwright (left), hero of Corregidor, is warmly greeted by his former commander, Gen. BLIND YOUTH CYCLES BY SOUND

GORE BAY, Ont.—(AP)—A 20-year-old Indian youth, blind since the age of three, frequently amazes visitors to this resort town by buzzing along on a bicycle at speeds up to 15 miles an hour. Danny Megwan has been totally blind since he had double pneumonia and measles, but in his mind he carries a phenomenally accurate map of this area on which is charted every road, path, house, fence, bridge, and almost every stick and stone. Danny's ears stand at attention when he is cycling in case an automobile comes along. If he hears one he gets off the bike and waits at the side of the road for the car to pass. He never rides on the town streets during the summer months. There are too many tourists' cars.

Nancy Holmes SUGGESTS
As the thermometer goes up, up, up, cut your kitchen duties down, down, down. Casserole cookery, of course, which preparation time and dish washing to a minimum. And such a smart way to use economical in-season vegetables with less expensive meats for tasty main dishes. Oven-baked dinners are another time-saver. This one planned in the Best Foods consumer test kitchens starts off an gratin potatoes in the oven. Tomatoes, topped with mushroom caps, and fish fillets are popped under the broiler at the last minute. Have salad greens washed and chilled, ready for last minute tossing. What a delicious dinner—and a breeze to prepare!

Plywood Shelves Spotlight Collections

COLLECTIONS are fun! But as a practical problem in household storage they are often headaches. The right place for a collection of photographs, figurines, dolls or old firearms is often hard to come by. If you've put time, trouble and expense into a collection, you'd like it displayed to advantage, not tucked away in a drawer or crowded onto an inadequate what-not stand. And if yours is the job of house-keeping, you'll want the collection in an out-of-the-way place where it will gather less dust and be safe from the mischievous bands of small children. A display shelf a bit higher than eye-level offers a practical solution to both these problems. It should be narrow enough to serve as a simple wall fixture, a too-wide one will detract from the prominence of the collection. For stand-up groupings like photographs, the shelf should be grooved to aid in their display. It's not a good idea to construct your shelf of any scrap lumber you happen to have lying around. In order to enhance and do justice to your collection, try a natural-finish plywood in an attractively-grained wood such as birch. A shelf of this material is particularly effective when it repeats in grain and finish the woods used in other furnishings of the room. A collection of prized photographs is displayed to advantage on a narrow shelf of birch plywood which repeats the natural finish of drawers in chests and valance.
