Civil Defense Units To Meet Monday Night

Another important meeting is scheduled for Brownfield next Monday night at 8 o'clock in the District Court room, when citizens are urged to meet to further organize the Civilian Defense program.

Mayor C. C. Primm is commander for Terry county with County Judge Herbert Chesshir, deputy commander and C. L. Lincoln, assistant commander.

Unit commanders have been asked to have their individual units organized by next Monday night's meeting, and be prepared to submit specific and detailed information concerning their units to the advisory board.

The overall purpose in the coming weeks will be to acquaint people with the program and their part in it—making this city capable of having a major disaster plan capable of meeting almost any emergency.

Lincoln explained that the program is not only set up to cope with the disaster which might be caused by a foreign nation during time of war, but it is also designed to cope adequately with disasters such as tornadoes, floods, explosions, wrecks, riots and other similar emergencies.

For example, should Brownfield or any other Terry county community be struck by a tornado, unit commanders would put their forces to work on a pre-arranged plan; Sgt. E. L. Stroud of the Texas Highway patrol, would be notified of local needs and radio back available assistance to this immediate area, and if necessary go to the state for aid to clear the emergency, said Lincoln.

Sheriff's Posse Met Monday Night

Members of the Terry County Sheriff's Posse met for a regular meeting Monday night at the posse clubhouse. Hosts and hostesses were Messrs. and Mmes. N. E. Mason, Bill Williams, and J. T. Boen, and Mr. Ed Hardin.

Barbecued chicken, beans, potato salad, and relishes were served to approximately 65 persons. Members discussed plans to attend the Lamesa rodeo this week end and a three day celebration at Graham next week. Plans were also discussed to have a public box supper at the clubhouse for the next meeting, which will be the first Monday in September.

WAGGONER CARR TALKS TO LIONS ON CRIME

Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, state representative from this district, gave an interesting discussion of the findings of the Texas Crime Investigating committee at the regular noon meeting of the Lions' Club Wednesday at the Esquire Restaurant.

Carr is vice chairman of a five-man committee in charge of investigating organized crime in Texas. He was introduced by Sid Lowery, who had charge of the program. Vernon Townes is general program chairman.

"The committee will submit recommendations to the next Legislature for new criminal laws we think will help to combat crime in the state," Carr said. He discussed the hearings and investigations of the committee in regard to the noted gambler, Mickey Cohen's visit to Texas, and his friendship with police and law enforcement officers in El Paso.

The state representative told of the secret hearings the crime

Gillham With Local Bank 15 Years

Was down at the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co. one day last week, and noted a profusion of flowers on the desk of President J. O. Gillham. Thinking this a bit unusual even for a bank president, we made inquiries.

Mr. Gillham stated that he had been with the Brownfield State Bank, with a latter addition of Trust Company for 15 years. By heck it don't seem that long, but after passing middle age, time fairly flies.

Anyway, while Mr. Gillham had said nothing about the matter to others, the family and close friends, here and other places had remembered. Yep, he has listened to the woes as well as the good fortune of some of their customers for the past 1 1/2 decades.

Congratulations, and may the going always be smooth.

City To Buy New Equipment

In a call meeting at the Brownfield City Hall at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, members of the City Commission opened bids for the purchase of a new packer truck bed and a bulldozer, according to Mayor C. C. Primm.

After the bids were tabulated Thursday, the commission planned to meet last night in their regular meeting, and accept a bid.

With Mayor Primm the City Commissioners, Herman Chesshir, V. L. Patterson, J. B. Knight, Sam Murphy, and Henry Chisholm.

THANKS FOR CLEANING OUR STREETS

The city cleaning force with their grader blades and power sweepers got up in our section on east Broadway this week, and really gave the streets a cleaning. In places the sand that blew here in late May, all of June and July had piled the dirt, sand and junk as high as the curbs.

Some of the inhabitants of that region were getting a bit squeamish about not getting a street cleaning occasionally, but they are all smiles now.

The Texas Longhorn Leatherneck Platoon

Again the United States Marine Corps is offering the men of Texas the opportunity of enlisting a group. As their forerunners the North Texas Marine Recruit Company pictured above, this select group of Texans will enlist together, travel together, train together, and return home on leave together. The group to be known as the "Longhorn Leatherneck Platoon" will be limited to seventy-five men, and will depart from Dallas on the 24th of August.

He also wrote there are lots of boys where he is now, many unable to walk. He said he would appreciate cards and letters from all his friends here, as he was born and reared in Brownfield. He went to Korea a year ago this month.

REV. BORIS BESSMERTNY

"God's Deadline in Europe" will be the topic of Rev. Boris Bessmertny of Paris, France, when he speaks at the First Baptist Church, Brownfield, at 10:45 a. m. next Sunday, morning, Aug. 12th.

Rev. Bessmertny, director of France for Christ Association and publisher of "Juennese Pour Christ," a French religious publication, was a co-worker of famed Evangelist Billy Graham in France and interpreter of both Jess Moody European Evangelistic Tours.

Bessmertny, who is of Russian-French parentage, predicted the outbreak of the Korean war to the very week and now feels that Europe is the powderkeg of the world today. "The real need of Europe today is not a new political set-up nor a better economic or social drive, but a spiritual awakening," states the French minister.

"The five million Communists in France could very well take over the key positions in that land and bring the Communist border to the Atlantic unless American Christians realize the spiritual needs of western Europe, a civilized paganism, and fill the vacuum the Soviet Russia has been filling in Europe so far.

This young Baptist missionary evangelist has been referred to many times as a "Firebrand for God." Recently he conducted 31 campaigns in France, England, Ireland, Germany, Corsica, Norway, and North Africa. Over 800 decisions were reported from these campaigns.

The 27-year-old French Baptist, who worked in the French underground against the Nazi in World War II and is a personal friend of many of Europe's leaders, will sail for Europe October 1 on the French liner, Liberté.

The public is cordially invited to attend. Mrs. Johnnie Tooms and children, Kent and Troy, of Borger, are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lewis, and other relatives.

Governor Is Invited To Rotary Harvest Festival

MORE FARM-TO-MARKET ROADS TO BE CONSTRUCTED IN TERRY COUNTY

In a called meeting of the Terry County Commissioners' Court Wednesday morning in Judge Herbert Chesshir's office, a resolution was adopted to accept the proposals submitted by the Texas Highway department for additional farm-to-market roads in the county.

According to Judge Chesshir, work will start immediately on securing rights-of-ways for the $102,000 project, which will include the paving of 5.8 miles—four miles north of Brownfield, from highway 62, running east 5.8 miles.

Also included in the project will be from U. S. highway 380 four miles north of Gomez, and west approximately 2.2 miles, intersecting the Johnson to Pool farm-to-market road.

As right-of-ways are secured, other work will begin as soon as possible, Mr. Chesshir said.

Industrial Survey Planned For Area

Neil Vanzant and Morris Frack, representing the Seagraves Chamber of Commerce, were in Brownfield Friday morning in the interest of the Tri-county Industrial Survey, which was introduced in a meeting of representatives of Terry, Gaines and Yoakum counties about two months ago.

The Seagraves visitors met with Chamber of Commerce officials here. The survey, which is to be conducted and compiled by Texas Technological college at an approximate cost of $6,000 would include all factors concerning the three counties that might induce industry to move to this area.

In the meeting Friday, a meeting was planned for the near future, to be held in Seagraves, and Commissioners and Judges from the three counties will be invited to help complete the plans.

Junior Deputies To Camp Aug. 17

All members of the Junior Deputy Sheriff's League from Wellman, Meadow and Brownfield are urged to bring camping equipment, and food for supper and breakfast to Coleman Park next Friday afternoon, August 17, for a get-together before school starts, Sheriff Ocie H. Murry stated Wednesday.

Time for the gathering has been set for 5 p. m., and Sheriff Murry said that lots of recreation will be planned for the boys.

The Terry County Junior Deputy Sheriff's League was organized about three years ago, when the sheriff ordered 100 badges. There are at least 200 boys in the league now, according to Murry.

"We believe we have less juvenile delinquency in Terry county, in comparison to population with other counties in this area," Murry said, "and the boys have a good time when they get together." He took the boys to Palo Duro Canyon State Park last spring for a camping trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Price, accompanied by Miss Wanda Stafford and Jerrell Price went thru the Carlsbad Caverns Sundays.

SHOWER COOLS THINGS JUST A BIT

A little shower of 5/100 inch fell here about dark, Wednesday, accompanied by a lot of lightning. Clouds too thin to rain much.

Avalanche - Journal reported a quarter inch rain here. Don't know whose gauge registered that much.

Terryites Urged To Have X-Rays Made

With the mass X-ray program scheduled for Terry county less than a month away—September 8, 10 and 11—Chamber of Commerce officials stressed the fact that people in this area should remember the dates, and plan to have their X-rays made, according to an announcement this week.

Virgil Travis, local gin man, was appointed county-wide general chairman, by Chamber of Commerce president Harmon Howze.

Anyone 15 years old and above is urged to take advantage of the program, sponsored by the state health department. A portable X-ray machine will be set up in a convenient location in Brownfield on the three above mentioned dates.

Last year approximately 2,000 persons had their chests X-rayed, which is below the quota set up for this county. Officials pointed out that if more interest was not shown this year, the program here would be discontinued.

No disrobing is required, and pictures will be made of anyone desiring, fully dressed. Last year the state health department reported 37 suspects in Terry county—three with active tuberculosis. One person was sent to the sanatorium, while the other two received treatment in private hospitals.

LIONS-ROTARY TO PLAY BALL TUESDAY

Members of the Lions Club are challenging softball players of the Rotary Club in a softball game next Tuesday night, August 14, at 8 p. m., at the softball field. The public is urged to attend and see this "fast and furious" game.

LAVERNE JOPLIN WINNER TEXAS T. SCHOLARSHIP

College Station, August 10.—(Spl.)—Laverne Joplin, 17-year-old Terry county 4-H club girl, is winner of a $500 scholarship to Texas Technological college.

The announcement was made by Mrs. Aubrey W. Russell, district Extension agent.

This scholarship, awarded annually to a 4-H club girl of Extension Service District II, is sponsored by home demonstration club women of the district and other interested persons. Selection of the winner of the award is based on a record of 4-H activities and achievements.

Laverne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Joplin of the Pool community and a 1951 graduate of the Meadow high school. Her

Governor Allan Shivers has been invited to the fifth annual Rotary club-sponsored Harvest Festival, to be staged in Brownfield on Thursday, October 18, according to Paul Campbell, general chairman of the festival.

James Harley Dallas, former general chairman, wrote to Gov. Shivers in behalf of the club, inviting him to visit in West Texas. As the Herald goes to press, no word has been received from the governor, whether he will accept the invitation, or be unable to come.

The annual Queen's contest started with zest this week, as Carlton Brady, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Brady, entered as the first candidate, according to Burton Hackney, who is chairman of one of the Queen

Announcement was made late Thursday by Clovis Kendrick that his group would sponsor a queen from the 4-H clubs in the county. The candidate will be selected next week by the sponsors of the 4-H clubs.

Miss Brady will be a senior in the Brownfield high school this next year; and has been a Majorette with the high school band the past three years.

Two other candidates will be named by Clovis Kendrick and J. O. Gillham, chairmen of the other two divisions of the Rotary Club for the Queen contest.

Harmon Howze is chairman of the Queen committee.

The annual Queen's contest this year will be open to senior girls in high school, unmarried girls and married women.

The lucky girl who is crowned queen of the Harvest Festival will win an all-expense paid Caribbean Cruise for herself and one other person. Second place winner will receive $300 in merchandise certificates redeemable at any Brownfield store, and third prize is $200 in certificates to be handled the same as second prize.

Tickets for the Festival, which are going on sale as candidates are announced, cost $1, entitling the bearer to 100 votes in the Queen contest.

General Chairman Campbell stated the Festival was definitely set for Thursday, October 18, instead of the date reported previously.

"The big days is only two months away," he said. "This Festival will be the biggest and best that we've ever had."

4-H demonstrations were supervised by Miss Helen Dunlap, Terry county home demonstration agent.

These demonstrations have included canning, sewing, poultry, bedroom improvement, gardening, home improvement and food preparation. During her six years of 4-H club work, Laverne completed 25 demonstrations.

She was a member of the Terry county dairy foods demonstration team which competed at the 1951 State 4-H Roundup at Texas A. & M. college. She was also selected Gold Star 4-H club girl of Terry county for 1951.

Betty Eubanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Eubanks of Route 3, Levelland, Hockley county, was selected as alternate winner of the scholarship.

Some one was heard to remark lately that most of us business men here are farmer boys, and that a little dry spell scares the heck out of us. Yes, we include ourselves in this arrangement, and while we would not advise any splurging, we believe that business should move ahead and not be retarded. Yes, most of us have pulled the lines over old Beck's back, and "geed and hawed" up and down the rows. We have done our full share of that kind of work, and are proud that we did. But the dry spot is not just confined to Terry and adjoining counties, it is all over, until one reaches the mountains of New Mexico, Colorado and the Missouri river valley. But people visiting here from various parts of the state say the crops right here in the Brownfield trade territory are the equal or better than anywhere else in Texas, except of course where they are irrigating. So, we suppose the howl has gone up from one end of Texas to the other, a howl that might be heard around the world. As a consequence, most of our exchanges looked lighter than common last week, like a half fed calf. In a few instances, Stanton, Littlefield, Post and Seminole, the papers seemed to be up to normal. Maybe the merchants in those towns think it will rain some of these days, and they are going on as usual as far as possible in a business way. This paper is blaming no one for conditions beyond their control, nor for their reaction toward it. Rather human nature to get a bit pessimistic when things don't go according to Hoyle. Most of us get Dallas and Fort Worth as well as Lubbock dailies, and if the merchants there have cut their advertising to the fading point, we are not able to observe it. Yes, they have dry weather too, but they are going out after every dollar they can get during vacation time as well as dry weather time, and we'll bet they are getting it to the hurt of the small town business men about them. Sorter like a lot of people now expecting an atomic bomb to be dropped on them any instant, and therefore just as well crawl in some hole and stay there. It would however be much better on the nerves of the people if we would all quit calamity howling and try to make the best of a bad situation without too much ado about it.

Among our favorite cartoonists are Knott of the Dallas News, and Hal Coffman of the Star-Telegram. Once in awhile these men wrap up a wad of information in just a few pictures, plus a few words of information. But Coffman handed us the real thing Sunday. Among them was calamity howlers from the Revolutionary War to the present time. Starting with 1777, old Man Howler stated positively that "the cause is lost." But old man Experience replied that "it wasn't." Then during the great money panic in 1873, the mustached orator with outspread arms and a mouth that looked like mammoth cave, spouted, "the country is ruined." Again the reply, "it wasn't." And during the days that a lot of us can remember, the great orator of the days of 1930, tore his hair, and spouted, "the country has gone to the dogs." Again old man Experience replied, "it wasn't." This brings us down to 1951, when the great politicians and orators of the day hide their faces in fear and talk through their hands, "the world is a goner." But the old gentleman with a walking stick and long flowing beard, Experience, merely replies, "so far we are still here." Do you get the lesson? All the raving and ranting that we may do will not change the world in the least. When the Lord Almighty looked upon His handiwork way back in the beginning of time, He remarked that it was very good. And anyone who thinks that mere man can themselves destroy what an all powerful God spoke into existence, by their puny efforts, are just nuts, that's all. So, let us all be up and doing, and forget calamity as much as possible, as that will do our nerves and blood pressure no good in hot, dry weather. When Jehovah God gets good and ready to blot this old terrestrial ball out of existence, it will go just like it came, by words from His mouth.

With our modern farm machinery, capable of doing the work by hand of many laborers; with our factories streamlined and huge assembly lines turning out farm machinery, autos and many other things by the thousands daily, we are forced to pause and make a study of the means of transporting all this farm produce and manufactured articles from one section of the country to the other. So, we must come right down to brass tacks and toenails and admit, America needs all means of transportation. This includes the railways, the truck and bus lines, airplanes, the private trucks and pickups, and in a few instances wagons and teams. Presently we need them all. In contrast to the American system of fast transportation, we have over in many sections of Asia the old time system of travel and the movement of goods, the two wheeled cart with a yoke of oxen as propelling power. That means an average movement of some seven miles per day. But then, instead of a lot of binders and combines, the average Asiatic gets down on his knees with a sickle to harvest his grain. With the use of the airplane it is possible to travel the 3,000 miles across our continent in a few hours. But the man with the hammer and sickle is trying by every means, mostly foul ones to alienate the good will of these slow moving Asiatics from us, friends we have had for hundreds of years. This then makes it the more earnest that we use all our means of transportation and travel, cut out non-essentials that our payroll may go into the essentials that we may keep our nation free as well as to keep the rest of the world free. To our notion, and our notion may not be worth much, we believe that most of the slow moving world needs our technical skill and know how, to show them better and faster methods rather than just money for their leaders to recklessly spend.

The newspapers of the country are still being propagandized by various and sundry organizations in California about Arizona's proposition to take water out of the Colorado river to irrigate land belonging to 420 of Arizona's largest land owners. The argument is that the water would have to be lifted 985 feet and that the cost to the taxpayers of the nation to accommodate these 420 citizens of Arizona would amount to more than 2 billion dollars in taxes, of which Arizona itself would pay only $7,780,000. That the other 48 states would pay 99 percent of the cost in taxes to enrich these 420 Arizona landowners. Here, the argument takes another turn, and this latest one comes from a San Monica, California newspaper. It says that the waters of the Colorado river belong to California and not Arizona. Needless to say, this newspaper is not interested in whom the waters belong. But if the figures given us are anywhere near correct, we are very much interested as a taxpayer. For instance, the tax cost to Texas, as one of the 48 states, to lift water from the Colorado river higher by far than the Washington monument or the Golden Gate bridge, would be the huge sum of nearly $91 million dollars; New Mexico nearly 6 million dollars; Oklahoma over $24 million and Louisiana over $25 million dollars. We will, however have to reluctantly admit that it would not be just peanuts for these 420 landlords in Central Arizona. It would make them as rich as that old god of mythology that everything he touched turned to gold. We don't believe however, that many outside of these owners even in Arizona would be willing to pay the price. We know we are agin it here in Texas. But, and here's the rub, the US Senate voted in favor of this money grab for these few landlords as late as June 5th, this year. We wonder if many of them ever studied the measure? Probably most of them never read the bill. It is up to the House of Representatives to hold the line of economy. The act would, to say the least, be dangerously inflationary.

There is one form of help the government is giving the farmers that most of us willingly go along with. As the old saying goes, most of us think it "wort de money." That is soil conservation. Most of us that ever put on our thinking caps at all wonder what would become of us if the fertility of our soil was depleted. We know that there are little patches over in the overpopulated portions of Europe and where they have to make every foot, every inch of soil count. The owners or renters of these small plots have to use all the animal manure they can get, and in some cases human dung to make their soil provide the necessities of the inner man. Most of us who were reared in east Texas, or back in the old states are wise to the fact that many farms that were fairly productive when we were youngsters, are now so badly eroded that they have been turned to pastureland, and young pines are growing around the worst part of the gullied areas to top further erosion. With the present price of beef and pine, the owners are assured of a good income in the future with this soil conservation practice. As stated above, most of us who have seen fairly fertile fields turn to gullies and canyons in a lifetime, are becoming

Dangerously Warm

If the hot weather in Texas bothers you, consider Harold F. Schultz, 43, who survived a body temperature of 110 degrees. He was hospitalized in Houston after a heat stroke near Conroe, Tex. Dr. A. N. Wilkins of Conroe used ice water, ice cubes and various drugs to lower his temperature to the normal 98.6 degrees and stop his convulsions. His wife, Vera, gives Schultz a cooling wet compress above. SURE, a trim new Buick makes a mighty pretty picture when you see it in your driveway, or watch it wheel by.

But if you could get a mechanic's-eye view of this big, broad beauty as it sits on a lift, you'd see an impressive picture of rugged brawn that makes good-to-look-at Buicks give such a good account of themselves on the road.

You'd see the full-length torque-tube drive that firms the whole power relay system, and steadies your going like a giant hand beneath you.

You'd see big sturdy wheels with really wide rims that provide surer footing, give better car control, make tires last longer.

You'd see all four wheels cushioned by stout coil springs that are completely service-free, practically breakproof—and a principal reason for the ever-level Buick ride.

But mainly, you'd see the massive foundation that backbones every Buick—the deep, wide, X-member frame that's rugged as a rock, and a brute for strength.

So when you look at the beauty of a Buick—the big mileage power of its valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and the moneysaving ability of its Dynaflo Drive*—don't overlook the tough stamina that goes with it all.

And don't overlook the fact that a new '51 Buick, with all its heft, costs less per pound than any other car of comparable size, structure and weight.

Better come see us first chance you get—and find out what a smart buy this is—from every angle.

MR. AND MRS. L. L. BROCK HONORED ON ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Brock, former residents of Brownfield, were honored at their home, Dehaven Ranch near Roy, N. M., Sunday, August 5th, on their 40th wedding anniversary. Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Steve L. Brock of Roy, N. M., were host and hostess for the occasion.

The family reunion of their six children was highlighted by an informal tea held in the afternoon from four to six o'clock, with 65 guests calling.

The tea table was covered with lace over green, centered with a large copy-form wedding cake with 40th anniversary written in green, and the cake was trimmed in green and yellow. Green candles visible through a screen of smoke, caused by placing dry ice in water was the center of attraction. Lime sherbert tea, together with small sandwiches, mints and nuts were served.

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Brock present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Magee of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Swindle and children of Albuquerque, N. M.; J. O. Brock of Roy, N. M.; Mrs. Roy Miller and son of Encino, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Parker of Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Brock are old-timers in this area, having moved to Brownfield in 1920. They moved to Dehaven Ranch in 1944.

MRS. STRICKLIN BACK FROM COLORADO

Mrs. A. J. Stricklin, Sr., who caught a way to Colorado with two of her brothers, came in Saturday, after a week in Colorado, which she describes as a wonderful country. She visited most of the time with her youngest full brother, David Holden and family at Toponas.

David was designated by the Denver Post as being the largest spinach grower and packer in Colorado, as well as among the largest lettuce growers. Had a nice time, as it was pleasant in daytime, and was cool enough one night that there was a trace of frost on windshields' next morning.

Returning she stopped off in Denver to visit Emogene Stricklin, a niece of the Old He, who is a WAC located at the large Vets Hospital at Denver after a training period at Ft. Knox, Ky. The officers as well as the personnel joined Emogene in making the Mrs. feel at home during the day and night spent on the hospital grounds.

County Com. Lee Bartlett came in to renew his paper Wednesday and stated that his crop was holding up fairly well considering the hot, dry weather. He said that where he had maize last year the cotton was holding up much better than where he followed cotton with cotton.

HAD A GOOD MEAL WITH THE SHAMIS

That good natured boy, Sam Shami, assistant manager of Fair Store, roomed at our house until he married some few weeks ago. Since he married a fine Terry county girl, both have been insisting that the Old He and the Mrs. take a meal with them. They have located in Weldon apartments.

We also ran a grandson, Robert, in on them, but they were glad to have the three year old lad. They had a fine meal, with baked chicken as the piece de resistance. No wonder Sam is putting on flesh. He ate half that chicken, and had a stack of bones that almost filled his plate.

All joking aside, we enjoyed the meal as well as the social visit with Mr. and Mrs. Shami.

LOCAL DRUG STORE TO HANDLE AID BATTERIES

J. R. Jordan, of Lubbock, who has been making this section for the past six years selling hearing aids and batteries, was in this week, and informed us that it would not be necessary from now on to see him or write for aid batteries.

The City Drug will handle all types of batteries obtainable, making it much more convenient to people who use hearing aids.

A. D. Wenzel of the Needmore section was in this week and reported that while some of his cotton was standing up fairly well, in spots it was not so hot. Wouldn't predict when it will rain.

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Pruitt were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pruitt of Balinger.

Oil Found In Adair Field Offset

A north outpost of the Adair deep pool of the Walfcamp field in south Terry county is evidently a small producer. It is located in section 5 of block C-36. It is Union Oil Co., T. F. Chrestman. It is reported that the well has not been acidized, but flowed oil at the rate of 55 barrels in 5 1/2 hours. A much stronger well may be developed when it is finished.

The Charley Cowan well north of Meadow is now down around 11,735 feet, but evidently the Texas Company which is drilling the well, has about decided to throw in the sponge, as no sign of oil or gas has been encountered.

Out in the South Brownfield pool, the Union Oil Co., Laura Cotten was drilling around 9,600 feet in lime and shale. The reef was expected to be encountered at around 10,200 feet, and probably pay.

In the same pool, the Christova Stitt No. 3-S, another Union Oil project, was drilling at 10,230, but no reef had been encountered at that depth. But it could be encountered in the next few feet.

The Paul Cobb No. 4, just over in Yoakum county, seemed to have missed the first pay zone in that area, and is being deepened to the next zone, as we understand they are fairly close together.

FAILURE TO MAINTAIN HIGHWAYS IS CALLED THREAT TO WAR PRODUCTION

Parts and materials from 380 different suppliers in 22 States are required in the construction of a single tank, asserts Lt. Gen. Eugene Reybold, executive vice-president of the American Road Builders' Association, in a statement made here today emphasizing highways as the most important part of the nation's war emergency assembly line. The veteran engineer, who commanded the U. S. Corps of Engineers during World War II, based his conclusions on a production study of the T 41-El Walker Bulldog Tank built in Cleveland, Ohio, by General Motors.

"America's amazingly efficient system of producing goods depends on an interdependent network of manufacturing concerns of all sizes, large, medium and small," said General Reybold. "Each firm or supplier does the work for which it is best suited by virtue of its experience, equipment and location. Naturally these members of the production team are widely scattered over the nation. Yet their contributions must be assembled quickly and promptly at a given point. Here the importance of adequate highways enters the picture. Without this means of transportation, completing the Walker tank or any other war machine would be impossible." Estimating that more than 75 per cent of the parts and materials that go into this tank are brought to Cleveland over highways, it is obvious that any breakdown in the highway system is a menace to the war production program, General Reybold points out. If trucks bringing copper and brass parts from Connecticut, drive assemblies from Illinois, engines from Michigan or castings from New York are slowed up by inadequate roads, the delay is immediately felt at the plant. Narrow highways, bad curves, restricted sight distances, traffic congestion and unsafe bridges requiring long detours also contribute to the slowing up process.

"Having the suppliers of parts and materials widely distributed is in keeping with the trend toward dispersal of important participants in the war effort, but it poses a transportation problem and a greater burden on our already overworked highways," General Reybold goes on to say. "Special oils must come from Oklahoma and Texas, control mechanisms and valves from California, hook assemblies from Florida, chemicals from Minnesota and travel lock mechanisms from Iowa. Not only must these things arrive but they must arrive when needed. Timing is vastly important in war production."

The ARBA official recalled the old saying about "for want of a nail an empire was lost." "A truck loaded with vital parts, bogged down on a highway which fails to meet the demands of modern traffic, means that all the tanks requiring such parts are being kept out of action in Korea or in tank training centers of the army. Highways that afford fast, uninterrupted transportation are essential to the nation's economy at all times. Now, in an emergency, the failure of highways to provide this service strikes directly at our production of war equipment, and takes an actual toll in blood and treasure."

General Reybold concluded his statement by saying that many of the nation's important highways which were badly damaged by the heavy traffic of World War II had not been rehabilitated since V-J day, and had therefore become a serious threat to the present emergency program.

Water Users To Create District

PLAINVIEW — Groundwater users from 21 counties will gather here Aug. 9 to tell the State Board of Water Engineers how they feel about the proposed creation of High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1.

Irrigation farmers and other interested citizens have been invited to testify at the Board's public hearing which is set for 10 a. m., in the Plainview Municipal Auditorium.

On evidence presented, the Board will decide whether to declare the creation to the 10,000-square-mile district. If the district is established, the Board will then appoint a five-man board of directors to supervise an election at which the voters may approve or reject the district.

Such districts are in operation on a much smaller scale, in Martin and Dallam counties. They were created under House Bill 162, passed by the Texas Legislature in the spring of 1949.

The proposed district includes all of Lubbock, Parmer, Hale and Swisher counties and parts of Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hockley, Lamb, Lynn, Oldham, Potter, Randal and Terry counties.

Gets Applications To Hunt Antelope

As applications for 1951 antelope hunting permits began arriving, the Chief Clerk of the Game, Fish & Oyster Commission announced additional data for sportsmen.

The exact number of permits to be issued has not been determined because the antelope herd census is still underway.

Persons who were assigned a permit last year in the impartial drawing for the 426 licenses issued have a low priority this year.

In the event there are more applicants than permits, first priority will be given to persons who drew a permit last year but who couldn't make the hunt and allowed the game department to assign an alternate.

Second priority will go to the person who failed to get a permit last year. Next comes those who held a valid 1950 permit and then, last, persons under 18 years of age and non-residents.

The first step in the procedure to seek a permit, according to the Chief Clerk, is to write the department for an application blank.

Then the applicant is sent literature describing the drawing and regulations for the hunt, as well as a blank to fill out for return with his $5 hunting fee.

The Chief Clerk pointed out that no remittance should be forwarded until the routine data is received from the game department.

It was emphasized that members of hunting parties have a better opportunity of being assigned to the same ranch for antelope hunting if their applications are submitted clipped together.

The antelope hunt will be conducted in three consecutive 3-day periods beginning October 1 and ending October 9. The limit is one male antelope.

World's Champ Typist Teaches Students Speed Technique

UNCHALLENGED WORLD'S CHAMPION TYPIST, Miss Stella Pajunas, is featured in a new film, "Electric Typing Time," now being produced by RKO-Pathé for International Business Machines Corp. The production, the first full-color educational typing film to be made, brings to students everywhere a close-up of championship typing technique. Above she displays trophies she won in establishing the official one-hour record of 140 net five-stroke words a minute on an IBM electric typewriter. She was the first person to win all four major typing titles: professional champion, amateur champion, novice and women's champion. In the film, Miss Pajunas types 135 words a minute, and, through slow motion, young typists can learn the technique that gives her speed and accuracy.

Do's and Don'ts for Your Summer Vacation Automobile Trip

Automobile travel on the nation's highways is expected to reach a new peak this summer. To help travelers get the most pleasure out of touring, and to help keep their cars in the best possible condition, the Buick Service Department reminds owners of the following DO's and DON'Ts:

DO be particularly careful to watch crankcase oil level on long trips.
DO remember to switch tires and to watch pressure, especially on hot days.
DO wash your car once a week to remove road film and chemicals.
DO sit in a comfortable, erect position and rest frequently.
DO keep the windshield free of dust and dirt at all times.
DO give your car a Lubricare treatment.
DO remember that most drivers can get 10 per cent more miles per gallon by observing economy rules.

DON'T neglect inspection and adjustment of brakes before starting a long trip.
DON'T allow grime and dirt to accumulate on chrome. Clean as frequently as necessary.
DON'T take chances with improperly aimed headlights. Your safety is at stake.
DON'T put off having the air cleaner cleaned and refilled with new oil.
DON'T forget in warm weather your battery needs water frequently. Check it often.
DON'T block vision with gadgets and stickers.
DON'T drive faster than conditions warrant, don't run risks on the highway, and don't drive if you are fatigued.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—I am an automobile dealer. Now and then veterans come in for cars which they claim are essential to their jobs, and they ask how they can go about getting GI loans to finance their purchases. What should I tell them?

A—You should tell the veterans first to find a lender and come to an agreement as to terms of the loan. Generally, the lenders are able to handle the entire process, so that veterans need not visit their VA offices. It should be emphasized, however, that VA cannot approve car loans unless the auto is essential to the conduct of the veteran's business.

Q—I have an NSLI policy. What would happen to it if I were to die during the 31-day grace period, owing VA for a month's premium?

A—The insurance remains in force during the grace period. Therefore, full settlement would be made to your beneficiaries, except for a deduction of any unpaid monthly premium.

Q—Sometime ago, I quite school under the GI Bill because my progress and been unsatisfactory. I'd like to start in again before the July 25 cut-off date. What must I do?

A—Your must (1) establish the fact that the unsatisfactory progress was not due to your own misconduct, negligence or lack of application, and (2) undergo advisement and guidance so that VA can determine whether you stand a good chance of successfully completing the course you now want to take.

Q—Does the July 25 GI Bill training cut-off date apply to ALL World War II veterans?

A—No. The cut-off date, with a few exceptions, does apply to those discharged from service on or before July 25, 1947. However, those discharged afterward have four years from their date of discharge in which to begin training.

Q—May I take institutional on-farm training under the GI Bill on a part-time basis, such as one day a week?

A—No. One of the provisions of the law which set up the program is that the training must be of such a nature that it takes up the full time of the veteran-trainee.

Q—Is there any time limit for filing claims for funeral expenses for a deceased veteran who served after the outbreak of the Korean hostilities?

A—Yes. Claims must be filed with the VA within two years from the date of permanent burial.

Q—I stayed in World War II and stayed on active duty afterwards, and last week was discharged from service. Am I eligible for readjustment allowances for unemployment, or has that GI Bill benefit already expired?

A—You may still be eligible for unemployment allowances, if you are able to work, are available for suitable work, and register for work with a public employment office and meet other requirements as to service and discharge. For most veterans, however, no payments may be made for any week which begins later than July 25, 1952.

Q—My NSLI term policy is soon to expire. May I renew it for an additional term period, at my attained age, or does the new "free insurance" law prevent me from doing so?

A—The insurance may be renewed for an additional term period, provided you do so BEFORE your insurance expires. Once the insurance expires, it may not be renewed.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bateman and daughter, Jahnye, of Bakersfield, Calif., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Baggett and family.

New Process Saves Rubber

REVOLUTIONARY RUBBER PROCESS: G. H. Swart (left), head of the General Tire and Rubber Company's research staff which developed the company's revolutionary process for the manufacture of vital synthetic rubber, discusses the method with General's president, W. O'Neill, at the Alron laboratory. The widely-publicized method, offered to the United States government through the RFC, greatly increases production and quality of synthetic rubber by mixing cheap petroleum oil with tough synthetic stock, a process long sought by major rubber interests. The secret was revealed at a Canadian chemists' meeting in Kitchener, Ontario. The formula produces rubber for much tougher, longer-wearing tires and is already in production in Canadian rubber plants.

Republicans Meet

New Store To Open On Hiway Aug. 18

Formal opening of the Western Farm & Ranch Store, 428 Lubbock road, will be staged all day next Saturday, August 18, according to Joe Christian, owner and manager.

The new store, former location of the Chisholm Hatchery, will furnish the farmers and ranchers of this area feeds, seeds, insecticides, fertilizers, yard and lawn supplies, and will operate a hatchery in connection with the store.

Various prizes will be given away on the opening day, with gifts for the children, and refreshments will be served all day.

Mr. Christian, his wife, and two daughters, Lucia Jene and Mary Jo, plan to move to Brownfield as soon as they can find a house. He is a graduate of Texas Technological college, having a B. S. degree and the past 10 years he has traveled for feed companies, including the Quaker Co. and Economy Mills.

Wolfe Shaw To Open New Store Here Soon

One of Brownfield's newest residents is Wolfe Shaw, who recently leased the Wine's Hotel, and plans to open a new store in the building just south of hotel.

Mr. Shaw stated that he plans to have shoes for the entire family, and carry a complete stock of men's and boys' wear. New ultra-modern fixtures will be installed in the near future.

Coming here from Littlefield, where he was in business several years, Mr. Shaw leased the Wine's Hotel from Mr. and Mrs. W. D. T. Storey of Littlefield, and will change the name to Bancroft Hotel.

The interior of the hotel has been completely remodeled and re-decorated, making it one of the most modern hostleries on the South Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Machen of Lubbock visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Quinton.

Church of Christ Is Ready For Meet

While their Gospel Meeting is still a bit over a week away, the Crescent Hill Church of Christ is not idle concerning it. In fact, the officers and members are in an extensive advertising campaign. While you cannot say they have spent with a lavish hand, they have not failed to provide the knowledge of the meeting to all in these parts.

When F. Yater Tant, well known evangelist of Abilene arrives in Brownfield, he and others will not have to delay the meeting to whom up and advertise the campaign. That part as well as other matters have been taken care of in advance.

Remember, however, that you are cordially invited to hear all or part of these series of services, and you will be a welcome visitor to any of them.

Notice To Our Rural Reporters

As we have reminded our rural and small town reporters on not a few occasions, we will again have to remind them to mail as early as possible. This applies more especially to Meadow and Pool, as we have the poorest mail connections with Meadow that anyone could imagine.

As most of the neighborhood news happens over the weekend, we would advise that your letters from Meadow or Pool be mailed Mondays. Last week the Meadow letter arrived in Thursday after the paper was planned and layed out for the week. It therefore had to be left out.

This makes it mean in two ways. The town or community has no publicity for the week, and secondly, if carried over, many of the items are not news after the lapse of a week. MAIL EARLY, PLEASE.

Scouts Have Swim Meet Here Tuesday

More than 60 Boy Scouts from Brownfield and Lamesa participated in the annual swimming meet here at the Lions club pool at 4 p. m. Tuesday.

In the general events, Troop 49 of Brownfield placed first, with the local Troop 74 placing second. Lamesa Troop 22 won third place, and Troop 47 of Brownfield placed fourth. Local Troop 45 participated in the events also.

Winners of the meet will compete in the council meet to be held at the swimming pool at Mackenzie Park in Lubbock next Tuesday evening, starting at 6:30 o'clock, according to Jack Johnson, field scout executive from Lamesa. Twenty-five boys from Texas district will compete in the event.

Who Wants 160 Acres On The White River?

We had a caller last week, from Eddie Brown and his little daughter and son from over at Wilson, Texas. Such calls are not unusual, but Eddie wants to sell 160 acres of land over in Arkansas on the White River, and near a government lake called the Bend Lake.

Yes, we will admit the price, $200 per acre was rather steep, but we have seen land on the White river that was the equal of the delta section on the Mississippi river. And just look at the channel catfish in that river, and perhaps bass and crapie in the lake?

Mr. Brown was just a bit evasive as to the reason he quit that fertile, and lush rainfall section to come to this section to live. But if we had a guess or two, we'd say, some of the family were not having good health back there. Perhaps his wife, as she was not with him when he called.

A son, David, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Sam R. Hunter of Lubbock on August 7th. The father will graduate from Texas Tech the last of this month. The child's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Pierce of Paris, Boone Hunter of Lubbock, and Mrs. Sue Hunter of Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Head and son, Jerome, of Spade, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shelton Sunday. Mrs. Head is a sister to Mrs. Shelton. Both Mr. and Mrs. Head are teachers in the school at Spade.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Machen went to Amarillo Sunday where they attended the wedding of Mrs. Machen's niece, Miss Jackie Dolan to Henry Ponds. Vows were exchanged at the First Baptist Church at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dolan.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davis, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Davis of route 5, left Wednesday for a two weeks' trip. They planned to visit Yellowstone National Park, and many other points of interest before returning home.

DO AS THE ROMAN!

For gals who like to look fresh and trim despite sultry heat, here's some sage advice — "Do as the Roman does!" Glamorous Ruth Roman, popular Warner Bros. actress, dons a crisp cotton skirt of red and white checks combined with a white tucked halter. In her cool cotton outfit, complete to cotton string gloves, Miss Roman seems blissfully unaware of summer heat.

Durwood Imgrund Is Gunshot Victim

Durwood Imgrund, 28-year-old oil firm clerk, was found shot to death in his apartment at 1206 east Main street about 8 o'clock Wednesday morning. His body was shipped to New Orleans, Thursday, for burial there. Arrangements here were made through the Brownfield Funeral Home.

A verdict of "death, self-inflicted by gunshot wound," was returned by Justice of the Peace J. W. Hogue. Sheriff Ocie H. Murry and his deputies found the body, badly decomposed, lying on his bed, a pillow over his head and a .32-caliber revolver under his right hand. A bullet had entered his right temple.

The body was found by neighbors who investigated a disturbance caused by a barking dog Wednesday morning. Exact time of death was not determined, but the sheriff's department reported "at least 60 hours." A neighbor reported seeing Imgrund about noon Sunday and Sunday papers found in his quarters apparently had been read.

Imgrund's wife, Barbara, has been visiting her parents in Gretna, La., for about two weeks. His mother, Mrs. Jessie Imgrund, resides in Arcadia, Calif.

Imgrund, who moved to Brownfield in March, was employed by the Stanolind Gas and Oil company, and had reported for work Saturday, but had not been seen since by fellow workers. Officials reported that he returned Friday from a plane trip to Louisiana.

County Attorney Vernon Townes said that two shells had been fired from the death gun, but that one live shell remained between the two empty chambers. He said that in his opinion, one bullet caused death.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Malcolm and children left Sunday for a two weeks' vacation in Red River, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob West moved to Dimmitt last weekend, where he was transferred in the Soil Conservation Service.

WEDDING GIFTS TO BE DISPLAYED AT MEADOW

Bumper Cotton Crop Forecast

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—(AP)—The Agriculture Department, in its first forecast of the current cotton crop, today estimated it at 17,266,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This near-record crop is 7,214,000 bales more than the 10,012,000-bale short crop produced last year. It also is much larger than the ten-year (1940-49) average of 12,030,000 bales.

Exceeds Requests

The government had appealed for a crop of at least 16,000,000 bales to replenish supplies which had cut to a low level under defense program demands. Exports have been restricted because of the supply situation.

The largest crop ever produced was 18,946,000 bales in 1937.

A big boost in the crop had been expected by the cotton markets, as evidenced by the fact that prices have dipped rather sharply from a ceiling of 45.76 cents a pound.

Sgt. Barney Doss, who is stationed at Fort Hood, is completing a furlough with relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Edith Herron of Lubbock, formerly of Brownfield, spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Simmons.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Elliott, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Hadaway, visited their son, Pvt. Max Wayne Elliott, at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Back of Colorado City visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Shepherd and family Monday. Mrs. Back is Mrs. Shepherd's niece.

Game Warden: "Yes, Ma'am."

Mrs. Eula Beavers returned home Monday night after a two weeks' visit with her mother, in Eureka, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holt and her mother, Mrs. G. W. Graves, visited her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Graves in Seminole Sunday.

Mrs. Bill Kluting and children of Lubbock visited Monday with her mother, Mrs. Ruth McCain.

JONES HOPES NEW POWER PLANT ENGINE READY TO START BY SEPT. 1

Called by the city light and power plant this week, to see how the installation of the huge giant engine was coming along. It is in place now, and the installation crew were assembling the working parts of this huge power unit. In fact they had the chank shaft layed out, that looked more like a huge telephone pole.

Then there were the cylinders, all seven of them. We were surprised at the odd number, but Supt. Eunice Jones, who was showing us around assured us that there was just seven, instead of six or eight. And these cylinders looked more like a big waste basket to keep near your desk, except they were much higher than most waste baskets. Then there were the piston rings, that if hoop skirts were still in style, they would be a howling success, except, of course they were too heavy.

All in all, the work is coming along on schedule, and Mr. Jones stated that they hoped to have the big boy on the job by September 1, or soon thereafter. In the meantime Jones stated that they had cut in on the high line of the utilities company, whose line runs through the western edge of the city, for additional power, until the new engine is ready to go.

Anyway, the original light and power building as well as the addition, are now jamb full of engines. If more are installed, a new building will have to be constructed.

FOR WOMEN ONLY

By Margaret Bandy Coward

—And we hope the men will read this too! Ramblin' around this week, various people asked me if I will continue a column similar to Gee Gee's Chit Chat... here it is... but I will need your help to learn interesting things about the many nice people in Brownfield. Seems everyone in Brownfield takes the Terry County Herald... I haven't talked to anyone—in person or on the phone—and introduced myself, who haven't said, "Oh yes, we read about you in the Herald! Ruby Nell Herston was hostess to a group of young ladies Saturday night... having a final "stag" get-together with Gene Carr before she takes the marriage vows next Wednesday. Wanda Swain, Gladys Swain, Mrs. Mary Nell Duffey, Lillian Cameron and Ruby Nell and Gene went bowling in Lubbock, then came back here for a midnight snack... don't know the hour they quit talking and went home... On the Amateur Show on the radio Saturday afternoon, Sherry Don Spears sang a song that won first place for her... Patty Winn placed second after she sang... and Charles Gunn, talented pianist, placed third. The show is from 3:30 to 4:00 each Saturday afternoon... and, Hey, Kids, Refreshments are served!... Saw Joe Christian in the coffee shop one day at noon. Joe will move his family here in the near future from Lubbock... and will open the Western Farm and Ranch Store on the Lubbock highway—north... Said hello to Harold Boston at the Super Dog... looking forward to seeing Marion and the cute little girls... Marion Chisholm, use to be! Knew Harold and his sisters and parents "back in the 'teen ages" when we all lived at Wellington.

Special from Lion President Red Smith... in regard to softball game scheduled for next Tuesday night, when Lions are challenging Rotarians... Said Red... "We've beaten the Rotary Club in all contests in the past, and we will win the ball game... also furnish crutches and vitamin pills for our opponents!" Little Pat Adams was happy this week over a Parakeet given him by his parents, to "ease the pain" from having to give away his six rabbits. He isn't happy over the boys killing some of the rabbits after he gave them away. A parakeet is a beautiful little bird... from the canary and parrot families. Pat's mother, Mrs. K. D. Adams, sings beautifully, and is a member of the choir at the First Methodist Church... Wish I had the "talent" to connect names and faces as does Mayor Primm... Someone told me Gee Gee was always willing to take a 'free' job to help people... usually when no one else would take it, Gee Gee would. Saving the best for the last... The husband is the beauty operator, hair stylist, etc... recently purchased the Cinderella Beauty Shop... and the same operators will continue with him. Been several years since Brownfield could 'boast' of a man beautician... know the women and girls will like him... and the men will like you after you've had him fix your hair!

FATHER DIES

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Profett were called to Seymour Monday, due to the death of her father, who is reported to have died suddenly. Funeral services were held Tuesday, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Green attended the final rites for her grandfather.

NEW DAUGHTER

A daughter, weighing 6 pounds and 11 ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas in a Lubbock hospital Monday at 9:45 a. m. Thomas is owner of a service station here.

Old Masters in Needlepoint Bring New Beauty to Home

Rich beauty is given the home by famous paintings reproduced in needlepoint. "Blue Boy," from the painting by Sir Thomas Gainsborough, and "Pinkie," from the painting by Sir Thomas Lawrence, pair well for wall area above a table.

Figures Embroidered by Experts, But You Can Work Out Background

ART isn't necessarily something that's to be viewed only on rare visits to museums. It becomes more meaningful if it's something that's lived with, that has a part in the familiar pattern of life. Few people can afford original paintings by great masters, but that's no reason for shutting yourself off from these classics. Reproductions are the answer.

One well-known firm, recognizing the desire of many people to hang copies of the world's best paintings in their homes, has recently introduced an "old masters" series in needlepoint.

THERE'S appeal in this series not only to the artistic leanings of homemakers, but also to their creative instincts. Although the central figures of such paintings as "Pinkie," "Blue Boy," "Age of Innocence" and "Boy With Rabbit" have already been worked on canvas by skilled Madeira craftsmen, the background is left to be finished by purchasers.

"Old Masters" kits are available in two sizes—full-length and miniature. The larger kits include antique gold or mahogany picture frames. The smaller ones include, in addition to the frames, mats, glass panes, and enough yarn to complete the backgrounds.

The large pictures are planned to be used in pairs; the miniatures, it's suggested, are attractive when hung in groups of four.

Funeral Today For Mrs. Albert Clements

Mrs. Albert Clements, 62, passed away at 7:15 o'clock Wednesday night at her home six miles north of Brownfield, after an illness of several months.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock this morning, Friday, in the North Second Street Church of Christ, conducted by Earl Cantrell of Silverton, a nephew of the deceased, and J. L. Pritchard, both Church of Christ ministers. Arrangements are under the direction of Brownfield Funeral Home, and interment will be in the Terry County Memorial cemetery.

Mrs. Clements was born in Travis county in 1889, and had lived in Terry county since Feb. 11, 1924, she and her husband operating a farm north of town.

Survivors are the husband, five sons, R. H. and Williams, of Brownfield; Lester of Watson, Calif.; Gus of Ashland, Oregon; and Thomas Eli of New Bedford, Mass.; four daughters, Mrs. W. L. Mae Henderson, and Mrs. Dimple Clements, all Brownfield; and Mrs. Virginia Lynch of Lubbock. Another daughter, Ina, died in 1943.

Mrs. Clements also had three brothers who survive, W. C. Cantwell, Amarillo; Tom Cantwell, Round Rock, Texas, and J. D. Cantwell of Ashland, Calif. Included in the survivors are seven grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews who reside in this area.

The Griffiths Report A Great Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Griffith and daughter, Juda, returned last week from a rather long trip to the northwest, including British Columbia. They say it would be hard to say what interested them most, but Hayden did say that he saw more flowers growing in Victoria, B. C., than any place he ever witnessed.

In fact, he stated that there were so many flowers that two huge baskets of them are hung on the light standards, and that they are wet each night with a hose. So evidently the flowers grow in the baskets.

And, almost same temperature both day and night, as well as the lush green fields and pastures, and profusion of flowers in our own northwestern states, was appreciated by the Griffiths, not to mention the scenic wonders of the mountains and valleys. It was great, they report.

They're Sneaking Off To Old Arkansas

L. J. Dunn, who stayed at home and kept friend Griffith's lawn and flowers and vegetables well enough to keep them from dying, had already planned a joust before Hayden and family came home. But the Dunns will take off in another direction—they headed for old Arkansas this week.

Just who will bed and feed them while over there, they say, eth not. But with the warm weather on hand, there will be plenty hay ricks to sleep in, and the Ozarks are said to be full of berries and other fruits.

Anyway, maybe L. J. will tell us more on his return, especially if he connects with plenty eats.

Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Walker and children, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Billy Maxwell of Big Spring vacationed in Cloudcroft, N. M., early this week.

HOUSE OF THE WEEK

In this space, you'll find "The House of the Week" with full descriptions. This series is made possible by area firms listed here... See them to help you with your Home Furnishing Problems.

CONVENIENCE & COMFORT

All of the utility and easeful living that can be provided in a small five-room home is here. In the kitchen, there is 14 feet of counter or work space in addition to the kitchen table. This will mean that there is a large amount of base cabinet or storage space below the counter, also wall cabinets will be arranged on both sides of the window. Pantry gives ample space for food storage.

The bedrooms are of comfortable size. The large closet with its wide double doors will provide plenty of storage space.

Since the dining room is usually used to much less extent than some of the other rooms, it was designed small. However, a wide opening is suggested between it and the living room to make both rooms appear much larger. The living room is arranged so that it could serve also as a bedroom if three bedrooms are needed. It will afford privacy and is convenient to the bath.

A back-porch or work room can be added at the back entrance if desired.

Off the hall there are two linen closets and a storage closet. The large closet by the rear entrance provides an abundance of storage space for work clothes, raincoats, etc.

The water heater closet opens into this hall. This not only puts the heater between the bath and kitchen to cut down on the cost of plumbing, but also provides easy access for any care that it may need.

Although this house was designed for casement type windows, working drawings are such that other standard window units can be used. It is suggested, however that windows which will stress the horizontal lines of the house should be used.

Simplicity in framing and roof lines that there is much less effort in laying out the foundations, fitting the framing, etc.

TUMBLING NANCY

NELSON, Nebr. — (AP) — The tumbling tumbleweed has nothing on three-year-old Nancy Adanson of Nelson.

Nancy fell out of the family automobile while it was traveling 50 miles an hour down the highway and escaped with only burns and bruises. By the time her father, Dale Adanson, brought the car to a screeching halt, Nancy was on her feet and running toward it.

McClain Predicts Insects For Terry

About the most important question being asked now days is, "Are we going to have as many insects as we had last year?" From recent reports over the county we are going to have insects and most likely plenty of them. Just because you do not have any insects today does not mean you won't have them next week. For this reason it is our advice to you to make inspections of your fields at least once or twice per week to see if you have insects and also what kind and begin treating before they have a chance to cause damage. If we, the members of the bank can be of any assistance to you in recognizing and treating these expensive pests, feel free to call on us.

Since many of you have sudan about ready to graze I think it wise to mention that for best results, according to agronomy specialist, sudan should not be grazed until it is at least 18 inches in height. At this stage it is more succulent, safer and contains a higher nutritional feeding value.

Are you feeding your cows ample minerals? If you are not, it is our advice to you to do so. A large percentage of cattle ailments in this vicinity are caused from a mineral deficiency. Dry bundles and grass grown on poor land cannot be expected to furnish enough minerals for growth and reproduction. A good mineral mixture for your cattle is a mixture composed of equal parts by weight of limestone, bonemeal and salt. This mixture should be located where cattle will have access to it at all times. Remember, regardless of the amount of feed you are feeding, cattle must have minerals to grow and produce strong healthy calves.

The spring pig crop is estimated to be approximately 63.3 million, a 7 percent increase over last year. The number of sows estimated to farrow this fall will be approximately 6.4 million, a 4 percent increase over last year's number. Due to the above figures and past market trends during the heavy fall marketing period, possibly best prices can be expected for hogs within the next 45 to 60 day.

Very truly yours,
R. N. McClain, Asst. Vice-Pres., Brownfield State Bank & Trust Company.

"Cotton Research in Action" is the theme of the 12th annual Cotton Research Congress, which meets at Texas A. & M. College July 26-29.

HONG KONG. — (AP) — Chinese communists are using Shanghai's once-fashionable Canidrome race track for everything from slaughter to satire. ## 1951 COTTON LOAN RATES ANNOUNCED BY THE PMA

The Production and Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture recently announced that the average loan rate for middling 7/8 inch upland cotton, gross weight, produced in 1951 will be 30.46 cents per pound, which is 90 percent of the parity price of cotton as of August 1, 1951. (The August 1 parity price, announced recently, is 33.85 cents per pound).

Last year the average loan rate for middling 7/8 inch cotton, gross weight, was 27.90 cents per pound. The average rate for middling 15/16 inch cotton will be 125 points (1.25 cents per pound) above the average rate for middling 7/8 inch cotton, or 31.71 cents per pound, gross weight.

Premiums and discounts for the various grade and staple length combinations under the 1951 loan program will be calculated in relation to the loan rate on middling 15/16 inch cotton. (The schedule of premiums and discounts was issued on May 16, 1951). County PMA committees have this schedule.

Loan rates will vary according to location. The rate for middling 15/16 inch cotton, gross weight, will vary from a high of 32.55 cents per pound in the concentrated mill areas of the Carolinas to a low of 30.97 cents per pound in Arizona and California. County loan rates will be announced in a few days and PMA county committees will have this information.

Loans will be made on cotton represented by warehouse receipts issued by warehouses approved by Commodity Credit Corporation and, on farm-stored cotton (secured by chattel mortgages stored in structures approved by Production and Marketing Administration county committees. Cotton producer's notes will bear interest at the rate of 3 percent per annum and will mature July 31, 1952 but will be callable on demand. Loans will be available through April 30, 1952.

Producer eligibility requirements are defined in Cotton Bulletin I issued by CCC. Loan forms are being made available through approved cotton warehouses, approved leading agencies, and PMA county committees.

Loans will be made direct by the Commodity Credit Corporation or through lending agencies, principally banks, approved by the Corporation. Requests for approval as lending agencies should be directed to the local PMA county committee.

A special form of loan agreement will be available to cotton cooperative marketing association, whereby the association may obtain a loan on cotton on which such associations have made loans to their producer-members. Persons throughout the Cotton Belt will be designated as approved clerks to assist producers in the preparation and execution of the loan papers. Local PMA county committees will designate the approval clerks in the respective counties and supervise such approved clerks in accordance with instructions issued by PMA State committees.

PHEASANT FARMER HAS TROUBLE

VANCOUVER. — (AP) — Bill Greenslades' house is surrounded by a flock of beautiful birds that give him hay fever. They also peck his bald head occasionally and they are highly critical of his taste in clothes.

This might discourage some men from pheasant farming, but not Greenslades. He likes pheasants, despite the fact they haven't sense enough to come in out of the rain and are noted for neglecting their young.

House Fly A Big Disease Carrier

Thousands of children and adults die every year from diseases carried by the fly. Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, polio, summer complaint, cholera, intestinal diseases, and frequently death follow closely in the trail of the common house fly.

"The control of the fly menace comes at the top of the list of necessary public health measures which should be applied by every city and community in the State," urged Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"The most effective measure for control is to prevent breeding," Doctor Cox said. "Flies breed in filth, and about eight days are required to complete a life cycle. During her life time of several months, one house fly lays from 600 to 1,000 eggs. Thus it can easily be seen that in a season which usually begins in the spring of the year, the descendants from one fly number countless thousands. "To eliminate flies, the breeding places must be destroyed. Manure piles, garbage, and other organic filth furnish the requirements of warmth, moisture, and food necessary for the propagation of the fly. Flies should be kept from contact with food or drink or utensils in which such food and drink are prepared and served. Likewise, they should be kept from access to privy vaults where they pick up the infections, which they later spread to humans by contact with the food and drink, and by unwashed hands and utensils.

"See that your windows, doors, and porches are screened so that the stray fly from some careless neighbor will not molest your family. See that your grocer keeps meat, vegetables, and fruit from flies.

"Organize health measures to destroy the breeding places, control the flies' access to your home and food, and establish standards of cleanliness in your community that will eliminate the fly."

with lavender astors, behind which was placed a miniature bride and groom, was placed on the mantel in the living room, reflected in a large mirror over the mantel. Candles burning on each side of the large heart enhanced the beauty of the mantel.

On the credenza was another attractive decoration, a large crystal bowl with purple dahlias floating, surrounded by baby's breath, flanked with candles.

Fifty-five guests called during the evening, and a large number of gifts were sent by those who were unable to attend.

Miss Billie Tittle, Bill Wade United Here

They Don't Like Trees At Crosbyton

A few weeks ago, when we read that there was talk of improving the park over at Crosbyton, and the ladies had suggested that all the trees be dug up and destroyed, we thought it a huge joke. But according to the last issue of the Crosbyton Review, that is exactly what happened.

The ladies had contended that grass and shrubs will not grow where there are trees. And besides, said the "wimmen," the Chinese elm got torn up almost every winter with ice storms. Now there is not a great difference in our own and the climate at Crosbyton, and we've only had our trees torn up with ice one winter in 23 years, and that not badly.

And there are grasses, a lot better than bermuda that will grow right under trees and shrubs, and the trees don't seem to hurt it, nor the grass interfere with the trees. Any seed dealer will tell you about it. Another advantage is that this grass stays green almost all winter, whereas, bermuda curls up at the first frost.

We can't conceive of a park without trees. It would be like Coney Island without hot dogs. What Sunday School class would want to have a picnic on the grass under the boiling sunshine of 100 degrees in the good old summertime?

Brownfield has a nice little park which has both grass and trees in abundance, and we understand the city has bought additional ground to it and will enlarge the park as soon as conditions are better. In the meantime, it would make the people as well as the City authorities as mad as hornets if some bird went down there and began digging out the trees in Coleman park.

We recently had a fair contrast of two places with and without trees. We visited a farm home one afternoon. There were no shade trees with the exception of a small peach tree. Even sitting out on the gallery or porch, the wind had a scorchy feeling.

Fifteen minutes later we were at home among some large trees that had kept the ground cool all day, or much cooler than in the sun. We believe there was 15 degrees difference in the temperature at the farm home and our own.

We would not keep a farm home long without some trees about it. Not only makes it cooler, but looks more homelike. A lone farm home, way out on the "bawdies" looks lonesome to us.

Oh, Yeah, We Are A Rich Nation—But

We have a lot of people in these here United States that thoroughly hate the United States Chamber of Commerce. Oh, yeah, it is the big man's organization. Well, maybe, and we figure they are big two ways. The members have been able to go right off and leave most of us far in the rear in making money. And they are wise enough to know where our country is headed if not stopped—and soon.

This week we had a little folder handed to us with red lines, each representing the United States at a different period of our nation. For the past 30 years those lines have become longer and longer. Today, the average family's share of the national debt is $5,940. Do you have your part?

In 1866, at the close of the Civil War, the nation had a debt of 2.2 billion dollars. In 1919, at the close of World War I, it stood at $25.2 billion dollars. During the boom year 1929, the national debt had been reduced to $16.6 billion dollars. But by 1939, before we entered War II, the national debt had reached $39.9 billions and now it is $255.0 billions.

Source of all this information is from the US Treasury Department, and not USCC guess work; the debt is still growing by leaps and bounds. And it is happening

Harve Harris And Wife Seeing Sights

Had a letter last week from our good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Harve Harris of Tatum and Bronco, who had finally reached their destination at Shetland, Oregon, the home of Mrs. Harris' sister and husband. They left Tatum July 10th, spending the first night out with their daughter at Carlsbad, N. M. Thence on the next day to El Paso, where they visited in the homes of his nephews, the sons of Charlie Harris.

They reached Los Angeles the second night out from El Paso, where they had a wonderful visit with their baby daughter, Bea Etta and husband. They then took the inland highway from Los Angeles to Washington, seeing a wonderful country, with its fruit, berries, dairying, mining, etc. While the country is very pretty, some of it is really rough. Lots of good fishing. They spent one night with an old friend in a mining town, which reminded them of the story of the 49'ers and their gold digging.

Also spent one night with friends at Newburg, Oregon, and next day crossed the line into Washington. Both states have many rivers, bays, etc., that make them attractive to a visitor from this section. The next day they reached the home of Mrs. Harris' sister at Shetland, Oregon. While there is much water, Harve stated that it was generally too cold that far north, to go in bathing.

But, they were picking up oysters after the tide went out, and he was learning much about this ocean denizen. One is not expected to molest any but their own oyster beds, as the beds are planted. The big log jams in the bays and on the streams was also exciting to him. And once in awhile a few logs belonging to a certain man strays off. Finders must return them or notify the owner as stealing logs is kinder like stealing cattle in this country.

They plan a short trip to Canada, which is only 190 miles from where the sister lives. Returning they will take highway 101, then hug the coast route back to Los Angeles, where after another short visit with their daughter, they will return home.

But Harve says there is so much to be seen that he couldn't tell it all even if he used a dozen pages. He filled two typewritten pages pretty full. We are truly glad that this fine couple are enjoying their trip.

INSPECTORS CAPTURE THREE ILLICIT STILL

One still was taken in Panola County, and two stills were taken in Titus County.

Capitol Station, Austin, Texas
By JIM SPARKS

AUSTIN.—Another court victory and widespread editorial comment on the recent crime hearings featured the news last week on Texas' fight against organized crime and vice.

Attorney General Price Daniel obtained an injunction against Felix J. DeMary of Orange, Texas, whose Border Cafe just across the state line in Louisiana was the link in the telephone network which supplied Galveston's gambling Maceo clan with race track information.

Daniel alleged that DeMary's cafe was the "drop" station from which Continental Press — the national organization run by the Capone syndicate — relayed its race results to the five plush gambling betting parlors in Galveston. Daniel already had a temporary injunction against the Galveston gamblers stopping the horse race betting.

Travis County District Judge

Jack Roberts set July 13 at the date for a hearing on the Maceo's attempt to move the injunction suit to Galveston county for final trial on the merits. Daniel is opposing this move on grounds the case should be tried in Travis county because it includes two telephone corporations over which the Travis court has jurisdiction.

The phone lines between DeMary's cafe and the Galveston bookie shops stayed open four hours a day, Daniel said.

District Judge F. W. Hustmyre of Orange granted Daniel's request for the injunction against DeMary's use of the phone in his cafe for relaying this information, but restored DeMary's business telephone so long as used for lawful purposes.

Because many bettors have to know how they came out on the previous race before they can bet again, immediate information is necessary to large-scale betting operations. The cutting off of such data effectively blocks this form of gambling.

Chance Of Survival Against Quail

Day-by-day hazards of a covey of bobwhite quail are recounted in the current issue of "Texas Game & Fish" magazine.

Quoting Aldo Leopold's "Game Management," an article follows a covey around the calendar and describes how the original covey of 15 is reduced to seven by the end of March.

The quail log continues: "Comes April and comes spring. Feeding on green alfalfa and waste corn, the birds begin to pair on warm days and to look for nesting territories. The unmated cock whistles his disappointment.

"Three pair begin nesting in May, one in the alfalfa, one in the greening marsh, another in the ditch.

"Romance yields to tragedy as May gives way to June. A rain gets the alfalfa nest. Both bereaved pair try again, one nesting in the grain and the other in the ditch. "In July, the mower gets the grain nest, but the early ditch nest brings off a dozen young (total 14) and the late ditch nest produces all but four chicks which were killed by a cat. (Total now 24).

Capt. James F. Spain of Biggs Air Force Base spent Wednesday night and Thursday of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Privitt. The two men served in the Air Force together during World War II.

"During August, cats, dogs and cars get four chicks, reducing the total to 20. There were no losses during September.

"October finds the birds eating ragweed and foxtail in corn and grain stubble. A hunter pots four birds. (Total 16). In November, a rabbit hunter pots one. (Total 15).

"So the intrepid new covey, representing the complete new cycle, gets through December without new losses and the balance in January is the same as last year."

Burial Allowances Increased By Services

According to the publication "Armed Force," the Defense Department has put into effect new monetary allowances to assist families in defraying burial expenses of servicemen. Until this change, an allowance not to exceed $75 was authorized by the Army and Air Force as reimbursement toward expenses when the burial was in a private cemetery, and no allowance was provided when interment was in a national cemetery. The Navy authorized an allowance not to exceed $75, regardless of whether burial took place in a private or post cemetery.

Under the new order, the allowance is raised to $125, regardless of branch of service, if burial in a private cemetery, and a maximum of $75 is allowed when the burial is in a post or national cemetery.

The increased allowances are effective in respect to Army and Air Force personnel whose burials took place on or after April 1, 1951, and in respect to Navy personnel whose burials took place on or after May 1, 1951. The procedure in effecting payment will be the same as in the past for each branch of the service.

R & PR Regulation Just a Little Harsh—It Seems

Veterans of WWI are rapidly approaching the age when they will be entitled to Social Security benefits. Except in sparsely isolated cases and depending upon income, at the age of 65, the veteran, by reason of a non-service connected disability, can reasonably expect to receive a pension in the sum of $72 a month. If the veteran were to receive both his Social Security and this pension, he would have a sufficient amount to maintain a fairly decent standard of living.

According to R & PR, which has to do with the compilation of annual income for veterans, we find the R & PR rather astounding because it imposes on the income limitation a large portion of the Social Security benefits, which the veteran had always regarded as he would any other insurance policy. Under the present ruling, a veteran will receive his Social Security benefits in to until the amount that he, himself, has paid shall be exhausted. After which time, his Social Security benefits will be regarded as any other income, and no exception being allowed. On this latter point, there is a tremendous amount of misinterpretation some hold that, because they receive retirement, annuity, pensions or compensation they shall be stopped entirely from receiving Social Security benefits. This is not true, nor is it true that Social Security benefits will be continued indefinitely, but can be stopped under the conditions above stated. It must be remembered that this is a directive, which has the effect of law until the legislative authorities enact a bill which would supercede this badly misunderstood provision. Some members of Congress have already introduced remedial legislation.

CHANGE IN RURAL ROUTES WILL SERVE 30 ADDITIONAL FAMILIES

Effective Monday, August 13th changes will be made in the lines of travel for Rural Route 2, and Star Route 4, as they make their return trips into Brownfield. The changes will make available mail delivery service to 30 or more additional families.

Rural Route 2, George W. Dodson, carrier, now returns to the postoffice by way of the Seagraves highway and the business route cut-off. With the changes in affect the carrier will turn off the Seagraves highway at the Chevron station at the intersection of Seagraves highway and the Foster farm-to-market road traveling due north on the new highway 137 west of town to its intersection with the Plains highway, and thence east to the postoffice. 22 residences and business establishments will be served on the new line of travel.

Star Route 4, Mrs. J. B. Worsham, carrier, now returns to Brownfield by way of the new highway 137 west of town. With the changes in affect the carrier will proceed from the intersection of the Levelland highway and the new highway 137 south-east on the Levelland highway for one mile, or to the Chamber of Commerce sign, thence west to highway 137 and south into town. Ten or more families will be served by this change.

Those residing in or adjacent to be provided with mail service should erect approved rural mail boxes, on concrete supports which are furnished free by the Highway Maintenance Department, of which Earl Anthony, Jr., is in charge. Those residing in the new territory to be serviced by Route 2 should erect their boxes on the east side of the road. Those residing in the new territory serviced by Route 4 should erect their boxes on the west side of the road. Where two or more families live on adjoining lots their boxes should be placed side by side. Those who wish to be provided with the new service should so inform the carrier or postoffice employees after the box has been properly erected.

Joe L. Shelton, Postmaster.

Did Jim Foy Predict 106,000 Bales Cotton?

Two or three times the past week, we have heard that County Agent Jim Foy had predicted that the 260,000 acres of cotton in Terry county would produce 106,000 bales. At that time we did not know for sure whether Jim actually said that, or some one drew heavily on his conclusions. Right now Jim is off in Lubbock with a bunch of the 4-H club boys.

Anyway, we have heard the rumor repeated more than once. Now we hope that Jim proves to be right. But as far as we can see right now, we'll have to discount his figures some 50 percent, and if there is not some rain soon, maybe more. We will check with Mr. Foy before we go to press.

But our experience is that we make one-fourth of a bale of cotton or less more often than we make a third of a bale per acre. A third of a bale would be in the neighborhood of 86,000 bales, and a fourth would figure out around 65,000. But the way we figure it, 106,000 bales would crowd 2/5ths of a bale per acre.

We saw a stalk of cotton this week some 18 inches tall, that did not have a form on it except right in the top. Worms had finished off all the lower part of the stalk, but the grower admitted that it was not all that badly eaten. Will take a lot of such cotton though, to make a bale.

DOLLAR DAY CROWD WAS RATHER PUNY

The First Monday Dollar Day crowd was conspicuous by its absence here Monday. Many of the merchants are a bit disheartened and failed to have any advertising whatever. And to add to the reason, the farmers, too, taking a cue perhaps from the business men, have called a sit-down trade strike.

But there was a good crowd as usual here last Saturday. Of course they were not exactly splurging, but they were buying their actual needs.

Virgil Kinard Still Plows Up Moisture

Virgil Kinard, one of the real old timers was in Saturday from the Pleasant Valley section. Said he wanted to get Wayne Yelser, a nephew who is in a hospital out at Los Angeles, on the mailing list, as that boy was real homesick for some hometown news. We also get Virgil in on our special three year rate.

Virgil was just a small boy when we came here in 1909. His dad had passed on in 1907, and at an early age, he had to assume the place of the man of the house, as the other two Kinard children were girls. He is still farming the old Kinard farmstead. Let us add that he is no sidewalk farmer, as he is never seen in town unless he has business.

Virgil informed us that he had a good crop, and was still plowing up moist soil as late as last week on the farm. They had an abundance of rain in May, as well as one good shower a month ago, where a severe hail hit part of that and the Challis community.

We wondered if Virgil could remember much about his dad. He stated that he could remember when he died, and that was about all. His mother did a fine job in raising him, and he is one of our best citizens.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick West and daughter, Judy, of Sudan were weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gage. Mrs. Gage is Mrs. West's aunt. Sunday visitors in the Gage home were her mother, Mrs. S. J. Billings, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chester and son, Billy, all of Sudan.

Caught Without Hook

Mrs. George Robbins of Galveston is shown with an 86-pound silver king tarpon she landed off Galveston's Pleasure Pier without hooking it. A fisherman next to Mrs. Robbins got the strike. The tarpon leaped high in the air, cut the other angler's line, but got tangled in Mrs. Robbins' line. She landed the fish in 30 minutes. (AP Photo).

Lyle is majoring in mining engineering at the college, and this summer he received practical experience in mining while working in the U. S. mines in Bingham Canyon, Utah.

On July 25th he received a back injury during a cave-in in the mine, and was in a hospital in Salt Lake eight days. He will be able to continue his work at the college in El Paso this fall.
