First Baptist Church Plans Rally For Training Union Revival Next Week Here

The initial meeting for the associational-wide Training Union Revivals to start Monday night in the Brownfield association, will be held at three o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church, according to Stanley Miller, associational director.

Miss Nella Casement

Miss Nella Casement of Dallas, approved worker with the Baptist Training Union department of Texas, will direct the Training Union Revival at the local church, beginning at 7:15 o'clock Monday night, and continuing through Friday night. Several churches in Terry and Lynn counties will conduct similar revivals.

Mr. Miller announced the following program for Sunday afternoon's Rally: song service; departmental meetings; Rev. James Frost of Dallas will meet with pastors and training union officers of each church; Miss Casement will meet with the young people; Miss Wanda Schwartz of Dallas will direct the intermediate workers and girls; Junior boys and girls and their workers will meet with Miss Nell McIlroy of Dallas; elementary workers to meet with Miss Nel McIlroy of Gomez; and primary and beginners' workers will be directed by Mrs. Kelly Sears of Gomez.

Concluding the afternoon program will be an address by Rev. Frost, who is assistant state union director, working with Dr. T. C. Gardner of Dallas, state Training Union director.

Miss Casement announced the following leaders of groups for next week's revival: she will direct adults and young people; Miss Schwartz will be in charge of seniors and intermediates; Mrs. L. G. Smith of Brownfield will meet with the Juniors; Mrs. Wayne Hill, Primary, Beginners, Mrs. Bill R. Neel; and Nursery, Mrs. A. M. Ammons.

COPELAND LEASES OIL STATION TO MITCHELL

R. D. Copeland was in Tuesday and stated that he had leased his Magnolia station out on the Seagraves highway to Bud Mitchell, who is also well known here. Mitchell is changing to another brand of gas, R. D. stated.

The grocery stock is to be closed out, Copeland stated, and as for Copeland, he is off for the coast on a fishing expedition. He leased his home near the station.

Food Mart Has 3rd Anniversary

Celebrating their Third Anniversary tomorrow, the Food Mart, 705 Lubbock road, is offering special prices on merchandise and various prize gifts, according to the owners, W. Fred Yandell and E. E. Harvey.

The Food Mart opened at the present location three years ago this fall as a home-owned store, and continues under the same management. Six employees including the owners are now engaged in rendering efficient service.

The store has a clean, balanced and well-arranged stock of noted brands groceries, and quality meats are featured in the meat department.

Mr. Harvey and Mr. Yandell both wish to take this opportunity to express their sincere appreciation for the wonderful support and patronage extended the Food Mart the past three years.

Rotarians to Attend Meeting In Lubbock

About 30 members of the Brownfield Rotary club will attend the Intercity Rotary meeting in Lubbock next Tuesday night, September 25, according to Clarence Griffith, secretary of the local club.

The local delegation will leave the old high school at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Griffith said, and the Rotary bus will be used for transportation.

The barbecue and program for all Rotarians in West Texas will be held at the Texas Tech Field house, starting at 7 p. m.

JACK DUBOSE TO HAVE NEW BUILDINGS

A new garage and cafe building, constructed of tile, will soon be completed by Jack Dubose in the west part of Brownfield, on the Plains highway, in front of the present building.

Mr. DuBose has operated Jack's garage here for a number of years. He hopes to have his new business open by October 15.

Local Schools Need Substitute Teachers

O. R. Douglas, superintendent of the Brownfield schools, asked the Herald to announce that teachers in this area with qualified degrees who will substitute in any of the local schools, are urged to contact him at the school office, in the new high school building "We are in need of substitutes from time to time during the school year, and we will appreciate anyone who is qualified contacting us," Mr. Douglas said.

VFW to Honor Korean War Vets

Veterans who have returned from the Korean war will be honored on Tuesday night, October 9, at Veteran's Hall in Brownfield, when the local VFW will entertain with a program and supper.

All veterans of the entire area are invited, C. L. Lincoln, who is chairman of the event, reported. W. D. Dugger is local post commander.

When veterans return, if they will leave their names and addresses with Mr. Lincoln, county service officer, it will be easier to contact them. "We want to send special invitations to Korean war veterans," he said, "and it is important that we have their correct addresses."

Meadow Boy To Finish Naval Course

Scheduled to graduate from the Naval Machinist's Mate School, Service School Command, U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill., on Sept. 21, is Thomas W. Bagwell, machinist's mate fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Bagwell of Route 1, Brownfield, Texas.

Bagwell, who entered the Naval service March 7, 1951, received his recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

Before entering the Navy, Bagwell was graduated from Meadow High School.

Furniture Clinic At Lubbock Scheduled

Harold Griffith

Furniture dealers and their sales people from Brownfield will attend a regional sales clinic for member stores of the Texas Association in the South Plains area to be held two evenings—September 26 & 27 at the Chamber of Commerce Building in Lubbock. Harold Griffith of Lubbock a director of the state association, is in charge of arrangements and will preside.

Conducting the clinics for the two evenings will be W. W. Morrison of Asheville, North Carolina. Mr. Morrison, who received the Cavalier Award, furniture industry's highest recognition in 1942, will have as his theme: "Furnishing the Home of Young America on a Budgeted Income."

The lectures will be accompanied with demonstrations of today's style merchandise, floor coverings and home improvement suggestions.

It's Tax Time Again; Rolls Are Complete

Mrs. Florence Webb, county tax collector and assessor, reported this week that county tax rolls have been completed, and paying time starts October 1.

Total evaluation of the county this year is $15,074,516, which is three million dollars higher than 1950, Mrs. Webb said. Last year it was $11,684,925.

If county taxes are paid in October a 3 per cent discount will be allowed, Mrs. Webb said, with 2 per cent in November and 1 per cent in December. After January 31, 1952, the usual penalty will have to be paid, she said.

WELCOME TO THE FIVE NEWCOMERS

We welcome the following to Brownfield. Maybe some of them had families as some have residential addresses:

C. M. Warren from Abilene; Charles L. Underwood from Wichita Falls; James E. Garth from Odessa; A. C. Lyle from Dallas. J. C. Powell gave no former address.

W. I. Kuhn moved to Teague, and Daniel W. Beck to Big Spring.

Brownfield Has Had A Good Fire Record

Beginning with 1923, when a record of fires and insurance began to be kept in Brownfield, we have had an enviable fire record. But last year, 1950, was our Jonah, with two huge fires that put the loss over $100,000 for the first time in history. The nearest approach was $18,060.46 in 1939.

In that time the premiums have grown from a mere $4,207.91 to $85,549.00 last year, and for several years the city of Brownfield had enjoyed a credit for good fire record of 25 percent. But we were reduced to a 5 percent credit this year. Supt. E. D. Jones furnished us with the figures below.

But let us all hand the volunteer fire department a few pats for being on the job throughout the years. They have not only saved a lot of property, but thousands of dollars to policy holders on their fire insurance policies.

Beginning early after the organization of the fire department any kind of record, we soon had a 15 percent credit. Then about 1937, the credit rose to 20 percent, and has remained there until this year, following two big fires last year. This year we are down to a 5 percent credit.

However, over the years, we have never had a penalty, and unless the unlooked for big fires come this year, our credit may rise slightly next year.

In the 27 years of record, premiums in the sum of $862,326.00 have been paid in. In the same period, the fire losses have been $254,040.00. Every fire insurance policyholder in the city can go along with Mr. Jones and the fire department in the belief that Brownfield has made an enviable fire record in the past 27 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hicks returned home Sunday night after being in Houston since last Wednesday. They attended a meeting of the Petroleum Marketers association.

Phillips Blackhawks To Invade Cubs Den

After piling up a score of 87-0 against the Crosbyton Chiefs last Friday night at the Brownfield stadium, the Cubs are not too optimistic about tonight's tangle with the Phillips Blackhawks.

The Cubs were just more than the Chiefs could handle. Coaches Tobey Greer and L. G. Wilson had 27 of their 29 players suited out and sent every player in, but those boys from Crosbyton could not stop the eleven Cubs who ran for touchdowns.

The game did give experience to some of the players who have not had much opportunity to play before now. Co-Captain Howard Swann started the scoring, who with his brother Joe, crossed the finish line twice, and Jerry Bailey, Paul Billings, Donnie Boyd, Joe Don Auburg, Jerry Anderson, Johnny Cloud, Olen Chambless, Royce Kelley and Jerry Don

Lubbock Fair Boosters Here Tuesday

The Panhandle South Plains Fair boosters from Lubbock, headed by the Reece Air Force Base Band, were the guests of Brownfield, Tuesday afternoon from 3:55 to 4:30 P. M. A good crowd including school children were on hand to greet the visitors, who usually hand out a lot of souvenirs that the kids like.

The Lubbock business men who usually go on these trips are usually well known all over the area and many of them have business connections and customers here and other places visited.

They tell us that the visitors to the fair this year will not see some extensive improvements, not only in the buildings, but in new exhibits and amusement places, and that visitors will be more than pleased.

Among the new numbers will be a thrilling aerial act, hundreds of feet in the air, each day, as well as the big fireworks display at night. At this time we have not learned whether Terry county will have an agricultural display or not.

The 34th annual fair runs from October 1 to 6th, inclusive.

Miss Norma McClendon of Lubbock visited last weekend in the home of Miss Mary Jones.

Brown, each took the pigskin for touchdowns.

It may be a different story tonight, Coach Greer said. The Blackhawks from the oilfields beat the Cubs last year 19-0; they batted McClain 57-0 last week, and have been district winners several years.

Co-Captain Max Black, Lohman Jones, and Bobby Latham will be playing with the Cubs tonight, after suffering from injuries.

"Chesty" Walker's offense is centered around 144-pound Teddy Reddick, quarterback. Most of the positions are manned by senior lettermen who are scheduled to try to "shoo" the Cubs away from the Hawks!

PHILLIPS BAND TO BE HERE

Lots of colors will be flying out at Cub Stadium tonight at 8 o'clock, as the Phillips Blackhawks Band will accompany their football squad to Brownfield. Supt. O. R. Douglas stated that reservations have been made for the 100 members of the band to spend the night here — approximately 60 girls and 40 boys. They are scheduled for a spectacular half-time performance at tonight's game. Sorry, Boys, No Pep Squad!

Head Coach Walker has three assistants in keeping the Blackhawks on the line. Bobby Williams, Guy Harrison, and Joe Hayes. Officials of the game will probably be Joe Holmes, referee, Charley Duval, umpire, Swede Pittman, head linesman, and Marion Harris, field judge.

The Herald again prints the names of the Cubs and their weights.

Howard Swann, fullback, and Max Black, center, are captains of the team this year. Players, and their weights are as follows:

This writer has been of voting age here in Texas for almost 50 years, and we don't think we have ever seen such a mixup in national politics. Here in Texas, we can most always straighten things out to the satisfaction of at least the majority. Fact is, the great majority of Texans, low and high are against another term for HST. He has cut his wad in this state, and when all is said and done, he is held in very low esteem. The main reason is the tide-lands deal, special police legislation he wants, like FEPC, and other socialistic stuff. Even his stalwarts in Texas, that the Truman administration has bought and paid for, are wary of his ideas, and believe the conservatives will control the State Convention. This too, is augmented by the low esteem of Truman's men in high places in Washington. But then, there is another crowd that want Eisenhower or MacArthur to reign in the USA, even when it is not plain where the former stands politically. But some Democrats would prefer MacArthur on the Democratic ticket to Truman, even if he is a declared Republican. Then there is still another line of thought in which they want no military man as president. They cite such failures as President Grant. On the other hand, we have had some military men, such as Washington, Jackson and Polk that made fair to good presidents. A lot of folks, however, think a military man would be inclined to be bossy and dictatorial, and a poor statesman. But it is said that bossism was not the trouble with Gen. Grant. He turned the matter of state business over to subordinates, and stayed with his bourbon and black cigars too close. We believe that Gen. Eisenhower would make a fair president. He makes a good executive in whatever capacity you put him, whether military, organizing west Europe for defense or as head of a university. He is neither a radical or yet too conservative to suit most people. This much can be said however, as we approach the 1952 campaign, the Republicans are not going to be able to win with just any old horse. That has been tried several times in the past twenty years. Some of them are just not likable, and some have been practically unknown to the people of the nation, and some have been "me too," men. What the rank and file of Republicans want is a man who will get in there and pitch in his own way.

Most people thought that when the federal tax for the protection of butter was taken off, the matter of the battle of butter and margarine was over, and a truce declared. And so far as the spread was covered, this is true here in Texas, where both dairy interests and cottonseed production for oleomargarine is in high production. Lately however, another angle has developed in the ice cream field. It seems that vegetable fats have been and are being substituted for butter or rather milk fats. As a consequence, the dairy interests have been studying the matter, and have come up with a ruling that was adopted by the State Health Department as well perhaps the Pure Food and Drug department. Dr. George W. Cox, State Health official at Austin, has issued orders that no more vegetable fat ice cream can be sold as such, but must take another name—mellorine. The dairymen are praising Dr. Cox for issuing his orders in order that the matter might be cleared up. If people buy and pay for ice cream, they state they should get a product produced from milk. Should they prefer a substitute, there is nothing to hinder them from buying mellorine. George M. Clarke, vice president of the Dairy Products Institute of Texas stated that mellorine was a good product, but the vegetable product was just the same to ice cream as margarine is to butter. So, the manufacture of the vegetable product is now legal in Texas, and the buyer has a clear-cut choice of the vegetable product and the milk product. In view of the fact that mellorine is not a trade-name, any manufacturer of ice cream and such products are privileged to manufacture products under this name. Fair enough, so if us Texans want to mellorine we can meller, and if we want I-scream, we can just scream. And we hope that this one is now permanently settled to the satisfaction of all.

We don't know whose idea the High Plains Underground Water District No. 1 was, but we have never been able to figure out why it took in a small scope of some counties, half of others, and all of still others. For instance, here in Terry County, the proposed district barely scrapes the north side of the county, probably coming to Meadow. There are perhaps more irrigation wells south than north of the imaginary line. The same district took in just a bit of extreme north Lynn county. Now suppose the people of Terry, Lynn, Yoakum, Gaines, Dawson, etc., were to wish to create, say District No. 2? Wouldn't it be reasonable to suppose that all the farmers of each county with irrigation wells would want to belong to the same district as the balance of the county? There will be an election held the 29th to determine 1st, whether or not such a district will be formed. No. 2. For or against the board of Directors to levy a tax not to exceed 5 cents. No. 3. To elect a director for precinct 2, presumably in Terry county. Qualification to vote of course, is the same as other elections, residence, poll tax, etc. And if you wish, you may cast an absentee ballot with the County Clerk 10 days before the election. However, the article did not make it plain just where the election would be held, Meadow or Brownfield. But, after the election is held, if you happen to be a dry land farmer, you may have your farm or ranch excluded from the taxation proposition of the district by applying to Jesse Adams of Meadow, the Terry county advisory committeeman. We have no idea of what the future may hold for the district, but on first consideration, it appears that the district should have included the whole county or none. The article we received was from the director of information of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Lubbock, and it really seemed to apply more to Lynn county papers than Terry county papers.

We Americans have gotten into a bad habit of calling our nation a democracy, in speaking of the self-governing people of the democratic nations. Even Joe Stalin calls his godless nation a democracy. We are really glad that our nation is not a democracy, but a republic. Yeah, we talk about "making the world safe for democracy." Do we mean the kind we have over here in the USA or the kind they have in the USSR? If you have any notion the USA is a democracy, better dust off some of your old US histories that has a copy of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. Take a look at Article IV, section 4, which says, "The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican form of government," etc. Now smart men say both a republic and a democracy may be a representative form of government, but a republic is limited and restricted democracy. One difference is in the degree of majority rule; the republic is restricted, the democracy unrestricted. The Bill of Rights restricts the power of the representatives in this nation, along with executive and legal sections. They are denied the privilege of abridging the freedom of speech, right of assembly, press and a trial by jury; against unreasonable searches and seizures and other individual rights, no matter how big the majority opposed to such individual rights. Under a democracy such as the Kremlin claims, there is no such thing as individual rights against the rule of the majority. Democracy might mean unrestricted majority rule, which our Constitution carefully prohibits. Thus the Declaration of Independence points out that "all men are created equal." But this may go even deeper than the basic laws of our land, and take in the Christian concept of the Golden Rule. So, let's talk less about our democracy and more about our republic and the flag for which we stand.

Many have been prone to point the finger of scorn at the West Point cadets who were accused of cheating in examinations, and kicked out of the school for making our future military brass, with no recourse. But it has been explained that this cheating has been going on for years, but the fudgers were not caught until this year. In the meantime, we have some high in military ranks that were said to have cheated on exams. The fact that this disclosure came right on the heels of the basketball scandals of last fall, made it more outstanding and noticeable. Of course the basketball players were not accused of cheating on examinations, but taking bribes to throw a game for the benefit of gamblers. This gave the gamblers a sure thing, and they cleaned up plenty money. Next to come and startle a complacent nation was the Kefauver exposure of the gambling in the larger cities, protected by the police in many instances, who themselves took handout. Then there was the Fullbright exposures of those in high places in the government, what we now know as five percenters, etc. Some of these were men close to the White House. They had been delivering contracts for a fee to construction men, especially those where the RFC was involved. Now let's just examine some of these plots and pilfers by high government, and see what an example they are setting the young men and women who are attending colleges, and especially the sports part of the college and university work. With all this bribery and corruption in high places set before the student as an example, is there any reason to conclude that the student would keep their garments spotless? Have we, the people, reached the point of moral degeneracy where we regard graft and sharp practices in as well as out of the government inevitable and of relatively small importance? We can't expect much improvement from the ground wrung of the ladder until we clear up the mess still higher on the ladder.

Campaign Dates Set For Gonzales Warm Springs Fund Drive

GONZALES. — Dates for the state-wide drive to raise funds for Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children, Texas' own treatment center for physically handicapped youngsters, has been set for Sept. 16-30, according to an announcement by Ross Boothe, Foundation president.

Governor Allan Shivers is serving as general chairman of the Gonzales Foundation committee, spearheading the appeal for funds to expand the facilities of the non-profit, non-secretarial hospital. Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation operates a 115-bed hospital, chartered by the state but built by contributions from generous Texans from every corner of the state and dependent upon them for support. It bears the stamp of approval of the American College of Surgeons, emblematic of the high calibre of the treatment program offered to any Texas child regardless of color, creed or financial condition.

A building program is under way at the Foundation which will add approximately 30 beds to its capacity, providing space for the treatment of about 100 more children each year. Money raised by public subscription during this September campaign will be used to provide these and other facilities to enable the Gonzales Foundation to extend its medical program to many more physically handicapped little ones in Texas.

Scarlet Fever Still A Menace to Children

AUSTIN.—"Scarlet fever still continues to be a menace to children," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, in discussing diseases common to children. "Many cases are slight, but they may infect others who may become seriously ill. It is treacherous and undesirable, and the only good thing about it is that if one can avoid it until grown, the chances of never getting it are excellent."

"Scarlet fever is spread by the transfer of the infection in the discharges of nose and throat, ears, or abscesses of persons ill with the disease and those who are carriers of the infection. The handling of articles soiled by the patient may cause the disease."

"Children under ten years of age are usually susceptible to scarlet fever. Children becoming suddenly ill with fever, sore throat, vomiting and showing a fine red rash, should have medical attention and be immediately quarantined to prevent the spread of this disease. The appearance of scarlet fever in the home should be immediately followed by a rigid quarantine for at least three weeks. The public should be warned against exposing young children to those exhibiting acute catarrhal symptoms of any kind. Take no chances—be on the safe side."

Sportsmen Generous In Polio Donations

AUSTIN.—The latest polio attacks on Texas athletes points up sportdom's perennial and generous attitude toward the March of Dimes, according to Ralph Frede, state official for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Houston's star shortstop, Billy Costa, was hospitalized a few days after Billy Zimmatore of the Alice high school team was stricken.

Costa, who is 31, was a key man in the Buff's pacemaking drive toward the Texas League pennant. Zimmatore, 17, was counted on as the Coyotes' backfield ace this season.

Frede said the Texas athletic sphere has constantly supported the March of Dimes, which finances National Foundation treatment of polio cases.

"This sensitivity probably has developed because the strong as well as the weak are preyed on by infantile paralysis," he explained. "The fact that persons are physically strong is no deterrent to polio."

Frede recalled the response to the 1951 March of Dimes prompted by the case of Terry Macfarlane, Dripping Springs high school football player, who was stricken during the 1950 playing season.

Young Macfarlane's amazing recovery was dramatized during the MOD drive to indicate benefits from playing field discipline and to emphasize a courageous Texas lad's determination to resume his active athletic career.

Visitors last week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shelton were his mother, Mrs. J. E. Shelton of Cisco, and his sisters, Mrs. Wendell Russell of Naples, Fla., and Mrs. Cruzie Corroan and two children of Colorado City. The visitors attended the Wingerd-Woodruff wedding here Saturday night.

"Little Things?"

DROP the wrench, buddy! We can catch the little things that go wrong before they develop into major breakdowns—if you bring your equipment to us for service at regular intervals.

We take care of countless truck troubles for wise haulers who count on us to keep their present carriers running smoothly. Our mechanics know all makes—it's second nature with them to watch for and correct the "ping" in an engine, or a steering shimmy.

Checking trouble points often overlooked in ordinary service is part of our maintenance program. For our men know the "little things" are important to the life of a truck—even more important in these uncertain times.

So make regular stops at our shop—save 3 ways: (1) cut down the possibility of costly repairs, (2) get better performance with less "down time," (3) get more years of service from the equipment you now own.

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He

Well, here we go again, as Red Skelton says. And this time it is about the weather all of us talk about and do nothing about. Anyway, according to the old prognosticators, there is always an elapse of 60 days between the time the first norther hits and the first frost or freeze. So, that would put it up around Nov. 15 or thereabouts.

We hate to be continually complaining of the weather. We cussed and discussed the hot weather of July and August. We weathered the high winds, all from the southeast that blew and blowed from the last week of May to and including the first week in July. We have been especially hard on the Weatherman for trying to squeeze the sweat out of us when there was none left, and made our nightly bed a bed of coals, when we usually have cool nights here, especially in August.

But what did that Weatherman do? He added insult to injury. That bird didn't give our blood time to flow like cold lasses instead of hot water, but sent us a cold spell that no one ever looks for till mid-November. Of course, there was not a stove up except the cooking variety not even in the bath room. So, we had to rumage the closet for our old winter clothes.

To head it all, we were invited out to Cousin P. Rogers' for a ricknailing good dinner Sunday. They had never taken down their heater, and it was on for awhile before they came to church Sunday, and then the kitchen stove at noon got the house warm. They brought the Old He home before supper time Sunday—and our old house was cold as a frosted wedge. So, we had to close all the doors except to the kitchen and our room, which connects, light every burner on the kitchen range, and proceed to thaw out.

If our area Weatherman has a lick of sense, he aint used it this year.

Our good friends, the Harve Harris dropped in Monday, and stated that they had a great trip to California and the northwest, but seemed tickled to get back to old New Mexico and Texas. Harve tried to pay us for some pictures of himself and wife someone had sent them in plastic frames at one buck per picture.

We'd like to have taken his money, but as we knew nothing of the pictures, we would not take the dough. But he says they were sent by the Terry County Herald. Somebody was kidding Harve.

Arthur and Irene Sawyer came by one night last week to pick up the Old He and Mrs. to carry us out to the Rustic Drive-In. That was the night it rained and blowed and lightfined and blundered over in the flicket, so we're glad we stayed home. They enjoyed it, however—at Arthur's expense.

We are just old and "sot" in our ways, we guess, but we seldom leave the old roof after dark. Not that we are afraid of boogers, but a mag or newspaper suits us better. We don't even like to travel the highways after dark.

Homer Nelson and the Old He are feuding again about the merits of Arkansas and Tennessee. "Tother day we went into his emporium humming the Tennessee Waltz just to aggerfret him. To boil us over, he asked what tune that was? We discussed the some 2 million records of Tennessee Waltz, and the royalty of the writer, which is enormous.

Then he asserted that he was thinking of writing some music himself that would take the nation by storm. We suggested as title, "Razorbacks On the Lone Pine Trail." That sounds too much like a hillbilly yodel piece, he objected. What about "Prescott Is Pining For You?" or "Malvern Moanings?" If none of these titles suit Homer, we think we'll open a contest through these columns, for a suitable title for his waltz, at a pencil a throw.

Now on the more serious side, and concerning outlawery in general and the birds that robbed the Boyd bank in particular. We note that the one captured in Houston seeks revenge for his capture, on the officers of the law, doubtless. Who does that stinker think gave him the privilege of robbing honest, industrious people of their life savings?

To our notion, such limitations of humanity should be took out behind some barn and tetotally worn out with a good blacksnake whip, returned to their cell, put on bread and water and given a quick trial despite a lot of yowling jackleg lawyers, and railroaded off to the pen and forgotten. Such animals, posing as humans, have no right to expect any sympathy from real humans.

Then there is that cold blooded murderer back in Lubbock for a "sanity" trial, being saved from the hot seat by about an hour by the Pardon Board. We believe the law should have been allowed to have taken its course on that bird a long time ago. Society doesn't need such beasts.

We also note with regret that trusted bank employees and officials in two different places in the USA have been overtaken in their crimes by the FBI lately. They had embezzled their banks of more than one hundred thousand dollars to play the races. Both were highly respected in their communities, and one attended church reasonably regular.

This only goes to show that gambling, either legal or illegal, is bad for the nation. It tempts too many men of little spine to dip into the treasury of other people to get money to gamble, and try to cover their crimes by "fixing" the books.

Private ownership has taken another beating in Texas. In a lot of the smaller towns, the Express Company has had to close shop. Parcel Post with a government subsidy did the trick. And if not stopped, this is just the beginning. Private power and light lines are going to feel the foot of Uncle Sam on their necks one of these days.

And while on the subject of the government, one week the powers that be up there on the Potomac talk like they are scared out of their pants, and the very next week they are ranting about some "fantastic" new weapon that will wipe 'em off the earth, and destroy civilization.

And to quote the Jayton Chronicle columnist, Wad-ing Around, "good old Joe wont have to wait long. Some blabbermouthed 'American' can be depended on to deliver all we know about the fantastic weapon."

In closing, will ask, are you guilty? Anyway read: If he can remember so many jokes, With all the details that mold them, Why can't he recall, with equal skill, All the times he's told them!

HARDIN-SIMMONS COACH FOR PAST 24 YEARS

ABILENE.—Warren B. Woodson, athletic director and head football coach at Hardin-Simmons University, may not have on hand as much material as he has had in the past as he directs the Cowboys on the gridiron this fall. But he will have on hand a wealth of coaching experience. Woodson is starting his 24th year of coaching—his eighth as head foreman at the Cowboy school.

Pvt. Louis C. Loe Visits Washington

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Loe, route 3, Brownfield, recently received a letter from their son, Pvt. Louis C. Loe, who is stationed at Fort Monmouth, N. J. This letter is of unusual interest, as Louis described his trip to Washington, D. C., over a recent week end.

He told of staying at the Hospitality House while in Washington. The Hospitality House is sponsored by the Presbyterian Church there. The following are excerpts from Louis' letter: "We went through the Capitol building, it is interesting; the dome is particularly interesting."

"On one of the sight-seeing tours, we went to the National Museum—saw skeletons of dinosaurs, and various other prehistoric animals. Believe me, those are monstrous things. We saw an Egyptian mummy. On Sunday evening we caught the S. S. Vernon and took a cruise up to Mt. Vernon, which is a very pleasant experience, going up the Potomac. At Mount Vernon we saw the tomb of George and Martha Washington, and their carriage which is in excellent condition. We enjoyed a trip through the house."

"Returning to Washington, the guide took us through Alexandria, Va., which is a very historic place. At Arlington National Cemetery we went to the tomb of the unknown soldier, but arrived too late to see the changing of the guard, so we returned the next day at 10 a. m. On our first trip to the cemetery we went to Gen. Pershing's grave. We saw Robert E. Lee's old home. (Incidentally, the Arlington Cemetery is on his old estate)."

"We went to the Lincoln Memorial, which is a huge and impressive thing. It seems rather strange, in a way, that people will go to so much trouble and expense in memory of one man. We didn't get around to the Washington Monument or the Jefferson Memorial. We hurriedly went through the Smithsonian Institute. We saw the Wright Bros. plane, and the plane that Lindbergh first crossed the Atlantic in. We saw a great number of our early cars, etc."

"After that we went back to the Museum for awhile, and from there to the National Gallery of Art for a few minutes. Going from the Museum to the Art Gallery we saw a Brownfield car. It was a blue '49 or '50 Chevrolet like R. S. Smith used to drive, but I didn't have time to wait and talk to whoever it was. I'd sure like to have seen who's it is . . ."

"It was a very nice trip and I'd like to go back, but it is bedtime now."

UNACCOMPANIED WALLET SURVIVES BUS RIDE

BLOOMINGTON, Ill.—(AP)—The bus pulled out of the station with H. E. Holmes' wallet containing more than $1,000 still on the seat he occupied.

At 4 a. m., the bus station employees got in touch with the sheriff's office, the sheriff's office got state police headquarters at Pontiac. At 4:37 a. m. the state police reported they found the bill fold on the bus. It contained $1,050 in money orders, a $35.00 check and between $25.00 and $30.00 in cash.

A half hour later Holmes picked up his money.

Leaders Are Named For Local Girl Scouts

Organization, plans and programs have started this year for Girl Scouts and Brownies, and several troops have already met at the Girl Scout Little House, according to Mrs. J. H. Akers, chairman of leaders.

Mrs. Johnnie Criswell of Levelland, formerly of Brownfield, was in charge of a training school Monday afternoon for prospective leaders of Girl Scouts and Brownies. Approximately 25 persons attended the meeting at the Little House near Coleman Park. Coffee was served by Mrs. Herman Cheshir, Mrs. Jack Griggs, Mrs. Ben Monnett, Mrs. John Cloud, and Mrs. Akers, before the meeting.

"One of the first projects for this year is the cleaning of the Little House, and beautifying the grounds," Mrs. Akers said. "We appreciate the cooperation we have received from parents and others interested in Girl Scout work, in helping to complete this project."

There are approximately 150 Girl Scouts and Brownies at this time in Brownfield, with eight active troops.

The Girl Scout council is composed of Johnnie Bost, president, Mrs. Wayne Smith, secretary, and Elmer Brownlee, treasurer, with Mrs. Akers, chairman of leaders. Brownie Troop 20, composed of

Quarterback Club Meets Monday Night

One of the main projects of the Quarterback club is to see that football players who live in the rural areas have transportation home each day after football practice, according to Kenneth Purtell, president. About 25 boosters of the Brownfield Cubs meet each Monday night in the auditorium at the South Plains Health Unit, and discuss any problems that arise with coaches Toby Greer and L. G. Wilson, as well as football players.

At Monday night's meeting a color film of the 1950 Cotton Bowl game, played between Rice and North Carolina at Dallas, was shown members who attended. President Purtell stated that good sports films have been engaged to be shown at each meeting.

"We appreciate the interest and good response from Cub boosters who cooperated in the recent season ticket selling campaign," Mr. Purtell said.

Officers of the Quarterback club with Purtell include Virgil Burnett, vice president, and Wayne Smith, secretary-treasurer.

Brownfield Visitors Honored With Picnic

A picnic dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Capell of Weslaco and their daughters was given at Coleman Park Sunday.

Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Capell include Mrs. Fred Voight of Weslaco; Mrs. C. S. Busby of Lima, Peru; and Mrs. R. A. Looney, and Mr. Looney, of Odessa.

Others attending were Mrs. Geo. Bragg and granddaughter, Lois, of Lubbock, and the following from Brownfield: Mr. and Mrs. James R. Burnett and children, Mrs. Homer Winston and Johnny, Mrs. Annie Belle Barrow, Billy Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burnett Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hamilton and sons, Mrs. W. O. Ray, Mrs. D. R. Knox, Mrs. S. H. Holgate, Mrs. N. L. Mason and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Price.

Mrs. Capell is a sister to Mrs. W. W. Price, Mrs. Jim Burnett and Mrs. S. H. Holgate.

Delphian Study Club Alters Meeting Dates

At the regular meeting of the Delphian Study Club at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Seleta Jane Brownfield clubhouse, members voted to change the meeting dates from the first and third Mondays of each month to the first and third Wednesdays, at 4 p. m.

Mrs. W. C. Burrow presided during the business session, and a letter of thanks was read from the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, thanking the members for their help and cooperation during the recent Chest X-Ray campaign.

The program chairman, Mrs. Martin Line, introduced Mrs. W. F. Tipton, who discussed "The Meaning of Mary Stewart's 'Club Collect,'" followed by the club history, written and presented by Mrs. K. B. Sadler.

Mrs. Claud Buchanan was hostess, and served refreshments to guests Mrs. A. A. Pike, Mrs. Tim Flukenberry, Mrs. Jay Barrett, and Mrs. John Veneable; and members, Mesdames C. L. Aven, Sadler, R. W. Baumgardner, H. H. Bearden, Wayne Brown, J. O. Burnett, jr., Burrow, Otto Butler, Line, J. D. Mitchell, H. B. Parks, W. T. Pickett, Bernard Smith, Geo. Steele, Tipton, Fred Yandell.

Former Plains Girl Wed In Germany

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Evalde Read, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Read of Deport, to 1st Lt. Stanley I. Pilgrim on August 8 has been received by her uncle, Till W. Read of Plains. The wedding took place in a chapel in Munich, Germany. Following a 15-day honeymoon in Italy, the couple will make their home in Bamberg, Germany, for the next two years. The groom is with occupational forces there.

The bride, born at Plains, is a graduate of Deport high school and TSCW, Denton. She was with the Red Cross and armed service for three years, being stationed in the Philippine Islands and Japan. For the past year she has been with the government and stationed in Germany. The groom's home is Jennings, La.

Worsham-Aikin Vows Exchanged In Lubbock Church Last Friday Evening

MRS. JERRY D. WORSHAM

Miss Mary Barbara Aikin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Aikin, 2609 thirty-third street, Lubbock, became the bride of Jerry Doyle Worsham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Worsham of Brownfield in a ceremony solemnized at St. John's Methodist church last Friday evening at six o'clock. Rev. R. N. Huckabee officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked with baskets of chrysanthemums and gladioli with a background of greenery. The bridal aisle was marked with white tapers and clusters of chrysanthemums.

Mrs. H. T. Brown sang "Because," "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Miss Imogene Webster at the organ.

Mr. Aikin gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white antique bridal satin with basque bodice trimmed with imported French Chantilly lace forming scalloped flounces at the deep V-yoke and over the sleeves. The bodice had long sleeves and was buttoned at the back with lace covered buttons. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was caught in a halo hat of lace with seed pearl trim. She carried an orchid surrounded with feathered white chrysanthemums and showered with white satin love knots. A small amount of shadow lace illusion ribbon from bride's mother's bouquet was used.

Mrs. Norman Jones was matron of honor. She wore a dress of orchid lace and net over white taffeta with full gored skirt and lace gauntlets.

Bridesmaids were Misses Reta McElroy, Elaine Kallas and Mrs. Mrs. Faulkenberry Name Shower Honoree

Mrs. Tim Faulkenberry was honored with a pink and blue shower last Thursday morning from 9:30 until 10:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Robert W. Baumgardner, 704 East Lons. Hostesses with Mrs. Baumgardner were Mrs. Benarr W. Smith and Mrs. K. B. Sadler.

A corsage of yellow carnations tied with chartreuse ribbon was presented to the honoree. Yellow napkins detailed with a pink nursery motif were used, and frosted drinks were served with salted nuts.

Before Mrs. Faulkenberry opened her gifts, guests attending drew their suggestions for a layette.

Attending were Mesdames Faulkenberry, George Sibley, W. T. Briscoe, Bill Liles, George Weiss, Bill Garby, Charles Underminer, Coke Toliver and the hostesses.

Maids and Matrons Club Meets Tuesday

An interesting program, "Our Gardens" was led by Mrs. Mon Telford at the second meeting of the year of the Maids and Matrons club at Seleta Jane Brownfield clubhouse at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. Fred Bucy discussed "Companionship of Flowers," and gave illustrations of the different types of floral arrangements, which was very interesting to club members.

Mrs. Telford gave a useful and interesting discussion on "Flower Enemies."

During a short business session, with Mrs. Looe Miller, president, in charge, Mrs. Frank Weir was named a new member of the club.

A dessert plate was served by the hostess, Mrs. Barton Evans, to the following: guests, Mrs. O. B. Larner of Lubbock, Mrs. J. T. McDonald and Mrs. Bucy; and members, Mesdames W. A. Bell, W. B. Brown, E. C. Davis, Lee Fulton, Eunice Jones, Tom Keenan, Ernest F. Latham, W. F. McCracken, Miller, E. O. Nelson, Money Price, A. A. Sawyer, Gaster Spencer, M. G. Tarpley and Telford.

Next meeting will be Tuesday, October 2, when Mrs. Evans will review the book, "The Edge of Time," by Louella Erdman. The book tells of the early settlement of the plains, and the entire theme portrays the hardships of the women, and those who are still living declare, "they are the good old days!"

Mrs. A. A. Sawyer is to be hostess.

'America, North and South' Studied

"America, North and South" was the topic for the program for the Women's Society of Christian Service, when members of all circles met Monday afternoon at the First Methodist church.

Mrs. Ernest Latham, president, presided at the meeting, and leader of the program was Mrs. Benarr Smith. Mrs. J. H. Carpenter led in prayer before Mrs. Latham discussed "Brazil."

"Bible Distribution" was discussed by Mrs. Glenn Harris, and Mrs. Coke Tolliver told of Mexico. Mrs. Bill Lile discussed the "Virgin of Guadalupe."

Mrs. Carpenter led the worship service, reading scripture and telling the story "The Leper's Angel." Mrs. Harris offered the closing prayer.

During a short business session, led by Mrs. Latham, the group discussed the visitation program, planned for the WSCS in October.

Next Monday at one o'clock, the entire WSCS will have the monthly covered dish luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Holmes returned home Tuesday night from Paris and Dallas. They visited Mrs. Holmes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Jefferies, at Paris, before going to Dallas Sunday where they took their daughter, Betty, to enroll in Southern Methodist University. Betty is a senior student this year.

Mrs. Joe Hopper of Lubbock visited her mother, Mrs. N. R. Marchbanks, and her sister, Katherine, here Sunday.

Around The Corner — And Down The Street

By Margaret Bandy Coward

"There are no bad children, only bad parents," said the over-worked magistrate of a children's court recently.

Among the many nice people in Brownfield is Carolyn Grine, who is secretary to Supt. O. R. Douglas at the high school. She and her husband, Norman Grine, moved here from Tulsa, Okla., last June. He is employed by the Stanolind Oil & Gas company.

Two large watermelons, weighing about 65 lbs. each, are over in E. G. Brownlee's office at the court house. . . said W. H. Waggoner raised them, east of town. When we asked the County Superintendent if Mr. Waggoner had a field of such melons. . . Mr. Brownlee said. . . no. . . the crows ate most of them. Don't know the plans for those watermelons. . . whether there will be a more or less private feast including all the courthouse staff, or not!

Ronnie Graham, grandson of Mrs. Allie Graham, recently returned to New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, N. M., where he is a junior student in the high school. When Ronnie arrived there a few weeks ago, he was assigned the same room his father occupied in the dormitory, back when he attended school there. The late Mr. Graham went to NMMI from 1928 through 1931.

Among the Old Timers who attended the Woodruff-Winger wedding here on Sept. 8 were Miss Gertrude Rasco of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Motley of Monohans, and Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Graham of Odessa. Miss Rasco taught Marion music here for a number of years. . . Mrs. Graham is the former Miss Marie Bell. . .

At the football game last Friday night, the Brownfield Cubs displayed lots of hustle and spirit, but it wasn't hard at all for them to stop those Crosbyton Chiefs. The local band and pep squad gave spectacular performances. . . They looked mighty pretty in those beautiful red and white uniforms.

Leonard Ellington reported that McDowell, 101-year old resident of Grove City, Pa., is still bedfast, and his mother, Mrs. F. M. Ellington, is still with her. Mrs. McDowell still talks and eats, but has her nights mixed with days, as she sleeps all day and talks all night. . . you remember she has an excellent memory, and still recites poetry. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Murphy visited in her home about two months ago, when they went to New Jersey. They told Leonard his Grandmother knew them, and seemed glad to see them.

Back in August a woman at McAllen celebrated her 110th birthday by walking to church. After she made her confession, she gave this recipe for long living:

Eat plenty bananas, tortillas, eggs, milk.
Eat little meat.
Say prayers every night.

Leathercrafters To Meet At 7:30 P. M.

Ten members of the Longhorn Leathercrafters club met in the homemaking department at the Brownfield high school Thursday night, September 13, and started working on Christmas gifts.

Leo Holmes, president, presided during a business session and members voted to change meeting time from 8 p. m. to 7:30 p. m. through the winter months. They meet every second and fourth Thursday nights at the high school.

Bags, notebook covers, belts and various other articles are being made for Christmas gifts by members of the club.

One new member attended the meeting, and a visitor, Mrs. Leo Holmes.

MY LIFE WAS SPARED

By L. B. Walker in Anton News

Not long ago I looked death squarely in the face. I am now alive only through a miracle. A speed maniac swerved from behind a truck, cutting squarely in front of me, traveling at excessive speed. Fortunately he missed me by passing me on my right as the truck passed me on the left. For a couple of seconds I was right in the middle of what looked like a sure smash up.

You and I, each of us, faces a greater danger here on our Texas highways than our fighting men in Korea. Traffic accidents kill and maim more people every year than the Reds who are shooting at our soldiers.

It makes me heart-sick to read every week the scores hundreds of traffic wrecks which kill and cripple thousands. Cost in property damage and in human misery is terrific. The death toll is awful but even worse is the mangling of victims who do not die, but must spend long weeks in a hospital. In many cases they never recover but remain crippled for life.

There are three principal causes for these wrecks which can be prevented.

Number one is excessive speed. No driver, no matter how skillful, can control his car properly when he suddenly finds himself in a tight spot if he is travelling at high speed, slow down, observe legal speed limits, and you have a good chance of living longer.

The second preventable cause of these murderous traffic accidents is too much drinking by those who drive. There are few people who can drink moderately and still drive carefully. Most drinkers who drive however are potential life killers. Their senses are numbed, their vision blurred, their muscles respond very slowly and in their befuddled state they have an urge to step on the gas.

A new state law effective Sept. 7th is going to make it much tougher on these drunken drivers.

But unfortunately when these penalties are assessed the damage will already have been done. And some one will be dead or maimed and the drunken driver will never be able to amend for his mistakes.

A third cause for many traffic accidents which could be prevented is the failure of drivers to keep their cars in good repair. Faulty brakes, defective steering mechanisms, poor lights, and other mechanical faults are responsible for many accidents.

Another new law effective Jan. 1 requires a mechanical inspection before registration each year. No laws, however, are going to stop the highway traffic tool. Too many of us obey the law only when a cop is in sight. Only you can make yourself a safe driver, and this is the best insurance you can have against a traffic accident which may take your life.

Mrs. Wayland Parker ACS Lay Member

Mrs. Wayland Parker has been accepted by the American Cancer Society as lay woman Director for the Terry County District of the American Cancer Society.

A lay woman's responsibility is to educate the public along the lines that, early cancer can be cured in most cases; and, that people must be aware of the dangers, or symptoms and consult their family doctors for early diagnosis. Pamphlets and films will be the means of bringing this information to the public, along with talks before groups and radio programs.

Mrs. Parker is a very cooperative person, and has been a leader in many of the women's organizations in Brownfield and has proven herself a worthy member of each.

The American Cancer Society leadership is on a triangular basis, nationally, State, District and County with a layman in charge of fund raising, a medical advisor who acts in an advisory capacity and a lay woman whose duties have been explained. Dr. T. L. Treadaway is the medical advisor of the society in Terry County.

Final Rites For Mrs. F. W. Proctor Tuesday

(Delayed)

Funeral services for Mrs. Frank W. Proctor, 71, 805 Tahoka road, were held at 4 p. m. Tuesday in the Brownfield Four Square Gospel church. Rev. Jack Watkins of the church, officiated. Interment was in the Terry County Memorial cemetery, under the direction of the Brownfield Funeral home.

Mrs. Proctor passed away late Sunday in Mineral Wells. She was another Terry county pioneer, having moved here in 1906. Her husband, who survives, is a retired farmer and rancher. She was born January 26, 1880, at Correll, Texas.

Besides the husband, she is survived by three sons, Felix Proctor, San Antonio; Arlie Proctor, Winters; and Carroll Proctor, Plainview; and two daughters, Mrs. T. B. Rogers, Kilgore, and Mrs. Leora Miller, Brownfield.

A WEEKEND SPONGE ON THE OFFSPRINGS

The Mrs. had it all planned to take off for Snyder last Friday or Saturday, the kids and grand-kid having moved back there, as school was opening in Snyder this week. Not being adverse to eating some other "cooking" for a spell, we raised no great objections—in fact none.

Found them well, but Snyder not the boom and bang of a year or two ago. Lots of building, but of a permanent nature. Something over two million dollars in schools alone, and more street paving than you can shake a stick at. But even Snyder with all its oil money has begun to turn down some bonds. One sizable one of toward a million dollars recently was voted down for the enlargement of their courthouse.

We believe we mentioned one time that the Commissioners of that county had spent a lot of money to making a parking ground around the courthouse, and suggested at that time, that with their oil boom we believed they were making a mistake. That money and more should have been used in greatly enlarging their courthouse, which is not as large as ours here in Brownfield.

Another thing, they tacked on another sizable bond for a county park, and some believe this was more or less responsible for the defeat of the whole matter. Not that they do not need a park, but the sum seemed huge to us at the time, for a starter, at least.

While crops between here and Snyder via Tahoka and Post, and via Lamesa and Gail have improved some since the big August rains, they are far from normal in most places, especially east Lynn and west Garza where most Garza county crops are found upon the Plains.

Appeared as if a lot of them were preparing to plant wheat in the naked fields, and much of the maize will not mature. Lack of rain can sure do damage to a community. This is all very rich farming land.

Must Been Fishin'

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Allen, 1004 E. Lake, entertained with a fish fry at their home on Sept. 11th. Mr. Allen accompanied by a friend, Roy Simpson, of Levelland Auto Supply, left Monday of last week, at noon. They drove to Chama, N. M., fished in that vicinity and in Colorado. They fished two evenings in the Chama Meadows, which heads in Colorado; and caught their limit in trout. The limit in Colorado is 20, while in New Mexico fishermen can only catch 15.

They returned home Friday night with nice large trout, from 10 to 14 inches. "I've caught a lot of fish in my life, but never the large trout I caught this trip," Mr. Allen said.

Those attending the fish fry were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Runnels and family; Mrs. Evelyn Carlie and sons, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Allen and family; and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Foster and family; a total of 18 persons.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Victory arrived recently for a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Henry Fowler and family. Mr. and Mrs. Victory live in Stillwell, Okla.

Mrs. Oscar Sloss and children returned to their home in Shamrock the first of last week, after attending the wedding of Miss Zelma Foote and Stanley Miller, which was solemnized here Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Sloss is a sister to Mr. Miller, and her mother is Mrs. Mary L. Miller, 502 E. Oak St.

Mrs. Wanda Sanders left one day of last week for Las Vegas, Nevada to join her husband, Sgt. Wayland Sanders, who is stationed at Nellis Air Base. Sgt. Sanders spent three years at Anchorage, Alaska, and is now stationed in the states. Mrs. Sanders is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baldwin.

Hayden Griffin, and family spent the holiday weekend down at Whitesboro, visiting relatives, or at least aimed to do so and return Monday afternoon. But they found the weather so hot down there that they returned Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McBrayer moved to Lamesa recently, where he is teaching in the Lamesa schools. Mrs. McBrayer, who has been employed in the local FHA office, has transferred to the Tahoka office.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tapp are in Wichita, Kansas visiting their daughter, Mrs. Wayne Marshall. They plan to be gone about a month, and will go to the mountains in Colorado before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrill Isbell and son, Charles, are vacationing in Santa Fe and Red River, N. M.

Our old sidekick, Earl McCullough, renewed his allegiance to the Herald again last week. Can hardly afford to lose any of the old guys that have undergone a sandblasting here for a couple of generations.

Dr. and Mrs. T. H. McIlroy returned home Saturday the 8th, after spending two weeks at their cabin at Colorado Lake, near Colorado City. Visiting them at the lake over Labor Day holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Buck Andrews of Brownfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Loyd and children of San Angelo. Dr. McIlroy reported they came through rain Saturday from Colorado City to Lubbock, and a "flood at Post and Southland."

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Virgil Crawford went to Temple the first of last week where Mrs. Crawford went through the Scott and White Clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Packard and son of Greggston visited several days last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Smith. Mr. Smith is Mrs. Packard's father.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Smith last week end were her daughter and family, Dr. and Mrs. John P. Andrews and son, John Collins, of Plainview; and Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. J. A. Roberts, and daughter, Miss Letha Nell Roberts, both of Coahoma. Mrs. Roberts also visited another daughter, Mrs. B. R. Lay, in the Johnson community; and her son, E. C. Roberts and Mrs. Roberts in Seagraves.

ATTEND REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bryant and children, Otis Lee Bass and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Hill and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bass and daughter went to Buffalo Lake, near Hereford, the 9th, for a reunion. Mrs. Bryant's Mother's brothers and sisters and their families met them Friday and stayed in cabins at the lake through Sunday. It was a reunion of the W. H. Kemp family.

Maybe you're missing something BIG

WE know how you feel when a car has given you faithful service. You like it. You're loyal to it. And that's only human.

But just suppose you found out that some other car could make familiar roads seem a lot smoother.

Suppose some other car held the curves in a way you'd never felt before.

Suppose some other car had more thrilling power—steered like a dream—held its course like an airliner on the beam—and let you finish a long day's drive feeling daisy fresh.

Wouldn't you feel you're missing something big unless you tried it out?

There is such a car. Its name is Buick.

It has big soft coil springs on every wheel. It has a Fireball Engine. It has a "front-end geometry" that does miracles with steering. And it has Dynaflo Drive.*

And incidentally, it wears a price tag that makes it a very smart buy compared to anything else you own.

We'd like to have you try this car. You'll never know what you're missing till you do.

How about giving us a call—or coming in to see us real soon?

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. †Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:

- DYNAFLOW DRIVE—saves strain on driver and car
- FIREBALL ENGINE—high-compression, valve-in-head—gets more miles from every tank of fuel
- PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
- WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night
- TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—seals the chassis, steadies ride, improves driving control
- 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs
- DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment
- SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal pressure five times at brake drum
- DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweepers on most models

Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, Step-On parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher

Fred Busey Still Has Lots of Melons and Beans at the Farm

Struck Fred Busey on the streets Wednesday, and as he was running out to the farm some 7 miles north in his pickup, he invited us to go with him to get some watermelons and beans. And incidentally to look at some mighty good cotton that will go near a bale per acre for the irrigated part, and a good yield on the non-irrigated.

And of course, we always love to look at those big, fat black pole cattle, and estimate how many good beefsteaks there is in one of those sassy looking steers. They were grazing on some good sudan, and herded by a Mexican man to keep them out of meanness. Others of the Latin hands were either drilling in wheat, or irrigating. Fred uses the canvas cloth type of irrigation. His well puts 'out some 1200 gallons per minute.

After giving some instructions to the men on his 960 acre farm, we drifted back to the bean, pea and melon patch, which is some 25 feet strip the length of his cotton rows. There are literally hundreds of melons, and Fred stated that hundreds had been hauled away by anyone who want them. Same with the beans. Some of the melons however, have taken a second growth since the heavy rains in August, and are not as good as before the rains, he stated.

The beans are the Kentucky Wonder variety, and he could not get poles for but a few of them. So, the vines have to be raised off the ground and there are beans by the bushel. Like the melons, many bushels of the beans have been hauled off to eat and can. Also found three nice cantaloupes, but they are about gone. Fred says you can raise anything here you can raise in the temperate climate, anywhere if you have irrigation water.

Leaving the north Busey farms, he has others in the Johnson community, but you have to ask him to find out how much, we went to the farm of his son-in-law, Robt. W. Baumgardner, on the south side of the Harmony east-west road, and where it crosses the road north off the Plains highway, three miles west of Brownfield. In another article this week, we spoke of some of the best crops in this area we have ever seen there. This one happens to be the Baumgardner farm, but we did not know it when that article was written. He seems to have the north half of the 320 acres well under control, and is working to make the south part the same.

First of all, Fred says you have to get the land level. Those high places in the field just continue to blow. Anyway, Robert had the south half near level, clean as a hound's tooth, and ready for the wheat drills. To use one of Fred's expressions, which he says he heard an old gentleman use one time. "It is not so much in the land as in the MAN who is working it." But the land is fertile as the Nile valley, if the right man gets hold of it.

Speaking of wheat, Fred has a hankering for some South Dakota wheat farms. He was up there not long since, and said a lot of Texans were settling up there. It is, as level as a floor, he says, and as black as any central Texas blackland. He is taking off again this week to look-see, so more of that later.

Fred is an old Johnson county, reared in the Joshua community, northeast of Cleburne.

John Burnett gave us a new cane (walkingstick) style recently. When he is fishing out change from his pocketbook, he hooks his cane in his hip pocket. Only trouble is that our fast walking Tennessee cane isn't presently equipped with a crooked handle.

HOUSE OF THE WEEK

In this space, you'll find "The House of the Week" with full descriptions. This series is made possible by area firms listed here... See them to help you with your Home Furnishing Problems.

TWO STORIES, TWO BATHS, TWO PORCHES

This FARM AND RANCH House gives the large family as much living space as possible for the least cost.

It is designed so that you can include a basement in the plans, thus providing not only more space for storage and a wash room but an ample site also for a central heating system. The system can be installed along the inside wall of the basement, requiring very little duct work. Every room can be heated from the central wall, with the exception of the bedroom and bath on the first floor—and even then the leaders wouldn't have to be very long.

The rooms in this house are not spacious, but are large enough to be comfortable. The doors and windows are placed to give you as much usable wall space as possible.

There are two porches, one in front and one in back. The back porch can be closed in as a good location for a home freezer or for a wash room—in case you decide not to build a basement right now.

You can obtain blueprints for this TERRY COUNTY HERALD FARM & RANCH Plan No. 4803 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, FARM & RANCH, SOUTHERN AGRICULTURIST, Dept. L-193, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number, Plan No. 4803. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

Some Mighty Good Crops Out Northwest

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thompson returned from Temple, Sat. 8th, where he went through the clinic of Scott & White. The Mrs. and Old He being anxious to hear the results dove out Monday afternoon. The results of the diagnosis was not too discouraging in the long run. In fact, Ed is already feeling better as they gave him some medicine to help his breathing. He has to return for a check-up in two or three months.

There are some mighty nice crops in the Harmony community. In fact, we can truthfully state that the crops from where the Harmony road turns off the Levelland highway to the house that was built too close to the road, probably built before a survey was run, are the best we have ever seen in that vicinity.

Usually a lot of that very sandy section is blown out, and no crops on it. But evidently some farmers have that area under cultivation now that they know their onions about blow land. Both the cotton and maize crops are good.

Frankly we believe that some of the irrigated cotton south of the road just after you leave the highway, will make a bale or perhaps a bale and a half per acre. It is really good. The crop on the north side of the road in that vicinity is always good. That man is a real farmer.

But we are real glad to finally see some good crops on that two mile stretch of sandy land.

Lubbock Cotton Variety Tests, 1947-50

An average yield of 313 pounds of lint per acre was obtained from Deltapine (TPSA), followed by 288 pounds from Paymaster 54 and 286 pounds from Stoneville (TSPA).

Other varieties in the dryland tests, in order of average yields, were Stormproof No. 1, C. A. 89A (storm resistant), Northern Star, Stormmaster (storm resistant), Hi-Bred, Macha Early (storm resistant), Early Foster, C. A. 122 (storm resistant), Western Prolific, Rogers' Texacala, Floyd's Mebane 8G, Rowden 41B (TPSA) and Lockett 140.

Deltapine (TPSA) also produced the highest average yield in the irrigated variety tests, with 557 pounds of lint per acre for the four-year period. C. A. 89A, Paymaster 54; Hi-Bred, Stoneville (TPSA) and Stormproof No. 1 all produced yields of over 500 pounds of lint per acre.

Other varieties in the irrigated tests, in order of average yields, were C. A. 122, Stormmaster, Early Foster, Macha Early, Lockett 140, Northern Star, Western Prolific, Rogers' Texacala, Floyd's Mebane 8G and Rowden 41B (TPSA).

These results are given in Progress Report 1381, which is available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

This report also gives detailed information on the 1950 irrigated and dryland variety tests at Lubbock—including number of bolls per pound, percent of crop open at first harvest, percent of lint to snapped cotton and staple length.

Market Quality of Texas Breeder Turkeys In '51

COLLEGE STATION.—Seventy-five per cent of the breeder turkeys marketed in Texas during the spring of 1950 were Grade A in quality, according to C. J. Mountney, research worker in poultry marketing with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Mountney, E. D. Parnell, professor of Poultry husbandry, and R. B. Halpin, associate professor of agricultural economics, made a study of 40,719 breeder turkeys marketed in five Texas processing plants. Of this number, only eight per cent of the carcasses graded were toms.

Seventeen per cent of the turkey carcasses graded B, seven per cent were Grade C, and five-tenths per cent were rejects. Male carcasses were generally of low quality, with only 54 per cent qualifying as Grade A.

Tears were the greatest single cause for low quality breeder turkeys. The greatest incidence occurred among hens, even though most producers reported using saddles. Mountney said, "While the incidence of tears can be reduced, it is doubtful if it will be from breeder flocks".

Other causes of low grade in carcasses, in order of importance, were bruises, blue skin pigment, pinfeathers and poor fleshing and finish.

More low quality carcasses from bruises occur in fall marketed than in spring marketed turkeys. Low quality carcasses from poor fleshing and finish are also more frequent among the fall marketed birds.

Since processors use high water temperatures, 135 to 140 degrees F., for loosening feathers, pinfeathers are not a very important reason for low quality in dressed turkey carcasses.

The average farm price received for No. 1 Texas breeder toms in this study during the 1951 season was 32.4 cents a pound. An average price of 36.9 cents a pound was received for the No. 1 Texas breeder hens. The No. 1 grade usually includes the A and B birds in the U. S. grades.

The results of this study are given in Progress Report 1391, available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

HOME REMEDY FOR SNAKE BITE

PECOS, Tex.—(AP)—Mrs. Artie Justis, 59, was bitten on the foot by a rattlesnake that was lying on her living room floor.

Instead of rushing to town for medical attention, she ripped her foot open with an upholstering needle and applied a common household item, alum, to her wound.

She was paralyzed for several hours, her foot turned green, but she recovered. Her foot is still slightly swollen.

Texas Butter Queen

Miss Barbara Friedrich was selected Texas Butter Queen by the Dairy Products Institute of Texas and other dairy farmers' organizations. (AP Photo).

Kitchen Doors May Be Inconvenient

COLLEGE STATION.—Do the door of your kitchen make it inconvenient for your work there? Are there too many doors? Do they break into the line of work by separating equipment or bringing in traffic or open in the wrong direction?

Mrs. Bernice Clayton, Home Management Specialist for the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College, says studies show doors often are a drawback to an efficient kitchen.

She says modern house designers generally aim at just two doors, one to the interior, and the other to the outside, and if possible, at the same end of the room where they will not interrupt the smooth working line of equipment.

If you're remodeling a kitchen, perhaps you can close off a door or two and use the space for cupboards. If the room is large, some equipment can be placed in an island or peninsular arrangement in the center of the kitchen instead of scattered about the walls.

PURTELL SHIPPING OUT PEAS TO CANNERIES

On his irrigated farm southwest of the city, R. J. PurteLL has quite a large acreage of black-eyed peas, and they are just now coming into the harvest period. Truck loads of these peas are going out to canneries in east Texas, according to information received this week, and a good price is realized for them.

Not only are these peas good for the dumb brutes and the wise brutes (people) but they leave the soil fertile for some other follow up crop. We have noted quite a few sizeable pea patches in our meanderings, some of them in the Gomez vicinity.

The specialist offers a few guides for convenient arrangement of doors: try to have no doors between your equipment. An L-shape or U-shape arrangement makes this easy. Place refrigerator so the door handle is nearest the counter. Then you can stack supplies conveniently while the door is open.

Country Worms Come To Town

Jim Foy, Terry county agent, reported recently that numerous calls had been received in his office the past week about the "careless web worms" that are being found on lawns and in trees and shrubs around homes in town. He said especially this is true from residents whose homes are next to a vacant city lot.

The worms are the same as those giving the farmers so much trouble this year in the crops all over the entire county. He suggested that those wishing to preserve their shrubs and grass can use Chlordane or wettable DDT without the oil base, as the oil will kill the grass and shrubs.

Mrs. J. J. Jowers was in last week to insert an ad for the sale of a tractor, and had the paper sent to them at Snyder, where they have lived since last fall. Her son, E. J. Jowers still lives here, and all are old timers in Terry county.

That Man Collins In to See Us

What a man Collins, C. W., that is, was in to see us Tuesday, while the Mrs. shopped around for the family needs. However, we believe all the junior Collinses have left home, grew up you know. The Collins farm is right smack in the Adair oil fields, and he has four wells on his place.

So, this country editor gets to talk with oil people occasionally, believe it or not. Now the Collins farm has some of the shallow wells that began to be drilled four or five years ago, and they are close enough to the reef wells that very likely there is deeper reef production under the Collins land.

But aside from a good annual income from royalty, we were most pleased that C. W. has gained his usual health back. Two or three years ago, his heart was about to flicker on him, but he followed the advice of his physicians, and his face has that healthy glow again, and he says he feels fine.

Forgot to say we got $5 of his oil money on three more years of the Herald.

Don't Be Too Impatient—NSLI Dividends

It is easy to understand why some veterans are getting a little impatient about not receiving their 1951 dividend. While it is true that many veterans were eligible to receive dividend checks as of January 1, 1951, the first checks were not mailed out by the VA until April 23rd. The latest information we have is that they are running 3 or 4 months after the anniversary date of the policy but that they are gradually catching up. Keep in mind that the present dividend payment is for the 3-year period beginning with the anniversary date of each respective policy in 1948 to and inclusive of the anniversary date of the policy in 1951.

NSLI Term or Waiver—Vet Incompetent—Can Convert

Question: Can a veteran who is rated permanent total and incompetent by the VA and who has a $10,000 NSLI 5-Year Level Premium Term policy in effect and also has a "Total Disability Income Provision" rider attached, and both premiums be on a waiver of premium basis, convert to a permanent plan? What about the "TDIP"?

Answer: Yes, the guardian may convert this policy to a permanent plan by obtaining written authority from the court to whom the guardian is responsible, to do so. The term policy may be converted to any permanent plan except to an endowment plan (while on waiver). On the application for conversion, at the top heading, there should be added "Including Total Disability Income Provision" or just "Including TDIP." Be sure and write this on the application at the top of the form. Of course, attached to the application should be the written authority of the court to make the conversion.

New Veteran Insurance Billions From NSLI

The new post-war Term Insurance which is available to those who have been discharged after service since June 25, 1950, is like its WW II counterpart, NSLI, in only one respect—it is in the form of a five-year level premium term contract which is renewable every five years at a higher premium rate.

In most other respects, however, it differs from NSLI term insurance:

1. It must be applied for within 120 days after separation from service.
2. It may not be converted to a permanent plan of insurance.
3. It is non-participating and no dividends will be paid on it.
4. Premium rates are much lower than comparable for NSLI in the lower brackets; the difference becomes less and less as the age of 58 is the same for both types of insurance. Examples: at age 37, the rate for the new insurance is 20c per month, per $1,000, as against 64c for NSLI; at age 25, it is 26c against 67c for NSLI; at age 35 it is 43c against 76c for NSLI.
5. Applications for this new insurance with required premiums, should be sent to the VA Central Office at Washington, D. C., and all subsequent premiums are to be mailed to the same office until the insured is otherwise notified.

Renewals of Level Premium Term Insurance

1. Public Laws 101 and 104, 82nd Congress, approved August 2, 1951, provides the privileges of renewal of expiring Five-Year Level Term policies of United States Government and National Service Life Insurance for successive five-year periods.

2. Public Law 101 provides that the second proviso of the first paragraph of Section 301 of the World War Veterans' Act, 1924, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: "Provided Further, That at the expiration of any five-year period a five-year level-premium-term policy may be renewed for a successive five-year period at the premium rate for the attain-

Crescent Hill Church Of Christ Keeps Up With Its Service Boys

The Crescent Hill Church of Christ has at present twenty boys in the services of our country. These boys are scattered all over the world. Two of them are in Korea, one in Japan, two in Germany, three of them on board ship, and the others are stationed in training camps and naval stations over the United States.

In an effort to keep up with each of these boys Bro. Wood writes them a personal letter every two weeks, and sends them copies of the church bulletin. Also the church has sent copies of the New Testament to each of them, as well as a specially prepared pamphlet for boys in the armed service. Their birthdates are also kept, and a birthday card showing is given each of them on their separate birthdays.

Each of the boys has written Bro. Wood and the church expressing their appreciation for these things that have been done for them. Bro. Wood tells us that they intend to keep up this sort of work, and to include each new boy as he is inducted into the service.

Miss Ruth White, who has been acting secretary of the First Baptist church through the summer months, left last Thursday to enroll in Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene.

Mrs. Seth Martin returned home Saturday after visiting her sister in Lubbock last week. She is recuperating from a major operation.

Behind The Scenes

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK, Sept. —The nation's retailers are exhibiting conservatism in their plans for fall and winter season. Purchasing patterns are described as "nearly normal" in contrast to frantic buying of everything in sight that was the rule at this time last year.

The reason, of course, is that many retailers got burned by over purchasing last fall and are shying away from any chance of repetition. Alarmed by what they thought were impending shortages of many critical materials and subsequent reduction of civilian goods output, retailers built up inventories all through last fall and winter. The net result came to light in the spring, in a wave of special sales designed to move this merchandise off the shelves.

Now, however, most retailers have managed to work themselves out from under excessively heavy inventories and are buying with extreme caution. Not only do they fear another "inventory glut," but they are getting prompt delivery on almost anything they order. Another factor prompting the store owner to buy even more cautiously than usual is uncertainty about prices. Retailers point to many instances where they have stocked heavily on certain items, ranging all the way from nylon hose to television sets, and then, when their warehouses were loaded, price cuts were effected on new models brought out at lower prices.

ed age without medical examination.

Public Law 104 provides that the first proviso of sub-section (f) of section 602 of the National Service Life Insurance Act of 1940, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: "Provided, That the expiration of any term period, any National Service Life Insurance policy which has not been exchanged or converted to a permanent plan of insurance may be renewed as level premium term insurance for a successive period of five years at the premium rate for the then attained age without medical examination, provided the required premiums are tendered prior to the expiration of such term."

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—Are the widower and children of a woman veteran entitled to pension at her death?

A—Under present laws, the widower is not entitled. But surviving children may be entitled if eligibility requirements are met.

Q—When I got out of the Army in 1945, I was told that if I couldn't afford to keep up my GI term insurance, I could drop it and apply later for a new policy. As a result, I let it expire without renewing it. Now that I have a good job and can afford insurance again, I went to VA the other day and asked for a new policy. They told me I was out of luck because of some law that took away my right to new NSLI as a veteran. What were they talking about?

A—They were talking about Public Law 23, the Serviceman's Indemnity and Insurance Acts of 1951, which became law on April 25, 1951. This law stopped the issuance of new NSLI or USGLI, except under certain conditions for those who return to active military duty. Since you're still a veteran, and your old term policy has expired, VA cannot issue you a new NSLI policy under that law.

Q—I am a student under the GI Bill, and I have been forced to interrupt my studies because of illness. Will I be able to return to school under the GI Bill after I get well, even though the cut-off date has passed?

A—Yes. You are required to remain in continuous pursuit of your studies except for reasons beyond your control. Illness is such a reason.

Q—I am a World War II veteran drawing compensation for a disability rated at 60 percent. My wife recently gave birth to a son, entitling me to an additional allowance in his behalf. On what date will the increased payments be effective: the date of his birth, or the date I submit the birth certificate to VA?

A—The increased payments would become effective as of the date VA receives evidence of birth which establishes entitlement to the higher payments.

SPELLING WEAKNESS ASSAILED IN REPORT

VANCOUVER. — (AP) — Both pupils and teachers were criticized in a report from the experts who marked some entrance examinations at the University of British Columbia. Spelling was the big weakness, and the examiners noted 100 different spellings of the word "soliloquy."

Crescent Hill Church Of Christ News

There were 375 present for Bible Study Sunday morning at the Crescent Hill Church of Christ. Approximately 650 attended 10:45 worship services; 110 were present at the evening training classes, and above 400 for the Evening worship services.

Bro. Jimmy Wood spoke on "Paul's Prayer for the Philippians" at the morning service, and "Why Stand Ye Idle all the Day" at the evening services. Johnny Winston conducted the song services at the morning service, and Bro. Walter Tomlinson at the evening service.

A choral group of Johnny Winston, Orville Miller, Peggy Bradley, Mary Chisholm, Joy Chisholm, and Ruth Chisholm, sang two songs on the 7:30 radio program Sunday morning. Bro. Wood spoke on the subject, "Jesus Said" at that time. Each Sunday morning a group of young people sing at least two songs on the program.

Bro. and Sister Jimmy Wood and children went to Wichita Falls this past week for a visit with their parents. They returned on Saturday, after a couple of days' visit.

Several of the young people from the Crescent Hill Church of Christ have gone away to school. Peggy Black and Dixie Brown have gone to ACC; Carl Cabe Jr. and Dean McCullough are in College in Lubbock; Ona Gene Walker, Linda Hudson and Johnnie Winston are enrolled in Texas Tech.

Sure That You Don't Have Tuberculosis?

Frank P. Miller, M. D., and editor of the South Plains Health Unit News had a very enlightening editorial in the September issue of his mimeographed monthly publication. The burden of the editorial, of course, was to bring home to the people of Brownfield and Terry County the importance of having an X-ray made of their lungs, when the Mobile Unit returns to Brownfield at a future date, which will be announced in this and other publicity means before the date of its arrival in Brownfield. The Unit was here Saturday of last week and Monday and Tuesday of this week. True, there are not many people in this area known to have tuberculosis, as this is a very high, dry climate. But some contract the disease here, while others come here with it. Most people these days understand that a careful victim of the disease may never give it to people closest to him. People have learned this much about the disease.

But there are perhaps thousands of people that if asked if they had TB would tell you no, right off the reel. But the SPHU News gives us the figures below taken from the records of the National Tuberculosis Foundation:

Of 2 million people examined, 24,000 who thought they were healthy, had TB. Seventy percent of these cases were in a minimal stage; 25 percent were in a moderately advanced stage, and five percent were in a far advanced stage.

McKENZIE ATTENDING CIO MEET IN DENVER

Rushie Lee McKenzie of Brownfield, Texas, is one of 300 delegates to the annual convention of Oil Workers International Union, CIO, in Denver, Colorado, during the week of Sept. 10-15. He represented Brownfield Local No. 457 of the union.

Attending the convention were delegates from more than 200 local unions in approximately 30 states and six Canadian provinces from coast to coast.

He was accompanied by his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McKenzie Jr.

Be Wised Up When You Buy Furniture

COLLEGE STATION.—Be wise when you buy furniture. Mrs. Bernice Claytor, Home Management specialist for the Extension Service of Texas A. and M. College, says you can't judge furniture entirely on face value.

Examine construction, look behind, inside and under each piece to see what materials are used and how it is made.

Here are some general suggestions for furniture buying: plan ahead, even though you buy only one piece at a time. Be sure the furniture will fit your floor space, so take along with you the complete measurements of floor and wall space in the room. You'll be more apt to buy the right piece of furniture if you buy when you need it, and not because it is a bargain. Read the labels carefully and compare prices and quality so you will be satisfied with your selection.

The specialist says if you buy good furniture with wisdom, if it meets the needs of the family, if it is useful, of good quality and in good taste, you'll be sure of getting many years of satisfaction from your furniture.

Where Did Your Town and County Get Their Names?

AUSTIN.—Do you know where your town and county got their names, and the dates of their establishment?

If not, you will have a reference available next year which will provide that information. A two-volume "Handbook of Texas" has been completed at the University of Texas and is scheduled for publication next year by the Texas State Historical Association.

Dr. H. Bailey Carroll, director of the association, estimates the handbook will include 2,000,000 words concerning all phases of Texas history. More than 1,000 contributors wrote articles for the publication, which has been in preparation 10 years.

Here are some samples of the information contained:

Brahman cattle, a breed which has existed in India for more than 4,000 years, ranks second to the Hereford as the chief range animal in Texas. The breed was introduced in Texas about 1895.

The first reports of buffalo were written by Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca in his description of his journey from Florida to Mexico from 1528 to 1536.

Gail Borden, Jr., famous as the father of condensed milk, came to Texas in 1829, and died in Borden, Texas, on January 11, 1874.

Big Bend National Park, Texas' first national park, consists of approximately 788,682 acres and is the fifth largest national park in the United States.

THE FRESHIES WERE WEARING WAR PAINT

At first glance, old timers may have thought there was a bunch of Comanche Indians, war paint and all in our city, Sept. 3. But on second view, it was revealed that they were just a bunch of "freshies" who had been taken care of by upper classmen.

And the gals didn't escape, either. But they were probably more used to lipstick (the gals' war paint) than boys. The applicators sure didn't miss any spots on the faces of the freshmen.

LOCAL MEN AMONG BIG INSURANCE WRITERS

A gentleman called last week and handed us a copy of Our Shield, the house organ of National Life and Accident Insurance Co., of Nashville, Tennessee. The district headquarters of this company is located at Lubbock, and they have two representatives in Brownfield, who were li. h men.

Of course their addresses are given as Lubbock, but the gentleman who called stated that was the district they represented, and not their home. Anyway, Messrs. Bailey and Lucas both stand high in the amount of insurance written the past year.

C. K. Bailey wrote $108,859 insurance, and J. W. Lucas crowded him with $103,033.

Home Demonstration Council Hears Reports of THDA Meeting Tuesday

Twenty members of the Terry county home demonstration club council attended a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the office of Miss Doris Mahaffey, new Terry county home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Kelley Sears of Gomez, chairman of the council, Mrs. Lee Bartlett of Needmore, vice chairman, and Mrs. J. T. Newsom of Union, gave reports on the Texas Home Demonstration association, which was held at College Station August 29 through August 31. They represented the local clubs at the convention, and 116 counties were represented.

The next council meeting will be held October 9, the second Tuesday in October. Called the annual council meeting, reports will be made by each club in the county and officers of the council.

The three women going to the THDA meeting at College Station went with 45 delegates representing 16 counties in district 2. They went by chartered bus from Lubbock.

This year marked the 25th anniversary of the Home Demonstration association was organized in 1926. The theme, "United We Stand" was carried out throughout the entire program.

"The Wheel of Progress," a pageant, was presented Thursday, August 30, at 8 p. m. at Kyle Field. A large wheel was formed by 374 women, most of them in white and blue robes. The seven spokes were occupied by the Home Demonstration association. Outstanding speakers were: John Ben Sheppard, secretary of State; Miss Sally Hill, editor of Progressive Farmer; Miss Iris Davenport, editor of Farm and Ranch, and numerous college officials.

The first president of the association in 1926, Mrs. F. H. Marks, Ferrin, and Miss Marie Petty the first winner of the Helen Swift scholarship were present.

In 1926 Texas had 887 clubs with 17,438 members and in 1951, 2,000 clubs with a 42,000 membership.

The club feels if they progress this much in the next 25 years they will reach a number of rural women who do not know about their good work in home demonstration clubs.

FFA NEWS

Boys who are Future Farmers of America will meet with their advisors, Lester Buford and Ray Hensley, next Monday night, Sept. 24, at 7:30 o'clock in the agricultural department at the Brownfield high school, and plan the initiation ceremony for 31 Greenhands—freshman students in agriculture—according to an announcement this week.

The initiation ceremony is scheduled for the night of October 1, Mr. Buford said. At Monday night's meeting committees will be appointed for the following events, sentinel, pranks, refreshments, program, cleanup, and general planning.

Mr. Buford said 86 boys were in FFA work at the local school this year.

DATE for the annual Harvest Carnival to be staged by Jessie G. Randal Parent-Teachers Association, was set for the night of October 26, at the first regular meeting last Thursday afternoon in the school cafeteria.

During the business session with Mrs. Jess McWherter, president in charge, minutes of the last meeting last spring were read by Mrs. Jennings.

The PTA voted to give room prizes of $3.00 to the rooms having the most parents present, on meeting days when refreshments were not served. Object of the prize program is to encourage attendance of parents, and a new plan was adopted for extra points—two points will be given for grandmothers of students who attend—also two points for fathers present.

For the program, Mrs. Wayne Hill led the group singing, with Mrs. Edith Creighton piano accompanist. Mrs. S. W. Miller led in prayer.

Vernon Brewer, principal of Jessie G. Randal school, was introduced by Mrs. Monk Parker, last year's PTA president, and Mr. Brewer introduced members of the school faculty.

Greetings to parents and teachers were extended by Mrs. V. L. Patterson, district vice president of PTA, who urged that the group should work together in making the attendance campaign a success.

"You owe it to your child to attend PTA," Mrs. Patterson said. She continued her discussion by reading the objects, the policies and principles of PTA.

A Certificate of Award was acknowledged, that was received for outstanding work of the PTA last year, giving that organization a Grade A rating.

For recreation an introductory game was enjoyed, when those attending were required to introduce themselves to as many people possible and get their signatures during ten minutes time. A year's subscription to the National PTA magazine was awarded Mrs. G. E. Dawson, 1201 E. Hill, as the winner of the contest.

Mrs. A. P. Cates was second place winner, who received a year's subscription to the state PTA magazine.

Refreshments were served to 92 persons present.

Miss Ann Lingle returned to Austin last week where she will enroll in Texas University as a junior student. She makes her home with her grandmother, Mrs. Percy Spencer, and come home between the summer and fall terms of school.

Got Big Boy Engine Started Tuesday

Dropped over at the light and power plant Tuesday morning, and from across the street looked as if the mogul engine was about ready. Seeing Utility Supt. Eunice Jones, we called him over, as we didn't want to get mixed up in bricks, mortar, wheelbarrows, etc. Says Eunice, "the installing superintendent says he will be ready to start in about 15 minutes. I'll hang around that long, and if they are not started, I'll head for my office and work."

The opening on the north where the fire trucks used to exit, is being closed with brick, as the trucks are being moved to the new city hall to be stationed permanently. The new city hall has not been officially opened as yet, but the stalls for trucks in the fire department of the building can now be used.

We are glad this surplus power is being turned on, as we have heard some complaints this summer of low voltage. Whether this complaint was real or imaginary, we would not know, but we have made out about as usual at our place of business.

Services Wednesday For Fred A. Dawson

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Wednesday for Fred A. Dawson, 64, who died at the home of his son, Lloyd Dawson, eight miles east of Brownfield on the Tahoka highway, Tuesday, following a three year illness.

Rev. Jack Pearce, assisted by E. L. Cave, officiated at the final rites at the Calvary Baptist church. Interment was in the Tahoka cemetery under the direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Mr. Dawson has been a resident of Brownfield since 1927 except for a short stay in Myrtle Creek, Ore.

Survivors include his wife, the son, three brothers, Rev. Floyd Dawson, Albert Dawson and Will Dawson, all of Lubbock; four sisters, Mrs. L. Lumedden, Wilson, Mrs. Elizabeth May Hobbs, Lubbock, Mrs. J. L. Hobbs, Otton, Mrs. W. H. Perkins, Gainesville, and one grandchild.

Pallbearers were Cecil O'Neal, Clyde Bond, Leo Willis, Ernest Beard, Harold Forbes, and Luke Huckabee.

Honorary pallbearers included John Haney, Myrtle Creek, Ore., Cecil Shaw, Levelland, Roy Cobb, Melrose, N. M., Perry Sullin, Dalhart, Lynn West, Sam Sanford, and C. C. McCormick, all of Tahoka.

Thank You!

Mrs. Farris Nowell, leader of Brownie Troop 20, expresses her sincere thanks and appreciation for the splendid cooperation she received from Brownies and their mothers. She is assisted by Mrs. L. G. Wilson and Mrs. Lal Copeland, and the fine response they have been given in starting their scout work this year is truly appreciated. Regular meeting time for this troop is 3:30 o'clock each Tuesday afternoon at the Girl Scout Little House.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Griffin accompanied their daughter, Judy, to San Antonio Friday, where she enrolled in Trinity University. They returned home the first of this week.

A daughter, who had been named Patsy Marlane, was born to S/Sgt. and Mrs. W. I. Kluting at a Lubbock hospital Tuesday, Sept. 11. The child weighed 6 lbs. and 13 ounces. Mrs. Kluting is a daughter of Mrs. Ruth McCain, and is a former resident of Brownfield.
