Brownfield Savings & Loan Association Has Formal Opening All Day Monday

"We are very well pleased with the response to the formal opening of the Brownfield Savings and Loan association," said J. O. Gillham, president of the new business establishment.

More than 300 persons attended the affair Monday. Office quarters are in the new Copeland building, just west of the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Company.

Mr. Gillham stated that a total of $175,000 initial investment was deposited in savings accounts on the first day of operation.

Among the out-of-town visitors were J. M. Faulkner of Austin, Commissioner of Banking in Texas; Homer Hammon of Lubbock, J. M. Denton and W. W. Carter, both of Lovington, N. M., and a number of visitors from neighboring towns.

Mr. Faulkner was one of the first depositors.

A large array of flowers was sent to the new business by friends and well-wishers. The office is one of the most beautiful and complete in this area.

The Brownfield Savings and Loan Association is a member of the federal home loan system, and a member of the federal savings and loan insurance corporation. Each invested savings will be insured up to $10,000, and a savings plan is being offered to fit every purpose and the home loan plan will also accommodate any purpose needed by the customer.

Officers of the new establishment are: J. O. Gillham, president; Bruce Zorns, vice president; Leo Holmes, vice president, and Newell A. Reed, secretary-treasurer. Directors are Gillham, Grady Goodpasture, Holmes, J. B.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Sawyer accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Truett Flache and children went to Dallas Wednesday to stay over the weekend.

Brownfield Fire Department To Be Hosts to Convention Tomorrow

Brownfield Voluntary Fire Department will be hosts tomorrow to firemen from 20 towns at the semi-annual convention of the Permian Basin district firemen's association.

Registration for the meeting will start at 9 a. m. Saturday morning at the South Plains Health Unit, and guests will be welcomed by Mayor C. C. Primm. Chief A. P. Collier of Monahans is president of the association and will be in charge of the day's program.

At 11 a. m. W. E. Twitty will address the group. Mr. Twitty, who has been a member of the Lubbock Fire Department the past 42 years, and Fire Chief a number of years, recently resigned as Fire Marshal for Lubbock. Pumper races are scheduled for Knight, Joe J. McGowan, Wm. J. McGowan, A. M. Muldrow, C. C. Primm, J. M. Teague, Jr., and Bruce Zorns; Counsel: McGowan & McGowan. Mr. Reed, Secretary-treasurer of the association, will be in charge of the office, and Mrs. Mildred Pryor assists him in the office duties.

Second Lt. Don Has To Salute Sister

A ritual in reverse will be enacted when next the eldest daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Tankersley, Route 2, Brownfield, cross paths during their military service.

According to long standing agreement, a salute will be exchanged. But this time first to give the gesture will be Second Lt. Don F. Tankersley, saluting his sister, now First Lt. H. Bertice Tankersley of Lackland Air Force base, San Antonio, Texas.

As a veteran of the WAVE's and an enlisted reservist, Bertice had for years been expected to "pop to" when her brother, first an ROTC student and later an Army lieutenant, and she got together. In service with the engineers at Ft. Leonard, Wood, Mo., he warned her that as the senior officer, he would continue to pull his rank if she obtained a direct commission in the WAF.

When the orders for Miss Tankersley arrived, however, they called for her appointment as first lieutenant, not as a "shave-tail," in view of her age and previous professional experience. She had applied under an Air Force program open to women college graduates between the ages of 24 and 32.

A high school English teacher at Edinburg, Dalhart, and Sudan, Texas, and Clayton, N. M., before her entry into Women in the Air Force, First Lt. Tankersley is at Lackland for the start of her active duty tour. A graduate of Abilene high school, she holds a B. S. Degree and post graduate credits from Texas Tech College at Lubbock.

She will complete an eight week course of indoctrination training at The Gateway to the Air Force base before commencing a duty assignment.

And she will look forward with relish to that salute from brother, Don.

But there may be complications some day. The elder Tankersleys have an eight year old son who fully expects to become a marine colonel.

Thanks to Bob Tobey for his renewal, also the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co.

Hoppy Savings Plan National Bank Begins

Hopalong Cassidy invaded the banking field in Brownfield Saturday when the First National Bank opened the Hopalong Cassidy Savings Club and Saving Rodeo Saturday morning—Small fry, and those not so small . . . through the ages of 17 . . . opened their individual savings accounts at the local bank . . . then went to see Hopalong in one of his favorite pictures at the Regal theatre.

Crawford Taylor of the First National Bank said that a large number of new savings accounts had been opened by youngsters in the association's Hopalong Cassidy Club.

According to Mr. Taylor, the child is given a regular passbook as well as a plastic coin bank when opening an account of $2 or more. A certificate of membership designating the rank in the club is also presented, while from Hollywood a letter from "Hoppy" and instructions for continued savings are forwarded.

Mrs. Raymond L. Jones and baby daughter, Mariana, returned to their home at Strawn, Texas, Sunday, after several days' visit with her mother-in-law, Mrs. F. E. Forgy, and Mr. Forgy at 415 N. Second.

A NEW COUNTRY DISCOVERED IN TWENTY MILES OF US

When we tell the reader that others of Newmore a pressing invitation to attend the Harvest Festival, and promised to send her last week's Herald which tells all about the festival, which we mailed her after we returned Sunday afternoon. Crops are good in that area, as well as the Wells community.

This particular section of Terry and Lynn counties seems to be a bit different from east Terry and west Lynn along 380. The land is almost devoid of large mesquite timber, is level, and appears to be a sort of valley. The land is a mixture of sand and harder soils, and appears to be very productive. Looks like the plains portion of Garza county and east Lynn county. But they have much better crops this year than the east Lynn-Garza area.

Right here we might mention the fact that Mrs. Moses informed us that it was about 21 miles from Newmore to Brownfield or Lamesa, and 23 to Tahoka by paving. She also said that some from that community traded in Brownfield. Why not make an effort to get more trade from Newmore and Wells? It is about 12 miles to O'Donnell, however. More of this trade is well worth going after.

A few miles north of Wells, one runs into the harder mesquite land, where rainfall was shy, and the crops taper off, but some fair crops even in this area. One comes into the Brownfield-Tahoka highway about half way between Tahoka and Westpoint.

Mrs. D. L. Swafford and sister, Winelle Moore of Ropesville, were business visitors in Brownfield Wednesday.

Advertise in the Herald.

At press time Thursday night, the Herald received the announcement that Kay Szydloski had been declared the winner of the 1951 Harvest Festival Queen Contest. Miss Szydloski had for several weeks campaigned under the title of "Mystery Queen." Runner-up was Miss Laverne Joplun and Miss Carlon Brady was in third place.

Appliance Service In New Location

The mystery has finally been solved, and we know who is occupant of the west most building on the south side of the square. It is Appliance Service Co., Ealand Eaves and C. W. Denison, proprietors. They were seeking more floor space at 518 W. Broadway, than they had at the old place at 318 W. Main.

They do all kinds of electrical repairing on ranges, refrigerators, conditioners, and radio repairs. They also keep some radios for sale. They ask the old as well as new customers to call at their new place.

Robert L. Noble Finally Gets Moved

Robert L. Noble finally got moved to his new location in the Brownfield Savings and Loan Association building. Met Bob and Colson in front of the old place one day last week. Colson seemed to have the ledger and Bob what appeared to be a calendar.

Evidently that was the last trip up those stairs in the Brownfield building for both unless on urgent business. A week or two before that we had mentioned seeing Bob's new sign. Yep, he says, "got the sign up before I got moved."

The Noble place in the new building is grand.

Still Much Activity In the Adair

A new 9000 foot test is to go down in west Terry section 93 of block D-11. This is strictly a wildcat test, sponsored by the Atlas Insurance Co., Dallas, with Coroco Drilling Co., contractors.

It appears that the offset of the Mound Lake 2-well pool out in northeast Terry missed the reef pool. They are now down some 9,750 feet, below where oil was found in the producers. This is a Gulf project, and still drilling ahead.

Sulphur water has been found in the Union Oil Co., No. 2 Laura Cotten, a California Co. project, in the south Brownfield area. The well is a north offset, and missed the reef. It was later projected to 13,000 feet, and now some 12,100 feet, drilling ahead to test the Ellenburger.

At Wellman, Harmon Scales No. 6 hit the reef pay a bit low, but with some 270 feet of pay above water level. Operators preparing to run an oil string early this week. This is a southeast offset to the pool.

A new well in the prolific Adair pool some 14 miles south of Brownfield has finished the No. 3 R. W. Carter, with a potential of 571 barrels of 44 gravity oil a day. This is an Amerada project.

A new location in the Amerada No. 2 Elmer Miller, projected 9,000 feet. It is in block C-37, section 6. So far as we know no dry holes so far in the Adair field, in the deep production part.

Enrollment Reaches 2,084 in Schools

At the end of the first six weeks period at the Brownfield Schools, enrollment reached a total of 2,084 on Tuesday, Sept. O. R. Douglas reported.

In the high school there are 414 students enrolled, with 148 freshmen, 119 sophomores, 90 juniors, and 57 seniors. The total for the seventh and eighth grades is 319 students, with 176 in the seventh, and 143 in the eighth.

West Ward school reports 503 students; fourth grade, 175; fifth grade, 176, and sixth grade 152.

"We had a much larger enrollment in Jessie G. Randall school than we expected," Supt. Douglas said, with Tuesday's total reaching 623 students. The first grade now has 228 pupils, second grade, 201, and third grade, 194. Officials of the school had not counted on more than 550 for the schools, Mr. Douglas said.

Gomez has 145 students enrolled in their school, the Superintendent reported. Wheatley school has 80 students this year.

Mr. Douglas said an estimate of 75 Latin Americans were included in the enrollment figures. Last year at the end of the first six weeks there were more than 2100 students enrolled in Brownfield schools, Mr. Douglas said.

Mrs. James F. Lackey Sr. was in Wednesday and had the Herald sent to her son, James F., who is a Junior in the University at Albuquerque, N. M. Now he can keep up with the bunch he used to work with at Primm and other places.

McDuffie Finished Training At Lackland

WILLIAM RICHARD MCDUFFIE

We are glad to announce that William Richard McDuffie, 21 year old son of President W. R. McDuffie of the First National Bank, has come through the Lackland Air Force Base training at San Antonio, and is now awaiting assignment. His assignment is unknown to his dad and mother; he probably knows, but it is a military secret.

Junior McDuffie has had a varied experience in his young life. He was in high school here when his parents moved back to Lubbock where Dick had an official position in a bank there. However, after his junior year here, his parents persuaded him to come to Lubbock to finish his senior year, as they wanted him at home. Junior complied with some reluctance.

After completing high school at Lubbock, he attended Tech through the summer session, then entered University of Texas with a law degree in his mind. He finished in UT, receiving a BA degree with honors, then went to the UT law department and began studies. But the war in Korea broke, and he knew that sooner or later he would be drafted.

So, he entered the army and was assigned to Camp Chaffee near Little Rock for training, coming through with flying colors, and an army reserve as a Pfc. Speaking of flying, he decided that aviation was more to his liking, resigned from the army, and enlisted in the air corps, and assigned to Lackland for training.

It would seem that Richard Jr., is not fishing for any brass, but in case he is called to the front, be able to take care of himself and at the same time be prepared to be of service to his country.

We have always liked that boy. He had the manners and courtesy of a mature person when a youth.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kendrick were among those attending the football game between Texas University and Oklahoma University at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas Saturday afternoon.

High School Band Wins First Place

In a huge parade in Levelland Monday, opening Oil Progress Week, the Brownfield high school band won a beautiful trophy for the best performance.

Six bands from schools in the area were in the parade. Fred R. Smith is local band director, and there are 65 students in the band this year.

Brownfield schools have one "FIRST" from the Levelland schools. How about a "LEAD" in the football score tonight for the Cubs?

Texans to Save Millions on Insurance

With high and higher prices coming on most everything you buy, Texans will be more than pleased to learn that they are to save $2,303,000 on their fire insurance, effective October 1. This information is not hearsay, but comes direct from Paul H. Brown, Fire Insurance Commissioner at Austin.

Brown stated that insurance rates were to be reduced on more than a score types of buildings. Dwelling insurance will show a reduction of some 15 per cent, and mercantile buildings will have a reduction ranging from 8 to 16 2/3 per cent. The reduction is based on premiums earned by insurance companies the past five years.

Presumably the idea is worked out on the same principle that has been in vogue for the past several years on rebating to Ex-Servicemen the overplus saved on policies, over what had to be paid to diseased members. This fire insurance is the result of savings because people are building structures with less fire hazards, and are seeing to it that accumulations of stuff that might create fires, are eliminated.

This trend to lower insurance on account of less destructive fires began last year, when Texans saved $1,881,000 on fire insurance.

Dewey Pace, of Carlsbad, N. M., was in last week to get the Herald started to his address. He is a brother of Luek Pace, of Tudor Sales Co., and presently works for the Potash mines at Carlsbad. Dewey was reared in the Wellman section.

C. of C. Investigates Plan to Assist Farmers in Locating Water Level

Efforts are being made by the water committee of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce to secure some valuable information that will assist farmers in this county, and other interested parties, in regard to the water strata underground, according to an announcement Wednesday by President Harmon Howze.

Included in this information, if it is obtainable, will be a contour map of the county, showing the top of the sand level, and depth of the sand level, which means water is "in between" on these high plains. As more irrigation wells are being dug in the county each month, members of the committee believe the map would be beneficial in helping locate the water level, and prevent "dry holes" that usually cost a farmer several thousand dollars.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Wayne Smith Wednesday contacted A. P. Rollins of Austin, member of the Texas Board of Water

The Brownfield Cubs, the local high school band and pep squad, accompanied by more than 1,000 fans will journey to Levelland tonight to meet the rivals that threaten to break the record of the Cubs.

The Levelland Lobos are ready for the tilt tonight, in their own backyard. (Any team usually does better on his own home ground.)

At first, 800 tickets were sent to Brownfield for local fans to get in reserved seats at the game. Later there were 300 more tickets sent over this way, and now there is a complete sell-out, since early Thursday. If anyone looks for Brownfield residents tonight, they had better start looking in Levelland, as these Terry county citizens stay behind the Cubs . . . And they are justly proud of them to date, with an unbeaten record.

Incidentally, Brownfield has the only team in district TAA that is undefeated, as both Ievelland and Littlefield fell to the Seminole Indians; Levelland at the start of the season—Seminole 12, Levelland 0—while the Indians scalped the Littlefield Wildcats last weekend 26-24.

The Cubs now boast a record of five victories, no losses and one tie. The Levelland Lobos, coached by Truett Rattan, Gario Tubb and Pat Bailey, have a squad that is ready for the Cubs.

Coaches Toby Greer and L. G. Wilson continue to be pessimistic about their wins . . . saying that tonight may be the night they lose, but of course they hope not . . . and they have been coaching those boys this week on every weak angle they can think of!

Come on, Cubs . . . all of Brownfield, continues to root for you! Levelland Lobos and their weights are: Harold Phelan, back, 147; Frank Burnett, end, 164; Willie Henson, back, 151; Leroy, back, 159; Kenley, punter, back, 137; Ronnie Leatherman, ack, 162; Keith Couch, guard, 153; Doyle Bradshaw, back, 143; Dan Houck, back, 162; Jimmy Black, end, 154; James Pierce, end, 164; "Doc" Sewell, back, 147; Charles Suits, end, 163; Eudell Hood, end, 161; Boyd Patton, back, 165; Donald Suits, guard, 167; Buddy George, guard, 147; Harvey Campbell, center, 188; Dwain Burks, center, 156; Bill Staggs, center, 183; Dean McCasland, guard, 152; George Branch, back, 176; James Kauffman, tackle, 164; Charles Mitchell, guard, 167; Baker Hallford, tackle, 191; Jimmy Pirtle, tackle, 193; Charles Watson, tackle, 189; Eugene Bentley, tackle, 221; LaVon McAuley, back, 191; Langford Sneed, back, 197.

Each of the above mentioned were in agreement with the chamber of commerce that the information would be valuable in helping farmers who dig wells. R. J. Purtell, chairman of the local water committee, said.

Fred Husband, executive vice president and general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, promised the support of that organization; if the plan is put into effect.

With Mr. Howze and Mr. Purtell, other members of the water committee are: Otis Lerner, Charlie Kersh, Dennis Q. Lilly, Vernon Townes, Dube Pyeatt, Herman Chesshir, and Gene Leach. This committee was appointed by President Howze.

Any erroneous reflection upon the standing of any individual, business or corporation will be gladly corrected if brought to the attention of the publishers.

It sometimes appears to the Herald that there are too many organizations working toward the same purpose, perhaps, but without any seeming cooperation with others looking to the same task. For instance, we have the United Business Committee, Southern Division, with some of the vest business men of the south and southwest named as its members and workers. But from whatever the organization, the notes are the same, "the national planners are making limitless progress and we are letting them get away with it." And the burden of some of the letters we see from the members of UBC that we receive, whose names read like Who's Who in this state, the accusation against the do-gooders up at Washington read alike. And the theme song goes like this: "While the doctors are being harried about socialized medicine, many bankers fail to see the connection with their economic life. Or when power companies are under attack, railroads and insurance companies are too busy licking their own wounds to recognize that ALL business is involved. So it is with the merchant, oil man, etc." That has always been a true view of matters. As long as the other fellow is getting a whaling with the pad, the rest of us are willing to stand on the side lines and see the job well done. But if all the businesses of the nation, farming, manufacturing, distribution, etc., could all raise our voices at the same time against the encroachment of the government, we could stop this creeping socialism in its tracks. Speaking of Texas, however, our people generally have a high sense of individualism and pride of their state. Most of them have become aware that keeping one man in office at Washington too long has mushroomed since the depression and the last war to encroachment on private business.

By far the greater part of the people of the nation have come to the point that they recognize that a halt must be called somewhere on taxing. That there is a limit beyond which the taxes can make taxes endure their burden. Some where along the line there will either be a rebellion, or the powers that be at Washington will do their will. Slaves, that is, that take no thought of tomorrow, but let the paternal government provide the food and raiment, a place to sleep. Then we can just turn over all we make to the big government boys, and let them provide from the cradle to the grave. But the big majority of Americans are against this slave plan. The only trouble is that like the darkey fighting a gang that was fast whaling the loll out of him, "they are organized—I'm not." Our greatest organization could be the ballot box, but many of us are either too lazy or indifferent to vote. However, a Gallup Poll shows that six out of every ten Americans are for making the 25 per cent federal tax the limit. And 25 of 48 state legislatures have also gone on record against any further hikes above 25 per cent. And it developed at the Governors' Conference recently at Gatlinburg, Tenn., that at least 16 of the state governments had been threatened with elimination of patronage if they failed to go along with statism. The state of Indiana has already been cut off of federal funds to match state funds for pensioners, just because Indiana has a law making public all who are drawing pensions from the federal and state governments. The idea, of course, at Washington is to keep all the pets on the pension list whether or not they need it. Any exposure of their names as public property would cause a lot of the better-to-do have their names withdrawn as a pensioner. We hope Indiana stands pat, and that all other state governments back them up.

We have been hearing much of late about the major oil companies favoring federal control of oil and gas. In fact this matter has been repeated so much that a lot of people had begun to believe the matter. It was even suggested that the majors were in favor of the federal government taking over the tidelands. At least the president of one of the majors has come out squarely for conditions to remain as is, being Mr. K. S. Adams, president of Phillips Petroleum Co. Among other things Mr. Adams stated that the "self-styled champions of the consumers of natural gas was trying to hoodwink the public that federal control of producers and gatherers of natural gas would mean more gas at lower prices, when the fact is that it would mean less gas at higher prices." The above address was delivered before 600 business and civic leaders in Kansas City. As one example for instance, in the state of Wisconsin Adams related that the cost of natural gas to the average consumer ranged from $1.43 to $2.18 per thousand cubic feet, for which the producer receives only 8.1 cents, a very small portion of the cost to the consumer. Just why the bureaucrat boys at Washington think they can produce and distribute gas cheaper than companies that have the means and knowhow, is your guess. But to get to the bottom of the matter, it is our idea that Washington just wants to get its paws on a bit more of the business operations of the USA. To our notion, also, it is time that people wake up to the aims of the statism at Washington, and avoid it like you would a rattlesnake. It will bite you in the end.

Of course all of us of the common herd must understand here and now that the resignation of William M. Boyle from the chairmanship of the National Democratic party was because of his poor health. That privately or publicly he never did any harm to anyone, that he was an outstanding case of innocence abroad. And this all goes for the other top brass of the Socialist-Democratic party. No one expected that honest old Irishman, James A. Farley to step into Boyle's boots. Farley had already served eight years, the first two of Roosevelt's terms, and vigorously opposed a third term for FDR, and quit for that reason. Farley was able to see down the road where long tenure in office, especially of the president would lead. He knew that dictatorships are thus formed. We maintain that Jim Farley was loyal to the Democratic party. He understood the time honored precedent of Presidents stepping down after two terms in office, no matter how ambitious they may have been. And speaking of loyalty, those "loyal" Democrats that met for bacon and eggs at Austin last Saturday morning, took the cake. They were a real mad bunch of all of 250 persons because none of the real party leaders were on hand, including Gov. Shivers and Atty. General Price Daniel. So, Shivers and Daniel, along with the Dixiecrats and GOP were lambasted by the gimme boys present. As one writer termed them, they were an organization of organizations, and mentioned a few that ruled the roost. They were the CIO and AFL, Railroad Brotherhoods and farm co-operatives. When the committee of some 24 was elected, the organizations held 18 of the 24 places on the state committee. So, it will be easy to see who is in control. We read all the reports from the breakfast carefully, but failed to see the name of the editor-publisher of the little 2-column sheet that is published down Austin way, where most of the "loyals" live. We wondered if he was on hand to lead the cheering when all who do not see eye to eye with Truman were lambasted, as they ate their scrambled eggs and bacon. And one dame from Fort Worth was very put out wondering from whence their funds for the fight would come from, as the organization has little mozuka and few prospects of getting it. So far as we learned, not a word was said about the Truman grab of Texas tidelands that belong to Texas school children. Yep, they were as silent as the grave on that subject.

While we of the rural sections of Texas have not had the bother of what is being taught our children, even in the public schools, it has become a real headache to some of the cities of the nation. Parents out at Pasadena, Calif., to mention one place, have found to their dismay that their eighth grade Johnny and Mary are being taught a lot of foreign stuff that does not belong in America. Their children come home from high school or college with the idea deep seated that their father is a wicked capitalist and profiteer. On the other hand, they are unable to read as well as they should, and their spelling is punk. The parents out in the California city were horrified to learn that the new ideas their children had picked up was a two-headed serpent, one head representing socialism, and the other known among the doctors of this, that and the other, as "progressive education." Much of this new idea seems to have been traced back to Teacher's College of Columbia university a quarter century ago, when an organization of teachers decided to plan their campaign for "planned economy" with new educational cult. Their idea was to instill in the minds of teachers over the nation that competition had no place in the schools, and the idea of rewarding hard work for grades is antiquated and that no distinction is to be made between the diligent and the loafers. And these that is just a wee bit right of pink, "new idea" folks met with much success in many places, with their automatic promotion, filling the upper classes with ignoramuses, making effective teaching impossible. Maybe that is where we get so much of the idea out of our own state university about "academic freedom." Fortunately for Texas and its young students, the AF propagandists were kinder set down on by the new U. of T. board, and we hear less and less of it, except a piece in Daily Texan occasionally. Also, luckily, the new idea does not seem to have registered with most of our state and private colleges.

Couple Exchange Vows In Abilene

Miss Dixie Earlene Brown and Richard Leon Lepard exchanged marriage vows at four o'clock Friday afternoon, October 5, at the 14th and Vine Street Church of Christ in Abilene.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Brown, route 2, Brownfield, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Lepard, 1104 east 13th street, Big Spring.

Dr. Orval Filbeck of Abilene officiated at the double ring ceremony, read before the altar, flanked with candelabra. Two baskets of pink gladioli and orchid chrysanthemums and greenery were on each side of the altar.

Before the ceremony, ushers lighted candles as John Marlan sang "I Love You Truly." He also sang "Because," and Paul Faulkner gave a reading as "O Promise Me" was sung. The traditional wedding march was offered by a chorus including Blake Sickles, Mary Blake, Bob Hunter, Carl Breckeen, Anita Wood, June Wright, Peggy Black and Phil Phillips.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lilac pink crepe street-length dress with a matching bolero. Trim on the bodice of the dress was off-orchid velvet and rhinestones, and her accessories were navy. She carried a white Bible, topped with a white orchid. For the traditional borrowed and blue she wore a blue garter belonging to Mrs. J. E. Eakin. Something old was a locket given the bride on her sixth birthday by her parents. She wore a good luck coin in a shoe.

Miss Beverly Brown of Brownfield, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a two-piece velvet orchid dress with matching hat trimmed in rhinestones, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and an orchid, tied with orchid ribbon.

Don Chisam of Abilene served as best man. Ushers were Sam Volpe and Buddy Garner, both of Abilene.

After the wedding the bride's parents entertained with a reception at McKinzie Parlor on the campus of Abilene Christian College. Baskets of gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the entertaining room, and a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom was served with punch from a table centered with the maid of honor's bouquet. Refreshments were served by Miss Peggy Black, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Von Clayton, a classmate.

Wedding selections were played during the reception by Miss June Wright, pianist.

Among the guests were Neal Jennings of Lubbock, and Mrs. R. H. Miller and Frances Crews of Big Spring.

For a wedding trip the couple went to Balmorhea and Carlsbad, N. M. The groom was inducted into the armed forces on Oct. 9.

Mrs. Lepard is a sophomore in Abilene Christian College, and was graduated from the Brownfield high school. In college she is a member of the Kitten Klub.

The groom is a graduate of the Big Spring high school, and was a senior in Abilene Christian College where he was a member of the Private Sodalis, social club, and C Club, and a three year letterman on the ACC track team.

Dental Health Program Presented To Randal Parent-Teachers Meeting

Dr. W. A. Roberson, chairman of the South Plains Dental society, spoke on "Dental Health" at the regular meeting of the Jesse G. Randal Parent-Teachers association at 3:30 p. m., last Thursday, October 11.

Mrs. Jess McWhirter, president, presided at the meeting held in the Randal school cafeteria. Mrs. James Fitzgerald led the group in prayer, before Mrs. J. O. Burnett, program chairman, introduced Dr. Roberson.

Stressing the importance of having children from two to five years of age drink water with approximately .5 flourine content, Dr. Roberson listed the primary causes of cavities in children's teeth:

(1) Too many sweets (2) improper diet and (3) eating at the wrong time. Suggested remedies for preventing such cavities were listed as: (1) cut down on sugar (2) have a better diet and (3) clean teeth properly, especially after eating sweets late in the evening.

Dr. Roberson then introduced Dr. J. N. Reynolds, orthodontist from Lubbock, who spoke of having children's teeth straightened if necessary when they are eight-and-a-half or nine years of age. He explained that a child's mouth pattern or shape is largely due to heredity, but when there are abnormalities due to injury or loss of teeth, a parent should consult a dentist while the child's teeth are still in the forming or maturing stage.

Following the lectures, group discussion and a question and answer period were directed with Drs. Roberson and Reynolds answering the questions.

At the end of the program, a sing-song was led by Mrs. Wayne C. Hill, with Miss Edith Creighton at the piano.

Mrs. Frank P. Miller's room had the most parents present and received the room prize for the day.

Date for the annual Halloween carnival had previously been set for next Friday night, October 26. Games and stunts will feature the evening entertainment, and supper will be served in the cafeteria about 6:30 p. m. The public is invited to attend the carnival.

Members present received the PTA yearbooks at the close of the meeting.

Child Discovers Things For Self

Prepared by Texas Medical Association

When you order something from a mail order house, it frequently arrives unassembled and you have to put it together the way it's supposed to be. Let's consider the "pieces" that you have to make mental health with and see how they can be put together.

To get way back to the beginning, you have an egg containing 24 tiny strings of beads, each string known as a gene, surrounded by food material. Then there is a sperm, also containing 24 tiny strings of beads.

When the sperm and the egg meet, each of those genes pair off, making 24 pairs of genes. For the sake of clarity, you can imagine that each pair becomes entwined so that they still look like only 24 tiny strings, tied together at one end.

Now that's what you have to work with to start on mental and physical health. Everyone is supposed to have those 24 pairs of genes, the gift of ancestors going back we know not how far.

For about nine months those genes develop under the mother's power, with the air she breathes and the food she eats creating physical characteristics of the body.

You can imagine that the womb is like a frame that permits those genes to grow only so far in each direction, sort of a mold to form the shape of the child.

Then comes birth and the child, the molded strings of genes, starts up his own power plant by breathing, drinking and eating.

Suppose some of those genes were reserved strictly for mental activity. They haven't started swinging in a very wide circle yet, but don't forget that all those genes, both mental and physical, have a common beginning; they were all tied at one end when they started out.

So the motion of those physical genes reacts upon the knot which ties them to the mental genes. These mental genes or spokes start swinging out, too, more or less following the pattern set by the physical spokes. If a physical spoke (you can imagine that is a nerve or a muscle) comes in contact with something pleasant, then the mental spoke "registers" that the physical spoke records that as something to be avoided.

As time goes by, those mental spokes have a recording of many goods and bads, all things that affect the child. But somewhere along the way the child discovers that the things he does also affect other people. So he starts becoming aware of another "wheel" made up of other people who affect him and whom he affects.

So while his physical development goes on, he mentally pictures a new world, a world of other people who have feeling an actions like himself. Then one day the child runs smack dab into the table. He treats it as if it were another person but gets no reaction. A few instances like that and the child decides his world is made up not only of himself and other people, but "things" as well, all of which affect him.

At that point he's all "assembled." But since he has moving parts he also has to "work." The key to his proper action is a kindly guidance that not only shows him how to attain those things that are "good" but also how to avoid those things that are "bad."

Ex-Co. Judge Leads Fight on Amendment

Jim Cantrell

Just why the legislature let a joker enter into the Constitutional Amendment concerning old age pensions is anyone's guess.

There are a lot of people who believe that if some of those who really do not need help were eliminated, there would be plenty funds as is, for the ACTUAL need.

So, the amendment as submitted to voters to be voted on November 13, lets all bars down. The way it is written, the amendment does not confine funds to Texans with long residence here, but any citizen 65 from any state, could move over in Texas and begin to draw a pension.

So, Judge Jim Cantrell, of Brantley, Collin County, and a former judge of that county, has taken it upon himself to lead a fight to kill the amendment, which you will find to be the last one on the ballot handed you when you go to the polls.

And should the amendment carry, the legislature would then meet and perhaps issue bonds in great sums, put on a sales and other taxes, and to quote Judge Cantrell, "hurt rather than help those in need." Better kill that amendment.

Gasoline Plant to Extract Sulphur

FORT WORTH.—A sulphur recovery unit will be constructed in the Slaughter gasoline plant located near Sundown, Texas, it was announced by John R. Evans, manager of Stanolind Oil and Gas Company's North Texas-New Mexico division.

At the present time, the Slaughter plant can process 90 million cubic feet per day of casinghead gas, which is produced with oil from wells in the Slaughter field.

When the gas enter the plant from the Slaughter field, it is "sour," containing up to one and one-half per cent of hydrogen sulfide and up to seven and a half per cent of carbon dioxide.

Owners of the plant, in addition to Stanolind, are: The Texas Company, Honolulu Oil Corporation, Stanolind Oil Company, and Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation.

WTCC Service Man Visits In City

Wayne Smith, local Chamber of Commerce manager, and Ralph Duncan, manager of Community Service department, visited Brownfield members of West Texas Chamber of Commerce last Friday.

In addition, all of the more than 5,000 members of the organization have been invited to one or more of the eleven meetings held throughout the 132 county area for the purpose of explaining the work program of the WTCC, Smith said.

"This is in line with the policy adopted when the West Texas Chamber was reorganized last winter," said Smith, and "Fred H. Husbands, executive vice president and general manager, and his assistants, are carrying out the policy of the board of directors, which emphasized in its annual convention last fall that the regional chamber should create and maintain close relationship both with individual members and with local chambers of commerce."

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. I just was discharged from the Army for a serious wound I suffered in Korea. The Army told me I could get either of two types of life insurance from VA. What are they and where do I apply for them?

A. The two types are: (1) a five-year term policy that is not convertible to permanent insurance and that does not pay dividends, or (2) any plan, permanent or term, of the special NSLI authorized for recently disable veterans.

Q. I am a World War II veteran and I used my $4,000 GI home loan guaranty over three years ago. Now I understand that a new law gives me an additional $3,500 GI guaranty. Is that right?

A. Yes. The new defense housing act of 1951 permits World War II veterans to get the difference between the amount of the loan guaranty they used up before April 20, 1950, and $7,500, but only for home loans.

Q. Will the Veterans Administration find me a job? I am a World War II veteran.

A.—The VA has no job-finding functions, under laws established by Congress. The place to go is your local state employment office.

Q.—My daughter will be 18 next July—during the summer vacation between school terms. She is receiving death pension payments because of the death of my husband, a World War I veteran. Will VA stop the payments between the time of her 18th birthday and the time she starts school in the Fall?

A.—No. So long as your daughter enters school at the end of the vacation period, the payments may with VA approval, be continued during the summer after her 18th birthday—even though she is not actually in school during that time.

Q.—I have just finished Public Law 16 training, and I expect to continue drawing subsistence checks for the two months following my rehabilitation. If I reenter military service, will the checks still keep coming to me?

A.—No. You are not entitled to receive subsistence allowance if you are getting active service pay.

Q.—Does time spent in the WAAC during World War II count toward building up entitlement for GI Bill training?

A.—No. However, time spent in the WAC, after it became a component of the Army in 1943, does count.

Q.—I received a National Service Life Insurance dividend check from VA, and I'm sure VA made a mistake. How can I get things straightened out?

A. Write to the VA district office that handles your NSLI account, giving complete information so that the office can identify your case. The address is the same that appears on the printed envelope that VA sends you for premium payments. Do not write the VA Central Office in Washington.

Guaranty they used up before April 20, 1950, and $7,500, but only for home loans.

Q. Is it possible to get a GI loan that is repayable in up to 30 years?

A. In some cases, VA may authorize maturities up to 30 years where the veteran can not otherwise meet the required monthly payments under a shorter maturity. Otherwise, the term for repayment on loans of $12,000 or less is a maximum of 25 years.

Former Luftwaffe Trainee "Greeted"

Waukegan, Ill.—(AP)—Pvt. Karl Stanke, former member of the German Luftwaffe, is viewing army life again—from behind a U. S. Army uniform. He was drafted.

Stanke, 20, trained as a glider pilot in Breslau at 14. On April 23, 1945, he went AWOL from the German army near the French border. He stayed with a German farmer near Baden. In 1950 an aunt, Florence Schmidt of Racine, Wis., sent necessary papers to have her nephew brought to the United States.

Q. I am a patient in a VA hospital, and my doctor told me I am to be transferred to another hospital for specialized treatment. Who pays for the move?

A. The VA. Transportation between VA hospitals may be furnished at Government expense, if the transfer is deemed necessary by VA doctors in charge of the case.

Q. Can a veteran enter into business with a non-veteran, and get a GI business loan?

A. Yes, provided the interest of the veteran is properly protected. The VA guarantee, however, will be limited to the veteran's portion of the business.

Q. I've been on active duty in the Army for the past 20 years, and I am to be discharged. Will I be eligible for GI Bill training or has the July 25 cut-off date killed off my chances?

A. You will be eligible for training, provided you are discharged under other than dishonorable conditions. The July 25 cut-off date, for the most part, affected veterans discharged before July 25, 1947. Those discharged afterwards (such as yourself), have four years from discharge date in which to begin, and until July 25, 1956, in which to wind up training, depending on entitlement.

Ever stop to think Your First Car can be a Buick!

THIS being a land where it is every man's right to dream of getting ahead—and the pursuit of happiness is guaranteed by the Constitution—it happens that a great many people aspire to own a Buick.

Its price tag says so. Its low cost of operation says so too. We know that it looks like a lot of money. That's what makes it such a buy.

high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball Engine. Try out its ride and handling—and you'll discover it has the "big-car feel" that you'd expect from a Buick.

But too often they start with a lesser car first—from a feeling that Buicks are something you have to build up to gradually, as your take-home pay improves.

We know that it has a long list of features found in costlier cars, and that it rides and handles like cars that sell for a great deal more.

Try it out for size—for room—for comfort—for all the things that you've dreamed someday of having in a car—and you'll thank your stars that you found out the facts of life in time.

So—if you have any such notion—we'd like to set you straight, right here and now.

But that simply means that—at its price—you're getting a very big money's worth.

Plus: Self-locking luggage lid, Step-On parking brake, two-way ignition lock, Safety-Ride rims, Hi-Poised engine mounting, Body by Fisher

You don't have to hope and dream and wait. If you can afford a new car—the first car you buy can be the Buick SPECIAL pictured here.

All of which adds up to one conclusion: the smart thing to do is come in and give this neat and nimble new SPECIAL a thorough going-over.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS! DYNAFLOW DRIVE—saves strain on driver and car. FIREBALL ENGINE—high-compression, valve-in-head—gets more miles from every tank of fuel. PUSH-BAR FORE RONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection. WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS—greater clarity at night. TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE—seals the chassis, steadies ride, improves driving control. 4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING—cushions ride, saves servicing costs. DUAL VENTILATION—outside air fed separately to right or left of front compartment. SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal pressure five times at brake drum. DREAMLINE STYLING—tapered, car-length fenders, gleaming sweeps appears on most models. Mrs. Williams Visits Old Home Area

Had the pleasure of a call from a real old time this week in the person of Mrs. C. L. (Minnie) Williams, wife of the late Cleve L. Williams, early day hardware-furniture dealer here. She is also the eldest daughter of the pioneer family of Uncle Joe Bryant and wife, who settled in the Groves, now Union community, about the time the county was organized.

Visits Old Antioch

Minnie came in to renew, and to keep the trouble of renewing to a minimum, she paid up for 3 years at our special rate of $5. She told us of a trip she and others made back to where she first attended school, at old Antioch, north of Grandview, Texas, four miles. Our brother, J. T. Stricklin, was the teacher, she related, and he taught her the A, B, C's. But, Minnie stated that she just couldn't find anything.

We asked if she found our brother, Meeks Stricklin. She did not, but found a Fowler and a Nelson, the latter a cousin. If she had found Will Benton, he could have answered every question and pointed out every spot she wished to find. He knows the names and when they were born, when they died and were buried, of more people than any person we ever knew.

We believe that the late Uncle Joe Bryant and family left the old Antioch community in Johnson county the late fall of the year we came to Texas, 1800, for the Snyder section. They lived there a few years and come on out to Terry county, settling in the Groves Chapel community, now Union.

HOUSE OF THE WEEK

In this space, you'll find "The House of the Week" with full descriptions. This series is made possible by area firms listed here . . . See them to help you with your Home Furnishing Problems.

AN EXPANDABLE HOUSE

If your present home is so crowded that members of the family are "hanging from the rafters," you should be mighty interested in this expandable house.

There are three bedrooms and a bath downstairs, and a bath and two bedrooms upstairs. If you build the house to meet a future rather than a current need, you can leave the upstairs unfinished and complete it at a very low cost whenever you desire.

The arrangement of the house is unusually convenient. You can go from one room to another without disturbing people in other sections of the house. For example, a person coming in the back entrance can go directly upstairs or to the downstairs bedrooms.

Space for a washing machine, freezer, and lavatory are provided on the utility porch. Also, there is a large closet; and just off this porch is a closet ideal for storage of wraps and out-of-season clothing. The house has three linen closets and a broom closet. Each bedroom has ample closet space.

Though the living and dining rooms take up a minimum of space, there's a feeling of spaciousness because of so much wall area.

The kitchen is made to order for a walk-weary housewife. None of the various units are more than 7 feet apart and there is lots of storage and counter space. Traffic through the kitchen will not disturb anyone, as it is routed across only one corner of the room.

Many summer afternoons and evenings can be pleasantly spent on the sizeable side porch.

You can obtain blueprints for this TERRY COUNTY HERALD-FARM & RANCH Plan No. 5022 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1.00 to Building Editor, Farm & Ranch-Southern Agriculturist, Dept. L-193, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number—Plan No. 5022. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

Be Imaginative With Salads

COLLEGE STATION.—Home-makers who have an urge to try out their creative ability can do it right in their own kitchen. Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says to "just let the 'artist' in you go to work" when it's time to make a salad.

The first rule in making an attractive salad, the specialist says, is to keep it simple. Second, fit it to the rest of the meal. Foods used in the rest of the menu should not be used in the salad. Colors and flavors should be in harmony and the salad as a whole should provide foods that are needed in the meal.

A third rule is to keep foods for cold salads cold, and those for hot salads, hot. Fourth, select a dressing that suits the salad. Fifth, make the salad attractive. Miss Reasonover points out that the food used should be cut into pieces large enough that the food can be identified and small enough to handle with ease.

Other things to remember include keeping fruits fresh and bright in color and see that all foods used in a salad are well drained. Fix salads at the last possible moment, the specialist advises, and toss lightly. Do not over-mix. Select the serving dish for the salad with care. It should be large enough and of the right shape to "set off" the salad, Miss Reasonover adds.

Produce More Silage in 1952

COLLEGE STATION, October 19.—An estimated 15 tons of silage per acre were produced with the Honey Drip variety of sorghum on the William McKelvey farm in Gregg county, according to County Agent Orber D. Taylor.

McKelvey applied 200 pounds 12-24-12 fertilizer before planting the sorghum and side dressed with 50 pounds of ammonium nitrate per acre.

It is not too early for dairymen to make plans for putting up silage next year, says R. E. Burleson, Extension Dairy Husbandman of Texas A. and M. College.

Burleson estimates that the digestible nutrients in McKelvey's silage cost about $1.40 cents per hundred. Digestible nutrients from a concentrate food cost at least $5.40 per hundred.

Texas dairymen should feed more high quality roughage to cut their feed costs and produce milk more economically, adds Burleson.

Better Baking By Panhandle 4-H Girls

COLLEGE STATION.—Four-H Club girls living in the Panhandle, a wheat growing area, are learning to do better home baking. Doris Leggett, Extension district home agent headquartered at Amarillo, says that a study of the use of wheat in the family diet has been going on for two years.

Last year, while combining cereal products with work simplification, the 4-H'ers learned to use the "master mix," a combination of dry ingredients properly proportioned and mixed ahead of time to add to various recipes. They found the "master mix" a time saver and an easy way to have muffins and biscuits for family meals.

Yeast breads are being emphasized this year. Homemade whole wheat cinnamon sweet rolls will be made by the 4-H girls and quick frozen to preserve them for the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo this fall. Rural Youth Day at the fair will feature the Better Baking Show with high score girls from the various counties competing.

Royalty will reign at the bread show, too, with a district bread making winner crowned "Baking Queen" along with a "Wheat King," a 4-H boy winner of the wheat improvement contest.

Get Two At The Same Time

COLLEGE STATION.—The hornfly population of the state has reached the danger point. That's the word from James A. Deer, associate Extension entomologist of Texas A. and M. College. He reports the weather of the past few weeks—repeated showers with warm temperatures and above average humidity—has been responsible for the hornfly population increase.

Deer says cattle owners should immediately take the necessary steps to rid their herds of these pests. Here's why: a heavy infestation will cause cattle to go into the winter in a weakened condition and if they become heavily infested with lice during the winter, there'll be more trouble. Hornflies and lice are both blood suckers and the result will be anemic cattle.

According to Deer, cattle treated now for hornflies may also be treated for lice. This combination treatment will save time and labor and is insurance against cattle going into the winter in a weak condition. For the combination treatment, Deer recommends that livestock producers spray their Control of diseases by seed treatment gives extra plants and healthier plants.

FOR A BETTER CROP

Control of seed-borne stinking smut or bunt, scab seedling blight, seed decay and root rot can make a lot of difference in the stand and yield of wheat. In the photograph are shown the plants produced from both untreated seed and seed which was properly treated with seed disinfectant to control these diseases.

The wheat seed in this test showed a laboratory germination of 74%, but when 100 treated seeds and 100 untreated seeds were planted, the treated seed produced 86 plants and the untreated produced 32 plants.

The effectiveness of seed treatment in reducing losses to seed diseases has resulted in differences in yield of several bushels to the acre in some years. That's why the Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Association and state extension services urge farmers to plant only cleaned and treated seed. For information on the locations of cleaning and treating plants, farmers are advised to contact their county agent.

animals with a solution containing four pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder and four pounds of six per cent gamma wettable BHC powder to each 100 gallons of water. Toxaphene may also be used. He recommends using a spray containing only five tenths of one per cent of this material.

Finally, Deer suggests that livestock owners contact their local county agricultural agents if they need more information or help in preparing and using these sprays. The important thing is—get rid of the pests now.

SUPPER GRILL

Have a Canadian-style bacon grill ready for lunch or dinner in close to 15 minutes' time. Place 1/2-inch slices of the bacon and firm peach halves on your broiler rack. Sprinkle peaches with sugar and curry powder, then dot with butter or margarine. Place broiler pan in broiler so that the meat is 2 to 3 inches from the heat. After 5 or 6 minutes, turn the bacon and brown on the second side and serve right away.

Dr. Ernest Wallace Guest Speaker M&M

The Maids and Matrons club was hostess to the Federated clubs, The Altruist, Delphians, Alpha Omega and Music club, Tuesday afternoon, when they featured Dr. Ernest Wallace of Tech College as guest speaker, his subject: "The Local Indian."

Dr. Wallace has spent several years in the study of the Comanche and Apache Indians, their relation to Texas and especially to west Texas, having spent several months with the Comanches in Oklahoma and New Mexico, gathering data from them and their college libraries and Indian Affairs department. Also data from the archives of Indian Affairs in Washington, where he had access to all documents that have been filed by Indian agents about massacres and raids since we have had an Interior Department.

At the business meeting following the program, Mrs. E. B. McBurnett Jr. was elected to membership.

Mrs. Ernest Latham and Mrs. Arthur Sawyer were co-hostess and were assisted by Mrs. W. A. Bell, who served sandwiches and coffee from a white linen laid table centered with large red dahlies. Some fifty guests were served.
