Football Boys and Parents Are Honored By Business Men At Banquet Here

Approximately 150 persons attended a banquet Tuesday night at the Esquire, honoring 32 players on the Cub football team and their parents. The affair was sponsored by the Quarterback Club and other business men, who paid tribute to the Cubs for winning their games during the season, with the exception of the last one, with Littlefield.

James Harley Dallas was master of ceremonies, and the invocation was given by Byron Rucker, principal of the high school. Large white mums, miniature goal posts and footballs attractively decorated the banquet table.

Kenneth Purtell, president of the Quarterback Club, welcomed the group, before instrumental music was played by the "Hungry Five," musicians directed by Mack Hord. Ronnie Daniel and Jimmy Walker played clarinets, Billy Derrington played the bass horn, Gloria Rollings, cornet, and Tommy Hord, saxophone.

Supt. O. R. Douglas and Mr. Rucker praised the activities of the players, before a duet, "Sweet Genevieve" was sung by Dale Travis and Lanny Webb. Coach Toby Greer expressed his appreciation to the boys' parents, the boys and the Brownfield business men and other supporters who "stood by" the team through the season. Mr. Greer in turn introduced his assistants, L. G. Wilson, Farris Nowell, Delvin Webb, James R. Burnett, Billy J. Randells, and Bert Butaud. The Cubs were introduced by Coach Greer, and each boy introduced his parents. Humorous awards of comic books and hadacol were presented several outstanding players by Master of Ceremonies Mr. Dallas. Guest speaker for the evening was Wyatt Posey, head line coach at Texas Tech, who discussed activities of the Red Raiders, then stressed the importance of "knowledge with sports," encouraging the football players to make good grades, and "stick to school" on through college.

Climaxing the program was a colored film, showing the game recently played by the Red Raiders and Tulsa.

Rummage Sales Not Setting Well

Mostly rumor with us, but we have heard in a roundabout way this week that the multitudinous rummage sales that have been going on here Saturday since the cotton harvest started, is not setting too well with the business men. And to be perfectly frank, we can see the matter from their viewpoint.

They pay all kinds of taxes to keep our city, county, state and federal governments going; donate to the churches and charity, and keep a personnel all the year to wait on their customers. Then comes fall, and the courtyard and adjoining space is filled with rummage sales.

One person who made a count, informed us that one Saturday recently there were sixteen different rummage sales going on inside the courtyard, and several on vacant spaces across the street from the courthouse. The same person stated that at least one of these sales was by a Lubbock business firm, and another was from Seagraves.

Rumor further goes that rummage sales from now on may be confined to the clubs and organizations that give all their intake to charity.

Football All Over But the Shouting

We didn't exactly hear anyone cry last week when it was announced that Kermit had beat the whey out of the Littlefield Wildcats. True they took the Cubs for their first loss of the season, 20 to 13. But the Wildcats had been beat twice before that time, a non-conference tilt with Seminole, and in conference play by Levelland. The Cubs defeated both Seminole and Levelland.

For the full season, however, Brownfield showed a better record in points. But what most of the lay footballers can't savvy is that Lovington, N. M., tied the Cubs in their first game, and if Lovington has done any sensational playing since that time, we have not heard of it. But they tied the Cubs in the first game of the season. So, with a three-way tie, Brownfield, Littlefield and Levelland, Littlefield pulled the long straw. Our bunch can play ball, but are poor at gambling.

Then there is that game between traditional rivals, Tech College and Hardin-Simmons U., Saturday. And by the way, our home boy, Jerrell Price may play his last game of college football that day, unless Tech wins, and is invited to play in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, New Years day. Jerrell has been one of the Tech stars since he entered college, and he was one of the mainstays with the Cubs while playing in high school.

His mother and dad now live at Lovington, N. M., but Jerrell still refers to Brownfield as his home. Rah! for Jerrell.

Many happy returns of the day.

In his new unit Sgt. Johnson will serve in the Headquarters supply section. Before coming to the Far East he was assigned with the 10th infantry division at Fort Riley, Kans.

Sgt. Johnson's wife, Mrs. Rita Fay Johnson, is a resident of Brownfield.

FREEZE CUTS TERRY CO. COTTON TO 63,000 BALES

County Agent Jim Foy stated to a Herald reporter this week, that the freeze hurt the cotton crop worse than was first expected. That instead of some 10,000 bales being cut from the crop once estimated around 85,000 bales, he believes that at least 20,000 has been cut by the freeze.

Ginners Estimate Cotton

He stated that the ginners of the county had placed the gin-nings at 62,993 bales. This of course does not include the number of bales ginned at some 13 or 14 county line gins, just over in Gaines, Dawson, Lynn and Hockley counties, that would possibly run from 10,000 to 15,000 bales. A total of 38,005 bales had been ginned up to this week.

To show the effect it had on many farms, one farmer has stated that it would knock at least 25 bales from his crop. Mr. Foy also stated that many of the Texas Latin were returning home, but that most of the "wet backs" from Old Mexico were still here, as they are under contract. Foy, however, believes that most of the rest of the crop will be gathered with mechanical pickers.

However, with the high price of cotton and cottonseed, if evenly distributed, would put a lot of money to the account of each Terry county farm. But as all know, there were some sections, particularly the south, southeast that the drought blighted heavily, and some fields will make practically no cotton.

Goodpasture Reports on Grain
Grady Goodpasture of the Goodpasture G. & M. Company gave us the lowdown of the grain crop. Grady stated that we only had some 65,000 acres in sorghum grains this year, but that the same amount of grain this year brought some $450,000 more than last year. Difference: it was about an average of $1.60 per cwt. last year and $2.40 this year.

Grady stated that the acreage yield this year was somewhat greater than last year, but in some sections of the county, the yield was light. It is practically all in, he said. He also stated that he was storing a lot of grain from the north, particularly the Tulsa and Sudan areas.

Terry county shipped 2400 cars of grain last year, against 600 this year. The acreage was cut to plant more cotton at government request.

In conclusion, Grady believes that in the final windup this year, that old Terry farmers will be better off than they were from the 1950 crop.

Harve, Mrs. Harris Do Some Visiting

Harve Harris called at the Herald office Monday afternoon. He and Mrs. Harris were on their way home at Tatum, N. M., after spending the Thanksgiving holiday with their son and family at Amarillo. Harve stated that they had a nice visit and a lot to eat.

During the time they were away, they made a trip to Oklahoma City, to try and find an old aunt he had never seen, as Harve's parents moved to Crosby county or other sections of the west before he was born, while his aunt remained in the east. With the help of the police department in Oklahoma City, he finally located his aunt, and they had a nice visit.

Harve stated that he was uncertain how she spelled her name, "Weatherby," and found there were several different spellings of the name in that city of some 250,000. When he left home the Latin were busy gathering a fair cotton crop on some 500 acres on his ranch just over in New Mexico.

Terry County Bond Sales Are Low

Terry County's sales totaled $3,806.25 during the first U. S. Defense Bond drive, Nathan Adams of Dallas, state chairman, informed J. O. Gillham, local county chairman. The drive was held from Sept. 3 through Nov. 13.

Sales of $27,778,453.25 in Texas during the drive were almost 50 per cent more than normal, Mr. Adams said.

"Normally sales for this period would have been about $18,000,000 or $19,000,000," he said, "and the fact that sales were so much higher is definite proof that the people of Texas are responding, as they always do, to the country's need in national emergencies."

The sales total for the state included $22,459,665.25 in Series E bonds and $5,318,788 in Series F and G. There were no state or county quotas, the goal being the "largest possible" volume of sales. Mr. Adams expressed appreciation to the thousands of citizens who served as volunteers in the drive, but urged that the continue their efforts.

"The need for buying Defense Bonds still exists," he said. "With our country engaged in a gigantic preparedness program these bonds form an important economic link in our defense."

SCHOOL CHRISTMAS HOLIDAY ANNOUNCED

Supt. O. R. Douglas announced Wednesday that the holiday for the Brownfield schools for Christmas will begin at 2 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 21. Classes will be resumed on January 2, 1952.

Takes Off For Mineral Wells

Most people out in this area in particular, if bothered with unorthodox blood pressure, have it running too high—too much pressure. But there are some including our Mrs. whose blood pressure is always low. Sometimes much too low. G. M. (Mack) Thomas is one of them. His blood pressure sometimes gets below the 100 mark—should be about 140.

When this happens, Mack says he feels worse than a stuffed toad, and don't care much whether he lives or dies. When this happens, he usually takes off to Mineral Wells for some kind of treatment—baths, rubdowns or both, he says. He left Saturday, and in two or three weeks will come back home feeling pretty good, or always has up to now.

Child Falls From Auto Tuesday

Elaine Anderson, two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson of Levelland, is receiving treatment in the local hospital for injuries sustained when she fell from an automobile, driven by her mother, about halfway between Brownfield and Sundown, Tuesday at noon.

Speed of the car was about 50 miles per hour, when the child opened one of the doors, and fell to the bar-ditch. Her baby brother, one-year old, was in the back seat. Accompanying Mrs. Anderson and children were Mrs. C. H. Shew and son Kenneth of Sundown.

The child is reported to be badly bruised and suffered severe lacerations on her head.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Trammell and sons of Abilene visited Thanksgiving Day in the home of her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Purtell, 211 east Tete street. Mr. and Mrs. Les Newberry visited in the Pur-tell home in the afternoon.

LOCAL MERCHANTS PLAN FOR THE CHRISTMAS RUSH

Last week the Thanksgiving season was cleared for 1951, and immediately the Christmas season entered. Of course a few chose to still regard the last Thursday in November as the official Thanksgiving date, especially some

Stamps Quartet to Sing Here Tonight

"Pop" Echols and members of the Stamps Quartet of Lubbock will present a program tonight at 8 o'clock at the Foursquare Gospel Church, 605 Lubbock road, according to Jack R. Watkins, minister.

A small admission fee will be charged, and the public is invited to attend. An hour and a half program of gospel singing will be presented, Bro. Watkins said, and residents of the entire area who enjoy hearing the Stamps Quartet sing over the radio, will no doubt enjoy seeing them in person.

Out Early Last Week Fouled Things

Week before last the paper came out, the management and personnel decided to get the paper in the mails by Wednesday morning, and take off for Thanksgiving holidays the rest of the week. But this was unbeknownst to our community correspondents, and for that reason some of their letters did not appear last week.

We are hoping that it did not disarrange them too much. In fact we are marking some of the letters (delayed) and producing them this week, as there was some news matter in them that still holds good. Also this week's letters will also be published. It would have been better if we had known in time to notify the correspondents that we were coming out with the paper early. Just one of those things that sometimes can't be avoided.

TAFT, BYRD TO ADDRESS MEDICS

Dr. A. H. Daniells handed in an item this week anent the meeting of the House of Delegates of the AMA to be held at Los Angeles, December 5. Among the prominent speakers will be U. S. Senators Robert A. Taft of Ohio, and Harry F. Byrd of Virginia.

This paper has an idea that the medics will turn both speakers loose to say what the wish about the "socialized medicine" issue, or any other of the Queer Deal socialized issues.

Both men represent the conservative idea of both major parties on the new European ideas as promulgated by the administration.

Sheriff's Posse to Elect Officers December 3

Members of the Terry County Sheriff's Posse are urged to attend the regular meeting next Monday night, when the group will meet at the Esquire for supper.

Annual election of officers will be at this meeting.

Baptist Pastor Arrives Thursday

Rev. and Mrs. Jones Weathers and daughter arrived in Brownfield Thursday, and he addressed a regular meeting of the Brotherhood at the First Baptist Church Thursday night.

Rev. Weathers is the new pastor at the First Baptist Church, and will fill the pulpit Sunday morning.

A goal of 600 for Sunday School has been set for Sunday morning.

of the football teams, but they are in the minority, as it throws the date too close to Christmas. This year happens to have five Thursdays, and the last one is the 29th, just 26 days ahead of Christmas.

Back during Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration, we believe there were two dates observed. He proclaimed an early date as some of the big shops in the larger cities wanted a greater spread between the holidays. But some chose another and later Thursday, as their Thanksgiving Day, and called one proclaimed by FDR "Franksgiving." Anyway, we believe that congress and most state legislatures have cleared up the matter by making the 4th Thursday in November as the official Thanksgiving day, the last one set by UT-A&M notwithstanding.

Stocking Their Shelves and Counters

But what we started out to say is that the Brownfield merchants are starting out to have the best display of holiday goods ever viewed here. They have already begun the task of making their window displays, and soon the streets will be lighted with the Christmas holiday fixtures. While there is still a "police action" war going on in Korea, it is hoped now that even that may cease by the holiday, and once again "peace and good will to all men" will reign on earth again.

And right now is a good time to begin the task of persuading the people to shop early. Try to figure as far in advance as possible what to buy for grandpa and grandma, and lay it away. Also uncle Heck and aunt Lil, as well as the members of the immediate family. Either buy them outright and carry them home to conceal in the closet, or follow out the lay-away plan of many of the merchants.

But remember there is only 24 more days till Christmas. DO YOUR SHOPPING EARLY.

LUKEMIA VICTIM—Linda Jean Weicher, three-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Welcher, died Wednesday, Nov. 21, in Baylor Hospital, Dallas, after being ill with leukemia since last February. Funeral services were held last Friday at 2 p. m. in the high school gym at Wellman, with Rev. M. J. Morton, Methodist pastor, officiating. Interment was in the Terry County Memorial cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Welcher, who reside at the carbon plant north of Seagraves, have another daughter, two-year-old Deanie Sherrill. They have been residents of Terry county all of their lives. Linda's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Welcher of Brownfield, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Pauline Stell lives in Atlanta, Ga. Her great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bass, and Mrs. Molly E. Welcher, all reside in Brownfield.

HELEN PHELPS

The program, to be headlined by Helen Phelps, blind singer, violinist and pianist, will consist of hill billy and western music played and sung by members of the troupe.

About Mailing Your Christmas Packages

The arrival of Christmas cards and gift packages at the Brownfield post office indicates that the Yuletide season has really gotten underway.

"First class friends deserve first class mail" is a good motto to adopt in deciding whether to use the usual 2 cent rate on unsealed Christmas cards or the 3 cent letter rate. Here are some advantages of sending your Christmas cards first-class:

- Your cards may carry a written message.
- They are dispatched and delivered first.
- If necessary, they are forwarded to new addresses without additional postage being paid.
- If undeliverable, they are returned if the sender's address is on the envelope.

And buy those stamps now—while the lines at the windows are still short.

Take extra care in the packing, reciting and addressing of parcels, bearing in mind the disappointment instead of joy, your parcels will bring if you've been careless and gifts are damaged. Avoid the use of paper-wrapped bundles as much as possible; use strong cardboard boxes instead. And when paper is used, use only the heavy brown paper that holds together under shipping pressure and constant handling. Remember that those parcels have to be placed in mail sacks—and those sacks stacked to the top of trucks and railway cars. Think what will happen to those poorly packed or fragile gifts at the bottom! Bear in mind the unavoidable fact that under such conditions that Christmas mail must be transported, often for thousands of miles, handled and rehandled many times, if it can be broken it will be broken! Why not play it safe and do not send those highly fragile gifts!

And of the greatest importance are those addresses. Do not trust your cards and gift parcels with illegible or incomplete addresses.

Elsewhere in this issue of the Herald, you will likely read an article put out by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce on oil production in the 132 counties known as west Texas. Eighty-three of these counties were in production of oil last year, the last year for any statistics, and five produced natural gas and no oil. Of the more than 13,700 (B) barrels of oil produced in Texas in 1950, the 83 counties of west Texas accounted for 5,207 (B) barrels of the total, or almost half. Many of the big producing counties of west Texas did not produce a barrel of oil until the middle thirties, and some of them began production in the 40ties, and a few the past few years. The biggest producer yearly in west Texas is Ector county with more than 50 million barrels in 1950 and a total of over 453 million barrels since the discovery well in 1926. Up in the north Permian, Gaines, Yoakum, Cochran and Hockley lead in production, their oil fields being discovered mostly in the 30ties. The 1950 total and all years is given below, in barrels, the 1950 production first: Gaines 13,

809,000, 107,950,000; Cochran, 7,803,000, 52,415,000; Hockley, 17,362,000, 142,246,000; Yoakum, 16,226,000, 190,595,000. Oil in Terry county was not found until 1940, and then just small field around the line of it and Hockley to the north and Yoakum to the west. As an oil county, no great progress was made until last year, when reef oil was found in three different sections of the county. The production last year was 780,269 barrels, and the total for all time 3,185,000 barrels. Doubtless the 1951 production will run well upwards of one million barrels, probably crowding two million. Brownfield has benefitted for many years from the fields in neighboring counties, particularly Yoakum and Hockley. With the addition of Cochran, Gaines and north Dawson, Brownfield has become quite a distributing point for oil field supplies, as well as headquarters for some of the majors. For that reason, millions of dollars have come here in the form of merchandise purchases, and the huge deposits of our two banks is at least due a lot to the money of oil people.

Many of us whose memory of things decent and in order run back past the half century mark, are led to wonder what will transpire in the next 10 or 20 years, not 50. All who read and listen know what has taken place since World War I, and even more since War II. Way back just before War I, things had reached such a mess in the cities of Dallas and Fort Worth, their spots, Southend Dallas, and Hell's Half Acre in Fort Worth were cleaned up and put out of existence. Such spots were not thought of in most of the cities of west Texas, that had from five thousand on up. People just did not frequent such places. But in later years, a lot of people smilingly assert with a saintly quotation: "Hear no evil; see no evil; think no evil." They are just too complacent to think or do anything for the moral uplift of their community. There is another statement that might be applied to those who are hunting no evil, "you can be so good that you are good for nothing." We that have been in this area for from 40 to 50 years, can hardly realize that right here at us, in the city of Lubbock, that there are spots that have recently been padlocked by police for various and sundry law violation, principally the sale of intoxicants, perhaps. But they had reached the point that like the older and larger cities of Texas, Dallas and Fort Worth to mention two, that they had begun to develop gang wars. One place has already been closed, and others are being closely watched. Then there is the example of Wichita Falls, where ten people recently have been arrested for peddling dope to school students, and they are now under heavy bond, awaiting trials. These peddlers, or at least some of them, posed as students themselves. It is high time that every sizable town and city in Texas and the USA began to take some interest in the affairs of their community. They should go to the polls and elect only the best people of the community, those whose morals are known to be right, to high places in law enforcement departments of their cities and counties. You don't know when such a racket will strike your fair little city, and your own children become drug addicts by sale of habit forming drugs by such peddlers. It is high time to forget that old one, "see no evil, etc."

On account of the constant upping of taxes of all kinds, people just are not in the mood to vote more taxes on themselves. As a consequence, all three of the tax amendments voted on the 13th, were hopelessly defeated. And even the one which was to have permitted the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, to invest the funds of the institution in higher priced bonds, failed to pass. This was for the reason that many people did not trust the regents to invest in private bonds for fear of losses. The old age pension amendment, which would have hiked taxes to some extent might have gotten the nod of the voters, had the wording of it as to conditions for receiving a pension been more clear. But its meaning was doubtful to many, and it was killed. Many people just now are coming to the conclusion that our State Constitution is outmoded. They remember that it was made and adopted late in the 1870ties, when prejudices were still at fever heat over the carpet-bagger rule. Since that time the ancient model has been amended and reamended until it takes a Philadelphia lawyer to make heads and tail of the old dilapidated affair. And there are many provisions that hedge the legislature in passing measure that perhaps would be considered emergency enactments when such are really needed. For instance, let's take the old age pension. There has to be a limit set on the amount of matching money, or the first thing one knew, a bunch of politicians would meet at Austin and provide all a pension from the cradle to the grave. But, an amendment that not even most lawyers can figure just who will be admitted as pensioners, the taxpayers back away. Then the oldsters must wait two long years for another amendment to be submitted, as amendments are not submitted at called sessions. To our notion, what Texas needs is for a constitutional convention to be called of the best legal talent and honest men in the state, to meet, work out a brand new constitution for the state, and eliminate a lot of ancient truck that has been forgotten for generations, together with amendments thereto. But many say what was good enough for grandad is good enough for me. Yet they use tractors and trucks instead of old Pete and Beck. They use radios, fast cars instead of buggies, and the merchants and bankers use cash registers and adding machines instead of pencil and paper. Great goms of misery!

The greatest trouble of allowing government meddling in private affairs instead of free enterprise, is that the appointees are usually men that know no more about the business they are supposed to supervise than a hog knows about a sidesaddle. Some perhaps are honest, in a way, but the appointer is usually under some obligation to the appointee, and in a large measure, qualifications are forgotten. Let's just consider socialized medicine in England, or "free" medicine as it is sometimes termed. Anyway, it is supposed to be much cheaper to the patient or his family than the old style family doctor method. At the outset, its sponsors stated that it would cost England no more than half a billion dollars a year. Moreover, there would be more doctors. To date, the cost has run up to $1,960,000,000 (B) and is still climbing. Some of the best physicians of Britain have quit the profession, as they were assigned so many patients that they were unable to adequately treat them or make a thorough diagnosis. Lay medicine men were in the saddle as the bureaucracy expanded, and the medical profession became politically dominated. The bureaucrats cluttered things up with rules, regulations, questionnaires and certificates to the impotence of physicians and disgust of the patients. To quote a well known English physician, he stated: "I cannot cope with the situation. To make an adequate living, you must have just so many patients that you can look after properly." Yet, the head of our national government and a lot of his stalwarts are advocating the same thing for the United States, after it has been tried and proven a disgusting failure in England. This paper believes that the American people are satisfied with present arrangements. When they want a doctor for their family, they want to be free to say what doctor they want to treat the family ills instead of some strange doctor that the bureaucrats send. Let's keep our America free.

Not changing the subject from the sublime to the ridiculous, or something, did you, dear reader, farmer or otherwise, ever here what is now generally termed

"cotton orphan?" It is the cotton seed, and once upon a time, in the memory of some of us older people, cottonseed were considered a nuisance, especially around a gin. There was no sale for them, and they lay around the gin where they were carted off a short distance to rot and stink. But there was a man that finally came along that had an idea sorter on the style of Eli Whitney, who invented the gin, and made the world want lint cotton to make clothing and other cloth. So, the new man went to work, and we had the cottonoil mill, and the orphan of the cotton field took on respectability. The orphan had a home. There was a great demand for not only the oil that was extracted from the seed, but the meal and hulls made the finest of feed. Soon we had shortening made from the oil that many think is better than hog lard, and finally there was oleomargarine, a fair substitute for butter. Then other men with a scientific and chemical turn took over the products of the orphan, until today there are some 30 bi-products of the lowly orphan of the cottonfield. To name just a few, there are, candy, varnish, inca, lipsticks, soap, putty, washing powders, plastics, carpets, etc. The last issue of Acco Press, house organ of Anderson, Clayton Co., in an article on cotton, stated that the plant has now jumped to southern Illinois. There was several thousand acres planted to cotton this year, and they have three gin plants in that area. This is mostly a wheat and dairying country, but they are using Negro hands for their dairying, and they just could not keep them in that section unless they had a cotton patch. But in order to keep this necessary labor for other matters, the Negro families were allowed to have a small field of cotton, as it was more like Dixie to them with cotton. The section is not unlike the Mississippi-Arkansas delta area, but of course the seasons are a bit shorter.

It gives you a lot to be thankful for

Let's suppose that this is you. The car you're riding in, as you can see, is a Buick. But what you can't see is the satisfaction which being behind that wheel brings to every day in the year. Take the feel of it—the way it goes into action when you nudge the gas treadle. Quick. Eager. Willing. No effort at all. You just swoop up to the miles per hour you want. That's because there's a high-powered, high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball Engine under the hood that makes every drop of gas do extra duty. And it's because there's a Dynaflo Drive,* feeding that power back to the rear wheels as smoothly as cream flows from a pitcher. Take the way it sits the road. Balanced. Poised. Sure-footed. Snug. That's because of a long list of things that Buick engineers have done to its ride—including a torque-tube keel that keeps rear wheels tracking true—and soft coil springs that individually cushion each wheel. Take the way it steers. Easy. Light. Firm. On a straightaway—or coming out of a curve—it seems to know what you want it to do. That's because of something the engineers call "front-end geometry"—and because 60 steel balls roll in their own little race track to ease each turn of the wheel. Take its room, its comfort, its smart good looks—and its price. Any way you size it up, here's a car to make you thankful for your good judgment in picking it, against the field. All that is needed to complete this picture is you at the wheel of a flesh-and-blood Buick—out on the road for a sample of what we've been talking about. That's easy to arrange. Just give us a call, and we'll do the rest. *Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. †Standard on Around The Corner — And Down The Street

By Margaret Bandy Coward

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Copeland are enjoying their stay at Port Isabel where they are deep sea fishing. They've been there before!

Weldon Latham enjoyed a trip with two 17-year-old boys last week. He, with his son, Ray, and Bryce Wagner left after school on Wednesday before Thanksgiving and went over in the vicinity of Carlsbad. N. M., where Ray and Bryce both killed deer. Mr. Latham didn't try very hard to kill one, as he's had a couple of hunting trips already... but he did enjoy seeing the boys shoot them.

Asked Mrs. L. V. Wagner what she did for Thanksgiving... she is probably among the few in town who really enjoyed a good rest... stayed in bed until ten o'clock on Thursday morning... and just "rested" the rest of the day. Mr. Wagner had gone to the valley on business and Bryce was deer hunting!

Mrs. W. H. Dallas, who recently organized a pre-school choir, will present the little girls in a public concert some time "around Christmas." She has 18 girls in the choir, they are not in school, and she has one only three and one-half years old! They are already planning their little formal for the program. Mrs. Dallas will also present several of her piano students at the time of the program.

More than $250 has been sent in for the attractive TB Seals that went into the mails on November 19. The Christmas seals are sent from the Terry County Tuberculosis association, and 82 per cent of the money received from the sale of the seals will be kept in this county for use in treatment for TB patients.

Pretty little "Santa" containers were placed in the stores this week, with the emblem on them, for people to contribute to the TB fund.

You'll no doubt buy Christmas seals anyway why not buy some of the TB Christmas Seals?

Supt. and Mrs. O. R. Douglas had their children and their clothes all packed, ready to leave Wednesday afternoon for Houston to attend the annual Texas State Teachers association, when Mr. Douglas became ill... hence... ham for Thanksgiving... Mr. Douglas recuperated and is back at school!

Mrs. Thelma Heartsill will soon complete seven years as chief "baby sitter" at the Treadaway-Daniell hospital, having looked after the nursery and all of the new babies born there.

She takes a personal interest in every child born at the hospital, and looks towards the whites, blacks, and Mexicans each as an individual.

It is not new for her to walk down the street and be hailed by a proud Mexican mother, "Thelma come see one of OUR babies," so she sees the child after he or she is a few months old.

Thelma keeps a scrapbook with all the pictures of "her" babies that she can get... she asks the mothers before they leave the hospital to be sure and send her one of the babies' first pictures. She has a number of cute little Mexican babies' pictures, but has not received a colored one, yet! She said she would be glad for anyone to use her pictures on anniversaries or birthdays.

She and her husband, who reside at 1102 east Broadway, have no children of their own, but she really loves her "adopted" ones!

Last week the Ladies' Bible class of the Crescent Hill Church of Christ prepared about 60 pounds of home made candy to send to all boys from the church in the armed services. About 17 boxes were mailed to the boys. Also boxes of candy were mailed to the girls of the congregation and their husbands who are in the service. Some of these were air mailed, because they felt that they might not get them overseas in time for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Collins moved to Brownfield in November, 1923, and established the Collins Dry Goods in its first location, where the Farm & Home Appliance Store is now located.

In April, 1924, Mr. Collins moved the store to the present location, on the west side of the square, and "28 years seems a very short time ago." Mr. Collins said, Ned Self has been with the firm since its establishment here, and among those working in the store at first were Miss Vona Lee Ditto and Mrs. Eunice Jones. Collins is the oldest dry goods firm in town, and has grown with Brownfield. In 1950 ultra-modern fixtures were installed after the store was completely remodeled.

Mr. Collins said, "We have enjoyed a nice business, and we appreciate our friends and customers here."

Mr. and Mrs. Collins reside at 121 west Main and they have one son, Bill, who now resides in Lubbock.

Betty Jackson Hostess To Younger Set

Approximately 50 young people enjoyed a party last Friday night when Betty Jackson entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McCracken, 303 east Tate.

Sandwiches and cokes were served to a number of high school students and a group of college students who were here for the Thanksgiving holidays.

ESA Sorority Has 'Model Meeting'

Mrs. Don Cade was hostess to members and rushees of Beta Theta chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha at the La Mecca cafe at 7:30 Tuesday evening.

An original centerpiece of jonquils and cattails flaked by two crystal bowls containing snowmen and snow balls bobbing in water. Placecards were leaves in the club colors of blue and gold with the letters ESA inscribed across them.

Miss Bernadine Grabber presided at the "model" meeting, to give an idea to the rushees as to the procedure for future meetings. Tentative plans were made for a Christmas dance, and the club voted to work with the radio station KTFY in sponsoring the grand Goodfellow Revue at the high school auditorium.

Guests, who are rushees, attending were Mesdames Oscar Alford, Winifred Cooper, Mildred Pryor and Trilby Kincaid.

Members attending were Mesdames Calvo Boyston, J. C. Jennings, Roy Halley, Mary Nell Diffey, and Don Cade, and Misses Grabber, Margaret Goza, Mary Ballard, Ruby Nell Hairston, and Sue Jones.

Pie and coffee were served after the meeting.

THANKSGIVING GUESTS IN STRICKLIN HOME

Guests in the A. J. Stricklin home on Thanksgiving, were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Stricklin of Fort Worth, and their two little sons, Tommy and Jerry. It was the first visit of Glen's wife and boys in the home of his uncle.

We had promised to open a can of sardines, and Glen stated they were the best he ever ate. He is superintendent on the electrical job of the new two million dollar high school building at Snyder. His brothers-in-law, the Burton Bros., have the contract.

Alpha Omega Study Club Honors Former Members With Birthday Party Tuesday

Former members and past presidents of the Alpha Omega Study Club were recognized at the 12th birthday party Tuesday afternoon at Seleta Jane Brownfield clubhouse.

Guests were Mesdames Pat Ramsauer, Edgar Self, Walter Hord, Rebecca Ballard, Toby Greer, Burton Hackney, Emmett Royer, Coleman Williams, J. L. Odell, Roy Herod and Bill McGowan, and Mrs. Homer Newman of Oklahoma City, all former members, and Mrs. J. M. Teague Jr., honorary member.

Mrs. Lee Brownfield and Mrs. Grady Goodpasture were hostesses, and refreshments were served as guests arrived. A silver coffee service was on a table centered with a white cut-work cloth, and a color scheme of maroon and white, the club colors, was used.

Centering the table was a large birthday cake with "Alpha Omega" written across the top, with 12 candles that were lighted by the seven past presidents as they received corsages.

The white carnation corsages tied with maroon ribbon flanked the cake. Mrs. W. T. McKinney, president, presented the bouquets to each of the past presidents, who then lighted a candle. Mrs. Goodpasture presented one to Mrs. McKinney, who lighted the remaining candles. A corsage was also presented Mrs. Teague, before the former members were recognized.

Mrs. V. L. Patterson, first president of the club when it was organized in 1939, and Mrs. McKinney, president at this time, served the refreshments.

Mrs. Jake Gore was program chairman for the day, and the program included a violin solo by Mrs. Kenneth Watkins; Alpha Omega Memories by Mrs. P. R. Cates, and Greetings from the Parent Club by Mrs. Teague. The club was organized as the Junior Maids and Matrons club, sponsored by the Maids and Matrons Study club. In 1943 the name was changed to correspond with federation rules. Mrs. Cates gave an interesting account of the club activities during the 12 years.

The seven past presidents are all still active members, including Mesdames Patterson, 1939-1941; Mrs. Lee Brownfield, 1941-1943; Mrs. H. B. Virgil Crawford, 1943-1945; Mrs. P. R. Cates, 1945-1947; Mrs. Jack Hamilton, 1947-1949; Mrs. C. R. Lackey, 1949-1950, and Mrs. Goodpasture, 1950-1951.

LaVada Aldridge Is Shower Honoree

Miss LaVada Aldridge, bride-elect to Pvt. Crawford Burrow Jr., was honored with a miscellaneous shower from 4:30 to 6:30 Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Martin Line, 401 north C street.

Hostesses with Mrs. Line were Mesdames Wayne Brown, Jack Benton, Herbert Chesshir, J. O. Burnett, K. B. Sadleir, John Venable, Alvin Hallbauer, W. T. Pickett, Otto Butler, C. L. Aven, Joe Shelton, L. B. Forbus, and L. H. Dean.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Line, Miss Aldridge and her mother, Mrs. N. W. Aldridge, and Mrs. W. C. Burrow Sr. Guests registered in an attractive bride's book, and Miss Quella Bevers presided at the register.

A profusion of flowers decorated the entertaining rooms, and on the buffet was a clever arrangement, with the Air Force insignia—upspread wings—standing on a base of tiny white mums. The air force colors, blue and white, were used in the color scheme.

A bouquet of white mums centered the serving table, which was covered with blue satin with a white net overskirt. Mrs. Wayne Brown and Mrs. Jack Benton served refreshments: White tea napkins were used, lettered in blue, "Crawford and LaVada."

A large array of gifts were displayed, and the honoree received complete sets of crystal, pottery, and silver.

Approximately 125 guests were invited.

Miss Aldridge and Pvt. Burrows have not set the wedding date, as they are waiting for his assignment in the U. S. Army Air Forces. He has been stationed at Lackland Air Force base in San Antonio.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

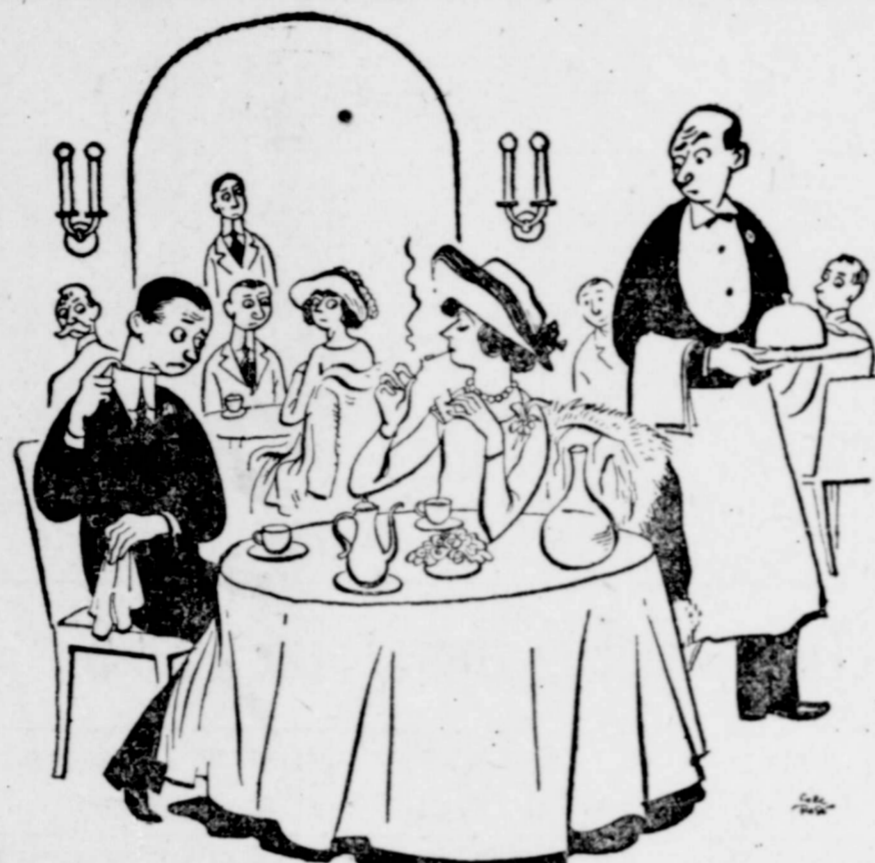

If a person chose to be vexed and perplexed on a grand scale, this U.S.A. is the place. And to lightly touch upon just one angle, I will tell you about aluminum and how we are now in great need of same, and how the Govt. has fumbled the ball there in that green and pretty Northwest where rolls the Oregon. A power shortage there is causing the shutting down of some of the aluminum maker's plants. The Govt. is the big cheese there in power making—in a pinch it cannot cut the mustard—aluminum production falters.

The perplexing side of the dilemma is how-come a senator or a congressman who is smart enough to get himself elected, is not keen enough to see what is in the woodpile when he ups and votes millions upon millions for Govt. spowerhouses and dam across the land, when he should catch on that it is out-and-out Socialism and failure that he is voting for. How-come he can be that confused under his sombrero. It sort of looks as if the fellow had not been around quite as much as we figured.

But Govt. fumbling there in Evergreen-land is bringing private enterprise to the rescue. In Texas, and Arkansas, and Louisiana, where muscle and brains and fuel of all kinds is plentiful and aluminum type ore is near at hand, they have buckled on their six-guns and regalia and are going to town with aluminum production.

Yours with the low-down, JO SERRA.

Having the right-of-way at an intersection won't help much after the undertaker takes over.

Remember when women began smoking in public? That was back in the early '20's—about the time Will Hays became "czar" of the movie industry and Kenesaw Mountain Landis took over the reins of big league baseball.

Call 'em the good old days if you like—and you'll have lots of company. But suggest turning back time for, say, 30 years—and see how many takers you'll find. Not many, you can be sure.

Why? For one thing, people have worked hard to make your community what it is today. They've campaigned successfully for better schools and medical facilities, for more efficient government, for a healthy business climate—in fact, for anything that would make your community a better place to live and work. And they're proud of what they've done.

But people alone don't make a better community. People working together do. That's where your chamber of commerce comes in. It's the rallying point for those who want a hand in shaping their community's tomorrow.

How about you? Are you ready to pitch in? If so, your chamber of commerce executives will tell you about membership.

Fewer People Die From TB... But—

Fewer people are dying from TB each year, but the number of patients in TB hospitals is growing. According to Dr. W. D. Anderson of San Angelo, chairman of the Texas Medical Association's Committee on Tuberculosis, "rapid progress is being made in saving people from death from TB but progress in saving people from the disease itself is slow."

The recently published Annual Report of the National Tuberculosis Association, Dr. Anderson said, attributes the drop in deaths to the development of new drugs, important advances in surgery, and recent expansion of X-ray survey programs through which new cases of TB are discovered in the early stage. The report shows that TB deaths in the United States have dropped from 150,000 in 1900 to about 40,000 a year at present. "Since 1904 the death rate has been cut 85 per cent," Dr. Anderson said, "yet the disease is known to strike 100,000 victims annually and public health authorities estimate that about 500,000 people in the U.S.A. have TB today."

Dr. Anderson pointed out that Texas currently has the tenth highest TB death rate among the states and that one out of every 100 people screened in X-ray surveys here last year was found to have TB.

"As more cases are discovered in the early stage, and as methods of treatment continue to improve, a continued decrease in deaths is predicted," Dr. Anderson declared. He stated, however, that in spite of progress, "TB still kills more people than all other communicable diseases combined

Dr. Lee L. Johnson of Canyon, was a pleasant visitor last week. Just in to get on the subscription rolls again, and in such a hurry to get out to his brother, Wood E. Johnson's farm to get some Thanksgiving turkey that we did not get to talk with him as much as we would have liked.

But Lee has not changed much over the years in looks, except a bit more poundage. He was, we believe, in high school at Gomez when we came to this good old county. He later attended West Texas State, or Canyon Normal we believe it was called at that time. After graduation, he was on the teaching staff for several years.

Our information is that he is now running the book store in connection with the college. Lee was on the teaching staff in 1924 when the Texas Press Association met in Amarillo, and the editors were all invited to the college for an alfresco feed on the campus, and fine entertainment in the auditorium following.

The Opinion of Some Exchanges

Down there at Jayton in old Kent county, they liked to have had an oil boom a year or so ago, but sorter like ours, kinder petered out. The Chronicle of that fine little town gave some of the reasons last week why their failure on a boom and bust is not bothering them too much now. Some of their former citizens who had left for a real oil boom town, had returned the wiser for their experience.

Said one man, "when I went to — two years ago, people were so excited that they would agree to pay most any old price for a place to do business. I recall one in particular who signed a lease on a building for five years at $750 per month rental. Now he does not make enough clear money in a month above expenses to pay rent." So much for booms.

Then the O'Donnell Index tells us that one of their citizens drove up to the city of Lubbock recently, and had a run-in with a switch engine. The O'Donnellite stated that witnesses said that the engineer didn't give sufficient signals at the crossing, and as a consequence, the gentleman from down in Lynn had a bent fender, a crooked bumper, not to say anything about a bent forewheel.

What we want to know is, did the O'Donnell gent toot his horn sufficiently, and try to get the switch engineer to stop and back up a bit till he got across? There may have been two sides to that crossing incident.

"And then there was the case of the new 'deestric jedge' over in old Hockley that fired the old county auditor without too many preliminaries. And had appointed a new man, and there was no particular objections to the new auditor. But the former auditor had written the Judge to investigate his reputation as an auditor and citizen, and whether or not he had given satisfaction. The judge, recently appointed to fill out the unexpired term of the former Judge, replied that his services were unsatisfactory to him, and he was replacing him.

The above all came out in two Hockley county papers, the Ropes Plainsman and the Anton News. The editors of these two papers made a personal investigation of the matter not only in their towns, but over the county in general. This investigation included the business and professional men in the towns and cities, as well as farmers. They put their OK on the old auditor. So, we are wondering what will happen next over in old Hockley county.

Speaking of the Ropes or Ropesville Plainsman, we tried to kid Editor Morris about his big scary headlines on the front page about rather commonplace incidences. Of course Bro. Morris explained the matter very satisfactorily to anyone who has ever been connected with the newspaper game. He wanted to fill space quick that would have taken hours to fill with ordinary news type.

Such things have happened in most every weekly newspaper of office, and we knew it. We don't know whether Editor Morris will take it as facts or not, but this writer reads the Plainsman as close or closer than any exchange that comes to our desk—and we always learn something. But he is such a good natured guy that we just like to kid him a bit occasionally.

WE GET SOME OF THE CASWELL COTTON MONEY

C. R. Caswell of Rt. 1, Meadow, was in late last week to subscribe for the Herald, and he decided that he just as well get it for three years, stop a bit of worry and trouble renewing annually and save a dollar at the same time. Then he decided he wanted an ad about a palomino mare that had strayed.

To top it all, he decided that he also wanted one of our name plates to put on his mail box that can be seen at night, and worth $2.00, but which we give absolutely FREE to either new or renewal subscribers to the Herald.

Mr. Caswell lives northeast of Meadow in a mighty good section of old Terry. Anyway, we got a wed of his cotton money. Thanks!

The Many Uses of Castor Beans

AUSTIN.—Farmers in certain areas of Texas are growing castor beans as a commercial crop this year, in response to military demands for a grease used to lubricate jet engines. The grease is made from . . . ugh! . . . castor oil.

A report on Texas castor bean production was made by Stanley A. Arbingast, University of Texas assistant professor of resources and Bureau of Business Research assistant director.

"In addition to its familiar utilization in medicine, either the oil or one of its extracts is used in the manufacture of hydraulic fluids, leather preservatives, fly paper, fly oils, asphalt floor tile, electric insulating materials, lubricants, hair dressings, toilet creams, laquers, soaps, rubber substitutes, sebacic acid for nylon manufacture, caulking and gasket compounds, sulfonated oils, and plastics of various types," Arbingast said. "It is also widely used in the textile industry as an agent in the dyeing of cottons."

Residue left after oil is extracted from the bean contains ammonia, phosphoric acid and potash, and finds a ready market as a fertilizer. The hulls are approximately equal to barnyard manure in soil-building qualities, and agricultural agents are encouraging farmers to apply bean

About 8½ Miles F-M Roads to Be Built

Had a letter last week from Texas Highway Department concerning the construction of Farm-Market roads in Terry county, from Sept. 1, this year to August 31, 1952. This is provisioned on Terry county securing the right-of-way and designation such roads. As the description was just a bit confusing to a lay engineer, we called Judge Herbert Chesshir about the matter.

One of them will turn south off 380 at Gomez, but this year will be allowed only 3 miles on that road, which will carry it to within about two miles of the Seagraves highway. This is to be finished at a later date, probably 1952-53 program.

The other runs west off 137, Lamesa road, at Union, and connects with F-M 403 south of Forrester, thus completing the Wellman-Union road. This one will be 5½ miles in length. And this will be all the F-M roads allotted to Terry county this year.

hulls to their land. Plants have been installed at Brownwood and Stephenville, where the beans are hulled before shipment to Bayonne, New Jersey, or to Los Angeles, Calif., for further processing. Another hulling plant is located at Vernon.

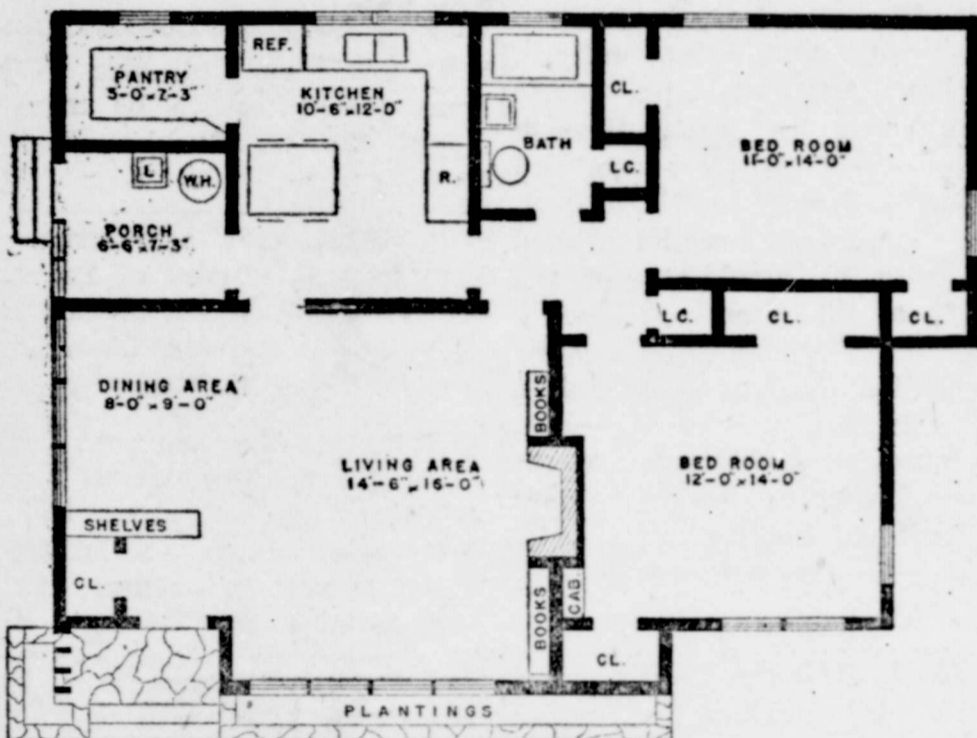

HOUSE OF THE WEEK

In this space, you'll find "The House of the Week" with full descriptions. This series is made possible by area firms listed here... See them to help you with your Home Furnishing Problems.

ECONOMY-WISE, WELL-DESIGNED

House Plan No. 29

Like an eye-appealing modern beauty, this Farm & Ranch House No. 29 is outstanding for its clean-cut, simple lines. But the girl must have more than attractive appearance if she the type you want to settle down with—and so must a house. This one meet all these requirements.

The flexible arrangement of this house makes it well suited to a growing family. The living room is a pleasant optical illusion. It is comparatively small, but because of the arrangement appears very spacious. If necessary, this room can be used temporarily as a combined bedroom-living room, and serve all the meals in the kitchen.

Two comfortable-sized bedrooms are located conveniently to the bathroom. Each has plenty of well-arranged closet space.

The closet at the front entrance is good for the storage of wraps or raincoats, and occupies an otherwise wasted space. Plans give details for the construction of shelves for the china and the bookcases which surround the fireplace.

This house can be built rather cheaply because of its plain roof, simple lines and easy frame construction. To increase the economy, we have arranged the bathroom and kitchen on the same wall, and the drains from the bathroom fixtures on one wall. There is an absolute minimum of plumbing required to serve both kitchen and bathroom fixtures.

Something else which will keep the construction cost down and also keep maintenance at a minimum is the use of doubled, prefinished cedar shingles. We suggest you use these on all walls except the front, where brick or masonry is shown.

You can obtain blueprints for this TERRY COUNTY HERALD Farm & Ranch Plan No. 5029 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, Farm & Ranch-Southern Agriculturist, Dept. L-193, Nashville, Tenn. Order by number—Plan No. 5029. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

PUNCTUAL DUCKS

MT. VERNON, Ill.—(AP)—Those flat-billed ducks flew south over Southern Illinois right on schedule again. R. A. Patrick Jr., who has kept a record of their comings and goings, said the ducks arrived on Oct. 30 for the 12th year in the past 14. He's unable to figure out why they keep that date.

TANGLED DEER

CENTRALIA, Ill.—(AP)—Hunters along the Kaskaskia River happened onto a big 5-point buck deer, trapped by grapevines twined rope-like in his antlers.

While others held the buck, one man cut it free. Then, fearful the scared beast might attack, they used trees for protection. But the 300 pounder—perhaps grateful—bounded away.

Junior Dairymen Make Progress

COLLEGE STATION.—Results of the 1951 Junior Dairy Production Program, sponsored by the Texas Jersey Cattle Club, have been announced by A. M. Meekma, associate Extension dairy husbandman of Texas A. & M. College, who supervises the program.

The winners are: Tommie Jack Stuart, Fisher county, first and second place; Arthur L. Smith, Johnson county, third; Gerald V. Post Jr., Hopkins county, fourth and eighth; Roland Reese, McLennan county, fifth; Marion Cooper, Johnson county, sixth; T. G. Herring Jr., Crosby county, seventh and ninth and Robert L. Joyner, Falls county, tenth. All are 4-H members except Smith and Reese.

Stuart's winning entry, Lad Pretty Vera, was seven years and ten months of age at the beginning of the 305 day test period. She produced, on two times milking mature equivalent, 12,710 pounds of milk and 635 pounds of butterfat. This marks the first time that a winning entry has produced in excess of 600 pounds of fat.

According to Meekma, eight out of the ten winning entries produced more than 500 pounds of butterfat, mature equivalent. Production average for the 10 winning entries was 9,908 pounds of milk and 535 pounds of butterfat, mature equivalent. The average dairy cow in Texas, Meekma says, produces slightly over 3,100 pounds of milk and 137 pounds of butterfat per lactation period. These 1951 records, he adds, prove that junior dairymen in Texas are doing a very creditable job with their dairy animals.

In 1949 only seven records were submitted in the first contest. Fourteen complete records were submitted in the first contest. Fourteen complete records were judged in the 1950 program and this year 45 entered with 29 completing. Up to the present, 50 entries have been received for the 1952 program, says Meekma. Teachers of vocational agriculture and county agents supervise the production program in the FFA chapters and local 4-H clubs.

Texas Agriculture Should Prosper in '52

COLLEGE STATION.—In general, Texas farmers and ranchmen should have a prosperous year in 1952. In making this prediction, John G. McHaney, an Extension economist of Texas A&M College, points out that agricultural economists from over the nation have considered supply, demand and the cost of producing farm commodities in 1952 and have based the outlook on these findings.

McHaney adds that economic conditions within the state will have little effect on the 1952 outlook for Texas agriculture. The big influence will come from economic conditions within the nation and the world.

A powerful force behind the prediction, says McHaney, is our expanding defense program and an even bet for the continuation through 1952 of the cold war. There may or may not be full scale fighting or all out war, but free nations will continue to expand their defense programs against the threat of communism.

From the standpoint of supply, 1951 was near a record for total agricultural production and prospects for 1952—weather permitting—should be another year of high production. With the outlook for large supplies of agricultural products, the prices received by farmers are expected to hold generally near the 1951 levels despite an expected strong demand. However, McHaney points out that an unfavorable growing season in 1952 would result in considerable upward pressure on prices, particularly in the second half of the year.

Demand for farm products is expected to continue strong during 1952 as employment and incomes rise. Larger defense expenditures are expected to push consumer income higher. McHaney says current plans call for defense spending by fall of 1952 at a rate of 65 billion dollars a year as compared with a rate of 41 billion for the third quarter of this year.

With few exceptions, prospects for exports of agricultural commodities in 1952 look very good. The rearmament program of the free world should make available additional foreign exchange, and this should relieve dollar difficulties encountered since World War II by countries which normally are our customers.

The unfavorable side of the 1952 outlook for agriculture, says McHaney, are production costs, which continue to rise. Those in 1951 set a new record. Costs may average five per cent higher in 1952. Supplies of materials needed for production are expected to be sufficient to permit high farm production though some items will be relatively scarce, McHaney says. Prices of all important groups of items used in production are higher now than a year ago. Farmers and ranchmen, McHaney, must also expect a moderate increase in farm rates in 1952.

The prospects for higher production costs in 1952 offers a challenge to all agricultural producers to cut costs and use more efficient methods of production. McHaney says producers should place orders now for goods and supplies needed for producing the 1952 crops and livestock.

Gross farm income may be five per cent higher in 1952 but will come from the expected increase in volume of sales rather than from any increase in agricultural prices. However, McHaney adds, the increased cost of production, which is virtually a certainty will offset the expected increase in gross income and the final result will be a net income for agriculture about equal to that of 1951.

Twenty-two new cars were registered last week with the County Collector. By the way, a niece in Tennessee wrote that she had been expecting to see our name in the lists we publish. It takes money to buy cars these days. But here she goes:

INFLUENZA INCIDENCE RUNNING HIGH

The Texas State Department of Health report for the week ending November 10, discloses the fact that influenza is running rather high in both Terry and Yoakum counties, with pneumonia closest competitor.

For Terry county the report on communicable diseases was as follows: Gonorrhea, 1; influenza 15; measles 2; pneumonia 4. Yoakum county: Gonorrhea 1; influenza 5; pneumonia 3.

Crescent Hill Church of Christ News

There were 380 in Bible Study last Sunday morning and an overflowing crowd for the worship services. Sunday evening we had 100 in our classes, and about 400 for the evening services.

There were several visitors for the morning services. Among them were four of our boys who are in the armed services. Derwood Chisholm, stationed at Norfolk, and in the Navy is home for eight days. Oscar Leo Jones, on his way to Washington state and in the Army, is home until December 8. Roy Wallace, stationed at Fort Sill and in the Army, was home over the weekend. Haskell Paden, in the Army and stationed in Nebraska, was home for a few days.

Also among the visitors were a number of our young people who are attending school in different places. We are always glad to have them back over the weekend.

Bro. Richard Donley of Peoria, Ill., spoke at the mid-week services last Wednesday evening. He will be back to preach again the last of December. Bro. Wood went to Odessa and preached last Wednesday evening for the North Side Church of Christ there. He will move to Odessa about January 1.

First Christian Church

"The Lord's People at the Lord's Table" will be the sermon subject used by the pastor, Rev. Homer W. Haislip, at First Christian Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Special efforts are being made to have every member of the congregation at the communion service.

Christian Training Fellowship for all age-level groups will meet at 6:30 p. m.

"Good News For the Nations" will be the subject for the pastor's Woman's Day message at 7:30 p. m. The Christian Women's Fellowship will be in charge of the service. This will be the annual Women's Day program. Mrs. J. H. Aschenbeck, the president, will preside. Special music will be given by the women.

F. H. Carpenter in To Renew Again

Our old friend, F. H. (Big Boy) Carpenter of south Terry, who gets his Herald handed out at Welch, just over in Dawson county, was in this week to renew, but to save us, we couldn't get him on the 3-year for $5 offer, nor could we get him to buy a name plate, as he gets his mail at the Welch P.O.

But we always have a jawfest when he calls, as both of us lived down in the Anson section before they ran us out for horse theft. And we know a lot of mutual friends down there, but the Old He moved out before F. H. got to circulating around too much down there. But we have a whale of a lot of fun talking about the good old days down there.

Cotton crop not too good this year, says F. H., but he says an old farmer always thinks about what he's going to do next year. Anyway, the doggone drought didn't take too many of those old deep belly laughs out of F. H.

CALIFORNIA KIN SEND ENGLISH WALNUTS

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson of Hemet, Calif., sent the Stricklins a bushel of walnuts from their grove, last week. They were fine. Mrs. Wilson is a sister of the Mrs.

Wilson and his brother have in the neighborhood of 2000 acres in apricots, oranges and walnuts on their "ranch" near Hemet. Thanks a lot.

Oklahoma-California Visitors This Week

Among the visitors here this week were Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Sangster, and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hicks, of El Reno, Okla. Also, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hicks, and two sons, of Smith River, Calif. They were visitors in the R. L. Bowers home. Bowers has charge of the Hicks land holdings out in the Pleasant Valley community.

Mr. E. C. Hicks stated to the Herald that he passed through Terry county 50 years ago, and at that time there was little here, but he purchased a section of land at a price that would astonish the people at this time.

By the way, Mr. H. C. wants more oil news, and we promised faithfully to give it to him—if it happened. And if his future renewals happens a few weeks late—"don't cut me off."

N. A. LINDSEYS ARE GRANDPARENTS—TWICE

A daughter, Cynthia Ann, was born November 16 to Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Davis of Dallas. Mrs. Davis is the former Miss Jerry Lindsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Lindsey, 305 So. "A."

Then, along comes another granddaughter, Shauna Suzanne, born at the local hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Dale George, Saturday afternoon, Nov. 24. Mrs. George is the former Trucene Lindsey. Dale's parents live here too, Mr. and Mrs. Euel George.

But the Lindseys? . . . They only have three daughters—Le-moine is at home, a student in high school—but their married daughters only have girls! . . . Oh, well, maybe there will be a grandson sometime!

The Lindsey girls are all nieces of Mr. and Mrs. Les Newberry, 216 east Broadway.

REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lackey and children, 507 S. Sixth street, went to Tatum, N. M., Thanksgiving Day for a family reunion at the home of Mrs. Lackey's mother, Mrs. Pearl Morris. Mrs. Lackey's brother and sister, and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Nyles Morris and children of Albuquerque, N. M., and Mrs. Doyle T. Clark and family of San Angelo, also attended. All of Mrs. Morris' family were present with the exception of the Lackey's son James, who is a student in college in Albuquerque.
