BROWNFIELD, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JANUARY 4, 1952

THE PASSING OF A REAL PIONEER: W. M. ADAMS

Gloom settled over our city and community this week when the passing of W. M. (Will) Adams was reported, slightly after 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. For the past half century, Will Adams has been one of our leading citizens, in various businesses, and always interested personally in farming and raising better livestock.

For the past several years Will has been in poor health, most of the time in daylight hours in a wheeled chair. For the past few months he had gone down hill quite rapidly. However it was not until the last few weeks that he became seriously ill. The Adams family migrated here from the Santa Anna section, the old home being just over in Brown county, in 1901. That was three years before this county was organized. The Adams land holdings were where Wellman is now located.

After Gomez started up, Will went to that village, and he and the late Simon Holgate formed the Adams-Holgate Co., and like many stores at that time had hardware on one side, and perhaps dry goods and groceries on the other, with windmills and farm implements in the rear of the store.

This partnership continued for some 8 or 10 years, when Will moved to Brownfield and formed a partnership with the late H. H. Longbrake in the Brownfield Hardware Co. After the advent of the Santa Fe Railroad, he and the late W. C. Smith formed a partnership as consignees of the Texaco Oil Co., wholesale. This partnership continued for some 22 years.

After the late Dr. T. L. Treadaway family moved here about 1913. Will became acquainted with the eldest daughter, Ethel, and they were married in 1915, some 36 years ago. They have lived at the present location on west Broadway for the past 35 years.

Survivors other than his wife are, Kyle of Wellman; Mrs. Irene Paddock of this city; Mrs. Mildred Ovenshire, Gorham, Kansas; Mrs. Mary Nell Royer of Dallas, and Tom not yet married, but who attends HS University at Abilene, and still calls Brownfield home. He had 3 grandchildren, all being at the funeral. Also, a brother, Bluford of Brownfield, and three sisters, all residing here, Mesdames E. Hunter, Lillie McPherson and Clemmie Hamilton.

Will became a Mason in 1904, and continued to be an active member of the fraternity until he became physically unable to attend its meetings. As district Worshipful Master, he instituted the lodge at Levelland. He was also a consistent member of the Baptist church, and was at his death a trustee and deacon.

Mr. Adams was born in Limestone county in 1876. Services were held Monday at the First Baptist church, with Rev. Jones Weathers, pastor, and Alfred A. Bran of Brownwood, officiating. Burial in Terry County Memorial Cemetery with Masonic services. The pallbearers were members of the Masonic lodge.

Two Errors in Ads —We Are Sorry

One of the composers that set the ad for the First Baptist Church left out the "T" in Baptist, and dagnabit, he is a Baptist himself. Then there is an error or two in Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co. ad—to start out the New Year wrong.

This was just the case of James expecting George to do it, and vice versa, and neither did the job. But we don't believe that either error will be noticeable by many, and if so they will be able to make out what was meant. Just one of those things.

Change from Sandies To Rain Welcome

For several days the latter part of last week, and up to Monday, there was a strong wind out of the west each day that kicked up dust and debris. Nothing unusual—nothing alarming—just about as the weatherman ordered for this section. But the last day or two days it was pretty cloudy, which was unusual when sandies are raging.

But the sound of rain New Year's morning was welcome. What wind there was had shifted to the northeast, and by 6 p. m. there was 40/100 inch of rain in the gauge. Foggy Tuesday night, but began to sprinkle again Wednesday morning.

This rainy weather is going to be fine on wheat. Drove out east of town Sunday afternoon, for the first time in some three weeks, and found the wheat much greener than we expected. Some of the sandier spots it had blown out, and some of the harder soils it had turned brown, but maybe will come out now.

Anyway, this rain is just what we ordered, and we hope it keeps up until there is a good winter season.

And at the Weather
Well, here 'tis Thursday, and it is one mess. Ice all over everything and slick as glass. We not only need our old cane, but would like to have two good extra legs, sans rheumatism, to navigate. Noted that R. J. Purtell and possibly others had nails or cleats in their shoes.

Anyway, had another 15/100 of moisture yesterday, and too slick to try to get to the gauge Thursday A. M. Yes, it is moisture, and was needed, but why get so slick about it.

Cubs to Play in Odessa Tourney

The Brownfield Cubs, high cagers, will meet strong competition this morning in Odessa, as they play the strong San Angelo Bobcats, in the Odessa Invitational tournament.

Coach Farris Nowell reports that the boys have worked out daily through the holidays, and are ready to keep their records on the winning side. If they should win over San Angelo, they will probably meet Jefferson of El Paso in the semi-finals.

Friday, Dec. 21, they downed Floydada 57-42 for the second time of the season. Earlier in the week they defeated the Lubbock West-erners here by a small margin of 45-44, that has been the breath-taking game so far!

The Cub "B" squad trimmed Flodada's B team 33-19 when the local squad played on the Whirlwinds' court.

Homer Nelsons Visit In East Texas

Homer Nelson has been quite closely confined to his place of business at the Nelson Prescription Pharmacy, until lately, when a pharmacist was employed. So, he and Mrs. Nelson and their daughter, Parilee, took off down to Terrell during the holidays for a short visit with Mrs. Nelson's folks.

Homer stated that it was dry as far as he went, but understood they had received more rain further down in east Texas. Just enough in the Terrell area to keep the wheat green.

In the meantime, their son, Punch, took off for Prescott, Ark., to visit relatives and friends for a few days before returning to University of Houston to take up his studies again.

In this connection, might mention that Homer picked up a new story while away, the Cowboy's Comment on the Minister's Sermon.

WINSTON REDWINE WILL TEACH PIANO

Announcement was made Thursday that Winston Redwine of Tahoka will be at the Prentice Walker home, 617 East Tate, all day today, Friday, desiring to contact anyone interested in private piano and theory lessons.

He is a graduate of the University of Texas School of Music and also studied at Columbia University, New York.

Brother Battin is giving full time to the work of evangelism. He has had a wide experience as a minister, having served as pastor in San Antonio and Dallas, Texas, Clovis and Roswell, N. M., and Olympia, Washington, besides the several years as an evangelist. He also served as district president of the Abilene District Young People's Society for three years. He attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock and graduated with honors from the Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, N. Mex. Brother Battin is a forceful preacher.

We give everyone a cordial welcome to come, pray and help in this revival.—John R. Ferguson, pastor.

Homer Slaughter Looks Us Up

Was glad to see the smiling face of Homer Slaughter, of Hart, Texas, just 'tother day. Being during the holidays, we had spent considerable time at the house after lunch. So, he was just in town for a short time, and finding the office closed, he came on to the house, gave the doorbell a push, and was admitted.

By gum, we're glad we did let him in, as he had money enough to pay up three years on his Herald, and he also wanted a name plate for his rural mail box, which we made him pay as he lives out the trade area. He had 100 acres of irrigated cotton from which he got 65 bales, he informed us, not to mention grain crops.

Homer is an old time south Terryite, living in the Seagraves vicinity for many years. However, he says he likes the Hart section, which is just over the line a few miles, from northeast Lamb and southwest Swisher counties.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Townes and children visited her sister in Abilene during the holidays.

Baptist Revival Starts Sunday

Announcement was made this week of the beginning of revival services Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church, to continue through Sunday night, January 13. Rev. Jones Weathers, pastor, will do the preaching, and Harold Mulkey will direct song services. The public is cordially invited to attend each service, at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. No services will be held on Monday and Saturday, however.

Uncle Jimmie Christmases In Seminole

That 90 some odd year old boy, Uncle Jimmie (Irish) O'Connor certainly gets about, and we don't mean maybe. Way back when a boy there in middle Tennessee, in a little town called Sparta, east of Nashville, he got about.

But what we started out to tell you was that he and daughter, Mrs. Nannie Hamilton, with whom he lives, or she with him, just as you like, slipped off down to Seminole to spend Christmas with daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. David Mills and family, and they report a fine time.

But there was one thing that we didn't exactly understand. It seems that it was something they had to drink, and Uncle Jimmie complained that it was not strong enough, and had them add some more strength so he could taste it. Coffee? We were not too inquisitive.

In his young manhood, he was a whiskey gauger, he told us one time. Now we can't say for sure whether a liquor gauger does so with a gauge or by taste. Anyway, Happy New Year, Uncle Jimmie, and many more returns of the day. In fact, we expect you to hit the century mark, old friend.

Late School News

Supt. O. R. Douglas left Wednesday morning for Austin where he is attending the annual Midwinter School Administrators conference. He is a member of two important committees, Teachers' Certification and Index Figures on Finances, and will be in conference with other school leaders of the state.

Brownfield schools were dismissed Thursday, due to the icy storm that swept all of West Texas, and at press time, it was not known whether classes would be resumed today. Principal Byron Rucker stated that days missed at this time would have to be made up at the close of school, as it is required that 175 school days be in the nine months.

Fifty-eight members of the high school band and their director, Fred Smith, returned home about 10 o'clock Wednesday night after a trip to El Paso, where they paraded in the annual Sun Carnival parade with 23 other bands.

During the half-time performance at the Sun Bowl football game on New Year's Texas Tech and College of Pacific, the Brownfield band was one of seven bands, comprising 1,000 students from Duncan, Ariz., Hurley, N. M., Austin High, El Paso, Ysleta, McCamey and Andrews, who took part in the forming of the words, "El Paso—Sun Bowl—1952," and the playing of the National anthem on the football field.

The Brownfield High school band members went to the border city in three school buses, and I would like to continue to serve you as County Treasurer. If you feel I have rendered the service you are due, and can vote for me again, will thank you very much for every one cast and for your influence to help me.

The duties and responsibilities of the County Treasurer have grown to a great extent over the past few years I have served you. But with these years of experience I feel I am better prepared to render better service. It has indeed been a pleasure to work for people who have been so nice to me. Thanks to every one for everything.

Wishing you health, happiness and prosperity in the New Year.
Yours very truly,
Mrs. O. L. (Oscar) Jones.

Mrs. White Asks For Re-Election

To the Citizens of Terry County: Nineteen hundred and fifty-two brings us to another election year, time for announcing our wishes for re-election. In the past years that I have served as your District Clerk you have been very kind in voting for me for which I am grateful. If you feel that I have made the kind of official that you deserve to have, I would appreciate you voting for me again.

Wish it were possible for me to see each of you in person but due to the duties of my office that will be impossible but will thank you for any consideration given me in the coming election.

Wishing you a Happy and Prosperous New Year.
Your friend,
ELDORA A. WHITE.

Annual Check Rolls In From Omaha

Along about the time old Santa Claus comes, and just before the advent of the New Year, we always look for a check from Omaha, Nebraska, to keep 'er coming. This check comes from Mrs. Mayme Peebler, once a citizen of Lubbock, and owner of a building on the north side of the square here in Brownfield, for many years.

Right along with the check was a Christmas Greeting, and a bit written inside the greeting to make the Old He swell up a bit, such as, "renewal to your wonderful paper, which makes me feel like I have received a letter from home each week. I do enjoy it so much." Then she adds: "Once a Texan, always a Texan."

You all come see us sometime, Mrs. Peebler? Shore, we'll show you a big time. Now don't that sound natural?

instruments were taken in a separate truck. Chaperones were Mrs. Norman Grine, Mr. and Mrs. David Flatt, and Mrs. Norman Dumas, with the three drivers and Mr. Smith. They arrived in El Paso at 6 a. m. Monday morning, and enjoyed trips to Juarez, Old Mexico, and several trips on the scenic drives. They returned home via Roswell, N. M., and Mr. Smith reported they did not hit the ice on the pavement until they reached Plains, where their speed was cut to a low minimum, arriving here without mishap.

To the Voters of Terry County

And Citizens of Precinct No. 3: I would like to take this means of announcing as a candidate for re-elections to the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 3 of Terry County. I would like to take this opportunity to thank each of the citizens of Precinct No. 3, for this cooperation and support in the past.

I have at all times tried to handle the county business in an efficient and economical manner, and at the same time render you the kind of service you have a right to expect from your commissioner.

If you feel that I have handled the job to your satisfaction, and you feel that I am entitled to your continued support I assure you it will be greatly appreciated, and I promise if I am elected I will continue to serve the citizens of Terry County to the very best of my ability.

I will appreciate your support and influence.
Respectfully yours,
LEE BARTLETT.

To the Citizens of Terry County

I would like to take this opportunity to thank each of you for your support, and the confidence which you have placed in me by electing me your County Attorney. At this time I have served as your County Attorney for one year; I have conducted this office to the best of my ability, without fear or favor. I have tried to make you a good County Attorney, and I would like for each of you to inquire as to my conduct of this office, and check my record. If you find that I have made you a good County Attorney, then I will sincerely appreciate your continued support.

I will make every effort to see as many of you as possible, but if I should fail to see you, then I would like to take this means of soliciting your continued support. As I am now serving my first term of office, I would like very much to be re-elected for a second term, and if re-elected, I pledge to you my continued best efforts to make you a good County Attorney. Thank you very much.
VERNON A. TOWNES JR.

To the Voters of Terry County

I wish to make my announcement for re-election to the office of Justice of Peace designated as Precinct No. 1 (covering all the county except the Meadow voting box). I have served in this capacity the last four years. I have endeavored to be courteous, considerate and conservative in my dealings with the people.

Thanking you one and all for past favors, will appreciate your consideration for a continue of this work.

Respectfully,
J. W. HOGUE.

All hands and the cook are glad to see L. L. White lined up at the old chuck wagon again, to be connected again with Farmers Co-operative Society No. 1, here in Brownfield. L. L. is always in a whale of a good humor, and you just like his likes. Drifted off for a few years with the Co-ops up in Lamb county. He's our maverick again.

As we start out on the new year, we are brought sharply to mind that as individuals, the world owes us nothing. That if there are really any obligations outstanding, it is we ourselves that are under obligations to those about us. Someone, and we believe it was Red Smith of the Chamber of Commerce recently handed us a page editorial from a current issue of Lions International that was well worth reading and thinking over. Too many of us get to thinking too much of ourselves, and what we are accomplishing. The editorial in question was written by R. Roy Keaton, Director-General of Lions International. In the editorial, Mr. Keaton stated that "we are indebted to countless people we have never seen nor never will see, indebted to people who lived generations ago... Like the Apostle Paul, we are debtors both to the Greeks and Barbarians; both to the wise and unwise." These debts, the writer goes on to state, are not necessarily in dollars or cents, or bills they have paid for us when we have reached the end of our rope. We can finally pay the grocer or the candlestick maker. But what about men like Pasteur, Marconi, Bell, Morse, Franklin, Whitney, Fulton, Watts, Stevenson, Fulton, Burbank, Eastman and many others. And in the memory of your older ones such men as Edison, Steinmetz, Westinghouse, etc. If we were to live a thousand years, perhaps we would never be able to repay the pleasures and privileges these men have willed the human race, because of their study and application to what they believed their duty. Like the Lions clubs scattered over the universe, about all we can do to show our appreciation is to render the best service possible in our everyday acts. To give to those in need things that they are unable to provide themselves that also tends to help them in their underprivileged or handicapped conditions. Not something that pleases today and is gone tomorrow, but something that is a help to every day of their lives. We would have to live a long time to meet the obligations we are due those about us.

Lately we have had something transpire on the order of the old Town Hall meeting, but covering a much larger sphere. It too was called a Forum, but was sponsored by the West and East Texas Chambers of Commerce, and sponsored and entertained by the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, where the meeting was held. At this meeting there appeared some eight of the 21 Texas congressmen, and it was the idea to find out from these men how they stood on several particular matters. In fact, some of them were asked very direct questions on the trends of the times in the nation's capital, and how they reacted to them. Ex-Congressman Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls district, now employed as attorney for a large company in Dallas, was the principal speaker. He outlined the ideas of the Forum. In the question and answer department, Rep. Poage of the Waco district was asked if he did not think the "Brannan Plan" smacked of Socialism. Poage stated that he did not mind putting his brand on the Brannan measure, and "that he thought the Brannan Plan is socialistic in nature." The Forum got to such a personal touch that one of the congressmen was asked if he believed the pay of congressmen should be raised. "Yes, emphatically," he replied. In commenting editorially about the meeting, the Dallas Morning News said, "it looks like one of the happiest ideas in a long time." That newspaper also stated that Washington is a long way from Texas, and congressmen have little time out to visit home folks in the past few years. This may be a new method in correcting that situation. Among the congressmen other than Poage, were Ken Reagan, Midland; O. O. Fisher, San Angelo; Wingate Lucas, Grapevine; Frank Ikard, Wichita Falls; Olin Teague, College Station; Omar Burleson, Anson, and Walter Rogers of Pampa.

Well, brother, we have reached that period of the year when resolving is in vogue. And while we resolve, let us hope that most of our resolutions will be kept. Let's not make them to be broken in the next few days or weeks. However, we have never seen the necessity of waiting till New Year to make a Resolution to be good, better or indifferent. It appears to us that any old time is OK to make a good resolution. We have never seen the necessity of resolving very much. True, we gave up one habit about that time, a good many years ago. That one was to quit intoxicants, and there was several reasons other than that it just happened around January first, that year. The main one was we found the stuff was not doing us one particular bit of good, but on the other hand made us more susceptible to every contagious disease going. Second, the doggone stuff got too high for a poor man to use. Third, while we did most of our indulging in the privacy of our home, occasionally we would slip up and take one with a friend down town. And just as sure as we did, the next person to enter our business to have a confidential chat with us, would either be a minister of the gospel, or some lady who fairly hated the stuff and those who sold it. And they had pity and a poor opinion of those who partook while the stuff was red. As far as we can remember, we have never "sworn off" anything. Maybe we have resolved all to ourself that we'd quit this or that or the other, but never especially at New Year time. Not that we feel that we are any better than some others, or even as good as the most of us. We just never did feel that the other fellow might happen to be interested in our resolve. But, if you, on the other hand, are in the habit of making New Year resolutions, and you have made one or more this year, for goshakes try to keep them not only during 1952, but for all time. However, let us state here frankly that we believe it is a good thing to greet the New Year with a resolution to help all we can in community betterment during 1952.

At least two of our exchanges have come out for re-election of Senator Tom Connally. This is their privilege as free thinking American citizens, and we only hope that this privilege will continue to be granted to the American people for many years to come, just as it has been for the past 176 years. When we reach the point that we think others are mean, lowdown and contrary just because they don't happen to track with us, we have just about reached the end of the row for liberty, freedom of thought, speech and press. Of course Senator Tom has been pouring it on hot since he has been down here among the home folks. But his "home consumption" speeches are far different from some he has made, and things for which he has worked in Washington. Frankly, we cannot help admire Sam Rayburn more than Connally. Sam does not blow hot in Texas and cold in Washington. He tells 'em to "vote 'er straight in Texas just the same as in Washington. On the other hand, Sen. Connally stated at Amarillo that "you elected Harry Truman, don't blame me," or words to that effect. But Sam Rayburn stated frankly at Hot Springs, Ark., that "Southerners ought to support the ticket from 'stem to stern," or words to that effect. No matter what a mess the administration in power gets into, no matter how many scandals and crooked deals, the Queer Deal is the Democratic party, presently, and they give us this day our daily bread. So, in order to keep our jobs at Washington as Speaker of the House or Chairman of a powerful committee, we must go along, taxes, and more taxes until you can't buy an old setting hen. Tom don't think much of Truman and his gang when in Texas, but Sam thinks they are OK in Texas or Washington. Tom is first Katydid then Katydidn't. Sam is Katydid all the time. Now Tom could be wrong part of the time, and right part of the time, but Sam is either right or wrong all the time. This paper believes that we need new blood up there at Washington, Take Senator Johnson, he is comparatively young, and not away from Texas long enough to be filled with demagoguery.

If you do not already know it, Tom Linder is the Secretary of Agriculture of the state of Georgia. Each month we received a publication from his office, called Market Bulletin, and while the markets quoted are more applicable to Georgia than Texas, what interests us most is the editorials by Mr. Linder. The last one we received took the entire editorial page of the publication. In this editorial Linder gives us a good picture of the sellout the USA has made to United Nations, and he evidently thinks just as little of that organization as the writer. To briefly state his position, he takes some of the counties in Georgia that readers are familiar with. For instance, Burke county with 936 square miles, but larger than Luxemburg, yet that little nation has the same number of votes in UN as the whole USA. Then he takes 24 of the larger populated counties of that state, with over 15,000 square miles, and some

PIPE LINE OIL MOVEMENT IS UP 23 PER CENT
Large U. S. pipe line companies (those with annual operating revenues exceeding $500,000) during the first half of 1951 handled 1,507,195,000 barrels of oil. This was an increase of 23 per cent over the same period of 1950. Pipe lines are the most important division, in terms of volume, of the complex oil transportation system that keeps Americans supplied with petroleum products.

1,750,000 population, yet such countries as Iceland, Israel, Belgium, Lebanon and others with something near the same population, have the same number of votes as the USA with 160 million population. But the financing is not on an equal basis—no indeed. While we are outvoted 59 to 1, we are standing the gaff of about one third the cost of UN. Not only that, we are sending an overwhelming amount of fighting men to carry out UN orders, and paying all or most of the bill. We have been sold down the river by our so-called leaders. This all leads Editor Linder to conclude that the United States has taken a cue from some of the larger cities, such as New York, Chicago and Kansas City, that it is easier to buy the gambler and racketeer off than to force them to obey the law. And he concludes that it is folly for a nation to let leaders get us into such a mess. But, says Linder, "in all ages, God has raised up leaders in a righteous nation," and he hopes he will have such help in this our days of trouble. "That our nation may be returned to us from Foreigners to Washington, the States and the people." He admonishes us to not wait to see what others may do, but to make up our minds where we stand.

G. I. QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q. I am drawing disability compensation from VA, and I expect to be recalled to active military duty in the near future. Will the VA payments continue, even though I'll be in uniform?
A. No. VA compensation payments may not be made to persons receiving pay for active military service. Your compensation will be suspended while you're in service.

Q. I was hurt in a railroad accident recently, as I was on my way, under orders, to report for induction into the armed forces. Was not accepted for duty. Am I eligible for GI insurance that's available to disabled Korean veterans—even though I've never been in uniform?
A. Yes. You may be eligible for GI insurance, but you must apply for it within one year from the date you suffered your disability. Get in touch with your nearest VA office as soon as possible, in order to get full details and take the necessary steps.

Stricklinly Speaking

By Old He
(Crowded Out Last Week)

We just don't know where to start this tirade this week. We received so many gifts and cards from this, that one and the other, that we may miss some if we undertake to enumerate them. And if you do happen to be missed, we assure you it will be entirely unintentional.

As to Christmas cards, there was a huge stack of them, and took not a little time to go through all of them, admire their beauty and the fine sentiment expressed. We received them ranging from the common postal cards, we mentioned last week, to an elaborate one from Gov. Allan Shivers, showing a picture of he and family around the Christmas tree.

But back to the postal card greeting. We know the one that sent it did not do so just to save expenses, but to get their message over and include some other personal matter. To mention expenses, we feel sure that the people of the United States spent millions and millions of dollars this year on the cost of cards and stamps. But they got a kick out of the matter, and who cares?

But we will mention just a few. One of the most appropriate was from Herman Heath of Lubbock, who once was our local West Texas Gas Co. manager. He not only sent a nice card but also $6 to keep his paper coming another two years.

Among the most hilarious—you guessed it. It was from Gee Gee. Among our most prized gifts was a paper opener from Tarpley Insurance Co. The envelope opener part is stainless steel and a pearl handle. The handle part also has a genuine jack knife blade.

Then there was a big box of chocolate candy from President Gillham of the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Co. Um-m-m. Then there was the usual gift from our girl friends—they are not so little now—Jonelda and Rebecca, of Lamesa. They never forget "Daddy Jack" on Christmas or Father's Day and our birthday. Just how they keep all that in mind is beyond us.

Governor Urges March of Dimes Aid

AUSTIN.—Governor Allan Shivers emphasized the impact of polio on the family, community, state and nation in officially designating the period from January 2-31 for the 1952 March of Dimes.

In an official memorandum, bearing the Seal of Texas, which was signed December 26, the Chief Executive cited the heavy expenditures of March of Dimes funds by the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis in combatting four consecutive years of heavy polio incidence.

"As a result of these attacks," said Governor Shivers' statement, "thousands of patients from previous years as well as approximately 75 per cent of those stricken during 1951 have required financial assistance from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"No one can predict when this upward curve of polio incidence will be curbed.

"Texas county chapters of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis continue to spend annually large sums of money in patient care and health education.

"During the March of Dimes, its sole source of revenue, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis asks for generous voluntary contributions to continue its laboratory research, professional and health education and patient care programs.

"Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, hereby designate the period January 2-31 for the 1952 March of Dimes in Texas, and urge every citizen to contribute as he is able to the success of this worthy campaign."

mail is generally at a low ebb. But we will have to admit we get a lot of questionnaires, and they are not all from the government. Some young fellow or fellowene. Maybe they have chosen a theme on weekly newspapers in which to make their credits toward a degree, and admittedly some of them take quite some little time to answer and some of the questions were of a nature that most editors and publishers consider their own private affairs.

As stated above, so many are getting quiz programs from the city on the Potomac, that it is private sources, calculated to benefit just one person in his quest of a degree from some college. But some do not neglect to enclose a self addressed, stamped envelope. A few others do neglect this courtesy.

Well, at last we have reached the shortest days of the year, and from now on until next June 22, they will gradually lengthen. You'll hardly recognize any radical change however until the first of March, when the sandies zoom by.

As a farm boy, along in the summer months, when we always got real lazy and tired, we would imagine the sun hung up in an old forked tree in the big woods just west of the old farmstead in Tennessee. We had been told this tale of woe so much we almost believed the old tree stopped the progress of the setting sun for some time at least.

All goes to show that the human race is a queer being. When frost and snows cover the land in winter, and we shiver, shake and freeze, we long for the good old summer time, when we can crawl under the shade of the old apple tree and dream of a white Christmas.

Then comes the summer with its heat and swelter, and we find no comfort indoors or out, we pine for some nip in the air; when we can feel snug in an overcoat, and a fire feels like it is heaven sent. In just a few months and we're raising old hates for a change. That old saying that man requires little here below is a myth.

Of course spring and autumn are sorter standoffs between the extremes, but springs out here are generally rather gusty and dusty. However, we do usually have beautiful autumns, say from September to the last part of October. But man is hard to suit. No wonder he moves around so much. He is searching for the Utopia.

Us Texicans however, are the most consistent movers. HAPPY NEW YEAR!

STATEHOUSE

By HUGH WILLIAMSON

AUSTIN.—This is the centennial year of Governor James Hogg's birth.

He was governor of Texas from 1891 to 1895, and in the words of Governor Allan Shivers: "Since then, the highest accolade for a chief executive in this state has been to say: 'He's our greatest governor since Jim Hogg.'"

Governor Shivers made his remarks in a recent speech at the University of Texas. He pointed out that Jim Hogg's contribution to Texas included the successful sponsorship of many protective laws relative to stocks, bonds, land ownership, control of corporations, fidelity insurance, and other fields in which the individual sorely needed protection. basic reform of our election laws, school laws, judiciary procedures, and the prison system, "the governor reminded—his audience. "He had the legal interest rate cut from 12 per cent to 10 per cent, and he even reduced taxes.

"His most famous achievement, of course, and one of his most important, was the establishment of the railroad commission. Jim Hogg battled the powerful railroad interests from pillar to post and finally brought them under state supervision."

The University of Texas Press has just published a volume called "Addresses and State Papers of James Stephen Hogg."

Eugene C. Barker, distinguished professor of American History, emeritus, of the University of Texas, has written a foreword to the volume.

"The explanation of Hogg's position in public feeling," writes Professor Barker, "was to be found in his thoughtful statesmanship, which grew out of his independent judgment and his fearless honesty. He was a democrat in the true sense of the word, desiring always the welfare of the State and the greatest good of the greatest number, uninfluenced by the desire for votes to maintain himself or his party in office. Nobody can read his public and private papers without being convinced of his profound honesty and sincerity."

It is refreshing, in these days of political scandals, to read some of the speeches and letters of a man who considered public service something more than an opportunity to line his pockets.

Governor Hogg was a master of the language. Let's listen to him for a moment as, on April 19, 1890, he opens his campaign for governor, basing his message to the people on the need for a railroad commission. He is at Rusk, the place of his birth, and he is talking to an audience of 3,000, among whom are many of his old friends:

"... Under the management of all these railroads an executive committee, selected by them, arbitrarily fixed the rates having origin and destination within the State of Texas. In the absence of that committee, one man called a 'commissioner' had the power, which he freely exercised, to raise or lower the rates on every article of commerce received or shipped by the people in this State. By that agreement, under severe penalties, no railroad belonging to the combination could at will reduce the rates below the schedule fixed by the executive committee or the commissioner; but at pleasure they could be raised as high as the company carrying the traffic wished.

"Thus the railroad companies were protected against competition, insured good rates, rendered indifferent to their obligations to the public, and led to believe their power was superior to the law."

"The railroads knew Jim Hogg before he began campaigning for governor. As attorney general he had sued them and recovered for the State more than a million acres of state lands.

Despite railroad opposition, Jim Hogg was elected in 1890, and early the following year he secured the passage of an act creating the Railroad Commission.

Accidents Due to Icy Weather

C. O. Mosley, about 45, who resides north of Brownfield, decided to see how cold it was Thursday morning—result? He can't even see—out of his right eye!

While looking at the thermometer to see how low the temperature was early Thursday morning, he fell and suffered a fracture of the small bone just below his right eye, according to Dr. Wayce C. Hill, where he received emergency treatment.

Marion Johnson of Ropesville suffered a fracture of her left leg when she fell on the ice at her home Wednesday night. She received treatment from Dr. Treadway.

Private Car of Rail Presidents Sells Cheap

ROARING SPRINGS, Tex. (AP)—A private railroad car built for one of the Burnetts of the famed 6666 Ranch of West Texas has ended its luxurious life to become a fishing cabin.

It's sitting now on heavy timbers by the railroad tracks at Roaring Springs.

S. J. Braselton of Roaring Springs bought it for $1,000.

Back in 1917 it cost $30,000 to build.

In 1920 the Burnetts sold the car to Sam Lazarus, then president of the Quanah, Acme & Pacific railway. Then Charles Sommer acquired the car when he became president of the line. Sommer resigned as president only a few weeks ago.

There are 80,000 pounds of steel in the 70-foot-long coach.

Braselton got it with the furniture, air conditioners, bedding, silver, linen, glassware and dishes. The car provides sleeping quarters for ten, has a large dining room, a club room and a fully-equipped kitchen.

Braselton plans to move this ghost of former splendor to a site in the mountains or near a Texas fishing lake.

But the World War II veteran also smiled and added that in the event of a rift in his home life, he'll have a "dog house with a carpet."

Dogs and Cats Travel Long Distances

In the current issue of Pathfinder Magazine, there were several articles about dogs and cats that traveled from a few hundred to some 2000 miles to get back to their old homes. Some of the folks have asked us to write about a common cur dog we knew that traveled from near Grandview, in Johnson county, Texas, to the old home in Hardeman county, Tennessee, a distance of some 900 miles.

One of the editors of Pathfinder wants more stories about such incidences, and we thought maybe some Herald readers would like to hear of our experience with a traveling dog. The year was 1893, after the crops were harvested that Uncle Need Thompson and family, along with most of the in-laws left Tennessee for Texas. The old home was near Middleton, Tenn., and they settled near Grandview, Texas. Mr. Thompson, the girls and smaller children went via train, after shipping much of the household goods by freight. But there was the horses, mules, and farm machinery, so some of the in-laws took on the long trip by wagons, three of them, we believe. A little yellow cur dog, Jock, followed the wagons.

Sometime around Christmas, the writer was out hunting and passed the old homestead of one of the in-laws, Frank Howell. As we approached we heard a dog barking at us, and soon saw old Jock. Our idea was that Jock did not crave the west, and had turned back soon after leaving the old haunts. But a letter from the Thompsons in a few days disillusioned the neighborhood. Old Jock had gone all the way, as the letter said: "Jock must not have liked Texas, as he has not been seen for some time." Ed Thompson of this city is one of Need Thompson's children, but he was only three or four years old then.

So, that ended for all time the question of whether or not Jock actually got as far as Texas. But there is one question that has never been cleared up, and perhaps never will be. At that time

LEPROSY MOSTLY IN SOUTH TEXAS

AUSTIN.—About 12 persons in Texas come down with leprosy every year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Since 1921 over 300 individual cases have been diagnosed, mostly in counties bordering the Gulf Coast and Rio Grande River.

"Leprosy," Dr. Cox says, "is one of the penalties of being human. No other animal ever gets it. You do not need to worry a great deal about it because it is probably the least catching of all communicable diseases. The horror and shame in which the disease is held today over from Biblical times.

"One consolation about the whole thing is that a Russian satellite—Rumania—is the world's focus of leprosy.

"The disease takes two forms, one called the tuberculoid because it resembles tuberculosis; and the other lepromatous. The second type affects twice as many men as women, presumably because there are more modes and opportunities for infection in men."

"Lepromatous patients live an average of 8 to 10 years, while the tuberculoid type apparently doesn't affect the patient's life span. Neither type is as catching as tuberculosis or other communicable diseases.

"Most cases of the disease are contracted during childhood," Dr. Cox reports, "with manifestations actually appearing in the teens or early 20's."

"Medical researchers at the national Leprosarium at Carville, La., are having success in the treatment of leprosy by the use of certain drugs. The Texas State Department of Health can assist anyone suffering with this disease in securing treatment at Carville."

Thanks Texans For Christmas Seal Support

Dr. David McCullough of Kerrville, president of the Texas Tuberculosis Association, expresses the Association's appreciation to Texans for their generous support of the 1951 Christmas Seal Sale conducted by the TTA and its 97 local affiliated groups throughout the State to raise funds for tuberculosis control.

Dr. McCullough said that "an enthusiastic vote of thanks" is due all residents of the state for their "generous purchase and widespread use of Christmas Seals."

"Over and over, people who have sent contributions in the campaign told us they were glad of the opportunity to support our crusade against tuberculosis," Dr. McCullough said. "Many have benefited from one or more services of the association, some have said they know what it is to have tuberculosis strike a loved one, and some simply said they wanted the excellent work of the association to continue."

"The Texas Tuberculosis Association wishes to go on record as wholeheartedly thanking the people of Texas who contributed to the 1951 Seal Sale."

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith and children spent the Christmas holidays in Rotan with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bridges.

Mrs. Tracy Cary and two daughters visited in Pampa several days this week.

Visitors Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones were her father, J. C. Stump, and son, Carroll, of Andrews.

there was not a bridge across the Mississippi river south of St. Louis, if our memory of a 13-year old boy serves us right. One was under construction at Memphis, but only the "girders" or "sleepers" were then in place. Wagons and trains used the ferry.

Jock could have taken one of the three ways to get across the river at Memphis, swim it; walk one of the girders, or join some wagon caravan going east, and get a free ferry across. But Jock got home, safe and sound. A negro family moved in the old Howell homestead soon after Jock returned, and he had a home.

John C. White First State Candidate

JOHN C. WHITE

John C. White, the present Commissioner of Agriculture, serving his first term, has filed application with the State Democratic Chairman, J. E. Wheat, of Woodville as a candidate to succeed himself. White at the same time filed affidavit of loyalty.

Commissioner White hails from Wichita Falls, where he was ag. teacher for several years in Midwestern University, that city. While inexperienced politically, he was able to nose out that old campaigner and long time Commissioner, J. E. McDonald. White has been on the job and we believe has made a good Commissioner. He is a graduate of Tech College.

March of Dimes Head For Theaters Named

AUSTIN.—Mark Cole of Rosenberg, general manager of the Cole Theaters, Inc., has been appointed Texas Theater Chairman for the 1952 March of Dimes, Lloyd Gregory of Houston, state campaign director, has announced.

A former president of the Rosenberg Community Chest and the Chamber of Commerce, Cole has been very active in community affairs, including the annual March of Dimes. As chairman for the State's theaters, Cole will coordinate show activities, including distribution of the March of Dimes film trailer, and will marshal support for the January polio drive among Texas show men.

"Theater men of Texas have greatly aided in publicity and in collections during the March of Dimes each year," Cole declared. "Many managers have given their leadership to this important drive, which will be conducted from January 2-31 in 1952."

"The upward surge of polio incidence during the last four years has far outdistanced funds available for patient care, research and professional education. Year after year, March of Dimes contributions have moved steadily ahead, but the March of Polio has continued to out-pace the March of Dimes. This year, the theater men of Texas are looking forward to intensifying their cooperation with National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis county chapters to see that sufficient funds are raised."

Cole was born in West, Texas, attended Baylor University, and is a member of the Lions, Variety, and Baylor University Clubs.

Neighbors Comment

A Liberty merchant put it this way: "Price Daniel has been fighting against the Truman tidelands steal and other federal encroachments for several years. He never gives up. He has some unfinished business in Washington, some scores to settle with those who robbed this State, and you can bet that we will win the tidelands in Congress if Price Daniel gets a seat in the United States Senate."

A county official and former law partner also believes Daniel has his eye on Washington and is waiting only for a decision by Governor Shivers that he will run for re-election instead of the Senate. This man said:

"Price is a natural-born fighter, smart in the books, a forceful speaker, and honest as the day is long. His heart is in the fight to save the tidelands for Texas schools, and he will jump at the chance to run for the Senate because he believes the fight can be won there."

The homefolks would be proud to see Daniel run for either governor or senator and judging from the way they talk and the way they voted in his last contested race, they will support him strong for either job. His home county gave him a vote of 4944 to 778 for his opponent in 1946, the largest majority received by any state official in his own county. In the last two elections Daniel has been unopposed for Attorney General.

When asked for a preference, Liberty people almost invariably speak of the Senate. The reason is clear. They are fed up on the scandals of the Truman administration, mad about the tidelands grab, tired of government waste and extravagance, and displeased with the foreign policy in China and Korea.

They believe Price Daniel has the nerve to oppose these things and to "fight for Texas and for honesty in government" as one man put it. They point to his fight against organized crime in Texas and predict that he would be as good as Kefauver or Fulbright in investigating corruption and demanding a housecleaning in the federal government.

Above all, they point out that Daniel has no obligations to the Truman administration which would interfere with or slow up his work. They recall that Daniel came out boldly, last October, against the renomination of President Truman and said Texas should lead the way in finding a Democratic nominee who would respect and uphold the Texas Annexation Agreement.

During his eleven years as a lawyer-publisher, he served six years in the House of Representatives and was elected speaker of the house as another tribute to his leadership.

The armed services saw Daniel's leadership in two branches, the Army and the Marine Corps. Waiving his legislative exemption, he entered the army as a private and emerged as a captain. He saw service with the Marine Corps in Ipanan on special assignment from the Army.

As attorney general, Daniel has gained nationwide attention for his tidelands defense and his fight against organized crime. On the latter, he was complimented in the final report of the Kefauver committee.

At 41, with a long list of achievements behind him, he is still just "Price" to young and old alike in Liberty. They are ready to help him make another step up, and if they have their wish, it will be in the direction of Washington, D. C., and the United States Senate.

HOME FOLKS SPECULATE ON PRICE DANIEL

The presence of Price Daniel, Attorney General of Texas, and his family in their home town of Liberty during the holidays increased speculation that the historic old city might furnish Texas another Governor or Senator in 1952. The last Liberty lawyer to hold these offices was Sam Houston who is Mrs. Daniel's Great-Great-Grandfather. Pictured above are the Attorney General, Mrs. Daniel and their four children, Price Jr.; Jean; Houston Lee; and John.

LIBERTY CITIZENS THINK THEY HAVE ANSWER TO '52 POLITICS

LIBERTY, TEXAS, Dec. 30 (Special)—Historic Liberty, third oldest city in Texas, literally buzzed during the holidays with the talk of furnishing Texas a new senator or governor in 1952.

The town's major son, Attorney General Price Daniel, and his family were at home. As the State's chief lawyer walked the streets where as a boy he had sold newspapers, his homefolks speculated more than ever about the part their town would play in politics of the New Year.

The last Liberty lawyer to serve as governor or United States Senator was Sam Houston. He served in both offices.

Price Daniel's law office in Liberty was on the exact spot where Sam Houston had his office. What is more, Daniel married Houston's great-great-granddaughter, Jean Houston Baldwin. While living in Austin temporarily, they and their four children spend Christmas and vacations here, had a long claim on the fighting attorney general and his family. His ancestors settled here in 1824 and helped Mexican officials build the town in 1831.

His great-great-grandfather, Hugh B. Johnston, was the first alcalde and other federal encroachments for several years. He never gives up. He has some unfinished business in Washington, some scores to settle with those who robbed this State, and you can bet that we will win the tidelands in Congress if Price Daniel gets a seat in the United States Senate."

CARBON BLACK FROM OIL FOR RUBBER MANUFACTURE

Synthetic rubber without carbon black is like a dress shirt without starch: it has no stamina. Much of the recent improvement in synthetic rubber manufacture is traced to the carbon blacks used. The most important recent development in this field is production of carbon black from crude oil instead of from natural gas. One oil company says its newest "black," from oil, will produce tire treads having 20 to 50 per cent better wear resistance than similar treads compounded with the best carbon blacks previously available commercially.

Long-Time Brownfield Resident Is Claimed

Mrs. M. L. Hopson, 63, resident of Brownfield since 1920, died Sunday following an extended illness.

DRILLING COSTS ON RISE

Oil-well drilling costs are up 92 per cent from 1941. Labor costs have shown the sharpest rise, up 92 per cent, while equipment costs have jumped 78 per cent. However, while revenue per foot drilled has remained about the same as 10 years ago, keeping American supplied with oil is a costly business for the nation's oil producers.

It is generally believed that most strains of Brahman cattle possess greater heat tolerance than standard American dairy breeds.

A Lot of Readers Drop In to Renew

Mrs. W. S. Daniell dropped in recently to get their Herald up to Hoyle. The Daniells, mother and dad of Dr. Daniell, have been on our list since away back about 1917, when they came here from the Paducah section, after we got a railroad. In the 20ties, they moved to Seminole for several years, but our memory is that they still took the Herald while living there.

Was glad to have Clarence Brown from southeast Terry call recently and renew. Said Editor Vanzant of the Gaines County News had already fit him up with a name plate.

Mrs. Fred Bucy didn't forget us either during the holidays, but sent in their renewal. Talking about holidays, reminds us that a good lady comes in each year and renews for the Herald to the J. M. Williamsons.

Also Elmer Molthan out at Tokio renewed and wanted a name plate for his mail box. Then there was smiling Howard Hogue of Snyder up for Christmas with the home folks, dropped in to renew.

Yes, 'Old Santa Was Good to Me'

Been checking up on some of the lads and lassies in these parts of late about the visit of old Santa, Christmas. Of course, we knew that the old boy had been to see all the small fry, but we were checking up on those who looked longly for Santa some 40 to 60 years ago. And in make-believe fashion, still have hopes of his visits.

Most of us get more than we deserve, perhaps, but we have noted that the older lads have really been on their guard for the past few weeks. They were really good little big boys and girls. Such

And we can always count on Mrs. R. M. Kendrick dropping in about the first of the new year to renew for her brother, Will Cunningham at Utopia, and her sister, Mrs. Pearl Scudday at Forsans.

Dr. E. O. Nelson, or rather Mrs. Nelson sent in their renewal. And Mrs. Ame Flache sent in her check for renewal of her paper and one going to her daughter, Mrs. Binnie White, at Vincent.

boys as A. R. Baldwin of south Terry was very good.

Then there was J. J. Woodward, down Seagraves way; W. J. Hinson up there at Meadow, and W. T. Briscoe out on route 2. Add to that R. E. Townzen, L. E. Bryant, city, and E. G. Lampp down near Seagraves. That's just a few of the boys who came in to renew.

Some of the good girls were in the office on business or were seen on the streets, and included Mrs. G. S. Webber, city; Mrs. John Chisholm of Lubbock, Mrs. Eula Day, Tokio. There were numerous others, but these will suffice.

Saw two of our real estate men confabbing this week, whether over what they got from Santa, or were trying to sell each other some property, we did not get. They were Tom Doss and Mack Thomason.

On Sunday, Dec. 23, Cpl. and Mrs. Larry Tarpley and daughter, Linda, of San Antonio visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Tarpley, 716 East Broadway. Cpl. Tarpley is stationed at Fort Sam Houston and is a member of the Fourth Army Band.

What You Get When You Drink Moonshine

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Those moonshiners out among the East Texas pines are half-burying their barrels in the ground these days. Keeps them warmer during the wintertime.

Moonshine whiskey is produced more in winter, when nights are long and consumers are cold, reported James Moyers of the Marshall News Messenger staff.

Moyers said getting Cliff Matthews, local liquor control board agent, to talk about the business was tough because too much publicity ruins chances of pinning a moonshining charge on the brewers in the piney woods.

But he found out this much: The moonshiner in these parts has a capital investment of a few old drums, some copper tubing, a small heating unit, some used barrels and jugs and a nearby water source.

He pays about 75 cents for the raw materials that goes into one gallon of sugar whiskey. He sells a gallon usually for $8 to $10. Naturally he doesn't have to fool with federal and state liquor.

Sugar whiskey is the successor to corn whiskey. Corn whiskey takes longer, and these are the days of speed. It takes about two weeks under favorable conditions to make whiskey out of the sprouts from corn grains. In the heat of summer sugar whiskey can be turned out in four to five days.

The principal ingredient is plain table sugar. The mash, including water from a nearby swamp, creek or hog wallow, is left in barrels to ferment. Yeast—or even lye—is added to hasten the process.

Then the barrels are half buried in the ground. Agents have seen hogs pulled from the barrels. Sick, stupefied snakes have come tumbling from the raw mash.

Matthews said the last distillery he "visited" had a good bit of dirt floating in the barrels along with gnats, cockroaches, bugs, and tree bark.

The cooler barrel was an old oil drum. Heating the barrel had made a film of oil on the sides dissolve right into the whiskey. The oil went with whiskey into consumer's jugs.

THE BEST GIFT!

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Molthan, who reside on route 1, Tokio, said the best Christmas gift they received was a visit from their son, Pfc. Troy Molthan, who is a company clerk in the army, stationed at Camp Rucker, Ala. He visited here from Monday through Friday.

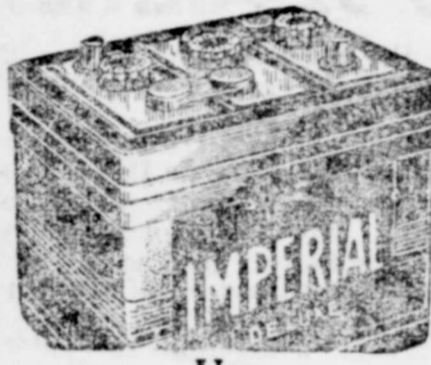

On Christmas Day, visitors in the Molthan home were Wanda Brooks, Tokio, Myra Brooks, O'Donnell, Pvt. and Mrs. Dan Williams of Elizabeth Town, Ky., and Wilma Williams of Lubbock.

Holiday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Wilgus, 603 East Reppto, were all of their children, including Seaman Robert Wilgus, who has completed boot camp training at Great Lakes Naval Base, near Chicago, Sgt. and Mrs. W. D. Snyder and two children of Kelly Field, San Antonio, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ellis and "Sissy" Wilgus, all of Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Royer and daughter, Phoebe Ann, returned to their home in Dallas Thursday of last week, after spending Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Adams, 220 West Broadway.

Matthews, aided by local officers, has ferreted out 12 stills in Marion County and six in Harrison County.

Moonshiners love the piney woods, back where the big thickets are the thickest.

Couple Wed In Lubbock Church

Miss Elizabeth Ann Schnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schnell of Lubbock, and Lt. Don F. Tankersley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Tankersley of Brownfield, were married at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, Dec. 26, at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church.

Rev. Charles S. White officiated. Branches of holly embanked the altar. Baskets of white carnations and chrysanthemums, blooming poinsettias and tall white candles carried out a red and white motif.

Traditional wedding marches were played by Miss Wanda Rogers, organist. Travis Hammer sang "Ave Maria," "Pani's Angelicas" and "Oh Lord, I Am Not Worthy."

Wears Traditional White
The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of ivory satin ornamented with seed pearls and bugle beads. It was fashioned with portrait neckline and Queen Anne collar of Chantilly lace with chapel length train. Her head piece was of Chantilly lace with a fingertip veil of tulle. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid and a pearl rosary.

Mrs. Ross Montgomery of Darrouzett, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her dress was of burgundy velvet with matching Juliet cap trimmed with rhinestones. She carried a white satin muff topped with white feathered carnations.

Identical dresses were worn by the three bridesmaids, Misses Tommie Wynn and Shirley Lynn Smith of Lubbock, and Kay Wheeler of Amarillo, cousin of the bride.

Margot Wilbanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Wilbanks, was flower girl. Her dress was of white satin with matching mitts and she carried a nosegay of white rosebuds.

Altar boys were Sandy Sanford and Vincent Brown.

Lt. Arthur A. Crumpler of Camp McCoy, Wise., served as best man. Ushers were Jack Coats, Jack Alderson and Dayle Clark, all of Lubbock.

Reception In Home
Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Lighted white candles decorated the mantel. The bride's table was covered with a Japanese imported linen cloth and centered with a large wedding ring cake decorated with poinsettias and lily of the valley.

Mrs. M. T. von Aspern of Fort Worth and Miss Virginia Saage of Lubbock, cousins of the bride, served. In the houseparty were Mesdames John Gerron of Lubbock, Arthur Saage of Slaton and J. Ernest Jones of Littlefield, aunts of the bride. Miss Erna Jones of Littlefield was at the register.

For a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride wore a plum gabardine suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Around The Corner — And Down The Street

By Margaret Bandy Coward

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Harrell visited his mother, Mrs. J. W. Stewart, at Rising Star on Christmas Day. They also visited his sister, Mrs. E. B. Walker, and his niece, Mrs. Juanita Little, at Cisco. This is a special visit because they also saw Mr. Harrell's great-niece, Tiajuana Alford, 13, who took polio last July, and is receiving treatment at Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation. Members of the Cisco Fire Department went to Gonzales and brought the girl home for Christmas in an ambulance, taking her back on the day after the holiday. She was in an iron lung several months, but Mrs. Harrell said she is now able to get around in a wheel chair. Her mother is Mrs. Little, and it was indeed a happy Christmas for all of them to have Tiajuana at home, as they thought when she was stricken with the dreaded disease, that she would never be able to be out of the iron lung.

Pictures that mean much to executives of the Brownfield State Bank include an etching of R. B. Holmes, father of Leo Holmes, that was made from a photograph of the Gaines County pioneer rancher. The late Mr. and Mrs. Holmes came to Gaines County soon after the county was established. We remember him as one of the finest persons we ever knew—he served on the tire rationing board when we were "chief" and he died while serving in that capacity during World War II.

J. O. Gillham had the etching made for Mr. Holmes' office of his father. He also had a large picture made of the late Tom May, which hangs in May's son-in-law's office, Bruce Zorns. Another picture of interest is a large photograph of A. M. (Dick) Brownfield, one of the founders of the bank.

Special for Mrs. James Warren, and others who called us, in case you missed Sunday's Avalanche Journal—it is noted that the United Cerebral Palsy Center, 50 W. 57th St., in New York will welcome used Christmas cards for children learning to use their hands.

"Holly for Christmas" was the slogan for the W. N. (Doc) Lewis family, as they gave their friends here tiny red berries, or limbs that had been silvered for attractive yuletide decorations. Sprigs of red berries were used at a Sunday school party for intermediates at the First Baptist Church, as Mrs. Lewis is teacher of the 12-year-old girls; and many other people in town enjoyed the "east Texas" holly. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and children, Norris, Billy Gene and Marilyn Ann, who reside at 508 East Hill, visited her mother in Dallas, and his brother in Celeste before the holidays—then spent "whole day on the way home getting holly." Mrs. Lewis dipped some of it in silver paint. They are both teachers in the First Baptist Sunday School, and are former school teachers. He is employed by Goodpasture Grain Company.

Mrs. Dennis Q. Lilly is indeed a lucky person when it comes to winning contests! She recently won the county contest sponsored by the Crosley Corporation, and her essay of 25 words will be entered in the national Crosley contest, according to Akers Appliance Co., dealers for Crosley appliances here. Mrs. Lilly wrote 25 words on "The American Way of Life" and what it means to her. Besides $300 in merchandise, entrants were to designate $100 for local charity—therefore she designated that amount to her "pet," the Girl Scouts! She was organizational chairman for the Girl Scouts for a number of years.

There were a number of essays entered in the contest, Mrs. J. D. Akers said, and judges Bill McGowan, C. C. Primm and Miss Wanda Terry did not see the names of those who entered until after they judged them.

Mrs. Lilly, who with her husband and two daughters, Peggy, a junior in high school, and Ann, who is employed at the Brownfield State Bank, resides at 415 East Stewart. They have lived here for 16½ years, and Mr. Lilly is a vice president of the First National Bank.

Oh yes! About Mrs. Lilly's luck—she first won a roaster for submitting a cake recipe in some kind of contest—then a chest of silver—then a bicycle for guessing the number of beans in a jar!

Theresa Chisholm, Lt. Stranlund Wed

MRS. JOHN C. STRANLUND

The night she wrote the winning script for the Crosley contest, her family was all gone from home—she wrote "what a privilege it is to rear children in a free, democratic country, etc."

The Lilly's have two other children, a daughter, Gayle, who is Mrs. R. L. DeBusk of Ralls, and Hugh Tucker Lilly, who is an electrical engineer in Lubbock. Miss Elaine Tucker, who married Jimmie D. Rogers recently, is Mrs. Lilly's niece, and made her home with them.

1951 has gone—According to one of the exchange papers that year was a "stinker!" We enjoyed every minute of it, except for the migraines! But the short time we have been your society editor, we have met a lot of interesting people, written a lot of stories, and interviewed many, including our own congressman and his wife, and the Mexican Consul, who was a guest here a few weeks ago.

About the Mr. Joel S. Quinones, Consul De Mexico, who makes his headquarters in Amarillo—besides conferring with Farm Officials in this county, he was on a good-will tour—even invited us to Mexico for our honeymoon—we said it would have to be our second one—then we landed in the dog house with the husband... but Mr. Quinones did say that the country of Mexico extended a very special invitation to the people of the U. S. to tour the country south of the border—all that is needed is a tourist card that can be procured from any Mexican consul at for $3.01... even Mexico adds one cent!

Anyway, he is a nice person, and he planned to spend Christmas in San Antonio with his wife and children.

After all this rambling—1952—here we come!

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hughes visited during the Christmas holidays with his mother, Mrs. M. H. Hughes Sr., and his grandmother, Mrs. L. L. Welch, in Abilene.

For a wedding trip to South Texas, the bride chose a milene suit of cherry color with brown accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

The couple will be at home in Corpus Christi where the groom is stationed at the Naval Air Base.

Fascinating Fashions By Judy Seaton

For informal and casual entertaining housecoats—both street length and floor length—are prominent in the Fall fashion picture, and more and more feminine in both line and fabric. Joan Alexander, who is "Della Street" of CBS's "Perry Mason," is a tall, very slender girl, whose figure sets off a housecoat unusually well and as a gracious hostess and wife and mother in her private life—she finds a good deal of use for these comfortable garments.

The short coat this season hangs straight in front, and flares widely on the back. It's perfect for a cool winter morning in quilted wool, satin or velvet, and Joan likes to combine hers with lounging pajamas of wool or satin.

The floor length housecoat has gone all out for a fairy book silhouette—and is lovely in soft, thin wool, with cuffs and collar of satin or velvet. Some are so fullskirted that they can be worn with a crinoline underskirt.

Time to Prune The Orchard

COLLEGE STATION.—Next year's fruit crop depends to a large degree on the care given the trees during the dormant season. One of the orchard jobs that shouldn't be neglected, according to J. E. Hutchison, horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is the annual pruning and it should be done during the next few weeks.

A lot of equipment isn't needed but essential tools include a pair of long-handled pruning shears, a 14-inch briar tooth saw and a pair of hand pruning shears. Be sure the tools are sharp, says the specialist, before starting the job.

Fruit trees, says Hutchison, are pruned to stimulate new growth for next year's fruit to grow on. Pruning also keeps the trees down to handling dimensions. It is easier to harvest the fruit from properly pruned trees and he points out that fruit needs sunshine to ripen as it should, and pruning allows the sunlight to reach the ripening fruit.

Hutchison also points out that the tops should be cut back to balance with the root system on trees set this winter. This practice of balancing tops and roots will insure better growth and a better tree later.

Pruning, he says, also gives the orchardist a chance to remove dead or diseased limbs and branches from the trees and to check each tree for insects and diseases that might otherwise go unnoticed.

The Texas Veterans Expanded Land Program formally became a $100 million operation on Wednesday morning, Nov. 28, and the first sale of bonds was scheduled for December 19. Bascom Giles, Land Commissioner, has explained that the sale could not be advertised, until the election returns were officially canvassed.

The first offering of state bonds was to be $15 million. Three previous sales totalling $25 million, according to Commissioner Giles, have average interest rates of 1.70 per cent which has been used to purchase land for resale to veterans who pay interest at 3 per cent.

The amendment recently approved by the voters also makes Texas Korean veterans, as well as those who serve in other areas eligible to purchase land through this land purchase program. We are advised that over 500 contracts are listed which will require about two months work for the appraisers and we find that inquiries by

Poultry Production Will Increase in '52

The poultry industry can expect another banner year in 1952, according to latest figures of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Increased production of eggs and broilers is expected and turkey production may exceed the 1951 level, which was a record high. Indications are that the strong demand for poultry products will continue and prices are expected to average about the same.

While the total value of poultry products in 1952 may be as much as 5 per cent higher than the estimated $4 billion for 1951, costs will also rise and net returns to producers may be a little lower.

Commercial broiler production will probably continue its long-time increase, assisted by the new auromycin-vitamin B-12 feed supplement, which helps bring birds to maturity faster and on less feed. Broilers today are supplying almost half of the nation's chicken meat, compared to a negligible amount 15 years ago.

Turkey growers are expected to raise more small birds, which are proving popular and economical for year-round use. A record 52.8 million turkeys were produced in 1951, and indications are that the production of small and large turkeys will increase in 1952.

Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Nelson visited relatives in Pauls Valley, Okla., during the holidays. They returned home Wednesday.

the thousands have been received. . . . And it is now very probable that no transaction will be completed under this new expansion before February 1, instead of early January as previously announced.

Veterans are urged by Commissioner Giles to "take their time in deciding upon a place to buy"—as this is a loan and must be paid back. Over 200 tracts have already been evaluated, which will have purchase details completed as soon as the proceeds from the sale of bonds have been received. Over 4000 veterans have already purchased land under the original $25 million expansion program and of these purchases—60 veterans have already paid their entire indebtedness in full and according to our information over 300 are ahead with their semi-annual payments and on September 1 this year there had not been one default on this program which started in 1949.

The voters of Texas approved authority for the state to issue an additional $75 million in bonds to finance and expand the Veterans Land program of the state, which is expected to last another 4 years. The original $25 million bond issue is now used up. State Land Commissioner Bascom Giles estimates that 30,000 veterans will participate in this new expanded program.

Well-Proportioned, Easily Constructed

HOUSE PLAN No. 33

The maximum for the minimum; that is, the maximum in home attractiveness, comfort, and convenience; the minimum in cost and in construction work.

The unusually spacious kitchen is conveniently located. The pantry and home freezer will be ideal for storing the family food supply. There is 12½ feet of counter and storage space with ample room for at least 10 feet of wall cabinets.

If your family spends a lot of time in the kitchen, as do most farm families, you'll appreciate the cheerful spot for the breakfast table near the refrigerator and a front window.

By the back door is a closet where boots and outside clothing can be kept. The extra lavatory by this door can be installed for little more than the cost of the fixture itself because it is so near the drain from the bathtub. This will be valuable, because field hands can wash up before going into the house.

The bedrooms are convenient to the bath, and offer a maximum of privacy. Yet they are easily accessible from the living area or the kitchen. They have large closets with sliding doors; this makes a maximum use of space.

The living room is large enough for pleasant family living and for entertaining small groups. If you need more space, you can use the dining room and porch very nicely for group entertaining. The central hallway permits traffic through any part of the house, including the outside, without it being a disturbance to party guests.

If you do not care for the porch adjoining the living room, it is an ideal spot for a library or study. Very few materials would be required to enclose it.

You can obtain blueprints for this TERRY COUNTY HERALD Farm & Ranch House Plan No. 5033 and a handy list of materials by which you can figure your construction cost accurately. Send $1 to Building Editor, Farm & Ranch, Dept. L-192, Nashville 1, Tenn. Order by number—Plan No. 5033. Blueprints are adequate for any farm carpenter or for any farmer handy with tools.

Farmers Think About These For 1952

COLLEGE STATION.—Farmers and farm families are faced with a challenge for the coming year that can best be met through planning and more efficient production. The level of farm prices is edging downward; but the prices of materials, equipment, labor and other things that farmers buy are edging upward. At the same time, more and more agricultural production is needed to take care of a growing population at home and to meet foreign demands.

This situation, says C. H. Bates, farm management specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, calls for careful planning if the present farm living standards are to be maintained. Crop yields must be increased and every job on the farm should be studied for the purpose of cutting down on expenses and labor requirements, adds Bates.

When the farm plans are made, the specialist suggests that they include the use of the highest yielding adaptable crop varieties. Research workers of our experiment stations are continually introducing new and improved varieties of crops and as these are tested and planting seed becomes available, Bates says, substitute them for the varieties now grown. The new corn hybrids and grain sorghums are examples.

He says the most productive part of the farm should be planted to cash crops. If you are in an area of the state where commercial fertilizers can be successfully used, get your fertilizers early and apply them generously. To help make their use even more profitable, he suggests that before the planting season rolls around that soil samples be submitted to the state laboratory for analysis. Local county Extension agents have detailed information on how to take and mail the samples to the laboratory.

Don't forget to include in your production plans, provisions for taking care of the insect enemies. Book orders now for enough insecticides to take care of your minimum needs. Planting seed should be treated to control seed borne diseases and then follow through with a good insect control program for better yields and quality in the crops, says Bates.

Another mighty important item is timing. Plan your production program for the farm so that peak labor loads can be avoided and so every piece of machinery and equipment can be used to the best advantage.

Finally, the specialist urges the use of good business methods in managing the farm. Farm records are a must. And Bates points out that detailed records should be the basis for making major changes in farm operations or practices. Complete records are also mighty useful about this time of the year for income tax figuring purposes, he adds.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorn Waters and son, Lorn Gordon, of Plainview visited in the home of her sister, Mrs. Jim Nelson, and Mr. Nelson, 503 North Fifth street, on Christmas Day. Lorn Gordon is in the army air corps, stationed at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls.

Stangel with his new title, pointing to his many years of service to Texas agriculture at Texas Tech and Texas A & M, his leadership in livestock feeding and marketing, and his aid to young agriculturists.

The publication's 12th man of the year, Dean Stangel headed the animal husbandry department at Tech, when the school opened in 1925. He became dean of agriculture in 1945.

Under the dean's direction, the Tech livestock program has grown from two work rules on the Tech farms in 1925 to balanced herds of Herefords, Aberdeen Angus, sheep, swine, chickens and turkeys. A foundation herd of Brahman was added recently. The animals and fowls furnish classroom data and experimental information for agriculturists of Texas.

Irrigated pastures, their production and profit in pasturing livestock, was the last general experiment conducted by Dean Stangel. The test has brought praise from agriculture authorities.

Although a livestock man, the dean believes in raising livestock in a balanced program.

"We are pioneers out here (South Plains) in agriculture, and our future lies ahead, but we can't attain our full potentialities on a one-crop system. We must have diversified farming, and through it, we should become the greatest farming area in the world," he said.

1952 Food and Fiber Demands May Exceed Farm Production This Year

RACINE, WIS.—Department of Agriculture specialists in estimating the agriculture production goal for 1952 have discovered it now appears that demands for food and fiber from the nation's farms in 1952 will exceed the 1951 production. To meet next year's demands every ounce of production must be squeezed out of the nation's farms. This task is made increasingly difficult by a need for efficient farm machinery to produce and harvest growing crops.

Wise farmers are beginning to tool up to meet production goals now for next spring, offsetting the shortage of manpower in farm areas with labor-saving machinery, such as the farmer above uses to prepare his land for planting another crop. Massey-Harris, one of the country's leading farm equipment manufacturers, is going all out in its share of American Industry's job of aiding American Agriculture to do the production job.

Editor and Mrs. Hale Bid Us Farewell

While not cutting any fences or making any doors, Editor and Mrs. E. J. Hale, for the past many years owners and publishers of the Yokum County Review at Plains, were through to bid us adieu, as they have sold the plant to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Curry, who took charge this week. Mr. and Mrs. Hale were headed for a warmer part of Texas, supposedly the Rio Grande Valley, where they will rest from their labors.

Like the Old He, W. J. lacks a lot of being as young as he once was, and while Mrs. Hale is several years younger, the editing, publishing, mechanical and job work had become increasingly hard on them. So, they decided to sell to a younger couple, just in their prime. Mr. Hale retains some property interests in Plains, such as rent houses, and of course are still interested in the growth and progress of Plains.

As for Roger (Red) Curry and wife, will state that he did some of his early day stints on the Herald both before and after World War II. Of late he has been connected with the Brownfield News as a stockholder and floor manager. He is the son of the late H. E. and Mrs. Curry, who was a Baptist minister, and for many years Missionary of the Brownfield Association.

It was back in the early twenties while his dad was located here, that an older brother of Roger, Albert, now employed in a big printing concern at Dallas, took a job with the Herald to learn the trade, and worked for us several years before going to Abilene and then Dallas. We believe that about three of the boys made printers, whether all are following the trade now we are unable to say. All were brought up right, however, and all understand and practice morality.

As for Bettie (Longbrake) Curry, Roger's wife, she was brought here by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Longbrake as a child from Peoria, Mo. She was reared and educated here in Brownfield. Like the Herald home, the Longbrake home was a model for honesty and morality, as well as religious. She was reared a Methodist.

We are wishing for the Currys a full abundance of this life's goodness, and that as the little city of Plains, county seat of Yoakum County, grows, that the Review will grow, and as usual just a bit ahead of the town in growth and progress.

Faithful to Herald, And to Country

Our good friend, Mrs. J. F. Brumley was in this week to renew for their Herald. Although paid up for June, she renewed for another year. Mrs. Brumley stated that she just did not want it to expire as she appreciated the paper so much. We might also add that the Herald appreciates readers like the Brumley family, and the United States should appreciate them.

They have given their three sons to the service of their country. The eldest, James D. of the 8th regiment of the 1st Cavalry, has been missing in Korea for the past 18 months. His name was not on any list yet submitted, Mrs. Brumley stated, she still has hopes that he is alive.

The other two boys, Cpl. Charles and Cpl. Odell Brumley, are presently located at Fort Sill, Okla. Both were home for the holidays, leaving January 1st to return to Ft. Sill. Both spent last winter in Korea.

Jewel Bell was in this week and had the Herald sent to his daughter and son-in-law, Dpn W. Harmon of Oklahoma City. We hope the Harmon family enjoy the old home town paper the whole year through.

Mrs. J. C. Hart of Medford, Oregon, dropped in the other day while the Old He was out. Said she sometimes was a week or more getting her paper, but she did not blame us for that. "But I sure appreciate it when I do get it."

Then there was R. W. Tunnell in to have us order the Daily Avenger for him recently, and as usual had to ask his name, and we have known him almost as long ago as when Washington tossed the dollar across the Potomac. Why couldn't he have been named Evergreen instead of Tunnell?

Smooth, Easy Performance Featured in New Plymouth

The new Plymouth for 1952 will go on display in dealer showrooms throughout the United States, Friday, January 4.

A long list of improvements—46 in all—has been incorporated in the engine, the brakes, the electrical system, the chassis, and to the inside and outside of the body.

The new car, according to D. S. Eddins, president of Plymouth, has been improved and refined to provide "the most gentle ride, the smoothest engine performance and the greatest safety ever built into a car for the lowest price field."

Exceptional engine smoothness is produced through a newly designed combustion chamber; brakes are stronger and longer-lasting; Plymouth's famous Safety-Flow ride has been made even more comfortable by improvements in the springing and to the Oriflow shock absorbers; and the car's beauty is enhanced by numerous styling refinements.

The Plymouth has a road-hugging, sweeping appearance, accented by changes in the external adornment. A new luxurious standard for interiors is attained with the high quality upholstery fabrics in harmonious colors which blend beautifully with the instrument and door panels.

The smart hardtop club coupe, the Belvedere, is the pace-setter in the lowest price field with its new concepts in styling and beauty. The car has glistening, lively two-tone colors which set it apart and give it the continental look. The color used on the roof follows the Belvedere's streamlined contours around the spacious rear window and down over the rear deck. Sparkling chrome molding outlines the top and carries back to separate the two colors at their junction at the rear quarter-panel. Interior of the Belvedere is luxurious, with colorful quality fabrics and vinyl blended in perfect harmony with the shades used on the exterior. Long-wearing carpeting—also in complementary colors—rounds out the ensemble. The following color combinations are available for the Belvedere: Suede Tan with Sable Bronze top; Belmont Blue Polychromatic with Sterling Grey top; Mint Green with Black top.

Cpl. Parker Assigned To Hq. As Clerk

ORLEANS, France. — Corporal Charles R. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Parker, 906 North Third Street, Brownfield, has been assigned to Headquarters, European Command Communications Zone as a clerk, it was announced by Brig. Gen. Mason J. Young, commanding general.

The European Command Communications Zone operates a supply line from French coastal ports to US Armed Forces in Germany. Its headquarters is located in this historic city which is now celebrating the 522nd anniversary of its liberation by Joan of Arc.

Parker, a 1947 graduate of Brownfield High School, is assigned to the orderly room of headquarters detachment here.

While a bit of the paper this week will show the old type "face" that the Herald has run for the past several years, the bulk of the news will be of the new modern face, which the Linotype Company has designated as Corona, with black face on same mat called Erbar, really new.

We believe the readers will like the new type. It is not only something new, but easily read by those whose eyesight is not as good as formerly. And we are particularly pleased with the black face. For instance, take three lines of the black face, and you'll have a pretty swell looking envelope with your return address, as follows:

How Do You Like Our New News Type?

After 5 Days Return To FULTON & LEWIS Blankville, Texas

The face is 8 point on a ten point slug, if you get what we mean in printer's "slanguage." We have had the new mats for more than a month, but had to have some work done on the first elevator head, and that piece of machinery (we had an extra) had to go way up to "Nu Joisey" to be worked over.

Anyway, we are all tickled pink here at the Herald office with the new face, and hope you the same. HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Have News? Call the Herald.

There are ten body types in the new Plymouth line, available in an array of eight regular, and two special sparkling new colors. The traditional interior roominess and the many "high-priced car" features for which Plymouth has been distinctive have been retained throughout the new line.

SMOOTH PERFORMANCE

A new, smoother flow of power results from the newly designed combustion chamber in Plymouth's famous floating power engine. The six-cylinder, 97 horsepower engine has a 7 to 1 compression ratio. Longer life for both the main and rod bearings is achieved through an improved type of base metal.

To further insure smoothness of performance and faster getaway, several refinements in the new Synchro-Silent transmission permit faster, easier shifting, and more rapid and positive engagement of gears. The rear axle is improved, and there are provisions which permit more accurate gear and bearing adjustments.

Operating temperatures up to an additional eight degrees without the hazard of losing water or anti-freeze result from further improvements to the pressure-vent radiator cap, which provides a pressurized cooling system.

STURDY BRAKES

The traditionally sturdy Safe-Guard Hydraulic brakes have been given greater ease of operation, and much longer life. New Cyclobond brake linings provide greater braking area and longer braking life. There are heavier backing plates on both the front and rear brakes; an improved drum design on the front brakes for smoother operation and better cooling; an easier operating brake pedal return spring; and a redesigned steering knuckle to provide more positive protection from road splash.

Passenger and driver comfort has been increased with improvements to Plymouth's "Safety-Flow ride." New cushioning-type ports in the Oriflow shock absorbers, increased travel in the front springs and a new interliner for the rear springs provide quieter operation, reduced steering wheel shock, less friction and an improved ride.

Quicker starting in hot or cold weather with less drain on the battery is assured by the new "Follo-Thru" anti-kickout feature of the starter, the foremost among numerous changes in the electrical system. Greater visibility under adverse driving conditions is provided by a ten per cent increase in the speed of the electrically-operated windshield wipers.

BEAUTIFUL STYLING

Luxury and color harmony are the keynotes of the beautiful upholstery and trim selected for the new Plymouth. A fine selection of long-wearing, quality fabrics is available in shades which blend beautifully with the car's exterior colors. An attractive "Lustre-Tone" instrument panel features controls which are conveniently grouped and instruments which are colored and lettered for easy reference while driving. Newly designed to further beautify the Plymouth are the ornament, the top molding, and the medallion on the hood, and the license light and name plate on the rear deck lid. The sweeping, low appearance of the car is further accented by the lowering of the rear fender molding.

Solex tinted safety glass is available throughout the Plymouth line as optional equipment at small extra cost. The glass reduces interior temperatures on hot summer days, minimizes fading of upholstery or seat cover fabrics, and reduces sun glare.

Among the many features which have been retained in the new Plymouth are the wide, deep chair-height seats, the ease of entrance and exit, the combination ignition and starter switch, automatic electric choke, super-cushion tires, and safety-rim wheels.

There are ten body types in the new Plymouth line: the Concord series includes a two-door sedan, a three-passenger coupe, and the popular all-metal Suburban, and its country club cousin, the Savoy; the Cranbridge series has a four-door sedan and a club coupe; and the Cranbrook series includes a four-door sedan, a club coupe, a convertible club coupe, and the pace-setting Belvedere.

Editorial of the Month

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has recovered at long last from a nasty case of delirium. It has got out of its rocking chair down at Abilene and started out to rediscover the rest of West Texas.

Twenty-five years ago the WTCC was a rip-roaring, energetic organization of businessmen, bent on making West Texas the commercial center of the Southwest.

Its conventions were fabulous. There were parades and bands and special trains and hat bands and canes and badges and all the rest of the paraphernalia, to say nothing of some of the fanciest picketing that ever went on in smoke-filled rooms.

Then the WTCC began to withdraw within itself. Abilene became its headquarters and Fort Worth its source of inspiration. Instead of public conventions, it began to hold directors meetings featured by dull and lengthy reports. The outlying precincts were all but forgotten. There was an occasional spurt of activity in the way of lobbying for certain West Texas interests; but the old zip was gone.

There arose from the grass roots a demand that the WTCC get out among the people once more and start beating the drum in real Texas fashion. This newspaper was one of the voices demanding reform.

The shakeup came about a year ago. The membership climbed to 5,000. Contact was re-established with the 140 affiliated towns. A comprehensive program was outlined.

The WTCC is back on its feet. —Amarillo Daily News.

The West Terry Well Hits Second Pay

The Atlas Life Insurance Co. seems to have hit another strata of pay in their well 10 miles west of town. It will be remembered that pay was hit at 8,292 to 8,351 feet in what was called the Clear Fork strata. At that time 5100 feet of clear oil filled the well.

Evidently this was cased off, as the contract called for 12,000 feet. At 9,194 feet, they drilled through another 31 feet of soft formation, termed the Dean sand, where a test was made, with another 740 feet of clean oil and

Bluford Adams In To See Us Saturday

Been about two years since we had seen Bluford Adams up to Saturday afternoon. That was just before he had a stroke at Brownwood something like two years ago last summer. He came up to be at the bedside of his brother, Will, whom he and Mrs. Lillie McPherson, a sister, reported to be very low. It could not have been much over an hour from the time they were in our office until their brother passed away.

We believe that Bluford has been a citizen of Brownwood since we came to this county in 1909, but as long as his parents lived, he made quite frequent visits. And since the death of Uncle Horace and wife, he has visited here occasionally. He was for many years a groceryman at Brownwood.

SULPHUR IS RECOVERED FROM REFINERY GASSES

Additional supplies of sulphur, currently in short supply, may be recovered from waste gasses given off in petroleum refining and other manufacturing processes. Sulphur recovery from these gasses, by a recently patented process, will not only help relieve the sulphur shortage, but also ease air pollution. The petroleum industry plans to increase by 190,000 tons a year the nation's supply of the critical material.
